THREE-NIGHT RUN SCHEDULED:

Water Fete Will Open Tomorrow

By Nancy Strow

Gather your shirtils, grab your top hats, and in a sprinkling of fairy dust be off to the annual "Water Carnival" — this year with Peter Pan!

The three night production, beginning tomorrow, will include scenes of comedy, dance routines, dramatic solos, diving, and synchronized swimming. Highlighting the performances, sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association, will be the presentation of the six "Miss Murray Mermaid" finalists and the announcement of the winner Saturday.

Chosen from a field of 20 coeds, the finalists are: Carol Austin, freshman, Cottage Grove, Tenn.; Sheri Jones, sophomore, Sledd Creek; Patsy Lax, freshman, Murray; Johnna Reid, freshman, Paducah; Norma Rehm, senior, Robinson, Ill.; and Brenda Tittsworth, senior, Benton.

Swimmers portraying the different "Neverland" characters, Pan, Captain Hook, mermaids, dogs, pirates, and Indians, will perform in the nine acts.

Tickets for the show may be purchased from WAA members and in the SUB lobby for 50c. There will be no reserved seating.

Directing the show are Trudy Russell, junior, Jackson, N. J., and Marlen Eagle, sophomore, Rochester, N. Y. Sandy Cummings, sophomore, Cairo, Ill., will be the narrator.

Readers' Two-Night Production Will Open Tonight at 8 in SUB

The Readers' Theater will present the prose of James Thurber and J. D. Salinger in a duo production tonight and tomorrow night at 8 in Meeting Rooms 1-2 of the SUB.

The first presentation will be Thurber's comedy of letters, "File and Forget." Thurber finds some difficulty in communicating clearly with various members of his publishing house through a series of letters that become progressively confused and misunderstood.

The second presentation is "Teddy," a short story by Salinger, who also wrote "Catcher in the Rye." Teddy, a 10-year-old boy genius, finds that his powers of concentration allow him to predict the future of those around him — and even his own fate.

Admission to the productions is free.

"Teddy" has been adapted and directed by Carole Kirchner, senior, Hazard. Miss Kirchner is the first student to prepare an entire Readers' Theater production.

Friday Is Last Day For Sophs to Apply In New ROTC Plan

Friday is the deadline for application to the new two-year ROTC program for sophomores who wish to obtain an army commission upon completion of degree requirements.

The program is open to those sophomores who have had no prior military training. "It opens the door for two types of students who previously were excluded from opportunities to receive ROTC commissions," said Col. Lance Booth, head of the military science department.

Until this year only students who completed the full four-year college ROTC program at colleges and universities with ROTC detachments were eligible for commissions.

A sophomore who indicates a desire to participate in the ROTC program can now attend the six-week camp, enroll in a four-year college with an ROTC detachment, complete the advanced two-year ROTC course, and receive a commission upon graduation.

Students interested in more information about the program should contact Col. Booth.

June Graduates Must Pay Degree Fees by Saturday

Payment of degree fees for students who will graduate May 31 must be made by Saturday, according to Mr. P. W. Ordway, business manager.

Dorm Council Schedules Change in Hours for Fall

The Women's Inter-Dormitory Council has completed the revision of the "1965-66 Handbook for Women in Residence," announced Miss Lillian Tate, dean of women.

One significant change in the handbook is in the weekend closing hours for residence halls.

The girls' dorms will close on Friday and Saturday nights at 12:30. There will be no later permission granted for dances or other social functions, but all women students must be in their place of residence by 12:30, said Dean Tate.

Sunday night closing time will remain the same — 11 p. m. Miss Tate also announced that the week-night permission will remain the same Monday through Thursday nights — 9 p. m. for freshmen, 10 p. m. for upperclass women.

However, all freshmen women who make a 3.0 standing or better the first semester will be granted upperclass permission during the spring semester, Dean Tate said.

These hours will go into effect at the beginning of the fall semester.

Each year women art students submit cover designs, and the person who submits the design selected by the Inter-Dorm Council to be used on the handbook receives a $10 award. "The winner for the best cover design this year will be announced in the next College News," said Dean Tate.

Dr. Woods was authorized to begin preliminary planning on a new science and general classroom building and to apply for a federal grant to assist with its construction.

Those appointed to graduate assistantships include: Will E. Wade, education; Tom Cheaney, health, physical education, and recreation; Donna Freter, psychology; Bernard Decker, psychology; Daniel Kelly, education; and Judy Thomas, education.

Other action taken at the board meeting included:

The authorization of Dr. Woods to investigate the possibilities of cooperating with the state in producing plays and other entertainment at the Kenlake amphitheater during the summer.

The election of Mr. George Hart, Murray, to vice-chairman of the board and the board's representative to the Kentucky Council on Higher Education. Mr. O. B. Springer, Henderson, was elected alternate representative.

Mr. Hart is succeeding Mr. Bob White who died earlier this month.

