FEUD SPIRIT

Men Draft Women to Work Fields Through Fear of Assassination.

Lexington, Ky., June 10. News was brought here from Jackson today to the effect that since the recent assassination of Sheriff Ed Callahan the farmers living in the Long Creek section of Breathitt county, where the assassination took place, are afraid to work in their fields for fear of assassinations' bullets, and that the women and children are being drafted for the planting of the crops.

The authorities so far have failed to apprehend the assassins of Callahan, and this has contributed to the fear that they will continue their depredations. The report states further that a bitter feeling exists between the henchmen of the Callahans and the members of the Smith-Deaton-Johnson faction, who are accused of killing Callahan, and that another outbreak is looked for at any time.

Death of Mrs. Allen Hays.
Mrs. Allen Hays, of the Buchanan vicinity, died last Friday night after a long illness of lung trouble. Mrs. Hays was an estimable woman and a devoted member of the Christian church.

She was about 47 years of age and is survived by her husband, three daughters and one son. The funeral was held by Eld. W. A. Morgan and burial took place Saturday in Mt. Zion cemetery. Paris Parian.

Koye was not dangerously hurt, but quite painfully so, and as the wound kept him from chewing tobacco and interfered with his mastication at mealtime it is his desire that Sheridan, who is now perhaps "forth miles away," be apprehended forthwith—Paris Parian.

Goes up in Smoke.

Fire was discovered about noon Saturday issuing from the house described by one of the colored population as that "double tenant" house owned by Daniel Morris and located just at the rear of his residence. It spread from there to the cabin owned by Mrs. Ivey. For a time things looked equally as from burning shingles and it looked as the whole block would go, however it was finally controlled with only the burning of the two houses, which were a total loss of the house and contents. No insurance.

Ten Thousand Dollars.

The salvage on the tobacco saved from the Eaker, Ezell & Co. tobacco warehouse, which burned several weeks ago, amounts to about $10,000.

Much of the tobacco which was saved, was shipped to Paducah and Henderson, Ky., where it was disposed of. On Friday of last week the remainder, amounting to about 50,000 pounds, was sold on the site at 7 1/2 cents per pound.

The loss to the insurance companies amounted to nearly 90 per cent.—Paris Post Intelligence.

FRANCHISE

At Last Meeting of City Council the Sewerage Franchise was Sold to P. H. Porter.

P. H. Porter, of Clinton, Ky., bought the sewerage franchise of the City Council at their last meeting. Mr. Porter will return to Murray in about ten days when he will have surveys and estimates of the work taken. He will then submit a proposition to those who may wish to invest in this enterprise as he thinks it better for a community to invest in their own enterprises as we always take more interest in "our work" than "his work."

Now is the time to locate and invest in Murray, for the spirit of progression has us in its grip.

Root for Murray for it is the sunniest town, in the best county in West Kentucky.

A Surprise Party.

A surprise given Ourn O. Roberts, of Memphis, Tenn., at his home on last Saturday afternoon June 8th, by his old pupils of Sugar Creek school. Over 60 pupils and friends were present. They presented several nice cakes and the boys made ice cream. The afternoon was spent in eating cream and kodaking and a sociable and jolly good time, every body was full of life and seemed to enjoy the afternoon very much. It was a day to be long remembered by all, especially the one in whose honor the surprise was given.

MISS ELLA HILLS

Lovable and Beautiful Daughter of Supt. W. J. Hills Dies at Her Home in Paducah After Short Illness.

Paducah, Ky., June 11.—After a brief illness of gastritis, Miss Ella Grace Hills, 20 years old, the daughter of Mrs. W. J. Hills and Superintendent W. J. Hills, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, died Monday morning at her home, 318 North Ninth street.

This most untimely end of one of Paducah's sweetest and most lovable young women came peacefully, following a sudden sinking spell Sunday night. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Rev. H. W. Burwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiating. Burial in Oak Grove cemetery.

Miss Hills was a graduate of the Paducah High school, having been a member of the 1910 graduates class. In 1911 she entered the Maryland Art institute and was looked upon as one of the most promising students in the college. The instructors regarded her future as a great asset and praised her remarkable talent.

Miss Hills had just returned home when seized with the attack of acute gastritis. Her condition rapidly became worse and Saturday night artificial respiration was resorted to.

Besides her parents, she is survived by three sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Saunders Almond, of Baltimore, Md.; Miss Helen Hills, Miss Elizabeth Hills, and Messrs. Charles and Walter Hills, of Paducah.

News of the death of Miss Hills was a shock to her hundreds of friends, who will be grieved to learn of her sudden demise.

Dr. Will Mason, Jr., of this city, went to Paducah last Saturday in response to a telegram calling him to the bedside of Miss Hills. He returned Monday morning.

WEDDED

Mr. Clyde Downs, of this City, Marries Pretty and Popular Young Lady of Cadiz Wednesday.

Cadiz, Ky., June 13.—One of the most beautiful home weddings witnessed in Cadiz for a long time was that of Miss Mary C. Jagoe and Mr. Clyde Downs, of Murray. The marriage occurred yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother on East Main street in this city, only the relatives and intimate friends being present.

Before the ceremony a beautiful musical program was rendered on the violin and piano by Miss Sarah Shaw and Mr. Elmus Beale. The bride and groom were preceded by the ribbon-bearers Little Miss Julia Ermine VanCleve, of Hopkinsville, and Master D. Warren Bridges, of Richmond, Ky. To the soft strains of the wedding march, the bride and groom entered, and were met by Rev. T. B. Grider, of Elkton, who, in a most impressive manner, pronounced the ceremony which made them husband and wife, during which Miss Shaw and Mr. Beale played the Rosary, lending much to make the ceremony a most impressive one. The bride was attired in a going-away gown of tan cloth, with a tailored hat of leghorn, and carried American Beauty roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

After the marriage they took the ten o'clock train on an extensive bridal trip, after which they will return to Murray to reside.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. M. H. Jagoe, of this city, and since reaching womanhood has been one of the most popular girls in local society. The groom is a son of Mr. Rufus Downs, the prominent and wealthy tobacco man of Murray, and is associated with his father in the tobacco business. He is to be heartily congratulated upon winning one so fair to share with him through this life the many blessings that all hope to be showered upon them.

The out-of-town guests at the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Downs, father and mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Elmus J. Beale, Messrs. Elmo and Hafford Hay, of Murray; Mr. and Mrs. D. Warren Bridges and little son, D. Warren, Jr., of Richmond, Ky.; Miss Winnifred Lewis, of Bowling Green; Misses Lucile Ellis, Mary and Nell Tandy, and Messrs. W. J. Glover, Alvin Clark, and Tot Kuykendall, of Hopkinsville.

Above Average.

Paducah, June 10.—Tobacco sales last week at the Planters' Protective Association, second and Jefferson street, ran to two hundred hogsheads. The lugs brought from 55c to 85c, while the leaf sold for 85c to 135c. Sales are increasing and will soon be at high tide.

Attempts Suicide.

Mrs. Ira Barber, of the Martin's Chapel neighborhood attempted suicide by taking poison on rats.

Going to Mrs. Taylor's, a sister-in-law, and saying she wanted to kill some rats she secured the poison which was unsuspectingly given her, and took it at eleven o'clock Friday morning. She said that she took it at that time as she wished to retain her senses until her husband came from work. As soon as she told her husband of her rash act he phoned for a doctor and in just twenty-three minutes from phone message the doctor had arrived and pumped out stomach.

Mrs. Barber was formerly Miss Allie Langston, of this city a daughter of Mr. Rufe Langston. She has been in failing health for the past year and very despondent, feeling that she was not physically able to attend to house duties and care for her child. Continued brooding over this caused her act. Owing to prompt medical attention it is believed she will recover.

Company State Guards to be Organized

All signers of the petition for a company of State Guards at Murray are requested to be present the 22nd instant, Saturday night at 8 p. m. for the purpose of being mustered in electing the officers of company. All other young men desiring to join the company are also requested to be present.

That the wedding ring cost 2 cents and was furnished by the bride was an argument advanced by William A. Reynolds, suing to annul his marriage to Miss Mary Kilkenny in New York. Drastic changes in the American regulations for the protection of life at sea are about to be issued by Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor.

Because the senate had not passed the bill giving the house committee on banking and currency more power to investigate the "money trust," Chairman Pugh announced that no testimony would be taken until autumn in the main branch of the inquiry.

The greatest winner on the English Derby is Marcus Cotton, a Birmingham business man, who bought six chances in the famous "Calcutta sweepstakes" for $20. The exact sum he wins is not yet known, but may reach $300,000.

The agitation among the laboring classes in the Walloon provinces, Belgium, continues. There are now 100,000 men on strike, but the energetic measures by the authorities are beginning to have an effect.

Mrs. Lena Cusumano will not have to die in the electric chair. After a three hours session the Massachusetts governor's executive council voted for commutation of sentence for the woman, who, with her sweetheart, Harry Marshall, or Enrico Marselli, had been sentenced to death for the murder of her husband, Frank Cusumano.

Amid the most tempestuous scenes ever known in a Republican convention in Ohio, the Taft forces triumphed at Columbus, electing six delegates at large to the convention at Chicago. State department officials consider the Cuban situation worse, although there is no radical change that calls for increasing vigilance on the part of this government.

A nasal operation performed on Senator Nixon of Nevada was reported in the Senate to have brought him to the verge of death. Blood poisoning developed and hopes for his recovery virtually have been abandoned. Thomas Brown was arrested for using the bathtub in his home at Mobile, Ala., as an abattoir. He killed goats and sold them as mutton.

At Aiken, S. C., after examining eight witnesses the grand jury returned a true bill against Frederick O. Beach of New York, charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill.

Out on the heaving waters of Hampton Roads President Taft welcomed a great foreign fleet to American waters when he extended the hand of friendship to Rear Admiral von Rebeur-Paschwitz, commanding the visiting division of the German navy.

Dispatches from Chihuahua, Mexico, indicate that the gravity of the situation in that city is increasing hourly following the action of the chieftains of the Mexican rebel army in looting prominent stores in order to get arms and supplies for their troops.

