FLASH FIRE KILLS TWO WEDNESDAY. OIL STOVE EXPLODES

Mother And Son
Trapped: Flames
Enveloped House

Two people burned to death in a flash fire in Highlands at ten o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of Lee Stratton, located on Fourth Avenue.

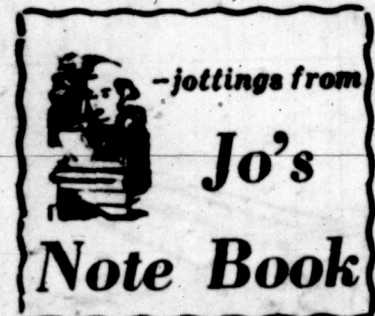

Dead were Lee Stratton, approximately 46, an invalid who had been confined to his bed for months, and his mother, Mrs. Jane Perkins, age 68.

The fire is believed to have been caused by an exploding oil cooking stove, and the small frame house was quickly enveloped in flames and burned to the ground, trapping the mother and son inside. They were the only two occupants of the house, and had lived there the past 13 years.

Robert Stratton, son and brother of the two deceased was applying roof covering to the building at the time of the tragedy. His first inkling that something was wrong was in hearing his mother scream and seeing flames burst from all parts of the building at once. He immediately ran to the home of a neighbor and called the Fulton Fire Department, which had to lay about 1400 feet of hose to reach the building.

First witnesses to reach the scene were Sonny Puckett and Stanley Jones, who noticed the smoke and thought a barn was on fire. When they arrived they stated that they were unable to even get close to a door of the house, so intense was the fire.

Survivors of Mrs. Perkins include Robert Stratton, Fulton, a son; Clara Copeland, Riceville, and Beulah McClain, St. Louis, daughters. Funeral arrangements are incomplete at the News went to press.

I've been doing a lot of hoping around this week on one assignment and then another, that somehow I didn't get around to writing that "good" column. . . the one I'm always planning to write.

So please excuse this abbreviated form this week. I do want to thank my good friend H. C. Kilgore for being so nice to bring me a load of wood after he read my hair-raising experience about the railroad track. Mrs. Virgil King also called and offered some wood, but Sara Johnson probably had the best idea of all. . .

Said she: "Jo, I'm going to give you an axe so you can go to the woods and chop some wood. . . away from all the hazards."

Below you will see a photo of railroading Jo, accepting some of the fire wood that Mr. Kilgore gave me. Thanks again, fren Kilgore, you will probably be the real reason why not only my life, but the lives of two fine children will be safe from here on out.

But just a little more about the experience. LaVerne Terry, Nora Alexander and Hazel Scruggs kidded me a lot about it at the fashion show at Hickman Wednesday. Hazel couldn't believe that the story was true. Hones' injun, Hazel, that is a true story. I thank you for your doubts, however, it makes me think that maybe I'm not as dumb as I really am. . . Least ways maybe you don't think I am.

See you next week. . . with more column, I hope.

H. C. Kilgore hands News Editor Jo Westpheling a few pieces of wood from the load he delivered out to our house in the Highlands. (See Notebook)

South Fulton Council Discusses Plan For TVA Power For City

The City Council of South Fulton met in regular meeting Tuesday night, in addition to routine business, a report was made by Mayor Counce and Councilmen Hugh Barnes and Roy Adams of the sessions attended in Nashville and Jackson by Tennessee Road Improvement Association, wherein ways, means and future development of arterial highways and city streets were discussed in conjunction with the pending road programs now before the United States Congress.

A report was made and a discussion had by the members of the Council concerning the possible sale of bonds, such as is being done in Ridgely and Dyersburg, where a referendum is called for the citizens to vote on the issuance of bonds for industrial purposes. In such instances, it was pointed out, that the bonds are of a revenue nature and would be retired or paid for by the rent from the industrial building that would be constructed with the money received for the bonds and no tax raise would be involved.

The Council indicated a very favorable impression as to this type of bond referendum and expressed the general opinion that such a move is necessary for the continued progress and orderly development of our City. It was indicated from reports to members of the Council from information of the Industrial representatives that such bond referendum should call for an issuance not to exceed three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000.00).

GROUP SEEKS TO COMPEL RAILROAD TO KEEP TRAINS

Commission Says
West Kentucky
Would Be Isolated

The Kentucky Railroad Commission sought an injunction of the Franklin Circuit Court to compel the Illinois Central Railroad Company to continue operation of the only two daily trains now operating between Louisville and Paducah, though the Company complains it is losing money on its passenger operations of more than $210,000 a year.

The motion for a mandatory injunction raises the point that the loss in passenger service, if any, is offset in large measure by increases in freight rates which have been granted the carriers by both the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Railroad Commission on interstate and intrastate business, respectively.

Much of the freight rate increase that has been granted has been obtained because of the loss of passenger business, the petition alleged.

"The people of this area are entitled to reasonable service, and discontinuance of these trains would completely cut off a vast area of Kentucky from passenger service altogether," the petition filed by Assistant Attorney General M. B. Hollifield, related. "It is a reasonable order which the Railroad Commission entered requiring continuance of this service, especially in view of the fact that freight rates were increased to compensate for passenger operation losses."

B. D. Nisbet, a Contact Representative of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board, will be present on Friday, Feb. 17th at the American Legion Home in Fulton to assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service. He will be present from 9:00 A. M. until 3:00 P. M.

The den mothers, the pack Committee, and Cubmaster Nelson Tripp have left no stone unturned to make this the biggest and best event ever held for the eager little Cubs.

Jim Anderson, scout executive from Paducah will be a special guest and Rev. H. E. Russell, pastor of the Methodist Church will deliver the principal address. John Burrow will ask the blessing and Vyrion Mitchell, Jr. will welcome the guests. The response will be made by James Pharis. Dens One and Nine will conduct opening flag ceremony.

An enjoyable feature of the program will be musical numbers by a group of Cub Scouts, who will take the audience on a "Musical Tour of the States." Merit badges will be awarded and a ceremony, "graduating" five Webelos into Scouting will be held. About 300 persons are expected to attend. Cubmaster Tripp will serve as master of ceremonies. Of special interest to Fulton area fans is the fact that undefeated South Fulton, ranked No. 1 in West Tennessee, will be striving to preserve its perfect season record. South Fulton drew a bye in the first round and its first game will be on Feb. 15.

The following week WFUL-FM will carry the play-by-play action in the district tournament from South Fulton gym.