The Judicial Board Amendment submitted by the Student Council was postponed until the board's meeting on May 31. The code of conduct now being formulated should be ready for consideration at this meeting, Dr. Woods said.

AUTHOR-CRITIC SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION:

'World Societies in Upheaval,' Packard Declares in Lecture

"All over the world societies are in a state of upheaval," Mr. Vance Packard, noted author, critic, and teacher, told the audience at convocation Wednesday.

Mr. Packard referred to the changes not only in the landscapes, but the revolution in the values and morals of the cultures as well.

The internationally famous author of books on social criticism such as "The Status Seekers," "The Pyramid Climbers," and more recently, "The Naked Society," lectured on the drastic effect the technological and scientific aspects of today have on the national character.

Because we live in an expanding world with concentration in metropolitan areas, a greater demand for higher education, growth of leisure time, an increase in production and consumption," Mr. Packard continued, "we are subjected to a constant stress and a feeling of general disorientation."

One of the main problems is concerned with the rapid growth of the American economy. The fantastic level of prosperity we have attained still does not satisfy the manufacturer's cry for greater consumption, the author added.

"America is going through a revolution of self-indulgence," Mr. Packard explained. "We are urged toward impulsive buying and told that products which were once luxuries are now necessities."

The average American family is subjected to 600 television commercials weekly. In addition, commercialization of holidays produces a greater market for goods. America is one of the few countries where Christmas lasts for two whole months!

Mr. Packard commented on the economists who were delighted last year when Mother's Day moved into the market as a million-dollar holiday.

Manufacturers are also fascinated with the youth market. "We should be disturbed with the exploding population and its effect on natural resources, education and housing facilities, not exuberant over the future increase of taxpayers and consumers."

The entire mood of the American public seems to be one of living against the future with "owe as you go" and "it's moral and run to buy on credit" as national slogans. One Chicago billboard proclaims, "today you can borrow enough to get completely out of debt."

"Living for today" is the goal of too many Americans, according to Packard. "We spend more money on cigarettes, gambling, and liquor, than we do on the entire educational program from kindergarten to graduate school."

"We can work for a saner society by recognizing and protecting ourselves against factors that down-grade the consumer intelligence and by securing the enduring values of the past for the future," he concluded.

The things teachers are saying about Simca 1000!

Mrs. Meta Morris, Kindergarten Teacher, Capitola School, Santa Cruz County, California. "I'm getting 35 mpg with my Simca 1000. It has great pickup and performance. And it's easy to handle."

S. A. Littauer, Lecturer, Cornell University, Ithaca, New York. "My Simca 1000 is fun to drive. I like its compactness and easy maneuverability..."

Mrs. Albert Tapo, Second Grade, Fair Avenue School, Columbus, Ohio. "I'm so proud of it. I give lectures at traffic lights, parking lots, drive-ins—everywhere!"

Stephen Park, Music Theory & Composition, University of Tampa, Tampa, Florida. "It is a very restful car to drive. I drove it on a 4,000 mile trip last summer and felt comfortable all the way."

Mrs. Tom Steele, Second Grade, South School, Jonesboro, Ark. "It's so economical. We thought the gas mileage—35 mpg—was too good to be true, till we checked it again!"

Who Buys Simca And Why

• Simca buyers are generally well-paid, well educated and defy rigid age classification. These are some of the tentative conclusions from an informal poll of 1964 Simca buyers. While not a definite study, the poll does point out some extremely interesting characteristics. Over 41 per cent of those contacted by the questionnaire responded.

• Almost 50 per cent of the respondents earn over $7,500 annually. About 76 per cent listed their income as over $5,000.

• Over half the owners who responded had been to college (55 per cent) while 85 per cent had graduated from high school.

• Simca buyers range in age evenly from 21 years old to 50 years old. The car cannot be identified with any special age group.

• Four-member families were the biggest buyers (26 per cent) with the five-member families (23 per cent) close behind.

• Contrary to popular opinion, the Simca is not used mainly as a "second" car. Only 20 per cent of the respondents listed it as such. Main purposes for buying the Simca were for pleasure (35 per cent) and business (34 per cent).

• Economy and handling overwhelmingly were checked as Simca's best-liked features. No other characteristics even approached these two.

• Volkswagen is Simca's biggest direct foreign competitor. Over 50 per cent of Simca buyers considered the "German beetle" before buying Simca. Renault was a distant second with 20 per cent.

Credit for Later Hours Goes To Inter-Dormitory Council

Coeds have won a victory — later hours!

Miss Lillian Tate, dean of women, announced this week that she and the women's Inter-Dormitory Council had revised the coeds' handbook, and one of the major revisions includes later hours.

Under the new regulations beginning next year, coeds will have 12:30 permission every Friday and

Problems to Result From 'Doubling Up'

Residents of the men's dormitories have been notified that they will be required to live with three people in a room next year. It is also reported that coeds will also have to "double up" in order to meet the increase in enrollment.

