ACCIDENTS

Two Deaths Result In Heavy County Loss

An accident, one of the most appalling that the community has suffered in many months, was that of last Sunday afternoon when Tip Porter McConnell, aged 18, son of J. D. McConnell, of the New Boston vicinity, fell instantly killed from the rim of a shot gun in the hands of his young friend hunter, Raymond Yates. The contents took effect in the rear of the head, tearing away the brain and upper portions of the skull. Interment and the funeral service conducted by Rev. D. T. Spaulding, took place Sunday afternoon at Oak Hill.

Burns from falling into a tub of hot water, and which proved fatal just twelve hours later, were sustained Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock at the home of the parents on Market street, by Corinne, aged three years, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Sparks, the former a well known business man here and member of the dry goods firm of John W. Phillips & Co. Prayers were said by Rev. J. W. Waters of the M. E. church and Eld. J. T. Barnett of the Christian church, followed by interment at Cottage Grove.

No arrests have yet been made as a result of the bold robberies and attempted robberies at Puryear a week ago last night, when entrance was effected into the store of Cooper Littleton and the undertaking establishment of R. L. Douglas, and an effort was made to enter the postoffice and the bank. The authorities are still on the watch.

George Chenoweth and sister, Katie, returned through Paris on Monday from a visit to relatives near Murray. Paris is a fine town.

Often it is that way when people neglect coughs and colds. Don't risk your life when prompt use of Dr. King's New Discovery will cure them and so prevent a dangerous throat or lung trouble. "It completely cured me, in a short time, of a terrible cough that followed a severe case of Grip," writes J. R. Watts, Floydada, Tex., and I regained 15 pounds in weight that I had lost." Quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Dale & Stubblefield.

If At First You Don't Succeed.

Bonny Bowden, of Dukedom, Tenn., who is a little under 21 in years of age, encountered much trouble in getting married. His beloved Miss Hetty Anderson, lived in Calloway county, but he came to Mayfield last Saturday and asked for license to get married. The county clerk informed him that as the girl lived in Calloway, he had better go to Murray and procure his license.

Notwithstanding the cold weather, he journeyed to Murray and there the county clerk informed him that he was to young and that he would have to get the consent of his parents or guardian. He then concluded to take his beloved to Dukedom and try his luck there.

When he reached that place he encountered no further trouble and he and his young bride were soon married and peace and happiness now reigns in his bosom. Mayfield Messenger.

Held to Grand Jury.

Noble Wilson and Irvan Forrest, charged with assaulting G. M. Hamilton, a Paducah furniture man, at the depot in this city some few weeks ago, were given a preliminary hearing before Judge Simpson and were bound over to circuit court under bonds of $150 each, which they promptly executed.

IN BUNCHES

South Graves County Mothers Present Proud "Papa" With Triplets and Twins the Past Week.

Mayfield, Ky., Feb. 20. On Tuesday night, Feb. 13, Mrs. Walter Buck, of the south part of the county, gave birth to triplets, two fine boys and a girl. Mr. Buck lives a short distance east of Dukedom, and is well known in Mayfield. He and his good wife are both very proud of this big addition to their family, and are being congratulated by their neighborhood friends in keeping down as much as possible the fear of race suicide in Graves county at least.

On the same night, the daughter of Thomas Johnson, a well known farmer of the same neighborhood, presented her husband with twins, two nice boys.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with lame back or pains in the side or chest give it a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt result which it affords. Sold by all dealers.

Granted a New Trial.

The case of John Thomas and Stanley Thomas, appealed from Graves county has been reversed by the court of appeals and a new trial ordered. The defendants were given two to five years each at the last November term of the Graves circuit court for shooting and wounding Will Wilson, deputy constable of Dukedom. The men are now in jail in Mayfield and their second trial will probably be held at the March term of circuit court. They assaulted Officer Wilson, shooting him once and bruising him with a stick. Three indictments were returned against them but they have only been tried in one.

