Motion Picture Hobby Only One Of Joe Browder's Many Interests

By Ouida Jewell
"I have never been a person who could make a speech. I can't sing or play a musical instrument—in other words, I could do nothing to entertain or interest people—either my friends, or others whom I would have liked to make my friends. Several years ago, I realized that I needed some hobby, with which to interest people; so I chose motion pictures," said 32-year-old Joe Browder, one of Fulton's most prominent pioneer citizens.

"You see, until a few years ago, I was quite a hunter. I have hunted big game in Alaska and Canada. There I made pictures of the wild life. I also have pictures of my travels in Cuba, Florida and Mexico," continued Mr. Browder.

Mr. Browder said that he takes his films on all of his trips and is always more than glad to show them to anyone interested.

"The showing of my films has been the cause of me meeting and becoming friends with some very prominent and interesting people," he said.

Mr. Browder, a man of undoubted energy, has prosecuted his private interests successfully and has achieved a definite place of influence and prominence in Fulton. Until last year, he was one of the proprietors (senior partner) of the Browder Milling Company.

At one time Mr. Browder was an extensive property owner in Fulton and Fulton county, but at present, besides his home here at 409 Third street, his property is limited to five farms—all surrounding Fulton.

He was born in Fulton county Dec. 17, 1864, of a very prominent Fulton county family. Joe Browder's parents were John Browder of Fulton county and Matilda Baker of Gardner Station in Weakley county, Tenn. He is the third of 11 children.

His brother, Enoch, was a partner in the Browder Milling Company, until his death about 13 years ago. Then his widow, Mrs. Edna Browder, became a partner with her son, Leon, as manager.

Until he was twenty-five Mr. Browder lived on his father's farm in Fulton county, where he acquired a rural school education. Then he was engaged in the business of buying and selling tobacco in Fulton until 1907.

Buddy Rose, 5, Rescued Today From Drowning

Life Is Saved By Artificial Respiration

DIVED, STRANGLER

Buddy Rose, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rose, 803 Arch street, narrowly escaped drowning at Sunny Dip swimming pool this morning.

Lifeguard Tip Nelms pulled the lad from the pool and applied artificial respiration after Buddy had become strangled and seemed in immediate danger of drowning. Bobby Snow helped Tip in the successful attempt to save the boy's life.

Buddy was taken to his home, and was reported resting well. The fire department was asked to bring its resuscitator to the pool, but when the truck arrived Buddy was breathing almost normally and the apparatus was not used.

It was reported at the pool that Buddy had been jumping into deep water, although he could not swim. The tragedy occurred at about 10 o'clock.

A group of Fulton and Obion countians returned this morning from a vacation-fishing trip to Funk's 500-Bushel Club at Marquette, Michigan. In the northern lake section of the state.

Hughes Claims He Had Better Airplanes Than Army or Navy, But He Couldn't Get Contracts

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Howard Hughes testified today that he decided upon entering the Army officers' and other important government officials after he learned they had a "hatred" for him as "being stuck up."

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the subcommittee, questioning Hughes about his $40,000,000 in airplane contracts and entertainment accounts, promptly demanded that Hughes identify by names these officials.

When Hughes said he could not do so immediately, Ferguson recessed the hearing until 9 a. m. (EST), Monday.

Hughes told Senate investigators today that "bad feeling" on the part of Army officers prevented him from getting wartime contracts for the production of pursuit planes "faster than any the Army or Navy had."

Hughes acknowledged that his huge flying boat under construction is too big to be "tremendously efficient," but backed his faith in the project by declaring that if it fails "I will leave the country."

Asserting that he had "put the sweat of my life" into building the 200-ton flying boat, Hughes told the Senate War Investigating committee that "this plane crossed a barrier in size—the control system can no longer be operated by a man, even in an emergency."

Clover Seed Sale Slower This Year; Prices Are Higher

Movement of crimson-clover seed from farms has been slightly slower this year than usual and slower than last year, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today. It is estimated that 74 percent of the commercial crop of this seed was sold by growers by July 15, compared with 85 percent last year and the 1941-45 mid-July average of 76 percent.

Mid-July prices to growers were the highest on record. They averaged $17.20 per 100 pounds for clean seed, compared with $16.95 last year and the 5-year average of $11.96.

