Co-Op Still Needs Tomato Acreage

About 100 farmers, representing the present membership of the newly-formed West Kentucky Growers' Cooperative, met Wednesday Feb. 6 at Water Valley to discuss the production marketing of early tomatoes in this area.

The group met with representatives of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce and Dr. George Marlow and W. H. Woodrow of the University of Kentucky.

TEST PLOT DATA WILL BE GIVEN AT PADUCAH MEET

Local Chamber Will Study Vegetable Pilot Plot Data From 1956

The Kentucky Department of Economic Development has collaborated this past year with the University of Kentucky Experiment Station in sponsoring pilot plots in the Jackson Purchase area of Kentucky to determine the types of truck crops best suited to soil and climate conditions which prevail here. Several of these plots were in Fulton County.

The purpose of this effort is to encourage increased production of commercial fruits and vegetables and to acquaint food processors with the opportunities which Kentucky offers as a source of supply.

The results of the trial runs are being presented in brochure form which will also contain descriptive data relating to the areas tested. In this brochure it will be noted that all of the Fulton County plots that were tested proved excellent for this type of farming.

A meeting has been called for 9:30 a. m., Tuesday February 19, 1957, in the Agricultural Assembly Room of the County Courthouse at Paducah, Kentucky, to review the findings of the trial runs. The brochures mentioned above will be available for distribution at that time. Moreover, it is planned that personnel of the University of Kentucky, Kentucky state agencies and representatives of food processors will participate in the program.

The Fulton-South Fulton Chamber of Commerce will be represented at this meeting. Letters are being sent to all members of the Agricultural Committee urging them to attend this very informative meeting.

MEET AT KU

The Victory Homemakers meeting will be held February 19 at the K. U. building in Fulton at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. E. L. Cook will be the hostess.

CONTRACT BIDS FOR HICKMAN SCHOOL TO BE OPENED FRIDAY

Bids for 14 general and mechanical contractors for construction of the new county high school and other school construction were opened and announced Tuesday morning at the Fulton county courthouse in Hickman. Members of the Fulton county fiscal court, the Fulton county board of education and an audience of some 200 persons were present for the occasion.

Actual awarding of bids will be made Friday of this week, according to Supt. Beal Darnell. Hickman school officials will confer with state authorities the first of next week and it is believed that the processing of the revenue bonds to finance the construction can be begun immediately. A school board meeting will be called within the 10-day period.

Apparently low bidders on general construction of the new high school, to be built on a sloping site one mile east of Hickman along Highway 94, was J. R. Barley of Mayfield with a bid of $209,893.58. The figure reportedly does not include electrical work but will be adjusted to include that figure.

Apparent low bidder for the construction of the high school agricultural work and additions and alterations to be made to Phillips and River-view schools was P. L. Wright of Tiptonville, with respective bids of $18,100, $7000, and $9750 for general construction on each of these projects.

Jenkins Plumbing Co. of Murray was the apparent low bidder for the mechanical contract (plumbing and heating) on the new high school with a bid of $42,358. Taylor Plumbing Co. of Hickman submitted bids of $13,609.58 and $10,325.35 for plumbing and heating work on Phillips and River-view schools, apparent low

Rotarians Will Help Local Spray Drive

The Fulton Rotary Club has agreed to help the Health Departments of Kentucky and Tennessee in a gigantic mosquito-spraying campaign to be conducted jointly by the two departments this Spring.

The Rotarians will make every effort to get in touch with every farmer living within a mile of Fulton, (in which area the intensive spraying will be done) and seek 100% farmer support of the project. Complete cooperation will be necessary by all residents living within the area to make the campaign a success.

Farmers, as well as city residents, will be asked to clean up all old cans, bottles, tires, barrels...anything that will hold water in which the deadly encephalitis-germ-bearing mosquito breeds.

The spraying campaign will be waged by airplane, ground fogging machines and hand sprayers engaged and paid for out of special funds, and no financial assistance from residents is being sought, the News has learned. It will commence sometime in the Spring.

The dread encephalitis-germ-bearing mosquito was responsible for more than a dozen cases of encephalitis in the Fulton area last year, resulting in four deaths. Local medical authorities advised that the seriousness of the 1956 situation could be even more accelerated in 1957 unless strong preventive measures are taken by everyone in the area.

The News will provide more information on this project as it becomes available.

Methodists Join For Flood Relief

The Memphis Conference of The Methodist Church will join Kentucky Methodists in taking a special flood relief offering for hard-hit Eastern Kentucky, it was announced by Bishop William T. Watkins.

