ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

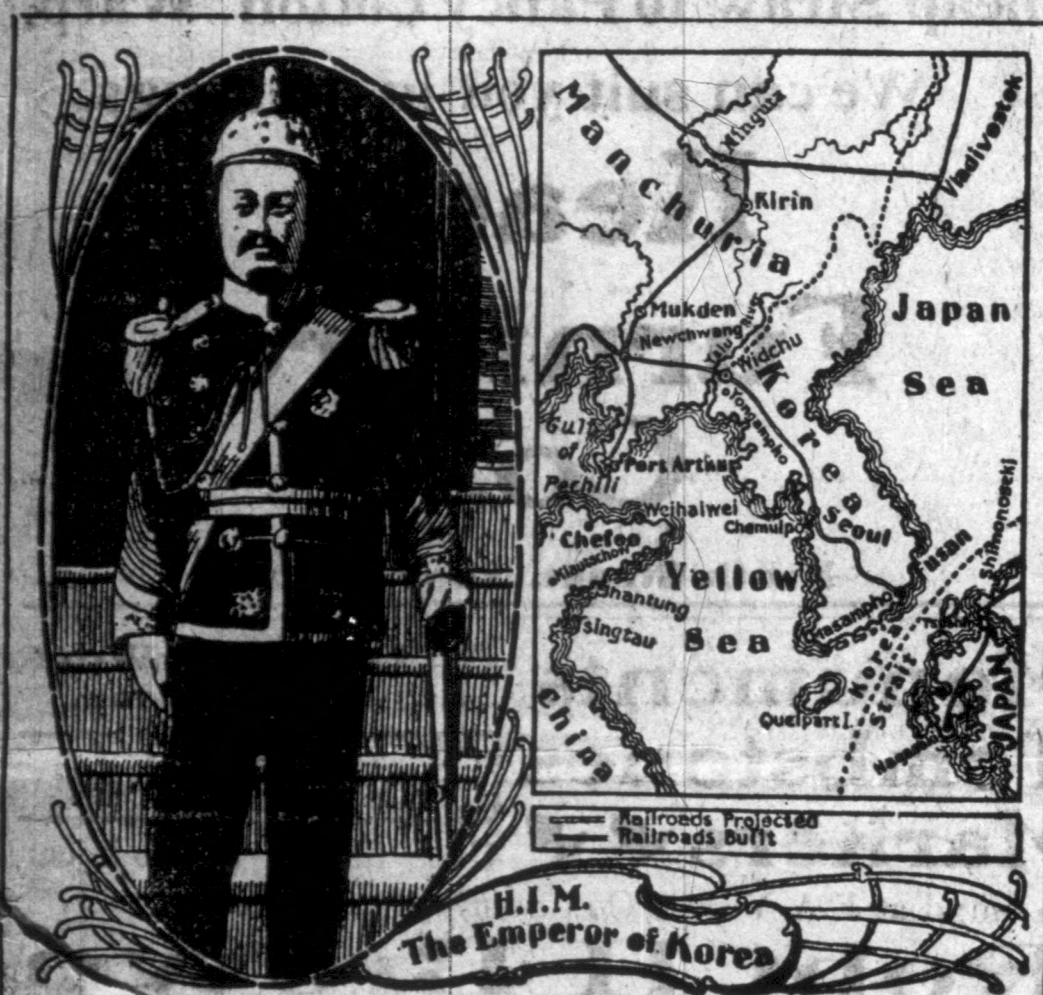

HOLKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY KENTUCKY FRIDAY FEBRUARY 17, 1904

VOLUME XXXIV, NO. 18

JAPS AND SLAVS ARE NOW AT WAR

Midnight Naval Battle Fought at Port Arthur and Three Russian Warships Were Injured While
Their Antagonists Escaped Undamaged.

MOVEMENTS MADE BY BOTH SIDES UP TO DATE

THE KOREAN EMPEROR, OVER WHOSE COUNTRY JAPAN AND RUSSIA ARE AT ODDS.
Yi Huiung is 51 years of age. He became king of Korea in 1894 and was proclaimed emperor in 1897. His most notable achievement was his success in winning an American wife. The map shows some of the Korean, Japanese and Chinese-Russian ports near which most of the fighting is likely to occur.

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 9.—(Cablegram.)—Japanese torpedo boats attacked the Russian fleet here about midnight on February 8.

Three of the Russian ships were badly damaged.

The Japanese thus scored the first success of the war and escaped undamaged.

NOTE.—Port Arthur is a Chinese arsenal and naval station near the extremity of the Liau-tung peninsula in the province of Shing-King. It was captured by the Japanese on November 24, 1894. It was leased to Russia in 1898.

ONE CRUISER WAS SUNK AND TWO DAMAGED.

(Cablegram.)
PARIS, Feb. 9.—It is announced at the French foreign office this afternoon that the Russian cruiser Pallada was sunk in the torpedo attack made last night by the Japanese on the Russian fleet off Port Arthur. The injuries sustained by the Retvisan and the Czarovitch are not yet known as to their extent as examination of their bottoms are not completed. It is reported that the cable from Vladivostok has been cut.

HAY ASKS POWERS TO JOIN IN NOTICE.

(Special to New Era.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Secretary of State Hay asks the European powers if they are willing to join in a notice to Russia and Japan to maintain the integrity of China.

TRANSPORTS OVERTAKEN AND CAPTURED.

(Cablegram.)
LONDON, Feb. 10.—Despatches from Tokio say that it is reported that three transports loaded with troops were overtaken and captured by a Japanese fleet yesterday evening off the Korean coast where they were about to land. The transports contained several thousand men, who are now prisoners of war.

HARD FIGHT THAT LASTED FOUR HOURS.

(Cablegram.)
TOKIO, Feb. 10.—A report has been received here that on yesterday evening a naval fight took place just off the harbor of Chemulpo, between a portion of a Japanese fleet and two Russian vessels. The fight is reported to have lasted four hours and to have been very desperate.

The Russian cruiser Variaz was set on fire and finally disabled and the other vessel, the gunboat Korietz was sunk.

The Japanese vessels were conveying troop transports when they were set upon by the Russians.

WAR SITUATION AS TOLD IN LATE NEWS TO PRESS.

(Special to New Era.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 9.—War between Japan and Russia has actually begun. A naval battle at Port Arthur occurred last midnight. Both sides claim victory. The Japanese have seized Russian trading vessels near Chemulpo.

Great Activity.
Russian cavalry has been sent from Mukden to Corea. The British navy has been mobilized. Desperate efforts by France to avert the war through arbitration have failed. England is bound by treaty to stand by Japan in case of interference from a third power. France is likewise to stand by Russia.

Great activity prevails in naval and military circles in both France and England. Both countries, against their will, may be dragged into the fight.

Corean Treaty.
Our country seems to be out of it and we have officially announced our intention of remaining neutral, but a treaty exists between this country and Corea—a treaty dating back to 1882, negotiated by one of our admirals. That treaty compels us to help Corea to keep off foreign aggression, so that we may also find ourselves mixed up in this war blaze in the Far East.

Officially Declared.
Japan's minister in London has officially declared that a state of war exists.

The ministers of Japan and Russia have been recalled respectively from St. Petersburg and Tokio.

Russia has a large fleet just outside of Port Arthur and another at Vladivostok.

Japan has a supposedly larger one off Wei-Hai-Wei, about 100 miles from Port Arthur.

Russia is said to have concentrated a large force of troops on the Yalu river, the boundary between Manchuria and Corea, ready to begin an invading march to Seoul.

Japan is supposed to have even a larger force in the neighborhood of Seoul, and controls the Seoul-Pusan railway.

A RUSSIAN VICTORY.

(Cablegram.)
PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 11.—The Japanese attempted several times to land troops today at different points in the bay under a cover of heavy firing from the ships. It is officially announced that the landing party was beaten off by the Russians. It is believed, however, that troops were landed by the Japanese on the outer side of the bay.

TO SAVE CHINA.

(Special to New Era.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—Secretary Hay last night addressed notes to Russia and Japan inviting their co-operation in the movement started by the United States to preserve the integrity of China by the observance of the neutrality of that nation in localizing the field of war. Secretary Hay yesterday received enough favorable replies from the European Powers to warrant this action. No reference is made to Korea. An American warship will no doubt be sent to Chemulpo to maintain communication with the American minister at Seoul. The American declaration of neutrality will be made tomorrow.

WAR SITUATION.

(Cablegram.)
LONDON, Feb. 11.—Dispatches received here today confirm the report of the destruction by the Japanese of the Russian cruisers Variaz and Korietz at Chemulpo. The rumored capture of three Russian transports off the Korean coast is also confirmed, with the additional news of the capture of four whaling vessels. The captured vessels have been taken to Sasebo. According to official advices received by Baron Hayashi at London only four battalions of Japanese troops have been landed at Chemulpo. Russia is mobilizing her land forces.

