Cafe Owners Stop Payment On Check Paid For Two Arrests

James and Otto Dunn, operators of the Jitterburg Inn and the Southern Chicken Shack, respectively have appealed the decision of the Magistrate's court in their arrests on violation of the beer and liquor laws. Fined $100 each for selling beer on Sunday and $200 each for illegal sale of whiskey, the men have appealed the cases to the circuit court, which opens in Hickman on Monday.

Both men, under indictments for operating public nuisances, were cited in a grand jury report when it met in Fulton last Fall.

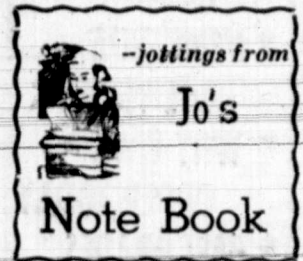

A check in payment of the fines, totalling $600, was paid for the men by Kent Hamby of Hickman and also owner of a local liquor store. Payment of the check has been stopped at a local bank.

Arrests on the two establishments were made as a result of a surprise raid by Sheriff John Rose and his deputies in the early hours of December 27. The warrants for the arrests were issued in the magisterial jurisdiction of Bert Yarbro and tried in that court. The News was informed that provisions of Magistrate's courts are co-extensive all over the county. No basis has been given for the appeal, although it was reliably reported that the men have contested the issuance of warrants for their arrests in one magisterial district when the arrests were made in another district.

Maximum fines that could have been imposed for both counts is set by law at $700 for each offense.

More than usual interest will be centered in the court opening on Monday in Hickman, which the Circuit Court Clerk Ruth Johnson, has said has a light docket.

When we were locking up the forms for the last issue of the year, I noticed that the publication number was set as Number 53. Without much thought I told the linotype operator that it was a mistake, that our volume number changed with the first publication of the year and since we publish weekly, it is obvious that there are only 52 publication dates in a year. About the time we were changing the slug Paul came up and asked why we are doing it and I explained. He said that 53 was right, that we did indeed publish 53 papers in one year.

He explained that once in every 67 years, a weekly publication puts out 53 papers in 52 weeks and that brought on some proof to me. We went back through the calendar and saw that the first day of 1954 was on Friday and the last day of the year was on Friday, so if you care to check that accounts for the extra Friday. Checking into a little more mathematics it was brought out that since there are seven days in a week, obviously in 52 weeks there are only 364 days, but then you know they say there are 365 days in a year. So somewhere along the line that one day over does something to out publication date.

Reminds me of the time, believe it was last year, that I was shocked beyond belief. Since we pay our employees on Friday I could not believe that there were five Fridays in one month, February, of all months, the shortest in the year, and there were five Fridays. I called this too, to the attention of the "brain" in the office and he said that this happens once in about a 125 years. And it should happen in our life-time. This sort of thing should have happened when we were on the payroll of somebody else when they paid on Friday, but no, it happened to us and to anybody else who pays the staff on Friday.

Clela Cherry thanked me the other day for being a bloodhound. She said that she had been looking for little Sherry Elliott's wallet for a long time and had no idea where it had been lost. Nor did Sherry. They were much surprised and much relieved to read the Notebook last week and find that it was at the Orpheum Theatre.

We were much disappointed to see that there was not an overflowing crowd at the basketball game last Friday night when Fulton played Bardwell in a benefit polo game. A nice sum was realized from the gate receipts for the polo fund, but so much more could have been received had a larger crowd attended.

Maid trouble prevented me from attending the sneak preview of Billy Graham's movie which was shown at the Orpheum Theatre Monday morning. The manager of the show previewed the movie for ministers, club leaders and other Fultonians and I am sure it was a most enjoyable experience. I am looking forward to seeing the film when it is shown here to the public in the near future.

Something must have gone a little hay-wire in the programming for the Kentucky Press Association. Paul has been asked to moderate a panel on news stories and features... which I handle, and I have been asked to speak on public relations, which he handles. Although we both take a hand in each job

TWIN-CITY TALENT TO APPEAR ON TV IN EARLY MARCH

Local Artists To Perform On WMCT-TV, Channel Five

Fulton's unusual store of local talent will be given an opportunity for all the Mid-South to see and hear when the cities of Fulton and South Fulton will be saluted on WMCT-TV some-times in early March.

The opportunity to appear on TV came through the untiring efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Tripp who have worked unceasingly in the interest of the local talent for the two cities.

The TV program, "Pride of the Southland" appears each Saturday on Channel 5, Memphis, and it will be with great enthusiasm that all Fultonians await the appearance of the twin-city show.

Exact date of the show will be announced later.

SUPPORT LOANS ON GRAINS DUE ON JANUARY 31

Price support loans and purchase agreements on wheat, rye, barley, oats, grain sorghums, and soybeans produced in 1954 must be completed not later than January 31, according to T. E. Williamson, chairman Fulton County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The closing date applies to farmer-owned warehouse-stored grain as well as to grain stored on farms.

The Chairman warned farmers who expect to place the above-mentioned grains under loan should file their applications in the next few days to be sure of meeting the deadline.

If the grain to be put under price support loan is farm-stored, time must be allowed for inspection of the storage structure and for a moisture test and grading of the sample taken at the time of inspection.

A rush of applications late in January, the Chairman cautions, could make it impossible for the county ASC office to complete the necessary work before the January 31 deadline.

