Kentucky Windage

(By P. W.)

The Festival is just about "upon us", and you have to be kinda involved with it to catch "Festival Fever" this early, but it's here . . . and those of you who haven't yet involved yourselves ought to get busy and catch the fever. It's invigorating; it's exciting and it's a once-a-year whing-ding around here second only to the arrival of Santa Claus.

There are activities for all to help with, so if you're not involved yet this year, why not give Christine Batts at the Festival office a buzz and see how you can help? The idea is for a whole lot of people to each contribute a little bit to keep things running smoothly, not just a few people contributing their every waking moment!

The Amigos are here and having a gay time making new friends and experiencing new living that they have never known before, and for that reason we have reprinted our recent story on Elena Bucheli, one of last year's Amigos who stayed on with the Hixson family. Read it again and remember that while you are reading it a new group has just arrived and a brand-new crop of experiences are being re-lived all over again! Page 6, second section.

The Marimba Band arrives next Wednesday and for party-goers and listeners alike, their Latin music is just another addition to the Festival Fever that will be all around us this week and next. A lot of work has gone into the program this year, and I think it will be fun for all. The Twin Cities have already been given a lot of good area-wide news coverage of this year's festival, and a lot of visitors are expected this year. I know of a whole bus-load of eager people who are coming in from Nashville, for instance.

If ticket sales thus far are any indication, this year's festival should be highly successful. First-day ticket sales last Monday set an all-time record, with every major event sharing the spotlight; it is entirely possible that some of the major events at the New Fulton high school "air-conditioned" gym may be all sold out before the day of the show. I think the gym only holds something like 1800, and when that many get inside, the doors close. So this is no sales pitch, but just a suggestion: if you are planning to get tickets to anything special, get them NOW while the getting's good.

Had a nice card last weekend from Wayne and Mildred Anderson, who at the time (July 31) were sight-seeing in Assisi, Italy and obviously enjoying their trip. Said Mildred, "Have thought about you all so much in Rome, and here in Assisi; you must see it all. We've spent all afternoon walking the narrow crooked streets of this medieval city. How is the Festival coming along ???

"I should be home to help with something!"

The old Evans Drug store building (next to the new one) is about to come to life again, Sammy Haddad tells me this week. He and Dorothy are going to open up about September 1st, moving their wig shop to that location from their home. Sammy says they'll have quite an establishment, so you might be on the lookout for their official opening announcement soon.

"SALUDOS AMIGOS!" SAY SCOTT AND REGINA COLEY, children of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coley of Route 3, Martin, as they are prepared to welcome visitors to the Banana Festival with their hands full of bananas.

'A-Peeling' 1972 Pageant Features Former Princess Singer; 18 Entries

To add to the glamour and talent present at the 1972 Princess Pageant, Mrs. Rita Wilson Tigrett — 1964 Banana Princess and title holder of numerous other state and national pageants, including Miss Tennessee — will be singing as the honored guest entertainer.

Along with 1965 Banana Princess — Vicki Hurd Bartholomew — as emcee and this year's talent winner in the Miss Tennessee pageant, her sister — Carol Hurd — as entertainer, Mrs. Tigrett's appearance should indeed make the already elite pageant even more "a-peeling" than previously expected.

Formerly of west Tennessee, --actor Tom Ewell, Tom Preston, and Joyce Hubbard, the 18 beautiful young entries are flying to spend some time at the Banana Festival.

Those vying for the title of Princess, who will reign over the 3-day Festival, succeeding 1971 Princess Dixie Traylor, are Diane Belt, Sullivan, Kentucky; Sandra Kay Bowers, Dresden, Tennessee; Susan Burcham, Union City, Tennessee; Mary Lynn Carman, Union City, Tennessee; Karen Leigh Cooley, Medina, Tennessee; Debra Ann Dianchenko, Louisville, Kentucky; Cathy Sue Duncan, Benton, Kentucky; Jane Carolyn Grubbs, Dresden, Tennessee; Nancy Harrold, Puryear, Tennessee; Robin Denise Harris, Humboldt, Tennessee; Linda Susan Jones, Martin, Tennessee; Landonia Carole Lawson, Water Valley, Kentucky; Kim Nofsinger, Greenville, Kentucky; Diana Kay Polsgrove, Kenton, Tennessee; Virginia Lee Rutherford, Elizabethtown, Illinois; Trudy Simmons, Sharon, Tennessee; Tyra Vaughan, Edmonston, Kentucky; and Celia Ann Wolbertson, Memphis, Tennessee.

FOR 20 VISITING AMIGOS AND THEIR CONTACTS-----

Operation Amigo Provides Learning, Understanding, Friendship

by Dona Martin

The setting was perfect for a warm welcoming program . . . a large crowd of Twin Cities' residents had gathered; Mrs. Ahda McCoy, local Amigo chairman, had invited the two mayors, Dan Crocker and Nelson Tripp, to speak; the 20 Amigos were to be officially presented to their host town under sunny skies on the bandstand on Lake Street, Fulton . . .

However, plans did not fall in to place because of a sudden dreadful downpour and windstorm that drove the interested citizens and visitors into the Chamber of Commerce building.

Despite the chilling rains, the different countries began to warm enthusiasm of friendship blossom Sunday afternoon, between people of two totally August 6, when the 20 Amigos from Honduras arrived, and will continue to do so throughout their two-week stay in the Twin Cities. . . and long there-after!

Following the formal introductions and the gaiety of singing and dancing, the Honduras students were assigned their "parents."

The following citizens will keep two Amigos each until after the Banana Festival: Mrs. Jane Edwards, host for Oscar Ovidio Sanchez and Carlos Sheran; George Casparian, host for Heriberto Villaneuva and Carlos Caceres; Mrs. Ahda McCoy, host for Caesar Hernandez and Ricardo Lopez Price; Flynn Powell, host for Joel Pineda and Carlos E. Perdomo; Don Livingston, host for Hector Nerio and Alfredo Pelman; Guy Upton, host for Ilana Pinto and Vilma Altamirano; Mrs. Carl Puckett, Sr., host for Jose Eduardo Norris and Danilo Antonio Ramirez; Raymond Andrus, host for Eida Sofia Thiebaud and Nussy Montes De Oca; Roy Coley, Jr., host for Nora Miselen and Virgilio Fuentes Duron; Jim Wilkerson, host for Luis Ovidio Figueroa and Jose Nelis Fernandez; and Charles Pavlukiewicz, host for the chaperone Juana De Figueiroa.

Since only 2 of the 20 teenagers speak English, there was quite a language barrier present between the Amigos and their "parents." However, when there is friendship, a barrier such as that cannot last long . . . true friends just find ways of communicating without words.

Through the auspices of Operation Amigo, an internationally famous program, the 20 students come to Fulton from Honduras. Living in a country with such sights as mysterious Maya ruins and beautiful ornate cathedrals, the Amigos are experiencing a "new" beauty in America.

In addition to living in American homes for two weeks to learn of homelife and the people in the United States, they are also visiting factories, restaurants, and even courtrooms to learn of every facet of American life.

Though these actual experiences, the Amigos "understand" Americans, just as the Americans "understand" the Amigos through their visits. Therefore, the entire purpose of Operation Amigo begins to unfold.

If the people of two different countries with different languages and customs can even begin to understand one another, then the idea of people-to-people diplomacy becomes a reality.

This reality is the whole purpose or goal of the International Banana Festival—Project-United Us—and it is quickly becoming just that, a REALITY, with the arrival and two-week stay of the Amigos, who warm the hearts of each American they touch.

