READY RESERVES — Posing for this group picture in front of the barracks at the Memphis Air base are members of Co. C, 844th Engineer Construction Battalion, after they received final instructions before moving on to Camp Rucker, Ala. The group included teachers, postal workers and factory men, who were called to active duty following the Berlin crisis. For some of the men, it was their third call to arms, having served during World War II and the Korean crisis. Standing at extreme right are Lt. Robert Troyer, acting company commander; and Master Sergeant James Ryans, acting first sergeant. Most of the company had already gone to Alabama when photograph was taken. (Withers Photo)

37 Memphis Reserves Report To Fort Rucker

Some 37 Memphis reserves, called back to arms after the Berlin Crisis arose, left here last Friday morning, en route to Fort Rucker, Ala., and active duty for an indefinite period.

An advance party from Company C, 844th Engineering Construction Battalion, had already gone to the Alabama post. It included First Sgt. Martin L. Dowdy, highest ranking non-commissioned officer in the area, and a former assistant warehouse foreman at the Memphis Army depot.

The last men fell in ranks at the Memphis Air base on Thursday morning, and were told by the acting company commander, First Lt. Robert Troyer, that they were to report to Fort Rucker, Ala., on Friday afternoon, no later than 4 p.m.

FINAL ORDERS

Those soldiers not present for the roll call at that time he said, would be considered AWOL and would be subject to disciplinary action unless some reasonable emergency prevented them from arriving on time.

Relaxing in front of the barracks just before they received their final orders, the men were not enthusiastic about returning to military life.

Lt. Troyer hinted that the company, reportedly the last segregated unit in the United States Army, would be integrated after it was brought up to full strength at Fort Rucker, and he said the present members would be in line for promotions.

Two brothers were among the group who left here last Friday. They were Master Sergeant James Ryans of 588 Baltimore st., and Staff Sergeant John Ryan of 2666 Midland ave. Both were employed at the Sam Belz Upholstering company at the time they were called back to service.

LEAVING JOBS

The group also included Sergeant Greeney Walls of 741 Hanley st., a regular mail handler at the post office for the past five years, and who said he would be getting his job back after his stint at Fort Rucker.

Frederick Letcher, a former music teacher at Klondike elementary school, who lives at 585 Crump blvd., was employed for only one year before he was called to active duty.

Ernest K. Davis, 446 Lipford ave., was leaving his job as a substitute teacher at Lester High school. He had also been a part-time advertising salesman for the Tri-State Defender.

Another school man, who had traded the classroom for the training field was Master Sergeant J. Other Locke of 1550 Britton st., who had been an National Defense Cadet Corps instructor at Hamilton

Alumni Charter Bus For Clash In Baton Rouge

The Memphis chapter of the Tennessee State Alumni Association is chartering a bus to Baton Rouge, La., on Saturday, Nov. 4, to watch the Tennessee Tigers of Nashville clash with the Southern university Jaguars on that date.

The bus will leave from the Gay Hawk restaurant at 685 S. Wellington st., at 12:30 a.m. on the date of the game and return to the same spot on Sunday morning. Round trip fare is $16.93 a person.

Persons interested in making the trip should contact James L. McKenzie at Glendale 2-9039. All reservations must be made by Saturday, Oct. 28.

Big Crowd Expected To Attend Water Show At Scharff YMCA

Aquatic Efflorescences — name of the water show which is being presented at the Abe Scharff Branch YMCA's swimming pool at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 24, will be the kick-off the Branch YMCA's year-round swimming program.

The water show, first to be presented by the Branch YMCA will feature some of the most talented local swimmers. The show will last one hour and it is open to the public. No admission charge.

A large crowd is expected to watch Jerry Johnson, head coach at LeMoyné college, as he takes the cover off of "Aquatic Efflorescences," which is being produced and directed by him.

The show will mark the start of the Branch YMCA's year-round swimming program of which Frank J. Lewis, principal of Grant school, is general chairman. Assistant chairman is James Smith, an instructor at Porter Junior high school. Both men are well qualified as swimming instructors.

The swimming program is scheduled to begin Monday, Oct. 30.

The swimming program is designed to meet the needs of primary boys and girls; adolescent boys and girls; teenage boys and girls; young adults and older adults. Schedules to be carried for each group next week.

A special appeal is being made to men and women to improve skills and fitness through swimming activities, which provides a wonderful opportunity for men and women to reduce natural overweight not only affects appearance but influences health.

Four progressive courses will be offered, namely: beginner, intermediate, swimmer, and advanced swimmer. Life saving courses will be offered to students successfully completing progressive courses. There will be two life saving courses namely, junior and senior. The Junior Life Saving course, 15 hours of instruction, will be for boys and girls from 12 to 16 years of age, inclusive, who are in good physical condition and can pass the preliminary swimming requirements.

This course is always of great importance since it not only provides for young people training in water safety practices suitable to their years, but contributes to the development of good habits and sound attitudes toward water safety and accident prevention.

The Senior Life Saving course will be open to all who have passed their 17th birthday, are in good physical condition and who can pass the preliminary swimming requirements. The Senior course requires a minimum of 17 hours divided into a preliminary phase of five hours, a training phase of 10 hours and two additional hours for examination.

As an evidence of courses completed, training accomplished and purposes of identification, certificates, insignia and awards will be issued to boys and girls.

For more information call Abe Scharff Branch YMCA, JA 6-2523, Dan Partee, physical director.

TURNER GILMORE, JR.

Mail Handlers Elect Memphian To High Office

Turner Gilmore, Jr., of 1527 Gold st., was elected national vice president of the Southeastern District of Post Office Mail Handlers at the National convention held recently in Boston, Mass.

As a national vice president, Gilmore, 30, will handle labor management problems and also suggestions to management on ways to improve postal service in the Memphis and Atlanta regions.

The Southeastern district covers the states of Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Louisiana and Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Gilmore, as national vice president, will attend labor-management meetings held in the area.

PRESIDENT OF LOCAL

As president of Local 52 of the National Association Post Office Mail Handlers, Gilmore has been sent to Washington on several occasions to discuss postal matters.

During the recent convention, Gilmore was opposed in the race for vice president of the Southeastern District by a delegate from North Carolina, but was elected by a 106 to 19 margin.

He is employed at DeSoto Station, and has been in the mail service for about six years. He is a graduate of Booker T. Washington high school.

Gilmore operates the McLemore Cleaners and Shoe Re-builder shop at 217 E. McLemore st.

The Gilmores are the parents of four children.

REAL ESTATE DIGEST

By Jesse L. Williams

"Finally, my brethren, we strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

Ephesians 6:10, 11.

Mortgage banking-mortgage bankers are sometimes known as mortgage companies or mortgage dealers.

Some mortgage bankers are essentially one-man concerns, with all of the small capital owned by the manager. Their relatively small equity capital is sometimes supplemented by the use of bank credit.

In the smaller offices, managed by the owner and a couple of clerks, the owner-manager is a jack-of-all-trades. He takes care of all parts of the business.

In the large mortgage banks, departmentalization may be carried out in some detail, with each major department operated more or less as a unit.

Among the most common of such departments are the promotional department, which develops new business, processes applications for loans, and obtains purchase commitments; the title department, which drafts and records papers, takes care of title problems, and delivers the mortgage and the servicing department, which makes collections. The accounting department, which keeps all records and the insurance department, which handles all insurance problems. Sometimes separate departments handle taxes and FHA transactions.

Mortgage bankers find the key to their business success to be the character of their solicitors, consequently the method of compensating them to assure the best results becomes paramount. No one formula is universally followed. In some cases they are put on straight salary. Some solicitors, particularly those who are employed part time, are paid on a commission basis instead.

Not all loans made by mortgage bankers produce a profit. But to keep the good will of real estate brokers, small unprofitable loans must be handled. Solicitors are paid for securing this class of business even though the loan results in a net loss to the banker.

DOWN TO EARTH

Farm Talk

By James G. Gregory

Highly efficient farm production has been achieved this year under unusual conditions. The weather was unfavorable in the early growing season. Also the total acreage used for crops this year was much below average, 20 million acres less than in 1960. This is our smallest crop acreage since 1909. Very high yields are the rule this year with records being set in many instances. Outstanding in this respect is corn with 60.4 bushel, soybeans 26.6 bushels and tobacco with an average yield of 1,710 lbs. per acre.

Much of the reduction in total acreage this year is due to the big cut in corn and grain sorghum under Feed Grain Program. As a result of this program feed grain supply will be below the previous year at the beginning of the feeding season for the first time in 10 years. Total production this year will be less than our needs and we can begin to reduce the huge carryover and cut heavy storage costs.

GENERAL AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK

A high level of personal income and an increasing activity in the economy will have a steady effect on demand for farm goods and prices this fall and in 1962. Production cost will inch higher but will be more than offset by large volume and higher average prices for farm goods.

Present estimated 1961 net farm income for the U.S. is $12.6 billion. This is a gain of about 8 per cent over 1960. The gain is mainly due to large volume of marketings combined with higher average prices for many products.

higher price supports and larger government payments. For Tennessee a similar increase is in the making with stronger prices for corn, cotton, tobacco, eggs, milk and with government payments much above any recent year.

CATTLE We are in the season when the heavy volume of grass fed cattle will tax packing house facilities, provide large supplies of cheaper beef and tend to depress cattle prices to some extent.

Price and income outlook for this fall will be about equal to the fall of 1960. Some price weaknesses may develop as we move into October but in general prices are likely to remain fairly steady for the balance of this year.

In any cattle operations this year and next, caution is suggested as a sound guiding principle. The present bullish attitude of some cattlemen about beef futures has little justification.

HOGS

We are about due to have heavier marketings of slaughter hogs from the pig crop of last spring which was 7 per cent greater than the 1960 spring crop. The greater supply of fat hogs will likely begin to go to market the first half of this month.

Price and Income Outlook: Based on the above information, hog prices this fall can be expected to move down into the 15-17 cent range in October and remain at that level the balance of the year. In the first half of 1962, price levels will be little changed from the fall of 1961.

Even with the almost sure drop in prices, hog growers using good production and management practices can make moderate profits for the next 12 months.

For a more detailed report on the general outlook obtain a copy of the October, Farm and Family Living Outlook, from your county agricultural agent.

Hyenas On Rampage, Kill 20 Children

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (UPI) — Hyenas have killed or maimed 20 African children in the Palombe Plain area of Nyasaland in recent weeks, officials said.

Three professional hunters were sent to the area, but returned without killing a single hyena.

15 Corpsmen In St. Lucia, B.W.I.

ST. LUCIA, B. W. I. — (UPI) — Fifteen U. S. Peace corpsmen arrived Sunday on this British West Indian island to work in the fields of agriculture, animal husbandry, education and public health.

Director of the project is W. Rolston, a former farmer who has been working more recently as a teacher.

The corpsmen had a month's briefing in West Indian agriculture in Trinidad before coming here. They will go through another week's briefing on St. Lucia before beginning work.

Negroes 'Mistreating' Whites, Says Ebony

What happens when Negroes find themselves on the "giving" instead of the receiving end of racial experiences—such as occur when a white person is hired by an all-Negro firm, a white family lives in an all-Negro neighborhood or when a white friend is guest at a predominantly Negro gathering?

In October EBONY's photo-editorial, "The Care and Treatment of White Folk," EBONY says the treatment in some of these instances is often a "frustrating experience" to well-meaning whites. The editorial cites examples of the "freezing" a white girl received from other employees of a Negro firm, the ejecting of a white family from a Negro-owned apartment building and the tongue lashing well-meaning but uninformed white persons received in the home of a Negro friend as instances where "the Negro may have forgotten how to treat others" in his own fight for better treatment. REASONS FOR ACTION Says EBONY, distrust of white motives, envy of white opportunities and resentment of the kind of treatment he receives in the land of his birth, explains in part why the Negro behaves as he does, but it does not justify the behavior. EBONY concludes: "The Negro should talk, write and protest by every fair means at his command, but do so with intelligence and dignity. Proud of what sit-inners and freedom riders are accomplishing with their kind of resistance, why should any Negro stoop to the tactics of his enemies? By lumping all white people into one prejudiced heap and blaming the good for the misdeeds of the evil, he will alienate the friends he now has and frighten those who would help him toward the goal he seeks."

Archivist, New Deans Named To Fisk Staff

NASHVILLE — New faculty and staff members at Fisk university for the 1961-62 school year have been announced by Dr. Stephen J. Wright, university president.

The list includes the institution's first university archivist, a new dean of women, and a new dean of students — dean of men.

