THE OLD RELIABLE

O, By the Way

Mayor Joseph Henry, grand chancellor of Kentucky Knights of Pythias, has returned from an official visitation of various Pythian lodges. All the conventions over which he presided were very successful. The conventions for the western part of the state will be opened at Henderson on June 8. Hopkinsville will be visited on June 8 and Bowling Green on June 9.

Mr. J. H. Clardy, of the railway mail service, clerk in charge on the Jackson and Mobile railroad post-office, has just been elected representative of the National Association of Railway Postal Clerks, which convenes in Washington, D. C. Sept. 18. Mr. Clardy has received many congratulations and his friends here are jubilant over his election. For ten years he has made Mobile his headquarters and taken an active part in the railway mail service and association affairs.—Mobile Register.

The Louisville Herald says that James Breathitt will probably be nominated by the Republicans in this district for circuit judge.

Mr. Waterson Brasher, of Nashville, is in the city visiting the family of Mr. John L. Brasher and mingling with his friends. He is taking a short vacation prior to becoming associated with the drug firm of M. E. Hutson, of Nashville.

The Bowling Green Times Journal takes this bouquet as a former Christian county boy: "No higher education can be paid a man than to call him a perfect gentleman. This is Mr. Jas. McKenna, the rising young attorney. 'Thoroughly in love with this profession he is always poring over points in law. Being a close student he is interested in all that pertains to knowledge and is a member of several literary clubs. Modest and retiring there is no blowing of his own horn, but when consulted is an authority on weighty subjects and has one of the best balanced heads of any man in the city.'

Dr. George N. Campbell, who is traveling in the interest of a Philadelphia medical establishment, has been offered an extensive trip to Europe by his house to introduce its medicine. He will likely accept the proposition.

A Startling Test.
To save a life, Dr. J. G. Merritt, of No. 100 Broadway, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes: "A patient was attacked by violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitter excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and kidney troubles. Try them. Only one at L. L. Elgin and C. K. Wyly.

DEAD IN HIS BERTH

PECULIAR CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUND CASE.

Deceased Was Formerly a Prominent Citizen of Hopkinsville.

Mr. E. L. Campbell, formerly of this city and a son of the late Enoch Campbell, for many years president of South Kentucky College and pastor of the Christian church here, was found dead in a Pullman car berth a few days ago.

A despatch from Piqua, O., gives the following details:

"The body of E. L. Campbell of San Francisco was taken from a Pullman train here. The body was discovered by the Pullman porter when the train was some distance from this city, but was not reported to the conductor until the arrival of the train at Piqua. The body was taken from the berth of the sleeping car and turned over to a local undertaker. Death had set in some hours before. The body was quite cold and rigor mortis had set in. In a valise were found cards, letters, papers and a will which established the identity of the owner, who was a fine appearing man. That sudden death was anticipated is evident from a perusal of the letters found in the valise. One, addressed to his wife, Mrs. Mary G. Campbell, at San Francisco, was written in the rooms of the National Liberal Club, Whitehall, London, England. In this letter, written January 8, 1908, the writer announces his purpose to sail for New York the following day on the Lusitania. He speaks of enclosing $1,000 in currency and $1,000 in drafts in a separate letter. He says that he is attending to the education of their two daughters, Jane and Beatrice. Toward the close of the letter he names his business partner, Jas. S. Spillman, his executor, and requests that his wife trust implicitly in his conclusion, speaking of his business, he says that he had been no settler between him and Spillman for years but he estimates himself to be worth about $300,000. The will, which is a latter date than the letter, divides his property equally between his wife and two daughters, one of which appears to be a step-daughter. Dr. L. E. Rick sent a telegram addressed to James S. Spillman and Mrs. Campbell. The absence of any amount of money and of a watch and jewelry on the person of the dead man has been viewed with suspicion on the part of Coroner Rick. The man was apparently in affluent circumstances yet only $3 in change was found in his valise. The neglect of the porter to inform the conductor of the man's death, until the train reached this city, although he had known it for sometime before, causes the eyes of suspicion to turn in his direction, and this feature in connection with Campbell's death is being investigated."

