CANCER DRIVE NETS $254; CANVASSING CONTINUING DAILY

Goal Of $1000
Set For County;
Give Generously

Contributions amounting to $254.00 have been turned in so far in the 1955 Cancer drive now underway in Fulton according to Mrs. W. L. Durbin, drive chairman. This, of course, is only a first report from canvassers in the downtown area, and to date no reports have come in from residential areas. This year's drive goal is $1000.00.

Mrs. Gilsen Latta, Fulton city chairman, canvassing Lake Street with Mrs. Blankenship, have thus far obtained $93.00; Mrs. Robert Batts has reported $40.00 from Walnut Street; Mrs. J. A. Poe has reported $84.50 from Main Street; Mrs. Russell Ridd has reported $32.00 from Church and Commercial Streets and Mrs. C. E. Edwards $4.50 from the Country Club Courts.

COOPERATION AND PLANNING SET FOR CHAMBER MEETING

Dinner To Be At Smith's Cafe On Monday, April 18

The Chamber of Commerce annual meeting will be held at Smith's Cafe, on Monday, April 18th, at 6:30 p. m. The dinner cost is $1.50 each.

This is more than just the annual meeting for the election of officers and directors. The meeting will be devoted primarily to discussion of making a more effective Chamber of Commerce for the two towns.

A Chamber of Commerce operates successfully only if the committees and committee-members function well and continuously. In the past year, too many have expected one person, or a small group to do the work.

This meeting will be devoted to getting the Chamber of Commerce under operation, with all members taking an active part which is the only way it can be successful.

Therefore, it is a duty vital that every business house send a representative to this meeting - whether they were a member of the Chamber of Commerce last year, or not.

Tickets can be purchased from the secretary, or from members of the Board of Directors. Telephone 9080 or 43 and tickets will be delivered to you.

Salk Polio Vaccine To Be Administered Here on April 26th

Tentative plans released by the Fulton County Health Department are to administer the Salk polio vaccine to all county public and parochial schools on Tuesday, April 26. The vaccine which Tuesday was termed "effective and safe" will be given to students in the first and second grades.

Recently all students in those grades were given permission slips to take home to their parents giving authorization to the health department to administer the vaccine. Parents not wishing the health department to give the shots may take their children to private physicians.

Parents who have failed to return the slips to the schools are urged to do so now if they wish their children to receive the vaccine.

The Salk polio vaccine is safe, effective and potent, it was officially announced Tuesday.

The vaccine was found 80 to 90 per cent effective in preventing paralytic polio in tests last year, anxious parents were told.

RUSSELL ASKS FOR CONTINUANCE IN BRIBERY CHARGES

Russell & Axon
Official Says
Witness Missing

A motion for a continuance was filed Monday morning in Jasper County (Mo.) Circuit Court by attorneys for 44-year-old Jess Russell, public relations director of Russell and Axon Consulting Engineers, as a bribery charge against him was set for docketing.

The motion filed in Russell's behalf asks for a legislative continuance since one of the defense attorneys is a state senator. He is identified as Arkley W. Freize of Carthage.

Springfield attorneys Wayne Walker and W. Ray Daniel, Kirby Patterson and Richard Moss are the other attorneys for Russell, indicted by a 1954 Greene County grand jury on charges of bribery and perjury.

The continuance motion was to be heard Monday afternoon and County Prosecutor Lyndon Sturgis and Assistant Turner White represented the state in the hearing before Judge Walter Bailey.

Sturgis reported that if a continuance is granted it is unlikely that the case can be tried before the September term of the Jasper County court.

WESTERN AUTO OF FULTON TO JOIN IN 46TH BIRTHDAY

Thad Fagan Is Operator Of Big Store On Lake St.

Western Auto Stores, a group of 3000 dealers scattered all over the Nation, are celebrating the 46th anniversary of the founding of the company this week with a featured sale at each store.

The Fulton Western Auto store is located at 202 Lake Street and is owned and operated locally by Thad Fagan. This, incidentally, is Fagan's third anniversary in Fulton, too.

Western Auto was established in Kansas City 46 years ago with $5 and an idea, and its phenomenal growth has taken place at the same time that the automobile census has grown. The Western Auto ideas and methods have been imitated many times by upstart chains over the Nation, but none has enjoyed the success or permanence of the original.

