Tom Underwood, the genial newspaper editor from Lexington who was defeated for United States Senator in the November election wrote us a little note the other day. Senator Underwood was keenly disappointed in the results of the election and wrote: "The only cheerful note that I have had about the election is your rabbit poem." (News Nov. 21.)

The Lion's Club Minstrel will no doubt have as a part of its interesting program in the future a homecoming feature. Here for the event were two beloved old-time minstrelers Bobby Snow and Cordella and Bradley Emerson. Cordella has pounded many a note on the piano for the minstrel and Bradley's incomparable acts have been keenly missed. Bobby too, has added much to the minstrel in the past and we know that they must have immensely enjoyed the performances this week as they get bigger and better.

Nothing but raves have gone the way of Lorene Hughes for her direction and planning of the Lion's Club minstrel this year. Sometimes we wonder how we ever got along without Lorene's help in the many activities undertaken by the city. She and Bud certainly are a welcome addition to the civic and social life of Fulton and we hope that their stay here will put them on the old-timer list. Lorene is a wonder. She never takes a job unless she devotes her full time, whole-hearted efforts to the project and when its done there can never be anything but the highest compliments for her work. In the Woman's Club, in the Country Club, in the Drama department and everywhere she is called upon to help she does so cheerfully and well. Bud does his share in the Lion's Club and other civic groups and they're both a couple of hard-working, popular folks.

May all your projects be successes Lorene and Bud and please accept this little "obit" as coming from the very heart of our "flowers for the living department."

The huge, red Pipeline Service Station sign above the station on Lake Street certainly adds to the skyline of the city as one approaches from both ends of Lake Street. Looks real city like and no doubt will have a good effect on the business of that growing concern.

DIABETES FINDING PROGRAM SUCCESS

Discovery of previously undetected diabetics, whose lives can be saved through knowledge of their condition, was the object of the second annual statewide Diabetes Detection Drive sponsored November 16-22 by the Kentucky State Medical Association in cooperation with the American Diabetes Association.

Carlisle Morse, M. D., Louisville, Chairman of the Kentucky State Medical Association Diabetes Committee, announced today that all physicians, laboratories and hospitals in Kentucky have again asked to participate in a nationwide campaign to discover the million estimated unknown diabetics in the United States by giving free tests to all who present themselves.

Governor Lawrence Wetherby has issued a proclamation urging support of this non-fund raising health campaign.

"The greatest single problem in conquering diabetes lies in early discovery of the condition in the individual," Dr. Morse said. "Almost without exception, the diabetic person can live an active, happy life, if he is aware that he is diabetic and conforms to the few simple rules that living with the ailment imposes. It is the purpose of the Diabetes Detection Drive to help every citizen—without cost to himself—learn whether he is one of the million Americans who unknowingly have diabetes."

WEATHER OUTSIDE IS FRIGHTFUL, BUT THERE'S SUNSHINE AT MILTON SCHOOL

The winter months may bring some fearful weather this year, but to the students and the teachers at the Milton School there will always be sunshine in their hearts. It was put there by the good people of Fulton who voted a $100,000 bond issue last year so that the school children of the Fulton schools might have needed repairs and improvements to the existing school facilities.

At the Milton School for Negroes the need was probably greater than at any of the other schools in the city. The heating system was the old-fashioned coal stove type. The walls were drab and sorely in need of paint. The floors needed work and the windows welcomed the strong winds inside and everything was in a state of near collapse.

Now all that is changed. Bright green walls have replaced the unpainted ones. New and modern "blackboards" are now the latest in green slate. The windows are airtight and what is more the whole atmosphere is one of warmth and happiness. The News editor made a tour of the premises last week and having known the old building, the new surroundings were almost un-

MRS. MATTIE VINCENT SENDS ARTICLE ABOUT "HANGING" OF WELL KNOWN MAN

The editors of the News like nothing better than to get articles and letters from its subscribers. We have had in our files a nice long letter from our friend, Mrs. Mattie Vincent who sent a story about J. O. Vincent, a well known and beloved character in Weakley County. The article concerned the "hanging" of Mr. Vincent and was previously printed in the Philadelphia Record on October 31, 1909. The article is too long to be reprinted in one issue so we will run it in installments beginning this week. Mr. Vincent has many relatives living in and around Fulton.

