NOVEMBER ELECTION WILL INCLUDE TWO FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Candidates Are Advised
That Filing Opens Sept.
7 And Closes Sept. 22

While the Democrats and the Republicans start out their slugging for the Fall campaign, a great deal of emphasis will be focused on the activities of both parties. I thought you would be interested in a story told me this week that might be a little slanted if it hadn't been related by Rev. Olin Brewer of Dalton, Georgia.

A little boy, in dire financial circumstances was looking forward to the approach of Christmas and knew that good old Santa wasn't going to be very generous around his house. He realized that only the good fortune of God could change the financial picture around his house so he decided then to call on the Lord for help.

He told his mother that he was going to write to God to send him $10. His mother, admiring his faith, agreed to the letter-writing and the little boy took pen in hand to try for a $10 gift at Christmastime.

"Dear God," he wrote, "I am a poor little boy and Christmas is coming on and it doesn't look like I will get any presents in my stockings. Will you please send me $10?"

The postman who saw the card to be mailed was very touched by this sad appeal and since the postman did not have a definite mailing address for the dear Lord, he just decided to send the card to President Eisenhower. The card made its way to the President's personal attention and he too was moved. The President instructed one of his assistants to answer the little boy's request by sending the President's personal card and attaching a one dollar bill.

Well, the President's card and the one dollar bill made its way to the little boy, but the Presidential gift did not fulfill the little boy's desire to have that $10 bill. So, he told his mother he was going to write to God again for that $10 bill and he sat down and wrote:

"Dear God:
"Christmas is coming and I need $10 very badly. If I don't get it I'm afraid we won't have a Christmas holiday in our house. And Dear God, if you do send me the $10, please don't send it by way of Washington. The last time you sent me the money Eisenhower took nine dollars out of it for taxes."

Speaking of gifts I received one the other day. I shall keep it for what looks like some definite use in the future. Somebody gave me a "Chandler for President" badge that was used at the recent Democratic National Convention in Chicago. Who knows but that the badge may come in handy come 1960.

Also in the mail comes another chain letter that looks something like a gag, but if it isn't you can call me and I will be glad to have you be my guest in this latest fad. Sounds like somebody's making fun of my golf game, but here's the letter:

Select one New golf ball of your choice and send it to the first name on top of this list with your name and return address on the package.

Then write ten (10) copies of this letter, cutting out the top name and adding your name on the list as No. 182. Do this with in three (3) days after receipt of this letter.

Your name will come up next time and you will receive one hundred (100) golf balls. To play golf these days a duffer needs 100 balls and it will be interesting to see the assortment you will receive.

Please do not break this chain as others are depending on you as a golfer. If you do not wish to participate please return to me for redistribution.

This is legal since no money is involved.

Each participant is morally obligated to guarantee continuity.

Nelson Tripp Enters Fifteenth Year As Local Cub Scoutmaster

When Cubmaster Nelson Tripp rounds up his pack of Cub Scouts for another full and active year of Cubbing, it will be for the fifteenth consecutive year. The genial, likeable and efficient Cubmaster can look back on many weeks and months of hard work and planning in this worthwhile project, but Nelson can look back with a great deal of personal satisfaction.

Starting with less than five "dens" (Cub lingo for troops) Fulton's Cub Pack has grown to nearly fifteen dens with almost 100 young boys in blue actively participating in the program.

Some of Nelson's first little Cub Scouts are now grown men and leading full and useful lives, much the richer for the first traits of good citizenship they learned in the Cub Pack program.

Carnivals, minstrels, camping trips and Pack meetings have all figured prominently in the fifteen years of Nelson's activities and for his efforts he has been awarded the Bronze Statute, the training course key and the Silver Beaver, the highest award in volunteer Scout work. He has also been Scoutmaster for two National Jamborees.

With personal honors for his work, Nelson has also seen honors come to his pack, for Fulton's Cub Scout program is pointed to as one of the best in the Nation.

Currently the Cub Scouts are working on their annual carnval and as always it bids well to be another successful event for the local Cub Scouts.

Wetherby To Visit Fulton On Monday

Former Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby, a candidate for the United States senate in the November election will visit in Fulton next Monday afternoon, September 10, the News was advised today. Governor Wetherby, who was appointed by the State Democratic Executive Committee as a candidate to fill the unexpired term of the late Alben W. Barkley, is running against John Sherman Cooper, the Republican nominee.