That Clarence S. Barrow, the former McNamara lawyer, Taft on trial accused of having bribed jurors in that case, will base his defense on the assertion that the agreement for the McNamara brothers to plead guilty had been made before the conclusion of the alleged negotiations for the bribery of Juror George N. Lockwood was indicated.

Omitting any appropriation for the tariff board, but allowing $25,000 for the president's traveling expenses and $15,000 for the president's economy and efficiency committee, the sundry civil appropriation bill, carrying a government budget of $109,577,414, was reported to the house.

It cost the Roosevelt committee $12,825 to win the primary fight in New Jersey. This is the amount certified to the clerk of Essex county by the Progressive Republican committee.

Called on to umpire the style and speed of a young woman's gown, Municipal Justice Robinson of Chicago said he wasn't exactly "qualified," so he would continue the case until he could consult his wife.

Seven white convicts escaped from a quarters boat in the Mississippi river near Baton Rouge, Miss. Two were recaptured; two, it is believed, got away to the swamps now five and six feet deep in water from the breaks in the levee, and three are believed to have met their death in the boiling tides.

A cooperative bank to be operated in behalf of the struggling business men incorporated at Milwaukee. It will be known as the Commonweal Mutual Savings bank. No capital stock was authorized in the incorporation papers.

The West Virginia Democratic state convention adopted the report of the committee on resolutions instructing the delegates at large to vote for Champ Clark for president.

Invitations to the wedding of Miss Carol Newberry of Detroit, Mich., and Capt. W. H. Aldere of the Queen's Own regiment, stationed at Hamilton, Bermuda, have been recalled by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Newberry, the parents of the bride-to-be.

Though 92 years old, John Arms of Ault, Colo., announced his intention of going to Chile as a missionary. W. W. McCannless of Lincoln, Kan., formerly known as the "bar attorney" because he prosecuted members of a tarring party, was arrested on two warrants charging attack. His accuser is Ivahia Jamison, a 16-year-old orphan.

After a short illness, Stephen A. Chase, treasurer of the Christian Science Church of America, died at his home in Fall River, Mass.

Fifteen hundred persons, mostly women, participated in a riot when H. Kovinski, a Jewish butcher, opened his shop and started selling meat in violation of his agreement with 185 kosher meat dealers, who closed their shops and refused to sell meat until the price was lowered.

Charged with stealing $15,000 from a mail pouch at Clifton, Ariz., Elmer T. Carroll, 25 years old, a former railway mail clerk, was held by United States Commissioner Jones and taken to the Sangamon county jail at Springfield, Ill.

The right of New York City magistrates to pass sentences on Sunday was upheld by the court of appeals in a test case.

President Taft and Attorney General Nicholas instructed eighteen delegates from Arkansas to the Democratic national convention to vote for Champ Clark for the nomination for president as long as his name is before the convention. The delegation was placed under the unit rule.

United States Senator Nixon of Nevada died in Washington. Senator Nixon had been at the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat hospital, where an operation for nasal catarrh was performed. Spinal meningitis developed and the senator's condition became critical.

Five hundred and seventy American marines have been landed and sent to Guantanamo City, Cuba, to guard American property against possible attacks by negro rebels.

"Any statement that I furnished money to Attorney Barrow in the McNamara case for the purpose of bribing talesmen or jurors is absolutely untrue," said President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor.

The degree of D. C. L. will be conferred on President Taft by Hamilton college at the 100th commencement on June 17. President Taft will deliver an address.

The United States attorney's office in Muskogee, Okla., is investigating the alleged white slave case of Jesse Langston, 17 years old, who was lured from her home near Denison, Tex., by a man who was going through the country doing speculation work.

More than fifty persons were killed or wounded throughout Belgium in past election riots between Socialists and Catholics.

The dreadnought Arkansas, Uncle Sam's newest battleship, which is making her trials off Rockland, Me., struck a reef off the Maine coast, denting her hull badly, according to a report which reached Rockland.

Roosevelt carried the South Dakota primaries by a substantial plurality, according to the claims of the Roosevelt managers at Pierre.

In a speech allowing eulogy of the late Admiral Schley, Senator Rayner of Maryland asked the senate for an increase in Mrs. Schley's pension from $50 to $150 a month. A senate committee has recommended $50.

The American government will supply arms and ammunition to President Gomez of Cuba to put down the negro revolution. Acting on the request of the state department, the war department ordered some Krug carbines and Lewis gun bullets of ammunition shipped to Cuba immediately.

William L. Fisher, senator from Illinois, arrived in Washington, prepared to fight for his seat in the senate. He declared he will speak again on the floor of the senate in his defense and profess ignorance of the report that he will resign.

United States Senator W. S. Kenyon of Fort Dodge, La., defeated former Senator Lafayette Young of Des Moines by a majority of approximately 50,000 for the Republican nomination in Iowa primaries.

The pack train stationed at Fort Riley has been shipped to Fort D. A. Russell, Cheyenne, and will march back with the Fourth field artillery, arriving in time for the August maneuvers.

Forty-two proposed constitutional amendments framed and ready to present to the Ohio voters for ratification at a special election of September 2, is the completed work of the constitutional convention.

After deliberating two hours and a half, the jury found Skansson guilty of murder in the second degree for the killing of Judge Thornton L. Maguire at Hillsville in March.

The second trial of Senator Loggins, of Illinois, on the charge of having used the bank of luxury hats, the law suit, which had been pending for some time, was closed in the senate with a speech by Senator Kern of Indiana.

A ROMANCE

By Louis Joseph Vance

Illustrations by Ray Walters

SYNOPSIS.

Garrett Coast, a young man of New York City, meets Douglas Blackstock, who invites him to a card party. He accepts, although he dislikes Blackstock, the reason being that both are in love with Katherine Thaxter and she is married to a man from a distant boat. He rescues the fellow who is named Appleyard.

CHAPTER V.—(Continued.)

Appleyard executed an ample gesture. "Romance," he replied, sententiously.

"Who are you, anyway?" pursued Coast incautiously.

"I might put the same question to you, sir."

"To your prospective employer?"

The faded eyes twinkled. "As nearly won over as that, Mr. Coast? Deviously my talents should have been devoted to spellbinding, as you so delicately suggest. But squarely, sir,—he grew momentarily grave and earnest—"I've been painfully truthful: my moniker is actually Melchisedec Appleyard, incredible as it may sound. I give you my word I'm an honest man; the law has no knowledge of or concern with me."

For all his banter he betrayed not a little eagerness as he bent forward, scanning Coast's face.

His verdict was something deferred: Coast was actually and seriously considering the preposterous suggestion. The little man promised a diverting companion, who had proven such to that moment; and there were dark hours when Coast needed diversion.

Beyond question it would be convenient to have somebody at one's beck and call, to stand a trick at the wheel or advise concerning dangerous waters. And, furthermore, Coast thought to detect in Mr. Appleyard's manner a something which lent more than a mite of confirmation to his hint that he needed food and shelter—if only temporarily.

In the end Coast nodded slowly. "I'll go, you see," he said, holding the other's eyes. "I'll go with you."

Relief shone radiant on the withered face. "Right you are, Mr. Coast!" cried Appleyard, extending a hand. "I promise you won't regret this. Word of honor, sir!"

"That's understood," Coast pressed the hand and released it. "And now let's get under way. I'm for bold water.—Nautucket Sound to begin with. Can we make Vineyard Haven by nightfall, do you think?"

"With this wind, via Quick's Hole?" Coast nodded and Appleyard considered eagerly. "Of course we can," he proclaimed.

CHAPTER VI.

"Ah—ready?"

Coast, at the wheel, nodded to Appleyard, who was crouching in the bows. "Ready," he said.

There followed a splash as Appleyard dropped the hook of the mooring at which the Echo had been riding overnight.

In a long and graceful sweep the Echo swung round and slipped briskly down the harbor to the urge of the following wind.

Early in the afternoon the wind began to fall, its volume diminishing by fits and starts, heavy puffs alternated with spells of steady breezing successively more faint.

Over the bows the entrance to Quick's Hole, the passage between Pasque and Nashawena Islands, became plainly visible.

Appleyard remarked the signs of change with a wrinkle of disquiet between his brows.

"Going to have a shift of wind, you think?" Coast asked.

The little man nodded anxiously. "It's a cluck," he asserted. "And when it does swing the chances are ten to one it'll come in from the south-west. That's the prevailing wind round here at this season, you know."

"Well? Even so, it'll favor us. The Sound, won't it? Besides, we've got the motor."

"That'll help a heap in case that fog comes down on us, won't it?" Appleyard snorted in disgust, nodding toward the bank of fanny hats that displayed the horizon beyond the low profiles of Nashawena and Cuttyhunk, over the starboard counter.

"Hain't thought of that—"

"And yet you had the nerve to suggest that you needed a heater?"

"Well, then, it's up to us to make that passage as soon as we can—what? Hain't I better get the motor going? Here, take the wheel, while I've been expecting we'd run aground every minute of the last thirty."

"Sure you've got the motor right?" "Absolutely," returned Coast with conviction.

"Then what the devil's the matter?" grumbled the little man. "Martha's Vineyard hasn't moved, I'll go bail; and we certainly couldn't hold that course as long as we have without striking land somewhere." He wagged a perturbed head, growling inarticulate dissatisfaction. "Let me think. . . . Something wrong."

"What? . . . Wait!" he cried abruptly. "Maybe. . . . Hold that wheel steady for a bit, will you."

Dropping to his knees he peered intently into the binoculars, at the same time, opening the cutoff switch and disconnecting the batteries. The motor promptly coughed and was quiet, the droning in the spark coil died away, and Coast, leaning forward in wonder, saw the compass dial jerk as it suddenly released and then swung through an arc of almost ninety degrees ere it steadied.

"What in thunder does that mean?" he demanded, surprised to the point of incredulity.

"Means we're both asses of blooded lineage," said Appleyard sourly, rising. "Though you're not a marker to me. I should've known better—I'd've thought of it right away if I had only half the sense God gives the domestic goose. That compass was right on top of the spark coil. Naturally it's magnetized. . . . And I would've known better, too, if ever I had run"

By the time Coast, instructed by his highly efficient crew, had piloted the Echo safely through to the Sound, a dead calm held.

