Jottings From Jo's Note Book

I want to call your attention to advertisements in this issue regarding the current status of our two, handsome libraries in Fulton and Hickman. The information concerned in the ad from County Judge John Cruce is woefully inaccurate and misleading. The one placed by an interested citizen who knows the value of good libraries, is the true picture, compiled from information in the Department of Libraries in Frankfort.

In discussing the matter with some tax experts we learned that the median (adding the high and the low and getting the middle point) assessment of property-owners in Fulton County is between $10,000.00 and $12,000.00. Many are much, much lower; a very, very small percentage are in the brackets referred to by Judge Cruce.

Just as a for instance—a person who would have to pay $200.00 in additional taxes for the operation of our libraries would have to own property assessed at $330,000.00. Assuming that this $330,000.00 of property is assessed at 33 1/3 per cent of its market value, which a lot of it is, it means that a person owns about $1,000,000.00 in property. And just about how many people in Fulton County own that much property? Not many, if any, I'd say!

The truth of the matter is that the average property-owner will have to pay ABOUT FIFTY CENTS A MONTH MORE. Isn't it better to spend that much to give young people good, wholesome reading and information than it is for these same young people to spend FIFTY CENTS A DAY, MAYBE FOR PAPER BACK FILTH that they resort to for something better to read?

You'd better believe it!

While Judge Cruce is entitled to his views regarding the library assessment, I'd like to think that he has been mis-informed. I think that when he sees the true figures on Page Five of this issue he will immediately change his position and come out solidly in favor of the library assessment, work for the continuance of our fine library program, and perhaps reveal that the figures he has published are in error.

In our Book Of Quotations we found these two thought-provoking messages:

An error gracefully acknowledged is a victory won!

From the errors of others, a wise man corrects his own!

Hey Amigos! So what's with this school drop-out problem. Senor Rodriguez, el profesor de la escuela espagnol deci es importante que ustedes attendar los clases todo semana.

In other words, or rather in plain English, the nice young man from Murray State University who teaches the community Spanish classes each Wednesday evening at the Chamber of Commerce office has been missing you truants.

The class started out with about 45 students. But because the Banana Festival has not hired a truant officer to follow up on absences the students have been cutting classes like mad.

Let's get with it! Festival time is fast approaching. A call from Florence Ballesteros last week indicated that plans are in full swing in all of the Central American countries to send students here again this year, but with something added. Plans are being made to have the official beauty queens of some of the countries come here to compete in the Princess Pageant. Now wouldn't that be a fine thing if we were so lax in our manners that we couldn't say "howdy youall" in Spanish.

WE ONLY HAVE EYES FOR YOU, GRANDDADDY . . . that's what vivacious little Ellen Richards says as she salutes her grandfather Henry Ward as the gubernatorial candidate addressed a huge audience at the Bucks For Ward Rally in Louisville recently. Concurring in the majority decision are Mrs. Pat (Ward) Richards and her husband Richard. Young Ward Richards is behind his sister. Another Richards daughter, Lindsey 9, is not in the photo but was out in the crowds visiting with friends. The Richards family has been invited to attend the luncheon-rally at Ken-Bar Inn Friday. A large group from every county will go to the event in motorcades.

Lack Of Meeting Place Postpones Breathitt's Day

Plans to hold an Appreciation Day event for Governor Edward T. Breathitt here on May 16 have been postponed indefinitely, the editors of the News were advised today. Failure to secure a building large enough to hold the dinner and the premiere showing of the documentary film made of last year's Banana Festival were cited as reasons for the postponement, a member of the Festival's board of directors, under whose auspices the program was to be staged, revealed today.

The requirement for a proper stage setting to show the film and an area large enough to seat the more than 400 persons expected to attend, necessitated the postponement, the Festival board member said.

The request to the Fulton City Board of Education for use of Carr Auditorium in which to hold the event was denied. A letter written to the Festival board by W. L. Holland, superintendent of schools, said that preparations for a graduation program to be held shortly after the scheduled appreciation event made use of Carr Auditorium impossible.

The event, for which no future date has been set as yet, was to salute the friendly and energetic governor of Kentucky for, among many things:

—His constant support, both moral and financial, of the International Banana Festival. (Governor Breath-itt cancelled an urgent visit to the White House last year to attend the International Relations Day program of the Fourth Annual Festival.)

—The appropriation of $30,000.00 from Breathitt's contingency to establish a demonstration library in the county. (The allocation from Governor Breathitt's fund made the county eligible for an additional $37,500.00 in other funds to operate the libraries in Fulton and Hickman, employ added staffs, and to operate and staff a Bookmobile which costs approximately $7100.00.)

—In addition, last year the State Library Department's regional library and bookmobile systems provided Fulton County with 10,769 library books, valued at $43,076. The county library board received a State aid grant of $679 for purchase of additional books. The department made 57 films available to Fulton Countians and provided 115 filmstrips and film slides and 42 framed paintings. The department also provided a $7,081 bookmobile for county use. The department last year supplied the cities of Fulton and Hickman with a total of $10,070 worth of library furniture and equipment.

—Among specific State government programs in which Fulton and Fulton county shared last year were:

—EDUCATION — The State provided $375,018 from State tax funds (Continued On Page Two)

A program in honor of Mrs. Henry Ward, wife of the candidate for governor, has turned into a major event, and has been moved because of demands for tickets, Mrs. Anne Combs, state chairman of women campaigning for Ward, said Saturday.

