HOW SLICK IS IT?—State roads remain slick and hazardous as this overturned semi-tractor trailer truck can attest. The vehicle, operated out of Ligon Trucking in Madisonville, overturned on U. S. 641 near the south Murray city limits yesterday. Wrecker crews spent much of this morning freeing the vehicle, which was loaded with plywood. Driver of the vehicle was Mike Holland who was forced into the ditch by another vehicle, according to a spokesman. A state travel advisory exists in the state today. A story on the advisory appears on the front page of today's issue.

Local Traffic Not Forbidden, Caution Urged

Gov. Julian Carroll has taken several steps to help Kentucky's storm-battered residents but he has not issued an order forbidding local vehicular traffic.

That word came from Ken Brandenburg, state Commissioner of Public Safety in a telephone interview with The Murray Ledger & Times this morning.

Brandenburg said that earlier reports that the state police had forbidden driving of any passenger car not equipped with tire chains or studded tires were misleading.

Brandenburg said that the state police are only concerned with "inter-city" travel and that the ban does not apply to trips within the confines of a municipality.

Murray Mayor Melvin Henley said today that even though city officials are urging local citizens to stay off the roads except when driving is absolutely necessary, traffic will not be banned.

"Murray police officers will not be citing drivers just for driving," Henley said. "Reckless driving or other dangerous vehicular traffic will be cited, just as under normal conditions," Henley added.

State police officials will give clearance to inter-city traffic for essential human needs such as food and medicine, Brandenburg said. But he pointed out that it is unnecessary for someone living in Murray to call the state police for clearance just to drive a few blocks to the grocery store or pharmacy.

Gov. Carroll, after a meeting with state police, transportation and disaster officials, issued an order permitting vehicles with chains or studded tires to travel on interstates and parkways, but only in emergencies and during daylight.

Anyone not meeting those conditions can be ordered off the interstates by Kentucky state troopers, and cited if they do not comply, said Gordon Nichols of the state Division of Disaster and Emergency Services.

Nichols said the order was effective until 6 p.m. Friday, "but we expect he may extend it at least into tomorrow."

He said the ban covers all interstates and state highways except those in Boyd, Lawrence, Martin and Pike counties along the eastern border of the state, where the ice and drifting snow were not as severe.

Some central Kentucky roads have been closed and barricaded by state police, including U.S. 62 between Versailles and Midway and in the Lawrenceburg area, U.S. 60 from Versailles to Frankfort, U.S. 25 from Georgetown to Lexington, and U.S. 421 north of Frankfort.

Carroll authorized state police and transportation officials to begin towing away some of the strings of abandoned cars and trucks buried in snowbanks on interstates without formal citation procedures, so the task of clearing some of the highways could begin.

Officials said anyone needing to travel because of emergency should notify state police at 1-502-564-3000 so troopers and National Guard personnel can be alerted and assist if necessary.

Brandenburg also said that the restrictions had been eased somewhat to allow four-wheel drive vehicles access to the inter-city routes in emergency situations.

Gary Auxier, spokesman for the governor, said that although Carroll's guidelines are not binding, they could be made mandatory if the situation warrants.

House Joint Resolution 34, approved by the House Thursday, would allocate $2 million for shelter, fuel and medical supplies for those affected by this winter's storms and any future floods.

If approved by the Senate, Carroll would be able to distribute the money from his contingency fund without any restrictions by state statutes.

Chamber Postpones Saturday Breakfast

The community-wide, Chamber of Commerce sponsored breakfast with local legislators, scheduled for Saturday morning, has been postponed.

Jim Johnson, executive secretary of the chamber, said today that the breakfast was being postponed because Rep. Kenneth C. Imes, D-Murray, and Sen. Rick Weisenberger, D-Mayfield, will not be able to make the trip from Frankfort to Murray because of hazardous road conditions.

Johnson said that breakfast would be scheduled for a later date.

The Snow Piles Higher And Deeper As...

Area Digs Out Of Latest Storm

West Kentuckians continue coping today with a neat blizzard Wednesday and Thursday which nearly paralyzed this end of the state.

Schools, factories, businesses are closed today.

Calloway County School System has been closed two weeks now, Murray City School System students got in a couple days of school this week before the latest storm blitzed through the area.

State, county and city highway crews continue working to clear roads, some that have snow drifted on them as deep as five feet.

Twenty one inches of snow has fallen in five storms in the last two weeks. The latest Wednesday evening left slightly over four additional inches on the ground. Gusting winds up to 30 miles per hour brought near blizzard conditions to much of West Kentucky.

A state driving advisory (See additional story on this page.) exists today as Kentucky State Police call roads throughout the area "slick and hazardous."

"We have four graders out this morning," county road department superintendent Rob Walston said today.

"We had one stuck yesterday on Allen Cemetery Road where there were five foot drifts."

Walston said graders will "bog down" in drifts. "We've got drifts scattered all over this county," he added. Walston said his crew will be trying to clear county roads for through traffic and U. S. Postal Service rural mail carriers. The county road department is expected to work through the weekend, Walston said.

The county road department is also using private vendors under a special $10,000 program the Department of Transportation has set up for each county for snow removal.

A Kentucky Department of Transportation spokesman today said county state-maintained roads are slick but passable. "We're out on some of the secondary roads today, trying to dig them out," the spokesman said.

The spokesman mentioned two large snow drifts, one in the Crossland area and another in the Browns Grove area. "We've got a truck hung up now in Penny," he said.

The spokesman said a layer of salt lies underneath the snow. "If it gets warm enough today that will help, but it may not get warm enough," he said. Department of Transportation crews are also expected to work through the weekend.

Calloway County Judge Robert O.

Miller's office continues coordinating snow relief efforts with the help of the county fire-rescue squad, CB clubs, four-wheelers clubs and other authorities.

Telephones numbers that can be called for assistance include:
County Judge's Office 753-2920
Senior Citizens 753-0929
Project Independence 753-5362
Murray Police 753-1621
CB Club 753-6660
Fire-Rescue Squad 753-4112

Calloway County Fire-Rescue Squad Thursday evacuated a family in Dexter who were the victims of a power failure. "The wife was pregnant and she wanted to be in a place that was more secure," a fire-rescue squad spokesman said. Rescue squad members late yesterday afternoon spent some time searching for a young woman thought to be lost in the Friendship Church area. The young woman, who had set out walking to a neighbor's house, was finally located later unharmed.

Fire-rescue squad members early yesterday fought a fire that destroyed the mobile home belonging to John Grogan in Grogan's Trailer Court on KY 94. Fire-rescue squad members were called to the fire twice—first to fight the original fire and later to extinguish it after it started burning again, the spokesman said.

Workers today freed a semi-tractor trailer truck that had overturned on U. S. 641 just inside the Murray city limits.

Murray City School Board Seeks Band Uniform Bids

Murray Independent Board of Education is expected to seek bids on new uniforms for the Murray High School Band. Murray Independent School Board approved advertising for the bids in a regular board session Thursday evening.

The board action came after a report from band director Joe Sills presented a report on the band's trip to the Orange Bowl in Miami. Sills also discussed long and short range plans for the band's instrumental program.

The board commended Sills for his work and his presentation and directed him to continue evaluating the band program and to report back to the board in the spring.

Murray City School Board Seeks Band Uniform Bids

Also at last night's meeting, the board discussed a letter from the Murray Education Association (MEA) in which MEA asked the board to recognize the organization as representative of the majority of the system's certified personnel.

The MEA requested the board or board representatives meet with MEA representatives on Monday, February 28, at 7 p.m. at the Murray Middle School library. The board took the request under advisement.

The board also approved plans for the Murray High School vocal group directed by Joan Bowker to take a trip to the American Music Festival. The festival will be held in Opryland in Nashville on April 20 and 21, 1978.

TVA May Cut Back Industrial Power

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Industries faced possible electricity cutbacks today as the Tennessee Valley Authority expected record demand on its seven-state power system.

The latest power crunch for the government utility began Thursday when a low-pressure system brought winds up to 60 miles per hour into the region and sent temperatures plummeting into the teens.

The demand for TVA electricity peaked at 21.8 million kilowatts Thursday morning, 200,000 kilowatts below the record set during a similar crisis earlier this month.

TVA spokesman Jim Beckham said the demand is expected to hit 23 million kilowatts today with temperatures predicted to average 8 degrees and a wind-chill factor of 16 below zero.

Thursday's cold snap struck with four of TVA's largest generators shut down for boiler tube leaks and turbine repairs. At 9 a.m., the second of the system's two largest 1.3 million kilowatt generators broke down at the Cumberland plant near Nashville.

