Schools To Participate In Clean-Up Campaign Here

All Fulton and South Fulton schools have been invited to participate in the Clean-Up campaign. The campaign will be staged by the Chamber of Commerce during the week of May 5-10.

A queen will be selected from both Fulton High and South Fulton High schools. Also, each queen will have three attendants. The queens will be presented loving cups and bouquets, and the attendants will be presented corsages. The girls will ride in the parade on Saturday afternoon, May 3, in decorated convertibles. All students at Fulton High and South Fulton High have been asked to enter an essay contest, in connection with the campaign. There will be a $15 first prize for each of the two schools and ribbon winners. The grade school students, first through eighth, in all local schools have been asked to participate in a poster contest. There will be a $5.00 cash award for each school and runner-ups will receive ribbons. The winning posters will be displayed in store windows downtown, and the students placing will ride in a decorated convertible in the parade. The parade will be led by a convertible carrying Mayor Nelson Tripp and Mayor Milton Counce. A school band will follow in a truck. The next convertible will carry one of the queens and her attendants, followed with another truck with another school band. Then there will be the other queen and her attendant, a Scout troop, the poster winners, more Scouts, the theme winners, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, etc.

The parade will start promptly at 1 p. m. and will tour entire town areas, Riceville and Highlands and will end at the speaker's stand on Lake Street, where the mayors will award the cups and prize money.

Paul Boyd and Dr. J. L. Jones of the Civic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce are co-chairmen of the Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up Campaign in the Twin-Cities. Mrs. Cavita Olive, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is in charge of arrangements for the parade, and Miss Ouida Jewell is chairman of the School participation program, with Paul Boyd as co-chairman.

Parr Is Obion County School Head

C. D. Parr, South Fulton Principal and girls basketball coach, was elected by unanimous vote Monday morning as Superintendent of Public Instruction in Obion County. He succeeds Joel Shore, who resigned recently to accept the position of Superintendent of the Union City schools.

The other candidate, Mrs. Louise Tilton, Obion County attendance officer, withdrew as a candidate.

Mr. Parr will take over his new duties in July.

Retail Merchants To Meet Thursday

There will be an important meeting of the Fulton Retail Merchants Bureau Thursday night, April 10, 7:30 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce office on Lake Street.

Mr. Riggs and Mr. Thacker of Swift and Company will meet with the bureau and the entire community can benefit from this meeting.

PRESENTS CONCERT

The Music Department of South Fulton High School presented the sixth annual spring concert under the direction of Arthur R. Roman on Tuesday night, at 7:30, at the high school gymnasium.

Jones Elected President Of Jaycees Ray Williams Named "Outstanding"

C. D. Jones of the P. T. Jones Coal Company, was elected president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Thursday evening at the Y. M. B. C. room on Lake Street. He succeeds Ray Williams.

The other newly elected officers are Dan Taylor, internal vice-president; Cecil Wade, external vice-president; Jimmie Needham, secretary; Harold Henderson, treasurer; Bill Warren, Richard Thompson and Don Sensing, directors; and Leon Brown, tall-tailor. Thompson was also elected to serve with the president as a state director.

Ray Williams, manager of Friendly Finance Co. here, who organized the Jaycees in Fulton, was voted "The Outstanding Jaycee of the Year" at the meeting.

Local Doctors To Be Honored On Doctor's Day, Sunday April 13, By Auxiliary

Sunday, April 13, is Doctor's Day in Kentucky. A day that tribute is paid to the doctors who give untiring services to the health and welfare of their communities. Kentucky has designated the 13th of April as Doctor's Day, for on this date in 1750 Dr. Thomas Walker arrived in Kentucky from Virginia. He was the first white person to establish a home in Kentucky.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Fulton-Hickman County Medical Society sponsors the observance of Doctor's Day in the two counties. A red carnation, the official flower, will be sent to each doctor of Fulton, Hickman, and Clinton.

On this Sunday Doctor's Day will be dedicated to the late Dr. John G. Samuels, Hickman, who passed away July 14, 1957. A red carnation will be placed in the Methodist Church of Hickman to commemorate the memory of this doctor who gave devoted service to his community and county in his medical profession.

Swift's Cheese Plant Progressing Fine; More Equipment Added This Week

Swift's new cheese plant, which opened here last week, is progressing fine, according to the local plant manager, A. B. Thacker. "We are doing fine and receiving milk regularly," stated Mr. Thacker today.

According to the local Swift and Company manager the new business has shown a normal increase and possibilities for the future look good. This week more new equipment is being added to the cheese plant.

The plant opened for business on Tuesday of last week, receiving milk from a number of contracting milk haulers who are starting with eight daily milk routes out of Fulton. Additional routes will be added as needed, plant officials stated.

The Fulton plant is expected to take its place beside other Swift and Company cheese plants at Russellville, Ky., and Glasgow, Ky., as an important cheese producer for the company.

A formal opening will be planned in the near future.

Fulton High Band Receives Rating Of "Excellent" At Music Festival

Marion Blackstone of Fulton received a rating of "superior" for her piano solo at the Regional Music Festival at Murray State College Thursday. Ophelia Speight of Fulton, also in the piano solo division, was rated "excellent."

The Fulton High band received an "excellent" rating in the Class C Division II bands Saturday, the final day of the festival.

John Cunningham received a rating of "fair" in the trumpet solo senior division and in the junior division I, James Clark received "superior." In the trombone solos, division III, Norman Harwood was rated "superior," and in the BB Flat tuba, or sousaphone solos, junior division, division I, Edward Butler was "superior."

Elaine Butler received a rating of "good" in the flute and piccolo division II, and in the soprano clarinet solos, division III, Bill Wade was rated "good."

James Reed won a superior rating in the piano solo division.

Shelby Peace Buried Monday

Shelby Peace, 73, associated with baseball's Kitty League from its organization until it folded in 1955 and league president from 1941 to 1955, died at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at Jennie Stuart Hospital in Hopkinsville.

When Dr. Frank Bassett, its first president, organized the Kitty League in 1903, Peace was its first secretary. He doubled as scorekeeper and attendant for the shakily financed organization.

Later, he became vice-president of the league and served the last 14 years of the league's life as its president, succeeding Dr. Bassett.

Peace was active in city and state Democratic politics. He served as City Commissioner of Hopkinsville from 1928 to 1933 and as Mayor from 1933 to 1937.

In 1954, at the Dallas meeting of the minor leagues, Peace was unanimously voted "Mr. Baseball of the World," an action concurred in by the major leagues at their 1954 meeting.

The funeral was held at 2:30 Monday afternoon at the Keightley Funeral Home in Hopkinsville.

Methodists Gather At Fulton Friday

Two ministers and a lay woman from the Memphis area will be among leaders at the Methodist Conference Commission on Christian Vocations which begins Friday in Fulton.

They are the Rev. H. E. Johns of Chelsea Avenue Methodist Church, who will head a discussion group on world missions; the Rev. A. N. Bingham of Raleigh Methodist Church, who will be a principal speaker, and Miss Louise Weeks, active local churchwoman, who will discuss national missions.

Young people from churches in West Tennessee and West Kentucky will attend. The purpose of the meeting is to help young Methodists find church-related careers, to challenge them to a life of Christian service and to give information to those seeking guidance.

The four-day meeting will be at Fulton's First Methodist Church.

Baptist Church To Have Revival

The spring revival at the First Baptist Church will begin April 13 and will continue through April 20. Services will be held each evening at 7:30.

The evangelist will be the Rev. Dan Cameron, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Union City.

The Rev. Mr. Cameron was born in Meridian, Miss., and is now 32 years old. He was converted at an early age and began preaching at 18 years. He became a pastor 19 years of age.

'Roadblock' Suit Is Set For Fall

Trial of the $50,000 lawsuit against Missouri State Trooper Vernon Hopkins and Fulton insurance salesman Forrest McAllister for the fatal shooting of Miss Jewell English was set for Friday for September 24.

Circuit Judge C. Warren Eaton of Paducah set the case down for trial on the motion of attorneys for C. A. English, administrator of the dead girl's estate.

Miss English, 24, was the victim of gunfire when the car in which she was a passenger ran past a roadblock at the County Line Road and Highway 45 during the hunt for abductors of Missouri State Trooper Bill Little.

