-jottings from Jo's Note Book

Well, its about three o'clock on Wednesday (press day) and I'm just getting around to writing this column. Actually as I write it I can hardly believe that everything is out of the way and that we're going to press with this issue, which the wonderful News staff and I have gotten together with no apparent mishaps at all. Paul is at Fort Meade, Md. for two weeks.

However on Wednesday morning about 9:45 a. m. I had my serious doubts that I would last through the day, because up to that point I got myself so twisted up in what I was doing that I met myself coming back from the last event.

It all started with the rain in the wee hours of Wednesday morning. Ordinarily I love to sleep with the patter-patter of the rain hitting up against the windows, but about four a. m. Wednesday I got intermittenly scared, irritated and down-right mad. For two hours I walked from one room to the other trying to shut out the sound. I tried sleeping with my pillow over my head. I closed the windows. It got too hot. I opened them and the rain came in . . . and still I couldn't determine the source of my awakedness.

But it was there — first calm and then constant noise like a riveter was knocking on the back door trying to blast it open. I looked out of the window and thought that maybe it was the rain hitting on the metal lawn furniture. It wasn't, at least it has always been out there and it has rained before and there was no blasting.

I had left a call at the radio station to get me up at six a. m. for the 7:00 a. m. "live" newscast which I did. But that was a complete waste of time. Because when Podner Gardner called me I had already been wide awake and plum put out because I couldn't fine the source of all the noise. After acknowleging Podner's call I went outside in the rain . . . the water didn't matter . . . I needed cooling off. The sound was coming from the backyard so I did a quick survey out there towards the rear of the yard. There was nothing!

But as I walked to the back steps, dripping wet, I saw a red gasoline can moving about rather animatedly and I stopped in the down-pour to see what the trouble was. I found out in a hurry and finally pin-pointed the tin-tin-tin-tap-tap-tap -bang-bang noises I started hearing when the rains came.

Now at our house we have a new dog . . . Snowball . . . the kids call him. He is a lovable little character, but stupid as all get out. He had gotten out of his pen when it started raining and ran to get under the back steps for shelter. He did, but something happened. And this is what I think it was.

In his hurry to get under the steps he bumped into the gasoline can. He knocked it over in his dash for shelter. The can landed right under the drainpipe which catches the water from the roof. The can also blocked his entrance to his hideaway under the steps. So, when it rained hard the deluge of water from the roof went down the drain-pipe and of course splattered making a riviting noise. In the meantime Snowball would get splattered with water and would attempt to get out of his hide-away and tried pushing the can, which was a little too much for him.

So there it went . . . the rain hitting on the oil can . . . the water splattering Snowball . . . Snowball trying to escape his fate of drowning . . . and the oil can just stayed there . . . beating a tom-tom with water and almost rendering Snowball unconscious trying to move it. I saved him from his living death of drowning and beating after two hours of his misery and my sleepwalking.

Having pinch-hitted for Kelly Lowe on his seven and 8:30 a. m. newscasts and then working all day, I am tempted to go ask Kelly (who is ill) to get out of bed because he's a well man compared to me.

State-Wide Meet Planned For Cities Seeking Industry

Area Meetings Is To Be August 27 At Kentucky Dam

A series of meetings designed for Kentuckians, who have a real interest in obtaining new industry for their communities, has been scheduled by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

Under the direction of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Area Development Council five workshops are planned during the week of August 26-30, according to E. R. Mitchell, Covington, President of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

The Chairman of the Area Development Council for the State Chamber, Floyd Fairman, Lexington, noted that the workshops will be made up of a series of three panels dealing with the major projects that local communities should include for a well-rounded industrial development program.

The meetings are scheduled at the following places: August 26 — Kentucky Dam Village, August 27 — Mammoth Cave National Park, August 28 — Pine Mountain State Park, August 29 — Paintsville Country Club, August 30 — Campbell House Lexington. All meetings will commence at 10:00 a. m. C. D. S. T., Fairman said.

Participating as discussion leaders of the meetings are industrial representatives of Kentucky firms and organizations working primarily in the industrial development field.

Trinity Church To Have Resident Pastor

The new priest in charge of Trinity Episcopal Church, Fulton, and St. Paul's Church, Hickman, the Rev. Alfred A. Maloney — soon will arrive to take charge of his new field.

He is scheduled to assume his duties August 15. He, Mrs. Maloney and their son, David, will make their home at Fulton.

The Rev. Mr. Maloney comes to Fulton and Hickman from St. John's Episcopal Church, Bedford, Ind. A Canadian by birth, Mr. Maloney served two churches in the Diocese of Indianapolis, at Madison and Bedford, from 1949 until accepting his new field.

Rev Walter Mischke To Preach On Sunday

Rev. Walter E. Mischke, Sr., district superintendent, will preach at the First Methodist Church Sunday night.

All families of the church are invited to attend a pot-luck supper at 6:00 Sunday night with the ladies of WSCS serving as hostesses. Members are urged to attend and visitors are always welcome.

Area Group Meets With Waterfield To Report On Routing Of Highway

Kentucky's members of the Mississippi River Roadway Planning Commission met today with Acting Governor Harry Lee Waterfield and Highway Commissioner Robert Humphreys. Purpose of the conference was to brief the State officials on latest developments concerning routing the scenic highway into Kentucky.

Waterfield and Humphreys are scheduled to attend a meeting Sept. 23-24 in Cairo, Ill. of representatives from states which are members of the commission. The Cairo meeting is designed to further plans for the scenic highway which is to follow the great river's course, Waterfield said.

Kentucky commission member Fred Stokes, Hickman, said he has been working approximately seven years to get the highway routed through the Kentucky counties of Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman and Fulton. These are the Kentucky counties bordering the Mississippi River, he explained.

Immediately after the Cairo meeting, The Federal Bureau of Public Roads will make a preliminary engineering study of the parkway route, according to J. C. Cobb, bureau engineer who sat in on the Frankfort meeting. Cobb said J. W. Cron, division engineer of the bureau, will assist the Interior Department representatives in making the engineering report which will be submitted to the State of Kentucky.

Stokes said his proposed route for the highway runs through Wickliffe, Bardwell, Columbus, Hickman and possibly through Arlington, Clinton, and Cayce.

Working with Stokes on the Kentucky Commission are Pies Fields and Kent Hamby, both of Hickman; R. W. Graves, Bardwell, and H. S. Alexander, Clinton.

Clinton Making Plans To Secure Airstrip For Area

Strip Would Be Available On 20-Acre Tract

Preliminary steps toward the construction and purchase of an air strip near Clinton are now underway under the leadership of the Clinton Chamber of Commerce.

Earl J. Warren and Robert Lee Yeatch have explained that the strip contemplated by the chamber would require no lighting since it would be used only in the daytime, and that only a sodded runway is under construction.

The strip under consideration would be 265 feet wide and 2,800 feet long and would include approximately 20 acres. The strip would have to be fenced for protection and from cattle and other obstacles. Upkeep on such a strip would be small.