Dr. Clifton H. Johnson, who holds the Ph. D., degree from the University of North Carolina, is the university archivist; Mrs. Hortense W. Gray, holder of a master of arts degree in student personnel administration from Columbia university, is the dean of women; and Reginald H. Hughes, master of arts degree from Hampton Institute, is the dean of students — dean of men.

Two faculty members are returning from leave, Mrs. Anne G. Kennedy, music department, and Dr. O. O. Schrag, department of religion.

Other new faculty members are Dr. Edna G. Masuka, lecturer in sociology, Ph. D., University of North Carolina; Dr. Gus Bell, lecturer in psychology, Ph. D., Vanderbilt university; Dr. Irving Bialer, lecturer in psychology, Ph. D., George Peabody college; Bransford Giddings, instructor in chemistry, master of arts, Fisk; Miss Patricia Herron, instructor in English, master of arts, University of California; And Mrs. Constantine Walker, instructor in Spanish; Mrs. Mildred O. Memphis Airmen Complete Basic At Texas Field

LACKLAND AFB, Texas—Three Memphis men recently completed their United States Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Texas, and have been reassigned to permanent duty bases where they will receive on-the-job training.

The men are Airmen Charles E. Gwin, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Young of 723 Raeanoke St.; Spurgeon Durum, whose grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Durum, reside at 137 W. Fields St.; and Walter S. Perkins, son of Mrs. Anne M. Perkins of 1270 Grand st. Airmen Gwin, who graduated from Booklet T. Washington high school and attended LeMoyne college, has been assigned to Plattsburg AFB, N. Y., for training as an administrative specialist. Airmen Durum has been transferred to Robins AFB, Ga., and will become a vehicle operator.

Granger Joins Dillard Staff, In Stern Chair

NEW ORLEANS — Lester B. Granger, long-time executive director of the National Urban League, will become Dillard university's first Edgar B. Stern university professor. Dr. Albert W. Dent, president of the university, announced acceptance of the appointment Saturday.

Granger retired from the Urban League last week. He had been its executive director for 20 years and had been connected with it since 1920.

The Stern professorship was established last year by the children of the late Edgar B. Stern of New Orleans, who for 30 years served as chairman of the Dillard board of trustees.

The chair was established with an endowment gift of $214,000 to enable the university to add teachers, scholars and artists of outstanding distinction to its faculty on a visiting basis.

The donors are Edgar B. Stern jr., of New Orleans, Philip Stern of Alexandria, Va., and Mrs. Audrey Stern Hess of New York City.

Dr. Granger, who holds honorary degrees from Dartmouth college, his alma mater, Columbia University and Oberlin college, is a trustee of the State university of New York, Hampton Institute and Saint Paul's college.

Fall Cleaning Day At LeMoyne

Second annual Work Day at LeMoyne college is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 27. The entire LeMoyne family—faculty, staff and students—wear old clothes on this day and carry out work assignments which include washing windows, raking leaves, painting, sweeping and sewing.

Last year's Work Day was accepted with enthusiasm and proved a highly successful venture. The college provides free lunches.

LeMoyne President Hollis F. Price introduced Work Day "because so many of our young people are shying away from jobs that require use of the hands."

Before undertaking a program of diet and exercise to lose weight, consult your physician, cautions the Chicago Heart Association.

DOWN FRONT!

AFTER A THREE-YEAR-old girl was struck by a motorist and rushed to a hospital in an ambulance, her five-year-old brother became quite concerned about her. He asked his mother, "Is Marilyn going to bring home another baby like you did when the ambulance took you to the hospital?"

ATTY. A. W. WILLIS is making a rapid comeback after his recent illness.

IT'S ABSOLUTELY AMAZING where some people can turn up while on sick leave. This is the case of a woman who was too ill to make it to the classroom, but had enough strength to leave the state. When her principal heard from her, she was in West Memphis, Ark., pleading with him to come over and put up bond for her. She was being detained by the police. We imagine that sister is really in poor health now.

COOL ON ICE SHOW — Memphians who used to look forward to watching the Holiday on Ice show on the night designated for Negroes may want to know that the Zetas have cooled to the idea of sponsoring the segregated affair and have come up with another program. This year, to fill the coffers of their "Eye-glass and Scholarship Fund," the girls are presenting the Broadway Extravaganza in Bruce hall on Friday night, Nov. 10, and it appears to be something worth seeing, from all we have heard. Now that we think of it, couldn't the Zetas, under the present arrangements at the auditorium, given an integrated ice show the coming season?

Booker Little, Young Trumpet Soloist Buried

Final rites for Booker T. Little, 23-year-old jazz trumpeter who died in New York City on Thursday, Oct. 5, were held here at Gospel Temple Baptist church last Thursday with the pastor, Rev. Charles T. Epps, delivering the eulogy.

Mr. Little was the brother of Miss Vera Little, the concert singer, who was in West Berlin last week and unable to come home for the funeral.

A graduate of Manassas high school, Mr. Little was a student at the Chicago Conservatory of Music and DePaul university before continuing his musical career.

As a trumpet soloist, Mr. Little recently published an album with Wynnton Kelly and Tommy Flannigan, pianists, Scott LaFaro, bass, and the drummer, Roy Haynes under a Times label.

It included the tunes, "Opening Statement," "Minor Suite," "Bee Tee's Minor Plea," "Life's A Little Blue," "Grand Valse," and "Who Can I Turn To?"

According to his parents, another album of Mr. Little's will be released later this season.

"God Will Take Care Of You" was the organ prelude at the service, and the hymn, "Blessed Assurance" was sung. Following the scripture and prayer, James Shells sang "When They Ring The Golden Bells," and remarks were made by McAdam Sloan and Prof. W. M. Flemings.

Following the eulogy, J. W. Westbrooks, Jr., sang a solo.

Neighbor Was Paying For His Telephone Calls

An U. S. Army Sergeant, stationed in Nashville, was arrested yesterday for allegedly wiring an illegal telephone line to get service without paying for it. He is 40-year-old, E. M. Ingram, who is employed by the Army at the Veteran's Administration hospital in Nashville.

Sergeant Ingram connected the wires from a disconnected telephone in his house trailer at 5629 Charlotte Pike to the wires of a neighbor's telephone in another house trailer.

In addition to obtaining local service, Sergeant Ingram made several out-of-state long distance calls, according to William R. Cathey, Southern Bell's Chief Security Agent for Tennessee.

Sergeant Ingram was arrested for violating a new act passed by the 1961 Tennessee Legislature which makes it unlawful for anyone to obtain telephone service through any fraudulent means to avoid payment.

Tests To Be Given At UNCFSchools

The United Negro College Fund has scheduled the annual scholarship and admission tests for member colleges from Nov. 27 through Dec. 9.

Member colleges in the Tri-State area are LeMoyné college in Memphis; Lane college in Jackson, Tenn.; Tougaloo Christian college in Tougaloo, Miss., and Philander Smith college in Little Rock.

The CIEP tests are open to all high school seniors and a limited number of juniors and sophomores of exceptional ability.

Application forms may be obtained from high school principals or counselors, or by writing to CIEP, 22 East 54th st., New York 22, N. Y.

The deadline for student applications is Oct. 31.

Student Loan Confab Held On State's Campus

NASHVILLE — Thirty-nine representatives from 25 Southern colleges and universities heard Atlanta's Dr. A. V. Boldt, higher education regional director, discuss the National Defense Student Loan Program at Tennessee State university last week.

Meeting on Tennessee State's campus for the first time, the occasion was the first in a series of five National Defense Student Loan annual area conferences being held this year. Delegates came from Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, and South Carolina.

The student loan program, which is known to educators as Title II, is designed to aid students who ordinarily would not be able to attend college, in meeting their financial obligations.

Participating in the program are 1,497 schools in the nation, 200 of which are in the south-east. Conference host, Dr. Joseph A. Payne, Tennessee State Dean of Students, stated that, "Over the past three years Tennessee State has received $225,000 from the program, and there are 300 students currently participating here."

Other Federal representatives attending the conference were Dr. S. V. Jeter, U. S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C., and Dr. J. M. Smith, regional representative of the U. S. Office of Education, Atlanta, Georgia.

NDSL Conferences are to be held later this school year in Columbus, Mississippi; Montgomery, Alabama; Atlanta, Georgia; and Charleston, S. C.

Fire Prevention Talk Heard At PTA Meeting

The Georgia Avenue school, PTA held its first meeting of the 1961-62 school year on Tuesday night, Oct. 11, and the accent was on "Fire Prevention Week," with Mrs. George Stewart and M. r. s. Grace Williams in charge of the program.

Most of the participants on the program were new faculty members of the school. Following an introduction by O. J. Johnson, the assistant principal, Private Floyd E. Newsum of the Memphis Fire Department spoke on Fire Prevention week and explained how parents and teachers should insure the safety of their families and the community.

Posters and pamphlets were distributed by the Memphis Fire Department, and fire-fighting equipment was on display for the parents to see.

PLANNED PTA DRIVE

The P T A president, Mrs. Georgia Ishamel expressed her appreciation for such a large attendance and asked each parent to bring three other parents with them to the next meeting.

Plans were made for a PTA drive to obtain 100 per cent membership.

The principal, Mrs. O. S. Shannon praised the audience for the large attendance, and also for the number participating in the Tennessee school lunch program.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by a representative of the Pet Milk company.

Mrs. E. C. Bell is reporter for the PTA.

Mitchell Elected Student Council

Curtis Mitchell, a senior and member of the college basketball team has been elected vice-president of LeMoyné's student council. The office was left open after Floyd Weakley, junior honor student, moved up to president of the council.

Weakley replaced Willie Brown who surrendered the office when he was called back to active duty with his army reserve unit.

THE Pulpit SPEAKS

REV. C. THOMAS PAIGE

"For I am not ashamed of the Gospel, for it's the power of God unto salvation!" Romans 1:16

CHURCH LOYALTY

Churches throughout the nation this month are observing 'Church Loyalty' month. This takes on special significance when we realize that the idea of loyalty is lacking in most of the areas of human activity today. The old "do or die" spirit so common years ago has left many of us and we find ourselves living in a rather complacent realm. This is largely responsible for the condition of our world today.

Allegiance to a cause one feels important is the one basic motive for that movement successfully going over. As Paul wrote to the Romans he first impressed them that he was sold on the idea himself. So it must be today. We must first sell ideas to ourselves before we can sell them to anyone else.

Nothing stands out so important in our lives today as the fact that we must have something that demands all of our support and we are willing to give our all to something we hold near and dear.

MUST GIVE ALL

The other side of the picture tells us that we must select something that has real value. If it is successful marriage or a successful business or professional venture we must be willing to put our all in it all the time. Spasmodic attention to a thing will never pay off. The person who sets out to achieve a certain goal and satisfies himself to work at it only occasionally will never be able to accomplish too much with it. If it ever realizes its fullest potential it must be nurtured all the time.

Paul placed his religion ahead of everything else. He realized the full value of it. Today—we in a like manner must realize the full value religion offers and to that extent do all that we can to make it what it should be. In far too many instances many spend too much time counting the cost. Many of us spend so much time counting the cost that nothing is ever realized.

NOBLE GOAL

To Paul the attainment of salvation was the noblest goal of man. His devotion was so great that he thought nothing should stand in the way. Our churches offer so much today we should allow nothing to impede its progress. The greatest joys and the most meaningful lives any of us can realize will be brought about only through the church. The real meaning of life is injected only to the degree that we have come to grips with the most vital. Once we have become conscious of the most vital we are in a position to be loyal and sincere in our objectives.

Paul, like us, realized the full potential of adhering to the Gospel. Today we too must adhere to the best available. Anytime we allow ourselves to do less than the best we will shrink to the stage of a pigmy. Not only must we recognize the best but we must be devoted to this to the extent that we give our all to its realization to its fullest possibilities.

In this day of loyalty each one of us must look anew for areas where we can be more loyal. We can not content ourselves with just being satisfied with going along with the program. We must as individuals and groups to insert ourselves to the program that we become felt integers. Basically the world is what we make it—indifference, unconcern and the like on the part of us will only serve as media to stop or slow down the program. We must be up doing it all times.

Minister Says He Was Insulted By Nurse At West Memphis Hospital

A charge by a Negro Baptist minister that Negroes are mistreated in the Crittenden Memorial hospital in West Memphis was denied last week by R. F. Scruggs, administrator for the hospital.

