VOLUME XXXIV, NO. 34

THIS MORNING

INTERMENT OF DR. RUST'S REMAINS.

Simple Service Will Be Held At the Grave in Hopewell Cemetery.

(From Thursday's Daily.)
The remains of the late Rev. Dr. John O. Rust, who passed away last week at Seattle, Wash., will arrive in the city tomorrow morning at 5:40 o'clock over the Louisville & Nashville railroad, accompanied by the family and Mrs. Rust's brother, Mr. Charles Westfall, of Minneapolis.

At 11 o'clock, the interment will take place at Hopewell cemetery, to which the remains will be conveyed from the residence of Mrs. M. G. Rust. There will be a simple service at the grave.

In prefacing a notice of services held last night in Nashville, the American says:

"Memorial services for the late Rev. John O. Rust, who died last week at his home at Seattle, Wash., were held Wednesday night at the Vendome Theater. A splendid audience of 1,000 was present. The services were a magnificent tribute to the worth of Dr. Rust, who was loved by all denominations in Nashville, and even those who have no denomination. This was the third memorial service on account of the death of Dr. Rust, and being in behalf of the citizens of Nashville generally, it will go down as among the most notable of the kind ever held in this city."

Straight Talk.

There has been much talk and advertising in regard to the Sweetser, Pembroke liquidation sale in New York and the bargains to be offered Christian county people. I have been advised by letter, from a personal friend on the scene, that all the most desirable goods had been bought by John Wanamaker and other big New York firms before outsiders were given a chance. The goods sold at auction, according to this letter, were all more or less undesirable, the writer himself having refused to purchase. My goods were all bought on the regular market and were carefully selected by myself in person. I have never bought at auction or bankrupt sales and unless I am sure of what I am getting I never intend to. As a result of careful selection and buying through the regular channels my goods are always new, fresh and of latest styles, and equal in every way to any in Hopkinsville. Trade with me and get the value of your money in stylish and up-to-date goods purchased in the regular manner.

BALTIMORE MAYOR ENDS HIS LIFE

Had Been Married Only Two Weeks.—Mind Unbalanced.

(Special to New Era)
BALTIMORE, Md., May 31.—Mayor Robert M. McLane, of this city, shot and killed himself in his bedroom yesterday afternoon. He had been married only two weeks. The family are at a loss to account for the suicide. Mayor McLane had been hard worked since the fire, and this, with criticism by his political opponents, is believed to have caused temporary insanity.

Mayor McLane was thirty-six years of age, the youngest chief executive Baltimore ever had. He was the son of James L. McLane, president of the First National Bank, and nephew of Robert M. McLane, former governor of Maryland and United States Minister to France during President Cleveland's first administration.
Previous to his election as mayor he had for four years filled the office of state's attorney, in which he had distinguished himself by zealous and intelligent discharge of his duties.
R. Clay Timans, a Republican, qualified today as mayor to succeed Mayor McLane.

Visited the Rock.

A crowd of young people braved the elements yesterday and spent a very pleasant day at Pilot Rock. The trip was a farewell to Mr. L. A. Tuggle who left last night for Selma, Ala., where he will make his future home. The party suffered minor mishaps, but these only made the pleasures of the day more enjoyable and the trip was voted a grand success. Those in the party were Misses Dell Gaines, Katie Manson, Daisy Williams, Elizabeth Pusey and Mrs. George Kolb; Messrs. W. S. Wade, Albert White, L. A. Tuggle, Byron Meador, Dr. J. L. Topmiller, George Kolb, M. E. Bacon.

Short Tobacco Crop.

From the western section of Kentucky reports are almost unanimous that there will be no increase in acreage put in tobacco this year, and many say that the crop will be reduced somewhat.

From Christian county it is asserted that the crop will be very materially reduced. Some farmers will not put out a plant. Others will not likely put out more than half the usual crop. Still others, who have been in the habit of growing a moderate crop, will put out about the usual acreage, owing to preparations already being made with that end in view. Some of the largest growers will not make any material reduction, but in no case will there be any increase.

Reports come from some sections of the western Kentucky tobacco district that tobacco will be left out almost entirely. For instance, in the Mayfield vicinity it is said that something like 40,000 acres of cotton is to take the place of tobacco. Many other crops not generally grown heretofore will be given a trial. —Western Tobacco Journal.

EXAMINING BIDS

FOR THE ELECTRIC LIGHT MACHINERY.

Plans For New Power House —Streets May Be Lighted Soon.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The Hopkinsville Gas & Lighting company has had the matter of insurance on the electric light plant which was recently destroyed by fire, satisfactorily adjusted and plans are now being drawn for a new building to be erected at once. At a meeting of the company held last night signed and sealed bids for the machinery were submitted. These are being examined today and the one offering the best inducements will be accepted and the machinery installed just as soon as possible. The plant will be rebuilt on the same spot occupied by the one that was destroyed by fire unless the plans are very materially changed within the next few days. The matter of building nearer the business section of the town was discussed, but at the old site there is now about $1,500 worth of concrete and stone foundations for the machinery which would be a total loss if the site was changed. The company is leaving no effort spared to give the city electric lights again at the very earliest possible time.

At a meeting of the board of commissioners of the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane and the directors of the Hopkinsville Gas & Lighting company an arrangement was made whereby the current necessary for the street lights will be supplied by the asylum until the new plant can be gotten ready. This action, however, is subject to the Kentucky-Tennessee Board of Insurance Underwriters and if its consent can be obtained to putting in the extra machinery necessary the streets will probably again be lighted within a week. The asylum engines are of sufficient power to allow an extra dynamo large enough to furnish the current for the street lights to be attached without overburdening them.

The incandescents will not be furnished with this current as the asylum plant can not supply both the street lights and incandescents. As the citizens have now made arrangements for lighting their residences it was thought best to use the current for the streets. It is now up to the board of underwriters whether or not the streets shall again be lighted and just as soon as consent is given the dynamo will be speedily installed at the asylum and the lights turned on. This will be welcome news to Hopkinsville citizens, who already are suffering the many inconveniences of having the streets dark.

