DEAN LILLIAN TATE

STUDENT COUNCIL RESOLUTION:

Dean Tate Asked to Quit

A resolution drawn up by the MSU Student Council calling for the "immediate resignation" of Lillian Tate, dean of women, is pending action by the University administration.

The resolution which was discussed and passed unanimously at the Jan. 21 meeting of the Student Council, was presented to the MSU Board of Regents at their regular quarterly session Jan. 28 by Max Russell, Student Council president.

The following is the text of the resolution:

"WHEREAS, Murray State University is an institution of higher learning,

WHEREAS, its men and women students are of a high degree of maturity and possess high scholastic ability,

WHEREAS, in the opinion of the Murray State University Student Council, Dean Lillian Tate has been a hindrance in the securing of human rights and privileges due the young ladies of this University,

WHEREAS, in the opinion of the Murray State University Student Council, Dean Lillian Tate has been a stumbling block to the progress of this University,

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that the Student Council of Murray State University recommends the immediate resignation of Dean Lillian Tate."

Board of Regent members were, for the most part, critical of the action taken by the Council, and several expressed sentiments that both Miss Tate and the University had been done an injustice.

Joe Whittle, regent from Leitchfield commented, "Unless there are charges serious enough to warrant dismissal, the Council should never have brought this up."

Lack of documented evidence against Dean Tate has been the major criticism by the regents and University officials.

Dr. Harry M. Sparks, MSU president, in a meeting with Student Council members Jan.

26, said that a full investigation would be made.

He added that dismissal action taken against Miss Tate by the board could be based on only three charges-- "insubordination, incompetence, or immorality," and "there is no reason here to recommend her resignation or dismissal," he continued.

In defense of the Student Council Russell, a senior from Murray, told Dr. Sparks that the members realized the import of their action and had not acted without due consideration. Three signers of the resolution and three faculty advisers to the Student Government met with Dr. Sparks Jan. 26.

When asked to be more specific in their grievances, the students said Miss Tate has sent letters to parents of students without the students' knowledge, is unable to communicate with students, and has allowed excessive punishment of at least one coed for returning late to her dormitory.

Dr. Sparks reports that the 15 house directors who work under Miss Tate voiced their support for the Dean in a meeting with him.

Miss Tate, a native of Hopkinsville who has been dean of women at MSU since she joined the staff in 1955, spent nine years as an adviser to the Student Council. She has indicated to Dr. Sparks that she will not resign.

EFFECTIVE JUNE 15:

Non-Resident Fees Upped

A hike in non-resident fees approved by the Murray State Board of Regents Jan. 28.

Effective June 15, the non-resident fees will be $400 per semester, including incidental fees. The action to raise the fees was initially taken by the Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education.

Dimensions of New Decade Theme for 1970 Insight

"Dimensions of a New Decade" is the central theme for the 1970 INSIGHT lecture series to be held March 2, 3, and 4. The program will be centered around man and his involvement in science and religion.

Four speakers are scheduled to present the second annual three-day symposium. They are Herb Kaplow, Ashley Montagu, Joseph Fletcher, and Scott Carpenter.

Herb Kaplow, NBC news White House correspondent, will appear March 2 at 8 p.m.

Kaplow has been with NBC news since 1951, and he has covered national and international news stories including political campaigns, civil rights, and atomic bomb tests from his home base in the capitol.

English-born author and anthropologist Ashley Montagu will speak at 8 p.m. on March 3.

Montagu has written more than 30 books covering areas in genetics, salenotology, biology, and sociology. He is the author of "Man in Process" and "The Natural Superiority of Women."

On March 4, at 3:30 p.m., Episcopal minister Joseph Fletcher will speak.

Dean of the Episcopal Church in Cincinnati, Ohio,

Fletcher is the director of the Association of Voluntary Sterilization and vice-president of the Association for the Study of Abortion.

As an author, Fletcher has written "Moral Responsibility" and "The Situation Ethics Debate."

Closing the three-day symposium on March 4 at 8 p.m. will be Scott Carpenter.

Chosen as one of the seven original astronauts in the Project Mercury program, Carpenter flew the second American, manned orbital space craft on May 24, 1962.

Serving in the Navy's Man-in-the-Sea program, Carpenter spent 30 days living and working on the ocean floor. He is presently serving in the Navy's Deep Submergence Systems Project as assistant for aquanaut operations.

He holds the distinction of being the only man to have orbited the earth and to have lived on the ocean's floor.

Steve Jackson, a senior from Paducah, is chairman of INSIGHT 1970. Tickets for the series are $2 for students and faculty and $3 for the general public. They may be purchased at the Student Organization office in the SUB.

In other matters, the Board:

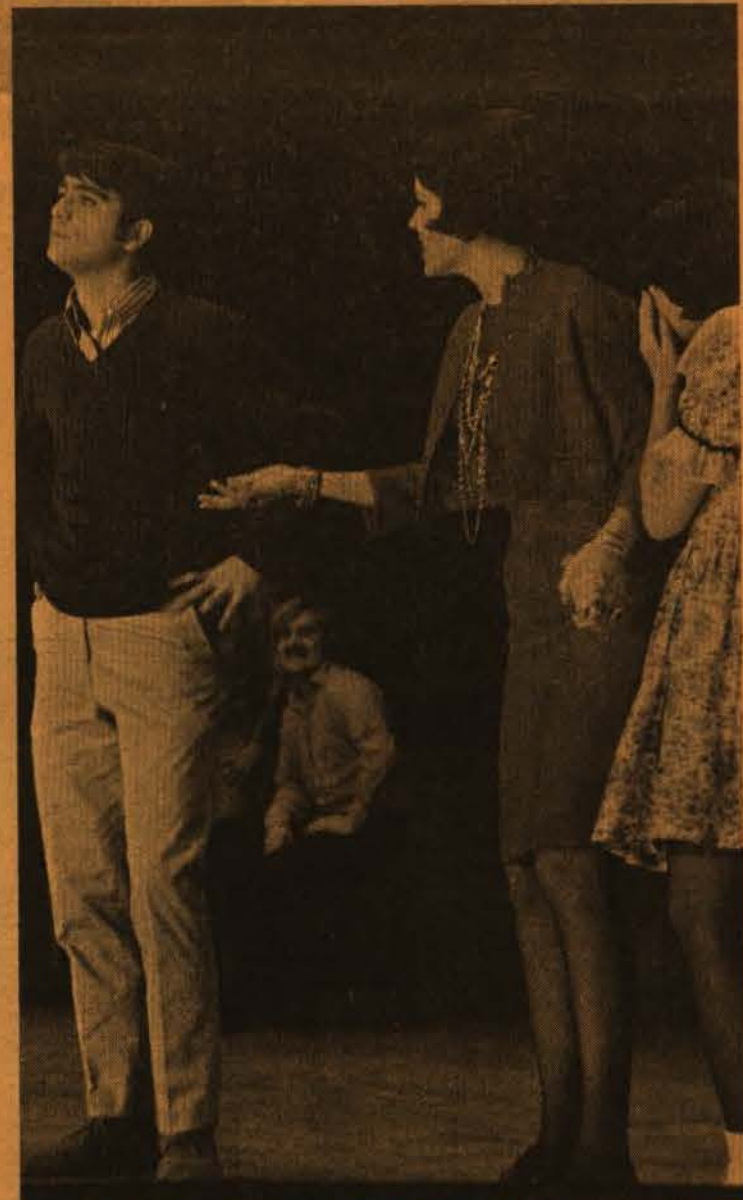

--Heard a report by Dr. Harry M. Sparks that all department chairmen have been asked to cooperate in seeking to establish courses in "black studies" and in hiring black professors.

--Increased room rates by $5 per semester, from $125 to $130 in air-conditioned facilities, and from $115 to $120 in non-air-conditioned facilities, and increased the cost of a five-day meal ticket by 50 cents from $11.50 to $12 a week.

--Authorized Murray State to grant the following degrees: Master of Arts in College Teaching, Educational Specialists in College Teaching, and Master of Arts in Geography with an option of six more hours of classwork in lieu of a thesis.

--Approved the appointment of Dr. James K. Kline, physics professor, as chairman of the physics department. He replaces Dr. William G. Read, who will become vice-president for academic affairs and dean of faculties effective July 1.

--Delayed action on a proposal to require all single freshman and sophomore students under 21 years of age who are not living with their families, or with relatives, to live in dormitory housing.

"SHE'S THE GREATEST". . . Mrs. Schultz (Kathy Berry) tries to convince a director (Dick Stevens) that her little girl (Kathy Ventreese) should be in his show. The scene is from the "Campus Lights" musical which ran Feb. 12, 13, and 14.

67' GRAD HELD FOR MURDER:

Army Charges Willingham

Captain Thomas K. Willingham, a '67 graduate of MSU from Allenhurst, N.J., has been charged with the alleged murder of 20 Vietnamese civilians in March '68.

Accused of unpremeditated murder, Willingham is the fifth and highest-ranking man charged in connection with alleged war crimes in the Song My area of South Vietnam two years ago.

This incident represents a second, separate alleged massacre to have happened two miles from My Lai 4, site of the originally reported mass killing.

Willingham's attorney reports that his client denies he killed anyone and suspects he has been charged on the basis of alleged atrocities committed by others in his platoon.

Due to leave the service in a week, Willingham had no prior indication that he would be charged. However, Pentagon officials contacted him twice last year for questioning about the Song My operation.

The Pentagon said information prompting the filing of charges against Willingham was turned up during testimony of other men before an Army panel investigating whether there was a coverup at My Lai.

Now assigned to Ft. Meade, Md., Willingham and Lt. William Calley Jr. commanded platoons operating jointly on March 16, 1968, at My Song, an area held to be the headquarters for a Viet Cong battalion.

At Murray State, Willingham was a member of Scabbard and Blade and Sigma Chi fraternity. He received a BS degree in physical education and history here.

Assistant Prof. Bobby Sims Running For Representative

Mr. Bobby Joe Sims, assistant professor of social sciences at Murray State, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for representative from the First Congressional district. His opponent is 12 year representative Mr. Frank Albert Stubblefield, a Murray Democrat.

Speaking at a press conference Feb. 2 at the Irvin Cobb Hotel in Paducah, Mr. Sims outlined a campaign based on the priorities of American Life. According to the newly announced candidate, these include: pollution of air, land and water; the health and education of citizens; the costs of living squeeze and the plight of the farmer.

Sims, a 37-year-old Calloway Countian, lashed out at his incumbent, calling him a "silent representative." "My opponent hasn't spoken out on any issue... he hasn't been identified with any legislation in the 12 years he has served."

Married to Margaret Ann Moore of Memphis, Mr. Sims and his wife have five children. They live on a small farm near Murray in the Lynn Grove community.

Born on Aug. 18, 1932 in Texarkana, Ark. Mr Sims has made Western Kentucky his home for the past twenty years. He graduated from Freed-Hardeman College in Henderson, Tenn. and received a bachelors degree from Murray honors, a member of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." He majored in history and minored in political science and speech. He was a member of the varsity debating team.

Mr. Sims received an MA degree from Murray State and has done graduate work at the University of Southern California. He has been a teacher at Murray fro the past four years.

He taught social sciences, speech, and dramatics and coached debate at Ballard Memorial High School '58-'59. He also taught social sciences at Heath High School in McCracken County.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims are members of the Church of Christ and are active in church work.

Active in several recent political campaigns, including Katherine Peden's United States

Senate race and the Henry Ward campaign for governor, he was chairman of the Humphrey for president campaign in Calloway County in 1968, and is a member of the executive committee of the Democratic Party in Calloway County.

The candidate has served two terms as president of the Social Studies Teacher's Organization of the First District Education Association.

He has often spoken to Democratic Clubs in the First Congressional District and has encouraged students to participate constructively in public life.

The Federal Service Entrance Examination will be given on campus March 14 at 8:30 a.m., in Meeting Rooms 3 and 4 of the SUB, according to Miss Martha L. Guier, director of placement.

Applications to take this special exam must be turned in no later than March 6, according to Miss Guier.

Application forms and further details may be obtained in the Placement Office, fourth floor, Administration Bldg.

Dr. Kline to Head Physics Dept.

Dr. James M. Kline has been appointed by the MSU Board of Regents to replace Dr. William G. Keat as chairman of the physics department.

Presently a physics professor, Dr. Kline has been a member of the faculty since 1964. His appointment is effective July 1, when Dr. Read, chairman of the department since 1959, assumes the position of vice-president for academic affairs and dean of the faculties.

Dr. Kline's name was recommended to the Board by Dr. Walter E. Blackburn, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, and concurred by Dr. Read.

A native of Ohio, Dr. Kline earned his BS degree in mechanical engineering and MS in physics at the University of Cincinnati and his PhD at the University of Kentucky.

MURDER SUSPECT. . . . Capt. Thomas K. Willingham, a 1967 graduate from Allenhurst, N.J., has been accused of unpremeditated murder by the Department of the Army. Capt. Willingham was a member of Scabbard and Blade and Sigma Chi fraternity.

New ODK Chapter Installed at Murray

Real leaders are not necessarily those out front, waving flags, making the most noise and drawing the largest crowds, S. Roy Woodall, Louisville attorney, told charter members of the new Murray State circle of Omicron Delta Kappa Sunday night during its installation ceremonies.

"A real leader is one who has the capacity to capture the imagination and dedication of men's minds and actions," Woodall, native of Paducah and past president of the ODK circle at the University of Kentucky, said.

"When we in ODK recognize leadership among men," he went on, "we think about the type of leadership that is experienced on the college campus—experiences in which communion and fellowship between faculty and students is promoted."

Omicron Delta Kappa is a national leadership honor society for men with chapters, better known as "circles," on 115 college campuses. In addition to the new Murray group, only two "circles" are located in Kentucky—at Centre College and UK.

The basic purpose of the organization is to recognize men who have attained a high standard of leadership in collegiate activities and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous achievements along similar lines.

Thomas Mayberry, graduate student in physics, was installed earlier as the first president of the new Murray State circle.

He is a member of Sigma Pi Sigma, national physics honor society, listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," a member of the MSU student government and the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Presiding at the installation ceremonies was Dr. Maurice A. Clay, national administrative secretary of ODK from UK.

He was assisted by Dr. Jess Gardner, faculty secretary with ODK at UK; Dr. Charles Crawford, province deputy, Memphis State University, and Prof. Max Reed of the MSU faculty and an ODK alumnus from the University of Arkansas.

