Oil In 'Commercial Quantity' Found On Fred Bennett Farm

Oil in "commercial quantity" has been discovered this week by a firm drilling on the Fred Bennett farm four miles north of Fulton, an attorney representing the drilling firm has advised The News.

The rumored discovery, apparently happening over the weekend, spread rapidly over Fulton on Monday and aroused considerable speculation locally as to "what next" would happen at the well.

Drillers and others concerned with the project have been non-committal over the project, however. The News learned Wednesday that drilling is being resumed to a greater depth.

The drilling operations are being conducted by the Kirk Drilling Company and are located across the road from the E. C. Cook farm, the scene of two previous attempts to discover oil in this area. In these two previous attempts, The News understood that oil-bearing sand was discovered but not sufficient for the wells to be considered as commercially workable. Both wells were abandoned.

This week's discovery of the oil-bearing sand was reportedly made at a shallower depth than the previous wells. While depth was not divulged, it is believed to be in the vicinity of 700 feet.

Texas Gas Given FPC Okay For Rate Increase; We're Already Paying It

Texas Gas Transmission Corporation has received Federal Power Commission approval to increase its rates effective January 20, 1958, according to an announcement by W. M. Elmer, president. This is the first rate increase granted to a natural gas pipeline company since the Memphis Decision rendered by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit on November 21, 1957.

The new rates will permit collection of approximately $10,180,000 of annual increased revenues by the company beginning January 20, 1958. The increase resulted from a filing made by the company on December 20, 1957, for $1,457,000, in addition to an increase of $8,723,000 per annum filed at an earlier date. The latter increase has been collected, subject to refund, since February 15, 1957. Both filings were necessary to offset higher costs of gas purchased, the company stated this week.

The new rates will affect 55

Licensed Beverage Dealers To Meet Here On Tuesday

Industry Plans Program To Serve Community Needs

In an attempt to acquaint the public with the importance of their industry to this community, the licensed beverage dealers of Fulton County will meet in Fulton on Tuesday, January 28 at Smith's Rose Room.

Officials in the licensed beverage industry will meet with Fulton County dealers to plan a public relations program for their industry and to effect a program that will widen the scope of the industry's community activities.

Retail sales in the licensed beverage industry in this county represent a large segment of the overall sales of commodities in this area. As one of the few counties in the First District that legalizes the sale of licensed beverages it is the consensus of many retailers in other fields that the licensed beverage industry is an asset to the overall economy of the county.

Recently the Kentucky Division of the United Brewers Foundation added John Cox of Hopkinsville to its staff as a field director of public relations activities for the industry. Mr. Cox, together with Ed Pepperman, head of the Kentucky Division of the United Brewers Foundation will attend the meeting. City and county officials have also been invited to the meeting so that a general agreement can be reached as to the best possible program of community public relations for this area.

USDA Provides Emergency Flood Funds To Area

Fulton And 30 Other Counties To Receive Conservation Help

Emergency conservation funds of $168,000 recently allocated to Kentucky by the U. S. Department of Agriculture are now being made available to 31 counties designated by the Secretary of Agriculture during 1957 where damage to farmland was caused by disastrous flood waters and excessive rainfall, according to Roy C. Gray, Chairman, ASC State Committee.

"The $168,000 are for sharing the cost with farmers of approved emergency conservation practices done between January 1 and June 30, 1958 to repair the damaged farmland," Mr. Gray said.

The 31 counties include: Ballard, Bell, Breathitt, Caldwell, Callaway, Carlisle, Clay, Crittenden, Davies, Floyd, Fulton, Graves, Harlan, Henderson, Hickman, Johnson, Knott, Knox, Lee, Leslie, Letcher, Livingston, McClacken, McCreary, Magoffin, Marshall, Ohio, Perry, Pike, Webster, Whitley.

The new allocation is to be used to carry on during the first six months of 1958, the emergency conservation work of the type approved and begun last fall, said Mr. Gray, to correct soil and water conservation problems arising as a result of the disaster conditions.

The newly allocated funds are in addition to the $185,000 allocated to Kentucky during the last half of 1957 for approved emergency practices carried out by farmers by December 31, 1957.

"The approved emergency conservation practices applied by farmers under this cost-sharing assistance have enduring benefits and are of the engineering type such as removing debris, restoring ditches, terraces, and erosion control structures," the chairman pointed out.

These emergency funds were made available by the Congress last year in Public Laws 85-58 and 85-170 which authorize cost-sharing for approved emergency conservation work urgently needed on farmland as a result of natural disasters. Requirements are that these disaster-created conservation problems will (1) endanger the land if not treated, (2) materially affect its productive capacity, (3) not frequently recur in the same area, and (4) be so costly to rehabilitate that Federal assistance is necessary to return the land to agricultural use.

