Easier - Way - To - Make-A-Living-Department. The other day Mary-Nelle Wright, one of the partners in the Acorn House was prevailed upon to watch a Siamese cat tied to a tree on the lawn of the shop while the prospective customer went across the street to eat. It developed that the customer was "prospecting", didn't buy a thing and seemed a little doubtful that the cat had received the best of care. Not only did Mary-Nelle keep the cat cool, humored its bad temper during this awful weather, but named the cat as well. Henceforth, strolling somewhere over the United States will be a rather ill-tempered cat called "Acorn".

Come this season of the year, there's one in every family almost... a golfer. To those of you who listen to the "life" and "buts" of this game of golf, which is certainly not here to stay, we thought you'd be interested in the following notes as explained by an expert, Wellman L. France.

The average golfer - all people added together and divided by the same number gives the average - cumulatively over-estimates the length of his drives by 3726 yards in any given season.

The average number of uncounted strokes in golf each year exceeds by two those strokes counted.

The amount of turf - divots - not replaced on all golf courses in this country annually would fill the Grand Canyon.

Each year 207,000 shots have been "within one inch of the cup and headed toward the hole."

The average golfer makes "the best shot I ever made in my life" twenty-seven times per year.

A strong wind causes 88,113 per cent of all slices.

A golfer's hearing is fourteen times as acute when he is addressing the ball as it is normally.

Ninety-two per cent of those who play in the "low 80's" average one round below 95 out of each twelve rounds played.

Recent tests show that the amount of fatigue involved in carrying a nine-pound bag of groceries 500 feet.

Don Richardson, whose mother is a valued employee at the OK Laundry told her in a telephone conversation Sunday night that he was able to hear a Fulton ball game broadcast recently while in Lackland Air Base in Dallas, Texas. He did not explain how it was done, but his mother said he tinkered with short wave radio. It's a small world, shore nuff.

We were much pleased this week to receive the following letter from an old employee of ours, Robert Jackson, Robert, then only 18, was working for the paper when we first came to Fulton in 1947 and left us in 49 to work in Detroit. He was a part of our original, famous infidel combination of Jackson-to-Tatum-to-Damon-to-Dawes, holding down the hot corner (the casting box).

We reprint the letter in hopes that some of Robert's other friends hereabouts, as well as us, might like to cheer up a "onesome soldier in far-off Korea."

Hello Westphelings:

I guess I am one person you never expected to hear from. Well I am in the Army and in Korea. I am in a heavy mortar company. I guess you know what kind of weapon a 4.2 mortar is, since you was in the Army.

Well being in the Army and away from home a person naturally wants to hear about things back there so that is why I am writing. If you will write and tell me how much a six months subscription to your paper is I will send you the money. This Fulton County News always contained a lot of local news, some of it I may be interested in. Anyway it would be something to read. We have a lot of spare time on hand over here. Hoping to hear from you soon.

P. F. C. Robert E. Jackson, US-52 154182 Heavy Mortar Co. 14th Inf. Regt. A. P. O. 35 c/o Postmaster San Francisco.

A Man's Refuge Is His Home; Would We Let Communism Destroy Us In Fulton?

Some person in Fulton is wasting an awful lot of time and postage on the News editor and, as a matter of fact on several local people. For the past several months this writer has been receiving all kinds of little pamphlets, articles and propaganda that has been as Communistic as anything that ever came out of the Daily Worker. All of the material has been postmarked Fulton, Ky. and all have borne the same peculiar handwriting.

For the information of our little pen pal, that person may be interested in knowing that we have turned every bit of the reading matter over to the proper authorities and further, not one line of the information has had any influence on our steadfast thinking that Communism is wrong, and that the world is made terribly chaotic because of its unwelcome presence.

Our readers may be interested in knowing the type of literature that our Fulton friend has been sending. One time we had a full newspaper addressed to the women of America telling of the American atrocities in Korea. The paper appealed to American women to join those of Russia, Poland, and other Russian satellite countries to prevail on the United States Army to pull out of Korea and thus keep the Americans from butchering the helpless armies now fighting that war.

On another occasion they told of collusion between American generals and Russian generals to slaughter American soldiers.

Today we received a booklet entitled "The Korean War" and told how American interests were financing the Russians in order to keep selling arms.

We have learned that the Fulton Communist sympathizer, if he is that, is also sending such material to members of the Woman's Club here and in other sections. Other public officials have been recipients of the material.

The incident saddens us, deeply. How unfortunate that some local person is influenced by the Communist line and is trying to bore from within to undermine the happy, peaceful life we lead here.

