Dec. 16 Concert to Star Three Recording Artists

Folk-singer, Gale Garnett, and British recording stars, Chad Stuart and Jeremy Clyde, will present a concert here Dec. 16.

The concert, the last big event before the Christmas holidays, is presented by the Student Organization.

Tickets for the concert are on sale for $1.50 by Student Council members. Sales will continue through Thursday. A limited number of reserved seats will be sold for $2. Tickets at the door will be $1.75.

All three recording stars have appeared on various college campuses on the east coast this fall.

Miss Garnett has gained a reputation as one of folk music's most exciting personalities. Her current hit, "We'll Walk in the Sunshine," established her as one of RCA Victor's leading singers.

Ranging the full scope of folk blues and standards, Miss Garnett has appeared in concerts on stage and on television from California to New York City.

Stuart and Clyde, from England have taken the US by storm this fall with their recordings, "Yesterday's Gone" and "A Summer Song."

They have appeared on ABC-TV's "Hollywood Palace" and NBC-TV's "American Bandstand" this year.

'Miss MSC' Finalists, 'Campus Men' Named

Eight coeds were elected finalists for "Miss Murray State" and eight men were named "Men on Campus" in Monday's election.

The coed receiving the most votes will be presented as "Miss Murray State" at the Murray-Oglethorpe game Friday night.

"Campus Favorites" is the title to be conferred on the seven runners-up.

The eight coeds are:

64 Schools Send 300 Participants To 17th Band Fete

The 17th annual Quad-State Band Festival held here Thursday drew 300 bandmen from 64 schools in Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, and Missouri.

The Quad-State Music Festivals are sponsored by the First District Kentucky Music Educators Association and the Murray State fine arts department.

The concert was the third in a series of three to be presented this year.

The Quad-State String Orchestra Festival will be held Feb. 1 at Paducah Tilghman High School, Paducah.

Both bands presented a concert in the Auditorium Thursday night. The concert was broadcast over WNBS.

The junior band was conducted by Dr. Josiah Darnall, music division. They played "Let Us Adore Him," "Adoramus Te," "Christmas Chorale," "Symphonic for Band," "Variation Overture," "Kije's Wedding," "La Campanella," and "Rumba Numbah."

Prof. Paul Shahan, music division, conducted the senior band.

They played "Carnival Day," "Swan Lake Suite," "Valse," "Dance of the Swans," "Hungarian Dance," "Summer Scene," "Dawn," "Picnic," "Twilight," "Hayride," and "How the West Was Won."

200 Attend Symposium On Mental Retardation

"Mental retardation is not a disease, but a symptom manifested by the individual," Dr. Martin Kaplan, University of Louisville, told about 200 parents, teachers, and counselors at the symposium here Saturday.

Three percent of the population are mentally retarded. Of the three million people in Kentucky, about 90,000 are of "sub-average intelligence," these figures relay the enormity of this problem of mental retardation.

The most successful program is the interdisciplinary approach, according to Dr. Kaplan. This program involves a team of co-operating psychologists, sociologists, educators, and physicians who work together in the studies of individual cases.

Dr. Lloyd Dunn, Peabody College, Nashville, presented a dual approach, "intellectual development." This approach would be added to the current program of practical arts, academics, and social and personal adjustment.

"The development of the language is an essential tool for thought," Dunn said. Language is the necessary means for communication for the mentally retarded.

In his lecture Dr. Albert S. Levy, University of Kentucky, said, "No one person, no one group, no one agency can completely meet the needs of the retarded child."

The symposium consisted of 25 educators, physicians, and psychologists participating in six hourly lectures and discussion groups.

discussion on "Analysis of a Public Address" in 304 Wilson Hall. There will also be demonstrations, extemporaneous speaking, and original oratory.

Prof. James Harris, speech department, will preside over the third group in 302 Wilson Hall. A demonstration and critique of radio speaking will be given.

The fourth group will hear a discussion on "Duet Acting" in the Little Chapel, Administration Building.

At 11 a. m. the students will be divided into three groups. One group will see an exhibition of cross-examination debate by MSC debaters. The topic will be: "Resolved: That the Federal Government should establish a national program of public work for the unemployed."

A round of varsity high-school debates will take place in Wilson Hall. They will debate: "Resolved: That nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization." MSC debaters will be critics.

The third group will attend a discussion workshop in 310 Wilson Hall. Mr. Fee will preside in a theory and technique demonstration.

Varsity and novice competition will also be in duet acting, group discussion, and analysis of a public address.

The group will attend a recognition assembly at 3:30 p. m. in 403 Business Building.

"This year's workshop will be the broadest ever at Murray State," according to Prof. Albert Tracy, head of the speech department.

Philosophy Writers' Competition Opens

Murray State undergraduates may enter the annual essay contest sponsored by the Kentucky Philosophical Association, according to Prof. Robert Perkins, philosophy division.

Papers may be written from a philosophical, mathematical, historical, literary, or an artistic point of view, Prof. Perkins said. Deadline for submitting papers will be announced later, said Prof. Perkins.

Bob Carey, senior, Louisville, won second place in the state competition last year.

Steely Discusses 'You, Your World' In Orientation Talk

"The people best equipped to meet change should be Americans because this nation was born out of revolution," said Dr. Frank Steely at freshman orientation Dec. 1.

Dr. Steely, head of the history division, spoke on "You and Your World." He discussed the changing world situation and how it affects all Americans.

The United States is a state of "becoming," never finishing. There is a constant revolution taking place.

Just recently the heads of powerful governments have changed hands. "Although revolution may come, no people completely lose the roots of the former government. Russians are Russians first, then Communists."

Dr. Steely reinforced the idea that communism will never bury the US. "We need to face toward the future with faith in a strong foreign policy."

Concluding with a quotation of the late John F. Kennedy he said, "Righteousness of cause must underlie our strength."

The Rev. Henry McKenzie, pastor of the College Presbyterian Church, gave a Thanksgiving address to the freshmen Nov. 24.

Garcia Will Present Spanish Christmas At Meeting Tonight

Orlando Garcia, sophomore, Cuba, will present a program on Christmas customs of Spanish-speaking people at the Spanish Club meeting tonight.

The club will meet at 7 in Meeting Rooms 1-2 of the SUB.

Foreign students who speak Spanish will discuss Christmas traditions of their homelands at the meeting. There will also be a breaking of the pinata.