Festival's Saturday Morning Parade To Be Largest In 10-Year-History

If it's true that everybody likes a parade . . . and it is, then the tens of thousands of persons expected to converge in the twin cities of Fulton, Kentucky, and South Fulton, Tennessee, on Saturday, August 19, will get their real "enjoys" out of the mile and one-half long parade scheduled to wind its way through the two cities during the tenth annual International Banana Festival which begins on Thursday, August 17, and ends with a horse show on Sunday, August 20.

Led by the colorful and exciting the always delightful Fulton City High School Shrine units, have made applications to participate in the Latin-American oriented spectacle.

Festival officials said today that thus far the parade units already signifying their intention to participate will make this parade the longest, largest and most exciting parade in the previous nine year history of the Banana Festival.

With such highlights as the beauty queens, the marimba band, the world's largest banana pudding, high school bands and crack military marching units, the parade will entice the largest crowd ever to attend the Saturday event of the now ten-year old Festival.

Paul Stalls, one of the Mid-South's most expert float-makers has designed most of the professional floats in the Latin American motif. With the bright colors of the two Americas, marching side by side with color guards, drill units, and military units, the parade will begin in South Fulton at 10:30 a.m. Saturday morning and end on Fourth Street in the vicinity of Gilbert's Super Market.

Here is the parade line-up as of Tuesday afternoon:

Fulton County FFA, float; Fulton-South Fulton Jaycees & Jayettes, float; Great River Shrine Club, float; Juliette's Marching Majorettes, drill unit; Calloway County High School, band; Conservatory Majorettes, drill unit; "The Young Look", drill unit;

321st Military Intelligence, 2 vehicles; North Marshall High School, band; 807th Surgical Hospital, 2 vehicles; North Marshall Junior High School, band; Brownie Troop #235, float; North Marshall, drill unit;

101st "Screaming Eagles", military band; Greenfield Jockeyettes, drill unit; Dyersburg High School, band; Muhlenberg Central High School, band; American Legion Auxiliary, float; The Barclay Kids, float; The Bottom Bananas, float; M. Livingston Company, float; Welcome Wagon, float; Lions Club, float; Henry I. Siegel Company, float; Pepsi-Cola Company, float; City National Bank, float; Chamber of Commerce (Fulton-South Fulton), float;

Fulton Bank, float; Coca-Cola Bottling Company, float; Commonwealth of Kentucky, float; Hadley Adhesives, float; Fulton City High School, band; Citizens Bank, float.

Water Valley Square Dancers To Be Part Of Bananarama

The Water Valley Square Dancing Club, appearing in Fulton during the tenth annual International Banana Festival will be presented under the auspices of the Henry I. Siegel Garment Company. The group will present both round dancing and square dancing sets and will be accompanied with the music of some of the Mid-South's most outstanding artists. The group will appear at the giant FREE STREET DANCE on Lake Street Wednesday, August 16.

Under the direction of John Fuqua of Mayfield and Carl Pirle of Water Valley, the group has become much in demand in the five-state area.

A well-known fiddler from Huntington, Tennessee, will present many numbers for the dancers and the "wall flowers" who enjoy good ole square dancing music, and participants.

The Water Valley Square Dancing Club is one of the many attractions that will enliven the streets of Fulton and South Fulton on Wednesday night to kick off the gay atmosphere of the three-day Festival from August 17 through August 20, which ends the Festival with a horse show on Sunday afternoon.

The entire dancing and frolicking event on Wednesday night is free to the public.

The schedule for the musical entertainment is to have a rock and roll band in the Southern Shopping Village in South Fulton and the square dancers and the marimba band in Fulton, playing simultaneously to a Latin-American beat.

It will truly be a great Bananarama with everything FREE, including a good supply of bananas.

Marimba Band To Arrive Here Next Wednesday

To put the residents of Fulton and South Fulton really in a festive spirit, the Marimbistico de Aviateca will arrive on Wednesday, August 16. The arrival of the famous, popular Marimba band will be just in time for the free Bananarama street dance to be held that night to kick off the Banana Festival with a musical note.

The Latin-American entertainment group that has honored the Twin Cities with their presence in the past Festivals will play for dances each night of the 3-day Festival at the Holiday Inn following the program of the night. The tickets for one dollar per person to these events may be purchased at the door.

On Sunday evening, the Marimba will play at the Derby Restaurant for a post-Festival concert.

SHARING A WARM EMBRACE OF FRIENDSHIP are Juana De Figueiroa (far right), chaperone of the 20 Amigos, and Jo Westpheling (second from right), Festival President, as other Amigos enjoy the same.

LEARNING THROUGH ACTUAL EXPERIENCES what Operation Amigo means is little Miss Kim Livingston (center), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Livingston, Clanton Street, as surrounding Amigos tell her . . . in Spanish!

DRESSED IN NATIVE HONDURAS COSTUME, a group of Amigos share their salutes with their own country's flag and that of their host country, the United States.

In recent weeks, even months, I am told, certain residents of Fulton and South Fulton have been bothered, pestered, concerned, and in some cases alarmed by mysterious telephone callers. This sort of thing is being treated as potential criminal matter, and I understand that investigative agencies are already at work here patiently waiting to trap the callers.

There are laws against this sort of thing, and pretty severe penalties for anyone caught at it... and I understand that the local telephone company has all of its special facilities in use investigating the matter.

For youngsters, this sort of thing may be funny, but for adults, it can be alarming and deadly serious. I hope that any adult caught doing this sort of thing around here receives the maximum sentence that a court or judge can impose, and I also hope that any parents who catch their children doing this sort of thing will tan their behinds good and proper and stop them.

I know of at least one case where, not far from here, a rather attractive widow, living alone in a nice home, kept receiving periodic calls from an unidentified male voice asking if she were alone and if he might come over. "Finally," she confided to some friends, "I put a stop to his calling. The next time he called and asked if I were alone, I told him 'Yes, I'm alone, you xxx, just come right on over. I'll be standing at the front door with a loaded .38 pistol, just waiting for you.' Haven't had any more calls from him since."

What are the intentions of the unidentified telephone caller. Robbery? Rape? Burglary? Who knows. Any reader of this column who might be able to assist in any way in helping trap these people... or this person... should call Manager Steve Fryear at the phone company office (472-9000) and give him a tip.

A measure adopted by the 1972 Kentucky General Assembly, providing for re-registration of all voters, may mean two million Kentuckians will eventually become registered voters.

Secretary of State Thelma Stovall, basing her prediction on similar circumstances in South Carolina, said several hundred thousand names will possibly be added to the current voting register.

"The re-registration move," she said, "will be the first in more than 50 years on a statewide basis. Everyone is just going to start all over again."

The new measure begins with this year's election day in November, running until 45 days prior to the 1973 election day.

Material submitted by county clerks showed Kentucky's present voting status was nearly 1.5 million.

Although the measure provides for registration forms to be made available at the state's 3000 precincts, Mrs. Stovall expected county clerks to work out easy methods of obtaining registration.

"Door-to-door canvassing, re-registering through the mail and other methods may be tried to encourage the voters."

Under present voting operations, it has taken several weeks before figures from all 120 counties were received by the Secretary of State's Office. The goal for November 1973 is to have official state counts complete within a matter of days.

FULTON'S

Library Corner

BY LUCY DANIEL

Come to the Fulton Library and see our nice antiques display. I think you'll enjoy it.