STATE CHAIRMAN APPOINTS LEADERS FOR HEART FUND

Smith Atkins To Be Assisted By Prominent Ladies

Appointment of W. Smith Atkins, Fulton, as 1956 Heart Fund drive chairman for that city during the annual campaign which lasts through February, has been announced by Robert H. Allphin, Frankfort, State campaign chairman. Mr. Atkins will be assisted by Miss Marjorie Holder, Fulton, as publicity chairman and Mrs. David Homra, Fulton, who will serve as Heart Sunday chairman.

Kentucky's 1956 Heart Fund goal is $225,000. Allphin announced, "Heart Sunday," the two-hour, house to house solicitation which climaxes the month-long drive will be conducted in most Kentucky counties on February 26.

Allphin's announcement called attention to the sponsorship by the Kentucky Heart Association, its local chapters and committees of a year-around program of research, health education and community service. The program, he said, "separates the fight against the nation's number one killer and crippling, heart disease."

Gregory Keeping Race Door Open

The Courier-Journal Washington Bureau

Washington, Feb. 6.—In spite of the announcement by former Representative Joe B. Bates that he will seek the Democratic senatorial nomination, Representative Noble J. Gregory today declined to close the door on himself as a possible candidate against Senator Earle C. Clements.

"Of course Joe Bates and I are not going to run against each other," Gregory said, "but since I never have said I intended to run, I see no reason I should say now that I am not going to be a candidate."

Gregory and Bates have been closely associated since 1948, when they were drawn together by the bond of opposition to Clements, whom they had helped elect Governor in 1947.

Gregory's failure to seize the opportunity to support Bates' senatorial candidacy could be interpreted as evidence the Chandler Administration still hopes it can induce Bates to go back to his old seat in the House and give up his ambition to defeat Clements.

Until Bates, against the wishes of Governor Chandler's political advisers, insisted on opposing Clements, Gregory had been serving as an "umbrella" for the State Administration to protect it from numerous hopefuls who felt they have the chance to run against Clements.

As long as Gregory did not publicly declare himself out of the race, Chandler could put aspirants aside by reminding them that the congressman from Mayfield had first claim on his support. Gregory's close friends,

Grocery Stores Top Retail Sales Figure For Fulton County

Fulton Countians like to eat. They also like to buy and maintain automobiles.

These two categories — food and automotive — topped the 1954 retail sales figures for Fulton County, according to a report recently released to the Fulton County News by the Department of Commerce in Washington.

Retail food sales amounted to $3,882,000 and automotive sales and maintenance (not service stations) amounted to $2,350,000 of the total retail sales volume of $12,562,000 for Fulton County for 1954. The report revealed that there are more food stores (54) than any other retail outlets in Fulton County, with service stations and restaurants trailing behind in second place for 25 outlets each.

Retail sales in Fulton County were up 4.3 per cent over sales in 1948 although there were 31 less retail outlets in 1954 than there were in 1948. Coming in for large shares of the total retail sales volume in the county were lumber, building materials, hardware and farm equipment stores with a combined sales volume of $1,071,000. Other retail outlets, grouped together, which include milk dealers, office supplies, novelty stores, etc. amounted to $1,271,000.

Significant in the report is that furniture and wearing apparel stores amounted to less than a million dollars of combined sales with eight furniture stores totaling $432,000 in sales and 13 wearing apparel stores totalling $505,000.

Payrolls for all retail outlets, employing 448 persons totalled only $857,000. (See editorial on Page 2.)

WARREN FAILS TO APPLY AS ATTORNEY FOR CITY OF FULTON

Council Passes
Ordinance Setting Up New Pay Scale

Salary increases in some departments, establishment of vacation and sick leave schedules for employees, and a new salary arrangement for the city attorney were among the items of business attended to at the regular monthly meeting of the Fulton City Council Monday night. Abolishing the 30% commission on fines over $25, which has been in effect for the past two years, the Council set up a flat salary basis of $225 a month, plus a $5 fee on all fines collected up to and including $25.

Only one application was received for the position of City Attorney, and that one, submitted by James Warren, was later withdrawn. At the present time the City of Fulton is without the services of a full time attorney. Mr. Warren, who has held the post for more than ten years did not seek re-appointment.

The salary arrangements for a city attorney reflects a revision of the ordinance passed 2 years ago, which stipulated that the attorney was to receive a flat salary of $110 a month, plus 30 per cent commission on all fines exceeding $25, plus $5 flat fee on each case prosecuted and on which the fine was collected. The present arrangement only eliminates the 30 per cent commission arrangement.

It was pointed out that last year the flat fee of $5 per case . . . (Continued on Page Five) . . .

AIR CRASH KILLS HICKMAN CITIZEN IN IRAQ STORM

Charles Travis
Was In Middle East On Business

A 48-year-old civil engineer from Hickman died yesterday in the crash of a small airplane in the rugged mountains of Iraq. Killed instantly when the craft plunged to the ground during a blinding sandstorm was Charles French Travis, chief of a $550,000,000 Iraq Valley reclamation project for a New York engineering firm.

Two other men—a man on Travis' staff and the plane's pilot—also died in the crash.

Travis had chartered the plane for a flight over some of the land involved in the big project. The pilot apparently lost his bearings in the raging sandstorm.

The bodies were found in a short time and carried to Beirut. Travis' body, which will be sent home on a ship, is expected to arrive in Hickman in about three weeks.

Travis was Middle East manager for the firm of McCarthy, Abett, Tippet and Lidicker. The firm is one of the largest global engineering companies in the world.

Travis had headed other projects for the concern in Turkey, Greece and Israel.

Son of Mrs. Charles B. Travis of Hickman, Travis was born . . . (Continued on Page five) . . .

Retail Sales Figures From Commerce Department Show Urgent Need For More And Larger Payrolls

A story on the front page of today's News should make every businessman in Fulton County sit up and take notice. It reveals some startling facts about our local economy, and in a way these facts are indeed distressing. Why distressing? Look at the facts. We believe that for the fact that the Illinois Central Railroad maintains its terminal here, if it were not for the large payroll of the Seigel factory here, and for the monies spent in the county from agricultural pursuits, this county would indeed be something of a "ghost area."

If Fulton County depended solely on the payroll monies of retail establishments totalling only $857,000 annually, there scarcely would be a city the size of Fulton or Hickman in the county. What is more even this amount would be reduced to an almost infinitesimal figure because, without the monies spent here by these industries retail stores would not need the number of employees they have, they could not sell the consumer goods that they do, nor could they hope to maintain the up-to-date establishments they do.