The program will be presented in elementary Spanish so that all Spanish students may understand.

All interested students and faculty members are invited to attend, said Rudde Ann Rudd, junior, Cadiz, president of the group.

The Murray State String Orchestra will present their annual fall concert tonight at 8 in the Recital Hall, Fine Arts Building.

Prof. David J. Gowans, music division, will direct the orchestra.

Soloists will be Carolyn Childers, senior, Huntsville, Ala., and Prof. Carl Rogers, music division.

Miss Childers, an oboe major, will play the solo in Cimerosa's "Concerto for Oboe and String."

Prof. Rogers will sing Bach's "Cantata No. 82."

The orchestra will also play Purcell's "Abdelazer Suite" and Arensky's Variations on a Theme by Tchaikowsky.

The orchestra is composed of both students and faculty members.

Admission is free and the public is invited.

Art Faculty Opens Exhibit in Gallery

A three-man faculty art exhibit is being shown in the Mary Ed McCoy Hall Gallery, Fine Arts Building. The exhibit will continue through Dec. 18.

Faculty members exhibiting are: Miss Clara Eagle, head of the art division, and Mr. Harry Furches and Mr. Thomas Spoerner, both of the art division.

Miss Eagle is showing her private collection of modern and antique foreign jewelry. She is also exhibiting raised hollowware, jewelry, and photography.

Mr. Furches is showing pieces of jewelry and raised hollowware.

Paintings, jewelry, and a drawing are being exhibited by Mr. Spoerner.

Delay in Meal Service Is Weekend Problem

During the course of the last few months a large number of students have become increasingly dissatisfied with the cafeteria service.

One of the major complaints is that the SUB Cafeteria is the only one open on the weekends. This presents many problems to the students as well as to the cafeteria workers.

Those who live in the Complex and buy seven-day meal tickets are forced to change from Winslow Cafeteria to the SUB Cafeteria for their weekend meals. With all dormitories and off-campus students being served by the one cafeteria, students are inconvenienced by the long delay in the serving lines.

The SUB Cafeteria is open for serving on Saturdays from 7:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m., 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. On Sundays it is open from 8 to 8:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 5 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Since these hours are the only hours for serving, all students must crowd into the cafeteria at the same time.

In past Sundays, for example, both lines for the noon meal extended to the back of the cafeteria, up the stairway, and back through the main lobby of the SUB. This is typical of all noon meals on Sundays, and those who are in a hurry find it impossible to be served in less than 45 minutes, providing they do not cut line.

The students are inconvenienced by this needless delay and wasted time which could be spent more wisely. Many are discouraged and eat in off-campus restaurants, after having already paid for their meals in the cafeteria.

The cafeteria workers also suffer hardships because of the existing conditions. They are under pressure by trying to serve the students as quickly as possible. They also have to work overtime in order to clear the lines, receiving no compensation for the extra work.

One possible way to alleviate this problem would be to open Winslow Cafeteria on the weekends. Even one serving line in Winslow would reduce the problem considerably. And with both cafeterias in operation the students could be served quickly and more efficiently.

Winslow Cafeteria would also be more conveniently located for the students who live in the Complex. This would allow the coeds in Wells, Woods, and Ordway Halls and the off-campus students to eat in the SUB Cafeteria without unnecessary delay.

For the students who live a great distance from college, the cafeteria is one of the easiest and least expensive ways of eating on weekends. When they buy their meal tickets, they expect efficient service. This is not an unfair request.

The need for alleviating the crowded conditions in the cafeteria is obvious. It is a problem that cannot be solved by idle talk.

It is a problem that should be solved by the college administration, either by opening Winslow Cafeteria over the weekend, or leaving the SUB Cafeteria open for longer hours so that all students will not be forced to eat in such limited time.

All Greeks Should Sponsor Community 'Help' Projects

When Greek fraternities or sororities have wild parties or dances, everyone hears about them. When they are called before the dean of students for a disciplinary problem, the news spreads like wildfire. Likewise, if their pledge functions are too strict, many students gossip.

These aspects of Greek organizations receive much publicity. But there is another side to the Greeks that goes virtually unnoticed. This is the willingness to help others through their philanthropic projects.

Four Greek groups on our campus have either held or are planning their "help" projects for the near future.

Earlier this semester Alpha Omicron Pi sorority took approximately 40 children from the Paradise Children's Home, Farmington, to the zoo in Evansville, Ind.

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity's pledges have spent three days at the Calloway County Old Folks Home painting the inside of the building.

Phi Mu Alpha, men's music fraternity, have adopted a boy in Peru and is donating approximately $120 a year for his support.

dren's Home Monday.

The fraternity is also holding a fund-raising drive and are placing containers for money contributions around campus and in downtown stores. The money will go to the children.

Another group composed of representatives from organizations has been planning programs for the Outwood Hospital. An independent, Tony DiPaolo, sophomore, Hazlet, N. J., who is campus representative for the Calloway County Mentally Retarded Association, is in charge of the project consisting of eight programs.

The next program will be held Saturday.

These four organizations have clearly indicated that they are not only interested in their own parties and functions, but are interested in helping others.

Most of the Greek organizations have changed their traditional "Hell Week" to a more meaningful "Help Week." But just changing the name does not accomplish the purpose.

It would be a fine gesture if all Greek organizations think of helping others, especially during the Christmas season. They could receive the true Christmas spirit through their philanthropic projects.

"Now I know I've been spending too much time in here!"

LETTERS TO EDITOR:

Communists' Goal: Seduction of Minds Of America's Youth

Dear Editor:

Please find enclosed a statement by J. Edgar Hoover entitled "Youth — Communist Target." Would it be appropriate to reprint this in The College News? The National Defender has already reprinted it in its November, 1964, issue.

"A record number of young people are now entering college classrooms to engage in one of man's most noble pursuits: the search for truth through the acquisition of knowledge. In America, this endeavor is as honored as the freedoms which make it possible. It is an undeniable fact that under communism these freedoms do not exist. Communism stipulates the 'truths' its scholars must embrace and spreads its venomous lies and distortions through any available medium.