Some new books at the Fulton Public Library this week are:

HENRY VIII: The Mask of Royalty, by Lacey Baldwin Smith. Catherine, Anne, Jane, Anne, Catherine, Catherine. The path of Henry VIII's whim and fury is well known. Not so well known is the agonized doubt and caution that accompanied it. Nor is Henry's rage and stupefaction at each new discovery that his rule by Divine Will was fallible. In this new study of the mind of the King, the author shows a wholly different man from the erratic buffoon we have been accustomed to.

THE INNOCENTS, by Margery Sharp. This is the story of Antoinette, a girl brought to England just before World War II, and the elderly friend she lived with when her parents, caught on the continent by the beginning of the war, are forced to return to America. During the long years that follow, Antoinette and her foster mother develop an unusual relationship, something specially moving for Antoinette is retarded, an "innocent". Her movements are clumsy; her vocabulary is nonexistent; and many things frighten her. But slowly she begins to change and develop. And then it happens. Her mother returns to England and wants her child.

CLEOPATRA'S CHILDREN, by Alice Curtis Desmond. The Romans, fearing Cleopatra, invented stories about her wicked ways. Historians feature her as the glamorous woman who charmed the two greatest Romans of her day. This author tells about her conquest of Caesar and Antony, but she also presents her as a tender, vulnerable woman, a temptress, yes, but a completely devoted mother. She had four children—Caesarion, Julius Caesar's son, and Mark Antony's offspring, the twins—Cleopatra Selene and Alexander Helios—and Ptolemy Philadelphus.

DEATHWATCH, by Robb White. Madec was not the kind of man Ben would ordinarily have chosen as a companion for a quiet hunting trip. He was a cold man who liked to hurt things, and he was dangerous with a gun. This is a taut, stinging thriller with all the crazy believability of a nightmare.

MISS TALLULAH BANKHEAD, by Lee Israel. From her earliest days in Montgomery, Alabama, where she and her sister, Eugenia, began a fierce, dramatic rivalry for the attentions of their Congressman father and even more famous Senator grandfather, Tallulah always wanted to be a star. But although she first walked on stage at the age of six, she was too impatient to study her craft. Enraptured by the glamor of the theater, she became a mascot of the famed Algonquin Round Table, and soon Tallulah was creating her image of wit—an image combined with an earthy sincerity that was often bewildering. A fascinating story.

THE DREAM HOUSE ENCYCLOPEDIA, by Hubbard H. Cobb. Thirty chapters of Complete How-to-do-it-Yourself Information, such as "inspecting the house," "how much work can you do yourself," "financing," "what is it and what is it called," "how long does it take." This book is easy to read, easy to apply.

MODEL CAR BUILDING, by Bill Neumann. Man probably began to make models shortly after he developed tools. It is a hobby that never fades but instead expands with our technological progress. Model builders come close behind each major development in transportation, such as ships, airplanes, and automobiles. Here is the complete book, with full details on building, painting, tools, materials, adhesives, etc. There are also some hints for preparing scenic displays for finished models.

BASIC PSYCHOLOGY, by Leonard Carmichael. The director of the Smithsonian Institution, one of America's foremost psychologists, Dr. Leonard Carmichael, here examines the structures, functions, motivations and manifestations of the modern healthy mind. In simple and non-technical language, he clarifies the vast and growing scientific literature and laboratory experimentation about the principles and processes of human behavior.

On Saturday afternoon, July 20, at 2:30 p. m. the South Fulton Baptist parsonage was the scene of the mid-summer wedding of attractive Donna Faye McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parker McClure of South Fulton to Eugene Poe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Poe of Clinton. Rev. J. T. Hart, pastor, officiated using the double ring ceremony.

The Bennett Electric Company has leased the building on Main Street formerly occupied by the Huddleston Hardware Company, and following its renovation, plans to move much of its stock to the new and larger quarters across the street from its present salesroom. Owner Paul Bennett advised the News this week that he will retain his present building too.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO AUGUST 5, 1927

Misses Ruel Flippo and Ivora Cantrell returned Sunday night from Louisville where they took a six weeks special course in music.

The City Council met in its regular monthly session in the City Hall, Monday evening, August 1, 1927, at the regular hour, 7:30 o'clock, Mayor W. O. Shankle presiding and the following councilmen were present: Smith Atkins, Paul DeMyer, Joe Bennett, W. P. Murrell and L. A. Phillips. J. E. Hannephinn was absent.

George Huddleston arrived from New York Wednesday. He will spend the month of August with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Huddleston. We hope to hear him preside at the Trinity organ during his visit here.

Miss Virginia Cole has accepted a position with Dr. Luten.

Lion Vodie Hardin was honored Second Deputy District Governor of the Twelfth District this year.

Rev. C. H. Warren is conducting a series of meetings at Mt. Carmel this week, but will be in his pulpit on next Sunday. Rev. Gray of Jackson, Tenn., has been filling his pulpit

Karen's Kolumn

A NEW IDOL — SATAN

You know, people, whether you believe it or not, Satanism, or devil worshipping, is becoming more and more popular the world over. Satanism, as Mr. Webster defines the term, is a "cult addicted to profane mockeries of the holy rites of Christian worship." More and more such cults are being formed and teen-agers and young adults are flocking by the thousands to join. Whether they actually are sincere in their worship of the Devil, Satan, Lucifer, Beezebub, or whatever you wish to call him, remains to be seen. But believe me, parents have just cause to worry.

For centuries man has been awed and repulsed at the same time by the occult. Even here in our own country during the time of the Salem witch trials, people lived in constant fear of being tried as a witch. Any strange or unusual behavior could cause certain death. Parents even sentenced their own children and joined in the mad throng throwing rocks and other debris and yelling "Kill the witch." Witch burning became quite a spectator event with whole villages neglecting chores and businesses to stand idly by and watch some probably innocent young girl being burned alive.

While witchcraft and Satan worshipping is not quite so much in the forefront as in those early days, it is nevertheless a part of our society, whether people want to admit it or not. There is no telling the number of people who went to see "Rosemary's Baby" and I am quite sure the book sold an overwhelming number of copies both hardback and paperback. If you check with any public library I'm sure you will find that books on witchcraft are taken out quite often. Even in music it seems that Satan worshipping has contributed to the success of at least one famous rock group — Black Sabbath.

Black Sabbath, a Birmingham, England rock group will be appearing in concert at the Kentucky State Fair on August 26 at 8 p. m. in the Stadium. The following information appeared in a news release received from the Kentucky State Fair Publicity Department.

This formation is more than just a casual rock quartet, and is one that bears investigation. Sociologists may ponder what makes teenagers idolize young musicians who profess that the world is ruled by the Devil, and that one of the group is Lucifer himself. Bassist Geezer Butler proclaims, "It's a satanic world. The Devil's more in control now, and happier than ever before. People can't come together. There's no equality. The higher you climb, the more people you have to cut down. You feel you're better than other people, that they're inferior to you, and it's a sin to put yourself above other people, and yet that's what people do."

The other worshippers are John "Ozzie" Osbourne, who sings and plays harmonica; Tony Iommi, who plays guitar and flute, and Bill Ward, the drummer. Making their musical debut under the name Earth in 1969, the group enjoyed only slight success until adopting their mysterious title a year later.

Their first album, "Black Sabbath", with a picture of a witch standing in a graveyard on the cover, soared in the Top 10 charts in England, Belgium, Sweden, and Germany — countries long fascinated with witches and the macabre.

One young fan described their music as "heavy, freaky — it makes you feel you're in a graveyard — makes you feel more alive," according to the rock fan's Bible, "Rolling Stone." Their lyrics talk about "a doomed world, hell on Earth, man's frustrations, atomic tides, and through it all the Devil laughing—all this set to painfully loud and dirge-like music."