Prof. Sparks of Chicago university says the American people no longer possess originality, but very likely he has in mind the Chicago university brand of originality.

CIRCUS DAY SOON

BIG SHOW ON TUESDAY
JUNE 7.

Sells & Downs Will Delight Great Crowds In Hopkinsville.

The all absorbing topic of the day seems to be "are you going to the circus?" The answer on every hand was "why certainly," and when one stops to reflect over the fact that such attractions as the Pontiac Zouaves, the finest drilled soldiers in all the world will be here, and the marvelous trained Seals and Sea Lions, that can sing comic songs and play musical instruments, and do things that do not seem possible, and in view of the fact that this wonderful zoologic, ethnologic, equine and hippodromic exhibition is the superior of all similar entertainments, employing as it does more cars to transport, more people to conduct its various departments, more horses, wagons, larger tents and the greatest number of performers ever amassed under one management, it is not surprising that it is today the world's representative show.

We suggest to out-of-town people the advisability of coming to town early so as not to miss the grand street parade that takes place daily at 10 a. m., rain or shine. It contains five bands of music, ten kinds of music in all, including the grand golden steam calliope, a band of real Scottish bagpipers, and several musical novelties absolutely new to the American people. There is a whole caravan of massive carved cages, gilded chariots, mounted knights and ladies, a score of comical clowns, herds of elephants, camels, midget ponies, and the finest collection of Mother's Friend does all this and more—it enables the fond mother to speedily recuperate from the labors of maternity, enables her to regain her lost strength, preserves her youthful lines of beauty, and makes pregnancy her crowning joy without any thorns to mar it.

Mother's Friend

Is applied externally, is most harmless in its constituency, most happy in its results, and is of such merit that no case of labor should be conducted without its use. It is a liniment for massage of the abdominal muscles during pregnancy, and by its use their tonicity and power of contraction is greatly enhanced, enabling them to sustain the great strain brought to bear on them at this time. It is Mother's Friend. The name should be enough to recommend it to all who expect to be mothers. Send for free book containing information of priceless value to all expectant mothers. GETTING OUT GUNS

SQUIRREL SEASON OPENS THIS WEEK.

Hunting of Doves Not Allowed Until the First of August.

Squirrel hunters are getting their guns ready for the opening of the next season in which squirrels can be killed without violation of the law.

The season for killing squirrels opens on June 1. As a result of the new law in regard to killing squirrels, it is said that they are more numerous this year than ever before known. The hunters will doubtless be out in large numbers before the close of next week.

There has been much interest in the approach of the dove season. This season opens Aug. 1, and those desiring to engage in dove hunting will have to wait two months yet, or take the chance of falling into the custody of Christian's new game wardens.

Great vigilance will be observed by the game wardens in securing the enforcement of the laws. No violations have been reported within the past few days.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR ECONOMICAL SHOPPING

WERE NEVER SO GREAT

Don't Forget

We will positively refuse to charge any goods during this sale.

Remember!

We have made sweeping reductions on our entire line of merchandise. Our profits will be less, but our patronage will be increased. The entire store is an assemblage of money-saving values without precedent.

OUR PRICES ARE EVERLASTINGLY THE LOWEST!

WHILE OUR QUALITIES ARE EVERLASTINGLY THE BEST.

THERE is no feeling so all-satisfying to an honorable store as the consciousness that its name and its record stands for best goods, fairest treatment and continually, never changing good faith with its customers. With the approach of hot weather, when trade is naturally lagging, every progressive and live merchant looks around for a trade stimulant, and then this suggestion is always to the front. Buy cheap goods that look well and advertise a special sale--people are "none the wiser." Hundreds of trusted stores have fallen into that fatal trap. Having the confidence of everybody we could readily double our business through such a plan. But it would be a breach of trust, and as sure as day follows night things that have come to stores thus misguided would certainly overtake us. Your confidence and your valued patronage has put us where we stand today.

Have You a Cough?

A dose of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will relieve it. Have you a cold? A dose of Horebina at bed time and frequent small doses of Horebina during the day will remove it. Try it for whooping cough, for asthma, for consumption, for bronchitis. Mrs. Joe McGrath, 327 E. 1st street, Hutchinson, Kan., writes: "I have used Ballard's Horebina Syrup in my family for five years, and find it the best and most palatable medicine I ever used." 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Big Berry.

Probably the strawberry crop in and immediately around Hopkinsville was never finer nor the luscious fruit more plentiful than it is this year. Mr. W. R. Brumfield yesterday exhibited a berry which so far lays all others in the shade. This berry measured about three inches in diameter and over eight inches in circumference, and was exceptionally finely flavored.

Acute Rheumatism.

Deep tearing or wrenching pains, occasioned by getting wet through, worse when at rest or on first moving the limbs and in cold or damp weather, is cured quickly by Ballard's Snow Liniment. Oscar Oleson, Gibson City, Ill., writes Feb. 16, 1902: "A year ago I was troubled with a pain in my back. It soon got so bad I could not bend over. One bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me." 25c, 50c, $1.00.

HAS COME TO END

After a little more than two months of experience in the hands of a receiver, the Tennessee Central railroad is again on an independent footing. The receivership ended at midnight Tuesday, the order issued by Judge Kyle, of the Roane county court, being to this effect:

There will be a meeting of the directors of the Tennessee Central today. Vice President N. C. Chapman, who has been in St. Louis for several days, is expected to reach Nashville today and be present at the meeting. Whether any others of those financially interested in the road will be there or not is not known.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets Better than a Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner, of Trubart, Va., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from the doctor. If any physician in the country was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach trouble, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this one medicine. For sale by L. L. Elgin.

NOT QUITE RIPE

OPEN SEASON FOR SQUIRRELS BEGINS JUNE 15.

Publication That They Could Be Killed June 1 Was Erroneous.

The open season for squirrels begins June 15th and not June 1st as published in some papers a few days ago. The new law passed at the last session of the legislature created two months longer closed season (from Sept. 15th to Nov. 15th.) but made no change as to the opening of the season.

So the game warden is on the lookout for violators of the law. Squirrel hunters had better take notice.