It has been shifted to Ken-Bar Inn, so more people can be accommodated.

POET'S CORNER

HOW CRAZY CAN YOU GET?

There are thoughts I'm having lately

That disturb my spirit greatly;

That our younger generation's lost its mind.

All the crazy teen-age capers,

So exploited by the papers,

You must search for scraps of sanity to find.

They have such dumb, stolid glances

In their wild gyrating dances,

And they look like young gorillas on the prowl;

And the noise to which they're dancing,

Or perhaps you'd call it prancing,

Seems to imitate some jungle tribal howl.

But perhaps they're not clear crazy,

Maybe it's a "phase" that's hazy,

And perhaps the "beatnick jag" will some day end.

But if something doesn't change them,

Some new impulse rearrange them,

Then more dough for shrinking head we'll have to spend.

CHRISTIAN JOURNEY THROUGH HISTORY (Part VII)

The story of Christian history is a miracle-story of how the Church survived and grew in the face of war and destruction, opposition and persecution even as Christ had promised, "... the gates of hell shall not prevail against it ... I shall be with you even unto the consummation of the world."

We have seen something of the opposition to the Church's teaching in the ravishing errors taught by self-ordained interpreters. Likewise, we have looked at the political opposition, which for three hundred years marked the pages of history with the blood of martyrs. And the Church survived.

The fourth and fifth century now could ask, "Can the Church survive a complete change of culture? Can she continue to exist in a totally different civilization from that in which she was born and grew to infancy? Could the Church stand amid the ruins of the Roman Empire, and become a mother to barbaric nations now gathered at her feet?" Very soon, the Roman Empire, the mother of the world's culture, would be destroyed. The Church must not only survive, she must culture a new civilization.

Fifty years before the birth of Christ, the Chinese Empire expelled from its frontier a people known as the Huns. The Huns turned westward, conquering nations and scattering them as they moved forward. Even though the Huns proposed no immediate danger to the Empire of Rome, the pressure they exerted upon nations made the borders of the Empire tense. The Goths, being much closer to the borders, were first to bulge the line under the pressure and moved across the Danube River to occupy Roman territory. At first, the Goths lived in peace with Rome, even being allowed to train in the Roman Army. However, under the leadership of Alaric, the Goths rose in

FHS Band Wins Superior Rating

"From The FHS Kennel"

On Friday night, March 31, the Fulton High Band, directed by Mr. Mandel Brown, attended the Regional Music Festival at Murray State University. The band received its first superior rating in three years.

The band played a Bach Chorale, Forest Splendor, and Balladair. All three judges rated the band a 1, or superior. Out of seven possible A's per rating sheet, one judge gave the band all A's and the other two each gave the band five A's and two B's. This made a total of seventeen A's and four B's. These were the most favorable criticism sheets the band has received in many years. The judges complimented the conductor and the band for their fine interpretation and playing of the music.

This accomplishment marked the second honor the band has received this year, the first being the trophy won at the Tobacco and Marching Festival. Presently the band is working on its trip to the Paris Fish Fry and its Spring Concert.

For the seniors who have been in band now for four, five, or even seven years, this year is an appropriate end for their high school band career, and an appropriate beginning for those who will continue to carry forward this pattern of advancement.

"From The FHS Kennel"

The Fulton High Chapter of Future Homemakers of America held its annual talent on March 15, in the Carr Gym. The show was opened by the F. H. A. President Brenda McBride. Buddy Myers and David Dunn received an "A" for effort in attempting to entertain the guests between acts. As M. C.'s, their job was to try to keep the guests entertained between acts as well as to introduce the acts.

The next part of the show contained a solo by Pam Grooms who sang "Memories Are Made of This" accompanied by John Reed; a "Fractured Fairy Tale" by the cheerleaders, "Hansel and Grati-al"; a duet by Gordon Jones on the drums and Dennis Lohaus on the guitar, who played among other things "I'm a Fool"; and another commercial by Gary Fulcher, Shirley Hicks and Janie Hicks.

The following portions of the show had Doris Bolin, Susan Bard, and Judy Merryman doing a dance to "Me and My Shadow"; a solo by Janie Noles entitled "Wouldn't It Be Lovely," accompanied by Cathy Hyland; a novelty act by Brenda McBride, Gail Bushart and John Reed to the tune of "Patricia"; a quartet composed of Dee Fields, Marianne Crider, Merideth Miller and Nan Myers who sang "Baby the Rain Must Fall" and to conclude this part of the show Gary Fulcher, Shirley Hicks, and Dianne Copeland in another commercial.

The final part of the show was opened by Mike McClure who did a trumpet solo of "More"; then came Susan Caldwell who sang "Summer Place" accompanying herself on the guitar. Next came a commercial by Avery Hancock, Toby Harrison, and Mike Gilbert. Before the final act, Carlie Lou Bolin came out and thanked everyone who helped to make the show the success it was. For the last number a combo, composed of Gordon Jones, Charlie Hefley, John Reed, Mike McClure, and Mike Yates, played "Winchester Cathedral."

