Kentucky Windage

(By P. W.)

Congratulations this week to Sara Bushart and her long and hard-working cohorts on the Urban Renewal Committee, who have crossed and un-crossed their fingers so many times in the last four years over the ultimate success in funding their program.

The "Plan A" which we are re-running from a story we had on the project last year, is pretty much the proposed design and form adopted.

I am sure that Sara's fingers aren't permanently un-crossed yet, for there is still much to do—but that million and a half sure looks good in writing, signed.

So now from the sublime to the ridiculous. Earlier this month the City of Fulton received a check for $2.40 from TVA, marked as the city's "pro-rata share of TVA money in lieu of tax payments."

That's two dollars and forty cents. And nationally, TVA is supposed to have disbursed something around a million in its area.

And Fulton got a check for two dollars and forty cents.

That raised several eyebrows over at the City Hall, prompting City Manager Mackey to write Kentucky Tax Commissioner Luckett. Said Mackey to Luckett: "Don't you think this TVA payment ought to be more meaningful?" (meaning a little higher).

Mackey reported at Tuesday's Commission meeting that Luckett's return letter indicated that TVA owned only $600 worth of property within the Fulton City limits, and the $2.40 was the correct amount they owed Fulton.

The city Commissioners decided Tuesday night to get the bird roost cleaned up in Riceville, a job that will cost about $1000 to it and participating agencies. Work will probably start right away.

The City Commissioners also decided to put all city employees except police and firemen on a new 5-day, 40-hour week. Thus the city hall, beginning September 1, will be open from 8: to 5: daily except Saturday and Sunday.

I didn't get his picture, but I tried to: probably one of the world's greatest men was parked in his trailer out next to Marine Cafe in Highlands Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Believe it or not, this man is EIGHT feet, EIGHT inches tall, and weighs 540 pounds. A native of Iceland, he is known as the Viking. He wears a size 24 shoe, and the ring on his finger is so large that it will fit over the barrel of a shotgun. He is one of eight children, and all of the rest are normal size.

The Viking is on his way to the Obion County Fair, and you can see him down there probably this weekend.

Signs that intrigue me include such as this one I saw this week: "Priced to sell immediately." (Now how else could it be priced to sell, next year?). And this one: "For sale by owner." (Who else could sell it, the tenant?).

I like the story that Joel McPherson related in his column in the Hickman COURIER last week. Said Joel: "A man came in to a local hardware store and wanted to buy something, but he wanted just half of the quantity offered. When he was told that was impossible, he told the store owner that he was recently in a country grocery when a man came in and asked for a five-cent slice of cheese. The grocer told him that they didn't cut five-cent slices, so the customer said, 'Well slice a ten-cent piece.' When the grocer did so, the man then said 'now cut it in half.'"

New faces on the campus at Martin this fall will include one quite familiar to a lot of us here: Carol Strawbridge, the former Carol Glisson and our very first Banana Festival Princess, has been named as publications editor in the office of Public Relations at the university.

Carol, whose husband is attorney Allen Strawbridge, Jr. at Dresden, will commute to her job, which will include preparation, editing, writing and circulation of all public relations material issued by UTM.

We are counting on a goodly number of stories about local students going to UTM, now that Carol's in the office.

John Mathis Drowns At Lake Outing

Services were conducted Monday afternoon for John W. Mathis, 17-year-old Dukedom youth, who drowned Saturday morning while swimming in Kentucky Lake.

A member of the Cuba Baptist Church, young Mathis was buried in the church cemetery. Mathis, his date and another couple were reportedly swimming near the Girl Scout camp when his date stepped into a deep hole and called for help. Mathis attempted to rescue the girl, Martha Bynum, 15, Farmington, losing his life in the attempt. The girl was able to reach safety.

Calloway County Coroner Max Churchill ruled the cause of death as accidental drowning.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Mathis, Dukedom, Route 2; four brothers, Harold and Roy Mathis of Hickory, N. C., Carl Mathis of Mayfield, and Rex Mathis of Hickory, Ky.; two sisters Mrs. Donald Cloward of Dukedom, Route 2, Mrs. Charles Gage of Mayfield and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mathis of Dresden and 17 nieces and nephews.

Urban Renewal To Change "Bottoms" Area

PROPOSED US-45 underpass in the "Missionary Bottoms" area of Fulton would serve a brand-new proposed routing of U. S. 45 through the area . . . as a matter of fact the Urban Renewal "Study 'A'" of the area would completely change the entire area street pattern. The Urban Renewal office in Fulton also emphasizes that they are concerned only with changes within the area, which is designated above by a heavy black border.

State Commits $219,278 For New US-45 Underpass Here

Governor Louie B. Nunn and Commissioner of Highways Eugene Goss announced that the Highway Department will commit $219,278 to the improvement of the US 45 underpass under the Illinois Central Railroad in Fulton.

(From The News, July 1969) The city of Fulton will get credit for the money pledged by the Kentucky Department of Highways in obtaining matching federal funds for its $4 million Urban Renewal and public housing projects.

The department's engineering staff plans for the project in anticipation of the commitment of the funds in the 1971-72 fiscal year.

The amount pledged by the Highway Department officials represents half the total estimated cost of the underpass improvement prepared by Collorado Associated, Inc., the planning consultants for Fulton.

The other half of the estimated cost of the federal aid project would be provided by federal US Bureau of Public Roads, dependent upon two conditions. First, the approval of the limited improvement project of only the underpass as a federal-aid project should entitle the Highway Department to be reimbursed for fifty per cent of the total cost of the project. Second, the cost of a feasible project should not exceed the estimates of the planning consultants.

"Moon Rock" Will Be Shown During Mid-South Fair

Huge Urban Renewal Grant Okayed For Fulton Missionary Bottoms

Representative Frank A. Stubblefield Tuesday announced the approval by the Housing and Urban Development Department of a loan and grant application for $1,587,232 to the Fulton Banana Festival Center Urban Renewal and Community Development Agency.

About $711,000 has previously been allocated to the Fulton project by the federal government, making a total amount of $2,298,232 to clean up a blighted area northeast of the city principal business district.

The project is designed to improve traffic through the city and to improve housing conditions for the city's lower income groups.

Tuesday's announcement culminated four years of work to achieve this goal by the local Urban Renewal and community development agency, which has Foad Homra, Joe Treas, G. Hatfield, board member James Warren, attorney, Mr. Mac Barber, secretary and William C. Colloredo Associate of Memphis, the planners for the project.

