It's like I said to Paul. Paul, I said, we just can't use that dictionary anymore. Sure, you can get good bargains with soap wrappers, but soap wrappers ain't got no business in a dictionary. How can you get pedantic with a soap wrapper? So leotard is a good word, and it's a dancing garment, so everybody said. But when you look up leotard and find l-a-t-h-e-r, "the suds that come from Octagon" it just won't go.

So last week I threw our dictionary at the folks who read this column. They caught it and I'm washed up as a shirt-tail grammarian. Leotard, that tight-fitting garment used for dancing is in the dictionary, least ways it's in nearly everybody's but mine, and maybe Marce Bushart's and Ethel McDaniel's. They couldn't find it, so they said, and now they're saving up coupons to get an encyclopedia, so they won't be "ignorant" like me.

Margaret Hall was the first to call. She quoted chapter, verse, derivation, definition, and added denunciation of an editor who doesn't know dancing from detergents. But detergents I know about. Long time ago the soap wrapper to me was like folding money. I remember clipping those octagon shape coupons like as how I was trying to cut out A. Lincoln on a fivespot. "Cept as how I didn't know then that Lincoln was on the five-buck greenback. Never saw one. Don't see many now. That's why I got the dictionary without leotard. Probably took two hundred more to get the full dictionary. I settled for the one with a page of definitions and a page of soap advertising.

So when leotard came along I looked it up. For twenty-five years I've been lucky. The words I had to look up were on the pages with the definitions. Comes this modern generation of acrobats and I get caught like poppa's shirt-tail in the wringer. In my dictionary the last word on a page in the "L" section is leotard. The next word is "leotard".

From leotard to leotard I was cleaned . . . but good I leotard, via the leotard, from a grin to chagrin, and oh, what a rubbing I've gotten from the ribbing I'm getting.

Says my dictionary after leotard: "Be kind to your hands. There's magic in your dishwater. Rich, foamy suds to brighten your wash-day blues. Your clothes-line sparkles when the sun is down . . . no tattletale gray to cause gossip between the clothes-pins. No air. Octagon soap is the soap with the gobbly . . . de . . . gook added and it's new, it's your sudsy playmate when your playmates want to play. Buy Octagon today . . . live in another world on a foam cloud with foam pillows added."

So they skipped leotard in my book. Who can think about dancing when there's washing to be done. Furthermore they must have had a reason. Leotard is perhaps made of a knitted kind of fabric. You can't wash it with Octagon. It must be washed in Lux to preserve the size and threads. Octagon isn't going to promote washing a garment in a competitive product, so they just left it out of the dictionary. Hones' to goodness, that's the truth. You just don't KNOW what extremes these national advertisers go to to promote the sale of their products.

And, as for Ed Sullivan . . . he must have an impediment in his speech. I just know I heard him say that trapeze artist was a fellow named Leotard . . . and Leotard isn't in my encyclopedia. But listen, all you little researchers, and I-told-you-sos, don't bother looking that one up. I got the encyclopedia from a family friend who died at the age of 92, and I understand it was his mother's grandmother who got the reference book from a fur salesman who gave two coupons for every ten Indian scalps brought to his igloo in Vladivostok. The encyclopedia was given with every 440 scalps. It doesn't have many of the new words in it.

As for me. The office was too cold Monday to do much writing . . . I just dreamed this one up to throw you off the fact that I can't read. I don't know how to spell either. And a dictionary has so many words in it — even if every other page is a little soapy.

Katie Louise (left) Betty Ann (center) and James Edward are happy in their new found home in Riceville. Three of the five children of a poverty-stricken family aided by employees of the Siegel Factory, their eyes are a little brighter because they can see Christmas in the offing.

Is Charity In Your Christmas Spirit?

His sad eyes fairly sparked. "I'm going to school after Christmas," James Edward told the News reporter Katie Louise and Betty Ann joined him as in a chorus. "We are too." It's a Christmas paradox. While more fortunate youngsters are counting the hours until school lets out for the long Christmas holidays, three little children in their new found home in Riceville count the days when school opens after New Year so they can join the class rooms they have been denied.

Katie Louise, 10, James Edward, 12, and Betty Ann, 8, are three of the five children in a poverty stricken family who have found out the meaning of Christmas. They have found out through employees of the Siegel Factory who learned of their destitute predicament and quickly came to their aid. Two other children, Watson Bennett, 4, and David Lee, nine months old, have been taken into the homes of other kind-hearted Fultonians. The three older children are looking after themselves in a three-room home in Riceville rented for them by the employees of the factory.

MARVIN PHILLIPS GETS COVETED BID TO PLAY FOOTBALL

Univ. Of Tenn. In Scholarship To Fine Player

Marvin Phillips, Union City High school's great fullback who recently was honored by being named to two All-Star teams West Tennessee, and the West Tennessee Big Ten eleven, signed a grant-in-aid scholarship with the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

The signing ceremonies took place in the office of Attorney Tom Elam, U-T graduate who is a member of the Athletic board of the university. Phillips will enter U-T at Knoxville next September.

CHORAL GROUP TO SING RINGWALD'S CHRISTMAS STORY

Mixed Chorus, Soloists To Tell Of Nativity

Fulton's outstanding Choral group, under the able direction of Mrs. Lois Haws will present a varied program of Christmas music on Tuesday, Dec. 20, at 7:30 p. m. at the First Methodist Church. In addition to special numbers the group will present "The Song of Christmas" by Roy Ringwald.

The story of the Nativity, as told in song, will be narrated by Rev. H. E. Russell, pastor of the First Methodist Church. It comprises original music, selected excerpts from twenty songs and carols appropriate to the Christmas season, and abridged verses from the Holy Scriptures.

The original music, the harmonizations and arrangements, the adaptations of the Biblical verses, and certain of the translations are by Roy Ringwald. It will be performed by a mixed chorus, with soloists and a narrator, with piano and organ accompaniment.

Cub Scout Ready For Thrill Of Big Christmas Party

The Cub Scout pack party will be held tonight (Thursday) at seven o'clock in the basement of the First Methodist Church. Lots of hard work has been put into the planning and decoration for the party.

The gifts that the Cubs have made for their Mother and Dads will be on display. Gifts for all from Santa Claus, with the help of his twelve little helpers will be given out. The party is for the whole Cub family. Cub Scout Queen Kathy Campbell and Maids Peggy Russell and Nancy Vaughn, factory employees who have spear-headed the mission of special entertainment assisted by some of the Cubs.

Reindeers Hitched To Sleighs And Santa Is Coming For Visit

Organized to bring happiness at Christmastime today the Spirit of Christmas, Inc., received a wire from Santa Claus. The wire said:

"The merchants of Fulton and members of the American Legion's 40 are being cited today for their generous efforts in bringing warmth and good cheer to the needy families of Fulton. Your plan to give little children the thrill of a big Christmas parade, to see Santa Claus in person and to give new toys to those who would otherwise not receive them is truly the Spirit of Christmas."

Signed: Santa Claus
The old saying about giving your child the moon has almost been reached by a man who furnished his children real live reindeer along with Santa Claus four years ago. And he has been furnishing them for other children each year since.

Boys and girls, and adults too, will get to see the Arctic reindeer here on Dec. 16 at 11:30 a. m. when Grady Carothers, Goldthwaite, Texas, ranchman, brings them to the city for a Christmas parade. (Continued on page nine)

The gentle Alaskan-born genuine reindeer are very gentle and favorites with all the children. There Santa Claus tells the young man to go ahead and give Blitzen a bite of apple. Santa Claus and all the reindeer will be in Fulton on December 16 at 11:30 a. m.

SOUTH FULTON, FULTON CAGE TEAMS HAVE UNDEFEATED RECORDS SO FAR

S. Fulton 70, Kenton 68

A field basket by Tommy Hughes in the last three seconds of the game gave the South Fulton Red Devils a 70-68 victory over Kenton Tuesday.

It was the second two-point win for the Red Devils over Kenton this season. The score at South Fulton earlier in the year was 59-57.

The game was closely contested all the way. Kenton was up 43-31 at the half and South Fulton led 58-56 at the three-quarter pole. With the score tied at 68-all near the end of the game, South Fulton stalled for the final shot at the basket. Jimmy Pruiett, South Fulton forward, led the scoring with 22 points. Fulton 48, Hickman 45

The Fulton Bulldogs staved off a fourth-quarter rally to defeat the Hickman Wildcats 48-45 Tuesday night. It was the fourth win in Fulton's perfect season record.

Fulton led by seven points at the end of the third period, but a Hickman spurt, led by Gerry Williams almost overhauled the Bulldogs in the final minutes. Williams had 10 points for his night's work.

Big George Burnett led the Fulton attack with 19 points. Robert Hunter scored 17 for Hickman's top honors. Fulton . . . 12 23 35 48 Hickman . . . 8 18 28 45 (Continued on page ten)

BE PREPARED ON SUNDAY; SCOUTS TO CALL FOR NEEDY

Food, Money Sought For Needy Folks

This year, as in years past, the needy people of Fulton will not be forgotten. On Christmas Day there will be good food, good cheer and a happy spirit prevailing in many homes that might ordinarily be passing just another day were it not for the Young Men's Business Club and the South Fulton Booster Club. In Fulton the members of the YMBC will be busy as beavers on Christmas Eve filling baskets at the Kentucky Utilities office to be distributed among the poor of this city. Similarly the members of the Booster Club in South Fulton will spend that day filling baskets for the needy in South Fulton.

The history of the Christmas baskets in Fulton is a commendable and an interesting one.

Since demands made on the club are larger than ever, and since the YMBC is without help from any other organization this year as in the past, the public is being earnestly urged to help with the worthwhile project.

Next Sunday at 1 p. m. the Young Men's Business Club members, together with the Boy Scouts, will canvass every street in Fulton, picking up cans of food to be used in the Christmas baskets for the needy.