$8000 QUOTA SET FOR POLIO DRIVE; SUPPORT NEEDED

Elks Club Gives Clubrooms For Ball January 31

A determined drive to attain a County quota of $8000 is now being mapped by the Fulton County chapter of the March of Dimes, with numerous extra events schedule to be included to help the fund-raising campaign this month.

First activity on the program will be a canvass of downtown Fulton business houses next Tuesday, January 18th. It is hoped that a substantial percentage of the quota can be raised on this date, and all businessmen are asked to be as generous as possible.

In addition, there will be a daily radio auction over Station WFUL from 9:30 to 10:30 each morning by remote control from the Fulton Woman's Club, beginning January 24th. On Monday January 31st the auction will run three hours.

There will be a benefit square dance in the old South Fulton gym Saturday night, January 29th, and a benefit regular dance at the Fulton Elks Club Monday evening January 31st. Fulton's "Melody Men" orchestra will play the Elks Club dance with services donated, and the musicians for the square dance will be announced next week.

The quota of $8000 for Fulton County has been established on the basis of past expenditures of the Fulton County chapter. Half of the money raised will be sent to the National Foundation, and the remaining half will stay in the County for use as the need arises.

Last year the Fulton County chapter spent $4000 for polio needs. $1900 of this amount was spent on three new cases, and $2000 on five carry-over cases, with $100 for transportation, etc. The money spent represents cost of braces, shoes, corsets and hospitalization. If the County can manage its 1955 quota of $8000 it can thus provide for possible similar needs this year.

JOHN W. KOON TAKES OVER JOB OF J. E. STANFORD

Well Known Worker In Farm Bureau Is Executive Secretary

The Kentucky Farm Bureau selected John W. Koon today to succeed J. E. Stanford as the farm group's executive secretary.

Koon was approved for the position by the Bureau's board of directors at a special meeting held at the Farm Bureau office in St. Matthews, the group's president, Burl S. St. Clair, Falls of Rough, said. Stanford was appointed to work in the field of consumer relations several months ago pending an appointment of his successor as executive secretary, St. Clair added.

The new executive secretary has been on the staff of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation since 1949 as Special Representative and commodity specialist. He was born in Caldwell county, Kentucky. Before becoming affiliated with the Farm Bureau he was state supervisor of agricultural education under the State Department of Education.

St. Edward's Society Elects New Officers

At a meeting of the Altar Society of St. Edwards Church Tuesday night officers were elected for the coming year. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Glenn Dunn.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Paul Westpheling, president; Mrs. John Moran, secretary and Mrs. C. H. McDaniel, treasurer. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. McDaniel.

Fore!

First Golfer: "The traps on this course are very annoying." Second Golfer: (trying to putt) "Yes, will you please close yours."

The 84th Congress is taking shape.

In my view this may be one of the significant sessions of the Congress in recent history.

We face many critical problems at home and abroad, but vigor and forcefulness in dealing with these problems can bring us closer to peace in the world and a more secure and prosperous home front.

It is my hope that through this column I may be able to offer you useful information about the work of Congress and its effect on you and I as citizens of the Commonwealth.

If I may be permitted a bit of personal reflection I want to report that the opening day this Congress brought to all who were present a warm glow of cordiality and pride as Alben W. Barkley returned to those halls where he has written so forcibly and with such great accomplishment on the pages of history.

He is the fifth Vice President to have returned to the Senate. His return contributes to the history of Congress.

He was sworn in by Vice President Nixon, who had been in turn sworn in by the then Vice President Barkley when Nixon entered the Senate in 1951. This situation has only occurred twice before in our nation's history.

It would have occurred three times previously if another Kentuckian, John C. Breckinridge, had not arrived late in the Senate on March 4, 1857, making it impossible for him to swear in Hannibal Hamlin as Senator from Maine. Four years later, Hamlin, as Vice President, was destined to swear Breckinridge as the Senator from Kentucky when he, like Alben W. Barkley returned to the Senate after serving as Vice President.

Breckinridge was involved in action on that day in 1861 which was duplicated at the opening session this year. Breckinridge was escorted to take the oath by Senator Lazarus W. Powell, who had two years previously been sworn in by Breckinridge. I was in the same position as my distinguished predecessor when I accompanied Senator Barkley as he was sworn in. He had given me the oath when I entered the Senate. The situation has only occurred two other times in Congressional history.

On January 6, I listened attentively to the President's State of the Union Message. I have carefully studied the specific recommendations sent to Congress since his message.

I find in them much of the philosophy of the Democratic Party of the last 20 years. Take for example a strong national defense program, a realistic reciprocal trade program, expanded public works in areas of unemployment, vitally needed school construction, and other legislation in the people's interest.

Indication Ward, Have Wetherby-Clements Support

Waterfield Announcement Expected; Buckman Throws Hat In Ring And Ward Is Willing Candidate For Lieutenant-Governor

The announcement on Tuesday that Judge Bert T. Combs of Prestonburg would be a candidate for Governor against Happy Chandler substantiates a rumor that has been rampant for several weeks. Although in his announcement Judge Combs did not specifically say, it is generally believed that he is the candidate selected by Governor Lawrence Wetherby to oppose Chandler. Of the announcement Governor Wetherby said: I think Judge Combs is a fine, high class young Kentuckian."

Judge Combs, 43, is a lawyer and been identified with State Government and the courts for several years. With a good record behind him, he is little known in West Kentucky. He plans, however, to make a vigorous campaign and no doubt will visit this end of the State at a very early date.

