Doctors To Vacate Offices In Old Convalescent Building In January

By DEBBIEN LEE
Staff Reporter

Members of the Murray-Calloway County Hospital Board were told Thursday night that it is hoped to have all the doctors' offices out of the old convalescent care building and turn it over to the contractors by the middle of January.

Stuart Poston, hospital administrator, said that presently three doctors have their offices in the building. The razing of the building is necessary to the beginning of phase two of the construction process.

A one-floor northeast addition, which will house a new surgery suite, new x-ray rooms and expansion of the current emergency room, is included in this phase.

Poston said that phase one is about one week from completion. Three floors of the northwest wing and the south addition make up phase one.

The first floor of the northwest wing includes maintenance, laundry, purchasing, cafeteria, laboratory and morgue. The second floor is the long-term care unit, and the third has hospital beds. The south addition houses administrative offices and board room, business office, nursing administration, medical records and additional dietary offices.

Poston also informed board members that the architect and the contractor have requested a meeting with the board within the next 30 days, prior to the beginning of phase two.

County Judge-Executive Robert O. Miller said he felt that a meeting would serve no purpose in view of the past and present difficulties the board has had with both the architect and the contractor.

Harold Hurt, board member, suggested that the board write the two firms a letter stating displeasure with their past performance and restating the terms of the contract. Poston agreed to write the letters.

Dr. David Barrett, hospital

pathologist, and David Walker, chief laboratory technician, appeared before the board to explain the lab's need for a new biochemical analyzer.

It was noted that presently lab tests are costing the hospital $1.69 per test for a minimum of 50 tests per day. With the addition of the new equipment, Poston said, "The cost per test will drastically be reduced, and we will save up to $70,000 per year." The board voted to lease the machine.

The hospital administrator told board members that Department of Health, Education and Welfare staff had revisited the hospital this week to follow up on the plan of correction they submitted after doing a validation survey three months ago. HEW selects two hospitals in the state to validate the findings of the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Hospitals.

In other action taken at the board meeting:

— Board members were informed by Poston that plans have been made for an auction of any usable items from the old convalescent care building.

— Four revisions to the medical staff bylaws were presented by Dr. Donald Hughes, chief-of-staff, and were approved by the board. Included among these revisions was the requirement that all medical staff members establish evidence of satisfactory participation in continuing education programs.

— The board was told of the resignation, effective Dec. 25, of Dr. Vasil Yosifov, an emergency room doctor.

— Dr. Hughes expressed his appreciation to the board for their cooperation during his year as chief-of-staff. Poston said that Dr. Bill Wilson will be the new chief-of-staff beginning in January.

CHILDREN EXCHANGE GIFTS — The Murray-Calloway County Jaycees treated 33 children from the Murray area to a Christmas party Wednesday. The children exchanged gifts and were also visited by Santa Claus, who gave a present to each child.

MSU Still Wrestling With High Power Bills; Changes Sessions

By LOWELL ATCHLEY
Staff Reporter

Faced with power bills that may soar to $350,000 over budget, Murray State University continues trying to cope with its high utility costs.

Murray State University President Constantine "Deno" Curris told MSU Board of Regents members the university is trying a number of utility cost-cutting measures including renegotiation of its contract with Murray Electric System.

The MSU Regents, in a Thursday afternoon session, agreed to shift the university back to a two five-week summer session system; revived a university student appeals board and revised the faculty overload compensation policy.

The Regents meeting Thursday began with an unannounced executive session which was closed to the press and public. Although most notices sent to media about the meeting indicated it would begin at 2:30 p.m., actually regents met behind closed doors, having lunch during the session, beginning at noon, according to one radio newsmen who was there setting up equipment. The newsmen indicated the regents did not vote to go into the closed session to "discuss personnel (matters)" or other items that may be handled in executive session as outlined in the Kentucky open meetings law.

Curris told regents Thursday the university is re-negotiating its contract with Murray Electric System Plant Board and is asking for a different rate demand structure.

Under the university's 1975 contract with Murray Electric System, the university pays on a 12,500 KW minimum-20,000 KW maximum billing structure. Regardless of whether the university uses the minimum 12,500 KWs, it is still billed for that amount. Curris said seldom does the university use over 12,500 KWs. Monthly electric bills at the university will range from $105,000 to $120,000 per month.

University officials reportedly want a structure based on actual use.

Curris said also he has approached Tennessee Valley Authority about a demonstration project for the university regulating electrical demand on campus.

The university president said university personnel are exploring the feasibility of a new fossil fuel boiler which would "allow more flexibility in what fossil fuels we burn."

Curris said the university cut its electric consumption by 10 percent during October but the electric bill for that month was 28 percent more compared to October, 1977.

Curris said the university has put almost $250,000 discretionary funds "on hold" in case it needed the money for the extra utility costs.

Two Summer Sessions

The university board of regents, acting on Curris' recommendation, established two five-week summer sessions to replace the current three week intersession and the eight-week summer term.

Curris said his recommendation came after "a review of enrollments in our intersession and summer term programs and a survey of summer programs at other institutions." The MSU president said the "change will make our summer programs more attractive to prospective students as well as providing increased opportunities for faculty development." Students will be permitted to take no more than seven semester hours each session, while faculty will be appointed to teach no more than six hours, or two courses during the whole summer program, Curris said.

The regents delayed a decision on a new summer tuition rate charge structure because Dr. S.M. Matarazzo, a faculty member on the board, said the new charges would mean a large increase for graduate students taking up to nine hours.

Regents established a general policy authorizing a base stipend of $1,000 per three credit hour overload course effective next spring. The current overload policy compensates instructors and assistant professors at $660 while associate and full professors get $720 per three hour overload. Curris said the new pay will bring university instructors up to par with that of adjunct professors from outside the university.

Revive Board

In addition, the regents Thursday revived the student appeals board, appointing six faculty members and three students to it. The new board is in compliance with a new Kentucky Revised Statute.

In other action from the regents meeting:

— The regents established a degree of Master of Science in accounting. Curris said the only other MS in accounting programs in this area are at Memphis State, University of Illinois, St. Louis University and at the University of Kentucky.

— Regents empowered university officials to give mid-year degrees.

— Curris said the university has bought seven parcels of land between 16th and Waldrop which will be used as outdoor recreation areas.

— The president said the new university student center construction project is two months behind schedule due to a concrete pouring error.

— Curris said Project Apollo, the university's special program designed for Upward Bound students, is funded on a continuing basis and is becoming a model project for the Eastern U.S.

— He said razing of Orchard Heights units, once used as low cost housing for married students on campus, will probably take place in mid-79.

'Sweetlooking Girl' Arraigned On Hijacking Charges At Marion

MARION, Ill. (AP) — Passengers said she was a sweetlooking girl, her blond hair in curls. But her finger was placed firmly on what she said was a bomb. And she was angry.

That's the way passengers on TWA Flight 541 described the 17-year-old girl who commandeered their DC-9 jetliner, holding their fate in her hands for about 10 hours Thursday before she surrendered.

"She was very beautiful," said Army

Sharp Late-In-Year Price Hikes Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration is anticipating sharp late-year rises in consumer prices as government economists try to determine just how much worse inflation will be in 1979 than they had forecast.

The Labor Department was releasing its November report on consumer prices today, with administration officials expecting little change in an inflation rate that is hovering around 10 percent this year.

November marks the first full month of operation for President Carter's latest anti-inflation program. But Carter's inflation fighters say it will be at least mid-1979 before the program

Youths Charged In Assorted Window Breaking Incidents

Murray Police have arrested two juveniles, charging them with assorted window breaking incidents over the last few days, a police spokesman said today.

In a case worked by both Murray Police Department and Calloway County Sheriff's Department, police Thursday night arrested the juveniles charging them with criminal mischief in connection with shooting windows, mailboxes and street signs.

The spokesman said the youths are charged with shooting a slingshot-type instrument, breaking windows in the home of Bobby Faith and Ruth Calhoun in the city and Roy Cothran in the county. The spokesman said most incidents occurred in the Gatesboro and Canterbury subdivisions.

Pvt. Levi King of Seattle after completing the flight early today in Kansas City, Mo. "But I knew she was serious — particularly when she yelled that she would blow the whole plane up."

"She kept talking about how her mother died in the helicopter and her family had disowned her...I told her that I was in the same boat, and that this was no way to take revenge."