Four Senior Boys Express Opinions On Proposed Change In The Draft

"From The FHS Kennel"

Question: Is the proposed lottery system of selective service a better plan than the present system? Why, or why not?

HENRY ARMSTRONG — I think the present system of selective service is a better plan because it provides a chance for the boys who have planned to further their education by going to college and continuing on until they obtain their master's degree if they desire.

This will help greatly in supplying the rapidly increasing necessity for qualified teachers, technicians, doctors, chemists, physicists, and many other occupations that will be in demand for the future generation.

There are many boys who do not wish or are incapable of doing college work who may be glad to enlist into a service where they can be trained vocationally while at the same time they are rendering a service and getting paid for it.

DANNY PEWITT—The proposed lottery system could be one of the most unwise moves this country could make. If the lottery is adopted, student as well as occupational deferments will be disregarded. Other than future doctors, dentists, and ministers, all college men will have the same chance of being drafted as a high school drop-out.

There is more than one way to fight a war. Military power is, of course, essential, but so is the knowledge behind it. The lottery would take the chance of tearing into the knowledge of our country. We would possibly lose some men who could propose a plan that might lead to world peace. It would be ridiculous to take a man out of college before he is able to develop his full knowledge of skills and insight in any field.

It will certainly be a well trained and knowledgeable person who will lead us out of any conflict. If a person is in college, let him stay there for the sake of our nation and the world.

sheer luck with the chance coming any time, but also includes no way of knowing if the Army or Marines are going to get you. With this, is the fact that there will be little or no deferments. This point could lead to us sending our county's future leaders into some small county, perhaps to be killed, thus hurting our nation. So I say the lottery system should certainly be vetoed.

RANDALL ROPER — No. I believe the present system of the draft is the best idea laid forth so far. By this, the students are deferred if they are attending colleges and if their grades are sufficient to remain. The lottery system, if it provided for student deferments, would be acceptable in that the ones in school wouldn't be drafted. However, I feel that through the lottery, too many people that are important to the community or section of the state would be drafted while others sit idly around doing nothing.

Florence was in Miami for a week on business and called me in Louisville. She said that interest in the Festival is "fever high" in the hemisphere to the south of us.

She is in some kind of a dilemma as to how to select the students wanting to come to Fulton this year. I remarked that she'd have to work it out in her own efficient way, for we feel that about 35 students, and three chaperones is about all we can handle this year, what with all the other grantees and other dignitaries coming to the Festival.

I feel about this Amigo program much as Elbert Hubbard who wrote, in substance, "when a man builds a better mouse trap, the world will beat a path to this door." We have built a solid foundation of friendship and understanding with our Latin-American friends and now we have outgrown our abilities to host and to house these wonderful people.

As chairman of the international relations program of the Fifth International Banana Festival I might come up with an idea to handle more Amigos without working a hardship on the local people who have so generously and willingly taken care of our students. But until I do, we must limit the number of students coming here to one bus load from Miami, which has a capacity of 38 persons.

The Union City Business and Professional Women's Club asked me to speak to the regular meeting Tuesday night about the Banana Festival and our international relations program, in general. After the talk the ladies asked many questions about the Festival and particularly how Ecuador's recent action at the Latin-American Summit meeting would affect our wonderful relations with that country.

I told them, what I believe to be the truth, that if anything, it would strengthen our ties with them, rather than to strain them. President Aerosemena is a young (41) and energetic new leader. As I see it, Aerosemena feels that although the United States has given much aid to Ecuador, it has not been effectively administered. And he may be right. On the other hand, I may be wrong.

Yet I do feel that from the standpoint of people-to-people relations, the Ecuadoreans feel kindly toward us and that is why we must exert every effort to project many more programs such as ours to have the Latin-Americans know us for what we are, friendly, interested and willing to be helpful.

My opinion may not be acceptable in the arena of striped pants diplomacy, but I have learned through experience, that a warm hand-shake and friendly smile has done more good to further the cause of good-will than some of the heavily-financed government-administered programs.

Just as soon as I get over some pressing programs at hand this week and next, I shall write a long letter to our friends, Ambassador and Mrs. Wymberley Coerr in Quito with the hope that they will give us an off-the-record, clearer insight into the situation there.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor:

On a state Chamber of Commerce tour in 1950, I met a young man named Henry Ward, and after being with him a couple of days, predicted that he should and would one day be Governor of Kentucky.

I have watched his career ever since and admire him because he is honest and he gets right down to the facts. I've always found him to be conscientious about whatever he does and know he works hard to develop a good Kentucky.

Henry Ward is more than a politician; he is a good citizen and an able person. That is what we need more than anything else in public office—sincere, honest, conscientious public servants.

Juniors Take Tests

"From The FHS Kennel"

At various times in a student's high school career he must make educational and tentative vocational decisions. To make these decisions he needs information about his developed abilities in various subject fields. The Juniors have attained this information by testing. The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test was a National test given to all Juniors in October. It shows a student his strength and weakness in certain subjects and helps him select his Senior courses.

The National Merit Test administered in February helped the Juniors evaluate their achievements as compared to Juniors across the country. The test was taken voluntarily with colleges and industry offering scholarships ranging from $100 to $5000 dollars.

Being your County Judge, I feel it my duty to talk to you a bit on the following subject — "Library Tax".