Quality of the seed this year is good. It is better than that of last year, when the quality was fairly good.

Imports of crimson-clover seed during the year ended June 30, 1947 were 283,100 pounds (all from Italy). None of this seed was imported between July 1, 1940 and January 31, 1947.

Revenooers' Jobs Not So Strenuous; Less Moonshine

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Moonshining "ain't what it used to be" in the mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee.

The Treasury Department has reported its "revenooers"—as mountain people called them—uncovered only 35 stills during June of this year in the two states.

In June, 1946, the yield was 52 still seizures, while in the same month of 1940 the count was 104.

Hughes Claims He Had Better Airplanes Than Army or Navy, But He Couldn't Get Contracts

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Howard Hughes testified today that he decided upon entering the Army officers' and other important government officials after he learned they had a "hatred" for him as "being stuck up."

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the subcommittee, questioning Hughes about his $40,000,000 in airplane contracts and entertainment accounts, promptly demanded that Hughes identify by names these officials.

When Hughes said he could not do so immediately, Ferguson recessed the hearing until 9 a. m. (EST), Monday.

Hughes told Senate investigators today that "bad feeling" on the part of Army officers prevented him from getting wartime contracts for the production of pursuit planes "faster than any the Army or Navy had."

Asserting that he had "put the sweat of my life" into building the 200-ton flying boat, Hughes told the Senate War Investigating committee that "this plane crossed a barrier in size—the control system can no longer be operated by a man, even in an emergency."

The Hollywood plane builder took the stand before the Senate committee to deny that he had made any profit out of a $20,000,000 government contract to build the ship after the committee had barred testimony from Hugh Fulton, its former counsel.

Fulton told reporters he wanted a chance to answer "certain falsehoods that have gone into the record about me." But Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the subcommittee conducting hearings into Hughes' operations ruled that Fulton could not testify.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) asked Hughes if he expected to make any profit out of constructing the 200-ton flying boat.

"I don't see how I could have, Senator," the witness replied. "Since any profit specifically was precluded in the contract, it's as plain as the nose on your face that a loss had to be sustained."

The chairman asked whether anyone contracted government officials on behalf of Hughes to obtain the contract originally. "Certain of my engineers were back here and supplied certain preliminary design information," he said.

Ferguson asked whether John Meyer, Hughes' still missing publicity man, had a hand in obtaining the contract.

"You have the records, Senator," Hughes replied. "You know whether he was working for me then."

Ferguson pressed for a reply. "I don't remember whether he was working for me then," Hughes said. "I should say further that I don't recall his working on the cargo plane contract."

Please Bear With Us

This newspaper is faced by an acute paper shortage. We have enough paper on hand now to publish during next week, with luck. We have no assurance of receiving any paper after that. We are trusting to luck and the generosity of more favorably situated publishers to see us through the remainder of the year.

For this reason, it is necessary that we discontinue each subscription to our paper ON THE DAY THAT THE SUBSCRIPTION EXPIRES. There can be no grace period extended to delinquent subscribers. This must be done in fairness to those who keep their subscriptions paid up to date or in advance.

We regret very much the necessity for adopting this new policy. We realize that it is often inconvenient, or impossible, for subscribers to pay in advance or on the day their paper expires. But we have no alternative. We're out of paper.

In the meantime, rest assured that we are making every effort to locate more newsprint. It does not seem fair that other, larger papers can obtain enough paper to increase their size and their circulation when the smaller papers in smaller cities are on the brink of suspension, but that's the way it is now.

We have not bought, and will not buy, black-market newsprint. We believe our readers will agree that it would be better to have no paper at all for a while than to contribute to the economic chaos that must result if black market traffic is encouraged. We'll do our best to locate legitimate newsprint for your hometown paper.

We Try To Be Fair

Published directly below this editorial is an open letter from Mayor T. Boaz replying to a letter similarly published yesterday by "18 Aroused Fishermen."

In view of the criticism this paper has received for publishing the letter from the self-styled fishermen, we submit the following information (all of which has been said in these columns before) about our Letters to the Editor column:

We require that all letters given us for publication be signed, although the names will be withheld from publication upon request. Publication of a letter to the editor does not constitute an endorsement by this newspaper.

