TVA To Drop Power Charges Again In May

TVA power charges will edge downward again in May under the monthly formula that keys these charges to fuel and related costs for the power system. For home consumers, May charges will be 26 cents per thousand kilowatthours below April

Under the most widely used local rate schedule for home electric service in the TVA area, the charge for the first 1,000 kilowatthours used in a home will be $22.59 in May - the lowest level since the spring of 1975. The comparable bill last September was about 16 per cent higher at $26.18,

This will be the seventh decline in eight months for these charges, resulting mainly from the low fuel cost for power generated at Browns Ferry Nuclear Plant plus the effect of seasonal factors.

Power system officials expect these charges to begin rising in coming months, because the same seasonal effects generally increase these costs in the summer. TVA coal costs also are expected to increase as the agency buys more low-sulfur coal to meet Environmental Protection Agency compliance schedules for sulfur dioxide control at several TVA power plants.

Meanwhile, TVA's latest quarterly financial review indicated that a general rate adjustment will probably be needed this year to cover rises in other power supply costs, such as interest expense, supplies and labor. The last increase to cover those costs was adopted at the end of 1974, and they have continued to rise since that time.

May power charges will be on the low end of the range that has prevailed for the past two years, since TVA rates were pushed sharply upward by a dramatic increase in coal prices in 1974.

Plans For 13th Annual Charity Ball Announced By Committee

Plans for the 13th annual Charity Ball were announced today by the planning committee. Chairman for this year's Charity which will be held Saturday, June 4, is Mrs. Charles Hoke. Mrs. Samuel Housden is co-chairman.

The Charity Ball has been an annual event locally since 1965 to raise money for the Murray-Calloway County Comprehensive Care Center. In those 12 years, approximately $27,000 has been donated to the center which is located at 702-4 Main Street. The two buildings house a day care center for children with developmental disabilities.

This year's Charity Ball will be held at the Murray Country Club and music will be provided by the Louis Brown Nashville. Orchestra from Arrangements have again been made to erect a large party tent on the club's

Volunteer Help Is Needed At Local Hospital

A heavy load of patients in x-ray has necessitated a request for additional volunteer help, Jean Blankenship, Red Cross executive director, said today.

The duties of this job include assisting a patient from the hospital room to the x-ray laboratory, transporting records, and otherwise providing extra patient care during the time in which the patient is being xraved.

Red Cross volunteers will be given an orientation session and on-the-job training. They will be required to purchase the uniform or smock and wear rubber soled shoes. For further information call the chapter at 753-1421.

Estimated $500 Raised By Bikers

Brent Manning, Murray chief of police and the chairman for the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon held Saturday at Murray High, said today that according to initial estimates, the event raised about $500.

"We didn't have a large number of people turn out for the event but the ones that did were very dedicated, Manning said.

"One young man, Tommy Thornton, had about 160 sponsors. And Freddie Higgins, who rode last year in the Bike-A-Thon, rode 50 miles," Manning added.

Trevor Mathis rode 34 miles while Thornton rode 32.

Others riding in the event were Johnny Caruthers, Michael Tabers, Timothy Beane, Scott Vaughn, Christi Smith, Eddie Rogers, Joe Walker and critically injured in a car-truck accident Sunday afternoon.

Roy W. Burkeen, 74, Route One Dexter, and his wife, Lorene W. Burkeen, 61, were fatally injured when their car collided with a semi-trailer truck 4.2 miles east of Murray on Highway 94. The accident occurred at 1:20 p. m. Sunday.

Kentucky State Trooper Louis Todd, who investigated the accident, said the truck, a Murray Silica Sand vehicle, was driven by Larry Joe Rogers, 811 North 16th Street. Rogers was not seriously wered.

Trooper Todd said the car was going west on Highway 94 and the truck was going east when the accident occurred. Todd reported that the car apparently skidded with its brakes locked for some distance, and then turned left into the path of the truck.

Injured in the accident was Avis Childress, also of Route One Dexter, who was listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit of Lourdes Hospital, Paducah, this morning.

Calloway County Coroner Max Morris was called to the scene and pronounced Mr. and Mrs. Burkeen dead at the accident scene.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Burkeen were members of the Palestine United Methodist Church where funeral services will be held Tuesday at four p.m. with burial to follow in the Palestine Cemetery. They were married in December 1946.

