Demo's Nov. 4 Battle Opens At 11 Tuesday

State Central Body To Meet In Louisville

DUMMIT WILL REST

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 11.—(P)—A meeting of the Democratic state central executive committee here tomorrow will mark the unofficial opening of Kentucky's general election campaign.

The committee is scheduled to convene at 11 a. m. (CST).

Democratic state nominees for the Nov. 4 election have voted to recommend Tom R. Underwood, Lexington, as party campaign chairman.

Underwood managed the successful primary campaign of Rep. Earle C. Clements for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Meantime, the Republican nominee for governor, Atty. Gen. Eldon S. Dummit, has stated he plans a brief vacation before starting an active campaign.

However, a group of Republicans who backed Dummit's chief opponent, John Fred Williams, already has pledged support to Dummit. The group also endorsed GOP Gov. Simeon Willis' administration. Willis supported Williams against Dummit.

Clements received 159,012 votes to Harry Lee Waterfield's 124,104, while Dummit got 69,495 to Williams' 61,485, according to complete unofficial tabulations.

Waterfield has congratulated Clements and pledged to support the Democratic ticket.

Meantime, official returns are being sent to Frankfort from the 120 counties. When the returns are in, the state board of election commissioners is to meet, check the returns and certify the primary winners.

Closest contest remaining for definite decision is that for the Democratic nomination for state auditor. Complete unofficial returns give Harry N. Jones, Lexington, a 52-vote edge over J. L. Suter, Warsaw.

The unofficial tabulations show this lineup for the Nov. 4 statewide races.

For Governor—Democrat Earle C. Clements, Morganfield; Republican Eldon S. Dummit, Lexington.

For lieutenant governor—Democrat Lawrence Wetherby, Anchorage; Republican Orville M. Howard, Harlan.

For attorney general—Democrat A. E. Funk, Frankfort; Republican William Dixon, Wootton.

For auditor—Democrat Harry N. Jones, Lexington; Republican H. E. Kinser, Brownsville.

For secretary of state—Democrat G. G. Hatcher, Ashland; Republican E. E. Hughes, Smithland.

For agriculture commissioner—Democrat Harry F. Walters, Shelbyville; Republican Frank Irwin, Morganfield.

For treasurer—Democrat Edward F. Sellar, Louisville; Republican C. A. Mahns, Louisville.

For superintendent of public instruction—Democrat Boswell H. Hodgkin, Winchester; Republican W. M. Slusher, Pineville.

For clerk of court of appeals—Democrat Charles K. O'Connell, Frankfort; Republican Pleas Jones, Williamsburg.

U. S. Is Curious About England's Handling Of Loan

Washington, Aug. 11.—(P)—An American demand for a full explanation of how Britain is spending her $3,750,000,000 loan will confront British delegates coming here to discuss the country's worsening financial plight.

Officials said today they need this sort of comprehensive statement before they can agree to relax any of the loan agreement provisions in a manner to help Britain save her disappearing dollar resources.

The report given parliament last Thursday by Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, is regarded by authorities here as not sufficiently detailed to provide an accurate picture of where the money has gone.

Eller Named To Head Martin City Schools

Election Told By Weakley Co. School Director

WAS S. F. PRINCIPAL

J. A. Adams, chairman of the Martin school board, has announced the election of Edward B. Eller as superintendent of Martin city schools.

The announcement was made by the Weakley County Press, in Martin last week. Mr. Eller's resignation was accepted by his school board Aug. 9.

Mr. Eller, who has been principal of the South Fulton high school, will receive the Master's Degree from Peabody College, Nashville, this month. He was in Martin last week to begin working out details for the opening of Martin schools Aug. 25, the Martin paper said.

(Jack Carter, former assistant principal at Carr Institute and Fulton high school coach, earlier this summer announced that he had resigned his position here to become principal of the elementary school at Martin.)

All Weakley county schools will open Aug. 25, and the county school bus service will begin simultaneously. The hot lunch program will be carried out again this year.

There will be a nine-month term in all schools, and the compulsory attendance law will be enforced rigidly, Mr. Adams said.

With World-Circling Record Of 73 Hours Won, Bill Odom Says He'll Try It Again In October

Chicago, Aug. 11.—(P)—Pilot Bill Odom said today that he would try it again after setting a new record for the fastest trip around the world.