Study the figures we have presented to you as sent us by the Department of Commerce in Washington. Its a revealing story... a story that should bring forth some studied and serious action on the part of Mr. Retailer, not only to procure more permanent payrolls here, but to do everything possible to maintain the ones that we have.

The figures that have us most interested are the ones that reveal that 205 retail establishments employed 448 people and have a total payroll of much less than a million dollars... $857,000, to be exact. The figures reveal too that 31 retail firms that were in existence in this county in 1948 are no longer in business today.

The Commerce Department advises us that although there was a decrease in the number of retail outlets in the county that actually there was a 4.3 per cent increase in sales volume. This they said was brought about by an increase in the number of milk dealers, (small dairies) with annual sales between $500 and $2500, which they pointed out are important to the county.

The entire report brings us to ask ourselves an important question: "Where do we go from here?"

What has happened to our Chamber of Commerce? What has happened to our Retail Merchants group? What effort is being made to maintain the status-quo of our economy?

In this day of fierce competition among communities to increase the boundaries and the scope of their economies it is not only good business, but a grave necessity that Fulton start the new year with renewed vigor to maintain what it already has for its own survival.

Wayne Freeman Showed Courage In Voting Against Repeal Of Tax On Keeneland Race Horse Gambling

We are sure that it is no secret to you that Wayne Freeman has not been one of our favorite law-makers. We have taken issue with him on many occasions and often vociferously castigated his actions, or lack of action, where Fulton County is concerned.

That is not to say however that we categorically disagree with Mr. Freeman on everything he does. As a matter of fact we'd like to praise him often, if he gave us the opportunity to do so. The other day Mr. Freeman gave us an opportunity to pat him on the back and to admire him for his courage in voting against the repeal of the Keeneland race track tax.

In spite of the intimidation he said he received from the Chandler Administration, Freeman voted against the repeal of the pari-mutuel tax on race-horse betting. Repeal of the tax is bad legislation and benefits only those persons who bet on the races. We cannot see why Governor Chandler was so eager to please the gambling element, when he turns his back on the tobacco farmers by failing to endorse repeal of the tax on cigarettes. We say we cannot understand Mr. Chandler's interest in gamblers - - but we really do!

Senator Freeman voted against the repeal as did Senator Shelby McCallum of Benton. Then what happened? In action that would make Hitler look like a piker, both Mrs. and Mrs. McCallum find themselves fired from the jobs they held with the State Government. The Senators said they were warned that this would happen if they voted against the repeal and it brings a question to our mind... wherefore comes this word "reprisal"... from Frankfort, Germany or Frankfort, Ky.

Senators Freeman and McCallum saw the repeal of the Keeneland tax on betting as a pay-off to the Fayette County gamblers who undoubtedly did a little "horse-trading" during the campaign last year. Obviously their horse won the race and this repeal of the tax is their manner of collecting their "bets" on the right horse.... without a tax.

The entire miserable maneuver is a mess and its encouraging to see two West Kentucky Senators shy away from legislation that surely was hatched in a stable.

Good Newspapers Print All The News - Regardless

The publisher of a southern Illinois county-seat weekly newspaper was recently fined $300 and costs for drunken driving and had his driver's license revoked for one year. He ran the story on Page 1 of his newspaper.

The publication of the Illinois Press Association, in reporting the above facts, doubts that any readers will henceforth prevail upon the publisher to keep their names out of the paper.

During the time it takes to read this editorial some editor somewhere is trying to explain to some distraught parent or wife or husband why he has to use the story that they don't want published. The chances are that his explanation isn't understood.

There is no business like newspaper work. Editors for generations have earned the trust of their readers by printing what they know to be news. Sometimes they would rather not use a story, but every editor knows that he has no choice. To suppress a news story is not only a matter of cheating his readers but it is a slap at the profession which he has chosen as his life's work.

Abraham Lincoln --- A Man With A Bible

HIS LONG, thin legs kept the rocking chair from moving very much. His hands held tightly to the book in front of him; his face was that of a thinking man: Abraham Lincoln was reading his Bible.

Suddenly a man appeared and Lincoln looked up. It was his old friend Joshua Speedy, and the President began to greet him. But Speedy spoke first, glancing quickly at the Bible.

"I AM GLAD to see you are profitably engaged," the visitor said sarcastically.

castically. Lincoln's face darkened for a moment, but he answered simply, "Yes, I am profitably engaged."

Speedy spoke again, "Well, if you have recovered from your scepticism, I am sorry to say that I have not."

Lincoln looked at him thoughtfully and then said, "You are wrong, Speedy. Take on reason alone all of this book that you can and take the rest on faith, and you will live and die a happier and better man."

SOME PEOPLE have always misunderstood the religious side of Abraham Lincoln. Joshua Speedy was but one of the many who were surprised to learn that Abraham Lincoln was deeply religious. In fact, some have even gone as far as to deny the religious element in Lincoln's character.

In 1846 Lincoln first ran for political office in Illinois. His opponents charged, as some do even today, that he was an open scoffer at religion. Lincoln answered with a signed statement: "I have never denied the truth of the Scriptures... I do not think I could myself be brought to support a man for office whom I knew to be

H. L. Milstead is the name of the gent that brought me those old copies of the NEWS about which I wrote a couple of weeks ago. Lives on Green Street here in Fulton. Much obliged, sir!

Understand that TV is playing hob with local theatrical business this winter... to the extent that one house has already abbreviated its schedule on account of too many empty seats. Even so, a lot of theatre men claim that after the first year or two are over, the old crowds drift back to again view snow-free, life-like theatre screens when good movies are shown. Looks like the monkey is on Hollywood's back to quit dishing out the junk and provide honest, interesting entertainment for four bits.

The local Chamber of Commerce office has been closed up and without a secretary for these past six weeks and strangely enough, the omission doesn't seem to have been missed. We have heard little comment on the situation, and it's honestly a sad state of affairs when such a civic stalwart has performed so little that it can close up and not be noticed.

Even so, a committee is presently preparing a scrapbook on 1955 civic progresses to enter the State competition.

Fuckett, Jones & Company have decided to delay the grand opening - with open house celebration out at the new Park Terrace Motel until the restaurant is open for business, probably a few more weeks. Swanky restaurant will match the rest of the modern surroundings, and will come complete with a big view of Fulton from the hill-top. All in all it's a pretty layout.