"But she wouldn't listen."

The girl — identified by the FBI as

Robin Oswald, a high school dropout from St. Louis — had demanded freedom for convicted hijacker Garrett Brock Trapnell. Her mother was killed seven months ago in another air piracy aimed at freeing Trapnell.

Miss Oswald was arraigned as a juvenile. Charges were not announced, as is customary under Illinois law. No hearing date was set.

The 87 passengers and crew aboard Flight 541 were unharmed, and many escaped or were allowed to leave the jet hours before Miss Oswald's surrender at about 8 p.m. CST Thursday.

The girl had said she would blow up the plane with dynamite, the FBI said, demanding Trapnell's release from a federal prison here.

Bernard Thompson, an FBI agent trained to deal with hijackers, spent hours talking to Miss Oswald before she gave up, the FBI said.

Authorities said the girl was not armed, and what she said was dynamite proved to be railroad flares wired to a doorbell.

"She was very calm. She never raised her voice," said passenger Bud Zaret, of Monsey, N.Y., of Miss Oswald.

FOR SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1978

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If certain persons complain that you're more concerned about career than with them, it only means they want to spend more time with you. Oblige them today.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Getting the house ready for holiday now should provide fun for all, but news from a distance may be slightly aggravating.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Rambunctious children may wear you out now, but join them in their concerns. Togetherness now brings thoughts of marriage to singles.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Extra work about the house should not lead to an argument with a close one. Assign definite tasks, so that no one will feel overburdened.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) Put aside worry by making holiday plans. A work situation seems like a duty, but loved ones are receptive to your party plans.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) How much to spend and what to buy — these are the questions for today. Avoid impulse buying, as shopping around will lead to better value.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If someone on the homefront irritates you, avoid anger and present your viewpoint logically. Others will be receptive to your ideas.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't let someone's angry words disturb inner peace. Instead, go shopping by yourself and get those special presents for loved ones now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A busy day of socializing will keep you in good spirits. 'Tis the season to be jolly,' and you may very well join others in caroling.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Only a Capricorn would spend this day concerned about business, yet you're not at fault, for opportunity is all around!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) This is not a day for doing things by yourself. If your privacy is interrupted, join others in their plans. Be open to the suggestions of a close one.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) You'll want to be fit as a fiddle for this holiday season, so if you feel like going to a gym or health spa today, by all means do so!

YOU BORN TODAY are both practical and intuitive. Your hunches aid you in business and your ability to diagnose physical ailments would make you a good physician or nurse. At times, your visionary nature can interfere with worldly progress, yet you have progressive ideas which can make you an innovator in your field. Though you love art and beauty, your desire for a practical return on the investment of your time may make you feel more comfortable in the business world.

HEALTH

Eliminate stress factors

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — When I read about someone having stomach ulcers and what you doctors say cause them, it makes me want to write and tell you what I found out about myself that gave me bleeding ulcers. It was smelling tobacco smoke, smelling perfume of all kinds such as hair spray, washing powders, after-shave lotions. A person needs to find out which one he or she can stand to smell. When I have my car filled with gas, I get out as that will also cause me to have a bout of ulcers. This is just a small list that one needs to learn about what bothers them.

Most people think a mild cigarette won't bother you, but it will. I pity poor little babies who have to breathe tobacco smoke. They fuss but mothers don't realize the smoke is burning their stomach, eyes and ears. I know. I suffered about 10 years in and out of hospitals. Now I am healthy and haven't been to a doctor for eight years except for checkups.

Dwayne Bucy Is Injured

Dwayne Bucy is a patient in Room 344, Hopkins County Hospital, Madisonville, Ky. 42431, after having sustained injuries to both hands in an accident while teaching industrial arts at the Providence High School.

Bucy suffered the injuries on Dec. 4. He has undergone surgery two times, and will have to undergo further surgery at later times.

The injured man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Bucy of Murray, and is married to the former Edwina Vance, who is employed at Uncle Jeff's, Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Vance of Murray.

Persons may send him cards and letters at the hospital.

DEAR READER — Glad to hear that you are better and that your problems have abated. After all these years, the truth is we really don't know what causes stomach ulcers. It's kind of interesting that the peptic ulcer that is so frequent today was rather rare a hundred years ago. Specifically, the duodenal ulcer. That's one reason we think the high rate of ulcers we've been through is associated with stress.

The stress translates into increased production of acid by the stomach which in turn is associated with the ulcer. We do know that the ulcers and digestive problems are much more common in a group of people who smoke than in those who do not. I presume that your reaction to fumes and tobacco smoke and other odors is a stress reaction, which in turn caused you to produce more stomach acid.

It's also rather interesting that the high incidence of peptic ulcers seems to be diminishing: No one knows why. It may be because people aren't subjected to as much stress today as they were just a few years ago.

About 10 years ago you could expect as many as three out of five men to have a peptic ulcer at some time in their life. That, too, is interesting because it tends to affect men more than women.

When I see the decrease in peptic ulcers, I am impressed that the change in living patterns that we've seen has begun to produce some important changes in the health picture of the nation. It also points up how much could be gained if people made even a larger effort to improve their life style.

Knowing how you feel about tobacco smoke, I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-6, Tobacco, Cigarettes, Cigars and Pipes. It will give you a summary of what we think about these habits in relationship to health. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

There are new medicines available to treat ulcers by preventing the formation of stomach acid. This is great but the best thing of all for most ulcer patients is to eliminate the stress factors in their lives as well as eliminate coffee, alcohol and tobacco. These improvements in life style will have other important health benefits as well.

Hutchens Couple To Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Hutchens of 1704 Miller Avenue, Murray, and Westview Nursing Home, Murray, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary on Wednesday, Dec. 27.

The couple was married on Dec. 27, 1928, at Grove High School, Paris, Tenn., with the Rev. L. L. Jones performing the ceremony. Their attendants were Treamon Farris, Mable McDougal Rogers, Leon Farris, and Mary Wilkerson.

Mrs. Hutchens is the former Vera Dunn, daughter of the late George W. Dunn, Sr., and Minnie Stubblefield Dunn. Mr. Hutchens is the son of the late W. W. Hutchens and Lissie Hutson Hutchens.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchens are the parents of three sons—Robert E. Hutchens of Oakbrook, Ill., Thomas D. Hutchens of Charlotte, N. C., and Walter P. Hutchens of Murray. They have nine grandchildren.

Due to ill health no celebration is planned.

This Drummer Is Off-Beat

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 17-year-old girl, but I'm very mature for my age. I really dig this dude I'll call Buddy. He's a musician. My father checked up on him, and he won't let me go out with him anymore, but I do anyway.

Buddy plays drums. My father says a drummer is no musician, that a person who plays the piano or violin is a musician, but a drum is no musical instrument so Buddy is no musician. Is that right?

Also, my father found out that Buddy isn't 23 like he said he was. He's really 31. Another thing, he found out that Buddy isn't divorced like he said he was—he's only separated. I can't see that it makes any difference as long as he isn't living with his old lady.

So I have two questions to ask. 1) Is a drummer a musician or isn't he? 2) As long as a guy is a gentleman, don't you think I should be allowed to go out with him?

BUDDY'S CHICK

DEAR CHICK: A drummer IS a musician. But Buddy appears to be a liar. And a liar is no gentleman. I vote with your father. Buddy should take his drum and beat it.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has not come near me, even for a kiss, since my hysterectomy almost two years ago. My scar is nice and neat, not repulsive or ugly. My husband can't stand anything that's damaged or imperfect.

He's the type who goes around our property cutting down all the trees that are damaged or imperfectly formed. We are in our mid-40s. Please print your answer. I can't profit from it.

HURT IN ASHLAND, KY.

DEAR HURT: You are not a tree, and there is no reason to regard as "imperfect" a woman who bears a scar. Your husband has a far more serious "imperfection," which doesn't show. He needs professional help to get to the root of it.

DEAR ABBY: I have been a member of Parents Without Partners for three years, and I wish more people knew what this wonderful organization IS—and what it IS NOT!

First of all, it is NOT a lonely-hearts club, or a husband-hunting ground. Only about 10 percent of the members marry someone they have met in the organization. I have watched many men and women come and go, bitter and disillusioned because they have joined PWP to find a mate.

