A COUGHS

CONCOURSE

When is a cough more than a cough? When it's a settled cold. It's a settled cold. Then it's on its way to be over. Cough mixtures won't cure it, but they are nearly a cure for a settled cold. This is something new. Scott's Emulsion cures the cough because it stops something. It heals and repairs the inflamed tissues where the cold has taken root and prevents its coming back.

Plate Glass in Show Window of Moore's Store Smashed With Gas Pipe and Large Lot of Clothing Taken.

One of the most daring robberies ever committed is in this city Saturday morning. Shortly after midnight a group of men, seven in number, entered the front door of the Moore's store and, with a club footed pipe and some dozen other articles of破斥, the three men jolled the plate glass windows of the store. The men then pulled a guest of guards and into the window. The lads took $5,000 in cash and a large collection of cloth.

Saved From Terrible Death

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt of Hopkinsville, Ky., were powerless to prevent the death of their father, James A. Bobbitt, termite, who was found on the tracks of the Southern Railway Bridge last night at 11:30 for the west collided head-on shortly after one o'clock today at Willard, Kans., with a speeding freight train. The train was traveling northbound. Both trains were derailed. The collision caused the death of the engineer, who was killed instantly. Two other young men who were riding on the freight train were badly injured. One of the young men's injuries were attended with the unfortunate young man, all the others were thrown violently across the tracks and were crushed to death. The other young man was badly injured. No further information is available at this time.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The Happy Valley, Me., July 28, 1878.—Dr. C. J. Lord, my dear Sir: Justice to you demands that I should give you a full and complete account of the case of Mrs.-----

Covered with a care and tenderness by which she was surrounded in her last hours, the body was buried in the Presbyterian churchyard. It is the order of her friends and relatives that the body be removed to the family vault in San Diego, where it will be interred with all the rights of a faithful and devoted wife.

Wednesday evening, July 28th, Mrs.----- passed away at her home in San Diego, Cal. She had been in failing health for some time, and her death was unexpected. She was a kind and affectionate wife, and will be missed by her family and friends.

Wheaton, Ky., August 10.

Thomas Hays was the brother of the deceased, and will find in the following his father's note:

"Dear Son:"

"I was a Christian and a member of the Presbyterian church. I was a genial gentleman, affable in manner, who knew Mr. Hays well held him in high esteem. He was a veteran of the war, and his death is a loss to the community."

Edward Simmon, after telling his wife his purpose, committed suicide. He was a man of fine appearance, and was loved by all. His death is a great loss to his family and friends.

I spent annually. No Christian disciple ever accomplished for Christ by doing among the Sunday schools of our own children. Perhaps you do not know the reason the young people? Simply enough. He is a man who comes into a large city. He has no friends. Through an old acquaintance, Manet became a changed man. He not only turned his back upon his whole old way of living, but went out into the world and sought to spend his life nobly struggling for life. It was well when the younger generation of this noted French artist made his first fame as a portrait painter. But even then was he not a little discontented with the way his life was going. He was a great artist, but the great storms of the world were raging around him. He had a great deal of money and ornament, but he was not content. He longed to be a world's Saviour. It was well when the younger generation of this noted French artist made his first fame as a portrait painter. But even then was he not a little discontented with the way his life was going. He was a great artist, but the great storms of the world were raging around him. He had a great deal of money and ornament, but he was not content. He longed to be a world's Saviour. That is the reason the young people? Simply enough. He is a man who comes into a large city. He has no friends. Through an old acquaintance, Manet became a changed man. He not only turned his back upon his whole old way of living, but went out into the world and sought to spend his life nobly struggling for life.