"When you're in this business of catering to the tourist you are often caught with unexpected and unforeseen situations that are quite apart from ice storms, floods and other causes for suddenly restricting travel. In Louisville last week we were talking to a tourist promotion man who is in charge of a whole regional tourist development, and in reviewing business for last year, discovered that about September or so the tourist travel took an unhealthy nose-dive in his area. "But," we told him, "last year was regarded as the best year in the nation's economic history: greatest per capita income, etc. How can you account for the sudden drop?"

His answer was quite simple and to the point: "Eisenhower's heart attack."

When that news reached the nation, many people suddenly thought they had better stay close to home and to their business, and cut out the extra travel that they might have otherwise planned in this region.

That's what I'd call keeping an uncomfortably sensitive finger on the pulse of the nation.

Local musicians are having a lot of fun these days getting their first taste of recording for radio, out at the WFUL studios in Fulton... and after a few of the technical wrinkles are ironed out, bid fair to produce some good work for broadcast use.

The studio used for making recordings is rather small for a nine-piece orchestra, resulting in some instruments being a little too loud or too soft, and it is going to take more experimentation before they produce the tailored kind of music that you hear on commercial records.

But we will say this, though... we believe that we have the musicians here who can do the job... and WFUL thus is developing a certain amount of "home" music that no other station its size in this area can provide.

Recording sessions thus far have been held in the evening after the station is off the air. In two sessions Nancy Adams has been featured in three vocal numbers and the band in a dixieland version of "Muskat Ramble" for the fourth.

Be looking and listening for more... there's more to come.

THE CALM STRENGTH of Abraham Lincoln's character has always been impressive. He is always pictured as the pillar of strength, our calm and confident leader.

The source of Abraham Lincoln's characteristic calm was his humility before God. This man who went to his room and prayed during the fearsome battle of Gettysburg knew his limitations.

SHORTLY BEFORE the outbreak of the Civil War Lincoln told a friend, "I see the storm coming. If God has a place for me—and I think he has—I believe I am ready. I am nothing. But truth is everything. I know I am right, for Christ teaches that injustice and slavery are wrong, and Christ is God."

Abraham Lincoln was a great man whose greatness lay especially in his deep faith. It was his trust in God that lay beneath his courageous deeds that recalls him to mind each year as one of the greatest of Americans.

MODERN VINEGAR USES

As a household helper vinegar is useful for removing stains on sinks, metal, rugs, clothing, or even on your hands. It is efficient in removing strong odors from your pots and pans and is helpful in soaking away burned foods that stick to these same pans. Try adding a little vinegar to your dishwasher or window-washing efficiency.

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by Marie Holland

Home Demonstrator Kentucky Utilities

No longer is every Monday of the entire year set aside for washing the family clothing and household linens. With the modern home laundry appliance the homemaker launders any day and any time it suits her convenience.

By using an automatic home laundry equipment will save enough time for the homemaker in a single year to provide her with a 17 day vacation.

Today we believe in using our modern inventions to save energy and time for more worthwhile activities. The automatic washer and automatic dryer have revolutionized home laundering. In addition to the fact that the homemaker spends more time when using the conventional washer, she is on her feet every minute, lifting heavy wet clothes as she puts them through the wringer and rinses them. With the operator giving her entire uninterrupted attention it usually takes around 40 minutes to wash 8 or 9 pounds of clothes in a wringer type washer. The time required for them to supervise each load in an automatic washer is less than five minutes.

Basing a week's washing of seven loads on these figures, it would require a homemaker to spend 4 2/3 hours at her washer when using a wringer type washer and about 35 minutes when using an automatic washer.

With the right know-how, almost anything that is washable can be washed in an automatic washer. Different fabrics

TAKE SOIL SAMPLES NOW

I am urging farmers to take samples of fields to be tested during month of February. This is one job that we can get out of the way and at the same time be of some help to the laboratory that does the work for us. Take samples from all fields and specify just what these fields will be growing in 1956. Following recommendations given you and with an ample supply of moisture, our fields will be as good as we expect them to be.

Don't Overgraze Green Fields

Farmers will have the urge to over pasture their grain crops during the warm weather this spring. It is all right to allow livestock on such fields a few hours each day, provided the grain is not too short. Cattle and sheep will chip it close to the ground and practices such as these should be avoided. When the soil is spongy with moisture, you should keep all livestock off of your fields.

GRAZE FESCUE

It is safe to graze fields that are well sodded with Fescue. This is one grass that will withstand such treatment at this season of the year. Be on the look out however, for any clover that begins to show signs of growth and do not allow livestock to overgraze where it is growing.

FERTILIZE PASTURES

Many farmers are of the opinion that it is too costly to go to the expense and trouble of fertilizing pastures, but I doubt if there is any crop grown on your farm that will respond to good treatment more than will a good pasture. Many farmers in the first place sow a pasture to "rest the land" when actually land is hard at work if it is producing a good pasture. Added plant food pays big dividends when applied at the proper time and at rates of application which will release enough plant materials for maximum plant growth. If your farm is well stocked with livestock numbers, I recommend that you use maximum recommendations in fertilizing your pastures.

A series of farm meetings has been scheduled for Graves County, February 13 through 24.

The purpose of these meetings is to acquaint those interested in dairying with the newest and most efficient methods of cutting cost of production and increasing dairy income by taking advantage of labor saving ideas in feeding and management of cows.

As an example specific local cases will be presented showing how local farmers have cut labor in half and at the same time increased production thereby showing a larger net profit with less effort on the farmers part.

The program will be presented in the form of colored pictures both movie and still shots. Also a colored entertainment movie will be shown. Everyone is invited to attend these meetings held by Jim Pryor, Agriculture Agent, ICRR and the Pet Milk fieldman.

Following is a schedule for colors, types of soil, water conditions and temperature, other washing aids, and the particular washer make up the recipes.

Water is the most important ingredient in the washing recipe. Soft or softened water should be a must. If water is hard, a mechanical water conditioner hard water, then only a synthetic detergent should be used. Soap is satisfactory only in soft or softened water. Hard water soap causes a sticky curd that spots and yellows clothes.

The size of the load can make for good or poor results. Overloading so that the clothes cannot move freely through the water means that soil cannot be removed satisfactorily.

