I think its high time I quit taking the campaign so seriously. As a matter of fact as I look back on the whole hectic, saw-saw business I feel in the mood to write something called "My Ulcer and Me." Together (the ulcer and Me) we can see the light of Sunday morning and cure little or nothing that Millie Gray doesn't bring the Courier-Journal by at least 4:15 a. m. We (the ulcer makes the plural) will have just gone to bed... we're intending to hear the last broadcast of the return before the announcers, election tellers and the candidates shoot themselves.

Whotta a way to treat an ulcer, my inner-most friend said to me, one day. "Milk I'm supposed to have... ice cream soft foods... and you, you politicking fugitive from a sanitarium, you forget to eat anything at all," said the lil friend that's growing bigger every day.

"It's for the good of Kentucky," I whispered down my collar. "You just go to Kenlake Hotel and get a meal with my gold card." I added.

Ah, politics! A pastime of which even the squirrels take a dim view... and they just love nuts. Its so hazardous that sitting on the top ledge of the Empire State building seems a mighty safe bet. Dale Carnegie never uses the word in this book... its the one sure-fire way to alienate friends and gather in enemies by the bushels. Its the greatest inducement to insomnia since benzedrine, and surely the tested recipe for chicanery.

Its no way to keep a steady job and if you keep it its the best way in the world to get a one-track mind. Here of late when the kids ask for a bowl of jello I instinctly say... which side of the refrigerator is the jello on.

If the jello is on the right side of the refrigerator they get all they want... If its on the wrong side they get all they want, too, they might just change their mind some day... about the jello I keep trying to convince myself its just that way, that's all.

Politics is as capricious as Mother Nature. It blows hot and it blows cold. It blows victory and it blows defeat. It blows friends, it blows enemies sometimes all in the short span of a day. The day I wrote this column is typical. An early morning call "fore breakfast says we're in like Flynn. At breakfast time were preparing for the inauguration of our favorite candidates. At noon time were taking a plan, for Africa 'cause doom came in the door. At three o'clock there's a recount and by five o'clock its a draw.

That's why the ulcer said one day "calm down gal." By the time you read this it will be two days before the voting starts. The time that has elapsed from the writing of this and its distribution we will have won and lost at least thirty nine times.

Following the game of politics takes mathematical wizardry. Claims fly as wild as the cures of the old side-show medicine doctor. If you talk to a fellow on the Chandler-side, he says its Chandler two-to-one. Walk down the street to the fellow who knows all about Combs and he says its Combs two-to-one. Confusin' ain't it.

One thing is for sure... real gone for sure. Come sometimes Monday afternoon, when it is believed that the votes will be all in, there'll be a winner in every one of the races now contested. There will be losers in the same races; there will be happy people and sad people and there will be rejoicing and there will be tears. But with us the situation will be as it was when it started six months ago... the two of us... the ulcer and I... will be here trying to figure out the victory.

But leave me say one thing before Saturday. We fought this here now race because we believed in a man called Bert Combs. We are glad that others fought the game because they believed in a man called Happy Chandler. Don't be looking for us to leave Fulton win or lose. We're gonna be around here a long time, the ulcer and me, fighting for things we believe in.

A. G. Baldridge is all smiles and he has a right to be. This week the popular Fulton merchant is celebrating his 45th anniversary as a Lake Street business firm. With him at left is his son-in-law Clyde Williams, Jr. who is general manager of the store. Baldridge's is one of Fulton's landmarks, having been organized on August 2, 1910. The first location of the store was where the Leader Store is now. Mr. Baldridge has had to move the store several times during the 45 years, and recalls that one time he had to buy out a stock of groceries in order to secure a Lake Street location for his business.

SOUTH FULTON CITIZENS EXPRESS VIEWS ON FOOTBALL

"Other Side" Of Story Is Printed; Facts Are Given

(Last week the News reported in a news story that a controversy existed among citizens in South Fulton regarding the future of football in the school this year. A communication was received by the News setting forth certain alleged conditions that prevailed at the school.

(The News Publisher and the News editor discussed the news story with Mac Burrow, principal of the school, and invited Mr. Burrow in fairness to him to reply to the charges made against him by the signers of the letter sent to us, part of which letter we quoted verbatim.

(At press time Wednesday no communication had been received from Mr. Burrow, although other citizens had written the News, whose letters we print herewith. The News does not print letters received without signatures.

(A letter came in the mail and attempts to locate writer have met with no success. If the writer of the letter will identify himself or herself we will gladly print the letter next week as well as any other letters we receive regarding the situation in South Fulton. The policy not to print letters without signatures is shared by all newspapers in order to protect the interest of the paper and the interest of the reader.)

The letters:—

In last week's News, the article regarding football in the South Fulton school stated that "South Fulton P. T. A. members wanted it included in the school activities."

Naturally, in an organization of over 600 members, many opinions are prevalent, however, this one must be individual desires, for this question was not mentioned in any of our meetings and could not be the wish of the group.

We, the elected officers of the South Fulton P. T. A., want the public to know we are organized to cooperate, not dictate. We think our school is one of the best, that we have a most efficient faculty, and that our administrators are "big enough" for the positions they now occupy. We believe they are qualified.

FULTON NEWS-WFUL TO GIVE ELECTION RETURNS SATURDAY

Up-To-The-Minute Counting Will Be Sent To Fulton

As soon as the polls close Fulton voters will want to know how the election counting is doing. The Fulton County News and Radio Station WFUL will try to accommodate you as in the past to give you the election returns as soon as they are received.

Make arrangements to come to the News office on Commercial Avenue and enjoy the evening and hear the returns as they are repeated by the election tellers.

A public address system will be installed at the office and the front windows will have the candidates, the precincts and the returns posted there. Periodic returns will also be broadcast giving returns on the State situation as it is learned.

