SUSAN McDaniel

There are graduations and graduations in the schools around Fulton, but the one that will take place at St. Edward's Catholic Convent Sunday night will probably take the spotlight as the most unique one. One "graduate" will receive a diploma from the eighth grade.

She is thirteen year-old Susan McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McDaniel. Susan has been going to St. Edward's since the private parochial school was opened in September 1947. She transferred from Carr Institute, after having attended the first grade there. Susan is the fifth student to complete the eighth grade at the school. The first to finish was Eddie Keiser, who is now living in Mounds, Ill. The others in the order of their graduation were Jean Ann Hyland, who this week graduated from High School at Fulton High. Marvin Phillips and Bobby Dunn.

If ever a student received a well-rounded education in eight grades Susan has truly acquired. (Continued on Page 8)

Ike's Coot-tail Room Limited Barkley Says

(See Editorial on Page Two)

Washington, May 25.—Alben W. Barkley today ridiculed the assertion that he tried to ride President Eisenhower's coattails during the Chief Executive's visit to Kentucky on April 23.

"Assuming there were coattails to be hung onto," the former vice-president said at his apartment here, "Senator Cooper occupied all the available space."

Barkley, who is running for the Senate seat held by Republican John Sherman Cooper, added:

"I have an ample set of coattails of my own and do not need to compete for presidential attention like a runt pig trying to get his share of the porcine pabulum."

Was Not Named

His remarks were in response to a statement made yesterday by White House Counsel Bernard Shanley who said, during a speech here, that Democratic candidates are trying to ride

Eisenhower's coattails. Senator Cooper did what he could to quiet the stir created by Shanley's remark.

Cooper said, "I think it was wholly appropriate for Mr. Barkley to be present in Lexington as a member of the committee and a distinguished visitor. I was glad to see him."

Shanley did not mention Barkley by name, but he made reference to the Lexington incident when Barkley surprised both Eisenhower and Cooper by being on hand to welcome them when they debarked from the President's plane.

Hasn't Met Him

"I do not have the honor of Mr. Shanley's acquaintance," Barkley said, "but his intimation that I was in Transylvania 175th anniversary celebration because I was trying to hang onto President Eisenhower's coattails is absurd. I couldn't have done so had I wanted to because Senator Cooper occupied all the available space."

"I was invited by President Rose of Transylvania to be on the committee to greet the President, and to be on the platform and I was notified that I would receive a citation from the college."

"Before accepting the invitation, I asked President Rose if there was any political connotation to the affair, anything with Republican designs."

"President Rose assured me there was no politics in it. He said he had gotten President Eisenhower to make his Transylvania visit through Dr. Charles Allen Thomas."

Mr. Barkley Doesn't Ride Anybody's Coat-tails!

There's no doubt about it, the candidacy of Alben W. Barkley for the United States Senate has the Republicans worried a-plenty. As a matter of fact even the White House has its eye on the race this summer.

In Tuesday's Courier-Journal the paper reported that Mr. Barkley was attempting to "hang on the President's coat-tails," because Mr. Barkley showed up unexpectedly at the 175th anniversary celebration of Transylvania College. As you know, President Eisenhower, was there too, as the center of attraction.

The statement about the Veep's hanging on was not made by the President, the story related, but by a source "close to the President." To us, that means that even Ike is a little gripped about the prospects of the November elections when the popular Veep will oppose John Sherman Cooper, the Republican incumbent.

The idea, intimated by the White House, that Barkley wanted to bask in Ike's glory as a political expedient is the laugh of the season. The way we look at it is that Eisenhower's visit to Kentucky would have been absolutely unofficial if Mr. Barkley had not been there.

Barkley, the story said as if something was wrong, was driven to Lexington by Governor Lawrence Wetherby, and both dignitaries sat on the speaker's stand with the President and Mr. John Sherman Cooper, during the ceremonies. Now what's wrong with that? Where would you expect to put a man like Mr. Barkley, in the bleachers? The affair was not a partisan affair, but an honorable recognition of a great college. And so, the greats were there and Mr. Barkley should have been there . . . and in Kentucky, too.