P. A. Watkins has returned from Owensboro, where he was called by the death of his father.

What Mr. W. H. Sweeney, of Kirkmanville, Ky., has to say about

Hardwick's Stock Medicine

I used one pound of Hardwick's Stock Medicine on two head of stock—one a mule that was in a very bad shape, and I had tried several things and failed to do her any good. After using about one fourth of a box of Hardwick's Remedy she was entirely cured. It brought worms from both and they are now cured. I never saw stock pick up and fatten so fast as they did after using Hardwick's Remedy.

NEW JAIL FOR THIS COUNTY.

Fiscal Court Appoints Committee.—Modern
Prison to Cost About $10,000
Will Be Erected.

County Judge W. T. Fowler, County Attorney Otho Anderson, Squires W. T. Williamson and S. G. Buckner were appointed as a committee by the called session of fiscal court for the purpose of examining plans and specifications for a new county jail for Christian county. The committee will report at a special session of the fiscal court, to be called at the discretion of the county judge. The committee will visit a number of neighboring cities having the best jails and will examine them with the view of selecting the best features from each and combining them in the jail to be built here. The committee will also examine into and report on the question of a location for the prison, and it is possible that the new building will not be located where the present one now stands. The new jail will probably cost $10,000.

A new jail is one of the crying needs of this county, the present one not only being entirely too small but it is also unsanitary and antiquated.

ONE OF DR. CUPID'S PRESCRIPTIONS.

That Love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has recently been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician and college professor. In some nervous diseases of women, such as hysteria, this physician gives instances where women were put in a pleasant frame of mind, were made happy by falling in love, and in consequence were cured of their nervous troubles—the weak nervous system, fainted and stimulated by little Dr. Cupid—became strong and vigorous, almost without their knowledge. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out, for no reason that she can think of. She may be ever so much in love, but Dr. Cupid fails to cure her. In ninety-nine per cent of these cases it is the womanly organs which require attention; the weak back, dizzy spells and black circles about the eyes, are only symptoms. Go to the source of the trouble and correct the irregularities, the drains on the womanly system and the other symptoms disappear. So sure of it is the World's Dispensary Medical Association, proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they offer a $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of leucorrhea, female weakness, prostration, or falling of the womb. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath, they cleanse and regulate the stomach, liver and bowels and produce permanent benefit and do not react on the system. One is a gentle laxative.

"The Common Sense Medical Adviser" is sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address, World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N.Y.

BLAMES THE TRUST

STANLEY CHARGES IT CAUSES SUFFERING.

American and Imperial Companies Crushing Life Out Tobacco Growers.

"The tobacco tenants of Henderson county are in rags, and the majority of them will make only $50 or $60 on which to subsist through the hard winter which is prevailing over the state."

This statement was made by congressman A. O. Stanley, of the Second congressional district, who was at his home in Henderson for several days, after attending the convention of the tobacco growers in Guthrie. He says that the American Tobacco company on this side of the ocean, and the Imperial Tobacco company in Europe are crushing the life out of the Kentucky dark tobacco growers and have completely paralyzed the market in Henderson by the pitiless war which they are waging for absolute supremacy.

Mr. Stanley said further that many of the farmers can realize so little for their crop that they are selling it for $20 a ton to be used for making an extract which is used abroad for flavoring the mild European weed. He continued:

"The places which are known as 'sheep washes,' which in reality manufacture an extract for flavoring the mild varieties of tobacco grown in Germany have formerly used the stems for making the extract. This year the straight market is so low that the farmers cannot afford to strip their crop, but are selling it to these 'sheep washes' which are using the whole leaf for their purpose. Few of the tobacco tenants will realize more than $50 on their five acres of land, and that is all they will have to live on for the rest of the year. The people are desperate, and are demanding relief from the oppression under which they are groaning. I have introduced several bills in congress, and a committee of growers will attend the meeting of the ways and means committee on February 4 to ask for relief for the farmer."

Escaped an Awful Fate.

Mr. H. Higgins, of Melbourne, Fla., writes: "My doctor told me I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe it all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung disease by L. L. Elgin and Cook & Higgins, druggists. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

"No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." RULES LAID DOWN

GOVERNING THE RURAL ROUTE CARRIERS.

Eligibility of Carriers Defined in Civil Service Regulations.

Copies of the first civil service rules laid down by the commissioners to govern the examination of applicants for the positions of rural free delivery have been received by Postmaster Breathitt.

The rules are important inasmuch as they are the only ones laid down by the commission so far, and that they will govern all civil service examinations in the future. Two important requirements are that applicants must live in the territory supplied, and that they must be between the ages of seventeen and fifty-five years, unless honorably discharged sailors or soldiers.

In the future applicants for carrier will be examined by an official form from Washington instead of by a special agent of the postoffice department.

The new regulations provide that no one shall be eligible to take the examination for rural free delivery carrier.

First—who does not live within the territory supplied by this postoffice or to be supplied by it through the establishment of rural free delivery service already investigated by the postoffice department.

Second—who is not a citizen of the United States.

Third—who is under seventeen years of age, or over fifty-five years, except in cases of honorably discharged United States soldiers or sailors.

Fourth—who is not physically able to do the work. (This includes persons with one arm or one leg or who have to use crutches.)

Fifth—who uses to excess brandy, whisky, beer, wine or other intoxicating beverages.

Sixth—who makes a false statement in his application, or has been guilty of fraud or deceit in connection with his application or examination.

Seventh—who has been guilty of crime or disgraceful conduct.

Eighth—who has been dismissed from public service for neglect of duty or misconduct within one year from the date of his application.

Ninth—who's name is on a rural carrier's eligible roster.

A Cure For Eczema.

My baby had Eczema so bad that its head was a solid mass of scabs, and its hair all came out. I tried many remedies but none seemed to do any permanent good until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The Eczema is cured, the scabs are gone and the little one's scalp is perfectly clean and healthy, and its hair is growing beautifully again. I cannot give too much praise to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve—Frank Farmer, Buff City, Ky. In buying Witch Hazel Salve look out for counterfeits. DeWitt's is the original and the only one containing pure Witch Hazel. The name E. C. DeWitt & Co. is on every box. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

BOND FORFEITED

DR. R. GOLDSTEIN GETS INTO TROUBLE.

Under Indictment For Detaining a Woman in Adair County.

Dr. R. Goldstein, a Louisville optician who is known here, is in trouble, according to the Adair County News which says:

"About six months ago Dr. R. Goldstein, an optician of Louisville, came here for the purpose of practicing his profession. While here he was charged with reprehensible conduct, and at the circuit court following he was indicted for detaining a woman against her will. A short time after the true bill had been returned Dr. Goldstein was arrested at Glasgow on a bench warrant sent from the Adair circuit court. He gave bond in the sum of five hundred dollars for his appearance at the present term, last Thursday being the day set for his trial. The doctor arrived in due time and remained here until Wednesday night when he left, going in the direction of Greensburg. The case was called next day and the bond forfeited. Persons who conversed with Goldstein while here are satisfied that he did not realize the magnitude of his crime until a few hours before he took his departure. It is our understanding that the gentlemen of Glasgow, who are on his bond, are now trying to locate him. It is the general opinion here had he gone into trial he would have been given a term in the penitentiary."

TELEPHONE CHANGE

Cumberland to Take Charge of the Globe Line in Cadiz.

Mr. A. P. White, owner and proprietor of the Globe Telephone company, was in Hopkinsville Monday and Tuesday and closed a deal with the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Co., whereby they take charge of the Globe line.

Possession will be given the Cumberland people next Monday, Feb. 8th, and Mr. Will Collins, of Hopkinsville, will have charge of the business here as manager.

Mr. Collins comes highly recommended as a splendid gentleman, a fine business man, and a fine telephone man, having had a number of years experience in the business from messenger boy to manager, and knows the business from A to Z.

He will make a thorough canvass of the town and county, and expects to build up a fine exchange here in a short while.

They will remodel the entire system here and make all necessary changes to give the people a first-class telephone service. They will also have possession of the Globe lines running throughout the entire county.

The people of Cadiz will be glad to hear of this transfer, as it assures us a first-class system, the Cumberland system being one of the finest in the United States.—Cadiz Record.

Health

Means the ability to do a good day's work, without undue fatigue and to find life worth living. You can not have indigestion or constipation without its upsetting the liver and polluting the blood. Such a condition may be best and quickest obtained by Herbine, the best liver regulator the world has ever known. Mrs. D. W. Smith writes, April 3, 1902: "I use Herbine, and find it the best medicine for constipation and regulating the liver I ever used." Price 50 cents. Sold by Anderson & Fowler.

Mysterious Circumstance.

One was pale and sallow and the other fresh and rosy. Whence the difference? She who is blushing with health uses Dr. King's New Life Pills to maintain it. By gently arousing the lazy organs they compel good digestion and head off constipation. Try them. Only 25¢ at L. L. Elgin's and Higgins & Cook's drug stores.

