A very merry Christmas and a sincere apology to our correspondents. In the rush of business last week we forgot to tell you that our paper was to be published on Tuesday. If your writing is not in the paper this week, please forgive us. Next week we will publish as usual and we know you'll have lots of news about the holidays, so try to get it in as early as possible.

There are two people in Fulton, who must be named on cards with every Christmas card sent out by Deris and Mollie Wiley were the most unique we've ever seen. The card was a piano keyboard and was complete with a music book with pages that turned. It was certainly fitting for these two lovely people who have notes on their fingers and songs in their hearts.

It could only happen in Fulton. Monday afternoon the Rose Room at Smith's Cafe was turned into a room of plenty for popular Betty Jean and Jasper Vowell and their young ones whose home was recently destroyed by fire. From two until five a steady stream of gladden folks went into the Rose Room with all kinds of handsome gifts for the family. Betty Jean was overcome with all the joy her friends gave her, but she shouldn't be... they're just nice folks. Hostesses for the party were Mesdames Randall Burham, Jack Carter, K. P. Dalton, Jr., Charlie Thomas and Fred Homra.

We feel better about our young 'uns now. Contrary to popular belief around our household we find that they are normal youngsters. When they methodically and thoroughly broke five cases of Coca-Cola bottles in one hilarious morning we had our doubts, but Jean Dallas tells us something about her son that makes us feel better. She said that the other day the boy looked into the glove compartment of the car and got out a bottle of white shoe polish and completely polished the dashboard. While he was at it he also put a little polish on his and his sister's shoes. When they were not all he had had his stomach pumped twice... once when he tasted oil of citronella and another time when he drank Beebe's Cleaner. We hated the anguish he caused her, but we're so glad to know that other mothers have the same trouble as this one.

Here's a little letter from Santa to you might enjoy.

Dear St. Santa:

I am a little girl. Everyone and I have been real good this year, so I would like for you to bring me a doll called "Mamie". Make him big please, Santa. Give me a little big car for us to play with. That is all I want, but don't forget my little big girl friends, Linda Sams, Alma Phillips, Betty Sue and Carolyn. Also bring my Mother and Daddy something nice.

All my love and kisses,
Katherine Johnson.
P. S. I Love You, But please bring me the DOLL.

Have a merry Christmas folks and thanks very much for all you've meant to us.

DEN ONE CUBS MEET

We worked on our Christmas project. We closed the meeting by forming the living circle. Butch Buckingham led the law. Roland Carter furnished the refreshments.

NO CLUES YET IN LIQUOR ROBBERY

According to officials at local police headquarters, no new clues have been uncovered as to the identity of the thieves who broke into Happy's Liquor Store on Church Street here last Thursday night, December 18, about eleven o'clock.

Two youths, appearing to be about 21 years old, went into the store and told the clerk, A. M. (Polly) Yates, they wanted a fifth of liquor. When he turned his back to get the liquor, one of the boys drew a gun and demanded that he hand over the money from the cash register which amounted to $287.00 in cash.

After forcing Yates and another person in the store at that time to go into a room at the rear, and binding their hands and feet, they completed their robbery and left. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Local Post Has Annual Party

Some 125 Legionnaires and members of the Auxiliary of the local Marshall Alexander Post No. 72 of the American Legion enjoyed their annual Christmas party at the Legion Home Friday night.

The rooms were decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season and the Christmas tree, well laden with gifts, made a beautiful impression. After enjoying a bountiful Christmas dinner, the guests joined in singing Christmas carols led by Cecil Bollen and Paul Hornbeck, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Jolley at the piano. Other music was provided by the string orchestra with Ruth Byers as pianist.

Commander Tolbert Dallas acted as Master of Ceremonies and brought the welcoming address, briefly stressing the importance of the American Legion organization. Gifts were exchanged and dancing enjoyed by those present.

FIRST SOUTHERN BELL PHONE IN THE FULGHAM COMMUNITY was placed in service in residence of Mrs. Addie Swartz. Shown in picture are: Cleve Calhoun, plant foreman, Mayfield, Kentucky; W. A. Justice, Telephone Installer; Mrs. Swartz; and E. M. Gillian, Plant Manager, Mayfield, Kentucky.

Lady Santa Claus To Brighten Homes In Fulton Communities

We know a lady who wants to be Santa Claus. Its been her life-long dream and this year it will come true. She's going to be Santa Claus to the eager little children in her neighborhood, and for all the years to come she'll live that dream over and over. Come this Christmas she will even have her very own Santa Claus suit, the gift of her daughter and her son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bard. Little Billy Bard's name will be on the card, too, for we rather imagine the little fellow crystallized her desire to be a lady Santa Claus.

Each year about this time we try to run a little Christmas story about life in this vicinity and while we have seen a few good story ideas, none hit the spot as did the little trip we took Saturday night. Mrs. Ernest Jenkins, long-time devoted News reader on Route 2, was the inspiration for the story as Mrs. William Smith on Route 3. Both ladies are, in our estimation, the epitome of living a la suburbia and it doesn't take any magic for them to transmit that spirit to anyone with who they come in contact. We were riding along the county roads at dusk stopping here and there to judge entries in the Bowers Community Christmas

EUGENE BARDS WIN CHRISTMAS CONTEST

The outdoor Christmas decorations of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bard were judged the best in the Bowers Community by the three judges who viewed the exhibits, Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bard, residents of Route 3 decorated their handsome picture window with silhouettes of Christmas scenes. The entire window was adorned with colorful lights.

The door-way of the Bard home was tastefully decorated with a realigning Santa Claus and a wreath of holly. Honorable mention was accorded the original decorations of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jenkins on Route 2. An electric clock was the award and a chance to compete in the county-wide contest.

decorations contest. All along the way the gaily decorated doorways, windows, and outside shrubbery gave warmth to the true spirit of Christmas. Here and there the car lights silhouetted stock in the fields enjoying the early slumber of the evening. How different, we thought, from the hustle and bustle of Christmas holidays in the big cities. Here was the real significance of the season, in the small communities, where you could smell the pine cones in the soft December evening. A kitchen window showed busy occupants preparing the early stages of the Christmas festive board... we even caught a faint aroma of roasted Chestnuts and dried apple cake in the brisk air.

Then Bernice Smith told us, "I'm going to have my Santa Claus suit in time to visit the children on Christmas Eve." Had the statement come from an eager little child the enthusiasm could not have been any truer than was Mrs. Smith's. For years she said, "I've looked in the catalogues at the Santa Claus suits. Each year the folks would kid me about it."

You Ain't Looked --- How Do You Know!

Sometimes a newspaper can rant and rave and will lead some of its readers to believe that it knows what it is talking about, but eventually it "all come out in the wash", as the saying goes.

All during the earlier part of this year another paper published hereabouts has wailed and groaned over the Korean war crisis, damned the Democratic party for getting us there, sobbed because its sons, as well as the rest of us would have to apparently get back in uniform and fight a coming full-scale war all brought on by the stupidity of the Democratic Party . . . and it has hailed Saint Eisenhower as the one who will neatly turn the trick, withdraw us from the war with clean hands and restore low taxes, low prices, low incomes, low business and low profits.

They clap their hands in glee as St. Eisenhower puts his arm around St. MacArthur, listens to his advice and plots of better times.

Now, my friends, bear this in mind: MacArthur was reportedly released from his job because he would not back down from an old precept that every soldier learns in his early days and carries with him as an abiding principle forever: "The Best defense is a strong offense": Mac Arthur wanted to go right on into Manchuria and bomb the Chinese supply bases, as a vitally necessary step in stopping the war in Korea. We agree; that is probably the only way to stop it . . . but in so doing we plunge ourselves into full-scale war with Russia, which is bound to Korea by a treaty. We feel pretty sure that MacArthur hasn't changed his views, since they were so strong last year that he lost his job over them.