Cumberland was back up at midnight and TVA officials said they expected to have two other units, one each at the Colbert plant in Alabama and the Paradise plant in Kentucky, operating today.

"It's just nip and tuck," TVA General Manager Lynn Seeber said. "We had no demand this morning (Thursday). Any more demand and we must take mandatory measures to cut our load. We've never had to do that before."

The forced cutbacks to large industries, including the government's uranium enrichment plants at Oak Ridge and Paducah, Ky., are the fourth step in TVA's five-step program to handle power crises. The fifth step is rotating outages in which a third of TVA's customers are without power for an hour at a time.

TVA implemented the first three steps in its emergency measures Thursday, cutting its own use of electricity and reducing voltage 5 percent.

The agency asked its customers to turn down their thermostats and avoid using hot water and other electric appliances as much as possible between the hours of 6 to 11 a.m. and 5 to 10 p.m.

SOME SNOW PLOW—Monty Caraway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pat Caraway, Route 4, Murray prepares to climb aboard a giant of a farm tractor mused into service this week as a snow removal vehicle. Department of Transportation is reimbursing private vendors for snow removal under a program that has sent $10,000 to each county in the state. Some of the private operators are also working with the county road department in an effort to clear roads, many that are covered with snow drifts. Young Caraway cleared much of Calloway County Courthouse in Murray Wednesday.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Some friction evident. Be your practical self and problems will not magnify. They can always be simplified if you put your mind to it.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)
Difficult situations? Analyze, then attack — with self-confidence and optimism. You can utilize your connections profitably in the p.m.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)
Precision and perception needed now. Curb a tendency to wander from a prescribed course. Aim to see both sides of controversial issues.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)
Stars fairly favorable, but be careful not to overstep sensible bounds. There's temptation now to exaggerate, underestimate, go to extremes generally.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)
Astute judgment needed; also self-restraint under pressure. Be tactful in speech, cautious in finalizing agreements. Some tricky spots indicated.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Avoid skepticism, doubt, pessimism. On the other hand, don't fall for any suggestions which common sense tells you have but dubious value.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
A day for listening! Give careful thought to all that is said in conversations, discussions. You could learn much to your advantage.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Some restraint needed. Just because another's idea sounds "intriguing" does not mean it is best for YOU. Think!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Some unexpected moves will call for alertness in all areas. Don't be overly suspicious where it's not warranted, however.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
You will be judged more by actions than by words. But be sure that BOTH register to your benefit. Discuss "sticky" problems with knowing heads.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Curb tendencies toward extravagance, pacing yourself too hectically. Tendencies toward extremism abound.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Don't insist on your own way if others disagree, except where right must prevail. Enjoy friends whose interests revive your spirits.

YOU BORN TODAY are, highly intelligent and extremely versatile; can lead successfully or follow adequately. You automatically know the elements for success because you look for real achievement rather than just trying "to get by." You are suited to enterprises catering to people generally. Knowing how to cooperate quietly and a willingness to strive for long hours are big factors in your success. Uncertainty and changeability are likely faults; also a tendency toward excessive volatility. Birthdate of: Alan Alda, actor; Colette, writer; Jackson Pollock, painter.

BREAKFAST TREAT
Spoon canned crushed pineapple on crisp ready-to-eat cereal. Top with milk or half and half cream.

PAINTED FIREPLACES
Fireplaces are a welcome sight after a bout with winter's chill breezes. To make the fireplace in your home both bright and inviting repaint the masonry surface in a color that will enhance your decorating scheme, suggests the National Paint and Coatings Assn. For a top-notch job, make sure that the surface is cleaned properly before you begin. For best results, select a latex paint, or a built-in resistance to alkali. This way, the paint can be used both as a topcoat and as a primer.

HOME AGAIN WITH GOD

Even if you've wandered, His love for you hasn't changed. The good He has for you hasn't gone. And your love for Him — and for all that's pure and gentle and good in your life — has never left you either. Should Girl Suffer Because of Mother?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Something has come up that I don't know how to handle. My 11-year-old daughter has a best friend I'll call Becky. Becky is a sweet girl, but her mother is a tramp.

She ran her husband off when he objected to the way she carried on with other men. In the meantime, Becky's mother entertains men friends night and day. Apparently she has no shame before her children from the things Becky has told my daughter. Some of the goings-on in that house are unreal!

I've told my daughter the facts of life, but it's nothing compared to what Becky has told her! What do you suggest? Should I forbid my daughter to have anything more to do with her friend? It hardly seems fair, but, Abby, I am stumped.

NEEDS ADVICE

DEAR NEEDS: It is highly unlikely that your daughter will be corrupted by anything she hears from her girlfriend. It would be unfair to punish the child for her mother's behavior.

You could do Becky a tremendous favor by making her especially welcome in your home, where wholesome attitudes and decency prevail. She needs understanding and kindness — not punishment and rejection for a situation for which she is blameless.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, a beautiful woman of 53, recently married a widower of 57. Daddy died two years ago and this man's wife died a year ago. Mom and "Pops" (as I call him) seemed made for each other.

It all started when Pops moved into Mom's home. Mom always had an 8 by 10 colored picture of my father (whom I'll call "Daddy") on the TV. Pops placed an 8 by 10 colored picture of his deceased wife on the TV beside it.

Next time we went to Mom's, she had another picture of Daddy — in his hunting outfit — on her bureau. Soon Pops placed a picture of his deceased wife on the bureau. This game has been going on until it's become ridiculous. Their apartment is now cluttered with pictures of Daddy and Pops' first wife.

Nobody says anything about it, but I'm sure there's been a few words between Mom and Pops. Should I mention it? I'm an only child and I'm very close to Mom. My husband told me to keep quiet.

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: With a bright husband like yours, you don't need any help from Dear Abby.

DEAR ABBY: We are a group of office employees with a problem that desperately needs to be solved. There is a certain salesman in our company who always wears an overpowering cologne. The smell is so overpowering that it actually nauseates some of us. After he has left the room, the smell of his cologne lingers for hours.

We've tried joking with him about it, but he takes it as a compliment and continues to use the cologne. Before we consider gas masks, please tell us how to get our message across.

NAUSEATED

DEAR NAUSEATED: Quit "joking" with him, and tell him in all seriousness that his fragrance disagrees with many in the office, and to please either use less or none at all!

Teen-age Drivers Need Thoughtful Help

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Q: Mrs. P. P. states that she and her husband have three children. The oldest is nearing his 16th birthday, and he wants to start driver education so that he can obtain the necessary driver's permit.

As parents, they have considered postponing the driving of an automobile in their son's case for an additional year or two, even though she considers him to be a normal young man.

Mrs. P. P. asks for comment. A: It is a fact that 16 and 17-year-old drivers have more automobile accidents. According to the Insurance Institute of Highway Safety, 2,000 or more fatalities a year in the United States are attributed to such young drivers, even though they have completed a driver's education course at school.

Critics claim that lack of development of more mature judgment accounts for such unfavorable results. They cause an increase in automobile insurance rates, especially for young male drivers.

On the other hand, many insurance companies give lower rates for teen-agers who have had driver education, indicating its beneficial results.

COMMUNITY CALENDAR
Friday, January 27
Murray Chapter of National Association of Retired Federal Employees will meet at 9:30 a.m. at the Woodmen of the World Executive Room with Judge Robert O. Miller as speaker.

Murray Civic Music Association Concert by Andre Watts, pianist, has been postponed until Feb. 15.

Exhibits by Richard Adams, Fort Thomas, photography, by George Cox, Radcliff, paintings, and Sue Ann Sears, Goshen, Ohio, drawings and paintings, will open at the Clara M. Eagle Gallery, Price Doyle Fine Arts Center, MSU, and continue through Feb. 8.

Saturday, January 28
Alpha Department of Murray Woman's Club has cancelled its meeting for today.

Sunday, January 29
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse T. Young will be honored at a reception in celebration of their 50th anniversary at the Farmington Community Center. All relatives and friends are invited to call between the hours of two to four p.m.

Like adults, teen-agers vary a great deal in their muscular coordination or manual dexterity in handling the steering, accelerating, and braking of an automobile, much as they vary in their ability to swim or dance.

Art Of Negotiating Theme Of Workshop

A workshop entitled "The Art of Negotiating" designed to examine the behavioral sciences of negotiation will be conducted at Kenlake State Resort Park, Aurora, on Saturday, Feb. 3.

Presented by the Department of Engineering and Industrial Technology at Murray State University, in cooperation with the Western Kentucky Chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America, the session will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Richard A. Zeif of New York, attorney and widely-known authority on the art and practice of negotiation, will be the principal speaker. He is a faculty member at the New School for Social Research in New York where he lectures on "Fundamentals of Negotiating" and has taught "International Transactions."

