There are some additional facts concerning the case of the City Councilman and the gas contract on an inside page. Also on inside pages you will find a full page of Dairy of Doin's around Fulton, as interesting a column as the News has ever run. Also look for the fine picture of the Fulton High School band, which will give a concert here next Tuesday.

Speaking of concerts, it was a rare treat Thursday to hear and see Yewell Harrison wave the baton in Fulton again. Yewell was passing through Fulton with his Lexington, Tenn. band and stopped in front of the high school to give the folks a little of his fine band music.

To the baseball fan who wrote us this week about the new ball park and grandstand I want to say I will take up that project next week and hope that I can do the good job that it certainly deserves. The fine work done by the ball fans in Fulton and area is something to get real chesty about and the folks who did it really should go down in Fulton's Hall of fame.

One of the new owners of the Dixie Motor Company is Robert Montgomery, no relation to the movie star of the same name. He's had some rather amusing experiences with his name and one of them I thought was funnier than others. One time, says he, was on a cruise to Havana, Cuba. The passenger list of the cruise was sent on to the port beforehand and when he arrived he was quite astonished to have reporters and cameramen at the dock to get an interview with him. He should have been somewhat chagrined when they didn't go on with the interview. No doubt he could have given them just as good a one as the movie star by the same name. Fulton is glad to welcome the new owners of the motor company and hope that they have a very successful business venture here.

Paul said it reminded him of the time during the war when all big shots in the Army were called "big wheels". He said that when he arrived on a plane in St. Louis during the war going from one port of duty to another he was startled to see dozens of photographers and reporters at the airport. When he got off the plane the newsmen rushed up to the plane, much to the surprise of the plane crew. When the pilot asked their interest they were told that a news release had said that a big wheel was arriving that day. Well, the pilot went into hysterics of laughter, for sure enough a big wheel was arriving. It was truly a big wheel to go on an Army bomber that was stranded in St. Louis for lack of the equipment.

When in Washington I thought I would never get accustomed to the letters on a news release saying that so-and-so was a VIP. VIP means in war lingo and even today, "Very important person."

Clarence and Betty Louise Reed have recently returned from an extended trip to California. Clarence brought in several very attractive menus of the interesting eating places they patronized during the trip. The lovely and unusual eating houses they visited makes my mouth water even to think of them. Especially thinking of the Fred Harvey restaurants and the incomparable food and atmosphere of the Mission Inn in California makes me plum hungry.

Some men like to brag about the cooking abilities of their wives, and Joe Hall is no exception. But it's certainly going to get Margaret in some kind of a tangle. Somebody left Margaret a bunch of corn shucks so she decided she was going to make up a bunch of hot tamales. Joe is so pleased with the idea that he's promised everybody on Lake Street a bunch when and if Margaret makes them. Since Joe is so generous, I thought that it would be a good idea to let everybody in on her culinary ability. If Margaret makes all the tamales that Joe has promised, we'll see her on the corner of Lake and Commercial with a tin-can selling the things 'fore long.

Red Cross membership last year totaled more than 40,000,000, of which 20,800,000 were senior members and 19,800,000 junior members.

BROWN CONVICTED AND GOES TO PEN; WARREN TRIAL SET

The News was advised at press time Thursday that the conviction of Charles Bay Brown, a former city councilman of Springfield, Missouri had been upheld by the Missouri Supreme Court. Brown was found guilty and convicted last year of accepting a $1000 bribe from James Warren of Fulton. Brown was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. His conviction was appealed to the Missouri Supreme Court, whose four judges this week unanimously upheld the decision of the Greene County circuit court.

Brown is in the custody of the Supreme Court marshal who went to St. Paul, Minnesota where Brown was working and returned him to the penitentiary at Jefferson City.

County Prosecutor Douglas Greene said that he would call a perjury charge against Mr. Warren to the May term of court and date of the trial has been set as May 10 in Springfield.

Warren was charged by the State of Missouri with giving false testimony at the January, 1953, bribery trial of Brown.

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL TO GENE DUNN

Father Of Local Person Dies In Paducah Thursday

A heart attack late Wednesday afternoon proved fatal to Eugene A. Dunn, of Paducah, father of Glenn Dunn of Fulton and a brother of Mrs. Vester Freeman also of this city.

Mr. Dunn suffered a previous attack several months ago and after being hospitalized was able to return to his home and was recuperating nicely. A second attack came Wednesday.

Mr. Dunn, a valued employee of the Illinois Central as a dispatcher, was well known in Fulton. He had visited his relatives here many times. Mr. Dunn died in the IC Hospital in Paducah in the early hours of Thursday morning. Mr. Dunn and his family formerly lived in Fulton.

The deceased was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dunn of Wingo, where he was born. He married the former Miss Hazel Holloway in Union City in 1913 and to this union three children were born. Two of them survive. A son, Capt. John Dunn, was killed during World War II. His other children are Glenn Dunn of Fulton and Mrs. Gilbert Chenais of Wichita, Kansas. He was born April 24, 1888 in Wingo.

Mr. Dunn was a devout member of the First Christian Church. He was a good and devoted father and husband and his death came as a deep shock to all who knew him. A conscientious worker, he started with the Illinois Central as a young man and rose to one of the most important positions on the system.

Funeral services will be held in Paducah at Two o'clock Friday (today) at the Harris Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Methodist Church Cemetery in Wingo.

Besides his two children and his sister in Fulton he is also survived by his wife; a brother, Mac Dunn, Water Valley; a sister, Mrs. Ora Lee Layne of Truman, Ark. Six grandchildren also survive. They are: John Allen Meschke of Garden City, Kansas; Bobby, Carol and David Dunn of Fulton and Richard and Gilbert Chanais of Wichita.

DRIVE GOES OVER-THE-TOP

Although complete details are not yet released, the financial drive to raise $810,000 for a health center here has gone "over the top" and the center is thus assured the community.

Much credit is due Mrs. Ward Bushart, who stepped into the sagging campaign and helped, with her chairmen, to raise the needed balance through personal solicitation. Much credit is also due the Fulton Lions Club, which first investigated the possibility of such a center and then presented the idea to the community and obtained the big initial commitments.

Walnut Grove Church, five miles southeast of Fulton, is 118 years old. The present church building was completed several years ago.