We don't like Korea a bit more than the soldier who is over there wading through snow this minute, but by George if our country signed a mutual treaty with them, along with all the others, and it's our turn to help, we resent any suggestions that we back out. How do you expect to handle that, Mr. Eisenhower paper . . . renig?

Although you have several times hinted as much, please bear in mind that the honorable course that our government pursues doesn't even consider such a step; we trust it never will though we ourselves should go to the Far East in lieu of it.

President Truman, the State Department, the Department of Defense and other defense-concerned agencies aren't filled with as much stupidity as the columns of many newspapers that write against them. These officials have struggled for six years with the Russian problem, knowing full well what they were doing at the same time they were hearing some rattle and clatter that their actions have caused here at home.

However, this nation doesn't run its defense department to suit ill-informed chain newspapers here at home, but to outwit cunning, deadly foreign enemies.

Anyone who have ever served in the Armed forces knows full well that there are thousands of matters kept secret from the civilian population of this country. If our officials told us all they knew, we'd be playing poker with Russia with our cards face up on the table as they held theirs concealed.

The one thing you can rest assured of regarding the policies of our present government heads is the fact that they have done their level best to straighten out the situation, knowing full well all of the checks and balances involved, what with public pressure on their heads and the fate of an otherwise-popular Democratic party in the unhappy offing.

We submit . . . that they succeeded in not throwing us into total war, notwithstanding the fact that they lost the election, may well emerge as the most gratifying fact of 1952.

We submit . . . that Eisenhower, MacArthur & Company doing just the opposite may emerge as the most unhappy of 1953 or 1954.

We hope, now that that we have him, that Eisenhower will make a good President, and Lord help us if he doesn't. But all this local moaning and groaning about the Democratic Party, and praising Saint Eisenhower before he has even done an official act sort of makes us disgusted at times.

As they say over in Missouri, you're going to have to "SHOW ME" . . . and around this end of Kentucky 66% of the population here feel the same way about it.

Let's don't toot the dad-blamed horn until the engine's running.

Who knows, there might be a 1928 Essex four-cylinder motor under the hood.

YOU AIN'T LOOKED . . . HOW DO YOU KNOW?

Christmas Has Everything ---

Christmas has everything — hasn't it? Christmas holds tightly many happy memories, loaded with joy and good cheer, and pierces uncertainties of the future with the bright twinkle of hope.

Christmas lifts you out of your ordinary self and pushes you up into being a person far nicer than you thought you were.

Christmas opens up friendships more numerous, more delightful and more heart warming than you knew you had.

Christmas appeals to all five of your senses. Is there any sight lovelier than gaily wrapped gifts, multicolored candles, shiny holly and decorations on a Christmas tree? Isn't there contentment in the fragrant smell of the evergreen in the living room and of spicy odors in the kitchen? Wouldn't the days seem empty without hearing again the universally-loved carols and the laughter of happy children. Isn't self-control over-strained by the taste of festive, tempting foods? And don't we respond to the invigorating touch of the sweet air outdoors and the welcome warmth of home and family within?

Yes, Christmas has everything. Hoping that the Yuletide season brings you and your loved ones peace, joy and contentment.

Drive Safely ---

Governor Urges

Governor Wetherby today joined with Commissioner of State Police Charles C. Oldham and Charles B. Jones, executive secretary of the Governor's Committee for Highway Safety, in urging a safe holiday period for Kentucky motorists.

The Governor pointed out that 12 persons were killed on Kentucky highways from Christmas Eve until the day after New Year's last year and that an additional 15 died during the two days preceding this period. He also noted that 15 were killed over Thanksgiving this year.

"The increased traffic on our highways because of the holidays, plus the usual hazards of winter driving, make it necessary that motorists be particularly careful for the next two weeks", Wetherby said. "One lapse of good safety practices can turn the holidays into a time of tragedy."

Wetherby repeated warnings made earlier by Oldham and Jones against driving while drinking. Excessive speed and drinking on the highway are two of the biggest causes of accidents and are especially dangerous this time of year he said.

Through Dec. 16, there had been 720 persons killed on Kentucky highways this year. The figure at the same time in 1951 was 710.

Sermonette of the Week ---

NEW YEAR IS TIME TO MOVE TO BETTER THINGS

(By John T. Carroll)

THIS IS Christmas Week. More people are happier now than during any other week throughout the year. The rest of the year wears people down, but Christmas Week—it's like a transfusion, like pouring of new life-blood into dying men.

HOW FORTUNATE that Christmas Week comes at the end of the year! For a full week we can luxuriate in the warmth radiating from the Crib of our new-born Savior. How many could face another year like the past without Christ present among us?

ANOTHER YEAR — like the past? God forbid! That's why we make New Year's resolutions; to correct the past blunders.

THIS WEEK is the time to reach a full arm's length for Heaven. Forget the usual New Year's resolutions that are made only for the next 365 days. There is something unchristian about making a resolution only for the coming year. If we are really determined to make an improvement, we should be determined to make it for the rest of our lives. This week is the time to make good resolutions for the years that remain to us; resolutions that will carry us out of this life in time, into the next life of eternity.

ABOVE ALL, this week is a time of opportunity. It is a chance to plan great things for the future. Beneath a cathedral clock in France there appears this sign:

"Listen! the hour has passed and we are on our way to better things."

THAT SHOULD BE our attitude now—to be on the move towards better things, eventually to Heaven.

WHEN WE LOOK to the coming year, we see the trials and hardships awaiting us and we lose heart. The dread of following our Lord Jesus Christ in footsteps that are bloodstained paralyzes us, and we shrink from following Him at all. We see the overwhelming burden of the journey as a whole.

WE FORGET the whole journey is made only step by step, one after the other. Let our prayer be, "One step enough for me, O Lord."

WE WIN Heaven as a runner wins a race: one step at a time. And if we find it difficult to press on, it should comfort us to know that in this respect we are like the rest of men. No one finds it easy. Even the great saints in the end race breatheless into Heaven.

Dick Oberlin:

Oberlin's Observations

This time of year—the time of peace on earth to men of good will, and the time of making firm, high resolves to live a better and more productive life in the brand new fresh year, is as good a time as any to look around and see just what kind of world we're living in.

In the first place it is only One World in theory. Actually it is two entirely different kinds of world.

Behind the iron curtain of Eastern Europe and Asia there is a police state. People are born, brought up, live and die under the constant surveillance of an omnipresent and ominous, threatening police power which is the strongest power of the government.

In the more or less free world, governments constitute more or less of a menace to the people. In the United States we so far have escaped the worst of the police state practices.

That does not mean that we have come off scot free. We haven't. In our own nation we find localized examples of the "police power" at its worst. There is a ray of hope in the recent conviction of several limbs of the law in a lynch case in the South.

You may not be convinced that you actually are your brother's keeper. Did you ever stop to think that if some minority of which you are a member persecutes some other minority — because your group happens at the moment to be more powerful — that the tables can be turned?

And the justification of violence is violence. Let the farmers persecute labor when labor is weak and unorganized, and labor will rend asunder the farmer when it organizes and grows strong.

The funny part of this thing is that we are all members of minority groups. We're most of us Baptists or Presbyterians or Catholics or Jews. We're most of us farmers or laborers or salesmen or housewives. We're most of us Democrats or Republicans or Socialists or Farm-Laborers.