Dr. Connaughton To Attend Veterinary Meet In Minneapolis, Aug. 8

Dr. H. W. Connaughton announced today that he will close his office on August 8 to attend a meeting of the American Veterinary Medical Association in Minneapolis. He advises that his office will be closed until August 13.

Elsewhere in this issue of the News Dr. Connaughton gives a list of veterinarians to contact in the event you are in need of such services while he is away.

4000 Voters Expected Saturday Ending Bitter Battle For Victory

BERT COMBS

HAPPY CHANDLER

Huge Crowd Hears Combs Speak Here

Before one of the largest political gatherings ever assembled in Fulton, Judge Bert T. Combs told an enthusiastic audience Wednesday night that he would be the last person in the world to add unnecessary taxes on any citizen of Kentucky. He hit hard at the charges made against him that he has advocated taxes that would be a hardship on the working man.

Judge Combs, coming to Fulton from Fancy Farm where he addressed the tremendous annual picnic in that community arrived in Fulton earlier and did some hand-shaking and visiting with the voters here. The former Court of Appeals Judge spoke at the Fulton ball park at a barbecue dinner and ball game sponsored by the local Combs organization.

Judge Combs told his audience: "In the first place, I want to talk about the taxation bugaboo that has sprung up in the campaign. I want you to know that after I'm elected governor... I want to make it very clear that I would never under any circumstance, advocate any tax upon the basic necessities of life, such as food and rent of the working man."

Henry Ward To Make First District Final Tour

Alben W. Barkley and Senator Earle C. Clements will take to the air waves and the TV screen this week in the interest of the candidacy of Bert T. Combs. Senator Clements will be on WHAS-TV and WAVE-TV in Louisville Wednesday, and Mr. Barkley on Thursday night. Exact time of the broadcast will be at 6:30 p. m. CST.

On Friday night Mr. Barkley will speak from Paducah Court-house on a state-wide hook-up from 8:00 to 8:30 CST.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Crittendon of Fulton on the birth of a five pound 10 ounce son born Wednesday

A total of more than 4000 voters is expected to be cast in the primaries Saturday, when Fulton County voters go to the Polls to select nominees for Governor and other State offices. The total expected is almost double that of the number of votes cast in the last gubernatorial election in 1951 when Governor Lawrence Wetherby was elected over his nearest opponent Howell Vincent. In that election nearly 2200 votes were cast. Governor Wetherby received a landslide vote.

The enthusiasm and keen interest in this race is greater in this year's election than it has been in many years, an old-timer told the News. More absentee ballots have been requested for this election than in any election in recent years.

Adding incentive to a large voter turn-out is a county election and an election for six councilmen in the City of Hickman. Councilmen seeking office in Fulton have no opposition. In the county election incumbent Ruth Johnson is seeking to fill out the unexpired term of the late Justin Attebery. Her opponent is John B. Stayton of Cayce. Mrs. Johnson has held the post for one year and was appointed to fill the office until this year's election.

The remark: "If the election had been held six weeks ago..."

Barkley-Clements To Make Speeches For Bert T. Combs

Henry Ward, Commissioner of Conservation and a key figure in the campaign for Bert Combs against Happy Chandler will make the annual election eve tour of the First District, as was announced today. Mr. Ward will make a swing of the district speaking ten minutes at each stop.

His schedule nearest Fulton is as follows:

Bardwell, 9:55 a. m.; Arlington, 10:20 a. m.; Clinton, 10:50 a. m.; Cayce, 11:15 a. m.; Hickman, 11:45 a. m.; lunch at Fulton and speaking at 12:45 p. m.; Water Valley, 2:05 p. m.; Wingo, 2:30 p. m.; and Mayfield, 3:30 p. m.

A band will precede Mr. Ward's speaking.

Two Water Valley Boys Injured In Car Crash

Carl Linder and Ward Fields were injured in a car accident, July 30, as they were returning to their home in Water Valley. They were returning from Chicago where they had been working.

It was reported that they had a head-on collision with a gas truck. Both boys are reported in a critical condition at the Harrisburg, Ill. Hospital. It is hoped that Linder may be moved to a local hospital one day this week.

The parents of both boys live in Water Valley.

VOTE ON SATURDAY

Ben Adams Is 'At Home' In Fulton County

Ben S. Adams, a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor on the Democratic ticket was very much at home Tuesday night when he ate a delicious barbecue dinner with many of his farmer friends here. In the left photo Mr. Adams holds a plate of the tempting food while a few of his nearly 100 supporters at the dinner look on. They are left to right: Harvey Pewitt, Eatone Browder, Avery Hancock, Mr. Adams and Irby Hammond.

TRACTOR ACCIDENT FATAL TO FARMER OF CRUTCHFIELD

News reached Fulton late Wednesday afternoon of the tragic death of J. A. Taylor, Sr. of Crutchfield on his son's farm near Cayce. While complete details of the tragedy could not be learned it is believed that his death occurred in this manner:

Mr. Taylor was driving a tractor with a hay-baler attached. It appeared that he attempted to cross a creek and having done so the tractor failed to make the bank, reared backwards and fell on Mr. Taylor, pinning him between the tractor and the hay-baler.

His family went out into the field to look for him when he failed to come into the house for lunch and upon searching the field found his body. It is believed that he had been dead only a short while when his body was found.

Funeral arrangements and other details could not be learned at press time Wednesday.

Signs Point To Collapse Of Happy's Labor Support; More Railroad Unions Join Combs

There were signs the past week that A. B. Chandler's campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination is rapidly collapsing around his ears.

This is especially true in connection with the labor vote—a vote which Chandler has counted on so strongly. Endorsement by the Kentucky Federation of Labor, even before the campaign started, gave him a head-start.

When Chandler spoke here and at Fulton he proclaimed that he had the support and endorsement of every railroad union in the state. But only last week, in a paid advertisement in The Sun-Democrat, six Paducah railroad unions announced their endorsement of Chandler's opponent, Judge Bert Combs.