I joined this group for my children. So we could go places and do things with others in the same boat. This is the good that PWP does that no one ever talks about. They have fantastic group discussions concerning problems from raising children to divorce, to dating, to marriage. They have family outings, picnics, plays and camp-outs, and all the work is strictly on a volunteer basis.

The purpose of this organization is to teach serious-minded people how to raise a family without a partner. And when they learn that, they are ready to look for one.

I am sorry to say that not many stick around long enough to gain all the benefits because when they don't find another partner right away, they leave the organization to hunt in other places.

PWP has taught me how to battle loneliness, how to stand on my own two feet and raise a family without a partner in a Noah's Ark society.

MOTHER OF FOUR

DEAR MOTHER: Thanks for your fine recommendation. I have checked out this wonderful organization and endorse it.

Poinsettia Legend For Yule Is Told

NEW YORK (AP) — The tradition of the poinsettia as a plant symbol of the Christmas season in the United States stems from a Mexican legend which tells of the custom in a certain village of placing gifts before the church's creche on Christmas Eve.

According to the legend, a small boy, with nothing to give, knelt to pray in the snow outside. In the spot where he knelt, a beautiful plant with scarlet leaves grew immediately, and he presented it as his gift to the infant Jesus.

The Mexicans called the plant Flor de la Noche Buena (Flower of the Holy Night). It was introduced to the United States in 1828 by Dr. Joel Roberts Poinsett, first U.S. minister to Mexico.

The story of how the poinsettia got its name, along with the history of the Christmas tree, the Yule log and the holly bush, is one of the seven holiday aspects covered by the "Story of Christmas" exhibit at the Kodak Gallery in mid-Manhattan through Jan. 7.

The Sovereign God Dwells With Us

John 1:1-5, 14-18

Christ is the Lord

This remarkable passage of scripture contains some rich and important truths about the eternal and historical aspects of Christ, the Son of God, the Messiah of the Jews, and the Saviour of sinners, which are not revealed elsewhere.

Christ is the Logos (Word)—John 1:1-3 Logos is the Greek term which has been translated "Word." Revelation 19:13 tells us that one of the names of our Lord is "The Word." Therefore, it is not surprising that the Gospel according to John opens with the statement, "In the beginning was the Word." Here we are taught that Christ is co-eternal, co-existent, and co-equal with God the Father. There was never a time when He did not exist. The statement, "The Word was with God," reveals Christ's distinct and separate personality, even though an inseparable union existed between the Father and Him. "The Word was God" is a very clear declaration of the deity of Christ. This sweeping declaration of His essential deity is confirmed throughout the New Testament. Any lower estimate of Him is certainly insufficient and untrue.

Christ was the agent through whom God created all things. This being true, it follows that if our Lord Jesus Christ is the creator of all things, then He is God. This is the force of the declaration, "All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made." Of all things that exist in the material universe there is nothing that came into existence apart from Christ. This same truth, that Christ was the creator and not a mere creature, is reiterated with Pauline clarity in Colossians 1:1-17.

Christ is the Light

Christ is the source of all life and every living being is dependent upon Him for the sustenance of life. He, who is the source of all life, is also the light. In the incarnation Christ was the light blazing in the darkness, but men would not receive the illumination which He brought. To realize that it was a dark world into which He came, one needs only to be reminded of the cruelties and brutalities to which so many were subjected at the hands of those who did not know and love God. Through all the intervening centuries Christ has kept on shining in the midst of the darkness, ignorance, and hostility of the sinful world, but happily the darkness has never been able to extinguish the light. Christ has kept on shining, regardless of whether or not men have received and utilized the light provided by Him.

When Christ Jesus came into the world which He had created the masses of the people rejected Him, but there were individuals who received Him and became the children of God. Being children of God means having God as our Father, Christ as our Saviour, the Holy Spirit as our Guide and Comforter, the saved as our brethren, and the angels as our friends. We have the inestimable privilege of direct access into the Father's presence, of feasting on the bounties from His table, of enjoying the protective shelter from the storms that rage about us, of having fellowship with His children, and of the comfort of His glorious companionship.

While Christ dwelt here in the flesh He exemplified and demonstrated grace and truth. He is still full of grace for those who do not deserve anything, and full of truth for those who as yet are in ignorance. His life here was a splendid manifestation of the glory of God.

Jesus Christ was both divine and human. While He sojourned on earth, after His incarnation, He was as divine as He had been previously. While here among men, He brought the glory of God within human view, understanding, and appreciation, and exhibited the Father in such a way that those who came to know Him knew the Father also. Believers in Him beheld His glory and drew from His inexhaustible supply of divine wisdom, power, and love. From us, whom He has saved, He rightfully expects an absolute trust in Him and an unquestioning obedience to Him. While testifying gladly to His grace, mercy, and power, let us live for His praise and glory.

Statements Do Not Fit

NEW YORK (AP) — Something just doesn't fit, and it's somewhat akin to Santa Claus and the chimney, as you might conclude after comparing these two statements made in just the past few days.

—From Citibank's survey of consumer confidence:

"High prices and sharply decreased buying power have combined to give American consumers their worst case of economic jitters since the end of 1976, the latest Citibank survey shows.

"The survey showed the consumer confidence index, based on the proportion who are optimistic versus pessimistic, has dropped to 30, lowest since just after the presidential election two years ago."

—From a spokesman for a large Midwest department store chain who asked not to be named:

"It appears this will be at least the third straight very strong Christmas."

Citibank's survey is supported by similar studies by other consumer analysts. And the department store spokesman's comments are repeated by large numbers of other retailers.

Varying conclusions can be drawn from this evidence: that sellers exaggerate; that polls mislead; that jitters are conducive to buying. And to some extent, there is a degree of truth in all three.

You can hardly blame a retailer for reporting good business, even when business is only fair, because his job is to sell. Reports of strong sales, it is felt, make the reluctant buyer feel he is out of step.

It's an old story, the report of booming sales before Christmas and then cash-raising sales a week later. And polls can mislead, despite an ability sometimes to foretell broad economic directions and levels. Long ago, some polls told of consumers too fearful to be interested in cars and houses, whose sales soared.

But are jitters conducive to buying? It seems that way, because the allegedly jittery consumer has bought and bought, and borrowed to buy more. This is a documented fact. And it has prolonged the expansion.

The more meaningful question is why consumers are acting in this strange way, and the apparent answer is they have become cynical, and convinced that what's economically bad today becomes worse tomorrow.

Fully four in five of those accounting for today's spending say they have troubles living within their budgets. Two of three say conditions will worsen in the next six months. Or so the Citibank survey states.

Should the buying pattern continue through the winter, the economic expansion will have reached the ancient age of four full years, second longest of the entire 20th century. And all thanks to the consumer.

But in order for that to happen, the buying public apparently will have to further strain the budget, go further into debt and, if the polls are on the mark, become even more jittery.

Contest To Return

Dear Editor,

Due to the energy crisis and the severe winters of the past two years, the Garden Department of the Murray Woman's Club did not sponsor its annual "Christmas Decorating" contest for the homes and businesses in Murray.

We hope to resume this special event in coming years. Many homes in Murray and Calloway County have been decorated for the holiday season and we congratulate these residents for their talents and efforts.

Best wishes for a happy holiday season.

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

Teng's Taiwan Concession

WASHINGTON—When Teng Hsiapong closed a two-hour interview with us in Peking Nov. 27 with a seemingly wistful desire to visit Washington someday, he was just nine days away from a fateful move intimately connected to the bold Soviet push in Asia.

Prime Minister Teng on Dec. 5 called in Ambassador Leonard Woodcock, chief of the U.S. liaison office in Peking, to break the long impasse over full diplomatic relations between the U.S. and Communist China. In effect, the Chinese strongman indicated his government would look the other way at U.S. arms sales to Taiwan.

To make such a tacit concession, Teng had to be concerned about the inextinguishable Soviet pressure on Iran, Pakistan, Indochina and the Western Pacific that is dramatically altering the world balance of power. His feeling that only a Sino-American alliance can effectively confront the polar bear led him to countenance what Peking had always deemed intolerable.

The official U.S. position is that President Carter's announcement last Friday night was not playing the China card against Moscow. Nevertheless, administration insiders admit Soviet pressure from the Horn of Africa to the Western Pacific helped hasten agreement with Peking. Certainly, that is the view of national security adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski, whose visit to Peking last spring started negotiations leading to diplomatic ties.