If such a letter is not obviously libelous, if it does not violate the standards of common decency and morality, if it is submitted by sincere and conscientious citizens (though they have a "gripe" or an axe to grind), we believe we have an obligation to publish it. Failure to do so would be denial of freedom of the press which the constitution guarantees every citizen—not just those who publish newspapers and other media.

It is unfortunate that public officials must be targets of public criticism, but they cannot hope to please everyone all of the time. They accept their liability to criticism the minute they take office.

Surely the city officials could not charge that this newspaper has directed any undue criticism at them in the brief year that the present management has been in Fulton. As a matter of fact, we have supported them on several occasions when we knew that to do so would be to invite bitter personal attacks upon ourselves.

We have made no investigation of the fishing worm question, which on its face appears to be trivial in the extreme. It is a matter of little moment to us where fishing worms may be found, and who shall dig and sell them. With the recent political campaign and the scramble for newsprint and other more pressing problems confronting us during the past months, we have had little time to fish.

We recommend Mayor Boaz' letter to our readers for their careful consideration. If there is nothing untoward in the fishing worm transaction, we think the city officials have no further cause for concern.

Our Readers Say—

To the People of Fulton:

The August 8th edition of this paper carried a letter supposedly with reference to fishing worm privileges in the Fairgrounds. However it turned out to be more political than for the purported purpose.

On July 14, 1947, I executed a lease to Mr. W. F. Mathis for 5 years at $25.00 per year in advance. Mr. Mathis contacted me as Mayor, and Mr. K. P. Dalton did not know anything about the proposal, the lease or the price. In fact so far as I know he knew nothing about it whatsoever.

The proposal came as a distinct surprise to me and I felt at the time that due to the tremendous cost of handling garbage that any amount picked up by the city for the worms would aid in the payment of the cost. Little did it occur to me that the fate of our City, State and Nation depended upon the sale

Return To Religion

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Civil wars in Europe and Asia, bloody reprisals in Palestine and counter reprisals in England, the eastern and western blocs gunning for each other at close range, all these untoward events and many more make one view with respect General Dwight Eisenhower's remark in Billings, Montana, on other day that "it looks more and more as though the United States will have to accept a two-world concept when we have been working for a one-world plan."

About that time Attorney General Tom Clark delved into the same subject in a speech at the International Sunday School Convention at Des Moines. He said the clear problem posed before mankind is this: Can the peoples of this earth live in world brotherhood? If they cannot, then the teachings and accomplishments of the last 2,000 years will be for naught. Our civilization will disappear in a series of atomic explosions.

Why is the world divided against itself? Clark answered that bluntly:

"The time has passed when we can dismiss the spread of atheistic Communism as a phenomenon of the lunatic fringe. No longer do we visualize the destroyers of democracy and Christianity as a bomb-carrying, bewhiskered man in heavy boots. Today he is streamlined, in all kinds of guises, sometimes behind a democratic front. The principles of Christianity imply justice to all. The tenets of the police state are just the contrary. They pass on to their destruction over the changing whim of dictators—and the ruin that follows is great."

That being the situation, where do we go from here? I'm reminded of a story I heard as a lad in my Vermont village. A farmer lost a valuable horse which had jumped the fence of its pasture and wandered away. Neighbors joined the farmer in the search, but without result. Finally an ancient gaffer announced that he would find the horse, and hobbled off on his cane amidst laughter. Before long he came back leading the animal, and members of the general-store club demanded how he found it.

"Well," he said, "I went and sat down on a rock in the horse's pasture and asked myself: 'Where would you go if you were a horse?' and I decided that I would go over by the old grist mill on the creek, where the grass is there."

So, having used a bit of horse-sense, what is the answer to our search? Attorney General Clark says:

"To put it in the language of our day—we must accept and practice the teachings of the Nazarene—or else."

Many men of many lands are thinking along the same line. President Truman, in a message to the other day to the Baptist World Congress in Copenhagen, urged spiritual as well as political and economic cooperation among nations to achieve a peaceful world community.

Former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota, who also participated in the Des Moines Sunday School Convention, told a press conference that there has been a strong resurgence to religion in Europe since the war. He recently made an extensive tour abroad. I also noted this in numerous countries during my last European tour.

