Mrs. W. O. Locke doesn't have to worry much about remembering birthday dates. All she has to do is remember the month. She has four granddaughters and all of them are born on the 23rd of a month. Her own birthday is on the 20th of the month and her daughter-in-law's birthday is on the 22. So come the middle of any month Mrs. Locke has to start making birthday cakes, in any month.

Lots of times we see the same scenery so much it becomes part of the vision. Yesterday as I drove along East State Line I looked a little more closely at the back of the Bennett Building and I saw these letters in type about three feet high: "R. E. FINE D." Haven't had time to ask anybody about the word and I just wonder how they happened to get posted up there. The Bennett building is one of Fulton's most historic spots as a former opera house, etc, but that word beats me. How about it, Mammy?

I'm somewhat heart-broken about the pitiful results of the heart fund drive at the local church Sunday. I'm almost ashamed to tell you that only ten dollars was collected for the city-wide drive, and Scouts were stationed at all the churches in town with the plastic heart canister. This is the most heart-breaking news that we've heard for Fulton and I'm sure you don't want that to happen. Why one church, with possibly the largest congregation in town only donated nine cents and that total was collected between two boys.

Of course I will agree with you that drives for funds are enough to drive a good-hearted citizen slightly crazy, but truly the heart association is doing a wonderful work and heart disease is the greatest killer of mankind in America. Won't you be good enough to send at least $1.00 to Marjorie Holder at the Fulton Bank, city drive chairman, and at least let us come somewhere near getting our goal of $600.00.

I heard a good one the other day. A nice kindly lady was telling about the time her father settled in these parts. I asked if he lived here most of his life and she said: "Lord, no, he was the borrowing coffee kind." Now, I thought that's new, wonder what she meant. When I asked her what she meant by her father being the borrowing coffee kind, she explained: "He couldn't stay put anywhere for any length of time. He changed homes from Nashville to Fulton so many times he could have borrowed coffee from all the folks along the way he got to know them so well."

SENATOR FREEMAN WANTS ALL SLOT MACHINES RUINED

Bill Offered Jointly Would Confiscate All Machines On Sight

Senator Wayne Freeman of Mayfield and Senator Thomas W. Hines of Bowling Green struck a major blow at gambling in a new bill introduced in the Kentucky General Assembly. The Senators have introduced a bill that would make the slot machine as obsolete as a buggy whip in Detroit. The bill states that a slot machine should be confiscated and destroyed whether it is used for gambling or for ornamental.

What is more they want peace officers to seize the machines with or without a warrant.

Present law requires that a slot machine must be found by a jury to have been used for gambling, or intended for such, while the proposed bill would authorize seizure on sight by any peace officer, with or without a warrant.

Heretofore when raids have been made by officers a slot machine could be turned around and covered and the officers had to prove that the machine was used for gambling. The new bill is passed and made into law, just the presence of such an instrument on a premise would permit destruction.

The manner of the bill as released by the Department of Public Safety says: "Slot machines and other gambling devices would be made contraband subject to immediate confiscation and destruction."

Farm Survey To Be Reviewed At Meet Set For Thursday

If the overall results to be desired for community development are to be undertaken they should include some plan for agriculture, a farm survey of Fulton County revealed today. The survey was made by Hiram A. Morgan, farm service adviser of Kentucky Utilities and will be fully discussed at a meeting at The Woman's Club Thursday (tonight). The meeting is under the auspices of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The number one objective should be to increase the capital value of the farm plant while increasing its productivity, and building a large income, the survey showed. Promotion and development of a more abundant life and a higher standard of living for all of the people in the county through projects and farm enterprises should be designed to accomplish these objectives, the report continued.

BLUE AND GOLD BANQUET SCORES BIG HIT HERE

Tripp and His Boys Get Together Again For Gala Evening

The Blue and Gold banquet held annually by the Cub Scouts of Fulton was held last Friday night and it was the usually gay and happy event that it always is. This year it was probably the largest one ever held with nearly 250 persons in attendance.

Cubmaster Nelson Tripp presided as master of ceremonies and W. L. Holland, superintendent of Fulton City Schools, was principal speaker. Mr. Holland made the right kind of speech for little fellows sitting up past their bedtime. He presented his talk "Our American Heritage" as a sort of quiz show, telling the important facts in the lives of the great men who have made our country great and the little boys would come back right away with George Washington, Thomas Edison, Abraham Lincoln, et al. It was the kind of speech that a well qualified schoolman would make who knows the minds of the little folks and the key to their interest. Even the adults enjoyed the speech greatly, thinking hard of the events concerning the great men that characterized history.

Musical numbers were rendered on the clarinet and the saxophone by Arthur Roman, who got an encore he deserved and wasn't prepared for, but did right.

adjoining counties where the acreage is on procuring industry for small communities a statement by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis is significant. The Bank said: "An increase of one million dollars a year in farm income will produce the same economic stimulus as a new factory with a million dollar payroll." An increase of one million dollars in Fulton County can be obtained by increasing the income an average of $979 a farm.

In Fulton County there are several farm enterprises, any of which could do this, the report pointed out.

"You should not be satisfied with a million dollar increase in farm income," Mr. Morgan stated in the report, "but should probably set your goal at five million dollars increase in the near future."

All farmers in Fulton County are urged to attend the meeting at the Woman's Club Thursday. To increase the value of farm productivity in this area is equally as important as procuring an industry employing 300 people. The time is 7:30 p. m.

This statement by the farm expert of K. U. bears out a recent statement revealed by the Fulton Pure Milk Company, which spends nearly a half million dollars in this county through payrolls and payment to milk producers in this area. Concentrated programs of "trade at home" could easily increase this figure to one million dollars in output by this one firm alone, since more consumption is produced.