He was the 1971 recipient of the first Human Rights Award presented by the Division of Human Rights of New York State.

Philip Deaver of the Center for Continuing Education at Murray State said the workshop will be of interest to educators, as well as to representatives of industry, the trades, and other sectors which are sometimes involved in collective bargaining.

"It will not be a purely academic experience, but will provide opportunity for involvement — a chance for individuals to try out new skills in simulated situations," he explained.

The registration fee of $95 should be sent with advanced registration information such as name, address, telephone, and company as soon as possible by anyone interested.

Personality variations are important. The aggressive driver can be hazardous to himself or herself and to others. The fearful, overly cautious person, young or old, may be inde-

Donate Blood

"As a regular donor of blood, I appeal to those who have never seriously considered the importance and benefits of participating, and I urge all qualified Americans to join in this life-giving cause."

These words, written by President Jimmy Carter earlier this month in a letter to the American Association of Blood Banks as he proclaimed January "National Volunteer Blood Donor Month," tell us that here is a man who knows of what he speaks. A multiple-gallon donor of the precious life-giving fluid, President Carter has asked the rest of us to join him with our own blood donations.

Indeed, President Carter is one of the 3-to-5 percent of the American population who regularly donates blood...the blood that sustains and ensures the life of the rest of the 97 percent of us who don't give regularly.

And why not? Is it because we fear it will hurt? Ask any donor. A blood donation may not be comfortable, but it does not hurt.

Is it because we fear the loss of time? Not really, a blood donation takes only about half an hour, from start to finish.

Is it because we have never been asked? The American Association of Blood Banks tells us that most of us do not give blood because we have never been asked to do so. Well, President Carter is asking us to join with him in donating blood for those whose lives depend on us.

The AAB, the largest blood collection and transfusion organization in the world, needs 4 million units of blood during 1978 just to satisfy its commitments in the communities it serves. And the demand grows by about 10 percent a year! If each of us gave just twice a year, there would be no blood shortage: no times of crisis for victims of cancer, hemophilia, leukemia, no postponement of surgery for heart patients, those injured in automobile crashes, and babies born with Rh-incompatible blood.

Right here in Murray we have a way that will help us supply the blood needs of our local hospital. It is the Murray-Calloway County Hospital Blood Bank. It is five days a week, from 8:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. waiting for us—for you and me—to donate blood.

Sure, it is nice to give because it is the compassionate thing to do, but did you know that it also helps the donor? Each potential donor must pass a "mini-physical" that includes taking his weight, temperature, blood pressure and measuring the iron factor in his blood. If he passes, only then may he give blood. Of course, if the donor or his immediate family ever needs to use blood themselves, they are protected for the period of one year after each blood donation. It's called a blood assurance plan.

So you see, it makes good sense to become a volunteer blood donor. It helps us as we help others.

So what are we waiting for? We've been asked to give...by the President!

What A Dream

Governor Julian Carroll meant business, at least so the guys on the tube said last night and the fellows at the radio station said this morning.

He'd had enough. The silver haired governor last evening ordered all cars off state roads except in emergency situations. That's what the TV guys said.

And the word today was that you'd better not get out and drive unless you had studded tires or chains.

The governor also brought a shudder to my spine by calling out the National Guard to...um...help in extreme emergencies.

It's all a part of the Winter of 1978—the sleet, frozen rain, snow, mess, crap. Visions of martial law raced through my mind last night after I flipped off the television and went to bed.

I looked into my rear view mirror and spotted the all too familiar blue bubble-gum machine lights. I slowly eased the car to the side of the road careful not to pull into a deep snow drift. The car slid a little when I slowed down. The car stopped in the snow drift that I didn't want to stop in.

The officer got out of his car, riot helmet on. I fumbled for my wallet and drivers license. "Careful now, don't reach too fast. He may have an itchy trigger finger," I thought. Despite the frigid temperatures, I began to sweat.

"See your license please," the cop said.

I handed him my license. I remembered how my picture resembled an ex-con.

"What are you doing out driving?" he asked.

"Well, er, uh, I'm a member of the Press. You know, newspaper."

"Yes, Sir, do you classify your reason for driving on this treacherous highway as an extreme emergency?"

"Well, sorta, I'm doing a story on the weather. Shoot a few pictures now and then."

"Is that an emergency?"

"No, I don't guess you could call it an emergency. But, I can report on the emergency. I could report on you..."

"Are you trying to be funny," the officer said. "Get out, hands against the car."

Before I could say "snowtires" I was out of the car, my hands sticking to the side of the car.

"You have the right to remain silent.

Anything that you say will be used against you in court."

"But I'm a citizen," I protested.

"You can't arrest me."

"I can sir by order of the Governor. It is looks like you who are jeopardizing the safety of others on these snow packed roads." He slapped the cuffs on me and ordered me to stand while he went to his car and got on the radio for reinforcements.

I could imagine he was saying, "Sarge. We've got a real nut here. Says he with the Press. That's not an emergency is it?"

I had to get out of this. He averted his eyes for a few seconds, seemingly to find something in the car seat. That's when I made my break. I started to run, my hands cuffed behind me. It was tough. The icy road was like glass covered with hand lotion.

"Hey You Stop!" he shouted, jumping out of his car. I stumbled, almost falling, but kept running. My breath came in cold heaves.

I could hear his footsteps behind. Chancing a look back, I noticed he stopped. To pull his gun? No, he appeared to be making a snowball. All of a sudden I heard a whizzing noise as if someone was whistling through his teeth.

Kerplunk! The snowball struck the back of my head, knocking my hat off and send me sprawling to the ground.

"I give up! I give up!" I pleaded.

At that point I woke up with a start.

"I was only dreaming," I sighed. I shook the snow off my pillow, rubbed the back of my neck, and went back to sleep.

Praise To The Creator

Psalm 19:1-10

As the Psalmist contemplated the glory of God, which was revealed in the beautiful and wonderful world around and above him, he wanted to extol it to the fullest.

God's Glory Revealed In The Heavens 19:1-6

With keen insight, David recognized that nature is a silent and yet eloquent witness to the unmeasured power and the majestic glory of God. While he did not know as much about the heavens as men do today, as he gazed into them he recognized that they were the work of God. Moreover, he recognized all of creation as a revelation of God, a testimony to His existence, greatness, majesty, power, and glory. To him, the heavens in their vastness, splendor, order, and mystery proclaimed the glory of their Creator and Controller.

"Heavens" sometimes refers to the atmospheric space just above the surface of the earth in which the birds fly; in other cases to the space which is occupied by the clouds which are blown from place to place by the winds; in still other cases to the vast expanse in which the sun appears with all the glories of the day, and in which the moon and the stars appear with all the marvels of the night; and sometimes to the place in which God dwells.

The vastness of the heavens, the innumerable stars and the glory of them, and the fact that they move in their orbits according to law all combine to create a sense of awe on the part of those who study them. Although astronomers have been studying the heavens for years, with the use of instruments which were unknown to the ancients, yet they do not know all of the stars located there, for countless stars cannot be seen even with the strongest telescopes.

While the heavens are not endowed with the power of articulate speech, their message is real, expressive, and clear to the intelligent, observant, and diligent student of nature. Everywhere and constantly they declare the glory and greatness of God. There is not any place on earth where the heavens do not bear a strong testimony to the existence of God and to His creative power. They will never leave God without a witness.

David spoke of the sun as coming forth in the morning proclaiming the splendor, power, beneficence, and glory of God as it crossed the sky during the day, and as it returned at night. He also pictured the sun as an ardent bridegroom coming out of his room in gorgeous attire, his face beaming with joy, and creating pleasure and delight in all his relatives and friends who see and hear him. As the sun's power is strengthened, it is likened to a joyful and strong athlete who is eager to run in a race and become an heroic winner. From the time the sun rises in the east until it goes down in the west it has beneficent efforts upon the earth for "there is nothing hid from the heat thereof."

God's Glory Revealed In His Word 19:7-10

These verses tell us six things about God's Word:

1. It is perfect (Psalm 19:7). The law of God reveals to us our duty both to God and to our fellowman.

2. It is sure (Psalm 19:7). We can always depend on what the Bible reveals.

3. It is right (Psalm 19:8). In the Bible man has a perfect standard of righteousness.

4. It is pure (Psalm 19:8). God has never commanded man to do anything that is degrading or wrong.

5. It is true and righteous (Psalm 19:9). It depicts the true course of right conduct.

6. It is desirable (Psalm 19:10). It is worth more than money. The spiritual nourishment and enjoyment gained by a study of the Bible far exceeds the satisfaction gained from eating the finest honey.