COUNTY FARMERS MAY COOPERATE WITH NATION IN ACP PROGRAM

It's time to sign up again in the Agricultural Conservation Program, says M. O. Champion, Chairman of the Fulton County ASC Committee. Farmers of Fulton County have an opportunity again to cooperate with the farmers of other counties and states in strengthening the Nation by improving the country's ability to produce food and fiber.

Farmers who plan on carrying out a conservation practice prior to June 30th should make his request for cost share immediately. The initial sign up period began February 1st and ends April 15th. After that time requests will be considered subject to available funds. The program will be reopened July 1st for fall practices.

The 1956 Program is open to any farmer of Fulton County who would like to use the ACP to help him conserve the soil on his farm and improve the productivity of his land should contact his local ASC committee or call at the county ASC office located at Hickman, Kentucky.

Farmers who cooperate in the 1956 ACP will be helping to build up the Nation's soil reserves, says Mr. Champion. Not only will they be protecting the Nation's soil and water resources against erosion and waste, but they will be building into the soil a resistance to erosion as well as storing up production potential in the land.

With the Nation's farm plant now geared to produce ample supplies of most major foods there is no need for any increase in the acreages of the important grains and cultivated field crops. But there is an opportunity in 1956, the Chairman points out, to use the ACP to strengthen our soil reserves by increasing the acreage of cover and green manure crops, pasture and hayland, and to increase the stores of nitrogen, phosphate, calcium and potash and other elements, where needed for plant growth. The county office is open every day except Saturday and Sunday to help farmers with their Agricultural Conservation Program plans for the coming year.

CAREFUL PRUNING OF TREES TOPIC OF CAYCE LADIES

The Cayce Homemakers Club met Jan. 26, in the home of Mrs. Parnell Garrigan. Mrs. Lyle Shuck, vice president, presided in the absence of the president.

Mrs. W. B. Sowell gave the devotional and read the thought for the month. Roll call was answered as each one thought to herself "What is my wish for the New Year?" Two visitors were present, Mrs. J. E. Logan and Mrs. Lora Owens.

Mrs. Sowell gave the report of the Advisory Council meeting and also explained the purpose of the Extension Advisory Committee. Mrs. McLeod discussed how this committee will be made up and what the duties of it will be.

It was voted for the club to send a donation to the National Polio Fund.

Mrs. J. P. Wilson gave the landscape lesson on pruning trees. It was brought out how little pruning is necessary and never prune the tops of trees. She said to always keep in mind and plant the kind of tree that

The major project, on recreation, was given by Mrs. Sowell and Mrs. McGaugh. They discussed the six age groups, and their characteristics, and what type of recreation they each need. An interesting statement was given "What you are when you teach 65 yrs. is exactly what you were at 35 yrs. except more so."

Games were played and songs sung, and then the club adjourned to meet February 23rd at 10:30 A.M. with Mrs. J. P. Wilson.

Nineteen jackets were awarded to outstanding members of 4-H clubs in Boyle county.

Final Date Announced For Cotton Allotments

S. E. Holly, office manager for Fulton County ASC, stated today that the final date for making application for a 1956 New Grower Cotton Allotment was Feb. 15, 1956.

The main eligibility factors are (1) the applicant must not be interested in an old cotton farm. An old cotton farm is one that now has an allotment established for it. (2) He must be the owner or the operator and live on the farm and be largely dependent on income from this farm for his livelihood.

Diary of Doin's

—Around Fulton—

The News writes social happenings about you and your friends.

Everyone's spirits are out of COLD STORAGE today --- what with the good old SUN shining so brightly --- a walk out onto the terraces discloses the fact that a tulip or two --- or a hyacinth --- have DARED to peek through the soil --- and we shudder for fear that they have been a little TOO daring as we recall their fate of LAST year --- but it helps to lift us out of the doldrums that seem to take command of this season during the year. Comparable to the warmth that comes with a sunny day is the warmth that kindles old friendships when a former resident comes home for a visit ---

Late Sunday afternoon the Diarist joined the host of friends of the Graham family who were streaming in and out of the spacious Third Street home to welcome Mildred Graham Campbell and to meet her interesting husband, Don, of Charlevoix, Michigan. Mildred and Don, you know, were married on Dec. 25 in Charlevoix, and this was the first opportunity for Don to meet all of his newly-acquired relatives, "in-laws" and friends. This nice gentleman was an instant hit with all. We were most impressed when Don said, "This is just the nicest town and the finest people I've ever met."

It is a tradition in the Graham family that when an occasion arises for entertainment --- the whole family lends a helping hand.

The lovely affair Sunday was given by the two Graham sisters (and their husbands) Ruth Maddox and Frances Roper, and they were assisted by Dixon Graham, Nelle Graham, Treva Graham and Mildred's childhood friend, Nelle Owen Exum. And let us NOT forget to mention those two dainty cherubs --- Jen Ruth Browder and Ann Ray Maddox, the youngest of the families, who stood by the Valentine decorated refreshment table looking like the real live Valentines that they are.

About 75 attended the Open House between the hours of 3 and 5. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. David Graham and Billy Milner from Clinton and Mrs. H. L. Newton of Union City.

The Campbells will stay in Fulton until Friday, then they will leave for an extended visit in Lawndale, Calif. They will stop in Albuquerque, N. M. to visit with a cousin of Mildred's, Ruth Bugg Howard and Harold, who formerly lived in Fulton.

Other parties planned for the popular couple were a dinner party at the Derby-Cafe given by Ray, Treva, Nelle and Robert Graham on Monday night.

Nelle Exum was hostess at her home on Second Street Tuesday night complimenting Mildred Campbell with a lovely dessert party. Nelle was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. J. Owen who poured coffee, from the beautifully decorated table which held as its centerpiece a large milk glass bowl filled with red carnations. Laverne Varden also assisted the hostess in serving.

Thirty ladies, who have always been good friends of the honoree, were included on the guest list. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. H. L. Newton, Mrs. Chester Caldwell of Union City and Mrs. Lonnie McCorkle of Obion.

Galen Varden was home from Memphis State last week and with him came his good friend and fraternity brother (Kappa Alpha), Joe Wall of Elaine, Ark. The boys stayed here with Galen's parents, Laverne and Grady Varden at their home on Pearl Street, from Thursday until Saturday --- then they headed toward Joe's home in Arkansas where they visited until Sunday --- then back to the "grind" at school.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis had an enjoyable trip the past weekend. They drove down to Memphis for a visit with the T. K. Russells. Everyone in Fulton remembers the delightful Russells who spent several years in our city while T. K. was Superintendent of Dining Car Service for the Illinois Central. The trip served a dual purpose for the Davises as they met Joe's sister, Thelma (Mrs. Gervaise) Russell, who "planned in" to Memphis from Oklahoma City. Mrs. Russell will visit with the Davises for a few weeks.