Improvements are planned for the approaches to the south (See map). The old underpass of the Illinois Central Railroad will be abandoned, the mayor said, and U. S. 45 will be rerouted through another underpass to be constructed under the present site of the IC depot which is to be bought by the city and relocated elsewhere.

The sub-standard housing in the area will be bought and removed. Curbs and gutters will be installed and other improvements made, including zoning changes.

Mayor Tripp said the city is hoping for a grant for 50 units of low-income housing in the renewal area.

The city manager, Sturm Mackey, remarked, "The spin off from this project will revitalize the community. The hopes and aspirations of the people in the renewal area will be realized."

Both men described the city as "very fortunate" in receiving the federal funds.

Harper Hams Win Top State Fair Honors

One sees signs all over Western Kentucky and Tennessee advertising "Harper's Country Hams", and now Curtis Harper can add another word "Harper's Championship Country Hams."

Kentucky's largest producer of country hams is also producer of the best hams, according to judges at the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville this week.

The entry of Curtis Harper of Clinton was judged the winner among the 52 hams entered.

Harper has been awarded $25.00 and a championship "pigskin" banner at the ham judging contest.

Last year Harper produced more than 60,000 country hams and is expanding his plant to produce 80,000 this year according to Dr. York Varney, University of Kentucky meat specialist. Varney also stated that eventually Harper will have facilities to produce 250,000 country hams a year.

Varney said the quality of hams in the seventh annual showing at the fair was much improved over previous years, and he said Kentuckians are realizing now more than ever before that money can be made in producing the delicacy.

Local Riding Group Brings Home An Armload Of Trophies

When a bunch of people—old and young alike—like to ride horses, and there's a Horse Show coming up, you just blow the whistle and they'll be there.

Such is the enthusiasm generated among a group of eager horsemen centered a few miles east of Fulton on the Dukedom highway. Calling themselves the "High Point Riders," the loosely-organized, fun-loving group rides whenever they can, for the fun of it. They have no affiliation, no sponsor, no training, no banner. Nothing but enthusiasm.

The "High Point Riders" took their enthusiasm to Greenfield, Tennessee last Saturday night just to enter the competition for the fun of it. They had never entered a show before. They entered 16 of the 18 classes under the name of the "Fulton YMBC" and came home with two arm loads of trophies, including the giant "Judge's Cup" for high points in the competition.

With over 350 entries and several experienced riding clubs participating, children and adults alike did an outstanding job. The point contest was close till the last class which was the speed race. All the available horses and riders from Fulton were entered in this last class.

The president of the Greenfield saddle club then presented

VISITOR WANTED FOR MURDER, BANK ROBBERY

Obion County Farmer Risks Life To Report Fugitive At His Home

A farmer of the Midway community risked his life to get word to the Tennessee Highway patrol that a man wanted for shooting an officer in Illinois had come to his home.

Robert Perry knocked at the door of Sgt. Tom Kilpatrick about 6:15 Friday evening.

"He told me that a man, whose name he did not know, had come to his home about two hours earlier and that he was afraid of the man," said Sgt. Kilpatrick today.

"We later learned the man was Melvin Luther Cox of Chattanooga and that he was wanted for at least three murders in various sections of the country."

Mr. Perry said his son, James Perry, had been in Chicago, hitchhiked a ride home with Cox and witnessed the shooting of the Illinois officer. The two men later separated in Cairo, Ill., and Mr. Perry continued to his father's home. Once there, he told his family about seeing the Illinois officer shot.

Cox, who is 31, showed up at the Perry home unexpectedly about 4 p. m. Friday and Mr. Perry managed to get out of the house, drive to Union City and notify Sgt. Kilpatrick.

"It was evident when he talked to me that he was upset and afraid of this man," the officer said.

After checking with Illinois authorities who told him that a state trooper had been shot twice and seriously wounded near DuQuoin, Ill., on Monday, and checking with Lt. Bill Moore, who was in Ripley, Sgt. Kilpatrick alerted State Trooper P. T. English, Sheriff T. C. McCullough and Deputy Larry "Buck" Taylor.

"If this was the man wanted in Illinois, we knew he could be dangerous," Sgt. Kilpatrick said. "So we were well armed — we even brought along some tear gas — when we started for the Perry home." Sheriff McCullough and Deputy Taylor covered the back door and the two Tennessee Highway Patrol Officers took the front door.

"Mrs. Perry was the only one at home when we got there and told us her husband, her son and the suspect would be home in a few minutes," the officer related. "We found a 38 caliber pistol in the suspect's clothing but that was the only gun in the house."

"Meantime, we had decided to try to hide our cars but, before we could do this, Mr. Perry drove up with the other two. I immediately went to their car and placed both the younger Perry and the suspect under arrest. Nobody in the car was armed."

Later, the officer said, the younger Perry told him about the shooting in Illinois.

"He said he was driving the car, with Cox as a passenger, when they passed a state trooper," Sgt. Kilpatrick said. "He said he stopped the car and told Cox he didn't have a driver's license and that Cox would have to drive. The state trooper then turned around to investigate and Cox asked Perry to hand him a gun which was in the glove compartment. Perry said he refused and that Cox got the gun himself and shot the officer when he walked up to the car."

Cox and the younger Perry, who was wanted in Obion County on a bad check charge, were taken to police headquarters in Union City after being arrested and it was there that officers found a wanted bulletin on Cox, charging him with murder, armed robbery, bank robbery and escape.

"We were lucky he wasn't at home when we got there," Sgt. Kilpatrick said. "He could have resisted and, armed with a pistol, he might have hurt

Teachers Will View New TV Series On 29th

Kindergarten and first grade teachers will participate in a statewide workshop Saturday, August 29 to introduce Ripples, an early childhood instructional television series.

Ripples, a 36-program series premiering this fall on the KET network, is the result of an intensive two-year national effort to construct effective television materials for kindergarten and first grade teachers. Ripples does not emphasize teaching the child how to read, count or sing. Rather, it heightens and supports the development of feelings, values and judgments.

Teachers will gather at five sites across the commonwealth to capitalize on the three "in-service" programs prepared by the producers of the series. The three programs orient the teachers to the program objectives and format; give teachers basic information on their role in using the television programs; and instruct them how to use teacher guides and evaluation materials.

For three hours (9 a. m. to noon EST; 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. CST), KET will be on the air live, and use the entire state closed-circuit system plus one open-circuit transmitter in Murray, Ky. (closed circuit connections in western Kentucky are not yet completed).

