JOTTINGS from Jo's Notebook

International Banana Festival

Fulton, Ky. - South Fulton, Tenn.

AUGUST 23, 1972

Dear Friends and Wonderful People:

There is no task so great, nor words so inadequate to thank all of the people in the twin cities for what the Board of Directors of the Tenth Annual International Banana Festival considers a very successful event, both entertainment-wise and significant in its attempt to create understanding through friendship with our neighbors south of the border.

There is no substantive way to determine at this time the financial aspects of the program, but we believe we can report with some accuracy that the former indebtednesses will be paid, and some operating capital will be on hand to begin next year's Festival, which we hope will get on its way, like maybe next week.

While many individual compliments are being received by various individuals for heading up the 54 programs we staged, it would be an effort of heroic proportions to publicly thank even one person, for the Banana Festival is the greatest team effort in all the world.

But alas, before the tenth chapter in the history of the International Banana Festival is written each person, from the little fellow who peddled our souvenirs to the highest ranking official, will receive a personal expression of gratitude for whatever contribution they made to make the recent Banana Festival a fine and significant success.

With the warm gratitude and appreciation of all of us.

(By P. W.)

The Tenth International Banana Festival is now history and most of the opinions I have heard about it listed it as one of the "smoothest operating" Festivals of all. And I think it was. Jo surely worked day and night to make it that way, and she was helped on all sides by willing chairmen and workers who did their jobs and did them well. It was a well-run joint effort by everybody.

The new auditorium at Fulton High School was a boon for the big performances, too, and could have held a thousand more people than it did, each night; this might well be a factor in booking even bigger attractions for next year. There just was no comparison with the old tent and folding chairs that previous Festivals had to struggle with for their big-crowd attractions. Peter Nero and his marvelous program Friday night just couldn't have been staged successfully in a tent setting, competing with carnival noise and all... nor could the Country and Western show been half as enjoyable Saturday night.

Even the crickets enjoyed the shows. I have never heard them sing as loudly as they did on Friday night.

The new Princess is a real charmer, and she reminds me a lot of Vicki, who came back to emcee the Thursday pageant and is just as vivacious and lovely as ever. I surely hope that a bunch of us can organize another Central American safari sometime next Spring and take our new princess along with us as we did Vicki when we made that memorable trip to Ecuador. There have been all kinds of invitations extended, and I know that another trip would provide goers with the time of their lives. Guatemala, Honduras, Costa Rica, Ecuador... they would all like to have us visit them, and I just know that their hospitality would be something we would never forget. Let's plan for a trip well in advance of the next Festival. We ought to be able to get the Princess out of school; I understand her father is vice-Chancellor.

The big "encampment" of Airstream trailers this year was a surprising and delightful addition to Festival visitors too, and a lot of credit and thanks is due Mayor Nelson Tripp and all of the city employees who rigged

Jasper Vowell Wins Poplar Meadows Title

BY DAVID BARTHOLOMEW
UNION CITY MESSENGER

Struggling against the elements, Fulton's Jasper Vowell played a patient game of golf Sunday afternoon to win the 12th annual Poplar Meadows Country Club Invitational Tournament.

The hottest day of the year saw the mercury climb to the century mark while a late afternoon thunderstorm sent winds gusting past 25 miles per hour. Both took their toll on the 125 player field. No player could equal par on the final 18.

Vowell began the round with a three stroke lead on the basis of a one-under 71 Saturday. He increased this to four strokes after 27 holes but lost a pair of swings on the wind blown back nine. His total for the day was 76; his final count was a three over par 147.

UTM golfer Ray Scott of Savannah was second with a 149. He tied for the second day best with a one over 73 but a first day round of 76 cost him a shot at the title. He finished the 36

THE CHAMPION—Jasper Vowell of Fulton takes the championship trophy of the Poplar Meadows Country Club Invitational Tournament from club pro E.D. "Kayo" Mullen at the conclusion of the event Sunday afternoon. Mr. Vowell, one of the area's best known golfers, shot rounds of 71-76 for a three over par 147 total to win the event.

WCME Rates To Dip After August 28

A new, lower schedule of electric rates takes effect with meters read on and after August 28, Gerald Brooks, Superintendent of Weakley County Municipal Electric System, announced today.

The rate reduction will save all Weakley County MES customers approximately $90,000 a year on their electric bills. Residential customers will save $61,600 a year; commercial customers, $13,600 a year; and industrial customers, $15,200 annually.

Under the new rate schedule, 500 kilowatts of electricity will cost $8.48; 1,000 kwh will cost $12.88 and 1,500 kwh will cost $17.28. Under the old rate schedule, 500 kwh cost $8.86; 1,000 kwh cost $13.31; and 1,500 kwh cost $17.76.

The first electric bills reflecting the new, lower rates will be mailed to customers around the 15th of September, according to Brooks.

"We are pleased to make a reduction in rates to our customers at this time," Brooks said. "It is in line with our policy of providing electricity at the lowest price consistent with sound business practices."

Ballard Countian Is State Director

Steve Wilson of Wickliffe has been named State Youth Director for Democrat Walter Dee Huddleston's U. S. Senate campaign.

Wilson, an administrative assistant to Lt. Governor Julian Carroll, took a leave of absence to participate in Huddleston's campaign. He was a member of the state headquarters staff during the Ford-Carroll campaign last year.

A graduate of Murray State University, he was president of Murray's Young Democrats, vice president of the Kentucky Young Democrats and a member of the Ballard County Democratic Committee. Wilson, 24, is the son of Mayor James D. Wilson of Wickliffe.

Port Authority Gets Tentative State Grant

Preliminary consideration was given this week to a $200,000.00 grant to the Hickman-Fulton County Port Authority for land purchase and development, the office of Governor Wendell Ford notified the chairman of the local Port Authority Monday.

Final action on the grant is expected sometime in October, Mrs. Paul Westpheling newly elected chairman of the Hickman-Fulton County Port Authority said today.

A meeting of the local group was held Tuesday night to hear a report from Elbert Burcham, a member of the Kentucky Port and River Authority and elected at last week's meeting as vice-chairman of the state wide group.

A $2 million appropriation for the specific purpose of port developments was recommended by the 1972 General Assembly. The governor's action was the first appropriation to the commission since its creation in 1966.

Joseph B. Hammond of Louisville was elected chairman of the commission. About the appropriations, Hammond said, "Governor Ford is to be commended for his interest in the importance of river ports, river sites and related facilities in the growth of the Kentucky economy. His concern and assistance is necessary toward effective development and use of our rivers."

The commission also awarded grants to the Louisville-Jefferson County Riverport Port Authority and the Owensboro River Port Authority. The Louisville-Jefferson County River Port Authority received $500,000 for land acquisition and engineering fees necessary for further development. The Owensboro River Port Authority was given $400,000 for land purchases, improvement and development.

The Paducah-McCracken County River Port Authority was also awarded a $400,000 grant for land purchase and development.

Preliminary consideration by the commission given to the Lyon County River Port Authority for a maximum grant of $100,000 for land acquisition and initial dock construction was similarly delayed.