"We're Perfectly Safe Unless We're in Ship Channel."

A little later a chill breath of air fanned Coast's cheek, the first whiff out of the southwest. The water calmed and darkened with the flying catpaws.

The fog swept in swiftly. Far across the breadth of wind-dulled water Coast could see it moving onward like a wall, momentarily gaining in bulk. Already it was hovering threateningly over Gay Head, and while he looked a thin, gray, spectral arm stole across the low land at Menemsha Light and began to grope its blind way to the Sound.

Coast steered with his gaze fixed upon the compass on the engine-pit hatch, now his sole guide. Inensibly the fog grew more dense, so that in time the mast was more or less indistinct and only a yard or so of pallid water was visible on either hand.

"Vineyard Haven tonight, by any chance?" he asked suddenly.

Appleyard shook his head decidedly. "Not unless we get a breeze stiff enough to blow this off."

"Then we'd better find an anchorage for the night?"

"Only thing to do. I'm willing to risk my valuable rep. as a weather prophet, that this won't lift before morning."

"Tarpaulin Cove?"

Appleyard pursed his thin lips and rubbed his nose, considering. "Good enough anchorage," he admitted; "but for muck, I ain't strong for it. Menemsha Light would do us more comfortably—across the Sound, you know, a bit east of Gay Head."

"Why Menemsha Light?"

"Because there's an able-bodied and energetic fog bell at Tarpaulin. Take my advice. There'll be nothing but dead silence at the Light, and it ain't much of a run over there."

"You know best. How shall I hold her?"

"Southeast."

"So?" Coast put the wheel over and brought the Echo round to that course, as indicated by the compass. Monotonously the chronometer in the cabin knelled the half-hours. About two bells (five o'clock) Appleyard began to fidget uneasily. He knocked out his pipe and, jumping up, trotted forward to the bows, where, an arm embracing the mast, he remained for many minutes stubbornly peering ahead into dreary blackness.

After a while he returned, discouraged, to the cockpit. "I don't like this," he asserted glumly. "There's something gone wrong. We ought to've made the Light over an hour ago. I've been expecting we'd run aground every minute of the last thirty."

"Sure you've got the motor right?" "Absolutely," returned Coast with conviction.

"Then what the devil's the matter?" grumbled the little man. "Martha's Vineyard hasn't moved, I'll go bail; and we certainly couldn't hold that course as long as we have without striking land somewhere." He wagged a perturbed head, growling inarticulate dissatisfaction. "Let me think. . . . Something wrong."

"What? . . . Wait!" he cried abruptly. "Maybe. . . . Hold that wheel steady for a bit, will you."

Dropping to his knees he peered intently into the binoculars, at the same time, opening the cutoff switch and disconnecting the batteries. "What do you think I am—a farmer?"

The Condensed Product.
"Oh, auntie, can I go to the fancy dress ball as a milkmaid?"
"No, darling, you're too small."
"Well, then, can I go as a condensed milkmaid?"

How He Got Them.
"Dat feller" Rastus Skinnah done bin talkin' a powerful lot 'bout how he's a-rainin' chickens."

"Sho! He doan mean 'rainin'; he means 'littin'."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Her Excuse.
"These people have a plausible and self-righteous excuse for their misdeeds," said Senator Bankhead, apropos of certain hypocritical lawbreakers, in an address in Fayette.

"They remind me, in fact, of a certain parson's domineering wife. The parson said meekly one day:—

"My love, you told me before the wedding that you knew our marriage was made in heaven, yet you now order me about as if I were a slave."

"Order," the woman calmly answered, "is heaven's first law."

Heard on the Waterfront.
Some ancient mariners were sitting in a seaport tavern relating their experiences of fog.

"Ah!" said one old salt. "I've seen some pretty thick fogs in my time. Why, off the coast of Newfoundland the fog was sometimes so thick that we used to sit on the deck, pull and lean against it! We were sitting one night as usual, with our backs to the fog, when suddenly the fog lifted, and we all went flop into the sea. A bit thick, wasn't it?"—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Only Way.
An elder while baptizing converts at a revival meeting advanced with a wiry, sharp-eyed old chap into the water. He asked the usual question, whether there was any reason why the ordinance of baptism should not be administered. After a pause a tall, powerful-looking man who was looking quietly on remarked:

"Elder, I don't want to interfere in yer business, but I want to say that this is an old sinner you have got hold of, and that one dip won't do him any good; you'll have to anchor him out in deep water over night."—Life.

Slow Travel.
Down in Oklahoma they have a railroad called the Midland Valley, which is noted for its slow trains. It is told that a young man of Tulsa asked the hand of a daughter from her parents and was refused on the ground that the daughter was too young.

"My daughter is going to Pawhuska tomorrow for a visit," said the father, who is a traveling man, "and if she doesn't remain more than a day or two she will be old enough when she gets back."

"But she may be as old maid by that time," protested the young man.—Kansas City Star.

Veggie in Outer Garments.
According to the Dry Goods Economist, at the present time retailers are featuring wraps of charmeuse and satin. The best sellers are the medium-priced numbers retailing from $10 to $30. These are usually attractively lined in some light color, giving a pleasing contrast. Lace collars and cuffs are often used as a finishing touch and are very effective, while white lace is used largely for this purpose. Some garments are shown trimmed with black lace, which is cut away to show the lining underneath.

WELL POSTED.
A California Doctor With Forty Years' Experience.

"In my forty years' experience as a teacher and practitioner along hygienic lines," says a Los Angeles physician, "I have never found a food to compare with Grape-Nuts for the benefit of the general health of all classes of people."

"I have recommended Grape-Nuts for a number of years to patients with the greatest success and every year's experience makes me more enthusiastic regarding its use."

"I make it a rule to always recommend Grape-Nuts and Postum in place of coffee, when giving my patients instructions as to diet, for I know both Grape-Nuts and Postum can be digested by anyone."

"As for myself, when engaged in much mental work my diet twice a day consists of Grape-Nuts and rice cream. I find it just the thing to build up gray matter and keep the brain in good working order."

"In addition to its wonderful effects as a brain and nerve food Grape-Nuts always keeps the digestive organs in perfect, healthy tone. I carry it with me when I travel, otherwise I am almost certain to have trouble with my stomach." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Strong endorsements like the above from physicians all over the country have stamped Grape-Nuts—the most scientific food in the world. "There's a reason for it."

IMPORTANT RULING BY SUPREME COURT

OFFICERS CANNOT ELECT DISTRICT IN WHICH TO SERVE.

Decision May Foretell That in Judge Stout's Case—Court of Appeals Passes on Its Field Appeal.

Frankfort.—Circuit court officials, in district changed by act of the legislature, cannot elect in which of the two districts they will serve and in the absence of a specific provision of the legislature they will continue in their old district. This is the ruling of the court of appeals, laid down in the case of McHenry, governor, against Ira Fields, appealed from the Franklin circuit court.

While the court does not decide the case involving the right of Judge Stout to remove to Franklin county and preside in the new judicial district composed of only this county, the point of law involved is the same as if the reasoning in the Fields' decision is followed in the other. Judge Stout cannot remove to Franklin and preside here. The question raised in the two cases, so far as the district in which the official can hold, is the same and the decision indicates, seemingly, that the court will decide against Judge Stout in the case of the case of Stout against McHenry, governor.

In the case of Fields the point was whether Fields, who lives in the thirty-fifth judicial district, could hold in the new district as commonwealth's attorney. The new district is composed of Pike and Letcher counties, and Fields desired to remain in that district. The act of the legislature specified that the governor should appoint a new judge and commonwealth's attorney in the new district.

WEST BROTHERS PARDONED.

Youth When Convicted Operates in Their Favor.

Frankfort.—On account of their youth when convicted, and the further fact that they have served almost their full terms, Grover West and John West, brothers, have been released from the Frankfort penitentiary on parole. The two, who were only 18 and 21 years old, respectively, at the time of the killing for which they were convicted, were sent from Powell county. While out hunting, according to the evidence presented to the prison commission, one of the West boys discovered an illicit still, said to have been operated by George Spencer. Shortly thereafter, as an outcome of the discovery, a quarrel arose with Spencer and he was killed by the Wests.

Unusual Allegations.

Paduach.—Unusual allegations are made in a suit filed in the circuit court at Paduach, by Clarence Galbreath against R. D. Robertson for $300 damages. The plaintiff avers that he purchased a bag of oats from Robertson who is a grocer, and that the driver of the delivery wagon left the oats where the plaintiff's horse got them, and as a result the horse ate too much and died.

Pike and Trout in Cumberland.

Barbourville.—The fish supply of the upper Cumberland river has been augmented by 600,000 pike and trout, which were placed in the water at this point and Arretus. These species have heretofore not been in the upper Cumberland, bass and suckers constituting the supply.

Caldwell to Get $100,000.

Danville.—At the conclusion of the fifty-second annual commencement of Caldwell College, at which nineteen young women were graduated, the amount of $100,000 had been raised through the efforts of the trustees and alumnae of the institution, with which new buildings will be erected and improvements made.

Nicholas County Fair.

Carlsile.—The People's Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company has bought seven acres of land on which an amphitheater with other buildings, including stables, will be erected at once, and the grounds prepared for a county fair in September.

Pest of Blackbirds.

Versailles.—Farmers in this county are complaining of serious depredations by blackbirds, which are more numerous than they ever were before. The birds infest cornfields by the thousands, devouring the grains of corn that have been planted.

State Treasury.

The condition of the state treasury at the end of May was as follows: Sinking fund, $97,873.11; school fund, deficit, $120,742.91; general expenditure fund, $178,909.41; balance in treasury, $155,622.64; outstanding warrants, $1,548,903.69; outstanding warrants last month, $1,249,619.97.

Cattle Bring 8 Cents.

Mr. Sterling.—R. C. Gatwood sold to M. E. Greenwald, of Chicago, 312 head of export cattle. The cattle averaged 1,500 pounds and brought close to 8 cents per pound.

