BOUND OVER

Perkins and Wright Mayfield Men, Accused of Arson, Bound Over to Grand Jury.

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 10.—Lee Perkins was held over to grand jury and Bolin Wright waived his right to an examining trial this morning when the preliminary trials for the charges of arson were called. Both of the defendants were held under bonds fixed at $1,000. Perkins failed to make bond and went back to jail. Wright executed bond for his appearance in circuit court in November.

Perkins is charged with sitting fire to the tobacco warehouse of Bolin Wright while Wright is alleged to be one of the men higher up. The state fire marshals are continuing their investigations and it is likely that more prominent men will be implicated in the plot.

In answer to a prayer of a large number of prominent citizens asking for a special session of the grand jury and circuit court to investigate the arson charges, Circuit Judge R. J. Buzz replied in a written letter today. He said that only one week remains before it will be necessary for him to convene the Ballard circuit court at Wickliffe, and he does not consider one week sufficient time for a thorough investigation.

To wait until November when the Graves circuit court will convene in regular session is too long according to the general opinion in Mayfield.

It is likely that the citizens will address a petition to Gov. McCreary asking that he appoint a special judge to convene a special session of the Graves circuit court for an investigation of the fires.

INTERURBAN

Promoters of the Proposed Road Visit Murray and Are Pleased With Outlook.

Messrs. H. C. Rhodes and F. M. Smith, president and general manager respectively, of the Kentucky Southwestern Electric Ry., Light and Power Co., were in Murray Tuesday during the entire day.

They were in conference with a number of our leading citizens, for the purpose of arranging the extension of the railway from Mayfield to Murray. The work on the line from Paducah to Mayfield having progressed so far, that this work between Murray and Mayfield should be taken up at once in order to avoid any delay in having the extension ready for construction with the rest of the line. We pride ourselves on having a community made up of progressive citizens, who are untiring in their determination to place Murray in the position she deserves in this state. We have the people, we have the soil, we have the enterprise, and what our business interests have needed to enlarge their opportunities is increased transportation facilities.

Records show invariably in states where Interurban Railways are operating, that the people are benefited individually by increased value of real estate, low rates comparatively, greater commercial activity, increased population and many other benefits that can be enumerated.

We hope and trust our people will co-operate in this enterprise as the people of other sections have, without unnecessary delay, which will assure our getting the road that much sooner.

We can afford to be liberal in our co-operation, whether of right of way, franchise or otherwise, as by inducing the result which the operation of Interurban Railway will bring about, will fill a long felt need, and will benefit our city and county proportionally.

New Pension Law.

In answer to an inquiry in regard to the new law, Capt. W. J. Stone, the examiner of the state, gives the following information:

"Payments as on will observe from the law, will be made on the 5th day of August, 5th day of November, 5th day of February and 5th day of May. There were no payments made on the 5th day of the present August, for the reason that the Pension Board, composed of the Governor, Auditor and Secretary of State, have been so busy with matters directly connected with their own offices that they have not had time to pass upon any of the applications. The decision, as you will see from the law, is final in all cases, and consequently every application must go through their hands. When applications are allowed a certificate will be sent to each person whose application has been passed upon, and a short time before each payday a voucher will be sent to each pensioner for him to fill out and return to this office, and then on the date provided in the law payments to be made a check will be sent to each individual pensioner for the amount of the pension. Pension will begin from the date of reception of the application by this office. The date on which every application reaches here is stamped upon it so there can be no mistake as to the amount that will be due each applicant."

Very truly yours,

W. J. Stone,

Examiner of Ky.

Boy's Essay on Pants.

Pants are made for men and not for women. Women are made for men and not for pants. When a man pants for a woman and a woman pants for a man they are a pair of pants. Such pants don't last. Pants are like molasses they are thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold. Men are often mistaken in pants; such mistakes are breaches of promise. There has been much discussion whether pants is singular or plural. Seems to me when men wear pants it is plural, and when they don't wear pants it is singular. Men go on a tear in their pants and it is all right, but when pants go on a tear it is all wrong. If you want to make pants last, make the coat first.—Masonic News.

UNCERTAIN

The Future of the Tobacco Association Still an Unknown Quantity Hopes Entertained.

The decline in the price of tobacco in this district is causing serious losses to the dealers who bought at high prices in the loose state. So serious has the situation become that there is a move on foot among these dealers who still have tobacco to form an organization for their mutual protection. There is also a move to pool this tobacco with the Planters' Protective Association and have it sold through these channels.

From the best reports obtainable there are about 7,000 hogsheds of tobacco still unsold in the district, which is owned by independent dealers, or those who bought the tobacco loose and priced it themselves as a speculation, hoping to sell it at a profit. Of this amount probably 2,500 hogsheds are held here, 1,500 at Clarksville, 1,000 at Paducah and 2,000 at Mayfield. For this tobacco fancy prices were paid last fall and winter and now the market quotations in most instances are considerably less for the tobacco priced and after it had gone through the sweat than was paid for it at first.