Mr. Wetherby will arrive in Fulton about two o'clock in the afternoon. He will fly to Mayfield Monday morning and spend the morning visiting with Democratic leaders in that city. He will visit in Fulton in the afternoon and then go to Hickman for organizational meetings with Democrats and other leading citizens there.

While State Democratic

Headquarters in Louisville are in the process of organization, early attempts to affect a harmonious and hard-fighting Democratic front are making great headway. William Young, who managed the successful campaign for Earle Clements in the May primary is state campaign chairman. Other prominent Democratic leaders who figured in the campaign of Joe Bates, who opposed Senator Clements, have joined the state-wide Democratic organization forces to bring about the election of two Democratic Senators this Fall.

Senator Earle C. Clements is seeking re-election to that office. His opponent is Republican Thurston B. Morton, former under-secretary of State.

A Saddened Community Pays A Final Tribute To Mrs. Scruggs

A saddened Fulton paid a final tribute of respect to a gracious lady on Sunday afternoon, when funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church for Mrs. Hazel Bennett Scruggs, a beloved and prominent citizen of this community.

The widow of Dr. Joseph Cuthbert Scruggs and the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bennett, Mrs. Scruggs was a member of a distinguished family whose forbears were prominent in the civic, cultural and professional life of West Kentucky.

As a respected and beloved citizen Mrs. Scruggs herself played an important part in the affairs of the community she loved. Although she was not actively engaged in the business life of Fulton, her keen judgment and her enthusiasm for developing worthwhile projects were visible in many activities in which she was engaged.

Mrs. Scruggs had many avid interests. As a social leader she was gracious and charming. As a political leader among the women her advice was sought in many county, state and national campaigns. Many times she served as chairwoman for Democratic campaigns. In these activities she gave unstintingly of her time and she numbered among her close friends many nationally famous political leaders. Within recent months Mrs. Scruggs retired from the many activities to which she had spent many years of her life. Her retirement, however, never lessened her interest in those affairs and up until recently she evinced great hope that she would be able to again participate in her church work, her cultural interests and surely she wanted to again be a part of the coming national campaigns, in which she never lost her enthusiasm.

Mrs. Scruggs had a dedicated interest in her family and her friends. Those friends who have known her always have a wide store of incidents to relate about her generosity, her quiet and devoted acts of kindness and her selflessness in sharing her good fortunes with others, many of whom she never knew.

It is doubtful that there is a person in this area who loved people... all kinds of people... any better than Mrs. Scruggs. While she gave little thought to the joy she spread in remembering her friends and family, and she spread much joy, her gratitude for the kindnesses shown her was boundless. Mrs. Scruggs, in the tradition of her inimitable family, epitomized the hospitality and the charm of the area in which she lived.

I was lunching at a drugstore counter, writes a contributor to Reader's Digest, when a handsome young couple entered and took the only vacant seats - on either side of me. When the shift had been made, the young man announced loudly to the young lady: "Now that the seating arrangements suit this gentleman, we might as well make him really happy and get acquainted."

Sunday when the Rev. H. E. Russell preached words of comfort to the family of Mrs. Scruggs and a eulogy for the deceased, he did so with obvious humility for he knew his parishioner well. For sincere humility was a characteristic Mrs. Scruggs possessed.

The mounds of beautiful blossoms that embanked the altar of the church were mute testimony of the esteem in which Mrs. Scruggs was held by her community.

Her death leaves a hard to fill niche in the hearts of her friends and family.

Democrats Unite For Fall Campaign

Democratic leaders are moving speedily this week in Kentucky to produce a unified campaign for both the national and state tickets of party nominees, following an agreement at last week's conference in Knoxville that this will be done, Wm. A. Young, state campaign chairman, announced today.

Both Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, the Democratic nominees for President and Vice President, indicated a keen interest in the situation in Kentucky, and agreed that they will come to this state during the campaign to wage active drives for the entire ticket, Young said.

"The Democratic leaders of the southwestern states who attended the conference last week at Knoxville were in complete agreement that Democrats are more united behind the ticket in the South than they have been in years," Young continued. "This evidence of unity includes Kentucky, where factional differences are being put aside in the interest of electing all the Democratic nominees in November."