Dee Huddleston Repeats Stand Against Taxes

Walter Dee Huddleston, the Democratic nominee for the United States Senate, hammered away at several central themes during a week of campaigning that carried him into more than 20 counties.

Huddleston told enthusiastic audiences at Pikeville and Boonesborough State Park that the people of Kentucky have a right to know what "obligations, commitments or ties their public officials may have." He pointed out that he had made a full disclosure of his finances when he filed for the Senate and criticized his opponent, former Governor Louie Nunn, for refusing to do so.

Huddleston also charged that Nunn broke his promise to the people of Kentucky when he pushed the five per cent sales tax through the legislature. "He went from one end of Kentucky to the other promising there would be no new taxes. But after he was elected, it was only a few months before he rammed through the highest sales tax in America," Huddleston said.

"I believe the people of Kentucky remember those promises and I believe they remember they were broken. And I believe they are going to say to Mr. Nunn in November, 'Fool me once, shame on you, Fool me twice, shame on me,' " Huddleston continued.

The 46-year-old broadcasting executive also pledged—in a Murray interview—that he would support a "sweeping tax reform program" designed to halt the practice of letting the rich live off the poor. "The middle-income American is supporting this country while the rich and powerful 'fat cats' are escaping taxation through countless loopholes. Some are paying no tax at all," Huddleston said.

"I pledge to speak, work and vote for measures that will overhaul our tax system and take the burden off the shoulders of our working citizens," he said. "I will do everything in my power to reward the working man, the farmer and the small businessman, not to punish them." Huddleston concluded.

The Democratic candidate's campaign stops included Jefferson, Madison, Caldwell, Trigg, Calloway, Marshall, McCracken, Fulton and Livingston

Rush Creek Church To Have Supper

The Rush Creek United Methodist Church is sponsoring an old fashioned ice cream supper on Saturday night, August 26, starting at 6:00 p.m.

Home made ice cream and cake along with grilled hamburgers, grilled hot dogs, assorted sandwiches, lemonade and cold drinks will be served.

The members of the church extend a cordial invitation to everyone to come and enjoy the evening with friends and neighbors.

Three Members To Commission Named

Three appointments to the nine-member Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources' Commission were made recently by Governor Wendell Ford.

The three new commission members were appointed to fill vacancies created by expired terms in First, Fifth and Sixth Wildlife Districts, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources Commissioner Arnold Mitchell said.

The new commission members are Dr. Donald L. Boucher, Paducah, First District; Dr. E. K. Lanter, Union, Fifth District; and Charles E. Palmer, Jr., Lexington, Sixth District.

The three men were chosen by the Governor from lists of five candidates selected by sportsmen in each of the three districts.

The appointees were sworn in for four-year terms at a quarterly meeting of the commission Friday, August 18, in the Fish and Wildlife and Department offices in Frankfort.

Fourth Generation -On Both Sides- Leaves For Vandy

By PW

When Mariana Weaks enrolls at Vanderbilt University this fall, the chances are that she will establish a new record at the school even before she opens a book or receives a single grade.

Mariana, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parks Weaks of South Fulton, will be the fourth generation on both sides of her family to attend Vandy, and this very likely is a "first" in the history of the school.

The last three generations on her father's side of the family have all graduated from Vanderbilt, and the last three generations of the family on her mother's side are Vanderbilt graduates as well, which adds up to the fact that the family home on the Union City highway and State Line has been a loyal rooter for the Commodores for many years, with good reason.

The double-family achievement of diplomas began back in 1882 when Mariana's maternal great-grandfather, the late Rev. James Thomas Curry of San Antonio, Texas was graduated with a degree in Theology and became a Methodist minister, serving as Superintendent of the Texas Conference.

Rev. Curry's graduation came just seven years after Vanderbilt opened; (it was established in 1873 and opened its doors in the fall of 1875).

Seven years later, in 1889, her paternal great-grandfather, the late Lexie Smith Parks of Union City, received his B. S. degree, and the following year, in 1890, his law degree, Mr. Parks was, during his lifetime, a prominent West Tennessee banker and land owner.

Mariana's two grandfathers were almost in the same class. Leslie Hunter Weaks of Fulton received his B. S. degree in 1916, and David English Clark of Atlanta was a member of the class of 1917.

Her mother, Betty Clark Weaks, was graduated with a B. A. in 1947, and her father, Lexie Parks Weaks was a member of the class of 1945, graduating in 1947 after several years in the Army in World War 2.

Mariana is a 1970 graduate of Fulton High School and has attended Southwestern at Memphis for the past two years. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

At Vanderbilt, Mariana plans to major in English or Fine Arts, but admits that she "may change her mind several times yet". She leaves for Nashville Saturday.

Miss Mariana Weaks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parks Weaks of South Fulton holds the venerable, 83-year-old diploma awarded one of her great-grandfathers at Vanderbilt. Mariana leaves for Nashville Saturday to enter Vanderbilt and probably establish a record.

up a lot of temporary facilities to make them comfortable out there in the park. They appreciated it. They were quite a gang and I am sure will be back next year in even greater numbers, because they took a lot of the Festival in and had a good time here.

I talked to one man and his wife, now retired, who are from the Los Angeles (Calif.) area, and asked him just how he happened to come to the Festival. He admitted that he hadn't come all the way from California just to attend the Festival, but said that he read a nice writeup about it in the bulletin that the Airstream organization puts out each month, and, being up in Illinois at the time, decided that it sounded like fun so came on down. And he enjoyed it and hoped to come back next year, he added. I think there were something like eighty trailers out in the park, and that's quite a jump from the 15-odd that were here last year.

The other night an interested citizen came up to see me with a remark that has been made before, but might well be made again. "Why can't we teach Spanish in our high school here", he queried, and I couldn't answer him. He pointed out that Spanish would not only be a logical switch for a town that has a Latin Festival where Spanish is helpful... Spanish is a more practical language than French anyhow, these days. While there is little practical demand for French, Spanish, on the other hand, is being more and more utilized throughout Florida, throughout the West, and in our travels to the South. It would be a good switch, even without the Festival.

I agree, but I can't answer his question for the school. Can someone?

Before I close this week I want to pay my respects to a little gal who has been my chief right hand this summer in assembling news for the paper, as well in taking pictures, doing page makeup and all of the assorted jobs that befall a weekly "editor." Dona Martin, valedictorian of her class at Mayfield this past spring, came to us in May to work for the summer and you have been seeing her bylines on stories all summer. She was editor of the school paper at Mayfield, came highly recommended, and left us to enter Murray last week even more highly recommended. Dona is going to become a professional journalist after four years of college, she says, but she is already a good professional journalist as far as I am concerned, and I think Jo will agree. In addition to her work here, she helped prepare and turn out all of the festival publicity, and this year I think that the festival got more and better news, radio and TV coverage than it has in years.

For 25 years I have continually been on the lookout for some young lady, or young man, right here at home who would like to get into this field, and I'm still looking. We have had several, but the general crop, for some reason or other, continues to be pretty sparse. But I'm still looking, and would welcome a visit from any young person in high school who likes to write, or who wants to learn to write. The door's open here, the college doors are wide open, and the doors to a career in the business are open everywhere.