Brain-Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aid digestion, stimulate the liver to healthy action, purify the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. Price 25¢ and 75¢.

PARTS OF CARTER, ELLIOTT AND LEWIS.

Fifteenth To Be Named In Honor of a Chief Executive.

Gov. Beckham is the thirty-fourth chief executive of Kentucky and the fifteenth to be honored in naming the counties and thereby given a monument in the commonwealth.

The county of Beckham is to be formed from parts of the counties of Carter, Elliott and Lewis, lying along the northeastern borders of the state. It has a territory of 408 square miles, and a population of about 13,000 people. The largest portion of its territory is to be taken from the county of Carter, which under the census of 1900 had a population of 20,228. The new county draws about 1,200 people from the county of Lewis and about 600 from the county of Elliott. Politically the new county is Republican, but its formation makes the county of Carter, always heretofore Republican, safely Democratic. Its county seat is Olive Hill, which has a population of about 900 people, and, which, before its formation, was within the limits of Carter county, though not the county seat. The reasons for the formation of the new county are set forth in the law creating it, in these words: "Inasmuch as the people living in the territory comprised by Beckham county live very remote from the county seats of their former counties and are compelled to travel long, tedious and expensive journeys thereto, and as the expense of litigation and other public duties and privileges is very heavy, an emergency does exist, and therefore this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the governor."

Over-Work Wakens You Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.
All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidneys. Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

HOPKINSVILLE AND EVANSVILLE CONSOLIDATED ALPINE GOLD AND SILVER MINING COMPANY STOCKHOLDERS INSPECTING THE PROPERTY OF THE COMPANY.

ONE of the most satisfactory items of mining news in the past month has been the splendid showing made by the Alpine mill, says The Idaho Springs (Col.) Mining Gazette. The results have proven very pleasing to mine and mill men, not even excepting the stockholders in the big Alpine mining and milling proposition.

When the Alpine company several months ago purchased the Smith mill and announced that it would be at once enlarged and remodeled and the latest and best machinery installed, the news was gladly received by the many operators of the district. The milling capacity here is notoriously inadequate to the demands and the proposed new mill would in a measure alleviate the trouble. The work of remodeling progressed with more than usual speed and the mill was completed and accepted by the company in October last. Since then it has been in continuous operation, and already the management is considering the advisability of increasing the capacity to 300 tons per day.

The Alpine mill is the only one in the dark district having a complete sampling plant in connection, so that the values in the crude ore may be ascertained as it passes into the mill. It is an easy matter to learn the contents and the percentage of saving made on the ore. This mill is equipped with the largest size Blake crusher in the county, from which crushed ore goes into large reserve bins, from this it is fed automatically into the screens and jigs, of the latter there are three double and one single three compartment. After passing

THE ALPINE CONCENTRATOR.

over the jigs the pulp is taken to a battery of ten rapid-drop stamps and a Huntington mill of the largest size for regrounding the product; from this goes direct to five Wilfley tables and the slimes are handled by the Frue vanners; four of these are corrugated and two smooth belts. In addition to the hydraulic sizers and classifiers, there are two sixteen-foot settling tanks. This is the only mill in the camp using Frue vanners for the saving of values in the complex ores of the district.

It is the saving of mineral values that the mine and mill owners are most interested. The Alpine mill management claims it has since day it started made a better than 90 per cent. saving on all ores sent to it, and it is included some of the most refractory of the district. The results have been most gratifying surprise to interested parties and Manager Crow is assured that he will always have on hand plenty of custom ore to keep the mill running to its utmost capacity.

The mill is only a part of the holdings of the Consolidated Alpine Gold and Silver Mining Company in this district. The company owns the famous Alpine group of claims near the Lamartine mine on the Alps mountain, and in their preliminary work of developing the property have demonstrated that they are the fortunate possessors of one of the greatest propositions of the district.

The Consolidated Alpine is one of the safe and substantial companies operating here. The property was purchased two years ago by a syndicate of business men of Evansville, Indiana, who incorporated the company. The stock found a ready market both here and in the east and the company has done an immense amount of work, all of which should mean large dividends to the fortunate stockholders. Several months ago the company discontinued the sale of treasury stock. Since then and particularly since the remarkable showing of the Alpine mill, there has been a steady and continually increasing demand for it. The company has, however, adhered strictly to its determination to sell no more stock and there is none to be had except on the open market.

HOPKINSVILLE

BECOMING PROMINENT AS A STOCK MARKET.

Car Loads of Stock Shipped Each Week—Fancy Prices For Mules.

Few citizens of Hopkinsville are aware of the success already achieved by this city as a mule and horse market, notwithstanding the fact that the first sales stable was opened only last November. This stable was opened and has since been conducted by Messrs. Layne & Mosely and from the first the success of the venture was assured. The warehouse on Ninth street known as the Abernathy house, was rented by these gentlemen and remodeled to suit their needs. The interior being divided into large pens for the accommodation of stock. The first sale was held on the first Saturday in November and the crowds in attendance, of both buyers and those having stock for sale, has increased perceptibly each succeeding sales day. The stock is sold at auction under a positive guarantee to be as represented, on a commission basis, an extra charge being made for the care of the stock so long as it is in the stable. The last sale attracted such an enormous crowd that the pens were filled to their utmost capacity and the buyers and sellers were so numerous that they overflowed into the street. These sales, however, are the smallest part of the business. A corps of buyers is kept at the various markets throughout this entire section buying mules and horses and shipping them here. Buyers from other cities, principally from Memphis, New Orleans, Atlanta, Montgomery, Ala., and other southern towns are notified whenever a carload is on hand and a rush is immediately made for them. Since January first an average of five cars, each car containing from twenty-five to thirty head of stock, has been sold and more could have been disposed of could it have been procured.

So far the demand for mules has been better than for horses, but as spring opens the demand for horses will increase. The average price secured for a good horse or mule is from $100 to $150, although a pair of mules were sold this week for $400 and another pair last week for $350. Mr. Riley Ely, formerly of this city, but now engaged in stock dealing at Ita Bena, Miss., was the purchaser of a carload of mules this week.

The business of stock dealing is assuming amazing proportions over the entire country and there is no reason why Hopkinsville should not become one of the leading markets, enjoying as it does such unusual shipping facilities and also being so favorably located.

BILLS DISPOSED OF.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 10.—After a little sparring the house passed the Appellate Court Redistricting bill, which makes six of the seven districts in the state solidly Democratic. The house also passed the Senate bill re-establishing the state geological survey. Among the bills introduced in the house was one amending the Cantrill school book law so as to conform to the governor's idea of repealing the section which he thinks legalizes the present school book adoptions.

This afternoon Representative McDonald introduced a bill to provide a new governor's mansion to be erected by the time the new capitol is completed.

The house at this afternoon's session passed the bill providing for a dental examination board.

Rural Carriers' Holiday.

BRADLEY'S BILL

REQUIRING VOTERS IN VILLAGES TO REGISTER

The Author Claims That It Will Make Christian County Democratic

The Bradley registration certificate bill, which the author claims will make Christian a Democratic county, will shortly become a law. It was signed Monday by Speaker Brown.

It is similar to the bill that was passed in the last general assembly and was stolen from the desk of the clerk of the senate after it was ready to be sent to the governor. A closer watch is being kept on it this time. The bill requires the registration of voters in all cities and towns from the first to the sixth class inclusive, and requires the officers to issue to each registered voter a certificate of registration, which certificate must be presented to the officers of election at the polls before the vote can be cast.

The Republicans have opposed the bill because they are of the opinion that the Democrats are given an advantage in the purchase of votes by reason of the fact that it will be easier to purchase the certificates held by the negroes. The Republicans say that they will have to buy their negro voters twice; first buy the certificate in order to preserve it and keep it from the Democrats, and then buy the negro to come to the polls on election day and secure his certificate for the purpose of voting. The Democrats claim that the measure is meritorious because it will prevent the importation of negro voters from other states, as well as the voting of negro repeaters.

Representative Bradley, who is the author of the bill, is the member from Hopkins county, where negroes are so numerous that they often control the elections.

DAMAGES WANTED FROM TWO RAILROADS.

Negro Boy Wants $5,000 as Pay For a Leg Lost Last Month.

Dock Pryor, a negro boy, through W. W. Gray, colored, as his next friend, has filed a suit in the circuit court asking for $5,000 of the L. & N. railroad company's money as pay for the loss of a leg. He says that on the 7th day of last January, while he was crossing the L. & N. railroad track near the water tank in this city, he was about to be run down by a train and that in getting out of the way he stumbled and fell over a pile of ballast negligently placed there by the said railroad company's employees and that as a result the train ran over him and cut off one of his legs.

W. B. Wright has filed a suit against the Illinois Central Railway Company asking for $2,000 as pay for bruises, cuts and shocks received in the wreck of a passenger train on which he was traveling one day last month. He says that as the train approached Mercer station, in Muhlenberg county, it ran into a defective switch and as a result he was thrown violently against the seats and sides of the car and received several injuries for which he should be paid damages.

