Kentucky Today

Whitesburg—More than 500 relatives and friends attended the funeral yesterday of Mrs. Polly Ann Holbrook, 71, widely known for her 45 years' service as a midwife. Mrs. Holbrook, known as "the mother of thousands," was killed in a traffic accident.

Whitesburg—Jack Triplett, 58-year-old coal miner of Fleming, Ky., died of a heart attack as he left the mine where he was employed. He was the father of Troy Triplett, convicted of the murder of Dolphina Hall and executed several years ago after a sensational trial.

Lexington—Eighty-one persons have registered in short courses at the University of Kentucky, bringing the school's record second summer term enrollment to 3,517, Miss Mary Moore, assistant registrar, announced here. Summer school closes Aug. 29.

Lexington—The Phoenix Hotel here will undergo a $700,000 rehabilitation program, it was announced here by J. J. Ruttenberg, Chicago, vice president of the New Phoenix Company, which owns the hotel.

Lexington—Fayette county Judge W. E. Nichols has dismissed a charge against Charles Everett Gravitt, 32, of Fayette county, in connection with the hit-and-run death last May of Sam Ginter. The court decided there was not sufficient evidence against Gravitt.

Harrodsburg—The board of education announced the appointment of J. K. Powell as superintendent of Harrodsburg public schools to succeed the late W. W. Ensminger. Powell has served as principal of the high school here for ten years.

ROCKET SCIENTIST—Dr. Louis G. Dunn (above), a rocket scientist, says construction of man-made satellites revolving 22,900 miles above the earth is possible with engineering knowledge now available.

Pepper Won't Back Wallace

Not Man To Run With Truman In No. 2 Position, Florida Senator Declares

Washington, Aug. 15—(AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), predicting that President Truman will hand-pick the Democratic vice presidential nominee, suggested today that he choose "a champion of the working man."

The Florida Senator told a reporter, however, he doesn't believe Henry A. Wallace and Mr. Truman could "pull together as a team." Therefore Pepper said he is not proposing Wallace for the No. 2 spot despite the former vice president's strong support of organized labor's viewpoint.

"I think Mr. Wallace can't stand to be a private citizen who speaks his mind freely," Pepper said.

The Florida Senator said he has no doubt that Mr. Truman will select the man who is to run with him and that the convention will accept his choice.

That happened in 1944 when the late President Roosevelt cast Wallace aside and chose Mr. Truman, he contended.

"I think the President ought to pick somebody who subscribes as completely as possible to the views of Franklin D. Roosevelt," the Senator said. "He ought to be someone who can command not only the strong but the enthusiastic support of organized labor and the working people in general."

3 Get Degrees From MSC

Byrd, Covington, Riddle Among 67 Graduating At Close of Summer Quarter

Murray, Ky.—Three Fulton students received degrees in an informal graduation program held at Murray State college yesterday.

They were William B. Byrd and James Robert Covington, bachelor of science, and Forrest Alton Riddle, master of arts in education.

Wilson Gantt, River Rouge, Mich., former principal of Fulton high school, and his successor, Hubert Jacob, Fredonia, also received the master of arts degree in education.

Yesterday's graduation exercises included 67 Murray students, and brought the total number of degrees granted for the year to 128.

Dr. Ralph Woods, college president, spoke briefly on the subject "Be Builders." Prof. Leslie R. Putnam gave the invocation and the benediction. Miss Barbara Polk, Paducah, and Miss Gladys Reddick, Maury City, Tenn., sang solos.

S. F. Booster Club Has Picnic Meeting

Nearly 40 members and prospective members of the South Fulton Booster Club attended a picnic supper on the lawn of the Fulton County Club last night.

After enjoying ham, eggs, potato salad, pie, iced tea and other treats, the club heard Judge Milton C. Anderson of Wickliffe in a short address.

11 Arabs Die In Outbreak Near Tel Aviv

Jew Underground Says 7 Executed For Brigandism

DEATH TOLL MOUNTS

Tel Aviv, Palestine, Aug. 15—(AP)—Eleven Arabs were killed today in a bomb and gun attack on their shanty six miles from Tel Aviv. Hagana, the Jewish underground defense organization, announced it had "executed" seven of these in reprisal for brigandism.

A Hagana communique said the dynamited house was headquarters "for the brigandism which has been responsible for recent attacks on Jewish settlements."

The toll of dead and wounded mounted steadily in the bloody racial clashes between Jews and Arabs in the area of all-Jewish Tel Aviv and its neighbor city, all-Arab Jaffa.

