Senate Curious About Hughes' Income Tax Flier Attacks "Circus Ballyhoo" Of Investigation

POSTPONES TESTIMONY

Washington, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Senate investigators armed themselves today with income tax data for a sortie into the entertainment expenses of Howard Hughes in building the world's largest flying boat.

Although Hughes was summoned for a double appearance with publicity-man John Meyer, the millionaire flier—lashing out at what he called "circus ballyhoo" and efforts to drag "a sex implication" into the inquiry—said he will wait until Wednesday to take the stand.

Whatever the date, members of the Senate War Investigating subcommittee said the questioning will turn, among other things, to an exhaustive study into the income tax returns of several of the principals.

As matters stood before the committee went into session for the fifth day of its public hearing into the wartime plane contracts of Hughes and Henry J. Kaiser, a subpoena directing Hughes to appear "forthwith" presumably was winging west by air express. But it was not due to reach California until after noon Washington time.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) issued the subpoena last night after saying he could get no definite reply to a request for the movie-maker's voluntary appearance.

Hughes' version, outlined in a statement issued in Los Angeles, was that he had told Ferguson by telephone that: "I refused to jump through a hoop like a trained seal and fly all night and appear the next morning without any sleep to testify all day on a most important matter."

"I made a firm agreement with Ferguson's committee that I would appear Wednesday, August 6. I have made my plans to go across the country to Washington at that time."

When Hughes does appear, one committee member, who asked not to be identified by name told a reporter the airman will be confronted with information taken from his income tax returns.

This member said the committee also has had general accounting office experts examine the returns of Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President.

The younger Roosevelt has been mentioned as one of the Army officers and government officials who were entertained expensively by Meyer in the latter's capacity as Hughes' representative.

State Gas Tax Over $9 Millions First Half Of '47

Louisville.—Revenues from the 5c state gasoline tax paid by Kentucky motorists during the first six months of 1947 totals more than $9,858,891, according to Herbert L. Clay, executive secretary of the Kentucky Petroleum Industries Committee. This represents a 16% increase over the first half of 1946, setting a new high in the 28 year history of gasoline tax collections.

During the first six months of 1947, when automobile registrations were at their peak, gasoline tax revenues amounted to $7,493,096. Special taxes paid by motor vehicle owners rose from a 1941 figure of $59.23 per vehicle to $74.25 in 1946, reflecting the increased use of cars and trucks. The total 1947 gasoline tax alone is expected to reach $20,000,000, Clay said.

Katie's Dream Has Come True

Little Miss Brown Wins
Cup And First Place In Union City Horse Show

Not since Cinderella came out of the kitchen and fitted her foot snugly into a tiny glass slipper, which, some tellers of the tale say was made of glass, has a story had a happier ending than this one.

Little Katie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Brown of the Highlands, is only four years old. For a long time now, Oh, half a lifetime, at least, Katie has had to stand back while her older sister, Brenda, (who is five years old) rode out in the spotlight winning prizes on her pony.

Last night at Union City Katie got her chance. Her mother and father were going to let her enter an event in the horse show. It was with a bit of misgiving that they had consented to let her ride in the event, fearing to see her disappointed. Besides competing against some of the best child riders in Tennessee and Kentucky Katie was riding against her older sister, Brenda.

The Browns were sure she did not have a chance. They made it up to pretend to her after the race that she had won, in spite of what the judges might decide. They had even gone so far as to bring along an old blue ribbon that Brenda had won in another show. Out of kindness they were going to present the ribbon to Katie and tell her that the judges had declared her the winner.

You already know what happened. Brenda won a ribbon for placing third in the event, and Katie won the cup and first place!

Miss Jane White of Fulton also rode in the five-gaited open championship class in the 12th annual Union City horse show, and won fourth place. Her father, Bob White, exhibited a colt at halter.

Germans To Edit Own Newspapers

Hamburg, Germany.—(AP)—Germans in the British zone of occupied Germany have been handed full responsibility for gathering news for their newspapers, an official of the British Control Commission says.

All 49 British-licensed newspapers in the zone and in the British sector of Berlin will be members of a cooperative to run the German News Service which has operated for the past two years under supervision of the Control Commission.

There would be no direct British control or any pre-publication censorship, the British Military government promised.