Free Ice for Sick Babies.

The Lexington Utilities Company will, during the summer months, contribute 1,000 pounds of ice daily for the use of sick babies and mothers among the poorer classes, the distribution being made by the Salvation Army.

Murderless Month.

Not a murder was committed in Louisville during May, a fact commented upon by Dr. Griffin C. Kelly, statistician of the health department, as unusual. He said he did not recall another month in which there was not a homicide.

EIGHT PERSONS FOUND MURDERED

HEADS OF THE VICTIMS CRUSHED IN WITH AXE.

ALL WERE SLAIN IN BED

City Marshal, Who Breaks Into the Home of Wealthy Farmer Discovers the Mutilated Bodies of Whole Family.

Villisca, Ia.—The murder of the entire family of Joseph Moore and two girl guests, eight persons in all, in baffling the authorities, who have been unable to secure a trace of the murderer, who killed every person in the house and escaped.

A list of the victims follows: Joseph B. Moore, his wife and four children—Herman, aged 11; Katherine, aged 9; Boyd, aged 7; and Paul, aged 6—Lena Spillinger, aged 15; Lena Spillinger, aged 9. The dead, with one exception, were found in their beds, apparently sleeping, and until the wounds on their heads and the blood on the pillows were discovered, the searchers could not believe anything was wrong in the house. A bloody axe, with hair and pieces of brain clinging to it, obviously the implement used in the wholesale murder, was later found in an upstairs room.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore were in one bed, as were two of the boys. The sister occupied a third, and the youngest boy was alone in a small bed. The bedding had nowhere been disarranged. Because of the terrible mutilation the identity of the two young women could not at first be established. They were believed to be Mrs. Van Gilder and her daughter, relatives of the Moores. Later they were positively identified as the Spillinger sisters, daughters of a wealthy farmer living a few miles from Villisca. "Horses neighing in the barn at the Moore home caused a woman neighbor to notice that no member of the family appeared to be up. After failing to effect an entrance to the house, the city marshal was then summoned and the doors forced.

MOVE FOR 15-CENT COTTON

Head Southern States Cotton Corporation Has Holding Plan.

Little Rock, Ark.—George D. Wadley of Birmingham, Ala., president of the Southern States Cotton Corporation, capitalized at $1,000,000, is in Little Rock, Ark., for the purpose of organizing a local branch, having for its object the fixing of the price of cotton at 15 cents per pound. His plan is to have six men in each county buy all the cotton in their counties at 11 cents per pound, to be paid by draft, and interest-bearing certificate issued for the remaining 4 cents. The 4 cents withheld will create a sinking fund for the purchase of surplus cotton.

ONE TERM FOR PRESIDENT

LaFollette Platform Would Make Term Six Years.

Madison, Wis.—LaFollette leaders are getting down to work on the platform they will submit to the Chicago convention.

It is now believed LaFollette's platform will demand unyielding enforcement of the law and a requirement of public and private honesty which shall recognize that "boodling is treason, that embezzlement is theft, that speculation in gambling, that tax dodging is larceny, that factory labor of children is slavery, and that detestable adulteration is murder.

Another plank being discussed would provide for an amendment to the constitution during the term of the president at six years and making the incumbent forever ineligible for another term.

Gen. Wood May Go.

Washington.—The senate by a vote of 27 to 21, adopted the report of the senate and house conferees, containing a number of anti-administration provisions on the army bill. One of these provisions would legislate out of office Gen. Leonard Wood, present chief of staff of the army. As agreed to, the bill would require army officers acting as chief of staff, after March 4, next, to have at least ten years' service in the line with rank below brigadier-general.

Must Serve Their Time.

Washington.—The eight-year struggle of Frederick Hyde and J. H. Schneider to escape imprisonment for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government out of lands in California and Oregon ended in failure when the supreme court found no error in their conviction. It was one of the famous "land fraud" cases of its time. Hyde had been fined $10,000 and sentenced to prison for two years; Schneider had been fined and sentenced to prison for one year and two months.

Unfilled Steel Sponage.

New York.—The unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation on May 31 totaled $3,939,939, an increase of $6,098 tons over the preceding month.

Negro Pythians Win.

Washington.—The supreme court of the United States set aside the decree of the supreme court of Georgia which enjoined negro men from incorporating a lodge in that state under the name of Knights of Pythias.

Prevent Intervention.

Washington.—The presence of American battleships in Havana harbor may be regarded as greatly diminishing the likelihood of intervention in Cuba, according to the construction placed upon that fact by the administration.

MORGAN FIGHTS SHERMAN LAW

STEEL INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE PLAYS CORPORATION.

RECOMMEND ITS DISSOLUTION

Morgan Made $636,000,000 From Trust, Says Report—Purposely Fled the Country to Avoid Appearing Before the Committee.

Washington.—The Stanley committee, which made an exhaustive investigation into the United States Steel corporation, filed its report with the house of representatives. The report directly accuses J. Pierpont Morgan, leading spirit in the steel trust, of being the arch enemy of the Sherman antitrust law and of the independent steel business in the United States. It shows that in the organization of this one company Mr. Morgan and his personal associates reaped the unprecedented profit of $636,000,000. The report recommends legislation for the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation as a monopoly on raw material within the definition of the Sherman anti-trust law under the recent decision of the supreme court and as a holding company in defiance of a former decision in the case of the Northern Securities Company, a railroad combination. It also recommends: Federal incorporation and registration of all industrial corporations doing interstate business, such as is now exercised over federal banks. That the states be given the right to control the tax to be levied on corporations and that interest-bearing certificates issued for the remaining 4 cents. The 4 cents withheld will create a sinking fund for the purchase of surplus cotton.

BALTIMORE GETTING READY

Nearly 200,000 Requests for Tickets Have Been Received.

Baltimore, Md.—Baltimore awaits the coming of 1,000 delegates to the Democratic national convention, the preparations for which have practically been completed. Already the advance guard of boomers for candidates for the presidential nomination have pitched their camps or the battle ground and are laying the final plans of campaign.

Applications for tickets to the convention proceedings are pouring from prospective visitors from all over the country and it was estimated that nearly 200,000 requests for tickets had been received. As there are about 10,000 tickets to be distributed, the committee is having its difficulties in making assignments.

Honor Confederate Dead.

Washington.—Memorial services, at which Senator Hoke Smith and former Secretary of the Navy Hilary A. Herbert made addresses, were held for the Confederate dead in Arlington cemetery.

President Has Narrow Escape.

Old Point Comfort, Va.—The presidential yacht Mayflower, with the president and Mrs. Taft and party of distinguished guests aboard, narrowly escaped a collision early Sunday with the steamer Northland, of the Norfolk and Washington line, not far from Point Lookout, where the Potomac river empties into Chesapeake bay. Only the vigilance of the officers of the Northland and the Mayflower and their prompt action prevented what looked for a minute like an accident.

Extend Parcels Post.

Washington.—Legislation providing for a general parcels post throughout the United States and its possessions, except the Philippine Islands, is presently being considered by the present congress, during the session now in progress, in the opinion of Postmaster General Hitchcock.

$50 Premium on Brides.

Northampton.—The $50 marriage portion bestowed by the Smith Charities in Northampton, who marries within the year, is presently being claimed by many, since brides this year have been few.

FOUR BATTLESHIPS ORDERED TO CUBA

450 AMERICANS PUT ASHORE NEAR CALMANERA.

WILL PROTECT PROPERTY

President's Decision to Send Squadron to Troubled Island Was Reached Because of Need of Precautionary Measures.

Washington.—Frank confession of President Gomez that he was unable to meet the demands of the large plantation owners in Eastern Cuba, for adequate guards against the marauders and insurgents was the factor that prompted Capt. Kline, commanding the United States naval station at Guantanamo, to dispatch nearly half of his available force of marines into the interior of Cuba. His action gave the signal for the departure from Key West to Guantanamo of half of the second squadron of the Atlantic fleet, which had been lying at anchor at Key West.

The facts as disclosed at the state department are that several of the large American, British, French and Spanish companies operating plantations and mines in Eastern Cuba telegraphed the Cuban government through the alcade of Guantanamo a demand for 300 regular troops for each of their mills and fifty for each of their cane fields.

President Gomez replied that he would not furnish the troops.

Minister Beaupre reported a case of horrible atrocity which "occurred near Sagua, in Oriente, which is believed to be only one of many similar cases. The information, derived directly from the Cuban secretary of state, was to the effect that a band of negroes entered the house of a former white official of prominence, tied him and his son, and outraged his wife and two young daughters before his eyes. The son was killed in cold blood while endeavoring to break his bonds and rescue his mother and sisters.

The army continues to rather hungrily watch the unfolding of events in Cuba. Lying on Gen. Woods' desk are the messages, which, if released, would send an army division into Cuba within a week or ten days.

BATTLESHIPS GET ORDERS.

Ohio, Missouri, Minnesota, Mississippi Go to Cuba.

Key West, Fla.—The fourth division of the Atlantic fleet, consisting of the battleships Ohio, Missouri, Minnesota and Mississippi, received sealed orders to proceed to sea at once, and immediately left the harbor here, where it had been for several days. The ships will go to Cuban waters.

CHINESE WOMEN ENSLAVED

Thousands Have Been Seized by Brigands.

Shanghai.—Thousands of young Chinese women have been seized by brigands and sold into slavery. The traffic is still going on. In some of the rural districts where there is a famine parents have sold their children in order to get bread. Rich Chinese, mostly merchants, are rivaling the Turks with their harems. Luxurious apartments have been fitted up where the women are kept. Some of the masters have as many as fifty women in their household.

Dear Admiral Dead.

Washington.—Rear Admiral Benjamin Peffer Lamberton, U. S. N., retired, who, as Admiral Dewey's chief of staff, received the surrender of the officers of the Spanish fleet after the battle of Manila, died suddenly at his home here.

Welcome German Battleships.

New York.—With noisy cordiality New York Sunday welcomed the German squadron, consisting of the battleship cruiser Moltke and the cruiser Stettin and Bremen, and introduced the Kaiser's sea fighters to the round of gaiety which has been arranged for their stay of three days in this port.