Two more Arabs were found stabbed to death in the Sheikh Murad quarter of Jaffa, and another Arab watchman was found dead near Ramat Gan in the Tel Aviv area.

The Palestine government, announcing new security measures in attempts to halt the conflict, said "there is no reason whatever to suppose that the riots are part of a concerted plan or that various outrages which occurred in the last few days are anything more than a series of disconnected incidents confined to the limited area where Arabs and Jews live side by side."

The Jewish agency asked the government to gain control of the situation before "irresponsible elements plunge the country into a blood bath."

The bullet-riddled bodies of four of the Arabs slain in the attack on the shanty were found sprawled in the yard. Two of them were Egyptian Arabs, one was from Hejaz, Saudi Arabia, and one was a Palestinian.

Seven other bodies were recovered from the debris by authorities.

Obion Dairymen To Meet Saturday

Union City—All Obion county dairymen are urged to attend a meeting at the court house in Union City at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, Aug. 16.

The meeting was called by C. F. Fowler, superintendent of both the Northwest Tennessee Parish Jersey Cattle Show to be held at Union City Sept. 3 and 4 and the Obion County Dairy Show, to be held the following day as a feature of Obion county fair week.

Walker Succeeds Flack As Obion Road Supervisor

Union City—Owen Walker, former Obion county sheriff, has been named to succeed Tom Flack as county road supervisor.

Mr. Flack had served as road supervisor since Sept. 1, 1942, when he succeeded Andrew L. Burrus, who then became county judge. Mr. Flack had been with the county highway department 21 years.

The 1939 Dollar Is Worth 50 Cents Now In Buying Necessities; AP Survey Reveals Wide Variance In Prices In Principal Cities

By The Associated Press

Your 1939 dollar is worth only about 50 cents today in buying the ordinary necessities of life, but it buys a lot more in some parts of the United States than in others.

An Associated Press survey of retail prices in 13 leading cities in all sections of the nation revealed strikingly irregular increases.

Some products have soared out of all relation with others compared with prewar days.

Some cities where living costs were lowest in 1939 pay the most now.

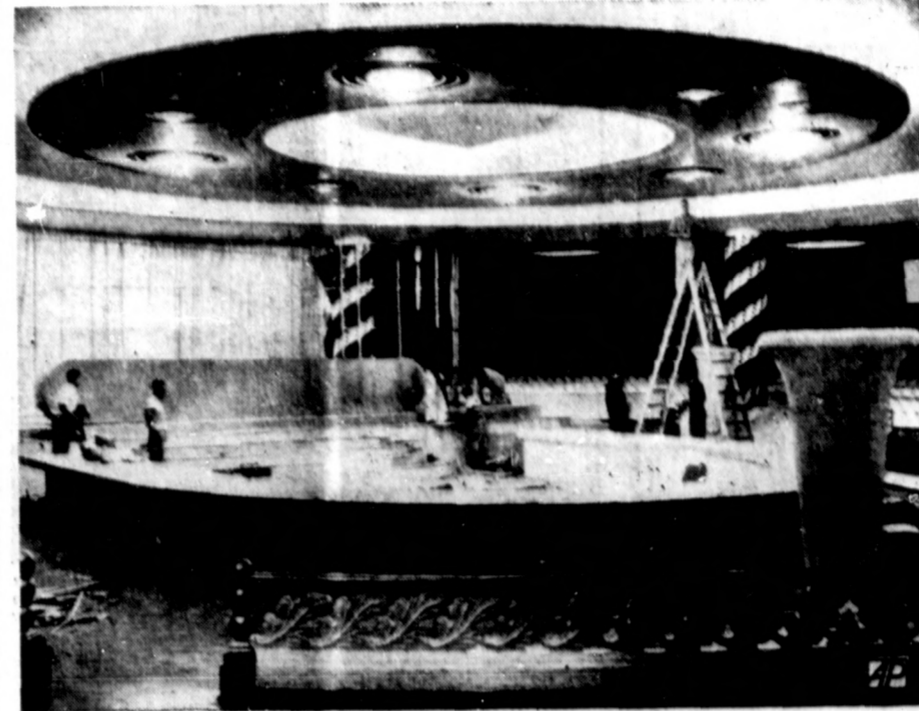

The survey showed:

You can eat for less, by and large, in Minneapolis than in most cities.

You pay more for meat in the packing capital of Chicago than elsewhere.

Your housing dollar buys more in San Francisco and St. Louis, and least in Denver, compared with the other cities.