Late last week, the bishop's office announced that Sunday February 17, had been selected as the date for an appeal for $80,800, the estimated amount of flood damage to Methodist Churches, parsonages and the personal property of ministers.

SAFE LOOTED

Burglars entered the Gibson County Electric Membership Corp. building in Union City last Thursday night and removed about $115 from the safe after hammering it open.

MRS. PROVOW NAMED

Mrs. Elsie Provow, South Fulton teacher, has been named to direct the Heart Campaign in South Fulton. She will be assisted by Mrs. M. E. Etheridge and Mrs. R. M. Lowery.

FUND DRIVE PLANNED

The Heart Fund drive, sponsored locally by the American Legion, will kick-off with breakfast at Smith's next Thursday Feb. 20. "Heart Sunday" door-to-door collections will be made Feb. 24 from 1:00 to 3:00 p. m.

MRS. LANNOM IS NOW ANNOUNCING FOR RE-ELECTION

Popular Official Has Served Voters Efficiently, Well

Mrs. Kathryn Kelly Lannom, popular and efficient county court clerk is today making known her candidacy for re-election to that office. Mrs. Lannom is currently serving her second term as county court clerk and during that time has endeavored herself to the people of Fulton County by the efficient and friendly operation of that public office.

Active in the affairs of her church, her community and county affairs, Mrs. Lannom has also gained state-wide recognition in the activities of the Young Democrats Club of Kentucky and also served on many important committee assignments for the State County Court Clerks Association.

Mrs. Lannom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Than Rogers of Hickman.

As County Court Clerk, Mrs. Lannom has distinguished herself for her tireless and efficient service to the people of Fulton County.

Attempting to serve her constituents in all parts of the county, Mrs. Lannom often visits Fulton and other communities to assist residents with their voter registration, vehicle license plates, fishing licenses, hunting licenses and a score of other services that are performed in her office.

Mrs. Lannom released her formal announcement to the News this week and it follows:

To My Many Friends in Fulton County:

The time is fast approaching when voters of Fulton County will again go to the polls to select their various county officials. The Democratic primary is on May 28 this year. In this respect I want to

Established Method of Naming City Officials Should Be a Matter For All Citizens to Change

Last week Mayor Bill Browning proposed and got passed by the City Council, an ordinance making the office of City Judge, appointive instead of elective. The ordinance was proposed, according to Mayor Browning without prior discussion with members of the Council or the more than 3,000 residents of Fulton, Kentucky, who might just possibly have had a passing interest.

Undoubtedly Mayor Browning acted in the best interests of the city when he proposed such action, but somehow the citizens who have discussed the matter with us fail to see the urgency in signalling out the City Judge's position to make appointive instead of elective.

Moreover, it seems odd to Fulton citizens that one man should make the decision to take away the people's privilege to choose a man of their own preference for City Judge, just as they have been doing for the past 75 years. Mayor Browning told the News publishers that the decision was his own.

Mayor Browning gave these reasons for his decision:

1. In the event a vacancy should occur in the office of the City Judge by retirement or death, the Governor has the authority to make the appointment. Such an appointee, says Mayor Browning, might be incompatible with the policies of the City Council with which he (the City Judge) has to serve.

2. Since the office is a small paying one ($95 a month) the job might seem attractive to some undesirable who might submit for the office in the interest of making some part-time cash, maybe graft . . . easy. (Judge Perce and his predecessors have news for such a fellow.)

3. Making the job appointive would bring about the situation of a council appointing a judge whose modus operandi would be in keeping with policies set out by the Council.

The six members of the Council voted unanimously to make the change, although they admitted they had no prior knowledge that such a move was contemplated.

Obviously Mayor Browning was misinformed or ill advised and acted in previous error when he told the members of the Council that the Governor had the authority to fill the vacancy, if one should occur, in the office of City Judge in the city of the fourth class.

In KRS 26.190 the case of Jarvis vs Stanley, 176 Ky 630 SW 183 specifically states that a Governor CANNOT fill a vacancy in the office of police judge in a city of the fourth class.

There's an aura of mystery that pervades the whole incident, and we wonder if perhaps the fact that city fines were nearly $4,500 less last year than they were the previous year might have some bearing on the action.

But somehow we think the City Council acted hurriedly, and in a matter of some presumption in making the change.

We say presumption because unless the present Mayor and Council propose to perpetuate their official status in some form, either by influence or re-election all of them are outgoing officials. The offices of Mayor and six councilmen are up for election this year, just as they are every two years. The Mayor's office is for a term of four years.