The funds will be used to share with farmers the cost of carrying out emergency measures approved under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) to meet conservation problems on farmland in this State created by floodwater or by excessive rainfall, said Mr. Gray.

The new emergency fund is to be used for problems that cannot be met by other available ACP funds.

TVA For South Fulton Becomes Issue In Campaign For Congress; Two Pledge Aid

Johnson Nominated For US Naval Academy

Joe Ward Johnson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Johnson of Fulton has been nominated as fifth alternate to the United States Naval Academy, Congressman Noble Gregory wired the News, on Wednesday.

Johnson, who will be seventeen in February, is a Junior at Fulton High School. Active in all school activities he is a member of the Fulton High basketball team and also was a member of the Bulldog football squad.

The longtime efforts of the town of South Fulton, Tenn., to obtain TVA power became an issue in the race for United States representative from the Eighth Congressional District Tuesday.

E. T. "Rocky" Palmer, Dyersburg mayor and candidate for the post, said Tuesday night he will do "everything in my power to see that this Tennessee community is no longer denied the right to enjoy the advantages of TVA."

Meanwhile, Mr. Everett in a statement issued to the News by phone Wednesday morning, made clear his position on TVA for South Fulton and cited his record of support for the issue. Mr.

Everett recalled that in the summer of 1957 a delegation of South Fultonians, headed by Mayor Milton Counce, called on him for support in the matter of TVA for South Fulton. Mr. Everett told the News that he called General Vogel, the head of TVA to discuss the matter and since that time has been working untiringly to make TVA available for South Fulton.

Mr. Everett's complete statement appears elsewhere in the News.

Mr. Palmer said he received a telephone call Tuesday morning from Dr. H. W. Connaughton, a member of the South Fulton City Council, asking about his position on TVA power and urging him to use his influence, if elected, to aid the community in its efforts to obtain a TVA contract.

Dr. Connaughton, Mr. Palmer said, told him that South Fulton and one other city in East Tennessee are the only two remaining communities in the state still dependent on Kentucky Utilities, a private power firm, for electrical current.

"He told me of the fruitless efforts of community leaders at South Fulton to obtain TVA power and enlisted my help," Mr. Palmer said.

KU Rate Increase Okayed By PSC; Became Effective January 15

The Kentucky Public Service Commission Wednesday ordered new electric rates for Kentucky Utilities Company which would bring in an additional $2,777,864 a year in revenue.

The new rates ordered by the P. S. C. modify the company's rate-adjustment proposal by applying one residential rate and one general service (commercial) rate to all customers in communities of 250 population and over. Previously each of these classifications had three rates based on population.

Fuel, labor and tax clauses proposed for residential and commercial rates were disallowed by the commission. A fuel was allowed for industrial rates which previously carried this provision.

The company expects the new rates to increase residential revenues by 9.7 per cent. The new rates went into effect for electricity used on and after January 15.

Increased rates were also ordered for mine and general power (industrial) customers and for wholesale sales to other utilities. The higher rates ordered by the P. S. C. are calculated to produce for K. U. a return of 6.06 per cent on its rate base.

Last June the company filed its request for rate adjustments on the basis of increased costs of fuel, equipment and labor more than offsetting the savings K. U. was able to realize from operating efficiencies and economies made possible by the increased use of its electricity.

The new rates represent the first rate increase for the company in 38 years. There have been nine rate reductions since 1935, cutting the customer's average kilowatt hour cost more than 40 per cent. The average residential customer paid only 2.8 cents per kilowatt hour in 1957 as compared with 8.2 cents in 1935.

"Dutch" Owens Announces Week-end "Fishing Schools" At Fulton And Union City

Vernon ("Dutch") Owens, well-known and much-publicized Fulton fisherman who has made a career out of the business during the past several years, will conduct two "fishing clinics" in the area over the weekend, and fishermen throughout the area are being invited to attend one of the two.

The first, at the Derby Cafe in Fulton, will be held at 6:00 p. m. Friday evening, January 24. The second, sponsored by the Union City Daily Messenger, was announced by that paper for next Monday evening at the Lexington dining room in Union City, also beginning at 6:00 p. m.

Eating at either clinic is optional with those attending. Meals will be dutch treat if ordered.

In announcing the clinics, Owens promises that he will provide fishing "dope" to all that took him 40 years to acquire; that he will explain exactly how to use the Owen bass seine plug; that he will also explain a fast trolling method that "hundreds" have said was the most fascinating fishing they had ever witnessed, even when it wasn't filling the boat with fish.