Your clothing dollar goes

WORKMEN READY CONFERENCE ROOM—Workmen put finishing touches on room in Quitandinha Hotel, about 45 miles from Rio de Janeiro, where delegates to an inter-American conference on hemisphere defense meet today. Speakers' rostrum is in background and delegates will sit at horseshoe-shaped table. Room formerly was a night club.

Lyon Man Awaits Action Of Jury On Murder Charge

Eddyville—Tom McKinney, charged with murder in the slaying of R. F. Majors, a neighboring farmer, last Saturday night, was ordered held without bond yesterday pending action of the Lyon grand jury. He is in the Lyon county jail.

McKinney did not enter a formal plea at his examining trial. The slaying occurred about a mile from Dycusburg. McKinney was arrested early Sunday morning after allegedly shooting Majors in the abdomen.

Hemispheric Defense Treaty Talks Open Today In Brazil

Petropolis, Brazil, Aug. 15—(AP)—Foreign ministers of 20 American nations assembled here today to write a historic treaty of mutual defense against aggression.

A preparatory commission representing all 20 nations planned a preliminary meeting at 10 a. m. to agree on a conference president and create five committees.

The president was expected to be tall, scholarly Raul Fernandes, 69-year-old Brazilian foreign minister. He was a delegate to the 1919 Paris peace conference and to the League of Nations.

The commission was to pick a steering committee and committees on credentials, aggression, miscellaneous matters and an inter-American security force—to be approved at a conference of American states in Bogota, Colombia, next January.

The conference itself, long delayed by North American Argentine differences, was scheduled to start at 4 p. m. on a 13-hour session, a special speech by President Eurico Gaspar Dutra of Brazil, a response for the delegates by Foreign Minister Jaime Torres Bodet of Mexico and an address by Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations.

Nicaragua was not represented at the conference. Her government, established by a coup d'etat last May, has not yet been recognized generally.

Mountbatten, Jinnah Take Over Reins Of Two New Indian States

New Delhi, Aug. 15—(AP)—The vast subcontinent of India, though still torn by bloody communal conflicts, split itself in two today and jubilantly joined the world family of free nations as two new and separate dominions—Moslem Pakistan and Hindu India.

In New Delhi, Lord Mountbatten, the last viceroy of British India, who turned over the reins of authority to the Indians at the last stroke of midnight, was sworn in as the first governor-general of Hindu India—populated by most of India's 227,000,000 Hindus.

In Karachi, Mahomed Ali Jinnah, the spare, monocled leader to whom the new Moslem dominion chiefly owes its existence, was sworn in as governor-general of Pakistan—populated by most of India's 70,000,000 Moslems.

Mountbatten said it was an "historic moment," and "event in history."

But in the Punjab, the great northern province which is to be split between Pakistan and India, the flames of communal strife still raged. Moslems and non-Moslems—mostly Sikhs and Hindus—fought to the death and

Sept. 1 New Date For School Bells In Hickman County

Clinton—County Superintendent Dennis McDaniel announces that the opening of Hickman county schools not already in operation has been postponed from Aug. 18 to Sept. 1.

The change in dates was caused by delay in delivery of two new school buses, delay in building repairs and the current heat wave.

McDaniel said that only a few vacancies exist on county school faculties.

New Road Contracts Let

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 15—(AP)—The state highway department has announced new road and bridge contracts have been awarded here for construction totaling $882,976.74.

Even Mohandas K. Gandhi, who is counted almost a saint by his followers, encountered hostility and threats of violence in Calcutta. A gang of youths who resented his preachings of non-violence hurled stones at his house, but he was uninjured and faced them down when he emerged.

Mountbatten, addressing the Hindu constituent assembly after being sworn in, paid high tribute to Gandhi as India's "architect of freedom," and to Nehru as "a world-renowned leader of courage and vision."

Unofficial counts fixed the death toll there since Wednesday morning at 153 and the number of injured at 136.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, the Hindu leader who was sworn in this morning as the first prime minister of Hindu India, and Dr. Rajendra Prasad, president of the constituent assembly, were rudely manhandled by unruly celebrating mobs earlier as they went to notify Mountbatten that the assembly had endorsed him as governor-general. They were not injured.

A-Bomb Project Out Of Business

Famed Manhattan Project Replaced By Army-Navy's Top Secret Research Body

Washington, Aug. 15—(AP)—The Manhattan Project, which developed the atomic bomb, was today replaced by a "paper" organization.

That is what it has been since the Army turned over control of the mammoth A-bomb project to the civilian Atomic Energy Commission Jan. 1.

In the Manhattan Project's place is the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project, a highly secret Army-Navy research and development organization whose formation was announced in June.

