WEEKLY NEW ERA.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY KENTUCKY FRIDAY MARCH 3 1905

VOLUME XXXV, NO. 21

IN CIRCUIT COURT MR. DRYER ELECTED NO TIME TO LOSE. IN TERRIBLE AGONY

THE ROUTINE BUSINESS IS TRANSACTED

New Jail is Nearly Ready For Occupancy--Twenty-two Prisoners.

Eighteen indictments for various offenses were continued in circuit court to the June term. Among this number was that against Marshal Young charging him with murder. The case of George Griffin, charged with murder, was called but was continued to the seventeenth day of the present term.

Seven indictments were dismissed, the cases having been previously tried in the quarterly court.

In the case of the commonwealth against J. R. West charged with adultery the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

If nothing goes wrong Jailer John Boyd will formally take possession of the new jail early next week. The interior of the building is now being thoroughly scoured and cleaned and everything will be in readiness for the occupants the last of the week.

The building has been ready for occupancy for several weeks with the exception of the heating plant and on account of the cold weather the work of installing this was considerably delayed. This is now about completed however and it is expected that the fire can be built under the boilers tomorrow.

There are twenty-two prisoners in the jail now and unless some of these are released by the court before the change is made they will be moved into the new building.

Only One.

Henderson will have only one representative at the inauguration as far as heard from, in the person of E. H. Brown, colored, the well-known blacksmith, who left Tuesday morning for Washington.—Henderson Gleaner.

Mr. Buckner's Card.

The business card of S. G. Buckner appears in this impression of the New Era. His office is on Court street and he makes a specialty of farmers' insurance, real estate transactions and collections.

Notes About People

(From Thursday's Daily)

Miss Clara Means is ill of typhoid pneumonia at her home on North Main street.

Mrs. Geo. Kolb is in Louisville. Miss Jessie Fourqurean, of Gracey, has enrolled in Lockyear's Business College here.

Miss Lucy Green, of the county, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Hunter Wood.

Mrs. Will Williamson and Miss Ida Hiser are in Mayfield.

Miss Hetty Bobbitt, of Nashville, has returned from a visit to Oklahoma and is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Boyd here.

Rev. W. J. Hudspeth, of Hopkinsville, Ky., general evangelist of the South Kentucky Christian church, who has been in Owenboro for several days, was in the city yesterday en route to Corydon, at which place he will preach Wednesday evening at the Christian church. Mr. Hudspeth then goes to Marion, Ky., to hold a protracted meeting.—Henderson Gleaner.

L.H. McKee, the grocer, Hopkinsville, Ky., will pay the highest market price for your Eggs, Chickens, Old Hams, Smoked Sausage,—in fact everything you have to sell.

NEW TOBACCO INSPECTOR IS NAMED.

Twenty-nine Ballots Were Taken.—Condition of Local Market.

Fred R. Dryer was elected Wednesday afternoon on the twenty-ninth ballot to the position of inspector for the Hopkinsville tobacco market to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Frank M. Byars. W. A. Wilson is the other inspector, having been elected with Mr. Byars at the meeting held for that purpose in December.

The electoral commission, composed of the warehousemen of the city, James West, H. H. Abernathy, M. H. Tandy, R. M. Woodriddle and R. E. Cooper, and five buyers, J. D. Ware, E. M. Flack, C. S. Jarrett, T. B. Fairleigh and Wm. H. Cummings, Jr., was formed on the first ballot and they then began balloting for inspector. During the time eight candidates received votes, F. R. Dryer, D. F. Smithson, J. C. Long, Walter Shaw, S. G. Buckner, Forrest Duncan, Albert Cox and Dave Wiley. The contest narrowed down, however, on the fourteenth ballot to Messrs. Dryer, Long and Buckner and the balloting showed the same result until the twenty-ninth ballot, when Mr. Long's followers threw their strength to Mr. Dryer, giving him seven of the ten votes, it requiring a two-thirds vote of the commission to elect. J. C. Long, who was one of the strongest candidates, lives at Cedar Hill, Tenn.

The inspectors' report for the local tobacco market shows increased receipts this week, though sales are still small and those which were made were sold privately. The report is as follows: Receipts for the week, 65 hhds; receipts for the year, 180 hhds; sales for the week, 26 hhds; sales for the year, 278 hhds.

The report for last month compared with the same period last year shows that receipts this year are considerably larger but sales were smaller. The report gives the following figures:

	1905	1904
Receipts for month.....	80	35
Receipts for year.....	180	45
Sales for month.....	70	285
Sales for year.....	278	497
Shipments for month.....	378	415
Shipments for year.....	831	628
Stock on sale.....	534	1241
Stock sold.....	599	446
Stock on hand.....	1138	1887

The sales on the loose floor are increasing in interest and quantity each week, the amount of offerings being considerably larger this week than at any time heretofore. Bidders were numerous and prices were firm and satisfactory. Compared with last year prices this season on the floor show an advance of about $2 per hundred.