The 27 year old veteran flyer broke all previous globe circling records as he buzzed the Douglas Airport control tower yesterday just 73 hours, five minutes and 11 seconds after leaving Chicago Thursday on his 19,645 mile solo trip.

"The Good Lord was taking care of me for a while last night," Odom said, explaining that he had dozed off from fatigue over the mountains of western Canada and awoke to find himself flashing toward a 19,000 foot mountain peak.

Despite failure of an automatic pilot, lack of gas near the end of the trip, and extreme weariness, Odom, with his converted Army A-26 bomber, the Reynolds Bombshell, broke all existing records. These included the former solo record set in 1933 by that late Wiley Post, of 186 hours and 49 minutes, and the previous flight of the Bombshell with Odom, Milton Reynolds, Chicago pen manufacturer, and Flight Engineer T. Carroll Saltee, which made the trip in 78 hours 55 minutes last April.

Odom's average speed for the flight, including nine hours and 50 minutes on the ground, was approximately 269 miles an hour; but during the 63 hours and 15 minutes of flying time he averaged 310.59 miles per hour.

Franklin Lamb, Odom's flight manager, said the youthful airman would enter the Bendix air races at Cleveland Aug. 30 and is planning another global flight in late October with scientists and newsmen aboard.

For the races he will fly a plane that Lamb says still is a secret, but added that "it will do considerably better than 500 miles an hour."

The new round the world trip will be the hard way—via the poles—Lamb said, and will probably start and end in Chicago or Washington, and be routed over Greenland, the North Pole, Alaska, Tokyo, New Zealand, South Pole, and South America.

Lamb added that a converted Army B-32 will be used on the flight, to be sponsored by Milton Reynolds, who backed the record breaking Odom flights.

The record trip just ended started at 12:53 p. m. (EST) Thursday with stops at Gander, Newfoundland; Paris, France; Karachi and Calcutta, India; Tokyo, Anchorage, Alaska; Fargo, N. D.; and back to Chicago at 1:58 p. m. (EST) Sunday. Three minutes later Odom landed at the Chicago Municipal Airport, 22 miles south of his starting point.

He climbed out of his plane clean-shaven and smiling, as if he had returned from a short pleasure jaunt, not a grueling flight of over three nearly sleepless days.

Little Rain In Prospect Today
For Midwest's Scorched Farms

By Associated Press
Little rain was in prospect for the nation's thirsty corn or to quench forest fires today as the Midwest experienced a heat wave for the second Monday in a row with forecasts predicting some relief Tuesday.

In the corn belt no rain was in immediate sight except for scattered showers in western and central Nebraska in the next day or two, the U. S. Weather Bureau said. Some scattered showers fell Sunday in the Dakotas and Southwest and some light rain was expected today in the Pacific Northwest, New Mexico and Arizona.

Although forest fires still raged in Idaho and California they were under control with little prospect of showers to douse them. Louisiana fire fighters also could expect no help from rain, as the South remained hot and virtually rainless, forecasters said.

Labor Party Agrees To Defer Nationalizing British Steel

London, Aug. 11.—(P)—Labor nationalize the mills. They insisted, however, the cabinet should be free to choose an appropriate time.

Some London newspapers reported earlier that Aneurin Bevan had threatened to resign as minister of health if the government abandoned plans to nationalize iron and steel works.

Later the government's "crisis bill" was to come up for final action in the House of Commons, and Conservatives were ready to push a series of crippling amendments to the measure, which war Prime Minister Winston Churchill last week called "a blank check for totalitarianism."

One faction at the party caucus called for immediate resumption of trade negotiations with Russia. Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, replied that the next move was up to the Russians. Socialist sources reported after the secret meeting. The trade talks broke down recently when Britain refused to ease the repayment of a wartime credit to Moscow.

Other Laborites called for cuts in the armed forces more drastic than Attlee has projected.

Members of the government said everything possible was being done to reduce the army, navy and air force.

On the steel issue, government spokesmen told the caucus there was no intention to abandon an election promise to Russia.

Wrapped in cloth, the remaining parts of the body were located behind a house by police after a painstaking search of a six-block square area.

The victim was identified through scars on the torso as Mrs. Jean Howard Trealk, about 20.

A junk dealer found one section of the body from the waist to the knees, bundled into a blanket Sunday morning. The upper part, wrapped in a gray bedspread and stuffed into a shopping bag, was discovered shortly after in a garbage receptacle.