Bible Thought

After these things the word of the Lord came unto Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield and thy exceeding great reward. Genesis 15:1

Abram found God's promise true. His promises to us are not broken. What has come to you which is better?

Isn't It The Truth

One sign of what ails the average congressman is his slow reaction to the needs of the times. If you stuck a needle in his pants, it would take from five to ten minutes—depending on his height—for the sensation to reach his brain.

Help For Taxpayers

IRS Will Help Millions In Preparation Of Their Returns

EDITOR'S NOTE — Following is the fifth in a series of five articles entitled "You and Your Income Taxes." They were written to help taxpayers prepare their 1977 tax returns.

By MICHAEL DOAN, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Millions of Americans will get help on their taxes this year by calling the Internal Revenue Service or going to special centers for elderly and low-income taxpayers.

The IRS estimates that it answered questions from 27 million taxpayers at its district offices last year but that 7 million more got busy signals or had to wait and hung up.

The local offices have toll-free numbers that will be publicized in advertisements and in the mailed tax packages. The telephone numbers for taxpayer information can also be found in the phone book under U.S. government, Internal Revenue Service. Taxpayers can also walk into their local IRS office to get help.

In addition, the agency has trained thousands of volunteers for special tax booths at libraries, schools and other public buildings. The program is intended to help the elderly, low-income people and those who had trouble speaking English. Many low-income persons will be eligible for the "earned income credit," a special benefit that pays up to $400 for poor working families.

Taxpayers over age 65 get special help because they face a maze of tax regulations on how to treat income from pensions, life insurance payments, annuities and other benefits. In addition, there is a complex formula for computing a retirement tax credit for some people.

The IRS sends taxpayer service representatives to nursing homes, hospitals, retirement communities and even state welfare offices.

Help is also available from professional tax preparers. Other helpful information on taxes:

—It takes an average of four to six weeks for taxpayers to get a refund check, the IRS says. Chances are better to get a refund back quickly if a taxpayer files in January or early February than just before the April 15 deadline.

—Taxpayers need to keep checks and receipts used for tax purpose for at least three years. After that, the statute of limitation runs out. However, they must keep property information such as housing deeds longer than that.

—The IRS says you can use the short form if you had only wages, salaries, tips or other employee compensation and not more than $400 in interest or $400 in dividends. Your total income must be $20,000 or less, or $40,000 or less if married and filing jointly.

—You must use the long form if you itemize deductions or claim any of a variety of adjustments to income or credits.

—The IRS mailed out tax forms to about 80 million taxpayers this year after Christmas. It is expecting about 86 million persons to file returns.

—The deduction for sick pay is limited in the 1977 return to people under age 65 who are totally and permanently disabled.

HEARTLINE

HEARTLINE is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write HEARTLINE, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: My husband and I are going to be taking a trip to Florida this spring. We have heard quite a bit about trouble on driving through the state of Georgia. Can you give us any information on this? C.K.

A. Motorists in Georgia are advised to pick their service stations with care. The American Automobile Association has warned that travelers on Georgia's Interstate I-75 highway would do well to purchase gasoline only, and not to allow the attendants to check under the hood or examine the tires. Some motorists have reported they have been advised that parts like fan belts, shock absorbers, and even tires are bad when they were actually in good condition or had been covertly damaged by the station employee inspecting them. The Georgia Office of Consumer Affairs has learned that dealers licensed by nine major oil companies have been cited in complaints and the companies in question are taking steps to shut down the offending stations.

HEARTLINE: My husband is 66 years old. He started to draw his social security benefits when he was 65 years old. I am presently 61 years old. I will be 62 in June and I plan to draw social security wife's benefits because I have never worked under social security at all. Can you tell me how much of his social security that I can receive? K.F.

A. The social security benefit for a wife who starts drawing on her husband's work record is seventy-five per cent of one-half her husband's unreduced benefit. This figures out to 37.5 per cent of his unreduced benefit.

This age 62 benefit is a reduction of what a wife who starts receiving benefits at age 65 would get. A wife at age 65 receives 50 per cent of her husband's unreduced benefit. The percentages for a wife starting at age 63 is 83.4 per cent of one-half husband's unreduced benefit, and at age 64, 91.7 per cent of one-half husband's unreduced benefit.

A wife who starts drawing these benefits at a reduced amount at age 62, 63, or 64 does not get a raise when they turn 65. They must continue on this reduced benefit for as long as they draw social security wife's benefits.

For people who are on social security or for those who are going to be drawing theirs shortly, Heartline has written a book especially for them. "Heartline's Guide to Social Security" has been developed to aid all people to understand what benefits they might be eligible to receive. This book covers regular retirement, disability, wife's benefits, widow's benefits, allowed earnings and many more important facts on social security. This book also goes into detail on some of the problem areas of social security. You may obtain this book by sending $2 to "Heartline's Guide to Social Security," P. O. Box 11934, Chicago, Ill. 60611. This book is completely guaranteed and if you are not satisfied your money will be refunded. Please allow six weeks for delivery.

HEARTLINE: I am 57 years old and I am still working. I have worked at many different companies in my lifetime. I have no idea how much money I have paid into the Social Security fund. Since I am nearing retirement age is there anyway that I can receive this information? J.C.

A. To find out how much money you have accumulated in the Social Security fund, you need the Social Security form OAR-7004, "Request for Statement of Earnings." Heartline feels that people working under a Social Security-covered job should fill one of these forms out every year to insure that your record has been given the proper credit.

These forms are available at your local Social Security office, or just write to Heartline, Dept. R.E.S., and we can supply you with one of these forms and save you a trip to your Social Security office. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

AN INVESTMENT
IN YOUR FUTURE

What Does the Lord Require?

Many people believe that the Lord requires great sacrifice of those who follow Him. Yet very early in Biblical history, God let Abraham know that this was not required. God tested Abraham and asked that he give his beloved son, Isaac, as a sacrifice to Him. Though it broke Abraham's heart to do this, he proceeded to comply with God's wish. At the last moment, God let Abraham know that He did not require such great sacrifice from His people.

The prophet, Micah, addressed this question most eloquently ending with these words—

"And what doth the Lord require of thee, But to do justly and to love mercy, And to walk humbly with the Lord." (Micah 6:8)

Record Review

by J. D. Lancaster

Occasionally in the music world there comes along a voice that separates the one from all the rest. This can be said of Rod Stewart's raspy voice and his new album, "Foot Loose And Fancy Free."

Rod Stewart has been an old hand in the music world - after all, this is his tenth album. He is an embodiment of the struggle undergone by many British singers during the early years of the Sixties rock boom; despite the soul-destroying process whereby a gifted artist can feel ignored, rejected or unable to assert himself, a combination of talent and perseverance can still win through. Like Elton John or David Bowie, Rod Stewart fought and won.

Today Rod Stewart is a name familiar to millions throughout the world, whether as a pop star of considerable charm and appeal or as one of the foremost white blues singers, armed with a convincing style and undeniable power.

The new Lp has several good cuts and several mediocre ones. My favorite is the smash-hit single, "You're In My Heart." In one respect it reminds me of a country and western tune.

Another good cut is the seven minute rendition of the ex-Supreme's and Vanilla Fudge hit, "You Keep Me Hangin' On." It has great guitars and tough vocals.

A hot rocker on the Lp is the wild sounding "Hot Legs." This reminds us of the old Rod Stewart of the sixties. It's cute and loose.

The Lp contains also some mediocre cuts and some risque ones such as "Born Loose," "I Was Only Joking" and "You're Insane." To top it all off there is a little booklet that comes with it that almost reminds someone of "Hustler Magazine" (but not really).

Overall, the Lp has much to be desired. It is a mediocre album and not as great as the famous "Night On The Town."

Billy Joel

"The Stranger," is the great piano rocker, Billy Joel's first Lp in a long, long time. The smash hit, "Just The Way You Are" is the first big hit he has had since the famous "Piano Man" in the early seventies.

The album is pretty good and is a comeback for a long estranged singer from the rock world. It is also different style from the rocking Joel that we have heard from the early seventies.

Dandridge Not Worried About Breaking His Scoring Record

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer
Many players in the National Basketball Association like to say they put the good of the team ahead of personal achievement. Those pronouncements are often taken at something less than face value.

But Bobby Dandridge of the Washington Bullets got a chance to prove it Thursday night.

Dandridge had already scored 37 points and was well within range of his career-high point total of 40 with four minutes left in the game. But he asked Coach Dick Motta to take him out, since the Bullets were safely en route to a 135-107 rout of the Chicago Bulls that snapped a five-game losing streak.

