STATES ARE LINING UP IN GREAT FIGHT ON STANDARD OIL TRUST.

ILLINOIS VOTES $100,000 LOAN TO KANSAS.

AFTER BEEF TRUST.

Government Believed to Be in Possession of Important Evidence.

(Special to New Era.)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 22.—The house of representatives of the Illinois legislature yesterday unanimously voted a loan of $100,000 to the state of Kansas to aid in its fight with the Standard Oil company. It is said the sentiment of the state senate is equally pronounced on the subject.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 22.—The assenting committee will recommend the passage of a bill making the Standard Oil pipe lines common carriers.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 22.—The Wisconsin legislature will likely come to the assistance of Kansas in the fight against the Standard Oil company.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 22.—Thomas Lawson says he is in a position to give information that will lead to the complete exposure of the Standard Oil methods.

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 22.—Former Attorney General Frank S. Monnett, of Ohio, who has long fought the Standard Oil company, has been employed by the Kansas Oil Producers' association to assist in the fight on the Standard.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Standard Oil stock sold yesterday for $600 a share, a decline of 31 points within a week, as the result of agitation against the company by the president, congress, Kansas, Texas and California. The drop represents a shrinkage of thirty-one million dollars in the market value of the stock.

Beef Trust Fight.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 22.—United States officials after months of secret preparation yesterday made the first move toward an extensive inquiry into the operations of the so-called "beef trust." Subpoenas were issued in Chicago for 185 witnesses, who will appear before the federal grand jury on March 20. A large majority of the witnesses reside in Chicago, but subpoenas have been issued for agents and heads of departments in fifteen other large cities of the country where the packers are transacting business.

It is believed that the government is in possession of important evidence and that the movement will end in a series of criminal prosecutions against some of the members of the large packing firms.

CHAIRMAN EWING

AND GENERAL SALESMAN WARFIELD COMING

Rousing Meeting Will Be Held at the Courthouse Monday.

Every citizen interested in the great fight of the tobacco growers for reasonable prices for their product is cordially invited and urged to be present at the mass meeting which will be held in the circuit court chamber next Monday afternoon at one o'clock.

Felix G. Ewing, chairman of the district executive committee, and General Salesman Warfield will be present, and both of them as well as several other prominent speakers will address the meeting. Mr. Ewing has recently returned from a visit to Washington and has some matters of special importance to lay before the people.

The call for the meeting follows:
FARMERS, ATTENTION!
A meeting of the Christian county executive committee of the Dark Tobacco Growers Protective association is called to meet in the city courtroom at Hopkinsville on Monday, February 27, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock there will be a meeting of the farmers in the circuit courtroom. This will very likely be the last mass meeting of the season and it is most earnestly desired that every tobacco grower and every man interested in the welfare of the county will be present. Come yourself, without fail, and see that all your neighbors attend the meeting, for it is one of the utmost importance. W. W. Radford, Chairman Executive Committee.

BYARS-BRAWNER

MARRIAGE RITES WERE QUIETLY PERFORMED.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Miss Marie Byars and Mr. A. E. Brawner were united in the holy bonds of wedlock last night at the home of Mrs. Nannie Byars, the bride's mother, on South Main street. The service was said by the Rev. Dr. E. L. Southgate, pastor of the Methodist church, and, owing to the recent death of Mr. F. M. Byars, the bride's father, the marriage was a quiet one, only immediate families of the contracting parties being present. Mr. Byars, during his last illness, had expressed the wish that the marriage should take place on the date which had been selected some time ago. The bride is one of Hopkinsville's most attractive and popular young ladies and the fortunate groom is a prosperous young business man of St. Louis and a son of Mr. W. G. Brawner, of Christian county. Mr. and Mrs. Brawner left immediately after the service for St. Louis.

Lindsay-Baker.

F. E. Lindsay and Miss Fannie E. Baker will be married Wednesday, March 1, by Squire J. M. Clark.

BLOODY UNIFORM CAUSES ARREST OF KENTUCKY SOLDIER.

ROBERT F. YOUNG IS IN PRISON AT ATLANTA.

WAS RECRUITED HERE.

Held With Mulatto Woman For the Murder of Her Husband.

(Special to New Era.)

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 22.—Robert F. Young, 27, of company M, Sixteenth infantry, Ft. McPherson, and originally from Hopkinsville, Ky., and Sadie Ganson, a mulatto woman, are held at police headquarters in connection with the mysterious murder of Charles Ganson, Sadie's husband, whose throat was cut from ear to ear in a house at Hunter street and Madison avenue about 3 o'clock this morning. Both prisoners deny that they cut Ganson's throat. The soldier's uniform is spattered with blood, and a knife was found in an alley near Mitchell and Forsyth streets, where he was arrested. On the woman's clothes no blood stains were noticeable. In a statement to the police this morning Young admitted that he had been to the Ganson woman's house at 8:30 o'clock last evening.

He stayed there a while and later started back to the barracks. Then Young declares he heard a woman's screams. She cried that she was being murdered and yelled for help. He ran down the steps and into the hall, and as he did so Gronson stumbled through the doorway and brushed against him, spattering the soldier with blood. The Ganson woman was greatly agitated when informed Tuesday morning that her husband lay with his throat cut in the hallway of their home, and that she and the soldier would be held as suspects. The woman says she knows nothing of the crime.

NEW WILL IS FOUND

DEVELOPMENT IN THE JOHNSTONE CASE.

Might Have Prevented Assassination Had It Been Discovered Sooner.

A paper purporting to be the last will and testament of the late Mrs. Mildred D. Johnstone has been filed in the Trigg circuit court. It was not probated, but the matter continued for further proof. It is said that had the will been discovered sooner, Johnstone, who was assassinated, would likely be alive and young Willis, who is in jail at Cadiz charged with the crime, would be a free man.

The will was discovered a few days ago. An old picture, according to the Cadiz Record, hanging on the wall of the old Johnstone home near Golden Pond was blown down by a gust of wind, and from behind this picture the document was found. It shows the marks of age, being inclosed in an old envelope unsealed and addressed to Attorney John W. Kelly, of Cadiz. It bears date, Clarksville, Tenn., December 14, 1897, and is witnessed by R. D. Moseley, former cashier of the First National Bank, and C. H. Bailey, former city recorder, of Clarksville, both of whom are now deceased. It is also signed by Mrs. Johnstone. All the parties being dead, it is only necessary to prove the genuineness of the signatures.

The provisions of the will gives to Mrs. Bessie Willis the farm near Golden Pond, conditioned upon her payment of the mortgage on said farm. Mrs. Annie Vinson gets $5; W. B. Johnstone, $2; and Gray Johnstone, a grandson, gets $2. A suit of walnut furniture and piano go to Miss Mildred Willis; watch and diamonds to Miss Gretchen Willis; silverware, except castor and soup ladle, which is given to Louis, go to Miss Louise Willis.

John W. Kelly is made "sole executor of this, my last will and testament, and I want him to see that Bess and her children are righted."

Loose Market Report.

The Abernathy Co. report a highly satisfactory sale on their loose floor this week, prices running as follows: Lugs, $3.00 to $4.00. Low leaf, $4.50 to $5.00. Common leaf, $5.00 to $6.00. Medium leaf, $6.00 to $7.00. Nearly all this tobacco was too high in order.

Our buyers are ready to give satisfactory prices for all grades.

We cannot recommend too highly this mode of selling to our patrons, especially to those farmers who can not prize to advantage on account of having small and mixed crops. You certainly realize that it is more satisfactory to sell where you have a dozen bidders than where you have one, and the expense is very little, ten cents per hundred pounds and 8% commission. You have no "docking" and pay no reclamations.

Sales every Tuesday and Thursday.

TRIBUTE IS PAID

At a called meeting of the Hopkingsville Tobacco Board of Trade, to take action on the death of Mr. Frank M. Byars the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Almighty God has in His wisdom removed from our membership Mr. Frank M. Byars; be it Resolved, That we deeply deplore our loss and that we extend our sympathy to his bereaved family. In the loss of Mr. Byars our membership has been deprived of one who was always sunny and genial in his disposition. A man quick to make friends and who bound himself to them by bonds not easily broken. A man whose heart, hand and purse were ever open when objects of charity presented themselves. A man quick to detect fraud and oppression and firm enough to stamp it with his disapproval whenever it appeared. A man of broad acquaintance and scores of friends. A man who by his genial manners and always sunny disposition had won a place in our hearts which will never be obliterated.