"An objective view of the records of the two candidates, coupled with a discussion of the issues in this campaign with our leaders in Kentucky convinces us that Judge Combs deserves the support of organized labor," said the advertisement. It was signed by the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees, American Train Dispatchers Association, Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen and Railway Masters of America.

This was by no means the only setback Chandler's campaign received during the week.

Business agents of two Louisville unions affiliated with the AFL Brotherhood of Teamsters have endorsed Chandler. But last week Dave Beck, general president of the union, sent letters to 9,000 Kentucky members saying he is convinced their best interests will be "most effectively served" by the election of Judge Combs.

Beck told teamster union members that Chandler "consistently and thoroughly" opposed labor while he was a United States senator.

Chandler journeyed into the coal fields of Eastern Kentucky last week, urging coal miners to ignore John L. Lewis' endorsement of Judge Combs. Those who are acquainted with the habits of coal miners know how futile such a plea can be. If ever there was a union membership that carried out the advice of its president, it is the United Mine Workers.

There have been other straws in the wind, indicating that Chandler's claim of labor support is collapsing. Some of them perhaps denote a swing in sentiment as the campaign has progressed; others may have been for Combs all along and were just biding their time before announcing it.

Be that as it may, reports coming from the Chandler tour last week indicated he has lost some of his confidence and at times appeared to be somewhat crestfallen.

Perhaps he had reason to be.

Eisenhower Rids Cabinet Of Influence Peddler; Another Fellow, Shrugs Charge, But Seeks Office

The resignation of Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott has a special meaning for Kentuckians. With obvious relief, President Eisenhower accepted the resignation after it was disclosed that Mr. Talbott had accepted money, while holding public office, from a private firm with which he had a contract. Here in Kentucky Happy Chandler, who also accepted money under contract with a private firm while holding public office, is asking people to elect him governor.

It should matter greatly to Kentuckians that Mr. Chandler cannot justify, and has never attempted to explain, the unusual contract under which, as a United States senator, he took money from the United Wholesale Liquor Company of Lexington. He says that the money he took was in the form of "attorney fees," as though that would excuse his representing a liquor firm while in the Senate, and at a time when allocation of alcohol and control of whiskey black-marketing were federal concerns. But his contract with the liquor company was not a lawyer's contract. He did not receive a regular fee. He received (for what services he will not explain) a percentage of the gross of the company. Why? He will not say.

In a shabby attempt to explain away his untidy connection with the liquor firm, Chandler made public his income-tax returns for those years during which he was Baseball Commissioner. He very carefully did not disclose his income for the years in which he held public office. He did not offer a break-down on his income tax to show how much money he took from the liquor people while he was in public office. And he flatly refuses to say what he did to earn the percentage of the liquor firm's income.

This is not the only case in which Happy Chandler has taken things from firms interested in government ment office. It was shortly after he regulations while he was in government to the Senate that a contractor who received a government contract to build the Charlestown ordinance plant, built Happy a swimming pool. Why? For what services? Are we to assume that war contractors are just great-hearted by nature, tossing swimming pools around on a whim? Chandler has never explained even as he has never explained why the Lexington liquor people were willing to give him a percentage of their profits.

Can any Kentuckian support such conduct? Are we, in Kentucky, willing to accept a standard of morality lower than that in Washington?

Frank Stubblefield Deserves Your Vote And Influence As Railroad Commissioner

There's many a hot race in this election besides that one for Governor, make no mistake about it. The candidates running for the so-called "minor offices" are making just as vigorous a campaign as are the gubernatorial candidates.

To the people running for the other offices the campaign is just as hard fought as can be and just as much is at stake for them as is for those in the top spots. However may we just take this opportunity to suggest to you that you consider the campaign of our neighbor Frank Stubblefield for Railroad Commissioner.

Mr. Stubblefield is from Murray THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS Post Office Box 485 Fulton, Kentucky and one of the finest men we ever knew. He has fought hard for us in the affairs of his department and he is seeking re-election. Mr. Stubblefield is a man with a greater political future in front of him, because he is the type of gentlemen people trust and respect and are willing to turn their affairs of government over to him.

If it is within your wishes to do so, and you are interested in the efficient affairs of railroadng vote Frank Albert Stubblefield for Railroad Commissioner.

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

Aug. 22, 1930

Leland T. Bugg, Commander of Marshall Alexander Post, No. 72, American Legion, Fulton, Kentucky, reports completion of arrangements for the part this post will take in the formal opening of the annual State Convention to be held in Mayfield Aug. 25, 26 and 27 and requests all members of the Post to register as the success of the convention depends to a considerable extent on the number of members registering. This is the first time that the State Legion Convention has ever come to Western Kentucky. The public is invited to witness the Grand Parade and the Drum and Bugle corps competitive drills which will take place Monday afternoon at four o'clock. The Drum and Bugle Corps from the Fulton Post, under the direction of Drum Major "Pete" Roberts, will take part in the competitive drills in an attempt to win one of the cash prizes. There will be eight drum and bugle corps and two brass bands competing for the three cash prizes and none of them will be dressed any flashier than the Fulton boys, with their blue uniforms, black Sam Browne belts and polished steel helmets.

The Reeds-Watson building 446 Lake street, occupied by R. S. Williams, editor and owner of the Fulton Advertiser, is being beautifully remodeled inside and out and when the work is completed will be a handsome addition to the business houses on the street. The lower front will be of black enamel brick, white mortar, and plate glass, while the upper will be of mat brick. The interior will be refinished throughout, including raised concrete floor. Contractor Frank Merryman will be in charge of the work.

During the construction work the printing plant will be operated as usual and the same quick service given patrons on all classes of printing.