This academic year will undoubtedly see intensive Communist Party efforts to erect its newest facade on the Nation's campuses to draw young blood for the vampire which is international communism. In its continuing drive to attract young Americans, the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), spawned a new national Marxist youth organization in June, 1964 — the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America. "Top Communist Party functionaries decided in October, 1963, that additional measures should be taken to recruit young citizens. Now, one year later, by mandate of CPUSA General Secretary Gus Hall, the true face of communism has another mask to wear — a new disguise calculated to dupe unwary youth."

"By spreading its poison through young veins, gangrenous communism is attempting to render the future America a quadruple amputee — a nation without freedom of speech, press, assembly, and religion. The youth of this Nation, armed with the scalpel of truth, can and must cut this disease from the body of America."

It's 'Great at State'; But Not on Holidays

Dear Editor:

As you and all the students know, on Nov. 25 we were let off for that long-awaited, much-needed Thanksgiving vacation.

Boy, did you all miss something really "great at State."

1. Just think, you missed having the Library closed from Wednesday till Monday morning so you couldn't do your research paper.

2. You missed the best foods prepared by the only restaurant open on Thanksgiving, and all the food that wasn't in the vendors in the dormitories.

3. To the lucky girls, you really missed something great. You had to be in Elizabeth Hall every night — even Saturday night — at 9 p.m. sharp. Also, no boys were allowed to visit you in the lounge to play cards or even find out your telephone numbers.

In conclusion, I was amazed to find out that I was the only one who had such a fabulous time. It just proves that "It's great at State," especially when you are here for the holidays.

The Monkey Cage

By Cheryl Sweet

A friend of mine once told me that I could get all the education I need just by reading the information printed on labels of such things as canned foods.

This statement seemed unusual enough to me, so I decided to give it a try. I am by no means an expert, but I am thinking of dropping out of college and resting on my "canned" knowledge.

I have learned that milk is often made from magic crystals; pineapple makes a "splendid morning health drink"; when iced tea becomes cloudy, one should add boiling water to restore clearness; and one should not eat dehydrating agents found in little packets within bags of chips or candy.

Do you realize my newly-acquired potential? I can now earn my living as a magician, a healthy morning, a cleaner of iced tea, or an antidote!

"Cool Mule" tells me he thinks that the penalty of one hour being added to graduation requirements for cuts immediately before or after a holiday is a bit too severe. It does sound a little harsh, when cutting a class can be the difference in making travel connections that could lessen a long trip home by a full day.

I guess our ability to decide whether or not we can afford to miss one lecture cannot be trusted.

In "Death in the Afternoon" Hemingway said: "The matador must dominate the bulls by knowledge and science. In the measure in which this domination is accomplished with grace will it be beautiful to watch."

This makes me think of some petite instructor like Miss Evelyn Cole, biology department, teaching a class containing several football players.

Mystery Question of the Week: When will we put away our childish things and become men?

Senior Couple Finds Way to Mix Marriage, Grades, and Activities

"Marriage, scholarship, and activities can work — with co-operation," a Murray State couple agree.

Ann and Jim Ramage are married MSC celebrities. Both have been elected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

"It was an unexpected honor, and we both are very happy about it," Ann said. "But in the first announcement they had the wrong picture of Jim. My friends were kidding me that I had the wrong husband, or else was married to two."

The couple, who live in Orchard Heights, have found their combined living expenses lower than they were before their marriage last June. "Maybe it is the decrease in dating expense," Jim suggested.

Both Ann and Jim are very active on and off campus. They belong to the Baptist Student Union and International Relations Club.

Ann, a business major specializing in accounting, is a member of Phi Beta Lambda, business fraternity, and Delta Lambda Alpha, freshman women's honor society.

Jim, a history major, is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, education fraternity. He has applied for a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. (The fellowship is awarded to students who plan to do graduate work in the fields of the humanities or social sciences.) "I am not planning on the scholarship too much," said Jim. "There are only 1,000 awarded in the US."

The two were married right after finals last spring, June 6. Ann said: "The little things took so much time. Besides finals, I was worried that everything for the wedding wouldn't turn out right." Jim added, "I was just worried!"

"We were never officially inroduced. We just got to know each other through other people. I had the advantage of having biology with Jim's roommate," Ann said.

The important aspects of making college marriage work successfully seem to be cooperation and planning. "There really has to be a cooperative set-up. Each has to help the other. Planning and budgeting time is also important," Jim explained.

Actually they find there is more time to study now. "Instead of wasting the time going to and from the cafeteria, we can open a book right after we finish eating. Our apartment is the quietest place we can find to study."

Fate didn't play a big role in the decisions of Ann and Jim to attend Murray. The factors were more practical. "I knew Murray had a good business department; it was close to my home in Clay, and the expenses were reasonable," Ann said.

"I am from Paducah," Jim said, "and Murray State has always meant college to me."

The couple's future plans do not end with college degrees. Ann plans to become a private accountant while Jim works toward his master's degree and later his doctorate in history.

Besides being an active, studious, and energetic couple, this is one family that is more than bi-lingual. Jim is competent in German, French, and Spanish. Ann, who has never taken a foreign language until this year, is studying Russian.

If Too Quick With Your Tongue, You May Become 'Red-Faced'

By Cheryl Sweet

How many times have you said something and within the hour regretted your statements? All of us find ourselves in this situation more than several times in our life. The following are a few of the prize "I wish I hadn't said it" statements.

You are telling a friend about all the cooking you and your roommate get away with in the dormitory room. You mention the two popcorn poppers, the hot plate, the toaster, and the electric percolator. A voice from behind asks, "And when are you having me up for dinner?" You turned around and who should it be but the house mother.

Have you ever made a bet like: "I'll take the Yankees for $5. Your Cardinals don't have a chance!" What about: "Sure I'll bet on the Racers! We'll smear you!"

What about: "Dad, you just wait. My average will be a 3.0 or better this semester!" You wonder why you ever said it when you bring home a 1.9. But then it could be worse. You could have said, "Dad, if I get a 3.0 this semester, can I have a car." How do you get that car when you get the 1.9?

Have you ever asked an instructor to postpone a test until Monday, only to find out your forgotten term paper in another class also is due that day? Or have you ever said: "Might as well eat this class today. We won't do anything anyway." Then you find out the rest of the class was dismissed five minutes after roll call.

Try this one sometime. "We won't have room check today because we had it day before yesterday." Then leave your bed unmade and your trash can full and sit back and watch.

Have you ever said, "If John calls first, I'll tell him I already have a date; then when Sam calls, I'll be free to go"? Don't you hate yourself when Sam doesn't call?