Several conferences have been held between the independent dealers and officials of the Planters' Protective Association looking to a joining of interests. The association has between 5,000 and 6,000 hogsheds of tobacco of the 1911 crop still on their hands which they are closing out as fast as they can at reduced prices. Nothing has been given out to the public from either side as to the progress that has been made towards a coalition between the association and the independent dealers, but just what the outcome of the negotiation will be cannot be foretold. That the independent dealers will form an organization of their own seems more probable, to hold the tobacco.

Whether or not the Planters' Protective Association will continue in existence for another season is yet to be determined. For the past two years only about one third of the tobacco growers in the dark district have sold their tobacco through the association and now the officials have come out with a plain statement of facts and the positive declaration that unless at least a majority of the farmers affiliate with the organization for the next year, it will be allowed to dissolve and quit business entirely. The membership books will be finally closed for the 1912 crop on September 21, and the final decision will be made on the showing made at that time. The officials of the association repeatedly stated their position in public speeches and through cards published in the newspapers, and declared they mean exactly what they say.

The effect of this has been to create more interest in some sections, but whether or not the farmers generally are interested sufficiently to join and raise the membership to the required status, is another matter that only the future can determine. The association was formed in 1904. It has controlled as high as 45,000 hogsheds of tobacco in a single year, this year their holdings being about 33,000 hogsheds.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Two Big Suits Filed.

Two of the largest suits for personal damages ever filed in the McCracken county circuit court were filed Monday, by former employees of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad company.

The largest of the two suits was filed by George Banks for $100,000. Mr. Banks was formerly employed as a brakeman on the N. C. & St. L. On June, as he relates in his petition, he was engaged in breaking the coupling of an air hose on a freight train at Hollow Rock Junction, Tenn.

The train was suddenly started and both hands crushed between two cars. It was necessary to amputate one hand above the wrist and the other below the elbow.

The other suit was filed by Toy Henry, also a former brakeman, for $50,000. One of Mr. Henry's legs was crushed so badly between two cars at Murray, Ky., on November 16, 1911, that it was necessary to amputate it. Joseph R. Grogan represents both claimants.—Paducah News Democrat.

Teachers Wanted.

A new and uncrowded field has been opened to teachers who want to make the profession their life-time business, and the objection that teaching does not pay has been removed. We refer to the increasing demand for teachers of the business branches. A representative of the Bowling Green Business University, while attending the Institute this week, stated that that institution annually receives nearly five hundred applications for such teachers and that the salaries offered vary from $75 to $150 a month, for twelve months every year. This makes a business proposition out of the profession and at once offers a most inviting and lucrative field of usefulness to the ambitious teacher.

Murray Route 4.

No weddings to mention this week. The recent rains have already made quite a change in crops. Miss Unice Brandan is still improving from a serious attack of typhoid fever.

B. B. Denham is still improving of his wounds. Enoch Sherman attended court last Monday.

Harris Paschal of the Lynn Grove section was thrown from his buggy a few days ago and badly hurt, but is improving slowly at this writing.

A son of Bob Cochran has typhoid fever, but is mending slowly.

There was an old Southern Harmony Singing at Sinking Spring church and dinner on the ground, a large crowd was present, a pleasant day was spent by all.

CONVICTED

Earlie Pettie, 14-Year-Old Lad, Must Serve From Two to Twenty Years for Manslaughter.

Earlie Pettie, who shot and killed his father, T. F. Pettie, at the home near Gunter's Flat, some several months ago was convicted in the Calloway Circuit Court this week of manslaughter and was sentenced to serve from 2 to 20 years in the penitentiary. On account of his age he was sent to the reform school where he will be a prisoner until he becomes of age and will then be transferred to the state prison to serve out the balance of the time.

The damage suit of W. J. Rice, a bank promoter, against Dr. Ben L. Bruner, former secretary of state, for $100,000 was tried out Monday and a verdict for Bruner rendered. This case grew out of a letter sent by Secretary Bruner to stockholders of the Lynn Grove bank, organized by Rice. Since this suit was filed Rice was arrested and carried to Mississippi where he was recently convicted on a charge of wrecking the Central Bank of Mississippi and sentenced to serve a term in the penitentiary.

The jury was discharged Tuesday after returning quite a large number of indictments.

Quite a large number of minor cases have been tried out this week and it now appears that the full three weeks will be consumed before the court will adjourn.

"Farmers Institute," at Teachers Inst.

Next Friday, August 16th, will be a red letter day in the history of the farmers work in Calloway county, if the farmers will themselves manifest the proper spirit of interest by coming to the county seat and spending the day at the F. I. grounds.

The department of agriculture will send a man to lecture to the farmers on agriculture and a lady to instruct the women along the lines of domestic science. Therefore both men and women should come to town to spend the entire day and be benefited by the instructions to be given them free of charge.