Fair association officials in a called meeting here decided to call off the 1930 Weakley County fair because of the drought. Neither agricultural nor live stock exhibits could be made

A Message From George Brand, To The Democratic Voters:

The election day is near; I have waged a hard fight and victory is in sight. I've tried to see everybody and carry my message every where. The gamblers of Mayfield with lots of money without principle have gambled wrong and they are desperate . . . They've heard a voice . . . voices of defeat. You can expect anything from now until election day; they will have my opponent screaming like a wild Indian (by air, by newspapers and maybe air mail.) trying to fool you the last few days, like he thinks he's fooled you the past eight years.

Hold the line for me . . . I'll hold the line for you and you'll have a SENATOR they cannot bribe, pressure nor scare, as I fear only my God.

I want to serve you in the SENATE.

RUSH CREEK HOMEMAKERS ENJOY LOVELY TEA ON INTERNATIONAL DAY

If you have never been to Hawaii, it is impossible to imagine the beauty of the people and the country, the wonderful climate and the customs of the country. Mrs. D. J. Craddock of Clinon told the members of the Rush Creek Homemakers Club and their guests at an International Day Tea, which was held at Rush Creek Methodist Church, Tuesday July 26th.

Mrs. Craddock in native dress and shoes gave a most interesting talk about the famous islands of Hawaii, emphasizing the cleanliness of the people, their beauty and culture, their fine churches and schools and their native customs. She exhibited several beautiful native costumes worn by the Hawaiian women, usually at native feasts, and three of her husband's extremely colorful shirts, which she said were about the least extreme to be found.

Shell jewelry, pictures, wooden salad dishes and shoes were other items of interest shown by Mrs. Craddock.

A life of ease and relaxation with lots of swimming, music and hula dancing, keeps the people of the islands friendly and happy. Pineapple, and sugar rate as the main industries, after the tourist trade.

Mrs. Craddock ended her talk with a most impressive rendition of the hula, then asked everyone to follow her instruction to "grind the coffee" for a free lesson in hula dancing.

Mrs. Harry Sublette Jr., club president, presented Mrs. Craddock with a lovely hand painted cup and saucer in appreciation for her visit.

Punch, salted nuts and home made cookies were served from a tea table decorated with a lovely arrangement of snap dragons and sweet peas in a crystal bowl. White candles also lent a festive air. Mrs. Clint Workman presided at the punch bowl.

Guests of the club for the tea were Mrs. P. T. Griffith and Mrs. Sowell who accompanied Mrs. Craddock. Mrs. Maurice Bondurant, Mrs. I. R. Williamson, Mrs. Bertha McLeod, Mrs. Zoma Moss, Miss Myra Searce, Mrs. Alvin Mabry, Mrs. Paul Davis and Mrs. Crawford Kennedy.

REVIVAL AT LIBERTY BAPTIST CHURCH

Revival at Liberty Baptist Church to begin August 10-21. Services daily at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. prayer meeting, 7:45 song service.

The Evangelist will be Brother H. M. Robertson of West Hickman Baptist Church and the pastor L. G. Scott the song leader. The public is urged to attend.

DEATHS

TOM FLOYD

Services for Tom Floyd of Water Valley, who died at Jones Hospital Saturday July 30, after a long illness, were held at the Bayou de Chein Cumberland Presbyterian Church, at 2 p. m. Sunday. The Rev. L. E. Moore officiated, assisted by the Rev. Bill Boyd. Burial, under direction of Jackson Brothers Funeral Home of Duketown, was in Pinson Cemetery. He was 73.

Mr. Floyd was a retired farmer and had lived in the Water Valley community most of his life. He was the son of the late Richard and Martha Lawrence Floyd.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Sallie Owen Floyd, and a nephew, Bodie Floyd of Pilot Oak.

MRS. MABEL NICKS

Funeral services were held Wednesday, July 27 at Liberty Baptist Church, near Fulton for Mrs. Mabel C. Nicks, widow of the late Clarence Nicks of Dickson, Tenn. The Rev. Scott, pastor of the church, officiated. Donnelly and Combs Funeral Service of Nashville was in charge of arrangements. Burial was in the Ebenezer cemetery.

Mrs. Nicks who was well-known in the Hickman area had been in failing health the past several years. At the time of her death she was a patient at Vanderbilt hospital in Nashville.

The deceased was born 60 years ago in this county to Martin P. and Selene Connelly Chambers. As a young woman she was married to Walter Oliver, who passed away in 1919. Later she was married to Mr. Nicks who also preceded her in death. She was a member of Liberty Baptist Church.

Survivors include three brothers, Hugh Chambers of this city, Martin L. Chambers of Warrenton, Mo., and Robert W. Chambers of Akron, Ohio; four nephews; and six nieces.

* Big Vote Predicted

as Lieutenant-Governor. He received an overwhelming vote in this county. Doc Beauchamp is one of the key figures supporting Judge Combs as are Governor Wetherby, Senator Clements, Folmer, Vice-president Alben Barkley and three Congressmen. One other Congressman, has said that he would vote for Judge Combs, but would not campaign actively.

The only Congressman to actively engage in the campaign is Noble Gregory of Mayfield and Congressman from the First District. Mr. Gregory is supporting Happy Chandler and is credited with the influence that took Willie Foster, Mayfield clothing manufacturer, out of the Wetherby palace Guard. Mr. Foster is supporting Chandler and has "pledged" the votes of his employees at Merit Clothing Company for Chandler, while he joins Chandler in hurling the "dictatorship" charge at Clements.

The entry of Mr. Gregory in this Governor's race casts shadows of confusion over the Congressman's race next year. Political pundits have reported that if Chandler is elected Gregory may seek the office now held by Senator Clements, who comes up for re-election next year.

