FACE-LIFTING IN FULTON BIDS TO CHANGE SCENERY

Steady Building, Remodeling Going Strong Everywhere

Fulton, having passed its nineteenth year and well on the way to the century mark, may bear scant resemblance to its former self in another year or so if its clean-up, fix-up, modernize trend continues at the same pace through 1955 that was set last year.

Already in this new year, with inventories and after-Christmas sales barely finished, much activity has been noted this week that may hail a banner year ahead for downtown improvements in general.

Principal contributors noted this week:

The City National Bank is undergoing a "face-lifting" on its front that will require several weeks to complete and may later include an interior renovation job.

Graham Furniture Company began this week an upstairs modernization that will also include removal of the old metal awning in front, as well as provide attractive room set-ups for furniture display.

The Leader Store is enlarging the men's department and has added some twenty feet more to the salesroom for shoes.

Wade Furniture Company, a new firm entering Fulton's furniture circles, is busily cleaning and painting the old U-Tote-Em building on Lake Street and plans to open in the near future.

Firestone Store, Clarice Shop and Kasnow's are all undertaking interior improvements.

The Fulton Bank is adding a night depository to its smart-looking new quarters.

The Union Bus Station is moving shortly to new quarters in the old Nash auto agency on West State Line, recently vacated, removing much congestion at the corner of Fourth and Carr, the News learned this week.

Other activity in the downtown area, some of involving major changes, is expected to be announced during the next 60 days.

This story you've got to hear because:

(A) Us folks in Highlands are doomed;

(B) Husbands are a sorry lot. Last week Paul was beating the keyboard with his orchestra in Union City. The children and I were watching television until sort of late then retired, which means we hit the sack about ten o'clock.

All of us were in the arms of Morpheus when suddenly Morpheus released the grip on me and I heard a disturbing commotion in the den downstairs. Frightened for a moment I thought the noise was:

(A) The trains switching in the new yards, which has become a lullaby to us.

(B) That Paul had come home and was putting away his huge portfolio of music.

Taking the latter opinion as the final one I called out several times, but got no answer from the musician I thought had returned home. No answer, I settled on the earlier opinion, it was the trains switching.

I was satisfied then and tried to make up to Morpheus again and soon I was counting my blessings and fell asleep. Some thirty minutes later I was awakened again to hear a completely uninhibited commotion in the basement and I knew of course that Paul was fixing the furnace. I gave some rather loud yelps into the vent upstairs, hoping that the sound would penetrate his ears in the area of the furnace below where he should have been working.

Not an answer did I get. Pandemonium broke loose in my equilibrium. Decided to barricade the three of us in the upstairs bedrooms so if the nifty intruder came up, he would find himself locked out. But, that little hombre son has assumed the role of a sheriff and carries a ring of keys on his belt that makes St. Peter look unequipped. Not a key in the door. I tried to awaken the little fellow to ask about the keys, but he took a dim view of the entire questioning.

The noise persisted and it was time for some quick thinking. I closed the door to the children's room and all the while could see the headlines " . . . Fulton cheers bludgeon death of editor . . . children unhurt." Then I decided to use straight thinking. "I'll call Charlie Andrews to see if he's home." He is also in the orchestra. No answer at the Andrews home. I knew that it wasn't Paul in the basement.

Then came the decision to call the police, which I knew was a lost cause . . . since Highlands is out of the city limits. Here goes the rest in dialogue: "170." "Hello." "Whos talking." "This is . . ." "This is Jo Westpheling I have been hearing strange noises in the basement and Paul is not home. Could you come out and look around?" "Look for what." "I don't know there may be someone in the house." "Well, the deputy is on Highway 51 and I don't know when he'll be back." "I could

Doctor Baird

DR. BAIRD COMES HOME TO PRACTICE GENERAL DENTISTRY

Young Doctor Will Occupy Suite In Haws Hospital

Probably no other experience in life is more important to a young doctor than to come back to his home-town and hang out his shingle for the practice of his profession. That's what Dr. Daniel McDade Baird will do Monday in his new suite of offices in the Haws Memorial Hospital. Dr. Baird will occupy the offices formerly used by the late Dr. Robert Baird, when he too, practiced dentistry here for many years.

Dr. Baird had hoped to open his offices on Thursday, but the equipment, for which he has worked for many years to install, was delayed in transit and went to Paducah before it came to Fulton.