The complaint was made by Rev. W. E. Battle of Marion, Ark., pastor of the New Mt. Zion Baptist church in West Memphis and St. Mark Baptist church near Joyner, Ark. Rev. Battle said he was insulted by a nurse in the hospital, who after he inquired about one of his members, told him, "You attend to your pastoring, and we will attend to our patients."

Asked if he had been mistreated at any other time, and whether other Negroes had complained of being insulted by hospital personnel, Rev. Battle said, "No, but if they talk to me, one of the leading Negroes in Crittenden county, like that, just imagine what they must say to the sharecroppers and day laborers!"

WITH TEN MEMBERH

Rev. Battle said he went to the hospital along with 10 members to see a deacon who had dislocated a shoulder in a fall at a church, and after arriving there asked a nurse just how long it would be before a doctor arrived.

He said the nurse asked, "Why are you so interested? You are not the patient," and he answered, "No, but I am the patient's pastor, and therefore I am interested in him."

It was then, Rev. Battle said, that the woman told him to "attend to your pastoring, and we will attend to our patients."

Scruggs told the Tri-State Defender that an attempt had been made to find the nurse who reportedly insulted the minister, but that the hospital had not been able to discover who she was.

DOCTOR WAS THERE

He did say that the patient was already being treated when Rev. Battle and 10 members arrived, and that a doctor was waiting for the muscles in the arm to relax so that they could try to put the joint back in the socket.

The official said that the injury was subsequently remedied by surgery, and that the deacon had been released from the hospital.

After being "insulted," Scruggs said he was told that Rev. Scruggs threatened to move the deacon to Collins Chapel in Memphis, but did not when told the movement might cause further damage to the patient.

The administrator said Negro Baptist ministers often come to the hospital with part of their congregation, enter patients' rooms and some times burst into the emergency room.

UNFAIR CHARGE

Scruggs said one minister refused to leave the emergency room a few weeks ago, and left only after the hospital threatened to have him evicted by police.

"Our hospital has had tried to have good relations with all people," Scruggs said, "and the pastor's charge has upset me and members of the medical staff who have given hundreds of free hours in caring for patients unable to pay."

Final Rites Held For Mrs. Z. Miller; Active Church, Civic Worker

Final rites for Mrs. Zettie Whitfield Miller, 1392 James st., were held last Wednesday afternoon from Greenwood CME church with the pastor, Rev. Paul Fowlkes, officiating. Death had come suddenly to the beloved matriarch and civic leader Thursday evening, Oct. 5 at John Gaston hospital.

Notwithstanding her advanced years, Mrs. Miller had remained active in church and civic affairs. She served as president of Stewardess Board of Greenwood for 19 years and was reelected the Sunday before her death.

Among other organizations with which Mrs. Miller was identified, were the Annie L. Brown Health, the Ella Bradshaw Charity and the 26th Ward Civic clubs, and the Second Precinct City Beautiful City Commission.

Mrs. Miller served also as vice-president of the Hospitality Committee of the Vance ave. YWCA, and was charter member of Evergreen Chapter 107 of the Eastern Star.

In recent years she served as chairman of the Mother's March-of-Dimes in her ward. Mrs. Miller ranked among the top-money raisers in this annual campaign for an extended period.

THE SURVIVORS

A native of Starkville, Miss., Mrs. Miller came to Memphis in her early-life. She was married to John Patrick Miller of Memphis, and from this union six children were born, two of whom preceded her in death. As a widow she devoted her time to the rearing of her children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Miller's survivors include: a son, John P. Miller, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo.; three daughters, Miss Ethel Miller, of Memphis; Mrs. Elizabeth Henning, of Nashville, wife of a prominent AME minister who formerly pastored New Tyler AME church in Binghampton; and Mrs. Lucille Gaines, of Memphis.

She was the foster mother of Miss Carrie Wardlaw of Berkeley, Calif., and Miss Tillie Wilcox of Memphis.

Surviving grandchildren include Herman Henning, Jr., Rev. Garnett Henning, George, John P., and Elizabeth Ann Henning; Mrs. Yvonne Parks; Vance, Charles, and Zettie Craig.

Southern Funeral Home had charge of final arrangements. Interment was in New Park cemetery.

Growth of Knowledge in God ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 5:17-20, 38-48; John 16:12-15.

Christ, delivering His Sermon on the Mount, told his followers that He had not come to destroy the laws given the Jews through Moses nor the sayings of the prophets, but to fulfill them and illumine them.—Matthew 5:17.

He taught them not to retaliate against insults, but to "turn the other cheek"; to "give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow" to "turn not away"; to love their enemies and pray for them.—Matthew 5:38-44.

To love only those who love you, Christ said, was no more worthy than the tax-gatherers, who collected as much as they could to line their own pockets. Christians should greet strangers as well as their friends.—Matthew 5:46-47.

Thursday of Holy Week Christ promised his disciples growth in knowledge of God through the Holy Spirit, which would invest them all and illumine the truth for them.—John 16:12-15.

GOLDEN TEXT: Matthew 22:37.

Moderator To Preach Sunday Crerar Memorial

BISHOP F. C. Scott, Chief Bishop of the Church of the Living God, presided over the 69th Annual Assembly which convened in Chicago, beginning Oct. 10. The convention will extend to Oct. 15. Bishops and delegates throughout the United States are attending. Overseer L. H. Dixon, of Chicago, is general treasurer.

At the meeting of the 173rd General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. held in Buffalo, N. Y., last May, Mr. McKelvey was elected to this highest office of leadership and responsibility in that denomination. The theme of his sermon at Crerar Memorial Presbyterian Church on Laymen's Sunday will be "Rise Up, O Men of God." Following the service of worship, a coffee hour will be held in the Church's Fellowship Hall to give Mr. and Mrs. McKelvey the opportunity to meet the members and friends of the congregation. At 1:45 p.m., a luncheon honoring Mr. and Mrs. McKelvey will be held in the Church's Social Hall under the sponsorship of the South Central Planning Council of the Presbytery of Chicago. Seven of the United Presbyterian congregations and institutions located in the central area of the Chicago's South Side are involved in a cooperative ministry through this council. Officials of the Presbytery of Chicago, representatives of the South Central Planning Council, the aldermen and congressmen of the areas involved and presidents of the Men's Councils in all the United Presbyterian Churches of the Chicago Presbytery have been invited to this luncheon.

Growth of Knowledge in God

THE DIFFERENCE WROUGHT IN OUR DAILY CONDUCT BY UNDERSTANDING GOD

Scripture—Matthew 5:17-20, 38-48; John 16:12-15.

By N. SPEER JONES
IN THIS lesson, man's growth in knowledge of God is traced from the original Mosaic law given the early Israelites (referred to in Matthew 5:17-19), through the basic teachings of God's flesh-and-blood Son here on earth (Matthew 5:38-48) to the most direct and sublime communication of all, the personal guidance of the Holy Spirit from within the individual (John 16:12-15).
The Mosaic law is so-called because it was given the Israelites through Moses, first at Mt. Sinai. So basically legal was God's first revelation of Himself that the first five books of the Bible are called by the Jews the Torah, or Book of the Law. Of this Mosaic law there are two varieties—the fundamental moral laws summarized by Christ in the Ten Commandments, and the Levitical laws, concerning specifics such as sacrifices, feasts, diet, hygiene, etc.

Christ makes it plain that He did not come to destroy what had been set forth in the Book of the Law, nor by the succeeding prophets. The suggestion is not that the Mosaic law was incomplete, but, rather, that Christ would elaborate upon it and make it more meaningful. John Broadus (in "Peloubet's Select Notes," p. 342) explains the origin of the words "not" and "tittle" (Matthew 5:18). Jot (Greek jota) means the Hebrew letter yod (4 in English). It is much smaller than the other Hebrew letters, and so is apt to be overlooked. As for "tittle," it was substituted by the Reformation martyr John Wyclif for the Greek word meaning "horn," denoting a tiny projection on certain Hebrew letters. Wyclif, realizing that "horn" would not be understood in the proper sense, used "tittle," which means a very small object.
It is suggested that the "least commandments" are those hardest to pinpoint, yet greatest in consequence, such as control of thoughts, words and desires. No one can teach a commandment actively if he breaks it himself.
The "scribes and Pharisees" claimed to keep the law, but kept only the letter of the law; Christ tells us this is not enough for the kingdom of heaven. The righteousness sought is not playmate perfection but basic rightness.
From these basic principles Christ proceeds to examples of Godlike living (Matthew 5:38-48). The much-argued passage ments, and the Levitical laws, concerning specifics such as sacrifices, feasts, diet, hygiene, etc.

Christ makes it plain that He did not come to destroy what had been set forth in the Book of the Law, nor by the succeeding prophets. The suggestion is not that the Mosaic law was incomplete, but, rather, that Christ would elaborate upon it and make it more meaningful.

John Broadus (in "Peloubet's Select Notes," p. 342) explains the origin of the words "not" and "tittle" (Matthew 5:18). Jot (Greek jota) means the Hebrew letter yod (4 in English). It is much smaller than the other Hebrew letters, and so is apt to be overlooked. As for "tittle," it was substituted by the Reformation martyr John Wyclif for the Greek word meaning "horn," denoting a tiny projection on certain Hebrew letters.

on turning the other cheek is often interpreted as a doctrine of non-resistance, even to bodily injury and death. A more widely accepted view argues that the smiting of the cheek refers not to bodily injury but to insult.

As for loving our enemies, we are not expected to make criminals or evil men our friends; rather we are to love them in the sense of trying to understand them and do them good.

In verse 48, the meaning of perfect is not sinlessness, but uprightness and sincerity. In the passage from John, Christ promises the coming of the Holy Spirit to his apostles. In a larger sense, it is a promise to all of us, that the Holy Spirit can guide us in perfect truth if we can but grow enough in our knowledge of God.

Red Mass Celebration At Holy Name Sunday

The 27th annual Red Mass will be celebrated at the Holy Name Cathedral on Sunday, Oct. 15 at 10 a.m. The Red Mass, traditionally said in red vestments, invokes the aid of the Holy Spirit at the beginning of the fall term of the courts.

The first Red Mass in Chicago, celebrated on the day of St. Thomas More's canonization in 1935, is held annually under the auspices of the Catholic Lawyers Guild of Chicago to honor St. Thomas More and St. Ives, the patrons of the legal profession.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward M. Burke, P.A., M.A., S.T.L., J.C.D., the Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Chicago and Officials of the Matrimonial Mass in the presence of His Eminence, Albert Cardinal Meyer who will preside at the throne. The Cardinal will later speak at an informal breakfast immediately following the Mass at the Drake Hotel. The Rev. Thomas McDonough, S.T.L., J.D., M.A. director of the Calvert League and a Civil Lawyer in his own right, will celebrate the Mass. The music of the Mass will be rendered by the famed Cathedral Choir under the direction of Msgr. Charles Meter, M.G.C. and the Quigley Plain Chant Choir under the direction of the Rev. Joseph Mrozowski.

Immediately following the Mass, Msgr. Edward V. Dailey will act as host at an informal breakfast to be held in the Gold Coast Room of the Drake Hotel. Reservations will be handled by Marie A. Palumbo, Secretary of the Guild (CE 6-0646).

The Catholic Lawyers Guild is a group of Catholic attorneys and judges banded together for works of Catholic Action; the promotion of the welfare of the members; upholding the standards of the legal profession and encouraging the study of the application of the Christian principles in the light of modern legal problems. It is headed by Mr. Lee J. Gary as President with a Board of Governors comprising outstanding lawyers and judges in the city of Chicago.

Sunday Evening Club Hears Editor On 15th

Senior Editor of Life, Sam Welles, one of the first-time speakers before the Chicago Sunday Evening Club, will be heard on Oct. 15 in Orchestra Hall from 8 to 9 p.m.

Wells, a prominent Episcopalian layman, and editor of the famous "Protestant" and "The World's Great Religions," is one of the seven first-time speakers scheduled for the 55th season.

The Sunday Evening Club is nonsectarian, and holds regular services in Orchestra Hall. As this will be "Laymen's Sunday," a great number of Chicago's churchmen will participate. Admission is free.

Joseph O. Hanson, President of the Club, will preside. Music by a large mixed chorus is a stimulating part of the services. An early song service precedes the later meeting with congregational singing.

At 7:30 of this date, the program will include a song cycle by the Chicago Swedish Gle Club.

Dr. Preston Bradley To Woodlawn Sunday

Dr. Preston Bradley, Pastor of the Peoples Church of Chicago, will be the guest speaker at Woodlawn A M E church, 65th & Evans ave., on Sunday, Oct. 15, 1961, at 4 p.m., under the auspices of the Builder's Aid Club of Woodlawn.