All the group wears iron crosses to ward off evil spirits. Geezer explains the group's intent. "People don't live for a spiritual world. They live for now. The Devil rules them. That's what my poems are about, things that are happening now. War and paranoia, death and hate. It gets people to thinking about what's going on."

No one knows for sure just why Satan worshipping has become so popular among the young people. Maybe they're tired of the demonstrations, riots, rock festivals, and the drug scene and this is just a new and exciting fad that will pass as all fads do. Maybe they are sincere in their worship of the Devil and Satan worshipping is here to stay. Whatever, the cause Satan worshipping has taken a new hold and seems to be becoming the fashionable thing to do. Let's just pray that not all the young people truly believe that the Devil rules the world! If that ever happens, God have mercy on us.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred David Barnard

Miss Powell, Mr. Barnard Repeat Vows In July Wedding

At seven o'clock in the evening of July 7, 1972, at the Oak Grove Church of Christ, Miss Judy Lynn Powell and Fred David Barnard repeated their wedding vows before an altar adorned with an arch of white candles and gladioli.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by the Reverend Harry Owen.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Powell of Route 3, Fulton, and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll W. Barnard of Winchester, Virginia.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She chose for her wedding a gown of white silk organza with fitted bodice, princess A-line skirt and long sleeves with self-covered buttoned lace. White Alençon lace went down the front and circled the edge of the gown and detachable chapel-length train with self-tie belt.

Her veil was shoulder-length tulle which fell from a tiara of seed pearls and lace. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of white carnations with cymbidiums with puffs of tulle and orchid satin streamer ribbons. Mrs. Alan Parrish, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Paula Barnard, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid.

They wore identical floor-length dresses of lavender dotted swiss featuring empire waists accented with lavender satin ribbon at the waistband. Each carried a single white carnation with lavender satin streamers. They wore headpieces of matching tulle and satin ribbons.

Carroll Barnard, father of the groom, was best man. Alan Parrish served as groomsman. Mrs. Powell, mother of the bride, wore a blue lace dress, featuring a scooped neck and short sleeves. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Barnard, mother of the groom, was unable to attend because of illness.

Mrs. Walter McClain grandmother of the bride, wore a navy blue knit dress with white accessories. Mrs. Johns, grandmother of the bride, wore a traditional gown of white satin overlaid in Venetian lace designed with a sweetheart neckline enhanced by seed pearls on a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves of lace, terminating at the wrist in calla lily points and fastening with tiny satin covered buttons. The torso waistline accented a full hooped skirt of satin and Venetian lace which was finished with matching scalloped lace. The veil of illusion was attached to a crown of Venetian lace trimmed in seed pearls which matched the bodice.

The bride's bouquet was made of white roses and killian daisies with daisies caught in love knots in the streamers and set on a Bride's Bible. A gift of the maid of honor. The bride also carried a lace and linen handkerchief which had belonged to a great grandmother of the groom.

Miss Gail Jean Bruce, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor. The bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth Maria Bruce, younger sister of the groom.

The groom chose his brother, John Lloyd Bruce, to serve as best man. David Morgan Elliott, brother of the bride, served as groomsman.

The bride is a junior at the University of Tennessee at Martin. The bridegroom is in the United States Navy stationed in Concord, California serving aboard the U. S. Shasta.

The bride will remain in South Fulton with her parents for a short time until joining the groom in California.

Gift Tea Honors Miss Leath

Miss Barbara Leath, bride-elect of Eugene McMorries, was honored at a gift tea recently at the Fulton Community Center.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Bill Gray, Mrs. George Gardner, Mrs. Dan Gardner, Mrs. Gladys Fite, Mrs. Clarence Stephens and Mrs. Charles McMorries.

The honoree chose from her trousseau a lovely orchid frock. She was presented a corsage of white carnations.

The tea table was overlaid with a white cloth. The centerpiece was a bouquet of pink roses in a silver compote. Pink tapers burned in silver candleabra.

Punch and party delicacies were served to approximately 50 guests during the afternoon. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Glenda Wright and Miss Lynn Leath.

VISITS BROTHER

Mr. and Mrs. Marian Miller and Jared of Quincy, Illinois, will spend the weekend with her brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Frese of Valley Street, Fulton.

A recent photograph of Via Dolorosa—the street through which Christ carried the Cross on the day of the Crucifixion, and which multitudes have travelled the world over to see.

WITH a prayer on His lips and benevolence in His heart, He died on the Cross, only to be returned to mankind. That His spirit has lived ever on, worshipped by all nations is our greatest proof of the greatness of His soul. In worshipping Him we may bring to ourselves the Peace and Eternal blessedness which He brought to mankind, and perpetuated in the Church.

Next Week's Unique Festival To Provide Banana Fun For All

If you're still wondering about that Banana Festival in Fulton, Kentucky and South Fulton, Tennessee where there "ain't nary a banana tree in 2,000 miles" then you'd better make plans to attend the three-day event that begins on August 17 through 19. You won't believe that the whole town has really "gone bananas."

Everybody's dressed in Latin American clothes, there are free bananas, free street dances, free Arts and Crafts Exhibits, Homemakers Window Fair and free Flea Market—all in downtown Fulton on Carr Street. Even the banks, the Library and the Community Center have free exhibits in them—they're something to see.

But with all that, there's a giant Princess Pageant on Thursday night with Vicki Hurd Bartholomew (former Princess) and Tom Ewell, the famous actor of the movie "Seven Year Itch", and gospel sing-along, also on Thursday night. On Friday night, there's the internationally famous Peter Nero in person, and on Saturday night, the great Country and Western Show will feature Jim Ed Brown and Bob Luman.

There's not another festival like the International Banana Festival in the whole world... so you'd better get yourself a free program and find out what's happening on August 17, 18 and 19 in Fulton, Kentucky and South Fulton, Tennessee. The famous Marimba Band from Guatemala will be just about everywhere... and don't forget to ask participating merchants about the $1000 in cash that will be given away on Thursday, Friday and Saturday—August 17, 18 and 19 in both Fulton and South Fulton.

Delicious 'Menu' Of Events At Festival's Fashion Show

A delicious meal, Latin and American models and costumes and the incomparable music of the Guatemala marimba band will be the "menu", when a luncheon and style show will be presented at the Holiday Inn in Fulton, Kentucky on Thursday, August 17.

Eight Fulton stores have entered twenty models in the show. The local models will be joined by young ladies from San Pedro Sula in Honduras who will add some ideas in wearing apparel from that Central American country.

In addition to an especially prepared luncheon, and the lovely ladies and gents on the fashion parade, Senorita Dona Martin, a dynamic young songstress will sing the Festival's banana song, and a selection of other well-known numbers.

Fulton Ready-to-Wear firms participating in the Fashion Show are: The Doty Shop, National Store, P. H. Weak and Sons, Clarice Shop, The Daisy, Kasnow's, K. Homra's and The Clothesline. All of the firms will present the latest fashions for Fall and Winter.

The committee in charge of arrangements announced today that twenty door prizes will be awarded to the guests. The committee is composed of Mrs. Virgil Barker, Mrs. Wilborn Allen, Mrs. Bobby Scates and Mrs. Charles Ray.

Fashions, food and fun... a rare recipe for enjoyment during the Tenth Annual International Banana Festival.

Tickets may be purchased at the ticket office at the Banana Festival Headquarters.

Amigos To Be Honored Sunday

The St. Edwards Catholic Church is planning a special service this Sunday morning in honor of the visiting Amigos.