Fallout of Mr. Chandler to get elected poses another problem for Mr. Gregory, should he seek re-election to Congress. Already the names of prominent West Kentuckians are being mentioned as possible opponents for Mr. Gregory if he runs again for Congress. It is generally known that many of Mr. Gregory's close friends in the District and especially in Mayfield have bitterly resented his participation in the Governor's race. Particularly significant is the fact that in supporting Mr. Chandler Gregory finds himself in an opposite camp from Senator Barkley, who is supporting Combs and who is reported some irritated at Gregory. Harry Lee Waterfield and Willie Foster for joining Chandler, who many times has sought to destroy the distinguished career of this West Kentuckian.

In Hickman ten persons have announced their candidacies to fill the six positions on the ticket. This local interest should bring out a larger vote, than normally cast in an election for State offices. In 1951 there were no county offices to be filled.

In the Circuit Court Clerk's race both candidates have conducted an unusually dignified race. Mrs. Johnson, kept busy at this time of the year going to the various precincts selling drivers' licences has also attempted to see each of the voters personally. Her opponent, Mr. Stayton, has also attempted to see each of the voters. The race is an interesting one and much interest is evinced in the candidates.

Saturday the votes will be counted. In so doing the political futures of many persons will be counted in or out and make no mistake about it, the counting will be to the final number.

INELIGIBLE

Answering the summons to jury service, Finnis C. Morris, of Capron, Okla., drove 130 miles to Wichita, only to be declared ineligible for Kansas jury duty. Morris, a former Kansas resident, had moved to Oklahoma two years ago. He was paid 7 cents a mile for his trouble.

I Will Appreciate Your VOTE

I am sorry if I have been unable to call on each voter in Hickman and Fulton Counties. I want to take this means, through this paper, to enlist your vote and support for Representative, Democratic Primary, August 6th.

Say I Saw It In the News

NEW LOOK?

Lyndon B. Johnson, (S. Tex.) Senate Majority Leader, recently suggested that President Eisenhower should take a new look at the defense program of the nation to make certain that the United States was not lagging behind Soviet Russia in any aspect. He said he was "disturbed" by the current picture and described recent Soviet peace moves as a "smoke screen."

Say I Saw It In the News

Newspaper Cites 13 Wrong Statements Made By Happy

The Courier-Journal, Louisville, in an editorial last week listed 13 statements made by A. B. Chandler, candidate for governor, which, the newspaper said, shows a "striking contrast" with the truth.

A partial list of Chandler statements the newspaper used and its answer to them in condensed form:

1. "I was the first governor to bring about old-age pensions and I didn't put any liens on their homes to bring it about."

Fact: Chandler didn't give anybody a pension. His administration merely took advantage of the federal Social Security Act of 1935. The state law of that time specifically required liens and Chandler opposed an attempt to repeal the lien law in 1938.

2. "Why I was the one who provided free textbooks in the first place, and I provided the first money for them."

Fact: The first money for free textbooks was voted under Governor Ruby Laffoon in 1934.

3. "I originated the State Park system."

Fact: The first Parks Commission was established in 1924 under Governor William J. Fields.

4. "I promised to pay off the state debt and I paid it."

Fact: Chandler's administration was given a windfall of $14,000,000 in whiskey taxes by the Laffoon Administration and paid off $13,907,562.21 of the debt. Governor Keen Johnson finished paying it off.

5. "When I get back to Frankfort, I'll guarantee you that the state won't come in here making any more blanket assessments."

Fact: Chandler made the same promise in 1935 but made blanket raises throughout his administration.

6. "When I came into office the state per capita school appropriation was $9 and I raised it to $12."

Fact: When Chandler took office the per capita was $10.95. In four years it was increased to $12.19. Under Governor Wetherby it is $38.40.

7. "I was the first to bring aid to the needy children."

Fact: Aid to dependent children was started under the Johnson administration.

8. "That stadium (at the new state fairgrounds) is going to cost you $25,000,000."

Fact: Contracts for the stadium total $1,765,218 plus cost of electrical work.

9. The Wetherby Administration spent $800,000 to air condition the capitol and $20,000 for a rug for the Governor's office."

Fact: The entire mechanical contract for the reconstruction of the capitol, including wiring, plumbing, heating, air-conditioning and other construction cost a little more than $800,000. The rug in the office of the governor and adjacent offices cost $2,720.

10. "Look at me! I'm the only governor you ever saw that cut taxes."

Fact: Chandler got repeal of the general sales tax but immediately got 15 new taxes passed. The new taxes produced twice as much revenue as the sales tax.

The newspaper said its list of 13 is not "a complete list of Mr. Chandler's misstatements."

It concluded, "we believe, however, that these 13 clear-cut cases of misrepresentation constitute sufficient reason why Chandler should not be sent back to Frankfort."

TREES ACCUMULATE ALUMINUM

Researchers here have discovered that certain trees in rain-forest areas of Australia and New Guinea accumulate aluminum in the form of compounds, hard white masses in the timber and in the bark and leaves, apparently absorbing it from the soil. Trees in the dry inland areas do not contain these compounds.

W. Owen Keller ruled. The opinion was given to Marion Stone, Soft Shell, who is a candidate for a seat in the General Assembly.

MENTAL DRUG PURCHASED

The State's purchase of $25,000 worth of Thorazine was announced by Charles Bryley, Director of Purchases. The drug is used successfully in the treatment of mental patients and will be distributed to all State mental hospitals.

The largest single purchase of drugs by the State was made possible through a $200,000 grant made recently by Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby from his regular emergency fund in the Mental Health Department.

CONTRACTS AWARDED

The State Department of Highways awarded contracts totaling more than $6,300,000 and covering 250 miles of work in the following counties:

Dear Friends:

Congratulation for making the front page of the Courier-Journal. It looks as though a lot of mud-slinging and feelings are getting into the race. It seems the opinion a lot of us, including Mr. Ward, will resign instead of being fired.

I appreciate your efforts and just keep the good work going. It is not long and things look better now. I talked with Bert Combs a short while at his appearance here, seems he made a (cut in). Seems he made a very favorable impression. I am sure Mr. Ward appreciates your support. Dad talks like you have it going good down there.