The first installment follows:

"AN EXPERIENCE IN HANGING"

METHODIST MISSION IS FINE SUCCESS

A total of 9,522 persons were won to Christ and the Church by the Methodist United Evangelistic Mission in Kentucky and western Tennessee, it has been announced here.

The announcement was made by Bishop William T. Watkins, Louisville, head of The Methodist Church in Kentucky and western Tennessee and general chairman of the mission.

"All our churches have been invigorated by the crusade," said Bishop Watkins. "Spiritual morale is at a new high level."

"Well over 10,000 persons will be added to the churches of Kentucky and western Tennessee as a result of the mission," said Bishop Watkins. "It is a great victory. Perhaps, though the most significant contribution was that the 10,000 persons who visited prospects learned that a layman can do personal evangelistic work quite as effectively as a minister."

PAYMENTS MADE TO FULTON COUNTIANS

Public assistance payments for October totaled $3,307,421 or $504,954 above the sum paid during September. Aaron Paul, director of the Department of Economic Security's Division of Public Assistance, reported today.

The increase was made primarily because of additional sums made available by the Congress and anticipated balances of state funds resulting from case load reductions in the field of the aged, dependent children and needy blind.

Payments in Fulton County for October were $20,402 of which $13,132 was for old age assistance, $6,933 for aid to dependent children and $337 for aid to the needy blind.

Weakley County, Tennessee, lives one of the most picturesque characters in the State. John O. Vincent is known by more people in his home county than their own representative in Congress — and he knows them as well as they know him. He is getting old now, and his hair is as white as cotton. But his step is firm and he is just as jolly as if he were barely thirty. He is short and heavy, his forehead broad and prominent and his jaw firm, and truth is shining from his eyes, unless it is when you catch him with a "story" to tell. It is then that his sharp little eyes twinkle and snap, as scene after scene is laid before you. It is then that he is in his element. Yet, on occasions, he can be as sober and sympathetic as the most sanctified correct preacher you ever saw. And not only is he noted for his stories but times without number he has conducted funeral services or been chosen to deliver messages of condolence. At such times as these there is not the least bit of laughter or fun to be seen about him—his voice is low, full of sympathy and tears, and his eyes show the sorrow that he feels.

And too, he is a great lover of old-fashioned singing conventions. He is leader of several of these, and they meet often in the country school houses and churches, and he never fails them unless there is illness in his family. His voice is strong and full and makes every person present wish they, too, could really and truly sing. Above everything else and every other voice in the house, can be heard the bell-like tones that come from the very soul of John Vincent.

He is known to everybody simply as "John". His schooling consisted of but three months in his entire life, yet he has represented his county in the Legislature. He is well read, too, and can write and talk on any subject under the sun. He is truly a self-made man, and got it all by hard study.

Writes Up His Town

It is as correspondent of his weekly home paper that the people see most of him. Not a week passes but that he has a long two or three column letter from what he calls the "City of Ruthville". It is a place of about fifty inhabitants, and one or two small stores. He has every "street" named and every house numbered — and the way he writes about them is a caution. It was in this weekly letter of his that I got the gist of the story of his hanging and his revenge. When I went to him his eyes twinkled like little stars and his laugh rang out loud and long. "You want it all?" said he. "You want it just as it happened? Well, there is not very much to tell, but I guess I'm the only living man in Weakley County who has ever been hanged. And for a while I thought I would not last long, too. But this is getting too fast — let me begin at the beginning."

STILL, ATTEBERRY HEAD POLIO DRIVE

While the county gradually overcomes the scare of its recent polio season, Ira Kane, Fulton County Chairman for the March of Dimes today announces the chairman for the 1953 drive. Mr. Kane has appointed Justin Atteberry, Circuit Court Clerk of Hickman to head the drive in that end of the county and Rev. L. R. Still pastor of the First Christian Church on this end.