With the announcement by Judge Combs, added importance is attached to the possible selection by the Administration of a candidate to run for Lieutenant-Governor. It is expected that the Administration will select an early date either Conservation Commissioner Henry Ward or Attorney General J. D. "Jiggs" Buckman to run on the ticket with the Judge.

Ward, a very close personal friend of Governor Wetherby, is a West Kentuckian. Buckman has long been a close ally of Lieutenant-Governor Doc Beauchamp and it is possible that he (Buckman) might be selected for the post as a compromise with Beauchamp, who early this year told the News Editor that he would run for Governor if he could get the support of his Administration.

The $64 question in State political circles is: "Why the Administration did not select Beauchamp as its candidate."

Meanwhile an early announcement is expected from Clinton that Harry Lee Waterfield would be a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor. It has been generally conceded that Waterfield would be the running mate of Happy Chandler, although there has never been any definite statement from either Waterfield or Chandler that this is true. In this light it must be remembered that

(The Paducah-Sun reported on Wednesday that Ward would run for Lieutenant-Governor and have the support of the Wetherby Administration.)

Happy Chandler will run as an anti-administration candidate. By the same token Mr. Waterfield, as long as this writer can remember, and even before, has been, what can be termed an "anti-administration candidate."

"The Administration" for reasons of clarity is the Clements-Beauchamp-Wetherby faction, which Mr. Waterfield fought hard against in his race for Governor in 1947, against Clements. In the nearly eight years that have elapsed since that race there is no obvious indications that any differences have been settled. This is borne out by the outcome of Mr. Waterfield's race for the Senate against Wayne Freeman, who was elected with the support of Willie Foster, Mayfield manu-

(Happy Chandler has named former Mayfield drugist Bob Humphries as his campaign manager and also named Congressman Noble J. Gregory, as one of his advisors. This appointment came as a surprise to Gregory, who often has been mentioned as an anti-administration force.)

facturer and close ally of the Wetherby Administration. It was generally believed at the outset of that campaign that Mr. Waterfield would have Mr. Foster's support, which indirectly indicated that he would have the Administration's sup-

FARMERS URGED TO ATTEND MEETING ON SOCIAL SECURITY

Two Meeting Friday To Explain Phases Of New Benefits

Two important meetings, especially for farmers, will be held on Friday when a representative of the Social Security board will discuss the new law for farmers.

The first meeting will be held at Lodgeston at ten o'clock in the morning and the other at the courthouse in Hickman at 1:30 p. m.

The new social security law, as it affects farmers, will be discussed fully and since farmers are now covered by the law it is urged that as many of them as possible attend.

The meetings are being sponsored by the Fulton County Farm Bureau, of which J. A. Willingham, is president.

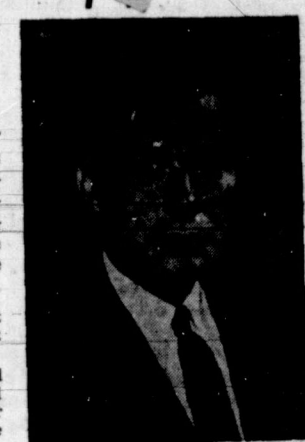

Bob White To Attend Special Labor Meeting

R. H. (Bob) White, President of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, has been invited to attend a special meeting called by the State Chamber President, Joe Getzow, to discuss the available-labor situation in the State, for industry.

The 15-man group including Mr. White will meet at the Pendennis Club in Louisville January 19th.

Judge Combs

With the announcement by Judge Combs, the many hopefuls who sought the support of the Administration may or may not enter the race for Governor. But, as a man who knows his State politics said: "By next week at this time there will be more strange beds than you can ever imagine." Meaning that those persons who may have jumped on the Administration's bandwagon, had they selected a better known candidate, may scramble to the winds, attempting to latch on to a winner.

It was reported in Fulton this week that a secret meeting was held between Doc Beauchamp and Happy Chandler, effecting an alliance between these two political leaders. A talk with a close friend of Doc Beauchamp's said that this would never be brought about, (Continued on Page Eight)

JIGGS BUCKMAN ANNOUNCES TODAY FOR LT.-GOVERNOR

Candidate Is Now Attorney-General; Native Of Bullitt

Attorney General J. D. Buckman, Jr., Shepherdsville, today announced that he would be a candidate for the second spot on the Democratic State ticket—the nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

Buckman, 43, native of Bullitt County, attended grade and high school at Shepherdsville and is a graduate of the Jefferson School of Law and the university of Louisville.

At press time, Wednesday, it could not be ascertained whether Buckman is to be the candidate supported by the administration of Lawrence Wetherby. (See political story elsewhere on this page.)

News Publisher, Editor To Be On KPA Programs

Paul and Jo Westpheling, publisher and editor of the News respectively, have been invited to be panel speakers at the Kentucky Press Association meeting when it meets in Louisville the end of this month.

The News publisher will conduct the panel on news and feature stories, while the editor will appear on a panel to discuss newspaper public relations. Neil Dalton, public relations director of the Louisville Courier-Journal will be moderator of the latter panel.

Mr. Westpheling is first district president of the KPA.

All The News Is Not Bad, Good Things Happen, Too.

All too often the gloomy and tragic news rates a banner headline. To correct this situation, Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, has assembled some statistics that reflect the sunny side of life in the United States.

There are 162,922,000 Americans who are not members of the Communist Party.