These rooms are planned to accommodate two people per room. With three living in one room, it will mean that one bed will have to be replaced by a bunk bed.

Also there will have to be three desks in each room, or two students will have to share one desk. The closets will have to be shared.

There seems to be some confusion as to what is really wanted. Does the administration want students to live off campus or on?

Stricter regulations have been placed on off-campus housing; therefore, students are being forced into the dorms. Then on the other hand three people are being placed in a room, forcing students off campus.

Residents of one of the men's dormitories were even told they would not be allowed to have more than five people in a room at a time.

Increased enrollment next year will make it necessary for some students to have to "double up" until the new dormitories are built. But the way construction is going, this could take most of the year.

However, it is not entirely fair to penalize students by forcing them to live in crowded conditions which three in a room would cause.

Saturday. However, no later permission will be granted for dances or special events.

Sunday's hours will remain the same, 11 p.m. During week nights second-semester freshmen with 3.0 overall will have the same hours as upperclassmen, 10 p.m.

The Inter-Dorm Council and Dean Tate have been working sometime on revisions in the handbook. They spent many hours checking with the coeds concerning rules and regulations.

Several of the "politicians" in the Student Organization election Thursday were using later hours as part of their platforms. But these "politicians" or any other member of the Student Council did not have any part in changing the hours. The major credit goes to the presidents and representatives of the dormitory councils who make up the Inter-Dormitory Council.

These girls have developed an active council. They have helped in the planning of the combined dormitory mixers, the opening of the recreational facilities in the Carr Health Building for the coeds, the dormitory scholarships for coeds, and several other projects.

The group is becoming more active than it has been for several years, and it deserves much thanks for its work.

Signs of spring — sleepless nights, restless days, and closed books.

The Monkey Cage

By Cheryl Sweet

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate our athletic teams and our debate team. However, I feel guilty about doing so, as there are too many others I would neglect to give equal space to . . .

You always hear it said that MSC has a friendly campus. I never realized how really true this is until I walked onto a home-town campus weekend before last. That college is quite a bit smaller than ours, but not one person that I didn't know very well bothered to say "Hi" or even smile. I've heard the same said about a lot of other campuses too. (Aren't you glad we use Dial? Don't you wish everybody did?)

Ever tried counting, during the week after election, how many people who spoke and even stopped to talk to you last week don't seem to see you this week? Isn't it a shock when you realize you voted for someone because he or she gave you so much personal attention only to find that now that the election is over he has evidently forgotten he knows you? That should teach you to vote on qualifications.

Who cast this spell over the student body? Was it the "Spirit of Spring Vacation"? Everyone seems to come to class only to retreat into a half-dream, half-stupor. Just wait until finals come to awaken you!

I have heard it rumored that next year may possibly see four girls to a room. Please tell me it isn't true! Perhaps if more attention were given to possible homes and apartments for off-campus housing than is now given in many instances, the housing problem's severity could be lessened to some degree. Just because a person who is supposed to check a possible off-campus spot has something else he had rather do is no reason to say the spot is inappropriate before he finds time to give it further consideration.

Gee! A group of people from right in our midst has cut a record that sounds like it may be a winner. Yeah, yeah, yeah, Barons.

LETTER TO EDITOR:

ATO Social Fraternitiy Condemns College News For 'Treeing' Editorial

Dear Editor:

In the past issue of The College News, dated March 24, 1965, an editorial appeared, the responsible nature of which is questionable. The article in question concerns the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and its policy of treeing pinned members.

We consider this to be an attack on our personal integrity, our responsible nature as fraternity men, and a flagrant and unjust condemnation by another fraternity man.

The whole basis for this article concerns a misguided sense of ideals in the gathering of pertinent facts. The comparison of the drowning of a Georgetown football player and our treeing exercise shows plainly that the author is trying to color the motives that he ultimately had in mind. We do not condone the private riverbank hazing of pinned members nor do we advocate physical and mental cruelty to pledges.

At this point we feel that it should prove informative if a few relevant facts were brought into light, these facts of which the author of the editorial evidently overlooked or failed to investigate:

1. Permission from the Murray City Police Department has been granted for this activity.

2. Mr. Jack Ward, owner of The Hut, grants us permission to hold this public ceremony on his property.

3. Since this is primarily a pledge-class activity, the active chapter provides responsible rules governing this occasion.

4. Our national office supports such public activities as good, clean fun and not a hazing attempt as the article implies.

There is a definite misconception on the part of the author when he states in the title of the article that "Fraternities Should Abolish Hazing of 'Pinned' Members." "Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary" defines "hazing" as to play abusive and humiliating tricks on by way of initiation.

There is not one member of this fraternity that feels that he has been abused or humiliated and if forced to adhere to this connotation, would walk to the pole and tie himself.

Alpha Tau Omega
John Burrus, President

'Careless' Students Face 'Campus Notable' for April Going-to-Lake Problem Is Karen Marie Thorsen

By Cheryl Sweet

Not everyone on campus is fortunate enough to have a car, and therefore fortunate enough to have means of getting to the lake often. If you don't have a car, here are some pointers on how to get to the lake.