As evidence of this, Young pointed to the fact that Governor A. B. Chandler made a strong statement for the entire ticket—including Stevenson and Kefauver and Earle C. Clements and Lawrence W. Wetherby, the Democratic nominees for the U. S. Senate—in a speech at Ludlow last week. And at the Knoxville conference, Senator Robert Humphreys attended not only as chairman of the state Democratic executive committee but also as the official representative of Governor Chandler.

Further evidence of unity was the announcement that Charles M. Blackburn, strong supporter of Chandler last year and state campaign chairman for Joe B. Bates in the primary against Senator Clements, will serve as co-chairman of veterans for the Democratic campaign with Roscoe Murray, Clements' veterans chairman in the primary.

INTERMEDIATES OF SOUTH FULTON BAPTIST CHURCH HAS PICNIC, SKATING PARTY

There was much fun and fellowship Tuesday night as the Intermediates of the First Baptist Church of South Fulton met for a picnic in the back yard of Martha Weeks on Central Ave.

A picnic supper of sandwiches, cold drinks and cookies was enjoyed by all.

As this was the last social gathering for the department before several of its members leave to go to Union University, Jackson, Tenn., a gift was presented in love and appreciation to the following: Hoyt Wilson, Kenneth Alexander and Bobby Newton.

After the picnic the Department with teachers and officers attended the skating rink at Mayfield, Ky. There were 40 members and visitors present for the occasion.

'Buffie', Nancy Are Women Closest To Adlai Stevenson

The women close to Adlai Stevenson are two, a dignified, graying sister called "Buffie" and a 21-year-old daughter-in-law, Nancy.

Nancy, short-haired blonde wife of Adlai Stevenson, Jr., expects a baby in early November. It will be the former Illinois governor's first grandchild.

Both Nancy and Mrs. Elizabeth "Buffie" Ives are here, ready, they said, to do anything they could to help the booming Stevenson campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Should the man she calls "Guv" get to the White House, Nancy said in an interview she and young "Ad," 24, wouldn't move in with him. "We want our own house, even if it's a tiny apartment."

Mrs. Ives, 59, said she would serve as official hostess at the White House if her brother asked her, but the decision was up to him.

Mrs. Ives was Stevenson's official hostess when he was governor of Illinois and after he and Mrs. Ellen Borden Stevenson were divorced in 1949.

Mrs. Ives is the wife of a retired career diplomat. Ernest Ives and has had extensive experience in entertaining. Before her husband retired in 1930, the two lived in Copenhagen, Stockholm, Belfast and Pretoria, South Africa.

Mrs. Ives knows Washington, too. She made her debut there when her father was special assistant to Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels.

The young Adlai Stevensons are staying this summer at Stevenson's farm home at Libertyville, Ill., 40 miles from Chicago.

In the fall, young Adlai will return to his last year of law study at Harvard. There, the young Stevensons have an apartment where the dining room is going to be the nursery, too.

Nancy told reporters a story of a young couple having fun painting their apartment, building shelves and eating hamburger meat "because it's cheap."

The young Stevensons were married in Louisville, Ky., Nancy's home, three weeks after she was graduated from Smith college in 1955. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warwick Anderson of Louisville.

Definite dates for visits to Kentucky by Stevenson and Kefauver have not been determined, Young said, but efforts will be made to bring them into the state at least twice.

Other nationally known Democratic figures will make speaking appearances in Kentucky during the campaign. This aspect of the campaign actually got under way this week with the Labor Day speech by Tennessee Governor Frank Clement, the Democratic national convention keynote, at a mammoth rally sponsored by the UMW in eastern Kentucky at Allen.

Governor Clement has agreed that he will make other speeches in Kentucky, Young said, but specific dates and places have not been fixed.

Plans for the official opening of the Democratic campaign in the state have not been completed, but it will be the latter part of September, the state chairman said. Meanwhile, the party nominees for the Senate have started campaign visits over the state. Senator Clements introduced Governor Clement at the eastern Kentucky rally, and then continued on the following schedule for the week: Tuesday—Henry and Owen Counties; Wednesday—Harrison and Robertson Counties; Thursday—Nicholas and Bourbon Counties.

Wetherby spent Labor Day in St. Matthews. His schedule for the remainder of the week included: Tuesday—Bath and Rowan Counties; Wednesday—Boyd and Carter Counties; Thursday—Greenup and Lewis Counties.