Friends may call at the Blalock-Coleman Funeral Home after 6:30 p.m. tonight (Monday) where Masonic rites will be conducted at eight p.m. tonight.

Mr. Burkeen was a fifty year member of Temple Hill Lodge No. 276 Free and Accepted Masons and was an Army veteran of World War II. He was a retired employee of the Calloway County Road Department and had served as Magistrate of the Calloway County Fiscal Court.

Bern April 16, 1903, in Calloway County, he was the son of the late A. J (Sime) Burkeen and Madie Peeler one sister, Mrs. Hudson (Ruth) Morris, in 1965, and one brother, Barnes W Burkeen, in 1972.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Cleve (Eula Grace) Parrish, Dexter Route One, and Mrs. Ollie (Jewell) Jones, Hardin Route One; sister-in-law Mrs. Ola Burkeen, Almo; several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Burkeen was the former Lorene Williams, who was the daughter of Hardie Williams of Dexter Route One, who survives, and the late Myrtie Lee Williams. She was born June 15, 1915, in Calloway County, and is also survived by her sister, Mrs. Childress, and one nephew, Edgar Childress, both of Dexter Route One

Mrs. Burkeen had worked at the Winslow Cafeteria, Murray State University, and also at the polls for each election.

Senate Drops Plans For Tax Bill Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate abandoned plans to take up President Carter's economic stimulus tax bill today, because he has discarded proposals for a $50 payment to most Americans:

Sources close to the bill's managers said they decided on further discussions as to how to handle the remnant of the tax bill, a major component of the administration's two-year, economic stimulus package. The Senate Finance Committee scheduled a meeting Tuesday morning.

Before leaving for a 10-day Easter recess, the Senate had scheduled the big Carter tax bill for immediate attention on its return today. The House already passed a version that included Carter's plan to send $50 rebates to

Local Debt Load Expands Considerably In Recent Months

To what extent have Calloway County residents been utilizing the installment credit available to them in their recent stepped-up spending for consumer

How large is their debt load, relative to income, and how well are they managing it?

As in other parts of the country, there was an upturn in consumer spending in recent months, especially in December, causing the debt load to expand considerably From the standpoint of business, this was a good sign. It was a solid indicator of an economy that was on the rise. People were again in the marketplace for new cars, washing machines, furniture, refrigerators and other costly goods and services.

Because most of it was bought on credit, as usual, the increase in the debt load reflects the increase in consumer

Nationally, according to figures from the Federal Reserve Board, consumer credit at the beginning of the year was at a three-year high, nearly $179 billion. It was 10 per cent more than a year earlier. Auto buying was the chief

In Calloway County, based upon average earnings and spending locally and upon the national findings, the amount of installment debt outstanding is estimated at $1,800 per family.

In general, the debt load is equivalent to about one-seventh of net, disposable

That is the average. Some families have bigger obligations than that and some have much smaller ones. There is a small proportion that buys for cash and has no installment debt at all.

As for the Calloway County population as a whole, the amount of such debt outstanding at the beginning of the year was approximately $18,051,000, it is estimated.

The largest part of it consisted of loans for car purchases. Most of the rest was for other consumer buying, for personal loans and loans for home repair and modernization. Mortgage loans, charge accounts and single payment loans are not included. They do not fall into this category

Some 15 per cent of the average local family's after-tax income, or about $150 per month, is needed to meet the installments on its debt, it is calculated.

An Apology To West Virginians

DEAR ABBY: For many years we West Virginians have been trying hard to let outsiders know that we are not all barefoot, illiterate, backward mountain folk. But no matter how we try to point up our economic strengths, our flourishing industries, our symphony orchestras and our cultural progress, someone always shoots us down. The media also does its part by playing up every West

Virginia coal mine disaster, prison riot, or national tragedy Can you imagine our delight when in a recent basketball game, we West Virginia Mountaineers defeated Notre Dame, the perennial powerhouse Irish, before a television audience of millions! We are not all dumb Hillbillies; Cyrus Vance, President Carter's choice for secretary of state, Robert C. Byrd, the majority leader of the U.S. Senate, Pearl Buck, the famous author, the late Pete Lisagor, a highly respected newspaper correspondent, Peter Marshall, host of the Hollywood Squares, actors Don Knotts and Fuzzy Knight, and sports idol Jerry West were all from West Virginia.