In many parts of the world men are turning back to spiritual and moral values. Religious conferences are being held in both hemispheres. Here in America at the moment over 600 delegates from 30 states and numerous foreign countries are attending the North American Assembly for Moral Re-armament at Mackinac Island, Michigan. A similar M. R. A. Meeting is being held in Caux, Switzerland. Even in countries which have anti-religious governments, the ferment of religion is at work.

of worms. I am sure that the letter referred to was written by non-residents of Fulton, who do not help defray any costs, but are chagrined that some one showed more initiative than they.

I accept full responsibility for the worm sale and personally resent the attack upon an innocent officer.

Respectfully yours,

T. T. BOAZ, Mayor

MOVIES ONLY ONE OF BROWDER'S INTERESTS

the year he bought the Fulton farm.

Mr. Browder has been a director of the City National Bank since it was organized.

He was president of the old Commercial Club (now the Chamber of Commerce) in 1915 and in August of that year, with a strong desire to promote a sentiment for better roads around Fulton, Mr. Browder asked that all stores and offices be closed for one day when men of town and county to the number of about 1,500 joined in giving a day of actual labor on the widening and improving of the road from Dukedom to Jordan.

The I. C. Division office force and other railroad men joined in the work. This was the first definite move toward the building of better roads in this area.

In 1914 he was made chairman of the Harris Fork Creek Drainage Committee and organized the effort that resulted in the original drainage of the Harris Fork Creek from Fulton to the Ohio River, and for many years thereafter Fulton was free from floods as a result.

In 1936 he was elected president of the Fulton Building and Loan Association and in this capacity he took an active part in the defense of a suit that would have doomed every Building and Loan Association in Kentucky had it not been successfully defended. He is still president of the local association.

Mr. Browder was elected Mayor of Fulton in 1917, and served four years. He is a trustee of the First Methodist church. He was chairman of the building committee when the church was built, and worked diligently during the building period to see that the building was completed properly. He also made a large donation to its building fund.

Mr. Browder is a member of the Fulton Rotary Club, and was until recent years a member of quite a number of civic and other organizations in Fulton.

In 1890 he married Miss Sallie Thompson, daughter of A. T. and America (Baum) Thompson of Fulton county. To this marriage were born two children, Ruth and Helen. Helen is now Mrs. Will Creason of Mayfield. She is a graduate of Hamilton College at Lexington, Ky. Ruth, who completed her education in Ward Belmont College at Nashville, Tenn., is the wife of Clyde Williams, cashier of the City National Bank of Fulton.

Mr. Browder's first wife, Sallie, died over 15 years ago and about three and one-half years later he married Mrs. Addie Paschall, his present wife. He has a step-daughter, Miss Mary B. Paschall, who now is employed in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Browder has seven grandchildren: Mrs. Nichola, Kish of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Robert Koelling of Chicago, Ill.; Clyde Williams Jr. of Fulton; Joe Browder Williams of Nashville; and Ruth, Billy and Bob Creason, all of Mayfield. He also has three great-grandchildren.

Yes, indeed, Mr. Joe Browder has done his share in making Fulton what it is today—one of the most progressive little towns in western Kentucky.

Keiser Setting Pace In Esmeralda Open

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 9.—(AP)—That thin man from Akron who lets his golf clubs do most of his talking—tall Herman Keiser—was perched atop the scoring ladder at the halfway mark in the $10,000 Esmeralda Open golf tournament today.

Keiser's 134 for 36 holes—six below par—gave him the pace position among the 64 who qualified yesterday on Indian Canyon's wind-kissed fairways, with a two-stroke bulge on the field. Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., who shared the first day lead with Keiser at 65, skidded to second place with a 71-136.

Sports Roundup

By Gavie Talbot
(For Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—A strong feeling has developed here in recent days that Mel Ott's Giants are preparing to jump into the National League flag fight with both large feet. The boys who follow the Polo Grounders day after day are talking pennant for the first time, and they have about convinced themselves it could happen. They declare that if Whitley Lockman, a brilliant young outfielder, had not broken his leg just before the season began the Giants would have been in front long ago. As matters stand, the Brooklyn Dodgers appear to be coming back to the field, and the Giants, with their terrific hitting, must be given a chance. All they need is fair pitching to win a majority of their games, and they have been getting better than that lately. Incidentally, a report the other day that Leo Durocher might manage the Harlemites next year would seem to have been far-fetched. Giants officials say Ott's contract extends "at least" through 1948.