Other officers installed included: Austin Byers, Murray, vice-president; John C. Winter, associate professor of music at Murray State, faculty secretary; Dr. James M. Kline, newly-appointed chairman of the department of physics at the university, faculty advisor, and Bill H. Flynn, Paducah, treasurer.

Nineteen members of the new circle and their guests were present when the organization's charter was presented to Dr. Kline by Dr. Clay, climaxing the installation banquet, which was held in the Murray Woman's Clubhouse.

'Summertree' to Be Spring Production

"Summertree," a play written by Ron Cowen will be presented by the University Theatre March 19, 20, and 21.

To be directed by Mr. Robert E. Johnson, head of the drama department, the play deals with a young boy who goes to fight and to die in Vietnam. "Summertree" also gives a glimpse of the generation gap.

Members of the "Summertree" cast are:

Bobby Dodd, senior, Murray—young man; Ada Sue Hutson, sophomore, Murray—mother; Sam Smith, Murray—boy of 12; Steve Howard, junior, Murray—father; Christy Lowery, sophomore, East Alton, Ill.—girl; and Charles Hall, freshman, Frankfort—soldier.

Admission without the season ticket will be $1.50. The play will be presented in the University Auditorium.

HONOR SOCIETY. . . . Members of the new Murray State circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, a national leadership honor society for men, are shown Feb. 15 immediately following installation of its officers at the University School auditorium. Left to right, they are: Prof. Bob Hendon, agriculture; Bill H. Flynn, Paducah; William Call, Hickman; Sammy Knight, Law School, University of Kentucky; George Rice, Metropolis, Ill.; Max Russell, Murray; Austin Byers, Murray, vice-president; E.L.

Lancaster, Dover, Tenn.; Dr. James M. Kline, chairman of the physics department, faculty advisor; Tom Mayberry, Murray, president; Claude Collier, Lorain, Ohio; Nicholas Terhune, Medical School, Vanderbilt University; Dr. Robert Higgins, associate professor of history; Greg Parrish, Graduate School, Vanderbilt; Joe W. Grant, Graduate School, University of Illinois, and Prof. John C. Winter, music, faculty secretary.

DEADLINE MARCH 1:

NDS Loan Request Due

National Defense Student Loan applications for the summer term of 1970 are due in the student financial aid office no later than March 1, according to Johnny McDougal, coordinator of student financial aid.

Loans are granted on the basis of financial need and academic performance. The amount granted a student, however, depends upon available funds.

Loans are repaid at the rate of 3 per cent interest plus principal on a 10-year repayment schedule. The repayment begins one year after the student graduates.

If the borrower enters the military service, the Peace Corps, or the Vista Program, repayment can be deferred up to three years.

If the student borrower re-enters an institution of higher education the repayments can be deferred as long as the borrower is enrolled taking at least one-half of the normal academic credit load. Interest does not accrue during the deferment status period.

Students entering teaching careers after graduation may have 10 per cent of their loan cancelled for each year of teaching service. As much as 50 per cent of the loan can be cancelled in this way.

The entire loan can be cancelled for borrowers teaching in designated areas, such as a poverty region, or for borrowers teaching the handicapped. The borrower must remain in the designated area for seven years in order for the entire loan to be cancelled. For each year of service in these designated areas, the borrower receives a 15 per cent cancellation from the total borrowed.

FRANKLY SPEAKING by Phil Frank

Council Represents Students By Urging Tate's Resignation

The Student Council has recently been attacked by heavy criticism following a unanimous resolution passed by the Council urging the resignation of Miss Lillian Tate, dean of women.

The view of many newspapers, radio, and TV have indicated that the step by the Council was outside their authority and a forward move for undeserved power. This might be true if the Council had demanded Dean Tate's resignation, however, they only urged that she resign. Perhaps this was a drastic move uncharacteristic of the student representatives. Yet, if this was the sentiment of the student body, then it was the Council's responsibility to speak out.

The Murray State News does not feel that the Student Council was attempting to exert undesignated power, but rather they were attempting to express the view of the student body concerning an issue of major importance.

The only weakness of their action was the timing. The action came at a time when criticism could be used without adequate defense. It was perhaps poor planning to make such a resolution when the Council was to recess for semester break, leaving themselves and the University open to attacks by various media.

We feel that the situation is a serious one and should not be taken lightly by anyone involved. First, any further action by the Council should be weighed heavily. Second, University officials should analyze the situation and the reasons that prompted the resolution. Third, it is the responsibility of the student body to take some stand on the matter. Members of the Council have put themselves in a position of criticism in order to speak for the students. Therefore, those that support the Student Government resolution must back this organization.

Regents Asked to Reconsider Compulsory ROTC Resolution

Freedom of choice is one of man's basic desires, yet the Board of Regents has squelched this desire for many male students on campus with the adoption of a resolution calling for one year of compulsory ROTC training. This resolution was made to replace the current requirement of two years' compulsory ROTC and of one year of compulsory physical education.

At least some progress was made in relieving part of the ROTC load for those men who do not wish to partake in the program. However, the Board of Regents certainly committed some blunders in reaching this decision.

The Murray State News agrees with the American Association of University Professors' report recently sent to the Board of Regents and President Sparks stating that the Regents failed to consider the matter fully.

First of all, the resolution ignored the large number of students and faculty who supported a program of voluntary ROTC. The Board of Regents even ignored the recommendation of voluntary ROTC as proposed by the special eight-member faculty committee appointed by President Sparks.

Secondly, the department of health, physical education and recreation was not consulted prior to the decision to discontinue compulsory physical education. It seems ridiculous that a university which places so much emphasis on its athletics should deprive this department the chance to experience young men in athletic competition. Physical education is more a part of a university education than is the ROTC program which prepares young men to be officers in the US Army.

Thirdly, President Sparks showed little consideration for the special committee that he himself appointed. In selecting a committee, President Sparks had the responsibility of either supporting the committee or publicly providing good reasons why he decided not to support its recommendations. Yet he failed to do either.

The Murray State News hopes that the Board of Regents will reconsider the resolution in its entirety—both the one year compulsory ROTC program and the abolishment of compulsory physical education. The failure to act upon the resolution will only widen the gap between the dissatisfied segment of the University community and the administration.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Editor:

While working to effectively represent the students, the Student Government has encountered many situations. In the day when the University is under attack, the students hastily accuse the University of indifference and unconcern. I feel that the University student has failed to use the avenues open to him in his quest. The students have not used the Student Government and especially the Judicial Board in the confrontations that arise with the University. The Judicial Board is recognized as being created by the administration for the purpose of allowing students to reasonably and logically, in an atmosphere of open-mindedness, settle allegations made by both sides.

The University created the Judicial Board to have a major task—to reply a reply to the question of right, privileges and allocations.

The success or failure of the Judicial Board depends upon the responsible judgement of the members, the trust and authority granted by the University administration and the complete utilization of the Board by the students.

The first requirement is fulfilled, the Judicial Board is composed of intelligent, reasonable and open-minded students and advisors, the second requirement if fulfilled or else the Board would not have the respect it now enjoys by the administration. However, the persons for which the board was created have failed to utilize it. Each member as a student has situations where the Board would serve a necessary function. But the Board does not "witchhunt"! The students have no one to accuse but themselves for its relative inactivity. Aside from administrative meetings on procedure, etc. the Board has functioned as an advisory body only on two occasions.

Students would realize the effectiveness of the Board by reading the booklet provided during registration. A little investigation will give insight into the priorities and powers of the Board. This booklet was printed with the intent of alleviating many of the misconceptions of the board plus giving the student an application for a hearing.

Again let me reiterate, proper student channels are open and have a definite voice with the University, if they will be used. The Student Council, Class Assembly, and Judicial Board were created and function to serve the student of Murray State University.

Thank you,

Stephen Douglass, Chairman
MSU Judicial Board

Ky. Senate Bill Shows Confidence in Students

A vote of confidence for both student and faculty involvement in university affairs has been given in a bill presented in the Kentucky General Assembly by Senator Carroll Hubbard and Senator Clyde Middleton.

Senate Bill 75 which was introduced would provide voting privileges to both faculty and student members of the Board of Regents of both state colleges and universities.

In 1968 the General Assembly moved forward to allow student members to be non-voting members of the Board of Regents. This was the first step in allowing students to become involved and have a voice in the university. The recent bill is even more forward in its aim. Many times it takes those actively involved in a situation to understand it thoroughly, and often it takes voting power in order to be heard.

We feel that Sen. Hubbard, who also supported the proposed football stadium, and Sen. Middleton have shown confidence not only in us but in college and university students throughout the state.

Dear Editor:

The American Red Cross is asking citizens to write the President of North Vietnam urging humane treatment of the U.S. Servicemen North Vietnam hold captive. If you have not already done so, do it now. We know that they hold 413 as prisoners, and 918 others are missing and believed captured. Each of us, as private citizens, should write his own letter. It is believed that an outpouring of mail may impress upon the North Vietnamese government the concern shared by all our people for the welfare of these men and their families. These letters should plead for Hanoi to abide by their obligations under the Geneva Convention to (1) release the names of the captives, (2) permit the International Committee of the Red Cross to inspect the prison camps to insure proper medical treatment, food and living conditions, and (3) allow prisoners to write their families and to receive mail from them. Write Hanoi today. The address is: Office of the President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam. (Air mail postage is 25 cents) This is something we can do to help.

Thank you,

Jean Blankenship
Chapter Executive

News From Your Student Government

By JAN HAMMOND

As the new chairman of the Student Affairs Committee, I asked and was granted permission to write a newspaper column to let the students know what's happening in the Student Government these days. I don't think many of the students are aware of the accomplishments the Student Organization has made this year. For instance, as a result of the hard efforts of Steve Larson, past Student Affairs chairman, in conjunction with the Women's Student Government Association, President Sparks consented to change girls dorm hours from 11 and 1 on weeknights and Friday and Saturday respectively, to 12 and 2. The girl's sign-out system was also simplified.

It will be the purpose of this column to record the major actions of the council and to answer students' questions in order to keep them informed. But it is up to the students to supply the questions: therefore I am restoring the use of the squawk boxes which are located in the cafeterias and the library and will begin second semester to give $5 to the person supplying the best "squawk" for that month.

A few of the things which the Student Government undertook last semester were the First Edition concert, the Miss Murray State Pageant, an appearance by Dr. Benjamin Spock, free dances, entertainment at the games, a social calendar, and various other annual things. Highlights to look for in the coming semester are a concert by the 5th Dimension, the Insight '70 lecture series, movies on Friday or Saturday nights, teacher-course evaluation, and a Student Government which will be working even harder than ever to better the students and its own current standing.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Editor:

Well, it's almost INSIGHT time again. As I have no aspiration at becoming an INSIGHT speaker, I would like to express my views as a human being. I try to make my living as a servant to the public. I have working with me both black and white students, and I see no difference in them.

I didn't say they were working for me because we all work together as fellow human beings. We judge each other by the work we produce and dignity each other by the character we maintain. I often wonder if we were all born blind, who would be our best friend.

As for last year's INSIGHT series, I believe in man's right to express his opinion, and I retain the right to express mine. So many times I have apologized to myself and to my wife for allowing ourselves to dignify a man like Dick Gregory by remaining through his entire speech.

A man who publicly state that he would remain without defense when it would be certain death to his wife and seven little children-- I cannot expect very much from a man of this nature. A man who will not protect his family can't be expected to protect his country or the people he proposes to liberate.

He publicly ridiculed education because in my opinion, and from word I have received from SIU, he just couldn't make the grade. I agree that he could run because he has run all over the country beating his gums.

Gregory said, that when he went to bed with his wife she didn't ask for his degree or something to that affect. Let me tell you as a hard-working citizen, that degree helps to buy a better bed.

I agree that Gregory was a comedian. He should be the laughing stock to every citizen, both black and white, who has the education and a vocabulary of adjectives that are not limited to vulgarity and profanity.

Another thing, I was sorry that Pearl Buck was committed before her Murray engagement. I wonder what she had to gripe about.

Sincerely yours,
A servant of the faculty, staff, and students of the best university in America. And a man that is thankful to God for better health to do a better job.

Murray State University

BEAUTY IS HIDING:

Pollution Covers Campus

By R. P. WESTPHELING

Campus beauty is something we all enjoy, but seldom ever see anymore. Building construction continues like spreading wildfire. The struggle to provide education-seeking students with the most modern of physical plants has brought one problem, quite unexpected in the early part of this century. . . pollution, and lots of it.

Greasy, grimy dispersion of little particles into the air, which dirty everything around. Once white buildings are turned into a gray mass of concrete blocks; clean cars are dirties from hood to bumper, and people, whose seemingly limitless capacity for enduring natural dangers, wind up with a covering of the soot.

Last week, at a meeting in Frankfort with division officials of the finance and engineering department, the possibility of building a new heating plant altogether, the primary source of pollution on Murray State's campus, was discussed.

Ted Bradshaw, director of development at MSU said of the results of that meeting, "It appears now that now most urgent need is a new heating plant. We'll probably start planning on a new one in three to four months."

The totally new structure, with parking facilities on top and a utility tunnel for the dispersion of heat, would cost about five million dollars, Bradshaw estimated. However, since the new plant could possibly be built in little over a year, the project has been divided into three phases.

The first phase, to start in about 14 to 16 months, would cost some two million dollars. The new building housing the heating equipment would be built, and only one boiler would be installed. Bradshaw described this step as putting the bare necessities in, at that time, to change over from heating plants.

The second stage would start about a year later than that. During this construction, another boiler, and an additional tunnel would be built. The tunnel would be connected to the existing pipes now present, and use them to disperse the heat.

The final phase of construction would begin sometime in 1973, it is estimated. In that year, demolition of the plant would take place, and the present tunnels would be abandoned, since brand new pipes would be laid. During this phase, it is hoped, the dormitories on campus could be served, as well as any new educational complexes.

Orrin Bickel, director of the physical plant who came from Troy State University in Troy, Ala. in August '69, says that the existing heating plant is in "pretty good" shape and could last up to ten more years. . . if it is needed that long.

Mr. Bickel pointed out that once the new heat plant is constructed, the old one, would, in effect, be put out of commission.

"What we want to do is scrap the old system," said Mr. Bickel. The old heating plant, with its smoke billowing and it's sooty deposits annoying everyone, is some eight years old.

As to whether the new gas fed system will be more economical than the old, Mr. Bickel only commented, "I doubt that it (the new plant) would amortize itself over the present coal system."