The club is asking each family to contribute at least one can of vegetables, fruit or meat. These should be placed on the front porch, where they can be seen from the street. A Boy Scout will pick up the package sometime between 1 p. m. and dark. If you have a money do- (Continued on page ten)

Romping Children Don't Bother Rush Creek Laaies

By Mrs. John Watts (Fourth in a series)

The Rush Creek Homemakers club was first organized in the year 1935 at the home of Mrs. Clint Workman. This first club seemed to have lived a short life, because there is a record of a reorganization of the Rush Creek Club at the home of Mrs. Alvin and Mrs. Donald Mabry in 1937. The club now has 28 members and won third place in the county this year in the Best All-Around Club contest.

Because the large number of members and the equally large number of pre-school children who attend the meetings with their mothers, the meetings are usually held at the Sylvan Shade Club House.

Since we do have so many children, the club plans at least one or two family get-togethers during the year. The annual July picnic is always well attended. This year it was held in the front yard of Mr. and Mrs. Scott DeMeyer with an attendance of about 75.

Since the Homemakers have stopped having an International Day Program on a county-wide basis the Rush Creek Club has had one of her own for the past two years. These were held at the Rush Creek Methodist Church. Last year we had a tea and invited Mrs. D. J. Craddock of Clinton to tell us about her visit to Hawaii. The year before we had Crawford Kennedy, who is a native of Scotland to show us movie films, which he made in his home country.

This month we served the Community Farm Bureau supper to make some money to pay our delegate's expenses to Farm and Home Week convention, which is held annually in Lexington. Beginning this month we are holding a kindergarten for the children in another room of the club house while the meeting is in progress. If all of the pre-school children come, there will be twenty-one.

The present officers and leaders are: President, Mrs. Scott DeMeyer; Vice President, Mrs. Clem Atwill; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Clint Workman; Major Project Leaders: Mrs. Robert Adams and Mrs. Albert Mhas; Recreation Leaders, Mrs. Lewis Atwill; Citizenship Chairman, Mrs. Larry Cardwell; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. John Watts; Reading Chairman, Mrs. Harry Sublett Jr.; Landscape Leaders, Mrs. Charles Adams and Mrs. Lloyd Call.

The Rush Creek Community never has any difficulty getting programs or projects started and completed successfully, since the club boasts of having (Continued on page nine)

Mrs. J. R. Lell gave a very interesting oratorical description of Lottie Moon.

After a period of fellowship in which eleven members and six visitors participated the meeting was closed with prayer.

Business Looks Good, In Spite Of Politics

The continued good health of business and the stock market has been undermined by the confused political outlook and a growing belief that the chance of electing a Republican president next year is now "no better than even or perhaps worse," according to Emerson W. Axe, eminent economist and president of the investment management firm of E. W. Axe & Co., Inc.

Mr. Axe warned against a change of administration and its unfavorable effect upon business sentiment in a state of the economy message to the investing public. Aside from political considerations he found economic conditions today favorable to a continued high level of business activity and confidence.

He summed up the performance record of past Democratic administrations and said that "the business and common stock situation of 1954-55 has depended more upon confidence in the political situation and longer-term outlook than on any other factor."

"The question the investor faces, therefore, is not whether the outlook has deteriorated but the extent of the deterioration," he said.

"After six out of the eight Democratic presidential victories (1892, 1912, 1916, 1936, 1940 and 1948) common stock prices declined more or less seriously and in all but one of these six instances there was also a decline in general business activity."

"In one of the remaining two cases, 1932, both business and security price had been so severely depressed before the election that an upturn was inevitable — and had indeed actually occurred in key indexes several months before the election. In the other, 1944, a strong war boom was in progress."

In both of these cases strong inflationary forces were building up."

Mr. Axe said that the investor's problem today is complicated by the high level of stock prices in relation to earnings and assets.

But the economic factors governing the future of common stock prices, he said, still show a balance on the favorable side. "There is no sign of an immediate business downturn," he continued, "and with activity in building, automobiles and defense work likely to continue high for at least another year about the worst that can be expected in minor fluctuations at a generally high level."

"Money rates are rising, but at a slow pace, and the resources of the Federal Reserve System are so great that no serious credit strain is to be expected soon. Business in foreign countries has improved satisfactorily over the past several years and is an additional support to business in this country."

While inflationary forces must undoubtedly be reckoned with in the long run, Mr. Axe concluded, "the negative side of the situation now comes down to a question of the extent to which security prices will take account of the worsening political outlook and the nature of political developments over the next year."

NAHA, Okinawa (FHTNC) — An amphibious landing exercise was completed Dec. 3 as units of the Japan-based 3rd Marine Division captured inland objectives after storming ashore at Kin Beach, Okinawa.

Among the participants with the 3rd Marine Regiment was Pfc. Ben E. Pickering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pickering of Route 1, Fulton, Ky.

The Marines, backed by close air support and naval gunfire, moved inland against an "enemy" battalion from the Okinawa-based 9th Marine Regiment.

The week-long exercise was preceded by combat loading and transporting of personnel from ports in Japan.

Diary of Doin's

—Around Fulton—

The News writes social happenings about you and your friends.

Once upon a time this fellow William Shakespeare was the pet anathema of most high school students. Finding the proverbial needle in the haystack was kid stuff compared to making sense out of that difficult, complicated prose Shakespeare wrote. You know what's happened? Plenty! The anachronism of all time is SOP, (standard operating procedure) in the English classes at Fulton High School.

Amid juke-boxes and jive the Bard of Avon is a very popular fellow and most of the kids have something akin to hero worship for him.

Who knows when the transition took place. We haven't been on speaking terms with Lady Macbeth for twenty-five years, but that doesn't mean that she's a square among the young folks. At Fulton High they love her.

Let us tell you what happened. Last week a friend of ours called and said she had something that might be a good story. Here's good stories are bread and butter to us. We listened to the conversation with full speed ahead.

We learned that seven high school students had been working for two weeks studying Shakespeare's Macbeth and they got so interested in the project that they decided to tape-record passages from the play and present it to the entire class. That they did on Monday morning at eight o'clock and we were so interested in their work that we got things out of the way early, took the children to school and went in to listen to the production.

It was the most amazing bit of work we've seen in many a day and what is more it was produced with live sound effects and background music that was just right in the right places.

The recording of the play was part of an English class activity to make Macbeth "come alive" and to simplify Shakespeare for high school students. Tommy Hatler, Diane Bennett, Janet Allen, Melinda Powell, Mollie Wiley, Gerald Bushart and Billy Hatler did much more than simplify it. They "lived" it and enjoyed it. The Shakespearean production on tape was produced and directed by Tommy and Billy. The other participants acted several of the parts from King Duncan to the three witches. And the howls of those witches were so real the students in class shuddered more than a little when it was presented in class.

The idea of tape recording was not the only activity of Mrs. Charlie Burrows' English class. Other students made replicas of some of the characters and "props" of the drama and all around the class room there's an eerie and yet delightful environment of what young people can imagine to make studying a pleasure. Some of the students made replicas of the witches, others made daggers and swords, one student made an almost life-size image of her devious Highness, Lady Macbeth.

What fertile, agile and interesting minds these young folks have.

Last Friday was a busy day of surprises for Lorene Hughes, who, come the end of this month will be wending her way towards Paducah to make her future home. At Ruby McDade's last Friday the "Derby Crowd" gathered for a delicious luncheon as a little farewell party to Lorene. We imagine Lorene thought she was going out to the Derby for the usual gathering of gals when Marv Ethna Wilson drove her around to Ruby's for lunch. Lorene said she still didn't know it was her party until she was presented with a beautiful silver goblet as a memento of the occasion. In the afternoon three tables of bridge players matched their wits with the capricious falling of the clovers, spades, diamonds and hearts.

(Ed's Note: The "Derby crowd" is a group of gals, mostly wives of Lions Club members who take the day off from cooking while his royal Highness eats out for the weekly luncheon on Friday. Other non-Lion's club members wives, gradually joined the group until it's a right good size organization now. In case you've heard of the group so-called, don't try placing a bet with them, there's not an equestrienne around).

But back to Lorene. Friday night at the lovely and attractive Edwards home in Country Club Courts Jane cooked up a super delicious hot-tamale supper for Lorene who was as surprised as she was at noon, when a shower of dainty handkerchiefs came her way. When Lorene and Bud leave these parts, and she gets a little misty-eyed as most of us will, she'll have lots of hankies to wipe away the mist. Bridge was enjoyed after the bountiful supper and for a long time after the playing ended a real bull-session took over when "you remember when" stories brought out many a laugh and some sentimental memories.

Tuesday we were invited out to Jane Watts' in the Rush Creek community for the regular Homemakers meeting and a pot luck dinner, a la Homemaker, filled every inch of space on the large Watts dining table. Throwing calories to the winds we ate chicken and dressing, candied sweet potatoes, dressing with gravy, fresh lima beans in casserole, cranberry salad, and dozens of other trimmings that were out of this world. After the dinner two of the ladies presented a wonderful skit about buying at home and buying wisely and we were reminded of a story we were told recently.

Seems like a car-load of local folks journeyed to a far off city a couple of years ago to do some shopping. The group was intrigued at all the "unusual" items that one could purchase in this foreign city and bought several items that they just knew would never be available in Fulton.

All the way home they talked of their purchases and their great luck in finding such useful items. It was a little later that they became intermittently irked and surprised when they learned that their purchases were on prominent display right in their husband's own stores.

