Farmers Have Good Weather For Most Crops

Weather Bureau Says Mercury Unusually Low

LITTLE RAINFALL

Despite the "scorching" temperatures here Wednesday and Thursday, the report of the U. S. weather bureau for the week just closed shows that the state was from four to eight degrees cooler than normal for the last week in July. Except for locally moderate to heavy rains on the 27th in parts of the northern sections, precipitation was light. The weather was generally favorable for field work, but it was too cool for the best growth of crops, especially corn.

Average temperature during the week at Cairo, Ill., was 77, with the record high 93 and the low 54. No rainfall was reported there. At Paris, Tenn., there was 2.1 inch rain, the average temperature was 73, the high 94 and the low 48.

In the southern and western portions of Kentucky, peaches range from fair to very good, and picking and marketing of early varieties are under way. Gardens generally are fair to good, though some tomato blight is reported. Potatoes range from fair to good to occasionally excellent and digging is progressing well.

The barley and rye harvest is completed. Considerable wheat and oats were harvested and threshed during the past week, and this work is practically finished.

The corn crop is mostly fair to good and well cultivated. Much early corn has been laid by.

The tobacco crop varies greatly, but as a whole it averages fairly good. Plants range mostly from 10 to 22 leaves, and some priming is in progress, while in a few advanced fields plants are blooming and topping has started. Considerable wildfire, rust and other diseases are reported in Washington county, while in a few southwestern counties stands are poor and plants small to medium.

On-Job-Training Problems Talked At State Meeting

Louisville, Ky., July 31.—(AP)—Progress made in re-approving on-the-job training establishments came up for discussion today as coordinators of the state's 12 area trade schools and state Education Department officials opened a two-day meeting here.

Harold G. Wilson, state supervisor of trade and industrial education, who called the meeting, has urged all firms seeking approval or re-approval of on-the-job training programs to contact the coordinator of the nearest area trade school. (Establishments having on-the-job training programs for veterans are required to comply with new standards set up under a federal law passed last August.)

Area trade schools are located in Ashland, Harlan, Hazard, Lexington, Louisville, Madisonville, Paintsville, Covington, Owensboro, Paducah, Somerset and Bowling Green.

State Drivers' Licenses Will Expire At Midnight

Frankfort, Ky., July 31.—(AP)—All Kentucky automobile and truck drivers' licenses expire at midnight tonight.

Technically anyone driving a motor vehicle tomorrow will be subject to penalties. But there has been no announcement here as to how strictly they may be enforced.

Miss Martha Smith, Fulton city clerk, reported that she had sold 210 drivers' licenses up to 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Leader Congratulates

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Binford, Crutcheff, on the birth of a seven pound, five-ounce girl yesterday afternoon, July 30, at Haws Memorial. She has been named Rita Diane.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Adams of Orlando, Fla., on the birth of an eight pound four ounce girl July 29 at a hospital in Orlando. Mrs. Adams is the daughter of Frances Yates of Water Valley, Ky. Her mother, Mrs. Yates, left for Orlando, Wednesday.

Joint Army And Navy Rejection Of Flying Boat Plan Revealed

Washington, July 31.—(AP)—The joint Army-Navy chiefs of staff declared in July, 1942, that diversion of materials to a huge flying boat program would be "unjustifiable," it was developed today at a Senate hearing on the Kaiser-Bueche contracts for three such boats. Robert A. Lovett, now Undersecretary of State, testified to the Senate War Investigating committee as to the stand of these top Army and Navy officers.

He read into the record a letter which Robert P. Patterson, then Undersecretary of War, wrote five years ago yesterday summarizing the position of the joint chiefs of staff.

Lovett at the time was Assistant Secretary of War for air. Patterson wrote the memorandum to Donald M. Nelson, then chairman of the War Production Board, which later that year gave Henry J. Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder, and Howard Hughes, aeronautical engineer and film producer, an $18,000,000 contract to construct three huge flying boats.

On Sept. 12, 1942, Lovett testified, he wrote a letter to Nelson to confirm information he had received that the W.P.B. had awarded a contract to the Kaiser-Bueche company for three of the 300-ton craft. He said he understood they were to be built of "non-strategic materials."

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the subcommittee asked whether the letter constituted War Department approval of the project.

"No, sir, it was not," Lovett replied. "It was in response to a request."