The present heating plant used some 1,000 tons of coal during the month of January and some 800 tons in December.

OF NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK:

Hinds Selected State Director

Charles F. Hinds, director of libraries at MSU, has been named executive director of National Library Week in Kentucky April 12-18.

Appointed by Dr. William Dix, librarian of Princeton University and president of the American Library Association, Mr. Hinds said the theme of the week in Kentucky will be "Reading for Everybody." He expressed the hope that every library in the state will have a display built around the slogan during that week.

Mr. Hinds, who joined the Murray State staff in 1967, served from 1960 to 1967 as state archivist of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and from 1956 to 1959 as state historian. He has also served on the library staff of the University of Kentucky and taught at Male High School in Louisville.

He has appointed University of Kentucky archivist, Charles L. Atcher, to be the national chairman in Kentucky. Atcher will organize the week and handle the publicity for the event.

Malcomb X Mock Funeral To Be Held by STEAM

A mock funeral commemorating the assassination of Malcomb X will be conducted by STEAM tomorrow at 1 p.m.

To be held in the upstairs section of the United Campus Ministry, the mock funeral will include some tapes of speeches by Malcomb X, a eulogy of his life, and music.

Elliot Jordan, vice-president of STEAM from Versailles, says the funeral is being staged to commemorate Malcomb X's death.

Jordan says, "A lot of people felt that Malcomb X was adverse to everything white, but shortly before his death, people came to realize that he was a person working very hard for the liberty of all people. He was a dramatic individual. Several of his philosophies are being activated now."

Contact lenses are made of modern plastics which have entirely different characteristics than the tissues and fluids of the eye. Consequently your eye cannot handle this foreign object without help.

So, in order to correct for Mother Nature's lack of foresight, you have to use lens solutions to make your contacts and your eyes compatible.

There was a time when you needed two or more separate solutions to properly modify and care for your contacts, making them ready for your eyes. But now there's Lensine from the makers of Murine. Lensine, for contact comfort and convenience.

Lensine is the one solution for complete contact lens care. Just a drop or two of Lensine coats and lubricates your lens. This allows the lens to float more freely in the natural fluids of your eye. Why? Because Lensine is an "isotonic" solution, very much like your own tears. Lensine is compatible with the eye.

Cleaning your contacts with Lensine retards the build-up of foreign deposits on the lenses.

And soaking your contacts in Lensine between wearing periods assures you of proper lens hygiene. You get a free soaking-storage case with individual lens compartments on the bottom of every bottle of Lensine.

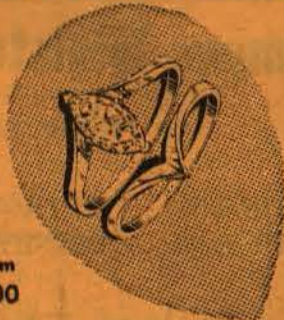

It has been demonstrated that improper storage between wearings permits the growth of bacteria on the lenses. This is a sure cause of eye irritation and, in some cases, can endanger your vision. Bacteria cannot grow in Lensine because it's sterile, self-sanitizing, and antiseptic.

Let caring for your contacts be as convenient as wearing them. Get some Lensine... Mother's little helper.

Mother Nature never planned on contact lenses

Series of Religious Studies To Begin Sunday at UCM

A series of religious studies will begin next week at the UCM. On Sunday Methodist campus minister Rev. Fred Morton will conduct a study of the Book of Revelations, "The Bible-Myth or Truth." This series study will run for the next four Sundays.

Rev. Stephen Mazak, Lutheran minister, will conduct a twelve-week study, "Modern Philosophy and Christian Faith." It will begin at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

UCM Nowhere Coffeehouse hours this semester are 12-5 p.m.

Fourteen Awarded Alumni Association Scholarship Checks

Fourteen freshmen students were awarded final payments of their MSU Alumni Association scholarships totaling $7,000 in a special awards meeting Wednesday.

Checks were presented to each 1969-70 scholarship recipient for the second half of the $500 scholarship total by Barkley Jones of Mayfield, association president, and Mancil Vinson, director of alumni affairs and association secretary.

Scholarship winners for the current school year are:

Mary Ann Smith, Mayfield; Mary Olene Vandiver, Sturgis; Kathy Jo Vantrese, Reidland; Kathy Nelle McNeely, Marion; Elizabeth Karen Sires, Hardin; Ernest Wayne Williams and Ralph Athen Tesseneer, Murray; Harriette Adams Smith, Owensboro; Timothy Wayne Morgan, Hazel; Debra Lynn Curlin, Clinton; Barbara Ann Ezzell, West Paducah; David Alan Franklin, Louisville; Thomas Edward Wilson, Hickory; and Randall Wayne Heath, Symsonia.

Alumni association scholarships are financed by the Century Club, which consists of businesses, organizations and individuals contributing $100 or more to the association. The Century Club drive, held annually during the spring semester, is now in progress.

The Century Club also sponsors the $500 distinguished professor awards presented at the annual alumni banquet each spring.

In making the presentations, Jones, who is principal of Mayfield High School, said the alumni association scholarship program is designed to attract outstanding students to the University and to provide industry and business in West Kentucky with talented graduates.

Student candidates for scholarships are recommended by high school counselors and principals on the bases of scholarship and leadership.

weekdays and 8 p.m. until 12 a.m. Saturdays.

A writer's workshop will be sponsored by the UCM every Wednesday night at 7 p.m. Those attending will contribute and critique papers.

The UCM will continue to hold its Wednesday luncheons at 12:30 p.m. For the next six weeks Dean Donald Hunter, dean of the school of education, will speak on the purpose of the university.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Foreign students who need counseling to help in their adjustment to college life at MSU are invited to attend tutoring classes under the direction of Rev. Lloyd Cornell, Baptist campus minister.

The classes will cover such fields as English composition, American idioms, American traditions and customs, and basic do's and don'ts at Murray State.

These classes will also aid foreign men and women in building proper relationships with Americans of the opposite sex.

Anyone interested in attending a class should contact Mr. Cornell at the Baptist Student Union to arrange a schedule.

MR. HARRY S. SMITH

Harry Smith to Talk On 'What is Success'

Harry S. Smith, C.B.S., of Atlanta, Ga., will speak on "What Is Success?" at the United Campus Ministry Sunday at 3 p.m.

He will appear under the sponsorship of the Christian Science organization on campus.

Mr. Smith is an authorized teacher of the Christian Science religion, and a member of the Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

NORTH TEXAS CHOIR. . . . The nationally known 20-member North Texas a cappella choir will be at Murray State for a concert March 6. To begin at 8 p.m. in the University Auditorium, the concert is being sponsored by the music department, according to Mr. Carl Rogers, music professor. Tickets, which are $1 for both students and adults, will go on sale March 3 in the lobby of the SUB. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Annual Bald-Eagle Census To Be Taken Tomorrow

The annual one-day Bald Eagle count in the Land Between the Lakes will be held tomorrow, Dr. Clell T. Peterson, professor of English, announced today.

For the tenth year observers in conjunction with the Mississippi Valley Midwinter Bald Eagle Study will conduct a census of the bald and golden eagles that winter in this area.

"This large cooperative program gives us the best index we have to the bald eagle population of the continental United States," Dr. Peterson stated.

In 1969, observers reported a total of 806 bald eagles in the area of the study. Bald eagles are found in winter in the greatest numbers along the shores of Kentucky and Barkely Lake along with many parts of Kentucky.

Coed Requests Granted; Dorm Hours Extended

New dormitory hours for women have been put into effect following petitioning by the WSGA.

Suggestions that the extension was calculated to appease student groups advocating a complete end to dormitory hours were denied by Miss Lillian Tate, dean of women.

"It was a matter of what we could cope with financially. The girls requested longer hours. This requires hiring reliable people and tightening security. Money is always a factor. I don't think it was appeasement," she said.

The 11 p.m. permission from Sunday through Thursday has been extended to 12 p.m. The 1 a.m. permission on Friday and Saturday has been extended to 2 a.m.

Women students will no longer be required to indicate their destination when signing out.

Chris Doughty Named Intern With the Louisville Times

Red Cross Offers Baby Care Course For Husband, Wife

The Red Cross Mother and Baby Care course for expectant parents will be offered by the nursing department. Faculty members will conduct the course, and classes will begin March 3 in Rm. 206 Nursing Bldg. at MSU.

Topics to be discussed will include preparation for hospitalization, childbirth, and infant care.

The course is open to both husband and wife, and there is no charge for the course which covers 12 hours and will meet two hours per night for six weeks.

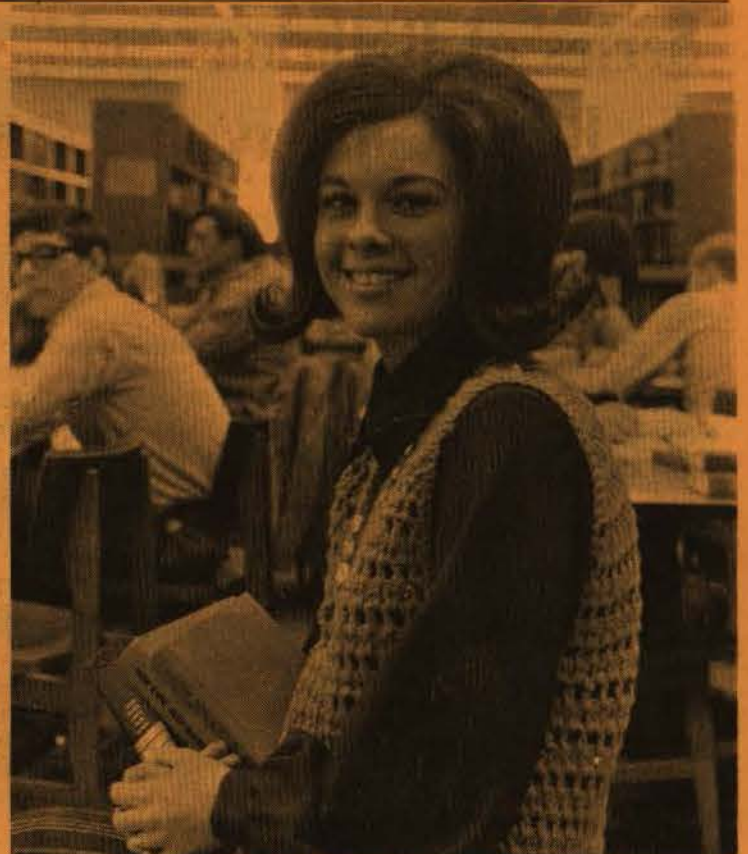

Persons interested in enrolling in the course should contact the department of nursing, MSU, at 762-2193. The total number to be admitted to the class will be limited.

MSU Faculty Five To Present Concert

MSU's Faculty Brass Quintet will present an open concert Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Recital Hall.

The group performed last semester at Western State University and has several appearances scheduled at MSU for later in the spring.

The quintet includes R.W. Farrell, music department chairman, trumpet; Patrick McGuffy, instructor and first trumpet in the Nashville Symphony; Edward Welte, assistant band director at Murray High School, tuba; David Elliot, french horn; and Wayne Sheley, trombone.

K-MATE VALENTINE. . . . Murray State freshman Debbie Edmonds, a biology major with a minor in chemistry from Murray, has been selected K-Mate for February by Circle K Club. Miss Edmonds is seen in the University's science library, where she works as a student librarian.

Edman Receives Recognition At Piedmont Craft Exhibit

Larry E. Edman, a member of the art faculty, has become the only Kentuckian to win special recognition in the Mint Museum of Art's seventh annual Piedmont Craft Exhibition at Charlotte, N. C.

The two textile pieces entered by Mr. Edman in the Charlotte exhibit are three-dimensional masks made of natural colored linens and wool.

These pieces were selected along with the works of 13 other artists by Donald Wyckoff, executive vice-president of the American Crafts Council, to be put on exhibit in the museum from Jan. 18 through Sunday.

A native of Hutchinson, Neb., Mr. Edman has been teaching textiles, weaving, and basic design at MSU since last September.

'Family' Discussions Held at Lexington

Dr. Alice Koeneche and Mrs. Ann Thompson of the home economics department attended the 18th annual meeting of the Southeastern Council on Family Relations this week in Lexington.

The theme of the Feb. 15-17 conference was, "The Generation Gap--Bridge It or Broaden It?" The conference consisted of discussion groups and workshops in five general sessions taking place in the Phoenix Hotel.

Among the topics discussed were: parent-adolescent communication, sex education, improving family life and state plans for the 1970 White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Pershing Drill Team At Invitational Meet In Purdue Armory

The Pershing Rifle drill team will compete tomorrow in Purdue University's 19th annual invitational drill meet.

Competing in the exhibition and infantry classifications, the MSU team will be vying against 32 other visiting teams, which represent 21 schools in six states.

The drills will run continuously from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the Purdue Armory. Throughout the day exhibition drilling, emphasizing a variety of marching formations and patterns, will be intermixed with infantry drills and coed exhibitions.

Nursing Aid Applications Due April 1 - Mc Dougal

Applications for nursing loans and nursing scholarships are due in the student financial aid office no later than April 1.

Students applying must be enrolled or accepted for enrollment in the University's school of nursing on a full time basis, according to Johnny McDougal, financial aid coordinator.

Loans and scholarships are awarded on the basis of financial need, academic performance, and availability of funds.

Additional information is available at the student financial aid office on the third floor of the Administration Bldg.

Gamma Beta Phi Sponsoring Annual Red Carnation Sale

Members of Gamma Beta Phi are sponsoring their fourth annual red carnation sale for the Murray-Western game Feb. 28.

The sale, which began Wednesday and will continue until Friday, Feb. 27, is being held in the SUB from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Corsages are $1.00, and boutonnieres are fifty cents.

Pick-up time for the carnations will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 28, in the SUB lobby.

The sale theme, which is "Make Western See Red," evolved from Western's former coach, the late Ed Diddle, who became famous for his court-side contortions with a red towel when his team was doing badly.

Campus Lights 1970

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Charles Daughaday, associate professor of English was asked by the News to review the 33rd annual production of "Campus Lights."

By DR. CHARLES DAUGHADAY

The winter weather of February gives a dreary and wet countenance to the Murray State University campus, but the 33rd annual musical production of "Campus Lights" on Feb. 12, 13, and 14, offered a pleasant and warm face to winter's bleakness.

Within the traditional opening and closing, Murray students had obviously labored long to present a pleasant evening of entertainment.