Since the teachers have planned to have children's day at the teachers Institute on Friday and many schools are expected to be represented, it has been decided it is best to combine the Farmers Institute and Teachers Institute and let the two work in connection with each other at the County Fair grounds, where there will be plenty of room, plenty of shade and plenty of water to accommodate all who attend.

The Almo Brass Band has been employed by the teachers to furnish music for the occasion—and each teacher has instructed his or her school to bring lunch and have "dinner on the ground all day" and a good time in general. It is to be hoped that the unselfish devotion of the teachers and their untiring efforts to promote the cause of education in our county will be so thoroughly appreciated by the patrons of the various districts that every father and mother will come and bring their children to this promised feast of good things in more respects than one.

Calloway is indeed fortunate to be one of the few counties to which the commissioner of agriculture sends these instructions, and as worthy citizens we should feel grateful for this favor which ultimately means much good to us and to our children—and we should show our gratitude and our appreciation by a goodly attendance at this meeting.

Let us go with the intention of profiting by the advice and the knowledge imparted to us by the educators of our state, and learn something which we can take home with us and put into practical use. There is no doubt but what we did this when the agricultural train came through, and next Friday is another just such opportunity. Come one, come all—and spend a pleasant day in the picnic grounds where we hope to have everything that will add to the pleasure of the occasion.

The Teachers Institute.

The Teachers' Institute convened at Murray school building Monday morning, Aug. 12th. 110 teachers were present at the opening and any number of visitors.

Some of the most noted speakers who were present at the opening were Prof. J. S. Dickey, of the B. G. B. U.; Mr. L. F. Gehres, of Owensboro, and Mr. Tanner, ex-county superintendent now located at Irvington, Ky. We always welcome such men into our midst and appreciate the good talks they made and the interest they manifest in the work. Prof. Dickey is a universal favorite with all the teachers of the county and his coming was hailed with much joy not only by the teaching force but by all the visitors as well.

Prof. R. P. Green is instructing the Institute and judging from the reports of various teachers, he must without doubt, be the best instructor our county has had for many years. In fact the teachers say his work is so practical that it would be impossible for any one to present it in a better light. Our superintendent is to congratulate on having secured the service of such an efficient instructor.

Prof. Taylor, representative of the Boys' Corn Club department, arrived Tuesday to be present during the rest of the week. Every one remembers his work in the interest of the corn club the past spring and we are highly pleased to have him in our midst again. Notwithstanding the continued rains this season drowning out the corn almost entirely Prof. Taylor declares his intention of "going out after the boys" and helping the few who are left with half a chance at a crop. Such men are worth much to have in our midst and we gladly extend a hearty welcome to them.

Prof. M. M. Faughender, former principal of the Murray school, came in Tuesday afternoon to be present Wednesday and Thursday.

Prof. C. T. Canon and wife, of Mayfield, are also in attendance.

Editor Ledger—I will drop you a few lines.

People are busy pulling tobacco suckers and killing worms since the bountiful rains.

Well we have a new merchant at Stella, Mr. Pitman Paschal having bought out the Crawford Bros.

Mr. Eugene Tucker and family are out on a visit from Texas to friends and relatives. This is the first time Mr. Tucker has been in Kentucky in thirteen years and Mrs. Tucker's first visit to Kentucky.

Crops are reviving, since the rains.

If you want to pledge your tobacco see your committeeman in your precinct. I think from what I can hear the association still lives. Sam Head.

ROOSEVELT NOMINATED

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

GOV. JOHNSON OF CALIFORNIA HIS RUNNING MATE.

PLATFORM IS RADICAL ONE

Both Nominations by Acclamation—New Organization Christens Itself the Progressive Party.

Chicago, Singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the delegates to the first national convention of the new Progressive party acclaimed Col. Theodore Roosevelt for president and Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California as their choice for vice-president.

Marking a new departure in the proceedings of national conventions, the two candidates immediately were informally notified of their nomination, and in the midst of deafening cheers, appeared before the delegates to voice their acceptance and to pledge their best efforts to the coming campaign.

Colonel Appreciates Honor.

Col. Roosevelt, in his speech of acceptance, said, in part:

"Mr. Chairman and men and women who in this convention represent the high and honest purpose of the people of all our country, I come forward to thank you from my heart for the honor you have conferred upon me and to say that of course I accept. I have been president and I measure my words when I say I have seen and known much of life. I hold it by far the greatest honor and the greatest opportunity that has ever come to me to be called by you to the leadership, for the time being, of this great movement in the interests of the American people.

"And, friends, I wish it was to say how deeply sensitive I am to the way in which the nomination has come to me and to tell those who proposed and seconded my nomination that I appreciate to the full the significance of having such men and such a women put me in nomination, and I want to thank the convention for giving me the running mate it has given.

High Praise for Johnson.

