L. & N. SURVEY MISSES THE CITY.

Double Track System Seems Certain.

LINE IS BEING RUN.

A Spur Between Empire and Pembroke Is Projected.

A FREIGHT DEPOT.

The report that the Louisville & Nashville railroad is to be double-tracked is borne out by the fact that the engineering corps is at work in this region making a survey. Not only is Crofton, as heretofore stated in the New Era, off the new route, but Hopkinsville as well. But don't get excited—the present track is to remain where it is.

The following facts in regard to the matter were ascertained from good authority and are regarded as trustworthy. The survey instead of again joining the main line of the L. & N. after passing Crofton, still holds its direction and has already passed this city near the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, nearly two miles from the city limits, and it is supposed it will strike the main line as a point near Pembroke, nine miles south of here. This line leaves the town of Crofton, Kelly, Hopkinsville and Oak Grove entirely.

Between Empire and Pembroke there are several very steep grades, two hills, one on each side of Crofton, being especially hard pulls. The road also makes a very decided curve, and by the new route it is proposed to shorten the distance and also avoid the heavy grade.

Another item considered is the spur which can be made on the new line. In all of the towns which it will miss there are ordinances prohibiting trains running faster than a certain limit and on the new line full speed could be maintained the entire distance. The official interviewed by the New Era stated that the whole division from Evansville to Nashville would without doubt be double-tracked as soon as the double-track would permit next spring, and this spur was merely a part of the double track system which would be installed. It is the intention of the company, it is stated, to use this line for fast freights which do not stop at any of the towns left out, but all other trains will pass through as heretofore.

The survey has not yet been fully completed.

Mr. John W. Logsdon, superintendent of the Henderson division, was in the city Tuesday, and from certain hints he dropped during his visit it seems to be probable that a new freight depot building will be erected early next spring also. The present building is entirely too small to accommodate the business and is in a dilapidated condition. The new building will cover at least a half square between Eighth and Ninth streets. It will be a two-story and will contain all the offices needed arranged in the most convenient way. The building will be of brick and will cost $10,000.

Workmen are now engaged in laying a stone wall around the depot grounds which were covered with screenings several months ago. Stone steps will form nearly half the wall, and a driveway will be opened at one end. As soon as the wall is placed the screenings will be covered with cement, making one of the prettiest depot grounds in the state. The stone used in the walls is being quarried near Bowling Green, and the work is under the supervision of Mr. Lucien H. Davis, of this city.

Nashville Pike Notes.

—Miss Mary Jackson has returned from a visit to friends in South Christian.

—Mr. Robert Brounagh and wife have moved to "Lowery Farm" to live.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Garland have returned from their bridal trip among the Tennessee mountains.

—Overseer N. B. Yancey had the hands at work on the Nashville road at the east end of the pike, Monday.

—Miss Sarah Smith, a charming little lady from South Christian, is the guest of her aunt Mrs. Chas. F. Jackson.

—Mrs. J. E. Jackson, of Pembroke, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hancock at "Crowswood," Saturday.

—Mrs. Harriet Rogers, of Hopkinsville, was the guest of Miss Cora Burt and sister last week.

—Holland Garnett, of The Square, recently was over in this section on a business trip Thursday.

—Mr. Mayton is operating a saw-mill in the timber near the Will Road north of the Nashville road.

—Mr. F. D. and Miss Laura Hancock are visiting friends in Greenville, Ky., this week.

—Dr. G. G. Mosely, from Redlands, Cal., is visiting his father and friends this week.

—One of the fast trains struck a hog Friday morning against tool house No. 10, cutting the hog completely in two, and crushing in the side of the tool house.

—Madame Rumer has it that a certain P. Y. L.—popular, young farmer—living on the Nashville pike has asked a South Christian county young lady to carry his smoke house hog for him, and the wedding is to come off "some time in November."

HEAVY DAMAGES SOUGHT IN SUITS.

Negro Sued for Shooting Youth.

UNIQUE PETITION.

Fright Shatters Girl's Nervous System.

RAILROAD CASE.

Several suits of considerable local interest were filed Thursday for the September term of circuit court.

Charles E. West, Jr., aged 15 years, sued James Bass, a wealthy colored farmer, for $10,000. It is alleged that Bass wilfully and wantonly shot young West in the shoulder on the evening of September 3 with a pistol or other weapon, inflicting a severe wound. Bass, it is understood, had been annoyed by boys going into his watermelon patch. The attorney for plaintiff states that the youth shot was not on Bass' premises.