"In addition to indicating unity within the Democratic party, the Knoxville conference also revealed that there is national interest in the outcome of the senatorial contests in Kentucky," Young said. "This is because both Senate seats are at stake, and the Democratic party can take control of the Senate if even one of the seats is lost to the Republicans."

consideration to reopening acreage reserve phase of soil bank to allow farmers with tobacco damaged by hail to still participate in soil bank provisions up to the time of harvest," the telegram said.

Secretary Benson was urged today to permit farmers to place hail-damaged tobacco in the soil bank up to the time of harvest.

The executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, John W. Koon, asked the secretary of agriculture for this consideration in a telegram Tuesday.

The Farm Bureau pointed out that participation in the soil bank has "been very encouraging." The telegram said that hail storms in recent days have been extremely damaging to numerous tobacco crops in the state.

FARM FACTS

SIGNS OF THE TIMES. A few days ago I was again impressed with the change that's taking place in Kentucky's agriculture and the impact it is having on the family sized farm.

I stopped by to chat with a farmer friend in Todd County and found him getting things in readiness to harvest corn. He had a self-propelled machine that picks two rows of corn at a time, shucks and shells it, and puts it in a large bin from which it is mechanically loaded on to a truck in a matter of seconds. With this machine a man can harvest and shell around 20 acres of corn a day.

He does mechanically in minutes the equivalent of many days of hard labor of cutting, shelling, shucking, loading and shelling. The same machine can be quickly converted to harvest small grain with the same efficiency as it harvests corn.

Three things impressed me with this change from man-powered to machine-powered farming — first the large amount of capital now required to farm efficiently; second, the large number of small farmers and farm laborers being displaced with machinery; and third, the difficulty that the small farmers will have in competing with large farmers in enterprises that can be done with mechanical power. Thus, it seems that if he is to survive, the small Kentucky farmer will have to specialize in crops and livestock enterprises which are not highly mechanized, such as tobacco, small fruit and vegetables, poultry, sheep and the like.

RED PLANET MARS APPROACHES EARTH

Dusty and red, the planet Mars is swinging closer and closer to earth in the southern sky. On September 7 it will be only some 35 million miles away.

Astronomers spread across the world, working together through the International Mars Committee, are preparing to give Mars its most intensive inspection since the perfection of the telescope, the National Geographic Society reports.

This observation program is already under way. By the end of July two unexpected features had been found.

Cloud and Spot
On June 28, a cloud mass was reported high in the Martian atmosphere extending beyond the terminator, or sunset line, of the planet. The observation was made by Dr. Earl C. Slipher, leader of the National Geographic Society — Lowell Observatory Mars Expedition in Bloemfontein, South Africa, where Mars is nearly overhead in the Southern Hemisphere's winter skies.

Dr. Slipher has been a foremost Mars observer for more than 50 years. He captured the cloud mass on photographs made through the 27-inch telescope of the Lamont-Hussey Observatory.

In early July, astronomers of the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona, detected an unusually bright spot some 250 miles wide on the edge of the planet's south polar icecap.

The bright spot persisted for about 10 days, but it did not develop into the vast atmospheric disturbance, covering some 350,000 square miles, that a similar bright spot produced in 1922.

Though Mars in its 1956 approach to the earth will be about as close as it ever comes, atmospheric conditions on the planet have so far inhibited good viewing of surface features.

"The Martian atmosphere is unusually opaque — it seems to be full of dust and smog," said Dr. Albert G. Wilson, director of the Lowell Observatory and secretary of the Mars Committee.

1775—FIRST SPINNING WHEEL IN KENTUCKY
A daughter of one of Kentucky's original settlers, Anne McGinty, brought with her the first spinning wheel to be transported over the Alleghenies to Fort Harrod settlement. Here she made the first linen spun in Kentucky. She also made butter, and it was her family that brought the first hogs, chickens and ducks into Kentucky.

In Kentucky's historic past, just as today, many of our citizens have always enjoyed a glass of beer. The brewing industry makes jobs for thousands of our residents. The sale of beer under orderly conditions is an important objective of the United States Brewers Foundation. Our continuing educational program helps beer retailers maintain their high standards.

Travel Shifts Into High Gear

HERE COMES TOMORROW—Italian designers have come up with this sleek plastic bus creation which they claim will cruise over the roads at 125 mph. To be powered with a gas turbine engine, one of the planned models will carry up to 32 passengers.