The Fulton County Library Board is circulating a petition that would place an approximate $29,000.00 extra tax on the citizens of Fulton County each year for Library purposes.

This would mean an average of about $6.00 extra taxes per tax bill. Some tax bills would be less but many would be much more.

This would mean that some of our larger property owners would be paying $50.00, $100.00 or even $200.00 extra taxes for Library purposes each year.

Libraries are fine, but the question is — Can we afford them?

PECAN GRAFTING

Next Tuesday morning, April 25, 10:30 a. m. a pecan grafting demonstration and school will be held in Obion County at Hornbeak on Bruce Cashion's farm. If you would like to learn how to graft pecan trees, you will be most welcome to attend the pecan grafting meeting, and during the morning actually have an opportunity to graft pecan trees. John Clark, University of Tennessee Horticulturist, will conduct the grafting demonstration. Mr. Cashion has been grafting pecan trees for several years and during the grafting demonstration we will have an opportunity to observe grafts of different ages.

During the past four years a number of Obion County people such as Bud Mosier and Mrs. Jean Sharp have been taught how to graft pecan trees at these schools.

DOGWOOD BORERS

Mid-April is the time to start control of dogwood borers. The adult borer is a blue-black moth with one yellow markings and narrow, transparent wings. The larvae, the destructive stage of the borer, is white or cream-colored with a reddish-brown head. It is an inch long when full grown.

The female borer lays eggs from mid-April through mid-October. The newly hatched larvae bore directly into the bark and feed just under the bark of the tree, seriously damaging and often killing the tree.

To control borers, spray the trunk of the tree and the main branches with 0.5 per cent Dieldrin, 5 per cent DDT, or 0.5 per cent Lindane. Spray at 28-day intervals, beginning April 15 and ending October 15, for a total of seven applications. This will insure maximum protection.

INSECTS

A number of wheat growers have been concerned about Aphids, greenbugs, or lice bothering their wheat, but we have only found two wheat fields in Obion County needing control measures. After the airplane swooped down spraying the first field, the word has been spread. A few lice on wheat will not damage the wheat because extremely large numbers of plant lice must be present before control measures are necessary.

The alfalfa flaming demonstration on Pat Gibbs Farm was successful, because when we checked the plot recently the flamed plot had an infestation of alfalfa weevil worms of about 10 percent while the unflamed area had an infestation of about 90 percent. We also found last week the alfalfa weevil worms eating white clover on Arthur Murray's farm near Troy.

LINSEY-WOOLSEY

Kentucky pioneers made most of their own clothing. For materials they used flax, wool and buffalo hair. The flax and wool were spun into threads on spinning wheels and woven into cloth on homemade looms. This coarse but warm cloth was called linsy-woolsey.

SHEEP — LOW ON PRODUCTION CYCLE

The sheep industry in Kentucky and especially Western Kentucky is at an all time low. In fact, in the United States we find sheep numbers are lowest since 1875. We are importing more wool and lamb every season and the price sheepmen received for the wool clip and lamb crop here in the United States seems to drop a little each year. With all the factors against the production of sheep, there is still a bright outlook for our woolly friends.

The sheep industry is well fitted for the grassland farmer who has a shortage of labor and surplus pasture. It is a proven fact that sheep will return more dollars income per dollar invested than any other form of livestock. Dairying will also give you a high income return, but there is more labor involved as well as investment.

Sheep will utilize more pasture and other roughage and less grain than other livestock enterprises. Sheep convert this roughage into a marketable product in an almost production line fashion. The wool clip comes in the early spring around April and May when money is badly needed for current expenses, then the early lamb crop in May and June, then often the hold-over lambs which could not make the scales earlier sell in the fall. This makes a supplementary income pattern that is welcome on most farms of our area.

Sheepmen praise their flocks grazing habits as being seasonal with the pasture cycle. Under normal conditions heavy grazing comes early for three or four months while the ewes are milking heavily and the lambs growing. The ewes will utilize much pasture during the year that would otherwise be unused. Sheep also graze closely and thrive on less supplemental grain during the lush pasture season. Since sheep should be in a thin, but thrifty condition at breeding season in the late summer or early fall, this fits the pasture schedule for many area farmers. Most of the farms of Western Kentucky could handle a sheep program in their farming program. They work well with dairy cattle since sheep eat over 90 percent of the weeds common to Kentucky farms. Alternate grazing with cattle and sheep have proven beneficial in keeping pastures in a succulent condition by not letting the grass and legumes get tough.

The production of sheep is no bed of roses and they take care and proper management. I would say that parasites have driven more flocks from Kentucky farms than the price of the lambs and wool. Parasites can be controlled.

If your farm needs additional livestock and you have limited labor, why not investigate sheep to supply this needed income.

CHRISTIAN JOURNEY THROUGH HISTORY

rebellion and overran the eastern part of the Empire and established kingdom of Spain. Another tribe known as the Vandals, who had never been friends of Rome, moved southward through Spain and captured all the Roman provinces of Africa with terrible destruction and cruelty. We have a word "vandalism" even today marking the memory of history to the ruin they brought. Into Britain came the Angles, Jutes and Saxons, who were successful in conquering that country because the Romans had withdrawn their troops to protect other territory.