FORCE OUT AT SECOND BASE—Andy Pafko (48) of the Chicago Cubs, is forced out at second base in the third inning at Wrigley Field in Chicago (Aug. 8) as second baseman Benny Zientara of the Cincinnati Reds leaps away from the spikes and tosses to first, attempting to get a double play on Phil Cavarretta's roller to Reds shortstop Kermit Wahl. Umpire is Butch Henline. The Cubs won 2 to 1.

Schroeder and Frankie Parker for the second singles berth on the U. S. Davis Cup team now is scheduled to take place next week at Newport, R. I. Frankie, unable to play at South Orange this week because of a pulled muscle under his racket arm, has been slowly working himself back into shape in recent days and expects to be ready. Of course, it is within the realm of possibility that Frankie and Ted will both get to play singles in the cup challenge round later this month. That is, providing the U. S. L. T. A. should really get tough and suspend everybody connected with that series of exhibitions in Florida last spring. The rules committee so far has questioned only Gardner Mulloy about expense money on the tour, but the chilling fact remains that Jack Kramer was a member of the troupe and, presumably, absorbed just as much beneficial sunshine as Mulloy did. With Kramer available, Uncle Sam would be a cinch to lick either Australia or Czechoslovakia in the big play-off. Without the champion they would have about a 50-50 chance. It might seem highly unlikely that the tennis fathers would jettison their best player right on the eve of the cup matches, but don't bet that they won't if they think the evidence justifies it. They know, or at least strongly suspect, that Kramer will turn professional right after the national championship, and that they will have to start digging up a new Davis Cup team next year, anyway.

How the Mighty Have Fallen Dept.: One expert, making a pre-season stab at ranking the nation's college football teams, starts off with Notre Dame at No. 1 and goes clear down to Yale at No. 25—and he hasn't gotten to Army yet! . . . If the Dodgers remain up there, Jackie Robinson will receive more than a few scattered votes as the most valuable player in the National League. . . . Fred Keats, restrained racing writer of the local Daily Mirror, comments of the 16 percent "bite" at New York City tracks: "What used to be a game in which a few experts could make money and many of the smarter players could get as good as an even break with a world of pleasure thrown in has been reduced to an out and out swindle."

Mon O' War Statue Is Nearly Finished

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Herbert Hastelme's bronze statue of Man O' War, larger than the famed three-hundred-pounder, will be unveiled next March at Samuel D. Riddle's Faraway Farm near here.

The Paris sculptor has been working on the statue seven years. The unveiling is scheduled about the time of Man O' War's 31st birthday anniversary, by the calendar. The statue will be placed on a knoll near the farm driveway.

Trautman Unveils Branham Marker

Cooperstown, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(AP)—A memorial to the late Judge William G. Branham stood today in baseball's Hall of Fame, where no other minor league executive has been so honored.

George M. Trautman, his successor, yesterday unveiled a bronze plaque dedicated to Branham and declared that the growth of the organization in the former chief's time "stands as his monument."

Dyersburg Sends Golfers

Second Inter-City Match To Be Played In Fulton

Tomorrow, Aug. 10, 20 golfers from the Dyersburg Country Club are expected in Fulton to meet local Country Clubbers in the second inter-city match of the year.

The Tennesseans won over the Fulton team 3 to 1 at Dyersburg earlier this year. The visitors will be headed by Walker Poston, Dyersburg club champion.

At least 40 caddies will be needed at the Country Club tomorrow, and all boys interested in working are asked to report to the caddiemaster by 12:30 p. m.

Meanwhile, 16 Mayfield golfers will compete in the city championship elimination tournament at the Mayfield Country Club. The third and quarter-final round in the Mayfield tourney will be played Saturday, Aug. 16, in order that participants may enter the Kentucky State Open at Fulton Sunday, Aug. 17.

Miners Score Three In Eighth To Take 2nd Game Of Series 3-1

The Chicks lost last night to the Madisonville Miners at Fair- field by a score of 3-1. They were out-hit 8-5. They committed three errors to one for the Miners. The better team won.