Having read a good bit of the methods of Communism we can understand how they tend to poison the minds of newspaper editors, who can be molders of public opinion. We proudly admit that no matter of literature upholding Communism as a model way of life can ever influence this editor. Moreover, we are dedicated to writing articles that would keep on showing the evils of Communism and the great necessity for fighting it to the last ditch even if it meant war.

Isn't it a pity that someone in our midst would like to see our churches taken over by God-less rulers? To see our daily living substituted by fearful police who would do away with our organizations, our ball games, our stores, our Sunday drives, our schools. How different a horse show would be if this Fulton Communist had his way. How useless an election would be to all of us if this Fulton traitor would have his wishes granted.

Indeed, there would be none of the things that we have mentioned above. We hate to mention the things that would replace them and the thought is too horrible and too discouraging to even mention it.

But then this Fulton Communist has given us something to think about. Truly he is a man with a mission; a mission so horrible, so foul and so revolting that today we have thought to ourselves: WHY CAN'T WE REVERSE HIS IDEA TO TAKE A LESSON FROM HIM.

Why can't each of us take up a mission to find this Communist in Fulton? And by the same token if we found him, which we surely can, then would not our mission get greater and seek to find the lone Communist in other towns? In that manner we would solicit the help of other freedom-loving citizens in those towns and the first thing you know we'd have the Communists in all of America corralled into one bottomless pit and burn their methods and their souls in the fire of obscurity that they deserve. Communists are a segment of society with no God but the State, and the Almighty Ruler of us all did not intend it that way.

So many times since we first received the material we have driven down the tree-lined streets of Fulton and enjoyed the laughter and the careless play of the children in the yards that their parents have worked so hard and so long to own. Instinctively the thought crossed our mind, would it be that way if Mr. Fulton Communist had his way? We've sat at the Fairfield Park and watched the Railroaders play good ball and bad and we've watched the fans hurl good-natured cracks at the players. All in fun, but would it be that way if our unwelcome correspondent were to bring his tactics into the park? How could this Communist in Fulton delete any minor little joy of our living and substitute it for something that's regimented by ruthless rulers who have no idea but to command, to suppress our freedoms and to reduce us to serfdom.

This editorial is not directed to the Communist or Communists in Fulton. That, undoubtedly is a minority group. We are directing it to the majority of the people who love this little railroad town nestled in the corner of Kentucky and Tennessee. We appeal to them from the bottom of our hearts to find this Communist . . . to cut off his foul operations . . . and to bring us closer together in a bond to keep our homes and families and our churches and schools as they are.

Remember, Communism in America and in the world has assumed the magnitude it has by annexing believers one by one. Why cannot we be just as successful in a move to cut them down one by one . . . and let us start right here at home . . . in Fulton, Ky., U. S. A.

To a man, wherever he might wander over the earth, there is always one refuge, one point of returning. It is his home.

A man can no more cut away the ties of his homeland and of his village, and the fields that he remembers than he can cut away his memory or the limbs of his body.

A man will never know another house as he knows the house of his childhood and youth. Where a man is born, there is his home, and there will the roots remain until he dies.

What thing could make a man forswear his home—when a home is all that a man can feel?

That thing is Communism.

Let us not have the black plague of Communism rot out the roots of our homes here in Fulton.

Sermonette of the Week --

3 REASONS WHY MODERN SOULS DON'T FIND GOD

(Bishop Fulton J. Sheen)
GOD IS NOT hard to find. God is the most obvious fact of human experience. He can be found either through the beauty of the stars or through the aspirations of the heart which, like a sea-shell, speak of the ocean of Divinity.

Why is it, then, that so few souls come to Him? The fault is on our side, not God's.

The first reason why we do not find God our Saviour is that we want to be saved, but not from our sins. We are willing to be saved from poverty, from war, from ignorance, from disease, from economic insecurity, for such types of salvation leave the individual whims and passions and sins untouched.

THE SECOND REASON why we do not find a Savior is because we want to be saved, but not at too great a cost. Most souls are afraid of God precisely because of His goodness, which is dissatisfied with anything that is imperfect.

The third reason why we do not find our Divine Savior Jesus Christ is because we want to be saved but in our way, not God's. Very often one hears it said that one ought to be free to worship God, each in his own way. This is indeed true, inasmuch as it implies freedom of conscience and living up to the lights God has given us.

BUT IT CAN be very wrong if it means that we worship God in our way and not His. What would happen to the traffic problem if we said that the American way of life allowed every man to drive in traffic in his way and not the law's way; or if patients began saying to the doctor, "I want to be cured in my own way, but not in yours."