Fairleigh Leavell, colored, sues Keach & Co., furniture dealers in this city, for the return of a set of furniture valued at $71.50, and also for $50 damages. He states that he had purchased the furniture from Keach & Co., and that they afterwards illegally and unjustly took it from him and that he wants it back and also wants $50 to pay for the injury done him by taking said furniture from him.

Fiscal Court.

(From Wednesday's Daily) The Christian county fiscal court met this morning in special called session for the purpose of receiving and passing upon plans for a new county jail. Before adjourning a committee will be appointed to receive bids and award contracts for the work.

Coming Back.

Hopkinsville and Christian county stock owners will be glad to learn that Dr. R. L. Bradley, the well-known and capable veterinary surgeon who resided here some years ago, will return to the city and open an office on March 10. His headquarters will be at Curtis Skerritt's livery stable on East Ninth street, near L. & N. passenger station, where he'll be glad to meet all his old friends and customers.

GETTING IN SHAPE

FOR THE REGULAR PASSAGE OF TRAINS

World's Fair Business Will Be Fought For.—Telegraph Lines Are Up.

The Tennessee Central railroad is rapidly being put into shape for the regular and rapid passage of trains. Several cars of rock ballast have been received here which is now being placed on the track. The work of ballasting and otherwise improving the roadbed is being rushed with the end in view, it is supposed, of this road being a strong competitor in conjunction with the Illinois Central for the passenger service to the World's Fair at St. Louis. By coming here over the Tennessee Central, from here to Cairo via new I.C. short line where the passenger steps from one train to another and is immediately off again for St. Louis the route is attractive. The telegraph lines have been up along the road now for several weeks and the noisy clacking of their instruments is to be heard at all times in the local office.

THE GRIM REAPER

VISITS THE HOME OF MR. F. R. DRYER.

The Pure Spirit of Ross Dryer Passes Out Into the Great Beyond.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
After having been ill only slightly over two weeks, the pure spirit of Ross Dryer, as stainless as the spotless snow which covered the earth, gently left its earthly abode this morning at 8:10 o'clock and was wafted by angels to the land where no sorrow or pain is known.
While his death came as a shock, life had been despaired of since Sunday night. He suffered a severe attack of grip on Monday Jan. 25, which confined him to his bed until the latter part of the week. When he was able to sit up he insisted that he should be allowed to work on the books of Tandy & Stevens where he was employed as bookkeeper, and to satisfy him the books were carried to his room. This was on Monday, Feb. 1, and it is supposed that the work done at that time, on account of his condition then, produced an effusion of water, which settled at the base of his brain. The cavity of his condition was not fully realized until the entire left side of the body was paralyzed. He remained in this condition Sunday morning, when he never regained to any appreciable extent, the end coming this morning in the easiest manner possible, his breathing gradually less and less until it stopped.

altogether. He rallied somewhat yesterday morning but the improvement was only temporary.

The entire family, who are at home, consisting of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Dryer, and Misses Carrie, Bernice and Helen Dryer are almost prostrated by his untimely death and the tears of a host of sincerely sorrowing friends mingle with theirs. Two other sisters, Mrs. Fred Gilbert and Miss Mabel Dryer will not be able to be here at the funeral, the former residing at Lanark, Ill., while the latter is teaching school in Honolulu.

The funeral services will be held at the residence on Clay street at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted by Rev. Francis Lee Goff of the First Presbyterian church, of which his family were members, assisted by Rev. George C. Abbott of the Episcopal church. Interment in Hopewell cemetery.

Win Diplomas.

At the examination held by county superintendent, Miss Katie McDaniel for diplomas certifying that the holders thereof had satisfactorily completed the common school course five of the seven persons who took the examination passed successfully. All of these were young ladies and were as follows: Mattie Sue Crenshaw, Rural Route No. 4; Alice Thornbury Anderson and Maude Alline Dawson, of Herndon; Sam Florence Newton, of Bennetts town and Orabel Belle Sybert, of Lafayette. The last two are colored. The spirit prompting those who have finished the common school course to try for these diplomas is a very commendable one and should be encouraged by the parents and teachers.

HOPEFUL SIGN

At Loose Tobacco Sale--
Better Prices.

At the regular weekly sale of loose tobacco held by R. M. Woodriddle & Co., Tuesday morning, more interest was manifested than has been shown so far this season. About 50,000 pounds was offered and the prices offered were at an advance over previous sales. Lugs ranged from 25 cents to 50 cents advance and leaf was several bids higher. The quality, however, was poor, most of the offerings being strictly low grade. From this it is hoped that when the good grades are offered that prices will be correspondingly higher.

Newspapers Consolidated.

The Todd County Democrat, at Trenton, has been sold to the Guthrie Graphic. The plant will be moved at once and the two papers consolidated.

SCHOOL BOOK BILL

The Cantrill school book bill has become a law without the approval of Gov. Beckham. The governor issued a statement in which he says there are many features of the measure that he could not endorse but he would not veto it because of its provision for a uniformity of text books and the cheapening of them. He thinks the present legislature should amend the law by striking out the provision which recognizes existing contracts with book companies, making the point that as it stands the law cannot become fully effective for two years.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—A subcommittee of the Committee on Ways and Means gave a hearing to tobacco growers interested in pending bills amendatory of the internal revenue laws so as to permit farmers to use their own product in such form as they desired.

Representative Stanley of the Second district, said the bills could not affect the revenue more than $2,000,000 annually at the very outside, and he thought it would not affect it at all.

Political Points Of Local Interest.

The president has appointed Maj. A. T. Wood, of Mt. Sterling, pension agent at Louisville. The president ignored the request of Dr. Hunter that no appointment be made until Judge Morrow had personally presented his case. The appointment of Maj. Wood is a Yerkes triumph.

John B. Brasher, of Madisonville, said at Eddyville yesterday that he would not be a candidate for congress to succeed the Hon. A. O. Stanley, in the Second district. Considerable speculation has been indulged in relative to his candidacy, but since his positive declaration not to enter the fight has been made it is probable that Mr. Stanley will have no opposition for the nomination.

Sunday School Lesson

Mark ii, 1-12; Golden text, Mark ii, 10 --- Commentary prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Lesson vii, 1st Quarter, Feb. 14.

(Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.)
The healing of the leper, which seems to follow in the order of events, the Sabbath day in Capernaum of last week's lesson, shows us the power of God over an utterly incurable disease, which in the Old Testament is very suggestive of sin in us. How mighty and wonderful were those five words of our Lord in answer to the leper's cry, "I will; be thou clean" (1, 41), and instantly he was clean. Just as long, and no longer, does it take to save a sinner. The leper's joy was so great that notwithstanding the Lord's command to say nothing to any man he so blazed abroad the matter that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places, and they came to Him from every quarter (1, 45). As soon as He returned to Capernaum and the people knew it they gathered in such numbers that they not only filled the house, but it was impossible to get near the door.

But only the sick need a physician, and only the lost need a Saviour, and these Pharisees and doctors were in their own estimation neither sick nor lost (Matt. ix, 12; Luke xix, 10), so they came and heard and saw and went away without the blessing that was to be had for the receiving. The rich He sent empty away (Luke i, 53). Yet Jesus preached the word unto them (verse 2), and it was the same word that cast out evil spirits, that healed the leper, that stilled the storm, that created the worlds, but it did these wise and learned people no good, for they did not receive it. The god of this world had blinded their minds (II Cor. iv, 4). There was another day when the people thronged Him, but one poor woman touched Him, but one poor man was healed (Mark v, 30, 31); others might have done so, but this one did.

While the self sufficient, self righteous, see in Him only one to criticize and condemn there is brought to Him a helpless one for whom and in whom His power can be manifest, for He giveth power to the faint and helps those who have no helper (Isa. xl, 29; xxxii, 12). He filleth the hungry with good things. The four friends who brought their palsied friend manifested a zeal and determination sure to accomplish their end if it be at all possible to be accomplished. Their thoughts seem to have been, and in that house is the Man who can help him if we can only get at Him, and we think we can, and we'll do it at once, for every moment is precious.

Let those who talk of coming to Jesus in a very proper and becoming way think of the method of these men and our Lord's approval. The people gathered in the house, three Pharisees and doctors, saw a most unseemly thing when the roof was broken up over their heads and a helpless man was lowered into their midst. Perhaps never before nor since did a man come to Christ after that fashion. The one thing that Jesus saw was their faith, the one thing that pleases Him most, for without faith it is impossible to please Him (Heb. xi, 6). Contrast the "Great Faith" and the "Little Faith" of Matt. viii, 10; xv, 28; viii, 26; xvi, 8. Probably all were surprised when our Lord said, "Son, thy sins be forgiven thee," for he had been brought for healing of the body. Yet the Lord read the heart, and it may be that He saw before Him one who was more troubled about his soul than his body. He at least saw, as He always sees, that the healing of the soul is the most important, for if only we are truly saved a perfect body is assured us in due time (Phil. iii, 20, 21).