THE WALNUT GROVE CHURCH IS GETTING ON IN YEARS AND GETTING PRETTIER TOO

There's a little church, not in the wildwood, but in the lovely Walnut Grove Community that stands as a sentinel to sincere worship. This year the church will be 118 years old and with each year its membership grows and its history becomes more interesting.

It is difficult to separate the Walnut Grove Community's growth and progress from the busy activity that can always be found in the church and on the church grounds. The church has been the focal point of the community five miles east of Fulton for 118 years.

The news about the age and beauty about this church came about Tuesday when a News reporter was driving out to the Patterson home near the church. A sign, neatly painted and apparently kept in good repair at all times, said "Walnut Grove Methodist Church, established in 1838." That's a long time for sure, thought the reporter.

On the grounds of the church was a cow grazing peacefully. The early spring blossoms were bustin' out all over and if the little church in the wildwood had any more beauty and peace connected with it, this reporter would have to be told about it. (Continued on page 6)

Modern Welding Official Says Jones Resignation Had No Effect On His Sub-Contract

TRAINS 101, 102 TO END RUNS ON MONDAY, APRIL 19

IC Wins Long Court Battle To Take Off 2 Louisville Trains

On Monday, April 19, the Illinois Central Railroad will discontinue two passenger trains, 101 and 102, between Louisville and Fulton. The two trains will make their last trips Sunday.

The IC won in the Kentucky Court of Appeals the right to discontinue the trains, after the request was rejected by the Kentucky Railroad Commission in 1952.

Kentucky Representative Charles Burnley, an IC employee and a resident of Paducah, opposed the removal. The railroad contended that they were losing money on the trains.

Mrs. Mattie Burnhart of Michigan, is visiting friends in Fulton.

J. H. Mosby, vice-president in charge of pipeline construction for Modern Welding Company of Owensboro told the News by phone Tuesday that Stanley Jones' resignation from the City Council would have absolutely no effect on his continuing his sub-contract with them. Mosby emphasized that Jones was not given the job because he was on the council, and certainly he would be paid for his work whether he is on the council or not. Similarly his resignation would have no bearing on Modern Welding's contract it was learned from other reliable sources.

The inquiry was made to Mosby, who signed the Modern Welding Company contract with the city in answer to some unfounded belief that the prime contract and the sub-contract to lay the gas lines for the city would be void if Mr. Jones resigned from the council as Kentucky Statutes say he must if he is to hold any contract at all with a firm doing business with the city.

Meanwhile Mayor Bill Brown said Thursday that he considered the matter closed and that he would not bring it before the city council himself. Asked if there were any other developments in the case that might tend to change the Attorney General's opinion of last week, that Mr. Jones was serving on the council in violation of the law, he said there were none.

BOB WHITE IS NEW PRESIDENT OF FULTON C OF C

Maxwell McDade, Clyde Williams, Jr Also New Officers

The annual business meeting and election of directors and officers for the Fulton Ky-Tenn Chamber of Commerce was held at the Rose Room Monday night. Dinner preceded the business of the meeting.

President Garland Merryman opened the meeting by calling for election of four directors to replace those whose term of office expired April 1st. The four retiring directors were Paul Westpheling, Garland Merryman, Louis Kasnow and Ernest Fall, Jr.

Four new directors were elected as follows: Bob White, W. P. Burnette, Maxwell McDade and Dr. Glynn Bushart.

For the first time the Chamber of Commerce had prepared a full annual report, which contained reports of the Board of Directors, the Treasurer, Executive Secretary, and a report of the work done by each committee or department of the Chamber of Commerce during the year.

The Secretary, Mrs. Lorine L. Hughes, gave the report of the work of the office and a report of the community development contest scrapbook, for which Fulton had received honorable mention at the meeting of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. (Continued on page 6) pany was awarded the prime contract by the city to lay the main gas lines, at least sixty days elapsed before Jones Plumbing Company was awarded the sub-contract. Several other out-of-town city firms also bid on the contract, it was learned.

The contract, on file at the City Hall, was prepared by Russell and Axon, consulting engineers for the city. The contract states that the firm has 265 days from the starting date to complete the contract.

Original specifications in the contract were revised on April 1, 1953. No reason was stated in the contract for the revisions.

Attorney General M. B. Hollifield, one of the most competent lawyers in the State rendered an opinion to the News editor after an inquiry by her as to whether it was legal for a city councilman to serve on the council and still hold a contract with a firm doing business with the city.

The Attorney General said it was not legal.

Bailey Binford, Fulton High school; Gloria Ann Hinton, Fulton Junior High; Jerry Coates, South Fulton senior high; and Norma Gail Cooley, South Fulton Junior High. The winners earned cash prizes for their essays.

Around 25 representatives of the Union, the press and the City attended Wednesday's banquet observing "Union Label Week." Minnie Lee Moss, financial secretary and chairman of the local union's Union Label Week contest, presided.

Hazel Bankston, Atlanta, southern area director of the Union Label campaign, was also present and stated in her remarks to the group that "99% of the garment workers in the South are women, and 95% are housewives and mothers. The Union Label is a symbol, a guarantee... an emblem of freedom from pressure and fear by its workers. It has a message that goes back 2000 years to the early-day Guild labels."

Over 500 entries in the Student Essay Contest were reported.

The Pattersons Are Happy; Goals Are Reached

This reporter saw a couple of lovely folks crying the other day because they were so happy. They were happy because they lived a good and clean Christian life and have prepared themselves to go to their final home with their Master.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Patterson will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary this Sunday. They have invited, through the papers, their hundreds of friends, to call on them that day and share with them the half century of happiness they have had together.