Individuals who say, "I will serve God in my way, and you serve God in your way," ought to inquire whether or not it would be advisable to serve God in His way.

But it is precisely this which frightens the modern soul, for if his conscience is uneasy he wants a religion that will leave out hell. If he has already married again against the law of Christ, he wants a religion that does not condemn divorce. They want to be saved, not in God's way, but theirs.

THE SOULS WHO for any one of these reasons turn their backs on their Savior are not happy. No God-less man is happy any more than a sightless eye or a deaf ear is happy, for as the eye was made for beauty and the ear for harmony, so the soul was made for God.

Kentucky has a total area of 40,395 square miles, with a land area of 40,109 and over 300 square miles of water.

Stamping Ground, Kentucky, is so called because huge herds of buffalo congregated there during pioneer days.

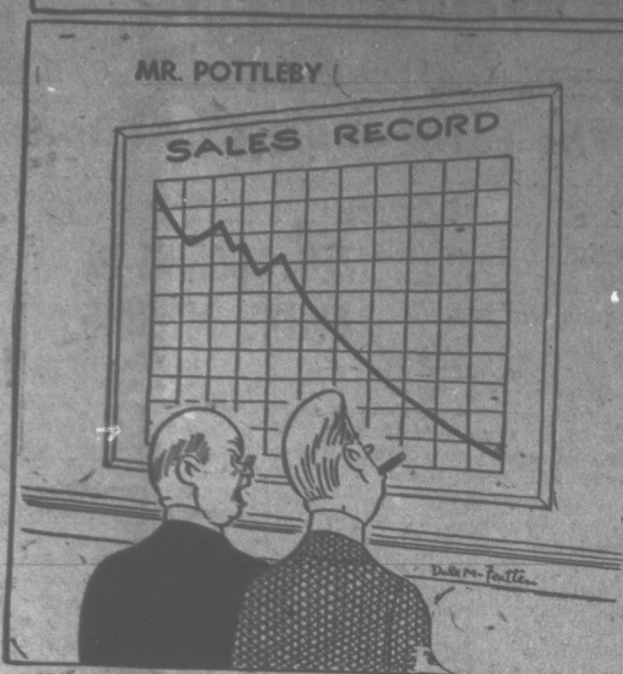

Much of the income from Kenneland Race Track in Lexington goes to the University of Kentucky. Keeneland is a non-profit organization.

Short Creek, on KY 80 near Somerset, is only about 200 feet long. It runs from the base of one hill into another a short distance away.

Harrodsburg, Ky., is generally recognized as the first permanent settlement in the west.

Turning Back The Clock

25 YEARS AGO (June 24, 1927):

The big Fourth of July celebration is to take place at Edgewater Beach Park on the famous and historic Reelfoot Lake. It is looked forward to being one of the biggest Fourth of July celebrations in its history. A 60-piece military band and a $500.00 fireworks display are advertised for the occasion and it is anticipated that ten thousand people will be in attendance. Twenty-five dollars in prizes will be given to the best divers and swimmers. Five dollars in gold will be given to the bathing beauty queen. Three judges will award the prizes.

John R. McGehee, one of the best known farmers in the country, broke the record last week, when he cut 50 acres of wheat for Will McGehee, near Cayce, in two and one-fourth days without having to retreat his binder. Mr. McGehee reports too much rain for wheat and the yield is light, but the quality is fairly good.

E. W. Morris, progressive farmer of Fulton county, residing two miles west of Fulton was in town Saturday, exhibiting his fine registered Holstein bull, which he purchased from Hargrove & Arnold of Norwalk, Ia. He paid $300.00 for this one year old animal.

This week the Roberts Clothing company, outfit fitters for men and boys, enlisted in the bargain war and shot out 4,000 double page bills with telling effect. Their big gun hit the bull's eye when they announced they were selling White English Broadcloth Shirts for 98 cents.

So it is all along the line: bargains in practically every store in Fulton, that's why strangers think it's circus day when viewing the crowds.

Dick Oberlin:

Oberlin's Observations

For some weeks now a very bitter fight has been waged in Central City, where the catch-all holding company of the United Mine Workers is trying to "organize" the business men.

This type of "organizing" in such places as Chicago, New York and other big cities is done by gangsters and is more commonly called "selling protection."

If a dry cleaner, or fruit dealer, for example, is in an area that is being "organized", and he refused to kick in, goons will call on him with acid to throw on clothes or fruit. This treatment, repeated often enough, usually softens up even the toughest business man.