At the time he said, the Army "had an elaborate plan" for the production of cargo planes, but it did not include the Kaiser project to mass produce planes. The Army "did not desire" to underwrite Kaiser's project, calling for production of planes similar to the 70-ton Martin Mars, he said.

Lovett's testimony opened the fourth day of the Senate group's public inquiry into approximately $40,000,000 worth of airplane contracts held by Hughes.

His letter states: "At a city-wide meeting Sunday night at the Fourth Avenue Methodist church, the Louisville Christian Civic League announced its recommendations of candidates in certain state and city races. Their endorsement for governor was for Harry Lee Waterfield on the Democratic ticket, and Eldon S. Dummit on the Republican ticket."

"The Christian Civic League is a non-partisan, non-sectarian and non-racial group of men and women representing practically every business profession. More than 100 churches in Louisville and Jefferson county are represented on the executive council of the League."

"The chief purpose of this organization is to promote clean and progressive government through the election of better men for office regardless of political affiliation."

Dutch Troops Fake Malang. Fake Malang. Key Java City "Scorched Earth" Strategy Used By Indonesians

CITY IS DESERTED

Batavia, Java, July 31.—(AP)—The Dutch army announced tonight the capture of fire-scorched Malang, former resort city which is the key to east central Java.

A broadcast Indonesian communiqué said the Dutch were within mortar range and that Indonesians were applying the scorched earth policy.

The Republicans asserted also their forces were within 12 miles of Batavia and had recaptured the perimeter towns of Tangerang, Serpong and Tjineke. The Dutch declared this claim was "nonsense."

The Indonesian broadcast said Malang was "heavily" gassed and machinegunned during the night.

The Indonesians said another column of the Dutch army, equipped largely with U. S. lend-lease and surplus war supplies, had cut nearly a highway across the waist of Java in a drive from Tegal, on the north coast, to the Bobotsari area, 35 miles to the southeast. The Dutch declared this claim was "nonsense."

Waterfield Predicts Victory By "Overwhelming Majority" At Annual Fancy Farm Picnic

Candidate Comes To Fulton Friday With Motorcade

2,000 HEAR ADDRESS

HARRY LEE WATERFIELD
Candidate for Governor

By The Associated Press
Harry Lee Waterfield, of Clinton, a Democratic aspirant for the gubernatorial nomination, is the youngest of the major party candidates for the state's highest office.

Waterfield is only 36 years old, having been born Jan. 19, 1911, on a Calloway county farm. He grew up in his native county and attended Murray high school.

After he was graduated from Murray State college in 1932, Waterfield went to La Center, where he published the Weekly Advance for two years. Leaving La Center in 1934, he acquired the Hickman County Gazette, followed in 1935 by his purchase of the Citizens Courier at Arlington and in 1938 of the Car-

The Sun Shines Bright On The First District

August 19, one hundred and fifty-five years ago, Kentucky became a state . . . and that year, the Blue Grass region furnished the first Governor, Isaac Shelby. The Blue Grass region, aristocratic and effete center of culture and agriculture, has been fore-ordained who would be Kentucky's Governor ever since.

For all these years, the First district has been denied the honor of having one of its native sons in the Mansion at Frankfort. Only one other time, when Allen W. Barkley ran against J. Campbell Cantrill, in 1923, did this district have a chance to win the governorship . . . and then Mr. Cantrill, a native of Scott county, in the Blue Grass region, won the nomination but died before he could be elected.

And again this time, the Blue Grass political leaders are united as never before, with the backing of the powerful Kentucky Utilities Company, seeking to prevent the First district from obtaining a Governor.

But this time the First district people have their greatest opportunity to put one of their own in the Governor's chair, as Harry Lee Waterfield, courageous and proven champion of all the people of Kentucky, wages what appears now to be a winning fight for this high honor.

The trend to Waterfield is said by observers in every section of the state to be pronounced, as we enter the final stage of this campaign. The people of the Mountains are for him. The people of northern Kentucky like him. He will carry several counties in the Blue Grass district, according to well-informed Democrats. He appears likely to be given majorities in five of the state's nine districts, with two others rated very close. He is weakest in the sixth (the Blue Grass district) and the second, home of his opponent.

A great many persons living in the Blue Grass seem to believe the sun rises in Bourbon county and sets in Shelby. These good folk are also under the delusion that Western Kentucky (west of Louisville) is still wilderness, the Dark and Bloody Ground . . . and they would sell their interest in Louisville for a quarter.