Dr. Bradley is a member of the board of directors of the Chicago public library, a member of State Normal school board, and the author of a number of books, three of which, "Courage For Today," "Mastering Fear," and "Happiness Thru Creative Living," are best sellers. He is chairman of the council against racial discrimination and a member of the Mayor's commission on race relations. He is beloved and honored by people of all races, faiths, and creeds. To hear him is an unforgettable experience.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Young Adult Choir of Woodlawn A M E church.

WESLEYAN GUILD MEET SATURDAY

The Annual Meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild, Lexington Conference, Methodist Church, will convene on Oct. 14th at St. Luke Methodist Church, 50th and Washburn from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Included in the busy schedule will be a tour of Marcy Center, which is assisted by the Woman's Division of the Guild.

Resource people will include: Miss Dorothy Barnette, a missionary recently returned to this country from Africa and now with the New York office of the Woman's Division of Christian Service; Mrs. Winnie T. Saunders, Jurisdictional officer and past District secretary; Miss Flora Clipper, local missionary stationed at Marcy Center; and Mrs. Maridavid Fuqua of Detroit, Mich. past Conference Secretary and member at large of the Standing Committee of the Division.

Mrs. Doris Catchings, Detroit, is the District Secretary. Mrs. Dorothy C. Gibson, Chicago Sub-District chairman. Mrs. Nina P. Todd, president of the host Guild. Rev. George A. Tate, host pastor.

The purpose of the Wesleyan Service Guild is to provide a channel through which employed women can achieve spiritual enrichment, Christian fellowship and take an active part in developing a world Christian community. Any woman is eligible to become a Guild member, regardless of racial origin or religious background.

der the direction of Mrs. Robbie Shields Terry.
Mrs. Cleo Williams is president and Mrs. Lulu Powell is program chairman. Rev. Jonathan A. Dames, pastor.

Christian Science

The healing and redemptive power of divine Truth will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Doctrine of Atonement."

Peter's healing of the lame man as related in Acts (4) will be included in readings from the Bible, together with his reply to those who questioned his healing ability: "Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole."

One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "The same power which heals sin heals also sickness. This is the beauty of holiness; that when Truth heals the sick, it casts out evils, and when Truth casts out the evil called disease, it heals the sick." (p.135).

Chapel services of the Institute held each Monday and Thursday evening at 7 o'clock are open to the public. A Student Council Worship Committee supervises the Monday services, with a faculty committee guiding the mature aspects of Thursdays using faculty personnel and guests.

Prof. James A. Nobles, veteran instructor, will speak on the annual emphasis Churchmen's Week using the theme "You Shall Be My Witnesses," on Thursday evening Oct. 12.

Rev. J. C. Austin, pastor of Pilgrim Baptist Church, will be honored for his 35 years of service, along with the 45th anniversary of the church beginning Oct. 15. Services will be held each evening during the week culminating on Sunday, Oct. 22, when the Hon. Judge James B. Parsons will be guest speaker at a banquet to be held in McCormick Place.

Chicago Baptist Institute News

Chicago Baptist Institute will present its ANNUAL CALENDAR TEA on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 29, from 3 o'clock to 7 o'clock in the popular Social Hall. This year many new features will reflect the ingenuity and imagination of the Student Council, sponsors of the event.

The decor for the occasion will reflect the four seasons with the entire student group supported by faculty, trustee alumni and members of the Baptist constituency. Stellar soloists will enhance the musical offerings, including: Miss Ester Rae Pool, contralto, of La Grange, Ill., and Rev. Chambers Robinson, popular baritone.

SOCIETY

Merry Go-Round

BY MARJORIE I. ULEN

As golden days of October speed quickly past... social pace about town begins to pick up momentum... so, your scribe receives word of the scores of lovely luncheons and dinners feting Bluff City clubs.

THE SOPHISTICATES BRIDGE CLUB—so well known for its black and white formals of the past, and more recently for its hilarious "hobo balls"—was beautifully entertained by ARNEDA MARTIN last week, and she served luscious steak dinners to her sophisticated clubmates.

It was their first meeting of the season, and almost all members were there to help share the fun ensuing over "Bootsie" (Jewel) Speight's winning of first prize, Ceneta Quall's second prize luck, and Margaret Rivers, as third prize winner.

WITH DINNER CLUB

Last Saturday night, the Dinner Club was the guest of Helen Sawyer at her home on South Parkway. Everyone was eager to lend a bit of cheer to Helen's mother, Mrs. Smith, who has been ill for some time. The group meets for the sheer pleasure of planning and serving gourmet dinners, amid beautiful table settings, and interesting conversation. Enjoying this delightful interlude were Addie Owens, Frances Hooks, Ruth Lewis, Bettye Bland, Grace Young, Margaret Rivers, Martelle Twigg, Jewel Speight and the hostess... who all missed three of their members who were unable to attend.

BRIDGE AT GRIFFINS

THE DEBONAIR SET beckoned the bid of Norma Griffin last Saturday too, when at Norma and Leon's newly renovated home on the Parkway that intrigues all with its colorful balcony surrounding the back of the upstairs addition—a fun-filled evening was the pleasure of the members and guests.

Dinner consisted of delectable ham pineapple slices... almond beans... pickled peaches... hot rolls, coffee, etc... all following a cocktail session prior to dinner. Bridge was played in the beautiful den, with its orange, purple and green decorations, and were enthralled with the master bedroom, with its orange carpeting and appointments that definitely marks it circa 1961 at its glamorous best.

Here were Alice Kilpatrick, Lamaris Robinson, Julia Collins, Pearl Gordon, Nell Northcross, Cecelia Westley, Ann Willis and Vivian Willis. Prize winners of the club were Helen Batts and Martha Galloway... and guests Juanita Lewis and Mary Ethel Jones.

CHAMPAGNE LUNCHEON

The more we hear about the forthcoming Champagne luncheon-fashion show which will be given by the Memphis Alphabetties on Oct. 28, we are assured that it will be one of Memphis' most posh affairs. Elma Mardis is the chairman of the models.

Some have been previously mentioned; others who will be doing the modeling of creations by some of the country's most outstanding designers are Annie Barber Mitchell, Evelyn Bagsby, Sybil Mitchell, Betty Washington, Josephine Bridges, Lynn Howell and Helen Whalum. Hattie Swearingen is the program chairman, and the commenting will be done by Laurie Sugarmon.

CHIT CHAT

Mrs. L. C. Patterson has hied off to Los Angeles, Calif., to visit her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Patterson, who are now making their home there. Mrs. Patterson is looking forward to seeing the sights of the land of sunshine and flowers.

Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Speight, Jr., have returned home from their trip to Chicago, where they stopped at the Palmer House, while Dr. Speight attended the Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology. One interesting side of the trip was a visit to the famed Playhouse Club Penthouse for dinner.

The visit of the former Miss Dorothy Waller stirred lots of interest with her many friends here. Dorothy, now Mrs. Walter Pitts, and her husband, were here on a visit from their home in Oakland, Calif. Complimenting the pair was Mrs. Wilhelmien Lockard, who invited friends to visit with the charming couple. Among them were Dorothy's sister, Ruth Waller, Mrs. Gladys Webb, Mrs. Mary Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fields, Sr., Mrs. Winifred Franklin, Louis Johnson, Miss Utoka Quarles, Miss Mattie Taylor, Mrs. Aline Walls, Mrs. Roland Powell, Mrs. Kathryn P. Thomas, Miss Jewel Gentry and Mrs. Sallie Stevens.

Dorothy is an alumnae of LeMoynce college, and a popular member of the social set before leaving here several years ago to make her home in California.

Among the relatives and friends of the late Mrs. Jewel Brawner, who came to Memphis to be with Dr. Clara Brawner, during the sad days which followed Mrs. Brawner's sudden demise were Thomas Darden, George Campbell and Waddell Simmons of Sandusky, Ohio; Dr. Hubert Crouch of Tennessee State university, Rev. Wilson Welch of Fisk, and Dr. Vera McBrybe of Meharry Medical college, all of Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Jeanetta Phelps of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Nellie Brawner Kesler and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Agnes Woodson, and Mrs. Juanita Miller, all of Chicago.

BROADWAY PRODUCTION

The Memphis Zetas are busily making plans for the presentation of the Broadway musical production to be presented in Bruce hall at LeMoynce college on Friday night, Nov. 10, which will feature some of the top stars of the Broadway stage and the concert halls.

Clyde Turner is the director of the show, and he has selected scenes and parts from "Porgy and Bess," "South Pacific," "Finian's Rainbow," "Lost in the Stars," "Carmen Jones," and many others.

Mrs. Loretta Kateo, Zeta president, is urging the entire Memphis community to come out to the cultural presentation, as the proceeds will go to support the sorority's eye-glass project and scholarship fund.

Mrs. B. A. E. Calloway, general chairman of the program, says tickets may be obtained from members of the Zetas. Reserved seats are $2.00, general admission, $1.50, and $1.00 for students.

Woman Nearly Itches To Death

"I nearly itched to death 17 years. Then I found a new wonder cream. Now I'm happy," writes Mrs. P. Ramsey of L.A. Calif. Here's blessed relief from tortures of vaginal itch, rectal itch, chafing, rash, and eczema with an amazing new scientific formula called LANACANE. This fast-acting medicated cream kills harmful bacteria germs while it soothes raw, irritated and inflamed tissue. Stops scratching—so speeds healing. Don't waste! Get LANACANE at drugstore.

CERTIFICATE OF ACHIEVEMENT claims the attention of the above Memphis Links members, who are, left-right, Mrs. Ophelia Byas, president; Mrs. Alma Booth, chairman of the national project; and Mrs. Addie Jones, co-chairman. The certificate was presented to the local chapter of the Links by the 1960-61 Better Homes and Gardens Action Educational Awards program.

Zetas To Bring Broadway Stage Production Here

Memphis Zetas are busily making plans for the presentation of the Broadway Musical production to be held Friday Nov. 10, at Bruce Hall, LeMoynce College. The New York show features top stars of the Broadway Stage and Concert Hall.

Clyde Turner, director of the show, brings featured players and featured parts from the best of the New York Stage productions. He had selected scenes and parts from "Porgy and Bess," "South Pacific," "Finian's Rainbow," "Lost in the Stars," "Carmen Jones" and other shows of this type.

Also included in this production are excerpts from some of the greatest concert music ever written, such as the second act from the opera Aida.

Mrs. Loretta Kateo, president of the sorority speaks for the membership in urging the support of the entire Memphis Community in making this cultural presentation an overwhelming success. The proceeds will be used to support the sorority's "Eye-glass Project" and scholarship fund.

Mrs. B. A. E. Calloway, general chairman, announces that tickets may be obtained from members of the sorority at the following prices: $2 reserved seats, $1.50 general admission and $1 students.

Concert Singer Guest at Fashion Show

Coloratura Soprano, Charlotte Holloman, made a guest appearance at the luncheon-fashion show given at the Hotel Plaza on September 30th. Her cameo-like beauty and dramatic skill were enhanced by her formal evening costume designed by Vogue Patterns. She is pictured here in her pink and apricot pure silk brocade evening dress and cape-stole, one of the costumes that appeared in "One World of Fashion" fashion show, sponsored by the Continental Society of New York, Inc., for the benefit of The House of Friendship Community Center in New York.

Chapel services begin at 10:30 on Wednesday mornings and are held in Second Congregational Church (United Church of Christ) at Walker and McDowell across the street from the campus.

New Tyler Has $2,000 Goal

Annual Women's Day will be observed at New Tyler AME church, 568 Carpenter st., on Sunday, Oct. 15, with women in charge of all services for the day.

Mrs. Gussie Young will speak at the morning service, and Mrs. Hattie Bush will be guest speaker at the 3 p.m. meeting.

Music for all services of the day will be furnished by women's choruses of the church.

The women have set $2,000 as their goal. Mrs. Viola Ware is general chairman of the occasion, and Rev. Robert L. McRae pastor of the church.

Cokes For Freshmen

Cokes for LeMoynites—Freshmen at LeMoynce College were treated to a get-acquainted Coke party by members of the student chapter of the National Education Association. The affair was held in the recreation room of Bruce Hall. Mrs. Charles P. Roland, is advisor to the NEA chapter at LeMoynce. Willie Terry is president.