You are probably aware that pneumonia always results from a cold, but you never heard of a cold resulting in pneumonia where Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. Why take the risk when this remedy may be had for a trifle? For sale by all dealers.

May Lose Sight.

The Paducah Sun of the 20th says of Stanley Vincent, of this county, who was accidentally shot during the holidays by Sandy Allen, and who is now in Paducah for treatment: "Stanley Vincent may be blind for life. He is at the Riverside Hospital undergoing treatment to save the vision of his left eye if possible. During the holidays Vincent was out hunting and was accidentally shot by his companion. A shot penetrated his left eye, seriously damaging the ball and impairing the sight. The bullet severed the right optic nerve and the sight of the eye is gone forever. It is hoped to save the sight of the left eye, although it is in a serious condition. Sedentary habits, lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient mastication of food, constipation, a torpid liver, worry and anxiety are the most common causes of stomach troubles. Correct your habits and take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be well again. For sale by all dealers.

A Bee in His Bonnet.

R. C. Butterworth, the popular merchant at Farmington, was in the city Monday and stated to a Messenger reporter that in time he would probably be a candidate for the democratic nomination for sheriff of Graves county.

Mr. Butterworth is a fine business man, honest and accommodating, and will make the county, if elected, a first class official. In the event he enters the race, it may be expected that he will soon get largely into the running. Mayfield Messenger.

APRIL 10TH

Republicans Will Hold State Convention and County Mass Conventions April 6th.

Louisville, Feb. 20. After a long and rather tedious session the Republican State Central Committee in Kentucky yesterday afternoon issued a call for a state convention in Louisville April 10 to select delegates from Kentucky to the National Republican Convention, which meets in Chicago June 18 to nominate a candidate for President.

Mass conventions will be held in the various counties April 6 to select delegates to the state convention. Arrangements were also made that the various precinct committeemen shall be chosen April 6, and that the various county committees shall be organized fifteen days thereafter.

Everything done by the committee was in accordance with instructions from Senator Bradley. While the committee was in session Mr. Bradley remained in his room in another part of the Galt House, but he was in regular communication with that body and his orders were executed without the slightest deviation. Probably the most remarkable feature of the evening was the passage of a resolution offered by Mr. McCullough, indorsing Mr. Taft for renomination.

lature and other things are unconstitutionally heaping upon us. If the tobacco association goes down? If the tobacco association continues farmers here may hold their own but progress will proceed slow even at that. Every meeting of the Legislature crushes the poor old plodding farmer and his suffering family worse and worse. I can see no relief for us now only through omnipotent hand by the effects of war.

Kind wishes to the Ledger its readers and correspondents. Aunt Joe.

The Difference.

Miss Robbie Littleton was carried Friday to the Mason & Keys hospital at Murray, where she was operated on for appendicitis. She is doing splendidly at this writing.

CAN YOU PAY US FOURTH MONDAY?

We are at work making out statements to all who are due us for subscription to the Ledger and expect to be able to send these out at an early date. Quite a large number have responded to our last week's call for payment and we will wait until after next Monday (fourth Monday) to give the others opportunity to pay who will. Try and come around at this time and help us out. We must insist and also assure you that we are sorely in need of the money.

Our city subscribers are again notified that Hal Jennings will be around again, and then again and again until you settle your accounts. Why put him off? You owe the amount. Come down and look at our books and if you will find a single instance where we ever failed to credit you with every cent you have ever paid us we'll buy you a hat. The amount is small but place a few thousand small amounts together and see what it will make in a sum total. No use saying our books are not correct, for THEY ARE CORRECT.

COURTS WRANGLE, MURDERERS HANG

JAILER FORESTALLS COURT ORDER BY EXECUTING THE MEN.

Four Whites Murder Truck-Gardener—Negro Sought Habeas Corpus on Ground of Conviction by Finger Print Evidence.

Chicago. More men were hanged in Chicago than anywhere else for throwing the Haymarket bomb in the anarchist riots of 1886.