They also said that if any federal and state aid for the project is forthcoming the chamber would first have to declare and document the need for such a strip.

The city council has endorsed the project.

Public Invited To Attend Revival At Palestine Church

The public is cordially invited to attend revival services beginning Sunday at the Palestine Methodist Church with the Rev. M. B. Proctor in charge of the services.

The revival will begin Sunday at 10:45 a. m. and services will be held each day at 10:45 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Hershel Morris of Christ Methodist Church in Paducah will lead the singing. The revival will continue until Friday, August 16.

Final Plans Made For Organization Of Jaycee Group

The officers of the Junior Fulton Chamber of Commerce met Monday night and drew up a constitution and by-laws to be placed before the members of the club for approval.

The next meeting will be Thursday, August 15, at Taylor Chevrolet at 7:30 p. m. All young men between the ages of 21 and 35 are cordially invited to attend. On August 18 there will be a state meeting at Danville, Ky. Five or more Fulton men are planning to attend this meeting.

There are several projects to be placed before the club. All these projects are for the benefit of the community.

ICE CREAM SUPPER

Home-made ice cream and cake will be served Thursday, August 15, on the lawn of the Chapel Hill Methodist Church. This supper is sponsored by the MYF. The public is cordially invited to attend. Serving will begin at 7:30 p. m.

BOOSTER TALKER

David Caldwell of Union City was the principal speaker at the South Fulton Booster Club when the club met for its regular meeting. Howard Arnold is the new president of the Booster Club, succeeding George Terry.

Army Contract To Clinton Factory Ups Employment

Garment Firm Gets Order For 102,000 Army Field Jackets

A government contract for the production of 102,000 Army field jackets which has just been awarded the Clinton Garment Manufacturing Co. will enable the firm to operate almost 12 months out of the year.

Irving Berlin, one of the factory owners, said that although the contract would amount to approximately one-half million dollars, it would not result in any great profit to the company.

"The best thing about the contract," Berlin explained, "is that it calls for production during the normally slow season in the garment industry."

Production under the contract is to start in October of this year and will continue through March of 1958. This is the period during which the factory was closed last year.

Production on commercial contracts for civilian firms is now at top speed at the local factory.

The factory owners were unsuccessful in their attempts to get fill-in contracts last year and had therefore been concentrating their efforts toward obtaining a contract for the slow season this year.

Such government contracts are usually awarded without any advance word. Bids are made and only after the contracts are awarded by the government do the companies receiving the awards learn that they have been low and best bidders.

Martin-Union City Hiway Paving Projects Planned

McDade and McDade Gets Contract In Weakley County

Improvement of the Martin-Union City highway is one of a number of construction projects approved last week by the State Highway Department. A total of 220 miles of construction in 36 counties is included in the low bids totaling $7,710,163 which were opened Aug. 2.

The work on the Martin-Union City highway would include widening and resurfacing of 10.8 miles. Low bid of $479,836 for the project was made by Wright Contracting Company of Columbus, Ga.

Another project involving Weakley County was for paving and building sidewalks on two-tenths mile of Route 118 in Dresden. Low bid of $66,305 was made by McDade and McDade of Fulton, Ky.

C. B. Funbanks, assistant division construction engineer of the Tennessee State Highway department at Jackson, stated that work on the project would begin within the next 30 to 60 days.

Mr. Fumbanks stated that the present 18-foot highway between Martin and Union City will be widened three feet on each side, making a total width when completed of 24 feet. The highway will also be resurfaced.

Mr. Fumbanks said that all culverts would be widened to take the 24-foot highway and that the shoulders will be rebuilt to allow six feet on each side of the widened highway.

Farm Bureau Picnic Is August 22 With Beef And Dairy Show

Its here again! For the twenty-third year the Fulton County Farm Bureau is holding its annual barbecue and picnic. And with that delicious meal there will be activity galore. For instance there will be:

The 4-H Club and FFA beef show and sale;

The 4-H Club and FHA girls display exhibit;

The Dairy Show.

The date is Wednesday, August 22.

The beef show starts at 9:30 a. m. and dinner will be served beginning at 11:30 a. m. It will be a big day all around the Fairgrounds at Fulton. New farm machinery will be on display, latest farm practices will be discussed among all those attending and visitors will come from far and near to browse around and have a good time.

This year an added attraction will interest guests when an auction of farm products, cakes, pies, and useful items will be held to make up the deficit in this year's Cancer Drive. Col. Charlie Burrow will conduct the auction from a platform on the grounds and talent from Radio Station WFUL will be on hand to entertain the guests at the picnic and the auction.

Mrs. W. L. Durbin is urging all persons wishing to donate items to the auction to call her at Water Valley, phone 881-R.

Farm Bureau members and their children will be served for fifty cents a plate while all non-members will be served at $1.00 a plate.

Be on hand for the big picnic and farm shows and most of all join the Fulton County Farm Bureau at your first opportunity.

Tobacco Growers Of West Kentucky Plan Anniversary

Progress In 25 Years Will Be Seen At Mayfeild

The Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association will celebrate 25 years of service and progress in Dark Tobacco growing at a big celebration in Mayfield, Saturday, August 31st.

A full days program of interest to Tobacco Growers has been planned. Highlights of the days program will be commemorative addresses by Mr. Boone Hill, President of the Association and Dean Frank Welch of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Also on the agenda is a speech by Joe R. Williams, Director of the Tobacco Division of the Commodity Stabilization Service in Washington, D. C.

The program will start at 10 a. m. and run throughout the day. A giant Bar-B-Q dinner will be served to approximately 3,000 growers and their families in attendance. Holmes Ellis, manager of the Association said that some outstanding musical talent and other attractions will fill the day's program.

The program will be held at the Fairgrounds in Mayfield. All members, Dark Tobacco growers, and their families are invited to attend.

Fulton Will Miss Baker Cosby Who Resigns At Siegel

Popular Official Leaves To Accept Post In Georgia

Fulton will miss friendly, civic-minded George Cosby who resigned as manager of the Henry I. Siegel Garment Factory last week. Cosby has accepted a position with a manufacturing company in Georgia.

Popular with his employees and active in church work and in civic affairs, Mr. Cosby was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church where he was assistant Sunday School superintendent.

Mr. Cosby succeeded Leo Greengrass as manager of the local garment plant; the company has not yet named Mr. Cosby's successor.

City Golf Champs Hold On To Titles

Max McDade, chalking up his second golf championship this year turned in some superior golfing again Sunday when he defeated Johnny Henson in a hard fought match. Max earlier won the 1956 championship when he defeated Bub White in the finals. The 1956 match was played this year since the contestants were not able to play the event last year.

And Virginia Rogers added championship victory number 13 to her already bulging galaxy of trophies when she defeated Betty Vowell on the 16th hole last week. Both Virginia and Betty are among West Kentucky's finest golfers.