Also he will explain how to use the 2-hook Crappie rig that "80,000" fishermen have used as the fastest fishing rig known, without dispute; and relate how the Owen school methods have been demonstrated on the water for three years on a "10-fish-or-$10-forfeit" basis that has paid for itself only three times.

Owens maintains that his methods disprove and disregard the Solunar tables, wind, lowering and raising of water levels; and that his School of Fishing does not fish early or late, and never at night.

Last week a front page story in the News asked your cooperation in helping us (the News and WFUL) select a Citizen of the Year, which we have been doing for the past seven years. We asked your help because in our busy work-a-day lives we may overlook the worthwhile efforts of some citizen who has done and is doing much to make our twin cities a bigger and better place in which to live.

I am sure that many of you who read that story surely must have thought of one or more persons whose efforts are worthy of note and who should get some kind of recognition for the work they did last year or have been doing over the years.

But, do you know what? Not one nomination has been sent in either to the News or to the Radio Station suggesting some person who should be so commended for their work. I know its not a lack of interest in the award... because as soon as January rolls around I hear the question nearly every day "Who's going to be the Citizen of the Year this year?"

These statements indicate to us that there is a need for such an award, but my goodness, it certainly places a hardship on the persons who are to make the selection. Sometimes its discouraging to think that maybe people don't think enough of their hard-working citizens to take the time to write a letter so that some little measure of tribute can come to them.

And its possible that the same attitude prevails about nominating a Citizen of the Year as does about other community projects... "somebody else will do it."

I wonder if many of you realize the time, effort, planning and work involved in the selection of a Citizen of the Year. I wonder if you realize what anguish we witness until the citizen is named wondering if the selection made by the committee meets with your approval. In this respect don't you think that the least any of you could do is to give us some suggestions as to what persons you think have contributed most to the welfare of Fulton either in one given year, or over a period of years.

I think that last year a number of Fultonians distinguished themselves in making contributions to the general welfare of Fulton and the surrounding area. I think you know them too! And it is possible that the work of several other Fultonians has made its imprint upon our community, but yet their activities were not as publicized as others. The person who works quietly and unobtrusively is just as eligible for the Citizen of the Year award as is the person whose work is known to all of us.

So give us a hand won't you? Sit down today and send us the name or names of persons you think have helped your own life or the life of this community by their work. The award was intended to encourage local people to work for their community and to bring some little recognition to our city as a place where good people live and work.

Now I said earlier that we had not received a single nomination. I say that because some kind and

Licensed Beverage Dealers Proceeding In Right Direction In Planning Public Relations Program

Next week the licensed beverage dealers of Fulton County will meet in Fulton in order to make plans for their objective in 1958. "More and Better Public Relations for the Industry."

The meeting, to be held on January 28, meets with our whole-hearted approval because for years we have felt that the licensed beverage dealers of this county have not always integrated into community activities as much as they should. We feel however, that is has not been a lack of interest on the part of the dealers however, but more a lack of coordinated effort in their behalf.

In Fulton County the licensed beverage industry represents a large segment of the retail sales in the county. Percentage-wise the effort expended by the licensed beverage dealers falls far short of the effort expended by other retail outlets. And that's not as it should be.

More than ever, in these trying times, the industry needs good public relations. . . and good public relations is not to be found alone in newspaper stories or in advertisements. A good public relations program must get down to the grass roots level, which is another way of saying that the industry shall never achieve the best program possible unless every, retail clerk, salesman and all others connected with the industry in any way are made aware of the fact that the people who know them consider them representatives of the industry. And their way of life, good or bad actions, their contributions or lack of effort and interest in community and civic matters . . . all these things contribute to an impression of the industry.

The word public relations sounds vague and general, but it is much the opposite. It is important, and personal. Good public relations is not achieved through dealing with the people as a mass. It is accomplished on an individual basis, as it must be, for the thoughts and ideas of every individual in the community contribute to what we choose to call "public opinion." Everyone outside the industry has an opinion about the industry and the people in it.

But, of course, they cannot achieve the best public relations by working at it only as individuals. There is much the industry can do in its role as leading manufacturer, employer, and contributor to local, State and Federal Governments. There could be no better starting place than the formulation of a plan to establish the real and true value of the industry in the mind of the average citizen.

The industry is not just whiskey stores, taverns, delivery trucks and distilleries. It is much more. It is jobs, people, investments, security, manufacturing, distributing, selling. It is more than a community thing, taking in only what the eye can see.

Few people in any given locality in the State of Kentucky realize the economic importance of the industry, locally, State-wide, or nationally. But they can be made to realize it through the right kind of public relations program.

