VOL. 86, NO. 22

MURRAY, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1914

$1.00 PER YEAR.

A COMPARISON

Administrations of Contending Candidates for U. S. Senate as Governor are Reviewed.

Ex-Governor J. C. W. Beckham, is the Democratic nominee for United States Senator; Ex-Governor Augustus E. Wilson, is the Republican nominee. Both have been the Chief Executive of Kentucky and they now seek the same office. It is proper that their public careers should be reviewed and that their respective ability should be measured.

As Governor, Wilson was a complete failure. When he came into office he found $1,000,000 in the Treasury; when he went out of office he left the cash box empty and the State $1,000,000 in debt. So much for Gus Wilson as a financier.

He had no constructive ability. There is no law on the Statute book that bears the imprint of his hand or brain. Instead of advocating wise legislation that would improve the state he wasted his energies in the furtherance of petty political schemes in an effort to discredit the Democracy.

So little attention did he pay to the affairs of his office, and so frequent were his barn-storming tours through other states, speaking wherever a gong sounded or a banquet was spread that he became known as the Wandering Voice. It is a matter of record that during his term the Lieutenant Governor drew over $5000.00 in salary for acting Governor during Wilson's absence from the state.

When the night-rider troubles were at their height his irresolution, timidity and bad judgment encouraged the disorder instead of abating it. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were thrown away in needless calling out of the State Militia. The grave question settled itself while Wilson was torn between his alleged love for the people and his well-proved effect for the Tobacco Trust, whose attorney he had been, before he became Governor.

There is not room in this brief recapitulation for the blunders that marked every step in his expensive, inconsequential and ridiculous administration. It registers high-water mark in the flood-tide of incapacity which has followed every Republican Governor that has set in Frankfort.

This is the same Wilson, who rattled around in the Executive Chair, the sport of press and public, who now asks this brave, intelligent and discriminating electorate to send him to the United States Senate where he promises to be a thorn in the side of President Wilson, whose ability he derides and whose policies he is anxious to oppose.

It will take a separate article to recount the wise, progressive and economical administration of Governor Beckham. He was Governor of Kentucky for seven years and throughout that period when the existence of his party and the very life of the State was at stake, he proved himself a patriot and a statesman. Among the hundred excellent things he furthered was Kentucky's magnificent Capitol, built without a cent of graft, or leaving a dollar of indebtedness.

When Governor Beckham went out of office, he left this new capitol, without a superior in beauty and worth on the continent, and a million dollars in cash in the Treasury.

Governor Wilson succeeded him and not only spent this $1,000,000 but left the state impoverished and a million dollars in debt when he retired from office.

The Republican party selects Gus Wilson as its beloved leader. He typifies all that it stands for. He is a hopeless, hide-bound reactionary, the friend and follower of Taft, the enemy of all progress, narrow, vindictive and benighted.

The Democratic party selects Governor Beckham to lead its fight. He has courage, character and ability. His face is toward the future bright with the sun-light of Democracy. He is the friend of President Wilson and has his hearty endorsement. His presence in the Senate will add one more incorruptible vote to the legion that is fighting the battles of the Chief Executive.

How can any fair, sane man, democrat, republican or progressive turn from Beckham and cast a vote for Gus Wilson?

Fever Epidemic in Trigg.

There is an epidemic of typhoid fever on Donaldson creek, about ten miles south of Cadiz, and many persons are having the disease. Rob Thomas and wife and five children, who live at the head of Donaldson, are now in bed with it, and three other children are just getting over it. A daughter of Walter Thomas, near by, also has it, and Guier, of near Oak Grove, a visitor into the Thomas home, was taken to his bed last Friday. Further down the creek several members of Henry Dixon's family are getting over the trouble, and it is thought that members of the families of Chilt Thomas and Tom Sumner are taking it. REV. SHELTON

Former Pastor of Murray Christian Church Passes Away in California.

As we pass through life, it not infrequently becomes our painful duty to take notice of the passing away of some worthy citizen, and good friend of former days. The news of the sudden death of Elder Wm. T. Shelton, at his home in San Jose, California, on the third day of September, 1914, has just reached this city, and it will bring sadness to the hearts of many relatives and friends in this county, and throughout West Kentucky and Tennessee, where he was well and favorably known many years ago. His death was shockingly sudden, falling on the floor, and expiring almost instantly from heart failure, while he was apparently in his usual good health.

He was a son of Elder Jonathan Shelton and was born on the 5th day of February, 1843, on Spring Creek in Graves county.

Many years ago he and the editor of the Messenger attended the school of Prof. A. C. Pomroy, in Benton, Ky., and, at this school, strong ties of friendship formed between them which continued unbroken until his death.

From his youth, he was ambitious, and possessed of good morals and high ideals. Early in life he entered the ministry of the Christian church, and attained considerable prominence amongst the Deacons of Kentucky and Tennessee, before leaving old Kentucky for his new home in the Golden West, about 30 years ago. He was an eloquent speaker, and a cheerful and captivating man. Among other charges which he held before going to California, he was pastor of the Christian church at Murray, Blandville and Mayfield, in Kentucky, and Union City, in Tennessee.

He married Miss Mattie Calhoun, the talented and accomplished daughter of Mr. John Calhoun, of Conyersville, Tenn., and at his death, left her surviving together with one daughter, Genella, and two sons, Wm. Cortez, and Jas. Errett Shelton. These sons graduated a few years ago from Leland Stanford University, with the highest honors, and they are now brilliant and successful young lawyers in Los Angeles, Cal.

This family, however, had their troubles, and were acquainted with grief, for while they were yet with us, they buried two children in infancy, whose little monuments are daily seen by visitors to our Maplewood cemetery.

He also left many relatives in this county, amongst whom, Mrs. T. J. Weaver, a niece, and Judge J. E. Robbins, a cousin, reside in this city.

