Legion Urges Overhauling UN's Charter

Security Council
Is "Hung Jury,"
Veterans Declare

AGAINST VETO

Washington, July 23.—(AP)—Calling the Security Council a "perpetually hung jury," the American Legion today proposed an over-haul of the United Nations charter to abolish the Big Five veto and set up a "tyranny-proof" world police force.

Climaxing a year of study, the Legion's recommendations were forwarded in a letter to each member of Congress with this acknowledgment:

"It may not be possible or expedient to attempt to bring about changes now, but we believe they suggest a goal which must be attained in order that the United Nations becomes fully effective."

The veterans organization contended that its recommendations would "lay a solid foundation for the elimination of the atomic threat." It said further they "are indispensable to bring about an adequate substitute for the grim rules of power politics."

Specifically, the Legion proposed three charter amendments designed to:

1. Give "more effective representation of the nations" on the Security Council and abolish the veto in cases of aggression "or preparation for aggression."
2. Give the Security Council "adequate powers" to prevent aggressive war by creating iron clad international controls over atomic weapons and all other means of mass destruction.
3. Create "a powerful yet tyranny proof" world police force.

These proposals followed closely an outcropping of Congressional resolutions calling for a United Nations charter revision conference. But while sponsors of these resolutions said they might lead to Russian withdrawal from the U. N., the Legion envisioned a world organization in which Russia, Britain and the United States would wield more voting strength than at present.

The Legion suggested revamping the Security Council into a 10-member body—two each from the United States, Britain and Russia, one each from France and China and two selected by the remaining member-states.

At present, Britain, Russia, France, China and the United States are permanent members of the 11-member council with each exercising veto power over any matter of "substance" before that body.

Wants To See Durbin Elected

Burnette Sends Donation
For Campaign Fund, Says
Fulton Man Deserves Post

Typical of the enthusiastic local support given Paul Durbin, Fulton, in his campaign for First District railroad commissioner is a letter the candidate received recently from N. W. Burnette, Fulton businessman, and released for publication by Durbin's friends. Durbin at present is continuing his campaign visits to various parts of the railroad district.

The letter follows:

"Dear Paul:
"Several days ago I was asked to contribute a few dollars to be used in radio advertising in the interest of your campaign for railroad commissioner. Without giving the matter much thought I made a small donation, but later on I began to realize what this race meant to you and to all of us."

"I will be brief in what I have to say: I admire your spirit, not only in this campaign, but through the years as a young man with enough determination to work your way through law school, participate in athletics as captain of the University of Kentucky track team and boxing team, your excellent record during the war years, advancing from second lieutenant to the rank of lieutenant colonel, and your work as a citizen since your return to civilian life."

"Altogether I am really sold on you, and want you to know it. I am enclosing fifty dollars for you to use in any way you see fit toward your campaign. Best of luck, and assuring you of my efforts to help get you elected."

Your friend, N. W. Burnette."

Truck Was Locked, But Tires Got Out

Highway Patrolmen and Southeastern Truck Lines officials are wondering how 33 tires were lost off a Southeastern truck last week as it was en route to Mayfield from Memphis. The lock was still on the truck's rear door when it reached Mayfield.

Highway Patrol Captain Paul Mullins reported yesterday morning that 10 of the new automobile tires were found just off Highway 45, between Water Valley and Wingo. The tires were turned over to the district manager of the manufacturer's store in Paducah yesterday.

Waterfield Repeats Opposition To Sales Tax; Other Campaign Speakers Heard Thruout State

By The Associated Press
Candidates for the gubernatorial nomination in both major political parties yesterday coasted along on an even keel, giving numerous talks in various sections of the state.

In the main, all candidates repeated previous statements made to voters in other communities.

Harry Lee Waterfield (D) said he is "unalterably opposed to a general sales tax or any other additional tax on farmers and homes in the state." He spoke yesterday at Madisonville and Owensboro. Today's stops are to be at Providence (2:30 p. m.) and Henderson (8 p. m.). Rep. Earle C. Clements, in appearances at Lawrenceburg, BABY KILLER?—Police Chief Stanley W. Switzer said in Massillon, O., that Roger Gue, 6, (center) made a statement admitting the "accidental killing" of two babies at City Hospital June 6. The boy is shown in a recent pose with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gue.