Only when it comes time for the First district to deliver a big majority for Democratic candidates do the folk of the Pennyville and the Purchase assume any importance in Central Kentucky minds . . . and then temporarily.

There are no mud roads in the Blue Grass. The schools are better and they have plenty of colleges in the Blue Grass. The land is highly priced and many rich persons live in those central Kentucky counties . . . the brewers and the big rich of the North East and West, who have bought up the acres made famous by the Clays, the Breckinridges, the Morgans and the Bradleys.

These people are not entitled to pick our Governor for us every time, and they cannot and will not do the picking this time. If Democrats who live in the First district will go to the polls and vote for Harry Lee Waterfield!

We must rally our voting strength August second for Waterfield, to prove the rest of Kentucky we are loyal to our own. If we fail, it will be taken as conclusive evidence we do not care about the governorship . . . and we may never again have the opportunity of electing a First district man to be Chief Executive of Kentucky.

Waterfield promises to kill the 1948 Motor Bill and thus protect the right of the people to cheap and abundant electric power. He pledges $10,000,000 a year for rural roads and to lift the pay of our teachers to at least the national average.

Waterfield's record proves he keeps his word.

Let us keep the faith with him and show Kentucky we are proud of our own.

Bargaining With Bread

By Dewitt MacKenzie

Britain, France and other economically distressed nations of western Europe are reaching for the prospective benefits of the Marshall rehabilitation project like drowning men grabbing for life-buoys.

For example, authoritative sources in London stated yesterday that the government had under consideration the drastic course of spending some of England's $2,560,000,000 gold and dollar reserve as an emergency measure to deal with the difficult days which are expected to plague the country next winter. But the important point of this disclosure—and your special attention is drawn to it—is that the tapping of the reserve would be a stop-gap between the period when the $3,750,000,000 loan from the U. S. A. is exhausted about the end of the year and the time when the Marshall plan or some other American program of financial aid to Europe becomes effective.

France made a new appeal to Russia in the United Nations Economic and Social Council to join in implementing the Marshall plan. The Paris government, fighting to keep out of the grip of the powerful French Communist party, is greatly worried over Moscow's attitude. Delegate George Boris told the council that distrust between Russia and the western powers was paralyzing European economic recovery.

The Russian reply was to rebuke France for bringing the Marshall plan into a United Nations debate. White Russian Representative Kaminsky declared the economic and social council has no right to discuss the Marshall plan. He further said the plan was linked with German economy, which he maintained had no place on the agenda.

With the above as background I am going to set down here a sensational and, if substantiated, vastly important report which comes to me from a usually exceedingly well informed European source. You will recall that last May French Socialist Premier Ramadier dismissed from his coalition cabinet the five Communist ministers, after the national assembly had given him a two-to-one vote of confidence in which Communist members dissented. Since then the Communists have been outside the government.

It's clear that this split was the result of Communist refusal to collaborate. My source now tells me that the crisis was deliberately precipitated under orders from Moscow, and the strategy was this:

It had just become apparent that the Russian wheat crop this year would be excellent, barring unforeseen contingencies. Possession of this breadstuff would provide a mighty bargaining weapon on a continent which, in many places, was hard pressed for food. France for almost the first time in her history was short of bread.

Well, with that set-up the French Communists were to undertake a program of harassing the government. An important phase of the campaign would be the causing of labor troubles, the Reds being powerful in important trade unions. This would add further to the economic chaos of the nation. When autumn approached, and the government was beside itself with tribulations, ship loads of Russian wheat would be offered to the distressed country and the time would be ripe for the French Communist party to zoom into power on the gratitude of the populace and the weakness of the government.

There is one more item to be added. Last Sunday a communique was issued in Moscow giving the first authoritatively published news that the Soviet wheat crop is indeed excellent. There is grain for export.

House Promises Sensational Probe of Fleming's Reds—news headline. We suppose there'll be plenty of West Coast lovelets to provide the main show with the inevitable "selected shorts."

New York Visitor Is Impressed By Lovely Water Valley Lawn

The Leader has received a letter from Mrs. John Henry of New York City, who says that the lawn of a home in Water Valley deserves a good write up in the paper. It would be difficult to improve on the following description, written by the New York lady:

"Do you want to see a beautiful yard? If so you should drive to a town by the name of Water Valley, Ky. In passing through this town recently I chanced to pass a red brick house on a hill, and I believe this is one of the prettiest yards I've passed in my travels for a long time. It makes a person feel better to chance on a yard like this one, for it shows a love of nature and beautiful things to plan and care for a yard this size."