And every one of these is a minority! It is only by joining with other minorities that we have majority rule. It is only through majority rule that our government can function.

So, when Baptists or Presbyterians or Christian Scientists or Catholics or Jews or any other religious minority is persecuted by a majority—retribution lies in wait.

What I'm trying to say is — You may be next. So the course of common sense dictates that we must jealously guard the civil and religious and political rights of our neighbors and our enemies — because if a right of our society is deprived of any of these—there is an implied and immediate threat that our own rights can be abridged.

Remember, there is no question about for whom the bell tolls.

What your Christmas means to us

The Christmas season brings to all of us who work for the Illinois Central an extra measure of pleasure.

Each of us, I think, would enjoy strolling along every busy shopping street on the railroad. We'd like to be at your side as you buy gifts for your family and friends. And we'd take special pleasure in seeing the eager eyes of children scanning the store windows.

To us, these sights shed a warmer light upon our daily work. They give fresh meaning to the trains that bring goods to your merchants' shelves and that carry to market from your farms and factories, forests and mines the products that spell prosperity for your community.

For it is at Christmas that the cotton moved in bales from Illinois Central sidings makes the prettiest dresses; the sugar shipped from refineries in Illinois Central cars makes the sweetest cookies; and the coal mined along our railroad burns brightest when generating the current to light family Christmas trees.

Thoughts like these gladden our hearts at Christmas. But our minds are sobered by the sense of our responsibility to you. So, with our wishes for a joyful Christmas, we also pledge you our unceasing effort to serve you better and to be a helpful citizen of your community.

THE STORY OF THE OYSTER AND THE EAGLE

From time to time Mrs. Mary Cain uses the story of the oyster and the eagle to illustrate to her audiences that the people who want to live in security off of the government, are in the oyster type but that it is the eagle type of folk who really amount to something.

This is the story in general. When God made the oyster, He guaranteed him absolute economic and social security. He built the oyster a house, a shell to protect him from his enemies. When hungry the oyster simply opens his mouth and the food rushes in. But when God made the eagle He said, "The blue sky is your limit. Go build yourself your own house" and the eagle went out and built his house on the highest mountain crag, where storms threaten him every day. For food he flies through miles of rain, snow and wind. The eagle and not the oyster, is the emblem of our nation.

Too, Mrs. Cain brings to the fore that these so called social welfare programs of the administration are nationally sponsored cash prizes for idleness and ineptitude and have been developed for political reasons, appealing to those who just want to be oysters. These are not her words exactly but the idea she brings to the fore. Add them up some times and see if the sum total makes what you would like to see it amount to.

THIS SOCIAL SECURITY

It is wonderful how many different slants can be given the so called social security. Of course it is supposed to be an insurance of some kind, but the propaganda that is used with it, would not permit that name.

The government could not go into the insurance business in such a wholesale way, insuring the men who are self employed, the cooks, the houseboys and everyone else. They would be laughed out of existence. So they call it "Social Security".

The people can't afford to be lulled into a false sense of security because of the so called "Social Security" laws. Under

You Ain't Looked --- How Do You Know!

Sometimes a newspaper can rant and rave and will lead some of its readers to believe that it knows what it is talking about, but eventually it "all come out in the wash", as the saying goes.

All during the earlier part of this year another paper published hereabouts has wailed and groaned over the Korean war crisis, damned the Democratic party for getting us there, sobbed because its sons, as well as the rest of us would have to apparently get back in uniform and fight a coming full-scale war all brought on by the stupidity of the Democratic Party . . . and it has hailed Saint Eisenhower as the one who will neatly turn the trick, withdraw us from the war with clean hands and restore low taxes, low prices, low incomes, low business and low profits.

They clap their hands in glee as St. Eisenhower puts his arm around St. MacArthur, listens to his advice and plots of better times.

Now, my friends, bear this in mind: MacArthur was reportedly released from his job because he would not back down from an old precept that every soldier learns in his early days and carries with him as an abiding principle forever: "The best defense is a strong offense"; MacArthur wanted to go right on into Manchuria and bomb the Chinese supply bases, as a vitally necessary step in stopping the war in Korea. We agree; that is probably the only way to stop it . . . but in so doing we plunge ourselves into full-scale war with Russia, which is bound to Korea by a treaty. We feel pretty sure that MacArthur hasn't changed his views, since they were so strong last year that he lost his job over them.

We don't like Korea a bit more than the soldier who is over there wading through snow this minute, but by George if our country signed a mutual treaty with them, along with all the others, and it's our turn to help, we resent any suggestions that we back out. How do you expect to handle that, Mr. Eisenhower paper . . . renig?

Although you have several times hinted as much, please bear in mind that the honorable course that our government pursues doesn't even consider such a step; we trust it never will though we ourselves should go to the Far East in lieu of it.

President Truman, the State Department, the Department of Defense and other defense-concerned agencies aren't filled with as much stupidity as the columns of many newspapers that write against them. These officials have struggled for six years with the Russian problem, knowing full well what they were doing at the same time they were hearing some rattle and clatter that their actions have caused here at home.

However, this nation doesn't run its defense department to suit ill-informed chain newspapers here at home, but to outwit cunning, deadly foreign enemies.

Anyone who have ever served in the Armed forces knows full well that there are thousands of matters kept secret from the civilian population of this country. If our officials told us all they knew, we'd be playing poker with Russia with our cards face up on the table as they held their concealed.

The one thing you can rest assured of regarding the policies of our present government heads is the fact that they have done their level best to straighten out the situation, knowing full well all of the checks and balances involved, what with public pressure on their heads and the fate of an otherwise-popular Democratic party in the unhappy offing.

We submit . . . that they succeeded in not throwing us into total war, notwithstanding the fact that they lost the election, may well emerge as the most gratifying fact of 1952.

We submit . . . that Eisenhower, MacArthur & Company doing just the opposite may emerge as the most unhappy of 1953 or 1954.

We hope, now that that we have him, that Eisenhower will make a good President, and Lord help us if he doesn't. But all this local moaning and groaning about the Democratic Party, and praising Saint Eisenhower before he has even done an official act sort of makes us disgusted at times.

As they say over in Missouri, you're going to have to "SHOW ME" . . . and around this end of Kentucky 66% of the population here feel the same way about it.

Let's not toot the dad-blamed horn until the engine's running.

Who knows, there might be a 1928 Essex four-cylinder motor under the hood.

YOU AIN'T LOOKED . . . HOW DO YOU KNOW?

Christmas Has Everything---

Christmas has everything — hasn't it? Christmas holds tightly many happy memories, loaded with joy and good cheer, and pierces uncertainties of the future with the bright twinkle of hope.

Christmas lifts you out of your ordinary self and pushes you up into being a person far nicer than you thought you were.

Christmas opens up friendships more numerous, more delightful and more heart warming than you knew you had.

Christmas appeals to all five of your senses. Is there any sight lovelier than gaily wrapped gifts, multicolored candles, shiny holly and decorations on a Christmas tree? Isn't there contentment in the fragrant smell of the evergreen in the living room and of spicy odors in the kitchen? Wouldn't the days seem empty without hearing again the universally-loved carols and the laughter of happy children. Isn't self-control over-strained by the taste of festive, tempting foods? And don't we respond to the invigorating touch of the sweet air outdoors and the welcome warmth of home and family within?

Yes, Christmas has everything. Hoping that the Yuletide season brings you and your loved ones peace, joy and contentment.