Pearl Runyon Heads Women's Division of Combs' Campaign

Miss Pearl Runyon, state treasurer and one of Kentucky's most outstanding women political leaders was today named State chairwoman for the Bert T. Combs for Governor campaign. Miss Runyon, a frequent visitor to Fulton and West Kentucky played an important role in the election campaign last year of Alben Barkley, when he made his successful race for the Senate against John Sherman Cooper.

Mrs. T. C. Carroll of Shepherdville has been named vice-chairman.

The State treasurer, one of the few women in the United States to hold such an important position in State Government has been ed to the position as State treasurer on October 10, 1949 to fill out the unexpired term of Edward F. Seiler, who resigned to accept a position in Washington. She ran for the full four year term in 1951 and was elected with a large majority.

Miss Runyon is a very close personal friend of Judge Combs and they have known each other for many years.

Like Miss Runyon, Mrs. Carroll is widely known throughout Kentucky. She is past president of the Kentucky General Federation of Women's Clubs and has a long record of active state-wide club interests. Her son Thomas Carroll was one-time State president of the Young Democrats club of Kentucky.

Miss Runyon

prominently mentioned as a candidate for Secretary of State. She has relinquished any ideas she may have had to seek that

The Courier-Journal reported Wednesday that Mrs. Ben Kilgore also was named to manage the women's division of Happy Chandler's campaign. Mrs. Kilgore is the widow of Ben Kilgore who was a candidate for Governor four years ago when he died suddenly as a result of a heart attack. Mrs. Kilgore is president of the Kentucky Heart Association.

... .. office to assist Judge Combs in his race for the Governorship. In accepting the post Miss Runyon said:

"It is vitally important to elect Bert Combs Governor of Kentucky. I, for one, realize the progress that has been made in Kentucky in the last eight years, and I would like to see a progressive Kentucky continue. I have no regrets in making my own decision and I hope my many friends, such as you, will understand my position. Bert Combs is an outstanding young man in Kentucky, and we need him."

Miss Runyon is from Belfry in Pike County. She was appointed

8000 EGGS HIDDEN AT FAIRGROUNDS; KIDDIES TO HUNT

Easter Affair
Is Postponed Until
Sunday Afternoon

A huge throng of kiddies are invited to attend the postponed Easter Egg hunt that will be held at the Fairgrounds on Sunday afternoon at three p. m. The committee in charge reported that nearly 8000 eggs will be found by eager Fulton children who were disappointed Easter Sunday when rain prevented the hunt from being held.

The delay of one week has not damaged the eggs one bit, fact is, they will probably taste much better having "aged" a few days longer.

The hunt is being sponsored by the 40 et 8 of the American Legion and Stallins Service Station. An egg hunt will also be sponsored for the Negro children of Fulton.

Get eager, get anxious kiddies, go out Sunday and look for those eggs that the Easter bunny has been hiding for a week.

Why Not A TV Film On Fishing ala Owen?

Its crappie time in the fishing department. Soon the fisherman of this area will start besieging the lakes, ponds and rivers around us to match wits with the cagey fellow at the other end of the pole.

The crappie season reminds us of a memorable fishing trip we took last year with the crappie fishing expert of all time... none other than that professor emeritus of the Izaak Walton College, Vernon Owen.

Somewhere in the dark reaches of our being we had an idea that we liked to fish. I liked the idea of sitting on a river-bank, pole in hand, and thinking of all the things I should not have been thinking about while fishing. That's not the accepted attitude, take it from me.

The fact of the matter is that fishing is something of a science.

When fishing with Professor Owen I learned the right way and the wrong way to fish. Needless to say I fished the wrong way. Since Professor Owen has made such an enviable reputation with his prowess the idea came to me the other day that something should be done by the State of Kentucky to make it the world's most interesting mecca for the fellow with angling on his mind.

Last year Vernon was employed by the Department of Conservation of the State of Kentucky to teach fishermen visiting Kentucky Lake on the best ways, and I might add the surest way, to catch crappie. The program under which Vernon worked was a highly successful one and letters to the Commissioner of Conservation have flowed in to Frankfort commending the State for the service.