LONGEST ROAD IN THE WORLD
—The Kansas Turnpike, terminating in this wheatfield on the Oklahoma-Kansas border is, at present, a road with no end, but not for long. Just as soon as Oklahoma allocates the necessary funds, the new four-lane superhighway will knife its way through the farmer's field and he'll have a new, faster road to get his grain to market.

MAN BEFORE THE HORSE?
—Transportation shades of the past are recorded here, but in reverse, as a London dock worker acts as the beast of burden to a valuable polo pony. The animal appears to be enjoying the novelty of watching the man do the work. (United Press Photos)

ROADS FOR TRANSPORTATION—Earthmoving equipment such as these International Harvester giants are very necessary to most forms of transportation. Before sleek automobiles and streamlined busses can skim over the ribbons of concrete and asphalt, high-speed earthmovers and crawler-type tractors, must first make the roadbeds. Fleets of equipment similar to these units, move millions of yards of rock and dirt in incredibly short spans of time and at surprisingly low costs.

tee. There is good possibility, however, that the atmosphere will clear as the September 7 opposition date approaches.

Bands in the Martian Sky
Meantime, astronomers are taking advantage of the murkiness to study the atmosphere of the planet as a whole. They are paying particular attention to atmospheric bands similar to but much fainter than the bands or belts seen on Jupiter. It is suspected that the earth itself may carry such bands but astronomers and meteorologists, being earthbound, never see them.

Much was learned of the Martian air envelope in 1952 and 1954, when the atmospheric bands were first photographed. These data, plus information obtained in the 1956 opposition, are being correlated by Dr. Seymour Hess of Florida State University for what may be the first rounded picture of the movement of the atmosphere of a planet.

As the Martian atmosphere clears and the planet moves closer to the earth, the 22 observatories of the Mars Committee will intensify their efforts to capture the surface features photographically — the canals, the oases, the rifts in the rapidly melting polar cap, and the blue-green areas thought to be vegetation.

From such new information added to data gathered over the last half century, astronomers may be able to speculate with more confidence on Martian conditions — whether the planet is volcanic, whether it has a core of molten metal-like earth, and what kind of life, if any, it is capable of supporting.

Geological Survey Compiles Well Data

The Kentucky Geological Survey has prepared an index list of Western Kentucky well records which is expected to be of great interest to petroleum geologists, engineers and industrialists in the Kentucky area.

Daniel J. Jones, Kentucky state geologist and author of the work, announced the completion of the new volume Saturday (Aug. 25) at the University of Kentucky, where the Geological Survey offices are located. The volume, entitled "Index List of Early Western-Kentucky Well Records," is an index of logs of approximately 14,500 well records which are in the microfilm files on the UK campus.

The files are open for inspection, or interested persons may obtain a copy of the 277-page publication by writing the Geological Survey.

"In Kentucky," the Commonwealth's official publication has been returned to a quarterly publication by the Department of Public Relations.

Americans use 45 pounds per person of fresh, canned and frozen citrus fruit annually, and 22 pounds of canned or frozen citrus juices. In 1909, only 16 pounds per capita were used.

BUY WHITE GOODS WITH CARE, A-I-L EXPERTS CAUTION

During seasonal "White" Sales, watch those bargain bed linens for heavy sizing, advise textile and laundering authorities at American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the professional laundry industry.

Sizing is the term given a filler material that is used in producing less expensive items. Less yarn is used and the holes in the weave are filled with such things as resins, starches or clay. Heavily sized items, especially in sheets and pillow cases, have a good appearance when new. However, after laundering, the sizing is gone and the item becomes very limp and "sleazy" in appearance.

A.I.L. authorities hint that the amount of sizing can be checked by rubbing the fabric together over a dark surface. If a small amount of powder falls out on the dark surface, you can expect a different appearing item after laundering. The rubbing causes the sizing to fall out of the holes in the weave. This leaves a coarse fabric that sometimes can be detected by the eye. Also, rubbing will tend to break the surface of the sizing, causing tiny cracks along the surface of the fabric.

Trailer Parks Must Comply With Laws

Persons planning to construct a trailer coach park or to enlarge existing facilities at such parks must first obtain a permit to do so, Harvey G. McAndrews, Director of the Division of Sanitation, Kentucky State Department of Health, has announced.

A trailer coach park operator must comply with certain sanitary specifications regarding sewage disposal, water supplies, laundry facilities, bathing and toilet facilities, ample space per trailer, garbage and refuse disposal, and the general drainage of the park.