The shooting occurred while officers of four states were searching for Carl Burton after he had fled the house where he and Harold Wayne Davis had kept Little and a Melber community couple prisoner for 19 hours.

When the car in which Miss English was riding with two brothers and a brother-in-law passed the intersection where Hopkins was stationed, both he and McAllister fired on it. Hopkins with a shotgun, McAllister with a high-powered rifle from Hopkins' patrol car.

Miss English was fatally wounded, and died moments later while being carried to the hospital in Paducah.

Duke's Bringing School To Fulton

Duke's Auto Parts is bringing an instructor from the Tlilghman Trade School here to teach an eight-weeks' course on automatic transmissions.

This will be of interest to all mechanics in the area, as the course ordinarily would cost from $80 to $100. The only cost to the course to be held here is a $5.00 registration fee.

Every mechanic in the area who is interested should be at the King Motor Company Tuesday night, April 15 at 7 o'clock.

START PUMPING OIL

According to a report received by the News, the Knox Exploration Company started pumping oil Friday on the Fred Bennett farm north of Fulton.

President Ralph Woods Of Murray Presents Award At Dinner Sponsored By The News And Radio Station WFUL

Robert H. (Bob) White, one of the most prominent men in business, civic and public affairs in Western Kentucky, was named Fulton's "Citizen of the Year" by the Fulton County News and Radio Station WFUL, at their annual dinner Wednesday evening at 7, in the Rose Room of Smith's Cafe.

A gold loving cup was presented to Mr. White by his friend, Dr. Ralph Woods, president of Murray State College. Paul Westpheling, President of the Kentucky Broadcasting Corporation and Publisher of the News, welcomed the guests and explained the method used in selecting the "Citizen of the Year." Mrs. Paul Westpheling, General Manager of WFUL and Editor of the News, was mistress of ceremonies.

Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, who had been asked to present the award, was unable to attend because of important matters which arose at the last moment.

The program, portrayed along the lines of the TV show, "This is Your Life", was presented following the dinner, which was attended by many local people and out-of-town dignitaries.

Among those appearing on program were officials from the Kentucky State Chamber of Commerce, the Illinois Central Railroad out of Chicago, the United Fruit Company out of New Orleans, the Henry I. Siegel Company, besides former employers, business associates, relatives and friends.

Mr. White leads several different businesses, is president of numerous organizations, takes an active part in all civic projects, and is popular with the townspeople.

Bob, as he is known by all his friends, is called by many "a self-made man." A number of years ago at the age of 16, he started working for the Illinois Central Railroad as a roundhouse clerk at Fulton and today, is considered one of the town's most influential citizens.

Mr. White is owner of the Bob White Motor Company, which sells Buick automobiles. He is president of the Fulton Ice Company, which is the largest one-story ice plant in the United States, and also president of the Fulton Improvement Company, which owns the building, housing the Henry I. Siegel Factory. He is road out of Chicago, the United Building and Loan Association and has been appraiser for 18 years. He was one of the organizers of the new Fulton Bank, but later sold his interest. He is owner and co-owner of several business buildings in town.

The Fulton businessman is president of the Woodlawn Land Company, and was president of the Fulton Country Club in 1955. He headed the Fulton Chamber of Commerce in 1955, and at present is Fulton County Chairman of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. White is Past Exalted Ruler and a Life Member of the Elks Lodge, is past president of the Rotary Club, and a Shriner.

Being very active in church work, he is a member of the Board of Trustees of the First Methodist Church. Recently he was named by Gov. Happy Chandler on the Board of Regents at Murray State College.

As a civic leader, he spearheaded the building of the new Country Club house a few years ago, and in 1955 directed the construction of a new $25,000 swimming pool and well at the Country Club. Mr. White was instrumental in getting Harris Fork Creek dredged. This was a lifesaver to the merchants of Fulton. Up until the creek was dredged every time a rain came the creek, which runs through the heart of the town, would overflow and stores on Lake Street would be flooded.

Bob was also on the Fulton City School Board when the new Carr Institute building was constructed some years back.

In the past, Mr. White has served as a director of the Fulton Baseball Association.

There is very seldom a project of any kind going on in Fulton that he is not asked to help, and he always gives freely of his time and energy.

Fulton's "self-made man" was born on April 16, 1900 in Martin, Tenn. He is the son of the late Jim and Birdie Jolley White. When Bob was seven or eight years old his parents moved to Cairo, Ill. There they remained five years, then moved back to Martin, where he finished high school. At the age of 16 he started working as a roundhouse clerk for the Illinois Central Railroad. He worked at that job until he was 18, then during World War I he enlisted in the U. S. Navy and was sent to the University of Tennessee as an engineering student. He remained there one year, then came back to Fulton and the I. C. This time, he worked as an engineman - timekeeper - for a year, then he went in as a machinist apprentice at the roundhouse and served three years of his time. Bob was made a machinist, then was sent to Central City, Ky., as Roundhouse Foreman.

It was at that time that he took himself a bride. It was on Aug. 18, 1925 that he and Miss Irene Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wade of Fulton, were married. Mr. White remained with the railroad for several years, then with Ramsey Snow bought out the Scates-Marks Ford Agency in Fulton. He and Mr. Snow operated the Snow-White Motor Company for several years. Later Mr. White bought out his partner and gave up the Ford Agency and started selling Chryslers and Plymouths. In 1936 he took over the Buick Agency and gave up the others. Mr. White has been selling automobiles since.

At the regular monthly meeting of the South Fulton City Council Monday night, the council voted to go ahead with the water, sewer and gas lines in the Burham-Oliver Addition and also on the new street to the Connaught Addition.

Shop And Compare: Get Your Money's Worth!

Spring is here and a new season is at hand that will bring with it the annual influx of out-of-town traveling salesmen and peddlers.

Beware. If they are selling a product similar to one sold in town, don't be a sucker, no matter how attractive their offer seems. Get their deal, tell them to return a few days later, and then go to your home-town establishment and give them a chance to bid on the job.

If you find, by honest comparison, that the traveling salesman has a better price or a better product at the same price, and other factors such as guarantee, servicing and financing are okay, you may profit by a deal with him.

But the chances are, you won't find his merchandise or his service nearly on an equal footing with your local firm. This is no idle thinking: last year we know of around a dozen local people who were gypped by doing business with various out-of-town traveling salesmen, representing all kinds of home improvements, insurance, cosmetics, vending machines, etc. etc.

So why be a sucker to fast talk. Shop and compare; make darn sure your hard-earned money is getting all it pays for.

The Cardinal . . . The State Bird-Of Kentucky

According to the El Reno, Okla., American, the cardinal may be "nature's most human bird." One interpretation of the personality of the male cardinal is that he is a model husband, another that he is tyrant, reports this observing bird-watcher.

Naturally, one pictures this gorgeous red singer as the ideal musician, perfect lover and father of the feathered kingdom. In the springtime he is gallant and chivalrous. He shells sunflower seeds for his lady love while she sits meekly at his side. He even takes turns sitting on the nest to keep the eggs warm while she seeks food, water and recreation. He feeds the first hatching while mamma starts a second.

But in the fall and winter when mamma either loses her feathers or looks drab, papa cardinal lets her shift for herself, and has even been seen to drive his lady from the feeder and fountain to satisfy his own thirst and appetite. But when spring returns and she is in her best bib and tucker he sings his love songs again and shells sunflower seed.

The fable makers could draw many a moral from the behavior of birds and bird-watchers in the spring.

Mankind is divided into at least two types of watchers—bird watchers and girl watchers. But the overwhelming number of the homo sapiens species would rather watch babes primp than birds preen, especially in spring, when young men have dreams and old men their memories.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Who Was Christ?

Adapted from a recent lecture by Frank Sheed, author of THEOLOGY AND SANITY.

NO ONE ever fights about Jesus Christ anymore.

Everyone seems willing to accept Him as a great religious leader and teacher, a noble figure from the past who serves as a model for us. A nice kind and generous man, always willing to give someone a hand and to help the little fellow.

BUT DO such people really know Jesus Christ?

If they were ever to read the Gospels all the way through—and there are few people who do nowadays—they would have a shock coming to them.