Joffrey Ballet Brings Impressive Record To Festival

For once, a ballet company originated by "pressure from within." That would be the junior company of the world-celebrated City Center Joffrey Ballet—Joffrey's II Company. It will be seen here at the International Banana Festival on Sept. 10th under the sponsorship of the Kentucky Arts Commission.

A free lecture-demonstration will be given on Wednesday, September 9, by the ballet group in the tent at Kitty League park for school children. The time will be announced later by the Banana Festival. They will be a part of the Inter-American Music Fiesta on Wednesday night, with their main performance on Thursday night, and will also perform for the International Relations program on Friday night. To the knowledgeable in the ballet world, the Apprentice Group of the Joffrey Ballet has been known for a long time. And many critics have pointed out that when a leading dancer was injured the "taxi squad," as one critic called it, could produce a substitute—sometimes on a few hours' notice. And, every time, to critical kudos.

The new company came about because of three factors. But the main force came from within. For over a year it has been apparent that the high level of talent and technical training in the Apprentice Group—and, even, the Scholarship Group—represented dancers who were ready for a regular ballet. And a number of them have had experience in the United States or Europe. As Omar K. Lerman, General Administrator of the ballet, states it, there was a superabundance of great talent, more than union regulations and budgetary limitations would allow in the main company. Not to lose them from the ballet—or to have them "disappear" into minor companies, it was apparent that they should have added experience and an outlet for performing.

At the same time, the head of the Apprentice and Scholarship Program is one of the best qualified in this country or Europe to guide a new company. And his Associate Director brings a notable background, too. The third element was—need. For years, there have been requests for a compact mobile company, that could play short-term engagements, which the large, expensive regular company could not afford to accept. And engagements in colleges and schools which could not have presented the full company.

Now, the new company is geared to meet exactly this need. And out of the rich repertoire of the large company, ballets have been carefully chosen to give the public wide range from the purely classical to the most modern with something, not only for regular ballet, but for the young audience—the same young audience which makes up the "regulars" in the Joffrey Ballet's New York seasons and in major cities. Furthermore, the ballets to be done can fill the large stages of a college auditorium or be adapted to the smaller stage of an elementary or secondary school.

Ann Landers

—Your Problems Bring Answers—

Dear Ann Landers: I make great chocolate chip cookies. The world's best. Everybody raves over them.

Last night I baked a batch to take to a friend's house. She had a back operation and asked me for my famous chocolate chip cookies.

After I had packed the cookies in a tin and tied a ribbon around it, my husband asked me for a "sample." I told him to wait till we got to Mazie's house—that he would get a "sample" there.

Well, Ann Landers, do you know Mazie never opened the box? My husband kept nudging me all evening and whispering, ("P-as-it . . . remind her about the cookies.") I ignored his request and now he is mad at me. I say he should be mad at HER. Isn't it rude not to open such a gift in the presence of the giver? If you print my reply I will send you my famous recipe for chocolate chip cookies. Thanks in advance.

—Shaper Heights

Dear Shaker: Here is your letter but please do NOT send your recipe. I haven't fully recovered from my meat loaf trouble. My sister in Omaha has just started to speak to me again.

I agree, the lady with the back surgery should have opened the box in your presence, but next time, bake a double batch of cookies—so you'll have enough for your own family as well as your friends.

Dear Ann Landers: Your answer to the woman who was afraid to ride with her 78-year old friend was fine—as far as it went. But it didn't go far enough.

I've been in the insurance business for nearly 60 years. Our records show the best risks are those in the over-60 group. The worst risks are single boys between 16 and 25. Married drivers under 25 have fewer accidents than single people. The accident rate declines steadily with age. Why? Because there is no substitute for experience.

Another point worth mentioning: the accident rate for women is about half that for men. I don't know the reason but the records prove it. So, please, Ann, praise the women drivers and the old folks in your column. They are the safest drivers of all.

—Manhattan, Kansas
Dear Ann: Your statistics are interesting, but your logic leaves something to be desired. Your statement, "There is no substitute for experience," does not hold up when it comes to driving. Some drivers don't get better, they just get older. The safest drivers, according to the National Safety Council, are those who were taught properly, preferably by a professional. And the behavioral experts point out that the drivers with the best safety records have predictable personality patterns. They are considerate of others, just plain polite and emotionally stable.

Dear Ann Landers: I went to my boyfriend's house Saturday night to watch TV with him. Nobody was home. I accidentally burned a cigarette hole in the sofa. I pinned a note on the spot saying I was sorry. I also said I couldn't afford to have it fixed because I'm not working. (I'm only 15.)

Today Fred told me his mother is mad and doesn't want me to come to the house any more. How can I get her to like me?

—Sad Eyes
Dear S. E.: A 15-year-old girl who goes to a boy's house when no one is at home and burns a hole in the sofa has finished herself with his mother. You did three things wrong. (Maybe four.) See if you can figure them out—and resolve not to make the same mistakes again, Toots.

How far should a teen-age couple go? Can necking be safe? When does it become too hot to handle? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking And Petting—What Are The Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Program Planning" Will Be Theme Of WSCS Workshops

Program planning will be the theme of four workshops to be held for members of the Women's Society of Christian Service throughout the Paris District in September, it was announced today by Mrs. Wayne Lamb of Paris, vice-president of the district.

The workshops have been set for four churches in the district, on different dates and times, in order to give all members the opportunity of attending the meeting of their choice at the time and place most convenient to them.

Women's Societies of the Fulton area will meet at the First United Methodist Church of Fulton at 9:30 a. m., September 3, with adjournment at 11:30 a. m. The program will be repeated from 1:00 p. m. to 3:00 p. m. at Martin First United Methodist Church for members in that area.

Additional workshops will be held at Murray Sept. 10 from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., and in Paris Sept. 10 from 7:00 p. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Especially urged to attend one of the sessions are members of the program committee in each local society. Those attending are asked to bring with them copies of the new program book, "Risk and Reality."

Now Is Time To Plan Your Pasture Crop

Southern Corn Blight damage and good moisture conditions should cause many Fulton County farmers to think about seeding pasture crops or small grain in late August or early September. Small grain crops like wheat and barley may provide much needed livestock feed to supplement the short corn crop. Barsoy barley or Arthur wheat may produce good yields of feed grain to be harvested in early June so that the land may be double cropped next year.

Blueboy wheat may be seeded and heavily fertilized to produce yields of 60-80 bushels next year, but usually this crop matures late and it is best to plan on only one grain crop during the year.

Aerial seeding may be done in early September in standing soybeans or corn with about the same success or cost as conventional seeding at a later date.