Special invitations have been issued to the Amigos and their host "parents" to attend Mass at 10:00 a.m. and the social following at 11:00 in the basement of the church.

Luncheon To Highlight Governor's Day

As one of the most elite features of the Banana Festival, that will highlight Friday's Governor's Day, the governors of Kentucky and Tennessee will host the annual Governor's Luncheon at the Holiday Inn at noon on Friday, August 18.

In addition to musical entertainment and a delicious meal, the many visiting dignitaries will be introduced and the governors will speak to the capacity gathering.

The luncheon is open to everyone, but space is limited. Tickets for $3 should be purchased as soon as possible at Banana Festival headquarters to assure you of a seat at the luncheon.

HISTORIC MILL—Production continues full scale at Weisenberger Mill near Midway, where over 6 million pounds of flour and corn meal products were packaged in 1971. The old mill, cited as a Kentucky Landmark by the Kentucky Heritage Commission, has been operated by the Weisenberger family since 1865.

Festival's Peter Nero Concert Tickets Are Now On Sale

The famous jazz and pop pianist-composer Peter Nero will appear in concert in Fulton, Kentucky for the tenth annual International Banana Festival on Friday evening, August 18, at 8 o'clock in the air-conditioned auditorium of the Fulton City High School.

An up-to-date classical, jazz, and pop pianist-composer, Nero—along with his trio combo—will present a concert for all ages proving his original imagination and techniques that use a full piano range, quick changes of pace, tempo, and key to make exciting musical arrangements.

Not only his musical talent but also his great conversationalist ability causes Nero to totally captivate his young and old audiences alike as he pleasantly mixes his keen sense of humor with his sparkling array of musical hits.

Nero's latest recordings include "Love Story," "Make It With You," "You've Got a Friend," "Close To You," and "Summer of '42."

His musical abilities and conversational techniques have been exhibited on such shows as "The Merv Griffin Show" and "The Tonight Show."

Tickets for Nero's concert are now on sale in the Chamber of Commerce building on Main Street in Fulton. Reserved tickets may be purchased in advance for $3.00 and at the door (if there are remaining seats) for $3.50. General admission tickets may be bought in advance for $2.50 and at the door for $3.00.

Sing-Along To Be Held Thursday, 17th

If you love gospel music, you're in for a real treat when a Gospel Sing-along will be presented on Thursday night, August 17, at a specially designed stage at Kitty League Park at Fulton, Kentucky.

Starting on the show will be your all-time favorites... The Clark Jubilee Singers of Fulton, The Joyful Noise Trio, The New Gospel Four of Clinton, Kentucky and the Golden Rule Quartet. Sing to your heart's content at this new kind of gospel show, a gospel sing-along where you can sing or hum your favorite hymns with your favorite groups leading the singing.

The cost of the show is just $1.00 and Brother Joe Barber, director of the Golden Rule Quartet will be in charge of the program.

Hum-along in a sing-along where gospel music will fill the air at the Banana Festival's Sing-along—Thursday night, August 17, at 8 p.m. at the Kitty League Park in Fulton, Kentucky.

State Dept. Of Highways Files Suit Against Mullins

Suit has been filed in Graves Circuit Court by the State Department of Highways against Mullins, who, the state contends, appropriated $100 state funds for personal use.

The State charges: 1. That during the year of 1969, the Defendant, Paul Mullins, cap, or an average 18-hole score, as well as the youngster's home address.

2. That such chimney cover was wrongfully constructed in the Plaintiff's garage in Graves County.

3. That the materials and labor used in the construction of the aforementioned chimney cover were illegally taken from the Plaintiff.

4. That the fair market value of the aforementioned chimney cover is in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

5. That the construction and placement of the aforementioned chimney cover constitutes a wrongful and improper taking and use of public funds for private benefit.

Wherefore, the Plaintiff, Commonwealth of Kentucky, Department of Highways, prays for judgment against the Defendant in an amount of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00), its costs herein expended and all other appropriate relief to which it may appear entitled.

Couple Honored With Cook-out At Fields Home

A cook-out honoring Miss Carol Heithcock and Hugh Wright, who will be wed on August 5, was held recently at the Clyde Fields' home in South Fulton. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Clyde Fields and her daughter, Mrs. Bobby Cain.

Upon arrival the invited couples enjoyed a time of relaxation and conversation. Then they were served grilled hamburgers and other delicious picnic fare. The honored couple was presented, quite appropriately for the occasion, a barbecue grill as the hostess gift. Honor guests were Miss Heithcock and Mr. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Heithcock, parents of the bride-elect, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wright, parents of the groom-elect. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moss, Johnny Wilson and Cheryl Bowlin, David Thorpe, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cain.

Speech, Hearing Center Plan Approved By Regents At MSU

MURRAY, Ky. —Plans to locate a Speech and Hearing Rehabilitation Center on the campus of Murray State University got the stamp of approval of the university's board of regents Friday.

The action authorized Dr. Harry Sparks, MSU president, to pursue the course of action necessary to clear the final hurdles in getting federal money amounting to almost $620,000 through the Hill-Burton Act.

Total cost of the center is estimated at $1,006,012. Besides the federal money, the balance of the cost, $386,108, which also includes equipment and architectural fees, will be provided by the university.

Sparks, in recommending that the board approve the project, commented that the center "will serve a dual purpose, preparing people academically for a rewarding profession, and helping ultimately to fill a need in society."

The state Advisory Council for Health Facilities has already recommended that the grant be made to the university. Consideration must also be given to the proposal by the Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education, the Division of Health Facilities, Kentucky Department of Health, and the U.S. Department of Health Education and Welfare.

Sparks noted the project is in keeping with a mandatory Special Education requirement law to become effective in Kentucky in 1974, requiring school systems to provide highly trained teachers to instruct speech and hearing, mentally retarded and learning disabled children.

Members of the board also approved a response to "demands" submitted by the Black Student Union April 22 calling for more black studies with black instructors; a $2,000 annual budget for the Black Student Union; waiver of a requirement that black faculty members must have Master's degrees; and better opportunities for black athletes.

The response listed eight black studies courses offered on the basis of student enrollment and demand, and indicated that other special problems courses could emphasize black studies subjects.

It also pointed out that MSU has made an effort to employ black instructors for several years, but has not been able to pay the salaries necessary to attract them to the campus.

Referring to the demand for annual budget for the Black Student Union, the information sheet noted the officially elected Student Organization is the only student group on the campus for which student fees are authorized and collected.

In response to the demand that black faculty members be allowed to teach with less than a Master's, the sheet said that "accrediting associations to which MSU belongs require the Master's as a minimum educational qualification in the offering of a sound university program."

Outstanding athletes, according to the response, are recruited for MSU "without regard for race, creed or color."

In other action, the board voted to re-admit Ulysses Parker to the university for the fall semester. Parker, a Louisville, was one of four blacks disciplined by the board for a disturbance at an alumni function last year. He was suspended from school during the spring semester.

Three new appointments were made to the Faculty Disciplinary Committee, with all terms to end June 30, 1975. The new members are: Robert Howard, director of the Division of

From One Of The Bunch
Dona Martin

You're simply going to "go bananas" when you read what has been "cooked up" for you if you are in Fulton, Kentucky - South Fulton, Tennessee the weekend of August 17, 18 and 19!

From the appearance of famous Peter Nero to the serving of the free one-ton banana pudding, there are indeed "a bunch" of happenings to action-pack this year's International Banana Festival. The following brief sketches of each of the planned festivities will bring you up-to-date on how the Festival will bring entertainment and lasting friendships to you and your entire family!