The appointment of both men assures the success of next year's drive as both men are tireless workers in community projects. Mr. Atteberry, a public official for many years has had wide experience in fund-raising. He is popular all over the county and knows the principles for getting good solicitors to bring about a successful campaign.

Brother Still, the genial minister who has taken great interest in all civic projects similarly is well qualified to head the March of Dimes drive here.

Mr. Kane's work in the March of Dimes effort has received commendation from all State leaders. The campaign which he headed last year collected the largest sum of money ever received in a polio drive.

Fultonians' Sister Buried In Dresden

Miss Lettie Clement, beloved Cumberland Presbyterian minister for many years in West Kentucky and West Tennessee, died suddenly in Nashville Monday morning. She was the teacher of Bible at a Presbyterian School in Nashville at the time of her death.

Miss Clement is well known by many in this section, having served as minister of the Bayou de Chien, Union Church and Mt. Zion churches for several years. She was pastor of the Dresden Cumberland Presbyterian Church for 17 years.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Dresden, with Bro. Ramer of McKenzie officiating and assisted by Bro. Richardson, Bro. Hodge of Memphis and Bro. Bill Matthews. Burial was in the Dresden cemetery.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Lee Myrick and Mrs. Ethel Hainline of this city and Mrs. H. O. Cashon of Dresden. J. J. Clement also of Fulton is a cousin of the deceased.

BOAZ AND HESTER IS ONE OF FULTON'S OLDEST FOOD FIRMS; STARTED IN 1914

(This is the second in a series of articles dealing with the histories of local businesses. The story of the Boaz and Hester Grocery was written by Freddie Harper of Mrs. Joe Bennett's sixth grade class at Fulton Junior High School. Freddie is the son of J. L. Harper and he lives at 611 Third Street.)

The firm, now known as Boaz and Hester Grocery located at 308 Main Street, had its beginning in 1914. At that time the business was under the management of Mike Taylor and J. E. Boaz and known as Taylor and Boaz Grocery. It was located in the building now occupied by the Fall and Fall Insurance Company. After a few years Mr. Taylor sold his interest to Mr. Boaz and the grocery remained in the same location until 1922.

In August, 1922 George N. Hester married Queen Ester Boaz, daughter of Mr. T. T. Boaz and entered into the business with his father-in-law. The firm's name was then changed to Boaz and Hester Grocery.

In January, 1923 the business was moved to Church Street for

TOM DOUGHTY SAYS DEMOCRATS PLANNED WAR TO CRASH CAPITAL PROSPERITY

The following letter was sent to the News by Tom Doughty who violently disagrees with the Democratic views of this paper. Although the editors do not concur in Mr. Doughty's views about the policies of the Democratic Administration we accord him the same privilege of freedom of expression as we enjoy under the constitutional right of Freedom of the Press. His letter follows:

To the Editor,
Fulton County News
Fulton, Kentucky.

In advance, I wish to thank you for the privilege of answering some letters which have appeared in your paper, and I am proud to do so as follows:

Here is my version of our present situation: going back to President Cleveland, elected in 1885 to 1889, a Democrat, was one of the men who put us on the Gold Standard, and under his reign we had prosperous times. Then came Benjamin Harrison, 1889-1893; then Grover Cleveland was re-elected in 1893-1897, and there was the worst Depression in history, much worse than in 1929-1933. Mr. Cleveland was in the same position Mr. Hoover was...

ad a majority in both Houses against him, and the Republicans hog-tied him. When he would ask for things for the betterment of the Nation, the Republicans blocked him. So the overall result was a downward trend in everything, but remember, when Cleveland put us on the Gold Standard, the world said the United States was on as sound money basis as it could possible be put on... and we stayed on the Gold Standard until the Money Changer came along, the Dead God, Mr. Roosevelt, who devalued the dollar to approximately 37 1/2%.

The people think they are living in luxury, but they don't stop to think or care that this artificial prosperity is caused by the American boys blood saturating the foreign soil. It is true that under Mr. Hoover, this country was not in debt 260 billion dollars, and as stated by Mr. Cleveland, a good old-fashioned Democrat, who had a Republican House against him. He was not to blame, the Republicans were the cause of the depression. The same thing happened to Hoover. The Democrats caused the depression and no thinking person can deny this.