Then why not go a step further? Why not do it in a bigger and better way? Why not cultivate a love for fishing in every man, woman and child in America and have so many avid fishermen in this area that the banks of Kentucky Lake would look like Coney Island on the fourth of July.

The State of Kentucky, through its park system could do worlds of good, in a tremendously unique and profitable way if Vernon's art of fishing were made into thirty-minute TV program and televised to every nook and corner of America. The same methods could be used on radio and even in newspapers or any other popular communications media of today.

Land Values

Land Values increases 2 percent in the United States during the year ending in November. Weather, crop yields and farm income in different parts of the country is largely responsible for the price change as I see it.

In some areas farmers had a more favorable growing season, land values were strengthened considerably. In other areas, such as we around here are acquainted, suffered a drought and low farm income. A dull market was experienced for farm land where this condition was prevalent. We actually had about 1 percent decrease in this general area, whereas the United States as a whole had a 12 percent increase.

Jersey Sale Successful

The Purchase Parish Jersey Cattle Club held their annual consignment sale April 4. Now I heard a lot of talk about this sale and the way cattle sold. I will give you the full story. The sale averaged $120.00. This is not a very fancy figure for high quality dairy cattle, but you take in consideration the farmer has been hit hard the last three years and is just now starting to get back on his feet. There were three registered herds started as a result of this sale. The farmers could buy at their price and did. I do not recall a sale, in years past where the farmer got a better bargain in cattle. The breeders who had cattle in the sale realize that this was a very successful sale in that they actually promoted Jerseys with farmers rather than swap cattle with fellow breeders at high prices. Folks my hat is plumb off to the Jersey boys.

F. F. A. District Day
Last Thursday I had the pleasure of assisting in judging the District FFA day in Murray. Now I want to tell you that these boys are really on the ball. They had speaking contests, chapter meetings, singing and about everything that you can think of, these FFA boys competed in for top honors. The teachers of agriculture deserve a lot of credit for making these boys better farmers and better Americans. A man behind the scene is also doing a wonderful job and in this case he is Mr. Bobby Grogan, District Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture. When you see the participation in activities such as they had in Murray last week you will understand why America is and will remain a free country.

Chandler Forces Crying Double Cross of Barkley When It Was That Happy-man Who Wanted To Bolt

Now that Waterfield has announced for Lieutenant-Governor and Happy has happily beamed his acceptance, advocates of the pair who are in the publishing field are getting effervescent as can be. Such a thing can go too far, such as one statement we read reprinted last week in the Clinton Gazette from the Carlisle County News and we quote:

"Since the National Democratic convention, at which time our own honored Senator (then Vice-President) Barkley was 'side-tracked' by some of the Kentucky Delegation (including Wetherby and others)"

We condemn the above a downright, barefaced lie, and regret to see that such a statement ever got into print. As a matter of fact the statement has been unashamedly twisted by Chandler forces, when the actual truth is that it should have referred to Chandler himself, in its entirety.

Having been a delegate to the National convention and having taken a fighting part on behalf of loyal supporters of the Kentucky Delegation, let us dare anyone to refute the truth of this action;

"Happy Chandler attempted to split the solidarity of the Kentucky delegation vote, voting as a unit, by seeking to sway it from its avowed unswerving pledge to Barkley and have it vote for Senator Russell."

Lawrence Wetherby was spokesman for the Kentucky delegation, backed wholeheartedly by Earle Clements and other state leaders. Lawrence Wetherby and most of the rest of the delegation refused to back-slide with such a back-sliding as Chandler; the delegation shunned Chandler's rump move to bolt the group to Russell. Alben Barkley was defeated for the Democratic nomination for President, but Lawrence Wetherby and his unit went down with flags waving . . . for Alben Barkley. DESPITE Happy Chandler.

It is beyond belief that anyone would have the audacity to print other than the truth in this matter. Advocates of Happy Chandler should have had enough sense to omit any reference to it, since it certainly reflects no loyalty, or praise due Happy Chandler, when one speaks of loyalties to Alben Barkley.

Yes, we voted for Barkley in that delegation, and were pleased to have helped maintain the solidarity of the State delegation unit during the critical time that Happy was seeking to tear it apart. Yes, we went all-out for Barkley, too, in his recent race against able John Sherman Cooper. When one admires an able Senator and elects to do everything possible to keep him in high public office, the course doesn't meander all over the countryside, it is straight as a die.