There have been instances where an industry has been able to impress the community with its value. One manufacturing company achieved this by meeting its considerable payroll in a unique way—every employee was paid in $2 bills. The community was flooded with them and every time a bill changed hands the company story was told in a most effective way.

We hope the industry can find effective ways to tell its story to the people during the New Year that is ahead of us.

For the life of me, I can't see any news value in running a story about an actor or an actress being convicted of drunken driving, or of traveling around the world with a man before marrying him, or in entering into a fourth, fifth or sixth marriage contract, or of marrying someone and then 30 days later getting a divorce in order to marry another.

If you live in Los Angeles and environs, such might be interesting as news about your neighbors, but 2000 miles from Hollywood who gives a damn. Far from glamorizing a skidding movie industry, such drivel only cheapens it the faster to our notion.

We don't believe in side-stepping sordid stories in this area when running them as news can provide a lesson in how not to live, but going our of one's way to glamorize . . . ugh.

DOES SCIENCE PROVE THE BIBLE WRONG?

Some people are convinced that it does.

They read in the Bible, for example, that the stars are fixed in the "roof" of the world like luminous ornaments, which is the way they appeared to the unsophisticated eyes of the authors of Genesis. Later scientific knowledge proves that stars are incandescent bodies moving in space.

Although willing to acknowledge that God created the universe, these scientific-minded folks refuse to believe the Biblical account in which apparently it all took place in six days. Also, they contend that the scientific evidences of evolution appear to contradict the Bible in this instance.

As far as Catholics are concerned, there can be no real conflict between scientific truth and religious truth. From the time of Moses down to the present day, science has opened the doors to many of the earth's physical secrets—including in our own time, the fantastic secret of atomic energy. There will undoubtedly occur, in the unforeseeable future, even more revolutionary discoveries. But the fact remains that science has yet to produce any evidence that discredits the basic truths of Holy Scripture.

The Bible, to begin with, is a book of religion—not a scientific textbook. The Book of Genesis should be regarded, therefore, not as a scientific explanation of the heavens and the earth, but as an exposition of certain divine truths. These include such matters as the creation of all things . . . the creation of man as the object of God's special providence . . . the unity of the human race . . . the loss of man's original state of blessedness through original sin . . . God's promise and plan of redemption.

In writing of these things, the authors of the Old Testament were divinely protected against error. God did not, however, stand over them and dictate what they wrote. Their writings, therefore, while recording basic truths, are clothed in language forms common to their primitive time, and are influenced by cultural and scientific concepts far less enlightened than our own.

A correct appraisal of the Book of Genesis, and the history of Creation, requires an understanding of the meanings which the Old Testament authors intended to convey, and an appreciation of the language forms, philosophy and mores of their times. An interesting pamphlet explaining these things, and detailing the doctrine of the age-old Catholic Church concerning Creation, will be sent free, in a plain wrapper, on your request. Nobody will call on you. Write today for Pamphlet No. KC-48.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK Sputnik's Message To Us

By John Brennan

"BEEP, BEEP" used to mean that a youngster wanted to pass you on his bicycle. Today two "beeps" signal that a new satellite is spinning around the earth.

The Soviet launching of two "moons" within short space of one another, and the Russian boast of reaching the moon has many Americans worried.

FOR MANY in this country, the new "moons" were like clouds of fear and uncertainty. When Sputnik went up, their hopes went down. The beeps gave many the blues.

For a long time, we have been confident that the technical know-how of our scientists was the most advanced in the world—that it would protect us from invasion and destruction.

SPUTNIK HAS warned that we are not first, at least in intercontinental missiles. It also reminded us that physical science alone should never have been our sole hope for security. It was the error of the last century to put all hope in physical science and to forget about God altogether. Twentieth century people are wiser in this respect. They do not want to forget God. But often they do not remember Him.

God created the sun, earth, planets, and MAN. He gave us our life now and is our hope for salvation and life after death. God knew from all eternity that Sputnik would be launched. He alone knows fully well what it means for the world.

THE WISE MAN turns to God first for strength and courage. He prays fervently that God will give him that peace which the world cannot give.

As each ICBM rocket is launched, the Christian continues to hope. He knows that God sees and watches over us. The Christian knows that the world is in the hand of God.

THIS TRUST in God is our final hope does not excuse us from working out a solution to world problems. Trust in God gives us a firm foundation on which to work. It is up to us to do our share. We must pray as if all depended on God, but work as if all depended on us.

As loyal citizens we encourage the development of our national defense; we cooperate in civil defense programs. Those who are in charge of the government need our support and encouragement. We applaud every legitimate means to defend our country and the world. But we must also pray.