Farmers-Businessmen See Benefits And Importance Of Proper Soil Conservation

Joining farmers and officials of the District Soil Conservation Service members of the Fulton-South Fulton Chamber of Commerce participated in an informative soil conservation tour of the Scott DeMyer farm last week.

Escorting the farmers and businessmen on the tour and pointing out the advantages to be derived from soil conservation were Charles Wright, Chairman of the District Conservation office, Charles Meunier and Mr. DeMyer, associate in the SCD.

Soil conservation and the establishment of waterways is becoming increasingly more important to modern farming and the tour pointed up the need for additional waterways in the county Mr. DeMyer, the principal speaker for the day told his tour members that Fulton County is in need of some 2000 acres of watersheds.

The soil conservation and ty is in its early stages and educational tours such as the one held last week will be a greater incentive to stepping up the program.

From the DeMyer farm the group traveled to the large farm of Dr. C. T. Alexander, where gully work was being done. Several huge gullies were being filled. Similar work is needed on farms in the Harris Fork Creek Watershed, Mr. DeMyer and Mr. Meunier said.

The last stop on the Alexander farm was at a new four-acre lake-haped pond.

Water Show At Hickman

Bob Summers, Hickman swimming pool manager, reported that plans are being made for a water show to be staged at the pool in East Hickman Friday night, Aug. 16. The public is invited to the show which will begin at 7:30

Robert and Gladys . . . that's what everybody calls this popular pair of WFUL artists. They do have a last name . . . its Luter, and they're from Hickman, Ky. Appearing each Saturday morning on the Station from 11:00 to 12 noon, Robert and Gladys have made TV appearances and are known all over West Kentucky and Tennessee. They have recently released a record on the Jackson label and sales are going fine.

George Ely Burnette, basketball star, football star, school and civic leader and one of the county's most outstanding young farmers for the fifteenth time in his youthful career showed the grand champion jersey cow in the diary shows in which he has participated. Three times he showed the grand champion at districts fairs and one time he showed the champion at the Kentucky State Fair. The other honors came from county and other shows.

At the National 4-H Dairy Show he came away with the honors for showing the reserve grand champion. George, who says they have six trophies for showing dairy cattle and three shoe boxes of ribbons, will enter the University of Louisville this fall on a basketball scolarship. He plans to study business administration.

Other Fulton County boys, whose names are always identified as winners in dairy shows are as follows:

Clinton Paper Cites Accomplishments Of State Administration; Calls Critics Political Propagandists

"All we ask is that we be given the opportunity to carry out our program for the next two years, and if the people of Kentucky are not satisfied that we have acted as good public servants, they can express themselves at the polls," Acting Gov. Waterfield said in a speech at Fancy Farm recently.

(To keep the record straight this editorial is written by the editor of the Gazette in keeping with his observations as a newspaper reporter, without approval or disapproval of the publisher who is busy these days in Frankfort.)

We only wish the ninety-five percent of the people of Kentucky who are neither professional politicians nor political hobbyists could have heard the Fancy Farm speech. Facts are what are needed — not misinformation or no information at all.

The facts speak for themselves. Through the efforts of the present administration Kentucky ranked first in the nation last year in the degree of improvement in education. It is true that we had fallen so far behind the national average during previous administrations that our schools had to "run like mad to keep standing still," but had it not been for the full implementation of the Minimum Foundation Program under the Chandler-Waterfield administration, our schools would have been "forty-ninth" in the nation.

The deserved assistance the present administration is giving to our schools cannot be overlooked by parents of children in school. It cannot be belittled by hostile political propagandists who would write editorials on the creaking of the Pearly Gates to serve their selfish purposes.

Regardless of what misinformation is put out by these hostile propagandists, the fact remains that within the next month more road building contracts will be let by Kentucky than are normally let in an entire year.

Criticisms of policies and personnel in our state welfare agencies cannot cover up the fact that our mentally ill are being treated and returned to usefulness in our society at a much greater rate than ever before in the history of our commonwealth.

Criticisms of the new medical school at the University of Kentucky cannot cover up the fact that it is to provide doctors for our state where some of our counties do not have a medical doctor and even more counties do not have a dentist.

The present state administration was elected to office in the general election in 1955 by the greatest majority in the history of the state. In the long run, regardless of what we say here editorially, or what the political propagandists who oppose the administration may say, that administration will be judged at the polls in 1959 on what it has done.

In due time, the people of Kentucky will judge for themselves if the administration now in Frankfort has served them well. To make up their minds they need the true facts. Those facts cannot be long obscured by political propagandists.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Sports Stars Speak About God

Carl Erskine, Doak Walker

Bill Gass

Carl Erskine, ace pitcher, Brooklyn Dodgers:

WHEN I WAS a small boy I suddenly realized I could throw a baseball harder than most of my buddies. I didn't earn something that made me stand out. It was just there, all mine, for me to develop and use.

The same story is true in everyone; in varying degrees, perhaps, but nevertheless we all posses qualities that are our own to develop and use. Why, then, shouldn't we realize that these talents are God-given and go a step further by believing they should be God-directed?

TAKING THESE things for granted is a very common mistake among most of us. We are usually so wrapped up in working toward a goal for ourselves that we aren't really conscious of the things that are our greatest assets. We take for granted what natural talents we have.

But these natural abilities have been given to us for a purpose. They are to help lead us to everlasting happiness with God in heaven. If they do not, then, they aren't being properly used and appreciated.

WE SHOULD all be thankful for our lives and our abilities—and more than just casually thankful. Being prayerfully thankful is a good start. Recognizing our responsibility to those we influence is another step in the right direction. But the genuine move is to profess a complete faith in Christ, and to let our lives be directed by His teachings.

When we come to the realization that He is the Way, the Truth, and the Life, we are leading our lives in the right direction and can know that our God-given talents are also God-directed. We should always pray for the inward strength to be entirely committed to God's way of life.

Doak Walker, all pro halfback, Detroit Lions:

MY PARENTS made it clear to me that sports were not the most important thing in life. God had top spot in our family.

We said the blessing before every meal and prayed together over problems of the day, for our family and friends, and for world peace.

I have never been ashamed of my complete faith in God.

Bill Glass, All American, Baylor:

THE AIR we breathe, the food we eat, the bodies in which we live were all created by God. I am glad beyond words that this great God can live in my heart and give me a goal greater than at the end of any football field — eternal life through Jesus Christ.

More thrilling than a winning field goal in the final seconds of a game is the fact that all people everywhere can know Him in this life-changing way.

WAITING

All human wisdom is summed up in two words — wait and hope.

—Alexandre Dumas the Elder

Its awful how much of our lives we spend just waiting.

—John O'Hara

I have no mockings or arguments; I witness and wait.

—Walt Whitman

How poor are they that have no patience!

—William Shakespeare

Know ye not that he who exercises the largest charity, and waits on God, renews his strength, and is exalted?