We were very disappointed when you, Dear Abby, our favorite columnist, ran a letter in your column that read in part: "Should we allow our daughter, a fifth-generation American, to be married without dignity like a West Virginia Hillbilly?"—and you made no effort to correct that Surely, an enlightened writer like yourself can't share that bigoted misconception of our beautiful Mountain

I think you owe us West Virginians an apology.
PROUD WEST VIRGINIAN MARTINSBURG, W. VA.

DEAR PROUD: You are right. I plead guilty to the sin of omission. I should NOT have allowed that blatantly bigoted remark to go unchallenged.

As you know, I try to keep my answers brief, but that is no excuse for failing to set that woman straight. I didn't realize the seriousness of my mistake until I received an avalanche of letters from irate West Virginians. I have learned a very valuable lesson. I apologize. Thank you for taking me to task. I had it coming!

Abigail Van Buren DEAR ABBY: About unwanted visitors in a hospital:

Very truly yours,

When a patient has an unwanted visitor, if the patient will just close his eyes and pretend he has dropped off to sleep, the visitor will quietly leave. I am a Gray Lady and I often suggest this to patients who complain that company wears them out.

DEAR GRAY LADY: Take it from an old Gray Lady (either way): Never underestimate the persistence of some visitors. Some have been known to sit for hours waiting for the patient to "wake up." DEAR ABBY: In reply to DISGUSTED IN CHICAGO, you wrote: "One of life's most baffling mysteries is what people in love see in each other.

That caused me to recall these words from "THE LITTLE PRINCE": "It is only with the heart one can see rightly; what is essential is invisible to the eye ARTHUR H. PRINCE

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box, No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

buying things we simply cannot afford. Of course, we are able to take the new purchases home with us by charging,

Well, to a great extent, our daily consumption of fuel reflects a similar attitude. We are able to charge the daily consumption until the monthly bill comes through the mail, so we have a tendency to use more than we really need.

However, there is always a day of reckoning. That's the time when we have to pay the bill. Well, since the price of fuel today is so high, that day of reckoning is getting more difficult and even impossible for some people to deal

In the past decade, we have become rather accustomed to moderatelypriced fuel. However, the days of lowcost fuel are rapidly disappearing. Add to the high cost of present day fuel the severity of this past winter, and you could see why your fuel bill that came in the mail a few days ago is so large.

Thus, we have to do something. We simply cannot continue to pay the astronomical fuel bills we have received recently. Quite frankly, there is not much hope for the price of fuel to go down. As the Arabs increase the price of foreign crude oil, the refined product we burn will continue to increase in price.

The balmy air and blooming flowers of spring tend to make the memories of the problems of January and February fade. But the coming of spring does not signal an end to those problems. Our energy shortage has been creeping upon us for some time and our national leaders are yet to find any solution.

Yet, solutions must be found if we are to avoid drastic disruptions in our way of life as well as the adverse effects which can bring massive unemployment.

We must increase our supply of fuel but we have to do a better job of using what we have. The fuel we save is the cheapest fuel we can buy.

Conservation must become the leading edge of our energy effort. Conservation does not mean doing without - rather it means doing better with what we have through more efficient use of our energy resources. Put in a simpler way, it means cutting out

Conservation makes good sense:

- It makes available additional fuel for productive purposes much faster and cheaper than developing new

It can be important in saving jobs. - It saves resources which must not be used up in our lifetime. - It can minimize environmental damage by relying less on new production.

 And it can save you money. Conservation will be a foundation stone in Kentucky's energy program. The Department of Energy is now developing a broad based Kentucky

We Americans have a bad habit of . Energy Conservation Plan." This plan will touch on all phases of the Kentucky economy and Kentucky life. A public hearing will be held on the plan, probably in early May. Such a plan will be mandated by the National Energy Policy now being developed by the

Carter Administration and the Congress. I want state government to take the lead in energy conservation. We are already beginning a program of "building audits;" energy efficient policies have been put into effect for new buildings; thermostats are properly set; state purchases will reflect energy efficiency; and all employees will be informed of the "whys" and "hows" of energy con-

An important component of our conservation program will be getting over the message to the one million households in the Commonwealth. About 20 per cent of all energy — 40 per cent of natural gas - used in Kentucky is used in the home.