4-H Members, Parents Convinced Of Son's Innocence In Babies' Death

Massillon, O., July 23.—(AP)—Six-year-old Roger Gue's parents, steadily maintained today their son was not involved in the deaths of two infant girls at Massillon city hospital last June 6 as officials investigating the case split sharply into two camps.

Mrs. Roger Gue, the boy's mother, said Roger's earlier story he had seen a white, coated boy enter the hospital nursery was the truth—but a statement he made Sunday that he had dropped eight-week-old Diane Jean Brand and 10-week-old Rosemary Morton while playing nurse was not true.

"My husband and I won't believe that Roger did it," Mrs. Gue said last night.

Police Chief Stanley W. Switzer maintained that county prosecutor Deane McLaughlin and Coroner E. C. Reno had confused Roger, causing the lad to change his story.

McLaughlin declined comment on Switzer's assertion.

Brother Charlie Mackens has been their pastor for the past three years. He is a big man who works with his hands through the week and preaches with his heart on Sunday. He was a farmer before he came to Fulton. He is presently employed at the Pipeline Service Station. Since his church is small and he has a big family, a wife and eight children, he felt that he should work to help support himself and them. The present Mrs. Mackens (his first wife is dead) is the former Susie Lewis of Dickson county, Tenn., whom he married in 1925.

The Mackens family lives on the Martin highway out of Fulton. Five of his children are married, giving him four sons-in-law and a daughter-in-law.

Brother Mackens was born in Montgomery county, Tenn., July 20, 1893, and celebrated his 54th birthday last Sunday. He joined the Church of God 15 years ago because he believed in its teachings. He began preaching four years ago because "he felt like God called him to preach." He first "helped out" for a year at Clarksville, Tenn., before taking the pastorate of the church here.

Headquarters of his church is in Cleveland, Tenn., with M. A. Tomlinson as general overseer. State headquarters for Tennessee is at Murfreesboro, with L. V. Jones as state overseer. Brother Jones will be here tonight to help Brother Mackens start the revival.

'Too Many Vets Without Jobs'

That's Belief Of U. S.
Employment Official
In Address To Legion

Louisville, Ky., July 23.—(AP)—Kentucky members of the American Legion were told here today that the proportion of unemployed war veterans was "unduly high" and may go higher.

Perry Faulkner of Washington, chief of the Veterans Employment Service, said that additional thousands of veterans "haven't started looking for jobs yet."

He spoke at the Legion's state convention, being held in conjunction with the Legion-Auxiliary's state meeting. The four-day convention ends today.

"About one million veterans are now attending schools or completing their courses shortly," Faulkner said, "and will thereupon enter the labor market to sell the skills they have acquired by virtue of earnest and diligent study."

"We cannot fail these veterans nor those recuperating from the rigors of service."

Faulkner estimated there were 850,000 unemployed veterans, constituting 45 per cent of all the country's male unemployed. He said the former servicemen, however, make up only 28 per cent of all the male labor force in the country.

The speaker said the U. S. employment service and the state agencies have cooperated in helping find jobs for veterans.

W. E. Shelton, Jr., Mayfield, state commander, said that the Legion has an obligation to take the lead in employment, child welfare, rehabilitation, legislative matters, national defense and Americanism.

Church Of God Begins Revival

Pastor Charlie Mackens

Of Murfreesboro To Help

The Church of God begins a revival here tonight at the church building on McDowell street in South Fulton. Membership of the church is small, naming only 17 persons on its roll, but each of the 17 is a devout Christian, a true believer, trying to put the ministry of Jesus into everyday practice.

Indonesian Natives Fall Back Before U. S.-Trained Marines

WHERE DUTCH FIGHT INDONESIANS—Fighting between Dutch and Indonesian republican forces spread to the island of Sumatra where actions took place at Medan (1), Padang, (2) and Palembang (3). On the island of Java, Dutch troops drove south from Buitenzorg, east and west from Bandoeng and south toward Semarang and Soerabaja (arrows). Dutch marines were reported to have established a 55-mile long bridgehead between Probolinggo and Sitobondo (shaded) along northeast coast. Some of these forces were reported at Banjoewangi in order to prevent a possible flight of Indonesian forces to the nearby island of Bali.