We call such a course loyalty to a man and to his abilities. Chandler and his ilk call it "machine politics."

There's A Big Difference In A Speed Trap And A Well Patrolled Highway; Its A Safety Matter

During the past year we have heard a lot of grumbling and cries of "speed trap" by persons who were arrested for speed violations on the Fulton-Union City and the Fulton-Martin highways.

We note that these highways are still being rigidly patrolled by police equipped with radar timing devices who positively will not tolerate driving over the posted limits.

So . . . a fellow forgets, exceeds the speed limit, is yanked in, fined and chastised. What's wrong with that? You'll get the same treatment in Memphis, or in Union City, or practically anywhere you go on well-patrolled roads. Signs aren't put up for the fun of it, and it's high time everyone using US 45-E and US 51 realizes that there are speed zones on these roads that are meant to be observed.

The other night we were driving in from Union City late, and at 45 MPH. Around us suddenly zoomed a big car, that must have been doing at least 70. After all . . . late at night, in a hurry to get where he was going . . . no cops on the road at this hour, etc.

He wasn't out of sight before around us zoomed another car this one with the little red light blinking on top of it. We passed both of them up the road shortly, and it occurred to us that the irate driver would probably yell "Speed Trap" in telling his story next day.

We do not, of course, believe that local police ought to be as hard on tourists as they are local residents, unless the tourist has deliberately thumbed his nose at the posted regulations by violations that cannot be tolerated such as speeding through a well-marked school zone or such. We certainly would resent any hook-up between a patrolling constable and a magistrate wherein the constable would round up everybody he can find no matter how small the violation, and work a nice little racket with a magistrate. Such things are known as speed traps and no self-respecting community would allow itself to permit such a racket for long.

It is significant that the Easter weekend passed without (as far as we can learn) a major accident anywhere around Fulton. Such a record is a relief from the appalling death toll that we formerly witnessed around us on holidays. Whether they liked it or not, most everyone drove carefully and within the limits, and who knows . . . perhaps the lives saved this year included your own.

Sermonette Of The Week

Sin Pampers A Part Of Yourselves

By Rev. Joseph Mantion

NO ONE WOULD be fool enough to use his fountain pen to drive a nail into the wall. He knows the nail wouldn't move and the pen would shatter into bits. Like everything else, a pen has a purpose, and it isn't to serve as a hammer.

Everything in life has its appointed purpose. If you ignore it, or defy it, you pay. Bathe a dark-room with light and you will get no picture. Hang black curtains in your hot-house and you will get no flowers. You are charging head on against the nature and purpose of the thing. Only ruin can result.

WHAT IS TRUE of things is true of man. As human beings, we must act according to our nature and our purpose. But it must be according to our whole nature and our ultimate purpose. Man is a combination. Just as water is made up of hydrogen and

by McFeaters

"That thoughtless husband of yours let his deposits fall behind your withdrawals!"

If this column has turned out to be about the most irregular item the paper carries, think nothing of it; it gets written only if I have enough time on my hands to get the thing composed by Monday morning deadline. At that hour I have to drop everything else and get to work on advertising. While I greatly enjoy writing it, it isn't among the "first things that come first" in our office.

During the past two months we have been as busy as we ever have in our lives. Our March newspapers set new records for size, as did February. To all that production add a 160-page student directory (1500 copies) for Murray State College which we also produced during February and March, plus our normal volume of printing, and you'll soon realize that there wasn't much windage left in this runner when the week end rolled around.

Even so, I have accumulated quite a little stack of notes on corners of napkins and scratch paper that I have saved for mention.

Guess by now it's too late to talk back to whoever WHH is over in the other end of the county, who wrote quite a sassy letter recently. Now listen, WHH and all the rest who feel like sitting down and writing a long letter "to the editor" to get something of your chest: We know that we're not always right by a darn sight, and we always welcome criticism on any issue, but we won't print it unless you sign your name. We wish we had more readers who WOULD speak up on a controversial issue when one arises.

Gordon Baird called this one to our attention one day when we attempted to set the name out of a font of type that we didn't have too much of: Reed, Feed, Seed required three sets of "eeds" in one short line which is extremely unusual. Full name, of course, is Reed Bros Feed and Seed Co.