But that isn't half of the story. There are a lot of things that don't show on the score book. There is a thing called "heart" for which the scorers have never devised a symbol. It is something the Chicks have in great big portions.

It was what they were playing with last night. At one time in the game they had four pitchers and two catchers in the lineup. Lynch was on the hill (he pitched an excellent ball game); Wessell was in right field; Engel was in left field; Hardcastle was on first; Lis, the regular catcher was in center field and Litzelneier was receiving.

With such a combination you could hardly expect the Chicks to stay in the same park with the Miners. They not only stayed in there, they almost won.

They went ahead in the seventh 1-0 only to have the Miners come back in the eighth and take the lead 3-1. They were about to win in the eighth when Zuhk threw Buhl at them.

And all credit must go to Buhl. He took over after Lockwood had walked Lis and had started to walk Hardcastle. Buhl finished walking Hardcastle and threw three balls to Litzelneier before he found the plate. He then proceeded to strike out Wessell and Lynch.

His fast ball was so fast the batters had difficulty getting their bats off their shoulders in time to swing. He looked as good as Shultz ever looked last year.

Peterson was hit on the elbow by Lockwood in the third inning and had to leave the game. Ray rolled out, Schmidt to Phelan. Rhodes was safe at first on Phoul's error and Lynch came home with a score. Pechous then grounded out to Phelan to retire the side.

The Miners led off in the eighth with Phelan who struck out Lockwood was safe at first on Rhodes' error and promptly stole second. Lynch tried to catch Lockwood off second and threw the ball away and the runner took third. DeGrazia then struck out. Sepich was hit.

Melting Snow May Aid India

American Scientist Says Himalayan Snow Possible Source Of Water, Power

Calcutta, (AP)—Dr. J. E. Church, president of the International Commission on Snow, says that India has great wealth stored in the snow fields of the Himalayas. Water from these snows would be an important factor in the development of the country if they were properly used, he says.

The 78-year-old American has completed a two-months survey of snows in Nepal and Sikkim for the Indian government. It marked the 50th year of such surveys for Dr. Church. He was a professor of classics at Nevada University when he made his first snow survey on Mount Rose.

Himalaya snows start at 10,000 feet rather than at about 6,000 feet as they do in much of the United States, he says, because the Himalayas are nearer the equator.

From India, Dr. Church is going to the Andes to make a survey for Argentina.

Miss McLean Barred By Fair

Horse Show Group Says Father's "Past Behavior" To Blame For Rejection

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Manager Thomas L. Clore of the 1947 Kentucky state fair horse show reported yesterday that entry blanks for seven horses had been returned to Miss Jean McLean.

The horse show advisory committee, Clore said, rejected the blanks and $50 in fees because of "past behavior" of her father, George T. McLean, Portsmouth, Va.

Oakhill Chief, 1946 grand champion, winner of a $10,000 prize, was among the seven horses submitted for this year's show, scheduled for Sept. 7-13.

In Norfolk, Va., yesterday, McLean said he would come to Louisville to present Miss McLean's entries personally. If they are not accepted, he said, "I have instructed my Louisville attorneys to ask for an injunction restraining the state fair association from advertising any classes as world's champion-ship."

McLean had been barred from the 1944 fair here, officials said, for allegedly striking two judges in another show.

The Golden Text is: "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art
my God; thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness."
(Ps. 143:10)

Hitler Bathub

Trial Evidence

Order For Tub Produced
As Proof Industrialist
Was Friend Of Fuehrer

Nuernberg—Hitler's bath was so important to Germans that one of the world's biggest iron and steel magnates was interested in the quality of the tubs.

This ironical situation was disclosed in a document that may be introduced in the trial of Friedrich Flick and five of his associates who formed the giant industrial combine known as the "Flick Concern." They are charged with helping to form
the German war plan.

The paper is a letter written to Flick by a subordinate, Moel-ler, who wrote in 1936:
"I want to tell you about the order for 11 bathtubs for the house 'Wochenfeld' Obersalz-berg.

"We have been told that these bathtubs are partly for the personal use of the Fuehrer.
We certainly will take care that these bathtubs are of the best quality."