Inspector John O. Whitman of the homicide bureau said the woman might have been tortured before she was slain. He said there were punctured wounds on the chest and marks on the right arm indicating she had been tied up. He added the body had been "expertly" dismembered, apparently with a knife.

Whitman said Harold Kitchen, 32, and the woman's husband, Harry Trealk, 50, were being held without charge for questioning in the gruesome slaying.

Company To Resume Its Operations As Attempt To Settle Strike Fails

Alexandria, La., Aug. 11.—(P)—Negotiations to end the 82 day old strike of bus drivers and station employees of the Southern Trailways bus lines failed yesterday and the company announced it would "proceed with plans to resume operations."

A statement from R. K. Jeffries, executive vice president of the bus line, said the company "still hopes that those (striking) employees will man its operations when service is resumed. If they are unwilling to do so, the company will have no choice except to employ other persons."

R. W. Goodrick, U. S. labor conciliator, announced the end of the negotiations which began July 21.

"It's all over," he said. "We have reached a definite impasse and the meetings have ended. Everyone, however, remains on call, one to the other."

The strike, which began May 21 after a labor-management contract expired, has idled an estimated 1,000 employees and halted the daily movement of an estimated 65,000 passengers in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee, and in parts of Texas, Illinois, Kentucky and Missouri.

Southern trailways bus service in Fulton has been disrupted by the strike.

Is Britain Becoming A Dictatorship?

By Dewitt MacKenzie,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Two days ago this column in commenting on Prime Minister Attlee's drastic proposals for dealing with Britain's economic collapse, ventured the view that his country's first all-out socialist experiment already had arrived at the point of considerable regimentation of the individual, in fact had made a sharp turn toward a regime partaking of totalitarianism.

Events strengthen that thought. Friday Britain's Socialist controlled House of Commons—integral part of the "mother of parliaments"—and watch-dog for the little man's bill of rights—adopted a measure that places in the hands of the government emergency powers which democracies associate with the exigencies of war-time.

This legislation is called the "crisis powers" bill. It empowers the government to tell the workers of England where they must be employed, and what hours they must work. The government can take over the management of firms considered to be operating inefficiently.

The old conservative maestro, war-time Prime Minister Churchill, declared in a blistering attack on the bill that the Socialists were asking parliament to give a blank check for totalitarian government and were using the crisis as a pretext. And when home Secretary Chuter Ede said the government believed that "this is a crisis likely to move forward with such rapidity that we should have power to deal drastically and swiftly with awkward situations that may arise" Churchill snapped: "Hitler said that!"

Well, Churchill is leader of the opposition to the Socialist government and he chastises with a heavy political hand. Personally I should want to know more of the future before charging the Socialists with totalitarian skulduggery. That they are about to apply regimentation there can be no doubt, but they say it is merely to meet the economic crisis.

There are, of course, extreme left-wingers in the Socialist party who are driving for a Muscovite dictatorship. However, there have been no signs previously that the rank and file were doing more than following Attlee in establishing the Utopia which they believe is attainable through the magic of nationalization. They can't have much idea of what nationalization will do to England, because it hasn't been tried on a big scale before, but they are gambling on discarding the economic system which made England great.

The conservatives charge that the present crisis is due to this socialist experiment. Perhaps some of it is, but there can be no doubt that a considerable portion of it was an inheritance from the world war. Whether the difficulties could have been overcome with better management under any form of government is a matter of debate.

In any event, the Socialist regime now is caught in a net from which it probably cannot escape without the aid of "crisis powers." Those powers assuredly mean regimentation of the individual, but the big question is how long that regimentation will have to be employed, and how far it will be carried. This much we can say:

The longer regimentation is practiced, the more closely will it approach totalitarian dictatorship. And should dictatorship be reached there would be no turning back through the peacefully expressed will of the electorate.

Bust May Be On Way -- But Not Here Yet

Last winter it was pretty generally believed that what the economists, who have a language all their own, call a "corrective recession," would occur in the spring or summer of 1947. This prediction was based on the theory that savings would force a downturn, that the great postwar spending orgy couldn't last, that a more or less serious increase in the total of people unemployed was inevitable, and that some of the water had to be squeezed out of the economy.