Everyone knows that Jesus told us to be kind to our neighbors and do unto others as ye would have them do unto us. Few people today seem to know that He also said "Unless you believe in me, you will all perish." These are strong words. So are these, "If anyone keep my word, he will not taste death."

THE MAN who spoke this way wasn't just an ordinary religious man. He wasn't another of the great religious founders like Mohammed, Lao-Tse or Buddha. Like them, He did preach the Golden Rule. But unlike them He claimed to be something different than any man who ever lived before or would live afterwards.

About fifty years ago, people fought about these words of Jesus. They tried to say He was deluded, or that His followers thought thme up to glorify Christ. But scientific research since then has shown that the records of His words go back to the early years after His death. Study of those records show that Jesus was not deluded, ed, but perfectly sound in every way. TODAY people don't attack Jesus' claims to uniqueness, but neither do they accept them. They just seem to ignore them. But how can they?

The man who said, "Love thy neighbor," also said, "I have come down from heaven." The man who said, "Be kind to those who persecute you," also said, "Whoever believes in me, I will raise him up on the last day."

WHEN JESUS said, "I have come down from heaven," his townspeople got mad at him. They had known Him all His life and this was hard to take. When we realize that Christ was a man who walked and talked, ate and slept, this statement is hard for us too. But we can't ignore it anymore than the Jews could. We have to realize that this person Jesus was different, that He claimed to be God, that He claimed to teach the only true way to God. Either He was right or wrong; there is no middle ground.

FROM THE FILES—

Turning Back The Clock—

April 8, 1938
Frosts and freezing weather Saturday night caused heavy damage in this section to orchards and berry fields, reports from Fulton, Hickman, Graves and Weakley counties show.

Damage in all five of these counties is estimated to have reached upward of $50,000. In some districts growers indicated that 50 to 75 percent of the peaches and apples was killed by the low temperature and frost. The thermometer dropped to 39 degrees both Friday and Saturday nights.

Miss Margaret Stephens of South Fulton, pupil of First National Institute of Violin, taught by Miss Willie Belle Mayes, won first place in violin solo at the Mid-South Speech and Music contest held at Jackson last Saturday and was awarded a beautiful gold medal.

Judge E. J. Stahr, Hickman, today notified Shackelford Miller, Jr., that he had accepted the chairmanship of Senator Alben W. Barkley's campaign for reelection in Fulton County.

During recent weeks there has been a decided trend upward in the number of cases of thievery reported in the rural districts of this territory, as well as in the various communities. Thefts have included cured meats, lard, and other stored items, and poultry and livestock from the fields.

The annual banquet and election of officers was held Tuesday night at the Rainbow Room by the Young Business Men's Club. Lynn Phipps was elected as president; Bob Binford, vice president; Ward Johnson, secretary; Bert Piques, treasurer; J. D. Stephenson, sergeant-at-arms.

The annual spring meeting of the West Kentucky-Tennessee Letter Carriers' Association was held at Paducah Saturday, when Sam Campbell of Fulton, was elected as president of the organization.

The Fulton Lions Club is going forward with plans for their Jubilee Minstrel at the Science Hall Friday, April 29. Proceeds from the show will be used to provide lunches for needy children. Mrs. Martin Nall is director.

A tentative cast has been chosen as follows: Tillman Adams, Bill Browning, Dr. J. L. Jones, Jimmy D. Stephenson, Paul Hornbeak, E. R. Ladd, George Hester, Leon Hutchens, John Davies, Bob Binford, Frank Beadles, James Warren, Ernest Fall, Steve Wiley, Abe Thompson.

Kentucky Windage

By P. W.

After a long, dreary, cold winter and an early spring that brought continuous rains and cloudy weather, a full two days of sunshine early last week proved to be the happiest stimulant around these parts that we have seen in many moons.

Downtown, the heat was turned off and the front doors were propped open; shiny new lawnmowers popped out of warehouses onto front sidewalks and into show windows, even though we didn't see the grass could even have started growing yet.

Ruth Scott called out the painters and is giving the front of her Floral Shoppe a fresh coat of paint, and on the way home Monday night we were dumfounded to see Postmaster Fred Brady pushing the lawnmower over his carefully-kept lawns. Fred admitted that there wasn't any grass up, but pointed out that the wild onion crop was a beaut.

Warm, golden sunshine is a wonderful thing when you've been without it as long as we have around here. Several farmers have admitted during the past weeks that they haven't even been able to gather last fall's corn crop from the fields yet, but intend to do so whenever the ground becomes firm enough. Last fall they didn't have a chance.

All of which points up the ever-optimistic note sounded by one good farmer recently: "We'll have little recession or depression to worry us down here as long as we can plant and harvest a good crop."

As we look back on the wettest year in history, the most severe winter in 50 years, the three awful drought years previous, and only one good crop year sandwiched in between, we are fervently hoping with all the rest of you that this bit of golden sunshine we've seen will spread itself out over eight months more of the year.

Ouida Jewell

I never dreamed so much work went into the "Citizen of the Year" dinner. But, to get ready for the event, there are a hundred and one things that must be done, after the nominations are in, and the secret committee chooses the citizen that will be honored. There are phone calls, letters, reservations, tickets, decorations, the gathering of material in secret and the writing of the script, just to name a few. But, even I'm glad I had a chance to assist Jo in the preparations this year.

Calling on all the schools in the twin-cities has added to my full week this past week. The Chamber of Commerce received good response from the schools, with all planning to participate in the queen, essay and poster contests in connection with the Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up campaign which will be staged the first week in May. The gigantic parade will be staged on Saturday afternoon, May 3, with all winners taking part.

4-H Stock Judging Prizes Are Listed

I understand that my friend, Benny Smith, who works for the Paducah radio station, is doing quite well with his writing these days. Benny, who is married to a pal of mine, has already sold several books, and is now doing a series of stories for TV. Benny goes in for western stories and this TV series is being especially written for a famous western movie star. Benny is determined to keep his stories clean, so that all members of the family can enjoy them, and has brushed aside all suggestions from his publishers to do otherwise.

And speaking of writers, recently in a chat with Mrs. Alfred Maloney, our neighbor, she stated, "I have never lived in a community before where there were so many people who write. It is really amazing!" And she is right, for Fulton really does have quite a few who try their hand at writing. There are some who are writing novels, while others write short stories, poetry and music.

Kentucky 4-H youngsters this year get a chance to compete for a $1,000 bond, and their leaders, a $500 bond, in a livestock judging contest.

It is the Charles H. Pfizer Co.'s sixth annual livestock judging competition for youngsters under 18 years of age. Four champions will be chosen—from each of four regions—and given a $1,000 savings bond. Leaders of the winning youngsters will get a $500 bond, the company announced.

Entries for the contest must be in April 19. Details are available at the Pfizer Co.'s livestock judging contest department, 800 Second Avenue, New York, 17, N. Y.

Smith Atkins: Banker, Councilman

Smith Atkins

One of Fulton's most energetic and civic-minded men is Smith

Atkins, president of the Fulton Bank, operator of several business establishments, a member of the City Council, and church leader. Last year he was named Fulton's "Outstanding Citizen of the Year."

Mr. Atkins is senior partner in the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company, which recently moved into its beautiful new building in Highlands. His partner is his son-in-law, Charles Reams, who manages the business.

Mr. Atkins is a partnership owner in the Atkins, Holman and Fields Insurance Agency, the Jones Auto Parts and Atkins Used Cars.

It could be said of Mr. Atkins that he is one of the few "self-made men." He came to Fulton in 1908 with nothing—as he puts

Negro Bound Over To Grand Jury

James Edward Clanton, Fulton negro, was arrested here by city police Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and charged with assaulting with a deadly weapon and of robbing Walter Ridgeway, night clerk at the Earle Hotel on February 6, according to Chief of Police Rex Ruddle.

At a preliminary hearing Friday afternoon, before City Judge H. H. Perce, Clanton pleaded not guilty, although he was identified by Ridgeway as being the man who assaulted and robbed him. Clanton was bound over to the action of the Grand Jury and his bond was set at $2,500. Being unable to make bond he was carried to the county jail at Hickman.

C. C. Vaughn, Chairman of the Obion County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reports that most farmers who wanted to take part in the 1958 Acreage Reserve of the Soil Bank, but could not file signed agreements because of fund limitations, will apparently be able to sign up at the county office in the near future.