When our readers learn of the death of this good man, many hearts will be sad, and much sympathy will be felt and expressed for his family in their great sorrow.—Mayfield Messenger.

Wilson Hears Prayers.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Prayers for peace in Europe arose from all parts of the United States Sunday in accordance with President Wilson's proclamation. Clergymen of all denominations read the President's proclamation, itself a fervent peace prayer, and congregations gathered together to sing peace hymns and take part in peace services. The President himself attended the Central Presbyterian church here and heard the Rev. James T. Taylor pray that the United States might be instrumental in restoring peace to Europe and that Mr. Wilson might be given wisdom and strength in his mediation proposals. The President was accompanied by Secretary McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo and several White House guests.

In his sermon the Rev. Mr. Taylor declared that the war in Europe meant not the breaking down of Christianity, but the failure of some people to follow Christian principles. He added that permanent peace would come when the nations of the world turned more to prayer. People who pray, he said, get a better perspective and forget their passions and jealousies.

The church was packed until there was not even standing room inside. After the services a large crowd waited until the President had taken communion to watch him ride away in his automobile.

Special peace services were held at Mount St. Albans, the site of the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. Near the peace cross, erected after the Spanish-American War, several thousand people attended the outdoor meeting. Many members of Congress and Government officials were present and the marine band furnished the music. Bishop Alfred Harding, of Washington, participated in the services.

Archbishop Bonanza, the papal delegate to the United States, was present at peace services held in connection with the feast of St. Francis in the Holy Land Memorial church in the morning. In several of the churches war pictures were shown to illustrate the horrors of conflict.

Death of Trigg County Farmer.

Willie Jett Coleman, one of the most industrious young farmers of this county, died last Thursday morning about two o'clock at his home on the old Starkie Thomas farm near Oak Grove church, six miles south of here, of hemorrhagic purpura, a disease caused from extreme bad blood. He had not been in very good health for several months, but continued to go about his daily work until Friday, September 18th, when he was taken with a bleeding at the nose, and he grew rapidly worse from day to day until the end came.

Young Coleman was the oldest son of Felix G. and Mattie Coleman and was thirty-two years of age the day he was taken to his bed. He was also a consistent member of the Oak Grove Baptist church, having been a member there for about nine years. On June 26th, 1907 he was married to Miss Nora Harris, daughter of John Harris of Calloway county, and is survived by his wife and three small children. Besides his wife and children, he is survived by his parents and three brothers and one sister as follows: Alfred, John and Monroe Coleman and Mrs. Carl Ezell, all of this county.—Cadiz Record.

Campaign for State-Wide Prohibition.

Lexington, Oct. 2.—It was announced last night that definite plans have been made for the inauguration of a state-wide prohibition campaign at the thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, which began in Winchester Thursday. The movement follows the local option election Monday, in which nine of 12 counties voted dry. The workers at that campaign, it was stated, have been listed in that state-wide movement.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Miss Glenn, National Organizer, Visits Murray and Organizes Equal Suffrage League.

After the meeting at the court house Tuesday night, when Miss Lily R. Glenn spoke on woman suffrage, the Calloway County Woman Suffrage League was organized with the following officers: Dr. A. V. McTree, President; C. B. Fulton, Vice-President; Miss Menerva Floyd, Secretary; W. R. Broach, Treasurer.

This is to be a non-dues paying organization, supported by voluntary contributions, to which the members will be given an opportunity to make free will offerings at least once a year. Its object shall be to advance the industrial, educational and legal rights of women and to secure suffrage to them by appropriate state and national legislation. The membership numbers 27 men and women. Everyone living in the county is invited to join this league, and membership cards may be had from the secretary. The Kentucky Equal Rights Association now has membership in 114 Kentucky counties.

Miss Glenn is an organizer from Washington, D. C., originally sent to Kentucky by Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the Congressional Committee of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, and is organizing under the direction of Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, President of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association.

She made a plea for the ballot for the working woman and told how the working man had been able to protect himself with the extension of political freedom, in the matter of wages and length of the working day. She says there are 8,000,000 women in the United States who leave their homes every morning for the workshop, the office, the factory and the store, and that they are forced to the unwomanly desertion of the home that they may not starve. That the work formerly done by women in the home is now carried on in vast manufacturing establishments, where men are often found doing the work that formerly belonged to women, and today women must bring back into the home in dollars and cents the equivalent to what they used to produce by their labor in the home. She goes on to say that there will be no dirt-polls when women vote—that women's business is cleaning up they are going to begin with the polls. Since women are voting in eleven states—numbering 4,000,000 women of voting age—she says that suffrage is undoubtedly a good thing, because not one of these states have ever repealed the law, and she tells us that seven more states are to submit equal suffrage amendments to the voters next November.

The Kentucky suffragists hope to get the suffrage amendment before the people of Kentucky when the legislature again meets and to that end are securing all the coverts possible.

Miss Glenn left Thursday morning for Eddyville, where she will speak Friday night.

On Monday afternoon, at two o'clock, October 26th, the new league announces that a meeting will be held in the main auditorium at the court house here when Miss Dow Husbands, of Paducah, and another speaker to be announced later, will speak on woman suffrage. The meeting will be free, and all should come out and hear Miss Husbands.

Hopeless Lung Trouble Cured.

Many recoveries from Lung Troubles are due to Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It strengthens the Lungs, checks the Cough and gives relief at once.—Mr. W. S. Wilkins, Gates, N. C., writes: "I used Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey in a case given up as hopeless and it effected a complete cure." Get a bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. If your cough is dry and hacking let it trickle down your throat, you will surely get relief. Only 25c at your druggist.

Sorghum Crop Has Arrived.

The sorghum season is now on, and farmers all over the county are enjoying "sorghum and batter cakes" to their heart's content. The crop this year promises to be one of the largest in years, and a large acreage of it was planted in the spring.