Young Milton Exum, the Admiral of the House of Exum, has come and gone. After an all-too-short "leave" at home with his parents he has gone back to San Diego, Calif. to his Navy base, where his folks say, he will become a member of the Wasp crew, a famous Navy ship. A fellow as happy-go-lucky as Milton brought a lot of happiness home with him and by the same token, he left some noticeable emptiness around when he left. But he had such a good time here and his family and friends rounded up his wonderful visit by a good time in Memphis when he was en route to his base.

Laverne and Grady Varden and Milton's parents accompanied him to Memphis and they joined Grady Varden, a student at Memphis State College and the group attended services at Springdale Methodist Church where Rev. Dan Overall is pastor. Young Grady and young Milton went out to Memphis State for a visit at the school and then the whole crowd extended Seaman Exum a fond farewell and a very Merry Christmas in whatever port that fine young fellow finds himself on Christmas Day. We join the family in wishing the future Admiral happiest greetings of the season.

We send greetings also to all the young men from around Fulton who will not be home for Christmas and at this time we want to say that we hope Pvt. Robert C. Atwill enjoys his overseas tour of duty coming up, which he thinks will be in Panama. Robert's address is: Pvt. Robert C. Atwill, US 52388813, 8th A/C Replacement Co., 1264 S. U. Fort Dix, N. J.

Drop Robert a card if you can, and it will be forwarded to his new post of duty.

We had the Christmas spirit to top all Christmas spirit made clear to us on Wednesday when a cheerful messenger brought us a box of candy from our very good friend Mrs. Lee Rucker, who is confined to Jones Hospital. Sick-as-bed as she is, she took time to have the delicious candy purchased and delivered to us and the greeting she enclosed touched our hearts so sincerely, that we know if not another greeting is sent us this year, our hearts will be warmed and gladdened by just re-reading her message of confidence in us. Thanks Hester and Lee Rucker.

And while you have your pen in hand, whoever reads this column, do send Miss Oletha French a Christmas greeting at Room 307, TB Hospital, Madisonville, Ky. There's hardly a home in this area that has not at sometime or another been personally connected with Miss Oletha, for during her long service with Public Health this wonderful, brave lady was the

DEATHS

MRS. MINNIE BELL
Mrs. Minnie Bell, 74, died Sunday night, Dec. 11, at 11:40 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. O. Williams, at 207 Bedford Street, after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Bell was born at Boydsville, Ky. on Nov. 9, 1881, the daughter of the late J. E. and Belle Province McConnell.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Williams, with whom she made her home, and Mrs. Carl Fortner of Murray; two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Paul Hornbeak Funeral Home. Burial was in the Boydsville Cemetery.

JOHN PRICE KEARBY
Funeral services will be held today for John Price Kearby at 2:00 at the Crutchfield Methodist Church. The Rev. J. F. Minn will officiate. Burial will be in the Rock Spring Cemetery with Hornbeak Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Kearby, a former resident of Crutchfield, was found dead in his store at Oaklona, Ark., it was learned here Monday. He died sometime Sunday of a shotgun wound.

It is believed by his brother, Byran Kearby of Crutchfield, that he was probably accidentally shot while cleaning his gun to go duck hunting, as he went hunting quite often. A coroner's inquest is being held.

Mr. Kearby, 61, was born and reared in Crutchfield. He was the son of the late Judge Hiram and Remina Kimbro Kearby of Fulton County. Before going to Oaklona, which is near Arkadelphia, Ark., about eight or ten years ago, he had lived most of his life in or around Crutchfield except for eight or ten years he lived at Hickman, when his father was judge.

He was a bachelor and operated a grocery store.

Mr. Kearby is an uncle of Jennings Kearby of Fulton, who has served as State Representative for the past two terms.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH PROGRAM DEPICTS TWO IMPRESSIONS

Gay And Serious Christmas Events To Be Presented

The theme of Christmas, linking the gay side of the season with the impressive, religious memories of Bethlehem will be presented in a program Sunday evening at 5 p. m. at the First Christian Church. A program of Christmas music has been planned to add emphasis to those events of the Nativity, which will be enacted by the young people of the church.

Under the direction of Mrs. Charles Roe and Mrs. E. E. Williamson, assisted by the Sunday School teachers, the complete program is as follows:

Processional, "Organ," Mrs. Steven Wiley, Welcome, AL Busby, Hymn, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," Congregation; Prayer, Robert Stephenson.

PART I

Trimming the Christmas Tree, Kindergarten and Primary children, assisted by Nancy Dame and Eugenia Harris, Junior and Adult Choirs.

Reader, Gary Williamson. Theme: Let us trim our Christmas trees with both the ornaments of today and the memories of Bethlehem, linking "there" with "here" and "then" with "now." The Christmas story actually placed upon the tree in the symbol with which it is trimmed.

Star Group, Sheila DeMyer, Martha Poe, Sue Owens. Shepherd Group, Sam Jones, Tom Dame, Mike Campbell and Randal Roper.

Bell Group, Sarah Poe, Becky Jones, Caroline Jones, Nancy DeMyer.

"Away In A Manger," Kindergarten and Primaries; Solo, "I Wonder as I Wander," Barry Roper; Offertory Prayer, Rev. Roe; Offering.

"Sleep My Little Jesus," "Dear Little Stranger," Junior Choir. Members are:

PART II

The Christmas Story, Scripture, Gary Williamson.

Manger Scene: Mary—Mary Ann Bennett; Joseph—Al Bushart; Angel—Nancy Bushart.

Shepherd Scene: Robert Stephenson, Charles Bowers, Jim Bushart, Bob Anderson; Angel, Sandra Stephenson.

Angel Scene, Nancy Dame, Joy Yates, Eugenia Harris, Frances Perry; Three Kings: Wallace Shankle, Phillip Andrews, Wayne Anderson.

"Joy To The World," Congregation; Benediction, Rev. Roe.

Life seems to be a lot like a party — it was going on long before you came, you leave long before it's over, and it would have gone just as well if you hadn't come.

Concert Hall programs enjoy greater gross income than baseball games.

Methodist Youth Group Meets Mon. At Martin

The December meeting of the Sub-District group of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will be held Monday night, Dec. 19, at 7:30 at the First Methodist Church in Martin, Tenn.

An impressive Christmas program has been planned and all M. Y. F. members in this area are urged to attend.

Riddle Transferred To Murray Exchange

F. H. Riddle resigned Tuesday as president of the Mayfield Lions Club and was succeeded by Charles Baugh, who has been first vice president.

Mr. Riddle, manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., has been transferred to Murray. Mr. Riddle is a former manager of the local telephone company here.

On 24 4-H club entries from Oldham county at the State Fair in September, 23 blue ribbons and one red one were won.

Around 1,400 members of 4-H clubs in Pike county joined in a parade in Pikeville.

STATE BANKERS GROUP NAMES M. R. JEFFRESS

Fulton Bank Cashier Is Ag Chairman

M. R. Jeffress, Cashier of the Fulton Bank, has been appointed County Agricultural Chairman for Fulton County according to an announcement by A. G. Mainous, Lexington, President of the Kentucky Bankers Association. The appointment becomes effective immediately and is for the year 1956.

County Agricultural Chairmen are the official representatives of the Kentucky Bankers Association in activities designed to increase farm income and improve the welfare of rural communities. Such activities include the encouragement of new and improved farm practices, the support of youth leadership training in 4-H Clubs and F. F. A. Chapter, and cooperation with farm leaders and agencies in holding educational

Episcopal Program Is Changed To Saturday

"Is It Too Late?" In this, the ninth 15-minute radio program in a 13-week series called "ANOTHER CHANCE," Cynthia Wedel, who plays the part of a wife and mother, suddenly realizes that all that is left of her home and marriage is a well-ordered and efficient house which is used by her husband and children simply as a place to sleep, eat, and dress for the next engagement. The family relationship has almost disintegrated. She seeks advice and help from her friend, Peggy Wood ("Mama" of TV fame) and from her minister. Is it too late?

This program will be heard at a new time on WFUL, Saturday morning at 9 a. m. It is presented by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church.

tours, field days and achievement meetings. Besides engaging in many locally sponsored farm activities the agricultural chairmen aid in coordinating and adapting the program of the State Bankers Association to the needs and conditions of their counties.

XMAS WORSHIP SERVICE TO HEAR 100 VOICE CHOIR

Methodists To Enjoy Program Sunday Evening

"A Promise Fulfilled" is the title of the Christmas service of worship to be presented at the First Methodist Church Sunday evening, Dec. 18, when 100 voices will be heard in the musical program. Under the direction of Mrs. Nelson Tripp, the program will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Divided into three parts, the program will consist of ensemble singing, special harmony groups, duets and solo musical numbers. The three parts of the program are: (1) The Prophecy, (2) The Fulfillment, (3) the Commission. Go Ye, Jeff Lester, a ministerial student at Lamberth College, will be the narrator for the religious program.

The public is cordially invited to attend the program. Massive background scenery of Jerusalem and the surrounding hills

A jolly good way to remember your friends and relatives this Christmas is to send gift subscriptions to the Fulton County News. They are easy to order. They keep on reminding you can buy a full year of pleasure for only two dollars and fifty cents. And each gift will be announced in your name with a cheery card, timed to arrive in the Christmas mail.

NOBLE MORSE IS FAR AWAY FROM PHONE TINGLING

Popular Gent
Retires From Southern Bell

NOBLE MORSE

So you work 39 years with long hard hours? So look what's at the end of that long stretch of work. Rest, relaxation, sunshine and balmy breezes.

Next time you see Noble Morse ask him about it. Or write him, because he's leading the life of Riley in Daytona Beach, Florida, taking a well-deserved rest after retiring this week from Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Born in Caldwell county, Morse joined the old Christian-Todd Telephone Company on Dec. 16, 1916. He joined the present Bell system in Princeton in 1919 and later became manager there in 1923.

He came to Fulton in 1933 as a combination man, which means that he was called on to do most everything from answer the phone to repairing a cable. He later got a real title test deskman, a position he held until his retirement this month.