NINE ARRESTED IN SURPRISE RAID ON OUT-OF-CITY CAFE

Reliable Source Says Many More Raids Are Planned in County

The first in a series of raids on local gambling places was held Monday night, a reliable source informed the News today. The raid Monday night was made on Morris' Cafe on the outskirts of the city operated by Jack Morris, where nine persons were arrested for participating in a poker game. The raid was made by Sheriff John B. Rose assisted by Deputy Sheriffs J. A. Williamson, A. A. Royer and Aaron Sanders.

The law violators were tried in Magistrate Court by Squire C. J. Bowers, with County Attorney Jerry Jones prosecuting. The men were fined $20 and costs, the minimum required by law. County Attorney Jones waived his tax fee of $5 per case.

Considerable interest was injected into the case when a reporter for the Fulton Daily Leader was refused access to the warrants charging the men with gambling. The reporter was told that an agreement was made with the arresting officials and the violators that their names would be withheld from the press. Although the records were established as public information by County Attorney Jones the reporter was still refused the information on the basis of the agreement made between the arresting officials and the men charged.

Arrested were Leon Rice, James Baines, Tom Currey, Jack Morris, Robert Vowell, A. A. Mann, D. L. Roberts, S. L. Mann and W. F. Morgan.

Hickman, Kentucky is selling stock at $25 a share to persons in that city to erect a 30,000-foot factory building to house the United Felt Company, a subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck and Company. The river city is having no trouble raising the $48,000 needed from local citizens to supplement the $72,000 loan being negotiated by J. A. Whipple from the First National Bank in Memphis. The firm will hire about 70 employees, 80 per cent of them are women. The entire labor supply will come from Hickman.

Meanwhile the city of Clinton, Ky., is going ahead with the formation of an incorporated enterprise for the purpose of raising and managing funds to be made available to industries who will locate their factory in Clinton or Hickman County. Clinton is also working diligently on plans for the establishment of a demonstration farm in Hickman County. The farms will be used to provide information on an average farm operation to increase its efficiency and productivity.

J. A. Whipple, acting for the Chamber of Commerce of Hickman, has arranged for negotiating a loan of $72,000 from the First National Bank of Memphis.

News Out a Day Early To Help Weekend Shoppers

The News reaches you a day early this week, in order to bring you the advertising messages of some 44 local merchants who are participating in Fulton's semi-annual "Bargain Days."

Bargain Days are being held this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with practically all participating firms having arranged some outstanding reductions for bargain hunters. This event has proved very popular with shoppers in the past, and a big crowd of shoppers is expected in town over the weekend.

As an added feature, many of the firms are offering "door prizes" to some lucky person who has registered at their store during these three days. All one has to do is to visit each store and register. There is no obligation to buy. Each store will conduct its own drawing sometime Saturday evening, and in practically all cases the winner need not be present.

The Retail Merchants Bureau has published a half-page in this issue listing all firms and their awards; it is suggested that you clip this list and use it as a handy reference table in making your rounds of the stores to register.

You'll want to spend some time shopping, too. Bargains are plentiful, and reductions sharp. Look over the advertising in today's News for further details.

Tom And Carrie Have Happy Time For 54 Years of Marriage

"Sure, I still love that gal," Tom Sams told a News-reporter during an interview Tuesday. "Whadda think I am, a bulldog?" Far from that, George Tom Sams is as gentle and kind as a St. Bernard, if canine dispositions are pursued. Mr. Sams and his lovely wife, Carrie will celebrate their 54th wedding anniversary on the 21st of this month and to say that life for them has been one happy event after another is no exaggeration. For Tom has made it that way.

Fact of the matter is this interview of the anniversary type is one of the funniest that's come along in a long time. Mr. Sams was in the yard of his lovely and comfortable home out West State Line way when the News reporters arrived. He hollered hello, but then told us to go away, he didn't have any $60,000 ransom to pay. "Newspaper reporters aren't anything but kidnappers and I want my wife to stay here with me."

He came in from the yard, however and settled himself in a comfortable chair in the gay living-room and from then on it wasn't a matter of a reporter interviewing the couple, but the reporter getting interviewed. Getting down to a few facts it was learned that Tom and Carrie were married in Fulton 54 years ago by Squire Roberts. Naw suh, no elaborate wedding, he said. "I put on my overalls and Carrie just took off her apron, we hitched the buggy and then got hitched in town."

Miss Carrie came back with, "Aw, now, Tom, you know that's not so. I was all dressed up and so were you." A good laugh came from Tom, while thinking up some other ridiculous statement like they went all the way to Omaha Nubrasky, for a honeymoon and in a juggy too.

"Shucks," said Carrie, "we just went to his house and that was all there was to it." Tom kept insisting that they went to Nubrasky (he knew better how to pronounce it) but when Carrie wouldn't let him carry the joke any further he said: "She's been living in this county all her life and never been further than Cayce." Tom, he's been all the way to St. Louis, but this is one time that the News will not stand behind any statements made, you just can't tell when Tom's kidding or telling the truth.

About the time the News re-

DAIRYMEN: DID YOU KNOW?

Your Profits Can Increase

With a shortage of feed the cost of keeping a bull is even greater. Replacing a bull with a money-making cow can mean greater profits to you. It costs about $200 to keep a bull a year.

Breeding your cows artificially means a saving in the cost of keeping a bull, and makes it possible for all dairymen, large or small, to breed to the "cream of the crop." K.A.B.A. Bulls are selected for high milk production and good type from top bloodlines available.

Kentucky farmers bred about 70,000 cows last year to bulls in the Stud with only a small investment in their membership and service fees.

These great bulls are in the Stud near Louisville but are as close to you as your telephone. Why not use this cooperative organization whose sole purpose is for improving Kentucky's dairy cattle.

—54th Anniversary

porter asked another question or two Tom left the room and was gone for a few minutes, ostensibly to get ready to have his picture made. He soon walked in with a tie that he wanted to loop around his leg, his coat collar turned up like the wind was blowing a hundred miles an hour and to top it all he had on a right nice looking straw hat. That's the way he wanted his picture made. It took a little persuading to tell him it wouldn't look quite right.