Lawson Roper was kind enough to take us through the second floor of the new Masonic building recently, and it is a lovely place . . . something Fulton has never seen the likes of. I'm sure that the Lodges all will be mighty proud of their new home, and they deserve to be. The second floor boasts an auditorium and stage that you'll have to see to really appreciate.

And while I'm talking about new buildings . . . the remodeling of downtown business buildings continue on at a merry pace. City National Bank is finishing up their handsome exterior; K. U. has torn out their old front and is in the process of installing a de-luxe new front and interior as well that will include, we are told, a special "kitchen" for the benefit of local appliance dealers to show off their wares. Wade Television Service is also undergoing a facelifting that we hope more in their block will follow. The Smoke House has added a good-looking metal awning over their new front that has completely transformed the old building into a really attractive store. And there's yet more to come, with other stores, soon . . .

Housing construction is especially active in Highlands this Spring, with several homes already completed and three in the process of construction, and more on the way. We believe that overnight the Highlands will be transformed into a dandy new residential section such as Fulton has great need of. Just hope that the growth is orderly and well planned for long-lasting, future happiness. It would be a shame to spoil such a pretty potential area with commercial buildings.

The Fulton Planning and Zoning Commission, we understand, is about to tackle the knotty problem of working out non-conflicting street names with South Fulton so that the same street will be known by the same name even after it crosses the State Line as it ought to be. At the present time we have a number of streets in South Fulton, such as Church Street and College Street, that have their counterparts on the Kentucky side but not only are not continuations of themselves . . . they don't even run the same direction.

Was talking to a local letter carrier the other day who said shucks . . . that's nothing compared to the street numbering jumble we have in Fulton, that's an accumulation of 75 years of "just growing" and not keeping things orderly:

1. Carr Street is supposed to be the dividing line between East and West Fulton (all of the Fulton business district is actually in East Fulton, if you didn't know it.) yet, for example, the News office is listed at 209 Commercial and Bert's Shoe Store is listed as 209 Main Street (which is the same as Commercial Avenue extended across Lake Street). If The News is 209, Bert's is at least a block further from Carr and therefore should be in the 300 block, whatever the name of the street.

2. We have two "100" blocks on Third Street and the same on Second Street.

3. If State Line is the North-South dividing line, which it apparently is because 2nd, 3rd, 4th, etc. extend away from it, how does it happen that if the 200 block on Park Ave, for instance, starts at 2nd Street, the 300 block doesn't start at 3rd, the 400 block at 4th, etc? Green Street, between 2nd and 3rd, had no business being a dividing point, thus making the 400 block start at 3rd, the 500 block at 4th, etc.

Going out East State Line, the Tennessee side is 100 behind the numbers across the street on the Kentucky side, and when you get out very far they are 200 behind. We thus find that 401 East State Line is not across the street from 402 . . . it is across the street from 502. 402 is a whole block away.

Oh, brother, this Planning and Zoning group has a job on their hands.

Now this story may or may not be true, but we have it on the word of a couple of citizens whose memory dates back that far: Long years ago when Fulton was a smaller community no one bothered about street numbers and such things until a carrier for a Memphis daily paper, not knowing the residents very well, went about setting up house numbers for his own convenience in keeping up with his subscribers. His numbering system, with helter-skelter additions, is the one we have today in the older parts of town. It's possible.

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

(April 18, 1930)
Next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, the Chamber of Commerce will stage their annual banquet at the First Christian Church which promises to be an outstanding affair for the promotion of good will.

Tickets will be on sale by the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce this week, and it is expected that the capacity of the dining room of the church will be sold out before Saturday.

Beelerton High School's play, which is named "Always In Trouble," will be presented Saturday night, April 19, at the High School.

The cast is as follows: Misery Moon, a hoodooed Coon-Macon Shelton; Gideon Blair, a millionaire-James Bolin; Tom Risale, as slick as a whistle-Warren Bard; Hiram Tutt, an awful nut-Robert Foy; Patrick Keller, a ticket seller-Robert Polsgrove; Samantha Slade, a poor old maid-Hazel Bostick; Rosebud Reese, his charming niece-Sarah Emma Best; Paula Malick, a Bolshevick-Myrta Mai Kirby; Lulu Pearl, a ragtime girl-Mildred Cook.