There are many texts which assure us of the forgiveness of sins. Those which help me most are I John ii, 12; Isa. xlii, 25. Do not fail to observe the Lord's "Be of good cheer" (Matt. ix, 2, 22), and let Him make us such a "good cheer" people that He shall be glorified in us. It may be that the man was much terrified by his manner of approach to Christ and our Lord graciously quieted him at once, as when He appeared in the midst on the first resurrection evening and said, "Peace be unto you." For a speaker to know that in the minds of his hearers there is unjust and cruel criticism would be very upsetting to most people, perhaps to all but to our Lord Himself, but our Lord lived before His Father rather than before the religious leaders of the day.

Had these Pharisees and doctors been teachable they might have said, Here is One who forgives sins and heals the sick and is quite undisturbed by this unheard of proceeding. He must be our expected Messiah. But, as we said before, they were blinded by unbelieving criticism, just as many are today. Turning again to the sick man, see him now carrying that which had carried him, all sins forgiven and his body healed, going forth before them all a living evidence of the grace and the power of the Son of Man.

No wonder that they glorified God saying, We never saw it in this fashion. What a praise meeting the man and his friends must have had! Where is the faith of these four seen now? How much of it is there in you? Is it me? Where is the faith that takes a denial, that says, like Jacob, "I will not let thee go except thou bless me"? Let us not look around and criticize others, but ask the Lord to search us according to Ps. cxxxix, 23, 24, and bring us into such manifest union with Himself that His power may be seen in us.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev.
FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D.,
Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7.—At the time when the whole nation is honoring the memory of Lincoln this anniversary sermon sheds a new and interesting light upon the character of the statesman-president. The text is James
v, 8, "Be ye also patient."

"What was the most powerful address you ever heard?" I once asked my father in one of our conversations
when journeying about the world.
"Well," he replied, "I have listened to nearly all the great American orators of my time. I have been personally acquainted with most of them and have spoken from the same platform with many of them. But without any doubt the greatest address I ever heard—if it is to be judged by its electric and overwhelming instantaneous effect—
was that delivered by Henry W. Grady of Georgia in 1886 at the annual banquet of the New England society. I had just finished a speech on 'The Coming American' when Mr. Grady arose.
After a few introductory remarks he said: 'My friends, Dr. Talmage has told you that the typical American has got to come. Let me tell you that he has already come. Great types, like valuable plants, are slow to flower and fruit. But from the union of these colonists, Puritans and Cavaliers, from the strengthening of their purposes
and the crossing of their blood, slow perfecting, through a century, came
the man who stands as the first typical American, the first who comprehended within himself all the strength and gentleness, all the majesty and grace,
of this republic—Abraham Lincoln.'"
These words were quoted almost verbatim from memory.

The tremendous impression produced by Henry Grady's speech was not due to the fact that he was saying something that no other man had said before, but to the fact that, for the first time since the civil war, the great leaders of the north realized that Lincoln
was appreciated and honored as much
south of Mason and Dixon's line as he was among the Michigan pines and upon the Illinois prairie.

Second to Only One.

Since that time I have read almost every biography written about the personality of that man who stands second to only one, if he does not stand
side by side with George Washington,
in the affections of the American people. I find that Henry Watterson of Kentucky has as deep a reverence for Lincoln as had Charles W. Dana or Nicolay or Joseph Medill or William Herndon or David Davis or Swett or Spencer, who knew him by personal contact. Therefore I am sure that on this Sunday preceding the celebration of Lincoln's birthday I shall have with me the cordial approbation of the south
as well as of the north as I draw from his character lessons of inspiration and pay tribute to his memory. At heart
he was a true friend of the south, and I believe that his untimely death retarded the consummation of reconstruction at least a quarter of a century.

Most Lincoln enthusiasts start, as Henry Watterson beautifully expressed
it, by looking into a "crystal globe
that, slowly turning, tells the story of his life, and they see therein a little heartbroken boy weeping by the outstretched form of a dead mother." But this I do not intend to do. You are already familiar with the facts of that eventful life. In speaking of him today
I would try to get the keynote of his character and show the predominant quality which made him so great and so useful to the nation. That quality I conceive to be his patience, and I shall recall to your minds the times and the
circumstances in which, by the exercise
of that quality, he proved the grandeur
of his nature. At the base of the giant statue of Faith, overlooking the pilgrims' graves at Plymouth, cast anchor, are figures symbolizing Freedom, Education, Law and Morality. But here today, standing by the grave of this great man, we see the figure of sanctified Patience. We find this figure not cut out from stone or cast in iron,
but made out of dust which was once
flesh, breathing, throbbing, moving and blood. As the paramount desire of Lincoln's last four years on earth and those tumultuous years which led up to them was to save the Union,
I shall try in this brief eulogy to show
how, by glorious patience, that great
purpose of his life was accomplished.

A Positive Man.

In the first place, we must start with
the well accepted and universally ac-knowledgeed fact that Abraham Lincoln
was a man of positive characteristics.
William Herndon just after Lincoln's nomination wrote to Senator Wilson
of Massachusetts that when Lincoln
made up his mind to do anything he had "a will of iron." After the assassination in Ford's theater Senator Wilson wrote a letter to Lincoln's old law
partner that he had truly analyzed
Lincoln's character in reference to one characteristic. But, though Lincoln was a positive man and had well settled convictions, he never believed that "two wrongs make one right." In order to accomplish his patriotic purposes he was unwilling to defile the majesty of the law. He was always ready to try to change the law, but never to break it. In his methods and principles he was neither violent nor revolutionary. He was not, as many people supposed, in 1860, a wild eyed visionary or a crazed enthusiast who would, to reach a beneficent end, tram-

ple on vested rights and interests regardless of justice and equity. He himself was obedient to the laws as well as a faithful executive of the law. He was a respecter of the law in private life as well as a conservative lawman
in public life.

An Advocate of the Law.

What was Lincoln's stand when a great abolitionist meeting was held in Springfield some years before the war? There
the opponents of slavery proposed by force of arms to defy the public authorities and drive out the slaveholders
from the then territory of Kansas.
When called upon for a speech Lincoln
shooked some of his very best friends
and, as some thought, then and there
signed his own political death warrant.
"Let there be peace!" he emphatically
said. "Revolutionize through the ballot box. Your attempt, if there be such,
to resist the laws of Kansas by force
is criminal and wicked, and all your feeble attempts will be foiled and ruin on the cause you would freely die to preserve." What said he in his famous speech delivered on July 17, 1858, in answer to one of the charges made against him by Douglas?
"Now, as to the Dred Scott decision,
for upon that Senator Douglas makes his last point against me. I am opposed to that decision in a certain sense, but not in the sense in which he puts it. I say that in so far as it decided in favor of Dred Scott and his family I do not propose to disturb or resist
the decision. I never have proposed to do any such thing. I think that in respect for judicial authority my humble
history would not suffer in comparison with that of Judge Douglas." When some enthusiastic admirers asked him
this question: "Has the territory of Kansas a right to come into the Union
as a slave state if the people wish?" Lincoln said: "Yes. By the national law it has a right which you cannot take away unless by natural legislation you change that law." In all the fifty-six years of Lincoln's life, both as a public officeholder and as a private citizen,
you cannot put your finger upon one
act where he was an advocate of violation of the law. He was patient in his belief that moral right would ultimately become legal right.

Followed the Path of Rectitude.

On the approaching anniversary of this great American's birth let us learn
one of the greatest lessons of his life.
Even amid the injustices and the weaknesses of the law let us bow before and recognize the majesty of the law. Because in some municipalities the citizens may be terrorized every winter
by "holdup" men who walk around at night shooting down innocent pedestrians in cold blood, that is no reason why, in order to extirpate them, we ourselves should become criminals. Because Alexander of Servia was a bad man, that does not place the stamp of respectability upon those who, by regular, proved they were as lawless as their detected king. Always obey the law. If it be wrong, then make the law right, but never defile the majesty
of the law.

Though Abraham Lincoln was a man
of positive characteristics, yet he was patient in the fact that he was ready to keep step with the march of the common people. He never for one moment left the path of rectitude and honor. He was not a foolish color bearer, leaving the ranks of his fellow soldiers and plunging far ahead of the lines, thereby courting death and annihilation. As the national standard bearer he was ready, if necessary, to "mark
time," so that the common people could catch up with him, that all might advance in line.

Man of Patience.