Major Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who commanded the A-bomb project throughout its military control, heads the special weapons group.

In an interview yesterday Groves was critical of the long period that elapsed after V-J day before the domestic control machinery was set up. He said this caused a "serious delay" in atomic development.

Declaring that "the atomic energy project is still virtually 100 percent a military project," Groves added that industrial power uses are "still 10, 15 or 20 years—possibly even decades—away."

The commission was to pick a steering committee and committees on credentials, aggression, miscellaneous matters and an inter-American security force—to be approved at a conference of American states in Bogota, Colombia, next January.

Mrs. McMath "Not Guilty"

Arkansas Politico's Wife Freed In Fatal Shooting Of Father-In-Law Aug. 7

Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 15—(AP)—After hearing 18 witnesses in a 13-hour session, a special grand jury today found Mrs. Anne McMath, wife of the Garland county prosecutor, Sidney McMath, in the fatal shooting of her father-in-law, Hal P. McMath, 56.

"In view of all facts and circumstances, it is our opinion that Mrs. Anne McMath was justified" in firing the fatal shots at her country home here on the night of Aug. 7, said the grand jury report, signed by Foreman H. D. Bennett.

The jury issued a comprehensive report stating that testimony showed the elder McMath, who became abusive when he was drinking and who had previously struck Mrs. McMath, advanced upon her in a threatening manner, and that the 26-year-old wife then fired.

The prosecutor, prominently mentioned as a 1948 candidate for governor, said he and his wife, who testified voluntarily against her doctor's advice, would leave this week for an undisclosed vacation.

'Once-Dead' Negro Gets 5th Reprieve On Murder Charge

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 15—(AP)—A young Des Moines, Ia., negro, whose mother says he "died" as a child and lay apparently lifeless for eight days, was reprieved for a fifth time last night, three hours before scheduled execution for the hammer-murder of a Chinese laundryman.

Gov. James E. Folsom, granted the stay for Lawrence Nathaniel Phillips to permit appeal for review by the Supreme Court of the United States.

His mother and sister testified Phillips never had been like other children, and was of low mentality. They claimed six doctors in Des Moines pronounced him dead when three months old. Insisting she could hear heartbeats at irregular intervals, the mother refused to let an undertaker remove the child.

After eight days of apparent death, she said, he recovered, but never was "just right."

The Weather

EXTENDED FORECAST: Kentucky and Tennessee (through Wednesday)—Temperatures for the period will average well above normal. Precipitation mostly light and scattered, with some thundershowers Saturday and again Tuesday or Wednesday.

Effects of government subsidization and control are shown in the comparatively stable course of milk price rises. Increases over 1939 range from five cents in Boston to nine cents in St. Louis, New York and Dallas; over June 1946, the range is from one cent in Dallas

Prices today are from 26 to 54 cents a pound higher than in 1939 in the various cities reporting, and from one to 27 cents above June, 1946.

Price jumps were erratic across the nation. Today's quotations were 52 cents a dozen higher than 1939 in Boston and San Francisco, and only 19 cents higher in Kansas City. The increase over June, 1946, varied from two cents in New York to 26 cents in San Francisco.

First-Class Tourney

Some of the best amateur golfers in West Kentucky and West Tennessee will converge on Fulton Sunday, Aug. 17, for the Ken-Tenn golf tournament on the beautiful Fulton Country Club course.

The tournament committee—Joe Hall, Paul Durbin and Buck Bushart—have been working hard to make this the outstanding golf event of the year, and all indications are that the tourney will be just that.

The Country Clubbers have had excellent cooperation from many others in Fulton. For instance, the Young Men's Business Club has voted to buy and present the first place trophy. Merchants are donating handsome prizes for other winners. Everyone seems interested in making the Ken-Tenn successful.

Some of the tournament players will see Fulton for the first time Sunday. Others were here last year and are looking forward to the cheery hospitality and good sportsmanship evidenced on the local links. It is important to the city that we extend every courtesy to these visiting golfers. Good publicity is good for the city, and events such as the Ken-Tenn tourney afford an excellent means of obtaining such publicity.

Why High Prices?

In the year that has passed since the OPA was dissolved, for all practical purposes, one thing has become clear: it was not the OPA which was holding prices up. The mere fact that they have gone far higher is the best proof of that.

But there is as yet no unanimity of opinion as to why there has been an increase in prices and what factors will have to be considered in any campaign to bring them down.

This is illustrated by the furore resulting from Attorney General Clark's announcement that he will investigate food, clothing and shelter prices and prosecute anyone found guilty of conspiracy to keep them inflated.