Some 37,011,460 couples will stay more or less happily married during the year.

On the average there are 63,868,000 people working to bring home the bacon.

Last year, the scheduled airlines safely carried passengers 18,902,134, 841 miles in the U. S. and possessions; railroads safely carried passengers 31,674,931,200 miles.

Some 162,717,890 persons will not die of cancer in 1955.

And 162,380,580 persons will be safe from fatal heart attacks.

About 629,000,000 acres of forest land will not be set on fire by careless smokers and picnic-goers this year.

Most of the time 15,720,000 organized workers are not on strike.

Of the 18,977,472 little boys in the country who are under the age of 10, only six or possibly seven will have to go through the terrible ordeal of being President of the United States.

At least 162,944,424 people have not been frightened by seeing flying saucers hurtle through the air.

The Internal Revenue Service will find that 43,846,154 income tax returns are filed correctly in 1955.

Finally, there are 83 countries in the world that have not discovered the secret of the hydrogen bomb.

Traffic Accidents Just Don't Happen, You'll See

Traffic accident don't just happen—they are caused. And very often winter traffic accidents are caused by people who refuse to face up to the fact that winter driving and walking demand increased caution and alertness from motorists and pedestrians.

These people know they can't walk surefootedly nor stop their cars quickly when road surfaces are slippery with snow, ice or rain . . . that they can't see clearly through a mist of rain, sleet, snow or fog . . . that others can't see them clearly nor stop suddenly for them under the same conditions.

Yet they don't make the necessary adjustments to compensate for these winter handicaps . . . don't allow extra time to make a journey in rough weather . . . don't slow their walking or driving pace . . . don't increase their alertness to meet the added hazards.

If an accident does occur, they'll blame it on the weather. But shifting the blame won't mend broken bones or put breath back into a lifeless body.

Every time a person steps out in traffic he is responsible for his own safety, and to a degree—for the safety of those he meets. Refusing to accept responsibility doesn't relieve him of it. Nor does it make his pain and discomfort any easier to bear if his carelessness lands him in the hospital.

So, let's all take an adult attitude towards this business of traffic safety. Let's realize that our safety is our own responsibility and that the way to stay hale and hearty is to take special precautions when the weatherman gets ornery. It's a sign of maturity to be able to face up to situations.

Provide Our Own Rainfall: A Startling Possibility Here

The electrifying fact that the weather can be controlled . . . that drought years can be converted into years of near-normal rainfall . . . that a planned program of providing more moisture from the heavens may soon be an actual reality in this area (with three droughts in the past three years) was presented to the Fulton Rotary Club Tuesday by Larry Berryenboch, a representative of a Colorado Water resources Development Company, whose job is to provide more rainfall for those areas that request it.

Mr. Berryenboch is currently seeking to organize Obion County farmers into a co-operative unit to assess themselves a few cents an acre and to thus provide necessary funds for the project. We understand that other such organizations will be sought in other counties of this area in order to place the whole area in the "cloud-seeding" program.

The Colorado company has been engaged for such services all over the nation, and has produced spectacular results in many cases. The privately-operated company, not to be confused with any government agency, uses forecasts of anticipated-rainfall for the year, and undertakes to increase this rainfall when forecast indicate there will be a shortage.

According to Mr. Berryenboch, 1955 and 1956 will continue as drought years hereabouts, indicating that plans should be made now to provide more moisture during a dry summer and fall.

Cloud-seeding by silver nitrate generators on the perimeter of a given area has been developed into a skilled art, and we feel sure that practically every farmer in this section of Kentucky and Tennessee would like to hear this gentleman go into this matter at length, especially if the forecast for two more years of drought may be facing us. The electrifying possibility of tailor-made weather could revolutionize farming and farming practices as never before.

We understand that Mr. Berryenboch will be invited to address a gathering in Weakley County next week and we recommend such "information" meetings for our Kentucky area counties.

Sermonette of the Week -

The Atom Age Presents A Dilemma

By Thomas E. Murray, Commissioner of the Atomic Energy Commission

TODAY WE ARE CAUGHT in the dilemma of war and peace. But our basic problem lies deeper than this dilemma. Our problem lies in man's power to choose between good and evil.

Man has always been able to destroy his fellows, but hitherto the forces of destruction at his command were limited. Man has always been able to improve his lot on earth, but the energies he could utilize to this end were likewise limited. But now man has within his grasp an unlimited force, the very source of all energy in nature, atomic energy. While it cannot be said to be infinite, as is the power of Almighty God, nevertheless as a force it approaches absoluteness.

ATOMIC ENERGY may help us to realize that an essential part of that spiritual and moral recovery for which all America is striving must consist in a recovery of a sense of the universal moral law.

For the universal moral law enables man to find temporal happiness upon earth by directing all his actions towards the attainment of eternal happiness with God.

Only a recovery of a sense of the universal moral law will save our civilization. The penalty for forgetting or disregarding this moral law of God will certainly mean our spiritual annihilation and perhaps even our physical destruction.

THIS SAME MORAL LAW, being universal, claims absolute obedience in every field of human life. This universal moral law rules supreme over all human actions, personal and social.

Whatever else is uncertain about the future, this much can be guaranteed: the recovery of the moral sense will demand sacrifice of our people, heavy sacrifices. The responsibility to measure up to the demands of sacrifice rests upon all of us. The question is, are we Americans ready for sacrifice—for the willing surrender of our material possessions, our comforts, our selfish-interests?