One of the best varieties of the cane that is grown anywhere was developed in Howell county, and is known as Mize's Gem. It was produced by John W. Mize, of Vaughn's Mill, one of the most prominent farmers in the county. It grows to a height of from twelve to fifteen feet, is very succulent and produces a large amount of syrup.

Farmers, machinists, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Fine for cuts, burns, bruises. Should be kept in every home. 25c and 50c.

Strong Man's Weakness.
Speaking of great feats of strength, Franklin H. Lane, secretary of the interior, recalled an incident that happened in a western state.
One afternoon an elderly woman visited the penitentiary, and on pausing before a certain cell was told that the inmate had been imprisoned for stealing a piano.
"I am very sorry to see you here," remarked the woman turning to the convict. "Is it true that you stole a piano?"
"Yes, ma'am," was the frank admission of the convict. Then he added: "I did it in a moment of weakness."
"In a moment of weakness!" gasped the elderly visitor. "Mercy me! I presume that had you had your usual strength you would have walked away with the whole house!"

Escapes in Heat of Battle.
Reports indicate it sometimes takes a lot to kill the modern soldier, the New York World states. Sergeant Fougere of France received eight bullet wounds, a broken arm and other injuries, and although shot in the calf, thigh and ankle, escaped being captured by Germans and limped ten miles to his regiment. Another French soldier received six bullets and three bayonet wounds and is recovering. The French war office estimates only two men are killed out of every one hundred hit. The penetration is so close one soldier did not know he had been hit for three hours, and another bullet went through two soldiers and lodged in a cavalryman's saddle.

Approaching, but Not Close.
When I left Havre on my way back to England," says Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, "500 French soldiers lined up on the dock and sang 'God save the King' in English. By the nine gods of war! as our own General Bingham would say, this incident, taken in connection with the Belgians stepping to the front chanting 'It's a Long Way to Tipperary,' seems to indicate the approach of the much touted brotherhood of man."

Easy to See.
"I wish I could have seen your great feat," said a lady to a gentleman who had met with a hazardous adventure in Africa. "There they are, madam," said he, pointing to his pedal exerciser.

TRY HARD TO WIN BACK LOST GROUND

GERMANS CONTINUE DESPERATE ATTACKS ON FRENCH LEFT WING; ARE REPULSED.

CROWN PRINCE LEADS ARMY

Germans More Successful in Belgium, Where Defenders of Antwerp Have Been Forced to Fall Back.

New York.—The determined efforts of the Germans are making not only to hold their lines in the north of France, but to win back some of the territory the allied forces have succeeded in taking from them since the great battle of the Aisne began, are indicated in the official announcements from the French war office.

The Germans have continued their series of desperate attacks on the French left wing, and in the center the crown prince's army, which includes the sixteenth corps, has attempted to advance through the wood of La Grurie. But in all of these endeavors, according to French accounts, the Germans have been repulsed. The crown prince's army even has been driven back toward the north a mile or two.

In Belgium, however, the Germans have been more successful, for the Belgian legation at London admits that on the east of the River Sambre the Belgian forces defending Antwerp, after a desperate resistance of five days, have been obliged to fall back to the River Nethe, so terrific has been the German artillery fire. But the declaration is made that the Belgians intend to resist the attack on Antwerp to their utmost.

The latest official communication from Petrograd describes the battle of Augustow, in Russian Poland, as developing into one of extreme violence, the Germans supplementing their artillery fire with furious counter attacks. In an encounter between the first division of the German cavalry and Russian cavalry the Germans are reported to have been routed with great loss, carrying their infantry along with them.

The Russians have occupied Rygod, Kalvary and Mariampol, in Poland.

The Russian emperor, according to a Petrograd announcement, has left the capital for the war zone. The German emperor is said to be at Thorn, West Prussia, close to the Russian frontier.

GERMANS ARE DRIVEN BACK

Petrograd Says Russians Made Brilliant Bayonet Charge—Push Germans Back Into Prussia.

London.—C. P. Sturk, correspondent of the London Daily News at Petrograd, telegraphs that Russian infantry, as a result of brilliant bayonet charges, are driving the Germans back into East-Prussia in the direction of Lyck. Russian infantry also charged the Germans who were besieging Augustow compelling them to abandon their guns.

This is the first time in the northern war zone that there have been genuine infantry battles and the Russian soldiers have proved their great superiority in this class of fighting.

A Russian dispatch from Petrograd, describing the German attack on the Suwalki-Olita railroad, says the Germans made Vilna their objective, disregarding Kovno, and attacked stubbornly, finally retreating before Russian bayonet charges, but in order.

ROYE CENTER OF BATTLE

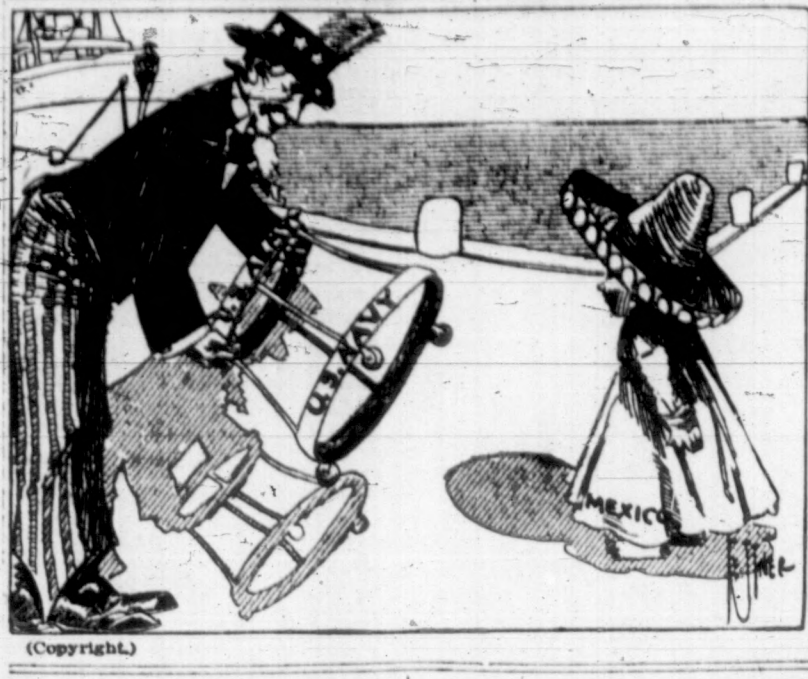

French Official Statement Says There Are No New Details to Give Out. Impression Favorable.