KU Manager Warns Of Danger In Broken, Fallen Power Lines

"Don't touch fallen, broken or low hanging electric wires," Rube McKnight district manager of Kentucky Utilities Company in Fulton, warns.

He issued the warning following reports of a number of recent fatal and near-fatal accidents that occurred over the country.

In one a tree was felled, dropping through a high-voltage transmission line. In another a Kentucky man came in contact with the wire with immediately fatal results. In another a mine refuse heap was started under a wire 24 feet from the ground. Ultimately the heap grew so large that a man climbing over it touched the wire.

The utility manager made the following suggestions:

Whenever a broken line is discovered, a guard should be placed near it while a second person phones an immediate report to the nearest office of the electric company. A service crew will be dispatched to the scene immediately. Meanwhile, warn the guard not to allow anyone to touch the fallen wire. Above all, if the wire has fallen across a road or path, do not "get it out of the way" or prod it out of the right-of-way so that it may touch a wire fence. If you do, you will energize the fence in

The crash occurred immediately after the takeoff on a routine training flight. This is an official Air Proving Ground Command photo.

San Francisco, July 31.—Fred W. Smith, Ventura, Calif., is the new president of the International Association of Lions Clubs. He was advanced by unanimous vote from the first vice-presidency at the 30th annual convention of the Association which closed here today. Smith succeeds Clifford D. Peirce, Memphis, Tenn.

The Booneville bridge in Owsley county will be 460 feet and the Stephensport bridge in Breckinridge county will be 320 feet. Both are to be steel span structures.

Six state bridges are to be cleaned and painted. Engineers estimate the amount involved in the lettings to be in excess of $750,000.

Weakley Circuit Docket Very Light

Dresden, Tenn.—The August term of circuit court, which will convene here Monday with Judge Morris presiding, will face the lightest docket in years, says Clerk Homer Brundage.

The term may last only one week, since there is only one civil case that is likely to be heard and probably only one criminal case will be tried.

Get Rich Quick In Paper Business

San Francisco.—(AP)—Members of the San Francisco Press Club are wondering who put this story in their weekly club magazine: "How did you do it?" inquired a reporter of a country editor who had just retired with $100,000 in savings.

The editor replied that it was because he had run his paper economically, worked early and late, kept away from the San Francisco Press Club domino and gin rummy games, and because an uncle had died and left him $120,000.

Jews Hurl Grenades and Shells Into British Army Headquarters

Jerusalem, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Headquarters of the British Hampshire regiment in Jerusalem was attacked with grenades and mortars today and one attacker was killed.

No announcement was made concerning military casualties, if any.

The regimental headquarters is only 200 yards away from the building of the Jewish agency. The attack came as British soldiers and Palestine police launched twin investigations of shooting last night in the Jewish metropolis of Tel Aviv in which five Jews were killed and a score of others were injured.

The shootings were a sequel to the hanging of two British soldiers by the Jewish underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi.

The dead terrorist lay in the street before the building with a grenade clutched in his hand. Two other suspected attackers were captured alive. Military sources said there were at least four mortar and grenade explosions. It was believed the mortar was hidden in a building nearby. A general alarm was sounded bringing British troops to action stations through the tense city.

Heavy gunfire was heard immediately after the explosions. The area around Hampshire headquarters was cordoned off and a house to house search was begun.

A reliable informant said the shootings in Tel Aviv last night were the work of soldiers in armored cars who evidently were intent upon avenging the hanging of 20-year-old Sgt. Clifford Martin and Mervyn Paice.

The sergeants' funerals, with several high military and civil officials attending, were today in Ramle Military Cemetery. A booby trap mutilated the men's bodies as they were removed yesterday from two eucalyptus trees north of Tel Aviv near Natanya.

JEWISH REFUGEE FIGHTS DEPORTATION—British soldiers have their hands full with a Jewish immigrant on the dock at Haifa, Palestine, as they carry him from intercepted refugee ship, "Shivat Zion," (background) to transport on which he was deported to detention camp on Cyprus. "Shivat Zion" and another ship carrying refugees were intercepted off Haifa by British naval forces.

Waterfield Ma's Final Appeal For Support In Primary Aug. 2; Speaks In Fulton At 2:30 Today

Tomorrow Is Day Of Decision For State Primary Candidates

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Tomorrow is the day of decision in Kentucky's 1947 Democratic and Republican primaries.