Cleveland's own party called him a Gold-bag Democrat. After the depression in his last administration, Old Mark Hanna was Speaker of the House, and a cartoon was printed showing him sitting in a big arm chair with the money bag on his knee, him holding the bag with a tight grip, saying: "When I speak the bag will open." Was Grover Cleveland the cause of this? Not at all. Even back in Hoover days, the American boys were not dying in foreign countries to boost the so-called "prosperous times" in this country. Then if you had a dollar it wasn't devalued at 37 1/2% as it is today. Under the domination of the Democratic Party all they can think to do is to start a war and thereby raise the standard of living. They don't care whose blood is spilled, just so long as it isn't theirs. Since I have been big enough to remember, their motto has been "to rule or ruin" and they have always ruined.

I am proud that the Mothers and Fathers of America have awakened and have been endowed with a future of peace and Harmony. There is no Mother who wants to give birth to a son, raise him to the age of maturity and have him sent to some foreign country to be slaughtered for no reason other than to bring prosperity to designing politicians... but there are some men who don't care for the loss of a child if they can get $10,000. They are money cravers. As Judas betrayed Christ for money, and then killed himself, all Judases are not dead. There are plenty still alive and some in our midst.

Cordially yours,
T. F. Doughty

GUPTON WINS FINALE
Guy Upton, Jr., a consistent entrant in the Weekly football contest sponsored through the season by the News, finally came through on the last week of play (last week) to win first prize and a check for $3. Guy missed 5 games but that was as good as the whole field could manage with all the upsets and the two tie games, and led his group with a low point difference of 163.

Second place with 5-misses and 175 points was Bennie Hawks, Route 1, Fulton; third with 5 and 179 points was W. E. Cunningham, c/o the Dukedom Bank, Dukedom. "Also rans" with 5 misses included Pete Peterson with 194 points and Mrs. Jack Moore with 211.

With practically everyone picking the wrong way on Kansas-Missouri, TCU-Rice, Alabama-Maryland, and everyone losing on the Kentucky-Tennessee and Wisconsin-Minnesota ties, the great bulk of the entries missed 6 games last week.

The News hopes that all of the hundred-odd readers who have entered its little game of skill each week have enjoyed it as much as we have enjoyed bringing it to them. From time to time we will endeavor to present other things of similar nature.

Mrs. Buddy Carver has returned from Keith, Ky., where she was called on account of the accident sustained by her father, Silas Sallor, which proved fatal. She was accompanied by her husband and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Landon Roberson.

On This Thanksgiving Day, 1952, We Must Count Our Blessings and Pray For Peace

A CHILD with a splinter in his finger will run and tell the story of his misfortune to his mother. He will tell her everything about his mishap, but he will never think to mention that in addition to one sore finger he also has nine others that are perfectly healthy.

MANY OF US are like that child. We let our troubles blind us to our blessings. We worry about the cost of living, forgetting that we are living, and that living is more important than its cost.

THANKSGIVING DAY is an annual invitation to put aside our troubles and to count our blessings. Our forefathers did it. They forgot the fierceness of the coming winter; they forgot the savagery of the surrounding Indians. They forgot everything except to give thanks to God Whose protecting hand had sheltered them in the past. He had preserved them from evils, and by His loving kindness they hoped to obtain deliverance from all dangers in the future.

In the same spirit today, we pause to thank God Who has blessed us so greatly.

WE THANK HIM for national life and freedom. Some countries have perished; others linger on in an agony of slavery. But here in this blessed land we set our own course and strive mightily to do the right — as God enables us to see what is right.

WE THANK HIM for constitutional government. We thank Him for the restraint that law places on ambition. We thank Him for peace-loving fellow citizens who settle their differences not in rioting but at the ballot box.

WE THANK HIM for the sun that shines on American fields, for the rain that gives life to the soil, and for the abundant harvests that nourish our bodily health.