Dr. L. J. Harris, acting for his daughter, Miss Flora Vertrees Harris, aged 18, sued the Louisville & Nashville railroad company for $25,000. It is said that the suit is the only one of the sort ever brought in Kentucky. According to the petition, Miss Harris while visiting friends at Earlington February 10, found it necessary to cross the defendant's track. A train approached at a reckless and alarming rate of speed and she managed to get out of the way by an almost superhuman effort only to find herself on a second track on which there was another train coming towards her. She fainted and fell on the track and was rescued from her perilous position by an onlooker. As the result of her fright it is alleged that she was prostrated and her nervous system completely shattered, being confined to her bed many days and that she is still under the care of physicians.

President Joseph F. Garnett of the Planter's Bank, administrator of the estate of John Rickman, colored, sued the Louisville & Nashville railroad for $15,000, alleging that Rickman was killed April 23 by passenger train No. 92 which failed to blow its whistle, ring its bell or in any way warn the negro of his danger.

The first two suits were brought by Attorney John Feland and the last by Attorneys Feland, J. T. Hanberry and Wm. A. Gill.

May good luck attend both of them and happiness too.

Mr. Will W. Hancock and wife have moved to "Crowswood," where Mr. Hancock will have full charge of the farming interests in future. Mr. McAuliffe from Wisconsin, a market gardener of over twenty-five years experience, will in November, take charge and operate twenty acres, to market gardening on same farm.

Mrs. A. J. Hancock will continue to give personal attention to the Crowswood nursery and all of the fruit departments as before.

—Old Hennessey.

TINY WHIRLWIND SWOOP-ED DOWN ON CITY.

Tore Tin Roof From Part of Warehouse and Disappeared.

Few people are aware that a whirlwind strong enough to snatch the roof from a building swept through the city Wednesday about the noon hour.

"Uncle Ben," the colored man, who is a fixture of the Central warehouse now occupied by M. H. Tandy, was sitting in the rear of the building when he heard a sound on the roof as if it was being torn off. He rushed out and was just in time to see a strong whirlwind disappear behind Raubold's bakery. He then went on top of the warehouse and found that the wind had torn up the tin roof for a distance of over ten feet, pulling the nails entirely out of the wood and tearing the tin in strips along the edges. A plank about six inches wide was also twisted off.

The signature is on the top of a bottle of the genuine OWENS PINK EXTRACT—Beware of cheap imitations. He has his teeth. All druggists.

ARE YOUR DIMES WORTH TEN CENTS?

"Queer" Small Coins Are Being "Shoved" In Hopkinsville.—Watch Out For Them.

The police are puzzled over the appearance of a number of counterfeit ten cent pieces of the issue of 1891. The "queer money" has been passed at several places, the Diamond Candy Kitchen taking in three of the bogus dimes in one day recently. The salesman could not remember who gave them to him as no one noticed them until night when the sales were balanced.

The work is evidently done by amateurs as the wording is much blurred. It is thought by the police that the mold was made by taking the impression of the coin in wet cardboard in a manner similar to the process used in making stereotype plates. The metal used is some white composition and is thought to be Rabbit metal. The counterfeiters have no ring to them and can be twisted into any shape with the fingers.

YOUNG LADY DRAGGED FROM BUGGY AND CHOKED BY A BLACK BRUTE.

SHE WAS DRIVING HOME FROM CHURCH.

CRIMES BROUGHT HELP.

Scoundrel Was Pursued a Long Distance But Escaped.

HALF MILE FROM HOME.

Miss Mattie Blane, a popular young lady who resides near Pee Dee, this county, was forced to undergo a terrifying experience Monday night.

She was driving home alone in a buggy from a revival meeting. When she left the church several neighbors were near her in vehicles, but she drove on some distance alone.

About a mile from her home, a negro sprang from behind a tree on the side of the road, stopped the horse and seized the girl.

She fought desperately, but the brute succeeded in dragging her from the buggy.

He hurled her violently to the ground and began choking her to stifle her screams for help.

Fortunately her cries fell upon the ears of the neighbors who were driving behind. They whipped up their horses and came to the scene just as the negro was carrying the almost unconscious girl into the woods.

Dropping her, the negro ran. He was pursued a long distance, but finally escaped.

Every effort is being made to capture him.