The hours: 6 a. m. to 4 p. m. local time.

Polls in precincts throughout the state's 120 counties will be open for voters to make their choice during those hours.

Kentucky law prohibits the sale of intoxicants during hours the polls are open in those areas where intoxicants normally are permitted.

Lineups will be selected in the major-party primaries to battle it out on the Nov. 4 general election.

Administrative control of the state government for the coming four years will hinge on the general-election balloting on the major offices.

The makeup of the General Assembly for the coming two years also will be determined. The primaries' chief interest centered upon races for nominations for governor. But more than a half dozen other state offices are involved in the two primaries.

The two parties also will nominate candidates for all 100 seats in the state House of Representatives.

While the entire House membership is voted on every two years, one-half of the Senate's total of 38 seats is voted on each two years. Senators' terms being for four years.

The primaries reach their climax with a split in administrative-legislative control in Kentucky as in the federal government. When GOP Gov. Simeon Willis led the Republicans into administrative power in Kentucky in 1943, his entire cabinet with the exception of Secretary of State Charles K. O'Connell was Republican.

However, the Democrats retained majorities in both houses of the General Assembly, as Republicans last year gained Congressional majorities with a Democratic president.

Ballot counting will take place in each of the county seats. Where final tabulations are incomplete at midnight Saturday local time, the counting will be halted until Monday morning, under Kentucky law.

Republicans and Democrats also will nominate candidates for attorney general, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of agriculture, clerk of the court of appeals and state railroad commissioners for the first, second and third districts.

Radio Address Tonight Closes Extensive Drive

SEES BIG MAJORITY

Nearing the end of his final appeal to his First District home folks for support in the primary election tomorrow, Harry Lee Waterfield will speak on the servicemen's board on Lake street at 2:30 this afternoon as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

A radio address at 8 o'clock tonight from the Hickman county court house yard in Clinton will conclude the Clinton-Fulton publisher's extensive campaign that has carried him and his aides into every county of Kentucky.

While Waterfield has had his campaign headquarters in the Seebach Hotel in Louisville, he has spent most of his time since June 14 in bringing the issues of the gubernatorial campaign to the voters of the state.

Waterfield, his state campaign manager, Ben Kilgore, and assistant campaign manager, Adron Doran, are predicting a 50,000 to 60,000 vote victory at the polls tomorrow.

Yesterday at Edwylle, Harry Lee Waterfield told the voters of the First Congressional District that if he is elected Governor he is "going to send the combine of professional politicians and power-trust groups home and let the people of Kentucky run their state government for the next four years."

Waterfield headed a 30-car motorcade which started at Smithland and wound up at Cadiz, where he made the principal address of the day. He made brief speeches at Smithland, Salem, Marion, Fredonia, Kuttawa, Princeton, Dawson Springs, Nortonville, Crofton, and Hopkinsville.

"I am not going to let professional politicians and special-interest boys get their hands in to your state government when I become governor," the 38-year-old native of the First District told his listeners.

Promises Roads

"I am going to change the Highway Department from a political-building machine," he declared. "And when you people of the First District and all other districts of Kentucky want to see your government about some roads, you won't have to go through a bunch of professional politicians and jobholders to get the job done."

He charged that Earle C. Clements, his principal opponent for the Democratic nomination for governor, "is promising more roads than the state government could build in the next 40 years."

The Clinton publisher continued his attack on Clements and the Kentucky Utilities Company, charging that they had formed a combine with leaders of political factions in the Democratic party, whom the people had repudiated before, in an effort to gram control of State Government for their own selfish gains.

More Charges Made

Charges and counter-charges continued, too, spilling over into the Democratic race for nomination for lieutenant governor.

Charles R. Beatty, who was suspended from duty as chief inspector for the Kentucky Aeronautics Commission, denied he had made any political statement.

Beatty's denial came after an announcement in Frankfort that he had been suspended for giving out a political statement about an offer to Charles Gartrell, Ashland, to withdraw from the race for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Jerry O'Brien, technical adviser for the commission, made the announcement of the suspension.

"I didn't give out the statement," said Beatty. "It was given out in a bulletin issued by

Vote Tomorrow!

The Leader urges all registered Fulton county voters and all other qualified Kentuckians to cast their ballots in the primary election tomorrow, Aug. 2. Polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

We confidently expect to see Harry Lee Waterfield nominated as the Democratic candidate for governor, if the First District gives him the majority he merits on his record of service to his home people and to the state as a whole.