—Mary Baker Eddy

Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits.

—Thomas A. Edison

To rejoice in the prosperity of another is to partake of it.

"At least the monotony of your business changed after you hired me!"

Young Man From Hickman Spends A Summer In Guatemala; Finds Living Different, Interesting

(Ed's Note: The following article was sent to the News by Mrs. Frank Henry of Hickman. The interview with Terry Taylor was published in the Westchester, California, newspaper. Terry is the son of Mrs. Julia Roper Taylor, Hickman.)

"I enjoyed the country, the people and scenery so much I would be glad to return there any day if given the opportunity," was the opinion of Terry Taylor, 20, 7124 Trask Avenue, who spent last summer in Guatemala as the guest of his college roommate's family. Taylor is a student at California Polytechnic Institute.

Taylor estimated that Guatemala City is roughly the size of Westchester and Santa Monica together with modern, tall structures equal to any found in the average American city. What impressed him most was the overall cleanliness contrasting to cities in the United States.

The rural areas are poor by comparison, with very few improvements and poor dirt roads. The beauty of the rural areas, however more than compensates for the lack of improvements, he observed.

"Most of the house plants which we have to cultivate here," Taylor states, "are found growing wild there throughout the whole country. Beautiful orchids, for example, in many varieties, grow everywhere."

Most of the area outside Guatemala City is devoted to coffee plantations such as the one owned by Oscar Ufer's family, who were Taylor's hosts. The Ufers, like many plantation owners are of German stock.

The Guatemalan government has been seizing these plantations in recent years and attempting to manage them with govermet staffed personnel.

"There is considerable friction between United States and foreign business interest in Guatemala," Taylor observed. "The troubles of the country are aggravated by the fact that technically, the country is still at war with Germany, and all imports from there have recently been stopped by the Guatemalan government.

"An uprising, during which 26 university students were shot, occured the week after Oscar and I arrived there," Taylor recalled. "As for as I can determine, the government is afraid of a communist uprising. After the student rebellion a 9 p. m. curfew was ordered and police roadblocks were installed. This lasted for almost a month. The country was still under martial law when we left to return to the United States in late August."

Guatemalan police are extremely corrupt, in the opinion of Taylor, who cited an incident which occured while he was present. "I was a passenger in a car with my roommate, Oscar. His brother was at the wheel of a car following. Suddenly a boy on a bicycle traveling in the opposite direction, passed and struck a third vehicle behind that of Oscar's brother.

"We all stopped. When the police arrived to settle the problem of responsibility for the accident, they made Oscar pay $30 to them and $35 to the boy on the bicycle.

"Then they collected $10, all he had with him, from the man in the vehicle which struck the boy and imposed a fine of $30 on the boy."

The reason, apparently, for settling the accident in this manner was to make those who had the most money on them at the fines.

"No tickets were issued or receipts given. But this seemed to be normal from what I was able to judge. The police accept gifts of whiskey, cigarettes, and such, regularly from private citizens, whether persons are involved in trouble or not."

Highlight of Taylor's vacation was a 10-day auto and canoe trip with six others, led by the head of the department of roads. The group left Guatemala City by car traveling north to Coban through foothills and mountainous areas, then turned eastward toward the Atlantic Ocean to Pancajche. There they were joined by two Indians with canoes who paddled them by river to El Estor on Lake Isabel. At that point they boarded a motor launch which took them through El Gofete to the coast at Port Barrios, Amatique Bay.

The return trip was made by car along the new Atlantic Highway, now under construction.

"The climate," Taylor says, "is most enjoyable. There was a dry spell all during last summer which is affecting crops badly. Much of the corn crop, the main diet of the Indians, has been spoiled.

"Put Your Money Where Your Mouth Is", They Told Dutch Owens, So He Showed 'em

"Dutch" Owens, Fulton fisherman who "talks' a good catch but who can also go out and "produce" it, has made a believer out of a Union Citian.

When Dutch, conversing with Art Melton at the Union City Messenger, offered to guarantee his listener 10 bass or a $10 bill, Melton took him up on the offer, set a date and arranged a trip.

Owens and Melton drove to Kentucky Lake last week end returned to Union City with 12 black bass weighing from 1½ to 4 pounds, 12 white bass, a catfish and a pike.

While on the Lake, Melton stated, the couple passed a party from Missouri who had been fishing for three days and had caught only one small bass. After a capsule demonstration by Owens, the party pulled in 21 more bass . . . that afternoon.

Melton, convinced, wrote up the full story last week for the Messenger, where it appeared complete with a picture of the catch.

SYNTHETIC FILTER

The principal material in filter-tips for cigarettes, according to the August Reader's Digest, is cellulose acetate, a synthetic fiber. Over 95 percent of the cellulose acetate comes from Tennessee Eastman, a subsidiary of Eastman Kodak, locatd in Kingsport, Tenn. It is manufactured to any degree of fineness or coarseness according to each cigarette company's own specifications.

The Lexington Library with 400 volumes was established in 1796.

THIS FILTER HELPS

Our nearest star is the sun and it is not cooling down but warming up. Without the protection of the earth's atmosphere, which filters out the ultraviolet and X rays that would otherwise continually bombard us, reports Reader's Digest, we would all die in a few minutes from acute sunburn.

Indian Fort Mountain, near Berea, is the largest and oldest prehistoric fort in the United States.

Steel Industry Owes Much To Kentuckian

The steel industry celebrates its 100th anniversary this year. Much of the credit goes to William Kelly of Eddyville, whose process opened the door to the modern age of steel.

Kelly was first to discover the method of producing large quantties of steel economically. His process was to blow cold air through molten iron, producing a hot flame which burned out the impurities.

Although Kelly was first to discover the process, another man, Henry Bessemer, of England, reaped the fame and fortune. Neither man knew of the other's work but each developed the same process.

Bessemer's greater business insight gets the credit for his success. While Kelly went about his work quietly, Bessemer obtained patents in the United States and England and told other steelmakers about his work. This method of making steel soon became known as the "Bessemer Process."

When Kelly heard of Bessemer's American patent, he filed a claim to priority of invention. Kelly was granted a patent in 1857. Kelly's patent was renewed in 1870 while Bessemer's was rejected by the U. S. Patent Office.

A converter designed by Kelly after years of work was used successfully in 1861. The first commercial Bessemer converter in the United States was a 2½ ton vessel used in 1864.

In 1867, only about 3,000 tons of Bessemer steel were made in this country. Three years later output rose to 42,000 tons. In 1880 it topped the 1,000,000 ton mark for the first time in the United States was producing more steel than any other country.

Bessemer steel reached its peak in 1906 with a production of more than 13 million tons. This method is still used on a small scale for making steel and last year more than 3,000,000 tons were produced.

Dickey To Head Area Land-Grant Council

Dr. Frank G. Dickey, president of the University of Kentucky, has been elected chairman of the Council of Presidents of Land-Grant Universities of the Tennessee Valley States. He succeeds President Ben Hilbun of Mississippi State College.