Midwest And South Still Cool; 9-Inch Rain Floods Erie, Pa.

By The Associated Press
A midsummer cool wave in parts of the midwest and south and torrential rains in northwestern Pennsylvania highlighted the nation's weather map today.

Temperatures dipped to below 40 in southern Michigan today as the cool weather continued in that area and in most of Illinois, Indiana and parts of Ohio. Warmer air overspread the northern Great Plains, the upper Mississippi valley and the upper lakes region to break the chilly spell.

The mercury slid to 53 in Nashville, Tenn., and dropped to 47 in Bowling Green, Ky., as the mass of cool air extended south. U. S. weather forecasters in Chicago said the unseasonably cool weather would reach the Appalachian section tonight. Near normal temperatures were forecast for the north central states after nearly four days of readings 10 to 15 degrees below normal.

Heavy rains occurred in the lower lakes and in the northeastern section of the country, with 75 facilities reported homeless in Erie, Pa., where a rainfall of 9.03 inches in a 24-hour period was reported. Damage in the Pennsylvania city of 135,000 was estimated at $1,000,000.

Hail and rain fell along Lake Erie yesterday and hail-drifts 18 inches deep were reported in Pepper Pike, a village near Cleveland. The Weather Bureau explained the rain carried the hail along and piled into drifts where it softened into slush resembling snow.

45 Degrees At Hoptown
Coldest Recorded In July
Hopkinsville, Ky., July 23.—(AP)—The temperature here dropped last night to 45 degrees, the lowest ever recorded for July since the local weather station was established.

Weather Observer W. K. Morris said the previous low record for July was 47 degrees, set July 1, 1937.

Quail Bait At Egg-Laying
Frankfort, Ky., July 23.—(AP)—This year's whirly July has hit quail production in Kentucky. State Game and Fish Commission Director Earl Wallace said today egg laying at the state farm here this month has dropped from normal 5,000 a week to around 4,000, and that means a proportionate decrease in stocking preserves with the young birds.

U. S. Cancels
Aid To Poland
Washington, July 23.—(AP)—The State Department announced today that Poland's share of the $350,000,000 American foreign relief program has been cancelled.

The action was taken on the recommendation of Col. R. H. Harrison, a special assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who made a survey of Poland's minimum food needs for Secretary of State Marshall.

Harrison reported that "grain and other foods are available to meet the minimum food needs of the Polish people generally for the balance of this calendar year."

He said imports of medical supplies and supplementary foodstuffs for special groups appear justified and that some imports of grain seed and fertilizer would be helpful.

The State Department said in its announcement however, that such special items could be supplied through private relief agencies and other sources, such as the international emergency children's fund. The announcement added:

In view of the above and of the fact that the funds available are sufficient to meet only the most urgent relief needs, it has been decided not to undertake a relief program for Poland."

Dutch Motorized Units Encounter Slight Resistance

SOME INFILTRATION

Batavia, Java, July 23.—(AP)—The Dutch army today reported that American-trained marines moving south from north-coast beachheads had less than 10 miles to go to pinch off 2,400 square miles of east Java from the rest of republican Indonesia.

The army, in its second communiqué since hostilities started Sunday night and the first to be specific on locations, indicated that its motorized and armor-protected troops were pushing deep into Java and Sumatra on at least 10 fronts, with resistance only "sporadically encountered."

On the Semarang front in Central Java, the communiqué said, Dutch forces had advanced southward 30 miles—or more than a third of the way to the republican capital of Jogjakarta.

But an Indonesian army communiqué declared that infiltrating republican forces had reached the outskirts of Semarang, the Dutch takeover point.

The Dutch announcement said Netherlands fighters had advanced nearly 30 miles south out of Probolinggo, captured after a north-coast landing Monday, to Leomading and last night were within 10 miles of east Java's southern coast on their way across a narrow bottleneck.

New Landing

(A dispatch from Jogjakarta said a high republican military source reported that Dutch troops had made a new landing on the south coast near Leomading, and expressed fear they soon would take Malang, some 50 miles to the west, center of east Java's rich sugar land.