Legion Baseball Finals Tonight; Mayfield Loses

Louisville, Ky., July 31—(AP)—Semi-finals in the American Legion's state junior baseball tournament here today pit Ashland against Bowling Green and Shawnee Post of Louisville against Corbin.

Winners will meet tonight in the championship game.

Yesterday's opening round saw Ashland defeat Prestonsburg 14-1. Bowling Green beat Mayfield 14-3 and Shawnee Post whip Covington 7-0. Corbin had drawn a first-round bye.

Highlight of yesterday's play was the pitching and batting of Ashland's Bob Queen, who held Prestonsburg hitless until two men were out in the ninth, and with two strikes on the third batter.

Nine Is Too Many In One Apartment; All Are Evicted

Louisville, Ky., July 31—(AP)—Nine persons who had been living in one apartment at the Clarkdale housing project are looking for new living quarters today, after being evicted from the project for overcrowding.

They spent last night with five other relatives in the same housing project.

Constables yesterday evicted the nine persons and moved the furniture onto the sidewalk where it remained last night. The owner predicted it would disappear "piece by piece if we don't get a place soon."

Many Vacationists Often Forget Simple Fire Prevention Rules

AP Newsfeatures

New York—It is a common suspicion among fire prevention authorities that vacationists leave their common sense at home.

Every summer many people are killed or injured, hundreds of summer cottages are destroyed and millions of dollars worth of damage result from fires which, say the experts, are mostly caused by carelessness.

July and August have their own brand of fire hazards, authorities say, because the vacationist, in his spirit of abandon, leaves restraint at home; cottages and summer hotels often are of light, low-cost construction; cottages frequently are furnished with worn and old hand-me-downs from city homes; resort areas often are far from organized fire departments, and finally, because the weather is dry.

For the vacationist, who is headed for a small cottage or camp, here are some things to watch out for, as suggested by engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

1. On arrival, inspect the premises for fire hazards. The roofs, gutters and eaves of a building should be kept free of needles or leaves. Keep the grounds and house clear of such fire-consuming debris as paper, boxes and clothes.

2. No fire works, especially where there are any trees.

3. Be careful of stoves, especially makeshift ones. Learn how to use them. Stoves should be placed at least 18 inches from walls. Smoke pipes, unless suitably insulated, should be at least 12 inches from walls or ceilings. Don't use kerosene or gasoline for starting or quickening fires.

4. Gasoline, kerosene and oil should be stored well away from dwellings and in small quantities.

5. Gasoline and kerosene lamps should be placed a safe distance from walls, ceilings, curtains, drapes, etc.

6. Have approved fire extinguishers on hand. Make sure they work and learn how to use them.

7. Outdoor fireplaces should be well away from buildings and overhanging trees.

8. Don't wait until it's too late to learn how to contact the nearest fire warden or fire department.

9. And don't be lazy about putting out cigarettes and matches. Make certain they are completely extinguished.

New Enlistment Regulations Told By Navy Recruiter

Chief H. M. West, chief petty officer in charge of the Union City Navy recruiting office, announced that effective immediately and through Oct. 31 all ex-Navy personnel who have been separated from the service longer than three months may enlist or reenlist in the regular Navy with ratings higher than have been previously authorized.

The previous ratings and possible new ratings: chief petty officer-petty officer second class; first class petty officer-petty officer second class; second class petty officer-petty officer third class; third class petty officer-petty officer third class.

Further information may be obtained at the Union City Navy office.

BURIED MONEY DRAWS INTEREST OF SHERIFF

Laurel, Mont.—(AP)—Andrew Kirsch, 65, acquired an enlarged basement and a new respect for banks at the same time.

He buried his life savings of $5,000 in a fruit jar and then forgot the basement hiding place.

Sheriff's officers helped in the digging and the money finally was found but not, reported Sheriff Albert Thomas, until "we tore up every inch of that basement."

Veterans Corner

This column is published weekly through the cooperation of this paper. Questions should be mailed to the Veterans Employment Representative, Kentucky State Employment Service, Mayfield, Kentucky.

Q—I receive compensation for injuries incurred in the service. Do I have to show the amount of compensation I received in making out my income tax report?

A—No. It is unnecessary to show pension or compensation payments in an income tax report.