The performance began a little slowly but quickly gained momentum. The dancers noticeably improved after their opening scene.

The plot of this year's "Campus Lights" production centered around the trials and tribulations of a young director (Dick Stevens) who agrees to use a self-exiled former star (Charles Tichenor) in order, hopefully, to insure his show's success.

Accomplishment of the former star's return is by virtue of the friendship between the director's stage manager, Abe (James Van Lear), and the former star, now turned hippie. The former star agrees to join the show and the trouble really begins.

He steals the director's girl (Treva Everly) who is also the choreographer of the show, winning her with a most inflated rhetoric. Once sure of this conquest, the actor-hippie sets after other attractive members of the show.

But as in all good comedies, vice must be unmasked; and so in the end, the actor-hippie has his planned "coup" of the show foiled by an old acquaintance of his mother, a Mrs. Schultz (Kathy Berry), who leads him off by his abundant hair with the intent of reforming him—that is, giving him a bath and a haircut.

The basic idea of the plot, while not very unique, is basically sound and the dialogue has its moments with some fun puns like the reference to the inn "south of here."

But there are some weak spots, too. The motivation and characterization of the actor-turned-hippie, one Macon Dreyer, was often confusing. Granted such a character might quit while on top out of fear of future failure, but such an egotist as he is represented as being could hardly survive without women and money for five years just to "do his own thing."

Moreover, the point of view is often blurred. The equating of selfishness, rebellion, and long hair led one often to suspect irony, but the audience applauded soundly when the actor-hippie was reduced to the state of "normalacy."

This ending was not very convincing since the threat of the take-over of the production he seemed to pose was reduced by a mere recognition.

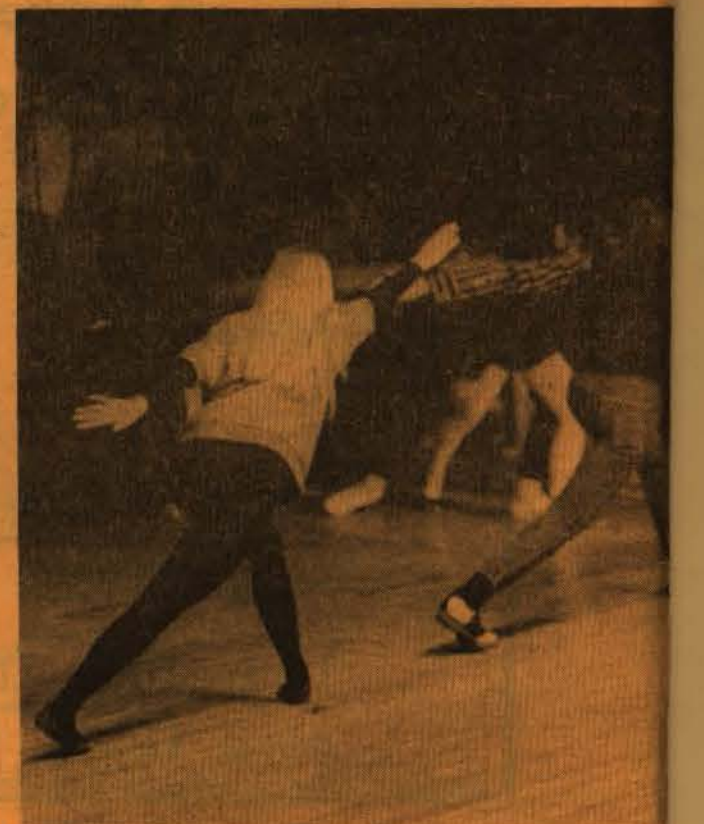

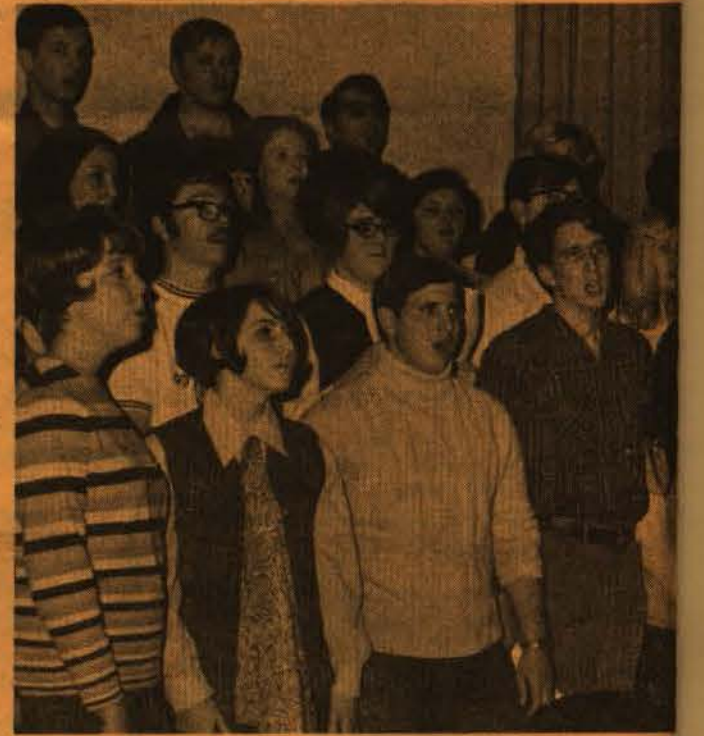

In short, comedy, which always demands a vice, villain, or fool of some kind, often in this instance seemed to lack one.

Several of the performances blended well the acting and the musical roles. Especially noteworthy were the performances of Kathy Berry (Mrs. Schultz) and Treva Everly (the choreographer).

Several of the scenes tended to dominate also, like, "The Great Come and Get It Day" (Act I, Scene III); and "I've Gotta Be Me" (Act II, Scene I); and "She's the Greatest Star" (Act II, Scene II).

Regarding some of the technical aspects of the performance the sound, setting, and lighting were very good, though there was an occasional jittery spotlight. Sometimes too one could detect a drag in the movement of the production caused by the time element between several of the scenes. These breaks, of course, were necessary for the movement of properties but tended to interfere with dramatic interest.

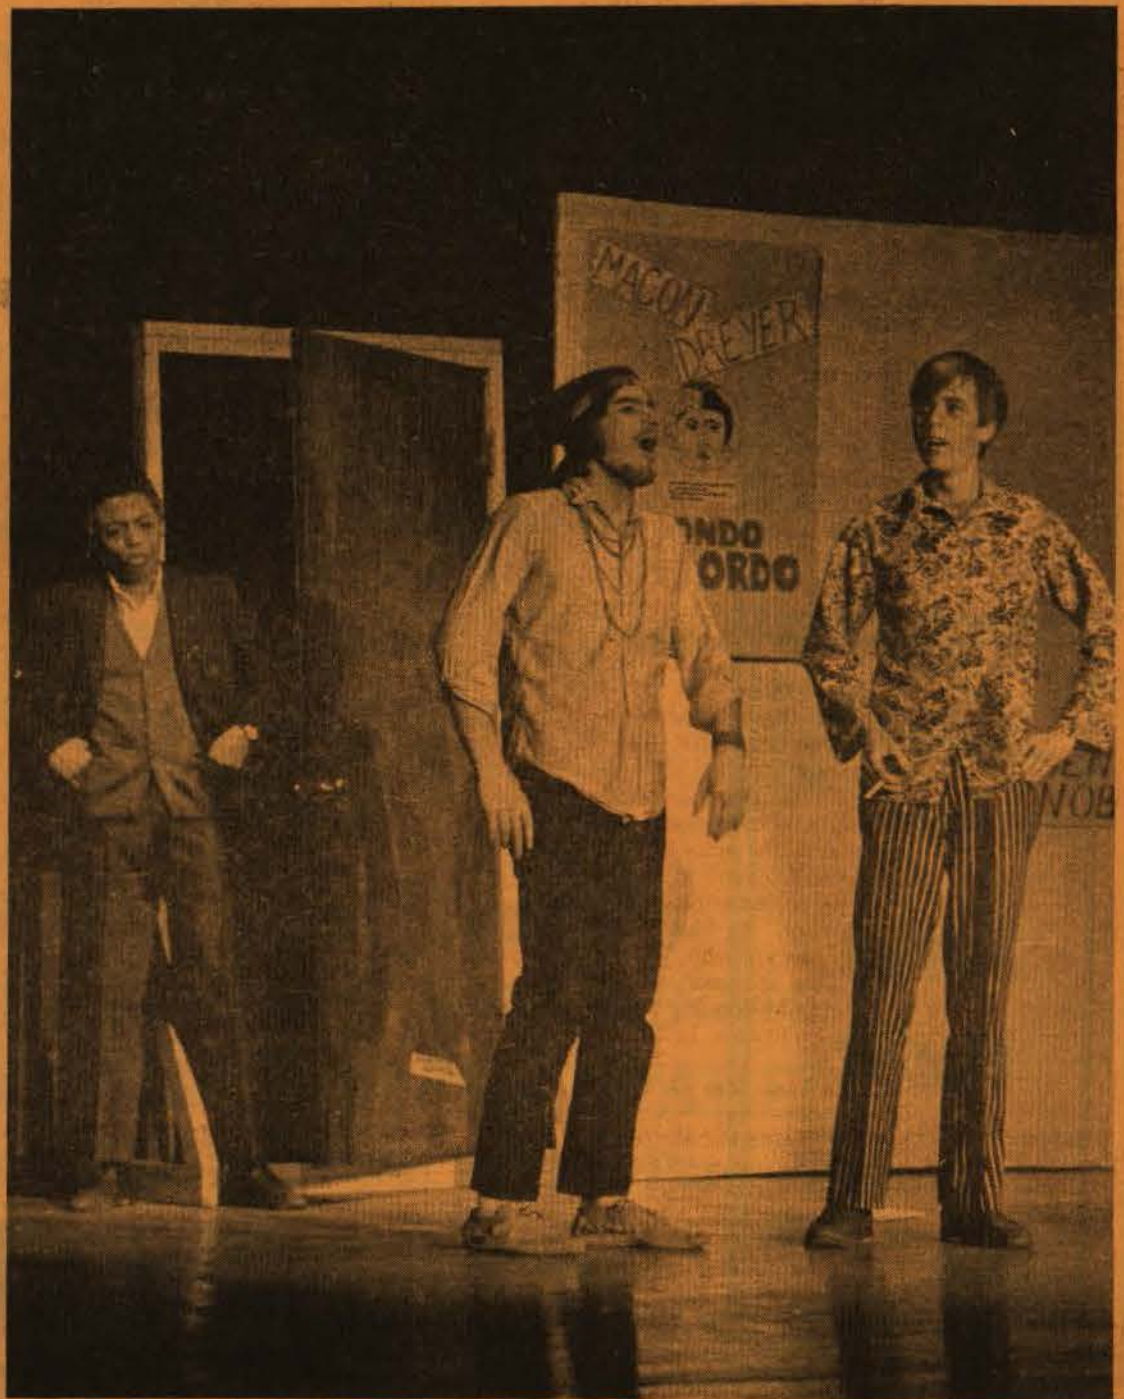

The interweaving of the songs and dances with the dialogue (not an easy task) was handled very well, and the overall musical quality of the show combined to make "Campus Lights" of 1970 a worthwhile and memorable production.

The conductor of the Murray State University orchestra is seen here leading his students during a rehearsal.

Meal Ticket Sales Drop By Nearly 800 in Feb.

Meal tickets sales have dropped from 1,862 last semester to 1,079 this semester.

According to Mr. James Rogers, director of Auxillary Enterprises the reason for this near 800 ticket decrease is that, "Students don't want to make a full commitment for the semester."

"But," he continued, "I think they will patronize the cafeteria on a daily cash basis." He remarked that this should add considerably to the total amount of cash brought in by the cafeteria.

Beware of HolyMatrimony; Perhaps It Is Sheer Insanity

By MARY WINDERS

Want to kiss your freedom good-bye? Easy enough; in fact, it is very simple. All you have to do is get married.

Although this masterpiece is directed mainly to you girls, men, pay attention. The institution of holy matrimony and sheer insanity can work both ways.

If you happen to be a normal red-blooded American girl, you have more than likely been reared to believe that you have two primary functions in life to perform: (1) to get married; and, (2) to die- whichever one happens to come first.

Most girls on any university campus are not attending classes to get an education. If a girl is truthful, she will admit that she is here to catch a man-or any other reasonable fascimile. There is one sad drawback for the poor girl who manages to find her mate. The average girl usually ends up marrying a boy and then has to raise him.

A word to the wise, my female firends-get a pet. They cost much less, and do not require as much care and attention; furthermore, they can be trusted. As a wise man once said, (bless his soul) "If women believe in their husbands, they would be a good deal happier and a good deal more foolish."

Another wise man stated, (perhaps he was the same one?) "A bachelor is one who wants a wife, but is glad he hasn't got her."

Whether or not he decided this fact from experience is unknown. Men, believe him-you don't have to hit yourself over the head with a hammer to find out if it hurts.

Read the BIBLE. God created Adam. And until Eve was created, sin was non-existent. Eve ate the apple, and Adam got the core.

If all thirst for a successful marriage has not been quenched by now, dear reader, then you are a lost cause. Either you didn't pay attention or you are really in love.

When the Rain Comes.....

By CHRIS DOUGHTY

When those raindrops are falling on you head, select one of spring's new raincoats for its style and practicality. The era of bland, utilitarian rainwear is gone. Versatile styles enable raincoats to double as both casual and date wear even when the sun is shining.

READY FOR RAIN. . . . (Above) Linda Redmond, a junior elementary education and English major from Elizabethtown, is prepared for spring showers in a red shirtwaist raincoat. A new spring style, this coat can be worn with both the miniest of skirts and slacks. (Right) Linda sports a navy and white vinyl trimmed coat appropriate for classes as well as dates.

PILLAR OF STRENGTH . . . This year's maxi-coat serves many purposes and Hettie Rahm, a freshman biology major from Marble Hill, Mo., has chosen it to protect her from spring's unpredictable weather. After a study date in the library, Hettie heads for the dorm in this orange double-breasted style.

Survey Questions Schools

This is the ninth article in a series of reports taken from a University-wide survey of student values conducted here during the spring semester of last year. Dr. J. Noland Harvey, director of special programs, school of education, conducted the local survey. The inventory used in the survey was The Polyphasic Values Inventory (Copyright 1965, John T. Roscoe, used by permission).