Moeller signed the letter, however, without the "Hell Hitler"
then current. He used instead
"with German greetings," whatever that means.

U. S. prosecutor Charles Lyon, of Great Neck, L. I., dug up the document in the preliminary preparation of the case against Flick, first industrialist to be tried as a war criminal. Lyon commented:

"This is the man who insists
he had little connection with Hitler and was only a businessman."

Australian Bees

Have No Stingers

Sydney, Australia.—(AP)—Efforts of breeders to develop a stingless bee has called attention to the fact that Australia already has nine species of bees which have no stings.

The Australian bees are much smaller than the more familiar types, about the size of a house-fly. They can get into small flowers from which the larger bees cannot gather nectar.

What We Believe

Charles L. Houser

According to the law of Moses,
the Jewish priests were to be attired in garments which were beautiful, showy and costly.
"And thou shalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother for glory and for beauty. . . . And these are the garments which they shall make: a breastplate,

a broidered coat, a mitre, and girdle: and they shall make may minister unto me in the priest's office." (Ex. 28:2-4)

How To Use
GI Benefits

No. 2 Of A Series

Veterans Administration today answered the 10 questions
most frequently asked by World War II veterans about G. I. business loans.

The questions were asked in a survey that VA conducted recently to learn how much the veterans know about their Federal benefits. The questions and answers follow:

Q. How does a veteran go about getting a loan for business purposes?

A. As in the case of home loans, he first must find a bank or other private lender willing to advance him the money.

Q. How much of a business loan made by a lender will VA guarantee?

A. VA will guarantee 50 percent of the loan up to a maximum of $4,000 if the loan is for purchase of business real property, and up to $2,000 for non-real estate business loans,
such as for working capital.

Q. Can the veteran get a guaranteed loan for any type of business?

A. If the lender is willing, the loan may be used for any legiti-mate business purpose.

Q. Is there any limit to the duration of a business loan?

A. Non-real estate business loans are repayable in 10 years or less; real estate loans may run up to 25 years.

Q. Can a veteran enter into business with non-veterans and obtain a guaranteed loan?

A. Yes, provided the interest of the veteran is properly protected, but the guarantee must be limited to the veteran's portion of the business.

Q. Doesn't the veteran also get a gratuity payment of some kind?

A. Yes. VA pays the lender,
for credit to the veteran's loan,
an amount equal to 4 percent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. For example, if the GUARANTEED PORTION is $3,- 000, the lender will receive $120 from VA to credit to the debt of the veteran.

Q. What interest rates are lenders permitted to charge on business loans?

A. In most cases, 5 percent is the maximum. However, the interest rate may be slightly higher for certain types of insured business loans.

Q. Must the veteran be experienced in the line of business he proposes to enter?

A. Experience is an important element in the success of the average business. The veteran should be able to show a reasonable expectation of success
in his venture.

Q. Can a veteran get a G. I.
business loan to buy a pleasure

car or furniture for his home?

A. No. The loan must be used by the veteran for business purposes only.

Q. Does a veteran have to operate the business himself?

A. Yes, the veteran must devote his personal labor or supervision to the enterprise, or to the practice of a profession, on a full or part-time basis.

ministration, is at the Postoffice,

The POWER OF NATURE is
THE POWER OF GOD

Men are fascinated and sometimes appalled by manifestations of vast power beyond all human control.

Primitive man stared with frightened awe at angry storm clouds, and fled in terror to his cave when the fury broke and the winds lashed the trees and lightning tore great holes in the landscape.

New powers have been discovered as man has dug deeper into the secrets of Nature, and all of them have been viewed with apprehension or plain fear.

Steam, electricity, explosive gases, diesel, radium and many others, each in turn with its marvels of achievement and its vast potentialities, have filled mankind with awe as he wondered what other secrets of power lay buried in the bosom of the universe.

Today it is the atomic bomb which staggers man's imagination and makes him fear for the future of his world and his civilization.

But the power of Nature is the power of God. Used rightly, it always proves a boon and blessing for mankind; but employed for evil purposes, its destructive powers are unlimited.

The secret of the right use of the powers of the universe is embodied in religion and expounded in the teachings of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend
the Church regularly and support the Church. They are:
(1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to