Cures Old Sores.

Westmoreland, Kans., May 5, 1902. Ballard Snow Liniment Co.—Your Snow Liniment cured an old sore on the side of my chin that was supposed to be a cancer. The sore was stubborn and would not yield to treatment, until I tried Snow Liniment, which did the work in short order. My sister, Mrs. Sophia J. Carson, Allensville, Mifflin Co., Pa., has a sore and mistrusts it is a cancer. Please send her a 50c bottle.

FAIR AT GUTHRIE

New Era readers will be pleased and interested to know that the date of the Guthrie fair this year has been fixed for the week beginning July 19, and that it will again be under the management of Judge C. C. Givens, of Madisonville, assisted by Messrs. Rash and Franceway, of that city. These gentlemen will manage quite a circuit this year and the fair already arranged for are Guthrie, Madisonville, Seebree, Evansville and Paducah. A great line of attractions will be given throughout the circuit and Guthrie will have just as good a fair as Madisonville, Evansville or Paducah, as the attractions will be booked for the entire circuit. Judge Givens has redeemed every promise heretofore made in connection with the Guthrie fair and the people feel disposed to patronize the fair liberally this year. It is to be hoped the weather will be pretty for once during the Guthrie fair. Judge Givens advises everybody to go the first pretty day and go every day they have a chance. The meeting will last for five days this year.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of the late Mrs. Cora Elder Lindley, of Fairview, Ky.

I am shocked and saddened by the news that dear Mrs. Lindley is dead. Earth is poorer, heaven is richer. Her love for her Master was her supreme passion, but there was room in that pure, sweet nature of hers for sympathy and love for every human interest, every thing that enriched and uplifted those who lived around her.

Her bed of suffering was one of sweet, patient, cheerful waiting for the summons to "Come home." How I would liked to have been there, but since it might not be, I send these few broken words as a wreath to lay upon her grave. Seldom has God combined loftiness of spirit, breadth of view with such purity, tenderness and such warmth of personal affection.

Only the future will justly reveal the quiet but far-reaching influence of her life.

We mourn that we are not to clasp her hand here again in loving greeting, but we rejoice with her for she is with Him whom she loved with all her mind, might and strength.

To her Heavenly father and ours we commend the loved ones, especially the aged father and mother in a distant state, the husband and precious little one.

Oh, how sweet it will be in that beautiful land, So free from all sorrow and pain, With songs on our lips and harps in our hands, To meet one another again. Hopkinsville, Ky. —L. E. S.

How Veterans Will Be Entertained in Nashville Next Month.

In compliance with the recommendations of the convention of the United Confederate Veterans held at New Orleans the committee having in charge the reunion to be held in Nashville, June 14, 15, 16, have decided to make the entertainment of the old soldier, the principal feature of the reunion.

The sponsors and maids of honor will bear their own expenses.

The following rates will prevail during the reunion.

Arlington Hotel, 520 Church street, J. K. Richmond, proprietor. Rate of $1 per day, American plan.

In addition to the hotels, there are numerous boarding houses and private families who will accept guests. Rates for board and lodging from $1 to $1.50 per day. Lodging without board from 50c to $1.

Those who desire accommodations at the hotels, will apply at once direct to the hotel; those who desire board and lodging or lodging only, at boarding houses or private families address the secretary of this committee.

Nashville has ample restaurant facilities at usual popular prices.

All Veterans who so desire will be entertained by the committee.

Meals will be served during the entire reunion at Hay and Market Square from six o'clock in morning until six in the evening, beginning on the morning of Tuesday, June 14th, and not before.

Sleeping accommodations will be provided, embracing cots only. All veterans who desire these privileges will bring blankets and towels with them.

None but Confederate Veterans wearing badges will be admitted to lodging quarters and meals at the Hay Market.

All badges will be distributed by the badge committee at general headquarters at Ward's Seminary.

All organized bodies of veterans who are coming to the reunion, expecting the privileges of quarters and meals will notify the secretary of this committee at Nashville as many days as possible before the reunion, as to the number coming. Carefully note that no meals will be served until six o'clock Tuesday morning, June 14th, when the Hay Market will be open.

Horses for the parade can be procured for $2.00 each, without saddles. The supply of saddles is so limited that all who contemplate participating in the parade mounted, are urged to bring their saddles with them.

Carriages will be provided for the chief, department and division sponsors and their maids of honor for the parade.

The headquarters of the command-in-chief and adjutant-general will be at the Maxwell House.

Department and division headquarters will be at the Hume, and Fogg schools, at the corner of Broad and Spruce streets, one block from the Union station.

The Jefferson Davis memorial service will be held at Christ church, Broad street, Tuesday morning, June 14th, at 10:30 o'clock. Address by the Right Reverend Thomas F. Gallor, bishop of Tennessee.

The association of medical officers of the army and navy of the Confederacy, will meet in the building of the medical department of the University of Tennessee on Broad street, between High and Vine, at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, June 14, and at subsequent times pursuant to adjournment, so as not to conflict with the general reunion services.

Immediately upon arrival, delegates and veterans will be met at the trains by committees and escorted to committee headquarters at Ward's Seminary, two blocks from the Union Station, and one block from all state headquarters, where they will be assigned.

The parade will be held Thursday morning, June 16th, forming promptly at 9 o'clock.

For the purpose of securing homes, lodging, carriages, horses or information of any character, address, L. R. Eastman, secretary of the reunion committee, Nashville, Tenn.

CHAS. F. FRIZZEL, Chairman General Committee.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

(Special to New Era.)

OWENSBORO, Ky., May 31.—Jouett Henry, of Hopkinsville, has been unanimously elected to succeed Thomas J. Smith, deceased, as colonel of the third Kentucky regiment, State Guard, Adj. A. G. Chapman received the results of the elections held in the regiment, and the officers and privates are a unite in their selection of Col. Henry to fill the position held for so many years by Col. Smith. The Third Kentucky regiment has companies in the following cities in Western Kentucky: Bowling Green, Morgantown, Owensboro, Hopkinsville, Madisonville, Greenville, Franklin, Russellville, Paducah, Earlinton and Mayfield. The regimental band is at Owensboro.