The ninth article of the 20 reports in the survey is printed here. The question asked of the 303 respondents to the inventory was:

"Which of the following could be expected to bring

Rev. Burchell to Go To U of L Church

The Rev. Robert Burchell, vicar of St. John's Episcopal Church and campus minister here for the last five years, has accepted a call to be campus minister at the University of Louisville. Mr. Burchell will be a member of the staff of the United Campus Ministry there, and he will assume his new responsibilities early in March.

Mr. Burchell came to Murray in June 1965 to be in charge of St. John's and the Episcopal ministry at Murray State. Since then he has also been at times responsible for the Episcopal congregations in Mayfield, Fulton and Hickman.

While at Murray State, Mr. Burchell has been serving mainly through the United Campus Ministry, and its programs and people. There have also been special ministries offered to the Student Organization, the T-Room, and in some classes. Mr. Burchell was for one year president of the Campus Chaplains Association.

Mr. Burchell has twice been elected Dean of the Episcopal Priests west of Elizabethtown. He has also been elected by the Diocesan convention to the Executive Council of the Diocese, and as delegate to the national conventions of the Episcopal Church in South Bend, Ind. and Houston, Tex.

about the greatest improvement in the nation's schools?"

The answers from which the respondents could choose were:

1. A return to the teaching of fundamentals is the most wholesome thing that could happen; mastery of the three R's will solve most educational problems.

2. Our schools need a greater emphasis on the subject matter disciplines—language, math, and science; social studies should emphasize our heritage of freedom and opportunity.

3. The subject matter content is generally adequate; there is a need for greater emphasis on practical applications of the principles learned.

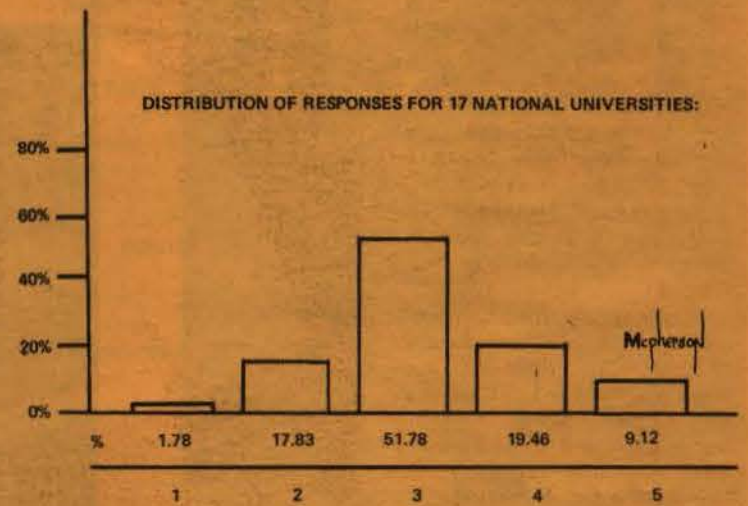

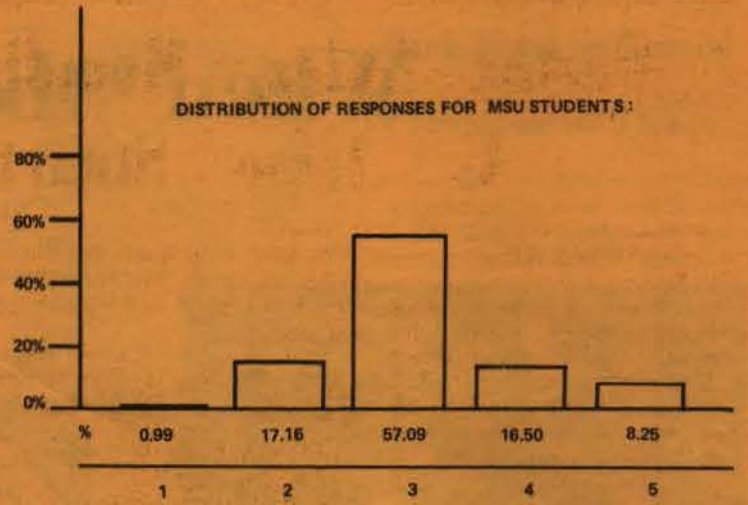

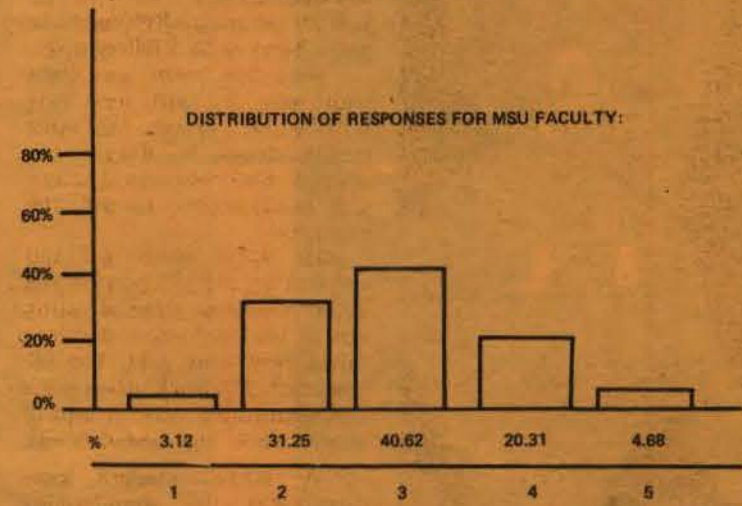

4. The greatest need is for emphasis on the personal and social adjustment of each child.

5. Greater emphasis should be given to studies organized around pressing social problems; the school should initiate and direct social change.

The graphic depiction of the distribution of the responses to the inventory is shown in the graphs on this page.

One graph is for MSU students only, another is for the responses from the students in 17 national universities, and the other is for the responses from MSU faculty members.

Another item in the overall survey will be presented in the News next week.

Martha Guier Moonlights As Jesse Stuart's Editor

By VIVIAN MINKS

On Oct. 8, 1954 Mr. Jesse Stuart, noted author and lecturer, suffered a heart attack while on the campus at Murray. Mr. Stuart was lecturing to the teachers in an associational educational meeting.

It was only a short time later that Miss Martha Guier, director of Placement, began editing Mr. Stuart's manuscripts for publication.

After suffering the attack, Mr. Stuart lay close to death in the Murray hospital for several months. Soon he began to improve and was permitted to dictate parts of the journal to his wife. It was at this time that Miss Guier's services were needed.

At the time Miss Guier was employed by Mr. M.O. Wrather as his secretary. When Mr. Stuart expressed his need for someone to type, Mr. Wrather immediately asked Miss Guier if she would prepare his manuscripts for publication.

After Mr. Stuart was able to return home he continued to write and send the material on to Miss Guier.

When Miss Guier receives a manuscript in rough form she corrects it to the proper form. Miss Guier said, "Many times I have to replace or reconstruct sentences and paragraphs in the copy." Miss Guier is able to perform this because of knowing the exact style of Mr. Stuart's writing.

After the manuscript is in the proper form, typed, and the final editing is made by Miss Guier, she sends the manuscript back to Mr. Stuart and it goes on for publication.

Mr. Stuart has written over

3,000 works, which include poems, books and stories, Miss Guier having edited a great deal of these in her 16 years of service to Mr. Stuart.

EDITING MATERIAL. . . Miss Martha Guier, director of Placement and author Jesse Stuart review one of Mr. Stuart's works. As a result of an illness, Mr. Stuart has been obligated to have Miss Guier edit his original manuscripts and make it ready for publication. In her 16 years of service to the author, Miss Guier has edited much of Mr. Stuart's 3,000 works.

Boots, Velvet Pants- 'Daddy' Was a Hippie

By CELIA WALL

NOTE: The situation presented in this article is purely fictional. The description of the man and of the clothing is a combination of fiction and fact.

The door swung back gently on its hinges.

A man stood in the doorway, silently surveying the partying crowd within.

As he stepped into the room, the man was seemingly unaware of the stir which he was causing. First one person, then another, became aware of the new arrival and swiftly turned to point him out to a fellow guest.

Soon the room was quiet with only the soft love song drifting in through the open garden doors to disturb the stillness. Everyone turned in awe and astonishment toward the new guest.

He stood about 6-2 and weighed around 175 pounds. His broad shoulders strained gently against the confines of the black tailed coat and gold, brocade waistcoat. His black velvet pants legs disappeared into the tops of shiny, black high-heeled boots.

A large, straight nose dominated the stern-looking face. His mouth was large and firmly set.

Contrasting with the colorless pale skin was the stock of dark brown hair which was pulled into a queue or pigtail at the back of his neck. There it lay gently on the white collar of his shirt which in the front and at the sleeves ends burst forth into layers of ruffles.

The crowd remained silent and watchful. Then a man entering from the garden caught sight of the new arrival and broke the silence, "Mr. Washington. I'm so glad you could come."

The man was George Washington—commander-in-chief of the Continental Army that won American independence, president of the convention that wrote the US Constitution, and the first president of the United States.

The people were staring at the man because of who he was—not because of the long hair, the high-heeled boots, the velvet pants, or the ruffled shirt.

As we celebrate Washington's 238th birthday Sunday, it might be well to stop a moment and think:

A man is a man because of what he is inside, not because of the clothes he chooses to wear.

Murray State Debate Team Competed in 2 Tournaments

The MSU Debate Team has participated in two tournaments since the beginning of the new semester according to Dr. Albert Tracy, debate coach.

On Feb. 6 and 7 the team competed in the Azalea Debate Tournament at Spring Hill College in Mobile, Ala. The team had been inactive for two months and did not make the quarter final rounds. However, they did win three rounds against Georgia, Notre Dame, and Clemson.

Scholarship Offers University Students Free European Trip

The American Student Information Service is offering students a free tour through Europe this summer. This scholarship fund pays all expenses except transportation.

The service includes payment for testing, registration and enrollment in a language laboratory in Europe, full health and accident insurance, orientation tours including hotel accommodations and meals, language records course and many other services necessary for a summer in Europe including working papers and permits.

All students are eligible to join ASIS and apply for the tour. However, interested students should write immediately requesting the new handbook containing registration forms, maps, charts, and other vital information.

Each inquiry should include $2 to cover the cost of overseas handling and airmail postage and be addressed to Dept. IV, ASIS, 22 Ave. de la Liberte, Luxembourg City, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

Last week end the team participated in the Gateway Debate Tournament at St. Louis University. Again, the team did not make the elimination bracket.

According to Dr. Tracy, "Some of the best debate teams in the Mid-west were entered."

Murray was represented in both the varsity and novice divisions. Lane Harvey, sophomore, and Jerry Duncan, senior, were on the varsity team. The novice team was composed of June Coppiner, sophomore, and John Walter, junior.

The Debate Team's next competition will be tomorrow at DePauw University.

Marine Corps Team To Visit University

The Marine Corps Officer Selection Team from Louisville will visit MSU March 2-4 to provide students with information on officer programs for undergraduates.

To answer questions and explain the program, Lt. "Rich" Higgins will have a display in the lobby of the SUB.

The Platoon Leaders Class is available to freshmen, sophomores, and juniors and leads to a commission as a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve upon graduation from college.

A student desiring to enroll in the program must have a "C" average and meet certain mental and physical tests.

Qualified freshmen and sophomores take their pre-commissioning training at Quantico, Va. in two six-week sessions during summer vacations with pay, while juniors attend one ten-week session only.

Students' Disinterest Halts New SUB Hours

There has been "very little student interest" shown in the utilization of the SUB during its operation under new hours, according to Robert Jeffrey, director of the SUB.

It was reported to the Student Council on Feb. 4 that it would be financially impossible to continue having the SUB open on weekend nights and Sunday.

The new hours have been in operation since the beginning of January.

Mr. Jeffrey explained that never more than 12 students facilitated the TV lounge, the Snack Bar, or the pool room at any one time since the additional hours went into effect.

Randy Hutchinson, vice-president of the Student Council and student representative on the SUB advisory committee stated, "It will be necessary to discontinue the additional hours of operation. The Student Council and Mr. Jeffrey were in agreement that longer hours will be attempted again next September."

Until next September the SUB hours will be: 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 7 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The Thoroughbred Room will be in operation from 7 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Activities scheduled for the spring semester in the SUB include a pool tournament sponsored by the Student Government.

Tryouts for the March production of Readers' Theatre will be held on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 in the basement classroom of East Hall.

Two melodramas are slated for the production in late March. "He Done Her Wrong, or Wedded But No Wife!" by Anita Bell casts two males and four females. "Some Day, Perhaps?" by Ina S. Stovall has parts for two males and two females.

Scripts are available in Mrs. Polly Zanetta's office, Rm. 24 East Hall.

Eastern, Morehead - 'The Spoilers'

The Racers were knocked out of contention for the OVC title by dropping two conference games on the road last Saturday and Monday nights to Eastern and Morehead.

The disputed game against the Eastern Colonels, Feb. 14, in which the final score was 79-78 still isn't ready for the scorebooks yet, as the Racers' mentor Coach Cal Luther has protested the game to the OVC commissioner Art Guepe.

Coach Luther claimed that there should have been ten more seconds remaining in the game.

Coach Luther said the clock ran down to 11, then 10 seconds, and then all of a sudden the buzzer sounded.

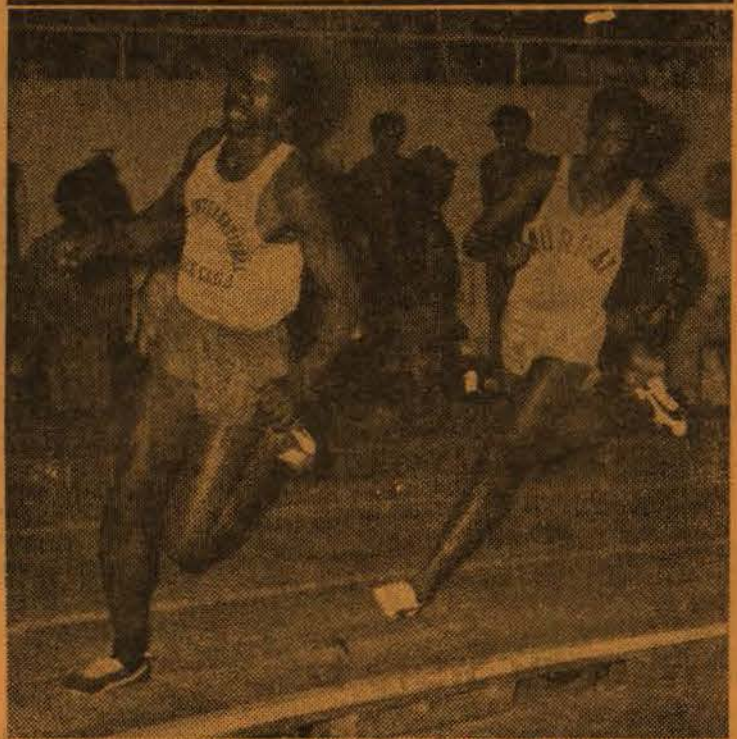

At the end of the game, there were still nine seconds remaining on one of the clocks. Sunday, commissioner Guepe and Colonel's Coach Guy Strong ran the clock through over a dozen times. Each time, one clock dropped ten seconds.