The Links stand ready to provide whatever enrichment activity would be best for a culturally handicapped child. Such activity may include: supplementary books (beyond the required list); fees to enter a project; transportation to participate in a project; privacy for study; equipment for art or science project; resource persons to provide useful experiences for talented students in art, dramatics, music and other subjects not customarily in the school curriculum. A spokesman for the club said:

"It has been heart warming to know that such a keen interest exists in the problems

Musing: Getting a Perspective. Many have learned to view scenes in perspective that is, see distances as well as foreground, depth as well as height and breath. Sometimes, problems viewed in perspective turn out to be not so much problems as just natural and logical stages of growth. When you are under two, you had the task of learning to walk. As you learned, you took tumbles. Your parents were very proud of your progress.

Now you are in your teens, and your task is to grow into a mature person who can eventually stand on his own feet in life without support and control from parents. Your job is to grow into independent adulthood at your own pace and still your parents may give help and control when you really need it.

Dear Mrs. Watson: I have some parents who are very unreasonable. I am trying to grow up and it is aggravating to have to try to cope with parents who boss too much, who set old-fashioned and unreasonable standards, and who don't realize that a person has a right to some privacy in life, and especially about the selection of clothes.

What can I do? Ann

Dear Ann: In many families, conflict arises over the question of clothes. Girls like to choose their own clothes and make all their decisions about what to wear, but many mothers feel that they have had more experience in judging values in clothes to be bought, and they know more about what is becoming and what is not. They also are used to managing the money.

Do you think it might be possible for all of you to agree that it is too bad to spoil so much of your homelife with this kind of conflict and to reach some kind of compromise that would be satisfactory to you both?

Tell them to consider such questions as What is really the custom in school today regarding clothes?

What is generally considered the right way to dress for church for girls of your age?

But don't forget one important question: "How much money can the family afford to spend for clothes and what share of it can be spent on me?"

Pension Increase For Holders Of Medal Of Honor

Pension paid to veterans who hold the Congressional Medal of Honor has been increased from $10 to $100 per month by a new law enacted by the 87th Congress.

The Veterans Administration administrators payment of this pension, Harry G. Phillips, Officer-in-Charge of the VA Office in Memphis, said today.

The new law lowers the age requirement for eligibility from 65 years to 50 years, and eliminates the requirement of having an honorable discharge. Phillips pointed out.

While all who are currently receiving the $10 pension will automatically have their payments increased to $100, veterans who receive the Medal of Honor in the future, and those who presently have the medal for heroism in combat service but are not receiving the pension because they are under 65 years of age, will have to apply for the pension in order to receive it, Phillips added.

FALL FASHION SHOW

The lovely home of Mrs. Albert Sangster on Pine st., was transformed into a beautiful stage setting when the New Idea club presented "Designers Show Case" for its members and visiting friends on last Friday night. A designer herself, many pieces from Mrs. Sangster's own wardrobe were modeled by Miss Gladys Collins and fur hats from her own hand by Mesdames Rosetta McKissack and Anna Cooke.

Other models wearing special attire designed for them included Misses Patricia Foust of Indianapolis; Verdetta Story, Kansas City and Marion Rostler, all of Lane college; Mrs. Mildred Hay of Brownsville, Mrs. Clarice Gibbs, and Mrs. Vivian Bell of Jackson.

From lounging to late evening wear was shown, including fabulous stoles of autumn haze and the latest in coats. Coats were modeled by Mrs. McKissack through the courtesy of Rosenblooms which has long been the mecca for discriminating women and I must say they were simply breathtaking.

Narrator for this most elegant showing was Mrs. Annie M. Bond, past president of the club. Mrs. Rosetta McKissack is now president of the New Idea which is the oldest, federated club in the City of Jackson.

BRIDGE PARTY

Bridge, still one of the favorite past times, found members of the Criterion Bridge Club gathered at the home of your scribe engaging in the game. After arriving and being served, progressive bridge got underway. Climaxing scores found Mrs. Julia Sheegog in first place, Mrs. Bernice Lucas in second and Mrs. Fannie Dobbins, the lucky booty. I say lucky for it was a tie between Mrs. Dobbins and Mrs. M. M. Hughes and the lucky card was drawn by Mrs. Dobbins.

On Merry High's campus, attractive and talented girls have been chosen by their classmates to run for "Miss Hornet," the official football queen and her attendants. In the race for queen are seniors: Martha Jones, Mary Jean Cox, and Eleanor Faye Redd; for first attendant: Gladys Jones, Jacqueline Whitfield, Rose Ann Golden; second attendant: Pearl Griffin, Margaret Long, Margie Davis, Sonja Trice, and Sandra Smith; third attendant: Nellie Allen, Ruby Nell Porter, Freddie Vaulx, Carolyn Douglas, Shirley Hayes, and Gerry North.

Voting will be by secret ballot under the direction of the Student Council. The queen will reign at the Homecoming game on Oct. 28.

DELTA PLAN

Jackson Alumnae Delta's journeyed to Brownsville on last Saturday to the monthly meeting with the president, Mildred Hay and Bertha Collins. Final plans were made for the much talked about presentation of the Broadway Theatrical Extravaganza on Thursday, Oct. 26.

This Broadway musical will be directed by Clyde Turner and staged in the Lane college health building. Be sure to make it a date for you simply can't miss this cultural event of the year.

If you are interested in the education of your children, the PTA Council wishes to remind you that the membership drive is now on at the various schools in the city and you are invited to join where your children attend school, or in the case of patrons, join where your interest lies.

It is being stressed that not one just join but participate in the meetings. In keeping with this year's theme of American Education Week: "Your Schools: Time for a Progress Report" ask yourself this question, "Will I be a part of that report?" Progress cannot be made without the aid of parents and teachers working together in common the interest of their children.

Three Artists Scheduled For Concert Series

The Cultural Life Committee at LeMoyne college has selected three outstanding artists for the 1961-62 concert series.

All of the concerts are open to the public and will be given in Bruce Hall starting at 8:30 p.m.

The widely acclaimed young American pianist, David Gibson, will open the series when he appears in concert on Thursday night, Nov. 2. He has two successful Town Hall recitals to his credit and has made the European concert tour.

Tickets to the concert may be purchased at LeMoyne's business office in Brownlee hall.

FOLK SINGER

Odetta, the celebrated folk singer, will be here with her guitar for a concert on the night of Feb. 21. She is a sensational new performer and her recordings have made her one of the top singers of the day. Folk songs or spirituals are her specialty, she endows each with her own individual style and charm.

Soprano Gloria Davy, the Metropolitan Opera star, will close out the LeMoyne series with a concert on the night of March 23.

USCSC Man To Speak

Ross Clinchy, special assistant to the executive director of the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., will address an assembly of LeMoyne college students, faculty and staff Friday morning, Oct. 20, at 10:30 in Bruce Hall.

A GUIDE TO GOOD EATING

By GRACE WILLIAMS

By GRACE WILLIAMS

APPLE SEASON

The apple is the loveliest of earth's fruits and we grow the best of them here in the United States.

"It is the children's fruit, beloved of small boys for generations, cherished in the schoolbags of little girls with an eye on recess when it would be shared with the intimate friend, or given to a beloved teacher. Always it has been their first choice, their favorite, and for good reason. It puts sparkle in their eyes, polish on their teeth, joy in their stomachs and health over all."

—Angelo Patri.

Mr. Patri writes eloquently about both apples and children. And as the above article states, apples and children go together. So when the youngsters call on you for treats this Halloween, nothing would please them more than a nutritious apple served plain or fancy.

When you select apples for the little ghost and goblins be sure to get some for your family, too—they're in season, now and a real good buy.

For eating raw, choose apples that are hefty and solid. Delicious and McIntoshes are excellent for eating and Halloween treats. Greenings make mouth watering pies and Romees are just right for baking. For an all-purpose apple, choose Baldwin, Staymans, or Jonathans.

BUY BY BAG

For economy buy Jonathan apples in the four pound cello bag. Store them—this applies to all apples—in a cool dry place.

In addition to having plenty of apples for between meal snacks, try serving them at mealtimes.

Apple-Cranberry Bake — Core apples, being careful not to cut through blossom end. Fill cavity with cranberry sauce and sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake in moderate oven until apples are tender.

Apple Pancakes — Add finely chopped or grated apples to pancake batter. Brown pancakes as usual. Serve with butter and syrup, and sausage patties.

Desert Salad — Sprinkle diced apples with lemon juice. Add chopped dates, raisins, or grapes. Mix with marshmallows or cream cheese cut in small cubes.

A REAL TREAT

Now when the trick or treaters come a calling serve them a delicious candy apple. To make them you'll need:

- 2 lbs caramel candy
- 4 T. water
- Red food coloring
- 20 ginger snaps, finely rolled about 1 1/2 cups crumbs
- 12 medium apples
- 12 wooden sticks

Melt caramels with water in double boiler. Stir in enough coloring to make a bright red. Cover bottom of tray with ginger snap crumbs. Twist apples (using a small pickle or lobster fork.) in hot syrup until surface is completely coated. Set on crumbs, remove fork and insert candy stick. (Crumbs give the apples additional flavor or keep them from sticking to tray.)

"A Guide To Good Eating" is a service provided for the readers of the Tri-State Defender through the cooperation of the Memphis Dairy Council. Mrs. Williams is a teacher of home economics at Manassas high school.

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Irving Levine, owner of the lock, stock and barrel rifles sales and repair shop told police Sunday he was robbed—lock, stock and barrel. Levine said burglars took 40 weapons worth about $5,000, 4,000 rounds of ammunition and $500 in cash.

BRILLIANCE MARKS GRAGG CLUB LUNCHEON-REVUE AS MEMBERS HAIL NAMESAKE

STILL ACCLAIMED as one of the most brilliant and delightful social interludes of early Autumn is the recent luncheon-fashions revue in spacious Banquet Hall of McCormick Place during which women who have made notable achievements in educational, business and civic endeavors paid tribute to one of the nation's outstanding women leaders. The occasion was the Rosa L. Gragg Educational and Civic club's annual fashion show and luncheon which honored Dr. Rosa L. Gragg of Detroit, national president of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs. Dr. Gragg, who shared the guest speakers' podium with Federal Judge James B. Parson challenged her listeners to continue their notable achievements and to prepare for an important place in nuclear warfare should that extremity present itself. The hostess club founded in March, 1959 by Mrs. Grace Lee Stevens, one of Defenderland's most active and ardent club women, numbers in its membership a group of women who hold responsible posts in business, education, political, health, music, art, journalism, social service and social welfare activities. Memorial Rites Held In D. C. For AKA's First National President

Funeral services for Miss Nellie M. Quander, incorporator and first National Pres- ident of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, were held at the Lincoln Temple Congrega- tional Church in Washington, D. C., recently.

Services were conducted by the Pastor, Rev. R. L. Phillips, and the eulogy was delivered by the Rev. Arthur W. Elmes, Pastor of the Plymouth Con- gregational Church and a life- long friend. Believed to be in her 80's, Miss Quander was one of Washington's best known residents.

Born and educated in Wash- ington, D. C., she was one of the grand-daughters of Daniel and Hannah Bruce, free Ne- groes whose descendants in- clude many well-known resi- dents of Washington and Vir- ginia.

After graduation from the Miner Normal School, Miss Quander began her teaching career in May, 1901, at the Garrison School. She was a keen student and was able to combine teaching in the public school with attendance at Howard University. She received the Bachelor of Arts, Magna Cum Laude, from Howard in June, 1912. She ma- jored in the Social Sciences and received the Master of Arts from Columbia University in 1915. From 1916 to 1917, Miss Quander served as a special field agent for the Children's Bureau, to make a study of the economic and social conditions of the feeble- minded in New Castle County, Delaware.

Returning to Washington, she took up her teaching career as a junior high school teacher. She taught at the Shaw Junior High School for more than 30 years until her retirement in 1950. At Shaw, Miss Quander organized the first School Safety Patrol Unit in the Washington Schools and spon- sored the patrol for 25 years.

fluence of a sorority should not be limited to the college days of its members but should continue through their adult life. Accordingly she laid the foundations for nationalization of the Sorority through incor- poration and graduate chapter establishment. Through her ef- forts, Alpha Kappa Alpha was incorporated in 1913 and she became the first National President. It now includes 279 chapters in 43 states of the United States and in West Africa, with more than 40,000 members. Miss Quander was an active advisor to the orga- nization through the years.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Memorial Services for Miss Quander were held on Wednesday night, preceding the funeral, at the Church where the body lay in state. Services were con- ducted by Alpha, Beta Lam- ba, and Xi Omega Chapters.