You know, there are thousands of Kentuckians, including us, who think that John Sherman Cooper is one of the most able statesmen that Kentucky has ever sent to the Senate or Congress of this country. He's proven himself to be capable and popular and a good vote-getter.

But when it comes to Mr. Barkley, that's something else. Alben, and we love to call him by his first name, is the pulse-beat of Kentucky. Everybody, even some Republicans, feel like they're kin to him and you know blood runs thicker than ever. And when anything happens in Kentucky that's big news or little, we want Barkley there. He's invited to everything from a hog-calling at Monkey's Eyebrow to an Airport dedication in Louisville. That's the way we want it, and its standing procedure in a good Kentuckian's vocabulary to say to Alben "You all Come, if you can." So we can't see how Mr. Barkley was hanging on to Ike's coat-tails by being at the Transylvania celebration.

Tell you what, Mr. White House spokesman, we're thinking you'd better take that statement back. There'll be more hell raised for you saying he was "showing off" there than if you'd said Mr. Barkley was a Republican.

Housewives Tell What They Like And Don't Like About Advertising

How do your readers react to the advertising in our newspapers?

Probably their mixed reaction is pretty much the same as that expressed by a panel of five housewives who were queried by a recent Oregon Press Conference. The questions asked of the panel and some of the answers, as summarized in the Oregon Publisher, follows:

To what extent do you read advertising in the newspapers?

"Quite thoroughly, in fact I'm one of those 'classified readers.' I go clear through the paper and I read nearly every ad. Of course the ones that attract my eyes first are usually the ones with colors or pictures.

"I quite thoroughly scan the ads every day not as to complete content, but as to what is there and if I'm interested then I pursue them further.

"I read the newspaper every day . . . particularly read the Sunday section want ads and I like to read the grocery ads on Thursday.

What particular ads attract you most?

"I read the grocery ads . . . I think they are my favorite . . . and the clothing store ads. Particularly I read the clothing store ads which are kind of simple and kind of smart. I don't care much for the classified or small-type of ad.

"Aside from reading the grocery ads which I read religiously almost as completely as I read the news items, every housewife is conscious of the long range needs of her family.

"I like the ads that are full of information but if there is too much detail or too many things advertised for one store it is so confusing that I don't have time to go through that I just ignore it completely. I compare grocery ads.

"We both read the sales ads. If we know that in 3 or 4 months we are going to need a sofa or something then we watch the sales ads on that."

Success Is The Goal Of Every Graduate

By Rev. Daniel Lord,
Author, Lecturer, and Youth Director
THE NORMAL CROWDS of young men and women emerging from the cocoon of their adolescence, listen to the commencement orators, receive the congratulations of admiring relatives, and wonder whether to beat their diplomas into crowbars, batons, baseballs and bats, microphones, or key-boards.

Before any young person, male or female, chooses a career, he should ask himself: will my work make God's world to be more what we expect God's world to be, and the children of God a little more like their Father who is in heaven.

IF A PERSON answers this question wisely, he will pick a career that is important for our age. Then, entering this career, he will realize that its value to his race and to his age will depend on how he lives within the career.

For example, a young man can become a doctor. He can choose to be a physician, cafe-society style; or he can devote his life to the care of God's sick. A young girl can become a teacher. She can choose that career merely because it is safe, comfortable, secure in job and pension; or she can reason, "I should like to give truth and beauty to the little sons and daughters of the Almighty."

YOUNG PEOPLE OF AMERICA should plunge into their careers with THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS eyes set on service as God's children. If they give generously they will grow in the giving. If they serve unselfishly, they will find themselves receiving a surprising return.

Success is not easy to attain. We must be the best possible human beings. That means thought and prayer in gratitude for what endowment God has given us, and the hope that He will add still more.