We believe the First District's hopes of electing a governor for the first time in Kentucky's 153 years of statehood will stand or fall upon the number of votes cast. Mr. Waterfield is the "people's" candidate. The "little people" of Kentucky—the great rank and file who are the backbone of democracy—must rally to his support if he is to defeat the candidate of the powerful special interests and the machine politicians.

Other important state and local offices are to be filled, and candidates for these positions deserve the careful consideration of all voters.

It hardly is necessary to remind our readers of the privilege that is ours as Americans and Kentuckians on election day. All of us know how dearly our right to vote has been purchased. Let's not fail to exercise that right tomorrow.

OUR READERS SAY:

It's Our Time

There is no point in the assumption that in order to be successful in a race for public office in Kentucky a candidate must come right out of the Blue Grass section. The people of this populous region, near the State Capitol, naturally inhale political atmosphere with every breath just as their livestock take in calcium with every drink of limestone water. This, however, should not make them one whit smarter or cause them to become superstitious material for statesmen any more than our folks. They are just more politically minded and more ambitious than most of us West-Enders.

Kentucky has no more able lawyers than such men as our Flavius Martin and Frank Carr and Paducah's best, Gus Thomas is as learned a Judge as ever sat on the Court of Appeals. We are proud of such a Representative as Harry Lee Waterfield.

I know these Blue Grass men; have been a frequent guest in many of their homes; sat through four years of classes in college with Judge Ardery of Frankfort, Fred Vinson, Chief Justice of the United States; had as roommates Dr. Calvin Arnold, cousin of Emmet O'Neil, Ambassador to the Philippines, Judge Geo. Batterson of Paris and a year with Atty. Bob Caldwell of Ashland. They are all fine men indeed. But so are Flavius and Frank and Gus and Harry Lee.

Now, when one of our own region, one of our finest and best citizens, a man of unquestionable honesty, a legislator of proven fearlessness and ability, a man with the common people's interests in his heart, is fired with a spark of this Central Kentucky ambition and becomes a candidate for Governor of Kentucky, then every citizen with a desire for good government in his mind and with pride in the "Purchase" should get to the polls Aug. 2nd some way, somehow, and vote for Harry Lee Waterfield for Governor of Kentucky.

A Lonesome World?

By Dewitt MacKenzie,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Britain's drastic decision to reduce its global military commitments, in a further effort to overcome the economic crisis gripping the country, is a potent reminder that the United States is the last of the great democratic powers still capable of fully manning a war-machine—and that this can be a mighty lonesome world.

Makes me think of the time in World War One when I was plodding across a field in Flanders to reach the front line and got caught in the middle of a terrific German barrage. I wasn't exactly lonesome, but I had a yearning for the company of someone who knew barrages and would have a sympathetic understanding.

Which is by way of saying that, after all, England has been America's staunch ally in two world conflicts, and remains the chief base of western Europe for the defense of democracy. It's tough to see her striking-power reduced even temporarily in these explosive days.

This reduction of military commitments was one of the concessions Prime Minister Attlee promised the Labor members of Parliament, meeting in secret caucus to listen with critical attention to an accounting of his stewardship. He has been under heavy fire, not only from his Conservative opposition but from many of his own followers, because of dissatisfaction with the government's progress in dealing with the economic upheaval.

The prime minister defended his position with determination, as this column yesterday said he likely would do. The result was that he won a virtual vote of confidence from the caucus.

The prime minister is reported not only to have promised to cut down military commitments in Greece, Italy and Germany, but to reduce the number of men under arms and to send them back into the ranks of labor to meet the demand for workers. Thus he got over one of the high hurdles.

But that wasn't his only promise. It is said that he will call on Britain's coal miners to work an extra hour daily in order to get the production which is so badly needed to stimulate badly lagging industry. Lack of coal is the crux of the economic crisis. It is suggested that the miners get time and a half pay for this overtime.

Advocates of this plan say it would increase the coal output some 300,000 tons a week, to swell the present production of about 3,700,000 tons. The government's target for the year is 200,000,000 tons.

The vote of confidence means that the question of Attlee resigning the prime ministership doesn't arise at least pending developments. There had been a demand in some quarters that he give way to other leadership, and Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin was mentioned as possible successor.