Tuesday the big truck, bearing huge boxes of complicated equipment finally arrived and it was no doubt with serious reflection that he noted the address stenciled on the boxes . . . "Dr. D. M. Baird, Haws Memorial Hospital, Fulton, Ky."

In those boxes were his dreams. A huge dental chair, intricate x-ray equipment, highly sensitive laboratory material and dozens of little instruments that he will use to relieve the dental ills of his friends and

LOCAL AUDIENCE PRAISES MESSAGE OF "MR. TEXAS"

Rev. Fuller Is Seen In Movie With Billy Graham

"Mr. Texas," the first Christian Western, released by Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, is coming to the Orpheum Theatre Sun. Jan. 23rd.

"Mr. Texas" is a heart warming story of a fellow who always has done things his way without the help of anyone or anything, until finally he is faced with a problem that only with God's help can he hope to find peace of mind to live with himself.

"Mr. Texas" stars Redd Harper and Cindy Walker featuring Billy Graham and Cliff Barrows and if you look real close you will be able to spot Rev. Woodrow Fuller, formally of Fulton and The First Baptist Church, in a couple of scenes.

The film is in color and the background music is furnished by The Sons Of The Pioneers. Here are some comments of the ministers, friends and neighbors who attended a private screening held a few days ago:

Rev. Everett G. Porter: "Mr. Texas" has a real message. It is well worth anyone's time and money."

Mrs. Nelson Tripp: "A new experience for moviegoers . . . Mrs. C. E. Benedict: "An inspiring picture should appeal to every person . . ."

Rev. J. T. Hart: "If you attend the movies you should see this one. It has a message for the troubled heart."

Jr. Training Union To Hold Banquet Friday

The Junior Training Union of the First Baptist Church will give a banquet in honor of the Ten Year Union, who were the winners of a contest for high scores in training union, which has been held for the past three months. The ten year union is sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. James Meacham.

The banquet will be held Friday night, January 21, at 6 o'clock at the church.

Mrs. Ruby Neisler visited her sister, Mrs. Ethel Hay, in Union City last Monday.

Those school children had somewhere to go. The Elks Lodge of Fulton made it possible.

Elks Club Youth Center Is Mecca For Young Folks And Good Times

There'll never be any juvenile delinquency in Fulton. You can bet a million dollars across the board on that score.

People have come to know the word not from experience, but from happenings in other communities, where perhaps, the accent is not on good, clean entertainment as it is in Fulton.

The Elks Lodge of Fulton, Kentucky can chalk up a high score in their good deed book, for it is through their current efforts that the young people of Fulton and South Fulton can always say . . . "we have a place to go and have fun."

Not too many weeks ago, Exalted Ruler Lawson Roper, who has been active in his community for many years, wanted to activate, in a big way, the Youth Committee of the Lodge. Roper, who never seems to tire of thinking up good things to do for the people in his community talked with Hendon "Doc" Wright, also an active Elk, about some project that could be put into motion for the young people of the community.

Doc, with a teen-age son of his own, knew the importance of keeping fertile minds occupied with good projects, suggested to Mr. Roper that the Elks Club sponsor a Youth Center to fill the need as a result of the abandonment of a similar center caused when the old Science Hall burned.

That started the ball rolling. As it is in every organization, the fellow who makes a suggestion often gets named to be chairman of the committee. Doc was made chairman of the Youth Center.

Together Doc and Lawson surveyed the spacious club rooms of the lodge on Lake Street and decided that Friday night would be the time to set aside as the big night in the week for the young folks. All members of the lodge heartily agreed to giving up this one evening so that young people might enjoy themselves in constructive and chaperoned recreation.

It was a big task. But soon the entire community was caught in the contagion of this worthwhile movement and ideas for the activity in the center came fast and furious.

First recreational equipment had to be installed. A juke-box had to be equipped with the latest dance records. A ping-pong table was bought at first, now there are two. The television set in the rooms was tuned into the sharpest focus so that the best programs could come clear as the weather permitted. The pool table was shined up and outfitted for the enjoyment of the young men with that sport in mind.

All the members worked, and soon, most important of all, the young people took great interest in the center and the project was an immediate success. Now they knew that the ending whistle of a ball game did not bring apathy and restlessness for a "place to go." They had that place. They needed it and they enjoyed it.