It is justifiable then for out-going officials to impose on perhaps another Mayor and Council, a situation that might prove untenable and unpleasant?

Mayor Browning told us that the action was in no manner intended to cast aspersions on the ability or the service of Judge Perce. The Mayor said further that Judge Perce undoubtedly would be appointed to the office for as long as he wished.

In the latter statement we believe Mayor Browning speaks again with presumption. Since Mayor Browning says he will not be a candidate for re-election are we to assume then that the new Mayor and Council will assume their offices acting on orders from the retiring Mayor and Council?

We think, that if it is legally proper, the whole matter should be presented to the people so that they may have an opportunity to express their pleasure or displeasure of the action in the privacy of the election booth, just as they have expressed their feelings to us, who are powerless to do one thing about the matter except to present both sides of the issue in print, just as we have tried humbly to do in this editorial.

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

February 13, 1937

Plans were announced here this week by Clarence Stephens, manager of the Pierce-Cequin Lumber Co., for the installation of a modern sawmill just south of their present office on McDowell Street. It is expected that the mill will be in operation by April 1.

The refugee camp located at the Science Hall, composed of about 150 persons, was removed to the old Moose Hall this week in order that school might be reopened.

The Murray Tigers will play the Fulton Bulldogs and Pups a double header here Friday night, Feb. 12 at the Science Hall, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Two referees will be on hand for the first game.

Officers and directors of the Fulton Baseball Association held a meeting last Friday night at the office of Atkins Insurance Agency to discuss and lay plans for the 1937 season. Two committees were appointed. A bus committee, composed of Bailey Huddleston, chairman; H. H. Bugg, Dr. M. W. Hawes, was named to arrange transportation for Fulton players to and from other parks. A finance committee, composed of H. H. Bugg, chairman; Bob White, Frank Beadles, Smith Atkins and Kellie

Lowe, was named to direct the financing of the club.

Mrs. Ernest Fall delightfully entertained her luteon bridge club Tuesday at her home on Vine Street. Two tables of club members were present with one visitor, Mrs. Wheeler of Cairo, Ill.

At bridge, Mrs. Abe Jolley held high score and was presented a lovely guest prize.

Mrs. Maxwell McDade was hostess to her bridge club Thursday afternoon at her home on Jackson Street. Three tables of players were present which included ten regular members with two visitors.

The Lions Club held its first meeting in several weeks last Friday, when Eld. J. H. Felts talked interestingly on the life of a minister. Rev. Felts, who is now retired, spent 30 years as a minister in the Methodist church.

Charles R. Haley, manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company at Whitesville, Ky., has been transferred to Fulton and will assume his new duties Monday, Feb. 8. Mr. and Mrs. Haley and son have taken an apartment here. Mrs. Haley was formerly Miss Mabel Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Atkins Cole of this city.

Kentucky Windage

By P. W.

(Continued from page one) While the warning shouldn't be necessary, yet tournament officials have always found it to be: ticketholders to basketball games at the First district tournament here are warned that pass-out tickets will not be given out. Once you're inside, you stay there.

Reason: To cut down drinking outside the building.

Another episode here in recent years has caused coaches to positively prohibit anyone entering players' dressing rooms but players, coaches and business managers. Rule will be enforced this year, too.

Duke's Auto Parts of Fulton opened a branch store in Clinton last week, managed by Jimmy Wilmoth. Understand that Duke is also in the airplane business in St. Louis, operating a retail sales agency for small planes.

When Gazette editor Erl Sensing at Clinton heard what sounded like a shot in the front of his house the other night, and the lights went out, he responded in a most peculiar manner.

Instead of hurriedly going to the door to see what had happened, he first ran and secured a pistol and then crept out the front door ready for all comers.

What was the trouble? Why the ice storm had merely caused a big limb to crack and fall across his light wires. Really, Erl, the way you told that story sounded like you had a guilty conscience about something you had written, and had halfway been anticipating some midnight callers.

The moral to this little episode is that in case your car ever has a blowout in front of Erl's house in Clinton, run, don't walk to a safe distance before seeking help. You might catch Erl in a jumpy frame of mind again.

The vegetable buying habits of restaurants, as learned in a survey, are of interest to vegetable growers as well as to patrons of restaurants.

In a USDA Agricultural Marketing Survey made of 462 restaurants that served meals of 1 or over, it was found that 31 percent of the vegetables used by them were in frozen form; 38 percent, canned, and 31 percent, fresh.