Morse, with Mrs. Morse, is sunning in Daytona Beach at 25 North Alexander Avenue. Far away from the tinging of the local phone system he is enjoying his retirement and it is many happy days of leisure that we wish him.

This popular Fulton gent isn't the leisure kind, however. He loves to tinker with antiques, furniture and other pastimes around the house, so now he can work his leisure full time.

BUY WISELY. THEME OF PLAYLET GIVEN BY RUSH CREEK CLUB
"It Pays to Buy Wisely" was the subject of the lesson at the Dec. 13 meeting of the Rush Creek Homemakers club. Fifteen members and one visitor attended the meeting which was held in the home of Mrs. John Watts with Mrs. Clint Workman and Mrs. Donald Mabry the co-hostesses.

A scripture reading and the thought for the month were given by Mrs. Donald Mabry.

The club members voted to pay the expenses of a delegate to Farm and Home Week convention to be held in Lexington the first week in February.

Mrs. Clint Workman was in charge of the recreation program—a game was played and the members joined in singing Christmas Carols.

Dinner was served at noon to the fifteen members, ten children and the visitor, Mrs. Jo Westpheling.

The major leaders, Mrs. Albert Moss and Mrs. Robert Adams gave the lesson which included a short skit entitled "How to Buy Wisely." Mrs. Adams acted the part of Mrs. Wise buyer. Mrs. Moss portrayed a Mrs. Un-wise buyer and was dressed in clothing and accessories which showed impulsive and unplanned buying.

The members exchanged handmade Christmas gifts.

EDWARDS SHOE STORE

South First St. Union City, Tenn.

Dancer, Prancer, Donder, and Blitzen are all primed for the trip here, their owner declared. They'll parade down the street and pop their ankles in tune with the sleigh bells and Santa Claus will be waving to all his friends as they pull the sleigh. In fact, Santa will be busy for he will be driving the reindeer as they make their way down the street that morning.

Meanwhile, Comet, Cupid, Vixen and Dasher will be in another city in another parade. Rudolph, the Red-Nose Reindeer, who bears the title of "George" will lead the parade. The name "George" was given him by the Eskimos. In fact, all of Santa's reindeer bear a pet name their Bering Sea friends have given them.

Some 6,000 miles separate the reindeer from their native homeland, but they thrive at the Carother's ranch in Central Texas. The only concession their owner makes for them is to provide a large fan in their corral. It is used only on the warmest days when there is no breeze stirring.

Santa Claus has especially invited all his young friends in this section to be present for the parade. Mothers and fathers likewise have the same invitation. "I want to see everyone possible on my trip to your city," Santa says.

The local sponsor, Spirit of Christmas, Inc., assures the people that all arrangements have been made to provide the greatest event ever to come to this city. There's never been anything like it.

"No boy or girl, or adult, for that matter, can afford to pass up this opportunity of seeing Santa Claus driving his live reindeer down our city's streets," the sponsor said.

To top it all off, Santa Claus promises to take time to listen three former county home demonstration agents in its midst. They are Mrs. John Watts, Mrs. Robert Adams and Mrs. Charles Adams.

Busy as they are with their children, their projects and their calendar of work there seems to be no end of close relationship shared between the Homemakers and their families.

Currently the members are putting great stress on wise buying and trading at home and with the knowledge of these facts and figures they plan to develop the resources of their community as they beautify and develop their homes.

to Christmas requests and wants to see every boy and girl for miles around and talk to them about Christmas.

Except for practice sessions, the reindeer have been resting all summer. They are ready to get into their shiny new harness and pull Santa's sleigh down the street. At least that's what Dancer was overheard to tell Comet a few days ago.

No matter how cold the weather the parade will be held on time. In fact, the colder the weather and the more snow is flying pleases Santa and his reindeer. It reminds them the more of the deep snow and raging blizzards in Alaska, their homeland.

Just how the parade will form and where Santa and his reindeer will emerge before they begin their long procession remains a dark secret. Their plans are well mapped out, but the Jolly little Elf likes secrets.

In all probability a police escort will meet the group. They will be guarded from the public eye while Santa Claus catches his breath and re-organizes his entourage.

As the moments wear away patience grows thin and suspense grows on the crowd. Suddenly, Santa in his sleigh, the bells jingling out "Merry Christmas" will materialize from out of nowhere, and the reindeer will be pulling the sleigh as they prance and shake their huge antlers.

That's Christmas spirit. You can see it in this city when Friday rolls around.

Elvis was the author of a wonderful article in Sunday's Courier-Journal wherein he outlined the scholastic merits of the University of Kentucky. The article was entitled "UK is Far More Than A Sports Factory" and is well worth your time in reading it. Elvis is the son of Judge and Mrs. Elvis Stahr of Hickman, Ky.

The holiday social calendar is getting chock full of gay activities for the home-coming college crowd, the young people of Fulton and the adults. Among the social activities planned at the Country Club are two dances, one for club members on New Year's Eve and one next week for young people who attend the Elk's Club Youth Center. Many private parties are planned by the youngsters and the oldsters and if Christmas shopping ever gets out of the way, there may come a time when these events will be anticipated with a little more gusto.

The inauguration of Governor Chandler on Tuesday topped all such events ever held in the State of Kentucky. We heard the highlights of the program on WFUL Tuesday and we were impressed with the gayety and yet the solemnity of the occasion. Enjoying all this first hand were some Fulton county people and among them were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Homra and Mr. and Mrs. Smith Atkins who arrived in Frankfort on Monday for some pre-inaugural events and returned home on Wednesday.

The Art Department of the Woman's Club met Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ira Little. There were nine members present.

For the occasion, the house was beautifully decorated in Christmas decorations. The lovely stairway was especially beautiful, the rail being covered with cedar. Red candles, greenery and colorful Christmas ornaments were used effectively throughout the house.

The program was given by Mrs. Gordon Baird, in the absence of the leader, Mrs. Lee Rucker, who is ill. The subject for study was the French city of Marseille.

After the program a social hour was enjoyed, during which the hostesses, assisted by Miss Mary Martin, served a delicious salad course and coffee.

The Garden Department of the Woman's Club met Friday, Dec. 9 at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The club room was beautifully decorated for the Christmas season. Mrs. John Earle, Mrs. Warren Graham and Mrs. Smith Atkins composed the decorating committee.

Mrs. Lawson Roper, Chairman, opened the meeting and welcomed the guests. The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Norman Terry and Mrs. Hunter Whitsett, program leaders. Mrs. Terry presented Mrs. John D. Landa, who gave a beautiful Christmas story, "Why the Chimes Rang." Molly Wiley gave a vocal selection, "He Shall Feed His Flock," by Handel. Melinda Powell gave a vocal selection, "There's A Song in the Air," by Ole Speaks. Mrs. M. W. Haws accompanied at the piano. Mrs. J. H. Patterson Jr. gave a humorous reading "How Come Christmas?"

A quartet, composed of Janet Allen, Molly Wiley, Melinda Powell and Susan McDaniel, sang two lovely numbers, "Christmas is Everywhere" and "Winter Wonderland," accompanied by Mrs. Haws.

Gifts were exchanged from a unique and beautifully decorated Christmas tree.

Refreshments were served from a lace draped tea table, centered with Christmas greenery and red tapers. Mrs. Lawson Roper and Mrs. Grace Thacker poured coffee. Fruit cake, topped with a sprig of holly was served to 46 members and 8 guests.

Hostesses were Mrs. Roy Latta, Mrs. Serena Elliott, Mrs. Dick Bard, Mrs. Jim Hutcherson, Mrs. Horace Reams, Mrs. J. H. Read, Mrs. Bob Fowlkes and Mrs. Hoyt Moore.

The schools around us are busy with all kinds of Christmas programs in anticipation of the long holiday that the children will enjoy from before Christmas until after New Year. Among them will be an eagerly anticipated party for the mothers of the children attending the Woman's Club Kindergarten. The children have been working for weeks on their gifts and we are looking forward to attending.

Also Fulton schools will present a Christmas program on Friday, Dec. 16 as the last activity of the year.

At 8:30 a. m. a musical Christmas program will be presented in the Carr Institute Auditorium by the Music Department of the local school.

The Fulton High School band will open the program promptly at 8:30 with the playing of the "Christmas Parade March." The Junior High Girls' Chorus will sing a medley of Christmas Carols, "The Carols of the Birds" (Niles), "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" (arr. by Dunhill), and "Silver Bells" (Livingston - Evans). Accompanists are Nancy Bushart and Patsy Smith.

Each room of the grade school and the combined first grades school will sing "Joy to the World," and the entire grade will sing familiar carols and appropriate Christmas songs. At the conclusion, the entire grade will sing "Joy to the World."

BOILED CUSTARD

—There May Be Some As Good But None Better Than Ours!

A big-hearted distiller had sent a barrel of his best brand to an acquaintance up in the hills. Shortly afterwards, he dropped in at the mountain cabin and was surprised by a broad hint that his friend could use some more of the same.

"Look here," said the distiller, "it's only been three weeks since I gave you a barrel of liquor."

"Yes, I know," admitted the hillman, "but you gotta remember a barrel of whiskey don't last very long in a family that can't afford to keep a cow."

Moral indignation is jealousy with a halo.

CIVIL SERVICE SETS UP EXAMS FOR APPOINTMENTS

The Civil Service Commission has announced that examinations are to be held in cities and towns throughout Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky for career appointments in the postal transportation service. The announcement was coincident with a long range recruitment campaign launched this week by the post office department.

Date of the examinations will be announced within the near future. Interested persons may obtain more information by going to their local post offices and making inquiry. Applications will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met. In order to be among the first group examined applicants should submit Form 5000-AB, available at any post office not later than Dec. 20, 1955.