IT WOULD BE frightening to come to the last great accounting and find that the only gain of a lifetime of work is the money left behind for relatives to wrangle over and tax officials to confiscate.

Rather, let the record of your work be of a kind that can bear the scrutiny of God Himself, a record of people made happy because you served them, of development in your own soul, of advancement of those around you.

ONLY THEN DO WE earn the one success worth gaining in life; the success that gains from the Saviour the beautiful summary of a life well-spent. "Well done, good and faithful servant. . . Enter thou into the joy of the Lord."

Are You A Joiner Or A Doer In Your Club

Are you a joiner or a doer? There's a difference.

If you miss as many meetings as you attend, if you never have time to serve on an active committee, or are not much concerned in making your club's project successful, then you are just so much dead wood.

There's no law to make you agree to head or assist in a civic project. And if you're one of the kind who says "Yes, I'll do it," and never do, you're rendering your community a dis-service. All you've done is prevent someone else from doing it.

TUNNING BACK THE CLOCK

(May 24, 1929)

Every member of the Lion's Club should feel "puffed up" after hearing District Deputy Governor, Howard C. Kirk, of Owensboro, at Friday's luncheon at the First Methodist Church.

Those who attended the Lion's banquet at Paducah, Friday night were W. L. Roper, Warren Graham, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Atkins, Miss Clarice Powers and Dudley Smith.

The Music Department of the Woman's Club honored three of its active members, Mrs. Clarence Maddox, Mrs. Don Taylor and Miss Blanch Waggener, who are leaving soon to make their homes in other cities, with a buffet luncheon at the country club Wednesday, at one o'clock.

The new Science Hall was the scene of a gala event on Wednesday evening of last week, when the Junior class of Fulton High School gave their annual banquet to the seniors. This is a time-honored custom, and is always looked forward to with eager expectation.

After Bro. C. H. Warren returned thanks, the 55 seniors, and an equal number of juniors and their guests, including faculty members, board of education members and others, were seated to a lovely meal.

Miss Elizabeth Williamson acted as toastmistress in her gracious manner.

The first number on the program was a vocal solo by Annie Laura McWhorter. R. V. Putman then toasted the seniors and Mary Bowers gave a toast to Miss Royster of the faculty. Jack Maddox, Stella Scates, Frances Moss, Adeline Homers also gave toasts and Joseph Williams concluded the program with a piano selection.

Miss Julia Jeffress spent last week end with home folks, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Jeffress.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Jeffress and Louise were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harrison and family.

Tom Work sold a fine lot of hogs Saturday, for which he received $195.00.

Jess Cavender and wife, Willie Cavender and wife and Joe W. Bennett and wife motored to Paducah Saturday to view the new bridge but the waters were pretty high and some of them did not have the courage to go across.

Live wire that really looks it

(One reason why Buick is such a big success this year!)

ITS sports-car lines tell you there's lift and spirit here enough for any man.

Even standing still this glamor car looks alive.

And that look-of-tomorrow styling that's part and parcel of every new Buick — that sweeping panoramic windshield with the dream-car slant — all that says there's action here, and plenty of it.

But just note the name "CENTURY" emblazoned on its rear fender, and you can take it as gospel that this is a performance car of the very first water.

It's the liveliest of the live wires — the highest-voltage Buick in the line.

It is instant on getaway, a joy in cruising, a breeze on hills — and a honey of a friend in the added safety of its plenty reserve power always on hand for sudden needs.

It is, in fact, a 200-horsepower performance car, and priced far below it — the highest-powered car at its price in the land.

With this great-powered good-looker setting the pace — and with equally impressive SPECIALS, SUPERS and ROADMASTERS adding to the excitement — is it any wonder Buick today is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Come in and try one of these gorgeous new Buicks. With the prices we're quoting, you can make the buy of the year this very week.

A News Reporter writes social happenings about you and your friends.