First, consider your roommate. Does he or she have a car? If not, does he or she have a friend with a car? A friend with a friend who has a car?

If this possibility has been ruled out, you might as well plan to start dating someone with a car. You might not particularly care for them, but after all, the best lake days have already begun.

When all this just doesn't seem to be getting results, men can always resort to hitch-hiking, but a coed wouldn't look too well-bred walking toward Kenlake in a bathing suit wagging her thumb.

For this there is a solution. Simply find a boy who is hitch-hiking, walk with him, and pretend your car broke down and you're very embarrassed; but if you can just get a ride as far as the lake, you're sure a friend is there who will get you home and help fix the car.

Now if you can't bring yourself to try this, and you are willing to use a little energy to get where you want to go, you will notice several little boys ride across the campus on their bicycles going to school.

Stop one of the youngsters and make arrangements with him to rent his bike for a short trip. This should be easily accomplished with a chocolate malt or something. Once you reach your destination you had better plan on finding a friend willing to give both you and the bike a ride back. Little boys' parents are often inclined to call police when sonny's bike has been "borrowed" and isn't back by 6 p.m.

There is one last desperate measure which only the most daring of you will be willing to try. All you do is walk into a car lot and pretend you want to buy a Mustang or a Barracuda (if you try, might as well try in a big way).

Pull out your check book, then at the last possible moment, decide that perhaps you'd better test drive it just for sure. Get in the car, go get a bathing suit and a friend, and you're on your way.

One of the most common stereotypes that people associate with blondes is that blondes are slightly adlebrained, yet very attractive creatures who believe in all play and no work. One definite exception to this stereotyped idea is Karen Marie Thorsen.

Although Karen has only been at Murray State since September, she has proved herself worthy of the title of "Campus Notable" for April. She was recently elected president of Elizabeth Hall Council and serves as a member of the Inter-Dormitory Council.

A senior physical education major with a minor in psychology, Karen is a member of the Women's Athletic Association, a swimmer in this year's "Water Carnival," and an assistant director of the recreation program set up for coeds. In spite of her busy schedule, Karen made a 4.0 average last semester.

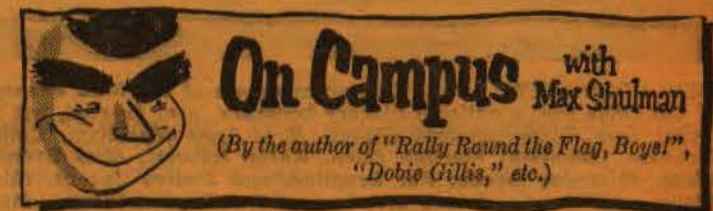

Before coming to Murray State Karen, who is from Cherry Hill, N. J., attended Temple University in Philadelphia. While at Temple, Karen was very active in many campus activities.

She was a member of the dorm council, Christian Fellowship executive board, and the American Association for Health Physical Education and Recreation. She also served as varsity cheerleader and junior class representative.

"Campus Notable" is selected each month by The College News staff. The students selected are chosen on the basis of their contributions to the campus, scholastic standing, extra curricular activities, and personality.

Without a doubt Karen has proven herself worthy of the title "Campus Notable."

VOYAGE TO THE BOTTOM OF THE BARREL

As everyone knows, thirteen-twelfths of the earth's surface is water. Thus we can see how important it is to know and understand our oceans. Toward this end American colleges last year embarked on a program to increase enrollment in oceanography. I am pleased to report that results were nothing short of spectacular: In one single semester the number of students majoring in oceanography rose by 100%—from one student to two!

But more oceanographers are still needed, and so today this column, normally a vehicle for slapdash jocularity, will instead devote itself to a brief course in oceanography. In view of the solemnity of the subject matter, my sponsors, the Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade Co., makers of Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades which give you more luxury shaves than Beep Beep or any other brand you can name—if, by chance, you don't agree, the makers of Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades will buy you a pack of whatever brand you think is better—my sponsors, I say, the Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade Co. will today, because of the solemnity of this column, forego their usual commercial message.

We begin our study of oceans with that ever-popular favorite, the Pacific. Largest of all oceans, the Pacific was discovered by Balboa, a Spanish explorer of great vision. To give you an idea of Balboa's vision, he first saw the Pacific while standing on a peak in Darien, which is in Connecticut.

The Pacific is not only the largest ocean, but the deepest. The Mindanao Trench, off the Philippine Islands, measures more than 5,000 fathoms in depth. (It should be pointed out here that ocean depths are measured in fathoms—lengths of six feet—after Sir Walter Fathom, a British nobleman of Elizabethan times who, upon his eighteenth birthday, was given a string six feet long. Many young men would have sunk in a funk if all they got for their birthday was a string six feet long, but not Sir Walter! String in hand, he scampered around the entire coast of England measuring seawater until he was arrested for loitering. Incidentally, a passion for measuring seems to have run in the family: Fathom's grandnephew, Sir John Furlong, spent all his waking hours measuring racetracks until Charles II had him beheaded in honor of the opening of the London School of Economics.)