The general requirements are: Male citizen of the United States, 18 years of age or older on date of application, at least 5 feet, six inches in height without shoes, weight at least 130 pounds and in good health.

Postal transportation clerks perform duties in railway post offices, highway post offices, air mail fields, metropolitan terminals and truck terminals or transfer offices at the major railroad junctions. The duties involve the separation, distribution and routing of mails in transit.

The starting rate in the postal transportation service is $192 an hour, with annual increases to $95 a week for regular employees with full longevity increases. Two and one-half to five weeks vacation is granted each year, depending on years of service. There is a liberal paid sick leave. Eight paid holidays are given each year. There is a generous retirement plan, also low cost group life insurance.

HEADS HONORARY GROUP
Professor R. D. McIntyre, professor of marketing at the University of Kentucky, has been elected national president of Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership fraternity. Last week he presided at a national ODK executive committee meeting in St. Louis, Mo.

Holiday Hospitality

As a festive way to end holiday dinner, we suggest Eggnog Pudding and Fruit Cake for dessert. Packaged fruit cake that is made from a home-type cook book recipe and is very moist and tender is available from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department in many forms. For slices to serve with the pudding, choose either the one or two pound bar fruit cake. Here is the recipe for Eggnog Pudding.

Eggnog Pudding
¼ cup sugar 2 beaten egg yolks
¼ cup flour 2 stiffly beaten egg whites
Dash of salt 1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons butter, melted ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups milk ¼ cup slivered almonds

Combine sugar, flour, salt, butter and milk, and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Gradually add mixture to egg yolks, stirring well, and cook 1 minute longer. Add vanilla and nutmeg. Cool. Blend in beaten egg whites and almonds.

REHABILITATION RECOMMENDED

A stepped up program of rehabilitation of the handicapped, to the end that those potentially capable of earning their own living be aided, was recommended by the Governor's Committee on Rehabilitation of the Handicapped.

The committee, headed by Dr. Elvin J. Stahr, Jr., Lexington, as Chairman, recommended: Enactment of a state rehabilitation law to provide the legal basis for a modern rehabilitation program in Kentucky, and make adequate appropriations to finance its activities.

That there be established within the Department of Education a Bureau of Rehabilitation Services, accompanied by a citizens' advisory committee, to advise the State Board of Education and other agencies on the handicapped.

That funds be made available to match federal funds for rehabilitation purposes, (this ratio is 70 cents federal, to 30 cents of State funds) and an appropriation of $200,000, was recommended.

That the State recognize that vocational rehabilitation is a specialized professional activity, supported by an in-service training program.

That the law be amended to make it possible for the Rehabilitation Agency to provide rehabilitative services to persons injured in industrial accidents with the cost of such services to be charged against the maintenance fund for the Compensation Board.

That vocational rehabilitation be an integral part of the treatment programs for persons with long-term chronic illnesses.

Savings Bonds are more than just pieces of paper. They are the hopes for the future of millions of Americans — their dreams of college educations for their children, a home in the country, or a pleasant retirement without financial worries.

Carr-McMurry Nuptials Are Read In Sulphur, Okla.

In an impressive candlelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Sulphur, Okla., wedding vows were exchanged Saturday evening, Nov. 5, at 7:30 o'clock by Miss Norma Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carr of Sulphur, and S/Sgt. Carl McMurry, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McMurry of Cayce, Ky.

Rev. Dan Rainbolt, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Forming the setting for the ceremony were two seven-branched candelabra filled with cobalt blue cathedral tapers. These were flanked by large pedestal baskets of white chrysanthemums and palms.

Mrs. Raymond Danner, organist, played an organ recital of nuptial music prior to the entry of the bride and groom. Accompanied Mrs. Sue Cops who sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white brocade satin, fashioned with a snug fitting bodice with Peter Pan collar and fastened down the front with tiny self-covered buttons. The graceful long sleeves tapered to petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt of satin swept into a train.

A finger-tip illusion veil was attached to a Juliet cap of lace sprinkled with seed pearls. She carried a bride's bouquet of white mums with showers of satin ribbons.

The maid of honor was Miss June Carr, sister of the bride. Her dress was of cobalt blue velvet fashioned with an empire waist and scoop neckline. The waltz-length skirt was fashioned on princess lines. She wore a half hat of matching velvet sprinkled with brilliants and wore double mitts of matching velvet. She carried a white "mum" bouquet tied with blue velvet ribbons.

Miss Maria Anderson lighted the candles. Her ensemble of American beauty rose was styled identically to that of the maid of honor. She wore a wristlet of white baby mums.

Cathy Ellen Carr, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress was fashioned of cobalt blue velvet.

J. A. Vernon of Sulphur served as best man. The ushers were James Carr, Thomas Carr, brothers of the bride, and Boyd Grudup of Wichita Falls, Tex.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the dining hall of the church.

For traveling the bride wore a two-piece suit of brown cord faille with matching hat, with which she wore a beige velvet coat with brown accessories.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will reside at 119 East Venita, Sulphur. Sgt. McMurry is stationed with the Air Force at Ardmore.

The children in this story are not alone in their misfortune. There are others. Help them if you can.

Papa disentangled himself from the battered sedan, overflowing with children of assorted sizes, and went in the shop to ask the price of doughnuts.

"Five cents each or fifty cents a dozen," replied the clerk. "Give me eleven," said the father wearily, laying fifty-five cents on the counter. "I'm not going to have the kids fighting over the extra doughnut, just so I can save a nickel."

3 INJURED, 1 DEAD IN AUTO WRECK NEAR FULTON

Four persons were injured, one of them fatally, in an automobile collision at 3:45 p. m. Tuesday near here.

The injured:
Mrs. Martha Jean Tucker, 20, leg injuries.

Theda Tucker, 1 1/2 years old, lip cuts and teeth were driven back into the gums.

Ed Brown, colored, shock and multiple bruises.
His wife, Erlene Brown died at 7 p. m. from severe facial and head cuts and possible internal injuries.

Ted Tucker, husband and father of two of the injured, was identified as driver of one of the cars. He was not injured. Brown was listed as driver of the other car. The Tuckers live at Kenton, Tenn. The Browns live just off the Dukedom Highway, where the wreck occurred.

Tucker said he struck the Browns car as it made a left turn off the highway into a lane leading to their home. He told state police Brown did not signal for a turn and he attempted to go around the car which had been stopped in the right traffic lane.

Mrs. Tucker and her child are in Fulton Hospital. Mr. Brown is a patient at Haws Memorial Clinic.

Free Passes For Pupils, Teacher At Orpheum

Win free passes to the Orpheum for your entire home room and for your teacher too in connection with the coming attraction at the theatre, "Good Morning Miss Dove." The movie is the story of a small town teacher who has dedicated her life to teaching... and paying off a debt.

Here's the way the contest works: Try to remember some incident where your teacher has been the guiding force for good in your life or in the lives of others. Write this instance down and tell why you love Fulton's "Miss Dove"... a beloved school teacher.

If your letter is the winner your home room will be admitted FREE as a group any one time you desire, and the teacher mentioned in the letter will receive a season pass.

There will be 3 winning letters:
Winning letter grades 1 to 4.
Winning letter grades 5 to 8.
Winning letter grades 9 to 12.

No letters will be eligible if postmarked after Wednesday, Dec. 21st. Be sure and sign your name, school and telephone number.

Mail your letters to:

Polio Vaccine May Be Wasted If Not Used

If not used by Dec. 22, 23,000 units of Kentucky's present supply of polio vaccine will be wasted, the Kentucky State Department of Health announced. This vaccine, which is ready and waiting for the children of Kentucky, was purchased with funds supplied by the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and distributed to every county by the Kentucky State Department of Health.

Committee, Kentucky State Board of Pharmacists, Parent-Teacher Association, Kentucky State Medical Association, and the Kentucky State Department of Health.

Methods of distribution vary in different localities. There are three methods. Shots may be given by private physicians, who obtain the vaccine from their local health department; by the local health department directly; or a combination of these two sources. This is the state-wide plan endorsed by the Kentucky State Medical Association.

The vaccine is free, although physicians may charge for administering the shots. The vaccine is safe. Government inspection now regulates its manufacture. Recent sensitive tests have guaranteed its safety. The evidence of its effectiveness in reducing the deadly, crippling effects of polio shows that the vaccine prevents polio in three out of four cases. Paralytic polio has been greatly lessened through the use of polio immunization.

Polio killed 42 Kentuckians last year. That's more than deaths than from whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and typhoid combined. Immunization has reduced the death menace of these killers. Polio vaccine can do the same.

Children from one to nine years of age and pregnant women are eligible for the polio vaccine. Information about the shots can be obtained from your family physician or from the local health department of this county. The vaccine is already on hand in each county, and more can be secured from the Kentucky State Department of Health.

"Now is the time to immunize against polio," urged U. Pentti Kokko, M. D., Director, Local Health Services, Kentucky State Department of Health. "If children are immunized now during cool weather, they will have time to build up a strong immunity before next summer when the seasonal outbreak of polio usually occurs."

BANJO-PLUNKING "UNCLE LEM" IS GONE FROM SHRINE

The delicate strumming of the old banjo and the plaintive words of the popular Stephen Foster tunes beckoning the tourists at My Old Kentucky Home State Park are stilled. The vacant chair on the park grounds stands forlorn — for Uncle Lem is gone.

That aged Negro, whose banjo-plunking attracted the attention of the thousands of tourists at the park each year, died at his home on South Third Street after only an hour's illness. His death was believed due to a heart ailment.

For several years Uncle Lem Reed had coddled the tourists with his bango strumming and his singing. Few tourists ever passed him by without stopping to lend an ear to the words of My Old Kentucky Home, Old Black Joe, or some other Foster favorite. And few passed by without contributing something financially to his welfare.