"Those things aren't important to me," Dandridge said, referring to personal statistics. "We were up by 20 points and we've got another game tomorrow night. I'm more interested in staying healthy for the playoffs than in individual records."

Dandridge has been the most consistent performer this season for the Bullets, who have been plagued by injuries. Mitch Kupchak and Phil Chenier are currently on the sidelines, while the Chicago game marked the return to action of playmaker Tom Henderson after a three-game absence.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Portland Trail Blazers routed the New Jersey Nets 112-77 and the New York Knicks beat the Kansas City Kings 112-105.

Indiana's game at Cleveland was postponed because of heavy snow which blanketed the mid-west.

Dandridge, who signed with Washington as a free agent this summer after eight seasons in Milwaukee, connected on 14 of 22 shots from the field. He also contributed nine rebounds and seven assists.

"We really needed a big win after losing five in a row," Dandridge said. "I knew it was important to play well tonight and I was getting open a lot early in the game. That sort of set the tone."

Kevin Grevey added a career-high 26 points for Washington, while Mickey Johnson topped Chicago with 25.

Blazers 112 Nets 77
Portland, unbeaten at home in 21 games this season and a total of 41 consecutive regular season and playoff games, got 27 points from Bill Walton in handing the Nets their 11th consecutive loss. And the Blazers did it without two regulars, forward Maurice Lucas, sidelined by two sprained fingers, and guard Dave Twardzik, who has the flu.

Walton had 21 points in the opening period to help Portland to a 55-37 halftime lead. A string of 11 straight points made it 70-43 early in the third period and Walton came out for good soon after.

Knicks 112, Kings 105
New York blew an early 17-point lead, fell behind early in the fourth quarter but then put on a 19-5 spurt to win its third in a row. Earl Monroe led the way with 25 points, 11 of them in the final period, while Bob McAdoo had 22 points and 16 rebounds.

Racer Indoor Track Season To Feature Outstanding Talent

By MIKE BRANDON

Ledger & Times Sports Editor
While the Ohio Valley Conference basketball teams have been playing basketball that will not get the league any national publicity, the track teams of the OVC have been training vigorously for the opening of the indoor season.

And with the indoor season kicking off with the prestigious Illinois Invitational this weekend, the OVC can expect to get back on the sports pages.

Four of the league track teams will be entered in the 12-team meet. Included are Murray State, Middle Tennessee, Austin Peay and Eastern Kentucky from the OVC along with Illinois, Lincoln University, Kentucky State, Northeast Missouri, Louisville, Notre Dame, Furman and Cincinnati.

Last season, Murray State won the OVC indoor title then proceeded to gain plenty of national publicity for its outstanding distance relay teams. In fact, at one time, the distance medley relay team had the fastest time in the world.

"Ever since the end of cross country season, we've been looking forward to the opening of the indoor track season," veteran MSU coach Bill Cornell said.

"We have some great talent and if things click right, we could have one of the best indoor seasons we've ever had at Murray State. I will go out on the limb and say I have high hopes for us being in the top three in the league meet and in the top 10 at the NCAA Indoor Championships in Detroit. But again, we have to put an emphasis on that 'if things click right' part. We can do it, providing the kids want it bad enough," Cornell said.

Since MSU has no facilities for indoor track, the Racers have been hampered by the terrible weather conditions. But on days when the roads are clear, the Racers are out working distance and on days when it's not too cold and the outdoor track at Stewart Stadium is clear, they work on speed.

Also, MSU's track team has use of the Sports Arena where there is a jogging area around the top of the structure.

"I consider it fortunate to have the jogging area around the top of the fieldhouse and it's a lot better than having nothing." But our athletes detest having to run up there, although the surface put down has taken the slickness off the concrete surface.

"It is no softer and the athletes develop shinsplints and other leg problems. The area is very adequate for joggers but is not very suitable for speed merchants. We're hoping the weather will subside shortly or those OVC schools with indoor tracks, Morehead, Middle and East Tennessee, are going to have a big advantage on us when the OVC Indoor Championships are held February 17 and 18," Cornell added.

All things considered, Cornell has as much talent at Murray State as could humanly be possible to gather, considering the size of the school and the limited number of scholarships.

Cornell said he hopes his two-mile and distance-medley relay teams will qualify for the nationals along with several other individuals.

Here's a look at the events Saturday and who Murray State has entered:

— Chuck Bauman and Chuck Fowler are the entries in the 60-yard dash. Since both are freshmen, they have no previous meet performances. The record of 6.0 is jointly held by former Racer greats Jim Freeman and Eddie Hearne.

— The 300-yard dash record at Murray is a world-class 30.2 and held by former Olympian Bert Jacobs. The entries this Saturday will be Bauman, Fowler and Steve Chrisafulli. They should run in the low 32's.

— Jacobs also holds the record of 47.2 in the indoor 440-yard dash. However, first-semester freshman Keith O'Meally of Birmingham, England, may challenge that mark strongly before he's finished at MSU. O'Meally has a 48.6 personal best outdoors. Also entered will be Chrisafulli and Tom Mracek, who returns after laying out of school for a year. Mracek has done a 49.2 outdoors.

— It would be safe to say nobody will challenge Tommie Turner's school mark of 1:09.0 in the 600-yard dash. Murray's entries at Illinois Saturday will be Marshall Crawley, Brent Laird and Tom Potter. The latter two are entered, basically, to prepare themselves for the outdoor season where they perform in the intermediate hurdles.

— The school record in the 880 is 1:52.2 and held by sophomore Englishman Pat Chimes who will be entered in the event Saturday. Chimes' record came last year when he won the OVC indoor title at Morehead. Also entered are Martyn Brewer and Mitch Johnston. Brewer has a 1:50.6 outdoors and Johnston has a 1:51.7 outdoors.

— Standout Dave Warren, last year's Freshman Athlete of the Year at MSU, is back to defend his school record of 2:10.8 in the 1,000-yard dash, which he won last year at the OVC Meet. Also entered is Englishman Dave Rafferty, a transfer from Louisville. Running unattached in a meet last year, Rafferty recorded a 2:10.0 and since running cross country last fall, has picked up much endurance.

— Brewer holds the record in the mile-run and that mark was set last year at the Mason-Dixon Games when he ran a 4:09 to win. His personal best outside is 4:03.7. Also entered will be Pat Chimes who has a 4:07.2 outside and Mitch Johnston who had a 4:10.5 outside as a freshman last year. Chimes has picked up much endurance too from running cross country and could be a real bright spot for the Racers this season.

— Former Racer All-American Sam Torres holds the mark in the two-mile run and it could fall this season. The record is 8:44.5 but freshman Jerry Odlin, who incidentally recorded a perfect 4.0 last semester and was one of five track members on the Dean's List, could crack the mark. Also entered are Brian Rutter who has a personal best of 8:58 and is in superb shape and Richard Charleston who has a 9:03.

— The mile-relay team could challenge the school mark of 3:12.8. Entered are O'Meally, Chimes, Warren and Rafferty. Murray will also enter another team Saturday. They are Bauman, Crawley, Chrisafulli and Mracek.

— Gary Craft's 7.4 in the 60-yard low hurdles appears safe in the record books for another year. Tom Potter and Brent Laird both have personal best marks of 7.8.

FIELD EVENTS

— Sophomore shot putter Stan Simmons holds the mark with a 52-10. His personal best is 53-2½ but 18-year-old freshman Englishman Andy Vince will be a strong challenge as he's thrown 55-10 outdoors.

— Flip Martin and Bill Bradford, former MSU stars, share the indoor high jump mark of 6-10. The entry Saturday will be Axel Leitmayr, who has a career best of 6-8. Bradford, soon to be a father, is laying out of school for a year.

— The 1970 record of Doug Morris (15-6) in the pole vault will stand another year. Keith Forton, Saturday's entry, has a personal mark of 14-6.

— Freshman Antigua Everton Cornelius has a previous best of 25-½ in the outdoor long jump and could get the indoor mark of 24-1 set by Patmore Chatham two years ago. Also entered is Jeffrey Hickman, a Bardstown freshman who won the State 2-A title last year in the long jump, and John Holloway.

— Chatham's record of 50-8½ in the triple jump is safe. The lone entry Saturday will be Hickman and his best is 45-7.

Cornell has a total of 24 men out for indoor track and of that group, he has a basic nucleus of 14 who have enough talent to break existing school records in their particular events.