Col. Henry is one of the best known and most popular military men in the state, and in the election throughout the entire regiment there was not a single vote cast against him. He is also prominently connected with a number of secret societies and is mayor of Hopkinsville. He has been state guardsman for many years, having enlisted as a private June 22, 1862, in Company D, Third Kentucky regiment. He served two years in the ranks and was appointed sergeant, and was then successively elected to all the positions in his company, being made captain in 1888. He was elected lieutenant colonel in the Third Kentucky in October, 1890. Owing to Col. Smith's ill health he was in charge of the field work of the regiment for several years, going with it in the Spanish-American War.

CHARMS AUDIENCE

WITH MAGIC OF HIS ELOQUENCE

Ex-Gov. Robert L. Taylor's "Castles in the Air" delighted a good sized audience at Holland's opera house last night. The inclement weather prevented the packed house that usually greets the gifted Tennesseean whenever he speaks in Hopkinsville. Like his other addresses, "Castles in the Air" is a charming medley of eloquence, mirth and melody. He drew a beautiful picture of home with its joys and contentments. He said it was worth all the world of suffering and labor to reap the reward of home. "For it is there," he said, "that the Christ of every heart whispers to the Galilee of love, 'peace be still.'"

Representative Cowherd, chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, has opened headquarters in Washington. Being interviewed, he says: "Newspapers

West Virginia were so harmonious that only seventeen men were killed;
that the Dick and Foraker factions
in Ohio have abandoned balloting and are relying for success on the thickness of their skulls and the weight of their clubs. Illinois is in the throes of the bitterest convention
fight the Republican party ever experienced in that state. There is a probability of a riot at the state convention in Wisconsin and noted prize fighters and athletes are in demand for sergeants-at-arms. Senator Spooner says 'the condition is deplorable. There is no worse condition anywhere!' Is not this a pathetic state of things?"

It is about three months and a half since the Slav and the Jap severed diplomatic relations and began to shoot. The intermittent but frequent shooting has been heard all around the earth and has produced the most intense and unflagging discuss discussion. Few points, however, have been settled. The superiority of the Jap at sea is easily shown. The aloofness of the Jap on land is indicated. The first third of a year may be said to mark first blood for the Jap. Beyond these points discussion invades speculation.

NEW THOUGHTS.

Are you growing more attractive as you
advance in life?

"Given a healthy body," says Dr. R. V.
Pierce, the specialist in woman's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., and a healthy mind, and
everyone can cultivate and enjoy happiness."

We must eat
properly and digest well to be beautiful. It is a fact that any form
of dyspepsia may
in a few days transform a clear, white skin into a mass of pimples and black spots. A beautiful woman has the beauty of her stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery maintains a person's nutrition by enabling one to eat, retain, digest and assimilate the proper nutritious food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and thus the person is saved from those symptoms of fever, night-sweats, headache, etc., which are so common. A tonic made up largely of alcohol will shrink the corpuscles of the blood and make them weaker for resistance.

"This is to certify that I have used Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, think it's the greatest medicine in the world," writes Mrs.
V. M. Young, of West, W. Va. "I had dyspepsia
in its worst form. I decided to try your medicine. I used five bottles, and now I am doing my own housework. A number of my friends also are using Dr. Pierce's medicine and they recommend it highly. May God bless you in your grand work."

Dr. Pierce believes that a tonic made with alcohol will shrink the red blood corpuscles
and make the system weak for resistance;
that is why he avoided the use of any alcohol or narcotics in his "Medical Discovery," which contains the pure extract from roots
and herbs without a particle of alcohol.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for dyspepsia or debility.
Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr.
Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Good Spirits.
Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass state could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces.
You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition
by using Green's August Flower, the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. At all drug gists.

Moonshine Raid.
Deputy Revenue Agent Ryan, of Russellville, raided an illicit distillery just over the Christian county line in Caldwell Wednesday night and secured the outfit, including ten gallons of whisky. The owner of the still has not been apprehended.

What to Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge recently expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON X, SECOND QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, JUNE 5.

Text of the Lesson, Mark xv, 1-15.
Memory Verses, 12-14—Golden Text, Luke xxiii, 4.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1904, by American Press Association.]

After the passover and the institution of the supper in the last lesson our Lord spoke to the eleven the wonderful words of John xiv to xvi and prayed as recorded in John xvii. Then He went forth over the brook Cedron with His faithful few to the Mount of Olives and into the garden of Gethsemane, cast off by His son Israel (Ex. iv, 22, 23). This was foreshadowed in David when He, with His faithful few, crossed the same brook, cast out by his son Absalom (II Sam. xv, 23, 30), but in that case the wicked son was slain,
while here in our lesson the righteous King is to suffer in the stead of His enemies, the just for the unjust (I Pet.
iii, 18; Rom. v, 8).

The agony and conflict in Gethsemane, the sleeping disciples, the betrayal and arrest of our Lord, Simon Peter's blunder with the sword, the disciples all fleeing, Jesus before Annas and Caiaphas, the false witnesses, the blinding, mocking, smiting, spitting, Peter's denial—these are some of the events and incidents of that awful night, but who can tell what they meant to Him who was the center of all, the Lamb of God, oppressed and afflicted, brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers, opening not His mouth (Isa.
lii). The morning came, the morning of earth's darkest day, and the council,
having condemned Jesus to death, blind
Him and lead Him away and deliver
Him to Pontius Pilate, the governor.

The King of the Jews, rejected by His own people, treated by them as an evil doer and condemned to die, silent and suffering, He allows them to act
their pleasure.

About the time that our Lord was brought before Pilate, Judas brought the thirty pieces of silver, testified to the chief priests and elders that Jesus was innocent, threw down the money in the temple and went and hanged himself (Matt. xxvii, 3).