Paris.—The official communication issued here says:
"There is no new detail to announce. The general impression is favorable."
London.—Roye, the little town on the main road from Amiens to Noyon, the heights around which have been alternately occupied by the French and the Germans during the past week, is still the center of a battle of great violence.

The Germans, who are fighting stubbornly to protect their flank at this point, have brought up re-enforcements, but according to the French official communication all their attacks have been repulsed.

The action, however, is still proceeding and upon it much depends, for if the Germans are beaten their line of communication at Tefgnier will be seriously threatened.

REPULSE GERMAN ATTACK GERMAN FLANK EXTENDED

Allies' Pressure Tells on Germans. French Forces Reach Practically to Belgian Border.

London.—The battle of the Aisne finds the allied armies pushing with all the strength they can bring to bear in their great effort to outflank the German right wing and force it back from its line of communication through Belgium.

There is evidence that this movement is beginning to tell, and that unless something unforeseen happens this portion of the German army must fall back to another defensive line.

The French official report says the action continues to develop to the northward, so that the French left must be pushing toward Cambrai, as it was in the neighborhood of Albert.

Even farther north than this the French cavalry is operating and last week a German force which was sent to Orchies, 16 miles southeast of Lille, to punish franc-tireurs for an alleged attack on a German hospital at that place met with superior forces and had to fall back.

The Germans, too, admit that they have been unable to arrest the French advance against their right and also that the allies have advanced on their right front. Indeed, there seems to be some agreement in the official reports of the belligerents on the events in this part of the battlefield.

JAPS CLOSE ON KIAO-CHAU

Invest Heights Around Tsing-Tau. Overlook German Position—Evacuate Line of Defense.

London.—The Japanese occupied all the high ground outside Tsing-Tau (seat of government of the German concession of Kiaochow) overlooking the German's main line of defense, says a statement given out by the official news bureau. The communication continues:

"They began an attack on the advanced positions four kilometers (two miles and a half) from the enemy's main line at dawn. In a short time the Japanese from sea and land they drove the enemy from his position."

Peking.—The Germans in Kiaochow have evacuated the Waldersee line of defense before an overwhelming force of the enemy. Tsing-Tau is now completely invested. The German losses were small.

This information is contained in a dispatch received here from a German source at Tsing-Tau, Shan-Tung, which evidently is a wireless communication from Tsing-Tau. It adds that the Japanese armored cruiser squadron bombarded Tsing-Tau Monday without doing any damage.

Attempt to Concentrate Troops From Four Directions—Report Advance of Russian Troops Successful. Rough Roads Obstacle.

London.—Reuter's Rome correspondent says news received in the Italian capital from Russian headquarters declares that Przemysl, Galicia, has been attacked by the Russians on all sides. Two of the forts, it is said, already have been taken, and from these the Russians silenced several Austrian batteries.

A dispatch to the Central News from Rome says:

"The Russian embassy here has issued a communication announcing that the Germans have suffered a terrible defeat in the provinces of Lodz and Suwalki, Russian Poland."

"The Germans," the communication says, "were attacked with extreme violence and compelled to flee from Suwalki, Ostrowiec and other towns, leaving behind great quantities of transports and guns. Their troops threw away their rifles and baggage. Numerous cannons were abandoned."

Telegrams from Petrograd, the Central News correspondent at Rome says, declare that the Germans have lost 30,000 men in killed or wounded and 20,000 taken prisoners.

The Antwerp correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company has sent the following dispatch:

"The German attack on the fort and approaches of Koningshoeve (one of the new forts on the outer line) was repulsed."

"A violent attack on Termonde was repulsed, the Belgians blowing up the bridge (over the Scheldt)."

"The Belgians undertook attack from Antwerp on the front of the eastern position. This attack continues."

ANTWERP FORTS HOLD OUT

Bombardment of Forts Continues. British Aviators Do Splendid Work—Refugees Arrive.

Antwerp.—The bombardment of the southeast front of the Antwerp defenses was resumed fiercely, but no success attended the German effort to break through the strong Belgian positions. During the brilliant moonlight the Germans bombarded the forts at Duffel, Waelhem and Lierre. Many shells fell on the town of Duffel and a big paper factory was damaged severely.

The enemy made an infantry attack in force from the direction of Termonde on the intermediate forts of Liezel, Brendonck and Heyndrick, but it was brilliantly repulsed. The Germans suffered heavy losses. In the afternoon the artillery shelled Thysell and Raemdonck, to the west of Mechlin. The damage was immaterial.

British aviators did splendid work for the Belgians. Flying in and out among the low clouds, they indicated the German positions to Fort Waelhem and enabled the gunners to direct a withering fire on the attackers.

CLAIM GERMAN DISASTER

Petrograd Correspondent Tells of New Gun Used by Russians—Says Rennenkampf Prepared.

London.—Percival Gibson, the Daily Chronicle's Petrograd correspondent, telegraphs:

"The great German guns, which are now making their difficult way back over the marshes to the north and south of the Suwalki, met their match during the fighting on the Niemen. There appeared for the first time the new patterns of the Russian gun of large caliber and considerable mobility, which are the products of the Putloff works."