However, a high government source says that Attlee may make changes in his cabinet soon. In this connection the London Daily Mail said Wednesday, prior to the caucus, that the only concession the prime minister was prepared to make would be the formation of a sort of emergency battle squad of five senior ministers to tackle the economic problems. The big five would be Attlee himself, Foreign Minister Bevin, Chancellor of the Exchequer Dalton, Deputy Prime Minister Morrison and president of the Board of Trade Sir Stafford Cripps.

ton, he worked for a short while at Franklin's Dry Goods and Clothing Store, then as a clerk for the Illinois Central Railroad for one and one-half years. From 1916 to 1930 he was employed by Fall, McCall and Fall played by Fall, McCall and Fall Insurance Company. In 1936 Mr. Atkins organized the Western Kentucky Finance Co., but it was liquidated in 1942 as a result of the war. In 1939 he organized the Atkins Insurance Co., and in 1939 bought the Pepsi-Cola plant in Fulton. From 1944 to 1946 he operated a Pepsi-Cola plant in Shelbyville, Tenn.

He and Mrs. Atkins, the former Miss Catherine Fields of Fulton, were married in July 1922. ## Energetic And Civic-Minded—That's Fulton's Smith Atkins

By Ouida Jewell

Fulton should be, and is, proud of having such an energetic and civic-minded person as Walter Smith Atkins, 210 Third street, as one of her leading citizens. It could be said of Mr. Atkins that he is one of the few "self-made men." Mr. Atkins came to Fulton in 1908 with nothing—as he puts it—and is now president of directors of the Fulton Bank, owner of the Pepsi-Cola plant, and partnership owner in the Atkins, Holman and Fields Insurance Agency.

All during his long working day you can see him rushing from one to another of these businesses, seeing that everything is going along all right.

Besides his business affairs, he lends a helping hand in civic affairs—anything for the betterment of his home town is his motto. For several years he has been a member of the city council, serving as chairman of the finance committee. Much credit is due him in carrying out our creek project.

He is a Mason, a member of the Lions Club, a trustee of the Elks Lodge, and a member of the First Methodist church, in which he is Sunday School superintendent of the Adult Division.

Mr. Atkins is a great lover of sports, especially fishing and baseball. At present he is a director of the Fulton Baseball Association, of which he was president in 1938—the year the lights were installed at Fairfield Park. A few years ago, he had the reputation of being one of the best bass-fishermen in town. He also is a member of the newly organized Fulton County Sportsmen's Club.

Mr. Atkins was born Oct. 11, 1893 in Henry county, Tenn., near Cottage Grove. His parents were William Henry Atkins and Martha Henderson Atkins. When he was two years old his father died.

In 1900, Smith, his mother and only brother, Billy, moved to Dresden. They lived there until 1904, when they moved to Palmersville. In 1908 the three came to Fulton to live permanently.

After graduation from South Fulton high school in 1910, Mr. Atkins studied business administration at Valparaiso University at Valparaiso, Ind., for two years. When he returned to Ful-

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—About a year ago boxing men were bemoaning the fact that the Army and Navy boxing programs during the war hadn't produced a single first class fighter. . . two of the best prospects to show around here lately, Bernie Reynolds and Laverne Roach, stepped right out of the armed forces into professional ranks. Both won nice victories on the Lesnevich-Mauriello card Wednesday and look as if they're going places. . . Manager Joe Vella found Reynolds punching a bag at Camp Stewart, Ga., and tossed him into camp bouts. Bernie, weighing less than 180, has been belting pretty good 200-pounders around, but that doesn't surprise Vella. . . "He always was better against the big guys," says Joe. . . "When he fought the Parris Island Marines I had to use him in two bouts. He lost to a middleweight but knocked out a 210-pounder." . . Roach was a member of Jake Wade's Charlotte, N. C., Golden Gloves team before the war, but it was the experience he got as a Marine at Cherry Point that convinced him he'd be a successful pro middleweight.

At Southampton this week Seixas turned the tables on Brink and followed by upsetting Mulloy while Moylan staged a comeback. . . the answer seems to be: "Take it away, Jack Kramer."