"I have a peculiar feeling toward Gov. Johnson. Nearly two years ago, after the election of 1910, when what I had striven to accomplish in New York had come to nothing, and when my friends, the enemy, exulted—possibly prematurely—over what had befallen me, Gov. Johnson, in the flush of his own triumph, having just won out, wrote me a letter which I shall hand on to my children because of what the letter said and because of the man who wrote it; a letter of trust and belief, a letter of ardent championship from the soldier who was at the moment victorious toward his comrade who at the moment had been struck down.

"In Gov. Johnson we have a man whose every word is made good by the deeds he has done. The man who, as the head of a great state, has practically applied to that state for the benefit of the people of that state the principles which we intend to apply throughout the nation as a whole. We have nominated the only type of man who ever ought to be nominated for the vice-presidency; we have nominated a man fit at the moment to be president of the United States.

"Friends, I have come here merely to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the honor you have conferred upon me and to say that I appreciate it exactly as I know you meant it. For the greatest chance, the greatest gift that can be given to any man is the opportunity, if he has the stuff in him, to do something that counts in the interests of the common good.

"I appreciate to the full the burden of responsibility, the burden of obligation that you have put upon me. I appreciate to the full that the trust you impose upon me can be met by me only in one way, and that is by my carrying myself out as I shall have no cause to regret as I feel shame for the action you have taken this afternoon.

"And, friends, with all my heart and soul, with every particle of high purpose that there is in me, I pledge you my word to do everything I can to put every particle of courage, of common sense and of strength that I have, at your disposal.

MAKING WAR ON HOOKWORM

MAKING WAR ON HOOKWORM

CAMPAIGN AGAINST PARASITE IN KNOX COUNTY.

OVER 500 VICTIMS TREATED

More Than Twenty-five Cases of Pellagra Were Found in Southeastern Section of Kentucky.

Barbourville.—As a result of the first two weeks of the campaign to eradicate the hookworm disease from Knox county a total of 1,139 cases have been examined and treatment given to 552 of this number who were found to be infected. The examinations were made at the ten free dispensaries established in various parts of the county under direction of Dr. A. T. McCormick and Dr. J. S. Lock. At the local dispensary, maintained at the Union College laboratories, 180 cases were proven, and after treatment a new test was made, and of the total number treated only sixteen were found not entirely cured of the disease. A second treatment will effect a cure in these instances.

An interesting feature of the investigation in Knox county, the first of its kind to be undertaken in Kentucky, was the infection of hookworm patients. Pellagra is a little-known disease, and while cases are comparatively rare, they have baffled medical skill, and no cure has yet been discovered. In the course of the hookworm investigation a total of twenty-five cases of pellagra have been found in southeastern Kentucky, and in each instance the pellagra victims were found to be heavily infected with the hookworm parasite.

MAY FORM COALITION.

Planters' Protective Association and Independent Buyers.

Hopkinsville.—Throughout the famous Black Patch, which includes all the counties in this region of Kentucky and Tennessee where the dark types of tobacco are grown, there is the keenest interest in conditions which affect both the Planters' Protective Association and independent tobacco buyers, and a coalition of these important factors in the trade may be brought about.

Association officials are out in statements that unless a majority of the growers show a sufficient interest in its welfare to sign pledges of membership before September 1, the corporation probably will be dissolved. For two years, owing to the high prices of the loose floors, not more than one-third of the farmers have sold their product through this channel. The association now controls about 32,000 hogheads, while a few years ago there were 65,000 hogheads in the land.

Independent dealers in the region are holding about 7,000 hogheads for which they paid high prices, and the recent slump in values is causing them great uneasiness. They have lately held a number of conferences with the association managers, who still have about 6,000 hogheads of the old crop on hand, with a view to pooling their holdings, but the combination has not yet been effected.

San Jose Scale in Kentucky.

Eleven counties in Kentucky, scattered from the mountains to the Mississippi river and from the Ohio to the Tennessee line are infected with the San Jose scale. This is the most dreaded enemy of the fruit growers, and the State Department of Agriculture finds itself practically powerless to do anything to stamp out the pest beyond the employment of men of moral suspicion. Kentucky has a law prohibiting the shipment of trees into the State excepting under government inspection, and an appropriation is made for annual inspection of the nurseries for the San Jose scale, which has been the scourge of the country, particularly in the West, where it was introduced, millions of dollars. The law provides for a report to the Department of Agriculture, but does not invest the department with any summary authority to fight the pest. There is, however, a prohibition against the shipment of trees from the infected nurseries under penalty of $50 fine for each shipment.

Law to Be Tested.

Test of the law authorizing the State to slaughter tuberculous cattle will be made by killing of seventeen head taken from Fayette county dairy herds by order of the State Livestock Sanitary Board. A conflict of opinion arose as to whether the State Board of Health or Livestock Sanitary Board should have charge of the killing, the dairymen wishing the Sanitary Board to, because in that case they expect the counties to reimburse them, while if the State Board of Health orders the slaughter as a general health protective measure they can not recover. It was agreed that the Livestock Sanitary Board should issue the order. The dairymen will see Fayette for the purpose of the test, and a test case applicable to the whole State.