What about, "I'll eat at the Hut tonight because the cafeteria probably won't have anything good." Then you find out they served the best meal of the year.

Or have you ever signed out for Jerry's then had to call the dorm and confess that you're stuck in some mud on College Farm Road and will be a little late?

These are some of the classics; but if you dig back in your memory, you can probably find more amusing ones of your own. Think about the mistaken statements long enough and maybe next time you'll keep your big mouth shut.

HOUSE DIRECTORS CONFESS:

Dorm-Mothering Is Great

"I just love it!"

They all seem to agree that dorm-mothering at MSC is great.

This year's new additions to the woman's dormitories' staffs are: Mrs. Lois Boyd, Wells; Mrs. Exie Hill, Elizabeth; and Mrs. Velva Workman, Woods.

"I had previously been a dorm mother in Louisiana for four years. I have always enjoyed it," said Mrs. Boyd, the only veteran of the three.

This is a new experience for Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Workman. "I was as excited as any freshman the first day," Mrs. Hill said.

"The girls are like my own," Mrs. Workman explained. "I worry about them all. I worked in the cafeteria last year and met so many girls, but this is my first experience as a house-mother."

One of the biggest problems in the dorms is the noise.

"The noise in the hall is more controlled now except when the girls come in from date* and have to tell each other how everything went," said Mrs. Boyd.

"The oddest experience I have had so far, seems funny now. It could have been serious," Mrs. Workman said. "One girl was very sick and I had to take her to the infirmary. I told her to wait right by the door while I moved my car up to the dorm. When I got into my car, I was so excited I headed right to the infirmary and nearly left the patient stranded!"

One of Mrs. Boyd's experiences takes on a different angle. "One night a boy called the dorm and asked for 'Miss Boyd.' (There are two in Wells Hall). I thought he said 'Mrs. Boyd' and I said 'Yes.' He asked me for a date that night," she added. "I was busy."

The three dorm mothers agree that the hours for the girls are fair and lenient. "The special permission gives extra time for the important events," Mrs. Boyd said. "All of the girls need to study sometime, and the earlier hours during the week may influence their time at the books."

Room check seems to have its disadvantages with the dorm mothers as well as the coeds. "Sometimes I wish we didn't have to check the rooms," Mrs. Workman said. "But I am always amazed how neat and clean the rooms are. Each girl adds a final touch to the room and is proud of her originality."

The construction in Elizabeth Hall created many problems and much confusion at the beginning of the year. "The girls were exceptionally cooperative — even when the water was turned off!" Mrs. Hill commented.

Adding an interesting sidelight Mrs. Hill said, "The third night at school we had the girls' sign-out sheets on sacks of cement!"

'Twas the month before Christmas,

Members of the club will exchange gifts and trim the Christmas tree.

Home Ec Club Will Give Annual Yule Tea Tonight

The Home Economics Club will hold its annual Christmas Tea tonight at 7 in the Home Management House.

Students living in the Home Management House will be hostesses to the club.

in the kitchen baking some delicious treats to save for the yuletide holidays.

These foods should be simple ones that can be wrapped in foil and stored until the need for them arises.

One quick and crunchy favorite is gum-drop bread. This can be stored for use either at a small party where friends just drop in or at the traditional Christmas Eve supper.

Ingredients are:

- ½ cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1¼ cups milk
- 3 cups canned biscuits
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 cup chopped gum drops

Heat oven to 350 degrees and then mix the first 5 ingredients. Beat hard for 30 seconds. Stir in walnuts, gum drops. Pour into well-greased utensil. Bake 45 to 50 minutes. Cool.

For something unusual, bake the bread in No. 2-size cans. This makes a round loaf instead of the usual square one.

Now, add coffee, egg-nog, or your favorite beverage and the true Christmas spirit is upon you. And the good part is that the work is done before that last-minute rush.

RIBBONS MAKE PACKAGES GLOW:

Gift-Wrapping Can Be Fun

By Jan Mayes

Believe it or not, Christmas—with all its hustle and bustle—is here again! And with Christmas comes all the colorful packaging—a 150-million dollar industry.

Approximately 8.5 billion dollars will be spent by Americans on Christmas gifts to go into these colorful packagers. With all of this money being spent on the gifts, they at least deserve to be attractively wrapped.

A package should have some thought behind it. It should be a personal message that says, "I wrapped this gift especially for you."

Today over 3,000 different kinds of wrapping paper with matching ribbon are sold.

With all this new wrapping paper and coordinating ribbon, a pretty package shouldn't really be hard to wrap.

A work center with a good light can add to the pleasure of gift wrapping. A card table provides a good surface on which to work if you have only a few small packages.

If you have big gifts to be wrapped, a dining table would be better. Cover the table so it won't get scratched or scarred. Wrapping a gift is a lot easier if all the needed articles—paper, pen, tags, tape, etc.—are assembled first.

Now you are ready for the wrapping. Place box on paper and measure amount of paper needed to go around it. Allow about one-half inch to overlap. Check ends to see that paper does not extend beyond edges more than three-fourths of the box depth. Wrap paper tightly around the box; secure with gummed tape at two points along the overlap. Tuck in paper at each end, creasing each fold sharply. Seal with tape.

Finish package with ribbon bow or decorations. If using a cross-corner tie, start with ribbon on top at one corner, bring under next corner, back up over third corner, down under fourth corner, and up to starting point. Allow extra length to tie. Cut ribbon diagonally, and knot securely on face of box at first corner where bow is to be attached.

Tie bow in place over the knot. If you especially enjoy bow-making, many booklets are available in stores where wrapping paper is sold. Of course, the ready-made bow can always be bought.

There is no need for gift wrapping to be a chore every Christmas. It can be a lot of fun. Why not invite a couple of friends over and wrap gifts. After they're all under the tree, yours will be the center of attraction!

'Damn the Defiant' Heads Bill Of Movies for This Weekend

Two movies, "Damn the Defiant" and the "The Last Angry Man," will be shown by Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, this weekend.

The movies will be shown in the Little Chapel at 7:15 Friday and Saturday evening and at 6:45 Sunday evening. "Damn the Defiant" will be shown first.

"Damn the Defiant" stars Alec Guinness, Dirk Bogarde, and Anthony Quayle. In the 1790s more than half of the British navy was made up of men who had been kidnapped. The film tells how these men mutinied to gain their freedom.