Tom and Carrie have had six children, five of whom surviving. It is obvious that those children had the happiest home to live in than anybody around these parts. Mrs. Sams was asked if Tom ever had a serious moment. She said: "I try to get him to worry, but he just won't."

Apparently he feels there's nothing really to worry about as long as there's a smile that can be had. Their children, Caston, Willie, Harry, Mason and Dorothy (Mrs. W. S. Forrester) are all well. They have 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren who give them an awful lot of pleasure. Their well-kept farm is rented out and doing well. Only the loss of their son, Ernest has seemed the only real grief in the family.

The Samers were both born and reared in Fulton County. They are both 75 and only three months and three days separates their ages. He is the oldest.

The News took a photograph of the couple in their gaily decorated kitchen with Tom in a homey scene helping with the dishes. It was a chore to get him still enough to pose and as a kind deed he sang for the photographer all during the pose. Following the snap he rushed to the cupboard and handed the reporters a cold biscuit as a token of his appreciation.

There may be many couples living in these parts who have been married as long, but hardly any who enjoy life as much. One thing is for sure... it's the sweetest, funniest interview this reporter has done in a mighty long time.

May this popular Fulton County couple accept the good wishes and happy returns of the day from all the News staff to which Tom would probably reply: "Thank you; I'll come to your fiftieth anniversary celebration some time."

Reporter Says...

FACTS FORUM: Facts Forum, established by Haroldson Lafayette Hunt, of Dallas, Texas, "quite possibly the richest man in the United States," is an organization that has derived a tax-exempt status from its claim of being "nonpartisan" and "educational." According to an article in THE REPUBLICAN magazine (a condensation of a series which originally appeared in the Providence Journal), "It may be questioned if Facts Forum merits the list of those claims considering that it presents 'important' radio debates in which forcefully expressed right-wing views are contrasted with more moderate opinions held by responsible national leaders, that Facts Forum has avowed its own faith in such extremist views; that Facts Forum's national circulating library contains a plethora of books that express the same views; that Facts Forum has attracted known racial agitators; that Facts Forum distributes a poll of loaded questions to an already loaded membership; and then passes out the results as news releases; that Facts Forum subsidizes letters to editors at the rate of nine to one in favor of isolationism, McCarthyism, and ultranationalist economic views."

THE NATION'S HEALTH: "If you made a diagnosis of the nation's health... This is now identifiable as A.M.A. Disease. You would find that hypertension is induced by any emotion. Of a method by which people can afford their doctors' fees."

UNIFICATION OF GERMANY: "Germany is a testing ground for the unification of the whole world. For Germany to be put together again, either the United States would have to give up its policy of resisting the expansion of Communism or the Soviet Union would have to give up its policy of expanding Communism. The Soviet Union would have to sacrifice a solid base in Europe as well as the hope of using it as a base for expansion toward and toward the rest of Europe; the United States would have to give up the defense of the community of free nations—a community to which the West Germans feel they belong." —Nathan Mahan.

UNIVERSITY TO HONOR SCIENTISTS OF THE PAST—The University of Kentucky will honor two of its greatest scientists at a Founding Day program on Sunday, February 21. They are Dr. Robert H. Peters (left), pioneer chemist and educator in Kentucky, and Dr. Thomas W. Morgan, biologist and only Kentuckian ever to win the Nobel Prize for Medicine. Dr. Peters was associated with State College (now U. K.) and other educational institutions in Lexington from 1882 until his death in 1904. Dr. Morgan had two degrees from U. K. when he was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1908 for clarifying the laws of heredity. He died in 1944.

INCREASE ALLOWED

The Kentucky Court of Appeals disposed of a four-year old wage order of the Department of Industrial Relations by allowing a 50 per cent increase in minimum wages for non-service and service employees in hotels and restaurants. It modified a Franklin Circuit Court order which upheld larger increases.

The Department of Industrial Relations recommended raising of the minimum wage figure from 30 to 60 cents an hour for non-service employees, in the larger centers. The Appellate Court held the evidence did not justify doubling the wage floor, but permitted it to stand at the midway mark. The higher figure applied to the first zone, including larger population centers, but fixed slightly lower figures for the second and third zones.

It upheld the 1950 legislative act authorizing the issuance of turnpike bonds, payable from the revenues of the road, and dismissed legal attacks aimed at the constitutionality of the measure, brought by representatives of motels and automobile associations. The decision upheld an earlier ruling of Franklin Circuit Judge William B. Ardery. Barring an appeal to the U. S.

Supreme Court, the decision paves the way for going ahead with plans of Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby and Commissioner of Highways W. P. Curlin for a new toll road from Louisville to Elizabethtown. The State hopes to get started on the project this spring.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS NAMED

Governor Wetherby named six new members of the "Governor's Committee to Employ the Physically Handicapped"—including his brother, Jefferson County Judge-elect George S. Wetherby, Anchorage. Others named were: Mancil J. Vinson, Frankfort, state adviser for the Future Farmers of America and state director of Markets; Sam Ezelle, Louisville, secretary Kentucky Federation of Labor; Basil Caum-misar, Louisville, promotion manager, The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times; Wendell P. Butler, state superintendent of Public Instruction, and Kenneth Patterson, Louisville, rehabilitation director for the Veterans' Administration.

CONFERENCE SET

The increasingly vexatious problem of truck reciprocity is to be the topic of a Governor's Conference in Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 23 which Governor Wetherby will attend if his duties in connection with the General Assembly here permit.

Recently, a reciprocal agreement was terminated between Ohio and Kentucky on trucks, due to passage by the Ohio General Assembly of a law denying reciprocity to Kentucky trucks operating in that state. This resulted in cancellation of a similar agreement, effective January 1, of Ohio trucks operating here. The Governor's Conference was called "to consider the very pressing problem which has arisen among the states relative to motor-transport taxation."

With the administration's taxation program launched to a booming start through the legislative channels, Kentuckians may pay an extra assessment equal to one year's income taxes for 1954-1955.

The withholding tax proposal up for final action in the House of Representatives on Wednesday will have the effect of a 50 percent tax increase for the period.