"Artillery experts who have watched its performance are satisfied that it is equal in power and effect to anything the Germans have yet shown. On the Prussian frontier near Druskenik two of these new guns silenced the German batteries within 10 minutes. The German guns were afterward abandoned on their position, every gunner having been killed."

SMALL WARS MEAN BIG POEMS

Greatest Battle Hymns Have Not Been Inspired by Titanic Struggles Like the Present One.

The greatest poems have been written about little wars. The Iliad was written around a siege carried on by a handful of barbarian chieftains against a city of the second class. The battle of Chevy Chase was a border skirmish following upon a cattle-stealing expedition. And Kipling's imperial muse is at her best when she sings of petty wars with colored tribesmen.

Britain's far-flung battle line was far flung against Derwinters and Afridis; it was seldom brought into collision with field intrenchments and siege artillery. Little war, or else big wars in anticipation of retrospect, these are the rich soil for the poet.

A great war in the actual, the fate of an empire truly at stake, may make poets out of the common crowd, but subdues the poet to the level of the common crowd. There is a solemn tone about Kipling's latest verse which has its effect. Only it is not exhaustion we wanted, but exaltation; not an appeal, but a clarion call. When an entire nation is aflame the poet is apt to find his mission rather perfunctory.

Fashion Note.
One blessing, at least, will come to us from this dreadful war. We shall be inundated with shocking French fashions."

The speaker was a leading clubwoman. She resumed:
"A club dinner the other evening a man fashion writer—man fashion writers are the best—said to me: 'A truce to these foreign modes! They are caricatures.'"

"Caricatures?" said I. "Caricatures? Yes, perhaps. But wouldn't it be more accurate to call them take-offs?"

LIGHT BOOZE.
Do You Drink It?

A minister's wife had quite a tussle with coffee and her experience is interesting. She says:
"During the two years of my training as a nurse, while on night duty, I became addicted to coffee drinking. Between midnight and four in the morning, when the patients were asleep, there was little to do except make the rounds, and it was quite natural that I should want a hot cup of coffee about that time. I could keep awake better."

"After three of four years of coffee drinking, I became a nervous wreck and thought that I simply could not live without my coffee. All this time I was subject to frequent bilious attacks, sometimes so severe as to keep me in bed for several days."

"After being married, Husband begged me to leave off coffee for he feared that it had already hurt me almost beyond repair, so I resolved to make an effort to release myself from the harmful habit."

"I began taking Postum, and for a few days felt the languid, tired feeling from the lack of the coffee drug, but I liked the taste of Postum, and that answered for the breakfast beverage all right."

"Finally I began to feel clearer-headed and had steadier nerves. After a year's use of Postum I now feel like a new woman—I have not had any bilious attacks since I left off coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pks.
Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.
Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.
The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

Kentucky Farmers Move Frequently

Washington, D. C. Oct. 5.—In compiling data for the last federal census, the enumerators asked every farmer in Kentucky this question: "How long have you lived on the farm you now occupy?" This question was answered by 234,050 of the 259,135 farm operators in this state. More than 70,000 stated that they had occupied their farms only one year or less; 53,176 from 2 to 4 years; 37,487 from 5 to 9 years and 72,585 10 years and over. The most restless class of people in this state is the tenant who operates his farm on the share basis.

A TEXAS WONDER.

The Texas Wonder cures kidney and bladder troubles, dissolves gravel, cures diabetes, weak and lame backs, rheumatism, and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women. Regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. One small bottle is two months' treatment, and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Send for Kentucky testimonials. Dr. E. W. Hall, 2016 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo. Sold by druggists.

Peace.

Sunday the people of the United States joined in a prayer for peace in Europe.

A sympathetic appeal was made to the great Father of us all to restore harmony, to end the suffering, the misery, the wanton destruction of human life and property.

We are at peace, we are living in the midst of plenty, we can easily look on from afar and see this bloody tragedy being enacted.

In prayer the voice of this great and prosperous nation was heard the world over.

Peace is the happy, natural

GETTING BETTER AFTER SICKNESS

Nothing has ever equalled or compared with the medicinal value in Scott's Emulsion to arrest the decline, invigorate the blood, strengthen the nervous system, aid the appetite and restore the courage of better health. Scott's Emulsion is pure health-building food, without alcohol or opiate.

state of man, but peace only rules the world when reason rules the minds of men. Peace does not dwell in outward things but reigns within the soul.

The minds of the war lords of Europe are not today ruled with reason. This is why peace seems no longer possible.

When the passions of greed and hate are burned out, when only the ashes of ambition remain, then may reason return and with the coming of reason will be the advent of peace.

From churches throughout our blessed land, from ocean to ocean, from lakes to gulf, the united prayer of our people was uttered in behalf of a stricken people.

May the Father answer this prayer and spare the men and women and children of Europe further suffering.

Two Special Farm Bargains.

The late H. C. Hodge farm, 1 mile west of Pine Bluff, 100 acres, 75 acres fine, creek bottom land; a well improved place with good house, barns, stables, orchard, in fact, one of the best places on the east side. Will sell at a bargain now to settle with his heirs.

Next place is a 300 farm, 3 miles south of Crossland, 100 acres in bottom, $1,000 worth of timber; three settlements, plenty of barns, stables, well watered; will sell the entire tract for $3,750. Better see these places. Murray Land Co., J. D. Hamilton, Manager.

Would Sell Daughter.

Akron, Ohio, Oct. 5.—Six city lots was the price placed on his daughter by John Basco, who admitted to juvenile court authorities he had arranged to sell his daughter, Mary, aged 16, to a man of 60. The man was to marry her.

"I am an old man and can not support myself," he told Judge Lytle. "There is a man of my own age who wishes to marry my daughter. He has promised me six city lots for her. On that I could live comfortably the rest of my life."

The girl will not be returned to her father.

Prison Stripes.