His loss will be felt by his friends and the public generally with whom he came in contact.

We can say to his family that we share your sorrow and grief in this our mutual loss.

Resolved, That these resolutions be printed in the Daily New Era, a copy sent to his family and a copy be spread upon our minutes.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Sons of Swamp-Root Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Grand Duke Sergius, Uncle of the Czar, Assassinated at Moscow.

(Cablegram.)

MOSCOW, Feb. 17.—Grand Duke Sergius, the real ruler of Russia, was removed this afternoon by the hand of an assassin.

The crime was committed at 3:00 o'clock.

A bomb was thrown under his carriage in which he was being driven to the Kremlin.

The grand duke was blown to pieces.

The horses and the carriage were torn into thousands of pieces.

The assassin and his abettors were arrested promptly by the police.

They have not been identified.

The most intense excitement prevails everywhere.

All troops in the city have been ordered out.

The grand duke was generally regarded as the power behind the throne, his nephew, Czar Nicholas, being little more than a figurehead.

Grand Duke Sergius was an uncle of the czar, and connected by marriage with many royal houses of Europe. The main secret of Sergius' power lay in the fact that his wife is a sister of the czarina. She is the Princess Elizabeth of Hesse, and, besides being a niece of King Edward, of England, she is a sister of Princess Louise, of Battenburg, and of Princess Henry of Prussia, thus being a sister-in-law of Kaiser Wilhelm. Incidentally, Grand Duke Sergius' sister is the duchess of Saxe-Coburg, now the widow of Duke Alfred. Sergius formerly held the important position of governor general of Moscow. He was, besides, a lieutenant general and aid-de-camp to his imperial nephew. His age was 48.

ROY GREEN HANGS AT OWENSBORO.

Brutally Murdered a White Man From Madisonville at Daviess County Fair Grounds.—Confessed Deed.

(Special to New Era.)

OWENSBORO, Ky., Feb. 17.—Roy Green, the seventeen-year-old negro boy who brutally murdered James Coomes, of Madisonville, at the fair grounds, was legally executed this morning in the jail yard. Owing to the illness of Sheriff Short, the trap was sprung by Deputy Sheriff Cooper.

Green made a full confession of the crime to his spiritual advisor the Rev. A. B. Hooper. He said he killed Coomes in an old shack at the fair grounds on the afternoon of July 31. He said:

"Nobody helped me to kill him. Coomes had shown me his roll of money and I killed him to get that money, but I don't know what ever caused me to make up my mind to do it. I was drunk when I did it—drunk on whisky, which Mr. Coomes bought and gave me to drink. If it had not been for that whisky I would not have committed the deed."

Green then told of the route taken by himself and Coomes to the fair grounds and said they went into the shack together. Coomes was sleepy and laid down. When he was asleep Green says he took a plank, struck Coomes over the head with it, and rifled his pockets of $28. Then he started to leave the place, but fearing that Coomes might not be dead and might be able to tell who committed the crime he said:

"I broke a big splinter off the stick and drove it through his neck, in order to be sure he couldn't talk. I then left the fair grounds and went to my home. That night I went to Evansville, stayed there a few days and went to Louisville, where I was arrested."

PHYSICAL WRECK

Is "Bud" Garth, Who Is Now at Trenton.

The Todd County Times says: Weighing little more than eighty pounds and a complete physical wreck, "Bud" Garth, who killed Younger Watkins near Trenton about two years ago as the result of a quarrel over a woman and then fled the country, was brought to his home near Trenton last week to die. He is suffering from consumption, and, according to the statement of his physician, can live but a short time at best.

After the killing of Watkins, Garth went to the Philippines, and when he was taken ill was sent by the government to a hospital in Arizona. It was from this place that he was brought home. Owing to his dying condition the warrant against him has not been served.

Garth killed Younger Watkins about two years ago. The affair created much excitement at the time, and members of the Watkins family were so terrorized by Garth that they moved to another place under the protection of a sheriff's posse.

The bill authorizes an appropriation of $50,000 for a new building at Paris, Ky.; $100,000 at Bowling Green, Ky.; and $80,000 at Cynthiana, Ky. In addition to these, there were appropriations providing for the continuation of work on buildings heretofore authorized for several other Kentucky towns, among the number being Henderson.

GARNER RETURNS.

HAD PROFITABLE TRIP TO WASHINGTON.

Government Seems Determined to Probe Tobacco Trust's Methods.

Hon. A. E. Garner, who was called to Washington City last week for a conference with U. S. Attorney-General Moody, returned to Springfield, Mo., Saturday. Mr. Garner said he had a most enjoyable, and from the tobacco association's standpoint, a very profitable trip. He stated that he was deeply impressed with Mr. Moody's earnestness and the administration's seeming determination to probe to the very bottom of the tobacco combine, along with the beef and other kindred trusts. His opinion was, that wherever they existed and operated in restraint of legitimate competition and to the detriment of the common masses, that they would be out and stopped by Government injunction. Asked as to the specific nature and outcome of his visit, Mr. Garner said he was under department instructions to make nothing public for the present.

Mr. Wilcox was first appointed postmaster by President Harrison and again during President McKinley's first term. He was afterwards re-appointed by Mr. McKinley, and is now serving his third term. His official record has been an excellent one. Mr. Morton is understood to have strong endorsements. Several other citizens have been mentioned as possible applicants, but the race seems to have narrowed down to the two named. The Clarksville postmastership is one of the best federal offices in the state."

CURES WITHOUT STOMACH DOSING.

Hymel Cur's Catarrh by Simple Breathing—L. L. Elgin Refunds Money if it Fails to Cure.

A long stride toward solving the mystery of curing catarrh was taken with the discovery of Hymel. In fact, the percentage of cures by this treatment proves it equal to the final tests.

The folly of taking medicine into the stomach to cure catarrh of the nose, throat and lungs, has been realized by physicians, but not until Hymel was known, had they a practical method that would obviate stomach dosing.

A complete Hymel outfit costs but $1, and consists of a neat pocket inhaler that can be used anywhere without attracting attention, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hymel. Extra bottles of Hymel cost but 50c.

Breathing Hymel through the inhaler, every particle of air that enters the nose, throat and lungs, is charged with a healing balsam that soothes and allays all irritation, kills the catarrhal germs and enriches the blood with additional ozone.

L. L. Elgin has so much faith in the power of Hymel to cure catarrh, that he is selling it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not give positive relief.

Lo-Co-Moter Ataxia. Now in Good Health.

Dr. M. M. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—After a sickness of more than five years, I was tempted to try your Kidney and Backache Cure. In the mean time I had tried or been under about 20 doctors care at the beginning of my trouble. It was thought to be only a local one, but as time wore on I became worse, so that at last I could not stand on my feet. Then my arms and hands became useless.

But at last after a very long time my trouble both came back to me so that I could walk a little with the aid of crutches. The Doctor helped me to this point and no further, and for 24 years I kept in the same condition.

Through the use of your Kidney and Backache Cure I am now in good health. Will say, the doctors told me—all of them—that there was no cure for me, because I was then suffering from Lo-Co-Moter Ataxia.

I Remain yours Respectfully, W. B. DREW, Grand Rapids, Mich.

M. A. Garrott.

Died at the residence of his son, J. J. Garrott, near Pembroke, Ky., on the 11th inst., of infirmities incidental to old age, M. A. Garrott. It has been my pleasure to know this good man for fifty years and can truthfully say I never knew a more conscientious, devoted Christian, kind and loving father nor more honorable high toned gentleman in his dealings with his fellowmen than M. A. Garrott. He was a charter member of Longview lodge F. & A. M. and was a faithful craftsman, always at his post of duty when possible to be there. He had been a member of Salem Baptist church since early life and the flock will sadly miss his pleasant smile of contentment. He always had pleasant salutations for all he met. The family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their loss, but their loss is his gain, and he awaits them on that beautiful shore eternal in the heaven where all is joy and sorrow is unknown. That his spirit may rest peacefully is the prayer of his friend, J. H. F. M.