The Council includes the land-grant institutions from Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia, and serves to coordinate the programs which the Tennessee Valley Authority carries out in cooperation with these universities.

Telephone Talk

by

HAROLD WILEY
Your Telephone Manager

STILL WITH US? I hope you've been enjoying reading these "Telephone Talk" columns. We try to make them interesting and informative. More than that, they're sort of like a personal chat with you and that's fine, since I don't get around to seeing all of our good customers in person. This telephone business is a mighty interesting one, and through Telephone Talk I want to keep you informed about it and pass along tips from time to time to help you get the most from your service. Meanwhile, if you have any questions about any particular phase of your service, why not drop me a line at the Business Office or just call us at telephone no. 9000 and I'll do my best to give the answer.

IT'S HAPPENED AGAIN! Well, the Bell Telephone Companies have again qualified to receive the National Safety Council's annual "Award of Honor" during 1956. This is the fifth year out of the last six that we have been awarded recognition for outstanding safety performance. The Safety Council reports that the communications industry continues to be the safest of all industries, and the Bell Telephone Companies are the largest group in the communications industry. Naturally, we telephone folks here in town are happy we've played our small part in making Southern Bell a safe place to work.

BEST BARGAIN in talk is a Long Distance call—anywhere, any time. And it's a very special bargain when you call station-to-station between points in Kentucky. That's when you place your call to a telephone number instead of a particular person at the number. You actually save up to ½! For instance, you can call station-to-station from Fulton to Frankfort for just 75c; person-to-person would cost $1.50. And nights after 6 and all day Sundays you may talk four minutes station-to-station for the same two-minute daytime rate. Take advantage of this bargain in talk often, won't you?

DEATHS

Thomas A. McClellan

Thomas Arthur McClellan, Cayce farmer, died Wednesday morning, August 7, at 5 o'clock at Jones Hospital here, after being in ill health for the past year and a half. He was 77.

Mr. McClellan was born March 1, 1880 at Cayce. He was the son of C. P. and Isbella Henderson McClellan. He was a member of the Cayce Methodist Church.

Mr. McClellan leaves his wife, Mrs. Clara Frances Lambert McClellan; two sons, J. C. McClellan of Hickman, and G. W. McClellan of Crutchfield; two daughters, Mrs. Roy Wade of Cayce and Mrs. J. R. Pafford of Churubusco, Ind.; three sisters, Mrs. Tom White, Mrs. Clara Carr and Mrs. Inez Menees, all of Cayce; seven grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Services were held at the Cayce Methodist Church at 3 Thursday afternoon, August 8. The Rev. L. A. Smithmier, pastor, officiated. Burial, under direction of Whitnel Funeral Home was in the church cemetery.

Members of the Men's Bible Class of the Cayce Church served as honorary pallbearers.

Guy E. Smith

Martin, Tenn., Aug. 6—Guy E. Smith, advertising manager for the Weakley County Press for three years, died at Madison County Hospital at Jackson Tuesday, August 6, after a heart attack Sunday. He was 57.

Mr. Smith moved to Martin from Dresden, where he was connected with the Dresden Enterprise for 30 years with his father-in-law, Joe Holbrook, Sr.

He was a member of Dresden Methodist Church. He formerly was county reporter for The Commercial Appeal.

Services were at Doug Murphy Funeral Home at 2 Wednesday afternoon, August 7, with the Rev. Lowell Council, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Sun Set Cemetery at Dresden.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Forrest Smith; three sons, Edward Smith of Hazel, Ky., Teddy Joe Smith of Memphis, Guy Leroy Smith of Murray, Ky.; two daughters, Mrs. F. L. Ross of Cadiz, Ky., and Mrs. Jane C. Smith of Martin, and a brother, Casey Farris Smith of McKenzie.

Mrs. Leona Clark

Services for Mrs. Leona Moran Clark, who died at her home north of Fulton Wednesday, August 7, following a lengthy illness, were held at the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The Rev. Bill Griggs officiated. Burial, under direction of W. W. Jones and Sons Funeral Home of Martin, was in Liberty Cemetery. She was 56.

Mrs. Clark was born in Red Oak, Texas on Aug. 28, 1900. She was married to John Orvel Elder and to this union three children were born. Her husband and one child preceded her in death. She later married O. G. Clark and 13 children were born to this union.

Mrs. Clark lived in the northern part of Weakley County until seven years ago, when they moved to Fulton, Route 1.

She was a member of the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church.

Mrs. Clark leaves her husband, O. G. Clark; six sons, Davie Clark, at home, Jack Clark of Fullerton, Calif., Marvin Clark of Anahiem, Calif., Herbert Clark of Chicago, Ill., Raymond Clark of Fulton, and Joe Elder of New Windson, Ill.; seven daughters, Mary and Bettie Clark at home, Mrs. Joyce Cruce and Mrs. Shelba Cook, both of Fulton, Miss Sue Clark and Mrs. Virginia Martin and Mrs. Louis Parham all of Chicago; three brothers, Raymond and Fred Moran, both of Memphis, and Clifton Moran of Little Rock, Ark.; three sisters, Mrs. Edith Echlin of White Haven, Tenn., Mrs. Eva Moran of Greenwood, Miss., and Mrs. Gladys Rogers of Memphis; three step-sons, Finis Clark of Fullerton, Calif., Charlie Clark of Garden Grove, Calif., and Ross Clark of Burlington, N. C.; two step-daughters, Mrs. Emma Ruth Mowry of Tiffin, Ohio and Mrs. Annie Wheat of Garden Grove, Calif.; a number of grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The pallbearers were William Dillon, Herbert Howell, N. F. Wilkerson, O. D. Cook, Bobbie Parham and Bill Rogers.

Mrs. Mattie Moore

Mrs. Mattie Moore, 87, died at 10:10 a. m. Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Hodge, three miles east of Dukedom.

Mrs. Moore was born in North Carolina on Oct. 1, 1869. She was the daughter of Elizabeth and Spike Hill, who came to Weakley County when she was a small child. Her husband, Albert Moore, preceded her in death in March, 1944.

Mrs. Moore leaves two sons, Sam Moore of Dukedom, and G. Moore of St. Louis; a daughter, Mrs. Jake Hodge, with whom she made her home; two sisters, Mrs. Jim Bolin of Dresden and Mrs. Joe Owens of Como.

Services were held Monday afternoon at 2, at the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church, east of Latham. The Rev. Casey Pentecost of Dresden officiated. Burial was in the New Hope Cemetery, under direction of Jackson Brothers Funeral Home.

Wess Emerson

Services for Wess Emerson, who died in Detroit of a heart attack, were held Monday afternoon at 2, at Macks Chapel near Palmersville, Tenn. Bro. Arthur Morris officiated. Burial under direction of Jackson Brothers Funeral Home of Dukedom, was in the church cemetery.