THE ENEMY IS PLAIN. The enemy is materialism. Only sacrifice in the smothering meshes of materialism cannot rise to the spiritual heights demanded of our age in this crisis. A national readiness to meet the spiritual demands of the crisis of our age must therefore mean two things: the rescue of our people from the soft creed of materialism and the recapture of the noble Christian concept of sacrifice.

STRICTLY BUSINESS

by McFeatters

"Wouldn't a swatter be more practical?"

FROM THE FILES: TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

(January 10, 1930)

A busy session of the City Council was held Monday night after Mayor Shankle announced all unfinished business disposed of, he turned over the office to the new mayor, Paul DeMyer and council composed of L. S. Phillips, J. A. Colley, T. T. Boaz, W. P. McAdams, J. E. Hannephin and T. H. Irby.

The outstanding feature being the election of city officers as follows: Thomas H. Chapman, city clerk and auditor; Dr. D. L. Jones, city physician; Bailey Huddleston, chief of police; Harve Hart and Ed Drysdale, patrolmen; Lee Roberts, fire chief; Frank Carr, city attorney; A. M. Nugent, city treasurer; B. J. Pigue, treasurer of water works department; Daily Leader, city printer; Otis French, garbage superintendent.

Rev. E. L. McCoy, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, addressed the student body Monday at Fulton High School. His theme was appreciated very much.

Ed Gardner, president of the First National Bank, has been appointed deputy banking commissioner to wind up the affairs of the Hickman Bank and Trust Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sams and daughter, Dorothy were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Coston Sams and sons.

Mrs. Tom Sallins and Jessie spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Albert Bondurant and Canale.

Miss Louise Jeffress entertained a few of her friends with a party Wednesday evening.

Mrs. J. C. Suggs, Sr. spent a few days of last week in St. Louis with her daughter, Allie Mae.

Miss Florence Kinney, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kinney of Fulton, was united in marriage, Sunday afternoon to Mr. Hal McDonald of Memphis.

the ceremony being performed in that city. The bride is an attractive brunette, and has a large circle of friends who will wish her much happiness in her new home which will be in a distant city.

The groom is an excellent young man, an electrical engineer, and has a wide circle of friends who will wish him a happy life with his fair young bride. They will reside in Memphis.

The Women's Club held an interesting meeting Friday afternoon at the high school auditorium, the changed meeting place being due to the special program of the art department.

The president, Mrs. Nail, was in the chair while Mrs. Fall acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Louis Weeks, the regular secretary.

The art department was in charge of the program. Mrs. Joe Beadles gave greetings and presented Miss Mary Martin, who had prepared an unusual program. It was a presentation of famous pictures. They were posed by pupils of Carr Institute and high school. They were: Feeding her Birds, by Grace Hill; Jans Cheatham, Dorothy Campbell, Carolyn Atkins; Mother by Lucille Breene; Angelus by Karl Edward Jones; Rachel Elledge; Whistling Boy; Harold Fields; Miss Simplicity by Margaret Nelle Puckett; Age of Innocence, Carolyn Hill; Song of the Lark by Grace Duncan; Hope by Annie Lee Godfrey; Madam LeBrun and Daughter by Louise Huddleston; Martha Ellen Duley; Spring Song by Elizabeth Pickering; Treasurer by Julia Frances Beadles; Infanta Marguerita by Margaret Butts; Blue Boy by Grace Allen Brady.

The hostesses for the day were Mesdames Joe Beadles, T. D. Clark. Pages were Mrs. Joe Davis, Mrs. Sara Meacham.

Kentucky Windage

By P. W.

Well, lo and behold, I didn't plan to write a column last week and when the paper came out I found that I had written one anyhow, prefaced by a few remarks from the wife after she had dug it up out of cold storage, where it had been shoved during the hectic days of the "Me-makum-big-money-free" chain letter days.

Last week we announced a permanent change of publication dates from Fridays to Thursdays and received a round of applause from an unexpected source . . . our subscribers! It seems that although the News may be delivered in the morning mail, most men in the family don't get to see it until that evening, and Friday evening was just a little late to plan for week end shopping and other activities. We are of course happy that the change has thus met with universal approval, and hope that in another week or two we can again get back up to those big 12 and 16 page editions, so full of pictures and features of the area, that we enjoyed publishing back in December.

Although we are far from (we think) reaching a final count, we also want to welcome the more than two hundred new subscribers that we have already added to our lists in these past two weeks.

Do you men ever have trouble keeping a comb around the house for use when you want it? Here's a little idea that we have found works well to solve this exasperating problem: go downtown and buy a package of six plastic combs just for yourself and then go home, reach up on top of the ledge over the bathroom door and put a couple of combs there. Distribute the rest of them in like fashion in the rooms where you want 'em. Nobody can reach 'em but you; in fact nobody can see 'em. At 7:29 when you have one minute to comb your hair and hurry to breakfast you don't have to spend five minutes looking for a comb that someone forgot to return to its proper place.

This is a fine solution to an ever-present problem where there are kids around the house, that was arrived at only by trial-and-error. We were once so exasperated that we went downtown and bought a dozen combs for the household, distributing them in bathrooms, bedrooms and on dressers and in drawers so everyone would have plenty and we could be assured of at least one available anytime. In a month they all disappeared from the house and began to appear under car seats, in glove compartments, in old purses, in desk drawers . . . everywhere but where they were needed. So we tried it again, with same distribution, and the result was the same.