Spring has passed and summer has come and these forecasts have proven close to 100 per cent wrong. Prices are higher than ever, but buying remains at very satisfactory levels. Savings have declined and war bonds have been cashed, at a high rate. But there is plenty of money around, business profits are excellent, more than 60,000,000 people are employed, the stock market has been showing signs of new life, and labor's earnings have generally kept pace with price increases and in some instances, notably coal, have far out-run them. The "recession" may be just around the corner, but it isn't here yet.

There are certain black spots in the picture. As an example, construction seems to be one place where resistance to high prices is really holding spending to a minimum. Home construction is practically dormant—prospective builders are wary of starting projects whose estimated cost may be $10,000 or $12,000 and whose final cost may run well over $20,000. On the other hand, there is a good deal of industrial construction going on, inflated prices notwithstanding. Many industries must expand, whether they want to or not, in order to protect their competitive position and fill their orders.

Retail sales go up and down within a narrow range, but show no signs of a serious decline. Exception to this is sales of luxury goods, such as jewelry, which are well under last year. But all the staples, necessities and semi-necessities are finding a ready market.

It might be expected that this situation would result in a feeling of confidence in industrial, agricultural and governmental circles. But it has not. Many of the economists are convinced that the country would be a lot better off in the long run if the "recession" had occurred on schedule. They fear that we may be heading toward a major bust and a real economic depression. Furthermore, the enormous, unprecedented amounts of money that are floating around are a poor indicator of prosperity these days. For instance, farm income this year will be close to three times what it was before the war. But the combination of increased taxes, labor costs, and feed and material prices has absorbed most of what otherwise would have been profit. And the factory worker whose pay is at a high of $50 a week finds that it buys only as much as $25 bought in 1940.

Generally speaking, the price outlook is for further increases. The last boost given coal miners will push up the price of steel some $5 a ton. And when the price of steel goes up, the price of a long list of manufactured goods must follow. This will undoubtedly result in new wage demands by other groups of workers. If those demands are granted, prices will take another leap forward. So it goes in the wage-price spiral.

A great many people have not shared in the fruits of the postwar boom, and are in a much worse economic position than in prewar days. People living on fixed incomes have, of course, taken the worst beating of all—their purchasing power has been cut by half or more while their dollar income has remained constant. Government workers have suffered—the modest salary increases granted them have not been nearly sufficient to take care of the higher cost of living. And the high-salaried people are hit so hard by taxes that they have much less to spend than in other, simpler times.

The great current fear is that we will have a depression with high prices. That has never happened in this country before. It has happened abroad and the results have been catastrophic. The best minds in industry and government are working overtime trying to think of ways to prevent it.

George Huddleston, Organist And Choirmaster, Visits Here

By Ouida Jewell

An interesting visitor in Fulton is George Huddleston, choirmaster and organist at the 205 year-old, historic Christ Church in New Brunswick, New Jersey, which is located in New York's metropolitan area.

In the past year, since his discharge from the army, Mr. Huddleston has had the task of restoring the Christ Church male choir to its pre-war position among the outstanding church choirs in the East.

In selecting a boy for choral training, Mr. Huddleston pays more attention to the candidate's "ear" for music than his voice quality. If the boy has a good discrimination in regard to sound and pitch a good voice can be developed through training, Mr. Huddleston believes.

Choir boys are paid for rehearsals and services, but the benefits of voice training and experience in part singing are considered more valuable than financial remuneration.

Mr. Huddleston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Huddleston, of 415 Bedding street, Fulton, who had been choirmaster at Christ Church for 12 years before going into the army, is an accomplished organist. Having studied under such prominent organists as Dr. T. Tertius Noble, Dr. David McK. Williams and Dr. Norman Cook-Jephcott, Mr. Huddleston has played many recitals in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Old Trinity Church at Broadway and Wall street, St. Paul's Chapel at Columbia University, and other churches in New York City. He has given more than 50 recitals in New York City alone. His most recent concert at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine was July 8 of this year.

After mastering the organ, he resumed his piano studies and studied under Leonid Kreutzer and other American and European masters.

Mr. Huddleston, who served the rank of captain in the army, where he served four years, and commanded a company at the Quartermaster training center at Camp Lee, Va. He served as athletic officer of the 15th Battalion, and was president of the Special Court Martial, which heard cases against white troops in the training center.

Mr. Huddleston started his musical career at the age of 12. His first piano teacher was his cousin, Doris Huddleston, now Mrs. Steve Wiley of Fulton. He also received instruction in music from Mrs. Walter Simmons.