Mr. Cheek Accepts.

The Paducah Sun says: The trustees of the First Baptist church have been notified by Rev. John S. Cheek, of Russellville, that he will accept the call extended him by the congregation Sunday before last, and has tendered his resignation to the Russellville church, effective the first Sunday in April.

He will preach at the church here the second and fourth Sundays in March, and at Russellville the other two Sundays, and will move here and occupy the Baptist parsonage adjoining the church about April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Coulter, Mrs. John Coulter and Mrs. Hulda Wood went to Hopkinsville yesterday to attend the funeral of Mr. Jack Moore.—Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle.

MUST WORK TO GET CANNING FACTORY.

Mr. Sturgis Will Be Here Only a Few Days Longer.

The subscription list for the proposed canning factory to be built in Hopkinsville is steadily growing but as the time is short in which the work must be completed the industry may yet be lost to the city unless those who are able to subscribe do not take hold at once and help in this manner. Mr. Sturgis' time is limited and he can only be here a few days longer. The time is also approaching when the farmer must know definitely whether or not he will be expected to raise the crops to be used in the factory. For these reasons it is urgent that the necessary amount be raised within the shortest time possible so that the definite arrangements such as forming the company and having it incorporated, letting the contracts for the machinery and buildings and buying the site, etc., may be attended to and work on the plant begun so as to have it completed in time to handle this season's crop.

This week Mr. Sturgis and Mr. Brumfield have been soliciting in the country and have met with a cordial reception from nearly every farmer visited. The farmers have not only subscribed liberally to the fund but have all without a single exception stated that they were fully in accord with the movement and would raise whatever crops were necessary. This in itself is enough to insure the success of the factory and it is now up to the citizens of the county and city especially, to not wait to be called upon but to come up and make their subscriptions voluntarily.

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo, from liver and kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead, of these complaints, and although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold and guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Kidney Disease by L. L. Elgin and Ray & Fowler, druggists, at 50c a bottle.

TO MADISONVILLE

Hopkinsville Messenger Plant Will Be Moved.

(Special to New Era.)

MADISONVILLE, Ky., March 2.—The desire for a newspaper by the Republicans of Hopkins county is to be realized at last, as Editor McDonald, of the Hopkinsville Messenger, has been in the city several days this week, and it is stated that he will move his plant from Hopkinsville to Madisonville at once. He says he will issue an up-to-date weekly paper.

Preferred Stock Dividend No. 2.

The semi-annual dividend of 3% on the preferred stock of the Acme Mills and Elevator Company has been authorized by the Board of Directors of the company for the six months from Sept. 1st, 1904, to March 1st, 1905, and the same is now payable at the office of the company. MRS. STANFORD DIES IN HONOLULU.

Said Just Before Death That She Had Been Poisoned.

(Cablegram.)

HONOLULU, March 2.—Physicians and chemists completed the examination of the contents of Mrs. James Lathrop Stanford's stomach today and found a considerable quantity of strychnine in the bicarbonate of soda she swallowed shortly before her death.

HONOLULU, March 2.—Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford, of San Francisco, widow of United States Senator Leland Stanford, died at 11:40 o'clock Tuesday night at the Moana Hotel here. Suspicious circumstances surround the death of Mrs. Stanford. She was taken ill at 11 o'clock and said: "I have been poisoned."

Her last words were: "This is a horrible death to die."

Mrs. Stanford came here from San Francisco on the Korea, February 21. In conversation with Mrs. Henry Highton, of San Francisco, who is now here, Mrs. Stanford said that an attempt had been made to poison her in that city, and that this was her reason for sailing on the Korea. It was Mrs. Stanford's belief, according to Mrs. Highton, that enough poison had been used to kill twenty persons.

Before retiring Mrs. Stanford took a dose of bicarbonate of soda, which she purchased at San Francisco. It is reported that the soda contained strychnine, but this report cannot be verified. Dr. F. H. Humphris, who attended Mrs. Stanford, made an examination of the contents of the bottle, which had not been touched since Mrs. Stanford left San Francisco.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Stanford went to a picnic. She ate heartily. On returning to the hotel she took only soup for dinner, and retired shortly after dinner.

At 11 o'clock a guest of the hotel who occupied an adjoining room heard Mrs. Stanford groaning, and, running to the room, found her lying on the floor. She had evidently tried to summon help. At the time of Mrs. Stanford's death there were present Miss Berner, her secretary, and her maid, May Hunt.

HUNTER WINS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—The house election committee adjourned finally today without acting in Hunter-Edwards contest, leaving Hunter the winner.

Illinois Central Loss.

Information has been received from New Orleans to the effect that the Illinois Central Railroad company lost 500 freight cars in the big fire last Sunday and suffered a loss of about $350,000 through that item alone. The loss of the cars just at this time, when that road is one of the strongest competitors for grain shipments through the gulf ports, will be felt more than at any other time. The Illinois Central, however, has published a statement to the effect that it had 1,200 feet of wharf left there and would be able to handle all the grain it could haul. The fire, it is said, will retard merchandise business more than grain shipments.