To begin, the theme of the Banana Festival is "International Friendship and Diplomacy" or "Project--Unite Us." Carrying out this theme between America and the banana-producing countries is Operation Amigo. Operation Amigo will bring 20 to 25 students from Honduras and Guatemala to enjoy the Festival and to get to know America. They will arrive on August 6 and will stay in various citizens' homes for two weeks. Call Mrs. Abda McCoy if you are interested in keeping an amigo and promoting friendship. Closer to Festival time, the carnival will arrive on August 14. It will be located at the Kitty League Park throughout the festivities.

On August 15, the Marimbistico de Aviateca will arrive. You say the WHAT will arrive? That's the all-famous, well-known Marimba band! The Latin-American entertainment group will play for dances each night at the Holiday Inn and will play for free concerts during the day in downtown Fulton and South Fulton.

There will be several different types of exhibits, both for sale and in competition, during the three days of the Festival.

In competition will be the homemakers clubs participating in the Retail Merchants Window Fair, Downtown Fulton and South Fulton windows may still be obtained with no fee. Cash prizes will be awarded the best window exhibits.

Also competing for cash prizes will be the entries in the Area Arts and Crafts Show sponsored by the Fulton and South Fulton Art Guilds and the Fulton Woman's Club. Original paintings or creative stitchery may be entered in this contest for a fee of two dollars with opportunities to win as much as fifteen dollars.

Winners in five categories of banana baked goodies will be awarded cash prizes. The BANANA BAKE-OFF is open to all non-professional bakers and the banana "sweets" will be judged on Thursday, August 17, in the First Baptist Church. This annual event is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

There will be several exhibits sponsored by local organizations that are not in competition but are on display for local interest only. There will be an Indian Relic display in Graham's window that will display relics found in local Indian mounds.

There will also be a "History of Shoes" displayed in Bay's Shoe Store. Haws Memorial patients have been working on crafts all summer that will be displayed in Weak's window.

The Fulton County FFA will be displaying "Building Our American Communities", while Latin-American crafts will be exhibited in Fulton Electric System's window. There will also be an Artex paint display in the group with these non-profit displays.

Exhibitors who are not in competition but will be selling their goods are participating in the individual artists' and craftsmen's exhibits. These displays will be on Carr Street. There is a three dollar exhibitor's fee but no limit to what he may make!

Another group of sellers, not competitors, are the flea market salesmen. The flea market will be at Kitty League Park during the Festival where exhibitors may sell any type of goods. The fee is $5 for one day or $10 for all three days.

Now, let's get to the actual program of the three-day internationally-known event! The kick-off for the Banana Festival will be on Wednesday night, August 16, when a Bananarama Street Dance will be held. Different band styles, such as rock, country-western, square dance, etc., will be represented on the streets of Fulton-South Fulton so that all ages (from kindergarten to senior citizens) may enjoy the dance and get in the spirit of the Festival!

On the actual first day of the Festival, Thursday, August 17, the Rotary Club will sponsor a country ham breakfast. Tickets may be obtained in advance from any Rotarian or at the door. Plans have not been completed for the time and place of the breakfast.

At noon on Thursday, the ladies' Style Show and Luncheon will be held at the Holiday Inn. Amidst a festive atmosphere of clever favors and door prizes, several stores will have models showing four outfits from each store. Also, the amigros will model their native Latin-American costumes. Tickets may be bought before the luncheon as Festival time draws closer at the ticket office in the Chamber of Commerce building, according to style show chairwomen--Dorothy Barker, Jane Seates, Helen Allen, and Marion Lee Kay.

Beautiful young ladies from several states will compete for the coveted title of International Banana Festival Princess at the pageant sponsored by the Rotary Club on Thursday evening at 8 p.m. The contest will be held in the new, air-conditioned Fulton City High School with Tom Ewell, Tom Preston, and Joyce Huh-bard serving as judges. The chairmen of the pageant are Bob Bay, Dick Armstrong, Bill Foster, and Paul Westpheling.

Friday, August 18, is Governor's Day with Governor Wendell Ford of Kentucky and Governor Winfield Dunn of Tennessee serving as co-hosts with the International Banana Festival Association.

To begin the exclusive day's activities, at 9:30 a.m., ceremonies will be held at the Avenue of Americas honoring the flags of the various countries represented. Luncheon at noon. Tickets (in a limited amount) will be available before the luncheon at the set office downtown.

Immediately following the ceremonies, there will be a coffee for the visiting dignitaries at the Derby with banana bread as the national relations program. "Hands Across the Border," will

Then, the hosts will accompany the dignitaries on a tour of exhibits downtown. Following the tour, they will all meet at the

AN INSIDE LOOK-----

Your Hostess-Princess. . . A Real 'Home' Girl

By Dona Martin

"I like to meet people -- I'm anxious to meet the many different people that will be coming here for the festival," declared Miss Rose Gattis, the new 1972 International Banana Festival Hostess-Princess, in showing her eagerness for the festival and her reign to really get underway.

Rose has been to all of the nine previous Banana Festivals and is, naturally, looking forward to the tenth one that will be held August 17, 18 and 19. She was selected hostess-princess in the pageant held here last Friday night and will serve as goodwill ambassador for the festival and for the Twin Cities this year.

Besides making preparations for the festival this summer, Rose hopes to find some type of job such as babysitting or working in a store for the summer to go along with her usual chores of gardening at her Route Five, Martin, home.

Rose's home is quite an exciting place for her since she spends much of her time there with her sister, mother and father. Besides their farm working chores, the family enjoys evenings at home when they just "sit in the living room and sing while my sister plays the guitar."

Another reason that Rose is such a "home girl" is that her main hobby is there: She loves her pets, which have ranged from alligators all the way to skunks. Presently, she is keeping three cats, one goose, two dogs, and one chicken. She recently said that she recently "had to let her turtles go!" Collecting old Indian relics is almost as important to Rose as her pets are! This is a pastime that Rose's father taught her to love since he has a garage filled with the valuable, antique keepsakes.

Although she loves spending time at home, Rose is also quite enthused with school. She will be a senior at South Fulton and is a member of the Ecology, FHA, and DECA Clubs. DECA is her favorite because she enjoys marketing and the club will help her get a job this fall.

Rose says she makes average grades and "....wouldn't want to be an all-A student because that's just not me! But, at least I try hard, and that's what counts!"

However, Rose is quite proud of her attendance record in school. She has only missed one day in the eleven years she has been enrolled; that was in the first grade when she had pink-eye!

A native of the Fulton-South Fulton area, Rose has quite strong feelings about the "heavy" topics such as drugs and politics.

The 5'5" beauty is emphatically against any type of harmful, addictive drug. She is also against the legalization of marijuana because she feels that people can only hurt themselves through the use of it. Rose also thinks that, "People must face reality SOMETIME!"

Politically, the 1972 Hostess-Princess favors Alabama Governor George Wallace for U. S. President. She campaigned for him in the last race, and she believes that "....it is awful that he was shot in his endeavor to become President."

Rose, who will be eighteen next May, is looking forward to her opportunity to vote. She is in favor of the 18-year-old vote and reasons that it is a privilege. However, she intends to find as much information on a candidate before she gives her vote to him.

Concerning her future, Rose is uncertain whether she will attend college or not. She is contemplating just finding a good job and settling down. A definite home lover, Rose said she would consider getting married following her graduation next spring!

Financial Aid Is Expanded At Martin

The financial aid program at the University of Tennessee at Martin has been expanded to provide assistance to a larger number of students.