We plan to put specific information about the dollar savings possible through conservation in all homes over the next three years. When savings exceed costs, it's good business to conserve.

But there are number of things which you should do now:

- Give serious consideration to adding insulation and installing storm windows. This will cost money but you will probably save in the long run. For example, an investment of $200 or so in ceiling insulation can save 10 to 35 per cent in your bill for heating. Adding' storm windows and doors can save an additional 20 per cent for heating. Be sure to protect yourself and pick a reputable dealer.

- Reducing your temperature from 72 degrees to 68 degrees can save 15 to 30 per cent on heating. Cutting back to 65 degrees and to 60 degrees at night saves even more.

 Reduce the temperatures of your water to 120 degrees.

- Use all appliances efficiently your stove, washer, dryer and others. And when new appliances are brought, insist on energy efficiency even though your initial cost may be a little higher.

If you need information about insulation or conservation write: Kentucky Department of Energy, Capital Plaza Tower, 9th Floor, Frankfort, Ky. 40601 or call toll free: 1-800-372-2978.

Eastern Kentucky Still Digging Out

By S. C. Van Curon

VAN CURON

FRANKFORT - Eastern Kentucky is still digging out from its worst flood in modern memory.

Schools were the public properties the hardest hit in the flood area. Fred Johnson, assistant superintendent of Administration and Finance, said the rough preliminary estimate at midweek was $19,327,995.

Some schools in the area are not expected to resume classes until some time this week, and some of them, maybe not then.

Cawood High School in Harlan County and grade schools in Loyall and Wallins were not scheduled to open 'until further notice."

A spokesman at Harlan said the homes of teachers and school children in these schools were so "hard hit by the flood" that they were needed at home to help clean up. Harlan City Schools were scheduled to open Mon-

Bell County High School and Pineville City Schools hadn't set an opening date at midweek last week. Three schools in the Bell County system were damaged.

Martin County had three schools damaged at an estimated loss of $234,000, Johnson said. Representatives of the Atlanta office of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration were touring the flood area last week with representatives of the Kentucky Department of Education for an accurate assessment of damage. Johnson said the purpose is to establish how much federal aid the school districts will get to repair the damage.

The damage estimate to schools in Harlan County was estimated roughly at $903,850, 11 buildings were severely damaged and seven school buses were

Three buildings were damaged in Johnson County, 37 in Floyd with a damage estimate of $2 million; five in Pikeville at an estimated loss of $4,700,000, including a brand new high school that opened last fall. Pike County schools had 29 buildings damaged at an estimated loss of $7,591,000

Perry County, one of the lightest hit in Eastern Kentucky, had three buildings damaged with an estimated loss of $240,000. Knott County's school damage was estimated at $6.435.

"People just don't understand," he said, "that utility hookups have to be prepared, the sites graded and slabs poured before a mobile home can become habitable."

Long said that HUD is moving "just as fast as possible" to get temporary living quarters for those displaced by the flood.

Another spokesman at the London office said many persons were staying with friends and relatives, many outside the flood area. The heads of the families are trying to do the cleanup work in families where small children are involved.

If you're 14 or 15, you can do service jobs like pumping gas, bagging groceries, or bussing dishes - with these restrictions: You can't work more than 3 hours on a school day, or 18 hours in a school week. If it's a nonschool day, you can only work 8 hours, and no more than 40 hours in a nonschool week. And, you aren't allowed to work before 7 a. m. or after 7 p. m. except from June 1 to Labor Day then the evening hours are extended till

And when you're 18, you can be hired for any job at any time, for unlimited hours, whether or not the work is hazardous.

Exceptions are full-time students and apprentices who may be paid less than the minimum under special certificates issued by the Department of Labor.

Farm jobs are different. A 14-year old can be employed in any non-hazardous farm job outside of school hours. And, a 16-year old can be employed at any time in any farm job, wether the work is hazardous or not.

IRA's are available to any wage-earner. The only requirement is that you not currently be a participant in any other retirement plan.

If you're already participating in a Retirement Plan...

Even though you're currently a participant in a retirement plan sponsored by your employer, you, too, may benefit from an IRA. Under the new voluntary Federal portability system, you can transfer your vested benefits from your present employer's plan to an Individual Retirement Plan. Later, you can transfer them again to a new employer's plan. Here is how it works.