This is an age of mental emancipation, old customs and superstitions are fast giving way to a more, gracious dispensation. This is especially noticeable in the treatment of criminals. Social offenders 25 years ago were treated less like humans than animals. In England the dark cell and the dungeon of silence was still part of the prison system. It was not until John Galsworthy wrote his powerful play, "Justice," that Parliament revolutionized the English prison system. Today prisoners are treated as human beings. They are not forced to carry an additional humiliation with their prison sentence.

The demands of society are such that violations of the laws of the land must be punished. Some men and women, because of their acts of violence, become a menace to those about them. It is necessary, under such circumstances, to isolate them from their fellow beings. The prison receives and holds them until the penalty enacted by law is paid.

New York newspapers have been making considerable comment over the fact that wearing of stripes on Blackwell's Island has been abandoned.

Commissioner of Correction Katherine B. Davis thinks that men paying the penalty for crime should not be constantly reminded by their clothing that they are beyond the pale, that the more self-respect that is put into the jail the more decent citizenship will come out.

Katherine Davis is a woman of great common sense. In the department of correction she has been of invaluable usefulness to New York City. She is one of the most efficient women connected with this kind of work to be found in the United States. She has revolutionized the New York penal system just as the English Parliament revolutionized the prison system of England.

In old days prisoners used to be branded and marked for life. Later on the prison garb of stripes was substituted. In our federal prisons stripes are no longer worn except as a punishment for insubordination or a deliberate infraction of prison rules.

If self-respect is entirely killed within the walls of prison, the offender has nothing to hope for. There is no essential reason why a man should be forced to wear the zebra stripes. The mere fact that he is serving the state is sufficient punishment, without having this additional humiliation forced upon him.

"It shows how we are gradually advancing to more sensible and humane methods of handling social offenders behind prison bars.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a running ear, or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is a result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to the normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's catarrh cure. Send for circular, free.

Shady Hill.

The Community Improvement League Club of Shady Hill, held its first regular program at the school house, Saturday evening, Oct. 3. Owing to the busy time with the farmers in this community at present the attendance was rather small, but those who were present showed splendid interest and the program was well rendered.

The League was organized on September 19th with the following officers: J. H. Fitch, president; Edna Goodwin, vice-president; Miss Lory Bratton, secretary; Mrs. Lily Goodwin, assistant secretary, and J. L. Culver, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. Culver was elected to that office because of his "grit," though other officers because of their qualifications—principally because of their good looks.

The aim of the club is to improve the community socially, educationally and financially.

Better methods of farming is the chief point of interest in the club work. A number of agricultural bulletins were distributed among the members of the club Saturday evening and we hope to secure a farmer's library before long. The possibilities of this kind of work are unlimited and we feel that we may accomplish material good through the efforts of our club work. Outside talent is especially solicited to attend our meetings. Come, be with us and let's all march on together in our pilgrimage toward progress and prosperity.—J. H. Fitch.

What Would You Do?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by all dealers.

Masonic Sign Saves Lives.

The power of free Masonry is illustrated by a story told by a citizen of Louvain, who with the Masonic sign, says he saved fifty of his fellow citizens from being shot to death by German troops.

This group of citizens, according to the recital of the Belgian Mason, had been lined up for execution. The German firing squad had their rifles at "present arms" when the narrator gave a Masonic sign. The German officer commanding the firing squad happened to belong to the craft. He recognized a brother Mason and ordered the Louvain Free-Mason to leave the ranks. This meant sparing his life. The Louvain citizen, however, refused, saying:

"My fellow citizens are no more guilty than I am. If you are going to kill them, I shall be killed with them." The German officer thereupon ordered the release of the entire party.

Honor System is Proper Method.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 6.—Elimination from prisoners of the lock step and the "silent system" was advocated by A. J. G. Wells, warden of the Kentucky State Penitentiary, in an address of "Prison Discipline" Monday before the American Prison Association, which is holding its annual convention here.

The "honor system," music and flowers, and a prison library were urged as invaluable aids in maintaining discipline.

"If the state, through her officials, fails to provide all those agencies which are reasonably calculated to inspire, encourage and ennoble," Mr. Wells declared, "it must happen that the first offender, the occasional or accidental criminal will, on account of his environment, be made worse instead of better."

Prisoners should have the right to see the warden daily, Mr. Wells said, believing that "nothing is so conducive to good government in prison as is the never-failing daily right to be heard at the close of working hours."

"Punishment in the great majority of cases would be the withholding of some privilege from the prisoner which he would otherwise enjoy," Mr. Wells said, "although for major offenses the punishment should be decisive, but always administered in a proper spirit."

Order of Election.

This day came E. B. Ross and W. P. Dulany, residents and legal voters of Magisterial District No. 4, in Calloway county, Kentucky, and filed a petition signed by themselves and more than 20 other residents and legal voters of said District, and L. A. Beaman and J. A. Myers, residents and legal voters of Magisterial District No. 5, Calloway county, Kentucky, and filed a petition signed by themselves and more than 20 other residents and legal voters of said District, asking the court to make the necessary order for the submission of the question "Are you in favor of making it unlawful for cattle or any species thereof to run at large upon the public highways and unenclosed lands in Magisterial Districts Nos. 4 and 5 in Calloway county, Kentucky," and the said petitioners having deposited with the Judge of the Calloway County court the sum of Ten Dollars, which sum the court doth adjudge is sufficient to defray the expenses of said election in said Districts on said question, it is now therefore ordered that the election officers of the several voting precincts in Magisterial Districts Nos. 4 and 5, Calloway county, Kentucky, at the next regular election to be held on the third day of November, 1914, open a poll in their several voting places at such time and places as are prescribed by law for said election for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters in Magisterial Districts Nos. 4 and 5, Calloway county, Kentucky. It is further ordered that a notice of said order for said election on said question be published in at least four issues of a newspaper published in Calloway county, Kentucky, at least 20 days before said election; said publication to be made in the newspaper having the largest bona fide circulation in said county, and said required publication shall state that it is desired to prohibit the running at large of cattle and all species thereof in Magisterial Districts Nos. 4 and 5, Calloway county, Kentucky. Tied Him Hand and Foot.