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

Jack Hurley, Chicago matchmaker, says his outfit won't bid for the third Tony Zale-Rocky Graziano slugfest. The reason: "Graziano goes for that big match only once in ten years." . . Y. A. Look for Boston to have one of the better pro basketball teams next winter since the Celtics picked up those good players from clubs that folded.

Subway Series
Looks Likely

By Jack Hand

A.P. Sports Writer

A subway World Series, founded on two dazzling western trips by the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, appeared likely as the clubs headed into August, normally the head of the stretch in the baseball pennant races.

Thirteen straight victories by the under-rated Brooks have given Manager Burt Shotton's men a commanding 10-game lead over the New York Giants and the defending St. Louis Cardinals.

The Yankees have opened up a 12-game margin on the defending Boston Red Sox. Brooklyn's feat has been more exceptional than the Yanks' because the Dodgers were not supposed to be in the same class with the Cardinals.

In sweeping three straight from St. Louis at Sportsman's Park, the third by a 2-1 margin yesterday, the Dodgers left the champs hanging on the ropes. St. Louis has 59 games to play as compared to 55 for the Dodgers but their overwhelming advantage in home games now has largely disappeared and

Allen Works Out
With Pro Browns

Bowling Green, O., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Ermal Allen, former University of Kentucky backfield star, did most of the passing as the Cleveland Browns went through their second rugged workout here yesterday.

Coach Paul Brown of the All-America Football Conference defending champions put most attention on backfield and end candidates during the drill.

Most fight it out on even ground against that staggering 10-game deficit.

Even Howie Pollet, the old Dodger-famer, failed Manager Eddie Dyer although he pitched a smart game, normally good enough to win. They were tied at 1-1 going to the ninth when Free Wee Reese tripled down the right field foul line to score Bruce Edwards with the winning run.

The Cardinals certainly went down fighting. Joe Medwick led off the ninth with a double, Dyer used Chuck Dilling as a pinch runner and Marty Marion advanced him to third with a sacrifice bunt. Pinch hitter Terry Moore rapped sharply to third baseman Johnny Jorgensen who tagged Diering off third base. Pinch hitter Del Rice fled out to end the game.

Chicks Make It Three In A Row
Over Hapless Colts With 8-2 Win

I was three in a row last night at Fairfield Park for the again rampaging Chicks as they kicked the Clarksville Colts still deeper in the cellar with an 8-2 victory over the lackadaisical team from the banks of the Cumberland.

Biggs, Chick skipper, was on the mound for Fulton. After allowing two hits in the first inning he settled down and spaced out only two more until the eighth when he weakened in the last two frames and gave up five, two of them for extra bases. However, he was never in the slightest difficulty behind the effective hitting of his teammates.

Tommy Buck, peppery little Chick third sacker, apparently suffering from an acute attack of claustrophobia, banged away at the boards on the fence all night, rapping out a double in the first, another in the second and a triple in the sixth. In the fourth he was hit by Harris, Colts' pitcher, to gain first, and grounded out to Rice at third his last time up to spoil an otherwise perfect night. Once on base he could not be held away from the plate, bringing in three runs.

Greaser, making his first appearance with the Chicks, went hitless for the night and committed one bobble in centerfield. He has a big pair of shoes to fill, if he is going to replace Ray Pechous, so fans were not quick to judge him.

Aside from the extra base blows of Buck, Hal Seawright connected for a triple in the first inning and—as usual—knocked in a couple of runs. Pete Peterson, always a power at the bat, got a two bagger in the sixth.

This is how they scored: The Colts led off with Jeffries who grounded out, Gray to Propst. Williams was then safe on first on Gray's error, and Rice made the second out on the ground. Rhodes to Propst, while Williams moved to third. Gill then slashed out a single that got away from Greaser in center field and pulled up at second safely while Williams scampers home with a run.

Next Elliott singled and Gill took third. After Elliott had stolen second, Biggs struck out Evans to retire the side. The Colts looked good in the first frame and some fans were in hopes of seeing a close ball game.

It wasn't in the books, though, for the Chicks got to Harris from the start with Buck rapping the fence for a double to lead off. Gray singled and Buck came home. Propst rolled one on the ground to force Gray at second as he raced across first safely on a fielder's choice. Peterson fled out to Kern in right field for the second out. Propst stole second and Rhodes walked. "Push-em-in" Hal Seawright then connected for his triple to score Propst and Rhodes. Litzelfeiner singled to score Seawright, took second when Greaser was safe at first on an error by Williams, the short stop, but died on base when Biggs fled out to Jeffries at first.