Say you leave your present employment and take with you your entire vested interest in your employer's retirement plan. If you place this interest in an IRA within 60 days from the date you first became eligible to receive your payment, no Federal taxes will be currently due on the amount you received. Your payment can remain in your IRA until you retire or get a new job. If you get a new job, you can, with the consent of your new employer, transfer funds from your IRA to the new employer's plan tax-free.

Tobacco Plant Beds Need Water

The importance of moisture for tobacco plant beds is continuing to be emphasized by UK extension tobacco specialists.

"Seed germination time and immediately after the plants begin to appear in the beds are the critical times when the plants need moisture," says Joe H. Smiley, one of UK's tobacco specialists. "Unwatered beds can result in poor stands and stunted plants.'

Smiley pointed out that windy weather, which is quite normal for the spring season, can carry moisture away from the soil surface, causing a soil crust to form. As a result plant beds may need frequent watering, even though fields may be too moist to plow. Smiley urged the growers to check the plant beds frequently to keep tabs on any moisture needs. "Frequent watering at germination time is recommended if the soil surface is dry," he said. "If the soil surface is dry, 150 gallons of water per bed will the moisten adequately."

After the plants are established, however, he advised that from 300 to 500 gallons of water per 100 square yards of bed may be needed each week during any given dry period.

Smiley made another point for growers to check + fer-tilizer injury. He said if any fertilizer injury begins to show up in the bed and the plant stand begins to disappear, it is a definite indication the bed needs water.

French Tomato Epidemic

Connected With New Virus

USDA's Scientists of Agricultural Research Service (ARS) have linked a new type of virus particle they know exists in the U.S. to a severe epidemic of tomato necrosis disease that occurred in France in 1972.

The particle contains an infectious agent named CARNA 5 and is part of cucumber mosaic virus (CMV), the cause of important diseases of many horticultural and agronomic

According to CARNA 5's discoverer, Dr. Jacobus M. Kaper, a chemist at the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center, the tiny agent alters the disease expression of CMV in tomato plants from the usual mild symptoms to a radically different and more severe malady.

Dr. Kaper has identified CARNA 5 in all eight CMV cultures so far analyzed from U.S. crop material. The cultures were taken from tomato plants in Maryland; tobacco, cucumber and spinach in Wisconsin; celery crops in New York; dichondra plants in California; and pepper plants in the South. Dr. Kaper has also found CARNA 5 in four of five CMV cultures from foreign countries.

Working with Dr. Kaper at the U.S. Plant Introduction Station in Glenn Dale, Md., ARS plant pathologist Dr. Howard E. Waterworth passed a culture of CMV with CARNA 5 through a series of healthy tomato plants. Each successive plant had higher levels of CARNA 5, and, depending on the initial amount of CARNA 5 in the virus culture, infected plantsdeveloped a lethal necrosis very much like the disease that devastated the tomato crop in the Alsace Valley of France five years ago.

CARNA 5 is a completely new form of infective disease agent, say Dr. Kaper and Dr. Waterworth in the April 22 issue of Science, the official journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The agent is a small piece of genetic material (ribonucleic acid) located within the protective shell of CMV but not related to that virus. As such, CARNA 5 is the first nucleic acid discovered that is responsible for a distinct disease, yet is genetically different from the "helper" virus it needs to survive.

.The ARS scientists say the discovery of CARNA 5 could help explain the erratic behavior of CMV, which tends to cycle through periods of acute symptoms and long spells of dormancy. Outbreaks of abnormally severe diseases, such as the French tomato necrosis epidemic, could be explained, they say, by an invasion of a CARNA 5carrying strain of CMV or by an epidemic CMV strain suddenly nurturing the agent.

Researchers in France have known since 1974 that CMV is somehow associated with tomato necrosis disease.

Browning of the leaves spreads quickly until the entire plant collapses. The disease symptoms do not appear to move up from the soil as do those of fungus and bacterial diseases.

Controlling aphids which carry CMV and separating susceptible crops are the only prevention measures that can be recommended for tomato necrosis disease at this time, say the ARS researchers. Scientists must now learn more about the physiological function of CARNA 5.

Watch For Tobacco Anthracnose In Plant Beds have been warned to keep a check on their plant beds for signs of anthracnose, a disease that hits the plant beds and can cause severe losses.