That was two years ago . . . the third half-dozen are still around, on top of the door frame ledges. The fact that I haven't been to breakfast on time since then is merely due to the fact that I can now sleep the extra five minutes that I used to have to spend looking for a comb.

City National Bank is starting a little face-lifting program that will include a new set of front doors and exterior trimmings, and plans to do some inside renovating later on, we understand . . . work on the new drive-in theater on the Martin highway is coming right along . . . Billy Furlong, Steve French, Barry Bard, Charles Walker and Andy Batts enjoy that fishing game at the party for Letha Exum.

Diary of Doin's

—Around Fulton—

The News writes social happenings about you and your friends.

Funny thing about birthdays. The younger you are, the more you want 'em. The older you are, the less you want to be reminded. So with the young, the birthday party is "the thing." From that age from about four until ten, we'll say, there's nothing like looking forward to that big day, when there's a party, with presents, friends and games.

And so, then comes the idea department, when parents try each year, to make each happy birthday just that, and the one to be remembered longest. That's what Nell and Milton Exum did last Saturday at the Country Club when they entertained little Letha on her seventh birthday.

Letha had a birthday party, and it was a circus. A real one. All the guests had on gay party hats, and were given typical circus favors. In one corner of the spacious Country Club rooms there was a soft drink stand and the children were given brand new pennies to go to the stand and buy their drinks.

In another corner near the fireplace the children enjoyed a fishing well, where, with real fishing poles they tested their luck and for their sporting ability were given candy bars and other gifts.

The attraction to top all attractions was on the table where delicious ice cream and cake was served. A merry-go-round, that went round and round with miniature animals, was gaily decorated. Nell said that she asked Thomas Exum to help her make something that would look like a merry-go-round and he devised the centerpiece with a real motor and while the children enjoyed their goodies they had visions of a real circus merry-go-round.

Little Charles Kramer, too,

celebrated his birthday last Friday and at his attractive home in the Country Club Courts a large group of his friends gathered to help him stare that big sixth birthday. You will be interested to know the story of that party, just a little sideline. We called the Kramer residence to find out something about the party and Christine wasn't at home, so we talked to bright and attractive Rita. When asked what they did she said: "Well, we intended to play games, but they were all so noisy we couldn't get them quiet enough to play anything."

You can imagine what Rita meant. Most of the youngsters were Charles' age and Christine gave them all horns as favors for the occasion. That did it. They enjoyed the horns so much, they blew and tooted the whole afternoon and it was just near impossible to get them to do anything like play organized games.

Any parent who has ever had a birthday party for children that age knows what Christine went through, but the best part of it, is that the kids had more fun doing just what came naturally, and that was making noise.

Ice cream and cake was served to twenty-seven guests.

What a lovely gesture the friends of Rev. and Mrs. Roy Wright made to them recently. The Wrights, he's a young minister, were recently married and of course with young couples there are many household items badly needed. So a group of the ladies in the Crutcherfield community got together and planned a wonderful event in the Wrights honor and they were much pleased about the whole thing.

Hostesses for the event were: Mrs. Bryon Kearby, Mrs. Cloyce Veatch, Mrs. Allene Howard, Mrs. Hollis Strother, Mrs. Cloe Newberry, Mrs. Elizabeth Douglas.

Those attending were: Delma and Cletes Binford, Bonnie and Leroy Dewese, Mary and Hermon Thompson, Mrs. Harold Henderson, Sr. and daughter, Mrs. Fronie Giffin, Mrs. Fannie Nugent, Mrs. Lucy Turner, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Turner and children, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Finch, Marie Moore, Mrs. LeRoy Elliott, Eva Elliott, Hollis Strather, Mrs. Rayford Duke, Gene Howard, Peggy Taylor, Rev. and Mrs. McMinn, Mrs. Harold Byrd.

Those sending gifts were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Binford, Mary Baraham, Mr. and Mrs. John McClanahan, Mrs. George Fortner, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sams, Mrs. Edna Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bellew, Mrs. Veloria Stallins, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Netherly, Roy and Brookie Netherly, Mr. and Mrs. Willie McClanahan, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Little, Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Howell, Mr. and Mrs. James Tuck, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Batts, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Veatch, Mr. and Mrs. James Veatch, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams, Miss Lorene Mays, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dillon, Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luton, Mrs. Leola Schmidt, Mrs. Gladys Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. George Black, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Binford, Mrs. Tom Kimbro, Mrs. Wilson.

The regular weekly Ladies Day luncheon was resumed at the Country Club Tuesday and instead of the planned meal by regular hostesses, it was a pot-luck affair. Mary - Nelle Wright and Lorene Hughes were hostesses to coordinate the meal and it was a fine one. The golfers took a sad look at the golf course and the snow was just too much to try to hit a little white ball and find it too.

The club voted to continue the pot-luck luncheons until the second Tuesday in February. Next week Jane Edwards and Lorene Hughes will be the hostesses.

Bridge was enjoyed in the afternoon with four tables of players enjoying this indoor sport. Pearl Hogan was high scorer for the afternoon with Mary-Nelle Wright emerging as the second high scorer. Margaret Homra won the bridge bingo prize.

Those attending were: Vivian

Williamson, Sara Sampbell, Ruth Scott, Ether McDaniel, Margaret Hall, Irene Blankenship, Margaret Homra, Virginia Rogers, Lucille Adams, Elizabeth Reams, Jane Edwards, Mary Latta, Noy Holland, Ruby McDade, Martha Putnam, Irene Boyd, Pearl Hogan, Elva Fall and Mary-Nelle Wright.