Recently the weather outside was frightful. Sleet and snow blanketed the streets and it was ball game night. As a matter of fact it was big ball game night when the border towns engaged in a rough and tumble basketball game for the big honor of beating the rival school.

It was after ten o'clock and the chaperones were waiting for the game to be over to be there when the kids would leave the gym. They didn't have much hope that anybody would come since there was no "big doings" planned and the weather was so bad, they knew that the young people would want to go home.

Did they? They did not. They put their feelings of rivalry away and after the game, young people from both schools flocked to the Elks Club Youth Center and if there was a winner or a loser in that crowd, a geiger counter was needed to find it. They congregated at the Youth Center. They danced, they laughed, they played ping-pong and navigated around with as much enthusiasm as if they were at the roof garden of a big hotel. Those school children had somewhere to go. The Elks Lodge of Fulton made it possible.

The Youth Center is open to students of Fulton and South Fulton who are in school. This eliminates older young people, not in school, from frequenting the center and possibly taking away some of the enjoyment that only students in school can enjoy.

If Chandler Continues Berating, Combs Is In For Sure

We might as well tell you, that when it was reported that Judge Bert T. Combs of Prestonsburg would be a candidate for Governor with the support of Lawrence Wetherby we were anything but overjoyed and enthusiastic.

We felt as many of you did, that while Judge Combs no doubt is a very fine, capable lawyer and jurist, he didn't seem to be a match for the well known Happy Chandler, who has been in and out of public office in Kentucky. We have often thought that hundreds of times a voter goes to the polls and knows nothing of a candidate, but votes for him because he's heard the name before.

We feel much, much better now, about the candidacy of Judge Combs and as the days and weeks roll on we will feel even complacent about his winning.

We'll tell you why. In this day and age of radio, television and the newspaper, a voter cannot possibly escape finding out everything about the kind of man seeking office. This being true, as you know it is then the platform the personal ideals and the capabilities of Judge Combs will inexorably be imprinted on the minds of the voters in Kentucky.

We bring this to your attention because we read with much amusement a speech that Mr. Chandler made in Louisville recently before a group of labor leaders. There were only 35 persons present, but the audience didn't matter to Mr. Chandler, he knew that his speech would be reported in the newspapers.

Mr. Chandler has started off with a

Sermonette of the Week

Our Goal Is Eternal Happiness

I WONDER IF THE HISTORY OF LAW does not show that from time to time there has been a dangerous emphasis on either the rights of the individual man or on the importance of human society. It has been rather difficult at times to find the proper balance between man and society.

During the 19th century the emphasis was on the rights of the individual. We can see it was wrong to allow the strong to crush the weak. Rights have meaning for all men and not only for those who have the power to enforce them.

TODAY WE ARE STRIVING desperately to avoid the danger of state absolutism. When the state becomes too powerful it defeats its own purpose: the helping of its members to help themselves. St. Thomas Aquinas indicated the middle path for us.

"Every creature belongs naturally to God. Hence both angels and men love God before themselves and with a greater love. If they love themselves more than God, their love is perverse."

News From The TELEPHONE FOLKS

We want to welcome two of our girls back to work this week. We're glad to have Carolyn Faulkner back after a leave of absence and Virginia Potts back after a sick leave.

Friday night found several of our girls arranging their hours to be off for that much talked about, ballgame between Fulton and South Fulton. It was amusing to see Zearle Robey, Joan Ferguson, June McKinney, Marion Lee Oliver, Janie Jones and yours truly yelling for one side, and Virginia Forrest, Sylvia Yates, and Mary Frances Roberts boosting the other side.

A nice lady here in Fulton sent us a letter last week saying she read our column in the News and enjoyed it thoroughly. She noticed we were chitchatting and doing handwork, she requested that we exchange some crochet patterns with her as she also like to keep her fingers busy with needlework. We want to thank you for your nice letter

CITY NATIONAL ADDS TWO NEW BOARD MEMBERS

Weeks, Williams Named At Meeting Held Last Week

Two prominent young businessmen of Fulton were added to the Board of Directors of the City National Bank. At the meeting held last week Parks Weeks and Clyde Williams Jr. of the A. G. Baldridge store were named to the board.