And there is no doubt whatever of the anti-Soviet intent of the Chinese government. In our interview, Teng actually used the word "alliance" in describing a U.S.-Chinese combination against the Kremlin — a phrasing that surprised and fascinated U.S. officials. At the least, Teng wants a Sino-American treaty similar to the Sino Japanese treaty that so infuriated Moscow.

It does not solve massive problems posed by the Soviet offensive, aimed at the West's oil supply. But it temporarily provides a psychological boost for nations deeply concerned about Carter's irresoluteness in the face of Soviet aggressiveness.

Among such nations, a spot check on Embassy Row here indicates the lift given by the U.S.-Chinese combination far surpasses concern that abrogation of the U.S.-Taiwan defense treaty indicates Washington as an unfaithful ally. One astute ambassador told us the Taiwan question is more a matter for American domestic debate than world consideration.

But any implication that Carter was abandoning the Nationalist regime on Taiwan to the Communists would have prevented an agreement with Peking. Accordingly, it was significant that Teng told us Taiwan poses no huge problem and in fact is far less formidable than the barrier shattered when Richard Nixon opened the China dialogue in 1971.

Teng moved toward a solution when, during our interview, he threw out the tantalizing hint of a capitalistic Taiwan permitted even after political unification with the Communist mainland. More to the immediate point was Teng's agreement with Woodcock Dec. 6: he would — though, very reluctantly — cause no uproar over an extra year of the U.S.-Taiwan defense treaty and, particularly important, continued arms purchases.

When we visited Taiwan shortly before going to the mainland, the realistic Nationalist goal appeared not so much to prevent the inevitable transfer of the U.S. embassy to Peking but to buy high-performance aircraft as a deterrent to the Communists. Although Carter has rejected such requests, influential figures in the administration will be pushing him to change his mind.

Nothing in the joint communique issued in Washington and Peking Friday prevents the U.S. from selling a proposed new all-weather version of the F-5 to the Nationalist regime. Although invasion of Taiwan is surely at the bottom of Peking's priorities, U.S. help in establishing a deterrent would dull charges of betrayal.

Teng could not have agreed to look the other way regarding such sales unless he and his Western-oriented faction were solidly in control. The U.S.-Chinese agreement is not an effort by Teng to consolidate his power but rather a validation of his supremacy in China today.

Anticipating what happened last Friday, officials on Taiwan told us Washington's play of the China card would be quickly followed by Peking's play of the Russian card. But the mood in Communist China is thoroughly anti-Soviet and the need for economic, diplomatic and military ties with the West is dominant.

The new Washington-Peking relationship is no substitute for a more resolute U.S. attitude toward the Kremlin, but it surely is no Communist trap. Teng's eagerness to combine with the Americans against the polar bear is genuine, even to the point of putting Taiwan on the back burner.

Thoughts In Season

By KEN WOLF

In these days' worries about the energy crisis compete for our attention with predictions of ecological or economic disaster.

These words of Blaise Pascal (1623-1662), a brilliant French mathematician and religious philosopher, alert us to the importance of human reason in the face of nature's challenges:

Man is but a reed, the most feeble thing in nature; but he is a thinking reed. The entire universe need not arm itself to crush him. A vapor, a drop of water suffices...But, if the universe were to crush him, man would still be more noble than that which killed him, because he knows that he dies and the advantage which the universe has over him; the universe knows nothing of this.

Disabled veterans are now being alerted to a provision of a new law that could mean an additional $175 a month in VA compensation payments to them. The added payments are authorized by "The Veterans Disability Compensation and Survivor's Benefits Act of 1978," which was signed on Oct. 18 by President Carter. In general, veterans eligible for the additional payment are those who suffered the service-connected loss, or loss of use, of one extremity from non-service-connected causes.

The veteran must have been rated less than 100 percent disabled by VA for his service-connected injuries to be eligible for the newly added compensation for non-service-connected loss. Currently, the average monthly VA compensation payment for a veteran with service-connected loss of a leg, or its use, is $211.

The VA is issuing a special appeal for assistance from national veterans organizations in locating disabled veterans who may qualify for the new benefit. VA chief Max Cleland explained, "Our computers can identify veterans who have service-connected loss of extremities, but we have no way of knowing how many of them have subsequently lost a paired extremity from non-service-connected causes." Cleland urged any disabled veteran, who believes he might be eligible for the additional payment to contact the nearest VA regional office, or a member of one of the veterans organizations in the community.

Paducah Drug Case To Be Heard In January

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — A multiple drug offense case involving four persons from Cincinnati is to be heard by the McCracken County grand jury when it meets in January.

Felony charges against the defendants were taken to the grand jury following a hearing in District Court on Tuesday. The charges stem from a city police investigation of forged prescriptions and the passing of prescriptions at Paducah pharmacies last month.

Charges against Carmon Leonard include three counts of making forged prescriptions. Willie Thomas is charged with first degree wanton endangerment and several counts involving forged prescriptions.

The wanton endangerment charge stems from an incident around Nov. 22 when Thomas allegedly tried to ram patrolman Danny Midyett with his automobile.

Charges against Bobby Williams and Patricia Jolly include counts of uttering a forged prescription and trafficking in a non-narcotic controlled substance.

All four defendants have received 20-day jail terms on misdemeanor charges in connection with the case. The illegal prescriptions were allegedly used to obtain or attempt to obtain quantities of Preludin, according to police warrants.

Illinois Judge Orders Murderer's Release

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — A Circuit Court judge in DuPage County, overruling objections from prosecutors, has ordered the release of a man acquitted of his father's murder on grounds of insanity.

Judge George Unverzagt ordered Wednesday the release of David Hamby, 26, following a series of hearings.

The judge stipulated that Hamby must continue receiving psychiatric treatment after his release from the Madden Mental Health Center in Maywood. He also ordered him to undergo group therapy and continue taking a drug to control his psychosis.

Hamby had been held at the mental hospital since being acquitted Oct. 20, 1976, of the murder of his father, John G. Hamby, 53, a Chicago lawyer who was slain in Elmhurst.

Hamby is to live in Frankfort, Ky., with an uncle and was ordered by the judge to continue as an outpatient in the Bluegrass Mental Care Center there.

Second-Half Sag Dooms Murray To 7th Defeat

Northeast Louisiana, Trailing 36-30 At Half, Rallies Behind Natt, Hall

By TONY WILSON
Sports Editor

For halftime intermissions, Northeast Louisiana coach Lennie Fant says thanks. For halftime intermission and everything after last night, Murray State coach Ron Greene says no thanks.

With the Racers leading 36-30 after the first 20 minutes of action, Greene watched the Indians outscore his team 37-21 thereafter for a 67-57 victory in the Sports Arena that dropped Murray's record to 2-7.

"We played a great first half, got the lead, then folded up our tent in the second half," said Greene. "We were a completely different team out there."

The Racers used 65-percent shooting in the first half to vault to their early advantage. By intermission, Murray forward John Randall had nine rebounds, and Keith Oglesby had 11 points on 5-of-7 shooting.

At game's end, however, Randall had grabbed only three more errant shots to add to his total, and, though Oglesby scored 10 more points, he was the only bright spot. Murray sank just 8-of-22 shots as the Indians pulled steadily away.

"It was a question of our experience, I think," said Fant, who is in his last season of coaching after 21 previous years at the school. "Murray seemed reluctant to take the outside shot in the second half, and we cut them off inside."

The Racers led by as many as eight in the first period at 34-26 with 2:32 left on Randall's turnaround six-footer, a distance that Murray rarely eclipsed in the first half. Of its 17 first-half baskets, eight came on layups.

"We were hitting the open man, being patient, all the things that I looked for in the first half," said Greene. "I just can't explain what happened after that."

percent every time he steps out on the floor," Greene said. "But other than him, we have a lot of people that like to coast. That won't win ball games."

To Fant, the victory was past due. "We lost to games in overtime (to Texas Tech and Lamar) because we didn't play smart. We had the lead and the ball, and looked like freshmen out there."

"But when we got the lead in the second half tonight, we were able to fall back into the zone and make them shoot from the outside," he said.

The game was marred by 39 fouls — 20 in the first half — that kept play ragged and enabled Northeast Louisiana to shoot 22 free throws (it hit 15) to Murray's 11 (it hit 7).