Miss Mary Martin is probably the best program getter-upper around here. What is more, she has been at it a long time. If you will look in our "Turning back the Clock" column today on the editorial page you will see that in January, 1930 Miss Martin had charge of a Woman's Club Program.

History repeats itself. Last Friday Mary again had charge of the open meeting of a Woman's Club when she presented Dr. Forrest Pogue, Professor of History at Murray State College. Mary outdid herself in her unusual introduction, which acted as something of a keynote for the meeting, which was a most enjoyable one. Before a large crowd Dr. Pogue discussed International problems and brought his audience up to date in what was going on in the world.

Miss Virginia Harris Weds Charles Brinkley On Christmas Eve

Miss Virginia Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Harris of Cayce, Ky., became the bride of A. C. Charles Brinkley, son of Mrs. Berda Brinkley Adkinson of Union City Tenn., in an impressive Christmas Eve ceremony at 2:00 p. m. in the Cayce Baptist Church.

The Rev. Jas. Sanderson of Mayfield, Ky. read the double ring ceremony before a candle lighted altar, banked with holly entwined among the altar rails and bouquets of holly and red berries on each end of the altar and the piano. White satin bows marked the place of the ceremony.

Miss Peggy Downey presented a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

The attractive bride, who was given in marriage by her brother Leon Harris of Fulton, wore an informal wedding gown of lustrous white brocade taffeta trimmed in black velvet.

Her light brown hair was set off with a tiny black hat covered with net and caught at the back with miniature seed pearls.

Miss Brenda Harris served her sister as Maid of Honor. She wore a street length dress of (continued on page 5)

The Democratic policies the President now embraces were rejected like an unwanted disease in the last Congress and have been the subject of bitter attack by his party for the last 20 years.

Of course, in a few areas, and notably agriculture, I found recommendations of the President missing the mark. The President ture again supported programs which will bring lower prices to farmers.

Immediately following the President's speech, which is the first introduction of bills in the Senate, I introduced several measures and joined in the sponsorship of other legislation which I believe will be of importance to the Commonwealth.
The first measure I introduced would provide aid to the states in the construction of public schools. The funds under this bill would be distributed on the basis of need, tax effort, and school population with substantial safeguards provided against Federal encroachment on local school control.

The President and the President's appointees delayed and obstructed school construction during the last Congress. Time will judge whether the President's strong statement favoring school construction in his State of the Union Message will be backed by Administration action.

I have received strong support from agriculture areas for a bill I introduced to repeal provisions of the Agriculture Act of 1954. This bill would change those provisions of the Act which require farmers to harvest within the acreage allotments established for their individual farms in order to participate in the Agriculture Conservation Program.

Of particular interest to those who are concerned with preserving the historical background of ours is a measure I presented to the Senate enabling the Federal Government to convey surplus property at Boonesboro to the Commonwealth. The land would be eventually incorporated into a Daniel Boone Shrine by the Pioneer National Monument Association.

I joined with other members in introducing bills designed to assure continued investigation of communism by the Congress, aid to small business by strengthening the voice of small business in the Congress through the establishment of a permanent Small business Committee of the Congress, and finally a measure which would provide a pay raise to loyal civil servants and the hard working members of the postal service.
The President vetoed this latter legislation at the close of the last session.

PATRICIA LATANE

Dear Pat:

If you will answer these questions for me you will help me a lot.

Will I ever own my own car? If so, how soon? Will I ever get married? If I will, when? Have I met him yet? What are his initials? How soon will it be before I go steady again? Does the boy I have been going with pretty regular like me or is he still thinking about the girl he went with last Christmas? Is that just his way of saying he doesn't want to go with me? Why is it when I go with this boy I can't talk like I do when I'm with others? It is because I am thinking about this girl he did go with and really don't realize it and he does?

Please answer these questions if possible.

Thanks
J. B.

Dear J. B.:

Yes, you will someday own your own car but it is a couple years off yet. Yes, you will marry. You will marry the day before Christmas next year. No, you haven't met him yet, but will do so in January 1955. One of his initials is L. You will start going steady in March with the boy you are to marry. He has the other girl on his mind and he is very much in love with her. Yes, I think you both are thinking of the girl when you are out and it spoils the evening for both of you.

Dear Pat:

I have some questions I would like for you to answer for me. When will I get a steady job? Of what type work will it be? Will I ever get out of debt? If so, when? Will I ever own my own car? If so, when? Will I ever marry? Have I met him yet? What are his initials? How soon if ever will I start going steady? What will his initials be? Will the man I marry be taller than me? Will my job be in Fulton or will I have to leave town for it?

Please answer each of my questions fully. Thanking you in advance.

Wondering Girl

My Dear Wondering Girl:

You will get a regular job in January clerking in a store. No, you will never be out of debt. You don't know the value of money. No, you will never own a car. You will marry a boy that has one. Your job will be in Fulton. Yes, you will start going steady during the holidays with a boy you have just met. His initials are R and it looks like a G, but it could be a C. Yes, the man you marry will be taller.