The visitors loved him and many made repeated trips bringing their friends. National travel magazines carried page-side pictures of him, and tourists kept their cameras clicking. Prints of photos taken by visitors came to him by the dozens, and post cards available at the park have been popular.

Uncle Lem was a colorful and familiar figure at My Old Kentucky Home. He had really a way with the tourists, who will be saddened to learn of his loss.

Only in the last few years had he taken to the banjo as a tourist attraction. He used to be a farmer in Washington County, where he was born in 1877.

In 1911 he went to Bardstown, lived there until 1926, then he moved back to Springfield. To Bardstown he went again in 1944, this time to stay.

Ways To Increase Egg Production

Suggestions for December, sent out by the Poultry Section of the University of Kentucky, say to sell pullets that are not laying. Allow three to four square feet of floor space per bird. Replenish nest material frequently.

Clover, alfalfa or lespedeza fed in the afternoon will help prevent cannibalism. Whole oats should also be fed. Try feeding the flock a wet mash in the middle of the morning and again in the middle of the afternoon. Pellets may be fed at noon. Better feeding brings more eggs.

It is not too early to put chicks in the brooder house for next year's layers.

Clipping Dairy Cows Profitable

The clipping of dairy cows in the winter is a very profitable operation. It is easily done and is not expensive. All you need is the clippers and a little instruction. You get the clippers and I shall give you a little instruction now. There isn't much to it, if you follow a few rules. You will not get kicked either if you just keep in mind the steps to take in proper clipping.

First clip the tailhead and tail, keeping one hand on the rump of the cow at all times, this seems to keep them from getting nervous. Cut the tail off just below the hocks. Be sure that you clip in the direction against the lay of the hair. The rear udder is clipped next. Clip the udder from its entire surface. Hold the skin taut and guide the machine carefully. Be sure to place your shoulder and leg against the cow, as a precautionary measure. By doing this you can feel the cow start to move before she really does and you can move back. Always stand to one side of the cow. After clipping the udder, clip the belly and hocks. Then hold the clipper on edge with the bottom toward the cow's head and clip a "mark line" from the milk well to the thurl and then to the base of the tailhead on both sides of the cow. To get the most out of your clipper wash blades in a 50-50 solution of kerosene and motor oil, dip the blade into the solution while the motor is running and let all the mixture run off before you resume clipping. This will wash and lubricate the blades. Do this at the end of each clipping job or when you are in dirty hair. Now then, clip the hind quarters up to your "mark line," clipping against the lay of the hair. Pull on the hide with your free hand to insure a clean job. Last you take three strokes up the backbone as a lice control measure. This completes the job of clipping.

Now then, since you have clipped your cows let's look at the why for a minute. There are 6 major reasons the clipping is recommended. Clipping reduces sediment; clipping lowers bacteria in milk; clipping makes cows easier to keep clean and in many cases makes the cow more comfortable in extreme cold weather because there is long hair to hold frozen mud and manure; clipping saves 10% of time when preparing for milking; controls lice and ticks and improves appearance.

It promises to be a most amusing evening of entertainment. If you can't laugh you better miss this.

Chestnut Glade News

Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

(Too late for last week)

The boys and girls basketball teams met the strong Fulton teams on the local court last week. The Chestnut Glade girls were the winner but the boys lost.

Several basketball fans from this community attended the games between Martin and Palmersville last Friday Night. Chestnut Glade fans are especially interested in the Martin girls teams as our Community is so well represented on that team. In the line up last Friday and playing in the game were Edna Rawls, Mary True Terrell, Patsy Nanney and Amelia Friedls.

Also on the team are, Allie Mae Wall, Treva Terrell, Mary Ruth Finch, Shelby Owensby, Shirley Heathcott, Magdalene Spence and probably others who I fail to recall.

Practice on the play "How the Story Grew" is progressing nicely. This entertainment will be presented Friday Night Dec.

CHARLES O'CONNELL AGAIN LEAD MAN IN STATE RACES

Charles K. O'Connell, Frankfort, elected clerk of the Court of Appeals, had the largest plurality of any candidate in the recent Democratic landslide, according to official figures provided by the State Board of Election Commissioners.

O'Connell polled 432,437 votes to 271,082 for his Republican opponent, Wilbourn Mason, of Mayfield, and 2,051 for Mrs. Carman Stone, Louisville Prohibition candidate. The O'Connell plurality was 161,345.

Gov.-elect A. B. Chandler ran last on the ticket as far as pluralities are concerned. He had 451,647 votes to 322,871 for Republican Edwin Denney, Lexington; 2,887 for the Rev. Robert Garrison, Louisville, Prohibition candidate, and 1,483 for Jesse K. Lewis, Lexington, Free Citizens ticket. The Chandler plurality was 128,976.

The board also certified results in the case of the two constitutional amendments — one to lower the voting age and one to remove personal property from the tax rolls. The 18-year-old voting amendment was adopted by a vote of 192,838 to 107,650, while the personal property amendment was approved 222,572 to 73,742.

Official totals for offices besides those won by Chandler and O'Connell:

Lieutenant Governor: Harry Lee Waterfield, Democrat, Clinton, 438,551; Joe Eaton, Republican, Louisville, 290,244; Dr. C. L. Abell, Prohibition, Henderson, 2,289; Waterfield, 148,307.

Secretary of State: Mrs. Thelma Stovall, Democrat, of Louisville, 425,275; Edwin E. Freshnev, R. Park Hills, 282,258; Dr. Andrew Johnson, Prohibition, Wilmore, 2,543. Stovall plurality, 143,017.

FARMERS ALLOWED TO RELEASE 1956 COTTON ALLOTMENT

The Fulton County office manager, S. E. Holly, stated today that the 1956 cotton acreage allotment could be released by any farm that did not intend to plant their 1956 acreage. He further stated that the farm that released the cotton would be given credit for the production of cotton for the establishing of future allotments. The released cotton acreage can be placed on other farms by the county ASC

Committee. The County ASC Committee urges every farmer that will not plant his 1956 Acreage to release it as it helps in three ways:

1. The farm which makes the release.
2. The farm which makes the adjustment.
3. It will help the county to retain its cotton acreage.

Releases must be made on or before April 1, 1956 on a proper prescribed form. For further information contact the county ASC office.

Franklin is one of the three counties that existed when Kentucky became a State in 1792. It is where our capital city, Frankfort, is located. The Kentucky river was crossed there, and early travelers called the site "Frank's ford," after Stephen Frank who lived nearby. Today Franklin County is a picturesque and progressive area. Daniel Boone is buried there, and the Old State House and Museum is open to the public. There's a good balance between agriculture and industry. Tobacco is a major crop, but increased production is planned for tomatoes and strawberries. Five distilleries and plants which manufacture tape recorders, electronic equipment, automobile moldings, shoes and underwear are located there. Many citizens of Franklin County, past and present, have always enjoyed a glass of beer—the beverage of moderation. The sale of beer under orderly conditions is an important objective of your brewing industry. Our continuing educational program helps beer retailers maintain their high standards.

Fireworks Unlawful, Fire Marshall Warns

State Fire Marshal J. T. Underwood, Jr., today called on both the general public and local law officers to help enforce the State's anti-fireworks law during the coming holiday season.

Special attention was called to "bootleg" fireworks stands which have been operating in order areas of the state under the guise of being "wholesale outlets."

"Merely tacking up a 'wholesale' sign does not excuse a person from provisions of the law prohibiting retail sale of fireworks," Underwood said. "One thing many people do not know is that it is just as much against the law to shoot firecrackers as it is to sell them. The maximum penalty for selling or shooting fireworks in the state is $100 and 20 days in jail. Citizens can help by reporting violations to local authorities."

The fireworks law was passed to curb injuries resulting from fireworks injuries and "it has done a remarkable job," the fire marshal commented.

"Since the law became effective, only one death has been attributed to fireworks. Previously there were several each year."

He said that a survey made by committee of the American Medical Association indicated that accidents in heavily populated states dropped from 7,933 to 903 a year after prohibitive legislation.

Supervised fireworks displays may be held by obtaining a permit from local law enforcement officials. Sponsors must post bond of not less than $500 and make application 15 days in advance of the display.

UK TRADITIONAL EVENT OPENS HOLIDAY SEASON

Several hundred University of Kentucky students and townspeople opened the holiday season on the campus by taking part in UK's annual "Hanging of the Greens" program, held Wednesday, Dec. 7, in the Student Union Building. Each year this traditional affair officially opens the yuletide season at the University.

Featured at this year's program, in addition to the Christmas musical selections, was a choral reading of the Bible Christmas story by the UK Glee Club. Sponsors of the event are the YMCA, YWCA and the University's Students Union Board.

Thomas Jefferson tried for 40 years to grow cork trees on his estate in Virginia.

LESLIE L. KULLENBERG, Director of Emergency Operations for the Federal Civil Defense Administration, would be the first official at FCDA headquarters to get word of impending attack on America. He would evaluate the information, and determine whether top FCDA officials should be called in for decision on placing the Federal civil defense system on a "footing."

STATE'S INDUSTRIAL GROWTH SHOWS BIG INCREASE IN EMPLOYMENT & EXPANSION

Kentucky's industrial growth, as reflected by new manufacturing plants, the volume of commercial and industrial loans and bank deposits, was noted by the State Agricultural and Industrial Development Board in a report of progress made in the year ending last June 30.

Joseph H. Taylor, executive director of the Development Board, said that during the period there were announcements of plans by 34 large manufacturing plants — those employing 25 or more persons — to locate in the State.

The plants have an estimated employment of 4,500 persons and a plant investment of $19,420,000. Information for the year July 1, 1953 to June 30, 1954 showed 30 new plants employing 4,100 persons, with an estimated plant investment of $25,500,000.