There has been no outspoken criticism which would indicate more than token opposition to the measure which provides for withholding income taxes from wages.

The handily passed cigarette tax boost to three cents a pack by the House makes almost certain passage of the remaining tax proposal announced only last Tuesday in the Governor's address to a joint session of the General Assembly.

There was strong administration pressure on House members to vote "aye" on the cigarette tax measure as opposed to adamant resistance by farmer and tobacco growers' groups who hope to marshal forces to do battle again in the Senate.

These groups insisted that Representatives from farm and tobacco growing districts faced an irate constituency when they returned home from Frankfort for the long week-end. The Assembly reconvenes at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

The farm leaders asked for a delay in the vote on the cigarette tax measure until after the week-end to give the legislators opportunity to test sentiment at home but this was denied.

The Senate delayed its week-end adjournment until it had received the 77 to 14 approved bill from the House in order to forestall any attempt at reconsideration. The Senate vote could come Friday.

Meantime the House could vote finally on the income tax withholding measure and the record budget bill soon after it reconvenes Wednesday. This could place them in position for final Senate action as early as Friday.

With the initial show of administration strength little difficulty could be expected in putting the several gubernatorial proposals through the legislative processes. Ranking among these are restric-

Leaves from a KENTUCKY COOKBOOK

Kentucky Lake Hunter's Round

To a round beef that weighs 25 pounds, take the following:

- 3 ounces saltpetre
- 1 ounce nutmeg
- 1 ounce cloves
- 1 ounce allspice
- 1 pint salt

Let the round of beef hang in a cool dry place twenty-four hours. Take out the bone, and fill the space with suet and spices mixed. Rub the above ingredients all over the round; put in a wooden box or tub, turn it over occasionally and rub a small quantity of salt on it. Let it remain three weeks. Then make a stiff paste of flour and water, cover the round with it and set in the oven. Bake three hours slowly. Remove the paste when cold, and trim neatly the rough outside and slice horizontally. Serve only when cold...

... with equally cold bubbling beer, the beverage of moderation so popular in Kentucky. With sandwiches of Hunter's round, as with other good foods, beer is always welcome.

The sale of beer under orderly conditions is an important objective of your brewing industry. Our continuing educational program helps beer retailers maintain their high standards.

tions on strip mining of coal; establishing uniform time for Kentucky, revising and modernizing statutes concerning the mentally ill, jury selection and the parole and probation.

Senator Ed P. Warriner of Albany is concerned about copies of resolutions received from county judges in his district asking retention of the 1952 law providing a lien for the state on properties of persons receiving assistance.

He points out that several of the copies of resolutions he and other Senators have received contain identical wording and were approved on the same date, January 7, 1954, although at least one bore January 8 as its action date; by the several Social Service Boards of which county judges are ex-officio chairmen. Only one of the resolutions, that from Whitley county, showed any degree of variance. That was from Whitley county which noted that Judge Pleas Jones cast the only dissenting vote.

Senator Warriner (correct) said he would seek to learn whether the committee workers were pressured in any manner to adopt the resolutions.

The labor lobby in Frankfort was busy campaigning against a Right to Work bill which is expected to be presented. This measure would ban the closed or union shop and has brought full-scale opposition from organized labor leaders.

Another controversial measure due for introduction soon is a proposal to increase the weight limits of trucks using Kentucky highways. Chief opposing interests in this are truck operators and railroad interests. Both sides claim they have enough votes; the truckers enough to pass their proposal, and the railroaders enough to defeat it.

House leadership relaxed its pressure for a moment and permitted a vote for a public hearing on the proposed sales tax measure introduced by John Young Brown of Lexington. This hearing, with the entire House membership sitting as a committee, is scheduled for February 2.

Capital observers see the whole session at this point as formulating the basis of campaign issues in the 1955 gubernatorial campaign in which the administration backed candidate will stand or fall on the record of the Wetherby regime.

UNION ACT UPHELD

The 1952 legislative act requiring operation of Kentucky labor unions to take out local charters was upheld by the Court of Appeals which declared that the act permits, rather than imposes, an exercise of basic rights belonging to all workers.

It set aside a previous ruling of the Jefferson Circuit Court which held the act not applicable to an International Union of Operating Engineers with headquarters in Evansville. The Appellate Court held that the act merely permits workers to choose whether they prefer a Kentucky-operated local or an outside one as a bargaining agent in labor matters.

CLETUS COATS WINS STATE ESSAY CONTEST

An 18-year-old senior at Muncieville High School is the state winner of the tenth annual Soil Conservation Essay Contest.

Cletus Coats, of Route 3, Cave City, will receive a $100 U. S. Savings Bond for his essay on "How Soil Conservation Benefits My Community." His entry was judged best from more than 10,000 essays.

Second prize, a $50 bond, will go to Jerry Ringo, of Rothwell, and third prize, a $25 bond, to

Cletus Coats

Charles Layton, of Lancaster. A Fulton County girl, Katie Kaufman, of Route 2, Hickman, received a $25 defense bond.

Winners of the $3,200 in contest prizes were announced by Barry Bingham, president of The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times, WHAS and WHAS-TV; Wendell P. Butler, state superintendent of public instruction, and A. Threlkeld, president of the Kentucky Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

The contest was sponsored by the newspapers and radio-television station in cooperation with the State Department of Education and the conservation group.

In addition to the bond prizes, the three state winners and their families will be honored guests at the annual Farm Awards Luncheon, Saturday, February 20, at the Brown Hotel Roof Garden in Louisville. They will receive all-expense-paid trips to the luncheon.

OFFICE HOURS INCREASED

State Department of Economic Security offices here are being kept open six days a week, instead of five, as a result of a new plan approved by the Bureau of Employment Security of the U. S. Department of Labor, which provides funds for the agency's operations. Commissioner of Economic Security Vego E. Barnes said the lengthened work week was brought about by an increased-claims load, with 150 per cent more claims being handled than in January 1952, while the working force since July has been pared by 92 persons.