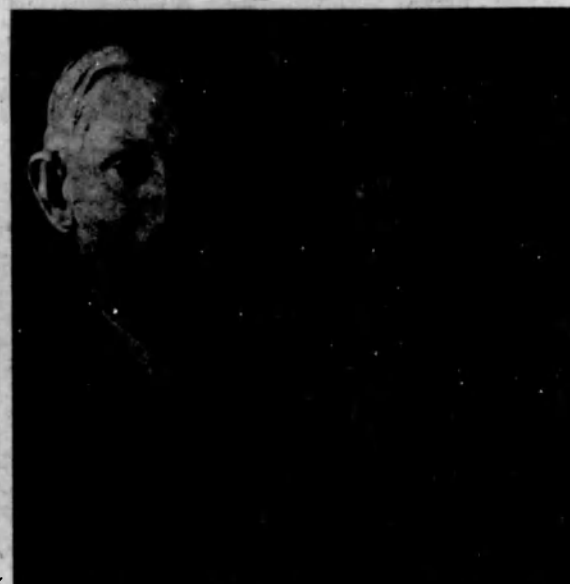

In their lovely country home in the Walnut Grove Community Mr. and Mrs. Patterson were expecting this reporter. They made no special preparations whatsoever. Mr. Patterson was reading the paper that had arrived that morning and Mrs. Patterson was in the kitchen cooking a delicious dinner, the delicious aroma which could be detected a block away. They came to the door and greeted the reporter, both were eager to sit and chat about the happy years they have lived together. Their greeting and their informality was indicative of the way they have lived all their lives.

Fifty years ago on April 18, 1904, Hattie Fisher and J. H. Patterson were united in marriage by their good friend Brother Jim Wood, a Methodist minister in Weakley County. From that day until this one that couple has lived the kind of a good and simple life that characterizes the sturdy pioneer stock from which they are both descendants. Both the Fisher family and the Patterson family have lived in Tennessee for several generations and as little children both Hattie and J. H. can remember their parents, telling them of the part their families played in the struggle for the survival that the early Southerners endured.

This same simplicity and determination has been ever present in the manner that the couple have lived and reared their family.

Mr. Patterson is getting "no account" he says. But not a word of it is true. He helps his son Virgil farm their 120 acres of fertile land and still does much of the milking of their fine dairy

DAIRYING SHOULD CONTINUE TO BE GOOD SOURCE OF CASH INCOME FOR FARMERS

Although dairy farmers in Kentucky find themselves in a tight price-cost squeeze, with good herd management and the use of all possible home-grown feeds and pasture, dairying should continue to be an important and consistent source of cash income, C. C. Erwin, agricultural economist, said at a recent dairy short course at the University of Kentucky.

The speaker noted that in some sections of the state farmers produce only about two-thirds of the fluid milk needed locally for consumption in the bottled trade. In view of this, Dr. Erwin said, Kentucky dairymen who have access to good markets continue in a relatively favorable competitive position. Despite the tendency toward lower prices, the economist pointed out, the dairy enterprise in Kentucky may be expected to provide returns which will compare favorably with those of other livestock and crop enterprises. This is especially true on relatively small farms where employment of family labor is an important factor in the farming operations.

Other points made by Economist Erwin were that people continue to drink about the same amount of milk, the population is increasing and dairy products continue as bargain foods.

JAMES DEWEESE SEEKS PRESIDENCY OF EDUCATION ASS'N

Mayfield Educator Submits Candidacy For April Meet

James Deweese

James B. "Baby" Deweese, superintendent of public schools in Graves county, today announced his candidacy for president of the Kentucky Education Association. The election will be at the annual KEA meeting in Louisville April 21-23.

The announcement came after a great deal of urging by his friends all over the state, and was made with the simultaneous endorsement of the First District Education Association and the West Kentucky Administrators.

Louis Litchfield, FDEA president, and W. B. Moser, WKA president, speaking for the entire membership of their organizations, joined in urging Deweese's election.

The popular and experienced school man from Graves county is perhaps best known for his excellent work with the Advisory Committee to the Kentucky Legislative Research Commission in helping to formulate and implement the minimum foundation program for education in Kentucky.

In making his announcement, Deweese said that his purpose for wanting to be named KEA president was to continue his fight for the program and to insure its successful operation in Kentucky schools.

Deweese is a native of Ballard county. He attended Wickliffe High school and was graduated from Murray State College in 1932 with a B. S. degree and a certificate in administration supervision.

Rev. Randal Johnson Accepts New Pastorate

Rev. Randal Johnson resigned as pastor of the Riceville Baptist Church effective March 21, to accept the pastorate of the New Hope Baptist Church in Graves County.

Rev. Johnson, formerly of Carlisle County, came to Riceville Baptist Church, April 18, 1948, this being his first pastorate. At this time the church had only part-time services in a one room building. The attendance outgrew this building in the fall of 1950. A new beautiful $14,000 building was erected at this time with a large auditorium and six Sunday School rooms. The church now has a full time program. There have been 110 additions to the church by baptism and 86 by letter.

Rev. and Mrs. Johnson and their two children, Shirley and Ray, will remain in Fulton until the end of the school term. They will then move to the newly erected pastorium on the New Hope Church field.

PUBLIC HEALTH TOPICS

Two hundred thirteen cases of infectious hepatitis (jaundice) were reported in Kentucky in January and February of this year, compared to 135 for the same period in 1953. A total of 900 cases of infectious hepatitis occurred in 1953, the Kentucky State Department of Health reports. Fulton County reported one case in 1953 and two cases have been reported to date this year.

Hepatitis is an acute infection which may result in severe damage to the liver. It is caused by a virus discharged from the nose, mouth or alimentary tract of an infected person or from the blood of one with infectious hepatitis.

First signs are fever, nausea with or without vomiting, fatigue, headache and abdominal discomfort which later are followed by jaundice (yellowness of skin accompanied by a clay colored stool and dark urine). Many people go through the first stage but do not develop jaundice.

The exact method of transmission is not known but cases have been caused by contaminated water, food or milk or by direct personal contact. For example, a recent outbreak in a California housing project was traced to household plumbing where there were cross connections between the water supply and the conventional wringer type clothes washers. Cross connections were caused by connecting the washing machine to the kitchen faucet with a rubber hose, the end of which was allowed to remain below the surface of the soiled water in the washer. Back siphonage occurred when vacuums were produced in the pipes during increased demands for water. This can happen especially in apartment houses when several of the faucets in the lower floor are opened at the same time, if the water distribution system is too small to supply an ample amount of water to all openings.

Good community sanitation and personal hygiene help prevent outbreaks of hepatitis. Sanitary disposal of waste is always an essential to safe, healthy living.