All things may be lawful, but all things are not expedient. What did he do after he had delivered his first inaugural address? Did he do anything to antagonize the southern leaders and people, as some rash statesmen would have had him do? No; that was not his way. He had "malice toward none and charity for all." He bided his time, though in every town, village and city he was called a coward. If possible he wanted to win the southern leaders back by love and kindness. He knew that hate and billingsgate and club never won a willing subject. He was patient, very patient. His patience was expressed powerfully in the words he once spoke to Alexander H.
Stephens at the memorable conference
held at Hampton Roads with the southern commissioners. "Stephens," he said, "let me write 'Union' at the top of that page, and you may write below
it whatever else you please."

To placate the southern leaders was one reason for delay. But there was still another reason why he was patient.
There were scores and hundreds and thousands of men at the north as well
as the south who believed that as the original southern states came into the Union of their own accord they had therefore the right to leave of their own accord. As Lincoln in his quiet
language put the "popular sovereignty
idea," "They believed that the big kettle
of the United States government could be squeezed into the little kettle of state rights." Horace Greeley believed this; Wendell Phillips believed this;
other mighty northern leaders believed this. Had Abraham Lincoln, on the night of March 4, 1861, started the invasion of the south he might have had two wars on his hands. War would have been in the front of him, war in the rear of him. When he entered the White House he had two purposes:
First, to do anything and everything
that was honorable to save the Union.
Secondly, if there was to be a war
then let others take the responsibility of striking the first blow.

Calm Under Criticism.

But if Lincoln was willing to be patient with his northern enemies and with the south how much more was
he willing to be patient with his so-called friends, upon whose arm he had a right to lean and from whose influence he had a right to expect succor and help? If the armies of Lee were attacking him in the front, the rancor tongues of some who were his closest advisers were broadcasting

their evil murmurs everywhere.

"Well," says some hearer, "why did
he allow these men who were nearest to him to criticize him? Why did he not do as one of his Springfield friends
suggested, 'kick them out of office?'"
That question cannot be answered in a better way than by quoting the words
Lincoln spoke when he said, quietly,
that it was easy enough to kick a man
out, but not always so easy to get another man to fill his place and do as well as he did. In those few words
we realize the results of Lincoln's patience with those so called friends who kept publicly criticizing their chief.
He once said to Leonard Swett, "I may not have made as great a president as some other men, but I believe I have kept the discordant elements together
as well as any one could." Like Abraham Lincoln, are we as Christians
ready to let men criticize us and find fault with us if only we can use them
for the cause of Christ, as Lincoln was able to use Stanton and Seward and Simon Cameron and Hooker and Mc-Clellan and Thaddeus Stevens and Greeley and Bennett to help save the Union?

Leader of the People.

As the twilight is the most beautiful
part of the day, so we find that the mellowing sunset of Lincoln's life was even more glorious in its golden reflections than when he was accomplishing
the great purpose of his life—the preservation of the Union. Like Moses of old, he was able to lead his people
through the dark wanderings in the wilderness; but, also, like Moses, he was not to be allowed to plant his foot
in the promised land. The Jordan
which separated him from his southern people in the reconstructive period was to be a great river whose waters came from the falling tears that millions of eyes shed over his bier and by his coffin
lid. In those few days that led up to Appomattox and thereafter we may know
what fruit the patience of Lincoln would have borne. His purpose was to bind up the nation's bleeding wounds
and make the "boy in gray" and the
"boy in blue" clasp hands as brothers.

A Noble American.

How, then, did he want to reach out
the hand of reconciliation? On Feb. 5, 1865, after the outcome of the war was practically decided, he drafted a bill
by which, if congress consented, $400-000,000 was to be paid on account of the liberation of the slaves. He presented this proposed bill to his cabinet,
and when they unanimously rejected
it the president, as Norman Hapgood
tells us, "sadly folded it up and laid it away." As soon as Richmond had been evacuated he got on the cars and started south. He went not as a conqueror, but as a messenger of peace.
In his plain, simple way he practically
said to the old Virginians: "I am your brother. I am your friend. Come, be my brother and my friend." When
that other messenger of peace, Ulysses
S. Grant, practically said to the officers and men of the disbanding southern armies alike: "Go home. Take your horses and plow your fields. Go home and be our friends and comrades instead of our foes," what was Lincoln's comment? "Good! Good! All right!
Exactly the thing!" Admiral Porter gives these as Lincoln's words, which he heard him repeat a dozen times. In the glorious hopes Lincoln held of future reconciliation, do you wonder that Henry Grady, the eloquent Georgian,
was impelled to say "that the first
who comprehended within himself all
the strength and gentleness, all the majesty and grace of this republic was Abraham Lincoln." He was as true and pure and noble and patient and God inspired an American as ever lived.

A Lesson of Love.

Today, if I had it in my power, I would start a pilgrimage to the Springfield tomb. I would have the south-
er as well as the northerner, easterner
and the westerner go there and learn
the lesson of gentle and glorious love.
"What," some cynic cries, "would you have the southerner go there as to a shrine?" Yes, my brother, I would have the southerner go to Lincoln's tomb and kneel, the same as I would have the northerner go to the sacred tomb of Lexington, Va., and bow reverently before the dust of honored, gentle Robert E. Lee. Both of these men were conquerors. Both have subdued
and by their example will yet subdue
great hosts, whose numbers, in the dim
future, will be counted by the millions.
Both have won and will win their greatest victories not by the sword,
but by love. When the civil war was closing these two great leaders were able to say to each other, "Thou art my brother." Both are enshrined in their nation's love and admiration.

Trust in God.

Therefore, fellow countrymen, with
the universal affections of the American people, cannot the north come with her sacred dust of Springfield, Ill., and the south come with her sacred dust of Lexington, Va.; then after the north and south with their precious burdens
have both met at the national capital at Washington cannot the two different sections which once stood face to face
in battle now stand side by side and bury their two sacred dead in one grave? Then over this one grave, entombing the commingling dust of the two sacred dead, cannot and will not
the reconciled north and south chisel
one single God given epitaph, such as old Kentucky placed upon her memorial shaft, erected upon the once blood soaked field of Chickamauga to her "boys
in gray" and to her "boys in blue." "As we are united in life and they united
in death, let one monument perpetuate their deeds and one people, forgetful of all asperities, forever hold in grateful remembrance all the glories of that terrible conflict which made all

men free and retained every star upon
the nation's flag."

Abraham Lincoln's parting words to his fellow townsmen when for the last time he left the Springfield depot for the national capital were these: "Today
I leave you. I go to assume a task
more difficult than that which devolved upon Washington. Unless the great God who assisted him shall be with
and aid me I must fail. But if the same omniscient mind and Almighty arm
that directed and protected him shall
guide and support me I shall not fail.
I shall succeed. Let us all pray that the God of our fathers may not forsake
us now. To him I commend you all.
Permit me to ask that with equal sincerity and faith you will invoke sincerity and guidance for me." This was the keynote of his whole life: Trust
in God and patient dependence upon the divine will. To Abraham Lincoln's God I commend you. May that God
forever guide us all!

DR. EDWARDS DEAD

A Former Popular Citizen Passes Away.

The news has reached this city of the death of Dr. Nicholas Meriwether Edwards at Slater, Mo., on February 1st, as the result of a stroke of paralysis sustained on Jan. 28th.
The funeral services were conducted on Feb. 3rd.

Dr. Edwards was a native of this county, having been born at Lafayette on Feb. 22, 1839. He moved to Missouri early in life where he located at Slater, for the practice of his profession. By his upright Christian character he made a host of friends
there who sincerely mourn his death.
He was a brother of Mrs. Fanny
Wilson, of Howell, Mrs. T. L. Beon
and Mr. George W. Edwards of this city, and an uncle of Mrs. W. S.
Cheatham. He was an uncle also of Mr. N. M. Edwards, of the Jullen neighborhood, and Mr. Will Edwards and Mrs. Grodie, who live near Lafayette in Tennessee.

A Matter For Farmers to Consider Carefully.

Our correspondent from Henderson, Ky., writes us lots of wagons
heavily loaded with tobacco stalks
daily pass through the streets of this enterprising town. The clever farmer's tie the stalks together with wire
in big bunches like kindling and in this way make loads of over twenty-
two hundred pounds net of tobacco
stalks on one single wagon.

A load of tobacco stalks bring the same price as a load of timothy hay
on this market. This is a good thing
for our farmers who get about nothing for their tobacco from the greedy
trust.

We hear Messrs. E. M. Flack &
Co., are buying tobacco stalks at this place. W4t

JUDGE CANSLER

WRITES FROM "WILD AND WOOLLY WEST."

Finds That the Country is Even Better Than He Had Expected.

Enid, Oklahoma, Feb. 6, 1904.
Editor New Era,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

In compliance with your request, I send you these lines trusting that they will be read with some degree of interest by at least a small percent of the readers of your valuable paper.

As you are already aware, my mission to this territory was to be present at the opening of the new town of Canler, situated on the Arkansas Valley and Western R. R., which is a branch of the "Frisco system." As advertised, the drawing (or sale) was agreed upon, and executed by the representatives of those who had purchased, or applied for lots in the town, and was so ably and honestly conducted, that no word of complaint or dissatisfaction has been or will be heard from any source.