Why the sudden change in the momentum after the first half, Fant was asked. "Oglesby seemed to be the only one for them who was willing to take the outside shot," he said. "They killed us inside in the first half, so we felt like we could give them the 20-footer and win."

The loss broke a two-game win streak for the Racers and enabled the Indians to even their record at 4-4. Murray travels to Memphis State Saturday to face the Tigers in an 8 p.m. contest.

"It's hard to get ready for another game after an ending like this," said Greene. "Basketball is great when you're winning, but this is no fun at all."

Here's a try. Northeast Louisiana outscored Murray 26-10 over the first 10 minutes of the second half and, suddenly, the Indians led 56-48. The Racers managed to cut that deficit to six points three times thereafter, but could get no closer.

The Indians were led by Calvin Natt with 22 points and David Hall with 12. Both Natt and Hall sank clutch long-range attempts to keep Northeast Louisiana in Murray's attempt to rally.

"For us to win, we have to get 40 minutes of intense play from everyone out there," said Greene. "But we're just not getting it."

"Randall, I feel, gives 100

John Randall (rear) jockeys for position with Calvin Natt during last night's Murray State clash with Northeast Louisiana in the Sports Arena. Randall grabbed 12 rebounds, but Natt poured in 22 points to lead the Indians to a 67-57 triumph that dropped the Racers' record to 2-7.

Goodbye Falcons, Oilers

Pro Picker Going With Miami, Eagles In Playoffs

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

In the spirit of the season, with families throughout the nation trimming their Christmas trees, the Miami Dolphins and the Philadelphia Eagles will try and trim their opponents in Sunday's National Football League wild-card playoff games.

Miami entertains a banged-up Houston team in the American Football Conference game, while Philadelphia visits Atlanta in the National Football Conference matchup.

The two games are vital to the matchups in the respective conference semifinals scheduled for Dec. 30-31.

If Philadelphia beats Atlanta, the Eagles would play at Los Angeles and Minnesota would be at Dallas in the second round.

An Atlanta victory would send the Falcons to Dallas and Minnesota against Los Angeles.

In the AFC, if Miami wins, it will play Pittsburgh in the second round while Denver will visit New England. Should Houston win, the Oilers would play New England, with Pittsburgh against Denver.

some of the clubs still trudging the road to the Super Bowl. The picks:

NFC WILD CARD
Eagles 20, Falcons 13

Philadelphia brings the NFL's third-best ground game into this contest, which marks the club's first playoff appearance since winning the NFL championship in 1960.

For Atlanta, this will be the first playoff game in the franchise's 12-year history. The Falcons, whose success is constructed around the fourth-best defense in the NFL, had a cardiac season, winning four games in the final 10 seconds, all by the same score — 20-17.

Both teams finished with 9-7 records and met in the preseason, with the Eagles posting a 24-7 victory.

AFC WILD CARD
Dolphins 31, Oilers 17

Houston is hurting, with many key performers including quarterback Dan Pastorini and rookie sensation Earl Campbell, the NFL's leading rusher with 1,450 yards, nursing injuries.

Miami, meanwhile, seems to be hitting its stride just in time for the playoffs.

In an earlier meeting, Houston outlasted the Dolphins 35-30 with Campbell rushing for 199 yards and four touchdowns.

FOOTBALL FAMILIES
MIAMI (AP) — Miami Dolphin coach Don Shula and place-kicker Garo Yepremian sometimes have other things to discuss than the fortunes of the Dolphins.

Shula's son, Dave, was a crack pass receiver for Dartmouth in 1978 and in the 28-21 victory over Princeton that clinched the Ivy League title he caught eight aeriels for 191 yards.

Berj Yepremian, Garo's younger brother, was a star place-kicker for Florida and booted four field goals in an 18-16 triumph over Kentucky.

Murray High Coasts In 97-56 Rout

Tigers Zoom Past Ballard

By KEVIN PENICK
Sports Writer
Murray High fell just short of the century mark here last night as they routed the Ballard Bombers 97-56 in a make-up game.

The Bombers, now 0-8, seemed to lack the height, skill, and experience necessary to beat the Tigers. Murray outrebounded Ballard 61-29.

snatched 19 rebounds and scored 15 points for Murray even though he sat out the last quarter. Greg Latto pulled down 10 offensive rebounds and Nick Swift, Mike Bradshaw and Ed Harcourt all scored in double figures.

Hal Moss's 16 points and Tally Allen's 15 were the only double figure scoring for Ballard. Murray hit a solid 38 field goals out of 63 attempts (59 percent), while Ballard was way off target, sinking only 21 of 75 tries (28 percent).

Allen scored the first two points of the game for Ballard on a fast breaking layup. Murray exploded into action and scored eight points on four consecutive field goals as they forced the Bombers into a number of early turnovers.

At the end of the first quarter the Tigers were leading 20-11. They never looked back, stretching the lead to 48-28 by halftime.

The physical Tigers maintained their aggressive style of play, yet controlled their fouls better than they have any time this season. "We didn't foul like we have been," said Murray coach Cary Miller. "We had only 11 fouls out of our starters this time out."

The third quarter saw the Tigers leap to a 74-41 advantage. Forward Blake King and guard Tim Bowles both fouled out about halfway through the game, putting the Bombers at an even bigger disadvantage.

Several of the younger Tigers saw action in the fourth quarter. Bobby Daniel picked up five points, and Guy Furr made a three-point play with a driving layup and free throw.

Todd Bradshaw and Howie Crittenden made four points each with layups and Robin Roberts chipped in two field goals from underneath the basket, all in the last quarter.

"The scoring was pretty even across the board for us," said Miller. "Everybody had an opportunity to play and they all gave me a good effort."

"We got a chance to do some things that we have been working on all week and were looking for an opportunity to try. We had a lot of height on them and that gave us the edge on rebounds," he added.

The Murray seniors showed excellent leadership throughout the game as they hit 21-of-28 free throw attempts to make a difference that has been lacking in their previous performances.

Tiger JVs 37, Ballard 34

Murray held a comfortable lead throughout most of the game. Ballard drew close in the final quarter, but clutch free-throw shooting enabled the Tigers to save the victory.

Murray is now 6-1 for the year, while Ballard is 4-1.

Parents Of Crash Victims Say Evansville Insensitive

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Some parents of victims in last year's plane crash that claimed the lives of the University of Evansville basketball team now say the school has been insensitive to their feelings, the Evansville Courier reported in a copyright story Thursday.

Twenty-nine persons, including the entire Aces basketball team, died Dec. 13, 1977, when their DC3 airplane crashed shortly after takeoff at Evansville's Dress Regional Airport.

Use of more than $330,000 raised through donations and benefits held in connection with the mishap is at the heart of the dispute. The parents of those killed had an attorney write asking for information on how much was collected, where it went and why. Several parents expressed displeasure over not being involved in determining how the contributions were spent or in the design of a plaza and memorial being built on campus at a cost the newspaper said was approximately $115,000. The university has declined to give a breakdown on the use of the funds.

A Bowling Weekend

Navy-Brigham Young Kick Off Post-Season Action

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer
The Holiday Bowl at San Diego — pitting the Midshipmen of Navy against Brigham Young University — kicks off the first major weekend of college bowl games tonight.

Navy, 8-3 and a six-point favorite, will have to get its offensive punch from quarterback Bob Leszczynski in the inaugural Holiday Bowl since the Middies' top ground gainer, fullback Larry Klawinski, is sidelined following knee surgery.

The Cougars, Western Athletic Conference champions with a 9-3 record, rely on the passing arms of junior Marc Wilson and sophomore Jim McMahon, who combined for 2,807 yards passing this year. Wilson, a drop-back passer who threw for 1,499 yards, probably will start.

"There's really no suspense," said Navy defensive back Greg Milo. "We know they're going to come out throwing. We've seen the films. I don't think they'll be able to run on us." Navy won its first six games; three by shutout, and is ranked 13th in the nation in total defense. The game begins at 8 p.m. CST and will be televised by the Mizlou network to some parts of the nation.

Bowl activity continues Saturday with No. 13 Maryland, 9-2, vs. No. 14 Texas, 8-3, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas; No. 18 Missouri, 7-4, vs. Louisiana State, 8-3, in the Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., and No. 16 Pittsburgh, 8-3, vs. North Carolina State, 8-3, in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.