WE THANK HIM for the oil and the mineral wealth and the industries that keep America strong.

WE THANK HIM for the favor with which He looks upon us. He has blessed us and He will bless us. We beg that we may use His blessings to achieve the end for which He gave them.

AND FINALLY, regretting the mistakes we made and the sins we committed in the past, we are thankful for the opportunity to start anew. We appreciate the chance to begin again. Being mindful of His Commandments, we now resolve to live according to His laws. We are fully confident that living thus, He will remove the danger of our enemies and grant peace in our days.

Freedom Crusade Is American Job

On November 11, the 34th anniversary of the World War I Armistice, the Crusade for Freedom opened its 1952 drive for funds with which to fight the lies of the world's would-be enslavers. All Americans are asked to join in THIS important job. In Fulton the concerted drive will begin about December 1 and last through December 15. A total of $700 is sought from this county.

In 1918, November 11 was an hour of triumph for the forces of freedom, shared in proudly by an America that was convinced her first sacrifice of lives to right a great world wrong would, happily, be the last. The optimism of 1918 was a sad illusion, not to be repeated at the end of the World War II. For then, by dint of sacrifices unimaginable a generation before, we knew the nature of a world in which we are compelled to play a leading role on the side of freedom.

On this date in 1952 must we look forward to still another World War to safeguard our precious heritage? There are signs that a cautious optimism need not be out of place this time. Today we are alertly building freedom's defenses at home and abroad. We Americans up and down and across the land, in cities, on the plains, in the bayous and tall timber country, all of us know this is an hour in history when we must roll back an appalling force of darkness that utterly blacks out any threat we have known in the past. Today the Communist conspiracy assaults our freedom and that of our friends in other lands with the divisive poison of lies and calculated distortion. Short of a world-wide shooting war, we are hip deep in psychological warfare of the most ruthless character. The weapons are words — representing truth on our Free World side — representing diabolically contrived truth-opposites on the other, Slave World side. The stakes in this war of freedom versus tyranny are the souls of men and women, in every corner of the globe, today and for generations to come.

In the vanguard of Freedom's army are the 25,000,000 Americans who, over the past two years, have rallied to the Crusade for Freedom. With the help of this mass support, the Crusade has established and now operates Radio Free Europe and Radio Free Asia. This potent and multiple Voice of Truth daily pierces the Iron Curtain from West and East. Supplementing, in its own way the work of the Voice of America, but free of the necessary restraints of the government operation, these Freedom Stations reach the millions of captive peoples in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Albania, Rumania and Bulgaria in Europe, and China across the Pacific — reach them and convince them there is hope for their eventual liberation. The hard-slugging truth programs — more than 1,000 hours per week of them over RFE alone — impale Kremlin lies on the spike of facts, expose the names and addresses and activities of Moscow stooges and informers, ruthlessly reveal the gap between Communist promise and actual performance.

There is ample and dramatic proof of the effectiveness of the programs. Reports from escapees and streams of letters smuggled

TB Is Still Big Killer

The facts speak for themselves...

Tuberculosis, also called TB, kills more people than all other infectious diseases combined.

It killed approximately 30,000 persons in the United States in 1951—one person every seventeen and a half minutes, and it is responsible for an estimated 5,000,000 deaths annually throughout the world. In this country, it is attacking 115,000 persons this year.

It leads all diseases as a cause of death in the age group from fifteen to thirty-five. Yet it is no respecter of age. Nearly 7,500 persons aged sixty-five or over die from it every year; it is killing 16,000 children under fifteen annually.

TB deaths cost the nation 1,000,000 working years each year; cut off an estimate 1,500,000 years of life annually; cost the nation more than $350,000,000 a year for patient care, hospital maintenance, pensions.

Who fights this killer? You do, when you aid the National Tuberculosis Association and its 3,000 affiliated state and local groups in every state, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Canal Zone, Guam, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. You aid them when you buy Christmas Seals.

Join the war on TB this year. Buy Christmas Seals—and use them on your holiday mail—during the National Tuberculosis Association's campaign this year from Nov. 17 to Dec. 25.