Named As Delegate.

Mayeville, Ky.—McCreary has appointed the Hon. J. N. Kehoe, of this county, a delegate to the American Road Congress, which meets in Atlantic City September 20.

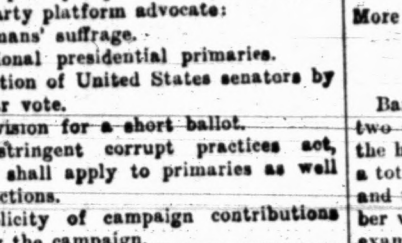

Bethel Association.

Elkton, Ky.—Bethel Association, comprising the Baptist churches of Todd, Logan, Simpson and Christian counties, was in session at Fairview, this county, last week, and was attended by hundreds of delegates and visitors.

Reunion of soldiers.

Mayeville.—The annual reunion of the Tenth Kentucky Cavalry and the seventh Kentucky Infantry will be held in this city September 18, this being the fiftieth anniversary of the enlistment of the Tenth Kentucky.

Chicago, Singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the delegates to the first national convention of the new Progressive party acclaimed Col. Theodore Roosevelt for president and Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California as their choice for vice-president.

Marking a new departure in the proceedings of national conventions, the two candidates immediately were informally notified of their nomination, and in the midst of deafening cheers, appeared before the delegates to voice their acceptance and to pledge their best efforts to the coming campaign.

Why Not Improve The Streets

It is a fact that cannot be disputed by any one that the condition of the streets in the city of Murray is the worst for many years. It is charged by members of the city council that this condition arises from the fact that the city has not the funds with which to improve the present condition, and in order to meet the increased expense incurred by virtue of the water works bonds the city council has seen fit to levy a special privilege upon certain business interests of the city. This tax applies to only a few different characters of businesses, and the Ledger believes it to be the most unjust revenue ever levied within the history of the town. We do not dispute the right of the city council to levy a privilege tax but we do dispute the right of the council to levy this tax upon certain individuals to the exclusion of others. We also take it for granted that these certain business interests will meet these demands of the council and pay the tax, but this does not fix its righteousness nor its legality, rather it is done because these business interests had rather pay the tax than fight the case in the courts. While this is a fact the Ledger is loath to believe that the present city council will take advantage of a circumstance and levy tribute upon its citizenship, or rather a part of its citizenship, that an increased burden of taxation might be met at the cost of these few citizens. The Ledger wants to see the condition of the streets improved. We want to see the city meet every obligation it contracts but we reserve the right to object that these conditions be brought about at the expense of a few and at the exclusion of the many. If any character of privilege tax is just then most assuredly it is but right and proper that every business interest in the city bear its equal burden.

We deny that the city council has not the means at command to meet the conditions now existing, that the city council has the right to improve the streets at the expense of the property owners, under an act of the legislature of 1912 such a condition of affairs is amply provided for and it is the duty of the council to improve the streets as provided by law rather than by levying special tribute upon a part of the citizenship to meet such an obligation. That we might show that our argument is based upon the facts in the premises we produce following the law.

AN ACT relating to the cities of the fifth class and repealing section 3643, chapter 89, Kentucky Statutes, Carroll's Edition.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

That section 3643, chapter 89, Kentucky Statutes, Carroll's Edition, be repealed and the following substituted therefor.

§ 1. The city council is hereby authorized and empowered to order any work they may deem necessary to be done up in the sidewalks, curbing, sewer streets, avenues, highways and public places of such city. The expenses incurred in making and repairing sidewalks and curbing shall be paid by the owners of the lands fronting and abutting thereon, each lot or portion of lot being separately assessed for the full value thereof, in proportion to the frontage thereof to the entire length of the whole improvements, not exceeding a square, sufficient to cover the total expense of the work; but the owners of such property shall have the right to make such improvements, if they prefer doing so, instead of paying for the same. The cost and expense incurred in constructing and reconstructing streets, avenues, highways, sewers and public places shall be paid out of the general fund of the city or by the owners of the land fronting or abutting thereon, as the city council may in each case determine; or the city council may order and direct that two-thirds only of said cost and expenses so incurred shall be paid by the owners of the lands fronting and abutting said improvements and the other one-third paid by the city; but the local assessments shall not exceed fifty percentum of the value of the ground after such improvement is made excluding the value of the buildings and other improvements upon property so improved."

Three options are granted the council under this law, that it might require the property owner to pay the full cost of the improvement, two-thirds of the total cost or the city might pay the full cost as it deems proper and right. Under the existing circumstances we believe the proper thing for the city to do is to order the work done at the cost of the property owners or at least order it to be done at a two thirds cost to the property owner. We are satisfied that this would be a more equitable and just method than by levying a special tax upon certain business interests that this burden of cost might be met.