Two murders caused five men to walk to the gallows, and drop to their death, while four were hanged for the Haymarket bomb-throwing. Frank Shilawski, Ewell Shilawski, his brother; Philip Sommering and Thomas Schultz, slayers of Fred W. Taylor, Jr., a truck gardener, whom they killed in cold blood, after robbing him, died while their spiritual adviser was seeking to convince a judge that the four were insane.

The execution of the men, who were hanged in pairs, the Shilawski brothers last, out-shed the place.

The hanging of Thomas Jennings, a negro, who killed Clarence Miller, came after Judge Landis, in the United States district court, had denied a petition for release on a writ of habeas corpus, which set forth that Jennings had been convicted on fingerprint evidence, which he had been compelled to give the police in violation of his rights.

The Shilawski brothers were the first to mount the scaffold and the drop had scarcely fallen when a hail of fire from the gallery of the superior court rushed into the jail and summoned Jailer Davies to court.

The command was not obeyed, and instead, Chief Deputy Sheriff Peters telephoned to the judge that two of the men had been hanged and that the execution would proceed unless a formal writ prevented.

No writ was issued, and Sommering and Schultz followed their companions in crime to the gallows.

Representatives of the state's attorney's office resisted the attempt to delay the executions, and told Judge McKelvey that the petition alleging insanity, which under the law is a bar to execution, was presented for the purpose of delay.

While arguments on the filing of the petition were proceeding the Shilawski brothers were hanged.

Jailer Davies assisted in taking the bodies of the four from the gallows and were complying with the order to appear in court.

THREE CHILDREN BURNED

Home With Babes Burn Before Parents Are Aware of It.

Chickasha, Okla.—Three children ranging in age from six months to four years were burned to death in a fire at the farm home of Tom Friend. The children were asleep in the house, the mother was in the barnyard milking and the father had gone to the field and the house was burned to the ground and the three children cremated before the parents were aware of the fire.

WILL PLANT LESS COTTON

Alabama Planters' Fertilizer Purchases Greatly Decrease.

Montgomery, Ala.—Indicating that the cotton acreage in this state will be materially reduced this season, figures compiled by the state department of agriculture show that one-half a million less fertilizer tags have been sold this year as compared with the sales made up to the corresponding date last year. Last year 1,500,000 tags had been sold, while the number issued this year is 1,000,000.

Slays His Two Children.

Cleveland, O.—When Adam Bopch called at the home of Peter Czernich, he looked through a window and saw two little bodies on a bed. He called the police, who found Czernich on the floor with his throat cut. On the bed, lay two naked, almost severed, by the bodies of Czernich's children. Czernich died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital. The mother was away from home at the time of the tragedy. Czernich was dependent because he was out of work, and for that reason killed his children and himself.

Little Bald Head

By A. MARIA CRAWFORD

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press)

"When a man loves a woman as well as I love you, and when you admit that you love me but refuse to marry me, I believe that I am justified in wanting to know exactly why."

They were having late supper at a table in an alcove in a large restaurant. The gold tassel at the side of her little theater cap swayed slightly as she leaned her head over, staring at the white cloth with its mound of yellow roses.

"Look at me, Helen! It's high time that we threshed this thing out," continued John Haldon quietly.

Helen Rayner's face flushed painfully. "I—I wish you wouldn't discuss such personal things here."

"Nobody is listening to us," Dean Sherwood is grinning his usual 'She'll never have you, my boy,' and I am not willing to submit to expressive public speculation any more. You'll either have to take me now or chuck me over for good. I won't hang fire another day."

"Mercy, John! You astonish me. You are so dramatic. Be pleasant and let's enjoy this excellent supper."

"Helen, I have put a plain question to you. I can't force you to the last time. You can't play with me and my love for you another day."

Her eyes met his for a fleeting second and she saw a stern look on his face that forbade further bantering.

"What is it you want to know, John?"

"Do you still admit that you love me?"