Dick Oberlin:

Oberlin's Observations

When the first cold winds begin to blow, after the crops are harvested and the buildings are made snug against winter, when the last reminder of autumn's colorful show is a dull, lifeless brown, comes the time to pause for a moment to remember, to count our blessings.

We have a nation of busy and prosperous people. Just about everybody who wants to work can find some kind of job at pretty fair pay. Our national health is better than that of most peoples. And we have more luxuries than any other nation.

We have worries. Inflation, our war with communism, our shooting war in Korea, our national debt, the fact that our prosperity is based on war production instead of peaceful pursuits. All these things are troublesome.

But, bad as they are, some of them, and difficult as they could be, the good things greatly outweigh the bad.

And of all the good things, it seems to me that we take too lightly and too carelessly one of the best and most important. We're inclined to forget our freedom.

Our nation became great because it was a free nation. No man was told he could not express his beliefs. All men were assured by the basic law of the land their privilege to believe and say what they pleased.

This attitude is bound to lead to conflict, to a sharp difference of opinion that makes for a vigorous and healthy people.

We have been so strong in our youth and vigor as a new nation in the world of nations that we dared allow anarchists, secessionists, free thinkers — even non-thinkers; — to do and say what they pleased.

In our schools we taught subjects scientifically, presenting the best protagonists on both or all sides of controversial questions. We tried to teach our young people to think for themselves, and so to be able to weigh the good and the bad in all arguments and make wise decisions for themselves.

You may notice that all these verbs are past tense, indicating that these things are not true in our nation today.

They still are more or less true, but only relatively true. We have had, recently, examples of book-burning. We have super-ultra-patriotic organizations that want censorship, want to proscribe the area of learning available to our youth.

Burning books is the way of the Hitler. Banning books, and allowing only lop-sided arguments to be presented is the way of the Stalins.

Our nation should be too strong, too sure, too unafraid to permit that sort of thing. A wise man once said "Don't park your principles in a dark place for even a second — when you go back they won't be there." That might be paraphrased to read: "Don't infringe on my liberties even a little bit — I fear if you do you'll eventually snatch them all away!"

Do you know this about telephone taxes?

You may not realize how large a part of the money paid by telephone users goes to taxes.

Including the federal excise tax, a total of 29¢ out of every dollar received from Southern Bell customers last year was paid out in taxes to federal, state and local governments. To put it another way, the average amount of taxes was $2.67 a month per telephone.

Telephone taxes are necessary to the support of government, but they do mount up. Higher taxes of course have effect on the price you pay for telephone service.

The next time you pay your telephone bill, remember that a good part of it is taxes for government and national defense.

She was amazed at the quality of our twenty-cent lunch. She showed two films: "The Story of Two White Rats" and "Something You Didn't Eat."

The new books for the library came in last week. There are a lot of good ones, so students let's read them.

The teachers and students were delighted at the minstrel skit Friday afternoon, provided by Jack Carter and three of the minstrel actors. Kay Bowen sang a very inspiring song, which was enjoyed by all.

Those attending were, Carolyn Jenkins, Carline Searce, Marie Thompson, Damon Ballow, Mrs. Mack Searce and Mrs. Robert Thompson. RETURN ENGAGEMENT OF THE TURKEY

by Marie Gifford

Good to the last tidbit! That's the way the family talks turkey when the holiday bird makes its return engagements in eye and appetite appealing dishes that rival the Thanksgiving feast for good eating.

It's good economy to buy one of the larger Table Dressed birds and plan ahead of time to use it for a number of meals. Whether the leftover turkey is to be frozen for later use, or served the next day, you will want to give it a new dress with that little something extra that marks the artist's touch to good cookery. The kindly bird can have a new look for each meal when served in creamed turkey on fluffy rice or crisp Chinese noodles, turkey noodle scallop, turkey chop suey, or a delightful cold salad. Remember, too, to save the frame of the bird for a tasty kettle of soup or for broth in casserole dishes.