CHIROPRACTORS IN OFFER TO FULTON FOR DEFENSE UNIT

Official Stands By to Give Any Help To City

The City of Fulton was offered assistance in setting up a Civilian Defense organization with the cooperation of Civilian Defense officials of Paducah. The offer was made Saturday at a dinner sponsored by the Jackson Purchase Chiropractic Association at the Ritz Hotel in Paducah.

Nat Dortch, Civilian Defense Coordinator said he stands ready to assist officials here. He has had extensive experience in CD work.

Dortch made his offer after Civilian Defense Director J. C. Williams of Paducah told assembled chiropractors and mayors of several cities that over 500 persons have received Civilian Defense training in Paducah. He said Paducah has an excellent Auxiliary Fire Department and Auxiliary Police Department and that the communications system was second to none.

Williams pointed out that the next war would be hard on the civilian population and that while he doesn't expect Fulton to be bombed as a military target, that if bombs fell, or if tornadoes, floods, fires or other disasters occur in this area "we might need you and you might need us."

BREEDERS MEET TO PROMOTE DAIRYING HERDS

Use of Artificial Insemination Is Object of Meeting

The directors of the Jackson Purchase Artificial Dairy Breeders Association No. 1 met in regular session Monday evening, March 22.

The purpose of the meeting was to determine ways and means of developing a program of education through the continued use of artificial insemination in the dairy herds of Hickman, Fulton and Carlisle counties.

The group voted unanimously for the promotion of an artificial sire heifer sale to serve the entire membership of some 500 dairy farmers in the 3 counties to be held on Saturday afternoon, April 24 beginning at 12:30 in Clinton.

All of the new members of the association were invited to sell surplus heifers in this sale. Terms of the sale will be 2 per cent, rejection fee will be $100.

Fulton High Girls Organize Nurse's Club

Last Tuesday afternoon, all the girls of Fulton High assembled in the study hall for the purpose of organizing a Future Nurses Club. Each girl was very enthusiastic to learn about the club and its activities.

Mrs. J. C. Hancock, and Mrs. Russell Rudd were present to explain the club to us. Mrs. A. J. Brauner, the school sponsor, introduced Mrs. J. C. Hancock who outlined the purpose and nature of the work. Following her remarks, a motion was made and seconded and voted unanimously to organize. By motion and vote, we then elected Patsy Holder, temporary chairman. She graciously presided.

Next, we elected Nancy Jefferson president-elect.

Following this, we elected Carolyn Roberts, secretary and treasurer.

Next in order, was the election of a reporter. Betty Lou Davis was elected to fill this office.

We then voted to accept each ten cents at each meeting.

The gardenia was the choice as club flower and green and white the club colors. We agreed to meet the fourth Wednesday of each month. We shall have our installation of officers at the next meeting.

Fifty-nine girls were present at this meeting.

The purpose of the club is to present a way to interest high school students in personal and community health; to encourage them in finding out what nursing requires and what it offers; to help them decide wisely about professional or practical nursing as their career.

Willow-Wilde Farm Sells Gurnsey Sires

Petersborough, N. H. — J. R. Fulton, Preston, Miss., has just purchased the young Gurnsey sire, Willow-Wilde's King Leo, from Cecil Burnette, Fulton, Ky.

This young bull is out of the cow, Silver Forest, Lena, that has once been classified desirable for type, and is sired by Cowham Farm Tress' King.

Cows which freshen in the fall produce an average of $20 more profit than spring-freshened cows, due to higher milk and butterfat production and higher winter milk prices, according to a study made by the Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

Diary of Doin's

—Around Fulton—

A News Reporter writes social happenings about you and your friends.

Time marches on! And to many mothers and dads in Fulton, how fast it has marched! Another year has gone by and again the Seniors in the high schools are in the spotlight. Last week many homes were turned topsy-turvy, meals were served out-of-order, everyone was borrowing this and that getting ready for the big night, the senior play "My Little Margie" which was given at Carr Institute auditorium last Friday night. And to add to the gaiety of it all, the annuals, the 1954 GR-R-ROWL, came off the press, and what with all the exchange of autographs the comparison of pictures, the "what was right about it" and "the what was wrong", things were really in a state. But everything turned out just fine. The play was a huge success, everyone declared, and much credit is due Mary Hughes Burrow who directed the play and spent hours and hours working with the cast until the play was perfected in every way. Our thanks to all of you who helped to make it such a success! It was really a treat.

They had lots of fun at South Fulton last Thursday night when the Junior Class had their annual Night Club. The floor show began at 7:45 and such entertainers as Kay Bowen and Jerry Coates delighted their audience with many vocal numbers. Bob by Newton, pianist, and his Jazz Band composed of Buddy McKenzie, Morris Taylor, Gene Vancil, Jerry Counce and Herby Cathy made music which would put New Orleans Jazz Bands to shame. (So they say). And those chorus girls! Betty Fay Peoples, Peggy Peoples, Carol Mallory, Marita Bennett, Joyce Guill and Doris Harris were strictly a wow! Proceeds from the program will go into the Junior treasury.

Over at South Fulton High Tuesday morning the students and teachers were entertained at their assembly period by a fellow who did all sorts of magic. This is the third program from a series of three which have been presented to the school by the Southern School Adsemblies, Inc. Others included an entertainer who displayed magical talents with electricity and a lecturer from India who gave an exhibition on relics from India. Each program has proven to be both entertaining and well instructed.

If one could have peeked in on the meeting of the Garden Department at the Women's Club Friday about four o'clock, they might have wondered just what kind of a trading center was located up there. Ladies of that club were sitting here and there with bulbs and plants, of every description in their hands exchanging with each other. This is the second year the club has followed this plan — and it's a good one, too. What is better than sharing with one's friends and neighbors? It gives all the members of that department a chance to have every kind of lovely flower one might wish for. But all this happened after their regular meeting. In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Hunter Whitesell, Mrs. Lawson Roper opened the meeting and welcomed the visitors. A short business session was held.