"We have a great track facility (outdoor) at Murray but one has to remember, we are a relatively small university in a very rural district with next to nothing for students to do. And with just 12 scholarships, it's very difficult to recruit 30 to 35 of the caliber of athletes required to be competitive in the OVC, particularly since track and field and cross country are so poor in this part of the country at the high school level," Cornell added.

"Right now, we've got the best team spirit we've ever had and I haven't had to push them to get them to work. They seem to want to get the job done and if they continue working the way they are now and if things fall in our favor, this crew could give Murray some more national recognition," Cornell added.

After the Illinois Invitational, MSU will compete in the Indiana Relays Championships February 3 and 4, the Mason-

Dixon Games February 10 and 11, the OVC Championships at East Tennessee February 17 and 18, the Illinois Classic February 24 and 25, the Last Chance Meet at Middle Tennessee March 4 and of course, the NCAA Indoor Championships in Detroit March 10 and 11.

Murray High Game Set For Tonight Postponed

For the third consecutive Friday night, area basketball fans will not be able to see any games.

Only one game was on tap tonight, Murray High was to have played at Ballard Memorial.

The postponement of that game has now brought the total to three Murray games wiped out by the weather. The Murray High girls' team has been snowed out of four contests.

Across town, Calloway County was to have played a twinbill at South Marshall against Marshall County Saturday and those games, in all probability, will not be played though no official decision had been made by press time.

The Laker boys had had three games snowed out and if the game with the Marshals is called Saturday, it will be the second time that contest has been postponed.

The Calloway County girls' team has lost three games to the weather.

Calloway is scheduled to play a makeup doubleheader Monday with Lowes in Jeffrey Gymnasium then the Laker boys and girls are scheduled to entertain Fulton County to a twinbill Tuesday. The fate of those contests has not been determined yet.

Murray High's boys are scheduled to play at Cairo Tuesday.

Murray State, which fortunately has only the short drive to Clarksville facing them, will play at Austin Peay Saturday in a twinbill. The Lady Racers open the evening with a 5:15 p.m. contest against the Lady Governors with the men's teams clashing at 7:30 p.m. in Winfield Dunn Center.

Tarheels Upset 71-62 By Wake Forest, Indiana State Loses Third Straight Game

By The Associated Press
Dean Smith wasn't kidding when he told a group of newspapermen that he thought there was too much emphasis on winning in college athletics.

The way his North Carolina basketball team played Thursday night, it appears they took him literally. Not playing anything like the nation's third-ranked team, the Tarheels couldn't keep in step with Wake Forest for any part of the Atlantic Coast Conference game and lost a 71-62 decision.

"They set the tempo by their defense and kept us from getting the good shots," said Smith of the Deacons. "We got much better shots with them in our game in Chapel Hill." Smith's reference was to North Carolina's 71-69 victory over the Deacons earlier in the season.

Ironically, earlier in the day Thursday, Smith had delivered a philosophical talk to a luncheon meeting of newspaper executives and scored what he termed America's perverted preoccupation with winning.

North Carolina wasn't the only ranked team to suffer an upset. Indiana State, the country's No. 13 team, similarly playing a league game on the road, dropped a 74-70 Missouri Valley Conference decision to Wichita State in overtime.

Elsewhere, form held with

No. 4 Arkansas defeating SMU 72-65; No. 12 Louisville belting Tulane 105-82; No. 14 New Mexico whipping Brigham Young 95-82 and No. 17 Florida State turning back St. Louis 88-75.

Charlie Brent scored 12 of his 23 points in the second half, then gunned in seven in overtime, to lead Wichita State's upset of Indiana State. Larry Bird, the nation's third leading scorer, had 33 points for the Sycamores, who lost their third straight game after a late arrival in Wichita.

They arrived in town at 4 a.m. Thursday after wintry Midwest weather turned a normal three-hour airplane flight into a 10-hour ride that included stops in Chicago, St.

Louis and Kansas City.

"We had layovers said everywhere," said Indiana State Coach Bob King, who indicated that his team's tired condition may have had something to do with the latest defeat.

"You can't tell what effect it had - you never know," King said. Willie Howard and Marvin Johnson combined for 44 points to lead New Mexico's victory over Brigham Young. Kris Anderson's 21 points paced Florida State over St. Louis.

Wildcats Hoping Jinx Against Vols Will End

BULLETIN

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky and Tennessee have postponed their Saturday basketball game until Feb. 15 because of bad weather, the University of Kentucky announced today.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The Tennessee Volunteers, owners of a five-game winning streak over Kentucky, seek to make it six in a row here Saturday, and Wildcat Coach Joe Hall admits he's worried.

"They're a surprising team," Hall said Thursday in an interview. "They beat Alabama. They have that explosive potential. They don't always play up to it, but it's there."

The Vols are 7-9 overall and 2-5 in the Southeastern Conference, having lost offensive stars Bernard King, Ernie Grunfeld and Mike Jackson, the heavy scorers from last year's team.

Kentucky, 14-1 and 6-1 in the SEC after Monday's 78-62 defeat at Alabama, would seem to have the edge, but Hall said that loss left deep scars. "We have not practiced well," he said. "We're very flat. I don't know if they're going to respond in time for Saturday's game or not. They're awfully down right now."

The Wildcats were crushed by a Crimson Tide team that apparently had no fears of playing the nation's No. 1 team, and Hall said the effects were demoralizing.

"We've just lost out intensely," he said. "We're not playing good, hard-nosed, aggressive defense."

Tennessee's mastery of Kentucky in the last 2½ seasons does not sit well with Wildcat fans, but Hall said the rivalry has failed to pump new life into the team.

"I'm concerned," he said. "It Tennessee's personal winning streak has been in all the papers, but the players don't talk about it. We try to accentuate the positive."

Kentucky center Mike Phillips, who was not a factor in the Wildcats' offense Monday because of an infected and inflamed elbow, was expected to be back in the starting lineup Saturday.

But Hall still was concerned that the Alabama loss might carry over into Saturday's game, at least mentally.

"That sometimes happens," he said. "Nevada-Las Vegas has lost about four in a row. Last year, when we beat Notre Dame, they lost three or four more games."

"It's a psychological thing," he said, "and sometimes it lasts four or five games. It depends on the team how long it lasts."

Racer Grid Coaches To Be Honored

Murray State football coach Mike Gottfried will present his five-man staff of assistants to a joint meeting of the Big M and Thoroughbred Clubs Monday night.

The dinner meeting, which will be held in Room 229 of Roy Stewart Stadium, will begin at 6:30 p. m.

All members of the clubs are urged to attend the meeting.

The game has not been rescheduled.

Vicious Blizzard Strands Thousands

By JULIE DUNLAP
Associated Press Writer
Flash floods today threatened states already reeling from heavy snows, hurricane-force winds, a thaw that turned mountains of snow to slush and a vicious blizzard that stranded thousands of travelers.

As the Midwest was clobbered Thursday by what Ohio Gov. James Rhodes called "a killer blizzard looking for victims," the Southeast was drenched by rain, sleet and snow. Tornadoes touched down in Virginia and North Carolina, and temperatures dipped to the 20s.

At least 43 people were killed in mishaps blamed on the erratic weather: nine in Wisconsin, six in Michigan, five in Indiana, four in both Ohio and Kentucky, two each in Illinois, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Alabama, Georgia, and one each in North Dakota, South Dakota, Maine, Virginia and Minnesota.

President Carter declared a federal state of emergency in Ohio and today ordered units of the 5th Army into the state to help exhausted National Guardsmen rescue stranded motorists and assist utility repairmen in restoring electrical power to thousands of homes.

The Michigan National Guard was mobilized and Gov.

William Milliken declared a state of emergency so the state could apply for federal aid. The storm, which cut power to 160,000 homes, piled up 12-foot drifts and almost sank an ore freighter.

Overnight temperatures ranged from 23 below zero in Devil's Lake, N.D., to 61 in Key West, Fla.

Winds gusting up to 85 mph, well beyond hurricane strength, caused damage all over the East and Midwest.

The storm that hit the Midwest sent barometer readings to record lows, indicating very low pressure generating a severe storm. In Pittsburgh, the barometer plunged to 28.49, the lowest since records were first kept there in 1870.

Creeks and rivers are already over their banks or near flood stage today in North Carolina, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, West Virginia, Rhode Island, Vermont and Massachusetts. The flooding appeared most widespread in West Virginia, where water isolated three towns and forced at least 3,000 people to flee.

The Little Kanawa has caused major flooding at Creston and Glenville, parts of which were 10 feet under water.

The Tug Fork overflowed in Mingo County, where disastrous floods last April almost swept several tiny mining towns out of the hollows. On Thursday, the homes from which some families fled were government trailers supplied when their houses were destroyed last spring.