The CIO says the National Association of Manufacturers has broken its pledge to lower prices, and the NAM answers that "labor's three rounds of general wage increases in the past year and the direct loss through strikes of more than 30,000,000 man-days of production since last November" are directly responsible for keeping prices up.

Of course, there can be no denying that wage boosts are behind many of the price increases. What has happened to coal is the best proof. We in the newspaper business know that our costs and the price of newsprint we must buy are up because higher wages must be paid.

But what most people are most interested in is not who's to blame, but what's the best approach to stopping the inflationary spiral that threatens our whole economy.—Sun-Democrat.

Slaughter on the Highways

Both the metropolitan and weekly press continue carrying daily items revealing slaughter on the highways.

Fast, reckless, drunken drivers are the cause, with, perhaps the latter the primary cause of so many automobile wrecks. However, the reckless driver—and the worn-out jalopy, too—come in for many of these tragedies. There are so many obsolete cars, some with no brakes at all and others with inferior braking facilities, being operated that we can but expect a continuance of these accidents on the highways.

Again we present the week's accounts in headlines:

"Twenty Perish in Flames in Truck Collision." "Woman Killed by Auto." "One Killed, Five Injured in Dickson Wreck." "McCain Killed, Others Hurt in Crash." "Two Killed in Wreck Speeding." "Man Killed by Auto." "Oren Gross Held Under $3500 Bond for Child's Death."

When—O, when—will this slaughter and maiming cease? When will automobile drivers learn sane, sensible, safe driving?—Dresden Enterprise.

Paris, Cairo Weather Bureaus Report 105, 103 Record Temperatures; Most Of State Needs Rain

Record high temperatures of 105 and 103 were set at the Paris, Tenn., and Cairo, Ill., weather bureau stations last week as most of the midwest was thoroughly baked in the prolonged heat wave. There was 1.27 inch rainfall at Paris and 16 inch at Cairo during the week.

In parts of western and northern Kentucky rainfall was very light, and unless good rains occur in these districts soon the effect on crops will become serious, the weather bureau said. Locally heavy rains fell in a few scattered central and east-

Great Date In History

By Dewitt MacKenzie,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

This is a great date in world history, marking the formalization of India's independence after two centuries of British rule.

The unique circumstance of a double birthday is in itself a matter of moment, for it means that the great sub-continent—home of approximately one fifth of the globe's population—has been partitioned. British India has been divided into the sovereign dominions of Pakistan (Moslem) and India (Hindu). The 582 princely states of native India are in process of affiliating themselves with one or the other of these new members of the British Commonwealth of Nations. Most of the princes have elected to cast their lots with India.

This is Pakistan's birthday, and a great celebration is being held in the capital city of Karachi, the big sea and air port on the northwest coast. Mohammed Ali Jinnah, whose skill and leadership finally won a separate dominion for his people, is assuming the high office of governor general—link between the British crown and the dominion.

This is the turn of the dominion of India, whose capital is that of the former British dominated government—New Delhi. Independence will be proclaimed with ceremony and rejoicing. The governor general chosen by this dominion will be India's last viceroy, the popular Viscount Mountbatten, cousin of the King.

You'd think that after generations of struggle for Purna Swaraj (absolute independence) the Indian peninsula would ring with unadulterated joy, but the ceremonies are marred by fear and distrust.

The partition of the peninsula into separate governments has been necessitated by the inability of the Hindus and the Moslems to compose their age-old and bloody religious differences. So great is the division that it hasn't even been possible to establish a federal government which could coordinate the efforts of the dominions and the princely states affiliated with them.

That is the reason why you read in your newspapers today that communal strife between the Hindus and the Moslems is causing bloodshed and destruction in various parts of the peninsula. The leaders of the new dominions are trying to halt this warfare, but the circumstances of the division of territory have added to the animosities and it is difficult to control mob passions.

It would be too much to believe that we have seen the last of this fighting, or to expect the dominions to work in harmony at the outset. The very nature of the territorial division is an invitation to trouble, because Pakistan (the smaller dominion) is mainly agricultural while India contains not only agricultural resources but virtually all the manufacturing which has made India the eighth industrial nation of the world.

To this must be added the fact that Pakistan is divided into two widely separated parts so that the dominions struggle about and cut into each other like a jigsaw puzzle. This means that the long rail ways are constantly crossing frontiers, where presumably there will be passport and customs inspections, consuming endless hours and roughing tempers of travelers.

However, while the advent of Purna Swaraj is marked with these and other complications, there is sound reason to be optimistic regarding ultimate solution of the problems. The very economic difficulties, which at the outset will cause friction and perhaps even serious trouble, must in the end force the dominions to cooperate.