Q—Under what circumstances can I claim that my parents are my dependents?

A—Dependency will be held to exist if your parents do not have an income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for themselves and members of their family under legal age.

Q—I draw permanent total disability compensation because of injuries due to service. Will I continue to draw my compensation if I move to Australia?

A—Yes. Residence has no bearing on compensation entitlement.

Q—I am a World War II employee by a manufacturing concern. I own a small grocery which I operate on the side. Net income from the store is less than $1000 a month. Am I eligible for a self-employment allowance?

A—No. Under the G. I. Bill, you must devote full time to your business in order to qualify for a self-employment allowance.

Q—I am studying law under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act and have received a number of law books from the Veterans Administration which I would like to keep for my law library. Will I be able to keep them after I complete my course?

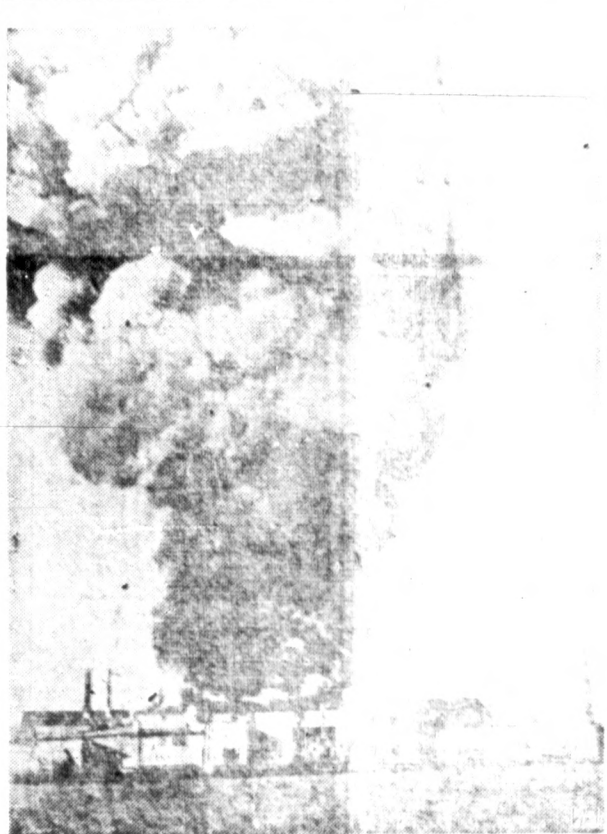

A—Yes, if you complete the course satisfactorily.

East Indies Kids Must Be Careful In Drinking Milk

Copenhagen—(AP)—One hundred fifty children from Netherlands East Indies have arrived on the Danish Baltic Sea island of Bornholm "to eat eggs and butter for the next three months," as one child said.

According to a Red Cross official, the children looked remarkably healthy, but, nevertheless, their hosts were warned not to give them too much milk as many of the children—all of whom have been concentration camp inmates—have not seen milk for many years.

Said six-year-old Erika Gortzmueller of Bandung: "I am going to fill my stomach for the next three months—that's all."

CHEMICAL PLANT BURNS—Flames shot through the explosion-torn roof of the F. W. Beck Chemical Corp. plant and threw a spectacular pillar of smoke against the sky in Wood Ridge, N. J. Three blasts and the fire left a black cloud over the factory standing.

How To Use GI Benefits

The Daily Leader presents today the first in a series of articles on Government benefits available to World War II Veterans. Today's article presents answers to questions on the subject of G. I. Loans. Subsequent articles will cover G. I. Insurance, hospitalization, occupational medical treatment and education under the G. I. Bill, and on-the-job training.

The series is designed to answer questions most frequently asked by veterans, according to Harry E. Perryman, Veterans Administration Contract Representative, who is at the Fulton Postoffice each Monday and Tuesday to assist veterans and their dependents.

Additional information pertaining to rights and benefits of veterans and their dependents may be obtained at the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Louisville, Ky.

NO. 1 OF A SERIES

The 10 questions most frequently asked by World War II Veterans about G. I. home loans were answered today by Veterans Administration.

VA compiled the queries and survey it conducted recently to learn how much veterans knew about their federal benefits.

The questions and answers follow:

Q—Where should a veteran go to get a G. I. home loan?

A—He first must find a bank or savings loan association or other private lenders willing to make the loan.

Q—Where does the Veterans Administration come in?