CAMPUS LIGHTS OPEN 3-DAY RUN THURSDAY, FEB. 18

The cast of "Campus Lights of 1954," annual Murray State College musical, is now "on stage" ready to begin last spring, when a production staff was named by the members of the sponsoring music fraternities, Phi Mu Alpha and Sigma Alpha Iota for the stretch drive before opening night Thursday, February 18.

Before the first curtain goes up sets must be constructed, costumes finished, lighting arranged and the acts of the show coordinated and polished with the orchestra, explained Tom Ferguson, director from Owensboro, Kentucky.

Preparation for the annual show, which will be held February 18-20, began in the fall and continued through the winter. The show is a 43-voice chorus, a 32-piece orchestra, a 15. girl dancing chorus and the four singing "Murray Men" who will appear for the first time in "Campus Lights of 1954."

The "Murray Men" are one of the most prominent of several changes which will be in the '54 show, the director said. However, he has not revealed the show's theme, or any of its details. "All secrets will be kept until opening night," Ferguson said.

Tickets for the show may be purchased for one dollar each by sending check or money order to Price Doyle, College Station, Murray, Kentucky. All seats are reserved.

FEBRUARY 28 LAST DAY FOR PRICE SUPPORT

February 28 is the last day for Kentucky corn growers to complete price-support loans or to execute price-support purchase agreements on their 1953-crop corn, Clarence L. Miller, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation state committee, said here today.

Basic price-support rates for 1953-crop corn range by counties from $1.87 to $1.78 a bushel for corn grading U. S. No. 3 or better, or corn which would grade No. 3 but for the factor of test weight which reduces it to No. 3, Miller said.

Through January 18, corn price support loans totaling $2,719,093.56 on 1,611,871 bushels of 1953-crop corn had been made to 1,181 growers in 37 counties in the state.

Details on loan rates, storage requirements, purchase agreements conditions, and other price support program specifications are available to farmers at county ASC offices.

G. Browder, Mrs. Ainer Campbell, and Mrs. Sedberry.

MRS. J. R. POWELL HONORED AT LOVELY TEA IN JONES' HOME

On Thursday afternoon, February 11, in the lovely home of Mrs. J. L. Jones, Sr., a tea was given, honoring the Farm and Home delegate of the Victory Club, Mrs. J. R. Powell. Upon arrival of the guests, Mrs. E. L. Cook, at the door, welcomed each person.

After all were seated and introduced, this being the Valentine Season of the year, Program Leader, Mrs. Charles Upton carried out a clever little "heart" game. Mrs. John Dawes was the lucky winner of the prize.

Mrs. T. R. Williamson then introduced Mrs. Powell to the guests and she gave a very interesting report of her trip and the Farm and Home program.

There were five visitors and 20 members present at the tea and after the report was given, refreshments were served, consisting of punch floating around a large frozen float, which included frozen fruits in a heart shape, also dainty cookies and sandwiches and buttered pecans. The hostesses were Mrs. J. L. Jones Sr., Mrs. Ernest Jenkins, and Mrs. Ray Graham.

BLADES OF BLUEGRASS

By C. A. Lewis

In its intensive program to improve agriculture, the University of Kentucky recognizes the high place crops. Nearly half of Kentucky's farm land is used for pasture production, according to Circular 510 of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Additional grazing is furnished by small grains and cover crops and by aftermath growth following small grain, corn, tobacco and other crops.

ducts by the local firm would induce more milk production on the part of the suppliers and thus stimulate more buying power for them.

In his report, Mr. Morgan pointed out that Fulton has the nucleus of a good agricultural program for the county in the extension service program under the direction of County Agent John B. Watts and Home Agent Miss Bertha McLeod and their staffs.

At the meeting tomorrow farmers and other interested citizens attending the meeting will be shown the problems confronting farmers in this area and suggestions for relieving them. The meeting is one of the most important scheduled here by the Chamber of Commerce in many months.

Fulton County covers an area of 208 square miles or 131,200 acres of which nearly 85% is in farms. The 1950 census places the number of farms at 1,022 with an average size of 84.5 acres.

To show the importance of increasing farm efficiency, the 1940 value of farm products produced in this county was $1,545,356. It increased to $5,089,000, in 1949. Total value for 1950 and 1951 was probably near the figure for 1949. The total 1953 gross value of product is approximately 15 per cent below the 1950 and 1951 figures.

Smalltown Angle On Loving Your Neighbor

By George H. Bechtel
Former editor,
The Publisher's Auxiliary

The small town is often called the bulwark of America. Living close together, hometown folk don't worry about brotherhood problems. There simply isn't any problem.

That is what we'd like to believe, isn't it?

We'd like to call "typical" the Wisconsin town where the sports-minded priest won the Catholic Youth Organization basketball championship with a team composed of a Jewish lad, two Methodists, a Congregationalist, and one from his own church.

We'd like to call "typical" the Missouri village where the town's only Negro family was so completely and traditionally accepted for three generations that children from other homes wondered what strangers meant when they spoke of "niggers."

-But are they typical?

We wonder. During this National Brotherhood Week, we'd like for the folks of our town to examine their souls for a true and objective answer. Is our town free of racial and religious prejudice?

Maybe ours is one of the towns where there are no Negro residents. So we say we have no "Negro problem." But what was your comment, the last time you visited the Big City? Did you say, "Isn't it a shame that the Negro families are moving into the fine old residential section and squeezing out the white folks?" Was that Brotherhood?

Perhaps ours is one of the towns where we have only two or three Jewish families. We say we have no "Jewish problem." We haven't here in our town. We've known our hometown neighbors for too long. But didn't one of our neighbors say, the other night: "You know how it is with the Jews. They always take care of each other, no matter who gets hurt?"