The day will come when the factions of the sub-continent will march in step.

One of the more irritating accompaniments of the automobile shortage is that Joe Blow, who couldn't buy a pushcart, can yell loudly and long about the new sport model he'd be driving if cars were available, and stand a half-way chance of having someone believe him.

Are you troubled by distressing female functional disorders? Do these make you suffer from pain, loss of nervous energy, restlessness, weakness, etc. at such times? Then Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just what you need. In a recent medical test Pinkham's Compound proved remarkably helpful to women troubled with these ailments. It has a "frank" something about it, one of the most important organs of the body. Pinkham's Compound helps build up the system to such a degree that a woman can be sure of her health.

Willis Rumored Ready To Release Dummit's Backers

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 15—(AP)—Authoritative sources here report that state Fire Marshal Clyde Smith, Barbourville, and four of his staff have been advised they will be asked to quit their jobs soon.

Included among those to be dismissed, it was said, is Deputy Fire Marshal J. D. Tuggle, father of Lieutenant Governor Kenneth H. Tuggle. Others were said to be fire preventing inspectors William T. Simon and Edward T. Leard, both of Louisville, and Marshall Smith's son-in-law, L. M. Bray of Pineville, special investigator for fire prevention.

Gov. Tuggle was a supporter of Attorney General Eldon S. Dummit for the Republican nomination for governor, against John Fred Williams, who was supported by Gov. Simeon Willis.

During the last few days several other state officials and employers have been asked to resign but Governor Willis on Wednesday called the personnel changes moves taken for "betterment of the service."

Sports Roundup

By Ben Funk
(For Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

Denver, Aug. 15.—(P)—That noise echoing across golf courses from coast to coast yesterday was an explosive sigh of relief from the throats of all amateur women golfers. . . . the occasion was the departure from Simon pure ranks of Denver's Babe Didrikson Zaharias, who accepted a $300,000 offer from Hollywood to turn pro and make a series of movie shorts on golf. . . . the situation she left in feminine golfdom was similar to the one that would result in the heavyweight boxing field if Joe Louis suddenly hung 'em up. . . . months ago, the Norwegian gal ran out of amateur worlds to conquer. To her string of 17 consecutive tournament victories, including the British Amateur, she was a prohibitive favorite to defend her U. S. title with ease at Detroit in September. . . . her absence will throw the Detroit affair wide open. . . . The Babe's decision to hit the gold trail was no great surprise to her friends, although a few days ago she described as "nutty as a fruit cake" a report that she would accept a $500,000 pro offer. . . . fifty grand was peanuts for the services of the world's greatest woman athlete.

The common man's shirt costs him from $1 to $2.50 more now than in 1939, depending on where he lives. Some cities, however, report he spends $1 less now than in June, 1946, while others say he pays almost $1.50 more.

Men's Shoes: Price increases over 1939 average $3 a pair across the nation, but the hikes varied widely in the different sections. Changes since June, 1946, were even more confusing. San Francisco reported a shoe costing $6.90 in 1939, sold for $10.99 last year but only $8.50 today. On the other hand, Atlanta reported the $5 shoe of 1939, went to $8.95 in 1946 and to $13.95 at present.

Practical uniformity in nylon hosiery prices was shown across the nation, although five of the cities reported price declines since June, 1946, and only two noted price increases. Nylons arrived in 1941 and because of the scarcity and rarity commanded a high price from the start.

Present prices varied from $20,000 in Denver to $10,250 in St. Louis. The price had doubled in Dallas, Seattle and New York. Cities giving $13,000 or more included Philadelphia, Kansas City, Chicago, Minneapolis and Atlanta. In the $12,000 range were Boston and Columbus. At San Francisco the house was valued at $10,500.

What's Right With Fulton's Diamond Team

By Eri Sensing

The faintest resemblance to this and a sports story will be purely coincidental. It is not my purpose, at all, to master-mind the state of affairs in which our Chicks find themselves at this time. I merely wish to point out some things about our team that all of us already know. I want to point them out now and make sure that no one forgets them during the last weeks of the Kitty League season.

First of all, I want to tell the members of the team, those who are now playing and those who have been released, that I am grateful for many nights of good entertainment this summer. I, along with hundreds of others, have had a lot of fun watching you play ball this summer. I intend to enjoy the rest of the games. Win, lose or draw, I am for the Chicks.

It makes no difference what the standings show, as for me you are still tops in the league. I still think, that given half a break, you can get in the play-off—and perhaps win.