Drive Safely ---

Governor Urges

Governor Wetherby today joined with Commissioner of State Police Charles C. Oldham and Charles B. Jones, executive secretary of the Governor's Committee for Highway Safety, in urging a safe holiday period for Kentucky motorists.

The Governor pointed out that 12 persons were killed on Kentucky highways from Christmas Eve until the day after New Year's last year and that an additional 15 died during the two days preceding this period. He also noted that 15 were killed over Thanksgiving this year.

"The increased traffic on our highways because of the holidays, plus the usual hazards of winter driving, make it necessary that motorists be particularly careful for the next two weeks", Wetherby said. "One lapse of good safety practices can turn the holidays into a time of tragedy."

Wetherby repeated warnings made earlier by Oldham and Jones against driving while drinking. Excessive speed and drinking on the highway are two of the biggest causes of accidents and are especially dangerous this time of year he said.

Through Dec. 16, there had been 720 persons killed on Kentucky highways this year. The figure at the same time in 1951 was 710.

Sermonette of the Week -

NEW YEAR IS TIME TO MOVE TO BETTER THINGS

(By John T. Carroll)

THIS IS Christmas Week. More people are happier now than during any other week throughout the year. The rest of the year wears people down, but Christmas Week—it's like a transfusion, like pouring of new life-blood into dying men.

HOW FORTUNATE that Christmas Week comes at the end of the year! For a full week we can luxuriate in the warmth radiating from the Crib of our new-born Savior. How many could face another year like the past without Christ present among us?

ANOTHER YEAR — like the past? God forbid! That's why we make New Year's resolutions; to correct the past blunders.

THIS WEEK is the time to reach a full arm's length for Heaven. Forget the usual New Year's resolutions that are made only for the next 365 days. There is something unchristian about making a resolution only for the coming year. If we are really determined to make an improvement, we should be determined to make it for the rest of our lives. This week is the time to make good resolutions for the years that remain to us; resolutions that will carry us out of this life in time, into the next life of eternity.

ABOVE ALL, this week is a time of opportunity. It is a chance to plan great things for the future. Beneath a cathedral clock in France there appears this sign:

"Listen! the hour has passed and we are on our way to better things."

THAT SHOULD BE our attitude now—to be on the move towards better things, eventually to Heaven.

WHEN WE LOOK to the coming year, we see the trials and hardships awaiting us and we lose heart. The dread of following our Lord Jesus Christ in footsteps that are bloodstained paralyzes us, and we shrink from following Him at all. We see the overwhelming burden of the journey as a whole.

WE FORGET the whole journey is made only step by step, one after the other. Let our prayer be, "One step enough for me, O Lord."

WE WIN Heaven as a runner wins a race: one step at a time. And if we find it difficult to press on, it should comfort us to know that in this respect we are like the rest of men. No one finds it easy. Even the great saints in the end race breathless into Heaven.

Dick Oberlin:

Oberlin's Observations

This time of year—the time of peace on earth to men of good will, and the time of making firm, high resolves to live a better and more productive life in the brand new fresh year, is as good a time as any to look around and see just what kind of world we're living in.

In the first place it is only One World in theory. Actually it is two entirely different kinds of world.

Behind the iron curtain of Eastern Europe and Asia there is a police state. People are born, brought up, live and die under the constant surveillance of an omnipresent and ominous, threatening police power which is the strongest power of the government.

In the more or less free world, governments constitute more or less of a menace to the people. In the United States we so far have escaped the worst of the police state practices.

That does not mean that we have come off scot free. We haven't. In our own nation we find localized examples of the "police power" at its worst. There is a ray of hope in the recent conviction of several limbs of the law in a lynch case in the South.

You may not be convinced that you actually are your brother's keeper. Did you ever stop to think that if some minority of which you are a member persecutes some other minority — because your group happens at the moment to be more powerful — that the tables can be turned?

And the justification of violence is violence. Let the farmers persecute labor when labor is weak and unorganized, and labor will rend asunder the farmer when it organizes and grows strong.

The funny part of this thing is that we are all members of minority groups. We're most of us Baptists or Presbyterians or Catholics or Jews. We're most of us farmers or laborers or salesmen or housewives. We're most of us Democrats or Republicans or Socialists or Farm-Laborers.

And every one of these is a minority! It is only by joining with other minorities that we have majority rule. It is only through majority rule that our government can function.

So, when Baptists or Presbyterians or Christian Scientists or Catholics or Jews or any other religious minority is persecuted by a majority—retribution lies in wait.

What I'm trying to say is — You may be next. So the course of common sense dictates that we must jealously guard the civil and religious and political rights of our neighbors and our enemies — because if a right of our society is deprived of any of these — there is an implied and immediate threat that our own rights can be abridged.

Remember, there is no question about for whom the bell tolls.

Miss Eddie Matlock, Mr. James Albert Huey United In Marriage At Beautiful Ceremony

In an impressive candlelight service held Sunday afternoon, December 21, at two-thirty o'clock at the First Baptist Church, Miss Eddie Catherine Matlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Matlock of Fulton, became the bride of Mr. James Albert Huey, son of Mrs. Edna Huey and the late David Huey of Troy, Tennessee in the presence of a large assembly of friends and relatives. The officiating minister was the Rev. J. T. Hart, pastor of the South Fulton Baptist Church, using the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Lyndal Shirk, of Paducah, aunt of the bride, provided a program of nuptial music preceding and during the ceremony. Mrs. Joe Pat Burton sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly".

The vows were pledged before the altar which was flanked by the candelabra holding lighted candles against a background of greenery studded with bridal white chrysanthemums.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was radiantly lovely in an original gown by Renee in crystalline imported French Chantilly lace combined with nylon tulle over bridal white satin. The strapless lace bodice had a shirred inset of tulle across the front. The brief lace bolero with standing boby Peter Collars had long fitted sleeves which buttoned from the elbow to the petal point over the hand. The triple gathered skirts were accentuated over taffeta underskirts. The outer tulle skirt was trimmed with the wide scalloped edge lace banding to form a tunic in apron fashion. Her double tier shoulder veil of misty French illusion hand rolled hems fell in natural points from a Poke of complementing lace embroidered in seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with her white orchid corsage with streamers.

Miss Vivian Matlock, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown and matching halo hat, of Cyclamen iridescent yarn dyed taffeta. The strapless bodice had insets of sheer fabric across the front. The brief Spencer jacket buttoned at the standing baby Peter collar. The bracelet length sleeves had the new French cuff. She carried a cascade arrangement of yellow carnations.

The bridesmaids included Miss Alma Phillips and Mrs. Geneva Matlock of Paducah, sister-in-law of the bride, who wore identical ballerina length gown and matching halo hats of mint green iridescent yarn dyed taffeta. They carried cascades arrangement of pink carnations.

Harold Huey served his brother as best man. Ushers were: Johnnie Wall, Troy; Melvin Lavern Matlock, Paducah; Paul Huey, Obion, Tenn.; and D. Huey, Troy, Tenn.

Dennis Huey, cousin of the groom, served as ring bearer. Little Miss Melva Lynn Matlock, served her sister as flower girl, wearing a ballerina frock of lime yellow taffeta and net fashioned like the gowns of the older attendants; her halo hat matched her dress and she wore a wristlet of feathered carnations. Miss Patsy Huey, cousin of the groom, was chosen acolyte.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Matlock wore a dress of mauve imported silk shantung, fashioned along softly tailored lines; the fitted jacket had a deep shawl collar of the shantung in a trapunto design. Her accessories were black and she wore a deep purple orchid.