WATCH YOUR KIDS!

More than half the drowning victims in pools are under the age of ten, Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies advises that children be watched very carefully when in the water. It only takes a few seconds for a child to be in over his head.

TAKE NO CHANCES!

No matter how good a swimmer you may be, safety should always be foremost in your mind, notes Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. Strength alone will not keep you from getting into trouble if you take too many chances in the water.

Introducing Our Churches-God's Agency For Spreading His Love

UNITED CHURCH OF THE LIVING GOD

Church Picture Courtesy of Gardner's Studio

Bishop O. K. Clifton

This, the United Church of the Living God, the pillar and ground of the truth, was founded in Los Angeles, California, in the year 1946 by Bishop O. K. Clifton.

Bishop Clifton came to Fulton in 1961 and started services in a small frame building on Wade Street in South Fulton. His initial work was to help the under-privileged and the poor. He was blessed and found favor with the white businessmen, who assisted him in getting jobs for people. Then, in 1963, he was able to buy the site where the present church is located, 425 Kentucky Avenue in Fulton.

The church has an auxiliary known as the B-4 Club, standing for Better Homes, Better Parents, Better Communities and Better Workers for Christ. The membership has grown to about thirty members.

The pastor, Bishop Clifton, is a member of the Urban Renewal Commission and Community Development Agency and the Twin Cities Development Association, and has made many friends in the community. He states that he is grateful for being a part of the community and wishes to thank the pastors of the city for their cooperation.

New Horse Management Study At Murray Is A School "First"

Murray State University has become the first major college or university in the state to offer a comprehensive program in the feeding, care, and management of horses, E. B. Howton, chairman of the department of agriculture at the University, has announced.

Five basic courses in horse science will be offered in the department, beginning with the fall semester. Ken Cromwell, 29, well-known Murray horseman who holds two degrees in agriculture from Murray State, has been named to teach them.

The five courses, developed because of the increasing interest in horses and to meet growing needs for trained and knowledgeable personnel in the rapidly-expanding equine recreation field, include:

- Elementary Horsemanship, a course designed for students with no previous experience in the handling of horses and including instruction in grooming, saddling, bridling, mounting and the basic riding skills employed at the walk, trot and canter.

Horse Production, a study of the recreational role of the light horse, including the basic nutritional housing and health requirements of this class of animal. Periodic field trips to nearby horse farms will supplement the instruction.

Specialized Horse Enterprise, a course dealing with various topics of interest to the practical horseman from judging techniques to training methods.

Advanced Horsemanship II This course deals with the development of equitation skills with arena work in various events as well as some of the basic training techniques involved.

Equine Breeding and Management (Agriculture 401), a study of stallion and broodmare selection and care and including care of the foal from birth to maturity.

Students enrolling in the program may use their own horse or horses in the various classes if they desire to do so, Howton noted, although the University will provide horses for the use of those who do not care to do this or who do not have their own animal.

REVIVAL

The South Fulton Baptist Church is planning an old-fashioned "Revival" September 13-20th, with Rev. James A. Ponder of Carbondale, Illinois as the guest evangelist. Y'all come.

NAVY TOUR

Johnnie R. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Roberts of South Fulton, is one of 108 students participating in the annual Navy Science Cruise Tour at the Naval Base in Newport, R. I.

ROUTE THREE

Aline Williams

First off we would like to congratulate Mrs. Brenda Bennett Gogman who was awarded her Masters Degree at the State University in Murray on August 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Palmer have returned home from a trip to New Mexico where they met 26 more of the Palmer families. They all stayed at the Red River Motel over the week end. They also took a jeep ride through the two mile high mountains while there. They also visited their son, Bobby Joe Palmer and family in Dallas, Texas two nights while they were gone. The Palmer family meets some place once a year.

We received word here that Mary Alice Frank Reed of Memphis had a heart attack and is in the Baptist Hospital there. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Saturday night Mrs. Keith Emily had a birthday party for her husband and a neighbor, Phil Phillips. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Doil Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. Allison from Fulton, Mrs. Phil Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williams. Everyone had a wonderful time. Mrs. Emily served refreshments after all had enjoyed playing bingo. We hope those two nice fellows have many more happy birthdays.

The revival closed Friday night at Old Bethel after six nights of preaching with large crowds attending. Elder Lanie Mazenge of Hattiesburg, Miss. did the preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Williams and son of Paducah visited with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williams Wednesday morning. On Wednesday of last week we had Elder Lanie Mazenge, Elder and Mrs. Arlie Larimer, Mr. and Mrs. Rivel Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cannon and Butch Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Winstead, Judy and Mike visit in our home. The ladies brought covered dishes and we all enjoyed eating and visiting together as did several families who had the preachers and friends visiting and eating in their homes each day of the revival at Old Bethel.

Virgil Rowland visited relatives and friends here last week and has returned to his home in Detroit, Mich.. Several ladies from our neighborhood were in the home of Mrs. Macie Norman Wednesday of last week for a pink and blue shower for Mrs. Peggy Work.

Mrs. Dorothy Hopkins is home from the hospital in Union City and is doing fine.

ASC Ballots On The Way; Vote For Up To Three

On or before September 1, ASC Community Committee election ballots will be mailed to all known eligible voters, according to Roy Bard, Chairman, Fulton County ASC Committee.

Farm voters may vote for up to three of the candidates listed, or they may write in their choices on lines provided at the bottom of the ballot. To be counted, all ballots must be properly signed and mailed or returned to the county ASCS office by September 11. Votes will be tabulated on September 15, 9:00 A. M., Fulton County ASCS Office.

In each of the 5 communities in the county, three community committeemen and two alternates will be elected. The candidate receiving the largest number of votes becomes chairman; the second largest vote-getter, vice chairman; third-high, regular member; fourth and fifth highest become first and second alternates who may serve on the committee if regular members are temporarily absent or if a permanent vacancy occurs.

Any farm owner, tenant, or sharecropper who is of legal voting age may vote if he has an interest in a farm and is eligible to participate in any ASCS program administered in his community. Others who may vote are: A wife who is jointly operating a farm with her husband; a minor who supervises and conducts the farming operation of an entire farm; a legal guardian who manages a farm for a child; and a person representing a legal entity such as a partnership or corporation.

Voting by proxy is not allowed. Voters who certify their ballots with an "X" for a signature must do so before a witness and obtain the signature of the witness in order for the ballot to be counted.