In making this announcement, Henry C. Allison, dean of admissions and records, had this to say:

"With the rise in fees and other college expenses, financial assistance is increasingly important to prospective students and those already attending college. UTM is attempting to meet requests for financial aid within the limits of funds available."

A total of 868 students received some type of financial assistance last year, and this number is expected to be increased for the 1972-73 academic year.

UTM participates in several federal aid programs, including Educational Opportunity Grants, the National Defense Student Loans, College Work-Study, Nursing Student Loans, Nursing Scholarships and the Law Enforcement Grants and Loans.

Peter Nero To Give Concert Here Aug. 18

Remember hearing of Nero's "fiddling" while the Roman Empire fell to ashes in 64 A. D.? Now, you can hear Nero (Peter, that is) "playing the piano" while the tenth annual International Banana Festival is in full swing in Fulton, Kentucky--South Fulton, Tennessee August 17, 18 and 19.

Peter Nero--an up-to-date classical, jazz, and pop pianist-composer--will be the big name talent, along with his trio combo, personally appearing in concert on Friday night, August 18, at 8:00 p.m. in the newly-constructed, air-conditioned auditorium of the Fulton City High School.

The MODERN Nero is known as a "musical category unto himself." He hears his recorded by famous artists as most people do; yet, Nero DOES something with them, as others cannot.

In a recent album of his, Nero takes eleven popular songs that are familiar to all and uses his own original imagination and technique, the use of a full piano range, and the quick changes of pace, tempo, and key to make them into exciting musical arrangements.

Nero's most famous recording, "The Theme from Love Story," "Close To You," "We've Only Just Begun," "Go Away Little Girl," "You've Got A Friend," and "The Theme from Summer of '42" are samples of Peter Nero's latest works. According to a music critic, these well-known hits serve as a "polished conveyor belt" to bring out Nero's miraculous ability with the keyboard.

In addition to his great talent for "tickling the ivories," Nero is widely known for his great conversationalist ability. Having appeared on such variety shows as "The Tonight Show," "80-year-old Nero absolutely captivates his young and old audiences alike with his keen sense of humor.

To hear the famous pianist-composer who has appeared before all ages in several countries in concerts, supper clubs, on TV, etc., and even before royalty, tickets may be obtained in advance for $2.50 at the Chamber of Commerce building on Main Street in Fulton or at the door for $3.00.

Manual Communications Course To Be Taught

MAYFIELD, Ky. — A course in "Manual Communications" will be taught at the Mid-Continent Bible College beginning August 28, according to Tom Perkins, development director.

Manual communications is known as the language of the deaf. It is sign or hand language.

The course is designed for churches and individuals interested in serving in this type of ministry, Perkins noted.

He said for the first time in this area, families that have deaf members can have the opportunity to learn this method of communication.

A qualified instructor will be at the college each Wednesday afternoon to teach the two-hour course which will meet shortly after noon, Perkins said. He added this course will carry two hours of college credit and may be taken on an audit basis with no credit.

'I Learn Something New Every Minute I'm Here!' Says Elena

(Ed's note: In the nine years that the International Banana Festival has been staged here in the Twin Cities, the "friendship through understanding" theme early reached a pinnacle of success with the visiting Latin-American students, here each year not only to see the show--but actually to be a part of it.

These students, sometimes as many as forty-five but never less than fifteen, made special group trips here from their homes in the various banana-producing countries; for many of them it was their first time away from their homelands and for most of them their very first experience living for a week or two with host "parents-away-from home" in a small community. They have loved it, and have received a full measure of love in return.

Many still correspond with their "parents" here, as they happily call them--and a great endearment to them has grown among the host families in this area as well. Hospitality, often beginning on shaky ground between people who could scarcely understand each other's language and mode of living, quickly blossomed into genuine friendships on both sides, as countless host families here will tell you.

The "Amigo" program, as the student visit is termed, has truly been the pulse and the cornerstone of all of the Festivals, but it has been even more, in dozens of past instances.

Just one little current example of the happiness that the Amigo program has made possible is the experience of Miss Elena Bucheli of Quito, Ecuador, who came to the Festival last year, was invited to stay with the Elmer Hixson family for two weeks....who, two days before she was scheduled to return to her native Ecuador was given an academic scholarship to Murray State University....and who has completed her first year at MSU with the tremendous grade mark of 3.7 out of a possible 4.0....and who will continue on with her studies at Murray for another year commencing this fall on a continuing scholarship.

Elena has become a part of the Hixson family, and the endearment is frank and genuine on both sides, as a visit will quickly convince one.

Following is an interview that News reporter Dona Martin had with Elena and Mrs. Hixson this week:

By Dona Martin

"I learn something new every minute I'm here!" says Elena Bucheli, a nineteen-year-old amigo from Quito, Ecuador, who is residing with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hixson of Fulton, Kentucky. She has been in the United States for ten months--since last year's International Banana Festival in August.

Elena came to stay for two weeks. She has not returned to her home in Quito YET--she has been too fascinated with this country to leave it!

Since her arrival in Fulton, Kentucky, last August, Elena has become acquainted with many American customs and has learned "...what a beautiful, wonderful country it is!"

She entered Murray State University last fall on an academic scholarship and has successfully finished her freshman year by being named to the Dean's List both semesters. She has achieved a 3.7 academic standing (based upon the perfect 4.0 scale) and is presently enrolled in the summer session at the university.

In addition to her outstanding academic record, Elena is secretary of the International Students organization at MSU and is a member of the Sigma Delta Pi honorary Spanish fraternity.

Elena resides on campus in a dormitory and has had quite an experience adjusting to living on her own. In Ecuador, she lived in an antique three-story home with her grandmother, mother, and brothers--along with four maids that served them (that many servants are customary in her home country).

However, living on her own with all her own chores to do for herself, Elena learned as much at home here as she did in the classroom. With her friends' assistance, she quickly became accustomed to doing her laundry in the dorm. On winter weekends, when she visited the Hixsons in Fulton, she learned to sew and to cook with Mrs. Hixson's help.

Elena says that she is grateful for her learning experiences. "Living at home in Quito with the many maids, I was DEPRIVED--I am happy to be able to learn how to do things for myself," proclaims the petite Senora in remarkably good English.

The Hixson farm has totally captivated Elena. She is thrilled with her "close contact with nature." She remarked that she had never touched a cow before and the many other animals on the farm were quite unfamiliar to her also.

Elena loves her American "family" and was recently the maid of honor for her "sister's" (Patti Hixson's) wedding. However, she misses the formality and closeness of families that she experienced at home in Quito. For example, they ALWAYS had three meals a day TOGETHER in formal tradition.

In regard to meals, Elena explains the difference in Ecuadorian and American habits. Although the foods are quite similar, the Ecuadorians have their heavy meal at noon with only a light meal at night. In America, the order is reversed; therefore, Elena prefers the Ecuadorian tradition because she has gained several pounds on the new schedule!

Elena declares that she would like to tell all her friends in Quito what an impression that America has made upon her. She says, "The country is beautiful; the education is fantastic; and the people are wonderful!"

Elena is expecting her brothers to visit her for the tenth annual International Banana Festival in Fulton on August 17, 18 and 19. They will come on a similar amigo program upon which she came to us last year. The seemingly levitating-like story of Elena Bucheli is only

ELENA BUCHELI, (left) A Festival "Amigo" From Quito, Ecuador, came to the Festival last year to spend two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hixson on the Hickman Highway, is now in college at Murray, and has -- for the time being, at least -- become a happy member of this happy family. (See story).