The groom's mother wore light gray silk shantung in coat style; her hat was powder blue and her accessories were also blue; she wore a deep purple orchid corsage.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was over-laid with a beautiful lace table cloth, centered with the lovely three tiered cake. Punch was served from crystal bowl at either end of the table, by Miss Linda Sams and Mrs. Maurice Barham. Miss Nancy Patrick, of Memphis, served the cake.

Hostesses included Mesdames Wales Austin, Lyndal Shirk, U. N. Gibbs, and Louis Johnson. Following the reception the couple left on a bridal trip to Florida.

For traveling, the new bride chose a blue woolen skirt and blouse with a harmonizing blue poodle box coat. She wore black accessories, and her white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

They will reside in Troy, Tenn.

A delicious and well-planned dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour. The table was decorated beautifully in honor of Mrs. Ernest Hancock for her golden wedding anniversary.

The club was honored with three visitors, Mrs. Elizabeth King Davis, Misses Linda Sams, and Eddie Matlock, and one new member, Mrs. O. E. Nanney.

Mrs. H. C. Sams will be hostess to the club in January at the One and All Club House.

WELFARE WORKERS CLUB ENJOYS MEETING AT CLUB HOUSE

The next club meeting will be with Mrs. Robert Rucker in South Fulton on Jan. 28.

FULTON HOSPITAL ENTERTAINS WITH PARTY AT ROSE ROOM

Cub Scouts, Parents Enjoy Annual Party

The Cub Scouts of Fulton and their parents and leaders enjoyed their annual Christmas party of Cub Scout Pack No. 40 Friday night at the First Methodist Church.

On entering the meeting room, parents of the boys took part in clever contests in keeping with Christmas, with Mrs. William Taylor winning the ladies' prize, and Finis Vancil the Dads. The program got underway with the boys filling into the room, each carrying a gift which will be sent to an orphanage.

During the first part of the program, badges were awarded to cubs who had completed various achievements. The highest honor in cubbing, the Webelos, went to Terry Taylor.

Pretty little Rita Kramer, cub scout queen, opened the program with a piano solo, an unusual arrangement of "Silent Night." The attendants to the queen, Nancy Bushart and Sandra Williams, sang a duet, "It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas," and a cute number, "Don't Give Me No Gooses for Christmas." An instrumental duet, "White Christmas," was played by Nancy Adams with her cornet, and David Daniels with his saxophone.

Little Nancy Treas charmed her audience as, dressed in red from tip to toe, she sang, "Rudolph," and "All I want for Christmas Is My One Front Tooth." She also led the cubs in singing "Up On The Housetop."

Climaxing the evening's program was a hilarious skit presented by the den chiefs of the pack. As Tommy Tanner read "Twas the Night Before Christmas," the take-off of the famous poem. Pa, in his red flannels and drooping hat, was played by George Burnette, and Maurice Taylor was dressed in nightgown and kerchief as Ma. The giggling kids in bed with their funny books were Roger Pigue and Gene Vancil, and the rather peculiar-shaped St. Nick, sporting a black mustache and no beard, was David Clements. Don Campbell and Melvin Merryman provided the sound effects.

No Broadway show ever got more laughs than did this skit, from Ma kicking Pa out of bed to investigate the noise she "heard" to the scene in which St. Nick "got right to work," stuffing the family silver inside his clothes.

Following the skit, a more realistic Santa Claus appeared on the scene and distributed the many gifts piled under the decorated tree. Among them were gifts from the cubs to their leader, Nelson Tripp and Mrs. Tripp, which were Revereware cooking utensils. A gift was also presented to the oldest dad present, G. C. Tripp. Sacks of candy were given to each child present.

CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM IN FULL SWING; MOST SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN EXPECTED

The Crusade For Freedom is in full swing across the State and early indications are that 1952's Crusade will be the most successful in its three-year history.

Robert E. Hatton, State campaign chairman, said 84 county chairmen are setting up active campaigns and "before we're through" campaigns will have been operating in 100 of the State's 120 counties.

Robert P. Steptoe, executive director said 400,000 Freedom Grams had been sent out from the Crusade's Louisville headquarters to all sections of the State. He estimated a million of the messages will have been distributed by the time the campaign closes.

The bulk of the Freedom Grams are being distributed through the public and parochial schools of the State, Steptoe said.

This will mean some 700,000 of the messages will be distributed by school-age children in Kentucky. The balance are being distributed by county chairmen, labor and other groups.

First large financial contribution to the Crusade for Freedom came from the Armored Center at Fort Knox. Colonel John L. Ryan, Jr., Chief of Staff, turned over a check for $5,000 to Hatton. The money was contributed by officers and men stationed at the training center. Colonel Ryan said. Kentucky's goal is $50,000 and 250,000 Freedom Grams.

awarded contracts for $699,151 to cover road and bridge repair work in thirteen counties. Involved in the letting were jobs for road repairs and reconstruction in Jefferson, Graves, Muhlenberg, Wolfe and Jessamine counties and bridge repairs in Boyle, Caldwell, Floyd, Harlan, Johnson, Marion, Lyon and Woodford Counties.

TAX COMPROMISE APPROVED

The Kentucky Court of Appeals gave its approval to a compromise tax plan by which four barge lines were enabled to settle back franchise tax claims with the State Department of Revenue for $210,888. The State will receive $68,307 of the sum, while counties and school districts along the Ohio River where the lines operate will receive the remaining $142,581. The lines in question are American Barge Lines, Ohio River Company, Mississippi Valley Barge Lines and Union Barge Line.

FARM PRODUCTION HIGH

Kentucky's nine institutional farms produced $985,729 worth of food for inmates and patients in the State Welfare and Mental Institutions during the first 10 months of 1952. Included were $423,478 worth of vegetables, $222,023 worth of meat, $288,000 worth of milk and eggs valued at $52,227. The production was sufficient to provide 1.25 pints of milk and two pounds of vegetables a day for each patient or inmate.

DISCONTINUANCE REFUSED

The Kentucky Railroad Commission refused to allow the Illinois Central Railroad Company to discontinue daytime passenger service between Louisville and Fulton, Ky., on the ground "there is reasonable probability that conditions which have produced a loss will change and the service operated at a profit." The two trains provide the only daytime east-west passenger service from Louisville to Fulton by way of Fort Knox, Leitchfield, Beaver Dam, Central City, Greenville,

Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Heruman ruled that the City of Mayfield may lawfully exact of non-residents who use its streets for all-day parking purposes a license. It was explained that many non-residents bring their automobiles to Mayfield, park them there early in the morning, board a bus for the Atomic Energy plant near Paducah, and return in the evening, for

RATE INCREASE ASKED

The Public Service Commission took under advisement a plea of the Southern Bell Telephone Company for a $2,582,000 rate increase — the fourth request in six years. The company claims the increase is essential to permit it to undertake a needed program of expansion.

HALL APPOINTED

Joe J. Hall was named executive officer of the State Police by Commissioner Charles C. Oldham. Hall, who was formerly in charge of the State Police's Bureau of Investigation, will carry the rank of major and will serve as commissioner when Oldham is out of state. He replaced Charles L. During a hurried trip to Japan from a Korean base of the 1st Marine Air Wing, he ordered a new uniform from a Japanese tailor. As a pattern, he left an old uniform. There was a large, visible darn over one of the trouser pockets.

Several weeks later, when he returned to pick up the new uniform and the older sample, he found that the tailor had done his work too well. The new uniform was perfect in every respect — including an exact duplication of the darned spot. (From the Reserve Marine.)

A JOYOUS CHRISTMAS

WE CAN think of no finer Yuletide sentiment than the old familiar "MERRY CHRISTMAS." We never grow tired of saying it to our friends nor do we grow tired of hearing it from others. It is the one universal greeting that carries with it the thought of others and the appreciation of fine friendships and associations.