Mr. Joe Davis, program leader gave a clever talk and used as her topic, "Mrs. Narcissus and Her Children". Mrs. Davis said, "It is an established fact that the narcissus and flowers of her family are the top favorites of all flower lovers." She also gave much information on cultivating and producing these flowers. After her informal talk Mrs. Davis further delighted her flower friends by presenting Mrs. Gus Bard who played her own arrangement of Ethelbert Nevin's "The Rosary" and "Caprice Espagnol" by Moszkowski. Both numbers were a special request by members of the department.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Frank Brady, Mrs. Horace Reams, Mrs. Edgar Bell, Mrs. Carl Puckett, Mrs. C. L. Drysdale, Mrs. Will McDade, Mrs. J. W. Elledge, Mrs. Claude Shelby, and Mrs. M. L. McDade. They served lovely refreshments to 42 members, and two visitors, Mrs. Ben Gholson and Mrs. Jim Wilson of Curve, Tenn.

Another milestone was passed last Friday afternoon at the A. W. Green home on the Martin Highway when Stephen Green celebrated his fifth birthday. Little friends were invited to his home to enjoy an Easter egg hunt. After much egg hunting and fun the little guests were served ice cream and cake by Members of the Thursday Night Bridge Club met with Mrs. Stanley Jones at her home on Walnut Street. Mrs. Tom Mahan was high scorer for the evening and received a lovely gift. Mrs. Clyde Williams, Jr. won the low score prize. After the games were played the hostess served a delicious salad plate and Coca Cola to her guests Mrs. Mahan, Mrs. Williams, Miss Helen King, Mrs. John L. Jones, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Cantrell, Mrs. Joe Treas, Mrs. J. A. Poe, Mrs. Morgan Omar, Miss Andy DeMyer, and Mrs. Fred Homra.

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Adams on Jefferson street was the scene of a lovely supper Saturday night when they entertained along with their daughter Susan and son-in-law Neil Ethridge, for members of the Sams-Adams wedding party and out-of-town guests. Following the rehearsal at the First Baptist Church, supper was served buffet style from a white linen draped table centered with an arrangement of Talisman roses.

The bride's table, in silver and white, held as its central appointment a floral arrangement of white tulips, narcissus and spirea flanked by lighted tapers in crystal candelabra. Seated at this table were the bride and groom, Miss Linda Sams and Mr. Kenneth Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sams, Mrs. and Mrs. H. C. Sams, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Adams of Mayfield and Rev. and Mrs. John Laid.

Other guests, who were seated at card tables, centered with crystal bud vases holding Talisman rose buds, included Mr. and Mrs. Welton Wylie, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Clark, Kathy Clark, Judy Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Jehn Austin, all of Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Doyle and Miss Anna Watt Smith, of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westpheling, Ben Sams, Miss Alma Phillips, Mrs. Charles Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Whitehurst of Tampa, Fla.

Members of the Music Department of the Woman's Club were entertained Tuesday night with a joint program sponsored by the Beethoven Club and the Junior Music Club. Grade school girls and high school girls were dressed in their best and really gave of their best talents for this program. Each year these talented youngsters climax their year's club work by presenting this program to the Music Department. Those of us who have been closely associated with these clubs know of the long hours spent by both the teachers and the students in preparation for the program. After we hear a performance such as the one witnessed on Tuesday night we know how fortunate the people of Fulton are to have so much musical talent among our youth. It is good to know that many of these girls will choose music as their profession. Ella Doyle presented the following girls from the Beethoven Club: Susan Stokes, piano solo; Mary Ann Bennett and Susan Bushart, duopiano; Virginia Page, Rita Krammer, Sidney Callahan, Jeanie Davis and Marion Blackstone all played piano solos. Mollie Wiley was leader for the Junior Music Club and she in turn presented the last half of the program. Those who participated were: Marilyn and Elaine Butler, flute duet accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Roman; Darnette Overall, vocal solo accompanied by Mrs. Nelson Tripp; Jean Ann Hyland, piano solo; Beverly Hill, piano solo accompanied by Janet Allen and Marilyn Butler, flute solo, accompanied by Mrs. Roman. Mrs. Marguerite Sundwick was elected to serve as sponsor of the Junior Music Club upon the resignation of Mrs. Hendon Wright. Mrs. Harry Bushart was elected to serve as co-chairman, along with Mrs. Milton Callahan, of the Beethoven Club. Officers elected for the coming year were: Mrs. Arthur Roman, president; Mrs. Walter Voelpel, vice president; Mrs. Charles Gregory, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Nelson Tripp, historian.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mesdames Gus Bard, Joe Hall, Bob Binford, Hendon Wright, Arthur Roman, Gilson Latta and John Laid.

Guests were Ethel McDaniel's mother, Mrs. Riley of Racine, Wisconsin and Margaret Homra's sister, Jackie Khourie of Sacramento, Calif., and Betty Lou Thomas of Union City. Friends of Win have been urging him for several months to conduct such a course such as this. This course some plans. Several of our neighboring towns have organized Toastmistress and Toastmaster's clubs who are studying a course such as this. This course that Win offer will be for both men and women and it will consist of twenty three sessions. The club will meet one night each week. Time and place for meetings will be announced at a later date.

At the completion of the course there will be a lovely banquet at which time the members of the class will "graduate". There will be prizes given to the ones who have benefited most by the weekly sessions. For those of us who are interested in improving our speech, as well as our personalities, I am sure we could find no better way than to enroll in this course and support someone who has the interest of all Fulton people at heart. Thanks, to you, Win, for giving the people in Fulton this opportunity.

Law Is Clear On Council Case; Any Reason For Its Violation?

It is best to start from the beginning in the controversy arising from the fact that a city councilman also has an interest in a contract with the city, which according to an opinion by the highest legal authority in the State of Kentucky is a violation of the law.

The fact that we investigated this violation of the law has nothing to do with personalities.

We think now, have always thought, and will think tomorrow that Stanley Jones is a good and honest councilman. He has worked hard for the city. He has been conscientious and has performed duties far and above those called for as a public official and a good citizen. Long before he had any remunerative interest in the affairs of the city we knew him to be a hard worker and a man whose judgment we respected and a person we could go to for any favor either official or unofficial. The fact that he has been doing a subcontracting job for the city in obvious violation of the law has not altered any of the deep respect we hold for him and his fine family.

The fact remains however that according to the provisions of KRS 86.050 as interpreted by the Attorney General he forfeited his office when he accepted the subcontract with Modern Welding Company to lay gas lines for the city of Fulton.