Taylor cites data compiled by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation showing total commercial and industrial loans during the year ending last June 30 of $198,360,000 — an average of $16,810,000 or 9.3 per cent for the year. For the nation as a whole the total was $29,091,384,000 — up 10.5 per cent over the preceding year.

Bank deposits in Kentucky's state — chartered and national-chartered banks rose to $1,787,008,000 or $59,780,000 above the 1953-54 volume. Demand deposits accounted for $1,456,061,000 and time deposits $330,992,000. The increase was 3.5 per cent, while nationally the total was $132,129,826,000, up 4.1 per cent.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Is the Universe, Including Man; Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Man's God-given dominion over sickness of every kind will be emphasized in readings from the Kings James Version of the Bible including the following selection from Jeremiah 17:14: "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise."

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (180:25-27): "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westpheling Fulton County News

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Westpheling: I again want to thank you folks for the news article that you have been carrying regarding the Cabinet Committee Report on Transport Policy. As was stated to you in our conversation while we were in Fulton Tuesday, legislation will be presented shortly after the first of the year when Congress convenes, and if you feel that you can support our cause, we would naturally appreciate it. We will possibly be calling on you again after the first of the year to discuss this matter.

Sincerely yours, F. K. Stanford

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO SURVEY FARM FOR CROPS TO FILL IN FOR TOBACCO

Can poultry, strawberries, beans and tomatoes take up the slack from the decrease in tobacco income on Kentucky farms?

The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce and the University of Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service will conduct a preliminary Commodity Development Conference in Somerset on Dec. 14 to evaluate the progress, started last year, on these commodities.

"The Somerset area, along with the Mayfield area, was an agricultural test area for the purpose of experimenting in the development of good crops to augment reduced agricultural income in Kentucky," Harper Gattin, Louisville, Executive Vice President of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, said today. "The Somerset meeting is open to all, especially farmers, businessmen, educators, and housewives," Gattin said. "Reports of progress on each crop, Kentucky's place in the National picture, and obstacles and problems of future development of each commodity will be discussed."

Allan Davis, John Roberts and L. A. Vennes of the University of Kentucky will deliver comprehensive reports on the poultry industry in the area.

DAIRY OFFICIAL URGES SUPPORT OF SALES PLAN

"Dairy foods face stiff competition in the food markets for a share of the consumer's dollar. The effectiveness of our appeal to consumers determines the amount of their dollar we receive," so stated John Moser, Oldham county dairyman, while commenting on the American Dairy Association sales program.

"In the past we have done very well — in the future we will do even better," he said, "because Kentucky dairymen along with the dairymen of 43 other states will be investing 20 per hundred pounds of milk on a voluntary basis to develop a TOTAL SALES PROGRAM."

Kentucky will join this all out effort on Jan. 1, 1956 to sell consumers more dairy products.

Moser continued, "Experts in promotion are working for dairy farmers in planning and carrying out this successful national sales campaign, doing the job effectively and efficiently. The amazing thing is that the directors of this non-profit organization have been able to keep the costs so low — less than two and one-half cents of each dollar being spent for administration. This program warrants the support of all dairymen."

James Stacey, Dr. G. P. Summers and W. W. Magill of the University of Kentucky will bring the latest information on the strawberry industry.

A representative of the vegetable industry will review the bean and tomato situation in Kentucky, relative to the National picture, with further discussion by Dr. Summers on the production of these two vegetables.

"Recently," Gattin said, "a group of farmers and farm leaders from this same area visited one of the largest fruit and vegetable markets in the world in Benton Harbor, Mich., as a part of the agricultural test area program. A report on the findings of this trip will be given at the Somerset meetings."

Chicago Trips Won by Kentucky 4-H'ers

Robert Magibben, Arnold Duncan, Douglas Morgan, David Weiss IMPRESSIVE records in the 1955 Dairy, Field Crops, Garden, Safety programs, have won all-expense trips to the 34th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 27-Dec. 1, for four Kentucky 4-H Club members.

Robert Magibben, 17, of Paris, is the 1955 state 4-H Safety winner. His outstanding achievements have earned the General Motors trip award to the Club Congress.

During an eight year 4-H career, Robert helped make his community more safety conscious by means of surveys, demonstrations and other aids, under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Magibben, his local 4-H leaders.

Robert's experience has taught him that livestock and machinery are two of the greatest causes of accidents on the farm.

Robert checked safety hazards in his home such as open stairways and improper wiring, and placed fire extinguishers within easy reach. Several newspapers have printed Robert's articles on safety and he has given numerous talks before his 4-H Club and other groups.

Arnold Duncan, 17, of Pulaski will attend the Club Congress as state winner in Field Crops. His trip is provided by the Nitrogen Division of Allied Chemical & Dye Corp. Arnold was able to achieve this recognition through careful attention to crop production practices, such as soil management, selection and treatment of seed, proper tillage, and insect and disease control.

In 1955, his corn yielded 159 bushels per acre. He has won numerous blue ribbons on his exhibits. He has given 19 talks on his 4-H work.

Arnold's club leaders are Hayden Watkins and J. W. Whitehouse.

Douglas Morgan, 17, of Augusta, is the 1955 state Dairy winner. He will be a member of All these projects were supervised under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

The Kentucky delegation to the Club Congress. Funds for the trip are provided by the Larro SureFeed Division of General Mills.

A 4-H Club member for eight years, Douglas has an outstanding record in dairy production and management. Starting with one heifer in 1949, Douglas, raised 14 cows, and 20 heifers, and has seven cows and seven heifers at present. Douglas realized $2,000 profit in milk sales, and the sale of cows this year.

This year, his seven cows averaged 10,004 lbs. of milk and 378 lbs. of butterfat for 360 days. He also carries projects in small grains, field crops, woodwork and poultry and has won many honors for his exhibits.

He is a member of the Bracken County High 4-H Club led by Miss Esther Kalb and Porter Morgan.

David Weiss, 15, of Augusta, has been awarded state honors in the 4-H Garden program. His all-expense trip to the Club Congress is made possible by the Allis Chalmers Mfg. Co.

In his seven years of 4-H work David has learned much about growing garden crops, and has helped the family food budget by providing a wide variety of foods for the table. He has grown 48 varieties of vegetables on a total of 4 1/2 acres. He helped his mother can 225 quarts and freeze 135 plants of vegetables this year.

He planted 2 1/2 acres of broom straw and plans to make brooms for home and sale. He constructed a reservoir for water supply and practices soil conservation. He won Champion awards, 178 blue and 32 red ribbons for exhibits and demonstrations. His local leader is Esther Kalb.

David is a member of the

"Sixteen Tons" ... Here's A Story About A Song

Not too long ago, soon after Davy Crockett retired from the musical scene, millions of Americans merrily engaged in "Tweddles-Dee-ing" all over the place. Shortly thereafter, they were "Rocking 'round the Clock." A few weeks ago, however, juke boxes, disk jockeys and home phonographs relentlessly hurtled a grim but compelling little saga about (of all things) coal mining to the top of the Hit Parade. The song, called "Sixteen Tons," goes something like this:

Load sixteen tons, and what do you get?
Another day older and deeper in debt.
St. Peter don'tcha call me cause I can't go.
I owe my soul to the company store."

Before going off the deep end and assigning a team of social psychologists to probe this latest deviation of public taste from the "June-moon-spoon" school song writing, we decided to talk to Merle Travis, the composer of "Sixteen Tons" and discover what he thought about it all.

We corralled Mr. Travis, an ingratiating, guitar-toting young man at the offices of Broadcast Music, Inc. in New York. A popular "country and western" singer as well as a prolific composer and academically respected folk-loreist, Travis was in New York to receive a "Citation of Achievement" from BMI at its annual writers' and publishers' dinner. Said citation had something to do with the extraordinary fact that Tennessee Ernie Ford's rendition of "Sixteen Tons" had sold more than 1,000,000 records in less than three weeks.

We asked the tall, Kentucky-born composer of such colorfully titled tunes as "Divorce Me C. O. D.," "So Round, So Firm, So Fully Packed," "I Like My Chicken Fryin' Size," "Too Much Sugar For a Dime," "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke," "No Vacancy," and "I'm Sick and Tired of You Little Darlin'" to try to explain the popularity of "Sixteen Tons."

"Ever so often," he told us, "a non-run-of-the-mill song takes a hold. Back in 1945 I wrote 'No Vacancy' which didn't have any love angle either. It just complained about how hard it was to find a place to live. Then, another one, 'Smoke, Smoke, Smoke' struck home at those of us who put the almighty cigarette before anything else."

"And now they tell me that 'Sixteen Tons' is on the singing lips of everyone from kindergarten to campus to that old easy rockin' chair. Why? I couldn't begin to know. Maybe it's a combination of things. It's easy to learn that makes it easy to sing. Then, there's the fact that it's a cousin to those ragin' rhythm and blues songs that are rockin' rockin' round the clock. And lastly, 'Sixteen Tons' is a blood brother to a thousand folk songs, but, mind you, not a twin."

"Tennessee Ernie" Travis continued, who made the record, is inclined to give all the credit to the arranger, Jack Finkelstein. But then, Ernie would say that, him being just a modest country boy and all, Ernie's manager claims that it strikes home to most folks because we all live on credit and owe our souls to some sort of company store. My publisher now, I think he's got the right slant. He just doesn't do any analyzing at all. He keeps himself happy by filling those orders for sheet music and orchestrations."

We learned from Mr. Travis that "Sixteen Tons" was written originally for a record album called "Folk Songs of the Hills," back in 1947. "The idea," explained the composer-singer, "was to compile a set of coal miner songs; it had never been done before."

"I was born in the coal mining section of western Kentucky and my dad and two brothers were miners, so here was an element I was at home in. There was one drawback. There just weren't many folk songs about miners."