"The Last Angry Man" stars Paul Muni, David Wayne, and Betsy Palmer. It is the screen's adaptation of Gerald Green's best seller—the true story of a doctor who for 40 years remains in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, N. Y., as a general practitioner.

Girls Elect Officers For New Rifle Club

Martha Lou Littlepage, sophomore, Princeton, has been elected president of the newly organized Girls' Rifle Club.

Other officers are: Ellen Morgan, sophomore, Owensboro, vice-president; Vicki Thomas, freshman, Des Moines, Iowa, secretary; and Brenda Hamilton, freshman, Wickliffe, treasurer.

The newly organized club has approximately 20 members. The coeds have been divided into three teams — red, white, and blue.

Connie Davis, sophomore, Miami, Fla., Miss Littlepage, and Miss Morgan are team captains.

All girls are invited to attend practice at the ROTC Rifle Range each Monday night at 6:30, according to Capt. James Perkins, rifle-team advisor.

Biology Fraternity Installs 12 Pledges

Twelve pledges have been installed by Beta Beta Beta, honorary biology fraternity.

The pledges are: Maurice Bonduant, sophomore, Cayce; Nancy Brooks, senior, Murray; Joyce Hargis, senior, Murray; Russell Hasp, junior, Union, N. J.

Orphans to Benefit From Sigma Chi's Christmas Project

Two programs and a fund-raising drive for children at the Paradise Friendly Home in Mayfield are being sponsored by Sigma Chi fraternity.

The fund-raising drive began Monday when the fraternity placed containers for money contributions around campus and in downtown stores. Members of the fraternity will also canvas Murray door-to-door for donations.

Monday night the Sigma Chi's and their dates will bring approximately 60 children to Murray for the basketball game.

They will give the children a Christmas party and dinner Tuesday night. Each child will be given a gift at the party.

Misplaced Articles Remain Unclaimed

Several lost items remain unclaimed in Mr. "Buddy" Hewitt's office in the SUB.

"Some of these articles are expensive and may save you money if you will pick them up," Mr. Hewitt said.

Articles which have not been identified include: a class ring, cigarette lighters, gloves, trench coats, glasses, billfolds, and other small miscellaneous items.

"These items may be claimed if proper identification is given," Hewitt added.

7 ROTC Seniors Solo In Army Flight Program

Seven advanced-ROTC seniors got their "tails clipped" recently for "making like birds."

The men had completed their first solo flight in the flight-training program. Each flyer had his shirt tail cut upon completion of his first solo flight.

They were: Don Cunningham, Hopkinsville; Frank Emmons, Neptune, N.J.; Woody Herndon, Murray; Bill Murphy, Hopkinsville; Ron Newcomer, Neptune, N.J.; John Reagan, McLeansboro, Ill.; and Steve Smith, Cocoa Beach, Fla.

Now in its third year at MSC, the flight program is financed by the department of the army. All expenses, including transportation to Kyle Field where instructions were given by Mr. Allan Stanley, were paid by the army.

The men received a course which would have cost $900-$1,200 if taken under private-airline supervision. Each student is required to have 35 hours of classroom training and 39½ hours of flight training, including seven to 10 hours of solo flying.

To be eligible for training, ROTC students must apply as juniors and then meet strict physical and mental requirements. The physical examination sometimes lasts as long as six hours.

"Only about 25 per cent of those who applied met the physical requirements," Em-mons commented.

Smith and Herndon had taken some previous training, but the others started from scratch.

A few were "scared stiff" at first, but they all enjoy flying now. "Flying is the only way to travel," some of the men said.

"The more I fly, the more I enjoy it," Emmons said. He plans to be a commercial flyer.

Smith has made several solo flights, including one from Paducah to Nashville to Bowling Green, and back to Paducah.

All of the men feel that the program is beneficial and well worthwhile.

"The flight-training program is the best part of ROTC," Newcomer said. "It is another benefit of taking the advanced course."

"Even if I don't get to fly for the army, I will have all this experience which will help me get a commercial license," Murphy said.

Newcomer feels that the program should be expanded so more people can get the training.

After their solo flights, the men received a silver half-wing to wear on their uniforms. Upon completion of the course, the men will be eligible for Army aviation training at Ft. Rucker, Fla.

If you take an airplane trip a few years from now, ask the pilot's name. He may be a MSC graduate.

New Readers' Theater Christmas Program Set

"A Contemporary Christmas" will be the first of the free, public reading hours presented by the newly organized Readers' Theater Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Meeting Rooms 3-4 of the SUB.

The program will consist of interpretations of Christmas literature by authors including Steven Vincent Benet, Henry Van Dyke, Phyllis McGinley, and Edward Arlington Robinson.

Cast for the production will be:

George Reinschmidt, sophomore, Louisville; Donna Scarsdale, sophomore, Park Ridge, N. J.; and Ken Stadelman, senior, Melrose Park, Ill.

Readers' Theater is an art form that combines oral presentation of literature with movement and occasional music. Costumes and scenery are left to the imagination of the audience.

The oral-interpretations group has been organized on campus under the direction of Prof. William Bonham, speech division.

The group does oral readings of poetry, prose, and drama. It is composed of members and former members of the oral interpretations class.

Oxford-MSC Debate Decided By 'Yes' Vote From Audience

"It is outside the bounds of political reality to say that the United Nations can control world affairs," said Jonathan W. P. Aityen, Oxford University, England, in the International Debate at general convocation Dec. 1.

Adkin teamed with Vernon Gantt, junior, Murray, to compose the affirmative team who won the debate.

Martin Tracy, senior, Murray and Michael Beloff, Oxford University, composed the negative team.

Topic of the debate was "Resolved: That the UN can only reflect world situations and never control them."

The negative arguments concerned the UN's ability to bring about educational, political, and social development in the underdeveloped countries thus affecting control.

Gantt argued that "technical assistance is not control. It is merely the reflection of the desires of the member countries."

The negative team agreed that the UN has helped to avoid headlong crashes of power between leading nations in many crises—Korea, Suez, the Congo, etc.

Beloff said, "If we concede that the UN has helped to avoid nuclear war then we must admit the UN is doing something of paramount importance, not merely 'reflecting the world situation.'"

Presenting the major weaknesses of the UN, Aityen listed the limitations of the charter, restraint from entering into internal affairs, minority or representation, financial troubles, and lack of power.