But I digress. Let us, as the poet Massfield says, go down to the sea again. (The sea, incidentally, has ever been a favorite subject for poets and composers. Who does not know and love the many robust sea chants that have enriched our folk music—songs like "Sailing Through Kansas" and "I'll Swab Your Deck If You'll Swab Mine" and "The Artificial Respiration Polka.")

My own favorite sea chanty goes like this: (I'm sure you all know it. Why don't you sing along as you read?)

O, carry me to the deep blue sea,
Where I can live with honor,
And every place I'll shave my face
With Stainless Steel Personna.

Sing hi, sing ho, sing mal-de-mer,
Sing hey and nonny-nonny,
Sing Jimmy crack corn and I don't care,
Sing Stainless Steel Personna.

I'll harpoon whales and jib my sails,
And read old Joseph Conrad,
And take my shaves upon the waves,
With Stainless Steel Personna.

Sing la, sing lo, sing o-lee-a-lay,
Sing night and noon and morning,
Sing salt and spray and curds and whey,
Sing Stainless Steel Personna.

WATER CARNIVAL SHOWS HOW:

Ever Tried Swimming to Music?

By Nancy Strow

Have you ever been swimming . . . fully clothed . . . to music . . . in time with a partner . . . ? Beginning tomorrow night the "Water Carnival" swimmers show how it is done.

With a theme of "Peter Pan in Neverland" the 19-member cast will present nine colorful, costumed performances.

An act that is precisioned smoothly in rhythm to the background music does not give the entire picture of long, hard nights, blood-shot eyes, stringy hair, and soggy suits.

In the first act Peter Pan dances out to the tune of "Wouldn't It Be Lovely?" to find his shadow and together they do a "soft shoe." Perhaps it is not a word-for-word, action-for-action, rendition of the Neverland fairy tale, but that is how the 1965 "Water Carnival" interprets the story.

From behind a forest of cardboard oaks, little boys dressed as animals cautiously peek . . . a shrill whistle is heard and another act begins similar to little boys at play. The swimmers turn somersaults and splash merrily.

In a costume of twinkling lights Suzanne Kopiec, a featured swimmer, aptly portrays Peter Pan's ever-present companion, Tinkerbell.

A comedy act with a trio of dogs is sure to draw a laugh from even the soberest of viewers as swimmers Gary Hammer and Tommy Willingham try to imitate Martha Robertson's dog-like actions—complete with dog paddling!

Other attractions include an Indian tribe, led by the princess Tiger Lily, the pirates and Captain Hook, mermaids in sparkling green caps (but without the green tails), diving, and the "Murray Mermaid" contest.

Besides the usual problems of organization, practice schedules, and synchronization, this year a bigger problem—the loss of the pool for two weeks—developed.

Undoubtedly, the show offers varying entertainment for the audience. And throughout the performance an observant eye will catch many of the cast's "secret cues"—the toes that emerge at the proper moment, a quick word, a slight hand movement, and the nodding of a head.

The church is designed to help people be real Christians.
So the real Christian is active in the church. He is a blessing in it and he is blessed by it.

young man returns from the army to a small town in Indiana. He is disillusioned when he sees through the hypocrisy of "respectable" people. He seeks solace in the companionship of seedy characters.

Glenn Ford, Anne Francis, Louis Calhern, Margaret Hayes, and Sidney Poitier star in "Blackboard Jungle."

Pearls, Pendants Mark Pierced Ears of Coeds

By JoAnne Fore

Pierced ears seem to be one of the latest fashion fads hitting college campuses throughout the country.

On this campus, many coeds are sporting tiny pearls and little golden loops or pendants suspended by thin wires through their ear lobes.

The girls are piercing their ears for various reasons.

"My sister had her's done a few years ago, and I decided I'd like to have mine done, too," says one.

"I did it on impulse," adds another. "One night I thought, why not, and I went ahead and pierced them myself. I kept a thread in them for a few days and then started wearing earrings."

A blonde explained that she had her's pierced four years ago when she was given some valuable earrings. She explained that she was afraid that she might lose them so she had her ears pierced and converted the earrings into earrings for pierced ears.

A similar reason was offered by an art student who said she made a pair. "When they turned out to be fairly nice looking, I decided to get my ears done so that I could wear them."

The practice of wearing earrings and having one's ears pierced for that purpose dates back many centuries. Pierced ears and earrings are even mentioned in the Bible.

Early Egyptians and Assyrians along with the Greeks and Romans, were partial to them, and many earrings have been uncovered by archaeologists. Some early Grecian statues were sculpted with pierced ears.

As a matter of fact, earrings for pierced ears remained very common until the 20th Century when screw-on and clip earrings replaced them. Now history has repeated itself and the trend is pierced ears.