"Cleanliness is next to godliness." Dirt and depravity go hand in hand. This is just as true of the inside of the body as the outside. Constipation clogs the body and clouds the mind. Constipation means that corruption is breeding in the body, poisoning the blood with its foul emanations, befogging the brain with its tainted exhalations. Constipation is the beginning of more diseases than, perhaps, any other single disorder. The consequences of constipation are legion. Headache, pain in the side, undue fullness after eating, coldness of the extremities, nervousness, indecision, lassitude, dizziness, sallowness, flatulence, and a score of other ailments are directly caused by constipation. Cure constipation and you cure its consequences. The quickest cure of this evil is obtained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are small in size but wonderful in result. They cure permanently. They contain no injurious ingredients. The use of them does not begot the "pill habit." Ask your druggist for them. Send 31 one-cent stamps, the expense of mailing only, and receive Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers. This work contains 1008 pages and 700 illustrations. For 31 stamps it can be had in substantial cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Rev. Dr. A. C. The services of Dr. Dixon, as stated heretofore in the New Era, were secured by the Hopkinsville Ministers' association, and the revival promises to be one of the largest and most successful ever held in the city. Dr. Dixon is a brother of Thomas Dixon, the noted author and lecturer, and is generally regarded as an able man in many respects. The union meeting will continue about 10 days.

CANNING FACTORY

SUCCESS IS MET IN SELLING STOCK.

A Long-Wanted Enterprise Now Seems Assured.—Mr. Sturgis in Town.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

R. E. Sturgis, representing the Chicago Building and Manufacturing company, of Chicago, Ill., is in the city in the interest of the organization of a company for the purpose of building an up-to-date canning factory here, of which there has been considerable talk during the last two years. Mr. Sturgis only began an active canvass of the business men yesterday, but says he has already met with a very flattering degree of success and hopes to be able to announce definitely within a week's time that all the stock has been subscribed and that the factory will be a certainty. He has had twenty-two years experience in the canning business and says that Hopkinsville is admirably situated for the location of such a plant.

It is proposed to raise $15,000 by selling stock and this will probably be the capital stock of the company, which will be duly incorporated. Two other gentlemen who are taking a deep interest in the plan are Judge W. T. Fowler and W. B. Bramfield, who were the promoters of the canning factory movement before. These gentlemen have thoroughly investigated the outlook as to the crops to be raised, the machinery to be installed, etc. If built, the factory will be as large as is possible to be built on the single machine system, that is, without having a double set of machines. It will have a capacity of from 20,000 to 25,000 cans per day of ten working hours. It will employ from fifty to one hundred people in the factory itself, a majority of whom will be women. The factory will run about six months in the year canning vegetables and fruits, and then it is so desired the winter months can be employed in the canning of hominy, light meats, such as fowls, etc. The principal vegetables used will be corn, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, string beans, peas, pie pumpkin, Hubbard squash and, in addition to these, fruits of all kinds indigenous to this section will be one of the principal outputs.

No section of the country is better suited to the raising of these vegetables and fruits than Western Kentucky and nothing of this kind will have to be shipped in from any considerable distance. This will also open a new avenue of income for the small farmers of this section, who can raise these vegetables and realize more profit from their sale than they could from small crops of wheat, tobacco, etc. This feature of the plan appeals directly to the farmers and already a number of them have become interested and have expressed their intention of co-operating by raising the products to be used by the factory. A factory at Humboldt, Tenn., which is just about the same size as it is the intention to build here, last year spent $80,000 for vegetables and fruits and for labor, and notwithstanding this enormous expenditure they came out with a very handsome profit and this year are making their plans to further enlarge their factory. It is a well known fact that as a rule canning factories are nearly always behind on their orders and failures are exceedingly rare in this business.

The shipping facilities of Hopkinsville are second to none where water transportation is not to be had. The three railroads, the Louisville and Nashville, the Tennessee Central and the Illinois Central, afford competition for shipments in any direction. A site for factories may be had on the main lines of any of these roads. Already several sites have been offered for the factory but nothing along this line will be done until the stock is all subscribed.

Thief Shot.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad company has lost so much coal at the Guthrie coal chutes that they have recently kept a rigid watch. A few nights ago Frank Simmons, a watchman, attempted to arrest a negro, Sam Dickey, for stealing coal. The negro resisted arrest, and Simmons shot him in the leg.

GONE TO REWARD

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Mrs. Sarah Jane Dalton, a noble Christian lady, who was loved and admired by all who knew her well, died this morning at 11:30 o'clock at her home on East Seventh street. Death relieved great suffering. She became suddenly ill last Wednesday from asthma complicated with an affection of the heart, and since that time her condition had been critical. Mrs. Dalton was about sixty-seven years of age, having been born at Barren Plains, Robertson county, Tenn., in June 1838. She removed to Hopkinsville with her husband, the late S. W. Dalton, in 1883. Six children survive her. They are George D., T. M., H. M. and Garner E. Dalton and Mrs. Lucian H. Davis, of this city, and Mrs. G. H. Holman, of Springfield, Tenn. There are two brothers, Thos. R. Mason, of Adairville, and Monroe Mason, of this city. She was a consecrated Christian and her long life was crowded with good deeds. She was a member of the Baptist church. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Baptist church, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Chas. H. Nash, and the remains will be laid to rest in Hopewell cemetery.

THE STOMACH IN WINTER

Hearty Food Puts Extra Strain on This Important Organ.

Winter is a little more than half over, and the results of its hearty food are shown in the variable appetite, nausea, gnawing at the pit of the stomach, heartburn, salivary skin, furred tongue, headache, backache, and sleeplessness. The stomach has been overworked, the nervous system is unstrung, the blood is in bad condition, the digestive organs are tired out.

It is at this season of the year that Mi-o-na, the only remedy known that gives strength to the stomach and digestive organs, is of especial value.

Mi-o-na is not a hit-or-miss cure, but is an unusual combination of remedies that makes it infallible in restoring health to the stomach and digestive system. It overcomes any acid condition that may be present in the stomach and intestines, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, has a stimulating effect on the solar plexus, and combines peculiar properties that strengthen the nerves of the stomach and puts the whole digestive system in so healthy, clean and sweet a state that fermentation of the food cannot exist, any disease germs in the stomach will be destroyed, and the digestive system will be so strengthened that it will extract from the food all the elements that make solid bone, firm muscle, and pure blood. It is a guaranteed cure for all diseases of the stomach, excepting cancer.

The guarantee on Mi-o-na is given by one of our best known druggists, L. L. Elgin, who agrees to refund the price 50 cents, should Mi-o-na not give perfect satisfaction. Ask L. L. Elgin to show you the guarantee he gives with every package.

PICKS ARE FLYING ON SITE CHOSEN FOR Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

EXCAVATING FOR FOUNDATION STARTED.

WORK WILL BE PUSHED

Believed That Handsome Home Will Be Completed Early In Summer.

(From Monday's Daily)

The work of excavating for the foundations of the Young Men's Christian association building was begun this morning, the contract having been awarded by the committee having that part of the work in charge to C. G. Duke. Under the contract the excavating is to be completed by April 1, by which time the contract will have been let for the laying of the foundations and the firm sponsoring the contract will be ready to begin work on it at once. From this start the work of erecting the building will be pushed just as rapidly as possible and it is expected that it will be ready for dedication early in the summer. As soon as the perspective of the building is received from the architect it will be placed on exhibition at some prominent place in the city where it may be examined by all who may choose to do so.

The treasurer has sent out notices on the pledges and a large proportion of those who subscribed to the fund have already paid that part which was due. An arrangement has been made with the Planters Bank & Trust company to receive and receipt for amounts paid on these pledges and those who have not yet fulfilled this part of their obligation are requested to call at once and pay the amounts due.

The state convention of the Young Men's Christian association, which has been in session at Owensboro, ended Sunday. Many successful meetings were held on the closing day, and the final service was a mass-meeting of all the congregations of that city Sunday night.

New Station.

The Tennessee Central railroad in contemplating the location of a new station on its Hopkinsville branch, near Kennedy, Ky., has aroused the interest of several parties in the matter whose land is under consideration for the selection of said station. NO PADDING

Will be Permitted by State Authorities.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 26.—The increased drain upon the State Treasury and common school fund owing to alleged inaccuracies, either through carelessness or design, in reports of the common school fund, has caused the Governor to take steps to stop the abuses. To this end the state inspector and examiner will be sent into counties where the "padding" of returns is suspected, and upon his report prosecutions will be based.