At last, by the middle of the 5th century, the Huns broke through to overrun most of Europe. The mere physical appearance of the Huns struck terror into the heart of their adversaries: short, strong-limbed, robust, ugly-featured, crushed noses. They looked more like animals with their long hair and eating raw meat.

Would Christianity have anything to say to such as these? Would the Church stand above the tide of history, rise above the rubble and ruin to become the mother of a new culture that would grow out of these barbaric tribes?

Maybe a sign of things to come was Pope St. Leo's going out to the gates of Rome to ask the Hun's leader Attila that he not destroy the Great Churches of Rome. Attila honored the request.

The new citizens of Europe, these pagan barbaric tribes, were to become the fertile fields for the missionary spirit of the Church.

Introducing Our Churches - God's Agency For Spreading His Love

SMITH STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

W. D. Jeffcoat, Minister

Christ only, through the New Testament, has the authority to say what the church is and what should be taught. This is the view of those who comprise churches of Christ. We believe that the church today should be the same as that in the New Testament in organization, name, worship, law of conversion and in principles of Christian living. The Church of Christ, therefore, is the church of the New Testament. Members realize their own personal weaknesses, but they believe in the all-sufficiency of God's plan for the church. We earnestly plead for all people to study and work in an effort to restore New Testament Christianity. The only course of action for complete restoral is to GO TO THE BOOK.

Members of Churches of Christ believe that the whole structure of Christianity rests upon the divinity of Christ and his resurrection (1 Corinthians 15:14). Because we attempt to follow the New Testament in all things, we respect Jesus as the divine Son of God; one born of a virgin; one possessed of God's power to perform miraculous works while he was upon earth; one whose life and death fulfilled Old Testament prophecies; one slain on the cross; being raised by the power of God and now exalted as king at God's right hand.

Members of the Church of Christ believe that the New Testament writers were inspired of God and believe, therefore, that the New Testament is true and contains God's final and complete revelation to sinful man (John 16:13; 2 Timothy 3:16-17; Jude 3).

We likewise believe that the Old Testament was also inspired. However, as a part of God's eternal plan it was only preparatory or a "tutor to bring us to Christ" (Galatians 3:24). The New Testament teaches that the Old Testament was blotted out, taken out of the way, and nailed to the cross (Colossians 2:14). When the old law was abolished the new and better covenant went into effect (Hebrews 8:6-7; 9:15-18).

Following the New Testament as the complete rule of faith and practice and the Old Testament as example (Hebrews 8:5; Romans 15:4), members of Churches of Christ purpose to speak where the Bible speaks and to be silent where it is silent. We devoutly believe this is the only logical, safe and scriptural way to follow Christ. Our Bible classes and sermons at Smith Street will be characterized by "thus saith the scriptures". If at any time we fail to abide by this principle, we will gladly retract when shown the word of God does not harmonize with our views. May we all search the scriptures to see whether the things being taught are so (Acts 17:11).

The services of Smith Street Church of Christ are as follows: Lord's Day: Bible study, 10:00 AM; Sermon, 10:50 AM; Sermon, 6:00 PM. — Wednesday: Bible study, 7:00 PM. We have Bible centered classes for everyone. We will be honored by your presence.

Benton Hospital Care Unit Given Medicare Plan

The Benton Hospital Long-Term Care Unit in Benton has been approved for participation under Medicare, Charles M. Whitaker, Paducah Social Security District Manager, announced today.

Notice of the agreement was given to Mr. S. S. Loyd, administrator of the nursing home. The agreement will be effective for Medicare's post-hospital extended care benefits furnished by this facility on and after February 1, 1967.

To qualify for participation as an extended care facility, a nursing home must meet certain quality standards specified in the law - they include: 24-hour nursing service with at least one full-time registered nurse on the staff, a physician available to handle emergencies, a plan for review by doctors of the treatment and length of stay in the facility and an agreement with a hospital for the transfer of patients and their medical records. In addition, the facility must meet certain health and safety requirements and be in compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act.

Approval of the Benton Hospital Long-Term Care Unit makes a total of six participating extended care facilities in the eleven-county Paducah social security district. Others approved, so far, Whitaker said are: Parkview Nursing Home, Riverside Manor, and Graham Nursing Home in Paducah; and Westview Nursing Home and Murray Calloway County Hospital's Convalescent Division in Murray.

Fuller - Morgan Hospital Now Medicare Okay

Fuller-Morgan Hospital in Mayfield, Kentucky is now approved for Medicare participation, Paducah Social Security District Manager, Charles M. Whitaker, reported today.

Joe Cole, administrator of the hospital was given official notice today of the agreement. A retroactive effective date provides for payment for services provided Medicare eligibles in the Fuller-Morgan Hospital on and after March 1, 1967.

Whitaker said all hospitals approved for Medicare participation must meet the medical care standards as provided in Title XVIII of the Health Insurance Act, and be in compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act.

"Participation in Medicare is voluntary," Whitaker said, "and it is gratifying to us that nine hospitals, representing 87 percent of the total hospital beds in the eleven-county social security district have met all requirements and entered into Medicare agreements."

Medicare-paid hospitalization is now available when needed by Medicare eligibles at the following hospitals: Western Baptist and Lourdes in Paducah; Fuller-Gilliam, Mayfield Hospital, and Fuller-Morgan in Mayfield; Crittenden County Hospital in Marion; Benton-Municipal in Benton; Murray-Calloway County in Murray; and, Clinton-Hickman in Clinton.