QUIET OLD TOWN

Carrollton, stretching along the Ohio River bank, is a quiet old town of tree-shaded streets and old homes of considerable charm. The town was incorporated in 1794 under the name of Port William and in 1838 it was renamed in honor of Charles Carroll of Carrollton, Maryland, signer of the Declaration of Independence.

For years each day has been spent rushing from one business to another to see that everything is going along all right.

Besides his business affairs, he lends a helping hand in civic affairs—anything for the betterment of his home town is his motto. He has served several terms on the city council.

Mr. Atkins is a Mason, a member of the Lions Club, a trustee of the Elks Lodge, and a member of the First Methodist Church. He has served as Sunday School superintendent of the Adult Division.

He is a great lover of sports, especially fishing and baseball. When the Fulton Baseball Association was active he served as a director and was president of the organization in 1936, the year the lights were installed at Fairfield Park. For several years he was active in the Fulton County Sportsmen's Club.

Mr. Atkins was born Oct. 11, 1893 in Henry County, Tenn., near Cottage Grove. His parents were William Henry Atkins and Martha Henderson Atkins. When he was two years old his father died.

In 1900, Smith, his mother and only brother, Billy, moved to Dresden. They lived there until 1904, when they moved to Palmersville. In 1908 the three came to Fulton to live permanently.

After graduation from South Fulton High School in 1910, Mr. Atkins studied business administration at Valparaiso University at Valparaiso, Ind., for two years. When he returned to Fulton, he worked for a short while at Franklin's Dry Goods and Clothing Store, then as a clerk for the Illinois Central Railroad for one and one-half years. From 1916 to 1930 he was employed by Fall, McCall and Fall Insurance Company. In 1926 Mr. Atkins organized the Western Kentucky Finance Co., but it was liquidated in 1942 as a result of the war. In 1930 he organized the Atkins Insurance Co., and in 1939 bought the Pepsi-Cola plant in Fulton. From 1944 to 1946 he operated a Pepsi-Cola plant in Shelbyville, Tenn.

He and Mrs. Atkins, the former Miss Catherine Fields of Fulton, were married in July 1922. They have three children, Mrs. Charles Reams of Fulton, Mrs. Don Sensing of Fulton, and Jere Atkins, who is employed in Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Miss Latane,

A few weeks ago I lost some important material pertaining to my work. Could you please tell me what happened to those papers?

Thank you,
S. K.

Dear S. K.,

These papers were left in the car you were riding, and that person gathered them up with some old news papers that was in the car and threw them away.

Dear Patricia,
I have read lots of your answers in the column.

We had a hog to disappear in October, it weighed about 160 pounds. Did it stray away from home or did some body kill it, if so how far away do they live, what kind of house do they live in and their initials?

Will you please answer in your next issue of "The News."

M. P.

Dear M. P.,
A person took the hog and killed it, they live in a white house not too far from you; you will find a J in their initials.

Dear Patricia,
It has taken much courage to write this letter to you, so please answer in your next issue of the News.

Will the person I have loved for many years ever mean any more to me? Will there ever be a life for us together? Can you give me the initials of this person?

Wondering.

Dear Wondering:
Yes, you will marry, not this year though. It will be in the spring of 1959, there is a "R" in the initials.

Dear Patricia,
I have been reading your column and enjoy it very much. I have a question to ask.

I have put away a Chrysler book instructions on playing the game. And I have forgotten where I put it. Will you please tell me where I can find it?

Thanking you and hope to hear in next weeks issue.

L. P. B.

Dear L. P. B.,
You will find your book of instructions in the bottom of a drawer under some clothes where you put it.

Dear Miss Latane,

I read your column every week and enjoy it very much.

I would like for you to answer some questions for me.

First could you tell me where my ex-husband is?

Second I have lost my billfold and could you tell me where it is?

Third I have been going with a boy whose initials is D. R. C. does he care anything about me?

D. M. T.

Dear D. M. T.,
Your husband is in the state of Illinois; your billfold is at the city dump burned up, and the contents were removed. If you will watch a real close friend you will see something in her purse that was in yours then you will know who picked up your billfold when you dropped it. Yes, the boy is in love with you.

Dear Patricia,
One of your readers (faithful one) advised me it may prove beneficial to write to you. So here I am!

Patricia, what happened to "Lucky"? Will we ever see her again? Do you know where we could find her?

Sincerely,
G. T.

Dear G. T.,
No, you will never see Lucky again as one of your neighbors killed Lucky and then carried her off and buried her.

Dear Pat,
I really enjoy reading your letters so much.

Will you please answer a few questions for me?

What become of my earrings? Can you tell me where my duck I thought so much of went? Give me the initials of the person who left a black cat here while we were not at home? Will my husband get a job? Will he pass the exam? Will his health get better?

There has been talk of a government project being put through here, do you think there will be? I will be watching for your answer.

C. A. C.

Dear C. A. C.,

Your earrings are in a bowl at home, a neighbor killed the duck and ate it, the cat was thrown from a car. Yes, your husband will get a job; yes his health will get better; yes there will be a government project thru there beginning this year.

Dear Patricia,

I always read your column and enjoy it very much.

Would you please answer a question for me? My husband and I have met an elderly couple but really we don't know a thing about them. They visit in our home, and we have called on them once. Are they sincere in their friendship? Please answer very soon.

Thank you,
R. I.

Dear R. I.,
Yes you will find they are sincere, and you will find a friend in this couple that are hard to find, don't turn them away for you will need a friend in the very near future.

Diary of Doin's

By Mary Nelle Wright

Hear Mary-Nelle's program, "My Fair Lady" every day on WFUL at 9:30 a.m., Monday through Friday.

Good MAWIN' my friends—did you have a happy EASTER? Was YOUR house in a state of complete CONFUSION the entire weekend? We HOPE it was—because then we'll know that you were HAPPY with your family or friends around!

We managed to "make it fine" throughout the entire weekend—with no MAJOR problems—but we think you'll probably enjoy our CONFUSION during the early hours MONDAY morn.

Our confusion started at the Paducah Airport just after we had put son, Don, on a plane for Washington. Now, it was EARLY, mind you, and we had ARISEN at 4:30—made the drive up there with NO breakfast as we had, on other occasions, eaten our breakfast at the airport. But—the restaurant was closed—so—no breakfast. To tell you the truth—I am not exactly NORMAL—until I've had my COFFEE!

Well, as I said, we saw Don safely on the plane—and we rushed to the car so as to drive out the gates and see the plane take off. THAT was the FIRST mistake—because during our excitement we drove STRAIGHT down the road to where we could have a bird's eye view of the ASCENSION—well, that was the WRONG way and we found it out a few miles down the road, so we turned around and came back to another little road near the airport. Down that road we went until I was certain that it was WRONG, again. So I stopped and asked a man WHERE the road to FULTON was. He didn't know—so we "wound around" bumpy black topped roads until—sure enough—there we were at the airport, again. You won't believe me when I tell you that we tried another road—and were LOST again—and went back to the airport. (Please remember that neither Mama nor I had had our COFFEE). But—all at once I saw the little road to turn LEFT on which brought us straight to the ENON ROAD—and home! (It would be BETTER for you to think that I've NEVER been to the Paducah Airport before—but 'tis NOT so because I go just about every time Don comes home—and get LOST every time. I've really thought of how resourceful little HANSEL and GRETEL were and I've ALMOST decided to ask Heinz Pickle if he'll paint a few of those nice signs and have them say, "this 'a way—to FULTON!" I'll just take my hammer and nails and POST the signs on my very next trip to the airport!)

Wish I had time to list ALL of the boys and girls who were home from their respective colleges for the EASTER holidays, but here's a few: Gaylen Varden, Charles Binford, Betty Gregory, Janet Allen, Mollie Wiley, Max McDade, Bailey Binford, Charles Andrews, Jack Snow (and his lovely family), Kay Cherry, Jackie Edwards, Paula DeMyer, Mary Ann Hill, Becky Edwards, Frank Sublette, Beverly Hill, Lucy Anderson, Follis Bennett, and Tommy Brady—and there are MANY others that I'd love to mention. Please, dear friends—call me every time YOUR "Pride and Joy" is at home—so I won't leave their name off my list!