For a more full account of all that passed between Pilate and the Jewish rulers and Jesus see Luke xxiii, 4-16; John xviii, 28, to xix, 15. It is possible that as Pilate, the representative of the great world power of that time,
asked Jesus, "Art thou the king of the Jews?" he may have thought Him to be some poor, harmless, weak-minded person, for even now when some true believer speaks of Jesus as the King of the Jews, some to return and sit on David's throne, asserting that he also expects to reign with Him, he is apt to be considered by many very religious people to be an ignorant, weak-minded person, notwithstanding such Scriptural statements as Luke i, 32, 33; Rev. v, 9, 10; Col. iii, 4.

Having confessed before the high priest and before Pilate that He is the Christ, Jesus, but he knew neither their names, nor the King of the Jews (Mark
xiv, 61, 62; xv, 2). He has nothing
more to say, so now to chief priests
and Pilate He answers nothing, but
patiently awaits their disposal of Him.

It was the governor's custom to release to the Jews at the time of the passover a prisoner, whomsoever they desired, and, having a notable prisoner,
a murderer named Barabbas, he asked whether he should release Barabbas or Jesus, the King of the Jews. He probably thought that they would surely choose Jesus, but he knew neither their names, nor the King of the Jews (Mark
xiv, 61, 62; xv, 2). He has nothing
more to say, so now to chief priests
and Pilate He answers nothing, but
patiently awaits their disposal of Him.

It appears from a harmony of the gospels (one being before me as I write and quote from one or the other of the evangelists) that Pilate inter-ceded for Jesus and offered to set Him free not less than seven times on that eventful morning. Peter says that Pilate was determined to let Him go (Acts iii, 13). In John xviii, 38; xix,
4, 6, we hear Pilate say three times,
"I find no fault in Him." Pilate's wife, because of a dream which she had,
sent this message to her husband:
"Have thou nothing to do with that just man" (Matt. xxvii, 19). There seemed to be no one against Him but His own nation, and they so hate Him that they prefer a murderer to the Holy Lamb of God.

So Pilate, willing to content the people, yet acting contrary to his own conscience and against his wife's entreaty, released Barabbas, the murderer, and delivered Jesus, the innocent one, to be crucified. But since Pilate held Him to be innocent and washed his hands of the affair (Matt. xxvii, 24), why seize Him? It is all too awful to read, but what must the actual occurrence have been? Was it at this time that the plowmen plowed upon His back and made long furrows, that the cruel thongs flew round His face
also and made His visage to be so marred more than any man? (Ps. cxix, 3; Isa. lii, 14.) I do not know, but I have often wondered.

People are daily choosing a mur-derer, the devil, or the Christ of God.
Every one must face the question,
"What shall I do with Christ?" We cannot get rid of it any more than Pilate could, and no amount of niter or soap and water can wash away our guilt (Jer. ii, 22), nothing but the blood of Jesus. As He died in the stead of Barabbas, so He died in my stead, but how can I ever thank Him?

MERCURY

A POOR CRUTCH.

Experience is a dear teacher, as those who pin their faith to Mercury find out sooner or later. This powerful poison combined with Potash, is the treatment generally prescribed for Contagious Blood Poison, but failure and disappointment is the invariable result. These minerals drive in the sores and eruptions, and apparently the disease is gone and the patient believes the cure permanent, but soon learns better when the old symptoms return almost as soon as the treatment is left off. You must either keep the system saturated with mercury or endure the tortures of sore mouth, ulcerated throat and the mortification that one naturally feels when the body is covered with disgusting sores, rashes, copper-colored spotches and other aggravating symptoms of this vile disease.

Mercury and Potash are poor crutches, and their use eventually breaks down the constitution, ruins the digestion and cause the bones to decay.
S. S. S., a guaranteed purely vegetable remedy, is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys every atom of the deadly virus, overcomes the bad effects of the mercury and cleanses the blood and system so thoroughly that never after are any signs of the disease seen. Nor is the taint ever transmitted to others.

We will send free our book on Contagious Blood Poison, which is interesting and contains full directions for treating yourself at home. Medical advice or any special information desired given without charge.

DOUGLAS BELL, MASTER

COMMISSIONER

TO THE WOMEN OF THE UNITED STATES.

Successful Home Treatment.

Dr. Hartman's Cure for Female Diseases--A Generous Offer to Women.

Invalid Women are Applying by Thousands for Dr. Hartman's Free Home Treatment by Letter.

MRS. J. P. COADY, Treasurer of the Ivy Leaf Club, 1702 6th Avenue, Council Bluffs, Iowa, writes:

"Peruna is no experimental medicine. I have used it off and on now for three years. At that time I was cured of irregular and painful menstruation. Since that time I have taken it for indigestion or whenever I felt overworked and in need of a tonic, and I have always found that it was of great benefit to me. I am therefore pleased and happy to say a word in its praise and shall gladly endorse it to my friends."--Mrs. J. P. Coady.

Miss Hattie Grace, 254 West 46th St., New York, writes:

"Peruna has changed me from a fretful, irritable, nervous woman into a healthy and happy one. Nothing seems to worry and to fret me any more. Since early womanhood I suffered with bearing down pains and nervousness. I was thin and worried, but Peruna restored me. Those who knew me before cannot understand the change, but I can sum it all up in the blessed word, Peruna."--Hattie Grace.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ferguson, No. 181 51st St., Brooklyn, N. Y., President West Brooklyn Audubon Society, writes:

"I am pleased to tell what a blessing Peruna has been to me. Several years ago my constitution seemed broken down and I cared little whether I lived or died. I had taken so much medicine that the sight of a bottle made me sick. I had read about Peruna curing women, and I thought perhaps it would help me. I bought a bottle and before it was finished I felt better. I kept on taking it, and after three months' faithful use I was a well woman and able to do the work and undergo the strain of younger days."--Elizabeth Ferguson.

In view of the great multitude of women suffering from some form of female disease and yet unable to find any cure, Dr. Hartman, the renowned gynecologist, has announced his willingness to direct the treatment of as many cases as make application to him during the summer months without charge.

The treatment will be conducted by correspondence. The doctor will prescribe all medicines, applications, hygienic and dietary regulations necessary to complete a cure. The medicines prescribed can be obtained at all drug stores. This offer will hold good only during the summer months. Any woman can become a regular patient by sending a written statement of her age, condition of life, history and symptoms of her derangements.