Had a nice card last week from band leader Jack Staulcup from New York. Jack enclosed a scene of the magnificent Roseland ballroom in New York City, crowded with dancers, and commented "this is the way this place looks almost every night... over eight thousand people dance here every week." Jack and his orchestra finished a 4-week engagement at Roseland August 27 and are now back home. "We were not allowed to play any rock & roll at Roseland," commented Jack, and I know that pleased him. It would me too, and I guess that's why he mentioned it.

And judging from the highly appreciative audience that Peter Nero had, I would guess that a lot of people in this area would like something other than rock, too, but that's about all they seem to get fed to them by the party chairmen and the club secretaries in this area.

FULTON'S

Library Corner

BY LUCY DANIEL

Some of the new books at the Fulton Public Library this week are:

PENNY, by Hal Borland. Penny walked into the Borland's life one cold, snowy day—a stranger who came through the front door, head up and tail wagging, like an honored guest graciously accepting hospitality. She didn't cringe, or skulk or even hesitate. It almost seemed as though she were expecting a great big welcome, maybe a speech and a banquet. The Borland's little suspected that one short-legged, flop-eared animal would make such a change in their tranquil lives as she plunged them into a series of whirlwind episodes.

BE NOT AFRAID, by Robin White. This is the story of how a rare and beautiful family strove together to alleviate the suffering of one member and to advance the understanding of a condition which has so long been kept in shadow. Christopher White, called "Checkers" by his family, is the firstborn child of Robin and Mary White. He was an epileptic. This is the story of their unstinting efforts to help him in his affliction and salvage what they could for him of life.

NIGHT OF THE AXE, by William Mulvihill. The story centers on a lost and desperate party of Americans trying to reach California during the fall of 1946. In a final gamble to cross the forbidding Sierra Nevada before winter strikes, they discover, then halt in wonder before a giant tree of awesome majesty, a tree larger than any tree they had ever seen or imagined. As the precious daylight wanes the tree becomes an object of reverence and challenge, hate and wonder, division and opportunity; overnight the party is propelled into a nightmare of discord, betrayal, and murder.

MY YEARS WITH EDGAR

CAYCE, by Mary Ellen Carter. Thousands of Cayce followers know "Miss Gladys" as the secretary who transcribed the messages he delivered in his psychic trances. Now Gladys Turner recalls the story of her twenty years with Edgar Cayce, one of this century's most unusual men.

TRAINING CHILDREN IN SELF-DEFENSE AND SELF-CONTROL, by Daniel Wiener. Parents, teachers, all who are responsible for training the young face the same problem: How are children to be trained to function well as independent human beings and still be able to please themselves in the broadest and longest lasting ways, without harming others? The answer lies in self-discipline and self-control, says Dr. Daniel N. Wiener, in this fascinating book. "If you train your child in self-discipline, he can organize the resources he possesses to his maximum—to study, to work, to create, to socialize, to save, to influence, to play, or whatever. What's more, he will grow into a full-filled adult who has learned to earn his rewards through his own powers."

COULD HAVE BEEN: Among the best in Herb Caen's selection in the San Francisco Chronicle, are: I could have been an entomologist, but it bugs me... a soldier, but I was ill at ease... a hospital nurse, but it didn't pan out... a track star, but I wasn't dashing enough.

MARRIAGE ON THE ROCKS

You know, lately, I've noticed that there have been an unusually high amount of marriages. Of course, there always are in the summertime. It just seems like June, July and August are the favorite months to be married in. However, I'm not just talking about the number of marriages but the increasing amount of young marriages. I could name you at least five couples between the ages of 16-21 that have gotten married in just the last couple of months. But that number itself isn't what is so alarming.

The one fact that strikes me as being so alarming about younger marriages is the attitude that each individual is taking. One or both of the partners now seem to take marriage quite lightly. No longer is marriage looked upon as something reverent and lasting. Now I'm not saying that all young couples who are married today do not take seriously the step they are taking. Many do. But there are many who look at marriage as just something that comes along because you love somebody and want to be "tied" to them. It's a step everybody takes because he doesn't always want to be alone. And although many don't like to think of it, pre-marital sex also accounts for a large number of "early" marriages. But there is one idea, or rather one misconception, that all young people seem to have sowed in the back of their minds — divorce.

Quite an alarming number of young marriages start out with the idea that if it doesn't work out there is always divorce. Agreed, if two people are not compatible there can be much more harm done if the two should stay together. Both partners are miserable, which often leads only to infidelity. If there are children, the tension and strain of just living around unhappy parents can cause a child to become traumatic. The child is confused and unhappy and in many cases this unhappiness in his childhood may lead to trouble in his adult life.

However, the idea that there is ALWAYS the alternative of divorce may be what causes many marriages to go "on the rocks." Any young couple that goes into marriage with the idea that if everything doesn't work out as expected it can be ended is headed for serious trouble. The first really bad situation the couple encounters may provoke divorce proceedings. There may be a reconciliation but if another bad argument presents itself, divorce is again sought. Rather childish and immature behavior, but it happens. And, although they may think that they are really giving their marriage a try, I think what they are actually doing is looking for a way out. And so, divorce.

Now I'm no expert on marriage since I have never "tied the knot" myself but it seems to me that marriage is a risky business. There are always going to be rough spots in the road. And that road is a long and rocky road. But if two people love each other and are mature enough to know what true love is then the words "in sickness and in health, for richer or poorer, for better or worse" really mean something when they are exchanged. Those words mean a lifetime of facing the ups and downs of life together, hand in hand, and not as two separate entities. They mean a lifetime of falling down and of helping the other to get back on his feet again. In my opinion marriage is a beautiful experience and should be a lasting one.

If you are thinking about getting married really THINK about it. Make sure your partner is the one you want to live the rest of your life with and above all, make sure that marriage is really what you want. There's already too much hassle in the world without you adding to it.

Dear Mrs. Westpheling:
Congratulations to you and the two cities for a most successful and impressive Banana Festival.

Thank you for an enjoyable visit and a cordial welcome by the many fine people of Fulton and South Fulton.

As a token of appreciation, I have offered my host of the day, Mr. Ralph Puckett, a gift banana tree and would be so happy to send you a gift tree, too, with easy planting instructions.

Sincerely,
Ernest Griggs

MSU Offers New Course In Economics

A new, evening course in "Consumer Economics" will be offered this fall at Murray State University, Dr. Howard Giles, chairman of the Department of Economics, has announced.

The course, to be offered each Tuesday from 6 until 9 p.m., is open to students enrolled at the university, as well as residents of West Kentucky and the surrounding area, either on a credit or an audit basis.

The course, directed by W. L. Pinkston, an associate professor in the department, also will include participation from a number of prominent Murray businessmen who will give brief talks and answer questions about their specialized fields.

Among these are: Z. C. Enix, Joe Pat Ward, A. W. Simmons, Jr., Don Henry, W. A. Cunningham, D. W. Taylor, Sid Easley, Don Jones, Don Tucker and Steve Yarborough.

Senior Campers To Be Given Reduced Rate

TVA announced today that visitors to Land Between the Lakes who are 62 years of age or older will receive an immediate 50% reduction in rates in the family campgrounds as a result of a new Federal fee program for outdoor recreation areas. The present base rate in the family campgrounds is $2.00 per night per site, Land Between the Lakes is TVA's big outdoor recreation area between Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley in west Kentucky and Tennessee.