North Carolina-born Vivian Richardson, who has traveled almost a million miles across the Atlantic as a stewardess in the Military Sea Transpor- tation Service, is one of the most active seagoing civil service stewardesses in the MST's Atlantic Area.

This charming 5-11" brown- eyed miss, who was the first woman to qualify for a life- boat ticket in the port of New York, is now sailing in the transport USS MAURICE ROSE.

Aside from her MST's duties, she has devoted her life to helping others. Her prac- tice of the "golden rule" has given her a deep interest in the United Seamen Service Centers located in most MST's ports, which provide entertain- ment and recreational facilities for merchant seamen.

IN PORT "When in port, during my off-duty time, I enjoy helping out as a hostess at the centers in Naples, Bremerhaven and Yokohama," she said. Vivian's tireless efforts and amplifi- cation of the desire to lend a helping hand were recently brought to the attention of Otho J. Hicks, executive di- rector of the United Seamen Service in New York City.

Mrs. Esther Pollard, Basileus of XI Omega Chapter, lead the service. Mrs. Barrington D. Parker, Supreme Basileus, read the Sorority's Resolution of National Sorrow. Nearly 100 sorors, including Founders Beulah Burke and Lavinia Norman, were present. An acappella choir of 40 coeds from Beta Lambda and Alpha Chapters sang.

Miss Quander lived alone and was found by her neigh- bors on Sunday when several persons noted that her news- paper from Saturday evening were still on her steps. Death was attributed to coronary thrombosis.

She is survived by a sister, Miss Susie Quander of Phila- delphia, a brother, Harry of Cleveland, and many cousins and several nephews.

Burial was held in Lincoln Cemetery.

and help others. I enjoy meet- ing and talking with them." Perhaps this is why Vivian de- cided to join MSTs as a stew- ardess in 1946. She is now one of 20 stewardesses serving on six MSTs transports in the Atlantic Area.

MRS. MAE HODGE asks that parents remind their teenagers to attend the "Workshop," Saturday, Oct. 14, 9 a. m., Washington Park YMCA. Topic of the day will be "Female Charm and Male Brawn." Some of the Co-ordinating Council of Youth Groups sponsors the Workshop. Mrs. William Syl- fester White is director of the group.

Annual AME Conference Shows Excellent Results

Charging that segregation exists on a large scale in Chi- cago, the 79th session of the Chicago Annual Conference of the African Methodist Epis- copal Church meeting Oct. 3 to 8 at Woodlawn AME church, 65th and Evans, asked for "ministers and members to as- sist in every way possible the elimination of segregation in Chicago public schools."

A series of resolutions in- cluded protests on the arrest of over 100 youth in McComb, Mississippi and asked for a stronger FEP bill in Illinois. Endorsement was also given to the current drive sponsored by the United Citizens Com- mittee for Legislation for Freedom of Residence through- out the state.

Bishop Joseph Gomez, pre- siding over the conference, commended the committee headed by Rev. Horace Gal- loway, pastor of Bethel AME, Robbins, for the bold stand taken on these and other is- sues. He ordered telegrams sent to the U.S. Department of Justice and to Atty. General Robert Kennedy, on the Mis- sissippi issue, and asked min- isters and laymen, represent- ing over 60,000 AME's in the greater Chicago area, to write the Illinois legislature, the Chicago City Council and Chi- cago Board of Education.

The resolution charged that "the manipulation of school boundaries as a result of the ghetto situation in housing" was the responsibility of the School Board. Rev. S. S. Mor- ris, president of the Chicago chapter of the NAACP and Rev. Carl Fuqua, executive secretary, both members of the AME Conference, praised the stand taken by the Confer- ence.

President Kennedy was lauded by the committee "for his several appointments of qualified Negroes to execu- tive, judicial and policy mak- ing positions." The Confer- ence also supported the UN position in crisis-stricken Africa and the use of a single Secretary General.

"PASTOR OF THE YEAR

AWARD" Rev. Wilford Reid received the annual "Minister of the Year Award" presented by Bishop Gomez and Presiding Elder A. Wayman Ward. Pas- tor Reid of Bethel AME Evan- ston, had a net increase of 143 members, led in the purchase of a $24,000.00 tri-level par- sonage and grossed over $29,000.00 leading the 278 mem- ber congregation.

DIGNITARIES PRESENT Two prominent local fig- ures appeared during Thurs- day's sessions. Judge Sidney Jones spoke on the gains be- ing made by Negroes and urged a continued fight for rights and a sense of community re- sponsibility. Etta Moten Bar- nette, former movie and TV celebrity and wife of Associ- ated Negro Press owner, Claude Barnette, presented a tableaux with ladies of the Women's Missionary Society dressed in authentic African attire from her personal collection, on the Missionary program Thursday night.

TWO CHURCHES ADDED The Conference approved two new churches. The Hazel

T. Gomez Mission, meeting at 7345 S. Princeton, sponsored by Bethel AME, Chicago, under the leadership of Rev. Dr. J. A. Portlock and Commu- nity AME Church, meeting at 94th & Wallace, sponsored by St. Mary's AME, Rev. William H. Jenkins, pastor, received the commendation of Bishop Go- mez. Rev. Walter Lee super- vises Gomez Mission and Rev. John Wallace, Community

Mission. The five-day session closed at DuSable High School, Sun- day afternoon with the read- ing of pastoral assignments by Bishop Gomez. Music was furnished by a 500-voice ed choir.

Pretty Carolina Born Stewardess Practices Golden Rule In Travel

North Carolina-born Vivian Richardson, who has traveled almost a million miles across the Atlantic as a stewardess in the Military Sea Transpor- tation Service, is one of the most active seagoing civil service stewardesses in the MST's Atlantic Area.

This charming 5-11" brown- eyed miss, who was the first woman to qualify for a life- boat ticket in the port of New York, is now sailing in the transport USS MAURICE ROSE.

Aside from her MST's duties, she has devoted her life to helping others. Her prac- tice of the "golden rule" has given her a deep interest in the United Seamen Service Centers located in most MST's ports, which provide entertain- ment and recreational facilities for merchant seamen.

IN PORT "When in port, during my off-duty time, I enjoy helping out as a hostess at the centers in Naples, Bremerhaven and Yokohama," she said. Vivian's tireless efforts and amplifi- cation of the desire to lend a helping hand were recently brought to the attention of Otho J. Hicks, executive di- rector of the United Seamen Service in New York City.

and help others. I enjoy meet- ing and talking with them." Perhaps this is why Vivian de- cided to join MSTs as a stew- ardess in 1946. She is now one of 20 stewardesses serving on six MSTs transports in the Atlantic Area.

RECALLS DREAM Vivian recalls that she al- ways had a desire to go to sea. Much of her stewardess work on the transports includes car- ing for the wives and children of military men. At times there are as many as 100 children on one voyage. Vivian also as- sists the ship's chaplain in ar- ranging parties for the chil- dren of dependents departing and those returning to the United States. She also super- vises laundry facilities onboard to see that they are always in working order for mothers' convenience.

According to Vivian's boss, R. P. Warner, head, MSTs At- lantic Area Steward branch, she is "one of our outstanding stewardesses." "On various occasions," he said, "she has taken short notice assignments, some- times at a 15-minute notice, so that a ship might sail on time and with the services of a stew- ardess."

"Vivian is also qualified as a switchboard operator on board during slack periods when the ship is in port. She is very di- versified," he said, "having sail- ed on all of Atlantic Area's six transports carrying a stew- ardess."

signer. Then one June night in 1946, she talked with two seamen who told her about the duties of a stewardess on ships carry- ing men of the Armed Forces, their dependents and govern- ment employees. "That's for me," she said. "Here is my chance to meet and help others and also see the world." The next day Vivian registered for duty as a civilian marine. She made her first trip in 1953.

The petite stewardess, who lies at 249 West 133 st., in New York City is especially proud of a ranch-style house she owns in her hometown of Rocky Mount, N. C. "After all," she said, "my Dad built it for me." Vivian's father is a building contractor in Rocky Mount.

A devout Catholic, Miss Richardson finds time in port to attend Mass and participate in various community events. She lists among her favorite personalities Congress- man Adam Clayton Powell, Geri Major of Johnson Pub- lications, Mrs. Cameron Hayes and Mrs. Edna Mae (Sugar Ray) Robinson, to name a few. Her hobbies include card playing, reading and working at her forte, dress designing. "Designing is something I love best of all," she said. During leisure time at sea, Vivian finds able sewing machine. "I've time to spin away on her port- made everything from ladies' jackets to men's coats," she said. When she retires, Vivian plans to return to fashion de- signing.

Clabber Girl Bittersweet Chocolate Cake

The Recipe Sift together 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cream together 1/2 cup shortening, 2 cups firmly packed brown sugar, and 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract. Add 2 eggs; beat until light and fluffy. Add 4 squares (4 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled. Add dry ingredi- ents alternately with 1 cup milk, adding flour mixture first and last; beat thoroughly after each addition. Pour equal amounts of batter into two greased and floured 9 x 1 1/2-inch round layer cake pans. Bake in a 375° F. (moderate) oven about 30 minutes. Cool before frosting. Yield: 2-9-inch layers.

You should know the about baking...

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

Balanced Double Action means Better Baking!

MANASSAS HIGH NEWS

GWENDOLYN JOHNSON
HONOR SOCIETY

The Louis B. Hobson chapter of the National Honor Society presented just recently an inspirational devotional program over the intercom.

The Honor Society is one of few every student wishes to be affiliated with.

The members of the Honor Society showed the student body that they are not only the "brains" of the school but versatile as was exemplified by a solo "Danny Boy" from Shirley Purnell accompanied by Claudia Walton on the piano.

These great assets, standards of the Honor Society were illustrated: leadership — Charles Branham; character — Delores Benton; scholarship — Leon Hurd; and service — William Harris.

Other highlights of the program included opening remarks by Terry Edwards, president of the Honor Society; scripture and prayer, Beverly Guy; and a poem, "If," recited by Gwendolyn Robinson. The program ended with the school song.

THE IDEAL DATE

After coming home from a casual date you perhaps look forward to another date with "Jim" but he never even calls again.

Then you wonder, "what did I do wrong?" or say "I thought I was absolutely charming!"

The fellows have set up some pretty high standards for dating. Listen to what some of our most outstanding young men think and see if you are what they called "Date Bait" or the "Perfect Date."

Adell Smith (president of the junior class), "An ideal date is one in which each person, meaning male and female, has enough respect for each other that will last the whole evening through. The young man should have certain character traits about him that will keep him in bounds with the young lady's wishes. To pretend that you are highly ethical when the evening starts, and then alternate can be very misleading. A fellow's conduct should be gentlemanly throughout the date. The young lady should tell him where and how the evening should be spent beforehand if it has not been decided at first. The conversation should include various subjects, namely current events, sports, team, school news, etc. An ideal date is a person you will want to see again."

James Phillips (president of the Student Council): "To me the perfect date would be to go by the boy asking the girl at least three days in advance. He would arrive at the girl's home at about 7:00 p. m., and remain about five or 10 minutes to get acquainted with the girl's parents. Then he and the girl would leave for their night of enjoyment. They should arrive at the movies or dance or whatever the f a i r is, about 8:00 p. m. Afterwards they would drive to a restaurant or drive-in eating place for a small snack if they are hungry.

"The boy should get the girl back home at 11:00 p. m. to end their perfect evening."

Joe Duckett (typical sophomore fellow): "First your date should be willing to go to the place of your choice. You and the young lady should also have something in common so that your evening may be more enjoyable. Conversation is no longer a forgotten art and you may learn a lot about her personality."

There are two reporters around Hamilton who think they have a bad pen. But what they don't know is they have been burned by the syndicate.

My advice is join the syndicate and let by gones be by gones. You may survive.

To Bonnie Little and Lila Abram—your young ladies seem to be upset because your names appeared in the Inquisitive Corner. You should be proud someone thought enough of you.

But I know you aren't upset. You might look upset on the outside, but on the inside you are saying "Thank you for the write-up."

sonality. The way she dresses, indicates whether she cares enough about you and dating you to dress neatly. By her attire you can tell whether she is lazy or not."

You have heard from several of our leading young men. But there are two sides to every story, so listen in the future for what the girls consider the perfect date.

KEEN TEEN
This week our spotlight beams on a young man of rare character and personality that makes him likeable among his many classmates and friends. He seems to be quite gifted as is exemplified by his "A" average in his academic work. He has a sense of humor that makes him acceptable whether with intellectuals or his own friends.