We have Catholics and Protestants in our town, of course. We do business together, bowl on the same team, and swap the same trivial gossip. We have no "Catholic and Protestant problem" in our town, we say. But how often do we think aloud: "If those two get married, the Protestant girl will certainly turn for that Catholic. Those 'red necks' make it that way"—or—"You want to watch those Masons. They hold secret meetings to figure out how to run this town."

We can claim that we do a pretty good job of living brotherhood within the borders of our little community. We have learned, by experience, that men of all faiths and all colors can be neighbors and friends when they know and respect one another.

But that isn't enough.

We must "talk" brotherhood, too. The "usual" phrase—the phrase that someone coined generations ago—must be discarded. They must go the way of the long-forgotten prejudices. Why talk up a prejudice that seems to exist in another community that is demonstrably false in ours?

The phrases which perpetuate the "traditional" attitude toward the rest of the world are the logical target to be destroyed during National Brotherhood Week. They aren't true when an outsider says them about our town, why should they be true when we say them about outsiders?

Besides, although we understand each other quite well, the idle phrase meant for someone else in another city can be just the remark that can upset our life of brotherhood at home.

Unaddressed Circulars Not Good Policy

A trial policy begun by the Post Office Department in August, allowing postmen to deliver ad-mail, even though not individually addressed, is drawing new criticism. Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield inaugurated the new program several months ago to reduce "handling costs" on large quantities of identical pieces of advertising matter, mailed for general coverage.

The idea was to allow mail carriers to distribute the ad-mail without first having to sort out all the identical advertisements according to name and street address. An objection has already been heard from the National Association of Letter Carriers, which claims the new policy over-burden mailmen and delays deliveries, and both the Senate and House Post Office Committees have been arriving at their offices in Washington complaining of the new program.

The new system is more of an aid to advertisers than it is to mailmen. If advertisers do not have to address literature, they will eventually flood the market with unaddressed advertising. Mailmen will be used to distribute the ads, just as various businesses have employed men or boys to distribute pamphlets or circulars.

We are inclined to oppose the new plan. Aside from objections raised by the National Association of Letter Carriers, we believe the average American would prefer to get addressed mail only. He can watch the newspapers, or pick up advertising literature at his own convenience, and he may not relish the idea of a mailbox stuffed with commercial literature day after day, as the trend to unaddressed ad-mail continues. Postmaster-General Summerfield will no doubt be forced to modify the project if complaints continue, as they probably will.—Sheby News.

Sermonette of the Week --

Armed Forces Seek Self-Discipline

By Major General John A. Devine,
United States Army

THE EFFECTIVE fighting man is one who is prepared not only physically and militarily, but also morally and spiritually to face the ordeal of battle.

In that hell of battle you discover who are the tough fighters. They are seldom the men who talk tough, who revel in obscene language, who boast of their drinking ability and immorality.

THE REALLY TOUGH fighting man is the man with physical endurance, courage, initiative, determination, intelligence, and respect for himself and others. When the going is rough, he is quite likely to seek a renewal of strength in prayer. His sense of responsibility will not permit him to hide from combat. He will drive forward to close with the enemy while the so-called "tough" guy, as likely as not, will hide in the brush.

Therefore the kind of discipline we seek to develop in our Service people is self-discipline. It is the discipline a free nation demands of its citizens. It is the Christian self-control and strength of will.

DISCIPLINE is not to be measured exclusively by the smartness of saluting. It is measured by the behavior of the individual when he is no longer under supervision. True discipline comes from within; it compels a man to do the right thing because it is the right thing to do, and he knows what is right.

The task of translating our nation's lofty ideals into an actual force in our everyday lives is, of course, the responsibility of the American family, community, and school. But if we are to train the whole man in the Armed Forces, we cannot assume that every trainee is fully aware of the significance of the fundamental principles enunciated in the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights.

NEITHER CAN WE assume that because some of our men have no apparent respect for moral principles that they will not benefit from spiritual and moral training. We know that we must train men and women to cope with the realities of a world in mortal ideological conflict.

Whenever our training programs are being conducted with full realization of the nature of the people we train, our Service personnel in being influenced by Christian principles. They are the same principles that recognize the dignity, the individuality, and the God-given rights of every man and woman anywhere in the life of this Christian nation.

YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER in the Armed Forces is recognized as an individual whose spiritual as well as physical needs must be provided for, whose morals must be safe-guarded, whose military discipline must be self-discipline based on understanding.

FROM THE FILES: TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

(February 13, 1929)

Miss Lillian Read, the winsome daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. H. Read of this city, became the bride of Felix Goldwin Lewis, son of Judge and Mrs. John B. Lewis of Anchorage, Ky., January 12, 1929, in Nashville, Tenn.

The bride is a charming young lady, a general favorite in Fulton's smart society set and one of the city's most prominent families. She is a graduate in the class of 1928 of Fulton High School and was attending school at the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Lewis graduated from Anchorage High School in the class of 1928 and was attending school at the University of Kentucky. He is a young man of excellent character and one of Anchorage's leading families.

Mrs. Clarence Maddox, one of Fulton's charming and talented musicians, left for Chicago Monday night to appear in a sacred concert, sponsored by the Junior Ladies Guild of the St. James Methodist Church, Thursday evening. Mrs. Maddox was asked to play three numbers on the program, which is a distinctive honor.

The City Ice Company is a new corporation for Fulton, headed by C. E. Holloway, W. O. Shankle, Will Whitnel and other well known business men.

On Monday, February 18, Swift & Co., will open the bids in Chicago and let the contract for their new building to be constructed in Fulton. The Swift plant will occupy an imposing location near the railroad tracks on the East State Line.

Miss Estelle Willingham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward B. Willingham, of Paducah, became the bride of Dr. Glenn B. Donoho, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Donoho of this city, February 8, 1929, at the home of the bride's parents.

Dr. Donoho's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Donoho and his sister, Mrs. Ernest Brady, Mr. Brady and their children of this city attended the wedding.

The Chamber of Commerce has the maps and deeds of right-of-way through the Highlands addition. This road will connect Route 51 from Cairo with Tennessee Route 3 to Union City, and should mean a great deal to the property in Revere and Highlands. Secretary Davis is busy procuring these deeds and when they have been obtained, the road commission will award the contract.