All cases of female diseases, including menstrual irregularities, displacements, ulcerations, inflammations, discharges, irritation of the ovaries, tumors and drop of the abdomen, should apply at once and become registered as regular patients. All correspondence will be held strictly confidential.

As is well known, Dr. Hartman is the president of The Hartman Sanitarium, an institution which has a department devoted exclusively to the treatment of female diseases. He is thus brought to see thousands of such cases every year, the most of whom return to their homes to be treated by correspondence. The principal remedy he relies upon in such cases is Peruna, which every woman should have who has any affection of this kind. Those wishing to become patients should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

No one knows better than Dr. Hartman how much the women suffer with diseases peculiar to their sex. No one knows better than he does how many of them suffer with such diseases. Patiently, hopefully, wearily, and often silently, they eke out a miserable existence, year after year.

No martyr in poetry or heroine in romance makes a more touching appeal to human sympathy than the woman burdened with the cares of a family trying to carry the extra load of some tormenting and ever present female disease.

Dr. Hartman's sympathy for such is unbounded, and his willingness to help them limited only to his power.

Deafness Can Not be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev.
Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 29.—In this sermon for Memorial day the preacher pleads for justice and recognition for those who, though wearing no uniforms and bearing no weapons, yet served their country in its crisis as faithfully and patriotically as ever did soldier at the front of the battle line. The text is Matthew xix, 30, "Many that are first shall be last, and the last shall be first."

From time immemorial nations have honored their military chieftains. All Carthage knelt in reverence before the tombs of Hannibal and Hannibal. All Sweden honors the sacred dust of Gustavus Adolphus and of Marshal Bernadotte, who afterward ascended the throne as King Charles XIV. All Germany reveres the name of Frederick the Great and Count von Moltke. All Italy praises Garibaldi and Victor Emmanuel. In England the Duke of Wellington and Lord Napier sleep within St. Paul's cathedral under the most magnificent dome of all London. Westminster abbey is the last resting place of scores of generals and admirals who have made England's name famous upon the land and upon the sea.

Not only do the modern nations honor their dead military chieftains, but also the living soldiers who have shed their blood upon hard fought battlefields. They honor not their generals only, but the humble privates who once carried the muskets in the ranks, the petty noncommissioned officers, the lieutenants, or captains of small company commands. When these soldiers die they are laid in the grave with military honors. When as worn-out veterans they are unable to look after themselves, then the best of "soldier homes" are provided for their housewarming. England has placed the royal palace, in the Isle of Wight, where Queen Victoria passed most of her life, at the service of her convalescent sailors. France has her beautiful retreat of the Invalides for her aged soldiers, in the midst of which is the huge sarcophagus of her greatest warrior, whose dying request was this: "It is my wish that my ashes may repose on the banks of the Seine, in the midst of the French people whom I loved so well." The finest sites near our own national capital and Milwaukee and Danville and Santa Monica are filled with the veterans of our own army, who were just as brave as any that were the Confederate gray or the Federal blue, who laid down their lives upon the blood soaked soil of Vicksburg, Chancellorsville, Lookout Mountain or Atlanta.

Though on this Memorial Sabbath we specially honor the heroes who laid down their lives on the battlefield or who survived the war to die afterward of their wounds or of disease brought on by the exposure and the hardships of the war, I want to call your attention this morning to men who rendered other kinds of service in the great struggle. That conflict could never have been fought out if some who did not go to the front had not loyally done their duty in other spheres. There were some who would gladly have shouldered a musket and gone to the war, but renounced their share in the danger and the glory of the battle that they might render less conspicuous but no less essential service to their country. Let us give them, too, their meed of praise.

The Unpaid Heroes.
On this Memorial day I praise the unpraised southerner as well as the unpraised northerner. I believe the civil war, bloody as it was, awful and terrific as it was, mortal as it was, with 1,000,000 dead, was worth all the sacrifice it cost. Why? Because once and for all it settled the vital and far reaching question that the United States government forever was to be bounded on the east by the Atlantic, on the west by the Pacific, on the north by the great lakes and on the south by the gulf. Though the United States proper comprises an area of 3,025,000 square miles, yet in that vast area, great as it is, there will never be room for more than one government any more than two queens can live within the same beehive. This question of one government had to be settled once for all by the sword. If it had not been settled by a bloody conflict between the north and the south it certainly would have had to be settled later by a bloody conflict between the east and the west. Thus I honor today the unpraised hero who in 1861 lived below the Mason and Dixon line as well as the unpraised hero of Michigan and Pennsylvania and New York and Maine.

First, on this Memorial day, let us honor the statesmen in the cabinet and the legislators in the capitol who conducted the national government during those four years of trial. In the northern capitol at Washington and in the Confederate capitol at Richmond there were men as brave as those in the armies. Their duties were onerous, their responsibilities serious, their patriotism intense. Let us raise the national flag over the dead bodies of the senators and the congressmen who valiantly stood at their posts during those awful years of carnage, as well as put a wreath of flowers upon the graves of the men who died at South Mountain, Antietam or Fredericksburg.

It is so easy to speak scornfully of our Washington legislators. It is so easy to call the United States senate the "millionaires' assembly" or the "club of the old fogies." It is so easy to say the house of representatives is a collection of nonentities, who are ruled for the most part by one or two men who crack the party whip over the backs of their fellows. But, my friends, I believe that by such speeches injustice is often done to able men. We have a right to assume that men who have been chosen by their fellow citizens to represent them in congress are worthy men, and when we disparage them we disparage the citizens who elected them. The first great battles are not fought out with sword and cannon, but with tongue and pen in legislative assembly. The civilized world knew Spain was doomed long before Commodore Dewey's guns spoke in Manila harbor. When on June 13, 1898, congress authorized the secretary of the United States treasury to issue $400,000,000 worth of bonds for national defense, all the ultimate outcome of the Spanish-American war was decided, except how the treaty of peace should be signed. The outcome of the terrific conflict of 1861 to 1865 would never have been the maintenance of the Union if congress had not loyally supported President Lincoln during that eventful period. Aye, there were giants in those days. But the giants upon Capitol hill, whose moral courage and unswerving loyalty were tried and proved, deserve our honor as much as do the giants fighting at the front.