It was revealed at the stockholders meeting that the bank enjoyed one of the most successful years in its 53 years of operation as a national bank. With total resources of nearly 4 1/2 million dollars, the bank has deposits of nearly $4,100,000. The bank has a capital stock of $80,000.00, and a surplus of $80,000.00.

vial full of venom in his attack on the present Administration. Says he: "I want to give the State Government back to the people." Among other statements he generally based his talk on one premise: Look fellers, he said in effect, everything, but everything is now wrong with the State Government. You just elect me this summer and I'll start off by giving you the steps to the Capitol, the linens in the mansion, and the foam off of every glass of beer in Kentucky.

Even the severest critics of Lawrence Wetherby's administration will say that he has been a good and honest Governor. The people who have been his closest advisors are sound and capable men. Kentucky has come to the front in its tax division, its tourist program and its legislative program, so well that other States have copied the pattern. Several foreign Governments have "borrowed" some of Wetherby's fiscal experts to set up similar divisions in their own countries.

The road program, under our own Bill Curlin, has come a long, long way and that's just part of it.

But along comes Chandler and starts berating all these fine programs for his personal edification.

Yes indeed, we're glad Chandler has started his campaign so early and most especially his attacks on the Administration. By the time August 6 comes along, Happy will find it difficult to get his own family to vote for him, much less the clear-thinking, honorable people of Kentucky who are very proud of the strides we've made under the administration of Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby.

tendency in the human soul is to love God, not to love self or the state. This is not a revolutionary teaching. But it does throw light on one important truth: the goal of all human activity is the possession of God.

Our professional and commercial relationships with one another are no exception. Civil law, whatever be its more immediate object, must concern itself ultimately with the efforts of men to realize happiness in the possession of God.

NINETEENTH-CENTURY LIBERALISM did not fail because it insisted on the sacred character of the rights of the individual. If we ask ourselves honestly why it did fail, we must answer that it did not afford sufficient safeguard against the corrupting force of human selfishness.

Again if we ask ourselves why we fear socialistic tendencies of modern governments, we must answer that we fear them because the benevolent state tends to become a paternalistic state and eventually a despotic state. Human selfishness and the totalitarian state are the enemies which the law, in corporation with all other constructive forces of human society, must strive to keep under control.

THESE HOSTILE INFLUENCES can be controlled by placing God above them both. Only when men's lives are governed by reverence for God's law, and when civil authority recognizes God as the source of its power, will we have assurance that the abuses of the past will not be repeated and the perils of the present effectively forestalled.

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

(January 17, 1930)
Tuesday night, Jan. 21, at 7:30 o'clock the Chamber of Commerce will hold its first meeting of the new year. This promises to be one of the outstanding sessions probably ever held during the history of the organization and every member is urged to be present as well as every loyal citizen of the community.

Mrs. and Mrs. M. L. McDade announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Nell to Mr. Hendon Wright on January 4th, 1930 in Cairo, Ill.

National headquarters of the American Red Cross here sent word today to the flooded counties of West Kentucky and West Tennessee through Marion Rust, field representative for West Kentucky and Miss Emma Taylor, field representative for West Tennessee, that the Red Cross was ready to extend any aid needed to care for conditions in those sections.

We understand that Dr. C. W. Curlin, prominent Hickman physician, has purchased the Brown property corner Third Street and Park Avenue, and will establish a hospital here. Fulton has long needed such an institution. There is hardly a day passes but what some one leaves Fulton to enter a hospital, often times reaching their destination too late.

Again, this is an ideal location for a hospital of the highest class. There is no reason why such an institution should not be given the whole-hearted support of the people and made a blessing to the entire community.

The West Kentucky Finance Company held its annual meeting of stock holders Monday night in its new office on Commercial Ave. there being ten stockholders present, and 395 shares represented. This company which was formed to finance automobile sales for local dealers and others in this territory, had a good year. The reports read by the secretary, W. S. Atkins, showed much improvement in the condition of the business as compared with a year ago.

The old board of directors was re-elected as follows: Ira W. Little president; A. Huddleston, vice president; N. G. Cooke, treasurer; W. S. Atkins, secretary and general manager.

It is reported that the new Illinois Central Coal chute now under course of construction, one fourth mile north of the passenger depot will be completed within the next thirty days. It is built of steel and concrete throughout and modern in every way. The old chute was destroyed by fire several months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Murchison announce the birth of an eight pound son, James, born Jan. 12th at their home on Route 4.

sound agriculture to have your soil tested before you start a new crop. This is especially true if the soil has not been analyzed in the last two seasons.