Failed in Literature.

New Orleans, La.—Disappointed over the rejected manuscript of a play which he had written and sent to New York, Henry R. Huber, 28 and unmarried, cut his throat and wrists at his home here. On his death bed he expressed the wish that his wooden leg be buried with his body. The wish will be complied with.

Fastest Battleship in the World.

Rockland, Me.—The battleship Arkansas made a mile on her standardization run at the rate of 21.9 knots an hour and averaged 21.1 knots for her live top speed runs. The Arkansas has shown herself the fastest battleship of her class in the world.

Elk Official Dead.

Kansas City.—F. R. Kingsley, grand lecturer knight of the Elks, is dead at his home in Kansas City, Kan., of heart failure. He was 36 years old.

Mrs. Barlow Won Golf Title.

Philadelphia.—Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow of this city won the championship of the Women's Eastern Golf Association for the second successive year. Her score for the final round was 91, making her total 216.

Mrs. Astor Poor.

New York.—The estate of Mrs. Carolyn W. Astor, widow of William Astor, and long the leader of New York society, amounted to but little more than $100,000, according to the final account of surviving executors.

Right More for Wilson.

Raleigh, N. C.—The state Democratic assembly passed a resolution asking the federal government to assume control and maintenance of the Mississippi river levees.

Pure Food Law Upheld.

Washington.—The Indiana pure food law of 1907 was upheld as constitutional by the supreme court of the United States. The principle was announced that states may enact such matters without interfering with the federal pure food and drug act of 1906.

Eight More for Wilson.

Raleigh, N. C.—The state Democratic assembly passed a resolution asking the federal government to assume control and maintenance of the Mississippi river levees.

What has become of the old fashioned girl who used to "chew wax?"

For years Garfield has been on the market. This must mean a remedy worth while.

Even the thirst for glory may have its direful after effects.

The Worst of It.

"Do you keep a cook, Mrs. Suburb?" "Madam, I not only keep the cook, but also her entire family."

Destined for Many Trips.

"I have written a short story," said the amateur literary person. "What is the first step to take in selling it?" "Buy ten dollars' worth of stamps," advised the old hand at the business.

His Changed Fortune.

"Wow! There went Smithkins in his new six. When I knew him a few years ago he had a junk shop."

"He still has. Only he moved it to a fashionable street, kept the same stock, and labeled it 'Antiques'."

Judge.

Still Hoping.

"Life is a series of disappointments."

"Yes, I know a man who has been hoping nearly all his life that he would some day come into possession of a coin worth more than its face value."

What She Wants.

"I want you to build me a fashionable home."

"Have you any special ideas as to the style of house you want?" asked the architect.

"Not exactly. I want one of those modern places. You know the kind I mean—one with a living room too big to keep warm and a kitchen too small to cook in."

Easily Answered.

"These kids I teach aren't a bit slow," observed a school teacher yesterday. "In fact, I'm afraid they read the papers. The other day I proposed the following problem to my arithmetic class:

"A rich man dies and leaves $1,000,000. One-fifth is to go to his wife, one-sixth to his son, one-seventh to his daughter, one-eighth to his brother and the rest to foreign missions. What does each get?"

"A lawyer," said the little boy in the class. "—Case and Comment."

Delicate Point.

They are a happy Sewickley couple. They haven't been married very long. In fact, the honeymoon has barely wasted. An elderly friend met the bridegroom downtown yesterday and slapped him on the back.

"Well, happy as a lark, I suppose?"

"Oh, yes."

"How's the cooking?"

"I have one trouble there. It's just this, my wife has been preparing angel food every day for dinner."

"You must be getting tired of it."

"I am. Yet I feel a hesitancy about saying anything. How soon after the honeymoon would it be proper to ask for beefsteak and onions?"—Pittsburg Post.

Oddities of Justice.

That the whole theory of penal codes is practically unsound and opposed to the modern conceptions of the relation of the state to crime, is the contention of Eugene Smith of the New York bar, writing in the May number of Case and Comment, the lawyers' magazine. Illustrating the absurdity and disparity between penalty for crimes in different states, Mr. Smith says: "The average sentence for perjury in Florida is ten years, in Maine one year; for larceny, in Delaware ten years, in the District of Columbia ten months; the penalty for arson in Pennsylvania is twice that of burglary, but in Connecticut the guilt of burglary is twice that of arson; the guilt of counterfeiting in Ohio is twice that of perjury, but in Rhode Island the guilt of perjury is twice that of counterfeiting."

In the Growth of Corn

there's a period when the kernels are pumped out with a vegetable milk, most nutritious.

As the corn ripens the "milk" hardens, and finally becomes almost flinty.

Post Toasties

Are made from this hard part of choice selected corn.

It is carefully cooked, treated with sugar and salt, rolled into thin bits, then toasted to an appetizing brown—with out a hand touching the food.

It has been said that Post Toasties are the most deliciously flavoured particles of cereal food yet produced.

One can render an opinion upon trial.

STOP, LISTEN!

I told you last week to watch this space, that it would be worth dollars to you, and if you will read every word of this advertisement I will convince you. Now, a full explanation of the exceptionally low prices I will make for the next Ten Days, dating from Wednesday, June 12, could be given in one sentence—I need money. But for a more detailed explanation I will state that I am overloaded in a good many lines and want to reduce them, besides this I will add a grocery line to my dry goods business. Now, I can not add this additional line without demanding a settlement from all my customers who have accounts, or without borrowing money, neither of which I will do. But I intend to do it in this ten days of "below zero" prices and if you are of a speculative spirit and want to buy what you "right now" need and from a "right now" seasonable stock. You will surely take part in this, one of the greatest price reduced money-saving sales you ever took part in.

Below I quote you just a few of the Cold, Earnest Prices I am making on "right now" seasonable goods:

Black Picture Hat a Feature of This Summer's Millinery

THE big black picture hat, which is the queen of each summer's millinery, has arrived. It is as large as ever and bears its wealth of plumes in the prevailing up-standing mode. It is as beautiful as ever and has contrived to be more than ever interesting as to shape. Crowns are moderate in size or small and of well known shapes. But brims! there lie revelations. They curve, they flare, they turn abruptly upward or swerve downward, they narrow suddenly, they are deers, or they "drop" with a method in their madness. But they never forget to be graceful. Brims are, without doubt eccentric, but it is eccentricity with a purpose. One feels that it is made to set off the face of the wearer and that the design would not merit a second look without it. As it is the eye rests with delight upon hat after hat whose lines are new and lovely. Each one is designed for some special type of face and every one may find a becoming model if she tries long enough.

The return to the normal headsize is another vantage point for the big picture hat. Other hats as well as now blocked with smaller head sizes than for the past two or three seasons. Models in which the lines are simple are sometimes faced and at other times finished with a flange of velvet. But the majority of these hats use nothing in their composition but the shape and the trimming, and need nothing more.

Among the novelties that have been most successful are those shapes in which the brim is double. That is the under brim or facing is made of the braid and is simply a continuation of the shape and the trimming, and need nothing more.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

TO BE WORN IN THE HOUSE

Indoor Dresses for Girls of From Ten to Twelve and Four to Six Years.

The first illustration shows a useful dress that may be made up in fine serge, cloth, poplinette or cashmere. The bodice has a box-pleat in center front and one tucked each side back; the yoke is of different material or silk and is trimmed with small buttons.

The one-piece skirt is joined to bodice under a material band stitched at each edge. The sleeves are gathered into cuffs that match the yoke. The second is for a little girl of four to six years, and may be carried out in a variety of materials. The lower part of bodice and the skirt are cut together; they are laid in flat pleats running from the center and are set to a square yoke that is outlined with galloon sharply mitered at the corners.

The bishop sleeves are gathered into wristbands trimmed to match yoke.

To Match the Material. Some of the new silk, rayon and jama are attached to certain of matching material.

SMART TIES AND STOCKS.

Woman With Clever Fingers Can Turn Out Numerous Home-Made Articles of Neckwear.

The woman with clever fingers can turn out for herself numerous smart ties and stocks if she is keen enough to copy the shop ones.

Fashion labels from handkerchief linen or fine lawn cut into oval, round or oblong tabs that reach to the bust line or half way above it. Finish the edge with a narrow buttonhole stitch. In small scallops all around or in straight buttonholing on the sides and three deep scallops on bottom.

In center put a medallion of lace with material cut away beneath, and around it embroider a row or two of pin dots or small eyelets to form a frame. Sewer the medallions made with a center of punchwork, with a design embroidered or outlined around it.

These tabs are most serviceable in all white—using fine mercerized cotton—but are pretty in color which is repeated in the collar, belt and stockings. As they are not plated, laundering is simplified.

Another smart tie to be worn with a turned down or Dutch collar is made from a straight piece of heavy linen three inches long and one inch wide. Round the ends scoop out sides slightly and finish with straight edge of buttonholing.

Make long eyelets about half an inch of center and through them run velvet ribbon to "match" embroidery. The ends of the ribbon project beyond the ends of the linen. If desired, a small design in eyelet of solid embroidery can be worked in each of the rounded ends midway between eyelet and edge.

Ball Slippers of Irish Lace. A recent novelty in expensive ball slippers is the Irish lace slipper, the first consignment of which made its appearance in America only a short time ago. A pair of these hand-embroidered slippers at thirty minutes. When the nuts are cracked, the meats come out without trouble and are usually whole.

TRY BEEF A LA MODE

CAN BE MADE INSTRUMENT OF ECONOMY IN COOKING.

Method of Making the Best Out of the Cheapest Cuts of Beef Originated in France Years Ago—Two Good Recipes.

Beef a la mode seems to be one of the first of beef dishes in France, where, without question, this matter of cooking the less expensive cuts of meat originated—a century or so back. The English early adopted this method, but called it French beef a la mode and lost sight of the prime essential of the mode, which seems to mean quite a different thing among English speaking peoples from what it does to the French.

In America our leading cooks describe this as similar to the pot-roast or smothered beef, the difference being that it is cooked in more water. The chief characteristic, as they conceive of it, is the larding of the beef.