A&P REMEMBER WHEN PRESERVES WERE DIFFICULT TO BUY?

You do, if you remember the 1920's.

In those days preserves were a seasonal item.

Not enough berries were grown because producers didn't know how to keep them.

So, we sent an expert to the Northwest

(that's great berry country!), who assisted the growers in developing a method of freezing the berries as soon as they were harvested.

We experimented for a year.

The results were great.

Now, at last, we could buy enough quality berries to make Ann Page Preserves available to everyone—all the time.

Today, we buy berries by the train-load.

We have to. Our Ann Page Preserves are that popular.

As a matter of fact, if you took a year's production of Ann Page Preserves, Jams, and Jellies, they would cover a piece of toast ten square miles in size.

Are Ann Page Preserves a good reason for shopping A&P?

They're one of many.

Van Curon Says:

Chandler Defectors Are Turning To Ward

VAN CURON

By S. C. VAN CURON

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The changing winds of political fortune, plus the field of 10 hopefuls for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, have shifted many faithful supporters of the past to other camps, but former Highway Commissioner Henry Ward seems to be the chief beneficiary.

Ward's state headquarters claims that more than 70 former supporters of former Gov. A. B. Chandler and Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield are supporting Ward this time.

These are the three chief bidders for the right to oppose the Republican nominee in November. Senate Majority Leader J. D. (Jiggs) Buckman, who has been associated with both sides, is a candidate on his own.

Waterfield got into the race very late and was at a distinct disadvantage in building up an organization since many of his supporters were "seeking a home" for the primary. They realize "late comers" are often at the tag-end of the line when administration favors are being passed out after a governor takes over.

It's true that many of these favors may seem of little import on a statewide basis, but they often mean a great deal for a home community — even if its just appointment to a non-paying committee for a fellow townsman or help on roads or other projects. This kind of minor favors build prestige at home for these campaign workers.

The list of persons who have switched to Ward is too long to report here, but notable among them is Mack Walters of Shelbyville, who was Chandler's state campaign chairman in 1963. State Sen. William Sullivan of Henderson, who was aeronautics commissioner under Chandler and has supported both Chandler and Waterfield, has joined Ward forces for the primary.

These switches in allegiance have occurred all across the state, but they are not all one sided. For instance, Breathitt's local government commissioner, Ted Marcum, is supporting Chandler after breaking with Breathitt to enter the race himself and then withdraw to support Chandler.

Buckman has supported Chandler and Waterfield both in past years and strongly supported both Combs and Breathitt, but is taking out on his own this time as a candidate for the office of governor.

A new switch in support comes from former State Sen. Casper (Cap) Gardner of Daviess County, who supported both Chandler and Waterfield and was Senate Majority Leader in 1964, has said publicly that he is going to support Marlow Cook.

Wells Lovett, Daviess County chairman for Waterfield in 1969, is now supporting Ward as is baker Max Duncan of Corbin; J. Heber Lewis of Burnside has gone to Ward's camp.

Tom Mobley of Warren County, a former advisory highway commissioner for Chandler, is now reported to be for Ward. State Rep. Fred Morgan of Paducah, who has been an ardent Chandler and Waterfield supporter down through the years, is now for Ward.

On the other hand, Dr. Joe Taylor Hyden of Prestonsburg, who supported Breathitt, is reported to have returned to the Chandler camp.

Publisher W. E. (Snooks) Crutcher of the Morehead News, who has been a loyal Chandler supporter through the years, and was for Waterfield in 1969, is now supporting Ward. Publisher Andrew J. Norfleet of the Russell Springs Times-Journal has switched from Chandler to Ward.

Holmes Ellis, mayor of Murray, is now for Ward, as are Attorney Clay Shackelford of Richmond; Ray Hooper and Grady Sellards of Fayette County; former State Sen. Charles A. Davis of Breathitt County; Cecil Sanders of Lancaster and a host of others. These developments just add more consternation to the strangest campaign Kentuckians have seen in more than a quarter of a century.

Fulton To Celebrate TVA Service Start

FULTON, Ky., — Ceremonies on May 1 will mark the beginning of TVA power in Fulton.

At 8 p.m. that night Mayor Gilbert DeMeyer will pull a simulated switch that will place Fulton on TVA power. At midnight on April 30, the city will have changed to the new system.

The City of Fulton purchased the electric system from Kentucky Utilities five years ago. Under the conditions of that sale, the city was obligated to purchase wholesale power from Kentucky Utilities for five years. On April 30, the five-year period will end and Fulton will start buying its electrical power from TVA.

New rates will be part of the change-over.

The new monthly residential rates will be as follows: First 50 kilowatt-hours, three cents each; next 150 kilowatt-hours, two cents each; next 200 kilowatt-hours, one cent each; next 1,000 kilowatt-hours, four-tenths of a cent each, and all additional electricity at three-fourths of a cent per kilowatt-hour.

In addition, there will be an amortization charge of one cent for each of the first 100 kilowatt-hours used in the home each month. The minimum monthly amortization charge is $.25 and the maximum will be $1.00 per month.