Travis' solution was direct and simple. He sat down and wrote a half-dozen songs that have since come to be accepted as authentic folklore. One of the songs in the album, "Dark As a Dungeon," is included in "A Treasury of Southern Folklore" by B. A. Botkin, collector for the Library of Congress, and Alan Lomax has listed the album in his "Folk Song U. S. A." as one of the best in the field.

Presented with a five-string banjo when he was five years old, Travis received his first music instruction from his father. By the time he reached the eighth grade, school had lost its flavor for young Merle and he took off on a series of hobo trips through nearby counties. His professional career, however, began with a round of singing engagements at square dances, fish fries, chittling rags and other local social gatherings. As he moved about the Kentucky hills, our wandering minstrel absorbed the Negro and backwoods songs and stories that were to become the heart of his future creative productivity.

In 1935, Travis began his climb into the "big time." He joined the "Georgia Wildcats," a popular hillbilly outfit and with that group worked on radio station WLW in Cincinnati. Within a few years he was being featured as a "single" act on many network programs. Then came the war, a hitch in the Marine Corps and, upon his discharge, the call of California. In Hollywood, Merle Travis quickly established himself as one of the leading performers and composers in the folk and western music fields. On the way up, he also earned a reputation for brightness, affability and modesty, qualities not overly abundant in that heady community.

To get back to "Sixteen Tons," Travis, although he insists that it was written purely for professional reasons, has a colorful backlog of experience to support every line of the song.

"It's a well-known saying around the mines," he explained, "that to be a good miner, you need only two things—a strong back and a weak mind. And so."

Some people say a man's made out of mud, but a poor man's made out of muscle and blood. Muscle and blood and skin and bones. With a mind that's weak and back that's strong."

As for the chorus of the song, Travis remembered his mining town childhood and brought back the memory of his father, who like most miners of his day, was generally in debt to the company store, a mine company-owned general store. "When my dad would meet an old friend who would ask, 'How you gettin' along, Uncle Rob?' the answer would be 'Oh, pretty good, I reckon. I can't afford to die. I owe my soul to the company store.'"

With some of the aforementioned modesty in evidence, Travis disclaims major credit for the astonishing success of "Sixteen Tons." "I don't feel that I deserve any credit as merely a writer," he told us. "Anybody can write a song. But it takes a great artist like Tennessee Ernie to deliver to the people and make them love it."

"Let's say it this way, ... we can all go out and buy peroxide,

Mr. Billy Green, employed in Illinois, spent the week-end with his family here.

The tycoon was looking for a new chauffeur. The applicant had excellent references and claimed to have driven in most of the forty-eight states.

"So far, so good," said the interviewer, as he handed the prospect a road map. "Now let's see you fold this."

Safety Rules Given For Christmas Trees

"You wouldn't build a fire on the living room floor, but an improperly decorated Christmas tree amounts to the same thing," State Fire Marshal J. T. Underwood, Jr., warned in urging Kentuckians not to "invite Santa Claus to come on a fire engine."

He suggested these precautions in Christmas lighting and decorating:

1. Choose a small tree rather than a large one.
2. Store the tree outdoors until a day or two before Christmas.
3. When it is brought in, stand it in water and set in a cool part of the house, away from radiators, heaters and fireplaces. Don't allow it to block an exit.
4. Be sure every lighting set and electric cord you use is in good condition — no worn or frayed wires, no loose sockets. Never use candles.
5. When you buy new sets or cords, look for the Underwriters' Label. The ones that bear it have passed tests for fire and shock hazards.
6. Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning the tree lights on and off.
7. Ornaments should be made of fireproof materials, like metal or glass.
8. Never set up electric trains under the tree.
9. Don't let gift wrappings pile up under or near the tree.
10. Don't leave tree lights burning when no one is home.
11. From time to time, see whether needles near the lights have started to turn down.
12. When needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it outdoors.

I can't help from thanking my Lord for being so good to me. He spared me and enabled me to go to Marks on Nov. 25 to the 30th anniversary of the Delta Burial Corporation. Brother Charlie Crumble took me. It was given at the Valley Queen M. B. Church, pastored by the Rev. Hills. All the agents that were there made such wonderful reports. The general manager, the Rev. A. L. Sadtler, sure did have a true instruction for the people. If they take it they sure won't go wrong.

We are colored people but we sure know the right thing. "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross" was led by some sister. I didn't know her name. But they sure sung with the Holy Spirit. Sister Whitehead sure did make a true talk. There weren't any flies on none of their talk. But yet God was in the plan. If you trust Him you won't go wrong. He is the best leader that we can depend on. Those Delta Burial people sure did feed us. Everything was so nice and convenient. We just had a big time. I sure enjoyed myself. Hope that time will come soon again. And my Lord guided us safely back home.

I chanced to meet a Christian woman in person of Sister Salie B. Williams of Cleveland, Miss., 609 Murphy Street. And too, I met Sister Durden. We talked about the Lord and His goodness. 105 agents were there.

Sunday I went to the Locust Grove M. B. Church, pastored by the Rev. G. H. Helm of Clarksdale and there we had another glorious time. The pastor's text was from St. John and his subject was "The Title of the Cross." He sure preached a true sermon. Deacon Ernest Butler sure did make a wonderful talk and every word was in its place.

This sure ain't no time for foolishness. If you trust God for one thing, trust Him for all. I had to leave there before service closed and go to Pleasant Valley. We had on a program there. Money raised there, $16.25 to the pastor's aid club.

Well, I can and will say, we sure had a grand time in Marks Friday. Hope that day will come soon again. So I will say: Be of good cheer; God is in the plan. Here is my prayer: I thank Thee my Heavenly Father through Jesus Christ, Thy Dear Son that Thou hast kept me this night from all harm and danger. I pray Thee that Thou wouldst keep me this day also from sin and every evil. That all my doing and life may please Thee for into Thy hands I commend myself, my body and soul and all things. Let Thy Holy Angels be with me, that the wicked foe may have no power over me. Amen.

and the teller grabbed at one of the already - scared youngsters and gave him a thrill and a reward for being so noticed.

Our tales fell into several categories. Hunting yarns, panthers, great achievements with the gun or the fishing pole entertained us and sounded as reasonable as the stories that Mother and Father and all the older people told about the enormous numbers of Passenger Pigeons that used to be. I was a mature man before I was able to verify these accounts about this now-vanished bird, but I have not yet been able to verify many of the other animal and bird yarns that we heard. I sometimes wonder just how numerous the wild turkeys were in early days. I cannot help feeling that one remarkable experience became the norm where people called "up their memories." Snows and wild fowl grew about equally in the telling. Tennessee River certainly had had some very large fish, according to the yarns we heard. And squirrels used to be so numerous that raising a crop of corn must have been a miracle. And quail, too, used to just dare the hunter to shoot them. Of course, some of this was nearly true, but the yarn-spinner was never known to minimize such things, especially when they concerned himself.

My neighborhood, maybe because my father was a doctor, had hosts of yarns about mysterious deaths or accidents. There were enough in actuality but a group of tale-tellers around the fireplace could soon call up enough yarns to make your flesh crawl. The still-unsolved mystery of Pat Shehan and his death was told until I knew all the details. He was an Irish ditch-digger who drifted into our neighborhood, gambled and drank heavily, and was found floating in Tennessee River. He was reputed to have had a lot of money, probably more from gambling than from ditch-digging. What happened to him and his money is still unknown, at least legally. A good many actual murders took place just before and just after my birth, but none of them were as bold and nerve-tingling in reality as in the growing yarns that grew up.

Everybody had a soldier relative, always a Southerner. Not often did we get military yarns for the tellers of the tales preferred to tell about the human side of war I heard far more yarns about the raids on gardens or henroosts than on Yankees. How to outwit the owner of something good to eat seemed to be the essence of being a good soldier. It was a sad day in my life when I found out that fully half of these true stories have been the common stock of soldiers since wars began. I have no doubt that many of the so-called authentic yarns that I heard were much better told in the days of chivalry itself, and were equally true then as just before my time.

The sense of history was present among us, but it was hard to separate any event that happened before our time and any other one, however old. When an elderly ex-slave pretended that she had been George Washington's nurse, that sounded as sensible as for one still living to have nursed Uncle Jerry or Uncle Joe, two of our oldest ex-slave owners. I liked best of all Uncle John Elkin's stories about the Jackson Purchase in its early settlement days. He had even hunted as a small boy in the area before the Indians sold it to the United States. And my own immediate ancestors had come in with the first wave of settlement, so that history was not merely something in a book. I do not yet know how much of what I was taught was actual history, how much was age-old tradition.

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by Marie Holland

Home Demonstrator Kentucky Utilities

Come blizzard and sub-zero temperature, the homemaker with an automatic clothes dryer is a lucky gal indeed. The worst weather needn't interfere with her doing the family washing whenever it suits her fancy. She doesn't even have to worry about space for hanging clothes in the basement. In fact, it makes no difference what day of the week she chooses to do her laundry, or what hour of the day or night. Once the clothes have been automatically washed, rinsed, and wrung, she simply moves them into her automatic dryer which will complete the drying operation and turn off automatically. A variable heat control provides the proper drying temperature for the most delicate fabrics, leaving everything fluff dry and delightfully fresh.

Yes indeed, women are finding they stay younger and prettier longer when that week-in-week-out drudgery of washing and drying clothes taken over by electricity.

What's more you'll find even the ironing is faster and easier too, because the electric dryer leaves no dried-in wrinkles. Many things can be folded and put away just as they come from the dryer. All clothes are soft and iron quickly because the gentle tumbling action of the dryer leaves no harsh folds.

no unmanageable clothespin "ears," no hard-to-twist. Now don't you agree that any woman in her right mind would want an Automatic Clothes Dryer?