Tuesday was a gala day for all of the ladies out at the Country Club because it was the annual "Guest Day". This is the day when everyone fries a chicken, makes potato salad and a pie, calls up some very special person and invites them out for lunch, bridge, golf or just plain talk. The long tables were spread with everything good to eat that one could possibly think of. Two long lines were formed around the tables, and members and guests filled their plates to capacity. After the delicious meal the Ladies' Day Chairman, Sara Campbell welcomed all the visitors and gave each member an opportunity to introduce her guest for the occasion.

Leonora Bushart bridge chairman arranged tables for bridge with fourteen members and guests participating in the games. High scorer among the guests was Myrtle B. McCollum and for members Ruth Callihan was the lucky one. At the end of the games a Bingo hand was dealt with the prize going to Irene Boyd. Virginia Rogers was medalist for the day among the golfers. Jean Sensing won a ball for the high blind bogey score and Vada Belle Puckett won the low blind bogey score. Mary Howard of Hickman had low putts. It was a wonderful day for everyone. Others who attended were: Mesdames Joe Davis, Gus Bard, Ernest Fall, Jr., Paul Westpheling, Ethel Freeman, Hendon Wright, Homer Wilson, Billie Blackstone, Mildred Anderson, Grady Varden, Alex. Leneave, Harvey Caldwell, Joe Hall, Happy Hogan, Cornelius Edwards, Harry Bushart, C. H. (McDaniel), Howard Adams, R. V. Putnam, Bob Binford, Jasper Vowell, Clyde Williams, Leon Browne, John Joe Campbell, Jean Poe, Bill Stokes, Monk Luther, Don Hill, Jack Moore, Russell Johnson, K. P. Dalton, John Daniels, Elizabeth Joyner, Dick Cummings, Tom Mahan, Fred Homra, Gene Williamson, James Cullum, Vyron Mitchell, J. D. Hales, Bob Hyland, Ray Hunter, Foad Homra, George Howard and Misses Jackie Khourie and Helen King. Two new members were welcomed to the club, Mrs. Jack Carter and Mrs. Stanley Jones.

Laverne and Norman Terry left Wednesday morning for a vacation trip which will include a visit in the home of former Governor Flem D. Sampson at Barboursville, Ky. During their visit there the Hon. Alben Barkley will also be a guest. From such a lovely get-together they continue their trip on to Fort Bragg, N. C. where they will attend the wedding of their daughter Charlotte Terry Gerriah to Lieutenant Colonel Robert Henry Ivey of San Marcos, Texas. Bill Terry of Raleigh, N. C. will attend his sister's wedding and will come home with the Terry's for a visit in Fulton.

Many friends were gathered around Dorothy Granberry Edwards Sunday after services at the Methodist Church exclaiming about her wonderful sun tan and how glad they were to see her and how long would she be here. You see, Dottie lives in Miami, Florida and she decided to close her house down there and come home for a few weeks. "Happy", the other half of the Edwards family will be in New York on business so it was a wonderful idea for Dorothy to spend some time here with her many, many friends before joining him. There's no place like Fulton. It doesn't matter how far away we go, the one thought in our minds in "how long it will be until we can come back home."

The happiest people around town this week are Ozelle and Smith Brown because their son, Leroy is just home from Japan. Their house has been a lively one all week what with everyone anxious to see Leroy. How nice it was for his visit to coincide with his sister's graduation. Glenda Sue's happiness is complete now, we are sure. Welcome home Leroy!

A nice little get-together honoring Dorothy Edwards of Miami will be held today (Friday) when Ruby McDade, Montez Baird and Ann Holland will entertain with a bridge-luncheon at the McDade home on Third Street. Those invited are: Mary Lou Blackstone, Mary Ethna Wilson, Lucille Holloway, Florence Bradles, Mary Nelle Wright, Mildred Anderson, Louise Binford, Sara Johnson, Mary Swann Bushart, Norma Owens, Mary Latta, Louise Killebrew, Marie Bushart, Sara Bushart and Ruth Browning.