How ENTRANCED I am to know of all of the INTERESTING things my friend Ginny Isbell is doing up the NATION'S CAPITOL way! Col. Jim, Ginny, their LOVELY daughter, Reed, and the two boys live in Chevy Chase—as Jim has been at the Pentagon for the past three or four years. (Ginny, you know is a former Fultonian and daughter of Mrs. Jessie Lee Fleming). And—as I said—that gal Ginny is ALWAYS DOING THINGS!

A week or so ago the Washington Post carried a story of Ginny's LATEST project, which was a luncheon given in honor of MRS. RICHARD NIXON. Ginny is chairman of the Air Force Student wives—so she planned a luncheon built around a HAT SHOW! And it was just about the most UNIQUE hat show you've ever heard of. The women at the War College have lived in most every country in the world—so it was a perfectly-jelled idea for the hats to be of FOREIGN origin, and we quote from the POST: "Hats from Africa, the Rue de la Paix, Saigon, Lapland, Spain, Mexico, South America and a Doir-designed Salvation Army bonnet and others were modeled at a luncheon of the Officers Wives of the National War College at the Ft. McNair Officer's Club. Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, wife of the Vice President, whose hat was a pillbox of spring flowers, was guest of honor at the showing of hats from all over the world.

While guests dined at tables centered with flowered hats and veiling, headwear collected by the wives from posts abroad were shown by two pretty members of the club, Mrs. Richard Ellis and Mrs. Robert McDonald.

Congratulations the models was Mrs. James Douglas, wife of the secretary of the Air Force, who came backstage when the luncheon was over.

Among those at the head table were Mrs. E. T. Woodbridge, wife of the commandant of the National War College and Mrs. JAMES ISBELL, chairman of the Air Force Wives.

Your Diarist SAW the many nice pictures made at the luncheon that day—and let me tell YOU that OUR Ginny was simply the SHARPEST looking one there—and I'm NOT excluding ANY of those nice ladies!

But we'll be bidding a fair ADIEU to the Isbell family in the not too distant future as Col. Jim's next duty station will be Anchorage, Alaska where he will be Chief of Staff of the U. S. Air Forces in Alaska. And how THRILLED we are for Jim—to have such an important command—why, it seems only YESTERDAY that he was at WEST POINT—and CAPTAIN of the ARMY football team! We'll miss seeing you when we're up Washington way, Jim and Ginny—but our best wishes for a happy life in Alaska—knowing both of you, we have NO doubts that you'll enjoy EVERY minute of it!

Your Diarist is simply all AGLOW over the mere THOUGHT of what the summer holds for our little friend, Betsy Whitesell Betsy (Belle and Hunter's daughter) is teaching physical ed in Belleville, Illinois this year, but as soon as the school year is terminated—off Betsy will go to SOUTH AMERICA! (Some people IS the luckiest ones!) Maybe there's a wee bit of IRISH blood in that lassie's veins—because she's ALWAYS 'a takin' off for some delightful place. This summer she'll go to Cartagena, Columbia, S. A. where she will visit with her brother, Capt. Robert Whitesell and his charming wife, Patsy. And we're keeping our fingers crossed for TENTATIVE plans that Ann Latta, who teaches in Paducah, will join Betsy on one of the islands on her return to the U. S. A. We hope this will happen—because Ann and Betsy, could have a GAY—GAY—GAY time!

HAPPY DAYS—at Birdie Hill's and Mary Latta's—because they have their grandson and nephew, "little dick" Hill with them for a whole week! You remember that little Dick, his mother, Pat and his dad, Dick arrived in Fulton about two weeks ago from their home in Sydney, Australia. Dick had to come to the States on business—so it was a wonderful trip for the three to visit Dick's family.

Dick has spent most of his time in parts of the East but returned to Fulton to spend Easter with his mother. Monday morning Dick and Pat returned to New York and Montreal, Canada for business purposes—and they left little Dick here. . . . We might say that the Hill and Latta households have taken on an entirely DIFFERENT atmosphere. Aunt Mary has DEVELOPED into the most perfect BABY-SITTER you've ever seen—and Grandma Birdie is having the time of HER life. How HAPPY we are for the Hill family to be together, again. You know, AUSTRALIA is a FAR way—down under!

Congratulations to Mrs. Ben Golden and daughter, Thelma who have purchased a NEW HOME in Connaughton Addition over South Fulton way. And the nicest thing about it is that Mrs. Golden's daughter, and son-in-law, Estelle and Carl Kimberlin, will build another new house on the adjoining lot!

Mrs. Cecil Wade Is Junior President

Mrs. Cecil Lee Wade has been elected president of the Junior Woman's Club. She succeeds Mrs. Nathan Wade.

The other newly elected officers are Mrs. Leroy Brown, first vice-president; Mrs. Nathan Wade, secretary; Mrs. William Robertson, recording secretary; Mrs. Dan Taylor, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Arch Huddleston, re-elected as sponsor.

At the regular meeting last Tuesday evening at the Woman's Club building, Mrs. Arthur Roman had charge of the program and presented a resume of jazz or modern American music, built from the American Indian tom tom to the modern jazz. She played various numbers on the piano, showing how they could be played in the different styles. The program was very beautiful.

At the meeting it was announced that all information on the club's annual scholarship had been sent to the schools. The deadline on making applications for the scholarship is in April. Mrs. Virgil Barker is scholarship chairman.

Plans were also made for the May meeting, which will be a tour of the homes, and the homes to be visited were announced. Mrs. William Robertson and Mrs. L. M. McBride will be in charge of the tour.

There were several visitors present. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Harlan Cravens, Mrs. Curtis Cravens and Mrs. Wendell Butts.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Gore were hosts to an Easter dinner at their home on Morris street Easter. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chapman of East St. Louis, Ill., Glenn Dye of Long Beach, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Herman Grissom and sons, George Bondurant, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Willey and Mr. and Mrs. Gore and family.

How nice it was to see J. Mack Scates, Sara and the children, Susan, Mary King and Julian of Glenellen, Illinois home for the Easter vacation. They were guests of J. Mack's mother, Mrs. Harvey Maddox, and his sister, Jane Edwards. The family enjoyed dinner together Sunday out at the Derby—and EVERYONE looked SO happy!

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Locke and daughters, Debby, Becky and Loraine of Lexington are spending the Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Locke, Union City Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pritchard and daughter, Ann, of Evansville, will arrive tonight to spend Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Locke.

Bill Browning is spending the week in Indianapolis, Ind. on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snow and children of Louisville spent the Easter holidays in Fulton with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Duley. Jack is attending medical school in Louisville.

Canadian Minister's Wife Is One Of Fulton's Most Interesting Women

By Ouida Jewell

One of the most interesting women in Fulton is Mrs. Alice Maloney of 317 Carr Street. She is a Canadian by birth and the wife of the Rev. Alfred Maloney, minister of Trinity Episcopal Church here and of the Episcopal Church of Hickman.

Mrs. Maloney, a very charming lady, is quite talented in making pottery and ceramics, a hobby of hers for the past 15 years. She and her husband have taken courses in the subject and have all the necessary tools, porcelain kiln, molds, both homemade and bought, the wheel, etc., with which to work. She uses both liquid and modeling clay.

Mrs. Maloney began her interesting hobby back in Canada during World War II after reading an article in the "Canadian Home Journal," about making things of clay. First she made items for a church bazaar and couldn't come up with enough. She took a course on the subject at Anderson, and later, at the University of Indiana near Bedford, she and Rev. Maloney studied pottery under Karl Marx.

While living at Bedford she made Bible planters, with the Lord's Prayer on them, and these were sold as favors for a church at a florist shop.

Mrs. Maloney makes all kinds of pretty items and gives most of them away to friends. She is very good at her work, too.

It is very interesting to hear the charming lady tell of her early life. She was born way up in the northern part of Ontario at Algoma. She lived with her grandmother in the country and it was very rugged there. Late at night you could hear the wolves howling and if you looked out of the window you might see them running over the land.

After graduating from high school, Mrs. Maloney went into nurse's training at the Lady Minto Hospital, located in the district where the Dionne Quintuplets were born. Upon graduation, she went to Toronto to work and it was there that she met her husband-to-be, who was a student at Wycliffe College, a part of the University of Toronto. After a year they were married.