In 1914, he took his first organ lesson from Harry Gilbert of Redbank, who was then and is now organist at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City.

After being graduated from Fulton high school in 1923, he studied music at the University of Louisville and then at the University of New York, where he received an A. G. O. degree.

Before entering the Army, he had a studio at Shwayman Hall on 57th street in New York City, where he taught piano.

Mr. Huddleston is an ardent baseball fan. He said he always keeps up with our Fulton Chicks. He thinks we have quite a team. He won five trophies with his Army basketball team and one personal trophy as the "Out-standing Athletic Officer" of 1946.

He also is a whiz at bridge, having won several cups in bridge tournaments in the East. In his busy musical career Mr. Huddleston has apparently never found the time to concentrate on any single feminine individual long enough to have been trapped into matrimony.

SAYS CHESTNUT TREE MAY BE ON WAY BACK

The famous chestnut tree, killed several years ago by blight, may be on its way back, says W. E. Jackson, extension forester for the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Reports are being received of chestnut trees 35 feet tall and five inches in diameter which have grown up as sprouts from trees killed by the blight. Some of the sprouts are 8 to 10 years old.

The cacao tree from which chocolate is derived grows only in the tropics.

Kentucky's Adolph Rupp, who was so popular with his expert and colorful lectures at the Texas coaching school in 1946 that they brought him back this year, is making as much money as the high school mentors by just lending his presence to coaching clinics over the country. . . . When he appeared at the Texas coaching school in El Paso last week it was his sixth of the year. . . . next the basketball wizard of the Blue Grass country will tell them about the cage game at the Iowa State clinic, Lake Spirit, Ia., then he will wind up his national tour at the Michigan State school at Freemont. . . . Texas coaches got a charge out of this Rupp quiz. "Last year we played everybody except Utah" (Utah was the team that beat Kentucky out in the finals of the National Invitational at New York).

SUCH IS FAME DEPARTMENT
Bo McMillin, the pug-nosed, silver-topped Irish who coaches football at Indiana, told the 832 high school mentors at the Texas clinic: "We are not allowed to go out and get boys in the Big Ten but if a friend sends us one that's all right". . . . Then he added in what was intended to be a sad tone: "Trouble is I don't have many friends." He has plenty of them in Texas where he first won football fame before becoming All-America quarterback with Centre's Praying Colonels—but where football players are concerned there is a dividing line even among pals—when Bo left the Texas coaching school for Indiana his only companion was Owen Cochrane, his assistant, who came to Texas to help McMillin tell Texas coaches about the Indiana T-single wing combination.

A MATTER OF CO-OPERATION
Jess Neely, the drawing Gary Cooper of Southwest Conference football, noted that his coaching colleagues had voted his Rice team the championship this fall and observed: "It sure would make them look bad if they beat me and knocked me out of the title. . . . Here's a chance for them to become experts at selecting winners. . . . since the writers picked Rice to win in 1943 and we didn't beat anybody (Texas walloped Rice 53-0 among other things), I have lost faith in the press."

Billy Butterfield Has Strata Club Date On Aug. 15

Idol and envy of a lot of top trumpeters is a cherubic tooter from Ohio, named Billy Butterfield. He grew up sitting beside one of his own idols, Charles Spivak. In Bob Crosby band's brass section, and today he actually "out-Spivaks" Charlie. Proof appears throughout Billy's thrilling version of "Stardust", which he once recorded as featured trumpeter with Artie Shaw, but which now comes out on wax under Billy's own name. "Buttercup" as he's affectionately (not to mention descriptively) called by musicians, blows a trumpet as it should be blown—loud, clear and accurate, with immense shading and feeling. On the reverse, he plays more delicately and carefully.

Billy Butterfield will be at the Strata Club Friday night, Aug. 15. See the Strata Club's ad elsewhere in today's paper.

It doesn't suggest any invention, but says "a gadget consuming five watts, the same as an electric clock, might just do the trick," operating all the time as a kind of alarm clock.