On Monday, 17th-ranked Purdue, 8-2-1, meets Georgia Tech, 7-4, in the Peach Bowl at Atlanta, and No. 15 UCLA, 8-3, plays eighth-ranked Arkansas, 9-2, in the Fiesta Bowl at Tempe, Ariz.

The Sun Bowl pits left-handed quarterbacks Tim O'Hare of Maryland against Mark McBath of Texas. O'Hare, who threw for 1,388 yards to lead the Terrapins to the Atlanta Coast Conference title, is more of a passer than McBath. But if the Longhorns need passing, they have senior Randy McEachern, a right-hander.

With flanker Johnny "Lam"

Jones, an Olympic gold medalist in the 400-meter relay, Texas is a one-touchdown favorite. The game, which has a 12:30 p.m. CST kickoff, will be televised by CBS.

"Johnny Lam may be the biggest secret in America," said Coach Fred Akers of the run-oriented Southwest Conference Longhorns. "There's no doubt in my mind he's the finest wide receiver in America. He has hands, heart and, of course, speed."

Former Military Academy Coach Smith Firing Shots

NEW YORK (AP) — The proud and prestigious U.S. Military Academy, rocked in the past by cribbing scandals and violations of its strict honor code, was reeling again today following charges by former football Coach Homer Smith of widespread violations of NCAA rules.

And a West Point official, who called some of Smith's charges "baseless," admitted that "some had substantiation, but we took action to correct them."

Smith, who was fired two weeks ago after compiling a 21-33-1 record in five years as Army's head coach, charged in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press that West Point officials broke NCAA rules "willy-nilly" and said his attempts to have the matter investigated "met a coverup" from Academy officials.

However, Lt. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, superintendent of the Academy, said that "a thorough and extensive internal review of the entire matter" after Smith brought it to his attention last December culminated in "appropriate action to assure that requirements were being properly observed."

Smith's charges, made Wednesday night at The AP's New York headquarters, included allegations of illegal tryouts of prospective recruits; numerous campus visits in excess of the number permitted by the National Collegiate Athletic Association; inequitable distribution of prep school scholarships to favor athletes and using more than the allowed number of active off-campus recruiters.

Kennedy-Aide Convinced Three Shots Were Fired

By BILL BERGSTROM
Associated Press Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A aide who was in the motorcade when President John F. Kennedy was assassinated says reports of supposed evidence that four shots were fired have led him to break a 15-year silence concerning the events in Dallas. Malcolm Kilduff, Kennedy's acting press secretary on the Dallas trip, called the reports Wednesday a "rush to the press for headlines by a new self-styled expert."

Kilduff said Thursday he is convinced only three shots were fired, all from the Texas School Book Depository, as the Warren Commission concluded.

A member of the House Assassinations Committee, Rep. Harold Sawyer, R-Mich., said Wednesday that new evidence from acoustical experts showed four shots were fired, one from a "grassy knoll" along the motorcade route.

"None of these so-called experts were there. I was," said Kilduff. He said the Assassinations Committee had not taken him up on an offer to testify.

Kilduff said he accompanied Kennedy to Dallas because Press Secretary Pierre Salinger was in Japan with Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the time.

He rode in the press pool car, directly behind the Secret Service car which followed the president's limousine, and had a clear view of the grassy knoll, he said. "No one on the knoll was firing a gun."

Kilduff gave this statement by telephone from Lees Junior College at Jackson, Ky., where he is a public relations man.

"In the more than 15 years since President Kennedy's assassination, I've tried to stay out of the various controversies which have surrounded the event. However, the latest rush to the press for headlines by a new self-styled expert has forced me to reconsider my silence.

"A few months ago, when the Select Committee on Assassinations announced that public hearings would be held on the Kennedy and King killings, I made myself known to that committee and offered to cooperate in any way possible.

"In response to my offer, I was asked by a staff member what information I had which would support the 'conspiracy theory.' I told him I had none, and that while I kept an open mind on the subject, nothing I had ever seen or heard convinced me that there had in fact been a conspiracy.

"I have not changed my mind. Nor have I ever heard from that committee again.

"The press pool car in which I was riding on Nov. 22, 1963, was directly under the window of the Texas School Book Depository when the shots were fired. I have never had any question in my mind from which direction the shots came or the number of shots fired.

"There were three shots, and they came from above my right shoulder. From my vantage point I was looking directly at the now famous 'grassy knoll.' No one on the knoll was firing a gun.

"An examination of the Zapruder and all other films will clearly show the Secret Service agents in the followup car turning around and looking above and to their right — at the School Book Depository. Had any or all of the shots originated from the knoll, it would seem only reasonable that at least one agent would have been looking in that direction rather than at the book depository. These simply are the facts.

"I personally am completely satisfied that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone assassin. I am also fed up with the long line of self-styled experts from the now thoroughly discredited Mark Lane to the latest headline hunter, Michigan

Congressman Harold Sawyer. None of these so-called experts were there. I was.

"I would suggest to Congressman Sawyer and his lik that they might do better by paying attention to their legislative duties, or perhaps turn their attention to a review of the guilt of Judas, Brutus and Booth."

PAINTSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said Thursday that surface erosion was responsible for the Paintsville Reservoir seepage which forced the evacuation of this town Dec. 9.

Approximately 10,000 persons were driven from their homes for 36 hours after the leak was discovered at the coffer dam.

The corps released its report after two on-site inspections of the dam earlier this month.

The inspectors, from Cincinnati and Washington, concluded that the erosion occurred "at the east edge of the upstream blanket, which is a layer of practically impenetrable material that prevents water from passing through the dam."

The report said further that the erosion "resulted in water seeping through the dam at that point and eventually getting downstream."

The corps said that since the water has receded, contractors on the project have built a thicker wall on the upstream side of the coffer dam and have built a 48 inch drainage pipe off the hillside to the downstream side of the coffer dam to prevent further erosion.

The dam also is being monitored daily.

The construction and reformation are expected to be completed Jan. 15.

The seepage was discovered by Col. George Bicher, who sounded the call for evacuation.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Julian Carroll has scheduled a news conference Friday to announce this year's findings of the Financial Disclosure Review Commission.

A Special Love Story

Final Chapter

'The Word Became Flesh And Dwelt Among Us'

EDITOR'S NOTE — The Christmas story is really a love story — or, rather, two love stories. It's the love story of Mary and Joseph. And it's the story of God's love for errant man. Drawn from the Gospels and the non-canonical New Testament Apocrypha, this account of how those two love stories became one on that first Christmas nearly 2,000 years ago is the final installment in a fivepart series, "A Special Love Story."

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Love knows no prisons. It recognizes no defeats. It breaks through obstacles, overrides rebuffs. It is sovereign. It prevails.

It prevailed in the case of a troubled husband and his young bride of Nazareth. It withstood the slurs and strange travail that beset them. It bound them fast.

And it offered to bind up a distraught world.

Men resisted it. They ignored, distrusted and defied it. But love would not forsake them. They lost their own capacities for love. Yet they were loved.

Love sought them, reached for them, bent low for them, so very low.

A lowly she-donkey plodded up the red and rocky road toward Bethlehem, carrying the young Jewess, led by her rough-clad mate. They were tired, dusty. But they bore the lost luster of life.

Other travelers paid them little heed. The traffic was thick, and strident with yells of camelers and bluster of litter trains. No one seemed much concerned with anyone. But love was infinitely concerned with everyone.

It is hard to say why. Men had strayed and stumbled. In their willful arrogance, they had fouled their freedoms. They hated, warred, plundered, falsified. They were a hard, harried lot, tortured by dead dreams. The great vision had left them.

But it would not let them go. On the road, the peasant couple paused beside a yew tree, and Joseph looked worriedly up at his wife, fearing she was in pain. Yet, only moments ago, he had seen her smiling with deep satisfaction.

"Mary," he said, "what aileth thee? How happens it that I sometimes see sorrow and sometimes laughter and joy in thy countenance?"

She leaned on her arms, gripping the donkey's mane.

"It is because I behold two people with mine eyes, the one weeping and lamenting and the other laughing and rejoicing."

For there is joy in love rejoined and mutually given, but tragedy in its trampling down. Men would ever misuse, mock and crucify it. But love would not surrender.

Augustus ruled the empire, and Herod wore the crown of Israel, the lords of power and gold, and for these things men craved and clawed.