For those who don't want to pierce their ears but still want to be in style, jewelry stores are selling new designs of the old-fashion earrings except they go on the ear and not through it. These fake pierced earrings are also popular at MSC.

"Heavens yes, I know a lot of girls who wear them," said one fan of the fake type. "After all, some of us are a little chicken when it comes to the real thing."

Ed Thomas to Head Business Fraternity

Bones Rattles On...

By Mike Driscoll

The meeting of league officials and coaches last week in Louisville should have accomplished more than just being referred to "as a day of rejection."

The proposal to expand the league with the addition of Kentucky State College was never considered as the league constitution permits no more than eight entries.

Presuming that the officials couldn't possibly change the constitution to strengthen the league — and expansion is one way — why haven't they looked for other means?

Basketball allows the conference its best chance for recognition with the numerous pre-season tournaments throughout the country and the two post-season national championship tournaments.

The OVC immediately excludes any of its members from participation in pre-season tournaments with the OVC tournament in Louisville each year that consists of only league schools.

I for one can wait until the regular season to see who the best team is. I would much rather see the previous season's league champion participating in an invitational tournament with maybe three schools from other sections of the country.

I referred last year to the OVC tournament as being a money-making idea with hardly any recognition going to the league or the schools.

At the meeting the officials and the coaches voted to cut the tournament a day short as not to interfere with the Louisville-Army game the following night.

The semi-finals and the finals now will be held the same day. This seems like an awful lot of basketball for at least two teams in two days.

Should the word be "interfere" with the Louisville-Army game or "compete" with the Louisville-Army game?

As it stands now, the OVC will continue to make money and gain recognition in Kentucky and Tennessee. But the other 48 states and the thousands of high-school players capable of playing in college competition will go on not knowing who or where Murray and Morehead, and Middle, and Eastern, and Western, and Tennessee Tech, and East Tennessee, and Austin Peay are.

The University of Alabama tennis team that will meet the undefeated Racers squad here Saturday afternoon features something unusual in the college sport, namely a young lady with the handle of Roberta Alison.

Miss Alison, on the strength of her 15-4 record plus other wins on forfeits in the past two years, is currently ranked among the top 20 female competitors in the sport nationwide.

Good enough to be playing in the No. 2 singles spot, Miss Alison is expected to face Murray's undefeated Jim Novitsky.

Miss Alison is no defenseless young girl on the court; so charm on the part of Novitsky won't be enough if he expects to win.

Jim will have to leave much of his politeness off the court, buckle down and concentrate on his play, and keep his eyes on the ball to keep man on top.

Tennis coach Jim Harris has tabbed Murray's Nick Barone and Novitsky and Western's Jackie Cooper as the top three players in the state.

Barone will get another crack at Cooper May 4 at Western and again in the OVC Tournament May 14-15. Novitsky easily handled Western's Jim Malone, last season's No. 2 singles champ, in straight sets Friday.

The baseball team will have a chance to sew up its sixth division title in eight years here tomorrow afternoon with a sweep of the OVC doubleheader with Western.

With six league contests left, the Racers are undefeated while second-place Western has lost three of six. Austin Peay and Middle will fight it out for third. Both teams have lost six league games.

Morehead again leads the Eastern Division standings with a 6-0 record.

Morehead has faced the Eagles for the overall title the last two seasons, taking the crown last year in two straight after settling for the co-title the previous season on a rained-out third game.

The championship best-of-three series will be played this year at the home field of the Eastern Division winner.

Golf Squad to Play In SIT Tomorrow; 30 Teams Entered

The Murray State golf team will begin play in the 30-team Southern Intercollegiate Tournament tomorrow in Athens, Ga. with hopes of improving last year's disappointing finish of nineteenth.

Defending champion Wake Forest will be joined by such teams as the University of Georgia, Miami University, the University of Florida, and the Ohio Valley Conference favorite Middle Tennessee.

Ron Acree, Murray's rapidly rising young freshman, will be unable to make the trip because of a new tournament rule which eliminates all freshmen.

Representing the Thoroughbreds will be Bobby English, Gary Flowers, Fred Lancaster, Lynn Newton, Larry Ringer, and Al Wilcenski.

"We will have to improve our short game if we are to place high," Coach "Buddy" Hewitt said. "We should be in good shape by the time of the OVC Tournament in May," he added.

Acree Sets Record In 3-Way Golf Meet

Despite what Coach "Buddy" Hewitt termed "the best individual performance ever by a Murray State golfer" the Racers golf team could do no better than third in a triangular meet with Middle Tennessee and Austin Peay at Clarksville Friday.

Murray's No. 1 golfer Ron Acree turned in a three-under-par 68 to set a new intercollegiate record for the course.

Middle scored 19½ to Murray's 7½, while Austin Peay upset the Thoroughbreds by a score of 11 to 11. Middle downed Austin Peay, 18 to 9, to take first place.