It is this sentiment that forms the background of our thinking of you at this glad time of the year. We want you to know that when we say, "MERRY CHRISTMAS," we include our thankfulness for all past favors. The best of everything to each of you.

MOVIE ADVERTISEMENT CENSORSHIP

An official censorship of movie advertising has been established here under a decree of the Geneva cantonal government. The head of the cantonal department of justice said the censorship had been made necessary by "increasingly objectionable" advertising. "We received an immense number of complaints," he said. "We must put a stop to this debauchery of more or less unclothed women accompanied by disproportionate commentaries designed to lure the public."

Under the new decree, any display advertisement must be submitted for approval three days in advance of use. The decree is also aimed at stopping the practice of advertising innocuous pictures as "strictly for adults only."

LADY SANTA CLAUS

and I'd let it go. But this year I kept looking and talking about it as usual, until Joan (her daughter) just had to tell me that my gift had arrived and it was... yes, the Santa Claus suit.

Her joy was greater when she opened the box and she saw the mask of the jolly ole fellow of Christmas. "He has the sweetest face you ever saw," she said. But no mask could ever cover the gentle thought that is Mrs.

position.
It must be like Christmas every day in the year in some home in the busy communities around Fulton. The good people are always baking, cooking, making baskets, trays, and doing things for other people. We especially enjoyed the banter between Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Jenkins as they compared the activities in the clubs around us. For our money they're the most active, genuine folks we ever knew, yet there are many who think that they should do more.

We judged the Christmas decorations, and a difficult task it was. The Shaws, the Fowlkes, the Faraboughs, the Wade Coxes all had lovely displays. At the Jenkins home it is always a winter fairyland. Mrs. Jenkins never uses the standard tree, but selects a sturdy branch from the farm, paints it in gleaming silver and what is more, makes most of the ornaments.

Yes, indeed, our trip gave us the warmth of the Christmas season and the idea for a good Christmas story, don't you think?

CUPID SHRINE THRIVING
Most of the Shinto shrines in Japan are in poor shape financially, but not the shrine of Izumo, the Japanese counterpart of Cupid. It's thriving.

Some Japanese believe all marriages are arranged by the good Izumo. The newspaper, Asahi, reported from Matsue, Western Honshu island, that the shrine sold four million charms last year, netting $220,000.

In addition those grateful for good wives or husbands, or those wishing good marriages, made donations. About 240 couples, including some American soldiers married to Japanese girls, chose the shrine hall for their nuptials.

The enterprising management of the shrine recently created a board of five "sob sisters" to answer mail from dissatisfied husbands or wives, and others seeking good matches, Asahi said.

NATURAL GAS IN TOKYO

The Tokyo prefectural government hopes that exploitation of a large natural gas deposit beneath the city may eventually solve the fuel problems of this metropolis of five million persons.

A survey just completed by the Japanese economic stabilization board estimates the potential beneath Tokyo at 52 billion cubic yards.

American gas experts say this would be a sizable field, about one-third that of California's big Rio Vista field at the time of its discovery. The discovery well was drilled last March. It hit gas and warm salt water at 1,900 feet.

TV GROWING PAINS

What television needs most today is an adult audience willing to help TV through its childhood and adolescence.

So says Jack Morrison, lecturer in theater arts at the University of California. Adults should be selective about their programs and should let the sponsor know by mail which shows they like, says Morrison.

As a last resort representative organizations can ask the Federal Communications Commission for consumer hearings on television content matters.

FREEZERS SELL IN ALASKA

The super-salesman who sells iceboxes to eskimos is not just a myth.

FINDS RELATIVES' OLD DOCUMENT

Theodor Liedstedt got out of a refugee camp in 1949 and rented a room of his own together with some second-hand furniture, from local welfare authorities. Included was a desk which looked like an antique.

Recently he bought a second-hand book that described secret drawers master craftsmen once built in desks and cabinets. Liedstedt studied his desk and found a secret drawer that contained a document dated in 1813. It testified that a Theodor Liedstedt and his wife gave their wedding rings for their Prussian fatherland, then at war with Napoleon.

The document was issued at Glogau, an East German town which Theodore Liedstedt's name sake and great-grand-nephew had fled in 1945.

SOVIETS "ELECTROCUTE" CHAMPAGNE

One form of making champagne here is an "electrical method." Moscow scientists have claimed that by electrocuting the champagne in a certain way it can be made as good as the fine French champagne. It only takes a very short time, so they say.

Official Soviet figures show champagne production is up 121 per cent over 1950.

KENTUCKY'S MENTAL PATIENTS TO GET MANY HAPPY HOLIDAY PROGRAMS

Patients and inmates of Kentucky's mental hospitals and welfare institutions will have a full season of celebration at Christmas time this year.

Christmas observances will range from the awarding of a week at home to some children at the Houses of Reform in Greendale to the regular religious services and Christmas dinners that will feature Christmas at all institutions.

At Kentucky State Reformatory, LaGrange, inmates will present a musical comedy on Christmas eve.

At this time Christmas packages will be presented to the 2,000 inmates. The performers will take the same musical comedy to Kentucky Children's Home, Lyndon, and Central State Hospital, Lakeland, both in Jefferson county, during the Christmas season.

A number of Christmas events are planned for the Children's Home. The Kiwanis and Younger Woman's clubs of Louisville are to entertain all the children at a party in the Brown Hotel, Louisville, December 23. The clubs are seeing to it that each child will have a number of gifts, and gifts are also coming from other organizations, which are giving parties.

All the children in the home have been taken on Christmas shopping expeditions to Louisville so that they may buy gifts for the other children and for family and friends at home.

Many of the children will spend Christmas in their own homes. Arrangements have been made by the social service staff at the home, and visits will be allowed where there is someone for the children to visit.

At Greendale, more than 100 boys and girls will be allowed Christmas at home. The Honor Citizens, those with the highest citizenship rank at the schools as determined by behavior and adjustment, will get a week off. Senior Citizens, the next in rank, will get three or four days. This will mark the first time in Greendale history that a large number of children have spent Christmas at home.

For those who stay at the schools over Christmas, there will be parties, caroling and other entertainment. Church and civic groups from Lexington will provide gifts for the children.

Children at the Kentucky Training Home, Frankfort, will be entertained by 14 church and civic groups during the holidays.

Jolley's Lodge Opens Near Here

Jolley's Motor Lodge on the Fulton Highway, three miles from Union City, is now open for business on a partial scale. This $100,000 court is the newest motor court in this area.

Eight of the twenty rooms of the lodge have been completed and are in use according to an announcement made by the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Jolley.

It is expected that the lodge will be completed in all details by January 1st. The lodge was designed by Will Austin Nailling of Union City. Construction began last June 15.

During January, the Jolleys plan to hold open house at the lodge.

Dix River Dam, erected in 1924 across Dix River in Mercer county, was one of the first hydro-electric operations in Kentucky.

that even I, a self-appointed chronicler of them, have a hard time keeping up with the procession. The coming of dial telephones has been so quiet that it did not disrupt our ways much to cease to call the old-fashioned telephone girl and give our number, being careful to distinguish five and nine. The learning of the new way to get our party at the other end of the line occupied us so much that we played with our dial telephones as with some new toy. And, meanwhile, there had gone from among us one of the really fascinating people whom I have known, the central girl. In a good-sized town, such as the one in which I live, the telephone girl was just an employee, with certain hours to work, with a wage scale just like any other employee. But she was the lineal descendant of the old-time central girl of my youth, who, like the country doctor and the parson and parents, had no set hours and was subject to call at any time.