The Chamber of Commerce, through its committees, has canvassed the town seeking pledges to the budget for the year, and the most of the business firms of the town are determined to have this work carried out to the very best of the ability of the men in charge. In doing this the merchants and business men believe that great good can be accomplished by keeping intact an organization ready to go after the things that are needed for the town. Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce the very best feeling will always be maintained between the business men and in keeping this feeling business conditions will naturally be stimulated to a great extent.

Those merchants who have signed up for the budget for this year are to be congratulated on their good judgment.

Diary of Doin's

—Around Fulton—

The News writes social happenings about you and your friends.

Ever try using a typewriter while driving a car? And with two active youngsters in the back seat. Or try pecking away at the typewriter in a Pullman berth, while passengers are trying to talk themselves into what they laughingly call "sleep" while travelling?

That's what we would have had to do this week had we attempted to write you, dear diary. Last Thursday afternoon we took off for Clarksdale, Miss. to enjoy a pleasant, unmolested visit with the home folks. We were getting along fine until the better half called Friday and said that it was important that we be in Louisville on Monday morning.

Well, we visited fast. Fully intended to take the kids to an Easter egg hunt Sunday afternoon and sort of glad old Jupiter Pluvius stopped that plan, for the kiddlets would never have understood the fast trip home. Drove home in a beating rain for nearly six hours, got home at seven, unpacked, packed and was on the midnight train for Louisville. Buzzed around the entire day Monday and, weary as all get-out, took the train for home at nine to get home at four-thirty a. m. Tuesday we used tooth-picks to keep the eyes open and in something of a fog tried to get organized, but didn't.

Greatest regret of the rat-run is that we didn't have a minute to go by and tell Dula and Mace McDade how happy we were that they had reached the happy milestone of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

The perfectly wonderful affair Sunday afternoon from two until six p. m. was a beautiful culmination of many weeks of planning by Miss Dula and Mary-Nelle Wright and Montez Baird. Happiest person in town Sunday afternoon we know was Mace McDade who really was a big help to his women folks in getting everything in applepie-order for the big event when nearly 300 persons registered at the lovely McDade home in the Highlands.

With Dula and Mace all these things they have shared together. And more, they have witnessed a great deal more in living than perhaps some other couples, for Mace is the kind of a fellow who lives every minute of every day and gets a mighty big boot of even the most insignificant activity and Dula and the girls have participated in the contagion of his enthusiasm.

On Sunday, when the many, many guests called to wish them happy returns of the day they undoubtedly recounted the unique and beloved position this couple has played in the growth and development of Fulton and Fulton County. Mace and Dula were married in Texas, but they have lived in Fulton nearly all of their married life.

Ruby McDade, dressed in black organza with an orchid corsage, greeted the guests and presented them to the honorees. Gold bells on the door gave a cheerful greeting as each guest entered.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. McDade, Mrs. Baird, Mrs. Wright, and Mrs. McDade's sister, Mrs. G. C. Ridgeway of St. Louis.

Dula's dress was of lead blue lace. She wore antique jewelry and a corsage of yellow carnations with gold lace. Mrs. Ridgeway's gown was of ashes of roses lace. Her corsage was of gardenias. Montez wore cream lace with rhinestone trim, and Mary-Nelle, red sheath taffeta.

The home was lovely throughout with gift bouquets of yellow and red roses. The gold leaf mirror on the mantle reflected a beautiful gold harp which held Sweetheart roses.

The guests registered with Mrs. Will McDade and Mrs. Ruby McDade Hogg. In the dining room, an antique organ was lovely with tall slender golden tapers in crystal candelabra, shedding radiance over the unique golden "money tree."

Mrs. Maurice O. Shevlin of Evanston, Ill. and Mrs. Thomas O. Bigger of Tullahoma, Tenn., nieces of Mrs. McDade, dispensed punch from a lovely cut-glass bowl. Mrs. Shevlin was attired in a smartly styled sheath dress and stole of blue shantung taffeta. Mrs. Bigger wore a lovely charcoal cotton with fitted bodice and billowing shirt. Their Fulton was overflowing with visitors home for the holidays and obviously it was impossible for us to get them all since we were not here. We did hear that Pete and Jean Trinca and the Trinca children visited in Fulton for awhile over the week end. They spent most of their visit in Hickman, however.