Which Most Deserved Honor?

Place side by side, if you will, those two master personalities, John Sherman and William T. Sherman. They were brothers; they were both geniuses. As we look over the pages of history it is a very debatable question which should be honored the more: the brilliant volunteer soldiers of the war, or the men who guided and created patriotic legislation, the other a giant in military strategy, yet today in almost every city you can see fifty pictures of William T. Sherman where you will find one of his patriotic brother, who was senator of the United States from 1861 to 1877. The vital importance of the work done by our national legislators can never be better illustrated than in the life of James A. Garfield. He was one of the most brilliant volunteer soldiers of the war. From the presidential chair of Hiram college in 1861 he stepped into the military camp and donned a soldier's uniform. Within two years he wore the shoulder straps of a major general. Yet Abraham Lincoln placed his hand upon the brilliant chief of Rosecrans' staff and said: "Garfield, I need you more in congress than I do in the field. Reassign your soldier's commission and as a congressman come and help me."

Thus today I not only honor the soldier, but also the legislator. I honor James A. Garfield the general. I also honor James A. Garfield the Ohio congressman. In both positions he did valuable and heroic service. On this Memorial day the brother who stayed at home and worked the farm should be praised as well as the young man who went to the front and was mentioned for a heroic deed in the commander's dispatch. The young man who sank his personality in the more common but equally needful duties of home life might have been even braver and more unselfish than the soldier boy who marched down the main street of his native town or city, keeping step to the strains of martial music, and whose train pulled out of his home depot amid the shouts and huzzas of admiring friends who came to bid him goodbye.

The Boys Who Stayed at Home.

Let me illustrate what I mean by praising the boy who stayed at home to work the farm. Some time ago I was attending a soldiers' reunion. It was a most impressive spectacle, that assembly of aged men. Yes, the ranks of the old soldiers are thinning very rapidly. We shall not have them with us long. But, though these veterans were very old when they began to tell their campfire stories, as their narrative proceeded they seemed to become boys again. Among the stories told was one I shall never forget. "Did you have any brothers in the army?" asked an aged soldier. "Yes, one," was the answer. "There were three boys of us. We all wanted to go, but father and mother were getting old, and some one had to stay at home and look after the old folks and our younger sisters. So one night we had a family convocation. After the family talk we three sons and mother and father decided that two of us boys could go to the war, but that one should stay at home and work the farm. Who were to go? Who was to stay at home? We all wanted to go and fight and so we decided to draw lots. Mother held the book and put in the three slips of paper with one marked 'Stay at home.' We drew. John and myself went to the front. Harry stayed at home." "Did your brother regret that he had to stay?" "Oh, yes. But some one had to stay, and so he simply swallowed his disappointment. Yes, we two boys could never have gone to the front but for Harry's faithfulness to the old folks." Was he not just as patriotic as the two who went forth to battle? Let us, then, place a flower over his grave as well as upon the graves of those who went to the war. Let us realize that the stay at home sometimes evinced greater moral courage, made more heroic self sacrifice and endured greater disappointments than the ones who went to the front.

In this Memorial address we would accord praise to all who did the country service—the contractors who furnished the blankets and the shoes and the tents and the food and the guns, the patriotic bankers, the railroad men, like Thomas Alexander Scott, who did such valuable service in rushing the troops to their ultimate destinations.

We would praise the newspaper editors, who molded public opinion so that the right men were elected to congress, and the newspaper reporters, who risked life and limb to carry back the news from the front, of what husbands and fathers and brothers had suffered under the tornadoes of shot and shell in the last battle. We would praise such men as A. K. McClure of the Philadelphia Press, with whom Lincoln was in closest contact, and James Gordon Bennett of the New York Herald. These men never were able to wear a Grand Army button. They could tell no campfire stories at the Grand Army reunions, but they had their part in the great struggle. But for their enterprise, their daring and their patriotic devotion we should never have had the records of valor which are now our priceless possession.

Services of Charles A. Dana.

It is a very grave question whether Abraham Lincoln could not better have parted with almost any one of his major generals than he could have lost that genius of railroad organizing, Thomas Alexander Scott. It is a very grave question whether U. S. Grant would not have been deposed from his command and sent back home in disgrace had it not been for Charles A. Dana, who, as the personal representative of Lincoln, went to the front and exposed and denounced the false scandals which were being circulated about the "silent warrior" of the west. It is a very grave question whether Salmon P. Chase could have ever successfully financed the United States bonds which paid the running expenses of the war government, costing at that time millions upon millions of dollars each month, unless he had been backed up by Jay Cooke, the Philadelphia capitalist, who was to Lincoln what Robert Morris was to George Washington in the Revolution. So today I impartially praise the patriotic soldier, the patriotic railroad man, the patriotic editor, the patriotic financier, the patriotic contractor—McClure and Dana and Scott and Jay Cooke, as well as Grant and Sherman and Sheridan and Lee and Longstreet and John B. Gordon.

In this Memorial day address we would not omit the need of recognition due to the ministers of the home churches as well as the chaplains who labored in the field hospital and the wounded and moaning men who had the pallor of death upon their cheeks the night after the battle. We would praise men like Henry Ward Beecher of Brooklyn and Moses D. Hoge of Richmond and Dr. Palmer of New Orleans. These men were never identified with any one particular regiment or brigade, yet in their utterances of inspiration, in the divine comfort which they carried to the bereft homes, in their words of faith and love, which through the printed page went to the boys in the camp, they became mighty evangelists of light, mighty gospel messengers for God and their native land.

We have all read about the noble services of Dwight L. Moody to the soldier boys at the front. We know that many a dying soldier boy was able to answer "Here!" to the roll call of heaven because some faithful chaplain on earth had prepared him for that. "Fall in!" on the other side of the grave. We know that many a dying wife at home was pained by the faithful chaplains who looked after the boys of their regiments as a father might care for the children about his own fireside. But what about that gray haired old minister of the village church? Did he not serve any patriotic purpose?

Jackson's Advice to a Minister.