Thirteen area homemaker clubs have entered the 1972 country," Elena said. "Everybody knows about the Banana Festival, and everybody hopes that they can get a chance to visit it. Last year, for instance, I had a chance to take a trip either to Mexico or to the Banana Festival, and I chose the Festival without question..... and I have been very happy that I did!"

Which brings me to the observation that, perhaps, many of us here in the Twin Cities don't realize what fine goodwill we have built with our South American neighbors these past nine years.....and just how much these fine students anticipate their trips here to visit us.

There will be another Festival, soon, and more Amigos will be coming to share the home experiences of living among us for a week or so. More students like Elena, eager to see, to learn, to develop friendship and share new-found happinesses with us.

If you have never participated in this particular aspect of the Festival, perhaps you have missed something of the real flavor of it all.

Retail Merchants Window Fair The clubs will choose a theme and carry out that theme with handmade crafts made by the club members. The winner will be chosen from the window with the best-carry-out theme and the best appearance.

Those participating are Fulton Young Homemakers, Fulton Homemakers, Crutchfield Homemakers, State Line Homemakers, Western Homemakers, Tri-County Homemakers, Sharon Home Demonstration Club, Town and Country Homemakers, of Clinton, Willing Workers Homemakers, Phillips Homemakers, Jolietie Homemakers, Pierce Harris Community Club, and Please Eat Properly Homemakers.

There will also be some window displays sponsored by organizations that are not in competition.

The Fulton County FFA will have a display in Sherwin Williams window, while a History of Shoes will be exhibited in Bay Shoe Store window.

Haws Memorial will have a display of its residents' handicrafts in Weak's window, while an Artex Display will be in Warren Jewelry Store window.

The findings of local "mound diggers" will be shown in Graham's window. An exhibit of Latin American crafts will be in the Bennett Electric window on 304 Main.

Outdoor lighting is an inexpensive way to protect your home. Night lighting keeps burglars away, prevents accidents, and discourages vandalism. Just leaving on a porch light can make a difference. You can light the night for pennies a day. See us for more information on outdoor lighting. Light the night--the protection is beautiful!

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fickle Traffic Light

For a few dazed moments after the collision, Charles could not quite figure out what had happened. Then he remembered: the traffic light had changed directly from green to red, skipping amber. Unable to stop, he had rolled into the intersection in front of an oncoming truck.

Blaming his accident on the fickle signal, Charles determined to seek damages from the city. But at a court hearing, the city denied liability.

"We can't be held legally liable every time a signal gets out of order. We would be swamped with lawsuits."

However, Charles' attorney proved that this particular signal had been malfunctioning for a full week before the accident. The court concluded that the city was guilty of negligence, and granted Charles' claim.

Some cities still retain their "sovereign immunity" against being sued. But in most places, a motorist can indeed collect damages for an accident caused by a traffic light or a stop sign that has been neglected.

There have even been cases holding the city liable when a stop sign was obscured by foliage. Thus:

A motorist hurt in a crash blamed it on the fact that a stop sign was hidden by the leaves of a tree. In its defense, the city pointed out that the tree was growing on private property — "out of our jurisdiction."

Nevertheless, the court imposed liability. The judge said that even if the city could not have trimmed the tree, at least it could have chosen a better place to put the sign.

Of course, the city is not liable if there is no causal connection between its negligence and the accident. In another case, a fallen stop sign had been left lying on the ground for weeks. One day a motorist failed to halt at the corner and struck a car in the crossing.

But it turned out that the motorist, who lived in the neighborhood, knew perfectly well it was a stop street—even without seeing the sign. The city was duly cleared of responsibility. The court said the city's failure to restore the sign simply had nothing at all to do with the accident.

Festival Announces Top Bananas; Seeks More

A Top Banana is an individual who is often described as having achieved the ultimate status in whatever endeavor he chooses to follow.

A Top Banana is all of that and much more in the activities of the International Banana Festival. A Top Banana stands high in the loyal financial support accorded the promotion of the Banana Festival.

The Top Banana Club has an unlimited membership, but the goal of Banana Festival officials is to have at least 65 members for this year's event. Members of the Top Banana Club are entitled to special reserved seats at all of the entertainment and other functions of the Festival. Except for the Governor's Day Luncheon, all activities of the Festival are without cost to members of the Top Banana Club.

Only a few more memberships are needed to reach the highest number of memberships in the history of the group. If you have not joined the Top Banana Club yet, won't you do so today so that your membership will be given a place of honor in the souvenir catalogue that goes to press next week.

If you failed to send in your membership just mail your check for $100 to the Banana Festival headquarters as soon as possible. A $100 membership covers the cost for two individuals.

The Banana Festival today salutes those honorable Top Bananas. A beautiful parchment scroll is given to the members designating them as Top Bananas.

Here are the members as of today:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Batts, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Binford, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Blehslich, Mr. Phil Buchelt and Mrs. Louise Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Burcham, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Glynn Bushart, Dr. and Mrs. Ward Bushart, Mr. and Mrs. James Butts, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Burnette, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crews, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis, Mr. Paul Durbin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards, Mr. and

Brown and Luman To Sing At Banana Festival Music Show

Two nationally famous Country Music entertainers, Jim Ed Brown and Bob Luman, will head the list of Grand Ole Opry stars to perform at the tenth annual International Banana Festival Saturday night August 19. This talent-studded performance will climax the three-day festival that is an annual event in the Fulton, Kentucky—South Fulton, Tennessee area.

Jim Ed Brown, one of Country Music's most sought-out performers who is a baritone singer and a self-taught guitarist, proclaims, "Country Music is my life and entertaining you is my goal." He possesses a special appeal that makes him a "natural" for teen audiences and a genuine musical ability that attracts adult listeners. His accompanying combo, "The Gems," is composed of Buck Evans, bass guitar; Earl Ebb, lead guitar; Gary Edwards, drummer; and Hank Corwin, steel guitar—all com-

Festival To Feature Annual Arts And Crafts Contests

You say you only paint or do creative stitchery . . . for the fun of it? If you do, you are urged to enter your work in the 1972 Area Arts and Crafts Show — "for the fun of it!"

The annual art and craft exhibit is a feature of the tenth annual International Banana Festival that is a fun-filled extravaganza in the twin city area of Fulton, Kentucky—South Fulton, Tennessee from August 17 through August 19.

The top three entries in both divisions—arts and crafts—will receive cash prizes of $15, $10, and $5 respectively.

In the art division, entries may be exhibited on the amateur or professional level. All work must be original and framed suitable for hanging. The two classes in this division are (1) Oil and Acrylics and (2) Water Color, Pastels, Pen and Ink. In the creative stitchery division, amateur and professional work will be accepted; however, awards will only be given in the amateur class.

All exhibitors in both divisions must bring entries to the Art Guild Room, lower floor of the Fulton Library, between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. on Sunday, August 13, with their two dollar entry fees and completed entry blanks.

Entry blanks may be obtained by writing Mrs. Christine Batts, International Banana Festival, P. O. Box 428, Fulton, Kentucky 42041.

Exhibitors in the Fulton Art Guild and Woman's Club sponsored event may pick up their work on Saturday, August 19, between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m., according to the Show's chairman, Mrs. Jack Allen.

- - - COME TO THE 10th INTERNATIONAL BANANA FESTIVAL

It has been the pleasure of the Henry I. Siegel Company to be a part of the business life of the Twin Cities for many years. The friendships we have made and the progress we have all made, working together, are valued milestones in our lives.

We join in a salute to the 1972 Festival. May it be one of the best ever, and may it bring added prestige to our communities.