"There's never a dull moment when Charles Branham is around."

Charles is a member of the 11-4 class of which Mrs. Hilda Smith is instructor. He resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Branham, at 1600 Miller.

Around our campus, Charles is affiliated with the National Honor Society, is assistant editor of the Newsweek staff, a member of the Court, Social Science club, treasurer of the Junior class and is parliamentarian of the Ole Timers club.

He is a member of the Providence CME church of which the Rev. A. D. Brown is pastor. Charles finds time for his church and is doing much to keep the young people interested.

Upon graduation from Manassas, Charles plans to attend the University of California at Los Angeles in the field of political science and later enter law school.

All of these assets combine to make Charles Branham a credit to Manassas and a "Keen Teen of the Week."

SENIOR CLASS
This is the "Cadillac" year for the senior class. We will be "Bigger" and "better" than last year's class. Many spectacular events have been planned. Some of the top seniors who will carry out these plans are Charles Cabbage, Charles Brown, Harold Adams, Eugene Campbell, Kenneth Wilkins, Jackie Foster, Faye McDade, Dianne Smith, Ruby Hardy, and M. Shaw.

TOP PERSONALITY
Holding the position as "Top personality" this week is Miss Ruby Carolyn Hardy. She resides at 342 Fay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Hardy and her little brother Wade. Ruby is a member of the 12-5 homeroom class and Mrs. Joan Johnson is her instructor.

Around the campus Ruby is affiliated with the Sub-deb Society, Spanish club, English club, Student Council and the senior band. She is a member of the Church of Christ, Vance Avenue.

Ruby plans to further her education at Fisk university in Nashville. She is going to major in music as she is doing in high school. She wants to be a music teacher.

Young Memphis

SPOTLIGHT

Young Memphis, U.S.A., is where the spotlight falls this week on a very charming and ingenious young lady, Miss Elaine Alexander, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Alexander Sr. of 1173 Wilson. Elaine, a senior at Father Bertrand high this year, was chosen as the Homecoming Queen for 1961-62.

Around school Elaine's other extracurricular activities include a membership in the Glee Club, Choir and girls Athletic association. Last week Elaine was crowned "Miss Father Bertrand" in a beautiful ceremony at Melrose stadium. Her escort was Michael White.

She was crowned by the captain of the Thunderbolts, Paul Hawkins. The Father Bertrand band added the finishing touch to the ceremony. Hats off to a fine young lady.

SCOREBOARD
Bertrand Thunderbolts 13.

Game of the week: Father Bertrand and Thunderbolts—Carver Cobras.

WE WANT TO KNOW:
What two girls are known as the "Doozy Twins of FBH?" How Elmo Shipp manages to have a girl friend at every school.

If James Walker and Cora Brewer were tight.

If Morris Webb plans to settle down with a certain young lady namely Jeanette.

If Millard Brown really robbed the cradle.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF:
Juanita Robinson could visit Nashville on week-ends?

Lynn Howell and YKW were tight?

Bonnie Draper and Major Dueberry were ace-cuts?

Michael White wasn't cool?

Morelyn Brownlee still admired Booker T. Cole and Samuel McDowell didn't admire a certain Jr. at FBH.

Dorothy Graham had eyes for Dan Hancock?

Joan Ford and Bishop Trotter had met.

The Luster Twins were Miss Manassas?

Ricki McGraw didn't prefer Floyds?

Jackie Walker didn't have an affection for Counts? Betty Lester wasn't cool?

Rudolph Myers found the right girl? Henrietta Hall wasn't admired by two certain sophomore boys?

DEDICATIONS

CORONATION DANCE:
On Oct. 10, Douglass held its annual Coronation dance, giving honor to "Mr. and Miss Douglass of 1961-62." Reigning are Freddie Rooks "M i s s Douglass" and Edmond White "Mr. Douglass."

Other title holders are "Miss Senior," Gloria Armstrong; "Miss Junior," Lois Williams; "Miss Sophomore," Gloria Price; and "Miss Freshman," Poshia Ward.

The "Football Queen" is Darthulia Parks.

On Oct. 11, the school held its Annual Homecoming Parade in which many clubs participated.

LIBRARY CLUB
The Library club held its first official meeting of the school year 1961-62 October 2, 1961 where they elected officers. They are: president, Margaret Logan; vice president, Nathaniel Guinn; secretary, Eunice Brown; assistant secretary, Doris Dortch; treasurer, Gloria Knox; chaplain, Sandra Nelson; and reporters, Betty Peete and Ralph Lewis.

Every member of the Douglass Library club is planning to purchase and wear a pen this year.

We are also looking forward to the student librarian association in April.

CAN YOU BELIEVE THAT
Robert Weaver was angry with Kay Kirk?

Lewis Timberson is admiring a certain senior in 12-1?

Gloria Deener and Joshua Ware are making it now?

JoAnn Hooper and Audrey Johnson are the best of friends now?

Ina Edwards is being constantly called by Joe?

Betty Cox is dating Willie Kimmons again?

LIMELIGHT
This week we have selected Adrian Hubbard as limelighter of the week. Adrian is the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hubbard who reside at 3458 Horn Lake. He is in the 12th grade, Mr. Staples home room, and is a science major.

Upon graduation he plans to attend Howard university where he plans to become an engineer.

This young man is a member of the Cane Creek Baptist Church where he is a member of the Usher board.

ADVICE
Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors, in this letter is some advice from a senior to lower classes. "A hint to the wise is sufficient."

"When I was in the lower grades (9th, 10th, 11th) as you are now I heard from my teachers, principal, parents, and older brothers and sisters, the repeated warning to study, to stop playing around and apply myself. I always excused myself, when I didn't complete an assignment, saying that I was "too busy."

"Shucks, I didn't have time to open my English book and learn the conjugation of a verb or my Algebra book to learn substitutions and equations or my history book to learn of great explorers. I had to be at every basketball and football game, every dance, and I simply had to see "the movie."

"Now I'm a senior and I realize that I am not "too busy" as I thought then, to study, but I am "too busy" to attend the games or dance which will mean nothing to me when semester examination time comes around.

I am "too busy" to go to the movie that'll not mean a thing when I go to college.

Fellow Mitchellites, take a tip from this senior who had to learn the hard way to study.

BOOSTER CLUB
The newly organized Boosters of Mitchell High held its first meeting Wednesday, Oct. 11, in the school's cafeteria.

The purpose of this meeting was to elect officers and to give financial aid for the football team, basketball team, track team, and band.

All interested in the organization are asked to contact the newly elected president William Hughes at EX 8-4622.

ACCORDING TO legend, diamonds can be easily picked out of the sand in the desert diamond fields of South West Africa. But, legend is wrong. For every carat of diamonds recovered, about 27 tons of sand and gravel have to be removed. This photo shows a South African diamond sorter examining a week's output of diamonds found in the opencast workings of the Consolidated Diamond Mines company at Oranjemund. There are about 15,000 diamonds here.

It is reported that both Negroes and whites may attend the current Mississippi-Alabama fair here at any time.

The state fair, which opens Jackson next month is segregated with days set aside for each race to attend. The NAACP has protested.

Mr. James M. Savery, manager of the Mississippi-Alabama fair said reports had been circulated that the same practice would be followed here.

He said Negroes are welcomed day and night—every day of the fair. Negro children have been invited to march in the parade just as they always have.

He said that they always have had good relations among the races at the fair and only someone wanting to start trouble would stir up reports that our policy has changed.

Sports HORIZON

THE AUTOPSY

The World Series is over, and once again the New York Yankees, "money bags" of the baseball, go their separate ways into the long winter to rest their aching muscles from the new 112 game campaign, while the defeated Cincinnati Reds go away to hibernate, hoping to forget it all.

What modest critical support the Reds attracted, coming up to the World Series, was based on the contention that they had proved themselves to be the strongest club in the strongest league.

In view of their dismal fate at the hands of the best club in the "weaker league," perhaps it wouldn't be a bad idea to take a closer look at this stronger-weaker league proposition. How does Gus H. Fan know that he isn't being sold a spurious commodity, a brand X, in fact?

If anything, the American League was supposed to be weaker than ever this season, because of the addition of two new clubs, Washington and Los Angeles had depleted reserves and generally thinned out the material.

NATIONAL INTACT
Having deferred expansion to 10 clubs for 12 months, the National League personnel remained untouched. Indeed, with the new infusion of new blood in the form of phenoms, the material figured to be stronger, rather than weaker.

And notwithstanding the ridicule to which the Reds were subjected here and there, there was absolutely nothing fluky about their championship. They beat the Braves 15 times, Cards 14, Dodgers and Giants 12, each.

If the makeshift Reds, who finished sixth a year ago, 28 games out of first place, had unimpressive credentials, wouldn't it logically follow that the higher rated N. L. clubs which they beat rather consistently, had even less attractive recommendations?

When the Pirates outlasted the Yankees last fall, it marked the N. L.'s fifth victory in the last seven series. This, plus the fact the N. L. had won eight of the last 11 All-Star games, made the stronger-weaker line easier to sell.

With the Yankees losing three of their last five series to the Dodgers, '57 to the Braves, and '60 to the Pirates), the issue had become clear cut. Where the N. L. heretofore claimed superiority over all but the Yankees, now the boast made no exceptions. The Yankees had dropped back to the peck.

Actually, the NLers had a commanding margin in only one of the more recent series. That's when the Giants scalped the Indians four in a row. The White Sox took the Dodgers to six and might have taken it all but for Larry Sherry's sensational relief work, a sleeper up from minors, who had never pitched back to his '59 form.

MANTLE SAT
The other three series involved the Yankees and went the limit. The injury proved Mantle missed four games against the Dodgers, was also a casualty against the Braves and a double play ball which took a crazy bounce, was all that saved the Pirates, who, incredibly were outscored 55-27.

We submit more substantial evidence than this is necessary to resolve the stronger-weaker controversy. We submit further that the protagonists have gotten considerable mileage out of their sales pitch than the facts warrant. And the last two series, the way they were played, certainly did not strengthen their case.

Even in winning the Pirates looked bad. They lost three games, 6-3, 12-0, 10-0. The Reds looked even worse. In the only game they won, they took the lead to stay on a short passed ball, which caught the usually wide-awake Elston Howard, wool gathering. They returned home, even-stein, and well placed to end the series if they had what it took. They didn't. They lost all three and were just plain butchered in the last two.

WRIGHTMEN IN FORM
We went out to see James Earl Wright and the Memphis State Tigers in action for the first time last Saturday night, in Crump Stadium. We report that the Tigers and quarterback Wright deserve all the raves they have been receiving as they methodically applied the brakes to Mississippi Southern, 21-7.

SEGREGATION CRUMBLING
When the St. Louis Hawks took the measure of the Cincinnati Royal 122-108 recently, it marked the end for segregated audiences for athletic events at the municipal auditorium.

Our visit to Crump Stadium revealed segregation's last stand as a section of the south end zone seats were roped off for the dozen Negro spectators who attended the game.

This column had reported earlier that the seating barrier would probably be abolished, but we didn't know it would only be for the Negro students attending MSU. Four of them were spotted five rows below the State band with the aid of high powered binoculars. Included in the group was a bespectacled young lady. Integration came to reserved section when several white fans took their seats there in the third quarter. The rope somehow had mysteriously disappeared, but no one seemed to mind. Some of the whites even shared their beer with some of their "border" friends.

We had one advantage on the 50 yarders, in that our vantage point was near the entrance taken by the television fabled "Dixie Darlings" who performed at halftime. Y'all know they were quite a compensation for our having to occupy the end zone seats.

At the halftime of the televised Michigan State-U of M game at AA, the host band formed an outline map of the United States with an American flag being unrolled in the middle to show the unity attained as a result of the Civil War.

The announcer reiterated this desire to be as one, reading the last few lines of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address—it was a salute to the Civil War Centennial.

In a matter of hours, Memphis had seceded again—the spark that set off the session was the first Memphis State touchdown against Mississippi Southern that brought about the unfurling of a huge rebel flag.

Magicians To Tangle With Tough Ky. State

LeMoynes Magicians are facing a tough basketball schedule, including a shot at Kentucky State, but no one on the campus is worried because Jerry Johnson is expected to come up with his best team this year. Six promising freshmen are on the squad which began training last Monday in Bruce Hall.