The researchers learned further that if a customer orders broccoli, lima beans or cauliflower, the chances are six out of 10 that the vegetables will have been frozen.

If the customer orders sweet corn, green beans, green peas, or asparagus, it is most likely they were canned. Carrots and leafy greens are the only two vegetables that are consistently served fresh, it was learned.

As for fruit, more apples are bought fresh, more cherries and strawberries frozen, and more peaches are canned, according to the restaurant survey.

In the peace and quietude of January 25 the Department of Public Relations of Kentucky issued a story commemorating the 29th anniversary of one of Kentucky's greatest disasters:

the 1937 flood, and how then Governor A. B. Chandler organized for the emergency, got federal aid, etc. Less than a week after the story came out, half of eastern Kentucky was flooded out again and A. B. Chandler had to do it all over again.

By the time Happy's 1937 recollecting was due to be broadcast (Feb. 3) over a Louisville station, he was deep into actual assistance for the 1937 flood, which ought to merit some kind of recognition for timely-untimeliness, or unfortunate coincidence.

See where Kirby Jennings,

Murray newspaper publisher, has had his aggressive Lake area ideas rewarded in having a scenic roadway along Kentucky Lake named after him, it will be called the "Kirby Jennings Trail".

It was a stormy evening. The wind was blowing sheets of rain against the windows.

"Mommy, is it raining too hard for me to go to the corner and mail this letter?" asked Susie.

"I should say it is," responded her mother. "It isn't a fit night to send a dog out. Let your father go mail your letter."

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Lincoln On His Knees

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

THE UNITED STATES will never produce Abraham Lincoln's equal until another knows his trials, his defeats, and his trust in God.

Lincoln once said: "I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go. My own wisdom, and that of all about me seemed insufficient for that day."

IN ONE of his earliest campaigns for political office, Lincoln was attacked on the grounds of being an unbeliever. He vigorously denied the accusation, and went on to say, "I do not think I could myself be brought to support a man whom I knew to be an open enemy of and scoffer at religion."

Six years later after another defeat for the Senate, he consoled himself saying, "Though I now sink out of view, and shall be forgotten, I believe I have made some marks which will tell for the cause of civil liberty long after I am gone."

Added to political defeats were the personal sorrows in his married life. Nasty rumors about Washington that Mrs. Lincoln was a spy were so circulated as to be discussed at a Congressional hearing.

ABE'S GREATEST AND longest trial was the war between the states. He looked upon the war as a judgment of God and saw it as no other president has ever seen a war: "It is quite possible that God's purpose is something different from the purpose of either party."

Lincoln's last defeat was planned for Good Friday, 1865. Lincoln spent the afternoon signing pardons, and pleading for gentleness and mercy to those who had deserted during the war. That evening he fell by an assassin's bullet.

This great president, bearing a nation's sorrows, carrying the cross of national unity, and trying to heal the wounds of civil war, died on the very day on which the Saviour of the world died!

IN THESE DAYS when sacrifice and self-discipline are rejected as hindrances to "self-expression", it behooves the world to look back to a man in political life who exemplifies the great Christian law — that there must be a Good Friday in our lives before there can be an Easter Sunday.

Abraham Lincoln has risen in the memory of the American people to be the greatest patriot this country has produced. Lincoln's life teaches us that there must be a defeat before there can be a lasting victory — there must be a cross before there can be a crown.

Never absent from your post, never off guard, never ill-humored, never unready to work for God, — is obedience; being "faithful over a few things."

—Mary Baker Eddy

Obedience is yielded more readily to one who commands gently.

—Seneca

He that is good at making excuses is seldom good for anything else.

—Benjamin Franklin

Doing the will of God leaves me no time for disputing about his plans.

—G. Macdonald

There are two kinds of men who never amount to much — those who cannot do what they are told and those who can do nothing else.

—Cyrus H. K. Curtis

Only the Mercury Monterey 4-door sedan offers all these features at such a low price!

Style—The glamorous Monterey 4-door has two distinct advantages for sedan enthusiasts: it has the clean, crisp hardtop look, plus conventional sedan rigidity. Bright metal moldings frame the windows and conceal the thin, strong center posts.

Size—Lowest, widest car in its field . . . most spacious interiors in its field . . . easier rear seat entrance . . . giant trunk capacity (34 cu. ft.) and widest trunk opening in its field.

Visibility—Full rear-seat vision . . . largest back window, up to 50% more glass area.

Engines—Most powerful engine for the money as standard equipment . . . highest standard compression ratio for the money . . . Thermo-Matic four-barrel carburetor as standard equipment . . . three-way transmission choice.