The French, it is true, do lard the cut of beef they use, but they also add vinegar usually to make it more tender, sometimes marinating it for three or four hours in vinegar and other seasonings, and then using the marinade in cooking it with vegetables.

In one case our home authority groups braised beef, pot roast, and beef a la mode together and says: "In all cases the meat is browned on the outside to increase the flavor, and then cooked in a small amount of water in a closely covered kettle or other receptacle until tender. The flavor of the dish is secured by browning the meat and by the addition of the seasoning vegetables."

This meat, if rightly and deliciously cooked, is as good, cold as hot. In fact, one French cook book which I have—that by Prof. La Fayette—says "Serve cold and garnish with parsley and nasturtium blossoms." Other recipes say to serve either hot or cold. This idea is a part of the economical one so universal in France, where they make so much of even the soup meat or bouilli.

The following rather simple recipes are those of different American housewives which have come into my hands, and show how this beef is made the instrument of economy in practical every day cooking. I am not sure, but that one of the cooks can be called American.

Beef a la Mode I.—Take two pounds of rump beef and lard with thin strips of salt pork which have been rolled in a mixture of salt, pepper, celery salt, allspice, cinnamon and nutmeg. Put in a kettle with a sliced onion, carrot, a piece of lemon, a tablespoon of vinegar and water to half cover it. Cover tightly and simmer two hours.

Beef a la Mode II.—Cut two slices of bacon into one-fourth of an inch squares and fry thoroughly. Add beef which has remained overnight in vinegar to which a few cloves, a whole pepper, and a bay leaf were added. Cook in the fat until both sides have become a little gray, then add two onions cut up, the vinegar and spices from the meat and salt to taste. Let simmer about two hours. When thoroughly cooked add a little catsup and a tablespoon of flour dissolved in water to thicken the gravy.—Jane Edgington.

Ducks With Green Peas.

Put a tame duck in a Dutch oven and brown nicely. When brown, all over pour over it about two pints of calves' bouillon, a little salt, a few chopped onions and a few soup vegetables; then cover and let it half until done. Then take the duck up and cut it in nice pieces, keeping it warm. Strain the soup and skim the fat off. Brown a large tablespoon of flour and butter in a saucepan (not too brown), thin it out with the soup until the right thickness, put in two pints of green peas and boil until done, then place the meat in and boil a few minutes.

Dandelion Wine.

One gallon of dandelion blossoms, picked when the sun is shining. Put in stone crock, pour over them one gallon of boiling water, let stand to cool in a cool place three days, then put into porcelain kettle, with the rind of three oranges and one lemon rind, cut up fine. Boil 15 minutes, strain add three pounds of sugar and the pulp and juice of the orange and lemon. When lukewarm add half a yeast cake stand one week in a warm place, strain again, and seal until it stops working, then bottle.

Homespun and Nut Sauce.

This is an excellent sauce to serve with boiled beef. Remove the skins from some walnuts, chop them fine with the same quantity of grated homespun. Season this mixture with a dessertspoonful of powdered sugar and a pinch of salt. Add the juice of two lemons and some fresh cream, in sufficient quantity that the sauce may not be too thick nor too thin.—National Magazine.

Pecan Meats.

The meats of a pecan nut may easily be removed if they are first placed in a pan and boiling water poured over them.

Allow them to remain in the water for twenty or thirty minutes. When the nuts are cracked, the meats come out without trouble and are usually whole.

THREE CARDINALS OF THE UNITED STATES

FOR the first time since the creation of the two new American cardinals by the pope, the three cardinals of the United States met recently at a session of the board of trustees of the Catholic University of America. At that time the accompanying photograph was taken. Cardinal Gibbons is in the center, with Cardinal O'Connell on the right and Cardinal Farley on the left.

CONFINED IN COFFIN

Man Held for Experiments at Carnegie Institute.

Harvard Student Gives Details of Prof. Levanzin's Experiments—Man Placed in Air-Tight Box for 33 Days Without Food.

Boston.—Details of the scientific starving of Prof. Agostino Levanzin at the nutrition laboratory of the Carnegie institute in Roxbury, conducted by Prof. Francis Sano Benedict, and which have been suppressed for days, were made public by M. F. Tufts, a senior at the Harvard dental school and a former subject.

That Professor Levanzin was virtually a prisoner during the thirty-three days of his fast and that during a part of the time he was kept in a zinc air-tight coffin with his mouth sealed and breathing air fed him by tubes in his nostrils, is alleged.

That students working their way through college and anxious to earn a little money are placed in this filled with ice water and floating ice to study the action of extreme cold upon the body is charged.

Students are fed strange diets to see what the stomach will stand and what it will refuse, it is said, and violation of dogs in a most repulsive form is practiced.

The purpose of the laboratory is to secure data that will be of value to humanity, and particularly the scientific importance of food and the lack of it.

Tufts' story, in part, is as follows: "A large part of the time Professor Levanzin remained in the calorimeter room. This room is a perfectly airtight chamber. He was laid down on a couch. His mouth was sealed. Into his nostrils were inserted rubber tubes connecting with a series of jars and a motor, completing the circuit. These jars were filled with chemicals, which removed from the air he had breathed the carbon dioxide and moisture. Then oxygen was let into it. The weight of the carbon dioxide and moisture was ascertained and carefully recorded. And the amount of oxygen consumed by the subject was also measured."

NEGROES SCARED BY BABY

When a Few Hours Old It Phophecies End of World in November, Then Dies.

Thomasville, Ga.—According to reports received here the negroes around Pelham, over it Mitchell county, are much stirred up over an infant phenomenon which, it is said, spoke when only a few hours old, and among other things predicted the end of the world.

Several negroes here have received letters from friends in Pelham telling of this child, which, they affirm, turned and spoke to its mother when it had been born only eight hours. The child, so the story goes, told its mother that it would die in two hours and she would die in four hours and the world would come to an end in six months. Mother and child are both said to have departed this life on schedule time, and now the colored population have no doubt whatever that the remainder of the prophecy will be fulfilled.

Another portion of the prophecy which the child is alleged to have uttered and which showed that it possessed a voice of wisdom was that it would rain "off and on" until the end of the world. As the showers in this section have undoubtedly been of that character of late and are liable to continue so, there is no difficulty in rectifying the truth of the utterance, which is of course held up as a confirmation of the whole matter.

PASSING OF THE SANTEE

Many Former Midshipmen of U. S. School Remember Unhappy Hours Upon It.

Annapolis, Md.—The old sailing frigate Santee is reported to be past saving, badly akeak and sunk in the mud here. If it is found that she must be broken up where she lies, there will hardly be another vigorous protest like that by Oliver Wendell Holmes, which saved the Constitution.

The conditions are in no way alike, and yet it is probable that on no other ship have so large a proportion of the officers of the navy served as on the old Santee, which was long in commission as a disciplinary adjunct to the naval academy, as well as for practice in seamanship and smooth bore gunnery.

She belonged to the Civil war period and is said to have been a beautiful ship of her type; her motive power being wind and sails. But her long record as a place for discipline of the midshipmen who failed in strict observance of the rules of regulations at Annapolis was not of a kind to appear strongly to the affectionate remembrance of the graduates of the academy or to arouse the enthusiasm of the civil service.

The Santee will pass with brief newspaper notices only, and with it the English languages, as spoken at Annapolis, will probably lose a word. The Santee will be remembered as one of the Confederate tribes of the Sioux, and there will continue to be discipline at the naval academy, but presumably no untidy, careless or refractory "midship" will ever again be sentenced.

WOMAN HAS PHONE MANIA

Causes Much Trouble for Cincinnati Bachelor Doctor, the Grocers and Many Others.

Cincinnati.—Mysterious telephone messages which have caused annoyance and ludicrous predicaments to Dr. Thomas Dickens, other doctors and various grocers in this city were cleared up in probate court recently, when Miss Bertha Heida, thirty-three, a cook, was committed to Longview Hospital for the insane.

Four years ago Doctor Dickens was an intern at the Jewish hospital and operated on Miss Heida. He said a month after that she began telephoning him and continued her mania for the phone up to this time. He testified that Miss Heida would call up grocery stores and other concerns, impersonating the doctor, and order large quantities of groceries, cooking utensils and other goods, for which he, a bachelor, had no use.

At one time a delivery man deposited a washing machine at his office door. Then followed a case of seltzer water and large orders of household goods. The climax came when a manufacturer of monuments called at his office and insisted on measuring the persecuted one for a monument block.

U. S. EMPLOYEES TO ORGANIZE

President G. L. Cain of National League Seeks More Pledge From Two Big Parties.

Washington.—Plans for an organization of government employees to embrace all arms of the government service in all parts of the country are being formulated by George L. Cain of Lynn, Mass., president of the National League of Government Employees. Mr. Cain is in this city arranging to have a delegation appeal to the Republican and Democratic national conventions to incorporate in their platforms pledges as to the future administration of the civil service.

Kisses Go Astray

Husband Receives Letter Intended for His Wife.

Charles G. Bostwick intercepts Consignment of Superheated Osculation From Ardent Admirer of His Spouse.

Kansas City, Mo.—Forty-seven superheated kisses sent by mail by Walter J. Kincaid to Mrs. Mary E. Bostwick in 1898 and received by Charles G. Bostwick, husband of the consignee, are still burning in Bostwick's memory.

Bostwick tells of the mail order of osculation in his answer and cross-petition filed in the divorce petition of Mrs. Bostwick. Prior to receiving the letter in Wilmington, Ind., Bostwick surprised Mrs. Bostwick and Kincaid in her room, sitting unnecessarily close to each other. When he arrived, he said, Kincaid departed. That was in Seymour, Ind.

Going to the post office in Wilmington a few days later, he says, he found a letter for Mrs. Bostwick and opened it. The forty-seven kisses marked at the end of an epistle beginning "My dearest" might have been meant to designate cars, bushes, tons or only individual kisses, according to the mood of the writer, but, at best, Bostwick was peeved. Also the letter referred to some pictures and Bostwick made a tour of inspection through his wife's trunk, where he discovered a number of pictures of Kincaid and Mrs. Bostwick in numerous positions. Bostwick declares that when he complained to his wife about it she hit him over the head with a skillet and left him. After a reconciliation he complained because she stayed out at night and slept late in the morning, and again they separated.