CAPT. HOBSON AT LOUISVILLE PREDICTS WORLD WAR SOON.

DELIVERS SENSATIONAL ADDRESS.

TROUBLE FOR ENGLAND

East Against the West—Hull Incident Part of a Scheme.

(Special to New Era.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 20.—Involving all the nations of the earth, a world war is predicted by Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, who charges that the Powers of Europe are united solidly against England, and that every effort is being made to provoke Great Britain into an open act of warfare so that France can take the field openly against Japan and England. He further says that the people of Europe, alarmed at the threat of the "Yellow Peril," have become sympathizers with Russia and are united against the Japanese. He says that all Russia's retreats have been prearranged and that the next movement by Russia will be an invasion of Mongolia. Capt. Hobson intimates, although he does not directly charge that the Russian navy fired on the Hull fishing fleet in pursuance of a plan to involve England in the war now being waged

CIRCUIT COURT.

(From Saturday's Daily)

Circuit court will convene here on Monday, Feb. 28th., and as the law prescribes that all suits must be filed ten days before the beginning of the term in which they are to be tried, Circuit Clerk Clark had a busy day yesterday as that was the last day under this rule on which suits could be filed for the approaching term.

Mrs. Emily Wheeler Elliott has filed suit against the Tennessee Central Railroad company for $175. She alleges that on account of the cattle guards and fences not being kept in proper condition a horse and a mule belonging to her strayed onto the track and were struck by one of the defendant's trains, the mule being killed and the horse so badly injured that it has since been of no use. The mule was valued at $100 and the horse at $75.

The suit of T. J. Guthrie against the city of Hopkinsville, which was tried in the quarterly court a few days ago and resulted in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $38, has been appealed to the circuit court and the papers were filed in the office of the circuit clerk today. Guthrie sued on the grounds that he could recover from the city for amount of salary lost by him while he was quarantined on account of smallpox being under the same roof.

BATTLE IS ON.

Great Fight Between Kansas and the Octopus.

(Special to New Era.) KANSAS CITY, Feb. 30.—The great struggle between the state of Kansas and its allies and the Standard Oil company is fairly begun. Gov. Hoch was notified that the government would send six inspectors to investigate the operations of the Standard Oil company in the Kansas oil field. The state expects powerful aid from outside sources. The people are aflame with indignation against the methods of the monopoly, but some of the conservative legislators pronounce the present state refinery plan a return to Populism and a dangerous hint to Socialists.

"Shut your eyes, open your mouth and see what luck will bring you."

Many a woman is weak and sick, nervous and discouraged. She suffers from headache, backache and other ills. She wants to be well, but all she does is to shut her eyes and open her mouth for results. She "doctors" month after month, often year after year, in this manner, blind, hap-hazard fashion, and receives no permanent benefit.

Women take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with their eyes open to the fact that it cures womanly ills. It cures irregularity, it dries debilitating drains, it heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. There is no trusting to luck by those who use "Favorite Prescription."

"In the year 1880 my health was poor," writes Mrs. J. Black of 243 Broadway, Buffalo, N. Y. "I suffered from falling of womb, disagreeable discharge, painful monthly periods, headache, backache and pains in the limbs. Every month was confined to bed for two or three days. Was weak, nervous and hysterical; life was a burden to myself and I made every one in the family unhappy because I was so irritable. My husband got me four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and before I had taken the first bottle I was feeling some relief. The medicine made me well and strong, free from nervousness, aches and pains, and I felt like a new woman. Before I used the 'Favorite Prescription' I had been taking another physician's medicine for nearly three months, but had received no benefit. Your medicine is certainly the best in the world."

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and a mild cathartic. Don't let a selfish seller over-persuade you to accept a substitute for these Original Little Lives Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated but never equaled.

BAD TREATMENT.

The temper of the Republican party is pretty well illustrated by what happened over in Christian recently. At the last regular session of the legislature Representative Rogers, Republican, of that county, voted for the Day bill, a measure intended to prohibit the co-education of black and white children, and aimed especially at Berea college. He also voted for the bill appropriating money to the Confederate Veterans home at Pewee Valley. And now Mr. Rogers has been told by the Republican committee, which is dominated by negroes, that he can stay at home next time. The colored man is the whole show in Republican circles in Christian county, and the white Republican politician who doesn't cater to him is pretty apt to find himself in the middle of a bad fix.—Todd County Times.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 7, 1901. This is to certify that I was troubled with kidney and bladder diseases for three years and found nothing to relieve me until I tried the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, which has given me positive relief, and I think a permanent cure. JAS. M. HIPKINS.

The city council has granted permission to use one of the streets of the town as a trading alley, and professional traders will find those special days most profitable.

CAUGHT SMALLPOX

BY MOVING INTO AN INFECTED HOUSE.

So Tandy Cunningham Sues Bill Lunderman for $2,000 Damages.

Still another echo of the small pox scare is a suit for $2,000 damages which has been filed for the coming term of circuit court by Tandy Cunningham against Bill Lunderman, both parties being colored.

Cunningham claims in his petition that he rented and moved into a house belonging to Lunderman. He alleges that the family previously living there had had at least one case of small pox which was known to the defendant but that he told him nothing about it nor had there been any fumigating done. As a result he states that his entire family, consisting of himself and wife and four children were stricken with the disease and were forced to go to the pest house where they were detained for several days and were therefore unable to earn a livelihood during that time and suffered greatly from the disease all of which damaged them in at least the amount prayed for.

C., one of the best-known railroad men of the country, sends the following grateful letter: "Thanks to the Cuticura Remedies, I am now rid of that fearful pest, weeping eczema, for the first time in three years. IMPORTANT ACTION

TAKEN BY GRAND TRUSTEES, K. of P.

Order Rescinded—Hopkinsville, Waives Claim to Grand Lodge.

(From Friday's Daily.)

Lucian H. Davis returned last night from Lexington, Ky., where he attended a meeting of the board of control of the Knights of Pythias' widows' and orphans' home for this state. At this meeting the board succeeded in having both the county of Fayette and the city of Lexington rescind the orders recently made in the matter of appropriation of $10,000 to said home, which, on account of the phraseology, has proven objectionable to the subordinate lodges in some sections of the state. The change as made in said orders leave the matter of the admission of either a widow or an orphan absolutely and alone to the board of control.

Evergreen Lodge, No. 88, of this city, through her representative on the board, presented a resolution recently adopted formally waiving her right to the meeting of the grand lodge in this city next fall. Grand Chancellor W. F. Shuman, of Carrollton, Ky., who was present at the meeting of the board of control, expressed his appreciation of the action of Evergreen lodge in giving way to what seemed to be the interest of the home, and said that the place of holding the grand lodge this year would probably be changed from Hopkinsville to Lexington, thus affording the lodges through their representatives an opportunity to personally inspect the home.

The board decided not to dedicate the home until after, or possibly during, the session of the grand lodge, should the meeting be held in Lexington.

The home was formally placed in charge of a brother knight, who will care for it until it is called for by the board. In the meantime the proposition of Mr. J. H. Bosworth (state treasurer) for the rent of the land for this year at $1,500 was accepted. The proposition is for the land exclusive of the house, outbuildings, lots, garden, orchard, etc.

Those present at the board meeting were: W. C. Quinby, president, Dayton, Ky.; T. P. Satterwhite, vice president, Louisville, Ky.; John C. Thomason, secretary, Henderson, Ky.; H. C. Dumont, Newport, Ky.; B. P. Eubank, Bowling Green, A. C. Green, Lexington, Ky.; Lucian H. Davis, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Grand Inner Guard J. P. Pollard, of Jackson.

MEET ON MARCH 1

TO ELECT A TOBACCO INSPECTOR.

Spirited Bidding at the Loose Sales.—Association at Work.

The local tobacco market this week was inactive on the breaks, the inspector's report being as follows: Receipts for the week, 5 hhds; receipts for the year, 115 hhds; sales for the week, 5 hhds; sales for the year, 55 hhds.

The loose market was better and more tobacco was sold and more tobacco was sold and prices were better than has been the case so far this season. Sales were held on Tuesday and Thursday and on both days the amount of offerings showed an increase over past sales and the bidding more spirited. About 50,000 pounds was sold in this manner this week. Prices ranged as follows: Trash, $3 to $3.75; logs, $3.75 to $4.75; medium leaf, $5 to $6; good leaf, $6 to $7.