Pennsylvania reported flooding along the Monongahela River in the southwestern corner, and along the Susquehanna to the east, which rose to the first-story level in flood-prone Wilkes-Barre and further south forced evacuations from rural homes in Lancaster County.

Rhodes noted that at least 150,000 Ohio homes had been without heat most of Thursday: "They are helpless victims of something they have no control over."

He said his office was receiving 25 calls every five minutes, "cries of mercy — they want help and you can't get to them."

More than 5,700 motorists had been rescued from stranded vehicles along snow-blocked Ohio highways, and officials said more than 2,000 remained beyond reach.

Winds gusting to 65 mph sculpted snowdrifts 15 feet high.

Neighboring Indiana was virtually shut down. Indianapolis was so crippled by its 17 inches of snow that the Indiana Pacers canceled tonight's National Basketball Association game against the Detroit Pistons. Schools, factories and roads closed.

Hundreds were stranded in their cars. Timothy Lee, 31, of Terre Haute, feared he would die in the cold and penciled a note to his wife: "Frances, I will love till the day I die." He waited five hours then struggled through waist-high drifts to a farmhouse.

Illinois interstates "looked like junkyards," said one state trooper describing the litter of marooned buses, trucks and autos.

Sixty persons were rescued early today after being stranded for more than 12 hours aboard an Amtrak passenger train that froze to its rails outside Roachdale, Ind. Workers finally cleared enough track to bring in two rescue locomotives which ferried the passengers to a crossing three miles away. From there, they walked to shelter in a high school.

The seven-car "Floridian" was en route from Chicago to Florida when it ran into the snow about noon Thursday about 55 miles north of Bloomington, railroad officials said.

Amtrak spokesman Joseph Vranich said two rescue locomotives with snowplows could not budge the one car in which the 45 passengers and 15 crew were huddled beneath blankets — its wheels and brakes were frozen.

"From what I'm told, it was one hell of a snowbank," Vranich said. "They tried to push their way out, but they couldn't. Normally, trains can do that unless the snowbank is the size of an iceberg."

Seventy other Amtrak runs were terminated in the Midwest when snow piled up by high winds blocked tracks. In Boston, winds were clocked at 80 mph. They bowled over pedestrians, flipped a mail truck and popped out store windows.

In Philadelphia, the block-long white tent that shelters the summertime Independence Mall Theater collapsed under the combined forces of wind and the melting snow collecting in its center.

Fifty mph winds in Chicago, along with eight inches of new snow, forced O'Hare International Airport to close. Other airports shut down in Milwaukee and Detroit and across Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The 806-foot freighter Charles M. Beeghly, loaded with taconite ore, slammed onto ground in howling winds while trying to negotiate the St. Mary's River near Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., on Thursday, the Coast Guard said.

The ship's hull was punctured. Pumps have kept it from sinking, although the deck is barely six feet above the water.

House Measure Would Provide Relief Funds

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Acting with unprecedented speed, the House leadership has introduced legislation that would provide immediate relief for victims of the weather of the past two weeks.

House Joint Resolution 34 would allocate $2 million for food, shelter, fuel and medical supplies for those affected by the winter storms and subsequent floods.

The measure is in line for passage by both houses late next week.

House Majority Leader Bobby Richardson, D-Glasgow, said Thursday that the resolution bypasses all red tape in providing relief.

The mechanism would be through Gov. Julian Carroll's contingency fund. Although that fund is practically exhausted, the joint resolution would funnel an additional $2 million into it through the general fund, which finances most state services.

Thus, Carroll would be able to distribute the funds without any restrictions by statutes.

As soon as the resolution was introduced Thursday with 69 co-sponsors — it was referred to the Appropriations and Revenue Committee which held a special five-minute meeting and reported it out favorably.

The resolution was to obtain its second reading today and could be passed by the House next Tuesday when the General Assembly reconvenes after the weekend.

The Legislature will not meet on Monday in observance of Franklin D. Roosevelt's birthday.

Richardson said the idea was that of House Speaker William Kenton, D-Lexington, and Rep. Jerry Kleier, B-Louisville.

If Carroll's contingency fund had the necessary money, no legislative action would have been necessary.

The intended funds would come out of the current fiscal year's budget, which is looking increasingly bright financially. The Revenue Department said Wednesday that it expects $49 million more in tax money by next June 30 than had been anticipated.

In other action, the House passed House Bill 119 which deletes the $100 deductible requirement in awards to crime victims, provided they are over 65.

The House also approved House Bill 55 which gives the Commonwealth and the federal government concurrent jurisdiction in criminal enforcement over national park systems lands in Kentucky.

John W. Brinkley III To Appear On State Program

Monday, Jan. 30, at 9:30 a.m. (central time), Gov. Julian Carroll will host a call in program for high school students, coming directly from his office in Frankfort. Kentucky Educational Television will sit up a phone bank so that high school students can call him directly and can answer questions about state government.

John Walter Brinkley III, senior at Calloway High, will be participating in this program. He is the son of John W. and Anne Brinkley, Route Two, Hazel; was governor of Boys State this past year; was a finalist in the Outstanding Speech Student in Kentucky competition; and was also president of the Kentucky State Champion Speech Team from Calloway County.

Brinkley will be relaying the messages to Gov. Carroll that are called in for the program. Gov. Carroll will answer any questions that he cannot answer over the phone or broadcast by a letter in the mail later.

THE POSSIBLE DREAM

This is a home of superior quality with the finest materials. Built for convenience and comfort with oversized hallways and doorways. The 3 bedrooms are unusually large. A cathedral ceiling overlooks the formal living room which is just across the pegged wood floor of the foyer from the dining room. The carpet throughout provides comfort whether sitting in the family room in front of the fireplace or using the intercom. The kitchen built for convenience has custom cabinets, range and oven, plus a microwave oven. The 2 car garage off the paved driveway provides more than enough space for storage. The fenced backyard provides safety and privacy for children or pets. By appointment only.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Norsworthy Is Dead At Age Of 29

Mrs. Jerry (Marie) Norsworthy of 1629 Hamilton, Murray, died this morning at 1:45 at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. She had been stricken ill suddenly late Thursday at her home and rushed to the hospital where she died a short time later.

The Murray woman, age 29, was employed as a secretary at Calloway County High School, and was born July 4, 1948, in Graves County.

Mrs. Norsworthy is survived by her husband, the Rev. Jerry Norsworthy, a Baptist minister, and two sons, Jimmy and Jeffrey Norsworthy, all of 1629 Hamilton, Murray; father, Bernard Petty; foster mother, Mrs. Marie Bodkin.

The J. H. Churchill Funeral Home will be in charge of the funeral and burial arrangements.

Services Are Today For J. B. Scott

Services for J. B. (Burley) Scott of Murray Route Six are being held today at one p.m. at the chapel of the Blacklock-Coleman Funeral Home with the Rev. Roy Gibson of Benton and the Rev. William Taylor officiating. Dwayne Jones is the organist.

Serving as active pallbearers are James Overby, Fred Workman, L. D. Workman, Frank Albert Overby, Joe Dyer, and Nelson Shroat. J. D. Wall, K. B. McCuston, Novis Ezell, and Cecil Holland are serving as honorary pallbearers. Burial will follow later in the Murray City Cemetery.

Mr. Scott, age 80, died Wednesday morning at his home. He was a retired farmer, retired custodian at Kenlake Hotel, and a member of the Center Ridge Baptist Church. He and his wife, the former Maude Dyer, who survives, were married Jan. 24, 1929.

The Calloway man is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Charles Cecil West, Calvert City; two sons, Paul Eugene Scott, Murray, Route Eight, and James Burley Scott, Jr., Orland, Ind.; two sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Overby and Mrs. Helen Anderson, Murray; six grandchildren, Richard, Bryan, and Laura Scott, Clay, Susan, and Sandy West; two great grandchildren, Paul Eugene II and Heather Leigh Sett.

Final Rites Today For Mrs. Clayton

The funeral for Mrs. Ella B. Clayton is being held today at two p.m. at the chapel of the Miller Funeral Home, Hazel, with the Rev. Orid Stine officiating and the grandchildren providing the music and song service. Grandsons are serving as pallbearers. Burial will follow later in the Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Mrs. Clayton, age 89, died Tuesday at eight a.m. at her home in Hazel. She was preceded in death by her husband, Lisha Clayton, and one son, the Rev. Hubert Clayton. She was a member of the Mt. Pleasant United Methodist Church.