At the suggestion of Mayor Bill Browning, City Attorney James Warren was sent to Frankfort last week ostensibly to clarify the situation and to present other facts that might have some bearing on the legality of Mr. Jones remaining on the City Council. If he presented any pertinent facts, or if there are any other facts, the Mayor or City Attorney have not seen fit to acquaint the public with the situation. And we believe, in fairness to Mr. Jones and to you, that he should.

The Attorney General, according to a statement made public by Mr. Browning, said, after Mr. Warren's consultation, "We stand on our opinion." Then does Mr. Browning know something that all of us should know?

The Administration of a city government is no private affair. Every member of the council, good, honest and conscientious men, will agree wholeheartedly that this is true.

Stanley Jones, we believe in sincerity took that sub-contract in the best of faith and with no thought of violating a law. Mr. Jones on the other hand should have been advised of the legality of accepting such a contract by the City Attorney.

The mere fact that we mention the City Attorney undoubtedly brings suspicions in the minds of some people, who do not want to think anything else, that this Browning know something that personal political matter between James Warren and the News Editor.

Such thinking is ridiculous. Neither the News editor nor the News Publisher has now, or will have in the future, any aspiration to have, hold or be appointed to public office.

Because of our interest in good Government we have made some good, close personal friends of public officials in high places. We have often called upon these friends to do some worthwhile things for Fulton without fanfare or personal gain. We have used what little influence we had in this direction without any intention whatsoever of attempting to usurp the erasat glory that comes to the little minds who want to be political bosses.

Stanley Jones, being a well-liked and honorable citizen, has nothing to hide that would cause him to be forced to remain on the council.

Stanley must resign, complete his contract, have the work inspected and okayed and this can still be done without jeopardizing the City gas contract in any manner whatever. Having thus been inspected and passed, his hands are clean and no harm done.

It is true that Stanley was serving in the Administration of another Mayor when he was awarded the sub-contract. He has since been re-elected by a good number of votes that he deserved. These technicalities have nothing to do with the law as it stands that "no member of the council shall be interested in any contract."

STRICTLY BUSINESS

"This is our Board Room!"

shall render a person ineligible to be a member of the council, and the council shall so declare and shall fill the vacancy."

Mayor Bill Browning as late as Saturday morning told the News editor that the Attorney General was speaking in generalities. The foregoing paragraph doesn't sound general to us or to you, nor did the Attorney General have any doubt in his mind when he said: "No ambiguity appears in the law."

We have nothing to gain in this controversy. As a matter of fact we stand to lose some good friendships who cannot understand the duties of a newspaper to stand by its community when it is apparent that the law is being violated.

We have no ulterior motive in bringing these facts to light. As a matter of fact the unfair criticism we will get in some quarters will be very painful. But this pain will be partially relieved by the fact that we are doing out duty to you, the taxpayers, by bringing these facts to the public.

We will gain no satisfaction in having Mr. Jones resign. We will lose the services of a good councilman who has served his city well. And we believe that Stanley Jones will readily admit that he wants not one dime of city money if it is not according to law. And every member of the council feels the same way, we are sure.

The unjust accusation by a citizen that we are trying "to tear this city apart" is hitting a little below the belt. We ask only that you inspect the scrap-book at the Chamber of Commerce office. Many of the local projects for which the book was given honorable mention have been enthusiastically supported by the News. We've been at it for the past seven years and we'll be doing it for the next 107 years if we live that long.

This whole affair has been brought about because we merely seek to keep our house (our community) which is yours, too) in clean, unquestionable, upright order, with things going according to law; with a continuing pattern of good government, that can set a continuing pattern for the council to follow. A good, sound community is based on these things and has a right to them.

Today we hear, on all sides (before we ever requested an opinion of the Attorney General) of something wrong, something that isn't according to Hoyle. While we thought it was minor, the steadfast refusal to correct the obvious, law-violating situation are liable to magnify it into something all out of proportion to real status. Such a snowball could reflect much discredit on the mayor and council as a whole whether they deserve it or not.

A businessman in Fulton who accepts election to the City Council cannot become heavily burdened with the duties of the office, that we know. He needs support and understanding of the citizens, and that we have already campaigned for. But to a man, he owes his allegiance to the citizens who put him in office. When we hear a public official state "The public knows too much already," we cannot but wonder how far this attitude goes. The law says he cannot serve himself and serve the citizens at the same time, and it's a good law.

We pride ourselves in being a clean, honest, upright community. The law is clear, it has been clearly interpreted by highest State authority and should be obeyed without further question. Failure to do so, gentlemen, can only bring continuing trouble.

Every Family Has Been Touched by Cancer Deaths

By Oscar Hammerstein, II

EDITOR'S NOTE: Oscar Hammerstein, II, poet, musical comedy librettist, song writer and producer, who has had three hits running on Broadway at one time wrote the following editorial as a contribution to the American Cancer Society's 1954 Crusade.

It is a safe guess that there is no one reading these words who has not lost a friend or relative through cancer. You are not therefore being asked to fight a remote evil. You are not being asked to help people whom you will never meet. People who are beset with a misfortune that cannot touch you. If ever there was an enemy common to all the people on earth, it is this worst of all premature killers.

The American Cancer Society carries on a year-round and unceasing campaign of education, research and service. Through efforts like these cancer will one day be conquered. A sudden light of discovery will bless some research laboratory. Meanwhile, the Society is saving lives that can be saved and alleviating the suffering of victims who are beyond saving.

Whatever money you may give to this cause will be used not merely to help those already afflicted. The more important objective is eventually to wipe out cancer as other diseases have been wiped out, to save many lives in the future—perhaps your own. Please give every dollar you can afford.

That "Cleaned-Up" Look is Starting Early

As the saying goes, "Charity Begins at Home", and we suspect that perhaps the key to a cleaner, brighter business district lies first in cleaner, neater homes of its suburbs.

It is a gratifying thing to drive around through town these Spring days and see the increasing number of bright, attractive homes that have been given attention during the past year . . . as well as the number of residents that are out these days cleaning yards, removing old eyesores, painting this and that, planting flowers and shrubs and trees, and in general taking a measure of pride in their home and its surroundings.

Another "Paint-Up, Clean-Up" week will be at hand in May, but judging from the activity this past week, many have decided that by that time they would have their own private campaign over.