Margaret Homra entertained her bridge club on Thursday evening at her home on Norman Street. Ruby Boyd Poe held the high score for the games and Josephine Omar was low. The hostess served a delightful party plate to her guests. Those who attended were Helen King, Andy DeMyer, Martha Mahan, Margaret Cagrell, Eunice Mitchell, Kathy Jones, Ruby Boyd and Josephine.

Martha Leneave entertained her bridge club on Thursday night at her home on Cleveland Ave. Two tables of "young ma- trons" belong to this club and they get together twice each month for games and "talk." Mary Louise Warren was a guest at the club and displayed the fine art of bridge playing by taking away the high score for the evening. Elizabeth Burrow won the Bridge-Bingo prize. During the evening Martha served refreshments to her guests. Those who attended were Martha Putnam, Laverne Varden, Lucy Daniel, Louella Wiggins, Elizabeth Rice and Mildred Bugg.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mulcahy were honored with a wedding shower last Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Noles. Mrs. Mulcahy is the former Frances Daugherty of Owensboro, Ky. Hostesses for the delightful occasion were Mrs. Noles, Mrs. George Bodkin, Mrs. Guy Heithcock and Mrs. Ray Tucker. The young couple received many nice gifts. After an evening of entertainment the hostesses served lovely refreshments. Those attending and sending gifts were: Mr. and Mrs.

Delbert Mulcahy, Delbert Earl and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mulcahy, Mr. and Mrs. John McRee, Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, Mr. and Mrs. George Bodkin and David, Mr. and Mrs. Lester B. Merryman, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ruddle and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Choate and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. John Worley and Nina, Mrs. Daisy Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Harpole, Mrs. J. N. McNeilly, Mr. and Mrs. Delton Bone.

Mr. and Mrs. Dulon Adkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Adkins, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Eaves, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Heithcock, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tucker, Joyce Lynn, and Betty Jane, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Butterworth, Mrs. W. H. Purcell, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Merryman, Jonelle Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Carver, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. John Clayton and Judith, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stinnett, Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Heithcock, Mrs. Jewell Stinnett, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Binford and Diane, Bro. and Mrs. J. F. McMinn and Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Noles and Donnie.

We can imagine how Nancy Bushart must have felt Tuesday afternoon when her mother, Maree, gave her a surprise party to celebrate her 14th birthday. When Nancy arrived home after school she was greeted by "Happy Birthday" wishes from about 20 of her girl friends. At 5 o'clock they were invited into the dining room where they were served a delicious supper from the table decorated with the Valentine motif. Then Nancy opened all of her presents. Then, to make the evening complete, the whole gang "took off" for that game of all games, the Fulton versus South Fulton basketball game! The friends of Nancy who attended the party were Martha Herring, Patsy Fall, Chan Covington, Judy Burton, Jeanne Burnette, Lynn and Susan Bushart, Eugenia Harris, Patsy Smith, Susan McDade, Sandra Latham, Carol McNeilly, Eva Jo Reams, Carol Neely, Sonja Babs, Judy Harrison, Lynn Holloway and Suzanne Johnson. (The Diarist wishes you many more happy birthday, Miss Nancy!)

Rachel Hunter Williams served as hostess for her mother, Mrs. A. G. Baldrige, when she entertained the Tuesday afternoon bridge club at the Baldrige home on Fourth Street. There's an unusually good news angle to this item because Rachel was pinch-hitting for her mother who was confined to a local hospital. (You may rest assured that Mrs. Baldrige was there in absentia). For "come the rains and leaden snow" --- the Tuesday-Club will meet and enjoy this pleasant pastime as they have for many years.

Winner of the high score for the games was Mrs. Clint Reeds and Mrs. Wilmon Boyd received a guest prize. Rachel served a delicious frozen salad plate and hot tea.

Those playing were Mrs. R. C. Pickering, Mrs. Sarah Meacham, Mrs. Ben Evans, Mrs. L. O. Carter, Mrs. Clint Reeds, Mrs. Vester Freeman, Mrs. Guy Gingles and Mrs. Wilmon Boyd.

James and Elizabeth Ann (Roper) Hart and their two little girls, Rebecca Ann and Susan have returned to their home in Indianapolis, Ind. after an extended visit with her parents, Lawson and Frances Roper on West Street. Everyone is happy that the Harts have completely recovered from an automobile accident that occurred on their return home after having spent the Christmas holidays with the Ropers. The accident occurred on the Fulgham road

Four girls, voice students of Mrs. M. W. Haws, presented two delightful numbers which were much enjoyed by the audience --- "Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair" and "The Big Brown Bear." The girls taking part were Mollie Wiley, Janet Allen, Melinda Powell and Susan McDaniel. They were accompanied by Mrs. Haws.

James Allen Willingham, substituting for the scheduled speaker who was ill, gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the White House Conference on Education which he attended last year. Mr. Willingham said that he did not believe much federal aid would be forthcoming in the near future, and that in his opinion it would be up to the individual states to help themselves. He made the point that the Kentucky Constitution and certain laws made this very difficult in our state. Following the program a delicious tea was served from a

All Churches Of Fulton District To Be Included

Plans for a leadership training school in incorporating all Methodist churches of the Fulton Sub-district were laid at a meeting held at the Fulton church Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. M. W. Haws, who will act as dean of the school, presided over the meeting, which was attended by 24 ministers and laymen from ten Methodist churches in this sub-district. The school will be held March 11-15, and will include three courses. The purpose of the classes is to give aid to those already teaching Sunday school and to cultivate new teachers. Outstanding speakers have been obtained to lead each of the courses.

One course is for parents and present and prospective officers and teachers of the children's division of the Church School; the second is for youths 15 through 23 years of age and for present and prospective adult workers with youth; the third is for all other members of the church.

Speaking briefly at Sunday's planning meeting were Mrs. Haws, Rev. H. E. Russell, pastor of the host church, Rev. R. L. Dotson, Jr., pastor of the South Fulton Circuit and enrollment secretary for the school and Rev. Charles O. Frey of Water Valley, financial secretary.

Mrs. Haws served cake and coffee to the 24 attending, assisted by Mrs. Stella Yates and Mrs. Jessie Harris.