Coach Luther contends that he has conclusive proof that his story is true. On Eastern's play-by-play sheet, Coleman's

After dropping the game at Morehead, 97-93, it is doubtful that Luther will pursue the issue, unless the game would have a bearing on the outcome of the OVC.

However, a game to play the final 10 seconds is tentatively scheduled for March 5 announced Commissioner Guepe yesterday. The game would take place between two games of the 44th District high school tournament.

The battle at Eastern was knotted at halftime, 40-40. With

EN ROUTE. . . . to his second 600-yard run world record in as many nights is Washington, D.C. schoolteacher Martin McGrady. Trailing him on the final turn of the Mason-Dixon track meet, held last weekend at Louisville, is Murray's Tommie 'T-Bird' Turner. Even though Turner tied the world record at 1:09, McGrady broke the record and won the event at 1:08.5.

'T-Bird' Ties World Record; But Only Finishes Second

Murray's Tommie Turner ran what two nights earlier would have tied the world record in the 600 yard dash last week in the Mason Dixon Games and still only managed second place. His time of 1:09.0 placed him five yards behind Larry McGrady, who won the event setting a new world record of 1:08.5

Murray, running in the mile relay as a last minute addition to the field and considered least likely to win, won the event, tying the best time of the year in the nation of 3:15.2. Members of the relay team in the order that they ran were: Leroy McGinnis, Randy Smith, Ashmond Sammules, and Tommie Turner. The times for each of their 440's were: 48.7, 50.1, 48.7, and 47.7 in that order.

Darrell Remole, running off his usual pace, turned in a 4:21.4 mile which tied him for fourth place in the Kentuckiana Mile.

Although he is ineligible to run for Murray this year, Fred Sowerby was invited to run in the feature 440-yard dash as an unattached runner. He turned in a time of 50.0, which won him third place.

Murray State SPORTS

With the Racers leading 78-77, Eastern's Toke Coleman catted a shot from the baseline with 12 seconds remaining on the clock.

basket was first marked with 12 seconds remaining, but after the game it was changed to two seconds.

2:44, the Racers trailed 77-70, but then Hector Blondet catted two-footer. With 1:37 left, Jimmy Young sank a two-pointer on a drive, and with 1:18 remaining, Claude Viriden sank a pair of charity shots.

With 31 seconds remaining on the clock, Viriden sank another pair of charity shots which pushed the Racers into the lead for the first time since 12:56 remaining.

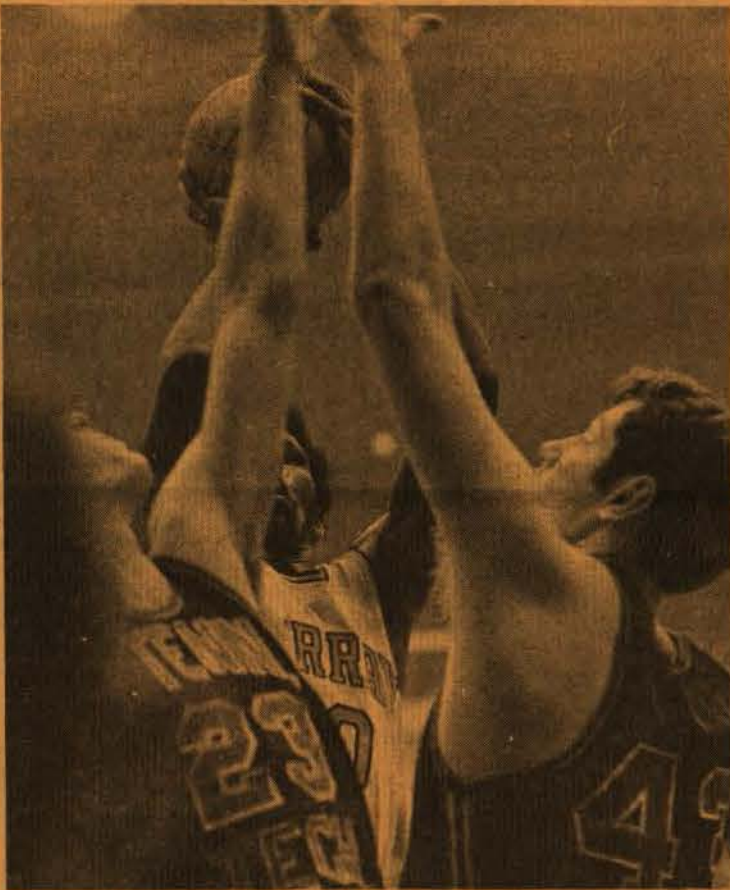

Blondet led the Racers' attack against the Colonels posting 18 points. He was followed by Young, Viriden, and Ron Johnson with 17, 14, and 11 points respectively.

Bill Mancini was credited with eight while Don Funneman and Ron Williams each scored six and four points respectively. Toke Coleman scored 23 while Willie Woods scored 22 points for the winners.

At Morehead, the Racers trailed most of the game, and fell behind 54-38 at halftime. The Racers closed the margin toward the end of the game after starters Jerry Huesman and Ron Gathright fouled out of the game.

Viriden and Young led the Racers in scoring with 25 and 24 points. Also in double-figures were Johnson, Williams, and Funneman with 14, 13, and 11 points respectively.

Other scoring for the Racers included Mancini and Streeby with two points and Gary Wilson with one field goal. The Racers record is now 15-7 overall, and 7-4 in the conference.

DETERMINATION IS THE NAME OF THE GAME. . . . as the Racers' big center Ron 'Big Cat' Johnson demonstrates in this game against Tennessee Tech, Feb. 9 in the Sports Arena. 'Big Cat' is shooting over Tech's seven-footer Art Bosnak, and six-nine Ernie Hemmerly—somehow, Johnson managed to score two points.

VIRDEN PACES TRIUMPH:

Murray Crushes Raiders, 88 - 65

A second-half offensive explosion combined with the return of Hector Blondet to the lineup enabled Murray to crush Middle Tennessee, 88-65, Feb. 11 in the Sports Arena before a capacity crowd.

Leading 36-21 at the half, the Racers wasted little time in the second stanza to boost the lead as Ron Johnson, Bill Mancini, and Claude Vriden each canned field goals in the first 45 seconds of play.

The Racers biggest lead of the game came with 9:08 remaining in the game, 67-36, as Blondet canned a 15-footer. Murray pumped in 37 of 69 attempts from the field for a scorching 54 per cent.

With 5:19 remaining in the first half, Blondet received a standing ovation from the crowd as he entered the game. He had missed the three previous games due to disciplinary actions.

Virden left the game with 6:56 remaining with 20 points to his credit on 8-13 from the field and 4-5 from the line.

Also in double figures for the Racers were Jimmy Young, Blondet, and Mancini with 16, 12 and 10 points respectively. Don Funneman and Ron Williams added eight.

Frank Streety and Johnson each posted five points while Steve Riley and Gary Wilson each hit a pair of free throws.

The triumph was the third conference win in a row for Murray after dropping three consecutive road games. The victory boosted the Racer's record to 14-5 for the season.

Cornell Releases Pressure As Team Shows Improvement

The Murray cindermen opened their season last month, but not on a pleasant note, as they finished last in the first meet of the season.

Coach Bill Cornell stated, "I am not pushing them hard on the indoor season practices, because I want to save them for the all important outdoor meets." Small injuries that would sideline a runner for a few weeks are very common on the hardwood indoor tracks.

"We showed considerable improvement in the second meet," he continued, "and everyone ran as well or better than they did the first time out."

The team has already set two new school indoor records and tied one more. Doug Morris vaulted 15 feet, breaking the old record of 14-6. Tim Sparks broke his own shot put record with a toss of 50-4/4, and Bob Hargrove equaled the record of 6-4 in the high jump.

The teams' next meet is scheduled for today at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

Racers Defeat Tech; Virden Hits for 24

The Racers chalked up their second win of the season over Tennessee Tech Feb. 9 with some blazing 50 per cent shooting from the floor to down the visiting Eagles 76-70.

Playing without the services of Hector Blondet, due to suspension, Coach Cal Luther had to go to the bench to sustain the tall Tech team, which had a front line that averaged 6-4.

Claude Virden paced the Racers' win and tied Tech's Dan Furlong for hig scorer with 24 points.

Murray held a slim four-point advantage at the half, 42-38. With 10:49 remaining in the game, Tech snatched the lead from the Racers at 56-55. The Racers then exploded, scoring 11 straight points while holding Tech scoreless.

With 23 seconds remianing in the game, the Eagles narrowed the margin to three points, 73-70. Bill Mancini was tied up with the ball and went to the center strip to jump against Tech's Rich Stone.

Murray controlled the tip and tried to freeze the ball but Virden was fouled. Virden sank his free throw, while Frank Streety canned two baskets at the charity stripe after the horn sounded to round out the scoring.

Also in double figures for the Racers were Jimmy Young, Ron Johnson, and Mancini with 16, 13 and 12 points respectively.

Don Funneman added nine points, while Streety was credited with two points from the charity strip.

THE CONCENTRATION OF A COACH. . . .can be seen in the background between an unidentified Racer's legs in this game against Tennessee Tech. The Racers' mentor directed the team to an impressive 76-70 margin.

Pick the right day to test drive a Volkswagen and you'll have the road to yourself.

Back when the weather was better, everybody was inviting you to come in and test drive their new what-ers.

But now that the weather isn't so hot (and a test drive is really a test), the invitations have dropped off sharply. Now maybe you can spare a little time to try out the new Volkswagen.

Not right this minute. Wait for a nice lousy day. The next time it's snowing or slushing or something like that, drive down to your Volkswagen dealer. (If you can make it in your car.)

He'll be happy to take you out and show you how a Volkswagen works when hardly anything else does.

How the weight of the motor on the rear wheels makes the VW dig in and go, in the snow or the mud, or even on ice.

As you pass all the stranded cars that passed their test drives in balmy days, he'll tell you about the VW's other cold-weather comforts.

The air-cooled motor. It doesn't freeze over, so it doesn't need anti-freeze or a winter thermostat.

And if you have to leave the car out on a cold wet night, it's got four coats of paint and a sealed bottom to keep it cozy.

You've even got an edge with a VW if the worst happens and you get stuck.

What could be easier to push?

FACE BLUE RAIDERS MONDAY:

Bucaneers to Invade Murray

ALL ALONE. . . . Hector Blondet is all alone as he scores two in this game against Middle Tennessee, Feb. 11. Blondet returned to the Racer's lineup in this game after missing three previous games due to suspension. His stay was temporary however, as he was suspended following the Eastern game for the remainder of the season.

Murray will be gunning for East Tennessee tomorrow night in the Field House, as East Tennessee handed the Racers their first OVC loss of the season, 75-71, Jan. 12.

The Buccaneers, led in scoring by All-OVC forward Mike Kretzer, is averaging 20.2 points per game. Kretzer is also pulling 9.6 caroms per game. Gordon Gifford is the next man in scoring for the team, with 13.4. Gale Daniels is pumping in 11.0 points per game and is also leading the team in free throw percentage with 86.4. Billy Stringer is the team's leading rebounder with 11.0 per game, and is also averaging 10.6 points per game.

East Tennessee is presently holding down second place, tied with Murray 6-4 in the OVC. The Buccaneers lost to Western at Bowling Green earlier in the season by a score of 95-91 in overtime. East Tennessee played host to Western last Saturday night, and it appeared that the Bucs had the game won—leading at the half, 50-34. However, Western exploded in the second half, and went on to win the game 92-83.

East Tennessee was upset by Middle Tennessee Monday night by a score of 66-64 in an overtime, and knocked the Buccaneers out of contention for the OVC. East is 13-7 for the year.

The Bucs are only shooting 41.6 per cent from the field, while their opponents are shooting 44.1 per cent. East Tennessee, however, leads in points per game with 79.8, while the opponents are averaging 74.1. The Bucs are shooting 66.1 per cent from the line, while all opponents are shooting 60.4

MIDDLE TENNESSEE

The Racers will travel to Murfreesboro, Tenn., Monday, to tackle Middle Tennessee. Murray defeated the Blue Raiders in the Sports Arena Feb. 11, 8-65.

Last Monday night, the Blue Raiders suprised East Tennessee at Johnson City, 66-64, in double overtime. The Raiders had previously lost to Western earlier in the season, 83-74.

The Raiders are only averaging 59.8 per cent from the charity stripe and 40.3 from the field. MTSU opponents are shooting 69.8 from the line and a flimsy 39.3 from the field.

The Raiders are 4-7 in the conference, and 12-11 overall. Their record can be attributed to the team's overall scoring, as the team's leader, seven-footer Booker Brown is only averaging 12.4 points and 10.7 rebounds per game.

The team's leading rebounder is Ken Riley, averaging 10.6 points per game.

Other starters include Terry Scott, averaging 11.6 from the field, and Jim Drew, averaging 10.2 points.

Middle is averaging 72.7 points per game, while holding their opponents to 69.9

Dick Cunningham averaged 4.6 points with the Milwaukee Bucks last season.

Louisiana Captured By Racers, 94-79

The Murray Racers extended the perfect home record to nine Jan. 24, by downing hot-shooting Louisiana College, 94-79.

The Racers were forced to play without the service of Hector Blondett, who was suspended earlier in the week.

Bill Mancini stepping in for Blondett, showed a combination of poise and moves in his debut as he recorded five for five of his shots from the field and added five rebounds.

Claude Viriden broke his mild-slump with a brilliant 31-point performance. He connected on 14-26 shots in his second 30 thus far this season.

Though Murray trailed in shooting percentages; 59 per cent to 51 per cent from the field and 71 per cent to 59 per cent from the charity line, rebounding was lead by Viriden with 15 and Johnson with 14.