It's a good sign for a prettier Fulton in 1954.

Newsman See Increased Religious Sentiment

SCIENCE AND RELIGION can work harmoniously together. Science develops matter in the service of man. Religion develops man in the service of God.

There is a rich, positive value in science, for science enables men to become masters of nature. Science enables men to construct whatever they need to make their material lives more comfortable, more convenient, and more conducive to their human dignity and to their divine destiny.

THOUGH NOT DIRECTLY perfecting the inner man, science eases his outer life, so that his inner nature can develop the more freely and fully. But there is one thing that science cannot give men. It does not give the uncontrollable and immeasurable truths that govern men's minds. Christianity gives these truths.

We must square what is positive in science with well established truths known by other means. We must integrate science within a full perspective.

tive, divine as well as human. Then will the science, which man's genius has carved out, serve the cause of truth the cause of man, and hence the cause of science itself.

SCIENCE FITS IN with the organic Christian culture of the past and with the eternal Christian principles. The task of Christian culture, which is really our western culture, is to bring science to the service of man's destiny. It is not an easy task. It demands hard, patient labor. But upon its achievement in this, the atomic age, there hangs in the balance the future of all our civilization.

Already in the infancy of the atomic age, it is quite apparent that science alone cannot protect man. There is an immediate need for Christian principles to control the power which modern science has lavished on modern man.

OUR TEACHERS and our writers and our statesmen must emphasize that even political control of atomic power will not, in the final count, be enough.

The atom bomb could be controlled by a Christian conscience, because Christian conscience is controlled by God's truth. We need a Christian conscience. A Christian conscience can guide scientists and guard society.

With Christianity and science pooling their resources, civilization in its spiritual and material totality can advance beyond measure.

Dear mom,
I'm writing by the light of Dad's coal.

"Uncle George says the coal Dad mines is making electricity right here, hundreds of miles from home. On the way to his house I saw lots of coal trains. I never knew..."

Thus the son of a coal miner acquires fresh respect for his father's work. He learns, too, that coal's value begins, not when it comes from the ground, but after it has traveled far and burns, white hot, to provide heat, light and power for millions of individuals and industries.

Back home from his trip, he will watch Illinois Central coal trains with fresh understanding of the partnership between coal and railroads—the partnership that furnishes most of America's power.

Coal and the Illinois Central have been partners ever since mines began dotting Mid-America. This railroad has had a hand in developing many coal fields and the marketing of their output. Doing this job efficiently and economically is one of the important ways in which we serve the people of Mid-America.

So a picture was taken of the little church and the pastor E. B. Rains was called for some information. He gave the facts.

The first Walnut Grove church was a log school house known as Hortons. The name was changed to Walnut Grove in 1840, at which time the Methodist circuit for that area numbered about 50 churches with only one presiding elder and two preachers, to tend them. The circuit extended from the Tennessee river to the Hickman vicinity.

Some years later a frame church was built and stood through the Civil War in spite of gunfire from guerrillas, many of whose pellets were embedded in its framework.

About 1900 a new church building was started and it was finished about 1902.

The present new and pretty church was completed several years ago.

The church was organized in 1838 by the Rev. J. M. Major, father of Dr. George L. Major, who practiced in Fulton for many years. Charter members were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. George Horton, Mr. and Mrs. King Clark, Sally Horton, Abe Horton, George Casey, Cally Casey, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Gamble, Mr. and Mrs. George Gamble, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horton, Mr. and Mrs. James McFall, and Mrs. W. C. Bowers.

The first Sunday school superintendent of the church was Moses Hughlett. Others who have served are R. H. Mitchell, Dr. Ed Baucum, Will Lowe, R. B. Sellars, Mrs. Irene Boaz, Frank Sellars, Mrs. Jessie McIntyre, J. T. Reese, and Glenn Walker.

The present Sunday School superintendent is Randolph Jolley. Mrs. Billy Fry is president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, which is a very active organization in the church. Miss Nancy Counce is the organist. Chairman of the board is Walter Hawks.

An interesting phase of the church's history is that the charter of the WSCS of the church, dated 1860, is still in possession of the ladies there.

Brother Rains, told the News that the minutes of the church's activities, which are almost as old as the church, bring out the fact that members of the church were often "tried" for violations of church laws. He said that a member of the church once had to take a load of tobacco to some place in Mississippi. His travel was arduous with an ox-cart and the time he allotted for his return ran over into Sunday. When he returned he was called before the church and reprimanded and his "sentence" was to promise that he would never do it again. Sometime drive out Walnut Grove way and see this lovely and historic church.

Bob White

Bob White was elected President of the Fulton, Ky.-Tenn. Chamber of Commerce for the coming year Maxwell McDade was elected Vice President. Clyde Williams, Jr., was elected Treasurer.

to detail about how economical and profitable it was to have the latest methods of farming in practice instead of relying on the old methods. The same thing applies to his hog-farming operations. He said that he can spot a good shoot amile away and doesn't believe anything but breeding his own hogs.

Sometimes they get a little sentimental about their ages in that most of their old friends have passed away. Houston Stubblefield, their close friend and

In the lovely living-room of their home is a lovely old piano, which they said, each of the children have played on. The piano is more than a 100 years old and formerly belonged to the late Bob Mitchell on whose farm the couple lived for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson can't tell a bit of difference in being married for fifty years than if they had just married. They're that happy. They said that they have accomplished everything they set out to do and are happy. They worked many a night to reach their goals, but it was certainly worth it to them, they gladly offered.

Both are members of the Johnson Grove Baptist Church and they have four grandchildren whose lovely pictures adorn their walls.

Wedding Of Miss Sams And Mr. Adams Is Beautifully Solemnized Here On Sunday

Before a wrought-iron arch-way, handsomely decorated with huckleberry leaves, entwined with sprigs of lilacs and white gladioli Miss Linda Sams pledged her marriage vows to Mr. Kenneth Adams Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Claud Sams of Fulton and Mr. Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Adams of Mayfield. Rev. John Laida, pastor of the church reading the impressive double ring ceremony before a large assemblage of friends and relatives of the bride and groom.