Here's one of our favorite recipes for left over turkey that has a special "try me" appeal. It's an easy-to-make salad, and the special touch is the slivered almonds that add such delightful flavor and texture to the salad. It's a hearty salad that will lend elegance to a buffet supper or family dinner. You'll want to save this recipe to use when the occasion calls for an easy dish to feed a crowd.

TURKEY SALAD

2 cups cubed cold cooked turkey
1 cup cut-up celery (1/2 inch pieces)
1 tablespoon lemon juice

1/2 cup toasted, slivered almonds slices canned pineapple
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Blend well all ingredients except the pineapple, seasoning to taste with salt and pepper. Chill thoroughly and serve on crisp salad greens. Garnish with half slices of pineapple. Makes 6 servings.

Capt. Tom's Column

WHAT FRANK AHLGREN SAID

At a meeting in Jackson which was attended by most of our congressmen and Senator Stennis, Frank Ahlgren of the Commercial Appeal made the flat statement that it would be better to risk an all out war with Russia, rather than to be slowly bled white, by millions of Chinese soldiers who were sent to the front by the Red government. He said to use all weapons we could put into action. He received quite a round of applause.

Senator John Stennis said that after spending the billions of dollars we have spent in preparation that we have not yet reached the stage where we can afford to run this risk.

He took the stand that we must not do anything that would make Russia turn on us, at present. There seems to be such a divergence of opinion on this matter. Two senators have told me that we have atomic bombs in strategic locations which will command the eastern front of Europe and will disable Russia to a point where she will not be such a formidable antagonist.

But on the other hand we are forbidden to use the atomic bomb on the North Koreans like we used it on the Japanese. We must not blockade the Chinese coast, we must not destroy the munition deposits just on the other side of the Yalu river. They will permit the use of Korean troops but we must not use any of the Nationalist troops of the Chinese to take the place of the American boys who are being slaughtered.

A couple of years ago, I was with two major generals who had come in from the front. They were old friends and I chided them because they had failed to make a dent in the ranks of the enemy. I soon learned I had said the wrong thing and it was bitterly resented. They said to me "remember this was not planned by the army. Our plans were thrown in the wastepaper basket. The politicians have planned it and we are to fight a war that will bring us nothing but disaster."

WHAT I HEARD

The father told the son to remember that it was the early bird that caught the worm. The bright son came right back at him: "Yes but if the worm had not been early he would not have been caught." But the wise old father devious paths because they do not understand that our political leaders are human beings and are enthusiastic about any measure that will increase their power.

Frank Ahlgren, speaking of a nominee for the president, declared he would support a measure that would permit the president to take other industry at any time he felt it was necessary (like Truman took over the steel industry) for the good of the nation. He brought out the idea of how a politician could solve the riddle better than those who knew the business from end to end.

It must be expected that they will recommend government controls because this increases their security and their power. The urge for power and selfishness, makes the so called liberal feel that although it has never been done before, he can make such machinery produce abundance and freedom instead of fear and want. But it doesn't work out that way as that kind of a government forces too many improper relationships between the citizens and their government. This is so because it requires that sovereign power be used in too many instances. Sovereign power and free enterprise do not go hand in hand.

Students Write of Thanksgiving

Each year the various classes in the city schools commemorate the celebration of Thanksgiving by writing appropriate themes on the subject. This year the custom was repeated and the News is pleased to reprint several of the most outstanding poems and themes. They are significant of the way the Thanksgiving celebration is felt by the students. They follow:

What Thanksgiving Means To Me
(By Anne Fall, 7th)

T is for thanks the live long day,
H is for houses in which we play,
A is for all wonderful things,
K is for kindness and what it brings.
S is for satisfaction and all of those things.

G is for God. He is our King.

G is for guidance—we need it from thee.

Thanksgiving
The Pilgrims came over for their freedom in the year of 1620.

The Indians showed them how to plant corn.
Then same winter which made them mourn.
The winter was so cold that many died,
But those that died, died with pride.
Soon they set a side a day to feast and to pray.
On and on this great country grew, until it is what is today.
(By Diane Wright, 7th)

Thanksgiving
The Pilgrims sailed the ocean blue,
They sailed about 1622.