Bostwick is district manager of the Federal Casualty company and lives at 2620 East Eighth street. The wife's petition charges drunkenness, it is her second attempt to divorce him.

CHAIR CAUSES MORE DEATHS

Large Increase of Executions in Kentucky Since the Introduction of the Electric Device.

Frankfort, Ky.—Substitution of the death chair for the gallows in Kentucky has been followed by an increased percentage of convictions in first degree murder cases, according to state officials. There are now 13 prisoners in the Edinburg penitentiary awaiting execution, the largest number ever assembled there at one time.

Under the old system of hanging prisoners the sheriff of the county in which conviction was secured was compelled to execute the prisoners. They declined this duty and some of them used their influence to promote public sentiment against the death penalty. Nearly always the sheriff's reluctance was found on an application for continuance of sentence.

The Tobacco Association.
Unless the tobacco growers of the Black Patch become more aroused than their action at present would indicate, the end of the Tobacco Association is near. Those farmers who have borne the burden for years while others have helped to reap the reward, declare that they will make no further fight unless they receive the assistance of others whose duty is to help as much as they.

It requires no argument to convince thinking people that the Association is a good thing, and that intelligent, thinking farmers will stand back and see it go down is a thing we do not understand. If it is good for other business interests to organize, why not for the farmers? Yet we are now confronted by a condition that means the end of the best organization they ever had, and no one seems to care whether it remains in existence or not.

The Record has no more interest in this matter than any other citizen. What we want to see is the man who goes forth to dig and plow, reap a just reward for his labor. To do this he must study and think like other business people or else the fruits of his toil will go largely to those who had nothing to do with earning it. We think the proposition confronting the farmers is a very serious one, and if they remain indifferent and permit the Association to pass out of existence, they will not be required to live long to regret it.

If the Association is a bad thing, it should never have existed and no one should delay its end. If it is a good thing as all will admit, just think how foolish men are who know its benefits to them directly and yet make no effort to keep it going.

The farmers must study their interests. They produce the wealth in this part of the country. Land values are soaring skyward for the reason that what land produces is bringing big prices. To keep this condition in existence will require effort and thought on the part of the producers. Then in the name of all that is sacred to the toilers of this country, let the farmers study their conditions more, go to work in a systematic way to perpetuate the Tobacco Association, and assert their rights to share in a reasonable distribution of what is produced on the lands that are their own. Unless some effort is put forth and that soon, we may be required to live long to see the return of the conditions that brought the Tobacco Association into existence in 1902—Caldwell Record.

Yale Conventions.

Goodbye to political conventions in Kentucky!

Under the statutes enacted by the last general assembly all party nominations must be made in future by primary election. This law includes everything except nominations of delegates to presidential conventions, and it is to be devoutly hoped that these nominations will be excluded before the arrival of the national election of 1916.

On every hand in Owensboro it may be heard: "Thank the Lord, we have had our last convention. They are rotten. They are not expressive of the people's wishes, because the corruption practiced in them has caused the great majority of democrats to refuse to participate in them. Of course there will be fraud in the primaries, but no such fraud as is perpetrated in conventions."

It is also true that there is a law to punish fraud in the primaries, but there is none to punish it in the conventions. In the primaries there can be no "repeating," as is done in the conventions. No voter can cast his vote from one to a dozen times. He can vote once only, and if he votes in the democratic contest he can vote in no other. Because all primaries are held on the same day, and the voting in each precinct in all party contests is at the same place, and one set of officers does all the balloting.

Several gentlemen have said to the inquirer that they never participated in but one political convention in their lives, as one was enough to disgust them for all time.

Party nominations are now put up to all the voters of a political party, and if the voters do not turn out and select the candidates they want they have nobody to blame but themselves.

The primary will put the rings and cliques out of business if the people will only exercise their rights under the primary law to nominate the candidates.

Advertisers This Week.

The merchants of Murray have taken considerable space this week to place their advertisements before the people of Calloway county, and to tell of the many bargains they have to offer. Those who have taken space are: E. B. Holland & Co., Ryan & Sons Co., G. D. Johnson, O. T. Hale & Co., and T. C. Nix, of Coldwater.

The merchants of Murray need no introduction to the people of Calloway county, as they are well known and popular business men, who always endeavor to save you money at all times. Prices cut to the quick on many desirable and useful articles (should appeal to the person who aims to get the best at the lowest prices.

Look up the advertisements and give them a careful reading and then let these gentlemen "show you." You'll be convinced, they do as they say.

CURED WHILE YOU WORK

A. N. Seitz, Paducah, Ky.

23 years ruptured and cured while he worked.

I am 38 years old and was ruptured when I was 16 years old.

Hearing of Dr. G. N. Murphy, Rupture Specialist, I called on him in January 1911.

After side when I was 14 years old and getting an explanation of his method of treatment for rupture, I had him treat me and a complete cure soon resulted.

I cheerfully recommend him to all who are ruptured. A. N. Seitz, Machinist, I. C. R. Shops.

To whom it may concern: I have been cured of rupture by Dr. G. N. Murphy by the injection method, after a knife operation failed.

I think Dr. Murphy's method is ideal, as I am personally acquainted with perhaps a dozen others whom he has cured, and they all seem highly pleased with their cure. J. W. Leigh, Carpenter, I. C. R. Shops.

HEMORRHOID CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE.

Dr. Eugene F. Hoyt, a well-known surgeon of New York City, says: "There is not a possible case of piles that cannot be cured without the knife, and I am at a loss to explain who so many cling to methods that carry with it so much suffering." After fifteen years experience in treating hemorrhoids with the hypo-dermic needle, I can fully endorse every word of the above statement. I have also cured more than one hundred cases of malignancy or cancer in the past twenty years.

Ideal Chief Executive of State.

As governor of New Jersey, he has given that state a practical business administration, so conceded by all. He has shown himself to be peculiarly fitted for the executive office along the most practical lines. In meeting him, you are impressed with this fact. The schoolmaster is not in the least in evidence. He is plain, matter of fact, and his conversation is not pedantic or pedagogic, but direct, forceful and earnest.

Above all, he is a man of the people. He was born with no silver spoon in his mouth. He is not a man of means or wealth. He is easily approachable. No dignity hedges him. He is at home at all times and in all places. He is at home at Princeton. On knocking at his door, no servant, liveried or otherwise, met us at the portals. It was the governor himself who opened the door for us, welcomed us, showed us to the study and laid them aside, ushered us into his library, made us feel at home and talked to us neighbors who had dropped in for a casual call. There are no frills nor re-bells about him. He is a man like Jefferson.

As governor of New Jersey, he has fought for the plain people and they love him. In doing so, he has antagonized the interests. He knows it, but doesn't care. He has faith in the people and takes them into his confidence.

Sense of Duty Supreme.

I also found him to be a man of positive convictions with the courage of the same. He is fearless in his expressions of opinions. If they do not agree with your opinion, he is sorry, but he does not trim his views to conform with yours. His sense of duty is supreme. He would not change his views, unless convinced that he was wrong, even though it made him president. He is not a trimmer. He is not a politician, but is a statesman, in all that word implies. He abhor machine politics and machine methods. He does nothing behind closed doors. Everything with him is in the open and he has no political or public secrets. What he says to you he is willing the world should know. He is the soul of integrity and honor and he stands today as the one great champion of progressive ideas of government in state and nation. If elected president, no machine leaders, bosses or factions will control or influence him. His sense of duty alone will actuate him.

Together I was exceedingly well impressed with Gov. Wilson as a man as a statesman, as an executive and as a possible, if not a probable, future president. He seems to combine

Unhappy Author.
In the course of an earnest appeal on behalf of the royal literary fund at the Whitehall rooms in London, recently, Anthony Hope Hawkins, the author of "The Sign of the Cross," marked that when a man once out of the authorship there seems to be no known means of getting him out of it. He is a man of letters, a soldier and a sailor, and he has been in the service of the crown for half a century. He is a man of letters, a soldier and a sailor, and he has been in the service of the crown for half a century. He is a man of letters, a soldier and a sailor, and he has been in the service of the crown for half a century.

Electric Smelting.
The success of electric smelting is indicated by its rapid adoption. A German authority counts up 114 electric furnaces that are at work making steel, and his list is incomplete, some important omissions having been pointed out. Of those enumerated 77 are arc furnaces, two generate heat by arc and resistance combined, and 35 are induction furnaces. There are also some pig iron smelting furnaces. Norway and Sweden have two or three. Of the steel furnaces seven are at work in England and a number in America, but the great majority are in France and Germany. Most of the furnaces are of small capacity—two to five tons. They are employed chiefly on high-class steels, for special purposes, but a fair proportion are working on ordinary steels, such as structural steel, castings and railway ties, rails, etc.

New Use for Moving Picture.
The moving picture is now applied to educational purposes. A German school has adopted the moving picture for teaching the elements of science. There are films illustrating the electrical action of water, the action of acids on silver, and action of aqua regia on metallic gold, etc. The test tube is thrown on the screen many times enlarged, and the chemical action clearly illustrated. Most unimpressive but educational is a film illustrating the perils of the fly. The flies are shown laying eggs in unsanitary places, and before the eyes of the spectators the eggs develop in hours of wriggling maggots. In the final stage the winged fly is shown in all its unsanitary glory. Still another film exhibits the acrobatic fly lying on its back juggling various articles with its feet, and even swinging a dumb-bell as large as the insect itself.

Telephone Winds Clock.
Making the telephone set and wind the clock is a novel idea lately patented by W. W. Dean. The limb of the telephone line that, when out of use, is connected to ground at the central office, is in the new system connected to the subscriber's hook lever, and reaches ground through a lower contact and the coil that winds and sets the clock. The ground-to-ground circuit has no result. When the clock is to be set and wound a master clock at the proper instant causes a circuit, momentarily switching current from a battery at the central office to ground through the winding and setting coil. The clock is then acted on by the coil.