The rostrum of the church was made beautiful with a striking decoration of fern balls and white gladioli made into a huge wreath, which stood on a tall standard immediately behind the arch-way. Huge baskets of gladioli, white snapdragons and Emerald fern stood on either side of the arch.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Beverly Hill rendered two lovely musical solos, accompanied at the organ by Neil Etheridge. Miss Hill sang "Because" and "Oh Promise Me". During the devotional following the vows she sang "The Lord's Prayer". Mr.

Etheridge played several of the traditional wedding songs preceding the arrival of the wedding party and while the guests were being seated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father wore a wedding gown of crystal white satin. The bouffant skirt was waist length. The high necked yoke of tulle was tapered with flounces of Chantilly lace around her shoulders. Her finger-tip veil of tulle fell from a coronet of seed pearls gathered with tiny sprigs of orange blossoms. Her cathedral train was also of tulle. To complete her wedding attire the bride carried a white Bible and two orchids.

The bride chose as her matron of honor her sister-in-law Mrs. Herman Sams, Jr. She wore a ballerina length organdy frock of blue, fashioned along princess lines. The neckline was scalloped and the short sleeves were taught at the elbow in a tiny bow made of the same material. The waistline was fashioned with a satin cummerbund of matching soft taffeta. She carried a French bouquet of yellow iris with petals of ivory flowing to the hem-line tied in complementing shades of ribbon.

The bridesmaids wore identical frocks as the maid of honor. They wore pastel shades of organdy and also carried French bouquets of contrasting shades to that of their gowns. The bridesmaids were Misses Alma Phillips and Miss Judy Adams, sister of the groom and Mrs. Cecil Lee Wade.

The little flower girls, Miss Kathy Clark, niece of the groom and Miss Mary Jo Westpheling wore floor length dresses of white organdy patterned on bouffant lines. The off-the-shoulder neckline was of Chantilly lace, which also trimmed the little Bo Peep hats they wore. They carried nose-gays of yellow miniature mums, with flowing ribbons.

Mrs. Sams, the bride's mother wore a tailored navy linen dress, trimmed in white. Her accessories were also blue and white and on her shoulder she wore a purple orchid.

Mrs. Adams, the bride-groom's mother wore an original Ellen costume suit of soft blue wool. Her corresponding accessories were accentuated by an orchid shoulder corsage.

The bride-groom's choice his father as best man. The ushers were H. C. Sams, Jr., Bennie Sams, brothers of the bride, Charlie Clark and Wilton Wiley of Mayfield, Howard Adams and Paul Westpheling of Fulton.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sams entertained with a lovely reception in the parlor of the church. The

PARIS FISH FRY TO BE FULL DAYS OF BIG EVENTS

For a great many years thousands of people have attended the "Paris Mule Day" always held there on the first Monday in April. This traditional day passed in this thriving community without the usual activities, everybody's looking forward to the coming of the first big Fish Fry and Fishing Rodeo that will replace the annual Mule Day. This event promises to outshine previous annual activities due to the interest that is being shown in Fishing and other outdoor sports.

Paris is located close to the Worlds Biggest Man Made Lake, Kentucky Lake, and is easily accessible by the numerous highways that pass directly through this West Tennessee Town and lead to the waters of this Great Lake one of the chain of "The Great Lakes of Tennessee."

To the Fisherman from far away this great body of water along with others in the Great State of Tennessee makes our State the Sixth biggest State in the Union for the selling of Fishing Licenses, and the fourth biggest for the selling of Non-resident licenses, only Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin have more out of State visiting Fisherman than Tennessee.

Final plans are being made for this mammoth event, with less than 30 days left, the time is getting close, and those attending any one of the numerous activities are urged to make reservations as soon as possible.

PREVENT FIRES DURING APRIL'S CLEAN-UP WEEK

State Fire Marshall J. T. Underwood, Jr., today called on mayors, city commissioners and councilmen throughout the State to join in the drive for a "Clean-Up" week during the present month.

"Seven out of ten fires are in the residential sections of our cities," he said "and are caused by carelessness in one way or the other. The same percentage are children under eight years old, and this should prompt us in a desire to want to help in cleaning up hazardous places."

"Records indicate nine out of every ten fires could have been prevented by having proper wiring, correct fuses, clean basements, properly arranged attics and outbuildings, well-kept yards and vacant lots."

He called on the local officials to render every assistance in the drive to "clean up" and remove, insofar as possible, the causes that bring about fires.

SOUTHERN STATES' NET WORTH INCREASED
OVER TWO MILLION DOLLARS DURING 1953

Southern States Cooperative's net worth increased over two million dollars during 1953 as compared to the year 1952, R. G. Roop, Director of Petroleum Services of Richmond, told members at their annual regional board meeting held in Mayfield, Ky.

Net worth of the South's largest cooperative stood at $27,427,305 on December 31, 1953 as compared with $24,658,968 for the same date in 1952, Roop reported.

Net savings of Southern States for the first half of the 1953-54 fiscal year totaled $1,638,000 which was on eof the largest totals in a comparable period in the history of the organization.

"This increase in net savings," Roop said, "stemmed primarily from market gains on inventories whereas losses were sustained the year before."

Dollar volume for the same period for Southern States Cooperative, exclusive of affiliated cooperatives, was $43,304,000, which was slightly lower than that of a comparable period last year.

Combining both wholesale and marketing volume, not only for Southern States Cooperative, but for subsidiaries and local affiliates.

ed cooperatives as well, the total for the six month period ending December 31, 1953 stood at $85,903,990, which is slightly below that of the corresponding period a year ago. Roop said. "This decrease was due largely to the lower price level prevailing on most commodities," he added.

Feed tonnage increased some 14,966 tons; petroleum volume was up 1,455,000 gallons, and dollar volume on farm supplies which was $4,439,849 on December 31, 1953 as compared with $4,228,907 on December 31, 1952, showed an increase of $210,942. Decreases were reported in fertilizer and seed, which was due largely to lower prices and the severe late summer and fall drought which hit the six-state operating territory of the organization last year.

One of the other highlights of the meeting was a discussion on the proposed future patronage refund policy to be followed by the cooperative.

Approximately 75 members of Southern States Cooperative community advisory boards, directors of affiliated cooperatives and Cooperative Service Agency managers attended the meeting. Representatives were also present from the local area.