A list of known eligible voters is open for inspection at the County ASCS Office. Any person who believes he is an eligible voter but who is not listed should get in touch with the County ASCS Office as soon as possible, Mr. Bard said.

He also said that any voter who has not received a ballot in the mail within a few days after September 1 should call the county ASCS Office to arrange to receive a duplicate ballot if necessary.

Representative Of SBA Coming To Paducah

A representative of the Small Business Administration will be at that Agency's part-time office in the City Hall on the Second Floor, Paducah, Kentucky, on Sept. 3, as announced by R. B. Blankenship, SBA District Director. The office, operated on a semi-monthly basis every first and third Thursday, will be open from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

In order to determine credit and eligibility requirements for SBA loan programs, it is suggested that the businessmen bring with them a recent financial statement or balance sheet of the business and a profit and loss statement for the previous full year. This information pertains to established businesses. However, anyone interested in establishing a new business is encouraged to consult with this representative as well as other businessmen who are in need of financial advice or assistance.

In addition to an SBA loan representative, there will be a SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Executives) Counselor available to talk with small business inquirers. SCORE representatives in the Paducah area are Robert R. Sachs and Ross L. Cochran.

Fall, Winter Hunting Dates Are Announced

Hunters have expressed a sense of ill-treatment down through the years, saying they were handicapped in applying for vacation dates to coincide with certain hunting seasons—simply because the dates of favorite hunting seasons are not usually announced in time.

According to the ruling of the commission, the squirrel season will open this year on August 15 and continue through October 31. A second phase will open on November 19 and continue through December 31. The bag limit again this year is six with 12 in possession after two or more days of hunting.

Hunters are always interested in the gun deer hunt, and that five-day season this fall will open in all 120 counties on November 14 and continue through November 18, with deer "with antler or spike visible above the hairline" being legal game.

The bow and arrow season, in all 120 counties, will run throughout October and December. Of course, the limit for deer in Kentucky is one per year, all seasons included.

The quail and rabbit hunter must have his gun and dogs ready by November 19, be-

Reach Of Education Expands

By JAMES BRANDON

The rapid approach of the new school term appears to be bringing with it this year the greatest series of challenges in the history of the nation's educational complex and its traditional practices.

The challenges go far beyond the problems created by ever-mounting enrollments which sorely tax the available classroom facilities at all levels of education everywhere.

They encompass efforts to extend the ability of the professional teaching staffs—among which there are now chronic shortages of qualified personnel—to give more personal attention to more youngsters, by resorting to use of para-professionals, even students who hope to sometime become teachers, as classroom helpers.

The challenges actually go outside the school system itself these days, into the area of the high speed mass media—notably television, where what is seen and heard is not always to be considered complementary to what is being taught in class.

Unrest among high school students has been traced by some authorities to the disparity between what they learn in school and what they observe outside.

Education for the young moves further and further down the age scale.

Even the pre-school children are exposed to the world we live in, for better or for worse, by what they see on the tube in the living room.

This contributes substantially, thanks to some specialty programs, to their early learning of letters, words and numbers. Yet many adults are worried about impressions retained from other programs that may have lasting effect on the attitudes of their children as they move on to formal education in the school system.

At the other extreme, in the area of higher education, young extremist militants who created so much havoc in collegiate circles and who in too many instances influence high school youth, have been losing caste as more mature, seriousminded and rational students swept into the movement for peace, this spring.

The moderates not only are making themselves heard; they also are working to make themselves heeded. They are moving into the political arena to work for the election of legislative candidates whose principles they believe will help shape the society toward the kind they want to inherit.

The support and encouragement they are receiving from administrators as well as faculty augurs well for a considerable broadening of their educational activity from the classroom into the adult world.

Thus does preparation of all the children who are going back to school this fall, be they beginners, elementary graders, high school or college students, become a challenge not alone for them but for their parents.

This time intervening between now and the opening of classes this fall is time for parents to draw closer to their children, to listen more carefully, perhaps even more sympathetically to their reactions to the social order of the times in relation to what they want it to be, to discuss with them the direction both their thinking and actions should take, and above all impress upon them the importance of education to their development.

Perhaps the one problem worrying most parents these days is the spread of drug addiction.

There is hardly a community in the nation today that hasn't moved to combat its spread. Therefore, parents need not lack for advice or guidance or information in coping with it should the problem come within reach of their children.

The coming school term is one full of challenge for everyone. It may well be shaped into the year when the militancy of youth may be turned about to take full peaceful advantage of the opportunities afforded by the democratic system—to learn how to achieve their goals—truly relevant ones—for fulfillment of the promise of a better world that lies ahead.

Suit Against Area Drainage Will Be Heard

A request for dismissal of a suit aimed at preventing further flood control work on the Obion and Forked Deer river systems in Northwest Tennessee has been denied in U.S. District Court in Nashville.

Judge Frank Gray Friday denied a U.S. Justice Department request for the dismissal but he did allow six Northwest Tennessee communities, including Union City, to intervene in the suit on the side of the government.

The other municipalities include Obion, Rives, South Fulton, Trenton and Dyersburg. Friday's ruling means the case must go to trial but no date has been set.

The suit was filed in April by four Nashville sportsmen who are members of two Obion County hunting clubs. They contend that the drainage work being done by the U.S. Corps of Engineers will damage more than 200,000 acres of wildlife habitat.

The government and the six communities, however, claim the work is necessary for protection against floods. The work has been halted until a decision on the suit is reached.

Kentucky Native Takes Over Railroad

WASHINGTON — The first step in William H. Moore's plan to rescue the financially distressed Penn Central Railroad is to shuck his coat for overalls and meet the thousands who work for the giant carrier. Moore, an executive vice president of Southern Railway System, was named president and chief executive officer Wednesday of the Penn Central, the nation's biggest railroad.

His first task, he said in an interview, is to "raise the morale of the people by getting out with them. And I don't mean the top managers or just the middle and lower supervisors. I mean the rank-and-file workers."

Moore reasons that getting to know his employees will help him reach his objective of improving Penn Central service across the board. He said he learned from his 20 years with Southern that Penn Central service has left much to be desired.

He's especially concerned about passenger service. "I'm going to see to it that it is first class with trains running on time. Dining-car service should be unexcelled with quality and courtesy more like what you get on airlines."

Moore, 54, a native of Hazard,

Ky., was named Penn Central president by court-appointed trustees in Philadelphia. The appointment is subject to approval by U.S. Dist. Court Judge John P. Fullam who has been overseeing the rail line since it filed for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws June 21.