DID YOU KNOW: it takes 150 pounds of nitrogen, 23 pounds of phosphorus, 72 pounds of potassium and 5 million pounds of water to produce 100 bushels of corn? Well, we cannot tell how much water you have in the soil with a soil test, but we can give you just how much phosphate, potash and calcium you have. A test for Nitrogen is not too efficient as it changes with weather and soil conditions. It also takes about 25 pounds of Calcium for a 100 bushel yield, so you can see just how important it is to keep your soil rich in plant food. DO NOT OVER LIME.

DOWN ON THE FARM

It may surprise you just how much you can increase your production by following the recommendation of your soil test and securing proper improved seeding practices from your Agricultural advisers.

You will be able to graze your small grain a good many days through the winter and spring months, then remove your livestock in time to get a maximum yield, provided recommendations have been followed, and there is enough moisture in the soil to release the plant food you have applied.

In order to get the most profits possible from your farming in 1955, see that you plan and follow practices known to be safe and sound. Keep your costs as low as possible and use good judgment in your farm program throughout the year. Let's make 1955 the best year yet, DOWN ON THE FARM.

Rev. J. T. HART, Pastor So. Fulton Baptist Church: If you attend the movies, you should see this one. It has a real message for the trouble heart.

MRS. DAN OVERALL, of 1st Methodist Church: The film has a good message that people need to heed.

MRS. NELSON TRIPP:

A new experience for movie goers: A film with a real message for every person.

PATRICIA LATANE

Dear Patricia:

I would like for you to answer a few questions for me. Will I ever finish school? Will we live where we are now until I get married? Does M. S. like me or L. M.? Will I pass this year? Will I sit with M. S. on the bus the rest of this year? Will I ever get married? Who will I marry? Will I ever marry? Will M. S. ever marry? How old will I be when I get married? What year will I quit school? Thank you.

C. B.

Dear C. B.:

Yes, you will finish school. Yes, you will continue to live where you are now living. L. M. likes you very much. Yes, you will pass. Yes, you will sit with M. S. on the bus the rest of the year. Yes, you will marry but that is sometime off yet. You do not know your husband yet. No, M. S. will be a bachelor. You will be 20 years old when you marry. 1957, is when you will finish school.

Dear Miss Latane:

I read your column in the News and I want to ask you some questions. How long will I go to school? Will I ever marry? If so, what are his initials? At what age will I marry? How many children will I have? Will it be the boy I am now going steady with? He says he loves me. Does he? Where does my future husband live? Do I know him now? How old am I?

P. S. What are the initials of the boy I am going with now? Thanks.

Dear E. P.:

You will finish school in 1956. Yes, you will marry. His initials are R. You will marry at the age of 18. You will have two children. No, he will not be the boy you are going steady with now. Yes, puppy love, your future husband lives about 14 miles from Fulton South. Yes, you know him now. I think you have been in this old world so long its getting bothersome to you. You're 14.

Dear Pat:

I read my answer to which I asked you if you knew who stole our cotton scales out of our front yard and it was mislaid and so I don't know if you said a negro or some one else. You said they lived close by. We live one mile from the city limits close to the round house and no negroes live out here. Could you give me the initials of them or a clue? You said ask him for them but if it is a negro I have no idea as we don't live near any. You said ask him for them. Give me a clue and I'll sure ask. Is he at home now or where? Thanks.

R. M.

Dear R. M.:

The person I see in your hand writing is small. A teenager I would say. Dark with short hair. Maybe it isn't a negro. Maybe it is a white boy but he doesn't live far from you. The only initial I can make out is an M. There is another initials but it could be one of three initials either a J, I, or T. No, this person is not at home. I would say he is in school for he is with a group of boys.

Miss Latane:

Could you please tell me what happened to Granny's scissors? They have been gone a month or two. Who stole my dog about two years ago last Thanksgiving? Thank you

V. B.

Dear V. B.:

The scissors are there. They are in a box. A tourist passing through picked up your dog.

Dear Miss Latane:

Will I ever get a divorce from my husband? If so, when? Does he love me now? Could you tell me where to find my watch? Will I ever find it?

Dear L. L.:

Yes you will get a divorce but it will be May before you do. Yes, he still cares for you. A young lady is wearing your watch. You will never get it back.