But scepters fall, and heaped gold narrows the eye. These dazzling goods do not reign. They do not win. They do not nourish the heart, nor fill the void in man.

The truth was much simpler; it knocked at the door.

There was no room in the inn. The place surged with voices, smoke and smells of roasting meat. Distressed, Joseph grabbed the halter rope and started off again. Dogs barked; peddlers' babblers and drays trundled in the deepening dusk.

He led the donkey down a slope at the rear of the hostelry. In the distant valley he could see the campfires of shepherds. Early stars blinked over the mountains of Moab.

He heard Mary moan, and quickly stepped back beside her.

"Take me down," she urged, "for that which is within me presses to come forth."

"Whither shall I take thee?" His voice was desperate, and his hands closed over hers commiseratively. They must go on. They could not stop here in the open on this gravel-strewn hill.

She compressed her lips, nodding. He tugged the donkey on down the hill, along a cliff, his eyes straining to find the livestock cave of which the innkeeper had spoken. Night's sharp chill settled over them. He dragged at the rope, and the donkey held back stiff-leggedly, braying.

"Take me down," she gasped again, "for that which is within me mightily presses me."

At that moment, he spied the dark opening in the wall of rock. He rushed back to her, lifting her in his arms and carrying her into the warmer interior, moving slowly in the blackness, hearing the grunts and breathing of animals about him.

He probed with his feet, found an open space and laid her down. Groping, he collected some straw for a mattress and lifted her on it, rolling his cloak for her head.

He rushed back outside, gathered dry grass and wood and struck fire with his flint, blowing until it strengthened into flame. He jerked the waterskin from the stubborn beast's pack, filled a basin and put it on the fire. Then he fashioned an oil torch and

RECORDS

Marilyn and Billy Dip into Disco

By MARY CAMPBELL, AP Newsfeatures Writer

The career of Marilyn McCoo and Billy Davis Jr. is sustained by their following, but they are, typically for them, rowing ahead instead of resting on their oars.

Their new album, "Marilyn & Billy," on Columbia Records, has a disco danceable first side and a second side with three love ballads, a gospel-flavored song and a blues.

When the first single, "Shine on Silver Moon," didn't do so well in the marketplace, Miss McCoo says the company "re-mixed it, made it longer, added more bottom and more percussion. They looped parts of it so it went from four and a half minutes to seven minutes.

"It was semidisco. Now it's strictly disco," Davis says, "which is okay. That's where music is going today."

Disco music is a new direction for this singing duo, and they find it exciting.

"We're experimenting," she says, "it's a whole different energy level for us. In between albums, Billy and I are constantly listening to music and talking about it and what we like and the direction we see music going and what we would like to do that would be challenging."

A love ballad can become a hit single, even in a disco era, Miss McCoo says, and she mentions Dan Hill, Billy Joel, Barbra Streisand, the Commodores and the O'Jays as people who've had recent love ballad hits — proving she does listen to music. Reggae is going to pop up again as a hit rhythm, Davis thinks.

Miss McCoo and Davis, married since 1969, find show business more crowded now than when they started in the mid-1960s.

"When the 5th Dimension started, it was a lot easier," Davis says. "You've got three or four times as many artists in the street now."

"Marilyn and I have a following based on our kind of music, rather than our latest hit, and based on us as people because of the talk shows we do. We like to do those because we get a chance to be concerned people and talk about constructive things. People can get to know us, that way."

"In my eyesight, it is okay just to be out there working. I don't expect to have hit after hit. I don't think they come like that, especially as competitive as the music market is today. We're lucky enough to be established enough to get bookings until we do have a hit."

Another reason Miss McCoo and Davis have a following is that fans remember them from the 5th Dimension. That group got started in 1966 by Miss McCoo, who modeled while attending UCLA, and Lamont McLemore, who photographed her. One of the three who joined them was McLemore's cousin from St. Louis, Davis.

The 5th Dimension had hits right away. "Up, Up and Away" in 1967, "Stoned Soul Picnic" in 1968, "Aquarius" and "Let the Sunshine In," 1969, and "One Less Bell to Answer," 1970, among them.

In 1975, Miss McCoo and Davis left to go on their own, and they had a huge hit right away, "You Don't Have to Be a Star (To be on My Show)." That won them a Grammy for best rhythm 'n' blues performance by a duo. "You Love" also was a hit, but not as big.

The 5th Dimension made a record, "Earth Bound," for ABC Records in late 1974, Miss McCoo says. Then the company decided to jammed it in a crevice on the cavern wall. He knelt beside her stroking her hot brow. "Art thou quiet?" She murmured, opening her eyes to look up at him, and then abruptly wrenched her face away, the cords tightening in her neck. In a moment, she turned back, smiling weakly, and motioned him outside.

The world slept now. It retreated and slumbered, unaware, uncomprehending, oblivious. Broken from its moorings, it drifted in vague, loveborn discontent, gross, amorphous, without daring or certain destiny.

Where was its meaning? What was its use? A man is but dust in the march of centuries. He felt no all-surpassing love. To him, his God was distant, grand, obscure and rigidly implacable, beyond the stretch of scrawny human arms.

But on this night, that gloomy barricade was swept aside, and all the haunting, shadowy emptiness of man was flooded with the fact of love.

Joseph was pacing outside the cave, and suddenly, although he still walked, his legs seemed motionless. He lifted a hand to his face, but his arm did not seem to move. The earth held still, and he beheld the heavens in amazement.

The Milky Way blazed like a highway of silver. A warm tide banished the chill of earth, and loosed the scent of grass and spring and Eden flowers. Veils of light draped the sky. A million birds singing? No. An angel army. "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace among men with whom He is pleased."

A thousand miles away, distinguished wise men studied the stars, and in the valley, wideeyed shepherds huddled in awe. Joseph whirled and saw the white brilliance filling the cave. It blurred his eyes, and he stumbled toward it.

"And the word became flesh and dwelt among us."

He was here. Now! Theophany on earth! He had come. He cared. Was man worth it? That God should take upon himself the form of a helpless babe in a drafty, dung-strewn cave? Yes, man was worth it. He was loved, dearly loved. He was important, in God's sight.

That was the motive, the meaning, the reason for it all, the making, and health of man — the Divine embrace.

"Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee."

Men were precious, each bungling, benighted one of them.

And this world was dignified, too, its grime and its flesh and its mesty stables. For this is where God came. This is where grace was given. Right in the midst of the shabbiest, dreariest gash in the earth. Not in some rarefied sanctum. But in the seamy world, itself, where man lives and works.

Awake, awake, put on thy strength, shake thyself from the dust."

Joseph, shielding his face, plunged into the urgent radiance. It pulsed and shimmered, and then receded, scattering like a jeweled mist. He could see faintly, and then quite well. All was just as before — the dull stone, the littered floor, the torch on the wall.

Except that now she was up and moving about, dark hollows beneath her eyes, but smiling. In her arms, she held her firstborn son. Immanuel. "God with us."

So this was he. The unsearchable, the unknown. So now men knew. This is what he was like. And he had come to show them, to make them see, and know forever, that he was with them, intimately near, intimately concerned.

Despite men's grievous ways, he was still here. Despite their blunted responses, he came. Humbling himself, offering himself, tenting in the slums and tribulations of man. This was God. The absolute, the invincible, the power that is constant, enduring, the ultimate. This was the Almighty. This was love.

She wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger.

Baboons and chimpanzees have been known to play together, but on occasion a group of chimps will kill and eat a young baboon.

Connecticut is sometimes known as the "Gadget State." It produced the first copper coins, the first stone crusher, the first football, the first dummy, the first submarine torpedo boat, and the first Americanmade steel fishhook.

A Prayer for the New Year

Dear God, as I approach another year, grant me a renewal of your spirit in my life. Rather than making resolutions that I cannot keep, help me to approach all my tasks and habits in the spirit of Thy love. Let Thy spirit, not my will, guide me in all my dealings with others.

As a father and husband, give me the patience to listen before reacting. Help me to think first of what is best for my family rather than what I need to boost my ego. Finally, make my life an instrument of Thy purpose for the world. This is my prayer for the New Year.

Star-studded guide to shopping for your man

Since the beginning of time, astrology has affected personal destinies, affairs of state and matters of commerce. Entertaining yet practical, the Zodiac has played an important role in shaping the course of human events from the Babylonian Empire through the Middle Ages, and is no less important in today's ultra-sophisticated world.