Anyone who allows two or more trailers to park on his property, whether for fee or not, is considered to be operating a trailer coach park and is required to have a permit from the State Department of Health.

BIG DAIRY SHOW WILL OPEN SOON IN CHICAGO

America's dairyland will reveal its best products and its finest herds at the forthcoming 4th annual International Dairy Show, October 6 to 13, in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards. The Amphitheatre is undergoing a third big expansion which, when completed, will make it the world's largest exhibition building.

Owners of purebred dairy animals from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf plan to send their best animals to the competitions of the six breeds of dairy cattle that will be featured at the Chicago show. The management is preparing quarters in the Amphitheatre to house more than 2000 head.

STATE PEP CLINIC SEPT. 8 AT U-K

Every phase of cheerleading — tumbling stunts that may be synchronized with the leading yells; effective cheerleading routines; how to conduct pep rallies; composing new yells; how to arouse school spirits, and many others — will be taught under the direction of Lawrence Herkimer, executive secretary of the National Cheerleaders Association.

A $2 registration fee will be required of each cheerleader or sponsor. Registration will be held at 8:30 a.m., Sept. 8, in the Alumni Gym, and the clinic will continue through 4 p.m. The clinic is open to all yell leaders, persons desiring to become yell leaders or their sponsors.

Diary of Doin's

By Mary Nelle Wright

The News writes social happenings about you and your friends (Listen To Airwave Diary: Thursday, 9:45 A. M., Over WFUL)

So — we're home again — after having spent 10 delightful days around our nation's Capitol and the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Our time in Washington was very limited as we spent four days over at Annapolis with our son. But we did spend an ever so enjoyable evening with Dr. Tom and Wilda Callahan and their children, Carol, Skipper and Bill at their attractive home in the Manor Club Estate. How glad we were to see Bertie Howard, Tom's mother, who is visiting them. It was just old home week at the Callahans'.

We were so happy to learn that Bill, the youngest Callahan, has made quite a name for himself in the competitive swimming contest there. And Skipper had just returned home from Sweet Summer Camp where he received top honors on the rifle range. We are going to "keep an eye" on those two Callahan boys. And we didn't mention Carol — who is just the loveliest young teen ager we've seen in many a moon.

And we did have another free evening which we spent with our good friends, Col. Jim and Virginia Isbell at their ever so lovely home in Chevy Chase, Md. We could have spent DAYS enjoying all of the beautiful things that Jim and Ginny collected while they were in England. We enjoyed the "children," too. Reed, their 15-year-old daughter, is quite the charming young lady. How attractive she was when she came out on the veranda to tell us good-bye — before she "flitted" off to a gay party up the street. And — the two boys. We simply fell in love with them. "Little Jim" — who actually isn't so little, was quite the young gentleman. And Tom — he was everywhere — being mother's little helper. In fact, BOTH boys did a SUPERB job at the dinner table!

They were two WONDERFUL evenings! We also had a very delightful time at the Bill Newton's cottage on the Neeld Estate on Chesapeake Bay, near Prince Frederick, Md. They have a lovely beach and everyone spends hours swimming, fishing, boating, water-skiing — and hunting for SHARK'S TEETH! Your Diarist found a few. — so

All of us in Fulton remember her as Annie Lucille Goldsby because she spent most of her life in Fulton. It is SO good to hear from our readers. Annie Lucille gave us a cordial invitation to come to see her. She said that she lives in the most scenic part of the state and that Washington is not too far from the famed Delaware Water Gap and other beauty spots of Northwest Jersey. Thanks, Annie Lucille — maybe someday — we will be up that way!

UK CONTRACT TO STUDY AGRICULTURE IN GUATEMALA MOVES NEARER TO REALITY

A proposed three-year contract between the University of Kentucky and the International Cooperation Administration — designed to strengthen the agricultural program of the University of San Carlos in Guatemala City, Guatemala — has moved a step nearer reality.

Dr. Frank J. Welch, dean of the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics, has submitted a report to the ICA office summarizing the findings of his recent survey-trip to Guatemala, and offering specific recommendations with reference to the implementation of the contract.

The recommendations, covering only the scope of services to be performed by the University, were:

1. Counsel and assistance in the formulation of plans, specifications and engineering services in connection with the completion of grounds, buildings, greenhouses and laboratories for the College of Agriculture.