Joe H. Smiley, a UK extension tobacco specialist, said anthracnose is probably carried to the plant beds by water that flows over the area from outside the boundary of the bed. To combat that source Smiley advised the grower to be certain the bed is well-ditched and raised above the surrounding ground so that any excess surface water will flow around the bed and drain off. Preparing beds in that manner was termed a safer practice than allowing the beds to be level with the surrounding terrain.

The tobacco specialist said the infection may also be carried on the shoes of workers who have walked through pastures and then stepped on the surface of the plant beds. He added the disease has also been observed in beds over which livestock have been allowed to

One of the early symptoms of anthracnose is the appearance of numerous small spots on the leaves of the tobacco plants, Smiley said. The spots are reddish brown at first, but later turn paper white, sometimes giving the plants a silvery appearance.

He said brown, elongated spots also appear on the underside of leaf midribs and pucker or break. Several spots on a small leaf often are seen to merge into a single dead area, killing the entire leaf.

"The disease may be unusually severe in wet weather, killing large as well as very small plants," Smiley warned. "If the plants are not killed, they remain yellow and stunted as long as the disease remains active."

In advanced stages the plants over the entire bed appear to have been scalded, Anthracnose is normally checked by clear, dry weather, but, the tobacco specialist said, the disease can remain active in a wide temperature range.

As for the control of the disease, Smiley said there were several materials recommended that have The materials he suggested plants.

and Maneb. Any of the materials may be sprayed on the beds in solution or applied as a dust - the materials being available in dust or wettable powder form.

Smiley emphasized that ursers of the materials should labels when making the applications.

Sprays or dusts should be applied weekly, he said. In spraying, he advised use of a pressure sprayer at the rate of three gallons per bed.

Helfers who have their first for their calf, repair their calves when they are two years old generally have a greater lifetime production than heifers who calve first as three-year-olds, is the observation of Curtis Absher, UK extension beef cattle specialist.

When properly tended, a. garden can be the most profitable piece of land for its size on a farm. With proper planning it can be made to produce a continuous supply follow instructions on the of fresh, health giving vege tables from late spring until late fall and with a minimum of effort and expense.

If it is a small garden, it should be restricted to surefire vegetables such as beans, tomatoes, cabbage, lettuce, radishes and root crops that require little room. Dwarf peas and cauliflower may be. added as luxuries, but sweet corn, melons, eggplants, squashes and other spacedemanding vegetables should be omitted if a maximum yield is desired.

The kind of vegetables, of course, must be lest to the gardener, but whatever planted, the best idea is to get the best seed or transplants possible. Good varieties are not the result of accident. Rather, they are the result of years of experimental growing and selection by horticulturists and vegetable specialists. Good seed and sturdy transplants may cost a little more, but they will be much more likely to germinate or grow. They are also more likely to be disease resistant or disease free.

Whatever the garden space available, there should be a systematic plan for planting to assure a constant supply of stunted and fail to rebreed." vegetables throughout the To remedy such a situation, in another section of the garden, the first planting of bunch beans, early sweet corn and a second planting of dwarf peas, radishes and lettuce may be made. These crops will be out of the way for the planting of fall crops of lettuce, turnips, kale and winter cover crops.

Then, sometime in late May, when the weather becomes settled and really warm, in spaces where the first plantings were made and harvested, the last of the spring plantings-tomatoes, sweet corn, okra, melons, peppers, squash, eggplant and cucumbers-can be made. By following this system and arrangement, fresh vegetables may be available on the table all summer.

Because of droughts and early spring freezes; a shortage of vegetables is predicted for this summer. With this being the case, even a small garden will be worthwhile

USDA Resumes Fire Ant Control Program

ATLANTA, Ga. - The U.S. program to begin in late Department of Agriculture (USDA) and cooperating states will resume control efforts against the imported fire ant. A spring treatment program will be conducted this year in five infested states in the Southeast.

Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Arkansas and Louisiana have expressed interest in treating about 6.5

of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS). About 11 million acres are scheduled for fall treatment and will involve Texas and possibly South Carolina Actual acres to be included in the aerial treatment program will be determined jointly by APHIS, the states and private landowners based on infestation

March, according to officials

All treatments will be carried out under provisions allowed by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Under a recently signed agreement, EPA is allowing aerial application of mirex until Dec. 31, 1977.