Let's look at the Chicks. We'll start at homeplate, since it is nearest the stands. There's Joe Lis back there catching. They don't come any better. I like his spirit. I like the way he backs the team when he is behind the plate. His understudy, Jack Litzel, is also doing a good job. To me he looks like a kid out there, but he shows much promise.

Down at first base we have Jake Probst. I think he is better than Earl Browne. It makes no difference what Browne's batting average is, Jake covers the bag better and he is no mean hitter in his own right. Going around to second base we find Dutch Gray. He has just finished being the Kitty League record for hitting safely in consecutive games. With Frank Brucella last season he was half of the best keystone combination seen around here in a long time. Someone overlooked a good bet when he didn't go up this last spring. From the stands it appears that his leadership on the field is inspiring if the Chicks have a captain on the field—but I do know if they do have one, he should be Dutch Gray.

Playing beside Gray is Dusty Rhodes. I don't even try to pass judgment on his possibilities when I hear that he has been named one of the best possibilities in the minors by such men as Doc Prothro of Memphis and Larry Gilbert of Nashville. I only know, if I had a team of my own, he could play short-stop for me.

Tommy Buck on third is a ball player's ball player. Now, I see a player whose every play is for the team I say he is a ball player's ball player. Tommy Buck plays for the Chicks. He doesn't play for Tommy Buck. It just happens to follow that being a good team player he is a good player for himself.

When I reach the outfield I hardly know what to say. It has come about that I don't know who is playing in the outfield. I like to remember the outfield made up of Peterson, Pechous and Seawright.

Pete Peterson has been the most valuable man on the team. I want to see him in every game from here on out. He is good. If he had not played a few years in France and Belgium we would not have him with us this year. I'm glad he played in Europe for a couple of years. I think that was the only team that counted. Just to have played on that team is enough. Right now, when the chips are down I want to see Pete Peterson up there at the plate.

Ray Pechous in centerfield—now, there's my ball player! In my humble opinion he is headed straight for the big time. There is nothing more I can say. In a few years we'll be reading about him in the sport pages written by those who know how to write.

Hal Seawright in left field is a mainstay of the team. He packs a big bat and he covers ground in the garden. He's not the fastest man on the team by any means, but to watch him run the bases is to know he is putting everything he has into the game. That's all anyone could ask. And in his case it happens to be plenty.

If I was at a loss when I looked at the outfield, I am completely at sea when I look at the pitchers. These last weeks we never know where we are going to see our pitchers playing. Without a doubt, though, Whitey Lynch and Ed Engel are tops. With a regular lineup behind them I'll take either one on the mound. Baseball isn't a one-man game. But either Engel or Lynch is as good as they come for the ninth man.

This fellow Hardestie—the games he has played at first base have made his purchase a good investment. I don't think Jake Probst has any worries, but Hardestie is ten times better than Hugh Holladay who tried to play first for a while when he was manager. In the outfield he is good, too. At times, pitching, he is as wild as a March hare, but he can hit like no pitcher around here has hit before.

I can't keep up with the other pitchers. I know Eldridge has been good enough and Biggs can take his turn. I've never seen Wessell pitch so I can't say much about him. Some of the others who have been released, especially Jack Williams, were satisfactory to me.

I think we've had a good team. I think Biggs has done a good job of managing it. Biggs is quiet, but he did all right when he had the material. We must remember he is a baseball player, not a doctor.

This last is to the club officials. We in Fulton, the smallest town in organized baseball, appreciate the team you have given us. In fact, we think it is ours. Everybody is satisfied with the way you are directing the team, with one exception. Right now we want you to beg, borrow, buy or steal a couple of ball players to fill in until our regular team can take the field again.

Sadistic, Unnatural Frau Koch Will Learn More About Prisons

By Hal Boyle

New York.—(P)—There must be laughter in Heaven and Hell over the news from Germany—that Frau Ilse Koch is to spend the rest of her life in prison.

There are thousands of spectral victims of Nazi persecution who would rather drop the scaffold beneath her, or haul her up gasping into the sky.

They are the dead people who once knew her as the "Queen of Buchenwald," the Nazi concentration camp outside Weimar where some 50,000 prisoners were put to death.

But perhaps there is a fitter justice in the decision by an American war crimes tribunal that this plump 41-year-old red-haired widow of infamy should spend the rest of her days behind bars.

Certainly no woman in history enjoyed prison life more at one time than Ilse Koch, wife of the former commandant at Buchenwald who himself was put to death in his own butcher chamber. Now she will have a long opportunity to study prison life from the other side.