Robert M. Howes, director of Land Between the Lakes, explained that those campers who qualify for the new rate need only to show proof of age as they enter any of the three major family campgrounds. Proof of age may be shown by drivers license, a National Parkland Passport appropriately stamped, or other reliable identification. The campgrounds—Hillman Ferry, Rushing Creek, and Pine—are located along the Kentucky Lake shoreline and have modern facilities and a supervised recreational program throughout the summer season.

UT Martin Offers Four New Programs

Four programs involving innovative methods and techniques of teaching and learning will be available to a limited number of students at UT Martin during the 1972-73 academic year, according to Dr. Phillip Watkins, associate vice chancellor for academic affairs.

An Honors Program, a Testing and Counseling Program, a Skills Development Program and the Pacer Project will be instituted this fall quarter. Approximately 300 students will be accepted for participation this year. Applications for admission to the programs are being reviewed at the present time, Dr. Watkins said.

Made possible by a Ford Venture Fund Grant of $250,000 awarded in 1971 to be expended over the three-year period, the innovative programs are the results of a year of intensive study on the part of a committee of UT Martin faculty members headed by Dr. Watkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Richardson

Miss Isbell, Mr. Richardson Pledge Vows In July Ceremony

Woodland Mills Baptist Church was the setting Sunday, July 23, at four o'clock in the afternoon for the marriage of Miss Peggy Jean Isbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Isbell of Hickman, and George Bonnie Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hamilton of Savannah, Tennessee.

The Reverend Ronnie Wiley, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Yellow cathedral candles in a seventeen-branched arch flanked by seventeen-branched tree candelabra and other branched standards twined with smilax garlands and tied with yellow satin bows created the background for a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli. Pews were marked with yellow satin bows, and the altar rail was draped with smilax.

Nuptial music was presented by Harold Isbell of Belleville, Illinois, brother of the bride. Piano selections included "Andante Capabile" (Tschalkovsky), "Son Boie" (Staub), Theme from "Love Story" (Lal), Theme from "Romeo and Juliet" (Rota), "Liebestraum" (Liszt), "Waltz" (Brahms), and the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" (Wagner) and the Wedding March from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn).

Given in marriage by her father, the pretty bride wore a formal gown of candlelight silk organza featuring an attached chapel train which flowed gracefully from the waist. Bands of Venise lace entwined with ivory velvet ribbons enhanced the fitted bodice and high neckline, and matching lace and ribbons trimmed the gently belled skirt and train. Her veil of ivory silk illusion fell from a cluster of candlelight flowers of lace and satin. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow golden dawn roses and stephanotis with streamers of supereba ribbons.

Mrs. Gary Hamilton of Union City was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Harriet McNeill of Hickman and Miss Cassie Fox of Louisville, Kentucky, a niece of the bride. Joy Hamilton of Savannah, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid.

Their floor length gowns featured bodices of floral embroidered sheer silk organza in shades of pink, lavender and green with pale green skirts. Their long puffed sleeves were trimmed with green velvet ribbons finished with bows to complement the ribbon and bows at the waistlines. Their wide-brimmed hats also were circled with ribbons. They wore silver bracelets, gifts from the bride, and carried colonial bouquets of mixed roses, daisies and gypsophila nestled in pouts of maline and lace with yellow and green satin streamers.

Mike Bain of Savannah was best man. Other male attendants were Cary Isbell of Memphis, brother of the bride, and Joe Wilkes of Savannah. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Isbell was wearing a pink knit dress with tucks accenting the neckline. Mrs. Hamilton, mother of the bridegroom, chose a beige silk shantung ensemble. Both mothers wore purple orchid corsages.

Miss Debbie Isbell, a cousin of the bride, presided at the register.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception. The table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a beautiful arrangement of yellow and white Fuji mums, poms, roses and gypsophila in a silver bowl flanked by silver candelabra with yellow tapers. The colonnade wedding cake, topped with wedding bells, was decorated with yellow roses. Serving were Mrs. Randy Fox, sister of the bride, Miss Fran Richardson and Miss Janet Richardson, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Harold Isbell, sister-in-law of the bride. Miss Susan Fox and Miss Janet Fox passed the rice bags. When the couple left on a honeymoon to Gatlinburg, the bride was wearing a smart navy and white summer dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

They now are living in the Hillcrest Apartments in Selmer. The bridegroom is employed as a draftsman for General Electric Company there. Among out of town guests attending the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Austin Marshall of Winnetka, Illinois, Miss Suzanne Hair of Adamsville, Tennessee, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rich of Louisville, Kentucky, Nell Coleman of Selmer, Reed Lawson of Henderson, Mrs. Dorothy Culver, Kenneth Culver and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harmon of Savannah, Miss Barbara Bright, Miss Debbie Hughes and Miss Melanie Steele of Jackson, Mississippi.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hamilton entertained on the evening before the wedding with a rehearsal dinner at the Country Kitchen.

The honor table was graced with an arrangement of mums and roses, and yellow candles in crystal candlesticks were placed at intervals down the center.

Miss Newton Inspiration For Pre-Nuptial Parties

Miss Amanda Newton, whose marriage to Terry Meadows will be solemnized on Sunday, August 27, has been the inspiration recently for a series of pre-nuptial parties.

The first of these courtesies was a linen shower held on Tuesday, August 8 at the home of Miss Carmen Gardiner, where high school and college friends gathered. Hostesses for the occasion were Miss Gardiner, Miss Jan Clement, and Miss Janet Taylor.

Miss Newton chose from her trousseau a lovely blue and white voile dress with red accessories.

The Gardiner's home was tastefully decorated with appointments of blue and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors.

Another event honoring Miss Newton was a lingerie shower held on Friday, August 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Peaks of Union City.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Peaks, Mrs. Chala Wilson, Miss Cheryl Jones of Martin and Mrs. Marianne Taylor of South Fulton.

The honoree chose from her trousseau a brown-on-beige print pantsuit.

After several games, the bride-to-be opened her gifts and the guests were served individual cakes decorated in the bride's chosen colors, punch, nuts and mints. The refreshment table was decorated with a bridal shower centerpiece, flanked by candles. Crystal appointments were used.

The hostesses presented Miss Newton with a penoir set as the hostess gift.

Miss Newton, Mr. Meadows Announce Completed Plans

Amanda Newton and Terry Meadows are announcing completed plans for their wedding on August 27. The ceremony will be solemnized at the South Fulton Baptist Church at two o'clock in the afternoon with E. C. Meadows, father of the groom-elect officiating.

Miss Newton will be given in marriage by her father, Harold D. Newton. Mrs. Gayle Kimbel, sister of the bride-elect will serve as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids will be Mrs. Donnie Peaks, Union City, Miss Cheryl Jones, Martin and Miss Janie Meadows, sister of the groom-elect, Miss Lanita Meadows, sister of the groom-elect, will be the flower girl.

Associate Degrees

Now At Draughon's

Draughon's Business College of Paducah has been granted authority to confer an associate degree in specialized business in the fields of executive secretarial and higher accounting, according to officials of the State Department of Education.