Yours truly,

TEASING FATAL

Friends teased William Oliver, 17, so much about his qualifications to become a paratrooper that, as they were crossing Harlem Bridge, the boy, flushed with anger, vaulted the 4-foot railing, removed his shirt and shoes and plunged 180 feet to the river below. It took an hour to recover his body.

BOY 3, LIKES SNAKES

Receiving an urgent radio message, "Investigate a snake in a house," Policeman Adam J. Ekes found the culprit behind the screen door. It was a brown garter snake just about a foot long. Ekes put the snake in his patrol car and took it to his three-year-old son, who likes snakes as playmates.

HOW COLD CAN A MAN'S HEART GET?

When my opponent, Senator Wayne Freeman, voted to give our aged mothers and fathers the small sum of maybe $30.00 per month for existence, he also voted a mortgage on their only possession: THEIR HOME.

HOW COLD CAN A MAN'S HEART GET?

My opponent didn't vote a mortgage on his or his family's home when he arranged for himself a job on the PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION at $280.00 per month salary, expenses and mileage; a job for his wife in the DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMIC SECURITY at $260.00 per month; and a brother a job with the STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT at $290.00 per month.

There are no mortgages on his or his family's home, even though they receive $830.00 per month from the State.

LION'S CLUB-YMBC, LITTLE LEAGUERS PLAN BALL GAMES

Adults To Play
As Incentive
To Small Fry

The Lion's Club and the Young Men's Business Club members have big ideas to show the Little League ball players a thing or two about playing baseball. The burning question around town today is who will show whom.

The result will be decided at the new recreational area Thursday afternoon at three p. m. when the Little Leaguers play a game and following that game the members of the two clubs will play their game... a sort of incentive idea to get local citizens interested in the Little League. The clubs will also give the boys a big barbecue dinner following the last game... (all members of the clubs are asked to be on hand to serve the meal, since there is some doubt that the adult players will be able to assist after their athletic endeavors.)

The project is a worthwhile one and what with heat, age and infirmities the members of the two clubs are doing a wonderful thing to create interest in the Little Leaguers... indeed they may be giving their very lives.

Do be on hand Thursday afternoon to give all of them a boost.

FULTON BANK NAMES CASHIER TO FILL VACANCY

Homer Weatherspoon,
Popular Citizen
Appointed Monday

One of Fulton County's most popular farm residents has joined the staff of the Fulton Bank, Smith Atkins president announced today.

Homer Weatherspoon of the Middle Road, Fulton, has been named assistant cashier at the Fulton Bank, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James Hodges.

Mr. Weatherspoon took over his new duties last Monday.

The local man received his B. S. degree from Murray State College in 1931, and has farmed for the past several years.

Mr. Weatherspoon, 46, is married and has a son, Dan, 15, who is a junior at Cayce High School.

He is a member and superintendent of the Sunday School at Palestine Methodist Church.

Time to me this truth has taught

IC PRESIDENT TO BE GUEST HERE FOR BASEBALL SAT.

Special Section
Reserved To Seat
Railroad Folks

President Wayne Johnson and other IC officials will be in Fulton on Saturday, August 13th to attend the ILLINOIS CENTRAL NIGHT at the Fulton ball park.

A number of IC officials in the nearby area have been invited. A special section of the grandstand will be reserved for all employees of the Illinois Central and their families. There will be no admission to the grandstand charged to IC employees, the only admission will be gate admission.

President Johnson, at his request, will not make a talk to the crowd, but the whole evening at the ball game will be in his honor and to honor employees of the Illinois Central.

In order to have a big crowd to meet President Johnson and the IC official, it is hoped that all stores will close early enough to allow employees to attend the game on time.

Father Of Fred Sawyer Laid To Rest Here

Roy Sawyer died suddenly July 30 at 4:30 a. m. at the home of his son, Alvin Sawyer, in Carrollton, Ky. He was 78.

A retired railroad man, Mr. Sawyer was born in Weakley County near Ruthville, Tenn. on April 10, 1877.

His wife, Mrs. Annie Nora Reeves Sawyer, preceded him in death on Feb. 2, 1945.

He leaves two sons, Alvin Sawyer of Carrollton, and Fred Sawyer of Fulton; a daughter, Mrs. J. D. Ferguson of Memphis.

Six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

A son, Tolbert Sawyer, died on Dec. 15, 1944.

The body arrived in Fulton Sunday afternoon at 4, and was taken to the Paul Hornbeak Funeral Home.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30, at the funeral home chapel. The Rev. Oakley Woodside, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, officiated. Burial was in Greenlea Cemetery.

Senator Clements' administrative assistant in Washington, who explains the legislative functions of the Majority Whip in the Senate, who, as you know, is our Senator Clements.

The U. S. Senator's Democratic Whip: What He Does And How He Does It—

In 1953, shortly after the 83rd Congress convened, Senator Clements became the first Kentuckian in history to be elected Democratic Whip of the United States Senate.

Kentucky was and is, proud of this distinction for it means that one of her Senators had been chosen by his fellow Democratic Senators to serve them as their "copilot" on Democratic legislation, policies, plans and objectives. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas is the Democratic Leader in the Senate. As "Whip", Senator Clements acts as his assistant, his "copilot."

That word "Whip" is a misleading one, bringing as it does, a false mental picture of a stern taskmaster, charged with disciplining the party forces into certain set positions. Nothing could be further from the truth. Let me tell you a little bit about that word, "Whip."