A—VA guarantees up to $1,000, but no more than half the loan, made by private lender to the veteran. This guaranty helps protect the lender from loss. VA does not lend money to the veteran.

Q—How much can the veteran borrow?

A—As much as the lender is willing to lend, but the maximum VA guarantee will be $50,000.

Q—What are some of the advantages of a G. I. home loan to the veteran?

A—(1) Because of the VA guaranty, the lender is more willing to make a loan to the veteran. This guaranty helps protect the lender from loss. VA does not lend money to the veteran.

Q—Doesn't the veteran get a guaranty payment of some kind?

A—Yes, VA pays to the lender, for credit to the Veterans loan, an amount equal to percent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. For example, if the guaranteed portion is $3,000, the lender will receive $120 from VA to credit to the debt of the veteran.

Q—Must the veteran pay cash to make a down payment?

A—No. But if a down payment is required by the lender, it is not prevent the veteran from obtaining a guaranteed loan.

Q—Who pays the appraisers' fee?

A—The veteran. This fee usually is about $15 or $20.

Q—Can a veteran loan with a non-veteran to buy a two-family home?

A—Yes, provided the veteran's interest is properly protected to

Queen Mary, With Face Lifted, To Resume Transatlantic Runs

AP Newsfeatures

Southampton, England.—The Queen Mary—"lovely lady," the sailors call her—is being restored to her prewar elegance as a luxury liner after a distinguished war-time career and will resume her weekly runs across the Atlantic Ocean July 31.

Along a deck where thousands of American and Canadian soldiers stood in blacked-out war-time crossings, workmen are putting down the last of new deck planking. Along the alleyways, highly polished white sycamore paneling is refitted.

War Role Forgotten
Some three-quarters of a million soldiers who were her passengers during seven years as an ocean-going greyhound wouldn't know their Mary now. Nor would thousands of soldiers' brides and children the Mary brought to new homes in America.

Thousands of feet of serviceable, unlovely plaster board have been ripped out. In drab quarters which housed 80 GIs a crossing there is a luxurious cocktail bar, gay in red leather upholstery and bright red and soft gray curtains. The main restaurants have been redecorated; what was the brides' movie theater has been turned into a supper club with fluorescent lighting and tinted mirrors.

Luxury Quarters
The wartime sickbay, with its wooden partitions, has disappeared and in its place is the rich, luxurious first class smoking room. The main lounge again is a massive room with lofty maple wood pillars, paneling and a thick carpet of russet and gold.

When the 81,235-ton Cunard liner went to war, she left behind her in various parts of the world some 10,000 pieces of furniture and fittings. New York held a couple of hundred boxes and cases and in Australia stored quantities of furniture and 2,500 cabin and stateroom doors. All were shipped back to England before the reconversion started.

Hundreds of miles of wiring were removed and renewed. Decks scraped, rugs laid, pumps, generators and other equipment were torn down and worn parts replaced. The whole ship underwent a gigantic face-lifting.

She's undergoing trial runs now and, at the end of the month, will be off for New York to the cheers of the crowd and the music of the bands.

Right-Of-Way Rule Will Be Enforced, Hiway Head Says

Frankfort, Ky.—Owners of billboards, signs or buildings erected to encroach upon the state highway rights-of-way are to be warned that such structures will be removed by the state at the owners' expense, J. Stephen Watkins, commissioner of the Department of Highways said today. Encroachment is only permitted in cases where sufficient right-of-way is available to prevent obstruction of view in the interest of traffic safety.

"In a number of recent cases we have found that people have erected signs, billboards and even three-story buildings on the state's right-of-ways," Watkins said. "It is the policy of the department to permit temporary structures where sight-distances are not impaired, but such decisions must be made by our own staff of engineers before the work is started. Those who contemplate building dwellings, stores, gasoline stations, billboards or the erection of signs along the highway should first determine the property lines. A permit will not be granted for encroachment on the state's right-of-ways unless the circumstances warrant."

FULHAM NEWS

It's a busy season for everyone, especially for the housekeeper of the farm. There's something to pick, can, pickle and preserve every day, but there is only one day to vote in the Democratic Primary and that is Saturday, August 2. Use the day wisely. Don't neglect a big opportunity to take care of a little job. As a citizen, duty calls us to the polls. As Fulton-Hickman courtians, interest and loyalty for a home candidate will take us there to cast a vote for Kentucky's first Governor from the First District.