Features—Full-Cushion Shock Absorbers . . . swept-back ball-joint front suspension . . . reinforced box-section frame . . . front-hinged hood . . . triple-braced roof panel . . . glass fiber roof panel insulation . . . rear windows go all the way down—not just half way as in some competitive cars.

NEVER BEFORE HAS SO MUCH BIGNESS, LUXURY AND POWER COST SO LITTLE. SEE YOUR MERCURY DEALER NOW FOR FULL DETAILS.

Diary of Doin's

By Mary Nelle Wright

Hear Mary-Nelle's program, "My Fair Lady" every day on WFUL at 9:30 a.m., Monday through Friday.

VALENTINE DAY IS here again! And CUPID is king for a day! Its a day like many other things that have originated far back in folk and village customs — but it is impossible to date or explain accurately this festival on February 14. Nothing that we know of the several saints of that name helps us. But we know that sometime in the Middle Ages, the young folk of the hamlets of Scotland, England and parts of France assembled on St. Valentine's Eve and drew names by chance from an urn. The person whose name was on the slip was the holder's "valentine" or sweetheart for a year.

When and how the old customs were changed into the sending of our valentines — both of ridiculous and pretty sorts — no one knows. There have certainly been all kinds of valentines, but mostly we think of the sentimental ones as having the real valentine message. However, sentimental valentines aren't what they used to be — and we might add, thank goodness.

Imagine getting one like this in the mail — one sent in 1812 that read, "Your hair is pailish brown, in wringlets flow... and charms beyond the reach of art bestow. Your forehead white as snow, your radiant eyes reflect the celestial blue that paints the skies."

'Tis interesting — we think — to make a comparison of valentines of 1812 and valentines of 1957. This year's verse goes like this: "Atomic missiles are super we know. But no match for the arrows from Dan Cupid's bow."

Yep, there's a DEFINITE change — methinks — don't you? But — Your Diarist hopes that VALENTINE will go on — forever. And that it will always be a day when sentimentality reigns SUPREME!

"Roses are red — violets are blue — Your Diarist says, Happy Valentine to you!" (Note: This is STRICTLY an ORIGINAL poem.)

We would like to pause for a minute on the Diary page and pay tribute to our local Boy Scouts — because they are very DEAR to our hearts. Last Friday night, between ballgames, we sat in the gym at Carr Institute and shared a very impressive ceremony. This ceremony by local Scouters, was done in observance of the 47th Anniversary of Boy Scouting.

There's something about a Boy Scout that ALWAYS tugs at our hearts. Maybe its their uniforms — maybe its the way they walk — maybe its the way they talk — maybe its the happy smile on their faces — but mostly its because we KNOW what SCOUTING means to a boy — and to his family.

Friday night we watched Johnny Covington as he led the entire group in the pledge to the Christian Flag and as Tommy Fields led in the pledge to the American flag we felt that everyone at the game rededicated himself. Everett Allen repeated the Scout oath, surrounded by the entire group of Scouts, while Barry Adams played "Taps" in the background.

It was a very impressive as well as solemn ceremony and we are grateful to all of our Scouts — and to the MANY Scout Leaders who give their services to the young people of Fulton may belong to the Boy and Girl Scouts of America.

Line Road had an enjoyable weekend when a childhood friend, Mrs. John Barton of Paris, Tennessee was her guest. Many Fultonians will remember Mrs. Barton as the former Mary Dot Parker who is a former resident. Mary Dot is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parker whose home once stood where the Joe Mac Reed family now lives on Route 3 on the Boaz Chapel Road. Lola and Mary Dot spent most of the weekend just visitin' around with many of their old friends. 'Twas nice to do just that, too. We know that everyone was happy to see Mary Dot.

Sara Bushart, Irene White and Ann Latta left Wednesday for Lexington, Ky. where Sara will attend the Spring Board Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Kentucky State Medical Association. Irene will visit with her daughter, Jane DeBoer and we're fairly certain that Ann will be seen around the Chi Omega House on the U. K. campus. She'll spend some time with Jane, too — we think.

Frank and Florence Beadles are enjoying the sunshine in Florida. They left last Friday for Lakeland where they will visit their daughter, Mary Lee Truitt and hubby, George. Their plans were a little indefinite as to whether or not they would go on to Key West — but we think they probably will. We're hoping they'll go — so they can stop for a visit with our good friends, Dottie and Happy Edwards in Miami.