Last Monday night there was a show here and the manager offered $10 to anyone who could tie him so he could not get loose. F. H. Oakes, the concrete man, tied the show man, and, after trying a while, the victim gave up and said: "Cut the rope and cut it quick." The show did not make much money here, so promised to pay the $10 the next night but the first train out of town the next day took the show people.—Smiths Grove Times.

Dr. U. G. Gallimore and family, who have resided for the past several years a few miles west of the city, left the first of this week for McCracken county near Melber where he has made a large purchase of real estate. It is with a feeling of genuine regret that the Ledger sees these splendid people leave Calloway county, and joins with their many friends in the hope that they will find both a pleasant and profitable home in their new location.

Tom Adams, of the Martins Chapel section of the county, died very suddenly last Monday morning at about 8 o'clock of paralysis. He was taken ill at about 4 o'clock and survived only a few hours. Mr. Adams was a widely known citizen about 65 years of age and his sudden taking away came as a severe shock to his family and community.

He had been in good health for some time and attended church Sunday at South Pleasant Grove. He is survived by a wife, one daughter and six sons. The funeral and burial took place Wednesday. About three weeks ago Billie Adams, brother of Tom, died after a short illness. The relatives and family have the sympathy of many friends in the loss of these well known and splendid citizens.

Horse Flesh Used in Hamburger Meat.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 7.—Discovery of the wide sale of hamburger made from horse meat in Louisville was followed yesterday by warrants being sworn to by health officers for Albert C. Koch, owner of a slaughterhouse at 1403 Quency street, and Joseph Oppenheimer, a wholesale meat dealer with a plant back of the Kentucky Institute for the blind on Frankfort avenue.

Oppenheimer last night emphatically denied he had slaughtered any horses, or any animals at all for that matter. He asserted he purchased all the meat he handled from the pig packers of Chicago and other points in the West. He said he understood a warrant had been issued for him, but that it had not been served.

E. O. Witherspoon, first assistant health officer, charged that Oppenheimer and Koch slaughtered horses and that the meat later was sold for hamburger. Koch could not be found. The cases will be tried in Magistrate Dacher's court, but the date has not been fixed.

Health officers estimate that 14,000 pounds of horse meat has been sold or offered for sale in Louisville within the past two or three months. The animals too old to work, were purchased for from $5 to $20 each. Besides selling the meat to butchers, the men slaughtering the horses sold the hides for about $4.50 and then disposed of the bones and other parts to fertilizer plants.

Health officials point out that the business must have been a paying one and detailed the difficulty they had in making progress in hunt for the persons responsible for the imposition.

The "horse hamburger" was sold to butchers at 10 cents a pound wholesale, several cents under the wholesale price of beef hamburger. Although more than twelve butchers were interviewed by the health officers, all denied they had knowingly sold horse meat and contended that they believed the meat was beef. When it was learned they had horse hamburger they took it off the counters and threw it away, they said.

When Croup Comes Treat Externally

The old system of dosing delicate little stomachs with nauseous drugs and trying the external treatment—Vick's "Vapo-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve. Just rub a little over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The warmth of the body releases vapors of Pine Tar, Menthol, Thymol, and Eucalyptol, that loosen the choking phlegm and ease the difficult breathing immediately. One application at bedtime insures a sound night's sleep. Vick's is better than internal medicines for all forms of cold troubles. Three sizes—25c, 50c and $1.00.

VICK'S CROUP AND PNEUMONIA SALVE

Kills His Son-in-Law.

Because Preston Evans accused his wife of intimacy with another man, Geo. Wynns shot and killed Evans, his son-in-law, at Pace, in the 23rd district of this county Wednesday evening of last week about dark.

Evans, we understand, bore the reputation of being a bad man, and when he went to the home of Mr. Evans, his father-in-law, Wednesday, the latter thought he had come to do him violence, as bad blood had existed between them for a long time. There were no eye witnesses to the shooting. Wynns lived only a short time.

Evans was given a preliminary trial before a justice of the peace and released on bond. —Paris Parisian.

Why Not Publish It?

When you want a fact to become generally known, the right way is to publish it. Mrs. Joseph Kallans, Peru, Ind., was troubled with belching, sour stomach and frequent headaches. She writes, "I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me. They have helped my digestion and regulated my bowels. Since using them I have been entirely well." Selecting Seed Corn.

The Chamber of Commerce in Temple, Tex., has published a bulletin urging farmers to select their seed corn from the crops now maturing. The seed, says the circular, should be chosen in the field, and never from the crib. Next year's yield will be improved if the best ears in this year's crop are selected for seed and so handled that they will germinate next spring. The seed corn should be picked before the fall rains set in. The advice to Texas farmers, which applies as well in Kentucky, is, in part, as follows:

"Care should be taken in selecting the seed from the field to use only such ears as grow two on a stalk. The law of nature is that like produces like, and that corn growing but one ear to the stalk produces seed that will have a tendency to produce a variety of one ear to the stalk. In Texas, we now have a variety of corn that, on the whole, is producing but one ear to the stalk. This is the result of selecting seed from the crib, in which it is pointed out that the result is usually the selection of the 'one-ear-to-the-stalk' variety.

"The average yield of corn in Texas for 1910 was but 20.6 bushels per acre, whereas in Connecticut, as the result of careful seed selection and improved methods of culture, the average yield was 53.2 bushels per acre.

"There is no reason why Texas soils may not by intelligent effort be made to produce as large yield of corn as are produced in any State in the Union."