BUSTER CANNON DIES IN DETROIT

William Curtis (Buster) Cannon 28, arrived in Detroit last Thursday and his body will be returned here Tuesday night for burial. He had been visiting here for the past month in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Blumer Hunt, and left for his home in Detroit Wednesday night. He never enjoyed good health and had been ill with sugar diabetes for some time. Death occurred Sunday afternoon in the St. Joseph hospital. He is survived by his father, Curtis Cannon, and stepmother, a step-father, Bob Lyon, and a sister Mrs. Leo Withers (Marie), with whom he resided, all of Detroit, several aunts and uncles. Funeral and burial will be Wednesday at Salem.

WHEN FATE FAILS IT TRIES AGAIN

Merced, Calif.—(P)—Mariposa county officers pleaded together this story of the fatal double fall of Edward Scott, 62. He fell from a hay wagon, fractured his skull, but didn't realize the gravity of his injury. So he climbed back on the wagon—and fell again, breaking his neck.

Girl Makes KP's Stand Inspection

Copenhagen.—(P)—The sentry at the entrance of the garrison barracks at Holbaek, Denmark, was puzzled but presented arms when a pretty young blonde in skirt and officer's tunic with a first lieutenant badge walked up to him, saluted smartly and asked admission to the barracks. She said she was to inspect the cooking, and the sentry let her pass.

The girl lieutenant walked over to the kitchen, praised the KP's, blamed the sergeant in charge for wasting foodstuff on the floor, then walked out.

One garrison captain who heard of the inspection became suspicious. There are no women officers in the Danish army. He found the girl in a local hotel. She had bought the uniform second-hand and said planned the inspection "because she loved the atmosphere in soldiers' barracks."

HELP BUILD AMERICA'S AIR POWER ON AIR FORCE DAY, AUGUST 1st

No one today questions the fact that the whole future of the United States may rest in the very clouds over your head. The security of this country demands strong, well-trained, well-equipped Air Forces, superior to any in the world.

And the new, reorganized Air Forces give thousands of eligible young men an opportunity to take an active part in building America's Air Power on the ground as well as in the sky.

You may, for example, enlist in the Air Forces for three years. If you have a specialty which will qualify you, you may also be able to enlist in a grade at higher pay.

If you have had Air Forces experience, you may join the Air Reserve and continue your military aviation training outside of business hours.

Or you may join the Air National Guard and perhaps become eligible for advanced technical training at special Air National Guard schools.

Think it over. If there are Air Force Day exhibits in your locality, be sure to visit them on August 1st. If no demonstrations are to be held nearby, get a copy of the new Air Forces pamphlet, "Know Your Air Forces," at your U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

NOW—THE WORLD'S GREATEST OPPORTUNITY FOR A CAREER IN AVIATION

Today the Army Air Forces offer high school graduates an unprecedented opportunity to get the finest aviation schooling on earth—and select your school or course before you enlist.

The AAF Career Plan is unlike anything ever offered before. It permits selected high school graduates to apply and qualify for AAF specialized courses of their own choice. Simply go to your U. S. Army Recruiting Station, explain the kind of aviation training you want and you will receive an application blank and a complete list of available courses.

When you are selected to attend the course of your choice, you enlist in the Army Air Forces for 3, 4 or 5 years. After your basic training period you are guaranteed the education you have selected to make you a specialist in the type of work you have chosen.

Get a list of all the schools and courses open to you under the AAF Aviation Career Plan at your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

Chicks Win Over Colts 15 To 7 In Second Of Three-Game Series

The Chicks jumped on the Colts almost at will last night at Fairfield Park to defeat the cellar-dwelling Tennessee team 15-7.

Every Chick except one got to the plate. Clarksville hurler, for at least one hit, with Pete Peterson leading the parade with four for six, closely followed by Propst and Hardcastle with three each for five. Buck Gray, Rhodes and Eldridge had two apiece. Lis connected for one safely and Seawright went hitless for the night.

Eldridge allowed the Colts eleven hits in nine innings, but with the lead his teammates had given him early in the game, he never in serious difficulty. He struck out two, issued three free trips to first and hit one man.

Gill, Clarksville skipper, slammed a homerun over the score over the seventh inning with no one on base—lucky for the Chicks. It was one of the hardest hit balls seen in Fairfield this year.