Mr. Campbell was a native of Kentucky, fifty years of age. He was educated in Europe and took a degree of medicine there. He then studied law and settled in Denver, becoming the partner of C. S. Thomas and Thomas L. Patterson, and was once a candidate for governor of Colorado on the Democratic ticket. He went to Colorado in 1885 and built up a lucrative practice in the years that followed. Not long ago he went east on law business and was to have been in Minneapolis next Monday to take depositions in an Alaska mining case.

A Sure Thing.
It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes. But that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all throat and lung troubles. Thousands can testify to this. Mrs. C. B. Van Metre, of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says, "I had a severe case of bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It is infallible for cough, whooping cough, grip, pneumonia and consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by L. L. Elgin and C. K. Wyly, druggists. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes 50c and $1.

REV. DR. W. L. NOURSE TO RESIGN AS PASTOR OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

ONE OF HOPKINSVILLE'S BEST CITIZENS.
LIVED HERE 17 YEARS.

Able and Courageous Minister and Important Factor in City's Development.

The Rev. Wallace Logan Nourse, D. D., announced from his pulpit Sunday his intention to resign as pastor of the Ninth street Presbyterian church. In conformity with the laws of the denomination he will call a special meeting of the church on Sunday the 14th inst. to consider his resignation. Dr. Nourse has been pastor of the church seventeen years, and during all that time has been one of Hopkinsville's most widely useful citizens. His splendid ability and his ardent devotion to the interests of the city have attracted the admiration of all the people and have given him a constituency far beyond the lines of his denomination. No minister is exerting more salutary influence in the community, and if he concludes to accept a call to another church his departure would cause universal and profound regret. Dr. Nourse is a man whom any people might well delight to honor.

Sunday Dr. Nourse's discourse was in the nature of a farewell to his church, his text being Ephesians 1:16-20. He said in part: "The relationship between pastor and church is peculiarly close and dear. Next to one's own family to the pastor the people should be close. He is the bishop and the teacher, the under shepherd. He and the people come in at the same door and find a community of interest as the chief shepherd goes in and out before them. The relationship is for the edification of the church. No one but a pastor can conceive of the solemn responsibility which is attached to his office. Therefore the solemn charge to

Jim Dumps had scarcely slept a wink. All night he'd toss about and think. But that's all past—he's here! He's found a cure! It's "Force." At night, when lights are dim, it soothes the nerves of "Sunny Jim."

ANOTHER ARREST IS MADE IN THE BIG POSTOFFICE SCANDAL.

Superintendent of Free Delivery Machen Is Charged With Receiving Bribes of $22,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28.—(Special.)—Augustus W. Machen, general superintendent of the rural free delivery service, was arrested yesterday on a charge of bribery in connection with commissions received from contracts made with a firm for a patent postal box fastener. The amount specifically charged in the warrant is $18,981.78, though it is said the total sum involved is $22,000. He was summarily dismissed from office by Postmaster General Payne, having been suspended a few days before. Diller B. and Samuel A. Groff were also arrested on the charge of bribing Machen.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 28.—News was received here today that in a recent earthquake two thousand people were killed in the town of Malazgirt.

DEATH'S HARVEST.
Mrs. Carrie King Doyle Dies in Virginia.
(From Thursday's Daily.)
A despatch was received today announcing the death of Mrs. Carrie King Doyle at her home in Danville, Va. The end came at 1 o'clock this morning. The deceased was a daughter of Squire M. B. King, of Church Hill, and was a lovely young woman, the news of whose death will shock and sadden a large circle of friends. She was married last October to Mr. A. H. Doyle, a prominent young business man of Danville.

Rosella, the bright and attractive eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Boyd, died this morning of diarrhoea. The body will be taken to the Boyd burying ground near Kelly tomorrow morning for interment.

D. M. Boone, one of the best known carpenters in Clarksville, died yesterday. It is believed, from accidental poisoning. He drank from a bottle which he believed contained wine. After swallowing the liquid he felt himself growing weak and faint, and, lying down, called to his wife and told her he believed he had been poisoned, requesting her to call a physician. He expired, however, in a few minutes. Mr. Boone has been a resident of Clarksville eighteen years, coming from Pittsfield, Ill. He is survived by a wife and three daughters.

MANY SHOTS FIRED
JACKSON, Ky., May 28.—Last night was a very night of horror in this place.
The people of the town were in a panic and the troops were in a state of excitement.
An attack was made on the Breckitt county jail in which Curtis Jett and Tom White, the alleged assassins of James B. Marcus, are confined.