Dr. Baird stated that the quota is set at $2,051 this year. This is slightly higher than the quota last year because of the increased amount of aid given to disaster stricken areas in the nation.
Flood damage has been extremely great these past few months and every community in the nation has been asked to contribute more. Many Fulton residents have always given generously of their time and money in the past and this year more money and more workers are needed to fulfill our part in the tremendous work of the American Red Cross.

A discussion was had relative to the steps and procedures leading to the construction of a system for the distribution of T. V. A. electricity, upon the expiration of the Kentucky Utilities franchise in the next few months. This proposal had, also the unanimous approval of the Council and it was thought a bond referendum would finance this, with no tax raise, the bonds to be paid for by revenues from the consumers, with a considerable saving to consumers, as is the result, such as in Union City and other nearby cities served by T. V. A.

Plans are being formulated for group and city wide discussions of the necessity of the city for the construction of an Industrial Building, after the bonds have been sold and a suitable site acquired by the city. It was hoped that all citizens would consider the entire matter and after the advantages and benefits resulting to the community were shown, then there would be favorable and enthusiastic approval of such bond referendum.

SOUTH FULTON SCHOOL NEWS

by Martha Weeks

Howdy! We are just so proud to be here! I know you're saying, "Why" that sounds like Minnie Pearl. We have another Minnie Pearl alias Doris Harris in our school. The Junior class sponsored a Variety Show last Friday afternoon with the benefits going to Polio. I didn't know we had so much talent in our high school.

We had another Southern Assemblies Program Monday afternoon featuring Leo Gasca and his friend Mike. These performers showed their fine skill in juggling and acrobatics.

The Sophomore and Junior classes took part of Tuesday off and went to Martin, Tennessee to see the movie "Julius Caesar." A while back the Sophomore class sold small letters, the kind you iron on. Prizes were given Tuesday morning for the three who sold the most. Norma Hendon received a nice compact as first place winner. Glenda Coates received a nice ball point pen as second place winner and last but not least Joan Tune received a bottle of fragrant perfume.

The Seniors have ordered their invitations and graduation cards. They will be real nice. I know. (The cards, not the Seniors.)

Nancy Crews has a new pen pal. It seems that her algebra class has taken quite an interest in him.

Well, our Devils did it again. They beat Hornbeak in a thriller last Friday night. Final score 61-34. Jim Vowell was high point with 19 points and Tommy Hughes was next with 16 points.

The Devilettes couldn't stand up under the mighty Green Waves, led by Miss Robertson, and so were defeated by 24 points. The Devilettes didn't stop scrapping though they were being defeated.

Tuesday night the mighty South Fulton teams met the Obion Indians in the gym at Obion. The Red Devils won 91-62. South Fulton now has a perfect season with 25 straight wins. We sure hope that they can do the same in the county tournament next week.

INTERNAL REVENUE TELLS TAXPAYERS OF OBLIGATIONS

Regulations regarding persons who must file Federal tax returns on their 1955 incomes remain unchanged from last year, District Director Wm. M. Gray of the Internal Revenue Service reminded Kentucky taxpayers.
Those under 65 who had a gross income of $600 or more must file. Those 65 or over must file when their gross income was $1,200 or more.
Net earnings of $400 or more by self-employed individuals require filing. Mr. Gray pointed out also that persons with incomes of less than $600-$1,200 for those 65 or over should file returns to get refunds of such taxes as may have been withheld from their earnings.

 Noble Gregory
for Happy Chandler in the primary. I would retire Earl Clements from the Senate.
"I think a lot of people voted for Happy on the strength of that promise. I don't think they would feel I had lived up to my side of the bargain if I left to somebody else the job of beating Clements."
As long ago as last April, efforts were made by the Chandler organization to persuade Bates to settle for return to the House instead of nomination to the Senate. He was as adamant then as he is now.
Recalled 1951 'Promise'
Warned then that the promise to send him to the Senate might not be kept, Bates replied he had no doubt Chandler would try to get out of his agreement, just as he slid out of a promise to support Bates for governor in 1951.

Supported by Gregory, Bates was on the verge of announcing as a candidate for governor in early February, 1951. A day or so before he was to make his plans known, Bates and Gregory got a message from Chandler asking for delay.
The Major-League baseball club owners had set a meeting for March 12 at which they were to decide whether to fire or retain Chandler as commissioner. Chandler wanted Bates to withhold announcement of his candidacy because, if the owners discharged him, he might want to make the race for governor himself.

The club owners did discharge Chandler, but, although he flirted extensively with the idea of running against Lawrence W. Wetherby in the 1951 primary, he finally abandoned the idea - just as he had forced Bates to drop the idea. "Chandler's failure to enter the contest in 1951 was one of the factors which caused the Clements-Wetherby-Beauchamp organization to underrate his strength and determination last summer."

Sought To Deflect Ax
Rebuffed in his plan to run for governor, Bates knew he was a likely candidate to be gerrymandered out of office when the number of Kentucky Congressional districts was reduced from nine to eight as a result of the 1950 census.
He made first an effort to deflect the ax to Brent Spence, with the argument that Spence was of retirement age anyway. Failing in that effort, he sought to have the blow fall on Frank L. Chelf, with the argument that the state would have a more equitable division of population if Chelf's Fourth District were carved up.
But the Wetherby Administration protected both Spence and Chelf and legislated Bates out of office. For its efforts, it saw Chelf in active support of Chandler's candidacy last summer and Spence uninterested in helping Bert Combs.

BE ON ALERT FOR RHEUMATIC DISEASE

"Strep" Throats
May Be Beginning
Of Other Ailments

With the "strep" season nearing its annual peak parents are being urged by the Kentucky Heart Association to be especially alert to signs and symptoms that might indicate this forerunner to rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease.

The remainder was issued by Dr. Leslie H. Winans, Ashland, KHA Board chairman, who said that "knowing when to call your doctor and what to tell him about your child's sore throat may forestall an attack of rheumatic fever, the cause of more heart damage and of more long-term crippling illness in young people than any other disease."

As a guide, Dr. Winans outlined a list of questions about "strep" throat prepared by the Heart Association. "Call the doctor if you get positive answers to these questions," Dr. Winans advised. They are: Did the sore throat come on suddenly? Does your child's throat hurt most when he swallows? Does it hurt most below the angle of the jaw when you press gently there with your fingers? Are the glands swollen there? Does he have a fever of between 101 and 104 degrees? Does he have a headache? Is he nauseated or has he vomited? Has he been in contact with anyone who has had scarlet fever (also a "strep" infection) or a sore throat?