Members of the present Fulton Electric Plant Board include: Charles Reams, chairman; Milton Exum, vice chairman; Viron Mitchell, secretary-treasurer; Gilbert DeMeyer, representing the Fulton City Commission; and W. T. Browning.

Bob Hosman, West Tennessee director for TVA, and other members of his staff will be present for the ceremonies, to be held at the bandstand on Lake Street.

New 4-H Program Sponsor

A new 4-H Field Crops Science program sponsor is welcomed to the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago. Norman C. Mindrum, director, (left) shows M. B. Turner, vice president of Amchem Products, Inc., the 1967 4-H award program's Handbook which includes Field Crops Science.

The national 4-H Field Crops Science program has a new sponsor this year. It is Amchem Products, Inc., of Ambler, Pa., near Philadelphia. Announcement of the new sponsor was made by Norman C. Mindrum, director of the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.

Mr. M. B. Turner, vice president and general manager of the Agricultural Chemicals Division of Amchem, is the 4-H contact person for his firm.

The 4-H Field Crops Science program is one of the primary project areas for young farmers. In addition to learning approved practices for soil preparation, seeding, weed control and harvesting, 4-Hers this year are encouraged to explore the science in growing crops, according to Mindrum.

The USDA planting survey for 1967 forecasts an increase of 7% acreage in corn; 12% in grain sorghum; 9% in soybeans and 25% in wheat. The 4-H field crops growers are expected to increase their spring plantings. They strive to produce quality crops and obtain highest possible yield.

Try Your Hand At

Quilting: Hawaiian-Style

For a needlework project that offers ample opportunity for creating original designs, try your hand at Hawaiian-style quilting. In strong colors and bold motifs, it's one of the most interesting of the creative crafts.

As a starter, use Hawaiian-style quilting for making handsome decorator pillows... then move on to more ambitious projects like full-size bed quilts.

Hawaiian quilting is truly an American art, according to the National Cotton Council. When American missionary wives introduced patchwork quilting to Hawaii in the late 19th century, the Islanders were quick to devise their own style and distinctive designs.

Lacking a supply of multi-colored scraps, they used new cloth... making their quilts out of a single piece of fabric, and decorating them with appliques cut from another cloth. Most Hawaiian quilts have only two colors—both of them bright, bold shades. A favorite combination is red and yellow, the royal colors.

For their applique designs, Hawaiian women borrowed motifs from nature—transforming flowers and fruits into stylized eight-point figures. And when it came to quilting, they usually followed the contours of the applique instead of stitching along diagonal lines.

To make a Hawaiian-quilted pillow, create your own applique design by experimenting with paper cut-outs. The principle's the same as cutting out paper doilies or lacy valentines.

Take a square piece of paper—slightly smaller than the dimensions of your pillow—and fold it in half, then into quarters. Now make a diagonal fold, forming a triangle with the free edges of the paper meeting on one side.

Place the folded triangle with the long side towards you and the free edges on the left. Starting near the left corner of the long side, draw or cut a design toward the right corner (which will be the center of your design). Continue cutting up toward the top of the triangle. Unfold the paper and you'll have an eight-pointed motif.

Use this as a pattern for your fabric applique. When you cut the fabric, allow one-eighth of an inch all around the applique for tucking in raw edges. Choose firmly-woven cottons like percale or broadcloth for applique and background fabrics. Turn under raw edges and applique the design to contrasting background cloth with a regular hemming stitch or a blind stitch.

To quilt the pillow top, place a layer of cotton batting behind the appliqued square and back it with a lining fabric. Baste batting and fabric layers together. For quilting rows, use a mercerized cotton thread the same color as the applique. Stitch around the applique—following the shape of the design—making quilting rows about one-fourth inch apart. Quilting stitches can be done by hand or machine.

HAWAIIAN-INSPIRED—Handsome decorator pillows Hawaiian-quilted in bright colored cottons make attractive accents for contemporary rooms. Here, a stylized flower applique in yellow contrasts boldly with the royal blue background fabric. Wavy line quilting—following the outline of the applique—adds interesting texture to the design.

WHEN A BUSINESSMAN TRAVELS

...or when he lunches downtown, for that matter, can he keep his dietetics as efficient as he keeps his business? If not, why not? If so, why?

Let's tackle those questions in order.

The answer to the first one is a definite, as they say in the armed forces, AFFIRMATIVE. Here's how it can be done.

He may have to skip the two martinis, for the sake of holding down his calories, of which he doesn't need too many while working at a desk, unless he takes the advice of Professor Steinhaus, who suggests, perhaps with tongue in cheek, that the desk worker should run, not walk, to the water cooler and the washroom, and should leap from his chair instead of struggling out of it. Well, anyway, part of the plot is to hold down those calories at lunch time, not only for weight control, but to make it easier to keep awake and up-and-at-'em between two and three p.m.

Concentrate On Salads

The next item on the agenda—no businessman can function without an agenda—is what shall he eat? He needs protein and vegetables (for vitamins and minerals), and he doesn't need too much carbohydrate or fat. So the hot sandwiches immersed in gravy, the cream soups, and the french fries need to be handled with discretion. Better to concentrate on salads. Here one encounters the contemptuous brush-off, designating these as rabbit food. Perhaps. But consider the rabbit. It is light on its feet, does not develop a paunch, eludes its enemies with considerable success, and multiplies in geometric progression. Scieptics have suggested that the rabbit is a sissy who couldn't punch his way out of a paper bag. Maybe so, but he has a terrific wallop in his hind legs, which have sharp claws, as any boy knows who has had rabbits and hasn't learned to keep them from extending their hind legs with force.