2. Counsel and assistance in the re-appraisal and possible revision of current curriculum and content of courses in the college, with special emphasis on the practical aspects of agriculture. Included also will be the administrative or operational structure of the college.

3. Provision for graduate or specialized training at the University of Kentucky, or some other institution, of carefully selected personnel from the College of Agriculture or from graduates of the college. Dean Welch also proposed that UK personnel, in addition to regular staff service, undergo specialized short time service.

4. Counsel and assistance in appraising library needs in relation to existing facilities and materials, and in the formulation of plans in building an adequate library.

Dean Welch suggested a budget of $78,000 based on one year. In addition to the recommendations and proposed budget, the UK dean said that other points of agreement would be determined by established precedent, or by a special agreement among UK officials, ICA and the University of San Carlos.

Coverage of these areas would provide assistance in the development of a balanced, constructive program of training. The University agriculturist concluded.

SALE ON FEEDER CALVES

Fourteen sales of feeder calves are planned through September and October over the state, the Kentucky Feeder Calf Sales Association announced recently.

Several thousand calves will be sold by the local feeder calf associations in the 14 sessions. Purpose of the sales is to furnish buyers calves of uniform weights, grade, size and quality; and to teach producers the value of producing and marketing higher quality calves.

Sale locations, approximate number of head consigned and dates include Russellville (Logan), 600, Sept. 27; Hopkinsville (Christian), 500, Oct. 2; Mayfield (Graves), 500, Oct. 3.

World-renowned Mammoth Cave was discovered in 1809.

It's a two-piece, all bandage outfit, made from Johnson & Johnson's new KLING conform Bandage, which clings to itself and conforms while stretching over body contours. The new bandage holds injured fingers, elbows and ankles firmly while permitting normal movements of those joints. That's all fine, says Pat, but will the bandage hold water?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The vital importance of honoring God in thought and in deed will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" is the Golden Text from Proverbs (22:1): "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold."

The importance of spiritual values will be emphasized in reading from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (239:5): "Take away wealth, fame, and social organizations, which weigh not one jot in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of Principals. Break up cliques, level wealth with honesty, let worth be judged according to wisdom, and we get better views of humanity."

Scriptural selections to be read include the following (Proverbs 39:): "Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of thine increase."

"Mr and Miss Tomorrow"

Top row (l to r): THERESA ANN PERRY, age 2, and DONNA GLYNN PERRY, age 3½, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry of Fulton Route 1; and granddaughters of Mrs. Ozelle Holmes of Symsonia, Ky. and of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Perry; LINDA KAY PATRICK, age 2.

CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT, UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY MAKING STUDY OF WATER

A comprehensive study of recently.

Kentucky's water resources and allied problems is now underway as a joint project of the Kentucky Department of Conservation and the University of Kentucky's College of Engineering. Conservation Commissioner Laban P. Jackson announced.

"This study amounts to a survey of hydrology, flood control, hydraulics, navigation, irrigation, water supply and related subjects," Jackson said.

Financing of the project is the duty of the Division of Flood Control and Water Usage in Jackson's department.

As a result of the agreement, George Land, Jr., assistant professor of Applied Mechanics in the College of Engineering, is compiling data for inclusion in a permanent technical file at the University.

Graduate and undergraduate students will be used in gathering and cataloging information on hydrology.

An office for the study has been set up at the College of Engineering and files of the project will be open to students, visitors and agricultural and industrial interests in addition to all departments of State Government.

Robert Lee Bolin, director of the Division of Flood Control and Water Usage, activated the program last month and turned over supervision to Land today at a meeting of the State Board on Flood Control.

In reporting to the board, Land said, "Kentucky's conservation program pivots around control of water... almost all our soil loss is due to movement of uncontrolled water and this study will supplement Federal water control programs now in existence, by serving as the guide for design of future conservation projects."

NOT TOO BAD AFTER ALL

Well, down on the farm, it doesn't look too bad after all. Early in the year it was forecast that farm net income would be down by 4% or even more. The good news is that the 1956 farm net income will be close to that of 1955. That is nothing to write home about but it is a site better than a decline. It looks like the cause of this change was brought about by a steady dairy situation with eggs holding well and the strengthening of beef and hog prices. Most of the vegetable prices have been well above last year.

What's ahead, well I do not think our seasonal price decline will be as severe as most folks thought, so, it could be that farm income is finally stabilizing.