Navy Seeking Men For Flight Training

An aviation information team from the naval air reserve training unit, Memphis, will be in the lobby of the SUB Monday and Tuesday.

They will interview men interested in the navy's aviation officer-training program.

Both junior and senior men will be interviewed by a team headed by Sam Lancaster, US Navy.

The Navy is particularly interested in men with high academic and physical records who are interested in becoming pilots.

FIVE-MINUTE BLIZZARD!

Bradley Nips 'Hot-Cold-Hot' Racers, 76 - 74

Murray State's gallant Racers battled back after being down by 16 points midway the second half—a half marred for MSC by five pointless minutes—to push tough Bradley University to a hard-fought 76-74 victory Monday night at Peoria, Ill.

The Racers had a chance to send the game into overtime when sophomore Herb McPherson grabbed Eddie Jackson's missed foul shot and passed down the court to John Namciu. Namciu attempted a last-ditch jump shot, but his aim was off.

McPherson led the Murray scorers with 17 points. He was followed by center Stewart Johnson who netted 16. Gene Pendleton and John Namciu each scored 14 points.

Tom Campbell was high for Bradley with 22.

Murray State took command of the game early in the first half, rolling to a five-point lead at 7-2 with just over two minutes gone.

The Braves came back, tying the game at 12-12 six minutes later.

The Racers came to life once more, pushing their lead to five points on several occasions, their last being at 35-31 with just over four minutes remaining in the half.

Bradley again roared back to take a three-point lead just before halftime. Butch Hill's jump shot narrowed the margin to one at the break.

It was then that the blizzard hit!

Beginning the second period, Bradley scored 12 points in succession before McPherson could break the ice. The hot-shooting forward tipped in a missed shot with 15 minutes left in the contest to get the Racers going again.

The teams traded baskets for several minutes, then Bradley pushed its lead to 16 with just over eight minutes to go in the game.

Then the tide turned, and Murray turned on its hottest fireworks of the night. Namciu hit three field goals and a free throw, and Benny Goheen and McPherson added two-pointers to cut the Bradley lead to five.

Eddie Jackson and Alex McNutt teamed up to stretch the margin back to eight.

McPherson hit two field goals and Johnson and Goheen added three points on free throws to bring the Racers within two at 72-70.

McPherson hit two more, but so did Bradley, and MSC was behind, 76-74, with 14 seconds left.

TWO MORE . . . Stewart Johnson sails high to score two of the 16 points he picked up against Bradley Monday night. In foul trouble early, the lanky junior sat out much of the game which Bradley won, 76-74.

Rejects Win Title In WAA Volleyball

Rejects defeated the Dames Club with scores of 15-7, 10-14, and 15-2 to win the women's intramural volleyball tournament.

The final league standing of the twelve teams is as follows:

League A: Rejects, first; Women's Athletic Association second; Spartans, third; Iis, fourth; Sigma Sigma Sigma, fifth; and Alpha Omicron Pi, sixth.

League B: Dames Club, first; Alpha Sigma Alpha, second; Owl-ettes and Alpha Beta Alpha tied for fourth; Jinx, fifth; and Elizabeth Hall, sixth.

The tournament was sponsored by the WAA.

Baby Racers Open Schedule By Smashing Bethel, 114 - 39

The MSC freshman basketball squad opened the season impressively last week rolling over the Bethel College junior varsity, 114-39.

The Baby Racers were in complete control the whole game, pulling away from the Bethel five early in the first half. The yearlings took a 55-18 lead to the dressing room at the end of the first half.

Scoring honors went to Leonard Poole who netted 23 points. Roger Fields and Dick Cunningham followed with 18 and 14 points respectively.

The other scoring was distributed between Larry Lilley, 9; Craig Roeder, 10; Bruce Brackman, 8; Ralph Davis, 5; Frank Bishoff, 8; Elton Hall, 3; Bill Norris, 2; Karl Oltmanns, 2; and Glenn Strangland, 2.

Four High School Football Standouts Sign Scholarships

Coach Don Shelton, Murray State's head football coach, signed four high-school grid standouts to football scholarships last week.

Three of the signees are from Paducah Tilghman High School; the fourth attends Caldwell County High.

Linebacker Jimmy Lamb, named to the Associated Press All-State team, was one of the most sought-after prep stars in Kentucky.

Another linebacker from the Tornado squad signed by MSC was Denny Mungle. Quarterback Eddy Barker also signed with the Racers. Mungle and Barker received honorable mention in AP's All-State team.

The three signed scholarships while on television, believed to be the first time a football grant-in-aid has been inked on TV.

Larry Coyne, a 6-3, 230-pound tackle from Caldwell County, also signed with Murray State. Tagged a "real corner," the high-school senior should add needed depth to MSC's line.

TROTTIN'

With
THE RACERS

By Ed Trotter

This year's race for the coveted Ohio Valley Conference's "All-Sports Trophy" is shaping up to be the tightest in its three year history.

Currently leading the pack is Western Kentucky with 19 points. The Hilltoppers captured the conference cross-country title for eight points and in football tied with MSC for third which was worth 11.

In a three-way tie for second are Murray, Middle Tennessee, and Austin Peay. Murray scored six points in the cross-country meet and picked up 11 more in football.

Middle Tennessee won the football crown for 16 but was last in cross-country and could get only one point. Austin Peay combined 14 from football and three from cross-country to total 17.

Next is Eastern Kentucky with 11, followed by Morehead with nine, and Tennessee Tech with seven.

If the Racers can manage to finish at least one place higher than Western in basketball, they will be in fine shape to cop their third straight trophy.

Last season Murray went into the basketball season behind Western, 23-17, but the Racers won the basketball, tennis, and baseball titles and finished second in both golf and track to easily win the award, gathering 62 of the 72 possible points.

The way things are now going in basketball and according to the predictions for spring, MSC should cop the trophy again.

Friday night Oglethorpe University comes to the Murray State Sports Arena for a game which could show some comparative strength of the OVC's basketball teams.

Oglethorpe defeated Belmont College of Nashville, Tenn., 44-42, in a squeaker Saturday night. Four nights before that Belmont defeated Western Kentucky, 52-50, ruining the debut of the Hill-

Western, which boasts of one of the finest sophomores in the nation in Clem Haskins, has been picked by several to be one of the darkhorses in the conference.