Viriden's hot hand and Johnson's board strength enabled the Racers to keep control of the game despite Louisiana's 65 per cent shooting from the floor in the first half and 52 per cent in the second half. Murray's defense held the visitors to a minimal 26 shots the entire second half while adding their own offensive outburst by collecting on 57 per cent of their field goal attempts.

RACERS ACROBAT. . . . Guard Jimmy Young seems to be an acrobat as he drives for two points in this game against Tenn. Tech, Feb. 9 in the Sports Arena. Young registered 16 points, canning eight of 14 shots from the field. Beside Young is Bill Mancini who positions himself for a possible rebound. Mancini also scored in double-figures with 12 points.

Racers Stomp Govs; Viriden, Young Shine

The Racers romped to a 30 point victory over the Austin Peay Governors Feb. 7 at Clarksville. Despite having a two week layoff, Murray looked in top form in the 96-66 win.

The Govs, who rank 8th in the nation in scoring with a 92.6 average, were completely dominated by the tough Racer defense. Leading 47-36 at half time, Murray used a balanced scoring attack in pulling away from Peay in the early minutes of the last frame.

Jim Young led all Racers with 26 points as he hit on 11-23 from the field. Most of his shots were jumpers beyond 25 feet. Young also had an outstanding defensive game in holding Tom Santel scoreless throughout the entire game. Santel had been averaging 14 points a game going into the contest.

Claude Viriden was double-teamed most of the game but still managed to pull down 17 rebounds and score 24 points. Bill Mancini, starting in the place of Hector Blondet, contributed 19 points as he hit on 8-11 from the field.

Howard Wright paced the Governors with 30 points, one more than his season average. Wright could only get help though from two other teammates. Joe Waller and Jim Dupont each scored 12 points.

Murray's only trouble in the game came at the free throw line. The Racers hit worse at the charity strip than they did from the field. Murray tossed in only 52.2 per cent of their foul shots, while Austin Peay hit on 70 per cent.

Frosh Cagers Run Record to 15-1

The Baby Racers had little trouble in capturing their eleventh game in 12 starts Jan. 24, as they crushed Louisville's Spencerian College 103-68.

By midway through the half, Murray controlled 21-9, with a 10-point scoring splurge by Fred Towns. The lead was upped to 43-29 at halftime.

Murray led 89-55 with only three minutes remaining, but increased the final margin to 35-103-68.

Fred Towns netted a total of 25 points, while Les Taylor added 21, Steve Brown 16, Will Lutter 11, with Ken Griffin canning 13.

The Baby Racers outshot Spencerian 57 to 35 per cent from the field and outstretched them 39-26 on the boards.

AUSTIN PEAY FROSH

The high-scoring Murray State freshman basketball team rolled to a 110-84 victory over the Austin Peay freshmen at Clarksville on Feb. 7.

Leading 52-51 at halftime, the baby Racers slowly pulled away from Austin Peay in the last half, outscoring them by 25 points.

Steve Brown led the attack as he hit several long jumpshots to break the game open. He hit 12-23 from the field and added three free throws to finish the game with 27 points.

The refereeing was a bit lax early in the game and Coach Kayo Willis contested several calls, one resulting in a technical foul. On another play in the first half, Murray's seven foot center, Will Lutter was presented with a technical foul and ejected from the game.

Lutter shoved an Austin Peay player in attempting to rebound a stray shot. When the player retaliated, Lutter squared off for another one of his boxing matches and was quickly ejected from the game.

Les Taylor hit several baskets from 30 feet out, and Fred Towns and Ken Griffin were tough under the basket, as all three finished with 20 points each.

UTM FROSH

The Baby Racers won their thirteenth game of the season Feb. 9, when they walloped invading University of Tennessee at Martin, 89-59.

Les Taylor and Fred Towns excelled in performance leading the frosh to another relatively easy victory. Taylor scored 29 points and grabbed eight rebounds while Towns popped in 25 along with 11 rebounds.

Murray took a commanding lead by netting five field goals in the first three minutes, 10-6. With 14:36 to play in the half, Will Lutter, completed a successful three-point play to boost the lead to 18-6.

Murray continued its hot hitting and coasted to a 33-13 lead with 7:03 remaining in the half. Murray canned another 10 points in a row to let UTMB score the last six points and trim the half time lead to 43-19.

The massacre continued until with 10:16 remaining in the game as the Baby Racers built their lead to 73-31, Coach Willis began substituting heavily in the last moments of the game.

Murray dominated every aspect of the game, outshooting UTMB 51.4 per cent to 45.5 per cent from the floor and 64.7 per cent to 58.3 per cent at the free stripe. The Baby Racers also outrebounded their foes 34-24.

MIDDLE TENNESSEE

The Baby Racers ran away with their fifteenth win this season by using a combination of hot shooting and tough defense. There was a roar from the fans, as the frosh netted their last 4 points surpassing the 100-point mark and upending a tall talented Middle Tennessee freshman, 103-65.

After calling a timeout with 11:13 in the first half, Murray outscored their opponents 24-14 giving them a comfortable 42-24 edge at the half.

Guard Ken Griffin canned 10 points in the first half, including a 30-footer at the buzzer.

With 15:59 to play, Murray successfully completed their third three-point play stretching their lead to 52-31. Murray then outscored Middle 12-2 before Middle could add another basket—that coming on a goal tending call.

With 10:40 the game was soundly put out of reach, as Murray had just taken control of a 70-35 lead.

The crowd really came alive when reserve Mike Holland sank a 10-foot jumpshot putting the Baby Racers ahead 99-64.

Van Henning pushed the score over 100 when he connected on two free throws with 13 seconds to play, pushing Murray to 101. Rick Garmon drove the length of the court with four seconds for the Racers final score.

Fred Towns' 20-point second half explosion gave him a season high of 30 while Les Taylor added 25. Griffin ended with 16, Will Lutter 10, and Steve Brown got 8.

The frosh shot a sparkling 63 percent from the field and 78 percent from the free throw line, both season highs. Middle could only manage 48 percent from the field and 68 percent from the stripe. Murray, however, only outrebounded Middle 28-20.

Some office jobs are more interesting than others.

In the old days if a man wanted to be an executive and craved adventure too, he could skipper a clipper ship.

Today... the clippers are gone... but the supersonics are here. And swashbuckling executives still get their chance.

That's maybe a million bucks worth of plane. And when you fly it the responsibility's all yours.

If you'd like to mull that over every time you bank or roll at 1,400+ mph, try for Officer Training School after you graduate from college. Also, remember the nice idea of yourself, an Air Force pilot, captain of all you command, getting to visit foreign ports like the clipper captain of yore.

BABY RACERS ARE NO BABIES. . . . Seven-footer Will Lutter (40) and high scoring Fred Towns (55) prove they are no babies, as they have compiled a 16-1 record this season. Their only loss came Jan. 19 at Bowling Green in a hotly contested battle. Towns is leading the frosh in scoring with over a 23-point average.

Frosh Cagers Face Demanding Schedule

The Baby Racers face their toughest and most crucial games late in the season next week. Murray took a 15-1 record against a tough Paducah team last night. The frosh defeated PCC in a come-from-behind victory 68-64 here early in December.

Frosh coach, Kayo Willis, commented that, "Paducah's always tough. When there's a good rivalry, the games are always close."

"Tomorrow night the Baby Racers face a relatively unknown foe, Coahoma College, Miss. About all that is known about Coahoma is that they play a tough schedule and that they are always supposed to be strong," Coach Willis continued.

After the Coahoma College game, the frosh visit two particularly tough home teams. On Feb. 23, they tangle Middle Tennessee, the team they crushed here last week 103-65. Later in the week, the frosh move to Ft. Campbell to play probably their toughest game of the entire season.

Murray downed Ft. Campbell here on Dec. 17 by a 76-65 decision. That has been Ft. Campbell's only loss thus far this season.

Coach Willis commented on the frosh's first battle with Ft. Campbell: "I think we caught them off-guard, they'll really be looking for us this time."

If the frosh capture all four of their final games, it would build to quite a climax as they could post a 19-1 record before taking on Western, the team that added the only blemish to their record.

Coach Willis commented on Murray's overall performance, "I'm very much pleased at our games," Coach Willis stated. "Will Lutter's defense has improved 100 per cent and I'm tickled to death. Steve Brown, though not scoring many points, has really helped us on the boards and Ken Griffin's defense, as well as offense, has greatly improved."

"I would like to add that we have played some talented individuals and strong teams and I think that our boys are playing together rather than taking all the shots themselves."

When asked which of the frosh had a chance to make the varsity team, Coach Willis added, "At this rate, all five starters have a possibility of making the varsity team. If they continue to progress in the manner in which they are doing they will all be good prospects."

I stopped in the referees' dressing room Feb. 11, following the Middle Tenn. game, and had an interesting discussion with Charles Fouty. Fouty is one of the nation's leading referees, but a controversial figure in the eyes of Racer fans. Remember now? He conducted the game at Western last year in which the Racers lost 84-82 on a controversial basket.

Fouty concentrates mainly on the Big Ten conference, and was chosen the past two seasons to referee the NCAA finals. Two years ago he refereed the Houston-UCLA game, and the UCLA-North Carolina game. Last season he refereed the UCLA-Drake game, and the Drake-North Carolina consolation game.

Stripping from his clothes and dripping from sweat, Fouty began explaining to me how the crowds at basketball games are getting worse every season.

"It all rests in the administrations hands," Stouty said. "The administrations need to make some changes in this area."

From the shower, "Of course the crowds don't bother me any, it's just their conduct that I detest."

I then asked him what he thought about the remark Eastern's coach Guy Strong made about him at Bowling Green Feb. 9, following the Eastern-Western game. The Colonels bowed 88-77.

CHARLES FOUTY

During the game, Strong had two personal fouls called on him by Fouty. Directly following the game, Strong snapped, "Western could have beaten UCLA with Fouty on the game."

Drying himself now, Fouty replied, "He can say what he wants, and I doubt that I will be hired to referee anymore games at Richmond—but that's his prerogative, and what Strong says doesn't bother me either."

Ah yes! a referee, the profession for those who enjoy making friends.

WORLD CELEBRITY

Tommie "T-Bird" Turner, Murray State's international track celebrity has been invited to run in the 400-meter dash at the US Olympic Invitational

"T-Bird" will be competing against Larry James of Villinova, Curtis Mills of Texas A&M, and Jan Werner from Greece.

Track and Field News has announced that "T-Bird" and the third-best time in the 440-yard dash in the world last year, and the second-best time in the 400 meters.

Turner has been picked as the fourth-best 440-yard runner in the world this year. (Rumor has it that Murray's track coach Bill Cornell is in a rage over his ratings for this season.)

Eighteen students and faculty members attended the organizational meeting of the new campus Sportsman's Club, Feb. 11.

Acting as adviser to the club at present is Dr. Harry M. Sparks, MSU president.

Planning to meet every second Wednesday, the club members will discuss various aspects of sporting and hope to sponsor a fishing derby.

At the club's next meeting, which will be Feb. 25 on the second floor of the Applied Science Bldg., films will be shown on bass fishing and shotguns.

Any interested student or faculty member is invited to join the organization.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL:

League Division Champion Decided

One league division championship in intramural basketball was decided last week and several divisions ended in ties.

Intramural director "Buddy" Hewitt said that divisions that end in ties will have a play-off and then the winners of each division will be put in a single elimination tournament. Mr. Hewitt added,

"I would like to remind the students that volleyball will start immediately following basketball. It should start the first week in March and as soon as that is over we will start the swim meet."

Those who are interested in volleyball should go ahead and see Mr. Hewitt now.

The Untouchables were the first team to win a division championship as they downed Clark I 34-32. They finished the season with a 4-1 record in the dorm's eastern division. White I, Clark I, and Clark II all finished second with 3-2 records.

In the western division, three teams ended the season tied for first place with 4-1 records.

MSU Pistol Team Captures MIPL Contest at Dayton

The Midwest Intercollegiate Pistol League sectional matches will be held in the MSU Rifle Range tomorrow.

Results of the match will determine the national standings of teams throughout the nation.

Teams from Ohio State University, University of Wisconsin, University of Dayton, Xavier University, and Murray State will compete in varsity,

The Aces of Hart could have won the crown but they lost their last game with Richmond II 50-39 to share the title. Richmond III won by forfeit over Springer (WWW) to also tie.

In the fraternity western division, Sigma Chi lost their final game of the season by one point to Sigma Pi 32-31. The win tied Sigma Pi with Sigma Chi and Alpha Tau Omega with 4-1 records. ATO won their last game by a forfeit over Kappa Alpha.

Lambda Chi Alpha leads the eastern division with a 4-0 record. Sigma Nu won by forfeit over Tau Kappa Epsilon and is in second place with a 4-1 record. If Alpha Gamma Rho beats Lambda Chi Alpha then both Lambda Chi and Sigma Nu would tie for the crown.

THANG leads the Independent number 1 eastern division with a 4-0 record. Circle "K" is second with 3-1.

The Bowery Boys leads the West with a perfect 4-0 record and the Racers are second with 3-1.

In the Independent number 2 eastern division, Alpha Omega

Phi leads with a 4-0 record. The Independents and Outsiders both have 3-1 records.

Three teams are tied for first place in the number 2 western division. The Furriners, Jets, and Patriots all have 3-1 records with one game remaining for each.

KSU Win Earns Team National Recognition

A resounding sweep by MSU in the Kansas State University Invitational International Smallbore Rifle Tournament has earned the school prominent mention in the February edition of the "The American Rifleman" magazine.

Competing in the three-day, 56-school meet in Manhattan, Kansas, in December, the Murray State shooters took top honors in three of four team events—varsity, ROTC and women's—and team captain Ernest Vande Zande was the top individual scorer.

Begun in 1958 as a "humble campus turkey shoot," according to the article, the Kansas State meet now ranks as the "largest intercollegiate NRA-registered shoulder-to-shoulder smallbore rifle match held in the United States."

A total of 224 shooters from 46 colleges and 10 high schools in 17 states, including Alaska, turned out for the latest tournament, referred to by the

NRA staff writers as "the Camp Perry of intercollegiate smallbore shooting."

Murray State teams won by firing 2,262 in varsity competition, 2,202 in ROTC competition, and 2,062 in women's competition. Vande Zande, a junior from Alexandria, Va., shot an aggregate score of 573 to rank as the standout shooter.