Dear Patricia:

Is my husband going to change jobs? If so, when and what kind of work will he find? What is wrong with my husband? Is it his health? Is it anything serious? When will my brother-be home? What are the initials of the girl he will marry? When will he get married? How long will he stay where he is now? What state is he in? What are the initials of the girls my sons will marry? When will they get married? Where will they live when they get married? Will they finish high school and go to college? Will they have to go to the Army? If so, when? Can you see any trouble or accidents of any kind in my family? Is there anything wrong with my parents' health? Where does my husband's sister live and what church does she belong to? Do they attend church regularly? Is my husband's sister happy? How long will I work? When will we be out of debt? Will we move any time soon? Will my parents or my husband's parents ever have to live with us? I don't mean to be unkind but I would really like to know if you can tell people things. May I put to the test just a little? What is my husband's middle name? What is my first name? How many children do I have? Are they all boys or all girls or boys and girls? What are their initials? What church do we belong to?

Thank you
Anxious mother

Dear Anxious Mother:

If I answer all these questions you have asked I think that will be test enough don't you. Well here goes first I will tell you, you aren't old you are a very young mother, your husband will not change jobs this year nor the first of next, there isn't anything wrong with your husband's health except he doesn't like to work, your brother will be home around the 15th of January. One of the girls initials is J. Send me his writing and I will give you all the initials. He will marry in March or April, he will stay where he is until the latter part of 1956. He is in the state of Washington. I can not give you the names of the girls your sons will marry because that is too long off. Yes, your children will go to high school and finish. No, they will not go to college. Yes, they will both go to the Army one will go in 1958 and the other will go about 1960 or 1961. Your young son is drinking if that is what you mean, there isn't anything wrong with your parents health except they are getting old, they are Methodist. No, they do not attend church as regular as they could. Yes, I would say your sister in law is happy but need her writing to be more accurate. No she doesn't have it yet but soon. Yes she will have three no you will not have anymore children you will continue to work, you will never be out of debt as long as you hold the pocket book, no you will not move no you will never be bothered with your parents or your in laws. Your husbands middle initials is B. Your initial in your name is M. Yes have two children and both are boys they belong to the Methodist Church one of their initials is J. and the other is R.

Joyce Taylor

(left over from last week)

Christmas has come and gone and it wasn't very cold any of the time. Most folks have their tobacco stripped in this vicinity.

Fred Waggoner remains in a Memphis Hospital. He is some better.

Mrs. Imus Lowry's condition is no better.

Mrs. Addie Casey is better but still confined to her bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Tremon Rick-man visited the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Boaz House, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Gardner, Mrs.
House's mother, has been ill,
but is feeling some better.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McGuire were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Taylor and Joyce.

Mrs. Bertha Gibson and Miss
Jewel Rose visited Mrs. Maude
Jones Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Matthews and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hicks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Crittenden and girls were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Emerson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolen Sanders, Mesdames Opal Yates and Cassie Taylor called to see Mrs.
Addie Casey—awhile Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. House were the Sunday dinner guests of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Boaz House and Mrs. Gar-diner. Other visitors were Mr.
and Mrs. Jess Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Yawne Lawrence.

Miss Constance Jones is visiting in Hickman this week.

Mrs. Pearl Carr entertained her Sunday School Class with a party one night last week.
Games were played and refreshments served. We had a wonderful time Hope she does it again.

The Taylor family was made very happy on Monday night after Christmas, where their son and brother, his family, including a new member, baby
Vicki, arrived for a short visit.
Marion has been transferred to Cheyenne, Wyo. He's still working far Uncle Sam.

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Life opens the door to healthier, happier living will be set forth in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Psalms (66:8,9): "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard:
Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved."

Ward-Combs (Continued from page one) and that Beauchamp would be in the Administration's corner. The venerable "Doc", a favorite of courthouse circles throughout the State, can be counted upon to muster a large chunk of vote for the candidate of his choice.

Assuming that Combs is the election of the Wetherby-Clements-Beauchamp faction, has brought mixed reactions in Fulton County from long-time friends of the Administration. While none have said outwardly that they will switch to Chandler, it is the consensus that, until the fight takes on more definite proportions, those Administration friends will keep quiet until they can see which way the wind is blowing. The Wetherby Administration has taken a great interest in Fulton, Fulton County and West Kentucky, and in spite of the selection of seemingly "unknown" in West Kentucky Combs there are many strong obligations here that almost demand support for Judge Combs.

By next week, when it is believed the Administration will select their candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, West Kentucky could well be in the department of utter confusion.

If Ward is selected, and Waterfield announces, close friends of both men will be torn between political and personal loyalty. Political leaders in these parts, who have cast their lot with the administration since Waterfield has been out of the political picture, have never lessened their personal admiration for the Clinton publisher's ability, his ideals, or his desire to serve the people of West Kentucky and the entire state.

It was learned that Judge Combs is a quiet, capable and hard-working man. This characteristic is matched with the gregarious, back-slapping, colorful Happy Chandler who has an uncanny, if sometimes faked, ability to remember first names and definite situations. Not only well known in Kentucky where he was one-time Governor and Senator, he has a national reputation as well, having been high commissioner of baseball.

Undoubtedly this year's race will be a stormy one. And that's the understatement of the year.

Driving? By all means, don't drive after drinking.

Notebook (Continued From Page One) we'll have to swap some information about the speeches on our long drive to the convention, which will be in Louisville.

The snow on Monday was the first real reminder this year that winter is here. Snow brings hardship to many people, but it is always so pretty and so soft and peaceful that I always enjoy it more than I can say. And so does every youngster in this neck of the woods who dreams of making a real, honest to goodness, snow-man.