Amalgam for Joints.
Amalgam, designed for making joints in plumbing and other lead work, is a very thin ribbon of easily fusible metal that, having been treated with a compound to prevent oxidation, is placed between the surfaces to be joined, and on the application of heat melts and causes the metals to amalgamate at a temperature below their normal melting point. The process is adapted for joining brass and copper parts to lead pipe, unting pieces of lead pipe, and many other purposes.

Wireless Telegraphy.
In connection with his new system of wireless telephony, Prof. Q. Major has devised a liquid microphone. This consists of a small tube attached to the diaphragm of the microphone and through which a stream of water flows between a pair of platinum electrodes. The water is slightly acidulated so as to complete the circuit between the electrodes. However, when the microphone is vibrated by the voice the stream of liquid fluctuates, varying the electrical resistance in accordance with the sound of the voice.

Telephone Telegraph.
The telephone telegraph is the idea of three Danish engineers, and its purpose is to leave a recorded message for any subscriber called when away or otherwise prevented from responding to the call. The transmitting apparatus includes a keyboard like that of the ordinary typewriter. The receiving apparatus prints the message on a tape in code characters, and single communications or series of them can be sent at any time, to await prompt attention on the subscriber's return.

For Mixing Concrete.
For mixing concrete a spade has been invented with long, oval holes in the blade, the perforations allowing the finer cement to flow through and give the face a finer finish.

DEATH FOR "WITCH"

INTERESTING RELIC OF THE DAYS OF IGNORANCE.

Historical Archives of Salem, Mass., Reveal Depths of Superstition and Folly in Which Our Forefathers Were Sunk.

Investigators making search through the archives of the Peabody Institute at Salem, Mass., have just unearthed a seventeenth century warrant condemning to death Bridget Bishop, wife of a Salem attorney, on a charge of witchcraft.

Contrary to the tradition that witchcraft was burned in Massachusetts, in the warrant condemning Mrs. Bishop to death William Stoughton, who with his associates in the warrant are styled judges of a special court of oyer and terminer for the counties of Essex, Middlesex and Suffolk, orders that George Corwin, the sheriff, shall hang her by the neck until she is dead.

Appended to the warrant is the return certificate made by Corwin showing that he had carried out the orders of the court.

The warrant and return are in seventeenth century English script, and transcribed reads as follows:

"To George Corwin Sheriff, High Sheriff of the County of Essex Greeting: Whereas Bridget Bishop a'te O'm's, the wife of Edward Bishop of Salem in the County of Essex Lawyer at a special court of Oyer and Terminer holden at Salem the second day of this instant month of June for the County of Essex Middlesex and Suffolk before William Stoughton, Esquire and his associates of the said court was indicted and arraigned upon five several indictments for being p'p'ly, fitting and exhorting on the last past and diverse days and times the felonies of Witchcraft and under the bodies of Anne Williams, Ann Hathorne, Susannah Lewis, Mary Walcott and Elizabeth Hubbard of Salem Village, single women, whereby their bodies were hurt, afflicted, pined consumed and tormented contrary to the forms of the statutes in that behalf made and provided. To which indictments the said Bridget Bishop pleaded not guilty and for Tryall thereof put herself upon God and her Country whereupon she was found guilty of the Felonies and Witchcrafts, whereof she stood indicted, and sentence of Death accordingly passed against her as the Law directs. Execution whereof yet remains to be done. These are therefore in the names of their justices William and Mary now King and Queen over England &c. to will and command you that upon Friday next being the Tenth Day of this instant month of June between the hours of eight and twelve in the afternoon of the said day you safely conduct the said Bridget Bishop a'te O'm's Oliver from their majesties Gaol in Salem aforesaid to the place of execution and there cause her to be hanged by the neck until she be dead and of your doings herein make return to the clerk of the said Court and of this precept. And hereof you are not to fail at your peril. And this shall be your sufficient warrant given under my hand & seal at Boston the eighth day of June in the fourth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord William and Mary now King and Queen over England, &c. Annoq's Dom. 1692."

"WM. STOUGHTON.

"June 10th, 1692.

"According to the within written precept I have taken the body of the within named Bridget Bishop out of their majesties gaol in Salem and safely conveyed her to the place provided for her execution and caused y'sd Bridget to be hanged by the neck until she was dead all which was according to the time within required and so I make return by me.

"GEORGE CORWIN, Sheriff."

The First Requisite.

When Senator Vance was running for congress he called on an old negro who had in early life served the Vance family. Asked after his health, the negro replied: "Mighty p'ly in this world, but it's all right over yander." "Do you believe in the doctrine of election?" asked Vance with great solemnity. "It's the doctrine of the Bible," answered the old man. "Uncle Ephraim, do you think I've been elected?" asked Vance again. "Massa Zeb, I'd a little rather you wouldn't draw that question. I'm too near de grabo to tell a lie, but the fac' am, I never yet knowed nor heard tell of no man bein' elected what wasn't a candidate."

The Parable of the Ten Ideas.

A teacher put ten facts into a boy's mind, and when he returned a few months later, to see if the facts were still there, he was pleased to find that the boy remembered them. He paid the boy a high compliment on the possession of a mind that could hold knowledge so securely and deliver it up on demand with such prompt and beautiful exactness. Another teacher gave another boy ten facts, and some time after he also tested the boy to see what had happened. He found that from the ten he had given the boy there had grown a large number of other facts. He made no further inquiry, for he was not interested to know whether the facts he had given him were still there or not. He saw that the purpose for which they had been put in the boy's mind was working out all right, and there his interest ended.

Locomotives for Mines

Storage battery locomotives are being used in certain mines of Germany. These locomotives are considered less dangerous than the ordinary electric locomotive, for the reason that no wiring is necessary in the mines, and they can be increased completely to prevent ignition of gases by means of a chance spark. The locomotives are each provided with two sets of batteries, one of which is being charged while the other is operating the locomotive. The batteries are seldom more than two-thirds discharged, so that the recharging takes but a short time. In one type of locomotive of 20 horse power the batteries contain 97 cells, each with a capacity of 74 ampere hours. The storage battery locomotives range from 5 to 25 horse power.—Scientific American.

Feeder Electric Locomotive

A recent number of the Electric Railway Journal describes a peculiar electric locomotive used for canal haulage near Bremen, Germany. The locomotive runs on a quay, which has to be kept clear for the passage of drays. In order to secure the requisite weight for adhesion, the locomotive is built in the form of two inverted U's connected at the top with a girder. The width of each base is only 28 inches, and so the driving motor had to be placed in the upper part of the superstructure. The locomotive thus straddles the tracks, and can travel up and down the quay without disturbing the trucks, which pass between the U's and under the connecting girder.

Seek Way to Utilize Wood

Much attention and thought, states the Chemical Trades Journal, have been bestowed by the engineers in the locating of bottling-tips and other craft as to the profitable disposal of the large quantities of wood obtained from the various vessels in course of destruction. Although there is much wood that is not fit to be sold for pulp, there is a considerable quantity that is suitable for such an extent that renders it practically valueless. One or two firms are contemplating putting down wood distillation plants to utilize the hitherto valueless wood.

Has a Remarkable Constituency

Discussion in a group of congressmen turned to amusing letters that some of them receive from their constituents. Some said they received requests for names for newly-arrived citizens, others had been requested to pass judgment on the worth of quartz which some worthy voter had believed to be diamonds, and so on, but to judge from the laughter that followed a remark from Congressman Kennedy of Iowa, was the best joke of all. Kennedy said: "Well, gentlemen, I can't sympathize with you. I haven't a foolish constituent in my district."

Dewey's Valet Causes Stir

There was consternation in Washington one night recently when it was discovered that "Pikagana, Admiral Dewey's valet, had disappeared. That picturesque little hand-box Jap is so regular in his habits and in his attendance upon Admiral Dewey, whom he worships, and when he didn't show up for 24 hours that the Washington police were asked to look him up. He located him in the course of a few hours out in one of the suburbs visiting friends, and the little fellow was much amazed when he found that his unusual absence had almost created a panic in the Dewey family.

Saved by Clinging to Flagstaff

Myrtle Fields, aged nine years, while crossing the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railway tracks near her home at Portland, Pa., stepped in front of a shifting engine in getting out of the way of a passenger train. The engine caught her and she rolled upon the pilot, striking a flagstaff, to which she clung until the engine was stopped. She was badly cut and bruised about the body.

Just Holding Gum in Trust

A little seven-year-old Boston girl came into the house the other day chewing gum vigorously. Her mother was horrified and ordered the little one to throw the gum away. The usually obedient child shook her head firmly. "I can't throw it away," she said, "because it ain't mine. It belongs to Barbara, but she lent it to me till two o'clock."

Cat Mothers Duckling

At an Oxfordshire (Eng.) village inn a duckling was the solitary result of a setting of eggs, and, careless of its fate, the owner gave it to the cat, who was suckling a kitten. The cat at once took to the little stranger, and now washes and nurses it with the same care as she devotes to her own offspring.

Stomach Telescope

A stomach telescope, invented by a London surgeon and in constant use in a hospital in that city, enables a doctor to see the exact condition of the entire interior of a patient's stomach.

United States Behind Europe

While the number of violent deaths a thousand among miners has undergone in European countries a decided decrease, in this country it is steadily increasing.

Many Thousand Miles of Track

The new main line railroad track built in the United States in 1909 amounted to 3,718 miles. In 1908, 3,214 miles were laid.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used.

They brought benefit. The story was told to Murray residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.

Has proven the result lasting. The testimony is from this locality.

The proof convincing. Miss Cora Graham, 1301 Jefferson street, Paducah, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills were indeed effective in my case. I had tried every thing I could think of, nothing did me any good. I had heard several people say that Doan's Kidney Pills were excellent for what ailed me, so I decided to give the remedy a trial. I am glad I did so far the relief was speedy and gratifying. I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney medicine I ever used." (Statement given February 7, 1908.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT

When Miss Graham was interviewed on January 30, 1912 she said: "I have no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills or any other kidney remedy since they cured me some years ago. You are at liberty to use my statement as heretofore."

Could Shout for Joy.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va. "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters have no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c at Dale & Stubblefield.