Ruby McDade is enjoying having her mother, Mrs. R. L. Conley, in her home for a visit. Mrs. Conley lives in Alamo, Tennessee. They have been playing bridge and having small luncheons with their many friends. They attended a bridge luncheon in Union City, Wednesday with a good friend of their's, Mrs. Sumner.

Miss Margaret Wroe has returned to her home in Cloverport, Ky. after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Carl Brittain on Third Street. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Muzzall spent a day in Nashville last week. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Norment visited their daughter in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon of Nashville spent the weekend in Fulton visiting his mother, Mrs. J. W. Gordon and his aunt, Mrs. D. C. Ligon on Third Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller and son, Joe Kelly, of Murray spent the weekend in Fulton visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kellie Lowe.

Danny Meyers of Sheldon, Wisc., arrived in Fulton Sunday night to join his wife and son, who have been visiting here several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowden and other relatives. Mr. Meyers was accompanied to Fulton by his mother, Mrs. C. E. Meyers of Sheldon.

Mrs. Walter Hill (Birdie to us) had a happy birthday Sunday when Mary Latta, her daughter, entertained for her with a lovely birthday dinner. Grace and Viron Beard of Martin came over to celebrate the occasion. Grace is Birdie's daughter, too. How nice it would have been if Dick Hill of Sydney, Australia, could have been here — but we know that his thoughts were with them. Many more Happy Birthdays, Birdie!

And speaking of birthdays — we want to wish a happy one to Boots Shepherd who celebrated his birthday on the 12th — along with Abraham Lincoln!

Majorie and Glenn Walker entertained with a lovely "family dinner" on Sunday at their home near Fulton. Those who enjoyed the day were Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Burkett and son, Brent, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Walker, Janice and Larry and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Golden of Clinton and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shupe, Mrs. Alvin Shupe of Fulton.

Maxwell McDade and Ernest McCollum entertained many of their "hunting and fishing friends" with a delicious duck supper, at a local restaurant Thursday evening. Everyone had a fine time, we know, because when those fellows get together there's never a dull moment. Methinks the men should have parties MORE often! Why should the "gals" always have the "party spotlight"?

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vaughan were hosts at their home near Chestnut Glade Saturday night when they entertained several friends with a barbecue supper.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Mayor of Dresden, Mr. and Mrs. Ches Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Durrell Terrell, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brundage, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. James Pogue, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nannery and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Wright and Mike, and Bill Rogers.

Members of the Homemakers Class of the Baptist Church met at the church recently for a pot-luck supper. Irene Blankenship led the group in prayer. Martha Phelps gave a splendid devotional with "Faith" as her subject. The members enjoyed a tacular

Miss Kathryn Taylor and Mr. William Darden Are Married In New Mexico On Feb. 2nd

Miss Kathryn Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Lynn Taylor, and the late Mr. Taylor, of Fulton, became the bride of William H. Darden, son of Mrs. A. H. Darden and the late Mr. Darden of Raton, New Mexico. The ceremony took place at 4 p. m. in the chapel of Central Methodist Church, with the Rev. Robert F. Naylor officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Alexander Leneave of Fulton, wore a dress of iridescent rose taffeta and lace with matching hat. Her bouquet was of white gladiolus and hyacinths.

Mrs. Alexander Leneave, the bride's sister and only attendant, wore slate blue taffeta with hat of the same shade and carried pink gladiolus.

Mrs. Darden attended William Words College in Fulton, Missouri, and the Bowling Green College of Commerce. She was formerly connected with the Caruthersville, Missouri school system and has more recently held positions in Raton and Albuquerque.

Mr. Darden, a practicing attorney in Raton, is a member of the State Bar of New Mexico and American Bar Association and is president of the Raton Kiwanis Club and a director of the Raton Chamber of Commerce.

After a wedding trip to Colorado Springs and the Grand Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Darden will make their home in Raton.

● Mrs. Lannom

submit to you my candidacy for re-election to the office of County Court Clerk, a position in which I have been privileged to serve you for the past few years.

During my service as your county court clerk it has been my constant effort to serve you efficiently and well. Undoubtedly I have mistakes, as most people do, but they have been errors of the mind and not the heart.

Serving as your county court clerk has gratified me in many respects; chief among them has been the opportunity to meet and know all of the people of this county better and to make many lasting friendships which shall always be a source of great pleasure to me.

Of course you know that in making a race for re-election my first duty will be to the affairs of my office. While I have the fortunate experience of having unusually efficient employees in the County Court Clerk's office, I know that much of the business attendant to my office is my responsibility and mine alone. I want it that way because your confidence in the operation of my office is dependant upon me.