One of the most unique and lovely pre-nuptial parties in honor of Shirley Houston bride-elect of Lieutenant Edward Reid Holt, was a kitchen shower and tea given by Mrs. Harvey Caldwell and Mrs. Guy Irby at the Caldwell home on Carr Street Wednesday afternoon. The hostesses were assisted in receiving their guests by Miss Houston, her mother, Mrs. Bernard Houston, the groom's mother, Mrs. Simon Holt, Mrs. Frank Bradles and Mrs. Bob White. The dining room table was centered with a clever "Kitchen Bride", a gift to the honoree by the hostesses, made of all kitchen utensils. Her face was a wooden spoon, steel wool formed her hair and her body was a potato masher. The arms were made of a can opener and a paring knife which held a "bridal" bouquet of carrots and radishes arranged in a funnel edged with a lace dolly from which showers of red ribbons holding cookie cutters spilled over the table. Her veil was a dish cloth from which a cheese-cloth train extended the length of the table. The other shower gifts were cleverly grouped around the "bride".

Assisting at the tea table and with serving were Mrs. Jack Snow, Mrs. Felix Gossum, Sr., Mrs. Gene Hilliard, Mrs. Lee Earle, Mrs. Stanley Parham, Mrs. Chester Bronson of Paducah, Ella Doyle, Ruth and Barbara Caldwell. The house was beautifully decorated with arrangements of flowers, which were gifts of the hostesses' many friends. About 75 guests called during the hours from 3:30 until 5:30. Mrs. Tom Le Masters of Batesville, Miss. was an out-of-town guest.

Friends and neighbors-members of the Riceville Baptist Church had a surprise "Going Away" party Monday night for Rev. Randall Johnson and his family. The guests arrived at the Johnson home on Jackson Street with picnic baskets filled with delicious food and they served the meal in the back yard. Rev. Johnson, his wife and children, Shirley and Ray were given loving and useful gifts. Rev. Johnson has resigned as pastor of the Riceville church to accept the pastorate at New Hope in Graves County and he and his family will move there the first of next week. Those attending were: Mrs. Louis Holly, Mrs. Delton Bone, Mrs. Jim Oliver and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Carver, Mrs. Clint Thompson, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John Kocher, Mr. and Mrs. John Clayton, Judith Lynn and Danny, Mr. and Mrs. Finis Sandling and Linda, Fay Barclay, Mrs. Ray Tucker, Joyce and Betty Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Morrow, Brenda and Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Hollis, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Wallace, Jonelle and Amelia Ann, Mrs. Dorothy Parton, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Merryman, Mrs. Daisy Thompson, Mrs. Mildred Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Jackson, Martha Pharris and Tony, Mrs. Carl Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. Du-lon Adkin and W. J. Mrs. Charles Noles and Donnie, Mrs. Edd Stinnett and son, John Michael, Mrs. and Mrs. Morris Smith, Mrs. Alvin Morrow and Terry, Mrs. Earl Mulcahy and Kenneth, Carl Heithcock, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Heithcock, and the members of the Johnson family.

Catherine and Charles Robert Bennett and J. D. and Carolyn Hales drove up to Camp Campbell several days ago for the Army Day celebration. While there the Hales saw many of their army friends and were especially glad to spend some time with their very dear friends, the Capt. Carl J. Wilsons. The Wilsons and the Hales spent many happy times together while they were stationed at Bad Wildungen, Germany. One can imagine how happy the two

Miss Shirley Ann Houston Announces Wedding Plans; Marriage To Be Solemnized On June 6th