"Yes, you must know that I do."

"Then why aren't you willing to marry me? I can offer you all that your father is able to give you."

"I am not ready to settle down. I want to have a good time. When a girl is not yet twenty-two she doesn't want to give up all her fun."

"Granted, but why give it up? Is it because you want other men around?"

"No. As it is, I go practically everywhere with you now."

"Helen, it's because of Tom Grayner. You want to remain single until after he comes home with your brother in the spring. He has more money than I have. Are you mercenary, after all?"

"If I didn't love you, John Haldon, I would never speak to you again. I'll tell you why I haven't wanted to marry you. You have so many theories, I—I have been afraid I would fail as your wife. Now, that's the truth."

"What do you mean, Helen?"

"You believe in what you call brotherhood and try to help people who are less fortunate than you are. You believe in really doing service for your friends. For instance, when Jim Thornton's trouble came and I remonstrated with you for giving up your time as well as your money to help him, you said, 'Anybody's money can accomplish as much as mine, but nobody can do for that boy as I can, for he loves me and has faith in me. With a little encouragement and help from me, he will soon get on his feet again. He will do whatever I expect of him. I never forgot those words. They were indicative of your outlook on people in general and on me in particular. I am afraid to fail you.'"

"I don't expect any help from you, dear."

"That's just it. You think you won't, but if we ever come to marriage, you would be sorry that you had taken a woman who was in no sense your helpmeet. I know, John, I have thought about it a great many times and tried to laugh the fear out of my heart."

"Don't say that, Helen. It's like a whip in my face."

"You expect so much of a woman. Perhaps I am not the woman you want to marry. I am selfish. All my life I've been warm, silk-lined and well-fed. I have never thought of anybody's comfort but my own."

"Hereditary and environment have created that attitude. When the time comes for any service, you will not be lacking either in willingness or in ability. I know you better than you know yourself."

"At any rate, your faith in me is stimulating."

"I love you, Helen. Are you going to put me out of your life tonight for a mere shadowy fear that will prove to have no substance?"

She sat there, toying with a jeweled chain about her throat and looking curiously at some new arrivals.

"Why, John," she said, forgetting his tender love speech and all-important question, "those people must be stopping between trains. I never saw a baby out at this time of the night."

"Possibly not," he answered indifferently.

"Poor little woman! She can't eat with that baby jumping about so. I believe that I will offer to hold it. It will be a good opportunity to try working out your pet theory that a woman is never so happy as when she is serving men or children."

He smiled as she rose and with her characteristic grace and charm asked if she might hold the baby for a little time.

Her tall slender figure in its shimmering white gown, her head bent a little over the laughing baby reaching his dimpled hands for the elusive gold tassel over the girl's ear made a charming picture to the man who waited for them.

"Watch out, Helen, he'll tear that gold face on your gown!" he warned, but Helen only laughed at him over the little bald head.

"Isn't he dear? Isn't he little and soft and clinging? Am I holding him right so that I won't hurt his back or the soft spot in his head? I remember being warned against injuring those parts of a baby's anatomy."

"Trust a woman to feel those things without any teaching! It's instinctive. You don't have to be."

"Do you still admit that you love me?"

"Yes, you must know that I do."

"Then why aren't you willing to marry me? I can offer you all that your father is able to give you."

"I am not ready to settle down. I want to have a good time. When a girl is not yet twenty-two she doesn't want to give up all her fun."

"Granted, but why give it up? Is it because you want other men around?"

"No. As it is, I go practically everywhere with you now."

KNUX MAY NOT VISIT COLOMBIA

COLOMBIAN MINISTER SUGGESTS TIME IS "INOPPORTUNE"

Minister's Suggestion Taken in Diplomatic Circles as Personal Affront to This Government.

Washington. A grave diplomatic situation between the United States and Colombia has been precipitated by the publication of a letter which Senor Pedro Nel Ospina, the Colombian minister, has written to Acting Secretary Huntington Wilson at the state department, suggesting that it might be "inopportune" for Secretary Knux to visit Colombia during his projected tour of Central America.