Dear Pat:

I have been reading your column and I would like for you to answer some questions for me. Does J. like me or does D. or I? Tell me if any of them as I need to know? When will I marry? Who to, and do I know him now? How many children will I have? Will I have a church wedding? If so, where? Will I finish High School? Who will be my next date?

Remember J.

Dear J.:

Yes, J., D. and I all like you, but are not in love with you. You aren't in love with them. Your writing tells me you are not a good pupil in school at all. So study and stop worrying about how many children you are going to have and when you're going to marry.

Dear Patricia:

Will I ever get F. F.? If so, when? When will I see him again? When will my mother give in for me to go with him? Am I too young for him?

Signed

A lonely heart

NEW ALLOTMENTS FOR TOBACCO MUST BE FILED JAN. 31

T. E. Williamson, Chairman of Fulton County ASC Committee, stated today that the county office had received necessary forms for farmers to make applications for New Growers Tobacco allotments for 1955, he also states that the deadline for filing such applications was January 31, except in case of a veteran who has been discharged from service since December 31, 1954.

The following are some of the eligibility requirements: (1) the applicant must be a bonafide farm operator, (2) the operator must live on and be largely dependent on the farm for his livelihood, (3) the farm owner or operator must not have an interest in any other farm on which there has already been established a 1955 allotment of any type of tobacco and (4) the farm operator must have had at least 2 years of experience in the growing of the kind of tobacco for which an application is made, within the past 5 years, 1950 through 1954 inclusive, except in the case of a veteran, only 1 year of experience is required.

Mr. Williamson stated that anyone who felt that they could meet the above requirements and desired a 1955 allotment should obtain the necessary forms from the county office and file same by January 31, 1955.

Your mother is the best friend you will ever have and I wish some of the little things you are saying to her now were in print so you could also save them to read along with my copy. If you did you would give half of the years of your life to take some of them back, but that will be to late.

Diary of Doin's

—Around Fulton—

The News writes social happenings about you and your friends.

Bridge playing in Fulton and elsewhere in most small communities in the Nation is as close a tie as blood relationship. We've become to think that the love for the game is pathological. Nearly everybody plays. Well most nearly. And woe to the person who comes up with the most illiterate of all statements, which goes with foreboding timidity: "I don't play bridge."

For all the rice in China would we dare tell you whether we play or not. Never would a statement so approach treason as a confession of such infinite stupidity.

As far as memory serves, in the darkest reaches of the past, many local ladies have belonged to bridge clubs. How interesting would be the history, or the story, of the first bridge club in Fulton, or perhaps the oldest.

This interesting bit of information struck us "out force" as we left the Country Club Tuesday and glanced around to see that the 32 people who attended the regular Ladies Day luncheon, at least twenty of them stayed to play bridge and a few more stayed around to watch. It was near the postoffice that we met Ellen Davis and asked if she were going to her bridge club and she advised that her regular club meets on alternate Tuesdays and this Tuesday was not the day.

When asked the longevity of the club to which she belonged she pondered. She told me how long she had been in Fulton, which is a right smart few years, and said the club was going strong then. But, said she, there was a club older than the one to which she belonged that sort of superseded the present club. It was called the Stocking Club. Now this Stocking Club, undoubtedly would take the undisputed title for one of the oldest, but who can tell. The Stocking Club was so called because as prizes for expertness in this game, silk stockings were awarded.

The Stocking Club perpetuated for many years and you can rest assured that its abandonment was not from any lack of interest in the club. Indeed not, to give up bridge was to give up, well most anything. This fascinating pastime of which where is nothing whicher, is here to stay, canasta, pinocle, baseball to the contrary.

This congenial group will always find pleasure in bridge playing as they have through the years. They are left to right: Mrs. Vester Freeman, Mrs. L. O. Carter, Mrs. L. O. Bradford, Mrs. A. G. Baldrige, Mrs. Sara Meacham and Mrs. Guy Gingles. They played at the home of Mrs. Bradford on Tuesday.

So the members of the Stocking Club went on to other homes, other tables, other close friends. In that original club, when silk stockings were a novelty perhaps were, among some, Mrs. Nell Martin—Bradford, Mrs. Georgia Pierce, Mrs. Mignon Dobbins, Mrs. Mary Wayne McCloy, Mrs. M. H. Alford, Mrs. Herbert Carr, Mrs. Elizabeth Payne, Mrs. Lena McGhee, Mrs. Nell Fall, Mrs. Mary Carr Johnson and others.