Miss Shirley Ann Houston, which a large number of guests are being invited. A number of attractive pre-nuptial parties have been given in Miss Houston's honor, and others are scheduled for the next two weeks. Mrs. Jack Chapman entertained with a bridge-luncheon at her home in Paducah; Mrs. M. W. Haws was hostess at a lovely dinner at her home in the Highlands; A miscellaneous shower was given at the One and All Club by Mrs. Doran Colley, Mrs. Bob Harris and Mrs. Duane Collier, Mrs. Juanita Goodin and Mrs. Herbert Sadler of Memphis had a bridal luncheon at the Brown Derby. On Wednesday afternoon, May 26, Mrs. Harvey Caldwell and Mrs. Guy Irby were hostesses to a tea at the home of Mrs. Caldwell. Mrs. Stanley Parham and Mrs. Charles Walker will have a cake party, the date to be announced later. The rehearsal dinner will be given on the evening of June 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Houston, with Mr. and Mrs. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brunson of Paducah and Mr. and Mrs. Don Samons of Paducah as hosts.

Lieutenant Holt's father will be his best man. Glenn Sutor of Martin, Tennessee will be groomsmen.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents will entertain with an informal reception to

Mrs. Charlotte Gerriah, Lt. Col. Robert Ivey To Be Married May 31 in Fort Benning Ceremony

Of widespread social interest is the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Charlotte Terry Gerriah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Terry of Fulton, and Lieutenant Colonel Robert Henry Ivey of San Marcos, Texas. The wedding will be solemnized on May 31st in the Chapel at Fort Benning, Ga. in the presence of the family and intimate friends.

Couples were to be together again. They couldn't even begin to get enough "talk" in, so the Hales invited them down the past week end. They brought their two lovely little daughters, Jean and Judy with them. J. D. and Carolyn made, so many nice friends while they were in the Army and we know how happy they always are when some of their "Army crowd" comes to see them.

If you've ever been the parent of a high school senior then you'll know what I mean when I tell you there comes the time when one is convinced that the only way to keep a senior at home long enough for a little "info" as to what goes on is to "catch" him (or her) with a butterfly net. There's no need to be concerned about things as unimportant as meals and such because you'll find that you've a conflict with some kind of practice or something or "the crowd" has made other plans for food. The best thing to do is just sort of sit around home hoping someone will turn up for lunch or whatever meal it happens to be. But that all goes along with graduating and everyone is happy because the "Kids" are all so happy. Just to mention a few of the parties, there was the one out at Marguerite and Wales Austin's Monday night. Their daughter Jane (who is a senior) had a spaghetti supper out in the yard and everyone had lots of fun. I was never able to get a complete list of all who attended as no one had time to think who was actually there. But anyway, this is a partial list: Glenda Sue Brown, Jeff Lester, Kay Cherry, Don Wright, Jean Ann Hyland, Bobby Bowles, Roma Satterfield, Jack and Gertrude Austin and Curtis and Virginia Hancock. Marguerite cooked loads of spaghetti and they all enjoyed every minute.

Another of the interesting parties of the week was a breakfast given by Beverly Burgess, Kay Cherry and Jean Ann Hyland Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock, at the Burgess home on West Street. The party was a surprise "come as you are" party, given in honor of Shirley Johnson who is moving away from Fulton. All the girls were called out of bed in the wee hours of the morning and the guests arrived in such an array of pajamas et cetera as you've never seen. It was really a lot of fun. Those sharing the good time along with the hosts and the honored guest were: Beverly Cursey, Peggy Adams, Jane Austin, Beverly Hill, Winkie Voegel, Gail Logan, Mary Ann "My Little Margie" Hinkle, Peggy Hall, Sylvia Ashby, Roma Satterfield, Glenda Sue Brown, and Jackie Edwards.

MEMPHIS LADIES HOSTESSES TO HOUSTON LUNCHEON

Miss Shirley Houston whose marriage to Lt. Eddie Holt will be solemnized on June 6, 1954 was honored on Saturday afternoon with a lovely luncheon at the Brown Derby. The hostesses were Mrs. Juanita Goodin and Mrs. Herbert Sadler of Memphis. The luncheon table was most attractive with its bridal decorative scheme of pale pink and white. The centerpiece was formed of twin wedding rings wrapped in white satin; these were backed by delicate pink carnations. Dainty bows of satin ribbon and puffs of illusion were studded with pink and white glitter wedding bells. From the centerpiece pink satin ribbons caught with glitter bells and white carnations extended the length of the table. The honoree's place was marked by a corsage of pink gladiolus; the mothers of the bride elect and the groom elect were seated at either end of the table and their places were marked by corsages of pink carnations. Silver edged placed cards bearing tiny pink flowers surrounded with lace were used. A delicious two course luncheon was served.