And while as expected, some were more fortunate than others in the drawing, it is conceded by all that each purchaser got a lot worth the price paid, $25.00.

A party in your city who bought ten lots, drew one easily worth double the price paid for all of them. A number of others drew lots worth many times the price paid.

Mr. C. E. Oliver, the well-known grocer, who came on a prospecting tour, was so captivated with the appearance of things when he arrived on the ground (that notwithstanding his refusal to purchase a lot before leaving home) he expressed a desire for a chance, and was given it and drew a lot well worth ten times the price it cost him, and has fully made up his mind to locate permanently in this country.

My friend, W. A. P. Pool, who came as a representative of some of the purchasers of lots, is taken up with this country. And his many friends who admire his affable manners and strict business methods, need not be surprised to hear at any time that he has decided to "strike tents" in our beautiful city and pitch them in this section of the "great west."

Having read and heard so much favorable comment on this territory, I naturally expected to be favorably impressed, but I assure you "the half had not been told," and if with in the next twenty-five years this territory does not prove to be the paradise of the United States, there's nothing in the present indications and surroundings, Enid is a city of about twelve thousand, and growing rapidly, and a strictly up-to-date class of people, both in social and business circles, are here, ever ready to extend a friendly and welcome hand to all who come within their gates. I would like to give a more extensive description of the situation here as I have seen it, if space would admit.

On my return home, which will be in about two weeks, after having visited a number of other localities I will be better prepared to give those who may be interested a more accurate description of the opportunities held out to those who think of turning their faces toward the "setting sun."

To those who purchased lots in the town of "Canler" I wish to say by way of allaying any fear that may arise among them as to whether or not they made a judicious investment while sitting in the car in Canler, I counted nineteen windmills on one side of the railroad, and nine on the other side, which is a fair index to the class of farmers that are living in that section of Garfield county.

TRAINLOAD OF SODA

Comes to Hopkinsville Over The Tennessee Central.

Much interest was caused yesterday afternoon by the arrival over the Tennessee Central railroad of a train of twenty cars filled with soda from the Southern Soda Works of Nashville, consigned to various dealers in Memphis. The train left Nashville Saturday evening and laid over in Clarksville that night. It left Clarksville yesterday morning at 10:30 reaching here at 1:50 where it was taken in charge by the Illinois Central and left for Memphis about 8 o'clock. The train was placarded from end to end and was the object of much attention all along the line of the Tennessee Central. A similar train is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow and another one Friday. The train was drawn here over the Tennessee Central by a mammoth engine of about the same size as the nine hundred class of the L. & N. When taken in charge by the I. C. two smaller engines were furnished for the trip to Memphis. The train was brought here from Nashville in charge of Mr. O. M. Sewell, assistant superintendent of the Tennessee Central.

ANSWER IT HONESTLY.

Are the Statements of Hopkinsville Citizens Not More Reliable Than of Other Strangers.

This is a vital question. It is fraught with interest to Hopkinsville.

It permits of only one answer. It cannot be evaded or ignored. A Hopkinsville citizen speaks here. Speaks for the welfare of Hopkinsville.

A citizen's statement is reliable. An utter stranger's doubtful. Home proof is the best proof.

J. H. Bell, Sr., retired farmer, living at 1121 East 7th street, says: "I have been so much a sufferer from kidney troubles that for a long time past I had been most anxious to find something that would offer me even the slightest degree of relief. The principal symptoms of my trouble were a constant dull aching in the small of my back and a distressing irregularity of the kidney secretions. Reading of Doan's Kidney Pills and hearing them highly spoken of I went to Thomas & Trahern's drug store and got a box. I used them according to directions and noticed beneficial results from the first few doses. My health has been vastly improved. I also gladly endorse Doan's Ointment which I used for itching hemorrhoids, which proved to be a great remedy for that exasperating disease."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Thieves Operated.

The meat house of Squire S. G. Buckner on the Palmyra road was entered by thieves Sunday night and several fine hams and sides of meat were taken. The thieves secured an entrance by breaking the lock and used a ladder which was lying on the ground close to the meat house to reach their prize. The loss was not discovered until morning and no clue was found.

Another robbery, which may have been a forerunner of the above, was also committed Sunday night. A tool box belonging to the section gang of the I. C. railroad was broken open and several articles taken.

NEAL IS INDICTED.

GRAND JURY CHARGES WILLFUL MURDER.

Claimed He Killed Man In Past and Has Black Record.

The grand jury Monday in Louisville returned an indictment against William E. Neal, formerly of Hopkinsville, for the willful murder of James K. Shrader.

The witnesses who were at the coroner's inquest and the city court trial gave the evidence.

It is authoritatively stated that the commonwealth will be assisted in the prosecution of W. E. Neal by Attorneys Aaron Kohn and Clarence Dinwiddie, who have proffered their services because of their regard for the victim. Attorney Aaron Kohn lines up with the commonwealth despite the fact that he was approached by Neal to assist in the defense. Mr. Kohn refused to defend and proffered his services "as a labor of love" to the prosecution. It is also said that the firm of Kinney & Fitzgerald refused employment as counsel for the defense. "We will show a black past record," said Mr. Huffaker, "and a man killed in the past by the defendant."

TWO NEGROES BURNED AT STAKE BY BIG MOB.

Closes a Tragedy in Mississippi Which Cost Eight Lives.--200 Men and Bloodhounds Scoured the Country

WILD EXCITEMENT PREVAILED IN THE SECTION.

(Special to New Era.)

DODDSVILLE, Miss., Feb. 8.—Luther Holbert and his wife, negroes, were burned at the stake here Sunday, by a mob of over 1,000 persons for the killing of James Eastland, a prominent white planter, and John Carr, a negro, on Wednesday morning at the Eastland plantation, two miles from this city.

The burning of Holbert and his wife closes a tragedy which has cost eight lives, has engaged 200 men and two packs of bloodhounds in a four days' chase across four counties, and has stirred this section of Mississippi to such a state of excitement as it has never before experienced.

The following are the dead: Luther Holbert and wife, negroes, burned at the stake by a mob; James Eastland, white planter, killed by Holbert; John Carr, killed by Holbert; John Winters, negro, killed by Eastland. Three unknown negroes killed by posse.

The killing of Eastland, Carr and Winters occurred Wednesday morning at Eastland's plantation. Holbert and Winters were in Carr's cabin when Eastland entered and ordered Holbert to leave the plantation. A difficulty ensued in which it is alleged that Holbert opened fire on Eastland, fatally wounding him and killing Carr. Eastland returned the fire and killed Winters.

Saturday evening two negroes were killed by a posse near Belzoni, Yazoo county. One of the negroes bore a striking resemblance to Holbert and was mistaken for him by members of the posse. He was called upon to surrender, but instead of doing so he showed fight and both negroes were shot down by possemen as Holbert had sworn he would not be taken alive and was known to be heavily armed.

STRICKEN CITY A GREAT MASS OF SMOKING RUINS.

Estimated Loss Is $150,000,000.--50,000 People Out of Employment.--Famine Threatened and Water Supply Causes Uneasiness.

(Special to New Era)

BALTIMORE, Feb. 9.—After twenty-eight hours of fighting, with over one hundred engines, Baltimore's terrible fire was brought under control.

The estimated loss is $150,000,000. The burned district covers 140 acres. Seventy-five blocks were reduced to ruins. More than 2,500 houses destroyed. Fifty thousand people will be thrown out of employment.

Regiments of soldiers guard the burned area. Governor Warfield has been asked to proclaim a ten days' holiday and a thirty day extension on all legal papers. Restaurants are wiped out and a partial famine threatens. The water supply causes uneasiness.

Insurance men this afternoon estimate the loss at $125,000,000 with $90,000,000 insurance.

Homes Saved.

Apparently there is but one cause for gladness, and that is that there are no homeless. The residence section of the city escaped. This phase of the situation relieved the officials from any thought other than property.

With the fire under control the blackened waste which lies in the wake of the sea of flames presents a view terrible in its pyrotechnic grandeur.

It can be likened best to oceans of great coke ovens, each shooting out its thousand tongues of flame from pyramids of brick, stone and cement. Where the fire has died out nothing remains but blackened waste, from which rise hundreds of towering, insecure shafts of the same color. These are all that is left of what were once handsome office buildings.

Loss Is Untold.

The loss will not be accurately estimated for weeks, for business men, prosperous yesterday morning, are poor today. Expressions heard among these men as they look into the collapsed property, reveal an astounding number who were only poorly protected by insurance. The high winds made it nearly impossible for anyone to pass through the streets bordered by crumbling walls without grave danger to personal safety. Tangled masses of wire cross and recross the streets and these were lashed so furiously by the wind that they could have proved no more dangerous had they been alive.

Swaying Walls.