The Dutch communiqué indicated that American-trained marines landed on the north and east coasts of east Java already had sealed off a part of east Java by joining at Djember.

The communiqué said those from the north, where they had established a 55-mile beachhead running from Probolinggo to Sitobondo, had struck inland 55 miles to capture Djember and there had been joined by those landed simultaneously at Banjoewangi on the east coast.

The army said the avowed Indonesian "scorched earth" policy "manifested itself chiefly in robbing the more well-to-do inhabitants, especially the Chinese, and burning their properties."

Couldn't Agree
The current conflict arose from a disagreement between the Netherlands colonial authorities and the republican government over the method of carrying out the Cheribon Agreement for an independent United States of Indonesia.

On Sumatra, the army communiqué reported that a Dutch column had moved more than 70 miles to the west of Palembang in the southeastern part of the big island.

Though the column's present location was not revealed, this advance would seem to have put it in control of the rich oil fields that supply the great Shell and Standard-Vacuum refineries at Palembang.

The communiqué said other Dutch elements lancing east from this Netherlands colonial capital had moved 50 miles beyond Tanboun, Krawang and the little coastal town of Tjilamaja. This column was headed for Cheribon, about 130 miles east of Batavia.

The Dutch communiqué said that in west Java troops had pushed about 30 miles southeast from their Buitenzorg jumping-off point and captured the Buitenzorg-Tjandjoer railroad intact as a vital supply link.

On the Bandoeng front in west Java, crack Dutch forces were said to have overrun Segalaharung, 15 miles north of Bandoeng, and Tandjoengsari, 12 miles east of the same city.

The Day Of Empires Is Fading

By Dewitt MacKenzie,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There is no dark mystery about the warfare which has erupted again between the Indonesian Republic and the Imperial Dutch forces; it's just another of many indications that the day of empires is fading.

To understand the cause of the current crisis we must go back a bit. The revolutionary Indonesian Republic has been the de facto government for the major portions of the rich islands of Java and Sumatra since the winter of 1945. Lengthy negotiations between the Dutch and the Rebels (heavily punctuated by warfare) finally resulted in an agreement whereby a United States of Indonesia, encompassing both the republic and the remainder of the East Indies, would come into being in 1949.

This new nation was to have dominion status. Holland was to retain a hand in foreign relations, defense, finance and in subjects of an economic or cultural nature. The queen of Holland also was to be queen of the Dominion. Disagreement over the method of implementing the new government is credited with precipitating the latest upheaval. However, I think we must go deeper than that. If we could look into the mind of the Indonesian we likely should encounter some such reasoning as this:

"The Dutch and the Indonesians are racially as far apart as the poles. We have little in common. The queen of the Netherlands is a benevolent and lovable personage, but she is not one of us. The members of her government are foreigners to us. We want absolute severance from Holland, so that we may rule ourselves in these fairly lands of wealth which have been inhabited by our race for untold generations. It isn't that we like the Dutch the less, but that we like our absolute freedom the more."

That's what your correspondent believes they think. And that is the basic cause of this fresh outbreak. If we believe the writing on the wall this means that sooner or later (and probably sooner) the Netherlands must relinquish all claims on the wealth of Indonesia.

The same is true of all imperial powers, because the demand for independence is running around the world like a theme song. We are seeing its effect in the vast sub-continent of India which has been granted its freedom by England. Britain also is relinquishing Burma—now torn by a bloody internal political crisis.

Around the corner the French are battling to keep French Indo-China in line. French and Italian colonies in Africa are reaching for the sun. Egypt is demanding the withdrawal of British troops from her soil, and relinquishment of control over the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. And so the story goes. Empires are as outmoded as the Georgian stage-coach.

Naturally this doesn't mean that all imperial possessions are going by the board overnight. However, the time is fast passing when intelligent people of different races can be bound together by a jewel studded crown and sceptre. Commonwealths comprising sovereign nations of different races may be formed successfully for mutual benefit—and someday we may get that vast commonwealth which many look forward to as "one world." But empires are all but anachronistic.