Miss Houston wore a trousseau frock of beige imported pima broadcloth fashioned along redingote lines. Hand-drawn beige lace formed the standing collar and outlined the front of the frock. Her accessories were black and she wore a black silk ottoman duster. Mrs. Goodin wore a costume suit of cream wool and satin with a cream straw hat trimmed in red; Mrs. Sadler wore a distinctively styled frock of black and white printed cotton with a single red rose; her hat was a large black milan cartwheel. Both Mrs. Houston and Mrs. Holt wore early spring frocks of black with touches of white and had black accessories.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a beautiful silver dish.

The guest list included Miss Houston, Mr. H. B. Houston, her mother, Mrs. S. R. Holt, mother of the groom elect; Mrs. Harvey Caldwell, Mrs. Guy Irby, Mrs. Chester Brunson of Paducah, Mrs. Tudor Jones and Mrs. Bill Maddox of Mayfield, Mrs. M. W. Haws, Mrs. Fred Jolley and Mrs. Walter Voelpel.

from President Rose, I was glad to be present and to join the committee to greet the President of the United States.

Rose Surprised
"Evidently Mr. Shanley, who, you tell me, is from Newark, N. J., does not understand our Kentucky brand of hospitality."

(At Lexington, Dr. Rose said he was surprised anyone would suggest Barkley attended the anniversary celebration at the school "to ride on the coattails of President Eisenhower."

(Rose said Barkley was invited to receive an honor from the school. Barkley sat on the speakers' platform with Eisenhower and Cooper, who is opposed by Barkley in this year's election for senator.

(Rose said, "Barkley was invited as 20,000 other Kentuckians were, to attend the Transylvania festivities. He also was one of 30 persons who received special citations from the college that night, and as such was invited to sit on the platform."

Has Busy Week
(Rose also said Cooper suggested that all present and past members of Congress from Kentucky be invited to the affair.)

Barkley was in Washington on his way back from a speech last night in New York. His schedule for the rest of this week includes a Cuvier Press Club dinner in Cincinnati Wednesday night, the 75th anniversary of Union College at Barbourville, the Mountain Laurel Festival at Pineville and a strawberry fete in West Kentucky.

it. The school is staffed by three Dominican Sisters, who are kept quite busy teaching all the grades. Susan, early showed unusual ability as student and some of the extra-curricular tasks were assigned to her even several years ago. As she graduates Sunday night in services to be held in the church at 7:30 p. m. the school will lose the services of a capable assistant in many phases of school work.

Susan is a real musician and voice student. Since the school was without the services of a music teacher this year, Susan assumed many of those duties. She has been school singing director, soloist in the choir, piano accompanist and organist. She did all these jobs well.

Besides that she has tried her hand at assisting in directing school plays and there have been times when she even taught some of the grades when the regular teacher was away because of illness.

All of the other eighteen students in the school look to Susan as coach, team-mate, fellow student and all around good "Joe." Susan will graduate, appropriately in cap and gown and the services Sunday night will be combined with a sort of baccalaureate, commencement and school closing.

When Susan goes into High School next year she will be gladly accepted by students her age who have finished the same grades in the public schools, but the void she will leave in St. Edward's convent will be felt generally by the students and school patrons alike.

The News editor has often joked Susan about being a Cardinal, one of the highest prelates in the Catholic Church, because of the important part she has played in school activities. But the fond term has another meaning... she has been the cardinal factor in maintaining student interest at a high pitch and an efficient one at that.