Millions of dollars profit would arise—and therefore millions of wealth would be created in Kentucky—if every farmer who grows corn would give to developing corn the attention that is given to developing blooded stock. Careful selection of seed corn is just as important as careful selection of sires for colts or calves. Yet many farmers plant scrub corn knowing what it is, and many others trust to seedmen and to luck to get the right quality, paying about four times as much per bushel for seed selected by someone else as they get for corn grown upon their own acres.

The United States Department of Agriculture will, upon application, furnish farmers with abundant free directions as to the selection of seed corn and as to the care of the corn during the winter. Instructions enabling the farmer to test the corn to find out whether it is alive and will grow are also provided. Farmers who take simple precautions against planting corn that will not sprout save themselves crop failure or the expense of replanting.

Kentucky's average is about as small as that of Texas, although there is plenty of Kentucky land that could be made to produce from fifty to seventy-five bushels an acre, and some of it will produce, under proper seed selection, more than 100 bushels an acre. The farmers who get only twenty or thirty bushels from ground that will grow two or three times as much spends just as much for fencing his land, and just as much for cultivating, as if it were being made to produce the maximum. And the whole programme of scientific cultivation may be knocked into a cocked hat by planting the wrong kind of seed corn.

The farmer who selects his own seed corn knows what he is planting. If he takes the additional precaution of testing the corn before planting time he knows whether it will come up. Of the various kinds of shiftlessness that are possible, and even common, in agricultural communities, none is more costly than going it blind in the matter of seed corn.

The Negro Who Sold His Vote.

The freedom of the negroes cost the life blood of the fairest and best young men of the nation. The ballot was given him believing that he would measure up to the demand of American citizen. But he has trampled the privilege under his "hollow" foot and sold himself to the greatest and most malignant enemy of his race. He has turned his back upon the only true friend that he has—the Christian white man. He has lined up with those who have no use for him but to use him and then, like a squeezed lemon, throw him away. Even some of the preachers and editors get down in the filth of "liquor politics." Low ideals cannot make a mighty race. —Prohibition column, Cadiz Record.

Honest Men Not All Dead.

While in Somerset some months ago Mr. T. J. Marcum, of Alpha, was accosted by a gentleman, who inquired if he was not a former stock trader of Wayne county, and upon being answered in the affirmative, introduced himself as W. A. Jones, of Lala. He informed Mr. Marcum that about twenty years ago he had sold him some cattle and on being paid for same had been given $10 too much money, two bills being stuck together. He then told him that he did not have the money with him, but would send it to him, if he would give him his address. Marcum told him to send him $5 and they would call it square, and a few days ago Mr. Marcum received the money by registered mail.

The Devil's Own.

What else is the dropping of a bomb into the heart of city but murder?

If the American embassy had been destroyed and the Hon.

Myrin T. Herrick, the American ambassador killed, why might not the government of the United States—with as good reason

as the Kaiser's imperial government had to authorize the throw-the right to take Count von

Bernstorff, the German ambassador, to the top of the Washing-

the capitol and fling him headlong to the earth beneath?

The murder would not be more heinous in one case than in the other.

What is the slaughter on the fringe lines outside of Paris but murder? It is not war. There is no chance for individual valor. There is little, if any, show of military skill. There is nothing but brute force blind to consequences and bloody butchery disgraceful to savages. It is murder pure and simple; in its authors cold-blooded and calculated; in its victims cruel and wanton; such only as we read of in tales of the Iroquois, the Se-neecas and the Wyandottes. The ghosts of the braves look on from their happy hunting grounds amazed. If they were alive they would be ashamed.

We have called it the war of Kentucky Drying Up.

(Memphis Commercial Appeal)

Kentucky, supposed the "wettest" spot in the union, the habitat of the julep and the mother of Bourbon whiskey, is "drying up."

It is one of the astonishing things of modern state movements that this is a fact. When the antiliquor men, after a long and apparently hopeless fight, of "corn" as the corn is of "kernels"—even Bourbon voted itself into the column, and forfeited its chief industry.

To what purpose the planters will put their famous Bourbon corn, so prolific in yield, so abounding in "the juice," remains to be seen. Whether cereal factories and meal mills will spring up on the "hillside by the stillside" is a mystery of the future.

Louisville and Lexington, in Jefferson and Fayette counties, respectively, are the fortresses in which John Barleycorn has most strongly entrenched himself. They are still "wet to the skin," and will make the last and strongest fight for the saloon. The other counties that are holding out against the prohibition movement are not so important, having in them no large or influential cities.

It is not only the astonishing fact that the Kentucky counties are voluntarily going dry that calls for comment; it is the significance of the fact as it bears on future legislation, agriculture and trade in the bluegrass section. "Shutting up the saloons is a more radical change there than in almost any other state, for the production of liquor has been a leading industry. Not only the men who sell and buy whiskey, but the men who manufacture it, will face new conditions. These latter will be obliged to seek new methods of making a living.

Few people ever thought the time would come when the Kentucky saloonist would be a veritable Othello with his occupation gone.

Ringling Bros. Circus is Announced.

Official information confirms the announcement that on Oct.

22 Ringling Brothers' circus will give two performances in Paducah.

Many new features have been added this year, the most notable of which is the spectacle

"Solomon and the Queen of Sheba." This colossal production is presented with a cast of 1,250 people, a ballet of 300 dancing girls, 735 horses, 32 camels and a trainload of scenery, costumes and properties on the biggest stage in the world.

Following the spectacle, a circus program of unusual brilliancy will be presented, including an array of foreign and American acts new to the circus world.

The menagerie contains 1,003 wild animals, 41 elephants, five giraffes and a "baby zoo." The circus is transported on 89 double length cars. Special arrangements have been made by the railroads to accommodate the crowds that will visit the circus

from this city and the surrounding country.

regard to the ridiculousness of

have come in for the greatest amount of ridicule and comment.

Indeed, if a person would look over the tax books and see some of the lists with which they are