The warm weather of the past few days combined with the dampness resulting from the breaking up of the cold weather has brought tobacco into season and a considerable quantity has been delivered to the various rehandling houses here. This tobacco comes, in a large majority of cases, from the northern portion of the county where agents of the tobacco growers' association have not yet organized the farmers in the movement. In the sections of the county where the farmers have signed the pledges to hold their tobacco until the prices demanded by the association are secured, these pledges are being strictly adhered to and very few sales have been reported. The work of organizing the northern part of the county is now being pushed and this section will also probably soon be under the rules of the association.

The Tobacco Board of Trade will hold a meeting on Wednesday afternoon, March 1, for the purpose of electing an inspector to fill the unexpired term of Frank M. Byars who died recently. There are about twenty candidates for the place.

MANGLED CORPSES

ARE TAKEN FROM THE VIRGINIA MINES.

(Special to New Era.)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 22.—The scene at Virginia mines where a terrific after damp explosion imprisoned so many men seven hundred feet below the surface, is the most gruesome and harrowing that has ever been witnessed in the immediate section of Alabama.

It is now generally conceded at least one hundred and sixty unfortunate men were in the mines at the time of the catastrophe. Fifty bodies have already been brought to the surface.

The corpses are frightfully mangled and disfigured and identification is almost impossible. Many of them are so terribly bruised and twisted and discolored that negroes cannot be told from white men.

At the mouth of the mine the wailing and moaning of the women and children whose unfortunate relatives were in the mine has been the most heartrending feature of the disaster. One hundred families and 300 children are left destitute and without means of support by the calamity and they are of the best mining families in Alabama.

As the bodies of the victims, which in many cases have been gathered together a piece at a time, are brought to the surface they are placed in rows on a rough improvised platform and late this evening ambulances began the removal of those so far recognized to Bessemer.

Since the list of dead will probably go to 160 the local undertakers have wired to adjoining cities for coffins, as it was found there were not enough suitable coffins in the district to bury the victims.

MOST CORDIALLY

VETERANS ARE INVITED TO LOUISVILLE.

All Will Be Handsomely Looked After at the Reunion.

To Confederate Veterans: Charged with your entertainment at the fifteenth reunion of the United Confederate Veteran association to be held in Louisville on the 14th, 15th and 16th days of June, 1905, on behalf of Kentucky and Louisville, we desire to extend to you the sincerest and most cordial invitation to be present on that occasion.

We recall the fact that in the past there has been some complaint that the social entertainment for the sponsors and maids of honor and others, had in some degree interfered with provisions for the care and pleasure of the veterans themselves. Without sitting in judgment in any way on others, we hope in the conduct of this reunion to avoid all just grounds for such criticism of this kind in Louisville, and to make such provision for all veterans who attend that they will feel that as it is their reunion, they will have received every possible pleasure that such an occasion can bring.

Louisville and Kentucky feel highly honored to have these Confederate soldiers in their bounds. Both historically and politically Louisville appreciates the coming of the Southern soldiers into her midst, and the people propose to make this one of the most memorable occasions in the history of the associations.

To relieve all apprehension or doubt, we send out this announcement that in all that can be done for the veterans, the coming reunion will be in the highest sense a veterans' reunion, and nothing will be left undone here that can add to their happiness or comfort.

While the veterans shall have all that can be desired or suggested, it must not be forgotten that Kentucky hospitality can meet all demands, and that sponsors and maids of honor, friends, associates and sons will find a welcome that is worthy of this great city and historic commonwealth. RELIGIOUS FERVOR

IS STIRRING THE CITY OF LOUISVILLE.

Remarkable Scenes at Revivals Now Going On There.

Louisville is at present agitated by a remarkable religious revival movement. Thus far 4,000 conversions have been announced and it is confidently expected that the close of the services on Sunday next will find that number doubled.

During the first week of the revival, which began Feb. 12, 1,000 persons professed Christianity and on Sunday last, which was "Decision Day," 3,000 more declared their faith.

But the most remarkable scenes were witnessed Wednesday when the ministers in charge of the movement, taking advantage of the holiday, conducted a day of prayer at the twenty-four points where revival services have been in progress. Many business houses and factories closed, some for an hour or two and some for half a day, at the request of the ministers. It was a common spectacle during the noon hour to see grave business men and their clerks scurrying along the streets, bolting their lunches, in order to have more time for the prayer services. Thousands of employees who had but the noon hour to spare took their lunches to the churches. The attendance figures show that 45,000 people, or one-fifth of Louisville's population, attended the services, and at many points large numbers were turned away. The attendance is the most remarkable in view of the fact that the meetings were held especially for busy workers, and the women and home staying portion of the city were requested to remain at home.

MR. FUQUA EXPLAINS

NOT FAULT OF TREASURER BOSWORTH

Arrangements Are Finally Made to Send Pay For The Teachers.

Miss Katie McDowell, superintendent of county schools, is in receipt of a letter from State Superintendent James H. Fuqua asking her to aid him in correcting the impression that the state treasurer was blamable for the failure of the teachers' pay to arrive in due time. Mr. Fuqua's letter is as follows:

"I find the impression prevails that the state treasurer is to be blamed for the failure to pay the teachers last week. No blame attaches to him. I find there was not sufficient money in the treasury to the credit of the school fund to pay the February drafts, and Mr. Bosworth did not feel warranted in borrowing from the sinking fund without the consent of the commissioners. He has their consent now, and will send the drafts the last of this week. The treasurer is conscientious and faithful in the discharge of his duties, and it gives me pleasure to bear this testimony. I ask you to explain the situation to your teachers and remove all blame from Mr. Bosworth."

Mr. Fuqua's first letter simply said: "Owing to the absence of the treasurer from the city the February draft will not be paid yet."

NAGGING PAINS

Newport News, Va., July 22, 1903.
Last summer while recovering from illness of liver, I had a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the knees, from which I was unable to leave my room for several months. I was treated by two doctors and also tried different kinds of liniments and medicines which seemed to relieve me from pain for awhile, but at the same time I was not any nearer getting well. One day while reading a paper I saw an advertisement of S. S. S. for Rheumatism. I decided to give it a trial, which I did at once. After I had taken three bottles I felt a great deal better, and I still continued to take it regularly until I was entirely cured. I now feel better than for years, and I cheerfully recommend S. S. S. to any one suffering from Rheumatism.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or some other acid poison in the blood, which when deposited in the muscles and joints, produce the sharp, cutting pains and the stiffness and soreness peculiar to this disease. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation, all irritating substances are neutralized and removed out of the system, the blood is made pure and the general health is built up under the purifying and tonic effects of the vegetable remedy. Write for our special booklet on Rheumatism which is sent free. Our physicians will advise without charge all who will write us about their case.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D.D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 19.—The preacher takes occasion, in view of the approaching celebration of Washington's birthday, to remind the nation of its indebtedness to God throughout its history for the same care and protection that he vouchsafed to his people at a crisis of their national affairs. The text is Joshua x, 12, "Sun, stand thou still upon Gibeon, and thou, moon, in the valley of Ajalon."

"This week we celebrate once more the national festival which appeals to the heart of every patriot. There is no date in our history that compares with it in its claims on our reverence. In honoring the birthday of the Father of His Country we contradict the reproach that republics are always ungrateful. Never so long as this nation lasts will the memory of George Washington lose its luster. The greater and the stronger and the more influential we become among the peoples of the earth the more illustrious will be the position we accord to the man whom God raised up at the birth of this nation to win for us freedom and independence. Many great and good men have arisen to serve us since his time—men renowned in war, men sagacious in statesmanship, men of patriotic fervor. We thank God for them, but it is to that man we turn with grateful reverence, who in the darkness and disaster of our country's fortunes, held fast his faith and kept his brave heart undimmed."

It is with no desire of belittling his achievements that we trace his power to accomplish them to a higher source. He never failed to acknowledge that it was by the help of God that he won his victories. If Washington had not had that unwavering faith in God, his courage and fortitude would have failed under the trials he had to endure. There were mighty forces contending on his side that did for him more than his poor, ragged soldiers could accomplish. The heavenly cohorts were fighting on his behalf, and in stirring up enemies of the great power with which he was contending reduced that enemy's capacity to oppose him and enabled him to overcome. It was the providence of God that gave him the victory, as long centuries earlier it had enabled the great leader who had enabled the giants of the Hebrews to overcome the giants of the Canaanites. God does interfere in human affairs, as history proves again and again. Washington found in the hour of his difficulty, as Joshua found in his campaigns, that in the Lord of Hosts was his supreme support.