THE RUSSIAN satellites may not tell Americans much about ionic pressures or the curvature of the earth. But if we learn from Sputnik how to get down on our knees and ask God's help, we will have learned a great deal. A Sputnik in the sky signals "beep, beep" down to earth. We on earth can beam our prayers up to God in heaven.

IDLENESS

Idleness is emptiness; the tree in which the sap is stagnant, remains fruitless. —Ballou.

DISCRETION

Diary of Doin's

By Mary Nelle Wright

Hear Mary-Nelle's program, "My Fair Lady" every day on WFUL at 9:30 a.m., Monday through Friday.

Sometimes I think we take SO many things for GRANTED—we often postpone "giving flowers to the LIVING", when we leave our regard for our friends unspoken, gratitude for kindness unexpressed. And I KNOW that you will agree with me that we TOO often save the generous graces which might have meant so much to those we care for until it is too late.

Many of us stay SO busy—that we don't seem to find the TIME to do many things for our friends—that we'd LOVE to do. And MANY times Your Diarist WISHES—and wishes for the days to be longer—but we content ourselves by sitting at the typewriter and saying Hello to all of you—and it makes us happy to report on all of your activities.

How glad we were to see our good friends, Lorene and Pat Godfrey who were in town over the weekend as the guests of Judy and Frank Brady. "Rene" was down trying on those EVER so CHIC new spring bonnets! In fact, she bought two that were SO pretty. My, My, Christmas is barely over—and here we go—thinking about SPRING hats and clothes. We also had the good fortune to see Pat, who is just one of the NICEST people we know. Sometimes WE wonder if he EVER gets in a mood—other than a GAY one—WE'VE never seen him... and the happy thought about both Lorene and Pat is that they are ALWAYS so GLAD to be in FULTON. We're still remembering the wonderful evening we spent with them in Lexington after a football game about a year ago. 'Twas really one home week what with Shirley and Billy Carr of Louisville, the Godfreys, the Wrights, the Westphelings. Pat and Rene moved to Madisonville a few months ago—so it's good—that they're NEARER home.

It's WELCOME to Fulton to Kenneth and Clara Agnes Turner and their two youngsters, Kenny and Joyce, who moved to Fulton Saturday from Corbin, Ky. Kenneth is Sales Manager of Radio Station WFUL. The Turner family live at the Hendon Wright apartment on Park Avenue and Green Streets. Kenny is a junior at Fulton High and Joyce is in Grade school. All are members of the First Methodist Church.

And the WELCOME mat is extending another big WELCOME to our friends, Shirley and Riley Allen, who have just moved to Fulton from Hickman. Riley is with the Bell Telephone Company and they are living at Marguerite Sundwick's house on College Street. We were so happy to see the Allen family at Sunday School. Both "mother" and "dad" were the busiest ones—with the darling little Allens. But they finally found the children's respective classes and Fred Jolley was there to see that Shirley and Riley found THEIR class. We're so HAPPY to have you in our fair city, Shirley and Riley—and we certainly will look forward to seeing more of your mother, Helen Stone and your aunt—Mozelle Travis—both of Hickman.

News comes to us of Capt. Robert and Patsy Whitesell—MOST interesting news! Because they are really enjoying their new duty station in Cartagena, Columbia, S. A. Capt. Robert, you will remember, taught at the Naval Academy at Annapolis for a couple of years—then had duty elsewhere—until he was selected at Christmas time—but Nell Lowe did—and with her THREE sons, Jerry, Kellie and Truitt! They went here, there and everywhere to their friend's homes and stood outside the door singing carols. We're the SORRIEST ever that we were either ASLEEP or AWAY from home late Christmas Eve when they came to OUR house—we'd have LOVED having them for a visit—and what fun we could have had singing with Chord Organ accompaniment! (We are extending a SPECIAL invitation to the LOWE boys—and their BEST GIRL to come 'a carolling' to our house AGAIN next year!)

And speaking of BOYS—and their MOTHERS—reminds us of Mildred Anderson and her two boys, Wayne and Bob... We think those three have some of the most wonderful times together—of just about ANY family. You know, they're ALWAYS "taking off" for a trip—just about ANYWHERE in the U. S. A. In fact, places of interest in the U. S. are very LIMITED to the three—some—as they've seen almost everything here is—to be seen. But not only do they have fun at vacation time—because every day is an interesting one in the Anderson household. Mildred teaches at South Fulton—and the boys do many things around the house to make for happiness when "Mimi" gets home. For instance, last week Wayne decided a BIRTHDAY cake was a MUST—for Mildred—so he decided to make it a COMPLETE surprise. He came out to the Radio Station to appear on the high school program "High Time"—and told me of his PREDICAMENT—with the BIRTHDAY cake. It seems that he was unable to find a suitable pan for the cake he had made—so he decided that a round ring salad mold would be very effective. But Wayne spent the whole afternoon WONDERING how he would EVER make the cake come out WHOLE—but we learned that it was a great success—glowing with lighted candles at dinner that evening—but BOTH boys kept WONDERING what HAP-PENED to the MIDDLE of the cake. There WASN'T any MIDDLE! Ha! Ring mold—you know.