Survivors include three daughters, Miss Lorene Clayton, Mrs. Mava Stine, and the Rev. Mrs. Mildred Bryant; two sons, the Revs. Sanders Clayton and Brown Clayton; one sister, Mrs. Maggie Hicks; half brother, Hubert Underwood; fourteen grandchildren; twenty great grandchildren.

Rites On Saturday For Mrs. Parker

Final rites for Mrs. Hardin (Lidia) Parker of Kirksey Route One are scheduled for Saturday at one p.m. at the chapel of the Lynn Funeral Home, Benton, with the Rev. Roger Joseph officiating. Burial will follow in the Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Calloway County.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Parker, age 81, died Wednesday at 8:55 at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. She was a member of the Mt. Carmel United Methodist Church.

Survivors include her husband, Hardin Parker, to whom she was married on June 14, 1923; one son, Johnny Parker, and one granddaughter, Pam Parker, Winter Haven, Fla.; one brother, Earl Treas, Mayfield Route Six.

Funeral Saturday For Mrs. Wohlhart

The funeral for Mrs. Frank (Lillis) Wohlhart has been changed from one p.m. today to two p.m. Saturday at the chapel of the Max Churchill Funeral Home due to a family member being stranded on the highways from Chicago, Ill. The Rev. Dr. David C. Roos will officiate.

Interment will follow at a later date in the Outland Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Wohlhart, now of Dukedom, Tn., formerly of Calloway County, died Wednesday at 9:40 a.m. at the Fulton Hospital, Fulton. She was a member of the Dukedom United Methodist Church.

She is survived by her husband, Frank Wohlhart, Dukedom, Tn.; stepson, Ronnie Stocklose, Chicago, Ill.; sister, Mrs. Irl R. (Louise) Somers, Murray Route Six.

Mrs. Rosie Pearce Funeral Services To Be Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Rosie L. Pearce, Vine Street, Murray, will be held Saturday at two p.m. at the chapel of the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home with the Rev. Jerrell White and Bro. John Dale officiating. Interment will follow at a later date at the Murray City Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after four p.m. today (Friday).

Mrs. Pearce, age 69, died Thursday at 3:50 a.m. at the Lourdes Hospital, Paducah. She was a member of a Baptist Church. Born Nov. 20, 1908, in Tennessee, she was the daughter of the late Henry Farris and Susie Knight Farris.

She is survived by three sons, Bobby McDougal, Benton, Gene McDougal and Joe Buddy McDougal, Murray; one sister, Mrs. Elaine Herzog, White Plains, N. Y.; four brothers, Noble Farris, Murray, Floyd and Bradley Farris, Tulsa, Okla., and Prentice Farris, Texas; ten grandchildren.

Sinking Spring To Hear Pastor For Sunday Services

The Rev. Lawson Williamson will speak at both the morning and evening services at Sinking Spring Baptist Church on Sunday, Jan. 29.

Sunday School begins at ten a.m. with morning worship services at eleven a.m. The adult choir will present special music under the direction of Tommy Scott with Mrs. Scott at the piano and Judy Hughes at the organ.

Senate Measure Creates Alcohol License Category

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Bills to allow small restaurants to obtain special wine licenses and to change the vaccination procedure for dogs have passed the Kentucky Senate. There were objections to the former and an abstention from the latter.

Both measures now go to the House.

The wine bill was approved 19-10 Thursday despite objections by Sen. Gene Huff, R-London, a Penecostal minister.

The sponsor, Sen. Michael Moloney, D-Lexington, said the intent merely is to accommodate businesses which otherwise could not afford the high price of liquor licenses.

The measure creates a new category of licenses to be issued by the Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission.

The condition is that the restaurant must seat at least 50 persons and derive at least half its income from sale of food.

Under questioning by Huff, Moloney said it is entirely possible that pizza establishments could qualify. In fact, he said, "I hope so."

The initial license would cost $300 and a renewal $100.

"Unlike the law governing issuance of liquor and beer licenses, no quota for wet counties is established.

Moloney said some retail liquor licenses in the Lexington area are sold for as high as $30,000.

Huff, who unsuccessfully tried to stop passage of the bill through a parliamentary maneuver, decried what he called the continuing tendency of the Legislature to expand alcohol sales around Kentucky.

"I am concerned with the Jack of restrictions," he said. "I hope you can vote your consciences and see the ultimate effects of bills of this type."

Moloney assured Huff that wine licenses could not be issued for restaurants close to a church because current laws restrict that.

At first, Moloney figured that because of the bad weather he might not have enough votes to carry his bill and therefore was ready to delay enactment. But a surprising number of senators showed up, and Moloney pushed ahead.

The Senate also passed 26-1 a measure which changes the vaccination procedure for dogs, beginning in 1980.

Instead of rabies vaccination required at six months, the bill would make it four months.

Instead of a set expiration date, the length of the valid vaccination would depend on the veterinarian's judgement.

Sen. Ed Ford, D-Cynthiana, a veterinarian, said he was not voting because "my profession might benefit from the bill."

Nevertheless, Ford made a motion which, in effect, would require at least 20 votes before the bill could be reconsidered.

To give senators more time to attend Friday's session, it was scheduled for 11 a.m. instead of the customary 10 a.m. on Fridays.

Sensors found on their desks Thursday loaves of bread distributed by opponents of the Equal Rights Amendment. A pink note attached said: "Rise to the occasion. Reind ERA."

UNDATED — Swollen creeks and rivers today threatened several East Coast states, while the Midwest struggled to recover from a blizzard that stranded thousands of travelers. Nationwide, at least 43 people were killed in mishaps blamed on the erratic weather.

President Carter declared a federal state of emergency in Ohio and ordered units of the 5th Army into the state to help exhausted National Guardsmen rescue stranded motorists and assist utility repairmen in restoring electrical power to thousands of homes.

INTERNATIONAL EDMONTON, Alberta (AP) — Canadian and U.S. experts are making a ground search for debris from the downed Soviet spy satellite that is believed causing a patch of "extremely dangerous" radiation in northcentral Canada. Defense Minister Barney Danson said part of the Cosmos satellite's nuclear power package is believed causing the high level of radiation detected on the ground by aerial searchers about 200 miles west of Baker Lake, a small outpost 100 miles south of the Arctic Circle.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal health officials are bracing for a major new flu epidemic that could sweep the country this spring, too soon for preparing a vaccine to protect the public. "We didn't doubt it would get here," a spokesman for the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta said Thursday after officials announced they had confirmed an outbreak of Russian flu in Wyoming.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional report says a sharp decline in the labor force over the next decade may end the nation's unemployment problems. The staff of the congressional Joint Economic Committee, in a report issued Thursday, forecasts that in contrast to the 6 percent to 7 percent unemployment rate that has plagued the economy for the past few years, there is a likelihood of a labor scarcity by 1985.

lating federal payments for poor women's abortions are so loosely written that they virtually endorse abortion on demand.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said today that the average family paid $41 more for domestically produced food last year than in 1976, with $39 of that increase going to processors and other middlemen. The figures also show that the proportion going to farmers remained at 38 percent for a second year in a row. The farmers share was 42 percent in 1975.

'Trial Practice' Seminar Set At Kenlake

A law seminar entitled "Trial Practice — Rules of Evidence and Practical Courtroom Application" will be conducted for West Kentucky attorneys at Kenlake State Resort Park at Aurora Feb. 10-11.

It will be the third of four workshops scheduled during the year by the Center for Continuing Education at Murray State University and the School of Law and Center for Continuing Education at the University of Louisville.

To begin at 2 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 10, the seminar will include an afternoon session on Friday and a morning session on Saturday. Among the presentations to be made during the two days are these:

General overview and broad comparisons between federal and state rules; use of pre-trial proceedings to control the admissibility of evidence; evidentiary considerations in trial preparation; experts — qualification, opinion evidence; hypothetical questions, use of exhibits to support theory; discovery and depositions; preserving matters for appellate review; manner of making objections, mistakes commonly made; and special evidentiary problems on criminal cases.

Murray State and the University of Louisville are in the second year of the cooperative law seminar series. Marlin M. Volz, professor of law at U of L, designed the programs for the seminars.

The registration fee is $25. Participants must make their own reservations for lodging.

A fourth and final seminar of the year entitled "Preventive Law for the Employer" is scheduled March 31-April 1 at Kentucky Dam Village State Park.

Attorneys may register for the Feb. 10-11 seminar by sending a $25 check made payable to Murray State University, along with name, address and business telephone number to: Philip Deaver, Center for Continuing Education, Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071. Additional information about the seminar is available by calling Deaver at 762-2716.

NO WORKSHOP

The piano workshop scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 28, at Murray State University has been cancelled, a spokesman said.