Upon Rev. Maloney's graduation from the university, he became a missionary and was sent to the Indian reservation at Oshweken, Ontario. This was a reservation of six different Indian tribes—the Mohawks, the Tuscaroras, the Onondagos and three others.

"These were the happiest days of my life," said Mrs. Maloney.

The Maloneys were treated wonderfully by the Indians and were honored at many dinners and parties. They were the only white people on the reservation, except for the doctor and his family and the Mounted Police.

Two of the Maloneys' children, Margaret and David, were born during the five-and-a-half years they were there. An old Indian woman made Margaret Maloney and Princess Margaret Rose and Elizabeth identical Indian dolls. The princesses were presented their dolls when their parents visited the reservation before they became King and Queen of England.

"I found the Indians lovely and very good-natured, and if they liked you there was nothing they wouldn't do for you," said Mrs. Maloney.

On the reservation the Indians still have their pagan gods and witch doctors. Once a year they have the "Feast of the White Dog," at which time a white dog is burned.

Mrs. Maloney said that when they were leaving, a party was given for them and a ceremony was held in her honor to see if she was to have a happy life. They took her wedding ring and tied it at the end of an 18-inch piece of string, which hung from the chandelier. They were to burn the string and if her ring remained hanging, her life was to be a happy one, but if it dropped, things would be bad. Mrs. Maloney said she took the ceremony very seriously and was both happy and amazed to find that her ring still hung at the end of the string after it had burned to a crisp.

Each Indian on the reservation received a "head tax" from the government. They could become Canadian citizens if they gave up their Indian heritage, but then they had to pay taxes and could not go back to their Indian privileges. It was against the law to give an Indian liquor and if you loaned them money, the Indians did not have to repay it.

During the winter months, the Indians' favorite sport was the snow snake game. In the summer whole families would go to work on fruit farms.

After leaving the Indian reservation, Rev. Maloney became pastor of a church near Lake Huron, one of the Great Lakes. While there the Maloneys purchased a cottage on the lake and for five or six years spent each summer vacationing there. They all pitched in and built their cottage. The time spent at the lake was enjoyed very much by Mrs. Maloney for she loves to fish.

It was while they were living near Lake Huron that their other two children, Mary and Allen were born.

World War II came along and Rev. Maloney became a chaplain in the Royal Canadian Air Force. He served for a while at Edmonton, Alberta, then was sent to the Manning Depot in Toronto, where he worked with "washed out" pilots. Mrs. Maloney and the children were with him part of the time.

Following the war, the Maloneys came to the States to live and settled in Indiana, where they had relatives. About a year ago Rev. Maloney became minister of the Fulton and Hickman churches.

The Maloneys' two daughters are married, but living with them are their two sons and Margaret's two little boys. Alan is a senior at Fulton High School and plans to go to college upon graduation. David has completed three years in the Navy and is hoping to enter an art school in Chicago soon.

From The FHS KENNEL— Annual Plague Hits Seniors

The seniors will be having the time of their lives in the next dreary weeks preparing a research theme in English. This period serves also to terrify lowerclassmen who are constantly reminded of their coming fate.

Seniors have to write these masterpieces before they can graduate. The assignment consists of bibliography cards, note cards, the theme itself, and a bibliography. Most students finish it in a study hall or two, but for the slower ones it takes longer. They are due on April 28.

Some suggested subjects are Family Life in English Literature, Unforgettable Characters Who Have Influenced Me, Women in English Literature, Diet and Dental Disease, Foods in the Bible, Music and Medicine, American Jazz, The Olympic Games of Ancient Times, Peaceful uses of Atomic Energy, and it seems like Good luck, seniors, and may you live through it!

From The FHS KENNEL— Big Day Set For Eighth Graders

The eighth grade will officially leave Carr Institute May 21, following the annual junior high school graduation.

Dean Raymon surrougths of Bethel College, McKenzie, Tennessee, will be the speaker. A brass ensemble, consisting of seven eighth grade boys, and the eighth grade girls' glee club will complete the program.

After the graduation, a party will be held at Smith's Rose Room for the graduates and their guests.

From the FHS KENNEL— SPRING SIGNS By Ruth Butts

The willow tree is dressed out in a pale green Easter gown; The blue and yellow crocus is brightening up the ground. The birds are getting flirty. As they flit about the trees, -And out around that red bush I thought I heard some bees.

This morning as I went to school I heard my favorite sound: "Knee-deep, knee-deep" they seemed to say. Down by the swampy ground. So there can be just one thing up— I know it from the signs— Spring is just around the corner. It's my favorite of all times.

"A Little Honey" To Be Presented

We are all familiar with the old saying, "Two heads are better than one." Grandma Thornton (Norma Hendon) and Mr. Minton (Grady Archie) prove that this is true in the senior play, "A Little Honey," which will be presented at South Fulton auditorium April 18 at 8 p. m.

Delores Megglehammer (Joan Maynard) the cook, is on a rampage, because Scoots (Anne Strange), the younger member of the family feels that her pet frog, Pegasus, should spend his leisure hours either in the bread box, or else on Delores' inner-spring mattress. Mrs. Simmons (Mildred Pierce), Grandma's nurse, is a glum, sour-faced creature, who always looks on the dark side of life. It would be ideal for teen-agers if they could settle their future as easily as Jerry (Laraine Fields), the second Minton daughter, and Albert Parker (Billy Copeland), the boy next door. Albert proposes as often as Jerry permits, and he is patiently waiting for Jerry to grow up. Albert's financial worries are typical of those experienced by most teen-agers. As an exterminator from "The Sure Shot Exterminating Company," Gerald Powell proves his worth as a company employee.

In this three-act comedy portraying the life of the Minton's, an average American family, there's not a dull moment. You will miss a splendid home talent

If you fail to see "A Little Honey," the senior play which will be staged at South Fulton's auditorium April 18 at 8 p. m.

DEATHS

Eugene Reed

Eugene Reed, 49, died at Fulton Hospital at 6:15 a. m. Saturday.

Born in Dresden, Tenn., he was a Fulton taxi cab driver. He suffered a heart attack two weeks ago.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ora Clark Reed; four sons, Charles Edward, Wesley, Larry and Terry Reed of Fulton; six daughters, Mrs. Joyce Bell, Mrs. Mary Jo Coats, Almarie Reed, Clea Reed, Linda Reed and Sheryl Reed, of Fulton; a brother, Leo Reed of Fulton; a sister, Mrs. Paul Laws of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. John Laidla officiating. Burial was in Old Concord Church Cemetery, near Latham.

Mrs. Pearl Francis

Services for Mrs. Tennie Pearl Francis of Lynnville, who died at Hillview Hospital here Thursday afternoon at 5:30, after a two day illness, were held Friday afternoon at 3, at the Cuba Church of Christ. Bro. Rodney Hall, minister of the church, officiated. Burial, under direction of Jackson Brothers Funeral Home of Duke, was in the Cuba Cemetery. She was 58.

Mrs. Francis was born April 3, 1900 in Graves County. She was a member of the Knob Creek Church of Christ at Dukedom.

She leaves her husband, Ted Francis; her mother, Mrs. Tollie Jane Heath of Dukedom; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Farmer and Mrs. Leo Wiggins, both of Lynnville; three half-brothers, Robert Heath of Mayfield, Route 1, Clois Heath of Detroit, and Jess Heath of Water Valley, Route 2; five half-sisters, Mrs. Pauline Reed of Lynnville, Mrs. Floyd Hart of Cottage Grove, Tenn., Mrs. Johnnie Haygood of Detroit, Mrs. Chet Rainer of Farmington, Mich., and Mrs. Bessie Mosier of Birmingham, Mich.; and eight grandchildren.

Virginia Fulcher

Services for Mrs. Virginia Elzada Baker Fulcher, who died at 12:30 a. m. Thursday at Hillview Hospital here, were held Saturday afternoon at 2, at Chapel Hill Church. Burial, under direction of Whitnel Funeral Home, was in the church cemetery. She was 40.

Mrs. Fulcher, who lived on Fulton, Route 2, was born near Greenfield, Tenn., Feb. 16, 1918, daughter of Arthur and Georgia Baker.