And by the same token, any attempt to create a bloc of nations by force, against the will of their peoples, must fail in the long run.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, July 23—(AP)—It's a pretty good year for rookies in baseball and it probably has been a long time since so many first-year flingers have made good in the big leagues... while they may not all be great pitchers, you can list the Yankees' Spec Shea; Carl Scheib (if he wins a few more they'll change the spelling of Shibe Park); and Bill McCahan of the Athletics, Harry Dorish of the Red Sox, Harry Taylor and Clyde King of the Cardinals, Buddy Lively of the Reds, Doyle Lade of the Cubs and Larry Jansen and Clint Hartung of the Giants as guys who have made the big league grade... Hartung, Hearn and Lively are notable because they're service products. The first two had less than a full season of pro baseball each before entering the armed forces and Lively not much more. Of course, there are some old guys around, too. Red Ruffing, Mel Harder, Bobo Newsom, Dutch Leonard and Schoolboy Rowe still are winning games.

his dad again next winter. Bob played two years for Logansport, Ind. high school when Cliff coached there. He was all-state in Louisiana last season.

TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT

The sports publicity directors of eight "ivy" colleges held an informal conference last week-end to see what they could do about "improving press relations" and, of course, getting a few more words in the papers. The simplest suggestion would be to get some of those All-America halfbacks from the coal mines or seven-foot basketball players.

Branch Rickey planned to put a soft rubber cushion on the Elberta Field fence to protect Pete Reiser. After Pete's latest injury, it seems he'll have to pad the entire outfield... Chicks Drop To Third Spot With 10-14 Loss Oilers Take 2nd Win Of Series

In a wild a woolly game played at Fairfield last night the Oilers of Owensboro defeated the Chicks 14-10. The loss dropped the Chicks to third place as the Mayfield Clothiers were winning over Hopkinsville 1-0.

Eighteen walks, six wild pitches and eight errors featured the tilt last night in which the lead changed hands several times. Four Owensboro hurlers paraded to the mound before the game was over. The Chicks used two pitchers.

The Chicks put together seven runs in the fifth inning—enough tallies to win any ordinary ball game—and scored once in the first, fourth and eighth innings, but could not muster enough counters to offset the 14 runs the Oilers picked up in the first, fourth, seventh, eighth and ninth innings.

It was the second straight loss by the Chicks to the league-leading Oilers and the rubber game of the series. The Chicks go to Madisonville tonight to play the Miners. They remain on the road for six days, playing a series with the Miners and one with the Hoppers. They return to Fairfield Tuesday, July 29, for a series with Clarksville.

AAF Wants Bomb For Jet Planes

Washington, July 23—(AP)—The Army Air Forces is seeking a bomb for its high speed jet bombers.

Disclosing today that top priority is being given the project, AAF research experts added that it is directly involved in the tests of deep penetration missiles soon to begin in Germany.

Because those bombs to be dropped from extremely high-flying B-29s—probably will attain supersonic speeds before reaching the earth, the AAF scientists expect to find important design clues for the new type weapon they are hunting.

Aluminum is the most abundant metal found in the earth's crust.

Wall Street Report

New York, July 23—(AP)—Stocks generally took on a mild recovery tinge today although many leaders did little or nothing.

Dealings quieted after a fairly active opening. While there were a few gains of a point or so near midday, most plus marks held to minor fractions.

Inflation ideas continued to provide the principal bullish inspiration. Ahead the greater part of the time were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Sears, Pennsylvania Railroad, Penn. Northern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, American Woolen, American Union "A", American Works, Kennecott, Westinghouse and International Harvester. Occasional leaders were Goodyear, Glenn Martin, and International Nickel. A few assortment of pherals was changed.

Cotton futures slipped and bonds were narrow.

WE ARE COMPETITIVE

We Can Sell You Lumber On The Same Basis As Truckers At Truck Prices!

There is nothing to be saved by patronizing them. The lumber that has been trucked into Fulton has been stacked on open lots all in one handling, and the cash paid to the driver at the time of unloading. We can do this same thing.

Give us the bill of your needs and we will haul the lumber directly from the railroad car to your job at prices as low as any trucker will deliver it.

No retailer can give the customary service of credit-selling, warehousing and delivering a few pieces at a time and meet this competition. The trucker has no overhead except his investment in the truck, and his entire "stock" consists of one load on his truck.

We repeat, let us deal with you on the same basis as would the trucker, and we guarantee to sell you at his prices -- or below.