The authority was granted by the State Board of Business Schools.

Under LRC and state board regulations, a school must be in operation five years with accreditation by a national accrediting authority in order to be considered for the associate degree program. According to officials, the accrediting authority must be recognized as such by the U. S. Office of Education.

Mary Johanna Butts, (Mrs. Mike) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westpheling received her degree in the school of business administration at the University of Tennessee in Martin Thursday morning. Graduating magna cum laude, Mary Jo attended Fulton City High School during her freshman and sophomore years and then graduated from high school at the Academy of the Sacred Heart in St. Charles, Missouri in 1968. Mary Jo and Mike have a three-year old son, Michael Todd Butts.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ray Rice

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Lana Edwards, Johnny Ray Rice

Miss Lana Rae Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Edwards of Hickman, and Johnny Ray Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Rice of Hickman, were united in marriage Friday, August 4, at seven o'clock in the evening at the First Baptist Church of Hickman, Kentucky.

The Reverend John M. Statham officiated at the double ring ceremony held in the candlelit sanctuary.

A pedestal arrangement of swept to the back, forming a chapel train etched in the repeated Venise border. Her fingertip veil of misty illusion was attached to a pearl tiara. She carried a cascade of majestic daisies interspersed with ivy.

Miss Jo Ella Edwards served as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of mint green dotted Swiss featuring a Victorian neckline edged in lace with ribbon running through. Her wide brimmed hat of matching green was trimmed with lace and ribbon matching her gown. She carried a nosegay of daisies.

Serving the groom as best man was Bobby Craddock. The ushers were Mark Carlton and Ronnie Lane.

Mrs. Edwards chose for her daughter's wedding a three-piece pink and white ensemble with white accessories. Mrs. Rice, mother of the groom was attired in a blue and beige knit ensemble with navy accessories. The gentle flowing A-line skirt sories. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

The three grandmothers wore street-length summer pastel dresses, complemented with white carnations.

Miss Sherri Chaney, in a floor-length green dress, presided at the register.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement. The table was overlaid with a white cloth edged in lace. The tiered wedding cake, surrounded by holly leaves, was topped with a bride and groom. On each side of the cake were glowing tapers in silver candlesticks. Rice bags of green and yellow were presented to the guests.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Bobby Craddock, Mrs. Joe Prather and Mrs. Charles Simmons.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Turner of Clinton, Kentucky, Mrs. Mike Crider and Lori of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. For traveling Mrs. Rice chose a navy knit with a white bodice featuring red embroidery at the neck and waist with white accessories.

After a short wedding trip, the newlyweds are at home on Route 1, Hickman.

Ann Landers

— Your Problems Bring Answers —

Dear Ann Landers: How many times has someone asked, "Do you mind if I smoke?"—YES, I do mind. It's bad for my health. —Charles Klesewetter, Executive Director, T. B. and Health Society, Wayne-Oakland Counties

Dear C. K.: Thank you for writing. For those who are too timid to say, "Yes, I do mind," I suggest that you clip this column and have copies made. When asked the question simply hand it over. That should clear a sinus or two.

Recent experiments at Texas A & M University indicate that 30 minutes in a smoke-filled room significantly increases the non-smoker's heart rate, blood pressure and the amount of carbon monoxide in his blood. A team of researchers at the University of Cincinnati Medical Center reported that smoke drifting from the burning ends of cigarettes, pipes and cigars contains cadmium which could definitely be harmful when inhaled by onlookers. Another research team at Wayne State University in Detroit found that acute illnesses, mostly respiratory, were twice as prevalent among young children whose parents smoked at home than among children whose parents did not.

Please, Ann, urge your readers to say, when asked, "Do you mind if I smoke?"—YES, I do mind. It's bad for my health. —Charles Klesewetter, Executive Director, T. B. and Health Society, Wayne-Oakland Counties

Dear C. K.: Thank you for writing. For those who are too timid to say, "Yes, I do mind," I suggest that you clip this column and have copies made. When asked the question simply hand it over. That should clear a sinus or two.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been reading your column every day for four years hoping to see my problem from someone else. So far it has not appeared and I am getting desperate. I can't sign my name for obvious reasons.

My dad is a prominent man in town. When I was 16 I had an illegitimate child. I gave him up for adoption on the advice of a lawyer and a doctor. It was the best thing to do at the time and I have never regretted it. At age 19 I married a wonderful man who knew all about my past and has never mentioned it since. We now have two lovely children, ages 4 and 6.

Several people in town knew about my illegitimate child but no one ever threw it up to me. I have conducted myself like a lady since marriage and am considered respectable.

The question: Should I tell my children about their little brother or should I say nothing and hope no one mentions it to them? Please sign me—Sorry and Concerned

Dear S and C: Say nothing. If someone does tell them, explain that you were young and foolish and made a mistake. Then change the subject. No need to attach undue significance to the incident by bringing it up out of the blue and presenting an elaborate defense.

Dear J.: No racket lasts forever. Petty crooks are eventually found out and their reputations are mud. They are the stupid ones.

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement, Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage—What to Expect," will prepare you for better or for worse. Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50¢ in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BEAUTY, BANANAS AND BIG WHEELS is just about the only way to describe the news in the photo above. Governor Wendell Ford of Kentucky (left) and Lt. Gov. John S. Services were held at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, August 17, at the Hopkins and Brown Funeral Chapel in Wingo with the Rev. Emerson Rohrer officiating. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery in Graves County.

ROUTE THREE

Mrs. Aline Williams

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Palmer met with his brothers and their families in Hot Springs, Arkansas for their family reunion held each year. They were there three days and there were thirty-six of the family present. They reported a wonderful time. It is a shame more families do not have a reunion each year like this. This is the family of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis have returned to their home in Sterling Heights, Michigan after spending two weeks with their parents Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams and other relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud McNeil visited Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams a while Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. McNeil have just returned from a visit with their grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Thornbro, in Texas.

The revival is going on at Old Bethel Primitive Baptist Church each night through Friday with Elder Randall doing the preaching. Services start at 7:30. Visitors are always welcome at Old Bethel.

Mr. Danny Cannon, son of Larry Cannon of Memphis, is staying a few days with his grandmother Mrs. Gladys Cannon.

Mrs. Gladys Cannon wants all who remembered her and her husband during his long illness and through the loss of her husband to know how much all the cards, flowers, phone calls, food, prayers, kind words and any kindness received was appreciated by her and their children and it will never be forgotten by the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Agne and family of Portland will leave for their home Tuesday after spending several days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williams.

We do wish a very fast recovery for Mr. Harvey Vaughn who is a patient in the hospital in Memphis.

Mrs. Paul Howard has been a patient in Hillview Hospital several days. We do wish a speedy recovery for her.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hopkins, Ricky Hopkins and his girlfriend, Barbara, visited with us a while Sunday afternoon and brought a big watermelon. We all enjoyed that.

The Banana Festival has come and gone with several out-of-town folk attending. The parade was short this year but nice. It was so hot that day it was almost more than you could stand. The displays in the windows were really good. Sorry I didn't get to go to more.