She leaves her husband, Ruel Fulcher; four sons, Wendell, Harold, Freddie, Jerry Wayne and Danny Ray Fulcher, all of Fulton; six daughters, Mrs. Marie Edwards of Lakeland, Fla., Mrs. Peggy Ruth Clark of Fulton, Mrs. Joan Collins of Union City, Route 3, Miss Georgie Lee Fulcher, Miss Virginia Lee Fulcher and Miss Julia Aline Fulcher, all of Fulton; three step-sons, Will D. Man And Wife Charged With Passing Bad Checks

Jess Chambers and his wife, Lucy Chamber, are being held in the Hickman County jail in Clinton on charges of forgery, Sheriff Curtis J. Vaughan reported.

The two were arrested by Sheriff Vaughan after it was discovered that the husband had been cashing forged checks in Fulton, Cairo and Hickman County.

Investigation by Vaughan revealed that the wife had made out the checks for her husband to cash.

One of the checks for about sixty dollars was cashed at the Pipeline Service Station in Fulton and was drawn on a business check form of Mullins-Hale Chevrolet Company of Clinton which has been out of business for a number of years.

Both Chambers and his wife are being held in confinement for action of the grand jury in the May term of circuit court.

Down on the Farm

With JIM PRYOR

Agricultural Agent, Illinois Central Railroad

When our country was settled, it took nine farm workers to produce enough food to sustain themselves and one city worker. In 1940, one farm worker could produce enough to feed himself and nine others.

In the 1940-1950 decade, production per man rose 44%. Acres harvested per worker increased 35% in 1940 to 47 in 1950. Today one farmer can grow enough to feed 14 months besides his own. By 1960, prospects are that one farm worker will harvest 56 acres. This means that fewer workers on the farm will be needed to produce 20% more agricultural goods in 1960 than in 1950.

As I travel over this area and listen to those in authority tell about farming and farm conditions, I become thoroughly confused as to just what the answer is for us farmers. There are those that think the farmer should have no consideration what-so-ever and then there are those more closely informed as to the needs of the farmer that see the need for some help.

For the non-farmer that may happen to read these lines I would like to point out a few facts about the farmer of 1958. You as a farmer know this already only too well. . . just how long do you think an industry or business either large or small could operate under these conditions: Everything you buy, you buy on the retail market. This includes everything from carpet tacks to combines. Then after a product is produced sell it on the wholesale market. Haven't we gotten the cart before the horse? Shouldn't the farmer have the same advantages as other businesses? Isn't farming a business too? This is a problem for the experts to solve, I suppose in an equation of some sort. While they are finding such an equation that the farmer will fit into we will just have to be plugging along.

We farmers will have to cut our overhead 'down to the nub. All practices that are known to be unprofitable should be cut out of your operation. You need a breakdown of each enterprise as well as an income and expense record. This will help to eliminate waste and unprofitable ventures. See you next week.

Freeman Will Not Run For Congress

State Senator Wayne Freeman definitely will not be a candidate for Congress this year.

Freeman removed himself from all speculation connecting him with the congressional race in this district. At the same time, without committing himself he strengthened reports that he will run for lieutenant governor next year.

Meanwhile Freeman's wife said she would refuse to obey a transfer to Louisville in her job with the Department of Economic Security unless the order is put in writing.

Mrs. Sam Mathis is suffering from a seige of pleurisy at her home near St. Line road.

Trip To Temuco, Chile, S. A. Hardys Report Interesting

"We had a very interesting time, but were certainly glad to get back into the States, where we could talk to people and spend our money as we pleased," said H. L. Hardy, local real estate agent, in telling about the trip to South America, he and his wife took recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy spent a month in Chile visiting their son, H. L., Jr., and his family. H. L., Jr. and his wife have been missionaries there for the past four years and this was the elder Hardy's first trip to see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy left here on Dec. 12. They spent the first night of their trip in Tupelo, Miss., and the second one in Tallahassee, Fla. They arrived at South Bend, Fla., on Sunday afternoon. They visited there with the Rev. Carl Woolridge and family. Rev. Woolridge is pastor of the First Baptist Church there and former pastor of the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church of this community. He and his wife carried the Hardys to Miami, where they boarded their plane at 6 p. m.

The Fulton couple arrived in Santiago, Chile the next evening at 9:30 and were met by their son. They spent the night with John Parker, a missionary and pastor of the First Baptist Church in Santiago, then left the next morning at 7 by train for the fifty-mile ride to Temuco, Chile, where H. L., Jr. lives. It was an all-day ride.

On the way to Temuco, they saw plenty of sights. They saw a woman plowing in a field with a plow having only one handle and pulled by an ox. It was summer-time in Chile and harvest-time. They were harvesting wheat with a one-hand scythe, then loading the grain on a two-wheel ox cart.

The Hardys saw acres and acres of vineyards. They raise lots of grapes in Chile and make all them into wine.

"They say the Chileans try to drink it all, and I guess they do, for we saw many cowboys riding horses, when they could hardly sit on the animals," Mr. Hardy said.

The Chileans think that it is a bigger sin to smoke cigarettes than to drink wine, Mr. Hardy informed us.

"Chile is a beautiful country and we could see volcanoes and snowcapped mountains all along the way," the local man said.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy saw seven volcanoes at one time with smoke coming out of most of them.

The Chilean Baptist Convention was held at Temuco while the Hardys were there and they attended, but couldn't enjoy it as the preaching and singing were all in Spanish. They visited a large open market a block down from H. L.'s home. This market was about two blocks long. The Chileans would bring in their fresh vegetables, pile them on the ground and sit behind them, selling them in this manner. The fresh meat was hung out in the open.

"Chile is about 100 years behind our country. There are no TV, no radio and very few automobiles," Mr. Hardy said.

The poor people in Chile are really poor, living in little huts with dirt floors. Their homes are something like our coal houses. The Hardys saw many ragged and dirty children and some had no clothes on at all.

The houses are built right on the street, with a big fence around the yard. Everything has to be kept locked up.

"I you leave your car on the street, you take the windshield wipers off," he said.

The Chileans are very nice-looking people, especially the men. They are dark complected with black hair.

Mr. Hardy said that in Chile he found he had come to a place where he couldn't spend his money—couldn't buy a drink, use the telephone or get a taxi. He did manage to get a shoeshine that cost him two cents, or 50 pesos.

During their month's stay they did lots of interesting things and had a very nice time.

J. L. Jr. is a trustee of the school there, a member of the executive board and is in charge of all the pastors in Chile.

The Chilean pastors make only $25.00 a month, and H. L.'s salary is $1,000 a year, Mr. Hardy said.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy enjoyed their plane trip, and Mr. Hardy, who always get around, made friends with the pilot and got to ride in the co-pilot's seat, and with the steward, who said he was coming to Fulton to visit the Hardys sometime.

"I have been up in the air several times," said Mr. Hardy, "but this was the first time I was up in a plane."

Welfare Workers Meet With Mrs. Parr

The Welfare Workers Club met in the home of Mrs. C. D. Parr on Wednesday, March 26, at 1 p. m. Mrs. Roy Nabors, vice-president presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Frank Parrish.

The song, "It Isn't Any Trouble," was led by Dorothy Watts. The devotional was given by Mrs. Will McDade. The club creed was read by Monette Finch. Sixteen members answered roll call with a favorite seed. One visitor, Mrs. Robert Irvin, was present. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Lucille Palmer, and the treasurer's report was given by Ruth Sheridan.

Old business was taken up and Mrs. Karl Kimberlin, chairman of the C. C. A. program for their club, reported on what the club had done the previous week and urged the members to respond as much as they could.

New business was then taken up, during which time a mystery trip was discussed. This is a county project and will be April 30.

The Red Cross report was given by Dorothy Watts and a donation was given by the club. Reports were given by the following project leaders: Home Furnishings, bedrooms being the subject, by Mrs. Birdie Phillips; and clothing, Mrs. Louise Muzzell; gardening, Monette Finch.

Recreation was led by Mrs. Lon Watts. The hostess served delicious refreshments during the social hour.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Karl Kimberlin on April 23.

Mrs. McClain Is Named "Sweetheart"

Mrs. Gladys Jernigan of Manchester, president of the Juniors of the Forest of the Supreme Woodman Circle, called a meeting of the officers and co-workers last week at Tullahoma. Mrs. Louise Powers, secretary-treasurer from Winchester, Mrs. Helen Tate, state manager from Bemis, and Mrs. Jewell McClain, district manager of Fulton, were in attendance.