Frau Koch is an unbelievable woman to the few people who still glimpse the Nazi mass executions as "war propaganda." Such people do exist.

I first saw Buchenwald, where the dead were piled like logs, shortly after Gen. George Patton's Third Army swept victoriously through the birthplace of Germany's short-lived republic that followed the first World War.

Unfortunately, I didn't get to meet Frau Koch. She wasn't there. But I did get to meet scores of prisoners who remembered her with curses. And I got to see her husband, former ruler of the camp. He was in a small jar. The Nazi authorities placed him there after cremating him for a bad habit he developed of stealing party funds.

One prisoner, a former major general who had commanded the royal palace guard in Vienna when the Nazis moved into the Austrian capital, picked up the jar of ashes and shook them in weak merriment.

"It's nice that we have Herr Koch always with us," he said. "But Frau Koch should be here in another jar also. A wife belongs with her husband."

The major general and other prisoners told me stories of Frau Koch that a man finds hard to believe about any woman. But they couldn't well be refuted.

Ilse Koch denied during her trial that she ever had prisoners killed merely to build up her collection of lampshades made of tattooed human skin. But the men in the camp said that she often walked around bare-waisted group of prisoners seeking those with interesting tattoos to add to her collection. And I saw the lampshades of human skin. They weren't antique. She was quite a connoisseur.

Ilse Koch had other interesting diversions too. She loved horseback riding. She liked to gallop through the woods adjoining Buchenwald and ride full tilt into groups of prisoner laborers too slow to escape. She never halted to determine the deaths or injuries she inflicted. This is on the testimony of the philosophic Austrian major general, a man so injured to prison horrors he was incapable of feeling anger.

Ilse, a full-bodied woman, also enjoyed addressing obscene remarks to the prisoners and luring them into sexual overtures, whereupon she had them flogged for her pleasure.

There has been no figure in real life or literature to compare with Ilse Koch since flagrant Messalina, in the days of decadent Rome's Saturnalia.

Cruel, wicked and unrepentant, she managed to get herself with child while still imprisoned—a situation which her American Army captors may find hard to explain. Did that help save her from the death penalty?

Terrible as was Buchenwald, I remember less the stories of the horrible excesses of Koch and his unnatural frau than I do the reaction of the Austrian major general there when I gave him an orange on parting, my own ration for the week.

He looked at it and cried. A man once wealthy and influential, he hadn't been an orange for six years. To him it had become as strange as freedom.

SENTENCED TO LIFE IN PRISON—Frau Ilse Koch, widow of the former Buchenwald concentration camp commandant, enters court at Dachau, Germany.

On Aug. 14 an American war crimes court sentenced her to life imprisonment for her part in atrocities committed against inmates of the camp by the Nazis.

State Banks Show Decline In Assets, Commissioner Says

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 14.—(P)—State chartered banks in Kentucky have shown a decline in assets in the past fiscal year, State Banking Commissioner H. H. Smith has reported.

Smith said the total assets of the 295 state banks in Kentucky as of June 30 was $398,858,508.44, a decrease of $42,929,246.69 from assets of a year ago.

Total deposits at the end of the fiscal year were $325,482,371.85, a drop of $41,908,099.57 from a year ago. However, demand and time deposits of individuals, partnerships and corporations showed an increase of $18,959,255.41.

Farmers Urged To Order Lime

Fulton County ACA Head Says Almost All Farms Need Soil-Saving Work

Lime again ranks high on the list of conservation needs in Fulton county, says W. H. Harrison, chairman of the county Agricultural Conservation Committee, and he urges farmers to place orders immediately for the lime they will need this year.

A great deal of lime has been spread on farmland in the county during the past few years, but he points out that most Kentucky land needs liming every four or five years to keep it from going "sour", and that much of the sour land has never been limed.

Eighteen types of soil-saving practices are approved for the 1947 Agricultural Conservation Program, and Mr. Harrison states that around half of a dozen of these practices are needed on virtually every farm in the county.

While 1947 practice allowances will cover only a small part of the conservation needs, Chairman Harrison points out that more conservation can be obtained by careful planning to include practices most needed on each individual farm.

The list of practices approved for the 1947 Kentucky Agricultural Conservation Program includes applying limestone to farmland, applying phosphate to legumes and grasses, applying potash to legumes and grasses, establishing winter cover crops (small grains or winter legumes), establishing or improving permanent pasture, constructing stockwater dams and ponds, constructing terraces or diversion ditches, establishing permanent sod waterways, draining land with tile or ditches, planting forest trees, and harvesting specified types of legume seeds.