The Nevil family who run the store that the Dalton's ran for so long have moved a beautiful trailer west of the store and will soon be moving into it.

Mrs. Lupie Haley and brother Tom Laswell had as their weekend guests Mrs. Mary Jane Cooper, Mrs. Lucille Wray, her daughter, Jane, and son, Tommy of Paragould, Arkansas.

"Project Find" Is New Federal Project For Food For The Aged

By Lynn Hayes
DES Staff Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Many of Kentucky's elderly citizens received good news with their August Social Security checks.

A pamphlet explaining Project Find, a new federal effort to enroll older persons who are eligible for food assistance, was enclosed with the checks.

The project, an outgrowth of the 1971 White House Conference on Aging, is designed to contact approximately 2.5 million older Americans who qualify for food stamp and food distribution programs, but are not presently receiving assistance.

In Kentucky, 57,300 persons 65 and over receive public assistance. All of them are eligible, but only 30 to 35 per cent participate in the food stamp program.

Along with the pamphlet explaining Project Find, a reply card was sent asking for such information as name, address and phone number.

The cards will be grouped and forwarded to 3000 local Red Cross chapters across the nation.

Dr. Robert Bringham, co-director of Project Find in Kentucky, said the Red Cross will serve as the "focal point" for a community effort through which volunteers will make personal contact with the sender of each card.

He added that the state will need 2000 volunteers. The job of the Red Cross volunteers will be to get elderly persons into Public Assistance offices, explain the program, determine eligibility, sort cards, and help fill out applications for food assistance.

The Department of Economic Security's Public Assistance staff will train Red Cross volunteers to serve in the program.

Elizabeth R. Foley, field office administrator for the Fayette County Public Assistance Office, conducted the first training session for volunteers in Lexington Aug. 8.

Two senior food stamp workers, Diana Moore and Susan Franklin, both from the Fayette County office, described the role of the volunteer in food stamp counties, and explained procedures for determining eligibility for food assistance.

Over 30 volunteers from 10 counties attended the session. Twelve of the volunteers will work in the Fayette County office.

There are nearly 1650 elderly persons receiving public assistance in Fayette County.

Similar training sessions are being held across the state. Local Red Cross personnel have set up an office in Jefferson County and are recruiting volunteers.

Mrs. Grace Stiner, director of local volunteer services in Jefferson County, estimates 250 volunteers are needed for that county alone.

Approximately 5400 persons, 65 and older, are receiving public assistance in Jefferson County.

Eligibility for food assistance for the elderly is the same as for anyone else applying. A checklist determining income and other types of resources, such as property or stocks, is filled out for each individual household under consideration.

Qualifications for a household vary with family size. A one-person household may not earn more than $170 a month, a household of two may earn no more than $222 a month, and a family of four cannot receive more than $360 per month.

Persons who believe they are eligible to receive food assistance should contact their local Public Assistance Office.

AND the Heavens thundered and were cleaved apart, and there was given unto Moses the Ten Commandments of the Lord. Generations have learnt the wisdom of their teachings, passing on from father to son the precepts of His Holy words. Let us reverent them in these days of mammoth structures and mammoth enterprises, even as they were revered by those who were so blessed as to see the miracle of their bestowal upon the Earth.

IN times of distress, whether they be due to financial, physical, or mental unrest, the influence of the Church reaches its greatest force.

If there is one thing I would like to do today, more than anything else in the world, is to write a column about the Festival, not so much about the events, but about the tremendously great people I had the pleasure to work with for months, and weeks and days, and long hours to help make it what some call a great success.

The only explanation I can give for not writing all about the recent Festival is because I am truly, simply, unadulteratedly exhausted, as I am sure most of you are also.

There have been some comments about the Festival, and the fact that the board of directors and the people involved could have done one thing or another better, or made some changes for improvement.

Nobody is more aware of these matters than those of us who worked to put it together. If you were one of the many hard-working citizens in the Festival's organization, you know exactly what problems we encountered, not so much because we lacked ideas and expertise, but only because we didn't have enough workers to volunteer to get the job done.

So, if there are those of you who know of the improvements that ought to be made, as we do, then join the organization soon and help put your plans and ideas into motion.

A Favor To Ask

Since the Festival, on Monday of this week as a matter of fact, I have been contacted by an organization in Cincinnati who heard my "beeper" broadcast to WHAS in Louisville last Thursday.

The individual making the contact thought the Festival was almost unbelievable in these United States and wanted all the publicity and background material we could send them to demonstrate our people-to-people program.

If you have any GOOD pictures, showing the Amigos program's activities and newsy pictures of the banana give-away phase of the Festival, would you please give them to Christine Batts at the Festival office. We will return them to you, if you wish.

I am preparing an indepth presentation of all the most significant phases of the Festival for the past ten years at the request of my caller.

Wish I could tell you more, but all I can say is that if my hopes are fulfilled it will be the first major breakthrough for international support, financially and otherwise, that the Festival has ever encountered.

The Friendship Center

I cannot enumerate the number of times local people and visiting guests said to me during the Festival:

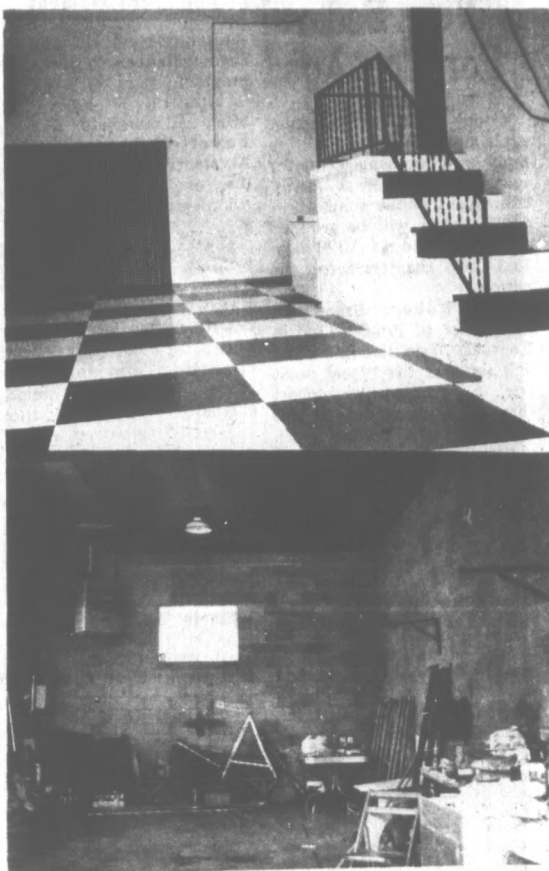

"With a program like this why WON'T YOUR COMMUNITY build that magnificent Latin-American Friendship Center that has been designed for Fulton?" and whose plans are still in my office, and in my heart.

I couldn't answer the question. I can imagine the reasons. Too few people are willing to endure the hardships of making the dream come true, and too many people simply say "it wouldn't do Fulton any good" as there are still a couple of sore heads who say the Festival is a waste of time.

People said the same thing about Urban Renewal and public housing, and look what has been done in this field.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the Fulton City Commission would take a good hard look at a combined City Hall proposal and the Latin-American Friendship Center complex?