There were over a hundred people in the mob.
The soldiers repulsed the attack.
The jail was heavily guarded, as Col. Williams, who is in charge of the troops, has been uneasy over the quietness which he looked upon as the calm preceding a storm. He has requested additional troops.

The Hotchkiss gun reached Jackson last night from Louisville. Hundreds of shots were fired during the night.

It is not known whether the attack on the jail was for the purpose of releasing or lynching Jett and White.

ITEMS FROM AN OLD CONTRIBUTOR.

He Philosophizes Entertainingly About People and Things.

Tabernacle, Ky., May, '08.
I am informed that forty years ago this section of Todd county had a bad name fastened on it by rough men who had no respect for the law of the land or society. The people, as a general, lived at home and boarded at the same place. In those days looms, spinning and flax wheels, soap hooks, hemp spikes, candle moulds, flint-lock muskets and rifles, bone knives and homespun clothing and brogan shoes were the order of the day. Neighborhood distilleries were plentiful and the juice of the forbidden fruit was sold at a price all could buy. The people were independent and did as they pleased. It was a free country without restriction or law. Doctors were few and they procured their medicine in the woods. Mr. Jim Winders, of All-green, informs me that he used to buy green ginseng by the sackful at ten cents per pound, whisky and brandy sold from fifteen to twenty cents per gallon. The men would fight and shoot and make friends when the battle was over. The women carried raggers in their stockings and would use them dextrously when occasion required. Local preachers and old field teachers instructed them in their plain unassuming way and the English language was butchered in such a way that nobody was killed. The old "blue-back" speller was the principle text book, and when that was mastered their education was complete.

The writer has a fine chased metal button manufactured in England, that Jesse Russell wore when he came to Elkton from old Virginia. He was the man who came near owning our beautiful and flourishing county seat.

When in Fairview a few days ago I had an interesting conversation with Editor Brewer and Dr. E. S. Shuart; said "cocktail" sparkled with wit, repartee and historical reminiscences and poetical quotations.

Old Tabernacle church built eighty years ago is now owned by Nick Latham and is used as a cow house. It was moved from its original site some forty years ago by W. S. Wyatt, who at that time owned the Nick Latham farm. The present house of worship, surrounded by a graveyard, was built through the instrumentality of Rev. Davidson, a composer of Alexander Fraser, Zachariah Taylor and other Methodist divines associated with Parson Salmon, Rudd, Moore, Barrow and other local preachers of various denominations. Uncle Matt Stokes, as he is commonly called, has related to the writer many amusing anecdotes about old Tabernacle and the old people who worshipped there. Aunt Sally Higon (commonly called Gibson) was an enthusiastic member of the church, and when a revival was about to be launched she and other members who were as enthusiastic as herself would raise the shout, Bro. Barrow would say to the visiting preachers, "now she begins to grind." Those simple, rustic, illiterate people worshipped their maker according to the way they were taught, and were honest in their convictions. The great majority of them are taking their rest repose on the spot where they sang the good old hymns and prayed to the father of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Let them rest in peace and in the beautiful language of that immortal poem Gray was seven years in composting.

Here rests his head upon the lap of earth.
A youth to fortune and to fame unknown:
Fair science frowned not at his birth
And melancholy marked him for her own.
I am proud to say that Tabernacle of today is quite different from what it was forty years ago. The people generally are hospitable and kind and much attention is paid to improved farming and education. There are numbers of children, if they had the opportunity of the favored few, would make their mark in the world but, alas, they must be contented with what is given them and do the best they can. There are thousands of dollars expended in Kentucky for educational purposes that is thrown away and uselessly consumed. Instead of five-month schools the term should be increased to eight or ten months and if the public money is not sufficient, the people should cheerfully submit to an additional tax, levied by district schools. Yerscribe has no property and like Lehabod Crane of "Sleepy Hollow" notoriety, he can put all his earthly possessions in a red cotton handkerchief.

I am an advocate of better road, no fence law, higher education and everything to make the people more intelligent and happy.

A few years ago a poor but honest man, who contracted for a yoke of oxen on a credit, got out of provender for his beasts of burden. He cut a load of stave wood, expecting to sell it for cash and thereby procure provender. Failing to get cash, he sold the wood on a credit. He returned home, deliberately shouldered his old straw tick and divided the contents between his oxen, and slept on the floor. If there had been a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals in Todd county I would have suggested an imperishable monument for this kind deed.