Caught a glimpse of Larry and Carmen Depp riding around Tuesday and we know that they're a mighty happy couple now that that long tour of foreign duty is behind Larry.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Johnson of Fulton, Route 1, will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary, with open-house from 2 to 6 p. m. on April 24. The Johnsons live in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Lewis Kimbrow.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are the parents of Mrs. Kimbrow, Malcolm Johnson, Jr., of Monroe, La., and Evelyn Johnson, who lives at home. They have two grandchildren. David Johnson of Monroe and Mrs. Jack Austin of Cayce, Ky.

MR. AND MRS. SUTTON GIVE EASTER EGG HUNT FOR ASSEMBLY OF GOD

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sutton were host and hostess to an Easter Egg Hunt for the assembly of God Church of Cayce at their home. They hid 23 dozen eggs.

Those present were: Marvin Christine, James and Thomas Forrester, Linda Forrester, Carolyn and Buddy Nichols, Marcelle, Bonnie and Linda McNeely, Ruben and Mae Ring, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Dicus, Mae, Harold, Gary, Tommy and Lonnie Dicus, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Matnis, Kenneth, Flossie, Estelle, Laura Sue and Jean Mathis, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Baker, Jimmy, Dennis and Mike Baker, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Baker, Tommy, Stella, Kathy and Ray Baker, Marvin, Irene Diana and Jane Mad-ding, Bobby Joe Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sutton, Danny and Glenda, Johnny, Mattie, Robert, Betty, Guz, Stephen, Farria and David Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Fulcher and Mrs. Molly Fulcher, Nancy, Jean, and Julian Lee Fulcher.

* Vernon Owen
Vernon has some sure-fire ideas about the art of fishing. He believes and has it proven it conclusively that:
1. Teach a man to fish properly and as a result he will become an expert fisherman. Any human being likes a sport if he knows that he can master it. Look at the golfer, the tennis player, the baseball player, they all are sports that people love and cherish because by TV, radio and the newspapers they have been "taught" to love it.
2. Frankly, it's a natural instinct for a man to learn to fish and love it. From the early days of the primitive man fishing was a means of keeping body and soul together, why not foster it today as a means of keeping a peace of mind?

Kentucky has made great strides in its program to attract tourists to Kentucky. It has similarly made great strides in luring fishermen to the many bodies of water that abound in Kentucky. To take the program further, to teach fishing the Owen way—via TV would naturally bring those fishermen to Kentucky and that would be the ultimate in tourist success.

Last year when the State employed Vernon, with his uncanny skill he located the fishing spots, studied the lake for the best fishing spots, and what is more took fishermen to those spots at no extra charge.

In addition to locating where the fish were biting, and showing anglers exactly where to fish, Owens' job consisted of seeing that anglers fished with the proper fishing gear. If an angler is not properly equipped for fishing Owens sees that they have the proper lines, properly rigged, before he took them to a fishing spot.

Here is how it worked. If you went to one of the boat docks on the Kentucky end of Tennessee-Kentucky Lake and informed the dock operator you would like a little advice on where the fish are biting, he called in Owens or one of his assistants. After an inspection of your fishing gear, Owens got in his own boat, and the angler followed in his boat, to where Owens says the fish are biting. His service did not end there. He hung around to see that you caught fish, perhaps offered a few suggestions on depth and fishing technique.

If you are a novice at fishing, then you could attend fishing classes which Owens conducted three days a week (all free) at various docks on the lake. His class room was not the lake, but a flat piece of ground on which are brush piles, logs and stumps. He demonstrated how to get a baited hook down in a brush pile, and how to get unhooked, if you snagged your hook. After you have attended one of his fish classes he took you out on the lakes and shows you how to haul in the fish.

Sounds fine, but there is one catch attached to Owens' services that do not appeal to certain anglers, those who prefer casting, fly or spin fishing, to cane-pole live bait fishing. Owens can handle a glass rod with the best of anglers, but his job was to see that visiting fishermen catch fish, so he advocates the cane pole, tightline fishing, with minnow bait. Why?