A long time ago, in England, the fellow who led the fox-hunts popular in those days, was called the "Whipper-in of the hunt." The Parliament borrowed the expression, shortened it to "Whip" to serve as a nickname for the member charged with the duty of getting his party together on all important questions. The name stuck and in 1900 when the United States Congress adopted the whip system along the lines of the British Parliament's, the word became a part of America's political vocabulary. Senator Clements is responsible for the attendance of party members in the Senate. His primary responsibility as Whip, however, is to serve as the first and trusted assistant to the Senator Clements is in the Far East on a vitally important special mission for the Senate Appropriations Committee. Our Senator will make a personal survey of this strategic area where the peace of the world is in jeopardy. Senator Clements will study certain, specific conditions in Japan, Korea, Formosa and Indo-China in connection with the Mutual Security Program in the Western Pacific and Southeast Asia.

Senator Clements will resume his column in this newspaper upon his return with a special report on his Far Eastern mission. This week's column was prepared by Frank Dryden.

Rev. R. W. Campbell filled his regular appointment at the New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11 a. m. In the afternoon the baptismal service was conducted at Sprout's levee, where four candidates were immersed. At the same time the Old Bethel Baptist Church held the services and several were baptized by the pastors of each church.

Mr. Eugene Lassiter is doing nicely from having had a rising lance on his neck. He has remained under the care of Dr. D. L. Jones at Jones clinic in Fulton.

Mrs. Dave Mathis is recovering from a lame back, and has been under the care of Dr. Page, Cuba, Ky.

Mrs. Ed. Fields remains about the same, and is in bed a portion of the time. Mrs. Earl Mitchell and Judy of Paducah went last week with her. Another daughter Mrs. Eric Cunningham and son George Ed of Dresden is here in the Fields home.

Mrs. Ralph Doron and children Alicia and Lila Ann, are spending the summer with parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank, Bynum.

Majority Leader—or the Minority Leader—as the case may be, in the planning and execution of Democratic legislation in the U. S. Senate.

Working as a team, Senator Johnson and Senator Clements schedule the weekly and day-to-day legislative program while the Senate is in session. During important debates, where time is a vital factor, Senator Clements assists the Floor Leader in handling the list of speakers and the order in which they are heard.

In a real sense, the Whip, in order to serve his party, must keep his finger on the "pulse of the Senate," with all of his Senate colleagues to discuss pending legislation and strategy. He is the liaison between the party leader and the members concerning action to be taken on the floor.

To Senator Clements, cooperation is the keynote of progress. By consulting with the Floor Leader in arranging business, by making certain that all important Senate discussions are fully attended, by seeing that first things—legislatively speaking, "come first" and by helping to weld together a unity of purpose, the man who serves as Whip in the Senate is able to influence, to an important extent, the legislative decisions that determine the country's future.

Traditionally, the role of Whip is a significant and challenging one in the affairs of the Senate. Everyone in Washington feels that your Senator is more than meeting that challenge.

ROASTER

A roaster by any other name would still live up to its reputation as a portable electric oven. Perhaps that is what it should have been christened in the first place, because it certainly can do anything an oven can do, including baking, stewing and roasting. With the timer clock, food placed in the roaster in the morning will start cooking at any later preselected hour and will stop when done. All without any pot watching.

Faced with a church supper, school picnic, civic outing or even a gathering of the immediate clan? A roaster has what it takes to do quantity cooking. As many as 50 persons can be served from a single roaster with foods such as scrambled eggs, beans, spaghetti or chili. Stumped for a meal in which to brew lots and lots of coffee? Count on the roaster for 50 cups at a time.

Many homemakers use a roaster for water bath canning of tomatoes and fruits, and for making jams and preserves in quantity. One homemaker reports using hers for frying out lard.

It's also worth remembering that the equipment which comes with the roaster does double duty. Ovenproof dishes can be used independently for baking, serving and storing foods. The lift up racks makes a cooling rack for cakes and cookies, and the inset pan can be a large dishpan. Timer, if any, doubles as a kitchen clock.

Here is a suggestion for a roaster meal. Temperature 350° Time 1½ hours. Meat loaf, baked

"Lucky 7" Sandwich

"Lucky 7" Sandwich gets its name from a combination of cold sliced turkey and six other foods which the family will declare a "sure winner" on hot days.

This tasty open-face sandwich is a lucky discovery for the warm-weather-weary homemaker, for it is easy to put together and satisfying as the main food for either lunch or supper. To complete the meal, serve soup, iced tea or milk, and ice cream.

"Lucky 7" Sandwich
2 slices buttered bread

- 2 slices Swiss cheese
- 2 lettuce leaves
- 2 slices tomato
- 2 slices cooked turkey
- 2 slices hard-cooked egg
- 2 slices crisp bacon

Place buttered slices of bread on a luncheon plate. Top with the cheese, lettuce, tomato, turkey and egg in the order listed. Place bacon at the side. Cover with Thousand Island dressing or serve dressing separately. Makes one sandwich.

Wheat and rice acreage was cut a total of about 5 million acres and cotton acreage was down 2.7 million.

Farmers have enjoyed the most abundant pastures this season than in many years. Most everyone planned last fall and this spring for another drought year and we have had abundant rainfall, instead making a most wholesome situation for livestock farmers.

Cash receipts from farm marketings totaled 10.2 million dollars from January through May about 3% below 1954. Volume was slightly larger but prices were about 5% lower. Most of the decline has been in livestock income.

CHESTNUT GLADE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB HAS JULY MEETING

Mrs. Ada Rhodes was hostess to the July meeting of the Home Demonstration Club in her pretty shady yard. The president called the house to order and read the thought for the day.

Mrs. Johnnie Simpson led the group in an interesting recreational exercise.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" was the song used and led by Mrs. Madge Conner.

Mrs. Paul Reams gave a lovely devotion and the Lord's Prayer was given in unison as also was the club creed.

Sixteen members answered roll call and the following visitors were welcomed, Mrs. Forrest Bruner, Miss Coveta Reams, Mrs. Lucy Gibbs, Mrs. Mack Durbin, Mrs. Ruby Ross, Mrs. Lenzie Breeden, Mrs. James Nabors, Mrs. James McMinn, and Miss McGee.