Mayor Tripp, a man with some real vision says that he hopes that the foyer of the new city hall could partially fulfill our need for exhibit space and for other needs, in the international diplomacy field.

When Hickman Fire Chief Buster Shuck said there were some changes going to be made in the Fire Department he wasn't just giving a false alarm. Shown above are some "before" and "after" photos. The top photo is a newly redecorated room at the fire station that looked almost like the one below, which is also being spruced up and cleaned up right now. In addition, a car formerly belonging to the police force has been painted red (what else) and will soon have signs on each side designating the department. Shuck says he has another "hot" surprise of improvement for October.

holes with a 149.

Max McDade, also a Fulton golfer, made it into third with a 151, sharing the best Sunday round with Scott as he also recorded a 73. However, an opening 78 also knocked him out of the title.

Vowell, playing in the last foursome with Bob Huntsberger of McKenzie, young Bobby Clymer of Paducah and Jim Emmons of Union City, had a couple of momentary lapses but otherwise was in complete control over the final 18.

Vowell's three playing partners all had a chance to make a run at him but each encountered a difficult hole that washed them out of the chase. Emmons was trailing by four opening the final round but had trouble on number five going out of bounds. He finished eight strokes behind Vowell, good enough for seventh place.

Winners in the championship flight were: Jasper Vowell, 147; Ray Scott, 149; Max McDade, 151; Bobby Clymer, 152; Henry Sturkie, 152; George Rice, 153; Jim Emmons, 155; Terry Gray, Howard Jones, Terry Eastin, and Merle McNeil (tie 157).

Winners in the first flight were Walter Nanney, 158; Bedford Dunavant, 159; Leon Lauck, Jimmy Wright, Ike Peel and Bob Brooks (tie 160).

Winners in the second flight were Jim Daniels over Mark Mullen (sudden death playoff both with 163s); Jim Kendall and Jack Moore (tie for third at 166); Charles Maitland, 167 and John Tanner, 168.

Winners in the third flight were Bruce Moss, George Owens, Leon Jessup and Kenny Wilson (Moss won in sudden death playoff, Owens second, Jessup third and Wilson fourth, all at 169); Mickey Brockwell, 172 and Tommy Burgess, 173.

Winners in the fourth flight were Dale Latta, 171; Ricky Owens, 172; Ben Baker, 176; Dale Wilkie, 177; Todd Johnson and Don Rogers (tie 179).

Mid - Continent College Announces Registration

August 28 will mark the beginning of registration for the fall trimester of Mid-Continent Bible College which is located on North 15th Street in Mayfield, Kentucky.

Courses offered at Mid-Continent range from elementary English to Greek and Hebrew. Speech, music, and a wide range of other liberal arts courses are in the fall schedule.

A student entering for the first time this fall can expect to complete the full 128 hour requirement in two years and eight months. This is made possible by the trimester system the college adopted over five years ago. A good student may go to Mid-Continent all year, since the school year is divided into three equal parts.

This year, for the first time, Mid-Continent is offering teacher training for students interested in teaching in the new Christian elementary and secondary schools that are springing up all across the country. The placement office of Mid-Continent has over twenty openings for Christian teachers, a spokesman for the college said.

The College will offer a new course this trimester entitled "Manual Communications", a course in hand or sign language. It is designed for families having deaf members, or students that would like to prepare themselves for work with the deaf.

Graduate level work in the Bible is also available this year, for the first time. Satisfactory completion of the graduate year's work will result in the Th. B. Degree.

For further information call, write, or come by the college which is located on North 15th Street in Mayfield, Kentucky. The telephone number is 247-8521.

Autopsy Shows New Director Drowning Cause At WKMS-Radio At Murray, Ky.

An autopsy performed in Memphis on the body of Roger Bowers, 39, of Hickman showed that the cause of death was due to drowning.

His body was recovered from Everett Lake about 9 a.m. last Monday morning, August 14, on the Tennessee side of the lake. Obion County Deputy Sheriff Larry Thompson said, "The unusual circumstances surrounding the death prompted us to ask for the autopsy." He also stated, "Attorney General Fleming Hodges received the autopsy report and the death apparently was accidental."

The funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon, August 24, at 2:30 p.m. at the Chaney Funeral Home Chapel, with Rev. Homer Robertson officiating. Interment was in the Hickman City Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Jerry Huey, Danny Thompson, Russell Thompson, James W. Everett, Dennis Bass, Earl Taylor, Darrell Rice and Coy Robinson, Jr.

Mr. Bowers was a veteran of the Korean War and was preceded in death by a younger brother, Bobby Joe this year on February 27. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Willie Bowers; a sister, Mrs. Frank (Geneva) Sweeney and a brother, Ronald Earl Bowers all of Hickman.

Steve Ziegler of Covington has been hired as the new full-time radio station manager of WKMS-FM on the campus of Murray State University.

Money to fund the new position was provided by a $15,000 federal grant made to the station by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting of Washington D.C., according to Dr. Ray Mofield, chairman of the department of communications at Murray State.

Ziegler has been employed by several radio and television stations in the Greater Cincinnati area, including WJW. He also headed the radio-TV section of the Office of Public Information in Frankfort during the administration of Governor Louie B. Nunn.

His educational work was done at Villa Madonna in Covington--since named Thomas More College--and at the University of Cincinnati.

Ziegler and his wife and their child have already moved to Murray and are living in College Courts on the Murray State campus.

Jay Landers of Louisville, a graduate of Murray State University last spring, has been named as the new full-time program director of university radio station.

Landers indicated there will be considerable changes in the schedule of WKMS-FM by September 1 when the National Public Radio network service is made available to the station.

He said more cultural, educational and public affairs programs will be aired in the noon to midnight schedule 365 days a year. One highlight of the programming will continue to be the Metropolitan Opera broadcasts on Saturdays from December through next April.

A health care plan for college students.

You're young and healthy and the last thing in the world you want to think about is health care protection. But with today's cost of hospital and surgical-medical care, a serious accident or illness right now could postpone everything you hope to accomplish. Doesn't it make sense to plan for all the possibilities—even the ones you don't think can ever occur? Blue Cross and Blue Shield have a College Student Program just for you... a plan to provide you with Quality Health Care Protection at the lowest possible cost. It won't cost you anything to find out about it. Just send in the coupon below. No cost. No obligation. No salesman will call.

If you are already a member of our College Student Program, be sure to upgrade your contract to the new $35.00 per day room allowance. Our only business is helping you get good health care you can afford.

NOTE: Parents may inquire for their college student dependents.

Williams Will Represent MSU

MURRAY, Ky. — Wayne M. Williams, associate professor of educational services at Murray State University, will represent the university at the 19th annual national conference of the Conservation Education Association in Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 20-24.

He will attend the meeting at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln to present the tentative program for the 1973 national conference to be held at Murray State next year Aug. 19-23.

Williams, who is a member of the planning committee for the CEA conference on Murray State campus, will meet with the organization's board of directors on Aug. 20 and make the presentation to the entire assembly in a business session Aug. 23.

His presentation will include a description of campus facilities and some of the basic details of the conference program, including a family trip of key conservation sites in the area.