The Colombian minister, first drawing attention to the fact that the views are his own and not officially those of his government, seriously criticizes the United States for not submitting to arbitration the differences with Colombia growing out of this government's acquisition of the Panama canal zone.

Inasmuch as the letter, admittedly, is the personal expression of the minister, without having been communicated with his government, it was received at the state department in the nature of a personal insult to this government.

Acting Secretary Wilson had advised Senor Ospina of the probable itinerary of Secretary Knux. What he said for particularly aroused the Colombian minister was a reference to the Republic of Panama in the itinerary, a country whose independence Colombia never has recognized. He makes veiled reference to the long delay of the United States in answering several notes addressed to it, seeking arbitration, and charges that this government has discriminated against Colombia in failing to give to her arbitration, which the United States is now offering to other members of the family of nations.

Representative Henry Demarest, into Black Hand Methods.

Washington. Representative Henry Demarest, chairman of the house rules committee, made a sensational speech in the house, in which he attacked the money power in Wall Street and demanded an inquiry into "the black hand methods of the financial mafia in this country."

He counseled a thoroughgoing investigation before congress accepted the Aldrich plan of currency reform.

"It is not true," asked Mr. Rogers, "to inquire into these black hand methods of the financial mafia, which exist in this country?"

He attacked the alleged money monopoly in Wall Street and assumed that "no effective investigation can be made into the ramifications of either currency legislation, the trusts and interstate commerce corporations until congress understands the methods of the insiders and almost supreme money power."

CONFEDERATES PLAY PART Will Assist in Celebration of Battle of Gettysburg.

Philadelphia. Confederate veterans are to have a big part in the celebration of the fifty-fifth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg.

Col. Butler, secretary of the Pennsylvania commission, reported that the eve is looked forward to with eager anticipation in the South. He has just returned from a Southern trip.

According to Col. Butler, it is practically certain that all of the Southern states will name commissions and make appropriation for the transportation of their veterans to Gettysburg and their participation in the reunion exercises.

NEW YORK LOSING ITS GRIP

New Orleans and Other Towns Make Foreign Trade Gains.

New York.—New Orleans, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and San Francisco are far outstripping the metropolis of the country in attracting trade opportunities of South America and preparing for new trade with the opening of the Panama canal, declared John Barrett, director-general of the Pan-American Union, in an address at the Republican Club luncheon. New York City seemed too absorbed in its own "magnificent egoism," and too comfortably resting in the cozy corners of trade to be alive to the opportunities in the South American continent.

SMOTHERS HER INFANT

Mother's Way of Showing Sympathy for Relative Results Fatally.

Columbus, O.—In an agony of sympathizing grief for her relative, Mrs. John T. Smith, whose little son had been drowned in the Seloto river, Mrs. Clinton Law clasped her own infant so tightly that it was smothered to death. Following the recovery of the body of their son, John T. Smith and his wife were united after an estrangement lasting through two years.

Cardinal Opposes Suffrage

New Orleans.—In his talk to the girls of St. Joseph's parochial school, Cardinal Gibbons said he hoped they would not make use of the ballot even if it were tendered. "For if you do," he said, "you will have to give up other and more important things."

Mad at Mule—Kills Son

Albertville, Ala.—While enraged with a mule Jim Bodine threw a heavy stone at the animal, missing it and striking the mule's head, killing the mule.

Mean People.

Henry Russell, the head of the Boston opera, was describing his foreign tour in need of talent.

"They were mean people," he said of the singers of a certain city. "I could do no business with them. They thought only of money."

Mr. Russell's opinion of the singers was as bad as the man who discovered the Blank theater fire.

"The first intimation the box office had of this fire came at the end of the third act, from a fat man who bounded down the gallery stairs, struck his face in at the ticket window and shouted breathlessly:

"Theater's afire! Gimme me money back!"