During the business session the road sign committee reported about all signs had been redone, and most of them replaced, which is a great improvement.

CEDAR HILL HOMEMAKERS MEET WITH MRS. DECKER

The picnic committee reported their decision for the annual August picnic was to enjoy an afternoon home picnic with refreshments. Mrs. Johnnie Simpson offered her nice shady lawn for the place and the offer was accepted by the club.

Mrs. Madge Conner reported on the recent county council meeting. A committee was appointed to plan the community recreational meeting.

The vice chairman presented the project leaders, Mrs. Lucy Simpson, who reported on gardens and lawns. Mrs. Jim Byrke reported on crafts, demonstrating beautiful pictures of prints and paintings. Mrs. Cleatus Reams gave points on ironing and other suggestions on home management. Miss Odum brought an unusual lesson on home accessories.

The hostess served ice drinks and cookies.

Is transportation costing you too much?

Chances are it is. And you're paying for it as part of the cost of everything you buy.

Why?

You are being penalized by horse-and-buggy regulations dating back many years. These regulations prevent or impede the most economical use of railroads, air lines and highway carriers.

Can Costs be cut?

Certainly. A Presidential Cabinet committee says it can be done by letting natural competition instead of government regulation determine rates for transportation.

Is competition dangerous?

Is saving your hard-earned dollars dangerous to you? No! Nor is competition dangerous to anyone doing a sound, economical transportation job. If people are doing a real job for you, you'll keep on using them. Competition may stimulate them to do a better job for you.

Who wants competition?

You do. So do the railroads. And so does the Cabinet Committee. Some truckers seem to fear it. At least, they are calling names and trying to bury the issue under an avalanche of words.

Who will benefit?

Competition will benefit the traveler, the shipper and the ultimate consumer—that's you. Don't let any smart talk fool you about that.

The Illinois Central believes in competition. We are eager to earn the right to do our share of Mid-America's transportation, just as we have done it for the past century.

NERVE the NERVE of this Man A. B. Chandler to insult voters with the BIG LIE technique he has used in his campaign

HE HATES "WHOOPEE" WATER---that's Whiskey that made $32,841 for him

Happy has campaigned on a platform of sober government, a different story from his attitude toward whiskey during World War II. As representative of a wholesale whiskey firm he made $32,841 from the whiskey interests and has refused to say just what he did to earn the money. He did say in connection with his whiskey business connection: "How I make my money and what I do with it is none of your business." He's dead wrong about that. People don't want double talk. Just what did he do to earn that money?

IS HE A FRIEND OF LABOR? .. HE ORDERED "Shoot To Kill" Miners

Today, he says he is for labor and the rights of the working man. In 1939, as Chief Executive, he ordered 557 guardsmen to duty in Harlan County as mines prepared to reopen with orders to "shoot to kill." In 1953 Chandler's own paper, The Woodford Sun, called union leaders "silked stockinged union leaders" . . . "plutocrats" . . . and said "they live like princes and all on the money of the workers". Today, Chandler's "ready-made" speeches are in favor of the miners and all other labor workers, yet his vicious and cruel actions as Governor are not forgotten . . . or forgiven.

Is HE A FRIEND OF EDUCATION? He Wanted Foundation Program Killed

The school teachers and the school patrons of Kentucky are the ones who have been lied to most in this campaign. When school teachers fought for the repeal of Section 186 of the Constitution Happy didn't want it repealed. It was repealed however and the Minimum Foundation program that Happy LOVES so much today was made possible. Happy says he increased the per capita school appropriation from $6 to $12. A down-right lie. When Happy took office the per capita was $10.95 and in four years it was increased to $12.19. Today it is $38.40. Any teacher of elemental arithmetic can tell you that he can't take $55,000,000 from $85,000,000 and still run the State of Kentucky with all the New programs he says he will put into effect.

Happy Chandler Plead Guilty To Hocking A Public Trust In A Whiskey Store As US Senate DEMOCRATS . . Vote for BERT COMBS the Man Who Puts Kentucky 1st

COMPETENT, HONEST, SINCERE, HUMBLE. A

LOYAL DEMOCRAT BACKED BY SENATOR ALBEN

W. BARKLEY, MR. DEMOCRAT, HIMSELF

Is He Against Taxes? He Killed One Tax And Added 15 More

Sure Happy repealed the sales tax, but he immediately got 15 new taxes passed. He taxed the water we drink, he taxed the lights we burn, he taxed ice cream cones, he taxed candy that the kids ate he taxed chewing gum, he taxed the movies you see for your entertainment, he added the personal income tax, he added the corporation income tax, he added a tax on every cigarette that is smoked, he taxed the face powder the ladies use. Happy has never said he was against ADDITIONAL TAXES in this campaign . . . he just says he's against the sales tax. You just check his campaign record and see.

Is He A Friend of Old People? He Refused To Repeal Lien Law

Chandler didn't give anybody a pension. His Administration merely took advantage of the Federal Social Security Act of 1935. State Law at that time specifically required lien law. In 1938, Chandler has promised $48,000,000 more in services than he can possibly pay for out of the revenue the State now has. He must cut down expenses in all departments and old-age pensioners, the needy blind and dependent children face a cut in their pensions if Happy hopes to give the school people the money he has promised.

Will He Tell The Truth About The Rug In The Capitol that cost $2,720? NO.

In Princeton a newspaper reporter asked Chandler why he continued to lie about the cost of rug when he knew he was not telling the truth. CHANDLER REPLIED, "I KNOW BETTER BUT THE CROWD EATS IT UP." The entire mechanical contract for construction of the capitol, including wiring, plumbing, heat, air-conditioning and other construction cost a little more than $800,000. The rug in the entire rooms of the Governor's office cost $2720. Happy hasn't offered to tell the people he was lying about the cost. He just says he'll walk on it bare-footed. Some dignity for a Governor.