Under the restrictions, only a modified formulation of the mirex bait - called 10-5 - will be used. Formerly, a somewhat stronger formulation was applied at the rate of 1.7 grams per acre. The new 10-5 bait is applied at the rate of 0.454 grams of mirex

USDA and the cooperating states will operate under EPA restrictions including (1) exclusive use of single engine aircraft or helicopter, (2) the same piece of ground can be aerially treated only once between now and Dec. 31, 1977, (3) no treatments within 12 miles of the coast or near major tidal rivers and (4) no treatments of ponds or run-

As the program is conducted, APHIS will also undertake additional activities including (1) a specifically designed monitoring program to further evaluate the effects of mirex on the environment and (2) an accelerated methods development program to search for alternative treatments.

USDA and the cooperating states were unable to conduct a fire ant control program during the fall of 1976 due to the unavailability of mirex for the formulation of bait. Technical mirex is again available to the formulator the Mississippi Authority for

For Palmer, it was his second consecutive shutout. He has allowed only five hits in the last 18 innings. And he has yielded just 14 hits and two runs in 28 innings this year in compiling a 2-1 record and a sparkling 0.64 earned run average.

Left-hander Grimsley, aided by the booming bats of Billy Smith and Ken Singleton, followed Palmer's lead in the second game.

Distance Medley Relay Team Fastest In World

"Where's Murray State?" everyone asked. One thing about it, they might not know where Murray State is but track fans at the Dogwood Relays will be hearing more about the MSU track program in the coming years. Coach Bill Cornell's distance medley relay team stunned everyone as they recorded a new school record, a new Dogwood Relays record and the fastest time in the world this year in winning the event in 9:42.01.

Powerful Villanova was second in 9:42.3 while Penn State was third in 9:43.89 and Michigan State fourth in 9:48.14.

Freshman Englishman Dave Warren led off by running the 880-yard dash in a new personal best of 1:49.8, a time which should make him the favorite in the OVC Championships which will be held May 6-7 at Bowling Green.

Keener, from Washington, D.C., blistered the track and ran the three-quarters in 2:57.4, easily a personal best and gave the lead to junior Englishman Martyn Brewer who an-

"I was really elated with the win. Everyone kept wanting to know where was Murray State," Cornell said.

'Villanova is really known for their distance strength. Our kids were really happy. When Brewer crossed the finish line in first, Keener nearly tore Martyn's head off when he grabbed him," Cornell laughed.

The two-mile relay team, with three of the same four running with a brief rest after the distance medley relay team, placed sixth in 7:33 8

Keener led off with a personal best of 1:52.8 while Brewer took the second leg and recorded a 1:52.9. Mitch Johnston recorded a 1:53.3 and Warren anchored in 1:54.8.

In the open 1500-meter run, Dave Rafferty placed fifth in 3:45.3 for a new personal best. That time equals a 4:03.3 mile. Rafferty, a transfer from the University of Louisville, was representing the Mason-Dixon Track Club.

On Friday, Murray put itself on the map by finishing fourth in the four-mile relay. There were 23 teams entered in that

But before he was through, his Boston Celtics' teammates were pounding him on the back.

White scored 17 points in the second half, including the final two of the game, as Boston rallied for a 113-111 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers Sunday and a 1-0 lead in their National Basketball Association best-of-seven Eastern Conference semifinal playoff series. The second game is scheduled Wednesday night at Philadelphia.

AUCTIONEER'S COMMENTS:

AUCTIONEER'S COMMENTS:
The 300 acre tract divided into small acreage tracts provides your choice of rolling grassy green hills, some wooded areas and level to rolling cleared lands with ultra good views and prime building sites.

We are bounded on the North by the new resort subdivision of Kentucky Lake Enterprises. Bounded on the South by the TVA Reservation. In mile East is the Kentucky Lake with newly developed picnicing, camping, boat launching, sand beach, swimming and water sports. "Callaway Hills" adjoins the Land Between the Lakes between Paris Landing and Kenlake. The most accessable weekend spot for West Kentucky and upper West Tennessee area.

This is perhaps your only opportunity to get in on the beginning of the development of this choice area.

The proximity of "Calloway Hills" to Kenlake, Paris Landing and The Land Between the Lakes insures your investment. Low down payment and owner financing make this a potential tax shelter program.