The means are at hand and it is up to the city council to repair the streets, rid them of the disease breeding weeds, and grade and gravel them. The Ledger does not want to presume to know how the most can be accomplished at the least cost but we are going to venture a suggestion that might prove a benefit in solving the vexed and mooted question. The city is now employing two police officers at a cost of approximately $1,600 per year. These officers make on an average about five arrests each week, the bulk against negroes for breach of the peace. We believe this work can be done by one officer. Now, we would elect the second officer a street commissioner with police powers, that he might be used in case of need as extra police officer, but would stipulate that his first duties were to work the streets and keep them in a condition of repair and sanitation. This is a matter for serious consideration and one in which the entire citizenship should exercise an enthusiastic interest. What will you do with it? It is now high time some action was taken in the matter as winter is approaching and street conditions will again be a burdensome question.

Lost—Light gray top coat between my home and Murray. Several land deeds in the pocket. Will pay reward for its return.—J. V. Meyer.

Cedar Lane.

Editor Ledger: If you will allow me space in your paper I will give your many readers a few more jots in regard to the stock law.

Bro. Isaac Jones comes out in a Montpelier eruption and Kansas cyclone and goes back to the dark ages to get his defense in regard to the stock law. Now, Bro. Jones, I can live with or without this stock law. But now, in the name of common sense and justice, is it right for the poor, industrious man that has to labor hard to get a deed to his land and then be forced to keep his own stock up and then fence his farm against all other roguish stock, while those lazy, worthless scamps that have no get-up about them that would not pick up a dollar if they had to get out of the shade to get it, be allowed a free pasture on someone else's labor. Now, sir, is it right again. We have had it told to us by some of these poor fellows (that Bro. Jones sheds so many tears about) that they would not have a farm if it was given to them as they would have to stay at home and fix fence, therefore they had rather rent.

Now, Bro. Jones, there is no good reason for a man being a renter all the time for I know that a big, stout, healthy man, if he is worth a d—, can soon pay for a home if he had the get-up and did not have so much visiting and loafing around to do. There is a living here for any man that will work. But as Bro. Jones quotes scripture I will also quote a little, for it says "if one won't work neither shall he eat," which also means "that if a fellow won't fix his fences or help neither shall he pasture his stock against his neighbors fence free."

Now I am done writing about the stock law and will not fool away ammunition on such snow birds as "Poor Man's Friend" and Bro. Isaac Jones and a few others not worth notice. I am done. John H. Turner.

Murray is more in need of the proposed electrical railway than the railway is in need of Murray. The Ledger hopes that sufficient inducement will be held out to the promoters to induce them to come to Murray. It will mean increased transportation facilities, cheaper freight rates, in fact is worth much to our fast growing little city. With a modern system of water works, next year a sewerage system and an electric railway we will become a real spot on the map. Let's all take a turn at the wheel and lend every encouragement possible.

Dropsy— Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen one-third larger than natural, water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous."

L. PURLEY CURD, Wilmore, Ky.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been wonderfully successful in relieving heart trouble. Its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles is a great factor in assisting nature to overcome heart weakness.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will return your money. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Card From Smith.

In a letter to a friend in one of the counties of the district, Hon. Denny P. Smith has this to say in regard to the recent contest for the nomination for congress: "I am availing myself the first opportunity since the cyclone struck us to thank you for your loyal support. I am certainly obliged to you and shall never cease to be thankful for the support you and all my friends have given me in this race. I can never do enough to repay you boys for your loyalty and effective work, and I shall feel offended if you ever need my services and fail to call upon me."

"I am hale and hearty, am for Barkley and haven't a sore spot nor a kick coming; am doing business at the same old stand, as hopeful of the future as ever, and have nothing but a smile for those who fought me. I aimed not a shot below the belt and if the other fellow did, he is the sufferer and not I. Personal preference is not the highest purpose that should prompt one to take part in politics. Public service—real service to the toiling masses—is the goal to be aimed at. Defeat for an office, therefore, is only an incident in the line of one desirous to serve his people and his country and should not be discouraging. Certainly it is not discouraging to me in this instance. I have no complaint to make, even on account of the fact that by misrepresentation the people in many sections of the district, to whom I was a stranger when the campaign opened, misunderstood me now and have an erroneous conception concerning me. I accept it all as the fortunes of war. Again thanking you and hoping to see you before long, I am, Your friend, Denny P. Smith.

Positions Plentiful.

Young men and women who are desirous of securing employment could hardly wish for a more encouraging prospect than is now offered to all who have had training for office work. The Business University at Bowling Green, by far the largest in the south, is said to be receiving four times as many calls for bookkeepers, stenographers, telegraph operators, secretaries, etc., as it can furnish. One session qualifies a student for an office position that would pay two or three times as much as his present earning.