Oh, lest we forget, rabbits don't drown their vegetables in high-calorie salad dressings, rich in fats.

Try Open-Faced Sandwiches

The salad, adorned with julienne of ham, turkey and cheese, provides the necessary protein, and makes a tasty and satisfying meal. The open-faced sandwich with meat or cheese, a pickle and a slice of tomato or a dish of cole slaw, makes a nice lunch, too.

Add a glass of milk, whole or skim or butter, depending on your waistline, and you have a nutritious lunch, satisfying and not paralyzing. It lets you work without nodding.

Dessert? Fresh fruit in season or sherbet fills the bill. Probably few businessmen will read this column, but a wife could call her husband's attention to it—or, could she?

Give old solid-color curtains a distinctive new look by trimming them from top to bottom with rows of cotton curtain fringe. Choose fringe in a gay coordinated color and sew it on in equally spaced rows, as close together as you like.

For Father's Day, give the home handyman a carpenter's apron made of sturdy cotton denim. If he's a man who would rather direct the job from the sidelines, give him a back yard hammock, in colorful cotton canvas.

Eula Jean Norman Weds Thomas Holmes Williams In Portland Ceremony

FULTON, Ky., April 15—Miss Eula Jean Norman, an instructor at Clark College, Vancouver, Wash., and native of this area, became the bride of Thomas Holmes Williams of Portland, Oregon on March 22, at First Baptist Church in Portland.

The bride is a daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Roy J. Norman of Warren, Mich., and the granddaughter of Mrs. Lena Brown of Water Valley and George Norman of Wingo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Williams of Hines, Ore.

Baskets of pink pompons and white stock with white tapers adorned the altar of the Chandelight Chapel, where the service was read by D. J. Lester Harnish. Soloist was Mrs. Kenneth Noah of Portland, a cousin of the bride.

Mr. Norman gave his daughter in marriage. Her classically styled gown of crystal charm was accented with peau d'ange lace embroidered with soutache in a scroll motif. The fitted bodice was designed with crescent-curved neckline and mid-length sleeves. The slim, tapered skirt was full length and back interest was created with a bow-topped Watteau panel of the embroidered lace framed with a silken border.

Her ballerina length veil of English silk illusion was held by a pillbox headpiece of Alencon lace and pearls and her crescent bouquet was stephanotis centered by a white orchid.

Mrs. Alex Dick of Warren, Mich., was matron of honor for her sister. Her gown, fashioned on empire lines, featured a modified A-line skirt of pink crepe and bodice of deep rose styled with scoop neckline, elbow sleeves. A detachable Watteau panel detailed the back. Her headress was a velvet bow with matching deep rose veil and she carried three long-stemmed roses of deep red hue.

Kimberly Dick, five-year-old niece of the bride, who was a flower girl wore a full length dress of pink crystal charm with empire waistline outlined with deep rose velvet ribbon ending in a bow and long streamers in back. Her headpiece was like that of the honor

Some 305,000 persons in the United States will probably die of cancer in 1967. Many of them who will die might have been saved by proper treatment received in time. Support of the American Cancer Society's 1967 Crusade will further the fight to help save the lives of thousands more cancer patients.

1,400,000 Americans now alive have been cured of cancer. In 30 years the survival rate has changed drastically—from fewer than one-in-five saved to today's one-in-three. Support of the American Cancer Society will help intensify the fight against cancer.

Of every six deaths from all diseases in the United States, one is from cancer—more than one every two minutes. Earlier detection and prompt treatment could reduce this figure drastically. Support the American Cancer Society's programs of research, education and service.

SUICIDE FINDINGS
LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Contrary to popular opinion, suicide is not always preceded by visible gloom or dejection. Psychiatrists working at suicide prevention centers have discovered that attempts by patients to take their own lives frequently are preceded by "smiling depression"—a covering-up of inner fears of fallings with an air of good humor.

"Once the suicide has made up his mind to take his life, he may suddenly seem relaxed, even happy and relieved, because he has decided a way out of his agony," according to Dr. Robert E. Litman of the Los Angeles Suicide Prevention Center.

"More For West Kentucky"

Carroll Hubbard, Jr.

TO THE CITIZENS OF ---- FULTON, HICKMAN, CARLISLE, GRAVES AND MARSHALL COUNTIES:

I sincerely believe that the people of this area want and deserve an effective, qualified State Senator to represent them in Frankfort for the next four years.

We need very much an effective State Senator who will be able to point out his accomplishments for our district when running for re-election.

By birth and choice I am a West Kentuckian. I am independent of any factional ties and as your State Senator can vote my conscience and convictions.

I will work to bring needed improvements to our area.

I am for less taxes and wiser spending of our tax money in Frankfort. I am for West Kentucky receiving its fair share of tax benefits from Frankfort.

Again I ask the thousands of people in this district who realize the serious need for a change in Senate Seat No. 1 to please pass the word to your friends in this five county area.

Sincerely,

CARROLL HUBBARD, JR.