Prompt treatment is vital, Dr. Winans stated, since "first attacks of rheumatic fever can generally be prevented with penicillin—or other modern drugs."

Winter weather multiplies occurrence of "strep" infections many times, Dr. Winans pointed out, adding that "many, perhaps most" school-age children will have "strep" infections between now and April. He suggested that parents wishing further information should

Great Strides Made In County With Soil Conservation Work

(Ed's Note: The News is pleased to print herewith the annual report of the Fulton County Soil Conservation District.)

The Fulton County Soil Conservation District has completed another year of service to the farmers of the County. This completes the 7th year the District has operated in the County.

The Board of Supervisors who administered the program were: Charles E. Wright, Chairman; Robert Adams, Sec. Tres.; Clint Workman, Jamie Wade, and Joe Barnett members.

U.S. Soil Conservation Service personnel assigned to the District were Charles Meunier, work unit Conservationist, and Scott DeMyer, Conservation Aid.

As a board serving all the people of Fulton County in matters of soil and water conservation, we take this opportunity to report our accomplishments, problems, and needs. Your Board of Supervisors serves without salary and carried on the policy making and governing of the Fulton County S. C. D. The Board meets each month to check district progress and needs.

This board attended and took part in the State Convention of Soil Conservation District Supervisors held at Kentucky Dam Village.

The district again co-sponsored an essay contest on Soil Conservation. The Louisville Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and Louisville Radio Station, W. H. A. S., are the state sponsors of this contest. Students at both County High Schools participate in the contest.

S. C. S. Technicians trained a 4-H Club Team in Contour Cultivation and assisted Vocational Agriculture at Cayce High School with their Soil Conservation events. Land judging meetings were held with the F. A. Club of Cayce High School. Cooperators entered the Tom Wallace Contest and The Save and Enrich our Soil contest. Three tree planting demonstrations were held with farmers and agriculture students.

Erosion along the public roads in the District was discussed with local officials of the Highway Department. This resulted in having about ten miles of Highway banks shaped and seeded. The Board expresses thanks to the Highway Department for doing a fine job with this project.

The District took part in observing Soil Conservation District Week as proclaimed by Gov. Lawrence Weatherby and County Judge Homer Roberts. A radio program was presented each day during the week.

The Board appreciates the space given to news articles and other material by the Fulton Daily Leader, The Fulton County News and the Hickman Courier Newspapers. We are also grateful for the time given by Radio Station WFUL, Fulton, Kentucky.

One hundred and seventy-eight requests for assistance were received from farmers using A. C. P. services. The A. S. C. Committee transferred $1,598.00 to the Soil Conservation Service to hire additional help. All requests were serviced.

The accomplishments of the farmers requesting assistance from the Soil Conservation District are listed below, and reflect a part of the assistance given the District by U. S. Soil Conservation Service personnel.

Contour Farming, 1,639 acres; Cover Cropping, 3,179 acres; Strip Cropping, 34 acres; Crop Rotations, 9,210 acres; Pasture Seeding, 4,940 acres; Tree Planting, 7 acres; Wildlife Areas, 13 acres; Fish Ponds Stocked, 31; Drainage, 100 acres; Open Ditches, 4.3 miles; Ponds Constructed, 60; Waterways Developed, 25; Land Clearing, 311 acres.

During 1955 eighteen farming units became cooperators with the District. Complete Conservation plans were prepared for 32 farms. The District now has 335 cooperating farms covering over half the land in the county.

The Board is grateful for the progress made during its seventh year of operation. We realize the big task is still before us. People in general are not concerned about the depletion of our soil and water, our trees, wildlife and minerals. It is our legal responsibility to try and awaken the people to their responsibilities. Our job is impossible without the active cooperation of businessmen, civic clubs, professional people and private citizens. Our aim is a complete conservation farm plan applied on the land of every farm in Fulton County. We believe this objective is worthy of the support of all people, just as it will benefit all people.

Your Board of Supervisors welcomes the advice and services of all those interested in the Conservation of our basic resources—Soil and water.

Respectfully submitted, Charles Wright, Chairman

FIRST OF SPECIAL SESSIONS TO DEAL WITH ROAD PLANS

First of four scheduled special legislative sessions to be called by Governor A. B. Chandler following adjournment of the regular session will deal with the topic of highway building and improvement, the Governor's office disclosed.

During his campaign for office last year, Governor Chandler promised he would be known as the "road buildingest Governor you ever had." He also promised that if a bond issue were necessary for modernization of Kentucky's highway system, he would have no hesitancy in submitting that issue to the people, and seeking their approval of it.

Second of the sessions will deal with the proposed governmental reorganization of a number of agencies, to be followed by a third on the state budgetary requirements and the fourth will be to provide adequate means of financing the program.

News From The TELEPHONE FOLKS

Here we are again, the "Hello Girls," bringing you our news.

We are glad Mary Frances is much better and able to come back to work.

Mrs. Roberts, Mary Frances and little "Becky" McKnight shopped in Paducah, Monday.

We're glad the lightning didn't damage anything at the Bob McKnight home during the rainy spell we had last week. It struck something nearby.

Several of our girls attended the all-night singing at the South Fulton gym Wednesday night.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Mary Ellen Ashby, Sylvia Yates and Wanda McClanahan in the passing of their uncle, Mr. Arch Stallins. Also to Betty Burcham, whose father-in-law, Mr. Jack Burcham of Clinton, died last week. Betty is one of our operators on leave.

We're going to miss Betty Harper in our office very much. Betty is going to Detroit to join her husband. Several of our girls presented Betty with gifts and a farewell banquet at the Derby Cafe last Thursday evening. Those attending were the honoree, Betty Harper, Hazel Clark, Eunice Seath, Wanda McClanahan, Helen Allen, Bobbie Brown, Helen Campbell, Joyce McDade, Carolyn Mann, Dorothy Young, Marion Lee Oliver, Joan and June McKinney. Joyce and Marion Lee presented her with gifts.

Some of our girls attended the Stanley Party Bobbie Brown gave Friday night.

Doris Winfrey has promised to take us all for a ride in her lovely new Chevrolet. We don't want to miss it either.

Janie Barber visited with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barber this week-end.

We want Sara Ross to be more careful on the bridges near her home at Ruthville. Some of them seem to fall in