But Mamma Didn't. Little Mabel was always tumbling down and getting hurt, but as soon as her mother kissed the bumped forehead Mabel would believe it cured and cease crying. One day she accompanied her mother to the Union depot, and while they were seated in the crowded waiting room an intoxicated man entered the door, tripped over a suitcase, and fell sprawling on the floor. The attention of every one was attracted to the incident, and in the sudden silence following the fall Mabel called out:

"Don't cry, man. Mamma'll kiss you, and 'on so 'll he all right!"—Lippincott's Magazine

THE DOCTOR HABIT

And How She Overcame It.

When well selected food has helped the honest physician place his patient in sturdy health and free from the "doctor habit," it is a source of satisfaction to all parties. A Chicago woman says:

"We have not had a doctor in the house during all the 5 years that we have been using Grape-Nuts food. Before we began, however, we had the doctor habit, and scarcely a week went by without a call on our physician."

"When our youngest boy arrived, 5 years ago, I was very much run down and nervous, suffering from indigestion and almost continuous headaches. I was not able to attend to my ordinary domestic duties and was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself. Under advice I took to Grape-Nuts."

"I am now, and have been ever since we began to use Grape-Nuts food, able to do all my own work. The dyspepsia, headaches, nervousness and rheumatism which used to drive me fairly wild, have entirely disappeared."

"My husband finds that in the night work in which he is engaged, Grape-Nuts food supplies him the most wholesome, strengthening and satisfying lunch he ever took with him." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "Wallpapering in Colors." Ever read the one appears to be the most interesting.

There is but one way to reach the buying public with an advertisement and that is through the columns of the Ledger, but we are also satisfied from reading Mr. Nix's advertisement that he has the goods and the prices to go with the advertisement, an added reason why the result was so satisfactory. Give Mr. Nix a chance before you leave your home community to trade.

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well Known Murray People Tell it So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Murray the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read the testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

Mrs. H. B. Miller, Murray, Ky., says: "I had such severe pains in my back that I could not stoop and when I lifted, sharp twinges darted through my loins. My back ached at night and when I arose in the morning I was very lame. I became tired easily and occasionally suffered from nervous spells and headaches. The kidney secretions were unnatural and greatly annoyed me. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Dale & Stubblefield's drugstore and began their use. In a short time I felt better and I was soon cured. I think highly of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

We have been having a debate at the Hardin college for about a month every Friday night, and we also have a good teacher in Prof. A. J. Wells.

Jim Jackson has added a great deal to the looks of his place.

Rob Jackson visited his father in Marshall county Friday.

Ask Mr. Fred Jackson how he likes to go to parties.

Mr. Twyman Pugh was right sick one night this week but is better, and I think if he goes to monkeying at many more parties he will have a spell of fever.

Jim Jackson gave the young folks a party last Saturday night which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Sis Greenfield, of near Hardin, is right sick and he has gone to Murray for treatment by Dr. Will Mason.

Mr. Chas. Bennett has purchased a part of Mr. Pugh's farm.

Less Jackson has moved down on the Mayfield road about six miles, but he has to come back every once in a while to see pa and ma.

We think if Henry Jackson keeps on going east there will be another wedding right soon.

There has been quite a lot of trading around Hardin the past week. And Mr. Tom Miller got all of the pie in them.

We are so positive that our remedy will permanently relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine at our expense should it fail to produce satisfactory results.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate, and weaken the bowels and tend to make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous.

Constipation is caused by a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect permanent relief you must tone up and strengthen these organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our recommendation. They are exceedingly pleasant to take, being eaten like candy, and are ideal for children, delicate persons and old folks, as well as for the robust. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on other associate organs or glands. They do not purge, cause excessive looseness nor create any inconvenience whatever. They may be taken at any time, day or night. They will positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation, if not of surgical variety, and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic, if taken with regularity for a reasonable length of time, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold in Murray only at our store — The Rexall Store. Dale & Stubblefield.