The routine in Central City is not much different. Owners of businesses that are strictly one-man propositions are told to be organized — or else. There is no labor problem here. Only the direct threat that if the man doesn't join that peculiar, misshapen, illegitimate off-spring of the UMW — District 50 — that he won't get any business.

Central City is in an area which, generally, is strongly pro-

Lions Club of Fulton, has returned from Miami, Florida, where he represented the local club at the 11th Annual Convention of International Association of Lions Clubs, June 15 to the 18th.

Mr. Hardesty reports: "The people of Florida know how to welcome their guests, and extended every courtesy to visitors possible."

Miss Lona Cantrell and Mr. Shelby Roberts surprised their friends Friday evening at seven o'clock when they were united in marriage. Esq. S. A. McDade officiated at his home on State Line Street.

The bride is a winsome young girl, while the groom is a clever young man and is an employee of the Fulton Ice Company. Their many friends extend congratulations, wishing them a long and happy life of wedding bliss.

The newlyweds are making their home at the present with Mrs. M. M. Coleman, mother of the groom, on Cedar Street.

Mr. M. F. French, 73 years old, well known and highly esteemed citizen, died Tuesday morning at his home on Folkes, Tenn.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. Paul DeMyer, Mrs. W. H. Fowell, Miss Olena French, of Fulton, and Mrs. John Cobb, Memphis; one son, Otis French, of Fulton. Also two brothers and two sisters.

Miss Laura Mae Pickering entertained a few of her friends Saturday evening in honor of her brother, Marshall, who is spending a few weeks at home. Leslie Walker and Charles Bowers spent Sunday with Layman Bard.

Miss Ivora Cantrell, of South Fulton, left last Monday for Louisville where she will take a special course in the Louisville Conservatory of Music.

ous labor leaders have said, in effect, "I am the law" and "I will let the laws made for other, less, citizens."

A judge at Central City has told them differently. It is to be hoped that they will heed the lesson, and it will not be necessary to drub it through their skulls.

COTTON SHOULD BE CLASSIFIED AS ADVICE

Farmers have better bargaining power in selling their cotton if they know the grade and staple length of each bale, according to Millard L. Garner, who is in charge of the Memphis Cotton Classing Office, U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Best and most economical way to get your cotton classed is to join a cotton improvement group. Mr. Garner points out.

This is a group of farmers organized primarily to promote the improvement of cotton. When they organize, adopt a variety of cotton, file an application, arrange for sampling and meet certain other requirements, the group is eligible for benefits of the Smith-Doxey Act.

These benefits include cotton classification for group members and a USDA price quotation sheet. Both are provided without cost.

Application forms and additional information about Smith-Doxey services may be obtained from county agents or PMA cotton classing offices. Applications from Arkansas and Mississippi should be filed not later than July 1 and from Tennessee not later than July 15. Deadline date is August 1 for Arkansas and Mississippi and August 15 for Tenn.

HISTORIC DUELLING PISTOLS GIVEN U. K.

The University of Kentucky has been given a brace of duelling pistols, which are linked with what is probably Lexington's most famous tragedy, and the weapons have been placed on display at the school's library. One-time owner of the weapons was Col. William C. Goodloe, 19th century Kentucky statesman and landowner, who was wounded fatally in a knife-pistol affray with his arch political rival, Col. A. M. Swope, at the Lexington postoffice. Col. Swope was killed instantly in the struggle, taking place in 1889.

DO WE ADVANCE?

As a mining engineer I remember of the time when the owners of the coal mines in England wanted to put in modern machinery, which not only made their work easier but much more productive. The miners said "no" and would not work in a mine where there was that kind of machinery. You would wonder at the refusal. You would say that today no such reaction could be found.

Up to a couple of hundred years ago the women and many men were tied down for many hours a day, day in and day out, weaving with hand, the millions of yards of cloth that had to be made to cover the bodies of the people. Then one time they developed a sort of modern loom and one person could weave 50 times as much cloth at a greatly reduced price and a large building was erected to house a battery of them. The people felt they say their daily bread being taken from them and they burned the building down. The fact that many people could be clothed a fraction of old cost never occurred to them.

I could recite you many such instances. The smaller minds, the greedy minds, the sordid minds were not of yesterday alone. We have them today. They do not have even the vision of an empty-stomached louse.

Many labor unions today bitterly fight the introduction of machinery that will lessen the cost of production. Anything that throws a man out of a job is an evil thing. He doesn't understand that there are many more jobs and won't see the side of the consumer. There are many, many instances where the unions have tried to have bills passed prohibiting the use of labor saving machinery.