I choose today this story of Joshua as a topic for our thoughts because it emphasizes with oriental imagery the great lesson of Washington's career. The materialist who would exclude God from his universe is met here in the sublime truth that the divine sympathy is on the side of righteousness and that God is able by his infinite power to give the victory to the weak who trust in him.

Man's insignificance.
One reason given for the noninterference of God in human affairs is that man is an infinitesimal. Though man as a finite cannot drop a fathom line long enough to sound the bottom of God's deep seas of mystery, that does not prove that these "divine mysteries" are not true. Because many of the leading scientific men of England doubted the practicality of George Stephenson's invention, that did not make the iron traces within which was harnessed the locomotive any less strong. Because for years and years Cyrus Field's attempts to marry the old world to the new with the wedding ring of an Atlantic cable was the butt and ridicule of thousands of unbelief tongues, that did not make the possibility of sending a message under the seas any less an attainable fact. Because we cannot explain to the satisfaction of skeptics this miracle of the sun standing still, shall we abandon our faith in God's providence? Shall we not rather remind them that in our own national history his interference on behalf of the weak was displayed no less conspicuously and no less effectively?

God has omnipotent power over the forces of this world—the socialistic, the atmospheric and the angelic as well as the astronomical—and time and again he has compelled them to bend the knee for the aid of men. In this sermon I am going to show you that though man may seem to be insignificant, yet he is not so in reality. Man is so important in God's eyes that God is ready to do everything possible in his interest and for his salvation. He has not shrunk from the sacrifice of his only begotten Son, who is yet to be come King of kings and Lord of all.

Let us first see how God has exalted man's throne above the stars. Let us study from the astronomical telescope how man, instead of being a mere nondescript, a being unthought of, an unrecognizable, a forgotten pygmy in an unknown world, swinging out upon the outskirts of the universe, is more important than all material worlds and more important than any other creature living this side of the New Jerusalem. Let us enter the throne room of the heavens and see how in the past, for man's good, the stars have wheeled into line and obeyed God's behests, even as a torchlight procession might march past the reviewing stand of a king or a president.

Man a mere nondescript on the outskirts of the universe? If he is, how can you account for the order of the creation? As a bridegroom prepares a home for his bride God prepared this world for the habitation of man. He made the sun and the moon, the one to light the day and the other to guard the night. He spoke, and the dry land appeared. He swung out into the heavens the myriads of stars. He unrolled the hillsides great woodland temples. Then God made the songsters to sing. After God had created the heavens and the earth and all that in them is he said: "Let us make now our masterpiece. Let us make man after our own image." "So God created man in his own image." He crowned him with honor and glory and made him to have dominion over the works of his hands. Of which the moon and the stars were only the works of God's fingers. Thus we find that all the worlds were in one sense created for the great climax of all earthly creations, the advent of man. It is incredible that, in order to work out his purposes for the human race, God should use these lower creatures as his will?

Man's Importance in Universe.

If man is not more important than the stars, how can you account for the fact that Jesus Christ came to this world to die for man? There are billions upon billions of worlds. There are worlds above worlds. There are constellations upon constellations. Every night the telescopic eye of the astronomer can see their funeral pyres burning. Yet it was not to reanimate perishing worlds that Jesus died. It was to redeem immortal man that Jesus left heaven and suffered upon the cross. Our earth is but a speck in the universe, one of the smallest of the millions of worlds that are visible in the winter's sky, yet it was for the redemption of its inhabitants that Jesus gave himself to suffer and die. Does not this prove the importance of man? If a man is not more important than the stars, how can you account for the fact that weeks, perhaps months, before Jesus was born in the manger at Bethlehem God sent a stellar messenger to guide the wise men from the east? Would a star step out of its course and with finger of light become a guide to man? Does not the fact that a star was a messenger to man at the first Christmas morn prove to you that God has enrolled among the astronomical hosts mighty forces which, if necessary, are ready to serve us and our interests? How this "star of the east" was able to slip its chains and run down the boulevards of the heavens we know not. Some of the astronomers declare the "star of the east" was not a single star at all, but in order to lead those wise men God wheeled into line two, three, perhaps fifty, a thousand stars, and focused all their lights upon the star in the east. But whether the star in the east was a single star or twenty or a hundred stars, one fact we know—"God made the heavens, with their constellations, and they are at his command; they are his servants, and they do his will."

But we are not compelled to put our world in harmony with worlds millions and billions of miles away to find some of the mighty forces God is able and willing to command for man's life and service, for man's safety temporal and safety spiritual. We can hear God speaking at all the lights upon the storm. We can see him smiling in laughing eddies sunbeams. Furthermore, we may learn that this voice and this smile in answer to believing prayer will come for man's blessing if we only ask him for an atmospheric blessing. When one of the Princeton students once asked Dr. Alexander, "Professor, do you ever lose your faith in God?" he replied, "Never, except when the wind is from the east." Yet we should know that God's greatest blessings come to rescue man at times when the wind is from the east. Therefore you and I as believing Christians have a right to pray for clear weather during a freshet as in times of drought we have a right to pray for rain. Thus it is best for us God will answer our prayers atmospheric.

That Strong East Wind.

God's power extends to all meteorological phenomena. Not yet have the wonders of the storm been reduced to a system. The weather bureau's prognostications frequently fail. As with Washington, as with Joshua, as with Moses, God's hand is stretched forth in the rescue of his people. What incident in history is so astonishing as that of the passage of the Red sea? The children of Israel, fleeing from Egyptian enslavement, were caught in a trap. In front of them was the sea. Behind the earth was shaken with the revolving chariot wheels and the thundering cavalry hoofs of the pursuing soldiers of Pharaoh. What happened? Moses said: "Fear not, my children; fear not. God will rescue us." Moses then stretched out his hand over the sea, and the Lord caused the sea to go back by "a strong east wind." In other words, in answer to Moses' prayer God sent a strong east wind, which blew back the waters so that the Israelites might see away from their masters. And to show what the power of this east wind was Major General Tullock of the British army a few years ago before the London Geographical society read a paper in which he declared that he stood a few years before the Israelites the same place where those Israelites were supposed to have crossed. One night he felt a strong east wind blow. It blew so hard that in one night it blew back the waters and left the ships which were once riding at anchor stranded on dry land. God answered Moses' prayer. He answered it through the agency of the east wind. God exercises the same control over his ultimate creation that he has over the winds, and with this, too, he operates for the benefit of his people. After the children of Israel had been for months living upon the manna in the wilderness they began to crave meat. They cried unto Moses: "Give us flesh to eat! Give us flesh!" What happened? The Bible says: "There went forth a wind from the Lord and brought quails from the sea and let them fall by the camp." * * * as it were two cubits high upon the face of the earth." This does not mean, as Mr. Hastings declares, that the Lord by an east wind piled up dead quails about the Israelites camp two cubits high. But it does mean that the east wind blew the quails, against their will, straight toward the Israelites. The wind was so powerful that the birds, heavy of body and short of wing, had to fly low on account of the tornado. And as they flew low the men killed them. God answered the prayer of Moses. He answered it in the shrieking of winds.

Some Modern Miracles.

But why go back in Biblical history to find how God has aided his children in the voice of the winds? What about the Spanish armada under the "golden duke," Admiral Sidiola, with its 129 ships, defeated from invading British harbors not by the English cannon, but by the tornado which swept the English channel in 1588? What about the storm which prevented Napoleon attacking Wellington at Waterloo on the early morning and which delay was a great factor in the triumph of the English? What about the dense and impenetrable fog which settled in New York harbor in the early morning of the day on which Washington and his troops escaped from Long Island and made it possible for the American boats to row to safety under the very guns of the British fleet, which could have annihilated them? What about the frost which came in answer to America's prayer just at the right time after a thaw which destroyed the locusts by the millions a few years ago in our western states, where they were destroying the crops everywhere? Were not those storms and those frosts the voice of God in answer to prayer coming to the aid of his children? I tell you we have to realize that there are atmospheric answers to prayer as well as astronomical answers to prayer. God speaks to us in times of drought when we pray as he answered Elijah's prayer of old when Ahab said: "I will to escape the deluge—'Hath not the rain a father?' God's rescuing voice is heard in the growl of the storm; God's smile is seen in the incubating sunshine, and if it is best for us God's storm and God's sunshine are seen and felt in answer to our believing prayers.