A central girl—usually a matron, in and around Fidelity—was not merely a woman who heard your ringing on Line A and called some one on Line B for you. It did not take much skill to do that; even small children in the homes of the people who kept the centrals could do that in case of an emergency, such as mother's being busy with the canning or planting the garden. That would serve temporarily, but the real central girl was something more than a mechanical gadget that could connect two lines. She was the source of much of the information in the neighborhoods into which her telephone lines penetrated. She knew who was sick, who had died, who had got married, who had a new baby, where there was trouble or joy or sadness. She could tell you where and when the church services of half a dozen country places would be and who would preach where. When the only newspapers we had were pretty thin weeklies from the distant county seat, the central girl knew more news than any one ever reported from Fidelity or elsewhere. Even I, a long-time reporter from Fidelity, did not know half as much as the central girl, though, I must confess, some of her news would hardly have been accepted by our little county paper. I can brag a bit that I was reporting from Fidelity before we ever had a telephone and also that I helped put up the first line in our neck of the woods. My reporting terminated in 1906, when I went away from Fidelity with my telescope filled with clothes and books, but the central girl came into her own and held it with no interruptions until automobiles somewhat undermined her service. The last time I was at Fidelity, there was no telephone nearer than six miles; but for two cars and the radios, the whole neighborhood now might be as far away as it was before the eventful 1904 and 1905, when the singing wires were stretched across our fields and through our woods.

The kind of central girls I knew briefly in the last years I lived on the farm where as talkative as Myrt on the Fibber McGee show. They knew just whom I would like to talk to on another line—the girl who lived in the old brick mansion—and kidded me nightly when I rang to get connection with the line on the parallel ridge. If my weak ring failed to bring out the central keeper, who probably was busy with the supper dishes, others on our line rang for me—sometimes several of them—and got rewarded by hearing what I said to the girl. And they, too, would break in while I was talking to the girl, whom I still have never seen, and kid me about my nightly devotion to some one on the distant ridge. There was no limit on talking in those days; no hot-tempered central girl disconnected the lines when she felt that enough was enough.

If anybody needed to use the phone, he took down his receiver, listened to enough of the conversation to gather whether it was a matter of life and death, and then asked us in back-country politeness if he might call some one on another line. We hung up, central disconnected the lines, and our neighbor on her line or mine got his party. It was great sport while it lasted; and now, like youth and a lot of other things, it is gone or going fast.

Seven counties border Lake Cumberland, Kentucky's latest man-made lake. They are: Russell, Clinton, Wayne, McCreary, Whitley, Laurel, and Pulaski.

DEER-KILLING DOGS

Deer are faced with a new danger — undisciplined domestic dogs.

George Stevenson, provincial game inspector, reported the dogs are becoming more savage than mountain lions during the some seasons of the year. He said the Game Department had to kill 12 dogs in two weeks recently.

The dogs go up into high ground near the shore and chase the deer down on the beach, then bite a hole in the stomach or throat and leave the deer to die.

When the snow is deep, they chase deer until the deer are exhausted, then kill them and leave them. "In very rare cases, the dogs make a meal of the meat," Stevenson said.

REFUGEES STUDY AMERICA

Right now the "Blue and White Club" has 72 members — all displaced persons from Europe. Next month there may be more or less depending on how fast the members are absorbed into the American way of life.

As soon as the newcomers learn a little of the language, the customs and the peculiarities of the country they drop out. That's good news to the social workers who operate the organization. The club is sponsored by the Young Men's and Women's Hebrew Association. It was organized in 1949.

When someone asked if people in Europe realize what America is like, one refugee member pondered and said: "The people back there know, but they can't believe it. I can hardly believe it myself."

WILDLIFE DIET

People who are finicky about their diet should try the fare of "English John", a trapper on the fringe of this mining settlement, 100 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

English John has lived with the Indians of Manitoba as one of them since he was a small boy. He speaks the language better than most natives.

In his time — John figures he's "somewhere around 63" — he has eaten most of the foods of his adopted brothers including caribou, fish, beaver, squirrel, lynx and hawks. But he has often gone hungry while on the trap-line trial.

"Sometimes we would go three or four days without food," he says. "We had to live on the wild stuff. If there was none we went hungry. But I backed up on night owls and skunks. That was too much for me."

SMOOTH MAILBOX PAINT JOB

Ever wonder why you rarely see a "Wet Paint" sign on a U. S. mail box?

Complications like sticky fingers and smudged clothes are avoided by replacing the mail box with a newly painted one when a paint job is needed.

In inland areas this is done every two or three years. In coastal cities replacement is made annually. Last year it took 9,000 gallons of quick-drying enamel to keep the nation's mail boxes spruced up.

U. S. MINISTER AIDS ENGLISH CHURCH

A donation to help repair and maintain a 13th Century English church, one of the oldest in England, has been made by a New York minister.

The Rev. R. C. Hunsicker, vicar of St. Paul's Chapel here, sent a $200 check to the rector of Ilfley Church, Oxfordshire, England. The New York clergyman said he was impressed with the antiquity and magnificence of the church he saw on a visit last summer.

SHOES HAVE GOLD

Customs officers, searching a newly arrived small Chinese ship, noticed a pair of shoes in a passageway. Inside the shoes, they found 12 ounces of gold — worth about $500.

No one confessed ownership, so the customs men made everyone aboard the ship try the shoes on. They fitted no one — particularly well. Stymied, the officers made no arrests but took the gold away.

Fifty thousand gallons of traffic paint are required each year for Kentucky highways.

THE SWEET PEACH

Fresh peaches 'n cream are here today and preserved peaches may stay throughout the winter. Freestone peaches, now plentiful on the market, are best in this marmalade recipe.

Peach-Orange-Marmalade

15 medium size peaches
3 oranges
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 pound blanched almonds
Peel and chop peaches and oranges. Cook orange peel until tender and chop fine or run through food chopper. Add chopped rind and lemon juice to fruit. Measure fruit mixture. Add three-fourths cup sugar for each cup fruit.

Cook slowly, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking. When mixture becomes clear and begins to thicken add chopped almonds. Cook to desired thickness. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal.

Keep Fruit from Darkening
Drop peeled peaches into a vinegar-salt solution to keep them from darkening while you work. Add two tablespoons each vinegar and salt to one gallon water. Rinse the peaches in clear water before using.

Sweet Pickled Peaches

6 pounds clingstone peaches
Whole cloves
2 pounds brown sugar
1 pint cider vinegar
1 stick cinnamon
Wash and peel whole peaches. Place two whole cloves in each peach. Combine sugar, vinegar and cinnamon and boil for fifteen minutes. Add a few peaches at a time and cook until tender. Pack in sterilized jars. Add two or three whole cloves to each jar. Fill with hot syrup and seal.

Yield: About 8 pints.
Pickled peaches served hot from a chafing dish give your meal the gourmet's touch. Hot or cold, sweet spicy peaches are especially good with fried chicken, roast beef or lamb.

MINE OPERATORS GET PRICE HIKE

The Office of Price Stabilization today issued an order making it clear that bituminous coal mine operators are authorized to increase their ceiling prices to cover additional labor costs occasioned by the President's order granting miners a wage increase of $1.90 per day—40 cents higher than the amount approved last month by the Wage Stabilization Board. Higher price ceilings for bituminous coal are not expected to result in any substantial increase in industry-wide market prices.