DIRECTIONS: From Murray, Ky., take 94 East 2 miles, right onto Hwy. 280, continue 5 miles and vear left onto Hwy. 614. Go 1 mile to property.

TERMS: 15% deposit sale day. Owner financing will be available on the small acreage tracts. We anticipate modest prices. This accompanied by good owner financing and nominal down payment make this property affordable to most working people. On the make this property affordable to most working people. By Kenny Imes who try to change his opinion. Simply put, there are believers and non-believers. Only one can be right. The other must be mistaken. Both face an unpredictable future but both know there will be a natural course in life's termination. When this happens-for the sake of illustration-let's suppose the atheist is right. Let's suppose there is no God; let's suppose there will be no eventual confrontation with God. In that case, what has either the believer or the nonbeliever lost? The answer is obvious. Nothing, On the other hand, let's suppose there is a God; let's suppose the believer and the non-believer both face an eventual confrontation with Him. In that case, what does the believer stand to gain, the non-believer stand to lose? Without presupposing the magnitude of God's mercy, or how He will exercise it, doesn't it seem logical the believer will lose less and gain more than the non-believer? Does this make sense? We think it does. . . J. H. Churchill Funeral Home 201 South 3rd

Carter Preparing To Warn Of Impending Energy Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) -President Carter is preparing to warn the American people that "the sky is falling" as far as energy is concerned and that there must be sacrifices now to hold off abrupt and painful shortages in the future. Carter is beginning an intensive campaign to win public acceptance of his national energy plan, which he will outline tonight in his second "fireside chat."

The energy policy will be revealed in depth on Wednesday when Carter addresses a joint session of Congress.

The Oval Office address has been dubbed by some White House officials as Carter's 'the sky is falling speech." It will begin a week largely devoted to persuading the public and Congress that stringent mandatory measures are needed to meet the nation's energy needs.

One White House official familiar with the prepared address said Carter "will tell them we must conserve now to avoid real hardships later

Carter's address will be broadcast by all three commercial television networks at 8 p.m. EST.

The official said Carter will describe in straightforward terms the history of the energy crisis worldwide back to the 1930s, then will, ask in advance for support of the tough energy package to be unveiled before Congress on

Cyclist Struck By Car

AURORA, Ky. - An 11year-old Marshall County boy was listed in satisfactory condition at Lourdes Hospital in Paducah Saturday after the motor bike he was riding was Trooper Ronnie Moran identified the boy as Michael W. Thorn, Benton Rt. 5. Driver of the car was listed as Lu Haley, 21, Hardin Rt. 1.

Moran said the Thorn youngster pulled out into the path of the Haley vehicle at the intersection of Ky. 80 and Rudolph Road about eighttenths mile west of Aurora at bout 10:45 a. m.

The youngster, he said, was thrown from his motor bike and into the windshield of the car. The car carried the boy about 100 feet down the highway before coming to a stop. The bike was thrown about 50 feet from the point of impact, said Moran

The trooper said the boy suffered possible fractures of both arms and lacerations. Ms. Haley received only a minor injury, he said. A passenger, Lynn Haley, 15, Hardin Rt. 1, was uninjured. No charges were expected

Tonight, Carter is expected to compare the gravity of the energy problem to America's part in World War II, with a personal appeal to national unity and sacrifice designed "to avoid another Pearl Harbor," the White House official said. The President remained in Washington over the weekend to put final touches on the energy package. Aides to White House energy adviser James Schlesinger said final decisions on parts of the program were still being made Sunday afternoon.

The proposal has not yet been made public officially, but its major elements were one of Washington's worst kept secrets and were widely reported last week.

One source said over the weekend that an additional federal gasoline tax, which could rise to 50 cents a gallon by the mid 1980s, will be included in the plan. The federal gasoline tax now is four cents per gallon.

The source said there are potentially conother troversial items, which remain unknown outside a small circle of presidential energy advisers. He declined to reveal them.

Carter will make three separate television appearances during the week to talk about energy problems and his proposals, which he has acknowledged will cost him 15 to 20 points in public opinion approval polls.

Besides tonight's speech and the address to Congress, the President also has scheduled a news conference Thursday morning to discuss energy.

In addition to the gasoline tax, Carter's program also is expected to offer tax incentives for homeowners to insulate their houses; require utility companies to convert to coal; allow domestic oil prices to rise to the world price level set by the 13 Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.