Ruins could be seen swaying back and forth, apparently ready every minute to collapse. Many did fall during the morning. Flying glass, dust at sparks and embers filled the air. In that fearful district men prominent in commercial life were found. Many with heat-blistered and smoke begrimed faces had been up all night and as the morning broke were taking the first inventory losses.

When the advance of the flames had been checked the fire companies started back over the course of the disaster and attempted to diminish the flaming ruins and prevent another outbreak. Moving vans, push-carts and vehicles of all kinds filled the streets, carting household effects and valuables to safer positions.

Col. Frank Supplee, a competent authority on factory statistics, estimates that the number of persons thrown out of employment will reach 50,000. Others have estimated the enforced idleness at greatly more.

Inspector of buildings Preston, after making a careful study of the burned district placed the building loss alone at $150,000,000.

Famine Threatened.

It is feared that aid must come from adjacent cities and partial famine will be an added phase of the situation. Restaurants are entirely without food and the destruction of the commission houses along the wharves has cut off the means of supply. Hotels are but little better off and though they will be able to feed their guests it is admitted the variety will be lessened at once. Preparations are being made to rush supplies from New York in order to avert suffering in homes.

MR OGBURN'S BODY

IS FOUND IN THE CUMBERLAND RIVER.

A Former Hopkinsville Citizen Who Committed Suicide.

While on the Cumberland river in a skiff Sunday afternoon, Fred Hammonds, an employee of John B. Ransom & Co., found a corpse floating in the water. The find solved the mystery of the disappearance of J. J. Ogburn, Sr., from his home at 609 Broad street, on Nov. 25, as the remains were identified by a son of Mr. Ogburn.

After discovering the body Hammonds fastened it near the bank at a point near the brick yards of Bush & Co. The body was found about 250 yards below the lower lock. Hammonds notified Lieut. McGovern at police headquarters of the find, and steps were at once taken to identify the body.

Mr. Ogburn was the last person reported to have been missing, and up to the time of the discovery of the corpse no intimation had been received as to what had become of him though his family had prosecuted the search into other states.

J. J. Ogburn, Jr., and several other men at once went to the place where the body had been found. The body was positively identified by the son through some papers which remained in the pockets of the clothing.

The family of Mr. Ogburn has been greatly distressed since his disappearance and feared at the same time that he had committed some rash act, as he left home about 8 o'clock in the morning. It was known that his mind was affected as a result of business reverses. It is believed that he was drowned near the wharf, and that the body had floated down the river to the point where it was found.

Mr. Ogburn was 58 years old, and is survived by his wife and six children. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, but the body will probably be taken to his former home in Kentucky for interment. The body was removed Sunday night to the establishment of Wiles & Karsch.—Nashville American.

Chinese New Year.

The Chinamen in Hopkinsville will celebrate New Year's day February 15, when the American people will be observing the anniversary of St. Valentine. In China and in cities of the United States where the Celestial colony is large the feasting and rejoicing is prolonged for a week.

Swept by Storm.

A wind, rain and hail storm visited Hopkinsville early Sunday morning, lasting about an hour. Several trees were blown down and other damage done. The damage here and in other sections of the Pennyrile was not severe, but in the Bluegrass region the storm, which was accompanied by a heavy rainfall, was very destructive. Throughout Lincoln, Garrard, Mercer, Nicholas and Bourbon counties great damage was done to residences, farm buildings, fences and bridges.

FAVOR A CONGRESS

OF BAPTISTS TO BE HELD IN LONDON.

Leading Men of the Church Endorse Dr. Prestridge's Suggestion.

The Rev. Dr. J. N. Prestridge, formerly pastor of the Baptist church of this city, and now editor and publisher of the Baptist Argus, an organ of the Baptist Church in Kentucky, has taken the initiative in bringing about a world's conference of Baptists, inaugurating the idea in an editorial in the Argus a week ago. Dr. Prestridge's plan contemplates a gathering of Baptists from all over the world, wherever the Baptist faith has gained a foothold, and he believes it will result in incalculable benefit to the Baptist Church on both continents. The gathering is to be called the Pan-Baptist conference, and is to be held in London on a date to be fixed, if the idea is carried out.

The plan, as outlined in Dr. Prestridge's editorial, is meeting with general favor with the Baptist clergy of Kentucky and the South, as is shown by letters from leading clergymen and the church leaders of the country, while the Baptist papers in other states have taken up the question, and in nearly every instance endorse it. Dr. Prestridge believes that such a conference, attended by representative men of the denomination from North and South America, from England, Wales, Scotland and the various European countries would impress the world with the strength and spirit of the Baptist denomination.

Nearly Forfeits His Life.

A runaway almost ending fatally, started a horrible ulcer on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. For four years it defied all doctors and all remedies. But Bucklen's Arnica Salve had no trouble to cure him. Equally good for burns, bruises, skin eruptions and piles. 25c at Cook & Higgins and L. L. Elgin.

Big Sales.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The sale stable of Layne & Moseley is enjoying the largest sale of mules and horses they have had since they began business. The pens have been filled with animals for several days and the stable is a scene of busy activity today, the crowd filling the sales room and overflowing into the street which at times was blocked. The buyers are numerous and bidding lively, resulting in satisfactory prices in most instances.

ELGIN RELIES UPON HYOMEL.

Cures Colds, Coughs, Catarrh and Crip. Just Breathe It.

Hyomel is nature's own method for curing catarrh, colds, coughs and diseases of the respiratory organs. It is the only natural treatment for the cure of these troubles.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, the air that passes into the throat and lungs, is identical with that on the mountains, where it is laden with healing and health-giving balsams. It searches out and kills disease germs in the most remote and minute air cells of the head, throat and lungs, it soothes and heals all irritation of the mucous membrane.

Hyomel is prescribed by physicians generally. Many of them use it themselves to break up a cold and prevent pneumonia. The complete Hyomel outfit consists of a neat inhaler, that is so small and convenient that if it can be carried in the pocket or purse, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomel. This costs but $1, and it will cure any case of catarrh. In chronic and deep seated conditions, longer use is necessary and extra bottles of Hyomel can be obtained for 50c, making it a most economical treatment for this disease.

Mr. Elgin has so much confidence in the power of Hyomel to cure catarrh and other diseases of the throat and lungs that he sells it under his personal guarantee to refund the money to any purchaser in case it fails to give satisfaction. He takes all the risk on himself, and Hyomel costs you absolutely nothing unless it does you good.

Itch—Ringworm.

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes, April 25th, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the Liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c. 50c and $1.00 bottle. Sold by Anderson & Fowler.

SIGNS BILL.

(Special to New Era.)

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 6.—Gov. Beckham today signed the bill appropriating $1,000,000 for a new capitol.

When You Have a Cold.

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This remedy liquefies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by L. L. Elgin.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. Price 25c and 75c.

PASS RESOLUTIONS

IN REFERENCE TO BISHOP DUDLEY'S DEATH.

Sense of Loss Expressed and Sympathy to Family Extended.

At a meeting of the vestry of Grace church, in this city, the rector and a quorum of the vestry being present, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved that we have heard with deep sorrow of the death of our beloved bishop, The Right Reverend Thomas Underwood Dudley, and desire to place on record our sense of the heavy loss we have sustained in the death of our chief, pastor and friend.

Resolved that in his death the diocese of Kentucky and the church at large have lost one of her greatest divines, finest orators and a man of great administrative ability and universal popularity.

Resolved that to his widow and family we extend our profound sympathy in this great trial, and commend them to the care of our Heavenly father.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bishop's family, and to the diocesan paper, "The Bishop's Letter" for publication.

An Early Riser.

A strong, healthy, active constitution depends largely on the condition of the liver. The famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers not only cleanse the system but they strengthen the action of the liver and rebuild the tissues supporting that organ. Little Early Risers are easy to act, the never gripe and yet they are absolutely certain to produce results that are satisfactory in all cases. R. C. Hardwick.

Fair Commission.

The Kentucky World's Fair commission met at the offices of the Kentucky Exhibit association and formally organized by electing the following officers:

A. Y. Ford, Louisville, president; Charles C. Spaulding, of Lebanon, vice president; R. E. Hughes, secretary and director of exhibits.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment to the throat.

Mrs. A. Villet, New Castle, Colo., writes, March 19th, 1901: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Anderson & Fowler.

Psalm of the Mail Carrier.

BY ONE OF THEM.

Tell me not in mournful numbers
Rural carriers have a snap,
For the things that they contend with
Would almost make a preacher scap.

He climbs into his little wagon,
Drawn by steeds so full of vim,
As they prance along the highway
All the people envy him.

Then there comes some wintry weather;
Snowdrifts, hailstones, mud and mire;
But the mail man is strictly in it,
While the farmers hug the fire.

Bills for horse feed pour in on him.
Bills for clothing, bills for board;
And the steed once sleek and glossy
Has a backbone like a sword.

But he bravely struggles onward,
Always trying to do his best;
When he's laid beneath the blue grass,
Then he'll have some time to rest.