The trustees called appointment of Moore "the essential first step in getting the Penn Central back into effective operation." They said the appointment reflected their "recognition that reorganizing the Penn Central and refinancing it must start with making it an efficient carrier of both passengers and freight."

The carro is just one of the interesting sights in this fascinating land, so rich in history, art and culture and so worthwhile for the tourist to visit. ## No Toll Road Set For Benton, Murray

There isn't going to be a toll road between Benton and Murray.

The announcement was made Monday by Tom Scott, district highway engineer.

Several persons in Marshall and Calloway counties had organized committees protesting a toll road.

But there never was a toll road planned—it was all a typographical error that appeared in the July 26 editions of the Sun-Democrat.

The new highway, when finally approved, will be 10 to 11 miles in length from just north of Murray to two miles south of Benton.

The July 26 story accidentally reported "10 toll" instead of "10 to 11" miles.

A hearing on the subject is set for 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at University High School in Murray. A transcript of the hearing will be sent on to the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The project will cost an estimated $6.5 million.

It was not known whether Highway Commissioner Bill King will attend the Wednesday meeting. Former Commissioner Eugene Goss had planned to be present but he resigned the state post last week.

Meanwhile, the steering committee of the U.S. 641 Highway Organization urged participation on the part of citizens of the two counties in the hearing.

Murray Mayor Holmes Ellis said, "At last, we appear to be on the verge of getting the much needed four-laning of this vital road between Murray and Benton. We can do a good job for the entire community by attending this meeting, and dramatically demonstrating our solidarity on this matter."

Mayor Robert Reed of Benton also joined in the plea to all persons of the two counties to attend. "This modern highway is sorely needed, and has been for a very long time. We want all of the help we can get in convincing the state highway department and the Bureau of Public Roads of our desperate need," he said.

All participants will be given an opportunity to speak during the hearing. The meeting will be conducted by Scott.

Great Show Is Promised

Dave Capps, who would rather shoot fireworks than eat when he's hungry, once again will be in charge of the Obion County Fair's fireworks display and has guaranteed something never before seen.

Aiding him will be his son, Buddy Capps, who has lit a few fuses in his time also. The show is sponsored by the local Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

Set for 9:45 p.m. Saturday, the final day of the fair, Mr. Capps promises to deliver a show the folks will remember the rest of the year.

Mr. Capps doesn't only promise but guarantees the most brilliant pyrotechnic show ever seen in this area.

He says the first 14 minutes of the 15-minute show will be "devoted to blazing and colorful exhibits of flaming beauty spreading over the heavens in a multitude of colorful beauty and noise."

If that's not enough, he and son Buddy have cooked up something even more spectacular for the three-part finale.

According to Mr. Capps "the first part of the finale will be the gorgeous Niagara Falls cascading 20 feet and streaming from 60 feet in the air. With the dying of the Falls, a most brilliant American Flag, connected to a 'Goodnight Coca-Cola' will burst forth.

"Just as they start to die away the heavens will be brightened with 24 large colorful shells of all kinds for the most brilliant grand finale ever offered the people at the Obion County Fair."

He encouraged camera fans to bring their instruments to record the exciting display.

Mr. Capps went on to describe some of the shells which will be fired during the first 14 minutes of the show.

"A Sunset Grandeur shell, an aerial beauty, gives a cloudlike mixture of colors, beginning in a pale blue and passing through all the other colors and tints.

"A Presidential Bouquet, a huge bouquet formed by the bursting of this shell, combines red, blue and white in a most spectacular effect and is one of the prettiest numbers we have ever offered.

"The Diamond Neckless Shell offers numerous sparkling stars resembling brilliant diamonds; a beautiful appearance ending with flash reports, and the Bridal Veil shell will cause you to ah, and oh for hours. It offers a marvelous reproduction of a long streamers of white fiery mist, followed by aluminum star breaks covering the skies for miles."

Sentences Of UTM Students May Be Suspended By Judge Harris

MARTIN, Tenn., Aug. 15—Circuit Court Judge Phil Harris is expected to suspend the sentences of nine University of Tennessee at Martin students, who pleaded guilty to drug-related charges in Dresden, Tenn. Wednesday.

But he warned a courtroom crowded with other students that leniency in future cases can not be taken for granted.

"I do not want any of you young people misled into a false sense of security," Judge Harris declared. "We are going to do everything we can to stamp out illegal use of drugs." The case against a 10th person was dismissed at the request of the district attorney general Fleming Hodges of Dyersburg, who prosecuted the cases.

The students were arrested in a series of raids conducted several weeks ago, both on and off the UTM campus.

Dismissed was a case against

Mrs. Margaret Carmichael, who had been indicted on charges of illegal sale of marijuana.

Her husband, David Carmichael, however, pleaded guilty to selling marijuana and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary and fined $500.

He also received 30 days and was fined $50 for illegal use of LSD.

The busy day in court began with a case of John Fowlkes, 20, of Troy, charged with possession of marijuana and LSD. His sentence was similar to that of Mr. Carmichael.

Five persons were given three years in jail and given $500 fines. They were John D. Lawson III, Harry R. Bowie, John Mark Evans, Joseph W. Sanford, and Richard C. Hayden.

Ronnie Oswald and Robert E. Scarbrough were given 30 days in jail and $50 fines on charges of illegal sale of LSD.

Friday's cases involved UTM students Thomas R. Lawrence and Clint M. Matheny, both charged with illegal possession of marijuana, Craig Vaughn, illegal sale of marijuana, and Lynn Thornton, illegal sale of amphetamine drugs.

Ex-Hickman Woman Is Charged

HICKMAN, Ky., — Mrs. Mina Louise Collins Hayes, a former Hickman resident, has been charged with murder in the death of her husband, Frank Hayes Jr., 42, in Dyersburg, Tenn. Hayes also was a former Hickman resident.

Dyersburg officers received a telephone call about 1:50 a.m. Friday summing them to investigate a report of a man who was injured.

The officers found Hayes alive upon their arrival at the house, but he died at 4:25 a.m. Friday at Parkview Hospital.

Police officers said Hayes suffered head wounds apparently inflicted with a hammer which was found at the scene.

A preliminary hearing was held Friday afternoon, and Mrs. Hayes was charged with murder.

Funeral services for Mr. Hayes will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Chaney Funeral Home with the Rev. J. T. Neely officiating. Burial will be in Hickman City Cemetery.

Mr. Hayes is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mina Louise Collins Hayes; three sons, Carl Mark Hayes, David Kelly Hayes, and Michael Stephens Hayes, all of Dyersburg; and a sister, Mrs. Bill Bradshaw, Hickman.