Here's one practical way to make the powers of astrology work for you. This holiday season, let the science of astrodiagnosis help you select the perfect gifts for the men in your life. The twelve signs of the Zodiac are divided into four elements: Earth, Air, Fire and Water. The signs falling under each element are thought to share common personality traits.

EARTH

For example, if your man is a Taurus, Virgo or a Capricorn—all Earth signs—chances are he is energetic, intense, loves the great outdoors, sports and is always on the go. In great physical condition, he's as likely to go off on a wind-jammer cruise around Tahiti as he is to snowsled through Lapland.

Come holiday time this man will be ice skating, bob sledding, and tobogganing. Appeal to his sense of adventure with a bicycle built for two and flatter his well-built physique with the slightly provocative, European look of a well-tailored shirt in a bold geometric pattern from Van Heusen. Be sure the shirt you select is in soft and sensuous Qiana, the fabric that is as easy care as it is luxurious, because this kind of active man has little time to worry about his good looks.

AIR

If your beau is a Gemini, Libra or Aquarius, he is an Air sign. His is a gentle, artistic and sensuous nature. He has great intellectual force and a tremendous interest in the arts, especially music. He'll spend hours during this festive period, listening to everything from Handel's Messiah to Bing Crosby's White Christmas.

Satisfy his cultural and aesthetic yearnings with a pair of tickets to his favorite opera—box seats, of course. Then take him on a romantic horsedrawn carriage ride through the park.

Set a holiday table that's as festive as rest of home

Set a pretty Christmas table this year, by adding little ornaments judiciously to your spread, and by making your food so pretty and ornamental in itself that it will look almost too good to eat.

A sprinkling of little gold balls, red ribbons and red plaster "holly" berries adds a festive touch to bowls of potato chips and pretzels, no less to the large platters that are to hold a sumptuous roast or succulent skewers of meat and vegetables.

A red or green tablecloth helps set the mood, as do red and green candles placed at different points.

Icing a loaf cake and neatly striping it with red and green sugar is a sure-fire success, as are a bowl full of brightly wrapped chocolate candies and a pretty glass filled with candy canes.

WHEN THE MAN IN YOUR LIFE is a traditionalist of the highest order (Cancer, Scorpio, Pisces), why not surprise him with an elegant dress shirt from Van Heusen's collection of classically-tailored Qiana blend shirts, designed in a range of subtle patterns and colors. Add your own special touch with a coordinated tie by Wembley, also in elegant yet practical Qiana.

FIRE

The Fire signs—Aries, Leo and Sagittarius, are ambitious, courageous and enthusiastic about everything. The man who falls under one of these signs is generally hedonistic; an epicurean who craves the luxuries of life. He loves people and adores holiday parties—the bigger the better.

This kind of man enjoys working, playing, loving and relaxing with the same zest. Help him achieve the ultimate relaxation with a jacuzzi attachment for the bath, followed by a hot towel and a Japanese shiatsu massage administered by his favorite geisha, you.

Then double his pleasure quotient by wrapping him up in the softest pajamas in town, created in a silky expanse of Qiana, the fabric that is as sensuous to touch as it is elegant to look at.

WATER

Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces, the Water signs, are considered sympathetic, emotional, sensual and passionate. This is a man who is protective of his family, secure of his position in the business world and a traditionalist of the highest order. He enjoys an old-fashioned Christmas with all the trimmings.

Give him an elegant dress shirt with a look as classic as he is. Choose from Van Heusen's collection of traditionally-tailored Qiana blend shirts, designed in a range of subtle patterns and colors. Add your own selection of coordinated ties by Wembley, also in elegant yet practical Qiana, and you'll be giving him the winning combination he deserves.

Shopping for the man, or men in your life, should be a pleasurable experience. If you follow the Zodiac to successful gift giving, it will be

KEEP A ROSY GLOW in your cheeks even when summer's sun is long gone. To maintain a fresh, healthy complexion all winter, cleanse and moisturize your face regularly. For a new way to care for skin, try Gillette's Body Tender appliance, which features six attachments including soft brushes for face and body cleansing, a moisturizer applicator and a pumice stone to smooth rough skin.

Tis the season to care for skin

The change in seasons signals a change in skin care. Now as the rosy glow of summer fades and the busy but glamorous holiday season demands your attention, it's important to take extra measures to keep winter skin smooth and healthy looking.

To help skin stay fair everywhere this winter, beauty experts at Gillette suggest these tips to "summerize" skin with all but a tropical tan.

- "Stimulate" your skin as you cleanse to bring back that rosy glow. As summer's tan fades away, cold weather causes a slow down in the body's normal blood flow and skin cell replacement system that leaves skin's surface looking dull.

- To help slough away dull, flaky skin and put your best face forward, scrub often with a washcloth or facial brush, or better yet, try a new skin care appliance called Body Tender that features a rotating facial brush to cleanse and stimulate with ease. So small it fits right into your hand, Body Tender is battery operated so it goes right into the bath or shower, for to-to-toe scrubbing, cleansing and buffing.

- Protect your skin from drying indoor heat and chapping winds by generously moisturizing with products especially designed for specific skin types. Oily skin types should use a light moisturizer blended gently with special attention to areas around eyes and neck. Skin that is usually dry requires the extra protection of a heavier emollient cream. New Body Tender also features a moisturizer applicator that gently massages in creams and lotions for deeper protection against dryness. Follow up with a makeup base and lip gloss for outdoor protection.

- Skin on the rest of the body also needs special care during winter. A few drops of baby oil in the bath water will help keep skin smooth and supple. Keep hands out of water by wearing rubber gloves to prevent chapping. Elbows, knees and heels are apt to be rough, too, from the friction of heavy winter clothing.

- To help these areas, Body Tender features both a body brush for all-over skin stimulation as you cleanse and a pumice stone to smooth rough places on knees, elbows and heels.

This winter, think snow if you like, but trick your skin into thinking it's summer.

What's the best of Christmas stuffings? Family stockings!

One of the greatest joys in a generally joyous season is the pleasure of stocking stuffing.

Nothing is quite so much fun as amassing a quantity of tiny goodies to suit everyone in the family from Dad to Fido.

The fun of shopping for the miniature treasures, and the fun of making them is, of course, equaled only by the fun of seeing your family eagerly empty their bawling felt stockings on Christmas morning, with an unending chorus of "oohs" and "ahs."

Special little treats for Mom might include lipstick in a favorite color or other make-up she can enjoy year-round, but particularly on this most special day; little ornaments, decorative combs or bejeweled bobby pins, for her hair; little packets of favorite candy (something which everyone will enjoy finding at the bottom of his or her stocking); a pretty necklace or pair of dangly earrings.

Dad will appreciate a lighter, if he smokes; perhaps a few of his favorite cigars or an aromatic pouch of the tobacco he prefers; a pen he can be proud to carry with him to the office; a shiny leather key case.

Young children of both sexes will enjoy marbles, jacks, a mini deck of cards with a favorite cartoon character on the reverse side; perhaps those cards made with specific games, such as Go Fish or Old Maid in mind;

a box of crayons, felt tip markers or multi-colored chalks; tiny, huggable stuffed animals; a top, a yo-yo, a set of dominos or tiddlywinks; bubble gum (sugar-free for the sake of healthy teeth) for the biggest bubbles in town.

A girl approaching adolescence would certainly appreciate a mirror and lipstick, for the special occasions when she is allowed to don make-up; an address book in which to keep her growing roster of friends; a pretty strand of beads; a nail care kit; a selection of barrettes for her hair.

A young man would enjoy a pocket knife for camping; a razor for his first shave; a gift certificate for his favorite fast food chain; and a nice pen to start his academic career off in earnest.

And don't forget Kitty and Spot. A stocking full of their favorite toys will provide hours of fun for them and you alike.

LEGAL

HOLIDAY

The only religious holiday recognized as a legal holiday throughout the United States is Christmas. Alabama became the first state to declare Christmas a legal holiday, in 1836. By 1890, all other states had done the same.

Joy to the World

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary, His mother, and fell down, and worshipped Him:
 and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.
 Matthew 2:11

We too exult in the divine miracle of the Holy Birth and hope the gifts of its eternal message of Love, Faith and Hope are yours now and forever. At this time of joy and inspiration we extend sincere gratitude to our friends.