Our congratulations go to Anne Fall, Elva and Ernest's "oldest" daughter who has been named basketball queen by the Fulton High Bulldogs.

Anne, a senior, was crowned at the game Tuesday night between Fulton and Murray. Her attendants were Joan Covington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Covington, and Sandra Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bowen. Joan is a junior and Sandra, a senior.

Charming "Miss Anne" has led the cheering section for Fulton High for the past three years and is serving as captain this year. She is co-editor of the Annual, a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the Quill and Scroll, national honorary high school journalism society, a member of the F. H. A. and the Future Nurses Club.

Along with the many GOOD news items that come from our friends—comes an item that we are so SORRY to know about—Margaret Luten Bard a former Fultonian, who is employed at the T. B. Sanatorium in Danville, Illinois. Margaret went to Braidwood, Illinois to spend the Christmas holidays with her daughter, Nell Luten and Billy Valentine—and their children—and on the 23rd. of December she was rushed to the local hospital for an emergency appendectomy. She was released from the hospital and was able to spend New Year's Day with her "children"—but was admitted to the hospital

AGAIN just a day or so later as she had developed phlebitis. Margaret is still in the Braidwood hospital and we feel sure that she would love to hear from her MANY friends in Fulton. We know that she reads this column each week—and we send our love to you. Margaret, and we hope you'll SOON be out of the hospital—and WELL again.

Bride-elect Patsy Ruth Workman was singularly honored Saturday afternoon, Jan. 11, from 3 to 5 o'clock when Mrs. Elbridge Mayo, Mrs. Bob Pentecost and Miss Sue Mayo of Dresden entertained at a lovely tea.

Arrangements of pink carnations and snapdragons were used effectively throughout the house. Graciously receiving the guests in addition to the hostesses were Miss Workman, Mrs. Paul Workman, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Hobson Mayo, mother of the bride.

Miss Workman and Mr. Mayo Married In Impressive Ceremony At Baptist Church

In an impressive ceremony at the chapel of the First Baptist Church Miss Patsy Workman became the bride of Mr. George Hobson Mayo of Dresden, Tenn. The wedding vows were exchanged on Sunday afternoon, January 12.

The Rev. John D. Latta, pastor officiated. Before an improvised altar, beautiful in its simplicity with glowing cathedral tapers in candelabra, the double-ring ceremony was solemnized.

Pre-nuptial music was presented by Mrs. J. U. McKendree, pianist. The bride, daughter of Mrs. Paul E. Workman and the late Paul E. Workman, was given in marriage by her brother, Joe Workman. She chose for her wedding gown a Roberts original of white moire bengaline with batteau neckline. She wore a cap-shaped corresponding hat and carried a bouquet of white camellias centered with an orchid and fashioned on a white satin-covered Bible.

Mrs. Sara E. Workman, matron of honor, was attired in a dress of orchid brocade. Mrs. James Butts, bridesmaid, was dressed in pink, identical to that of the matron of honor. They carried bouquets of matching carnations.

Hobson Mayo, father of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were John M. Smith, James Butts and Tom Harris, all of Dresden, and Charles Jackson of Fulton.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Workman wore a Chapman original of blue lace with velvet hat and matching accessories. Mrs. Mayo, the bridegroom's mother, chose a Muriel-King original in dove-blue crepe with corresponding velvet bandeau. Their corsages were purple orchids.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church dining room.

Mrs. Irvin Mayo presided at the bride's book. Upon arrival Mrs. Albert Johns ushered the guests into the dining room.

Mr. Tom Mayo of Paris poured coffee, and Mrs. Joe Pentecost, Humboldt, served punch. Mrs. George C. Mayo and Misses Pearl and Elsie Henderson also assisted at the beautifully appointed table, overlaid with a cloth of Italian cutwork and centered with an ornate silver candelbrum holding pink tapers and puffs of tulle and pink carnations.

Mrs. Wayne Fisher invited the guests to the gift room, where many lovely gifts were displayed.