Another act of charity I will mention and will close this lengthy scribble.
Not many months ago an infant was born in a hotel and the little helpless thing lay beneath a ragged quilt exposed to the inclemency of a cold November day. Two poor women, one a widow, collected from their scanty apparel sufficient material to make the child a change of clothes and walked several miles to fulfill the mission. The wants of the distressed were relieved and I imagine the angels in heaven shed tears of joy as they witnessed this act of charity. Charity suffereth long and is kind. Without charity we are as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal. Faith hope and charity are the greatest of these is charity.

God help us to do good and scatter sunshine and this old, uncomfortable earth will become a paradise.

Mr. James B. Quarles, of this city, and Miss Addie Ophelia Higer, of Sinking Fork, were married Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride. The Rev. H. D. Smith officiated and a large company of the friends of the happy couple attended the nuptials. The attendants were Misses Nona Higer and Lillian Owen, of Sinking Fork, and Messrs. Claude Morris and Raulie Denton, of this city. The bride is a lovely and accomplished young lady and is a sister of Mr. Theodore Higer, the well known farmer and merchant. The groom is a popular and worthy young gentleman. He is a son of Mrs. A. M. Quarles, and for several years has been a valued employee of The Kentucky New Era.

Caution!
This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1885 for the cure and treatment of consumption and throat and lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boscche's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the night and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists. C. K. Wily.

MILL HANDS QUIT WORK, DEMANDING BETTER WAGES.
The hands at Trout's saw mill struck for higher wages, says the Fairview Review. They had been getting from $30 to $1 and boarding themselves. They want from $1 to $1.50 per day. We are informed that as soon as Mr. Trout comes from his home in Elkton, where he is confined on account of the serious illness of his wife and daughter, that he will accede to their demands and put them to work. In the meantime the mill is idle.

(Special to New Era.)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 27.—One Democratic faction held a primary yesterday despite the ruling of the State central committee postponing the election to a latter date and nominated candidates for judges of the various divisions, clerk, commonwealth's attorney, state senator and eight representatives. The legality of the primary will likely be settled in the courts. The other primary will be held July 30.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A remedy for catarrh which is drying or exciting to the diseased membrane should not be used. Cream Balm is recognized as a specific. Price 50c at druggists or by mail. A cold in the head immediately disappears when Cream Balm is used. Ely Brothers, 26 Warren St., New York.

Don't Forget,--This Great Sale Begins Monday June 1st, 1903.

LIKE FINDING MONEY
L. L. Elgin Offers Medicine at Half Price.
L. L. Elgin is making an offer that is just like finding money, for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser when the specific does not cure. It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty-cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently through the solicitation of Druggist Elgin that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable. Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, speaks before the eyes, or any liver trouble should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure, but in case it does not he will return your money. The specific is very pleasant to take, coming in the form of small granules and there are sixty doses in every package. It is especially convenient when traveling and no one should start on a journey without a bottle of this reliable medicine. (M21-5-9 w29)

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.
Closing Exercises Will Take Place Next Week.
Sunday morning, May 31, 11 o'clock, baccalaureate sermon at Christian church by Rev. H. D. Smith.
Wednesday evening, June 3, 8 o'clock, address at tabernacle by Rev. T. M. Hawes, of Louisville, Ky.
Mr. Hawes is a delightful and an entertaining speaker and no one can afford to miss hearing him.
The commencement exercises this year are a departure from the usual custom in this section, yet they are in keeping with the commencement of city schools in the rank of Hopkinsville.
The purpose is to give that sort of work that will result in the most good to those interested.

OUT ON BOND.
F. B. Hancock, of Casey, Cives $1,000 Bail.

The Owensboro Messenger says: "F. B. Hancock, of Casey, Christian county, was brought to the city yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal McDonald, of Russellville, charged with using the mails to defraud. He was indicted at the last term of federal court. He was released on a $1,000 bond with Lawson Reno as his surety.
"Hancock is charged with having sent an order for a barrel of flour to W. A. Burkhardt, a miller. On the latter head used was printed Hancock's advertisement as a commission merchant. The flour was delivered and he used it for his own private consumption."