His chief competition came from teammate Bill Schweitzer, a freshman from Lancaster, Pa., who finished a close second with a 572 score. Other members of the Murray State varsity team are Bill Beard, Bardwell senior and Bob Arledge, Arlington, Va. junior.

The magazine article said Capt. Richard Mallard, coach of the Murray State riflemen "was understandably jubilant" about the outcome of the KSU meet.

"And, with only three of his 14 shooters graduating in 1970, he looks to future success at KSU matches for several years to come," the article noted.

SPOTTING A TARGET. . . . Immediately after firing a round at the target 50 feet down-range, Bill Schweitzer checks the position of the hit on the target through the spotting scope. A freshman member of the Murray State rifle team, Schweitzer, from Lancaster, Pa., has broken one national open record and equaled another since enrolling in college last September. He is shown with the Winchester 52-D International he uses in smallbore competition.

TOP EAST TENNESSEE, 1147-1137:

Riflemen Set New Record

The Murray State Rifle Team took a big step toward regaining the national championship with a record-setting performance in an international sectional tournament in Johnson City, Tennessee, Feb. 6-8.

The Murray marksmen scored 1147 of a possible 1200 points, upping the national record for civilian teams by seven points. East Tennessee State set the old mark of 1140 earlier this year.

East Tennessee, considered to be Murray State's strongest challenger for the national title, finished second with a score of 1137. Eastern Kentucky University finished third with 989.

It will not be known until April after all the scores from the sectional matches have been reported to the National Rifle Association who will win the championship.

Murray Rifle Team West Point Bound

MSU sent eight member of its Rifle Team to West Point yesterday where they will participate in rifle competition.

The schedule includes a stopover today in Dayton, Ohio, with the Murray team shooting against the Dayton group. Tomorrow, MSU enters the West Point match against West Point and East Tennessee State University, the only team to defeat Murray this season.

With four matches left in the season, the MSU Rifle Team

In the individual competition, Bill Schweitzer of Murray shattered the national open record with 297 of a possible 300 points. East Tennessee's All-American William Legg had tied the old record of 294 earlier in the match. Legg won the national individual title last year with a score of 289.

The mark had previously been held by Olympic gold medal winner, Maj. Lones Wigger of the US Army Marksmanship Training Unit at Fort Benning.

Schweitzer is a freshman industrial arts major from Lancaster, Pa.

ETSU's All-American, Diane Timberlake, also set a national women's record of 293 in the individual phase of the match. The old record was 291.

After Schweitzer established the individual record, he returned to the firing line and fired a 292 to lead the Murray maintains a 14-1 record.

Making up the eight-man group are Bill Schweitzer, freshman; Bill Beard, senior; Bob Arledge, junior; Ernie Vande Zande, junior; Bob Gusbin, senior; Dave Adams, freshman; Kevin Cherry, sophomore; and Jim Soderstrom, junior.

In Murray's last match, Bill Schweitzer established a new international quarter-course record by accumulating 297 points out of a possible 300.

HE'S 'SUPER-STRING' SCHWEITZER:

Best Shot Is Nearsighted Yet!

Soft-spoken Bill Schweitzer, an unobtrusive teenager with blurred vision and a perennial underweight problem defies prototype.

He seems an unlikely prospect for the title of the world's best rifle shot.

But the record of the 18-year-old MSU freshman from Lancaster, Pa., who sometimes wears glasses to correct astigmatism and slight nearsightedness, dictates that he be considered among the elite of the precise sport.

A two-time national junior champion and the current defending titleholder in that event, he has announced himself in the smallbore big league with a loud report by breaking one national open record and equaling another since he began college last September.

His latest coup was a sensational one—a 297 of a possible 300 in international sectional competition on the three-position quarter course at Johnson City, Tenn., Feb. 6-8. That score shattered the former national open indoor record of 294.

Late last year, he fired a 396 of a possible 400 from the kneeling position to become a co-holder of that national open record—but the mark has since been broken by a point.

Schweitzer, whose thin frame inspired his Murray State teammates to nickname him "String," also holds several national junior records.

His most recent record is his most amazing. It broke the old mark owned by Maj. Lones Wigger, an olympic gold medal winner and member of the US Army Marksmanship Training Unit at Fort Benning, Ga. and a man generally regarded as the Babe Ruth of shooting.

Besides his individual record, which is almost a certainty to survive the onslaught of other collegiate shooters for the championship in that event, Schweitzer led his team to a 1,147 of a possible 1,200 at the same tournament to top the national record for civilian teams by seven points.

Polite and quiet, the tall, dark-haired Schweitzer presents a rather deceiving appearance. His reticence belies his confidence. "To be an outstanding shooter, I have to believe in myself and I do," he said. "But it has to be in perspective. Hard work is a must. Past performance and reputation are not worth any points in competition."

His passion for shooting and guns might be considered hereditary. His father, a former gunsmith and now a personnel manager in industry, encouraged both him and his older brother to participate in competitive shooting and then coached them both.

Schweitzer's explanation of shooting transcends the simplistics generally mention—practice, coaching, experience and concentration on trigger squeeze.

He talks about the necessity for a rhythm pattern so every shot is identical. He talks about regular breathing as an important part of that rhythm. He even talks about heartbeat and the fact that a heavy pulsation can dull the fine edge that separates the exceptional from the ordinary.

His coach at Murray, Capt. Richard Mallard, believes Schweitzer's stoic temperament and "fantastic self-control" are the key factors in his rapid rise to shooting prominence.

"He is absolutely as cool as an iceberg," Mallard marvels. "Nothing ever gets him excited or upset. He has as near the perfect mental makeup as anyone I've ever seen."

Besides his visual problem, which he shrugs aside with not so much as a comment, Schweitzer is unusual among marksmen in other ways. He disdains the use of the butt plate and the palm rest that are standard equipment for most shooters but admits that he may possibly adopt the aids on his 17-pound Winchester 52-D International in days ahead.

Practice hours for him are also limited. He has budgeted his time at Murray State to allow as much concentration as possible on his studies.

"My practice habits now are not good," he says, "because everything is so irregular. But I take some extra time before our matches to try to get as sharp as I can because there is not much margin for error in shooting."

The "margin for error" he mentioned is about the diameter of the .22 caliber bullet used for smallbore shooting because the bull's-eye on the target is the size of a dot of ink.

Shooters fire 10 shots at the tiny mark on the quarter course from a distance of 50 feet in each of three positions—prone, kneeling and standing. Each hit on the bull's-eye counts 10 points to account for the 300-possible score.

Camaraderie on the Murray State rifle teams is something that has impressed Schweitzer, along with the "friendliness of almost everyone on the campus." He says the team—varsity, ROTC and women's—are "like a fraternity."

Sam Smith Talks On Claude Virden

By CURTIS HART

(This interview took place with Sam Smith, starting forward for the Kentucky Colonels, following the Racers' 76-70 win over Tennessee Tech.)

"We need a 'Claude Virden' on our team desperately," Mr. Smith stated. "He is very capable of playing American Basketball Association ball. Virden could very well play National Basketball Association ball, providing that he gained 20 lbs.," Mr. Smith added.

Changes for News Staff Announced by McGaughey

Several changes have been made in the staff of the Murray State News, according to Robert H. McGaughey, adviser to the paper.

Lee Stein, co-editor during the fall semester is now a graduate assistant. Deb Mathis is now editor of the Murray State News. Paula Deger, former women's editor, will be the editorial editor for the spring semester.

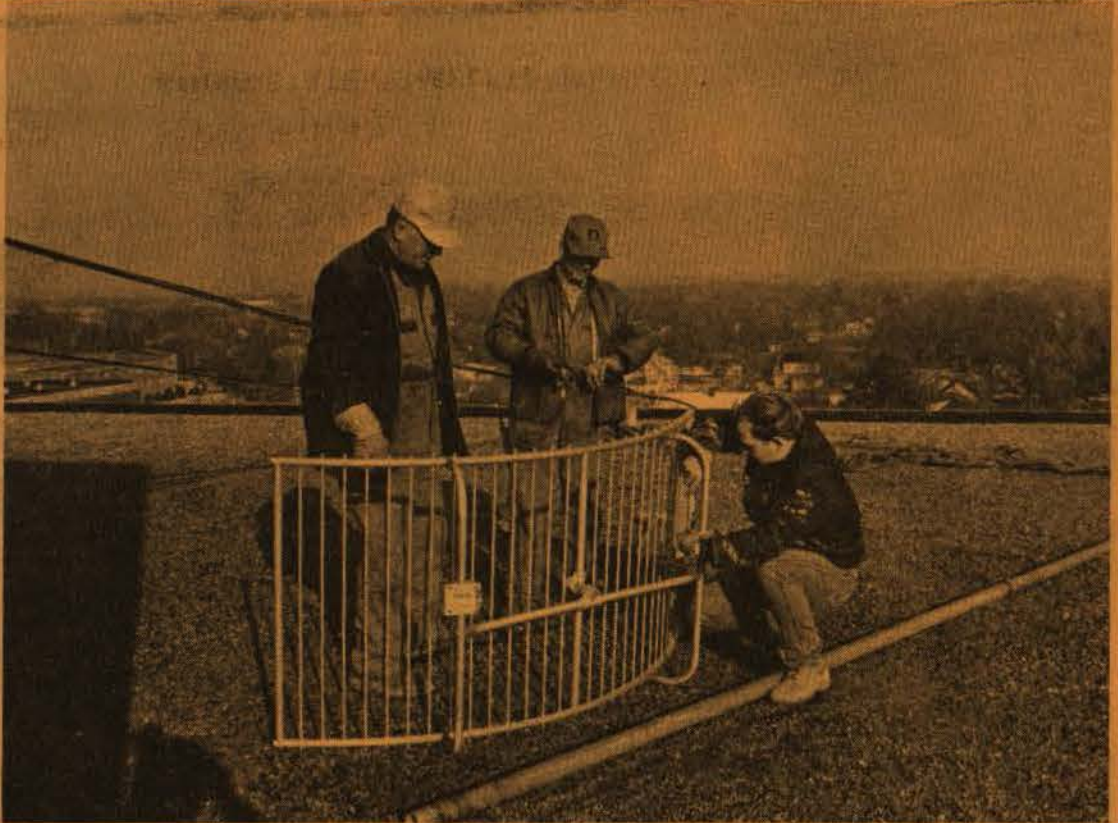

In a promotion from copy chief, Celia Wall is the new managing editor. Johanna Comisak will replace Joel McPherson as co-news editor. McPherson is the new feature editor. Assistant feature editor is Vivian Minks.

Bob Shook and Robert Paul Westpheling are the new special writers, and Brenda Stockdale is new copy chief.

Mary Winders, who was assistant women's editor last fall, will be the new women's editor. Christine Doughty is assistant women's editor.

Leo Green will be the national advertising manager. Diane Belew and Cecilia Wright are new ad salesmen.

WKMS-FM ANTENNA. . . . Workers are shown atop the Education Bldg. installing the new WKMS-FM micro-wave antenna. The antenna will link WKMS-FM studios in Wilson Hall with the transmitter at Farmington. The new antennas will be capable of carrying remote control signals to the transmitter in addition to beaming WKMS-FM's programs to the transmitter.

MTAI Examinations Set For Saturday, Feb. 28

The Minnesota Teacher Attitude Inventory will be administered Feb. 28 in Room 652-653 Education Bldg., according to Robert Rowan, testing center.

The times are: 8 a.m., 8:30 a.m., 9 a.m., 9:30 a.m., 10 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 11 a.m., and 11:30 a.m.

The following students must take this exam to meet requirements for admission to teacher education:

1. All sophomores (second-semester) who plan to follow the teacher preparation program.

2. All juniors and seniors who plan to get teacher certificates and who have not yet taken this exam.

3. All persons accepted conditionally into the teacher preparation program, pending completion of the MTAI.

Applications for admission to teacher education may be made at this time. There is no fee for the exam, and no need to sign up ahead of time. Completion of forms and administration of the MTAI take about one hour, according to Mr. Rowan.

NEW WKMS-FM ANTENNA:

Micro-Wave Link Installed

The micro-wave antenna which will link WKMS-FM with its transmitter at Farmington has been installed on top of the Education Bldg. A coaxial cable has been strung from the Radio Center studio in Wilson Hall across to the antenna. The work was done by Utility Towers Co. of Mayfield.

The micro-wave link will beam WKMS-FM's program to the transmitter where it will be transmitted over a wide area with an effective radiated power of 13,000 Watts. The link will also carry remote control signals to the transmitter.

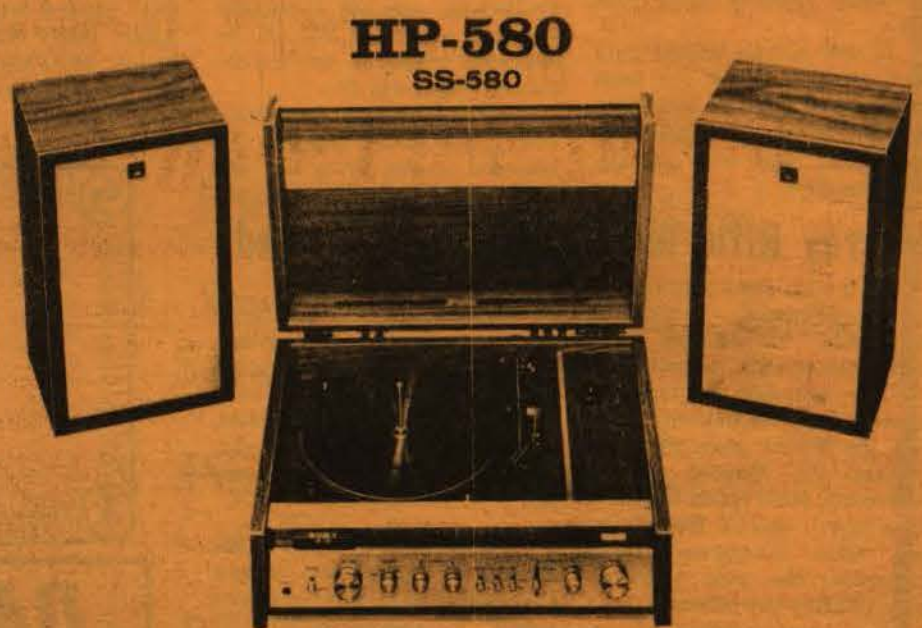

Representatives of the Mosley Co. will now install the micro-wave remote control equipment which their company has manufactured for WKMS-FM and line up the link with the transmitter. It is not known when they will arrive in Murray.