Both Men of the Highest Type.

Wilson and Marshall, the Democratic nominees for President and Vice-President, are very much alike in disposition and character. They have similar views regarding a public official's obligations to the public. They are both deeply grounded in the fundamentals of Democracy, and both cherish the highest ideal of popular constitutional government.

It was a wise choice the Baltimore convention made when it selected Gov. Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana as the running-mate of Woodrow Wilson, for as well as brains and character, he has a conscience.

An incident since his nomination shows what kind of materials he is made of. Four of his friends offered to make up a fund to meet his personal campaign expenses as the Democratic candidate for Vice-President, which he declined to accept, explaining that he had arranged to borrow $5,000 to pay for the speaking tours and other individual expenses that he will have incident to the campaign.

In declining the friendly offer to help him, he made this significant comment:

"I have never been under obligations to any person for campaign funds, and now is not the time to begin."

It is related of him that, in discussing his affairs with a friend, that he said he expected to leave the governorship $2,000 poorer than he was when he accepted it, but he declared the opportunity to serve his State was worth more than that to him.

"Thomas R. Marshall," declares the Springfield Republican, in a most laudatory indorsement, "is a student of all our problems that concern our democracy. He is an excellent example of the studious lawyer who has read wisely and taken time to find himself and to become grounded in the principles that make for the popular advantage through government. He knows the best literature and is master of effective writing, as he is of graceful and meaningful speech."

Current literature in describing these two great Democratic Governors, says:

"In nominating Wilson and Marshall the Baltimore convention picked two men essentially very similar. Both men travel on their brains rather than on any magnetic or picturesque personality. Neither one has a 'barrel.' Neither is a particularly good 'mixer,' as the professional politician uses that term. Neither ever held any political office except the one he is now filling—that of Governor. Each has had to administer discipline to his party boss—Wilson to Smith and Marshall to Taggart. But most of all they are alike in the quality of their minds and in the refreshing way in which they can, by sheer lucidity of expression, pack powder into a sentence or a phrase without resource to bluntness or the aurora borealis-kind of rhetoric. Woodrow Wilson's ability in this line is famous, but since reading upon Thomas Riley Marshall we are inclined to believe that neither Wilson nor any other political leader now living can beat him in the ease with which he can coin his ideas into terse sentences that ring like gold fresh from the mint."

No better men, morally or mentally, could be selected as executives of this great nation than Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall, who are of the highest types of American manhood, and believing, as they do, that this is a government of, by, and for the people.

Here is convincing proof of merit. Mrs. T. Brown, 515 Adams St., Paducah, Ky., says: "In view of the experience we have had with Doan's Kidney Pills in our family, I feel that I cannot praise them too highly. For a number of years I suffered off and on with a weak back and pains across my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended to me for such troubles that I began their use. This preparation acted just as represented and since then whenever I have used it it has never failed to give me immediate relief. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many people and they all speak of them in the very highest terms." (Statement given February 5, 1909.)

CONFIRMED TESTIMONY.

On January 30, 1912, Mrs. Brown said: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills and consider them a wonderful remedy. I know I would suffer terribly if I did not have this medicine always on hand. You are at liberty to use my statement as heretofore."

They are telling big stories about the corn crops in the Tennessee river bottom of this county, and if we are to believe them all there is no question but that the lightning bugs fly during the day time and that the hoot owl spends twenty four hours each day in the fields in pursuit of his prey and that the coons are not able to climb the stocks and get the ears of corn because of the fact that the corn is growing faster than the coon can climb. Hope it is all so and even better than these tales would lead us to believe.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is a result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Sales 1912 Crop of Tobacco.

Office of Auditor, Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 10th, 1912.

Clarksville, Tenn. Aug. 10.—Report of sales of the Planters Protective Association of Kentucky and Tennessee, (Incorporated) for the week ending Saturday, Aug. 10, 1912, and for the season to date:

Sale Places	This Week	Total
Clarksville	325 hgs. 12,599 hgs
Springfield	94 hgs. 11,178 hgs
Paducah	103 hgs. 3,312 hgs

Total 522 hgs. 27,080 hgs

Jno. D. Scales, Auditor.
Last year the association sold 85,000 hogheads, and it has been thought that as the crops was 20 per cent less in 1911, and as there was a great deflection from the association, the sales would not nearly approximate the year previous, but now it seems the difference will not be as great as expected.

"Hell!"
The theme at the Baptist church Sunday night, August 25th, will be "Hell." Since Chas. T. Russell and his fellows have voted that there is no hell we want to see what God has to say about it in the Bible. These questions will be answered.
1. Is there a hell?
2. Is it real fire and brimstone?
3. Do the wicked suffer forever?
4. Is there a second chance?
5. Who go to hell?
A cordial invitation to all.

Woman's Wonderful Ways.

Why will weeping widows, who wear weeds, work wonders with wealthy widowers, while winsome wee women, whose witching ways, without woeful wear, would win, were wise wives wanted.