The Welfare Workers met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben Golden. The business of the day was the election of new officers, which were as follows: Mrs. Ruth Finch, president; Mrs. Nook Wilson, vice-president; Mrs. Lon Watts, secretary; and Mrs. Orr, assistant secretary. Committees were appointed and plans for the coming year discussed. The club adjourned to meet February 20th at the home of Mrs. Maude Holiday.

Friends of Mr. Charles Fields regret to learn of his falling Monday morning and breaking his right arm. Reports from his home on Third Street say he is resting nicely and will soon recover from the painful injury.

Charter of incorporation for a new realty company for Fulton is being sought. Papers of incorporation have gone to the Secretary of State. This company already has excellent property here which it will build residences on and these will be sold. The company will be of great service to Fulton in this respect.

Around the Ken-Tenn area this week:

Samburg: Work continues on the "middle link" of highway 22 linking Samburg and Union City, and the asphalt-and-rock surface is expected to be completed during the summer. The direct route to Samburg from Union City will cut eight miles off the present Hornbeak-Troy route.

Union City: The underprivileged-children's fund of the local Kiwanis Club is $400.00 richer today as Club members happily count up the proceeds from "Pancake Day" held at the Grill all day last Thursday. Members pitched in as receptionists, cooks, waiters and kitchen help all day long, serving 545 hungry customers pancakes, sausage and coffee.

Dresden: A son-in-law and daughter of one of the County officials came for a week-end visit last week, but did not show up for church Sunday. While the official was teaching his Sunday-school class, he was called to the phone by his wife, who indignantly stated that, what's more, the young man wouldn't be there. His father-in-law was wearing his suit.

Paris, Tenn.: The local Chamber of Commerce is currently preparing to distribute 15,000 programs throughout the mid-west advertising "The World's Biggest Fish Fry and Fishing Rodeo" which the community will sponsor this year.

Paris, Tenn.: With four natural gas transmission lines available, the City will vote next month on a $750,000 revenue bond issue to finance a gas distribution system.

Benton: TVA announced last week that it will start construction of a new building at Kentucky Dam that will serve both as a headquarters for TVA's Public Safety Service and provide badly-needed sanitary facilities for the visiting public. Building will be located just downstream from the powerhouse, or powerhouse access road; construction is expected to be completed by early next year.

Clinton: Pharis Service Station quickly learned that people read newspaper advertising when the Gazette in an ad erroneously stated that the station would do a "wash and polish job for $2", and firm was deluged with callers. Ad should have read "wash and grease" instead.

Columbus: Worried about how to get rid of owls? LaVerne Snell offers this suggestion: "Walk around in a large circle, clockwise. The owl at bay turns his head, keeping his eyes on the hunter, all the while keeping a firm grip on the perch with his claws. After three to five turns ... a headless owl!"

The coming District basketball tournament at Fulton High, March 1-6 will surely bring a terrific turnout from Hickman fans, who are so proud of their team and its star Harold Ross that they are already adding up the distance to Murray. Hold your hats and get your tickets early, folks, it's going to be a roof-raising five days.

Russellville: Last week a woman and seven children from West Virginia alighted from a bus, looking for a sister whose only name she knew was "Augusta." Brought before County Judge Dorris and Police Chief Smith, she presented a real "needle-in-the-haystack" problem until a bystander interrupted to say that he "knew a man who married a woman away from here by that name." After comparing a few more vague bits of information, the group was carried to the correct home in Russellville.

When Logan County Jailer Gregory received a request for two "drawing pencils" from two convicted inmates that were destined for Eddyville, he returned with some large crayons, but was told they weren't big enough. The prisoners wanted to do some "drawing" while they waited for the Eddyville trip and needed large pencils the size of carpenter pencils. Surprised at the unusual request, Gregory started thinking, and came up with the answer while he was cleaning the lawn under their cell window. Next day Gregory arrived at the cell block and offered the men not only the desired pencils, but also enough properly-fashioned electric cord to complete their carbon arc-welding outfit with the comment "Look, boys, I've already made one for you!"

Why did Coach "Bear" Bryant leave Kentucky? At Dawson Springs the "Inquiring Reporter" came up with these answers: "Collier's just as good," "Morally, he should have stood by his contract," "Kentucky suffered a great loss," "Guesha he had good reasons." The NEWS at Warsaw volunteered a possible reason: "Bryant found someone with a little oil well he didn't need. Well now ... you couldn't exactly say that was an increase in salary, could you?"

TRIPLES PROFITS!

At the Purina Farm hogs fed on the Purina Program produce 1/3 more than the national average. Thousands of Purina Program feeders get results equal to those at the Farm.

National average of pigs saved is only a little better than 6 per litter. At the Farm over 9 pigs per litter were saved in 1951.

It's generally agreed that it takes 5 pigs per litter to break even. Last year the average hog man had 1.4 pigs per litter for profit. The Purina Farm had 4.1 pigs for profit ... Three Times as Much Profit!

There is a brave boy living at the "Y". Thinking there would be a ball game at Cayce Monday night, he talked his Mom and Dad into taking him. So they let him out at the School and went a couple of miles below Cayce to visit a couple until after the game. The couple had planned to go out, so they didn't stay too long, and on the way back to Cayce, who should they meet but their son walking. Seem there wasn't a ball game after all! You are a brave boy, Tony and I wouldn't have the nerve to do that!

Now You Can Diet and Eat Dessert Too!

Here is pleasure without pounds, a meal which brims with flavor and yet is amazingly low in calories! The broiled chicken is savory in a sweet and pungent sauce. The green peas, prepared with a touch of basil, are tender and sweet. The salad of tart, juicy grapefruit sections on crisp greens provides the proper amount of flavor contrast. Bread sticks allow for crunchy nibbling. You can enjoy all this and still have dessert—a smooth chocolate pudding parfait—because there are only 500 calories in this delicious meal. Skip the bread sticks and there are just 400!