Diary of Doin's

So this is summer. Well, one thing you can say for it, it isn't winter. Whether it's better or worse is anybody's guess, but it's different.

When people feel terrible, it isn't because they have colds or flu or penumonia. They have hay fever or poison oak or stomach aches from eating too much watermelon.

When children lose things, it isn't their mittens or galoshes, but their tennis rackets or their baithing suits.

Housewives battle moths and sand and weeds instead of mud and furnace fumes.

Children, who had to be blasted from their beds to get to school by nine o'clock, now congregate on the playing fields at 7:30 sharp. By ten o'clock they are wandering disconsolately about the house asking, "What shall we do now?"

People who have big yards and small houses, cross their fingers and invite everyone they konw to barbecue suppers. Sometimes they are lucky and it doesn't rain.

Parents who shepherd their young on pilgrimages to Grand Canyon and Yellowstone Park, learn again the age-old truth that children are less fascinated by living geysers than by popcorn wagons and gum vending machines.

Sandboxes and wading pools are refurbished for another year, and small children throw sand in each other's eyes.

Husbands — self-consciously at first — sport Hawaiian shirts and Bermuda shorts, and their wives decide that maybe they aren't quite too old yet to wear shorts.

The people next door — who have been shadowy figures during the winter — suddenly become neighbors. You combine forces for an outdoor supper, and discuss begonias and fertilzer and the nerve of the people across the street who are asking such a high price for their house.

Acquiring a suntan becomes a major challenge, and nosedrops and antibiotics are pushed to the back of medicine cabinets to make way for suntan oils and lotions.

The living isn't exactly easier in the summer. Lawns need mowing, weeds keep growing, children go barefoot and step on rusty nails and most people look terrible in bathing suits.

People still have worries, but nobody seems to worry quite so much about their worries.

A former Fulton lass, Barbara Rose Colley Adams and her husband, Connie Adams have an interesting career in store for them. The Adams will sail on Sept. 4, for Bergen, Norway where they will work as missionaries. Their voyage aboard the S. S. Ostofjord, a Norwegian Liner, will end after seven days at sea.

Barbara Rose and Connie are visiting in Fulton this week at the home of her parents, Virginia and Doren Colley at the lovely Colley home on East State Line Road. They will leave Fulton Saturday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adams in Chester, Va.

For the past three years Connie has served as minister of the Glenwood Hills Church of Christ in Atlanta, Ga.

Their mission in Bergen will be to establish a Church of Christ there. Another group from the United States has been in Oslo, the Capitol City, since April of this year. Until then no efforts had been made to establish a Church of Christ in Norway.

This young couple, who are pioneering in their religious field, will serve their church in Norway for the next two years. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kickliter of Palataka, Florida and Mrs. Mary Russell of Palmetto, Fla. They will assist the Adams in establishing the church. Mr. Kickliter, a business man, is a devout member of the church. He is a brother of Senator Kickliter of Florida. Mrs. Russell is owner of the Russell Farm Supply and the Palms Motel in Palmetto. Mr. and Mrs. Kickliter and Mrs. Russell are participating in this work as a mission of good will.

Barbara and Connie Adams will leave in September for an interesting mission to Norway. (see diary)

Young Adams, who has been preaching for the past 12 years, has done local work with churches in Florida and Georgia. He has worked extensively in evangelistic meetings throughout the country. He was graduated from Florida Christian College, Tampa, Fla. where he met Barbara Rose, who also received her degree there.

In college, Connie majored in Bible and Religious education and was active in extra-curricular activities. He was president of his Junior Class and vice-president of his sophomore class. He was a member of the "Footlighters Club", a dramatic club and was president of the "Sowers Club", a club organized to help the young would-be ministers with practice-preaching.

Barbara Rose was graduated from Fulton High School as salutatorian in 1949. She was active in all phases of school activities. She was a member of the Music Club, the Honor Society, the High School Sextette and Chorus. She played the clarinette in the band for six years.

In college, Barbara Rose was on the staff of the "Beak", the school's newspaper. She was a member of the "Footlighters Club" and sang in the chorus. She has been very active i n church work, where she taught children's classes, and assisted in the publication of the church bulletins.

The people of Fulton are proud of this young couple who have dedicated their lives to their field of religion. They are fully aware of the tremendous task before them, but those of us here know that they are well equipped and that nothing will be too hard for them to do so that their dream will be fulfilled. Our love and our blessings go with them.

Here and There

'Tis an unhappy time for the members of the Gip McDade family as they bid their son and family good-bye this week. Jimmie, Irene and their two lovely and popular teenagers, Susan and Jean, are leaving the ole home town to make their home in Dallas, Texas. Now this is really something new and different for the McDades around here — because not many of the family ever leave Fulton. And — if they do — they don't go too far away, just over to Mayfield, like Lib and Bill McDade and their two daughters, Millie and Bettie — and Ann McDade Hunt.

But even though Texas is a long way from home, we are certain that the four McDades will be coming back just as often as they possibly can. Jimmie will be working for the Post Office Department in Dallas.

Several parties have been given in their honor including a picnic supper on Tuesday night at the picnic pavillion in the City Park when friends and neighbors were hosts. The honorees were presented with a complete set of crystal as a going-away gift.

Those participating in giving the party and attending were: the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meacham, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cashon, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence, Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maddox, Mrs. W. S. Gayle, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Voelpel, Cathy Ann Meacham, Jimmie Meacham, Buddy Bowers, Gordon Lee Wade, Jimmy Boaz and Stuart Gayle Voelpel.

Peaple are interested in the wedding of Barbara West to Bob Butterfield of Orlando, Florida which will take place there this weekend. Bob is the son of Bena Latta Butterfield, a former Fultonian and sister of Gilson Latta and Emily Hardin of Fulton.

Bob has spent many happy vacations here visiting with Mary and Gilson Latta. Mary and daughter, Ann Latta left Fulton Tuesday morning for Orlando to attend the wedding.

Clyde and Miriem Hill and children of Tampa, Florida are visiting his mother, Mrs. George Batts and Mr. Batts at the Park Terrace Motel. They have been the honored guests at several parties around town this week.

Lena Evelyn Taylor of Baton Rouge, Louisiana is visiting her sister, Martha Leneave and Alex at their home on Cleveland Avenue.

Lola Howard had as her guests, Roy Gatlin, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Henry of Franklin, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Whayne Sisson of Wingo, Mr. and Mrs. Burch Moon of East State Line and Roy Willett and daughter, Pauline of Fancy Farm.

FORMER FULTONIAN IS MARRIED IN JULY AT DALTON, GEORGIA

Miss Mary Faye Sane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Choice Sane of Dalton, Ga., and Charles W. Browder, son of Mrs. Robert E. Browder and the late Mr. Browder of Nashville, Tenn., formerly of Fulton, were married Tuesday, July 23, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. W. E. Williams officiated, using the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was dressed in pale blue lace with a matching jacket. She carried a white prayer book, topped with a white orchid and a white carnation.