She was master of ceremonies at a banquet and was one of four crowned "Tennessee Sweethearts".

Vet Representative To Be In Fulton

B. D. Nisbet, a Contact Representative of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board, will be present on April 18, at the American Legion Home in Fulton, to assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service.

He will be present from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Mrs. Hilda Byrd spent Thursday, with Mrs. Willie Ruth McClanahan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bellew visited in this community, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmoore Copelen and Martha Kay, visited Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Copelen for awhile Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bell spent awhile Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Sanders.

Mrs. Grace Jones and Mrs. Ora Elliott visited their brother, Ben Moore, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Elliott were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Veatch, Sunday.

Pierce-Harris Club Has Meeting

The Pierce-Harris Club met Wednesday in the home of Miss Marene Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Allen with 30 members and five visitors, Mrs. Elva Blake-more, Mrs. Lottie Smith, Miss Ola Petty of the Pleasant Hill Club, present.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Richard Ferguson, who led the group in repeating the club creed. The group sang "America" and "The Farmer In the Dell", accompanied by the piano by Mrs. L. D. Allen. Mrs. John Smith gave the devotional and led in prayer.

The secretary, Miss Ruby Griffin, gave her report and the roll was answered with "What I Do When I Do as I Please". Mrs. Richard Ferguson gave a report on the dinner at Union City for the member with a perfect attendance last year.

The club donated $5.00 to the Red Cross drive. Project leaders gave their reports. Earl Thorpe reported on the fair. After a delicious lunch, Mrs. Ferguson discussed the C. C. A. plans, then Jim Workman met with the men. John C. Clark discussed gardening. Fourteen plates and 43 cards were sent by members. Mrs. Earl Thorpe conducted a contest that was won by Miss Ruby Griffin. The club will meet in April with Mr. and Mrs. John Smith. A work day was set for April 2 in the home of Mrs. Earl Thorpe.

Future Farmers To Try For Prizes

Kentucky Future Farmers of America who practice soil and water conservation are eligible to win $240 in the 1958 F. F. A. Soil and Water Conservation Contest.

Any F. F. A. member regularly enrolled in high school vocational agriculture may enter this ninth annual competition, sponsored by The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WHAS, Inc. Graduates of last spring may enter if they are under 21 years of age and if soil and water management was part of their agriculture program.

Nine prizes totaling $240 will be presented to this year's winners. The state winner will receive $50. Prizes of $40 and $30 will be awarded second and third place winners, while top contestants from the six remaining F. F. A. districts will each receive $20.

Contest forms may be obtained by writing W. C. Montgomery,

Clean-Up Campaign To Be May 5-10

The Board of Directors of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce voted Thursday to approve an extensive clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign in Fulton and South Fulton May 5-10.

The Chamber will sponsor the event, which will include a week of inspections, parades, essay and poster contests, the crowning of queens and other events to be announced.

The campaign will be directed by Paul Boyd for the Chamber of Commerce.

TO THE MOON AND BACK 47 TIMES! Now that we're getting baby satellites into space, folks are really "up in the air" about space travel and trips to the moon. And the exciting thing is that it all may come true. Right now, if we could get to the moon and wished to put in telephones, we could probably get the wire to reach from earth to moon in pretty short order. In just one year the Western Electric people supplied Bell System companies with cable that contained 23 million miles of wire—enough to reach the moon and back 47 times! That's a pile of wire, but it's only a drop in the bucket compared to that we already have in service and still need to serve all the people who want new telephones every day in the year.

This new-type concrete road is smooth, quiet and comfortable.

The highway ride of tomorrow is here!

New-type, sound-conditioned concrete for America's newest primary highways

There's not a "thump" to be heard when you drive this continuous-laid concrete. Almost like riding above the pavement, instead of on it. You'll say this new-type concrete gives you the smoothest, most quiet ride ever.

It's laid without interrupting joints. Then only the tiniest cushion spaces are sawed into the surface. You never feel or hear them. Freezing, thawing and de-icing can't hurt new-type concrete. What's more, it's laid flat ... stays flat ... serves 50 years and more.

Sound reasons why new-type concrete is the preferred pavement for new primary roads.

Built to cost Kentucky taxpayers less

Only concrete can be engineered to match expected traffic loads, serve 50 years and more. Its first cost is moderate. New-type concrete roads save taxpayers' dollars on maintenance ... which will be up to 60% less than for asphalt.

ASKS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Rep. Robert A. (Fats) Everett of Union City Thursday called on the Tennessee Highway department to use part of additional funds recently allotted the state to work improvements on Highway 51 in West Tennessee.

BOB WHITE—

Frank Beadles, and the Wade sisters, Mrs. White, Mrs. Harvey Caldwell, Mrs. Frank Beadles, all of Fulton, Mrs. Lillian Blagg of Nashville and Mrs. Lynn Askew of Whittier, Calif., who are his sisters-in-law, built the Fulton Ice Company in 1949. This company is a successor of the old ice plant in Fulton, which was built and operated for many years by the late R. H. Wade. The new ice plant ices all banana cars from New Orleans to Mobile. The cars are iced and reconditioned here and Fulton has been given the title of "The Banana Capitol of the World" by tour guides in New Orleans, not because bananas grow here, but because more banana cars are iced here than at any other point.

Mr. White's pride and joy are his two children. His daughter, Mrs. Matt DeBoor, lives in Lexington, Ky. Besides being an attractive and friendly young woman, she was an outstanding student at the University of Kentucky and an equestrienne. She has won many trophies in horse shows over the Mid-South and Texas. Bud is a senior at Fulton High School. He is also an excellent horseman and has won his share of trophies. Bud has also proven to be an excellent athlete in school and on the Fulton golf course.

Mr. White, himself, is one of Fulton's greatest sportsmen. He likes to hunt big game—deer, elk, and antelope—and spends a part of each year doing such. He has hunted wild game in Canada, British Columbia, Wyoming, Montana, Michigan, Texas and Mexico. He also is a great fisherman, and likes to play golf.

One of the loveliest homes in Fulton is the White residence, located just outside of the city limits of Fulton on a 150-acre farm on Highway 45. The house, which is French style, sits up on a high hill, surrounded by trees, and at the foot of the hill is a beautiful man-made lake. Mr. White got the idea for him house out of a magazine.

On the White farm there are several head of Hereford cattle. In the past Mr. White has shown his cattle at shows, but has not done so in some time.

COUNTRY CLUB—

representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the council, stating that the Jaycees would like to provide courtesy cards and nickels for all parking violators, not bearing Fulton and South Fulton city license plates. The two were told that the council would give their offer consideration, but thought that it would possible cause trouble as residents of Highlands and Riceville do not have either city tags, and that Fulton is so closely located to several other counties. The local police have for some time been giving courtesy tickets to tourists or to cars from farther points than the surrounding towns.

Steve Taylor, colored, the new owner of the Jitterbug Inn, appeared asking for a city beer license. He was advised to wait until after the grand jury meets in May to see how the indictments against the place are handled. He was also told that advice from the commonwealth attorney would be received, concerning the matter.

Two ordinances were passed in connection with making Walnut and Arch Streets in East Fulton, both one-way streets. Also, an amendment was adopted, concerning the changing of the stops signs in East Fulton. Traffic on Walnut Street from the railroad will go east, while traffic on Arch Street will be headed west.

Another ordinance passed was setting the city tax rate, which was the same as before.

R. B. Allen, Guy Gingles and J. H. Maddox was named on the equalization board. George Hester has been serving, but informed the council that he could not serve this year.

Mayor Tripp asked the committee on the proposed new sewage system, to come to an agreement this week, so they could meet with the South Fulton committee on the matter.

Among other business, a letter was read from the Chamber of Commerce on the Clean-Up Campaign; the council voted to give $25 to Ted Roach, Superintendent of the Water Works Department, for his food while attending a Water School in Dallas, Texas this month. The school was recommended by Sanitarian Harry Barry.

The council also voted to sponsor the mosquito spraying in Fulton the first of May.

The meeting was closed with a discussion on whether or not the City of Fulton should take over the Kitty League Ball Park.