Again in the third the Chicks pushed over another run. Rhodes walked to start the inning, promptly stole second and then raced home as "Push-em-in" 1:50.

Seawright hit safely for a single. Litzelfeiner fled out to Kern in right field for the first out. Greaser made the second out the same way and Biggs ended the inning with a grounder, Elliott to Jeffries.

In the fourth Buck, first up, took first when hit by Harris and, trying to steal second, was safe on Elliott's error. Gray was out to Jeffries, unassisted, as Buck moved on to third. Propst rolled to short and was out at first as Buck scored. Peterson fled out to right field to retire the side.

Biggs made the first out in the sixth, Elliott to Jeffries. Buck then rolled out a triple and came home on Gray's single. Propst fled out to Kern in right field for the second out. Gray, stealing second, was safe when Elliott, the second baseman, dropped the ball. Peterson doubled and Gray scored. Rhodes lifted one to Evans in center field for the final out.

Clarksville got to Biggs for three hits in the eighth, one of them a double, to score once. Jeffries led off with a single. Williams hit into a double play. Rhodes to Propst. Rice doubled and came home on Gill's single. Gill died on base as Elliott went down swinging at the third strike.

The win let the Chicks gain a full game on the league leading Oilers who were losing to Cairo 8-5 and entrenched them more safely in third place as the fourth place Miners were losing to Mayfield 7-12. Mayfield's win over Madisonville put them a game closer to the Oilers as they were marking time with the Chicks.

The Hopton Hoppers come to Fairfield tonight for the first game of a three game series. Tonight the teams play at 8 o'clock, tomorrow night game time is set at 8:30 o'clock, and Sunday the game will be called at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Fulton baseball fans last night saw Clarence Greaser, a Cape county, Mo., boy in action for the first time as a Chicks outfielder. Greaser is a former college student, a veteran of two years' service in World War II, and came to the Fulton club with the reputation of being exceedingly fast and a great defensive player with a fine throwing arm.

The 21-year-old baseballer hails from Gordonville, Mo., Route 1.

Championship Tilt
Scheduled Tonight

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Teams representing the Ashland, Ky. post and the Shawnee post of Louisville are scheduled to meet here tonight in the championship game of the American Legion state junior baseball tournament.

Rain caused postponement of the tilt from last night to 8 p. m. tonight. If the game again is delayed, officials announced it would be rescheduled for 9:30 a. m. Saturday.

Toots Kern was named to pitch for the defending champion Shawnee post club while Joe Sloan was selected to hurl for Ashland. Sloan, playing first base, slammed out a homer and three singles in five official times at bat as Ashland shut out Bowling Green yesterday, 11-0.

his (Gartrell's) headquarters. Gartrell had said he had been offered $10,000 to withdraw from the race.

An Associated Press correspondent, S. V. Stiles, in Frankfort said the statement involved was telephoned to him by Beatty, who explained it was from Gartrell headquarters.

Gartrell is a former director of the aeronautics commission and a friend of Beatty. The commission will consider reinstatement of Beatty at a hearing in Frankfort Aug. 7, O'Brien said. He added Beatty's pay had not been stopped.

"To Bombard" Cities
 Meantime, Gartrell's headquarters said 50 airplanes would "bombard" about 100 Kentucky county seats with leaflets today. O'Brien said there are no state nor federal laws prohibiting dropping of leaflets over cities although some cities have ordinances against it.

GOP Gov. Simeon Willis took to the airwaves to urge the nomination of John Fred Williams as Republican candidate for Governor.

Also touring eastern Kentucky was an opponent of Williams, Attorney General Eldon S. Dummit. Speaking in Pikeville, Dummit said the governor had 10,000 road employees voting for Willis' candidate.

"If I am elected governor," declared Dummit, "you can be assured I will not redraft J. Stephen Watkins as road commissioner." Dummit said he awaited with confidence tomorrow's outcome.

Ben Kilgore, Waterfield's state campaign manager, predicted Waterfield's victory by a margin of "from 50,000 to 60,000 votes." Should Clements be elected governor, Kilgore charged, "he will do the bidding of the Kentucky Utilities Company and the power trust in the future, as he always has in the past." Kilgore also spoke over WHAS.