Feeder Calf Sales Look Good
This area will be host to three feeder calf sales this year: The Purchase Feeder Calf Assn. sale to be held at Mayfield, Ky. October 3rd, and the Christian County Feeder Calf Sale to be held in Hopkinsville, Ky. October 2nd. The Livingston County Feeder Sale will be held at Burna, Ky. October 17th.

There will be 1700 or 1800 feeders in these three sales with all cattle graded according to weight, breed, size and grade. This is a pretty good place to stock your farm with quality heifers too. All feeders will be vaccinated against black leg and shipping fever, with heifers getting a bangs shot too. They will be sold in large and small lots so that the big and small feeder will have something to bid on. We started our selecting this week and believe me they surely look like the type that would make a feeder of cattle proud to have on his farm.

Keep Breeding Ewes Gaining
Your flock of breeding ewes should be in a thrifty gaining condition. If you are so situated, some sheepmen like to turn the bucks in at night and take them out the next morning. I do not have much evidence to back this statement up, but it stands to reason that the ram will stay more virile if treated in this manner.

Farmers Get $9,507.65 For '55 Wool Payments

S. E. Holly, Office Manager, Fulton County ASC, stated that drafts were placed in the mail to all wool producers, who filed an application on shorn wool and Lambs and yearlings, for 1955 on August 23. The total of all drafts was $9,507.65, this being payment on 38,897 lbs. of wool and 281,894 lbs. Lambs and yearlings. This represented 44.9% of wool sales less 1c per lb. for promotion deduction and 77c per cwt. on lambs less 5c per cwt. for promotion deduction.

Mr. Holly urged all 1956 Sheep growers to be very careful with their sales records and file claim as soon as the sale of all wool and lambs had been completed for the 1956 year and in no case later than March 31, 1957.

FARM INDEMNITIES FOR SLAUGHTERED CATTLE RESUMED

Payments Resumed Sept.
1st For Cattle Condemned
Under Brucellosis Plan

Agriculture Commissioner Ben Butler revealed here today that the state plans to resume on September 1, the practice of reimbursing farmers for dairy cattle condemned to be slaughtered under the federal-state brucellosis control plan. The brucellosis control plan provides for dairy the testing of the female dairy animal and requires that the ones found to be diseased must be slaughtered or quarantined on the farm.

In order that the farmers would sell their infected animals for slaughter the Commonwealth of Kentucky and the federal government established a program of paying them indemnities for animals disposed of in this manner. This program commenced on January 1, 1955, and provided that the farmer would be reimbursed for one-third of the difference between the appraised value of the condemned animal and the price she brought when sold by the pound at the stockyards. The amount of indemnity for any animal so disposed of could not exceed $20 for a Grade, or $40 for a Registered one.

Indemnities Stopped Jan. 1

On January 1st of this year, the Commissioner of Agriculture and the State Board of Agriculture was forced to abandon the indemnity program because of the cost of its operation. Dr. L. L. Breck, State Veterinarian and director of Livestock Sanitation for the Board of Agriculture, stated that the farmers of the state received $161,000 in indemnities during the 12 months that the program was in effect.

Program Now Lags

However, the program of slaughtering infected animals has lagged since the indemnities were withdrawn and Dr. M. H. Huffman of the Animal Disease Eradication branch office here in Frankfort now estimates that 35% of the cows found to be reactors are being kept on the farm.

Weeds are damaging. Six fox-tail plants per foot of row reduced a test soybean yield 2.6 percent; 12 weeds per foot, 11.1 percent. Broadleaf weeds had similar effects; three per foot cut the yield 8 percent, and six plants per foot, 9.1 percent.

COTTON MARKETING QUOTA CARDS NOW READY IN COUNTY

The Fulton County ASC Office has announced that 1956 cotton marketing cards have been prepared and ready for distribution for all farms who are within their allotment. S. E. Holly, Office Manager, stated that cards may be received in 1 of 2 ways.

1. Pick up in person at the county office.
2. File a written request that can be placed on record and the card will be mailed.

Mr. Holly urged that on receipt of this card, farmers take good care of them as some difficulty is encountered when a duplicate has to be issued.

Those farms having excess cotton cannot receive a cotton marketing card until the penalty has been paid. Within Marketing cards must be held for producers who have excess cotton on other farms. Penalty rate for 1956 being 17.7c per pound on the excess. For further information see your county ASC office.