Miss Ruby Rackley, maid of honor, wore pink silk with matching accessories.

Robert Sane, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, the mother of the bride, entertained with a reception in her home.

In a single summer the katydid rasps its wings together as many as 50,000,000 times.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity to thank my friends and neighbors for making my birthday such a happy day. My deepest appreciation is extended to each of you.

Mrs. John Travis

Midshipman Wright Tells Rotarians Of Naval Cruise

Reviewing his recent trip to South America and telling the highlights of his first full scale sea voyage, Midshipman Don Wright addressed the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Wright is entering his second year as a midshipman at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hendon Wright of Fulton.

The academy student told of interesting ports in South America that were on the itinerary of the annual summer cruise, including Rio de Janiero, Brazil. During the eight-day visit in the fabulous city, Wright was entertained by the President of the Rotary Club. He also visited in the home of another Rotarian whose son was a Midshipman at the Brazilian Naval Academy.

Dr. Ward Bushart had charge of the program and made a talk of the Rotary Four-Way Test.

There were 30 members present. The four visiting Rotarians were O. C. Barber, Leonard and Irvin Berlin of Clinton and Jewell Kemp of Dresden.

The weather is getting hot again. We had some cool days and nights last week which we appreciated a lot.

Miss Constance Jones was a guest of the Oliver Taylor's a few days last week.

Mrs. Thelma Puckett and Sue of Lone Oak visited her dad and sister, Mr. W. L. Rowland and Allie, a couple of days recently.

Mrs. Dorothy Emerson is ill. She returned to the Jones Clinic in Fulton late Sunday afternoon. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Vincent visited relatives in Nashville over the weekend. The girls went earlier in the week.

Mrs. Ira Raines was the Saturday afternoon guest of Mrs. Ora McGuire.

Mr. and Mrs. Tremon Rickman and Mrs. McNatt visited in the T. C. House home recently.

Mr. R. E. Mount came home from the Fulton Hospital one day last week. His condition is no better. Mrs. Esta Moore was a Sunday afternoon visitor.

Mrs. O. F. Taylor and Miss Constance Jones called on Mrs. Ira Raines a while Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yates visited in the Tom Crittenden home in Fulton Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Emerson spent the weekend in Newbern as guest of their son, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Emerson and Bob.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rowland of Lynn Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Puckett of Lone Oak were Sunday afternoon guests in the W. L. Rowland home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Taylor and Joyce were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McQuire.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Raines of Mayfield called on Mesdames Ira Raines and Totsie Webb late Saturday afternoon and attended church service at Oak Grove Saturday night.

Rev. and Mrs. Norman Crittenden of Manleyville visited in this vicinity last week and attended preaching service at Bethlehem Thursday.

(PATRICIA LATANE answers no questions in person. Address all communications to her c/o THE NEWS and watch for answer in this column. Questions regarding medicine, health can best be answered by your physician; questions regarding handling of money or investments can best be answered by your banker. THE NEWS provides this column purely as a public forum and does not accept any responsibility for the answers offered, although in many cases they have proved extremely accurate.)

Dear Patricia Latane,

Please answer these questions for me, 'tis my first time to write.

I would like to know what is best for us to do.

1. Stay where we are, or go elsewhere.

2. What prevented us from having a home when we returned here?

3. Will we get a home in the near future and if so, where will it be?

4. What kind of work should we try to get into, to be of service to others and bring us a little income too? Will anything open up for us?

Thanking you so much,
Please answer soon,
H. T.

Dear H. T.

1. Stay where you are.
2. Money.
3. Not anytime soon.

4. I think you are more interested in income than in helping others, and my advice to you is to find a job that will furnish you an income then make helping others your hobby. Church work is one of the most worthwhile things you can do. That and helping teen-agers say on the right track.

Dear Miss Latane,

I would like to ask a question or two.

1. Will I ever get a good horse at a reasonable price?

2. Who is my boyfriend? Answer as soon as you can.

Thank you,
M. S.

Dear M. S.

Yes, you will get a good horse, but I don't know what you call reasonable, but at the prices horses are now it will be a good price.

At present you don't have a steady. You are going with one that will ask you.

Dear Pat,

Please will you answer a few more questions for me. Just why does my husband treat me as he does and why does he act like he does about his money? Will he ever change and, if so when? What can I do that is best for me? Please answer this soon; in next paper if possible.

Thanks,
Worried O.

Dear Worried O:

I think your husband has to treat you like he does about the money as he isn't anything but a hard working boy, and you spend the money on things you really don't need and let the bills go. He wants to pay his bills so therefore he has to handle the money and dish it out to you. No, he will not make a change until you learn to handle money and the value of it. I suggest that you get out and get a job and learn the value of money so you and he can work together instead of pulling apart as you are now doing.

Dear Miss Latane:

Can you please tell me what happened to my boy friend? We seemed to be very happy in our friendship. When suddenly he just stopped being interested. Is he interested in someone else? Is he still in town? The initials are D. H.

Thanks,
G. L. R.

Dear G. L. R.

Yes, he is still in town. You got him afraid of you by talking so much about marriage as D. H. isn't interested in marriage at the present. It got so every time he had a date with you that is all you wanted to talk about. D. H. is he type person who wants to get out and have a good time but not pushed into anything. He decided you were trying to push him into marriage. No, he is not interested in anyone else.

You will see him again and when you do beware of what you say.

Dear Miss Latane,

I hope you can answer these questions for me in your next issue as it is the second letter I have written with no answer. I know you must get hundreds of letters as I am sure everyone enjoys your column very much, just as I do. And it must be difficult to answer all. But I do hope you can get around to answering mine soon.

I would like to know if J. W. is still living? If so how is he? Does he still live in the same locality? If not what city? How old is he now?

Thank you so much,
V. V. S.

Dear V. V. S.

The person you are asking about died on October 14th, 1953 in a nursing home in Memphis, Tennessee.

Dear Pat,

Please answer some questions for me. I wrote to you weeks ago and told you everything, you told me I would get my loved one back. How much longer will it be? I don't even see him. I am very unhappy and lonely. This person was so much to me. Why did he leave or quit me so suddenly? Was I the cause, if so what was it? Must I try to give him up? Is there another woman, if so tell me her initials. Has he ever loved me? Will he and I ever make up and marry? If not will I ever marry? If so, when and to whom? Will he ever marry and to whom?

Thanks,
A.

Dear A.:

I told you all I knew in the other letter and all I can say now is that you are too anxious. That is what your trouble was about to start with. Because you are in love with him you don't give his love time to grow. You want him to do what you want to regardless of how he felt. Now the thing for you to do is learn to be patient so that when he comes back you won't make the same mistake and lose him completely.

happy hickman happenings by joye stokes

A column devoted to the social events of our friends around Hickman. Call Joye at Hickman 2059 for your social news.