And when they landed on the sand,
They learned to love this new land.
They came from England far away.

And built the land we love today.

They lived and hunted with the Indians true.
And when the first hard winter was through

They both gave thanks to God above
For guiding them with his love.
(Robert Bone, 7-1)

Thanksgiving
They worked until the day was done,
The little Pilgrims one by one
Planning in a happy way
Planning for Thanksgiving Day.

And soon arrived that very day
They bowed their heads for them to pray
And I am sure that they did say,
"Let us call this Thanksgiving Day."

We still remember from the start
Of the little Pilgrims' hearts
And we are thankful as we pray
For another Thanksgiving Day.
(Janice Kay Byrd, 7-1)

Thanksgiving
Today many of us visit our grand-parents, friends, aunts, and uncles on Thanksgiving. We go and have a big dinner.

When we are finished (we say, "Oh, that was a grand meal", and don't think anymore about it. But doing this we forget how Thanksgiving started and who started it.

When our forefathers landed in America they had a hard time, the first winter, but when winter was over they made friends with the Indians. They helped the Indians and the Indians helped them. One thing the Indians did was to teach our forefathers how to grow corn. After they had a good harvest they decided to give thanks to God, so they called the Indians together and feasted and gave thanks.

This is what I think we should do today instead of just eating and visiting with friends and kinfolks.

A Thanksgiving Prayer
Dear Lord, we thank Thee for this day to come together and feast and give thanks for all that Thou hast given us.
(Judy Browning, 7-II)

Steve The Orphan Boy
One morning while Sarah, the cook, was doing the dishes Sue Johnson, the Johnson's only child, was talking about the next day which was Thanksgiving. It was not going to be a happy holiday for Sue's mother and father were in Europe, and she did not know when they would be home.

About 10:00 o'clock Sue went for a walk. As she went by the Orphanage she heard someone crying. Sue looked around, and saw a boy. She asked him what he was crying about.

He said, "I am crying because I am not going to get a turkey for Thanksgiving. I am Steve Wagner." Sue said that he might come home with her if it was all right with the Orphanage. They said that he could spend the holiday with her. Steve and Sue had a happy Thanksgiving after all.
(Christine Sims, 7-1)

STOLL FIELD HISTORIC
Stoll Field, home gridiron of Kentucky's Wildcats, is recognized as the birthplace of Southern inter-collegiate football. The first grid contest ever played in the South took place on the field April 9, 1880, between old Kentucky University and Centre College. Ironically, U. of K. did not play on the field until the next year.

UK STINGY WITH GROUND
Kentucky has achieved its victories this season by stopping their opponents' ground attack. In the four games won by the Wildcats, the opposition has managed to tally only three times and in each instance by passing.

Going into the Seelbach Hotel for dinner one evening (I wasn't paying for the dinner) I met the Governor coming out. I said, "Gov, have you been up taking your Saturday night bath?"

What you mean Saturday night bath? You been reading ancient mythology?

"No, Gov, I just remember the lesson taught me by my dad blamed Mammy. If I didn't take my Saturday night bath in the River Shannon on whose banks we lived, Mammy would tell my Daddy and I got the Shillalah good and enough". So my next stop was the river Shannon.

The Gov, said, "I am not talking for publication but as you asked the question I'll tell you that I did. You understand I need the Democratic vote so keep that under your bonnet. Good Day."

The Gov. is a pretty good guy so I'll keep my trap shut. It is hard to forget the lesson learned in childhood especially when taught to the tune of a shillalah.

I stepped into the Dining Room and there was Hollis West shaking dice for a doggone good two-for-a-nickel cigar. Along comes a Wac and I made a very elaborate Durbinesque bow. Hollis asked me if I knew her. "Why Hollis that is Miss America. Didn't you notice how nice that uniform fitted her, she was poured into it." She came from Fort Knox and is on her way to West Point. She is Secretary to one of the big brass there." He appeared satisfied.

About that time Hollis spoke to a lady doled up like Mrs. Astor's pet horse. "What brings you from Union City to this den of iniquity?"

"Why I am going to get married tomorrow."

"Why you told me that you