It is for this reason that I humbly and sincerely ask for your continued support and influence in my race for the office of county court clerk.
I shall make untiring efforts to see each of you personally during my campaign, but in the event that the hours of my visits are made shorter by the duties of my office, please know that only those duties will determine the amount of time I can spend with each of you personally.

I want to thank each of you for the many courtesies you have extended to me as your county court clerk, and may I sincerely hope for your vote and influence when election time comes around on May 28, 1957.

Your sincere friend,
Kathryn R. Lannom

Services For C. L. Gardner Held

Friday, February 8

C. L. Gardner, 67, of Fulton, photographer known throughout southwest Kentucky and West Tennessee for 45 years, died at 2 p. m. Wednesday, February 6, at the Haws hospital in Fulton.

Mr. Gardner suffered a stroke about 2:30 a. m. Wednesday, February 6, was rushed to the hospital. He had been in ill health for several years.

Services were held at 2:30 p. m. Friday, February 8, at the First Methodist church in Fulton with Hornbeak Funeral Home in charge. Burial was in the Wesley cemetery in the Beelerton community four miles northwest of Fulton.

Mr. Gardner, owner of Gardner's studio on Commercial avenue, Fulton, had been in the photography field since 1912, specializing in portraits and school pictures. Mrs. Nettie Shipp Gardner of District
7 near Rives, widow of Mr.
Gardner's son, Cecil W., who died Dec. 24, 1949, Mr. Gardner's daughter, Mrs. Cecil Bolin of Fulton, and his wife assisted Mr. Gardner in his studio work.

Mr. Gardner, during his many years of photography, made pictures in schools from Ripley to Camden and from Paducah to Humboldt, maintaining one of the largest school photography businesses in the southwest Kentucky-West Tennessee area.

Mr. Gardner set up a studio in Union City about 1924, which his son managed until the late 1930's.

Mr. Gardner was born Jan-14, 1890, in the Beelerton community in Hickman county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton W. Gardner.

He moved with his family to the Harris Station community, attending school there and at South Fulton. He was married to the former Miss Allie Bell Paschall and lived in the Harris community until moving to Fulton and establishing his studio here in 1912.

In addition to his wife, Mr.
Gardner is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Russell Harding of Memphis; a brother Raymond W. of Detroit; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. A sister, Mrs.
Gertie Morris of Paducah, died about three months ago.

PATRICIA LATANE

Dear Patricia Latane:

I am a boy 22 years old and I love a girl, but don't know if she loves me or not. She says she does, but she dates other boys until she wants something then she gives me a date. No kidding, every time she will see me she wants me to give her the money to buy something, or else she wants me to go buy her something, and after I get it for her then she won't give me a date for a week or so, but during this time she is dating other boys. What do you think about this?

J. W. S.

Dear J. W. S.:

Just how dull do people get these days? All that I can say is you sure are a sucker, and I believe a big one; the very idea of you running back after each kicking. I don't much blame the girl for treating you this way. It looks like you would wake up to the fact that all she wants from you is what she can get out of you; she doesn't care for you, but you certainly have proven your love for her, to work and take your money and spend it on gifts for a girl that won't even see you. Yes, I hate to say it, being of the female sex, but there are girls who will do boys just this way, then get behind their back and laugh at them, and tell their girl friends how silly they are for giving them these gifts, and that is just what this girl is doing to you. Now take some good honest-to-goodness advice; forget this girl if you never do anything else; find another girl, go out with her, learn to live and enjoy yourself. You will finally awake to the fact that you weren't in love with this girl; only infatuation.

Dear Miss Latane:

I'm 19 years old; am in love with a boy that my parents don't approve. Now he has asked me to marry him. What must I do? It's either give up my parents or him?

M. M.

Dear M. M.: This is rather a hard question as I do not know the bad or the good concerning the boy. There is a lot to think about when you are approaching the altar; there are a lot of things to think about when you bid your parents goodbye forever, because when you lose them you have lost the best friends you have on this old earth. To keep peace in the family and hold on to your love my suggestion would be for the boy to prove he is worthy of you and win over your parents. Now if this young man loves you like he should and wants you for a partner the rest of his life he will also want your happiness, and you can't be happy without the wishes of your parents, so I'm sure he will be glad to first win over your parents by proving to them he is worthy of you. Now, if you and he don't know how to go about this I suggest you go to your Pastor and talk the matter over with him and he will be more than glad to help.

I'm sure if your love is as strong as it should be and his is as strong as it should, you will work things out and get the blessings of your parents at the altar.