In our last congress, I think it was, a bill was introduced to limit freight trains to less than 40 cars. One bill was introduced in South Carolina to limit the number of looms one person could handle. Painter's unions restrict the width of a painter's brush and a lot of other similar restrictions are in use.

No, the folks who burned down the building that housed the looms which would give the people clothing at a reasonable price, or the coal miners in England, are not so old "timey" after all.

The Department of Agriculture has 459,903 acres in Kentucky under its control; 115,376 acres are under the Department of Interior, 295,435 acres under the Department of Defense, and 75,417 acres are controlled by other Federal agencies for a total of 946,131 acres. The 1950 Bureau of Census report estimates Kentucky land values at an average of $80.87 an acre. These figures indicate that Government-controlled land in the Commonwealth is worth more than $75,000,000. ## STATE PRESS TO BUILD NURSERY

Appropriation of funds sufficient to construct a nursery school for cerebral palsy and other handicapped children was announced today by Bennett Roach, of the Shelbyville News, President of the Kentucky Press Association. It is the first time the newspapers of the State have coordinated their efforts in a project of this nature.

"This is an example of what can be accomplished by understanding and co-operation," Mr. Roach said. "The Kentucky Press Association is providing $10,000 for construction. The Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, which owns the site at Lexington where the school will be built, is assuming responsibility for letting contracts, and for administration, maintenance and staffing. The Kentucky Crippled Children Commission is responsible for the medical program at the school."

All arrangements for the school, including program and policies, were worked out in advance by the interested groups, Mr. Roach said. "This is a particularly happy event in the life of the newspapers in the State," he added. "It is the culmination of our first undertaking to provide facilities not otherwise available for the crippled children's program, in consultation with the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission. But this is only the beginning. We hope the Kentucky Press Fund will grow through efforts of member newspapers so another facility at another place can be provided in the not too distant future."

VENDING MACHINE LICENSES NOW DUE

Kentucky vending machine licenses must be renewed by July 1, David K. Walker, Director of Excise Division, Department of Revenue, announced in Frankfort.

All coin-operated vending machines except those vending merchandise exclusively are required to carry a $10 license stamp. Machines dispensing music or other entertainment, pinball, and other coin-operated amusement machines come under the provisions of the vending machine law.

Licenses are now obtainable from the Department of Revenue in Frankfort. They may also be obtained from Department of Revenue field offices located in Ashland, Bowling Green, Covington, Hazard, Lexington, Louisville, Owensboro, Paducah, and Somerset.

Owner of machine, lessee, operator, and agent are jointly and severally liable for failure to secure a license. Penalty and interest are added for licenses obtained after July 1, Walker said.

PER CAPITA INCOME OF FULTON COUNTY IS $932; HIGHEST RATE IN STATE IS, $1700

The per capita income estimate rate for Fulton county in 1950, as published by the conference, was $932.

Highest per capita income rate in Kentucky for 1950 was recorded in Hardin county where the figure was placed at $1,700. Jefferson and Kenton counties followed with per capita marks of $1,649 and $1,636 respectively.

Campbell county's per capita income figure was fourth in the state at $1,622, and Fayette county was next with a rate of $1,360.

southern economic and business research institutions organized the measurement conference at the University of Kentucky in 1949 and the county income report, released June 1, as an outgrowth of that organization session.

Kentucky businessmen and industry officials are expected to find the income estimates a realistic means of measuring the buying power and character of a market area and of defining sales areas and sales quotas.

How generous should you be?

You taxpayers have been most generous in giving public help to air lines, motor lines and barge lines.

Billions of dollars in taxes have been drained from your pockets to help start and keep these people in business. Now, they have been operating a long time—long enough to start paddling their own canoes.

They'll tell you that the Illinois Central had a subsidy once, too—a land grant. But the legislators of one hundred years ago drove a stiff bargain. They saw to it that their governments, federal and state, got back a hundred-fold and more everything that was given us. And they got it quickly, too.

Today, the fashion is to heap on subsidies until the beneficiaries become so accustomed to easy living that they lack incentive to support themselves.

With taxes, direct and hidden, taking an average of one-third of what you earn, this is no time for overgenerosity. Much tax money goes for necessary government expense—too much for you to let any of your money be spent needlessly on air, motor-carrier and barge operators.

Help put the transportation business back on a free competitive basis. Then all of us—rail, highway, air and water carriers—will handle the jobs each is best fitted to do. And you—the people and industries of Mid-America—will enjoy true economy and efficiency in transportation.