Other individual scores for the Thoroughbreds were: Gary Flowers, 76; Lynn Newton, 77; Larry Ringer, 78; and Bobby English, 79.

Murray Nips Middle, 5-2, 5-4, To Remain Undefeated in OVC

Coach Johnny Reagan's flying Racers baseball team stretched their conference record to 6-0 Saturday by defeating the Raiders of Middle Tennessee in a double-header, 5-2 and 5-4.

George Dugan pitched Murray to victory in the opening game, allowing seven hits and striking out 12.

Murray scored twice in the third inning on singles by Ron Anderson and Mike Ward.

In the bottom of the fourth inning Dave Boyd led off with a walk and Jim Reid smashed a homerun over the right field fence to give Murray a 4-2 lead.

In the second contest the Racers had to come from behind to win their sixth conference game, 5-4.

Jerry Anderson started for Murray, but left in the fourth inning for a pinch hitter. Ken Meredith came on in the fifth and picked up the victory.

Murray scored one run in the bottom of the first inning when Dave Boyd was hit by a pitch and Jim Reid singled after Dallas Grant had sacrificed Boyd to second.

The score held at 4-1 until the bottom of the sixth inning when the Racers picked up four runs on four hits, a walk, one error, and three hit batsmen.

Mitch Gibbs pitched the seventh inning and retired Middle to give Murray a 5-4 victory.

Perfect Game by Jerry Anderson Writes Baseball History for MSC

Murray State's first perfect game and a no-hitter gave the Racers 17-0 and 1-0 victories over Austin Peay here April 20. Jerry Anderson hurled the perfect game and George Dugan the "almost perfect."

The outstanding feat was one of the very few ever pitched in a double-header and was given wide coverage all over the nation.

As Anderson began warming up for the second game and the crowd buzzed about Dugan's performance, no one dreamed he was about to see baseball history made.

In the first inning Anderson was superb, getting the first batter to ground back to the mound.

The second batter attempted to bunt, but Dave Darnall, the Murray catcher, threw him out easily. The third batter struck out and Anderson was on his way to the first perfect game in Murray baseball history.

In the bottom of the first the Racers jumped all over the Governor pitcher for eight runs.

Dave Boyd walked, Mick Martin placed a perfect sacrifice bunt, and Darnall slammed a single, driving in Boyd.

Ron Anderson, the Racer shortstop, doubled and Walt Andzel singled. After an out Mike Ward continued his timely hitting by singling in two runs. Austin Peay brought in a new pitcher.

He was greeted by Jerry Anderson with a double, and Dave Boyd powered a long home run over the centerfield fence.

Using a brilliant fast ball and a sharp breaking curve, Anderson continued to put the Governors down in order inning after inning.

The Racers continued their attack, picking up runs in each inning except the fifth.

In the fifth Boyd raced behind second base to grab a looping fly ball that almost fell for the first hit of the afternoon.

In the top of the sixth inning the crowd began to buzz as everyone in the ball park knew that Anderson had a perfect game going.

As the game went into the seventh with Murray leading 17-0 tension began to mount.

Anderson struck out the first batter, and the second Austin Peay batter bounced a dangerous ball in front of home plate. Darnall quickly pounced on the ball and threw a perfect strike to Ward at first for the second out of the inning.

With the count two balls and one strike, Mike Wheeler, the Austin Peay third baseman, hit a hard ground ball to Ron Anderson at short. Anderson fielded it and made a perfect throw to Ward at first for the final out of the ball game.

Anderson used only 74 pitches in pitching the first perfect game in Murray's history. He struck out eight.

In the first game Dugan retired

ed the first eight men to face him before he walked the pitcher on a disputed call in the third inning.

In the Racers' half of the third, Bill Wilhoite, the Austin Peay pitcher, made his only mistake of the ball game—he threw a high fast ball to Mike Ward. Ward drove the ball and estimated 450 ft. over the left field fence for a home run and Murray's only hit of the game.

Dugan then retired the next eight batters in order. Then he walked the opposing pitcher for the second time in the sixth.

In the top of the seventh inning with the large crowd on the edge of their seats, Dugan struck out the first two men and got Willard Ross, the Austin Peay left fielder, to hit a broken-bat ground ball to Boyd at second for the third out and the end of the game.

Dugan used 90 pitches while striking out 14 en route to his first no-hitter in college baseball.

Wins Over Western Tomorrow Could Clinch Division for Racers

Murray State's baseball team will be trying to enlarge upon their 6-0 OVC record tomorrow as they take on arch-rival Western in a double-header here. Game time is 1 p.m.

After the doubleheader with Western the Racers will travel to Memphis to face Memphis State in games Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

The Hilltoppers have compiled a 3-3 conference record, with losses to Middle Tennessee and a double-header loss to Austin Peay.

A victory in the two-game set would put Murray in the driver's seat with a commanding lead in conference play.

The first game with Memphis

State will be played under the lights and the series will wind up with a single game Saturday afternoon.