Without wasting words, we will write whimsically, why Widow Wilhelmina Wood's warm wooing was wholly wretched. Whereas, when worthy Widower Willie Weston, who was wealthy, went walking with Widow Wilhelmina, who was working Willie wishing Willie's wealth: Winona Ward, who was Willie's well wisher watched wearily, wretchedly wondering whether Willie wed Wilhelmina Winonia would widely welcome whatever would wreck Wilhelmina's wishes, which was wicked! Wishes (with works) will whiles work wonders. While Willie was walking with Wilhelmina, Winona worried with wolly wisdom, wearily watched Wilhelmina's wily ways, wishing wishes which would wither Wilhelmina's weeds, were wrong wishes worth while. While Willie wooed, Wilhelmina waxed wan with woeful weeping, wondering why Willie was wasting whole weeks walking, whereas wedding was what Wilhelmina wanted!

Well, Willie was wistfully watching Winona, who with woman's wiles, when Willie would wed Winona's way, would wear white, woe wear, wheedle Willie, who was willing with wonderful warbling wifely wayning Willie, "Widow's weeds won't wash!" Well Winona wanted Willie without weeds! Wilhelmina wanted wealth, with Willie Wilhelmina's weeping ways were woefully wrong, while Winona's winsome ways won't without winking. Whoop! Judge.

In Loving Memory.

Willie May Herndon was born Dec. 12, 1885, and died Dec. 30, 1917 being 26 years and 11 days old. She was married to Tom Herndon Oct. 18, 1908. She leaves to mourn her death husband, father, step-mother, two own sisters, half-sister and brother and step-sister and brother and a host of friends and relatives. I would say to the bereaved ones "weep not" as those that have no hope, for aunt Willie is not dead but asleep in Jesus. She joined the M. E. church in her early girlhood and live a true christian until death. She was sick a long time with that dreadful disease consumption but bore here suffering patiently. When the time comes for us to be laid by the side of our loved one in the sad silent grave to sleep where she is now sleeping we hope to rest in peace, sweet peace forevermore.

Dear Aunt, thou hast gone to rest. We will not weep for thee. For thou art now where off on earth. Thy spirit longed to be.

Farewell darling, but not forever. There will be a glorious dawn. We shall meet to part no more. On the resurrection morn.

God had an angel hand That wasn't quite complete. And He took our darling To fill the vacant seat.

Obituary.

Died, January 20, 1912, at 5 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Garrett at his home near Newburg with heart trouble.

He was a born 60 years of age and leaves two girls not married, Nettie and Edna and two married, Lillie and Edna and many relatives and friends to mourn his death. He was buried at the Fossat grave yard Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was a member of the Methodist church and had lived a Christian life.

Peaceful be thy silent slumber. Peaceful in thy grave so low. Thou no more shall join our number.

Thou no more our slumber know. Yet again we hope to meet thee When the day of life is met. And in Heaven with joy to greet thee.

Where no more farewell tears are shed.

Call not back the dear departure. Anchored safe where pains are o'er On the better land we left him. Soon to meet and part no more.

When we leave this world of care. When we leave this world of care. We shall find our missing loved one.

In our Father's mansion high. Written by a friend.

Operators Get Positions.

No one has completed Telegraphy and Railroad Accounting in Bowling Green Business University within the last six years without being assigned to a position on the day of graduation. The course can be completed by the average student in about five months.

Rolled Out Cakes.

One cup of rolled oats, 1 1/2 cups of white flour, one-half cup of light brown sugar, one-half cup of butter, one-third cup of sour milk, one-half teaspoon soda, one handful of raisins and dates chopped fine. Break the oat flakes up fine with the hands, add the flour sifted with the soda, rub or cut the butter in as for pie crust. At the beginning of operations put the sour milk and sugar together and when other work is done add them. Stir them, sand with granulated sugar, then cut out. This will make three or four dozen cookies 1 1/2 inches across. It makes a much easier dough to handle than one with egg, so can be rolled thin with ease.

Apricot Tapioca.

Soak one cupful of fine tapioca for two hours in sufficient cold water to cover. Drain, put into a double boiler with one-quarter of a cupful of sugar and the syrup drained from a can of apricots, adding boiling water sufficient to give three cupfuls of liquid. Add one-half of a teaspoonful of salt and cook until transparent. Cut each piece of apricot into three and put in layers in a pudding dish with the cooked tapioca. Bake for half an hour in a moderate oven and serve with cream.

Frying Veal.

When frying veal, either steak or chops, first dip the meat in a little sweet milk. Then place in a frying pan containing hot butter or a mixture of hot butter and lard. Fry over a good fire and see the results. The milk causes the meat to brown beautifully and imparts to it a delicious flavor and unusual tenderness. Veal fried in this way browns quickly and the juice of the meat is retained, which is not the case when frying is continued for a long time.