But, if we may be facetious, it is possible that the club of the stockings encountered some runs in the playing, but not the love of the game, so many of the ladies formed another club, which nearly matched the original club in longevity. Mrs. Alford, Mrs. McCloy, Mrs. Dobbins, Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Bradford started matching suits with Mrs. May Taylor and Mrs. Alma Pelley and for years they bid and played and kept up with Culbertson, Blackwood, Ferguson and contemporaries.

Auction bridge, faded into obscurity and comes along something new and different like the short bob, called contract. The second club, like its predecessor suffered losses in the ranks and while the vacancies were filled with companions of equal charm and dexterity, other clubs were formed and some members joined two or more official clubs, but there was no end to the unofficial foursomes which met regularly and with fun, too.

In direct line of descendency it is difficult to determine which is the straightest relative connection with the original Stocking Club, but every Tuesday, there's bridge enjoyment with some of the real experts in this here now world of Goren and Jacoby, et al. One club has in its membership Mrs. A. G. Baldrige, Mrs. Guy Gingles, Mrs. Vester Freeman, Mrs. Sara Meacham, Mrs. L. O. Bradford, Mrs. Corrine Evans, Mrs. L. O. Carter and Mrs. Clarence Pickering.

Another club, with whom we had the pleasure of a near collapse in our early days in Fulton is composed of Mrs. Bradford, Mrs. Nell Fall, Mrs. Ellen Davis, Mrs. Meacham, Hazel Scruggs, Mrs. Tom Franklin, Mrs. Herbert Carr and Mrs. Abe Jolley. Mrs. Jolley has had to give up some of her leisure activities lately and so a vacancy exists, but we learn from reliable sources that we are NOT BEING CONSIDERED FOR THE POST.

The near collapse we mentioned was for sure. Extending the amenities to a new-comer it was our old friend Mrs. Bradford who invited us to play in the club. Assuring her, even insisting that we . . . er . . . er . . . didn't play the game she wanted us to come by all means. We did.

The rest of the story can be found on our medical chart. It was the beginning of our occupational hazard, the duodenal ulcer. Dear, sweet Mrs. Franklin no doubt shudders at the thought of our jumping her spade bid, not by one, not by two, but by three, when our honor count was nil.

It couldn't have happened to a nicer lady who could not possibly have been more gracious at the likes of an ignoramus like us, who one time, completely occupied with another problem bid three clovers, instead of three clubs.

But on and on goes the happy playing. More and more complicated the game becomes. More and more do the enthusiasts, of which there are many, keep abreast of the new methods and bidding and even more do we become more perplexed, even antagonistic at our inability to recognize a queen from a two-headed jack.

So it was at the Country Club

Marilee and George Truitt . . . Florence and Frank returned last week end from Chicago where they visited the furniture markets . . . Mary Swann Bushart and Mary-Nelle Wright took off early Monday morning for Houston, Texas where they will visit with Ruth and Leon Bondurant for two weeks . . . Dr. Bob Stanworth and Miss Ola Mae Curtis of Jackson, Tenn. were week end visitors with Danny and Joan Baird to give Danny moral support for the opening of his new offices in the Haws Memorial Hospital next week . . . Bob and Danny were classmates at the UT Dental School in Memphis . . . the Jackson couple also visited with Betty and Parks Weeks.

Mrs. Bertie Hill was the gracious hostess to the more-than-half-a-century-old Magazine Club at her home on Second Street. Mrs. Harry Murphy presided over the short business session after which the roll call was answered by the naming of some current event. A completely inspiring talk was given by Mrs. Murphy on the "Revival of our Spiritual Foundation," which is a most timely and important subject.

Eight members were present and three visitors enjoyed the congeniality of this wonderful group. The visitors were Mrs. Linnie McKay and Miss Laura Miles of Fort Myers, Florida and Mrs. Lloyd Gorrence. Mrs. Hill served a delicious desert and coffee from a beautifully decorated table that could only come from the deft hands of Mary Latta, who assisted her mother in serving. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. D. White and Mrs. Darcy Terry.

Fulton is extending a most cordial welcome to Mrs. Lloyd Gorrence, who exchanged vows with Coach Gorrence at Christ-tine. The Gorrences are living in an apartment in the home of Mrs. Frank Merryman and everybody is very happy that she is with us. A tall, dark and most attractive brunette, Mrs. Gorrence has delved into the school activities of her popular husband and Fulton adds another lovely lady to its census rolls.