"The commercial fishermen, who make a living hand-fishing on Reelfoot and Kentucky Lake, use only a cane pole and live bait for they would starve to death trying to catch fish for the market with a casting rod, fly or spin gear," says Owens. Owens recommends, in fact insists, that anglers who go out fishing under his instructions use a cane pole equipped with a tightline rig the same as used by commercial fishermen.

"If the fishermen would stick to a cane-pole, live bait, and learn how to use it, they would come in with fish any day they go fishing," Owens said. "The casting rod, fly and spin gear is fine if you want play out of your fish, but if you want fish on a stringer, use a cane pole." Who would deny that Owens' fishing advice wouldn't make a bang-up TV program? Not I.

TAX DEADLINE IS THIS WEEK

This is the last week for filing state income tax returns in order to meet the April 15 deadline. Department of Revenue officials reminded today.

Commissioner Robert H. Allphin urged all who have not yet filed to do so immediately and avoid the penalty for late filing. He emphasized that the new pay-as-you-go income tax law does not relieve taxpayers from the filing requirement.

Single persons who received $1,500 gross or $1,000 net income must file a return. Married persons whose combined gross income was $2,500, or whose combined net income was $2,000, must also file.

Friday, April 15, is also the last day on which taxpayers may make a declaration of their estimated income for 1955. Such a

No other low-priced car even comes close to matching these important Chevrolet advantages...

If you're planning to buy a new car, the one you just can't afford to miss seeing is Chevrolet—for 19 straight years America's best-selling car. The Motorama Chevrolet offers you so much more than the other low-priced cars that it's hardly fair to compare them. And even the high-priced cars don't have all the advantages that today's Chevrolet offers you.

The beauty's built in—not bolted on! Chevrolet's beauty is inherent in the basic contours of metal and glass. There's no excessive bolted-on ornamentation to go out of style overnight.

The Body's by Fisher! You see Body by Fisher on lots of the high-priced cars—and only Chevrolet has it in the low-price field!

Today's most modern engines! That goes for Chevrolet's new V8 and two new sixes as well. All bring you a modern 12-volt electrical system—double the voltage of other low-priced cars. Then Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry!

A drive to suit your driving! There's silky, peppery Powerglide (even better this year!), new Overdrive (both extra-cost options), and a new Synchro-Mesh transmission that's as smooth as they come.

All the power helpers you want! Windows, seat, steering, brakes—all are available with built-in "muscles" to make driving as effortless as you wish. They're optional at extra-cost—and worth it!

Come take the key! There have never been so many good reasons why you should drive a Chevrolet!

Over Ten Million Chevrolet owners—Two Million more than any other car!

PADUCAH PAPERS' TV APPLICATION GETS COLD SHOULDER

Examiner Favors Bid Of Film Firm Over Other Media

A Federal Communications Commission examiner recommended today that Columbia Amusement Company be authorized to operate a Channel 6 television station at Paducah, Ky.

The examiner, William G. Butts, proposed denial of a competing application by Paducah Newspapers, Inc., for the station.

Columbia, the examiner reported, owns all the movie theaters in Paducah. Paducah Newspapers publishes The Paducah Sun-Democrat, whose vice-president, E. J. Paxton, Jr., is also president of Paducah radio stations and KKYB-FM.

The newspaper company also owns 25 per cent of radio station WFRX at West Frankfort, Ill., 50 miles away.

The examiner said his choice of Columbia was based upon that company's proposed educational programs, and an effort to promote diversification of ownership of the media of mass communications.

"Paducah Newspapers," he said, "with its newspaper ownership and radio affiliations, through common stockholders, or through stock ownership, occupies a more dominant position in respect to the control of such media in the area than does Columbia. A grant to Columbia would tend to equalize this condition; a grant to Paducah Newspapers would aggravate it."

Butts said these considerations outweighed in his mind the preferences due to the newspaper company in relation to integration of ownership and management "and the number of principals having local residences and records of civic activities."

Commission rules permit a 40-day protest period after the filing of an examiner's report. In the absence of objection, the examiner's findings would become a commission action.

Last year, 24,000 Americans died of lung cancer, about seven times as many as in 1933. Early detection with chest x-ray twice a year can cut that toll. Support this effort by contributing to the American Cancer Society.