We cannot today too much praise the work of the gospel minister during the agonies of America's four years of carnage. One day a man applied to General Jackson for a position in his army. "What is your business?" asked Jackson. "I am a minister of the gospel," was the reply. Then Jackson, the Christian soldier, said: "My friend, I can give you no position as high as that which God has given to you. Go back to your own church. In the name of Jesus Christ, give comfort to the widows whose husbands have been shot; to the children whose fathers, on account of this bloody war, will never come back; to the young maidens who can never again see their sweethearts. Go back and preach the gospel of sacrifice to the young men who must be enlisted from your town. Go back! In God's name, go back!" Aye, the duty which Thomas J. Jackson assigned to the ministers of Jesus was grandly and nobly fulfilled by hundreds of consecrated clergymen, both in the north and the south. Today I honor the memories of the noble men of God who at home were true and firm to their Lord and their people during the awful conflict.

But I have still another long list of unpraised heroes. I would not praise the boy in blue or the boy in gray for what he did in 1861 and 1865 more than I would praise him for what he did after peace had been proclaimed. It was a spectacle that astonished the world, a spectacle unprecedented in history, that of the soldiers of those two huge armies laying down their muskets and taking up the plowshare. To their honor be it said that they were ready to turn their backs upon strife and, side by side, work together in the vocations of peace. The vast armies of America going forth to battle is not nearly as impressive, from a historic standpoint, to the student of sociology, as those armies almost instantly melting away and then and there their ex-members, fraternizing with one another and striving to the uttermost to build up the country with as much earnestness as they had shown in fighting each other to the death.

Without any doubt, Robert E. Lee

was one of the finest characters America ever produced. Would you like to know what was to me the greatest act of that grand life? I find it not in his actions before the war. I find it not in his wonderful equanimity and gentleness and marvelous powers during the war. But after Appomattox the chief nobility of that life glowed before his fellow countrymen as a single star might outshine all the other stars in the heavenly firmament. After the war was over a rich financial company of New York city, in order to catch the southern trade through Robert E. Lee's popularity, offered Lee $25,000 per year at a salary to become its manager. What said General Lee? "No, I cannot come. I must stay among my own people to help teach them to become true Christian citizens, to help teach them how to have faith in their God and patriotic love for their whole land." Robert E. Lee turned his back at that time upon the most princely salary then offered in the city of New York. In order to teach his people to love a reunited country and to have faith in God he accepted a humble position as the president of one of Virginia's bankrupt schools. Rather than live for mercenary gain he quietly and yet nobly and unselfishly went to live among the shattered walls of Washington college in Lexington. He lived there until the close of his life. Some people may tell you that the greatest service the American soldier did for his country was when he suffered upon the field of battle. I tell you that the greatest service the Confederate army and the Federal army ever did for their native land was when they dissolved and when their Christian soldiers became the earnest, consecrated advocates of Christian peace. So today I praise no less highly than the soldier who went out in 1861 to fight his country's battles the soldier in 1862 returning to civil life and striving in home and factory and store to heal the wounds of the nation and reunite its people in the bonds of Christian love.

The Sentinel's Call.

Some time ago I stood on the top of the Washington monument and looked off upon the battlefields of America and dreamed my dreams. I saw hundreds of thousands of human bones bleaching in the sunlight, gnawed of the vulture and the wolf. I heard the muffled drums beating the tattoo at sunset. As the artillery wagons rumbled away to the rear, and stars twinkled to star, I heard a sentinel by the glare of the campfire call to sentinel: "All's well. All's well along the Potomac!"

There go the booming of the cannon and the sharp commands of the officers, "Steady, boys; steady, steady!" There is the ping of the bullet, and the dying soldier clutches at his heart as he means, "My babies, O God, my poor babies!" and then drops dead. There comes the blood curdling Confederate cry, "Eh! Eh! Eh! H! H! H!" There is the long line of set faces behind the glittering bayonets. The heavens redden and glow. The flames leap and hiss and dance and make merry over the burning homes. The falling beams go crash, crash, crash! The rivers are deep with flowing blood; the grave trenches are filled with a million dead.

As I turn and look upon the great white dome of the capitol the old national flag flaps and waves. Its stars glitter like the eyes of the mothers waiting for their boys who never came back, and like the eyes of the maidens who, after awhile as old women, read and reread the torn and the yellow letters which their heroes just before the fatal battle wrote about the bridal homes which were destined never to be built. And as I look upon the old flag again the white stripes look like the white bandages which were put about the shattered arms. The long, deep streaks of red prove that its folds had once been dipped into pools of human blood. Then the great white dome of the legislative hall, glistening in the sunlight, looks as though it were built out of the broken tombstones of Arlington Heights and Gettysburg and the Wilderness.

The War Forever Ended.

Then, as I look up and down the great Pennsylvania avenue, I seem to see the united armies of the boys in blue and of the boys in gray marching, marching, marching. I see the lines melt away. Following with my eye one soldier, I see him take his discharge, and he starts for home. I cannot tell whether this discharged soldier is now heading for the Michigan hills or for the Georgia plantations. In his civilian dress he has no distinctive insignia telling me whether he fought under Grant or under Lee. Then I see this soldier coming up to the farm gate and being welcomed home by his dear ones. Now his wife nearly faints away for joy. Then in the evening hour I see him gather the little children about him. He opens the old book; he reads a chapter; the family kneel in prayer; then the lights are put out, and I know the war is forever ended.

The Christian soldier of conflict has become the Christian citizen of patriotic peace. So on this Memorial day, with its sad and happy associations, while we praise the soldier boy of 1861 let us also honor the Christian veteran of the time of peace. Let us, with the memory of what he has done in both conflicts, go forth to one last great battle. Let us take the Bible in hand and capture this round world for Christ.

Come, ye Christian heroes of the past, both praised and unpraised; come with your sacred memories and your buried dead. Come, ye Christian heroes of the future, with your cradles and unborn generations; come, ye nations about to be born for Christ; come all times and all millenniums! Down in prayer and kneel to him who will yet be crowned King of Kings and Lord of all! Hallelujah, for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth!