Dear Reader:

Do you know, that every columnist has to have, what the people in the know in the newspaper business call, a "lead" at the first of their column? Well, I didn't know it and I still don't know how to write one and tie it in with the rest of my column. Now "The Boss" told me I had to have one. I'm going to try to get by without one this week — if I do there will be a column and a great lead in next week's paper — if I don't well — you too, will know what happened to happy hickman happenings!

Enertainments Honor Bride-elect

The Stone home was the setting Thursday morning for an informal coke party. Mrs. Roscoe Stone, daughter, Sidney, and Mrs. King Davis entertained for Miss Paula June Hornsby, bride-to-be of Harold Garrison.

There is no place like Helen Stone's basement for a party. The entertainment for the morning was group singing! All 30 guests left in a light, happy frame of mind. Gee, we old married ones hated to leave and rush home to fix lunch for our families!

Sunday Tea

One of the prettier parties in a series of events honoring bride-elect Paula June Hornsby was a Sunday afternoon tea hostessed by Mesdames Robert Johnston, Clyde Oliver, H. J. Shannon and John Harwood of Nashville, Tenn., aunts of the bride-to-be.

Mrs. Robert Johnston greeted around 150 guests as they arrived at the R. E. A. building from two until five.

Mrs. Harwood received with Paula June, the honoree, Mrs. Lewis Hornsby and Mrs. Terrell Garrison, mothers of the engaged couple.

Mrs. Oliver was a circulating hostess in the beautifully decorated dining room. Large designs of white gladioli and bells of Ireland graced the receiving rooms. An outstanding arrangement of pink balsom was placed on the table where Mrs. H. L. Shannon visited with guests from near and far. Friends from Nashville, Fulton, Union City, Dyersburg, and Memphis signed the guest book.

A green, white, and pink motif was used in the decorations. The tea table was centered with an original arrangement. A miniature grand piano with pink balsom and white gladioli coming out of the raised top of the piano was beautiful to see. On the key board were the names, Paula and Harold. This was all banked with white gladioli and pink balsom. White candles entwined with green fern and based with pink balsom were on each side of the centerpiece. Mrs. Billy Joe James and Miss Pat Townsend poured. Messrs. Kenneth Guess and Charles Hickerson, Misses Mary Lee Johnston, Anna Merle Hornsby, and pretty June Seat of Memphis assisted in the dining room.

Paula June wore one of her trousseau frocks, a mint green taffeta overlaid with lace. This dress had a new back interest. Paula was as radiant as always.

Middeltons Honored

A dinner party complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Middleton, whose marriage took place in the early summer, was given at the Julius Falkoff home.

Host and hostess for the affair, which was attended by 26 guests, were Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Lannom and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Falkoff.

Sara Don and Kenneth's friends surprised them with a miscellaneous shower. After the gifts were received the guests enjoyed bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Middleton plan to teach in the Madisonville school system this fall.

Young Visitor

James Allen Mitchell, Jr. was guest in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. K. A. Mitchell on Troy Ave. last week.

Mrs. Mitchell entertained 25 of little Jim's friends Thursday morning from ten to twelve on her lawn. The children enjoyed many games of their choice. All the punch you could drink and cookies they could eat were theirs just for the taking. And believe me there was plenty of taking! Bubble-Gum and suckers were favors given to the children as they left for home.

Jim was also a dinner guest of Judge and Mrs. Elvis J. Stahr, while visiting in Hickman.

Jim Mitchell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell of Mayfield, Ky.

Honoring Mrs. Mason Travis

"The Willows" was the setting for a delightful afternoon of bridge. Mrs. Erle Ezell complimented Mrs. Mason Travis with a dessert bridge Wednesday afternoon. The tables were arranged in the sun porch for 12 guests. Honors were claimed by Mrs. Rosco Stone, Mrs. Riley Allen and Mrs. Harry Barry.

Ruth Moore came home from the land of "Fiesta and Siesta" all refreshed and ready to go. Mrs. Moore spent two weeks in old Mexico.

It was Ruth who entertained Mrs. Mason Travis at Ken-Lake Hotel with a bridge luncheon last week.

Can you think of a more restful place to spend an afternoon playing bridge? The ladies stopped and shopped at the "Trading Post" and other shops on the way home. Of course a good time was had by all.

Mrs. Travis was a guest of Mrs. Thomas French at the annual Homemaker's card party last Wednesday afternoon at the R. E. A. building.

Hickman certainly hated to say good-bye to Mrs. Travis and the two boys, Tom and Richard, but all good visits come to an end. We were disappointed Mason didn't get to come back for a few more days.

With Us and Away

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whipple and son, Jimmy, returned Sunday from a two week's vacation.

Mildred and Poss primarly went to Lexington so Jimmy could enroll at the University of Kentucky for the coming year. After visiting the school they decided to see more of the beautiful blue grass State and so toured Eastern Kentucky. While so close to Cincinnati it would be an injustice to the Cincinnati Red Legs if they didn't go to see them play. Not caring for baseball Jimmie made the supreme sacrifice and stayed to see the boys play two games. After a few exciting days there they moved on to French Lick, Ind. for a few restful days. But when the Cardinals came back to St. Louis they drew the Whipples out of their resting mood. For its "take me out to the ball game" and that was just what happened, but oh; they saw the Cardinals lose five straight games — thus ended their vacation on a sad note!

Pot and Charlotte Sanger and Elva and Ernest Fall spent the past week-end up in St. Louis watching the Cardinals go down! They had plenty of fun between games.

Harry Stokes and Kenneth Middleton drove to St. Louis Sunday to see the Card's lose.

Do you think that all the Hickman people broke the winning streak? If you do don't say it out loud!

All farmers were kept busy in the profilic hay crop both day and night the past week and employed all help availiable. The Lenord McClain farm has the largest acreage reported thus far. 90 acres of Korean Lispediga is grown by Mr. McClain which will be baled and stored this week.

Mrs. Dave Mathis was stricken last week with gall-stone colic and Dr. Page of Cuba was called out for medical aid. She is reported some better.

The annual meeting was held Saturday at Morgan Cemetery to pay off the caretaker, Mr. Ollie Simpson. A very good job was done and Mr. Simpson is the successful bidder for next year. Those interested are asked to send in your contribution so the work can be carried on. This is one of the best kept cemeteries in this area. Go by and view the graves of your loved ones.

Mrs. Susie Frields isn't quite so well at this writing and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Nora Vincent, remains about tne same as last reported.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fagans are on vacation in Florida and other places of interest in the South.

Large Enrollments Seen As Challenge

The approaching "tidal wave" of students is not something to be feared and avoided by colleges and universities, but to be welcomed as an opportunity and accepted as a challenge, University of Kentucky President Frank G. Dickey said recently during a campus address.

The UK president urged all institutions to plan for larger enrollments, stretch existing facilities to the utmost and secure qualified teahers. "Above all, our institutions must struggle fiercely to keep the quality of teaching high," he added.