NUTRITION A LA CARTE

• How much milk does a pregnant woman need? Well, for good health before you are pregnant, you should consume two to three cups a day. While pregnant, you'll need four cups a day. Your need for calcium will be twice as much as usual. A quart of milk a day will give you three-fourths of the calcium you need, plus many other nutrients.

• Carbohydrates are the sugars and starches in our food. They serve as sources of energy for our bodies and to maintain body temperature. The most common sources of carbohydrates include cereals and products derived from them such as breads and baked goods, breakfast cereals, rice and noodles — also most vegetables and fruits, sugar, jams, jellies, candy, and honey.

• Breads and cereals are essential in good nutrition. They are one of the four food groups. You should get four or more servings of enriched or whole grain breads and cereals each day. These foods are even more useful when combined with animal protein, such as cornflakes and milk, a cheese sandwich, or spaghetti with meat balls.

• What do fats in our diets do for us? Fats supply a large amount of energy in a small amount of food — twice as much per gram as either protein or carbohydrate. They make our meals taste better, and more satisfying. Fats also help keep skin healthy by supplying essential fatty acids. And fats promote efficiency in our use of protein and carbohydrate.

• Exercise is an important part of any weight control program. Burning up some of those calories in wholesome outdoor activity allows you to eat a more satisfying amount of food. Remember too, a sound reducing diet includes foods from the meat group, the milk group, fruits and vegetables, enriched and whole grain breads and cereals.

• Sweet corn is one of the delights of our lives. (People look forward to the corn season each year with tremendous anticipation.) Well, in most areas, that time of year is here. Roasted or boiled, sweet corn is everybody's favorite. Just add butter and salt. The enjoyment and nutrition that corn offers makes it a great food.

• The human body is composed of about two-thirds water, by weight. This high water-content of the body has been called "the sea within you." It is, literally, salt water plus essential substances in solution. Many of our best foods help supply the amounts of the water we need. Milk is one. And did you know tomatoes contain 93 percent water?

Bowling Green Is To Get A Recount

PADUCAH, Ky. — The acting regional director for the Detroit Census Bureau, Robert McWilliam, says only one Kentucky city — Bowling Green — was shortchanged by the census is scheduled for a partial formal report that showed it lost 470 persons since 1960.

Several communities in the state have voiced opposition to what they think are census errors, but McWilliam said a review of formal complaints has turned up only the Bowling Green case in Kentucky in which a formal recount is expected. In most cases throughout the Detroit region, complaints by persons of not being counted have proved false, McWilliam said.

He said enumerators are back in the field at Bowling Green, but results aren't complete enough to determine what, if any, change will occur in the population figures there.

The census figures showed Kentucky registered only a four per cent gain in population to bring the state total to 3,160,312. However, community leaders in several cities aren't convinced that their towns lost people. Princeton Mayor Larry Osting maintains that Caldwell County was shortchanged by the census report that showed it lost 470 persons since 1960.

Osting claims a flaw found in the Caldwell County count hasn't been checked out by the government. A chamber of commerce official in Hopkinsville also says nothing has been heard of a promised review of the population figures for that city that showed less gain than anticipated.

And, Mayor David Parish of Madisonville said he still is "satisfied in my own mind" that an increase of only 995 isn't correct for his city. Parish maintains Madisonville should have 16,000 persons instead of the Census Bureau's total of 14,105.

City officials are upset because the availability of federal grants often is based on the number of people who would benefit.

Auditions Planned At MSU Band Camp

MURRAY, Ky. — Band musicians who plan to enroll next month at Murray State University will have a chance to audition for the "Marching Thoroughbred Band" during the annual pre-registration band camp rehearsals on the campus.

Roger E. Reichmuth, marching band director, announced today that auditions will be held during the camp which opens at 2 p.m. Sept. 9 in the recital hall of the Price Doyle Fine Arts Building. Fall class registration begins Sept. 14.

Both Reichmuth and Paul W. Shahan, director of bands at Murray State, urged all student musicians to consider the try-outs. They said they hope to expand the size of the band, which now includes more than 100 members, considerably in the next two years.

In announcing the auditions, Reichmuth emphasized it is not necessary to be a music major to be a member of the band.

"Any students — and particularly incoming freshmen — with high school band experience are especially encouraged to audition," he added. "All band members receive scholarships applicable to their tuition fees and may take credit for band if they so desire."

The "Marching Thoroughbred Band" performs for all Murray State home football games and makes several away game appearances each season. It also performs for the First District Education Association meeting each fall and the Kentucky Music Educators Association Marching Band Festival.

Positions in the band are open for all band instruments, as well as drum major, twirler and majorette.

Persons requesting information concerning the band should send their name and address to Roger E. Reichmuth, Marching Band Director, Murray State University, Murray, Ky. 42071.

Hancock-Thompsett Vows Said In Murray

FULTON, Ky., Aug. 21—Simplicity marked the ceremony Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 12, when Miss Harriet Leigh Hancock became the bride of Robert E. Thompson in the sanctuary of the Mormon Church at Murray.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hancock Sr., of Fulton. The groom's parents are Dr. R. E. Thompson and the late Mrs. Thompson of Scio, N.Y.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony, which was held at 3 p.m. was Dr. Jerome Hainsworth. Preceding the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Jerome Hainsworth, pianist, and Douglas White of Louisville. White's vocal selections included, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. The traditional wedding processional and recessional were used.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. Her daytime-length wedding gown was fashioned of crisp Chantilly lace in pristine white. It featured a sweetheart neck and the Empire line was created by a fold of sensation pink velvet ribbon. Scallops marked the edge of the wrist-length sleeves and each tier of the skirt. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath. Her headpiece was a rose formed of illusion.

tendon of California.

Waylon Lawrence, church minister, officiated at the double ring service as the couple exchanged their vows before a background of branched candelabra, twined with huckleberry and tied with white satin bows, and a sunburst arrangement of majestic daisies and gladioli set on a brass pedestal. Family pews were marked with satin bows and clusters of valley lilies.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Steven McClanahan of Cookeville, Tenn. She wore a dress of pink chiffon with long, lace-banded sleeves. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and tiny feathered carnations.

Robert Edwards of Murray was best man and the bride's brother, Curtis Hancock Jr., of Knoxville, Tenn. was the groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hancock wore an informal length dress of blush pink silk knit, a feather whimsy of the same color, and ivory accessories. Her corsage was a white gamelia.