The Racer mound staff has compiled an impressive record with George Dugan leading the way with a 4-1 record and 64 strike-outs in 37 innings.

Jerry "Perfect Game" Anderson has a 2-1 record, with Murray's first perfect game to his credit.

Mike Ward is leading the Racers with 25 RBI's. He also leads in home runs with four.

The team as a whole is batting over .300 for the season and is fielding over .900 while compiling a record of 15-3.

Netters Down Western, Eastern, Middle Tenn. to Remain Unbeaten

Murray remained unbeaten in tennis and stretched its winning streak to 17 over the weekend with victories over Middle Tennessee and Eastern Saturday after defeating highly-touted Western Friday afternoon, 6-2.

Other results of the weekend's four-team play put Eastern, Western, and Middle in a tie with one victory and two defeats each.

Probably the biggest upset of the meet was Eastern's 5-4 victory over Western.

In the first match Friday the Racers downed previously undefeated Western Kentucky, 6-2. The No. 3 doubles was called because of darkness with Murray leading, 8-6.

Nick Barone, MSC's No. 1 singles player, was defeated for the first time this year in this match, as was Larry Niemeyer, the No. 4 singles player.

Barone lost to Western's Jackie Cooper, 1-6, 6-4, 5-7. Jim Novitsky beat Jim Malone, 6-0, 6-2. Ron Underwood defeated Tom Cooper, 6-1, 7-5. Niemeyer was defeated by Tom Shattuck, 3-6, 6-3, 1-6. Randy Hall defeated Ed Eberth, 6-3, 6-8, 6-3. Pat Bryan beat Bill Beverly, 6-2, 6-1.

The Barone-Underwood doubles team beat Western's Cooper-Cooper team, 6-2, 6-2. Novitsky-Niemeyer beat Shattuck-Malone, 6-0, 6-1. The No. 3 doubles match was called because of darkness.

Middle Tennessee downed Eastern Kentucky Friday, 7-2.

Murray rolled over the Maroon netters of Eastern Kentucky 9-0, Saturday morning.

GRADUATION AWARD

Graduation day...a big day for academic and extracurricular awards. That hard-earned college degree...and for the man who has taken full advantage of his college years, a special award from the President of the United States—a commission as an officer in the United States Army...the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant. That's an award you can earn by taking Army ROTC.

Those gold bars mark you as a man apart from other men—a man able to work with others—to inspire them. They mark you a leader.

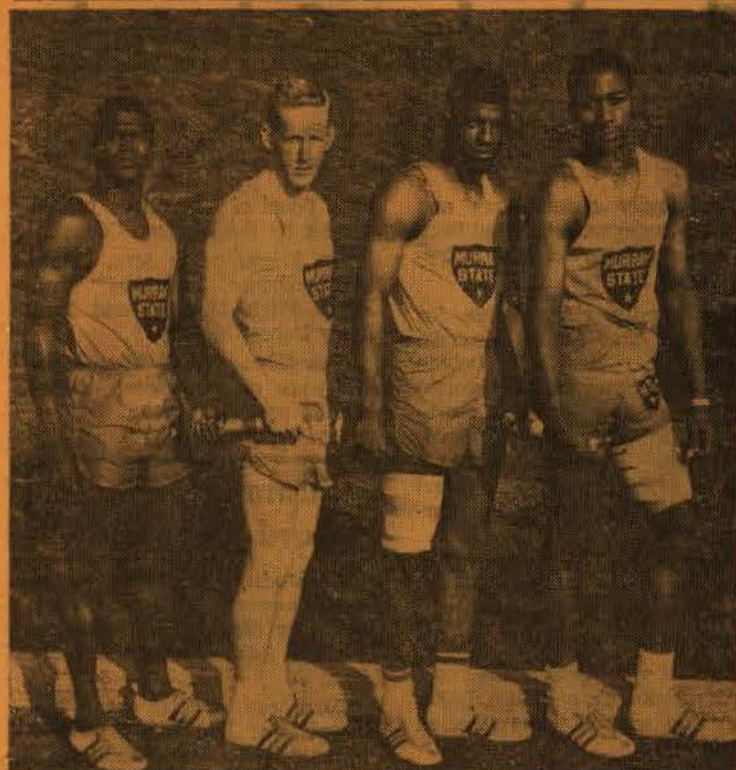

An Army officer's commission is proof to the world that your country places its trust and confidence in your judgment and ability—proof that you have what it takes to make a decision and then act on it.

These are qualities built by Army ROTC training... qualities that will pay off for the rest of your life, no matter what your career—military or civilian.

If you're good enough to be an Army officer, don't settle for less. Stay in ROTC.

The Racer distance-medley team finished 10th.

Alabama and Mississippi State have been invited to the meet, but it is not known if they will take part.

Asked about the stiffest competition would be, Coach Furgerson commented that Arkansas State, "very strong in the field events, would be our most powerful opponent."

Last year the Racers beat Middle Tennessee, 99-46, by winning 13 of 17 events.