Out of town guests for this occasion were Miss Patsy Workman, Mrs. Ruth Copeland, Mrs. E. R. McMahan and Mrs. Joe Workman, sister-in-law of the bride, of Fulton; Miss Sue Mayo, Mrs. Bob Assisting with the serving were Misses Sue Mayo, Sherry Fisher, Roann Walker and Grace Mayo. Mrs. Ruth Copeland, aunt of the bride, was seated at a table, attractive with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and stocks and kept the bride's register.

To The Voters Of SOUTH FULTON

The statement of one of my opponents that I have declined to take a stand for the people of South Fulton in their efforts to obtain TVA power for their city is absolutely untrue and my opponent could have easily found this out had he taken the trouble to ascertain this fact.

The facts are that I have not waited on my election to Congress to extend myself in behalf of the people of South Fulton. I have already started work to get TVA for South Fulton when this city's present contract with Kentucky Utilities expires this coming October. Actually I began my work in the behalf of South Fulton back last summer, some six months before I became a candidate for Congress.

It was in the summer of 1957 that Mayor Counce of South Fulton and a delegation of citizens came to see me in Nashville and discussed South Fulton power problems with me.

While Mayor Counce and his delegation was still in my office I picked up the telephone and called TVA officials in Knoxville and talked with them about the desire of the people of South Fulton to secure the many benefits of TVA power for their city.

Our efforts in this direction are continuing and will continue until South Fulton becomes a part of the TVA distribution system. The statement of my opponent obviously is designed to mislead the people, but its just another case of a candidate issuing a statement without first making even a feeble attempt to get the facts.

I already have a record in the South Fulton case and it is a record in behalf of the people. I am not a "Johnny-come-Lately" to their cause.

I am issuing this statement only for the purpose of clearing the air and in order that the people of South Fulton may know the true facts in this case.

generous soul nominated this writer to receive the Citizen of the Year award. The nomination of course could not be given any consideration because (a) I could not possibly be eligible, (b) the committee would take little time in discarding my nomination as unworthy of consideration and (c) the person who sent in the nomination is prejudiced because her application was dictated by the heart and not the mind.

The Fulton News, Thursday, January 23, 1958, Page 5

But I am grateful for the nomination and want to thank my good friend. However, it just proves that if my small efforts have been noticed, surely the efforts of some very fine people who have really worked hard have gone unnoticed.

Kentucky Derby Seeks A "Queen"; Offers Many Prizes And Honors

It's a cold day in January, but much later than you think, according to the Kentucky Derby Festival Queen Committee. Miss Shirley Thompson, state chairman of the Derby Queen Contest, announced that some fifty energetic people are hard at work throughout the state of Kentucky in search of the southern beauty who will reign as the 1958 Kentucky Derby Queen. The girl they are looking for must be beautiful, poised, personable and possess a pleasant speaking voice. Talent will not be necessary.

When the perfect miss is found to wear the golden crown, she will be off on a path of fame, fortune and unlimited opportunities. The Derby queen's first regal duty will be an honor guest at the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D. C., where she will attend the ball, parade, dine with many dignitaries and meet the President and or Vice-President of the United States.

National television appearances, movie studio interviews and a day at John Robert Powers Modeling Agency will await the Derby Queen in New York. She will endorse a few products, pose for national advertisements and see some of Broadway's top musicals before departing the city of skyscrapers for the bluegrass country.

When her majesty returns to Kentucky, she will find a treasure chest of valuable prizes to be opened. Royal gifts will include $500.00 cash, a mink stole, $300.00 worth of hats by the top millinery designers in the world, a coronation gown designed especially for her, a three month supply of Hosiery, and many more precious gifts. A coronation ball will be given in her honor; a magnificent float will carry the Royal Court in the Pegasus parade; and on Derby Day, itself, the queen and her court will occupy the box of the President of Churchill Downs.

A Cinderella dream come true for some girl, somewhere in Kentucky. Can this girl be you? Will the slipper fit?

To enter the Derby Festival Queen Contest, a girl must be between the ages of 17 and 25, never married, and a resident of Kentucky for one year prior to January 1, 1957. She must be sponsored by a non-commercial organization, civic, fraternal, educational, religious or social. (No entry fee is required on the part of the sponsor or the contestant.)

She must file application at state headquarters of the Derby Festival Queen Contest, City Hall, Louisville, Kentucky. Two photographs, one headsize and one full length, must be forwarded with application, and postmarked no later than midnight, January 31, 1958. Application blanks are available by writing direct to state headquarters.

Bathing suits have been ruled out of the 1958 contest and the official dress of the eliminations will be sheath dresses and white formal.