If the Racers can score a decisive victory over the Petrels Friday night, Murray can shed the tag of a rebuilding team for one of a serious threat to repeat as conference champions.

WHEELER TOP LINEMAN

Three Racers Voted All-OVC

Three Murray State grid stars have been named to the 1964 all-conference teams selected by the Ohio Valley Conference coaches.

Linebacker John Wheeler, fullback Tommy Glover, and quarterback Charlie Forrest were named to the first teams.

Due to the trend toward unlimited substitution, the coaches picked an offensive and a defensive team this year.

Wheeler was also named as the OVC's "Lineman of the Year."

Dennis Jackson, MSC's pass-defense ace, was named to the second unit on defense.

Wheeler, who has been the defensive standout all year for the Racers, missed only one first-place vote in winning the coveted honor.

The bruising guard was runner-up for the title last year.

Glover, who set two new rushing records for Murray State this year, was named to the first offensive team. The hard-running fullback compiled 1,769 yards in his three-year career to set a new MSC mark.

This year he rolled up 697 yards to break another record.

Forrest, Murray's "do-everything" quarterback, was also named to the first offensive unit. He was nosed out of the "Back of the Year" title by Carlton Platt of Austin Peay.

Forrest set a new OVC mark of total offense, as he accounted for 1,565 yards this season.

He also set new school standards for touchdown passes, total offense, and yards passing in one game.

Jackson, who is the new record holder for touchdown passes caught, was, ironically, named to the second defensive team. The fleet halfback intercepted four passes for the season and consistently made more than five tackles per game.

Wheeler is a repeater from the 1963 squad, and Glover, was named to the 1962 team.

Bill Dupes, head coach at Austin Peay State, was named the "Coach of the Year" by the conference's coaches. The Tennessee Tech graduate guided a team slated for the OVC cellar to a sterling 8-1-1 season record, finishing second in the conference.

Canisius Falls to Murray Oglethorpe and New Mexico State In Brilliant Upset Victory To Clash With Rolling Racers Here

Murray State's gallant Racers, never giving up against much greater odds, overcame a 10-point lead in the second half and surged ahead to defeat heav-ciu, Benny Goheen, and Rick Miller went to the free-throw line to score eight points, and McPherson added two to stretch the final score to 92-81.

HOT SHOOTIN' HERB . . . . . Sophomore Herb McPherson scores two points on a jump shot against Arkansas State. The Racers slipped by the Indians, 73-71. McPherson scored 16 points in his collegiate debut.

ily favored Canisius College, 92-81, at Buffalo, N. Y., Saturday night.

Led by senior John Namciu, who scored 25 points, Murray State took its first lead at 78-77 with little more than three and one-half minutes left in the game.

The Racers used a tough zone-press defense and deadly shooting late in the game to overcome the Golden Griffins' lead.

Murray led midway the first half then when Namciu scored on a layup to put the score 20-18.

Canisius then rolled to a big eight-point lead only six minutes before halftime. Guard Johnny Morrison led the Canisius rally.

Murray cut the lead to four with three minutes to go, but Andy Anderson and Morrison teamed up to push Canisius ahead, 47-37.

The Racers then relied on their hot shooting in the second half to nip the Griffins' lead.

The Racers had a 84-79 lead with only two minutes left. Nam-

Friday at 8 p. m. Murray State's Racers will meet the fiery Petrels of Oglethorpe University, with hopes of repeating last year's 83-57 victory, in a game scheduled for Murray Sports Arena.

Monday night the Thoroughbreds will clash with the New Mexico State University Aggies.

The Oglethorpe hoopsters will be coming to Murray with revenge in their eyes. Last year's defeat was the worst loss in several seasons for the Petrels.

The Petrels have a veteran team with five returning lettermen. The starting line up will boast of three seniors and two juniors.

The Petrels use a slow-break control type of basketball. This coupled with their strong zone defense should make them an interesting match for the Racers.

New Mexico State Coach Presley Askew has one of the biggest college basketball players in the nation in seven-foot, 250-lb. Mike Dabich.

The New Mexico team will utilize a single-post offense using the tremendous size of Dabich to great advantage. The speedy Aggies use a man-to-man defense and should also give the Thoroughbreds a run for their money.

Arkansas State Rally Stopped By Racers in Season Opener

Senior co-captain John Namciu sank two free throws late in the game and saved Murray State's first basketball game of the 1964-65 season as the Racers slipped by Arkansas State, 73-71.

The hot-shooting forward hit seven field goals and eight of nine free throws to collect 33 points for the night.

With 3:51 showing on the clock MSC held an eight-point lead at 71-63, but a jump shot by A-State's Mike Burke and two more by All-American Jerry Rook cut the Racers lead to 71-69.

Namciu then coolly dropped in two foul shots to push the Murray margin to four.

Rook then ripped the nets for two points. Murray lost possession of the ball and the Indians called time out with only nine seconds left.

Rook, who scored 33 points for the night, then took the out-of-bounds pass and attempted a long jump shot that just rimmed the basket.

The clock ran out, giving the Racers the game.

Rook was the high scorer for the game as he hit 15 field goals and three of three free throws for 33 points.

Namciu was second with 22, followed by sophomore Herb McPherson with 16 and center Stewart Johnson with 15.

McPherson paced the Murray rebounders. He picked off 17 deflections while Johnson nabbed 15.

The score was tied four times early in the first half before Murray managed to go ahead. The Racers pushed their lead to seven points on two free throws and a jump shot by Namciu and a tip-in by McPherson, with 6:52 to go in the half.

Arkansas State started hitting, narrowing the margin to one point just over a minute before the break.

Less than two minutes into the second half the Indians took the lead, 33-37, on John Dickson's tip-in shot.

The game was tied three more times before the Thoroughbreds took the lead for the last time, 46-44, on Johnson's jump shot at 14:31.

The Racers enjoyed their longest lead of eight points late in the game.

The game was the first contest of the season for both teams.

Giersberg Sets Illinois Meet Mark; Harriers Move Indoors for Winter

Murray State's Bob Giersberg and Bill Boyd, the top two cross-country runners in the Ohio Valley Conference, brought home more honors Nov. 23 as they won first and fourth places respectively in the River Roadrun sponsored by the Alton, Ill., YMCA.

Giersberg won the meet with a time of 54:31.8, breaking the old record of 55:37.0.