BUZ SAWYER
BETTER CALL THE COAST GUARD, JIM. THIS MAN REPORTS A PASSENGER MADE A SUICIDE LEAP FROM AN AIRPLANE AT SEA.
I DON'T SAY THAT, GIRL. I SAID HE WAS AROUND WHEN WE TOOK OFF. BUT WHEN WE LANDED, HE WASN'T THERE.
WELL, ISN'T IT THE SAME THING? YOU SAW NO PASSENGER WHEN YOU CAME HOME. AND YOU SAY HE COULDN'T HAVE FALLEN OUT. TOO, DIDN'T HE CONFIDE THAT HE WOULD DO A FADEOUT RATHER THAN FACE HIS FIANCÉE?
BUT SUICIDE? NO, I CAN'T BELIEVE IT.
I SUPPOSE THERE'LL BE A CORONER'S INVESTIGATION. MR. SAWYER, CAN YOU REMAIN IN THE CITY?
NOT VERY WELL. I DON'T SEE. THIS IS GOING TO BE QUITE A SHOCK TO THE GIRL, AND I PROMISED HER I'D BE HERE.

Chicks Lose To Miners, Oilers, Drop To Fourth Place In Loop

Fulton's Chicks are back in fourth place in the Kitty League race today for the second time since Manager Freddy Biggs took over the club reins. Their losses over the weekend to Madisonville and Owensboro, coupled with Hopkinsville victories over Cairo and Mayfield, resulted in the Hoppers moving up to third spot, behind the Mayfield Clothiers.

The Chicks lost to Madisonville Saturday 4-2, and dropped a 5-2 decision at Owensboro Sunday. They play again at Owensboro tonight and Tuesday, and go to Madisonville Wednesday to open a three-night stand.

They also met the Oilers in an exhibition game at the new Corydon ball park at 1:30 p. m. today.

Saturday night the Miners opened the scoring with one in second, got two more in the fourth and a final tally in the ninth. Both Chick markers were brought home in the ninth.

Jake Probst opened the final frame for Fulton with a fly to left field for an out. Tommy Buck and Dutch Gray singled, and came home on Dusty Rhodes' triple. Pete Peterson and Joe Lis filed out to right and left fields respectively to end the game.

Gray, who got two singles against the Miners, tied the Kitty League record by hitting safely in his 27th consecutive game. He was unable to break the league mark at Owensboro Sunday.

The only home run of Saturday night's tilt came in the ninth inning off the bat of Phelan. Miner first sacker, who was the first man up.

K. Brown, Oiler twirler, held the Chicks to five hits as the Owensboro team won over Fulton 5-2 last night. Wessell started on the hill for the Chicks and gave up eight hits in four innings which accounted for all the Oilers' runs. He was relieved by Biggs.

The Oilers got two each in the first and third and another in the fourth, while Fulton scored once in the seventh and ninth.

Vinson Is Speaker In His Home Town

Louis, Ky., Aug. 11—(AP)—Americans "want nothing others have, but we are not going to permit our rights and liberties to be infringed upon," Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson declared here yesterday at the dedication of a Fort Vancouver memorial.

The Chief Justice of the United States spoke from the steps of the building in which he was born here 57 years ago as the monument was dedicated commemorating the first white settlement in the area, made in 1739 by Charles Vancouver.

Recalling that his grandfather, James Vinson, settled here just 11 years after Vancouver, the head of the Supreme Court remarked, "our forefathers had courage," and added that now, as in that day, "it does not pay to be afraid."

Parking Meters Can't Bring High Surplus—Dummit

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 11—(AP)—A parking meter ordinance that brings in an excessive surplus is actually an invalid revenue measure, the attorney general's office said today.

A city may install parking meters and exact fees which cover only costs of regulating the parking problem, the office said. Any small surplus existing at the end of the fiscal year can be used in liquidating other legitimate expenses and obligations of the city, it added.

The opinion was written for Leon H. Preston, city clerk of Paintsville, who wondered if parking fee surpluses could be put in a special fund for the purchase of fire-fighting equipment.

What makes A SUCCESSFUL TRIP for you (or your freight)?

Maybe it's prompt arrival at the destination printed on your ticket. Or freedom from weather-worry. Or clean comfort, plenty of elbow room, good food and an opportunity to relax with a book or with fellow-travelers.

Or maybe what's more important to you is the delivery of a new refrigerator, a lawn-mower or a set of dinner dishes.

For whatever makes your trip a success you can thank an item on the Illinois Central's account books—an item that last year added up to 36 million dollars—the amount spent to keep this railroad's locomotives and cars in dependable, smooth-running order.

That's a lot of money. But not too much for a railroad pledged to earn your friendship and patronage by the quality and progressive spirit of its service.