But I find the mighty forces not only astronomical and atmospheric, but also socialistic, subserving God's children. I use the word socialistic not in its narrow sense. I allude to the broad sense of man's relationship to man. In the supremacy and the overthrow of thrones, I find that the great onward movements of the world have been employed for the rescue and salvation of God's peoples for all time.

In the Fullness of Time.

What is the meaning of that verse Galatians iv, 4, "When the fullness of time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, under the law to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons?" Was not one time in the sight of God just as favorable as any other time? Oh, no. There were certain prophetic conditions which had to be fulfilled. Not the least of these was that Jesus had to be born in Bethlehem of Judaea. How was this to be accomplished? After the whole civilized world was brought under the domain of the Roman emperor God prompts Caesar to order that a Jewish census be taken. What was the result? In order to obey that command, Joseph, the carpenter, who was married to Mary, had to take a trip to Bethlehem. He was one of the descendants of David, and all his family had to be counted in the village where the royal shepherd boy once lived. Then through Joseph, through Caesar, through a foreign command, Jesus was born where prophecy said Christ should be born. It is folly for you and I to say, "God might have fulfilled prophecy in a different way." Yes, he might. But God's way was a true way. And in order to accomplish that way Caesar must conquer and Rome must rule.

Can we not in the same way see the finger of God in the discovery of America, in the birth of our constitution, in the awful tragedy of the civil war, in the strange acquisitions of Porto Rico and of the Sandwich and Philippine Islands? Can we not feel that the booming guns at Fort Arthur and the success of one political party over another are the voice of God heard in the awful words that Paul spoke when he said that God is working out his plans through the movements of the nations? Because with our unaided vision we cannot see the end from the beginning that does not lessen the workings of God's movements for the salvation of nations.

Man's throne is higher than the stars. God has made him a little lower than the angels. Yes, but on account of Jesus' sacrifice for us God has sent his angels to re-enforce us in the awful struggle against sin and temptation and in the battle for the world's redemption. He has sent them, not here one and there one. "The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of angels. The Lord is among them as in Sinai, as in the holy place." These angels are everywhere, willing to minister unto us and care for us.

Re-enforced by Angels.

Mighty angels for our protection! Oh, my brother, in the struggle of life can you afford to be downhearted and slothful? Have I not said enough to encourage you to do anything and en-

THE KEY TO YOUR SYSTEM IS YOUR LIVER

The principal civilized nations of the world guard jealously and expend millions annually to protect those strategic positions, or strongholds, recognized as the "key" to their national integrity. Your liver is the stronghold which you must fortify and guard against the attacks of disease. Your liver is "The Key to your System." Take care of your liver and your liver will take care of you. Sharp-edged uric acid crystals are forming in your blood; Bright's disease, rheumatism, diabetes, inflammation of the bladder, dropsy, stone in the bladder, and many other similar enemies of your system are marching against you. They must reach your system through your liver. If you fortify this stronghold against them you conquer disease and win robust health. If you neglect your liver they will capture it and ruin your entire system, breaking down tissue through the nerves and blood. Diseases of the heart and lungs, skin diseases, constipation, rheumatism and stomach troubles naturally follow. The only preparation that drives out all these poisons is Dr. THACHER'S LIVER AND BLOOD STRIP. It cures, because it goes to the seat of the trouble at once. It drives these disorders out of your liver, and secures "The Key to your System" and secures it against future attacks. It makes you well by making your liver well.

Dr. Thacher's LIVER & BLOOD STRIP CURES

DR. THACHER'S LIVER AND BLOOD STRIP is an accurate medicine—an accurately compounded preparation of pure medicinal herbs. No nerve-deadening opiates—no harm in a thousand bottles. WHAT IT WILL COST

TO RUN A TEAM IN THE K. I. T.

Some Notes of Interest To
All Lovers of the Game.

The Henderson Gleaner gives this estimate of what it takes to run one team a K. I. T. season:

Players' salaries for 4 months	$3,500
Hotel bills and transportation	1,650
Hotel bills during training sea- son	280
League dues for umpires	250
Uniforms	150
Printing	140
Police	75
Ground keepers	40
Salary of secretary	150
National protection fee	15
League dues	15
Transportation of players to Henderson	145
Total	$5,480

The baseball rules which were used last year will probably stand without a change during the coming year.
Now that all the talk is over, it seems quite evident that all the changes suggested will only tend to make the matters worse and the old outfit of rules will stand for another season, at least.

him and it is expected he will return ment. He will be welcomed with

CHAPTER X.

WILBUR had imagined that the fight would be hardly more than a wild rush down the slope of the beach, a dash over the beachcombers' breastworks of sand and a brief hand to hand scuffle around the old cabin. In all accounts he had ever read of such affairs and in all ideas he had entertained on the subject this had always been the case. The two bodies had shocked together like a college rush, there had been five minutes' play of knife and club and gun, a confused whirl of dust and smoke, and all was over before one had time either to think or be afraid. But nothing of the kind happened that morning.

The Bertha Miller's crew, in a long line, Moran at one end, Wilbur at the other and Charlie in the center, came on toward the beachcombers step by step. There was little outcry. Each contestant singled out his enemy and made slowly for him with eyes fixed and weapon ready, regardless of the movements of his mates.

"See any rifles among them, Charlie?" shouted Moran, suddenly breaking the silence.

"No, I think no hab got," answered Charlie.

Wilbur took another step forward and cocked his revolver. One of the beachcombers shouted out something in angry vernacular, and Charlie instantly responded. All this time the line had been slowly advancing upon the enemy, and Wilbur began to wonder how long that heart-breaking suspense was to continue. This was not at all what he had imagined. Already he was within twenty feet of his man, could see the evil glint of his slant, small eye and the shine of his yellow body, naked to the belt. Still foot by foot the forward movement continued. The Chinese on either side had begun exchanging insults. The still, hot air of the tropic dawn was vibrant with the Cantonese monosyllables tossed back and forth like tennis balls over the low sand rampart. The thing was degenerating into a farce—the Bertha's Chinamen would not fight.

Back there, under the shelter of the schooner, it was all very well to talk, and they had been very brave when they had all flung themselves upon Hoang. Here, face to face with the enemy, the sun striking off heliograph flashes from their knives and spears, it was a vastly different matter. The thing, to Wilbur's mind, should have been done suddenly if it was to be done at all. The best course now was to return to camp and try some other plan. Charlie shouted a direction to him in pigeon English that he did not understand, but he answered "All right!" and moved forward another step so as to be in line with the coolie at his left.

The liquor that he had drunk before starting suddenly to affect him, yet he knew that his head was yet clear. He could not bring himself to run away before them all, but he would have given much to have discovered a good reason for postponing the fight, if light there was to be.

He remembered the cocked revolver in his hand and, suddenly raising it, fired point blank at his man, not fifteen feet away. The hammer snapped on the nipple, but the cartridge did not explode. Wilbur turned to the Chinaman next him in line, exclaiming excitedly:

"Here, say, have you got a knife—something I can fight with? This gun is no good."

There was a shout from Moran:

"Look out! Here they come!"

Two of the beachcombers suddenly sprang over the sand breastworks and ran toward Charlie, their knives held low in front of them, ready to rip.

"Shoot! Shoot! Shoot!" shouted Moran rapidly.

Wilbur's revolver was a self-cocker. He raised it again, drawing hard on the trigger as he did so. It roared and leaped in his hand, and a whiff of burned powder came to his nostrils. Then Wilbur was astonished to hear himself shout at the top of his voice:

"Come on now, get into them—get into them now, everybody!"

The Bertha's Chinamen were all running forward, three of them well in advance of the others. In the rear Charlie was at grapples with a beachcomber who fought with a knife in each hand, and Wilbur had a sudden glimpse of another sitting on the sand with his hand to his mouth, the blood spurting between his fingers.