The springy harrier finished the last mile with a burst of speed covering the distance in a blazing 4:31.8.

Boyd also bettered the old mark as he placed fourth with a time of 55:49.0. The lanky runner was second to Giersberg in the OVC meet Nov. 21.

Southeast Missouri's John Schloss was second with 55:17.0.

The meet was the last action the charges of Coach Bill Furgerson will see this semester. The cross-country team now joins the other members of MSC's track squad in preparation for the coming indoor season.

CONGRATULATIONS! . . . . . Track and cross-country coach Bill Furgerson (center) presents trophies to Bob Giersberg (right) and Bill Boyd who won first and fourth places respectively in the Alton, Ill., River Roadrun Nov. 23. The two speedy harriers also finished first and second in the Ohio Valley Conference cross-country meet.

Campus Basketball Opens Slate Today With Fraternity Tilt

Intramural basketball action opens this afternoon as Sigma Chi and Pi Kappa Alpha clash in the inaugural game of the season.

The two teams will play in the big gym in the Health Building at 4:45 p. m.

Fifty-seven teams have entered competition in this year's intramural basketball program.

The large turnout is 11 greater than the number entered last year. There will be eight or nine leagues set up for these teams.

Leagues to be formed tentatively include a fraternity league, two or three dormitory leagues, and five independent leagues.

Rule changes were discussed at the first organizational meeting Thursday.

CROWDED ROOM. . . . . Representatives from 57 teams attended Thursday's intramural basketball meeting to organize leagues. Director Paul Roodell stated that eight or nine leagues will be formed. There are 11 more teams entered in competition than last year.

changes resulted from the NCAA's new rule that "technical fouls will be called if the coach gives instructions to players or yells at officials from the bench while the clock is running."

Games will be played in the afternoon on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays and on Wednesday nights.

Eighteen members—eight faculty members and 10 students — have been chosen for the Student Organization's student-faculty committee.

The members were selected by the Student Council after their letters of application were reviewed.

Faculty members are:

Dr. Howard Giles, business department; Dr. Donald Hunter, head of the education and psychology department; Mr. Robert Perkins, philosophy division.

Dr. William Read, head of the physics department; Mr. Michael Smith, history department; Dr. Ralph Tesseneer, education and psychology department; Mr. Thomas Walsh, art division; and Mr. James Williams, English department.

Student members are:

Murray; Myra Matheney, senior, Madisonville.

Jack Shell, freshman, Lutesville, Mo.; Kaye Wallis, freshman, Murray; and Peggy Weeks, sophomore, Princeton.

Tony DiPaolo, sophomore, Hazlet, N. J., was chosen alternate.

The student-faculty committee, an advisory organ of the Student Organization, was formed to promote better student-faculty relationships and to provide a mean by which both student and faculty opinions may be heard.

The committee meets the third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 p. m. in the Student Council Room of the SUB.

John Burrus, junior, Villa Grove, Ill.; Bob Carey, senior, Louisville; and Lila Cathey, senior, Murray, all members of the Student Council, will serve as co-chairmen of the committee.

NICE GIFT . . . . . Three students look over the art at Kappa Pi's annual pre-Christmas art sale. They are (left to right): June Smith, junior, Louisville; Wayne Melhiser, junior, Owensboro; and Gail Furchess, senior, West Orange, N. J. The art fraternity's sale in Meeting Rooms 3-4 of the SUB will continue through Saturday from 9 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. daily. Items on sale include paintings, pottery, and Christmas cards.

Kappa Pi Art Sale Being Held in SUB

The annual pre-Christmas art sale, sponsored by Kappa Pi, honorary art fraternity, is being held in Meeting Rooms 3-4 of the SUB.

The sale will continue through Saturday from 9 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. daily.

Items on sale include drawings, paintings, prints, sculpture, printed and woven textiles, pottery, metalcraft, woods, Christmas cards, tags, and miscellaneous paper products.

The fraternity sponsors the as a money-making project, according to Miss Clara Eagle, head of the division. Exhibitors will receive proceeds from the sale.

Grant of $110,000 By NSF to Finance Summer Institutes

Murray State has been granted funds for two Summer Science Institutes, according to Dr. Walter Blackburn, director of the program.

The two institutes for secondary-school science teachers will be financed by the National Science Foundation.

Deadline for applications for the institutes is Feb. 15, said Dr. Blackburn, head of the chemistry department. Participants will be selected by March 15.

One of the programs will be for general science teachers. It will include elementary courses in biology, earth science, and physics. This is the ninth year this program has been offered.

The second institute, offered for the first time at MSC, will include advanced courses in biology, chemistry, and physics. The courses are to update and improve the background of teachers.

The foundation has granted Murray State approximately $110,000 for the two institutes, said D. Blackburn. All instructional costs of the programs and financial support of participants during study will be provided by the foundation.

Approximately 8,000 teachers are expected to apply for the programs. The roster will include teachers from all parts of the nation, Dr. Blackburn added.

Teachers from 26 states participated in the institute last summer.

Caroling Party for All Students To Be Held Tuesday Night at 7

An all-campus Christmas caroling party sponsored by the Student Organization will be held Tuesday at 7 p. m.

The party, open to all MSC students, will be held around the spruce tree outside the Doyle Fine Arts Building.

Tony DiPaolo, sophomore, Hazlet, N. J., suggested the caroling party to the SO. He received November's $5 cash prize for his suggestion. The SO awards the prize each month for the best suggestion submitted.

"We hope to have a large group attend the caroling party as it will be the last function MSC students can participate in before the holidays," said DiPaolo, chairman of the party.

The elementary-education division and the art division are working with the SO in giving the party.

Miss Ethel Miller, psychology and education department, will lead the caroling.

Art students under the direction of Mr. Thomas Spoerner, art division, will make the tree decorations.

Mr. Perkins to Speak to IRC On 'International Education'

Mr. Robert Perkins, philosophy division will speak on "Opportunities in International Education" at the IRC meeting tomorrow night.

The meeting will be held in Meeting Rooms 1-2 of the SUB at 6:30 p. m.

Eucledian Mathematics Club To Meet Tuesday in SUB

The Eucledian Mathematics Club will meet Tuesday night at 7 in Meeting Rooms 1-2 of the SUB.

Dr. Melvin Henley, chemistry department, will speak on "Mathematics as Related to Chemistry."