First elimination will be photographic, followed by contests held in three regions of the state—Lexington, Owensboro, and Louisville. Finals will be held in Louisville on March 15.

Food Sense — Not Nonsense

Why Bear B Vitamin-Short Fare?

Baby Bear had good reason to bawl when Goldilocks ate his porridge. He was crying for his lost supper. But he would have cried harder had he known that cereal foods are an important source of thiamine. . . . the B vitamin he needed to change food energy into the triak-and-play kind. Nature is stingy with thiamine. Because many of us don't eat enough of the foods that supply this vitamin, we share Baby Bear's fate: To drag at work and play.

To get enough thiamine each day, it is not necessary to eat "high off the hog." Best sources are among the least expensive foods—enriched and whole grain breads and cereals, peas and beans, potatoes, and pork.

In spite of spending more money for food than ever before, many of us are eating thiamine-short fare. Pointing up the strange relationship between what we eat and the money in our pockets, Dr. Faith Clark, food economist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has called attention to this present-day trend: When people have more money to spend for food, they are likely to shift their purchases from grain products and pork—leading sources of thiamine—to other foods that do not have this high B rating.

No one can afford to short-change himself on thiamine. It is needed not only to tune up the nervous system and prevent irritability, but also to keep the digestive tract healthy. For dieters, there is this added boon: As thiamine-rich foods help level off over-hearty appetites, dieters become better satisfied with their lot.

Carlisle Countian Heads Extension District In Southeastern Kentucky

Keith Kelley, Carlisle county native for many years as assistant county agent and county agent in Calloway and Ballard counties, has taken over Extension District No. 6, comprised of 19 southeastern Kentucky counties.

He succeeds W. C. Wilson, who retired January 1, after 34 years as head of that district.

Kelley is a native of Bardwell, Carlisle county. He received his bachelor of science degree in agriculture from the University of Kentucky in 1943. For several years thereafter he served as assistant county agent in Calloway county, as soils assistant in that area, and in 1948 became county agent of Ballard county. He remained that post until mid-1956, when he attended the University of Wisconsin for a year, receiving his master of science degree.

He has been assistant district leader in the area he now heads since June, 1957.

To Parking Meter Violators:

24 hours after issuance of tickets for meter violation (overtime parking) warrants will be issued unless the offender has paid the penalty to the City Clerk.

Rex Ruddle, Chief of Police

Fulton, Ky.

To The Voters Of South Fulton and Vicinity Served By The Kentucky Utilities Company:

I understand that South Fulton is one of only two communities in Tennessee still served by the Kentucky Utilities Company. I think it is a crying shame that people of South Fulton should be required to pay the exorbitant rates charged by the private power interests.

I understand that your franchise expires this fall. When I am elected I assure the people of the affected area that I will do all within my power to secure the distribution of TVA current in this area. This will certainly bring substantial savings to users in South Fulton and the neighboring territory now served by the Kentucky Utilities Company.

I am 100% for TVA. I am presently mayor of Dyersburg, and we have accepted and are now using TVA current.

Telephone Talk

by
HAROLD WILEY
Your Telephone Manager

WHAT'S MY LINE? Have you ever wondered who keeps the telephone lines around here in working order? A telephone man, to be sure, the installer-repairman. And, when storm damage repairs or maintenance are necessary, cable splicers have to be "johnnies-on-the-spot." In all kinds of weather at any hour of the day or night they're at work—up poles, down manholes, out in the country, right on your street. And just being there isn't enough. They have to know what they are doing; which wires to join and how to join them. It takes know-how and a lot of hard work to keep telephone lines in order—and our telephones ready to serve everyone, all the time.

"ISN'T IT ABOUT TIME WE GOT A PHONE FOR UPSTAIRS?"

BRRR, IT'S COLD! And did you know, the colder the weather the louder sounds are. In hot weather sounds are weaker, don't carry as far. As this applies to telephone communications, it was a problem that worried telephone people. Then the Bell Laboratories found an answer. It's the thermistor, an electronic device that controls the volume of voices on the telephone. It keeps them from being too loud in cold weather and too low in warm weather. It's so sensitive it can detect a temperature change to one-millionth of a degree.

The Illinois Central Railroad recently was honored for its support of 4-H Club work. Guy L. Noble, director of the National Committee of Boys and Girls Club Work, Inc., (left), presented Traffic Vice President E. J. Carr with the 4-H Donor Merit Award, in recognition of the railroad's 35 years of continuous support. Annually the railroad has awarded scholarships to 4-H Club members in state served by the Illinois Central. At right is Paul R. Farlow, general agricultural and forestry agent, under whose jurisdiction the youth program falls.