More comings, more goings . . . Robert McCain is visiting in Jacksonville, Florida with his son Dr. J. R. McCain . . . Mrs. Linnie McKay and Miss Miles have returned to their homes in Fort Myers, Florida . . . Craig Lee Toon, young son of Martha Craig and Jimmy Toon visited with his grandparents, the Lee Ruckers while his parents enjoyed a needed vacation . . . Danny and Joan Baird have taken an apartment in the home of Mrs. L. H. Howard in the Highlands . . . we just found this out, but the G. B. Butterworths enjoyed a nice vacation in Washington, D. C. recently and visited with L. J. Jones, who is an assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson in Washington.

The live-wire members of the One and All Club are all prepared to launch another big and active year and elected new officers Monday night to guide them on their many and varied activities. The members were very happy to welcome another new member, Mrs. Neuman Croft to their roster and Mrs. Croft will soon learn that the One and All Club is the busiest, the happiest and the workingest group of people she ever saw. Nearly all the members were appointed to committees and in that club when a committee is appointed its not just a gesture . . . brother, they do commit their services and how.

Officers elected for 1955 were: President, Mrs. L. D. Brooks; Vice-president, Mrs. King Rose; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. William Smith; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Joe Reed and Mrs. Hontas Moore; Recreation, Mrs. Harold Muzzall; Mrs. John Parabrough, and Mrs. O. L. Winstead. Devotional, Mrs. Arthur Ma-theny, Mrs. Gene Dowdy, and Mrs. J. M. Jones. Decoration, Mrs. H. R. Gould-er, Mrs. Neuman Croft, and (continued on page 5)

Elmer Murchison, county tax commissioner was in Fulton Wednesday and will be all week, contacting property owners for their 1955 assessments.

Jerry Coates finally did kiss Sue Palmer goodnight in a delightful one act play presented Tuesday night at the Woman's Club by the Speech Class of the South Fulton School. "Well sure I do." "Hello, this is Page." "Carmi, etc. etc. etc." I repeated the story. (All the while the noise was getting furious and I was frantic.)

More dialogue: "Carmi, I know you can't come but here, since we're not in the city limits, but I'll try again to see if its Paul." "If its not Jo, I'll help you." I hung up the phone.

"Jo, have you been talking on the phone?" "Yep, it was Paul. I called Carmi back, told him to forget the matter, but it was his question to me that brings forth the "B" statement at the beginning of this column. Said Carmi: "Jo, have you got a gun?"

* Youth Center (Continued from Page One) to employ a real orchestra. During Christmas the ladies of the lodge had a bake sale to have a really big party, all formal and everything, for the young people. The "college crowd" was home and it was one of those rare evenings when young people enjoy life to its fullest extent.

An orchestra composed in the main of Fulton musicians played for the dance and several of its former members, now in college, attended the dance and once in a while would take up their old places in the orchestra and blow a tune or two. They loved it.

The city of Fulton, the parents of school children, the school officials are all indebted to the Fulton Elks Lodge for its wonderful project.

And would you believe it, that the happiest people in Fulton are the Elks themselves for having made such a wonderful activity possible.

Kudos to Exalted Ruler Lawson Roper and a big pat on the back to Elk Doc Wright for thinking of all the young people in Fulton as he did his own son.

* Dr. Baird (Continued From Page One) neighbors in the area where he was born and reared. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Mace McDade of Fulton.

Dr. Baird, let's say Danny, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horton Baird. He graduated from Fulton High School in 1947 and studied at Vanderbilt University and the University of Kentucky of Tennessee Dental School in Memphis.

On receiving his coveted sheepskin in 1952, Danny answered the call to Uncle Sam and served at Ent Air base in Colorado for two years. He entered the service as first Lieutenant and was honorably discharged with the rank of Captain.

In 1949 Danny married the former Miss Joan McCollum, daughter of the late Clay McCollum and Mrs. E. H. Hillard of Fulton. They have a young son, Stephen Wallace, eighteen months old. Mrs. Baird will be receptionist in her husband's office.

Danny is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, national social fraternity and Delta Sigma Delta, national dental professional society.

It is a warm welcome that Danny is receiving from the medical profession of Fulton and much success and happiness, too, from his many friends, who are proud the former Fulton High basketball and football player is home again with a very honorable title to his credit.