Wilbur suddenly realized that he held a knife and that he was directly abreast the sand rampart. How he got the knife he could not tell, though he afterward distinctly remembered throwing away his revolver, loaded as it was. He had leaped the breastworks—he knew that and between him and the vast bright blur of the ocean he saw one of the beachcombers backing away and watching him intently, his hatchet in his hand. Wilbur had only time to think that he himself would not doubt be killed within the next few moments when this latter halted abruptly, took a step forward and, instead of striking downward, as Wilbur had anticipated, dropped upon his knee and struck with all his might at the calf of Wilbur's leg. It was only the thickness of his boots that saved Wilbur from being hamstringed where he stood. As it was, he felt the blade bite almost to the bone and heard the blood squelch in the sole of his boot as he staggered for the moment, almost tripping over the man in front of him. The Chinaman sprang to his feet again, but Wilbur was at him in an instant, feeling instinctively that his chance was to close with his man and so bring his own superior weight and strength to bear. Again and again he tried to run in and grip the slim yellow body, but the other dodged and backed away, as hard to hold as any fish. All around and back of him now Wilbur heard the hideous sound of stamping and struggling and the re-bounding of bodies falling and rolling upon the hard, smooth beach. The thing had not been a farce, after all. This was fighting at last, and there within arm's length were men grappling and gripping and hitting one another, each honestly striving to kill his fellow-Chinamen all, fighting in barbarous oriental fashion with nails and teeth when the knife or hatchet failed. What did he, club man and college man, in that hideous trouble that wrought itself out there on that heat-stricken tropic beach under that morning's sun?

Suddenly there was a flash of red flame, and a billow of thick yellow smoke filled the air. The cabin was aflame. The hatchet man with whom Wilbur was fighting had been backing in this direction. He was close in when the fire began to leap from the one window. Now he could go no farther. He turned to run sideways between his enemy and the burning cabin. Wilbur thrust his foot sharply forward. The beachcomber tripped, staggered, and before he had reached the ground Wilbur had driven home the knife.

Then suddenly, at the sight of his smitten enemy rolling on the ground at his feet, the primitive man the half-breed of the stone age, leaped to life in Wilbur's breast. He felt his muscles thrilling with a strength they had not known before. His nerves, stretched tense as harp strings, were vibrating to a new time. His blood spun through his veins till his ears roared with the rush of it. Never had he conceived of such savage exultation and wild triumph as that instant. The knowledge that he could kill filled him with a sense of power that was veritably royal. He felt physically larger. It was the joy of battle, the horrid exhilaration of killing, the animal of the race, the human brute suddenly aroused and dominating every instinct and tradition of centuries of civilization. The fight still was going forward.

Wilbur could hear the sounds of it, though from where he stood all right he was shut off by the smoke of the burning house. As he turned about, knife in hand, debating what next he should do, a figure burst down upon him, snadowy and distorted through the haze.

It was Moran, but Moran as Wilbur had never seen her before. Her eyes were blazing under her thick frown like fire under a bush. Her arms were bared to the elbow, her heavy ropes of hair flying and coiling from her head.

Then suddenly Moran gave up, relaxing in his grasp all in a second, and to his great surprise, suddenly smiled. "Hob, mate," she exclaimed. "That was a tough one, but I'm beaten—you're stronger than I thought for."

Wilbur released her and rose to his feet. "Here," she continued, "give me your hand. I'm as weak as a kitten." As Wilbur helped her to her feet she put her hand to her forehead, where his knuckles had left their mark, and frowned at him, but not ill naturedly.

"Next time you do that," she said, "use a rock or a belaying pin, or something that won't hurt—not your fist, mate." She looked at him admiringly. "What a two-sided brawny drey horse it is! I told you I was stronger than most men, didn't I? But I'm the weakest of us two, and that's a fact. You've beaten, mate—I admit it. You've conquered me, and," she continued, smiling again and shaking him by the shoulder, "and, mate, do you know, I love you for it!"

come an issue of sheer physical strength between them. It was a question now as to who should master the other. Twice she had fought Wilbur to his knees, the heel of her hand upon his face, his head thrust back between his shoulders, and twice he had wrenched away, rising to his feet again, panting, bleeding even, but with his teeth set and all his resolution at the sticking point. Once he saw his chance and planted his knuckles squarely between her eyes where her frown was knotted hard, hoping to stun her and end the fight once and for all. But the blow did not seem to affect her in the least. By this time he saw that her berserker rage had worked itself clear as fermenting wine clear itself and that she knew now with whom she was fighting, and he seemed now to understand the incomprehensible and to sympathize with her joy in measuring her strength against his, and yet he knew that the combat was deadly serious and that more than life was at stake. Moran despised a weakling.

For an instant, as they fell apart, she stood off, breathing hard and rolling up her sleeve. Then, as she started forward again, Wilbur met her half way, caught her round the neck and under the arm, gripping her left wrist with his right hand behind her. Then, exerting every ounce of strength he yet retained, he thrust her down and from him until at length, using his hip as a pivot, he swung her off her feet, threw her fairly on her back and held her so, one knee upon her chest, his hands closed viselike on her wrists.

Then suddenly Moran gave up, relaxing in his grasp all in a second, and to his great surprise, suddenly smiled.

"Hob, mate," she exclaimed. "That was a tough one, but I'm beaten—you're stronger than I thought for."

Wilbur released her and rose to his feet. "Here," she continued, "give me your hand. I'm as weak as a kitten." As Wilbur helped her to her feet she put her hand to her forehead, where his knuckles had left their mark, and frowned at him, but not ill naturedly.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach and expose the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

"A Modern Ananias" will be presented at Holland's opera house one week from tonight and every indication points to a charming performance and a packed house.
The cast of characters follows:
Lysander Lyon, M. D., (with a vivid imagination).....
.....Mr. Alfred H. Eckles
Col. Richard Lyon, (with a forgiving disposition).....
.....Mr. Wallace Kelly
Derby Dashwood, (with a Peccadilly accent).....
.....Mr. T. C. Underwood
Francisco, (with an elastic conscience).....
.....Mr. Guy Scarring
Baby, (with the sobriquet of "Little Tootywootay").....

Nellie Goldengate (with a flickle fancy).....
.....Mrs. W. H. Cummings, Jr.
Prudence Mayflower, (with New England notions).....
.....Miss Eugenia Goldthwaite

.....Miss Annie McPherson
The scene is laid at Newport and the time is the present. The events transpire in a short period. The first act is in an afternoon and Lysander lies. Act II is evening of the same day; he continues to lie. Act III is the next day, and the consequences are shown.
The situations into which the various actors find themselves through the mendacity of the hero are intensely mirth-provoking and the wit and ingenuity which Lysander displays in extricating himself and them until he is finally involved in a hopeless mass of tergiversation will keep the audience happy throughout the evening.

REV. GEO. O. BARNES

BEGINS A MEETING HERE THURSDAY NIGHT.

Will Preach Every Evening, Until Further Notice, at Courthouse.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
Evangelist George O. Barnes will preach at the courthouse in this city Thursday evening, Feb. 23, at seven o'clock, and every evening thereafter until further notice. He affectionately invites his friends in Christian county to give him their usual cordial hearing; and requests the general public to attend these services. He has something of supreme importance to communicate on this, most probably, the last time he will address them.
In a letter to the New Era, Mr. Barnes says: "I hope to have a good hearing in Hopkinsville, where I have been favorably received in years 'lang syne."
Mr. Barnes is now in his 78th year, yet he seems hale and hearty. He has been preaching fifty years. He is the son of a Presbyterian minister, and as a preacher has gained a national reputation which spread to other continents. For twenty years he preached what is termed the common, well known doctrines of the Presbyterian Church. Then a change came over him, and for the past thirty years he has been preaching a doctrine which is strange to many people, but which he says he is able to substantiate by the scriptures. It is a creed which mystifies many.
Mr. Barnes set out about two years ago to preach in every county-seat in Kentucky. He says he felt called of God to do this in his native state. This is his 97th county and he has twenty-three county-seats to make after he leaves Hopkinsville. He travels under the auspices of no church or organization, depending upon voluntary contributions to promote his work. His sermons everywhere have created much comment and set many people to thinking. Whether you agree with him or not, you cannot doubt his deep earnestness.

Smoke But No Fire.

When the department arrived the building was filled with smoke but no fire could be found, and upon investigation it was found that the smoke had escaped into the house through a crack in the chimney.