Dear Miss Latane,

Will you answer a few questions for me?

1. Will my husband and I ever have any more children?
2. Will we get our home paid for this year?
3. Will we buy more land and build a new house?
4. Will we ever buy a new car?
5. Will my son ever come back home?
6. Is he working? If so, is he saving his money?
7. Do you think he will stay out of trouble?

Be sure to answer this question: Does my husband really love me?

Yours,

L. N. S.

Dear L. N. S.: Yes my dear your husband loves you. No, you will never have anymore children. No, you will lack one payment at the end of this year. You will buy more land the middle of 1958 and move into a new home in 1959. Yes, you will buy a new car, as it will be a case of have too, the later part of this summer. No, your son will never come back home to stay just only on a visit. Yes, he is working, has a real good job, and doing fine. Yes, he is saving money to buy a car. Yes, he will stay out of trouble; he is a good boy and has a good head on him. You have nothing to worry about where he is concerned.

Dear Miss Latane:

I have a married daughter and she is expecting the stork sometime in April. I have heard that my son-in-law is going with some girl. How can I go about telling my daughter without hurting her.

E. H.

I suggest you keep your long nose in your own business and out of other peoples. You don't know that, you have just heard it, so you really don't know anything to tell. You should never repeat things you hear as this has broken up a lot of homes.

Dear Pat Latane:

I'm going with two boys and I don't know which one I'm in love with. Can you tell me?

C. J.

Dear C. J.: When you fall in love you won't have to write and ask if you're in love. You will know, as you won't be able to sleep, eat, etc. Now when you get in that shape, you will know its love.

Dear Patricia Latane:

Someone went into our smoke house and got two country hams, a side of bacon and a jowl. Can you tell me who it was. They unlocked the door and went in and locked it back.

C. W.

This was done by a man who lives across the road from you. He knew where the key was on the back porch and he waited until you went to church, then went over. He still has it. Its in his attic. He intends to sell it.

Dear Miss Latane:

My husband is wanting to borrow money on our house so he can quit his job and go in business for himself. Do you think this is a wise move to make?

D. S.

No, I do not, as I see your husband has been in business before. He is the type person that can't run a place of his own, and I think it would be a very bad move. He has a good job and had better hold on to it. Because good jobs for elder men are far between and very few. These large companies just don't hire older men so he had better stay where he is before you lose everything you have.

Miss Latane:

I have been reading some of your letters to other people and would like you to answer some of my questions.

Where is my daughter and granddaughter?

Why did she send her boy down here on me?

Why does he steal so much?

I give him all the money I think he needs and he always says he is sorry, but he does it again.

Thank you

G. C. N.

Dear G. C. N.: They are in the state of Michigan and she sent the boy to you so she wouldn't be worried with him, as he got in trouble and she was told she would be responsible for anything else he got into. This child wasn't given the love and care he should have had and he got in the habit of picking up things. Now he does it and after he does it he's sorry. I believe in this child and you should too. Give him the proper love and guidance and he will stop this and you can help him if you will. If you don't this child will end up in jail.

PLEASANT VIEW

Mrs. George Elliott

Quite a few people in this community are on the sick list from various causes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeter Bowlins both are in bed with the flu.

Sara Wall and Agnes Wilkinson, both patients in Haws Clinic last week are improved and at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Thomas had as their guests Sunday for dinner Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hazelwood, Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott and Mr. Homer Wood.

The W. M. U. of Pleasant View met at the Church in their regular meeting on February 3. Six members and three visitors were present. The March meeting will be an all day affair in the home of Madge McNatt.

Mrs. Lena Cashion is home now after spending a few days in the Mayfield Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Goodin spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown and attended church at Pleasant View Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Goodin had the misfortune last week of losing most all their possessions by fire.

Mrs. Pearl Clement isn't so well as this writing.

MIDDLE ROAD

Mrs. Jeff Harrison

As everyone is sick with colds, there isn't much news this week. We hope everyone will soon be better.

Thursday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Harrison, were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Phillips, Betty Ebert, Mr. and Mrs. George Black and Telitha.

Visitors in this community over the week-end, were Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Evans, Marita Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans and son of Lansing, Michigan. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry, and girls, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Evans and Terry, of Dallas, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Davis, had as their guests Saturday night, Wilma Jean, and Ruben Davis.

Mrs. R. B. Watts, and Ralph Hardy, enjoyed a nice birthday supper Saturday night, at the Watts home. It was very much of a family get together. We wish them many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilhaws were visitors in this community Sunday.