The price agency had previously authorized a pass-through of increased labor costs, but the form of the new wage increase order necessitated a technical change in the price regulation to permit bituminous ceilings to reflect the higher figure.

With the $1.90 increase, OPS said, bituminous mine operators will incur, on the average, an additional cost increase of approximately six to seven cents per ton above the 33-35 cents per ton estimated to result from the $1.50 WSB award. These cost figures reflect both the wage award and the 10-cent per ton increase in royalty payments for the miner's welfare and retirement fund.

These figures, OPS emphasized, are average figures, and the actual cost increase will vary widely from mine to mine as a result of difference in productivity and volume.

While authorizing a pass-through of the higher labor costs stemming from the $1.90 wage award, agency officials said industry sources indicated there will be little change in soft coal prices as a result.

Prices had been previously raised to cover the $1.50 increase approved by the WSB, and indications were that with scattered exceptions involving relatively few sizes of coal, there would be no further increase.

Practically every type of fish that inhabits the waters of the south-eastern United States may be found in Kentucky waters. Kentucky Lake has three types of black bass, stripes, crappies, bream, catfish, carp, and a sprinkling of walleyes and pickeral. Many lesser known fish also inhabit these waters, but are not common.

REDUCING JET ENGINE WEIGHT

There is a way, at least theoretically, to reduce the weight of jet airplanes, says William C. Schoolfield, chief of aerodynamics at Chance Vought Aircraft.

The pilot must fly at top speed, say about 690 miles an hour. He must maintain a constant attitude and he must head due east. If these simple directions are followed, the weight of a 25,000-pound fighter will decrease about 135 pounds, Schoolfield maintains.

If a pilot could fly at about 16,790 miles an hour, his plane wouldn't weigh anything, he says. The reduction in weight is the result of a conflict between gravitational and centrifugal forces.

Beer consumption per head of the 49 million West Germans rose to 11.6 gallons in 1951 compared with 9.2 gallons in 1950.

The pre-war high was reached in 1929 when 22.5 gallons per person was consumed by the then 65 million inhabitants of Germany.

BANDIT ACCOMPLICE SENTENCED

A 21-year-old Chinese was sentenced recently to 15 years imprisonment on a charge of conspiring with Communist terrorists. He was arrested in connection with the assassination of a British planter in 1948.

The arrest was made when two former bandits, now operating with a police jungle squad, saw him riding a bicycle in a nearby village. They testified at his trial that he was a member of the band which killed the planter.

STATE'S SCHOOLS NEED MORE ROOM

Kentucky's schools are bursting at the seams for lack of adequate buildings.

A study made by the State Department of Education today disclosed that new construction costing $137,844,316 is needed to provide Kentucky's public elementary and high schools with decent housing for the approximately 520,000 children attending them.

The study — inaugurated more than a year ago — was made under direction of Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction Gordie Young and Dr. Robert Mills, Erlanger, on loan to the Legislative Research Commission from the Department of Education, in connection with an education study.

The study disclosed that 42 per cent of the pupils attending public schools are housed in buildings that are overcrowded or obsolete.

The survey also revealed that to relieve overcrowded conditions there are needed 150 units of 1,138 rooms that would cost $19,058,850 in the elementary, secondary and combined fields alone. These rooms would accommodate 35,198 pupils.

To house increases, it was estimated that 92 units of 795 rooms — accommodating 23,874 pupils — costing $17,353,455 are needed.

The replacement of obsolete buildings would require 169 units of 5,578 rooms to accommodate 165,533 pupils at a cost of $221,427,111.

Also disclosed by the study are these data:

More than 200,000 children are housed in combustible buildings.

Twenty-six per cent of Kentucky's children attend schools of three rooms or less. There are yet 3,000 one-room schools in use.

Eighty per cent of the school buildings are without central heating facilities, while 12 per cent of the children attend schools without artificial lighting.

A fourth of the children attend schools with hand-operated water facilities and 36 per cent attend schools with outdoor toilets, while 2,400 children attend schools with no sanitation facilities.

According to U. S. standards, 2,357 school plants are rated unsatisfactory, while only 122 receive approved rating.

WINTER TRAVEL STARTED DEC. 13

The Florida winter travel season will open on the Illinois Central Railroad Saturday, December 13. Starting on that day the streamline City of Miami will operate to Florida from both Chicago and St. Louis on two out of every three days instead of every third day as at present. Northbound from Florida similarly increased service will be available beginning December 14.

The City of Miami celebrates the completion of twelve years of operation on December 18. The train has grown from a single train of six cars in 1940 to twin trains of 15 cars each. Leaving Chicago each train will be made up of five Pullman cars, four coaches, two 48-seat dining cars, a sleeper-bar-lounge, an observation-lounge and a baggage-dormitory car. A through Pullman car from St. Louis will join the train at Carbondale. Southbound the City of Miami leaves Chicago at 8:10 a. m., and St. Louis at 9:06 a. m., and arrives at Miami 8:40 p. m., the next day. Northbound the train leaves Miami at 5:40 p. m., and reaches St. Louis at 9:40, and Chicago at 10:55 p. m., the next day.

The services of a stewardess, who is a registered nurse, and a passenger agent are available to travelers on the City of Miami. Southbound reservations may be made for either coach or Pullman accommodations for the entire winter season.

Service to the Florida West Coast on the Illinois Central Seminole was begun December 1. Through Pullman cars are operated on alternate days from Chicago and St. Louis to St. Petersburg, Sarasota and Tampa. This train also offers daily through Pullman service from Chicago and St. Louis to Birmingham and Jacksonville.

BLIND-TRAVELERS RATE CONCESSIONS

A total of 12,116 rail and bus coupon books were issued in 1951 providing for rate concessions to blinded travelers, the American Foundation for the Blind reported.

The coupon books, issued by the foundation to legally blind persons, permits the blind person to take a sighted guide along on a trip at no extra cost. Guide dogs may also travel with their masters at no charge.

POTATO SHORTAGE IN CANADA

An unusual potato shortage in Canada has pushed prices three times higher than a year ago, and placed new wealth in the hands of the successful potato grower.

It has also reversed a traditional trading pattern. Canada, which usually sells most of her surplus potatoes to the United States, is leaning more and more on America supplies to fill the gap in her needs.

The irony is that in this potato crop year which started last July, the United States had been prepared to allow a bigger quota on shipments of Canadian potatoes to the U. S. market.

FREEDOM CRUSADE CAMPAIGN EXTENDED TWO WEEKS; HOLIDAY SEASON REASON

The Crusade for Freedom has been extended two weeks and will continue through the month of December, Robert E. Hatton, State campaign chairman announced here this week. The drive was originally scheduled to close December 15th.

The drive was extended, Hatton said, because the holiday season had prevented merchants and other cooperating groups from giving the Crusade complete attention. In addition, Freedom Grams and other campaign supplies were delayed in reaching many areas of the State, Hatton said.

Meanwhile, Robert P. Steptoo, Crusade executive director, announced completion of the State-wide organization. He said that county campaigns were underway in 101 of the State's 120 counties. Steptoo said "about one million" Freedom Grams have been mailed to county chairmen and schools throughout the State from the campaign's Louisville headquarters.

Scattered reports indicate the Crusade is gaining momentum. Campbell County co-chairman Beattie DeLong and Jake Swope said a contest is being conducted among school children for the largest number of signed Freedom-Grams. In Somerset Mike Layman, general manager of radio station WSFC, has launched a county-wide campaign. Senator Homer E. Losey is chairman of Pulaski County's campaign.

First industry-employee contributions have come from the Wald Manufacturing Company in Maysville and Bernheim Distillery in Louisville.