This is how they scored: After setting the Colts down one, two, three in the first inning, the Chicks led off with Buck receiving a pass to first. Gray then singled to send him to second and Propst advanced both runners with a perfect sacrifice. Peterson then connected for a smashing double to score Buck and Gray. Rhodes made the second out on the ground. Elliott to Jeffries. Seawright was safe at first on an error by Williams, the short stop, but was forced at second when Lis hit to Williams on the ground.

The Chicks batted around with one to spare in the third. Propst, first up, greeted Hendrich with a double. Peterson singled without advancing. Propst, Rhodes beat out a punt for a single to lead the bases. Seawright was safe at first on a fielder's choice as the play was made for Propst at home. Gassaway, Colts catcher, dropped the ball to let the run in. Hendrich then walked. Lis and Peterson trotted home with another run. Hardcastle singled to drive in Rhodes and Seawright. Eldridge struck out, swinging. Buck was hit by Hendrich to gain first. Gassaway then nipped Lis off third for the second out. Gray walked, and Propst grounded to Jeffries at first, unassisted, for the final out.

In the fifth Clarksville scored twice. Gassaway was first up, and down, as he rolled out to Buck who threw to Propst for the out. Kern went down. Rhodes to Propst. Hendrich then singled. Jeffries singled. Eldridge uncorked a wild pitch and both runners advanced. Williams singled to score Hendrich and Jeffries, and took second on the throw in. Rice retired the side by flying out to Hardcastle in left field.

BY ROY CRANE

hitting to Buck who threw to Propst. Evans then drew a base on balls and Gassaway sent him to second with a single. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch and Kern walked to fill the sacks. Evans and Gassaway came home on Hendrich's single as Kern moved on to third. Jeffries singled to score Kern and put Hendrich on second. Pitching to Williams, Eldridge wheeled and caught Hendrich off second as Rhodes came in to cover the bag.

The sixth was worth one run to the Chicks. Rhodes made the first out. Hendrich to Jeffries. Seawright walked. Lis made the second out by lifting one to Kern in right field. Hardcastle singled to put Seawright on second. Eldridge singled to load the bases. Pitching to Buck, Hendrich balked and all runners advanced. Seawright, coming home with a score, Buck fled out to Gill in left field to retire the side.

Clarksville scored once in the seventh when Gill homered with none on. Williams had previously fled out to Seawright in center field and Rice had struck out. Elliott then singled, but died on first when Evans rolled out to Propst, unassisted.

It was getting down right monotonous in the seventh when Fulton scored three more runs. Gray led off with a two-bagger and came home on Propst's single. Peterson singled to send Propst to third. Rhodes singled to score Propst and put Pete on second. Seawright fled out to right field and Lis walked to load the bases. Hardcastle fled out to Williams at short and Pete tagged up and came home on the throw in. Eldridge then struck out to retire the side.

The Chicks scored once again in the eighth. Buck led off by rapping the planks on the score board with a solid double. Gray walked. Propst was out when he hit into a double play that also got Buck, Rice, to Jeffries. Peterson singled to score Gray, and Rhodes struck out to retire the side.

In the ninth, after Williams had made the first out, Eldridge to Propst, Rice hit a three-bagger and came home when Gill grounded out. Gray to Propst. Elliott ended the ball game by rolling one to Buck who threw to Propst for the final out.

The same two teams met again tonight at 8 o'clock in Fairfield.

Wall Street Report
New York, July 31.—(AP)—Selected stocks enjoyed a slow-going recovery in today's market although many leaders were notably indifferent.

Dealings were slack from the start but gains of fractions to a point or so predominated near midday.

Ahead most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, American Woolen, Schenley, Texas Co., Standard Oil (N.J.), American Water Works, du Pont, Eastman Kodak and Owens-Illinois.

Bonds hardened here and there. Cotton futures improved.

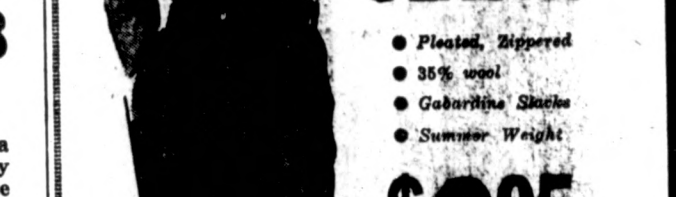

Nine herds in the Carroll county Dairy Herd Improvement Association produced per cow in June an average of 34 pounds of butterfat.