Two of the youngsters come to LeMoynes highly rated. James Gordon, 6-3, made the All-State team last year while serving as captain and playing center for Central High in Louisville, Ky., and Frederick Bolin, 6-4, who earned a berth on Indiana's All-Sectional team while holding down a guard post for Lincoln High in Evansville, Ind.

Other freshmen on the squad are Jimmy Charlton, 6-3, forward, from Central High, Louisville, Ky.; Boyd Currin, 6-2, guard, from Halls Consolidated High, Halls, Tenn.; Clee Sanderson, 5-7, guard, Lincoln High, Evansville, Ind.; and Frank Wood, 6-1, forward, John Adams High, Cleveland, Ohio.

Returning veterans are Captain David Gaines, 6-foot guard, Detroit; Robert Hambric, 6-2, sophomore guard, Chicago; Robert Nelson, 6-5, junior center, Henderson, Ky.; Donald Nelson, 6-2, sophomore forward, Cincinnati; Paul Lowry, 6-foot sophomore guard, New Brighton, Pa.; Curtis Mitchell, 5-11, senior guard, Memphis; Cleophus Owens, 6-3, sophomore forward, Memphis, and Verties Sails, 6-foot sophomore forward, Lucy, Tenn.

LeMoynes Magicians are facing a tough schedule: HOME GAMES — Philander Smith, Dec. 7; Alabama State, Dec. 9; Lane, Dec. 12; Fort Valley, Dec. 19; Tuskegee, Jan. 3; Knoxville, Jan. 9; Talladega, Jan. 12; Dillard, Jan. 15; Alabama A&M, Feb. 2; Paul Quinn, Feb. 5; Stillman, Feb. 8; Fisk, Feb. 12, and Kentucky State, Feb. 17.

GAMES AWAY — Knoxville, Dec. 1; Fisk, Dec. 2; Alabama A&M, Dec. 4; Jackson State College Tournament, Jackson, Miss., Dec. 22-23; Stillman, Jan. 5; Alabama State, Jan. 6; Talladega, Jan. 26; Tuskegee, Jan. 27; Lane, Jan. 30; Philander Smith, Feb. 10, and SIAC Tournament, Tuskegee Institute, Ala., Feb. 22-24.

There are tests that we can give to find out what sounds are giving children difficulty. Each child can be asked to read aloud, answer some questions, or name pictures, and the teacher can record the sounds in error. The teacher may talk informally with the child.

Speech correctionists, however, prefer a prepared articulation speech test. Published articulation tests are available and include pictures, word lists, and convenient record blanks for checking errors for a simple speech history.

The classroom teacher should keep a list of specific words that give certain children trouble. These words may be used as practice words toward the end of the restraining program.

Generally, a large number of children have difficulty with these sounds: (s), (th), (l), (r), (g), (v), (h), (wh), (sh), (ch), (z), (f), (v), (s); blends of SL, ST, and SQU, (R); blends of TR, CR, and DR, and (L) blends of PL, CL, and BL.

Prep Fans See Five Games; Tigers Subdue Lions; Cobras Beaten

Prep fans witnessed a very busy schedule in last week's grid actions. There were five games in three nights, and with the exception of one, they all turned out to be routs. Douglass celebrated its homecoming, getting back on the winning track by pummeling Merry High of Jackson, Tenn., 42-6, Wednesday night at Melrose stadium. On the same night, the Washington Warriors warmed up for their important game with Manassas this week, by brushing pass Hamilton 47-6, at Washington Stadium.

The Manassas Tigers were pushed to the bitter end before they were able to subdue previously undefeated Lester, 19-0, Thursday night at Melrose. In the two games Friday night, Melrose handled smaller Langston of Hot Springs, 27-6, a fine homecoming crowd looked on gratifyingly, in Melrose Stadium. Across town on the Washington Field, Carver kept its scoring record intact, but the opponents continued to score much higher. Staying almost entirely on the ground Father Bertrand ran around and through the Cobras for a 46-6 score, breaking triumph.

TOP CLASH
When Manassas takes the field against Washington Friday night in the Washington stadium, in the city's oldest rivalry, the prep championship is also at stake.

The Tigers lead the league with a 5-0 record and their stout passing ranks them one touchdown favorites. However, when these two teams meet, statistics and records are usually abandoned. The game pits Manassas and its fine passing against the Warriors' strong-running game. Quarterback Benny Malone, senior, has been more than adequate in replacing Jesse Laird. Laird graduated as a member of the all-Memphis team this past summer. Malone's favorite targets are deluxe pass receivers—Billy Doss at end and halfback Rudolph Myers, a pair with good hands, who catch everything near them. Myers seldom carries the ball, plays in the slot outside the end and is pretty tough to cover. He leads the circuit in scoring with 46 points. Halfback Bobby Williams gives the Tigers another receiver on rollout passes.

The Warriors feature a strong running game anchored by the line crashing of their fullback, Oscar Reed, second to Myers in scoring with 44 points. Bill Hayes is the Washington outside man and can scoot the distance if given a little daylight. The passing of the Warriors is somewhat unproven although their passes have gotten off some timely pitches.

The Warriors had to come up with emergency replacements at the signal calling position when the team learned they wouldn't have the services of last year's first and second string quarterbacks. Willie Ward quit to concentrate on basketball and William Holman had scholastic trouble.

Melrose was scheduled to tangle with Douglass Wednesday. The Golden Wildcats have a 3-1 record and must meet Douglass to stay in the into our pockets to contribute to St. Jude hospital.

LA CROSSE, Wis. — (UPI) — Sculptor Anthony Zimmerhahl and the city council rejected the plea of the Winnebago Indian tribe that the city's 25-foot statue of an Indian be named for their famous chief, Decorah.

Decorah had only one eye, Zimmerhahl explained, while the statue is of an Iroquois Indian, he added. The issue came to an end when it was christened Hiawatha.

We cannot afford to look the other way and let Johnny Do it when there is a community project in need of our support. It is time for the Negro community to take a forthright stand concerning the St. Jude hospital, and the only way a forthright stand can be taken is to contribute to the fund-raising campaign.

We are mindful that some Negroes are accredited with contributing to the project. Among them is the members of the J-U-G-S social club, which is a local group of young women who have done a commendable job in contributing to community projects.

Let's get up off our hands in order that we can put them running for the title. The Red Devils did everything against Merry High, including a 13 yard field goal by fullback Charles Hendricks. Hendricks also scored two touchdowns in the game.

Carver goes against Lester Thursday at Washington, in what could be quite a struggle between the freshmen and sophomore teams of the league. Lester's performance against Manassas last week rates them as favorites. Lester played the Tigers in old uniforms donated by Lincoln University, the Alma Mater of their coach, Herman O'Neil.

Boy In Court On Slaying Charge

WHEATON, Ill. — (UPI) — Steven Schloneger, 13, confessed slayer of Yvonne Elliot, 7, was scheduled to appear in DuPage county criminal court here at a hearing on a delinquency petition.

Schloneger, who confessed slaying blonde Yvonne for a "thrill," was expected to be represented by a court appointed attorney. The girl was found, gagged and her hands tied behind her back, last Oct. 4 in a swampy area north of Elmhurst, Ill.

William Bauer, DuPage county state's attorney, is expected to seek a murder indictment against the boy.

Seek Repeal Of Newspaper Tax

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — (UPI) — Gov. Terry Sanford says he will ask the next legislature to repeal the state's newspaper sales tax which requires many young newsboys to fill out intricate tax forms.

William F. Davis of Winston-Salem, father of two newsboys, said the governor wrote him saying he would seek repeal of the act.

The law requires a three per cent tax on newspaper sales made directly to consumers. It exempts newsboys selling less than 1,000 papers weekly, but requires them to fill out revenue reports to claim the exemption.

Security Funds Go Unclaimed

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Millions of dollars in social security benefits are going unclaimed because many people do not know they are eligible, according to the Health, Education and Welfare department (HEW).

A spokesman said amendments to the social security law are coming so rapidly that many people, newly eligible for relief under the 1960 amendments, have not claimed their payments.

The 1960 amendments included a reduction in that amount of work needed to qualify for payments and added as beneficiaries the survivors of workers who died after March 31, 1938, as well as dependent widowers of women workers who died before September, 1950.

Three Top Newsmen To Get Awards

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — Three of the nation's top newsmen have been chosen to receive the second annual achievement awards presented by the University of Southern California Journalism Alumni association, it was announced.

Association President Barbara Trister said that awards will go to Henry R. Luce, editor-in-chief of Time Inc.; Ralph McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, and Walter Cronkite, CBS-TV news commentator, at the association's Oct. 30 banquet.

Says Welfare Apologies Aid Reds

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said the United States is helping Russia's Propaganda because instead of bragging about U.S. welfare programs it apologizes.

"We do spend more and more in behalf of our people's welfare than perhaps any other country," Ribicoff said in a speech prepared for delivery before a dinner of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies.

"But instead of telling — indeed shouting — our American story, the story of our advances in and our concern for Health, Education and Welfare, we apologize for them," he said.

Williams To Confer With Rebels

TUNIS — (UPI) — Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams is expected to confer with leaders of the Algerian rebel government in exile during his stay here.

Williams arrived Sunday and said he hoped to learn more of "the example which Tunisia gives to the countries of the African continent, as much by her manner of helping herself as well as by her spirit of initiative, progress, and sacrifice."

President Habib Bourguiba, one of the chief supporters of the rebels' claim to an independent Algeria, allows their leadership to use Tunis as their exile headquarters.

Newsboy Works Hard To Become A Top Salesman

A hard-working Tri-State Defender newsboy is Orlando Matthews, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Matthews, sr., of 1672 So. Lauderdale st.

Orlando considers himself a salesman, and not just a plain paper boy, and he wishes to thank all of his friends who have patronized him. He is always looking for new customers.

The young salesman is a seventh grade student at Lincoln elementary school and a member of Mt. Sinai Baptist church 1667 S. Lauderdale, of which Rev. L. L. Laws is pastor.

Orlando loves good music, and is studying as a special pupil of Mrs. Katherine Irby of 1305 Sardis st.

The young salesman does not spend all of his time with books, for he loves to play in the outdoors. He is a member of the Lauderdale Bears, a pee wee football team, coached by Robert Walker of 1661 S. Lauderdale.

White House Aide Joins Biased Club

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy has become a member of the exclusive Metropolitan Club here from which Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy resigned because it barred Negroes from membership.

Bundy is President Kennedy's special assistant for National Security Affairs. He is a former Harvard dean and a Republican.

Bundy could not be reached for comment when newsmen tried to telephone him about the report, published in a newspaper society column.

In addition to the Attorney General, the club's policy against accepting Negroes brought about the resignation of George Lodge, former assistant secretary of labor.

Seek Former BTW '46 Classmates

Club '46 has made plans to hold a membership drive during a meeting scheduled for 4 p. m., Sunday, Oct. 15 at Mt. Vernon Baptist church, 547 Mississippi blvd., announces Mrs. Mary Walker, chairman of the affair.

Club '46 consists of Booker T. Washington High school students who graduated in the class of 1946. Efforts are being made to organize an alumni chapter of the class members. All class members are invited to attend the meeting.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting.

St. Peter's Youth To Be Highlighted

Annual Youth Day will be observed at the St. Peter Baptist church, 1442 Gill ave., on next Sunday, Oct. 15, and the guest speaker at the 3 p. m. program will be Rev. A. E. Campbell, jr.

A talent program on Friday night, Oct. 13, will be the first phase of Youth Week. It will be concluded with a forum scheduled to begin at 7 p. m. on Sunday night.

The general public is invited to be present. Rev. C. J. Gaston is pastor of the church.

CIVIC CLUB AWARD — Members of the 50th Ward Civic Club presented their first annual $100 scholarship award to Miss Cora Collins, center, a 1961 graduate of Carver High school, and presently a LeMoyne college freshman. Presenting her the check at far right is E. J. Young, club president, while Richard B. Thompson, principal of Carver, looks on. Standing at left is Mrs. James Collins, mother of the award winner, and Mrs. Nathaniel Hicks, the civic's club's scholarship chairman. According to Young, the club will present a $100 scholarship each year to a deserving graduate of the school.

Tenn. Nurses Quit En Masse

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(UPI) — The Board of Trustees of a Negro hospital have accepted the mass resignation of 29 nurses who have been denied a 40-hour week and pay increases.

The nurses are the bulk of Hubbard hospital's staff of 42 nurses. Hospital administrator William Vanstone said Hubbard received less money per patient than other hospitals in the city because its patients' average income was lower.

He said Hubbard nurses get an average of $25 a week less than other Nashville nurses.