The secret to such fine eating on a diet is this: Both the sweet and pungent sauce and the dessert were prepared with a new liquid concentrated sweetener. Sweet, that contains not a single calorie. Just introduced as an aid to the millions of Americans with weight problems, this diet's delight comes in a convenient squeeze-a-drop bottle. One drop equals one-half teaspoon of sugar; one-fourth teaspoon, as in dessert recipe below, equals one-half cup of sugar.

Chocolate Pudding
3 tablespoons cornstarch 2 cups skim milk
8 tablespoons cocoa 1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt 1/4 teaspoon Sweeta
Dash cinnamon

Mix cornstarch, cocoa and salt with 1/4 cup of milk until smooth. Meanwhile scald the remaining milk in double boiler. Pour a little of the scalded milk into the cornstarch mixture and blend smooth. Stir this slowly into remaining scalded milk, then cook, stirring constantly, until the pudding is thick and smooth. Cover the double boiler and cook 20 minutes. Stir occasionally. Cool slightly, then add Sweeta and vanilla, stirring in well. Cover and allow pudding to chill. Arrange with white topping in sherbet or parfait glasses.

White Topping
1/2 cup cold water 1/4 Dash almond extract
1 tablespoon lemon juice 1/4 teaspoon Sweeta
1/4 cup nonfat dry milk solids
Place water in bowl. Add lemon juice, almond extract and milk solids. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until as marshmallow fluff. This topping will stay light and fluffy for about 30 minutes.

Louise Hancock Is Sorority Officer

Miss Katherine Louise (Sisty) Hancock, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hancock, of Mayfield Highway, was installed Monday as recording secretary and charter member of the Vanderbilt University of Chi Omega social sorority.

Miss Elizabeth Dyer, national president of Chi Omega, flew to Nashville from Cincinnati last Thursday to conduct the installation services.

Miss Dyer and Nashville alumni members of Chi Omega pledged the members to the new group at 4:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Alvin Beaman of Howell place. Initiation was at 1 o'clock Monday. A banquet at Belle Meade Country club followed the initiation ceremonies.

The Ivey Club was formed as a local sorority of the Vanderbilt campus three years ago. The group petitioned and was accepted by Chi Omega late last fall.

"We are delighted to be able to come to the Vanderbilt campus because of the high quality of students and educational facilities here," Miss Pardue said Monday night. "The Ivey Club was an outstanding organization and we of Chi Omega are looking forward to a fine chapter at Vanderbilt."

Elizabeth Wilburn, senior from Memphis and president of Ivey Club, will also serve as president of the new group. Other officers include Cynthia Pardue of Orlando, Fla., vice-president; Katherine Haggard of Waynesboro, Tenn., treasurer; Mercedes Lawrence of 2109 Carter Ave., corresponding secretary; and Sis Hancock, Fulton, Ky., recording secretary.

This Vanderbilt chapter was chartered with 20 active members.

Miss Hancock was an honor graduate of Fulton High School in the class of 1952 and is a sophomore in Vanderbilt College of Arts and Science.

YOUTH AWARD TO BE GIVEN FOR KINDEST DEED TO ANIMALS

National honors and a valuable prize are in store for some boy or girl who has performed an outstanding act of kindness to animals.

The kind deed may be a rescue, a special project for the benefit of animals, or a written work, according to the American Veterinary Medical Association, which sponsors the award each year.

Anyone who knows of a boy or girl not over 18 years old who might qualify is invited to submit a nomination.

Deeds on behalf of dogs and cats have predominated in the winning column since start of the award in 1944, but the committee in charge of the project emphasizes that kindness to live stock and wild animals is just as acceptable in determining the winner.

Nominations should be sent not later than April 1, 1954, to the American Veterinary Medical Association, 600 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago 5, Illinois.

The winner will be announced at the AVMA national convention at Seattle, Washington, in August. The award consists of a framed certificate describing the act of kindness and a $100 U. S. Savings Bond.

Last year's winner was a boy who rescued a dog trapped in a 300-foot deep canyon. Among other winners in the past have been a boy who built a bumper device to protect a blind dog that had been his childhood pet, a girl who captured a rabid dog, and a boy who rescued some valuable show horses from a burning barn.

SWOLLEN SPLEEN CAUSES EXTREME PAIN IN DOGS

Some good news for pet owners whose dogs are suffering from spleen conditions was reported this month in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association. Swollen and displaced spleens in dogs may cause pain and confusing symptoms, but the Journal cites case histories showing that surgery can now correct the condition.

Reporting to pet owners on new advances in canine disease research, the report said the spleen may be displaced by swelling, pressure of other internal organs, or by movement. No matter what the cause, such displacement can cause a constant pain by creating traction on the ligaments holding the organ.

The condition is often difficult to diagnose because the pain varies with the animal's position and the amount of traction, producing a variety of symptoms. Radiographs often are used by veterinarians to diagnose the condition.

The AVMA said a simple operation, known as a splenectomy, will bring relief. Removal of the spleen does not work a hardship on the dog because other organs soon take over its functions, and little or no disturbance to health results, according to the case histories reported in the AVMA Journal.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Mrs. Woodrow Simmon, 29, of Route 5, Fulton, was accidentally shot through the upper of her left arm last Tuesday afternoon. According to Mrs. Simmon she had started to hang some clothes on the wall over the .22 automatic rifle, which was setting in a corner of a bed room. She said that some of the clothes must have caught in the gun, knocking it over and causing it to go off. She was admitted to Haws Memorial Hospital, where she is doing nicely.

Farmers in Laurel county will set 300 acres of strawberry plants this spring.

FEE NOT ALLOWED

The Kentucky Court of Appeals held invalid—as lacking in uniformity—an ordinance of the City of Louisville imposing a $250 annual license fee on non-resident antique dealers who showed their wares only occasionally during the year. The fee was not in line with normal standards, the Appellate Court reasoned, in holding it void.