Following the ceremony, the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to New York. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece fall model of mahogany knit, featuring an accordion pleated skirt.

On their return they will make their home in Murray where both will attend Murray State University.

Miss Hancock Is Honored

FULTON, Ky., Mrs. Harold Holladay, Mrs. Carlene Bolin and Mrs. Boyce Heithcock, assisted by their daughters, Pat Holladay, Doris Bolin and Carol Heithcock, complimented Miss Harriet Hancock, bride-elect, with an informal morning party at the Holladay home.

Miss Hancock wore a two-piece tulle-trousseau frock of multi-stripes in tones of lilac and mint. The hostesses presented her with a white carnation corsage.

Local Dealers Paying High Price For Corn

Obion County early corn producers are meeting higher-than-average prices this season as they sell through local dealers. Monday's market closed at $1.45 per bushel and local dealers are not predicting what may happen to the market.

For instance the market opened this morning and immediately jumped eight cents (the limit) the Chicago Board of Trade will allow) but later in the morning it dropped back down by six cents. The early markets are about 20 to 25 cents higher than last year's, which opened at $1.20 to $1.25 and then wound up the season at about $1.15.

According to Bill Latimer, of Warfield Grain Co., the higher market prices probably reflect dealers' belief that the corn crop will be short this year.

Much of the nation's corn has been damaged by a new strain of fungus. In parts of the country half of the crop has been lost. No effective method has been developed to treat affected corn and producers are now looking for disease resistant varieties.

While the corn prices seem to be reacting to the forecast shortage, the result could also send hog prices up as corn is the primary feed for the animals.

Effort Made To Recover Buried Cannon At Park

COLUMBUS, Ky.—Excavation work is under way at Columbus-Belmont Battlefield State Park to recover an old cannon buried in a landslide 30 years ago.

The park was built on the site of the northernmost fortified position occupied by the Confederate forces on the Mississippi River during the Civil War. Columbus was the terminus of a road that split the Confederate states to the Gulf. This made it a strategic point during the Civil War.

Situated on the high bluffs overlooking the Mississippi River, Columbus was a strong defensive position. It was occupied on September 3, 1861. Through the autumn and winter of 1861-1862, a garrison of 12,000 to 19,000 men labored incessantly on the earth works and defenses. Confederate trenches can still be seen at the park and many are still uncovered.

Because of its strength, the position was known as "The Gibraltar of the West."

The location was abandoned by the Confederate forces March 3, 1862 as a result of the fall of Fort Henry and Donelson on the Tennessee and Cumberland Rivers. It was immediately occupied by Union troops who used it as a supply base and garrison during the remainder of the war.

The historical park has a concession stand, miniature golf course, picnic area, 25 camp and trailer sites, hiking trails, a lookout building and a museum. The museum building was once used by the Confederates from Sept., 1861, to March, 1862, as a hospital.

Columbus was first settled in 1804. After the burning of Washington by the British in 1814, Columbus was proposed as the logical site for the nation's capital since it was centrally located in the eight counties of the Louisiana Purchase.

SICK CORN— James McDaniel of South Fulton is only one of many Obion County farmers whose late-planted corn has been severely damaged by the Southern corn leaf blight fungus this year. While it is impossible to determine the extent of the damage over the county, undoubtedly the blight will greatly reduce both the quality and quantity of the late corn.

West Tennessee Corn Hit Hard By Blight

As the late-planted corn in strain. According to Dr. Hadden the effects of the Southern corn leaf blight fungus can be seen more clearly and a situation which at first did not appear too serious in the county apparently has changed.

Dr. Charles Hadden, U-T associate plant pathologist, after visiting in Obion County Wednesday, said Western Tennessee is definitely the hardest hit area in the state.

The late-planted corn (planted in late May and early June because of the wet spring), however, is being affected by the blight and a yield reduction is expected.

County Agent Joe Martin has suggested that farmers harvest their corn earlier than normal in order to get as much out of the field as possible.

He said when hit by the blight, corn plants are so weakened that they often fall prey to other diseases and can be expected to lodge (fall down).

According to Mr. Hadden, "The fungus which causes the damage has been around for years, but we now have a new Feeding studies are currently being carried out in several states to determine if the infected corn is toxic to cattle. So far, no harmful effects have appeared in cattle fed corn silage from infected fields.

UT extension associate agronomist Joe Burns said that infected corn should be allowed to develop as long as possible and not be cut for silage until at least 50 per cent of the leaves have been killed, or until the corn has reached the normal cutting stage.

Teen-Agers Charged In Beating

FULTON, Ky. —Two teen-agers have been taken into custody and charged with robbery and the beating of a Fulton woman Wednesday night.

Richard Myatt, Fulton police chief, said a 17-year-old Fulton girl and a 16-year-old Union
City, Tenn. boy were arrested Thursday.

The two have been transferred to the Fulton County Jail in Hickman and will appear before Juvenile Judge James Menes.

Entry was gained into the home of Mrs. Eleanor G. Russell, 104 Norman St., by prying open a bedroom window after an attempt to enter the house by the back door failed, Myatt said.

Mrs. Russell is in satisfactory condition at Fulton Hospital.

Police Chief Myatt said the robbery and beating occurred between 9 and 9:30 p.m. Wednesday night. Approximately $22 was taken.

Mrs. Russell was able to get out of her house by crawling to the yard where she was found by a neighbor Thursday morning.

WORK OF ARSONIST? Fire of unknown origin Tuesday night, Aug. 4, destroyed this barn in the rear of the Hubert Legg property in Martin. Three other fires to two other sheds on Mr. Legg's property later in the week have led Martin officials to suspect an arsonist may be involved.

Arson Suspected In Martin Fires

The possibility that an arsonist is at work in Martin is being given considerable attention following a rash of fires at the home of Hubert Legg.

The series of fires began the night of Aug. 4 at 10:10 when a good-sized shed on the Legg property caught fire and was destroyed. The fire department listed the cause as "unknown."

At 11:03 the night of Aug. 8, another shed on the property caught fire. The fire was extinguished without much damage.

At 1:15 a.m. Aug. 9, fire again broke out in still another shed and again was brought under control with little damage. The final fire in the sequence broke out at 8:10 the same morning.

Earlier on the night of Aug. 4 a fire was discovered at a house
just east of the Church of Christ and belonging to the church. The house was locked up and reports are that a window in the door was broken out.

The fire was confined to drapes that fell and burned a small hole in the floor. Witnesses who turned in the alarm reported seeing several persons running from the scene.