Orientation Course Set

Approximately 300 entering freshmen are expected to participate in a two-hour credit orientation course at the University of Tennessee at Martin this fall.

Students who are accepted will report to the campus one week earlier, about Sept. 10-15, than other students and earn two quarter hours of transcript credit for participating in the seminar in freshman studies.

Faculty members, student assistants and other resource people will be assigned to small groups to discuss and study problems encountered by beginning college freshmen. They will be given the opportunity to take vocational interest tests, plan their academic program, participate in recreational activities, and become familiar with the physical facilities of the campus before the arrival of other students for the regular fall quarter.

Since the seminar is not a part of the regularly scheduled program of studies, the cost for participation will be $50 per student.

Detailed information about how to apply for enrollment in the program will be sent to all beginning freshmen around Aug. 20. After this date students will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis as application forms are received.

Marshall Bands Are First

FULTON, Ky. — Bands from Marshall County placed first in two divisions of competition here during the Banana Parade as part of the International Banana Festival.

North Marshall High School placed first in the AAA division and North Marshall Junior High School placed first in the A division of the band competition. Muhlenberg Central High School won AA competition. All of the winners received cash prizes and trophies. Band judges were Gerald Sledd of Mayfield and Phil Shelton of Paducah.

The parade, sponsored by the Lions Club, also featured floats, drill teams, and clowns. J. Ward Johnson was chairman of the parade.

There were two sections in the float division of the parade. In the professional section, Turner Pure Milk Co. of Fulton placed first, Hadley Adhesives placed second, and City National Bank placed third.

In the non-professional section of the judging the Bottom Bananas of Fulton placed first and Brownie Troop 235 placed second. Judges for the float division were Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Williams of Paris, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams of Paris.

The Greenfield, Tenn., Jack-ettes won the drill team competition, and best drum major and best majorette group awards went to Muhlenberg Central High School. Drill team judges were Capt. Ivan D. Fry and Capt. Glenn E. Borknight, instructors at Murray State University. The drum major and majorette judge was Marion Reithel of Union City, Tenn.

The parade was followed this afternoon by a barbecue lunch and free banana pudding on Carr Street.

Entertainment at the Kitty League Park was held in the afternoon as a country-western show and dances were held tonight.

The University of Michigan has had only 10 presidents in the school's 155-year history.

Qualifications For Judges Challenged

MAYFIELD, Ky.

A section of Kentucky's Constitution prescribing the qualifications for county judges was challenged in a civil action filed here today in Graves Circuit Court.

Petitioners in the action are listed as Wayne Waggoner, Joe Sullivan and Matt Meyer, while County Judge Gurvis "Dick" Castleman is listed as the respondent.

The action is the outgrowth of a recent raid on the Eagles Club here by local authorities in which Waggoner, Sullivan and Meyer were charged with violation of local option laws.

Circuit Judge Seth T. Boaz, Jr., issued a temporary restraining order prohibiting the Graves Quarterly Court from further proceedings against the trio pending a hearing on a writ of prohibition.

The petitioners point out that police court judges in First Class cities in Kentucky must have practiced law for eight years, while laymen can serve as county judges.

They contend Section 100 of the Constitution of Kentucky is unconstitutional in that in setting the qualifications of county judges it denies equal protection under the law to those who are tried for crime in County Quarterly Courts by judges, such as Castleman, who are untrained in the law.

The action was filed on behalf of the petitioners by attorneys Wayne Freeman and Charles Chaney, both of Mayfield.

Consumer Buying Course Part Of MSU Night Fare

MURRAY, Ky.—A new, evening course in "Consumer Economics" will be offered this fall at Murray State University.

Dr. Howard Giles, chairman of the Department of Economics, has announced.

The course, to be offered each Tuesday from 6 until 9 is open to students enrolled at the university, as well as residents of West Kentucky and the surrounding area, either on a credit or an audit basis.

With the evolution of the consumer movement of the last 10 years, it was felt that such a course would be helpful to consumers, either as individuals or as family units, to gain the basic buying information needed in making buying decisions necessary to achieve the best lifestyle available on the particular income, department officials said.

Most experts in the field contend that most spending units would increase their satisfactions by a minimum of 10 per cent by just knowing about, and abiding by, the basic rules of the "consumption game," Dr. Giles pointed out.

The course, directed by W. L. Pinkston, an associate professor in the department, also will include participation from a number of prominent Murray businessmen who will give brief talks and answer questions about their specialized fields.

Among these are Z. C. Enix, Joe Pat Ward, A. W. Simmons, Jr., Don Henry, W. A. Cun-

Fulton 'Opera' May Be New City Hall Site

FULTON, Ky. — In another step toward construction of a new city hall complex, members of the Fulton City Commission have voted to purchase the old "opera" building on Main Street, if firm options can be obtained on other property in the area.

Action was taken at the insistence of Mayor Nelson Tripp. "If we buy the building now and go ahead with demolition, by spring we should be ready to start construction," Tripp said.

The building is now owned by Nathan Wade and is available for $12,000. Other property considered in the city hall construction site includes a service station, Smallman Tin Shop, and Happy's Liquor Store, all estimated by the commission to cost about $50,000. Consideration was also given to eventually acquiring the Kentucky Motor Co. building.

"Before too long we're going to have a new fire truck in our back yard," Tripp told the commission. "We need to be moving."

In separate action, City Manager David Peace presented a proposal for housing the new truck due to arrive Oct. 26 with the present truck and the ambulance in a building across the street from First Christian Church.

Commissioners protested the amount of rent required, $200 a month, and suggested further investigation, particularly regarding use of the vacant Coca-Cola building.

RADIAL- "STEEL"

BRIDGESTONE

RD-170V

THREE STEEL BELTS

THREE RADIAL PLIES

3 PLY STEEL BREAKER

What it is: Made of heavy steel cord, the 3 ply belt girdles the circumference of the tire under the tread.

How it works: It holds the tread rigid, firm, and flat on the road surface, reducing tread scuff, squirm or scrub that literally "grinds" tread rubber.

Benefits: — Better mileage; improved fuel economy — reduces power loss — more miles per gallon — greatly improved traction on wet or dry roads.

3 FABRIC RADIAL PLIES

What they are: Three plies of fabric run straight across the tread from bead to bead at a 90-degree angle.

How they work: Cords are parallel and permit maximum flexing without sawing or grinding.

Benefits: Tire runs cooler; sidewalls flex when sweeping into high speed turns allowing tread to stay flat on the road for maximum road contact.

Tread: Improved tread design reduces harsh side; improves wear.

6 PLY PUNCTURE PENETRATION PROTECTION

The 3-Ply "steel" belt plus three radial sidewall plies offer six full plies of steel/fabric protection in the tread, reducing the possibility of puncture flats.

(A) Tire with cross-section up to 185 have 3 steel belts and 2 fabric body plies.

(B) Tire with cross-section 195 and up have 3 steel belts and 3 fabric body plies.

NEW RUBBER LINER

Tubeless liner especially compounded with antiozonants provides a virtually air-tight container.

RESULTS

Square shoulders, wider tread, bellied sidewalls and narrow pinstripes — plenty of GO with complete confidence