HELD UP A TRAIN

AND RIFLED SAFE OF ABOUT $2,000.

(Special to New Era.)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 2.—East-bound passenger train No. 203, on the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, known as "The Arkansas Traveler," was stopped by three bandits eight miles south of Mammoth Springs, Ark., last night and the express car robbed. The safe was blown open and all of its contents were secured.

The train was signaled shortly after leaving Mammoth Springs by three men heavily armed. They entered the car of the Southern Express company and covered Messenger Harry White with revolvers. After rifling the safe the robbers made a dash for the woods and escaped.

The train, which was due in Memphis at noon, arrived an hour late, and a report of the hold-up was immediately made to the railroad and express officials. The officers of the Southern Express company in this city state they do not know the amount of money secured by the robbers. The trainmen are of the opinion that the robbers did not secure more than $2,000.

SPONSOR FOR SOUTH

Gen. Stephen B. Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, has announced the appointment of Miss Carrie Peyton Wheeler, daughter of Gen. Joseph Wheeler, to be sponsor for the south at the confederate reunion to be held in Louisville June 14, 15 and 16. Miss Wheeler has selected Miss Lean Swift, of Atlanta, and Miss Clara Hall, of Louisville, to be her maids of honor.

CHALLENGE FROM L. L. ELGIN

Offer to Refund Money if Dr. Howard's Specific Will Not Cure Any Case of Constipation or Dyspepsia.

L. L. Elgin is seeking the worst case of dyspepsia or constipation in Hopkinsville or vicinity to test Dr. Howard's new specific for the cure of those diseases.

So confident is he that this remarkable medicine will effect a lasting cure in a short time, that he offers to refund the money should it not be successful.

In order to secure the quickest possible introduction L. L. Elgin will sell a regular fifty cent package of this medicine at half price, 25 cents. This specific of Dr. Howard's will cure sick headache, dizzy feelings, constipation, dyspepsia, and all forms of malaria and liver trouble. It does not simply give relief for a time; it makes permanent and complete cures.

Formerly Lived Here.

Mr. James Western, of Nashville, has accepted a position with Mr. J. O. Clore of the Henderson Planing Mill as foreman and manager of the mill work department. Mr. Western comes well recommended and understands the business thoroughly. He is a man of much experience and ability and will no doubt please his customers. The mill will begin running March 6th.—Henderson Gleaner.

Mr. Western formerly resided in Hopkinsville and has many friends here who will be glad to know that he is doing well in business.

FOR WOMEN AND WOMEN ONLY

Much That Every Woman Desires to Know About Sanative, Antiseptic Cleansing and the Care of the Skin, Scalp, Hair, and Hands.

WHAT CUTICURA DOES FOR WOMEN

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills in the antiseptic cleansing of the mucous surfaces, and of the blood and circulating fluids, thus affording pure, sweet, and economical local and constitutional treatment for weakening ulcerations, inflammations, itching, irritations, relaxations, displacements, pains, and irregularities peculiar to females. Hence the Cuticura remedies have a wonderful influence in restoring health, strength, and beauty to weary women, who have been prematurely aged and invigorated by these distressing ailments, as well as such sympathetic afflictions as anemia, chlorosis, hysteria, and nervousness.

TORTURING HUMOR

Cured by Cuticura. "I suffered five years with a terrible itching eczema, my body and face being covered with sores. Never in my life did I experience such awful suffering, and I longed for death, which I felt was near. I had tried doctors and medicines without success, but my mother insisted that I try Cuticura. I felt better after the first application of Cuticura Ointment, and was soon entirely well. Mrs. A. E. Eton, Bellevue, Mich.

PRICE OF TOBACCO

(Special to New Era.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Representative Kehoe (Ky.) has introduced a resolution for an investigation by the department of commerce and labor as to the cause of the difference between the price of leaf tobacco and the manufactured article, especially in Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee, and whether the same is due to a trust or combination in the form of a conspiracy in restraint of trade. It is desired to know what has caused the low price of leaf tobacco, and whether there is any corporation or joint stock company engaged in handling tobacco, whether such company uses the boycott or blacklist in its purchases or has taken any measures to prevent competition. The resolution requires a full investigation of such corporation or joint stock company.

With reference to his resolution, Representative Kehoe says: "The purpose of my resolution is the same with reference to the operation of the American Tobacco Company as was embodied in the recent resolution passed by the House with reference to the operations of the Standard Oil Company in Kansas."

"Before the organization of the tobacco trust Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio leaf tobaccos were easily sold at from 12 to 20 cents per pound, and thousands of our citizens found profitable employment in the handling, buying and selling, while the various markets were crowded with buyers; but this condition has entirely changed since the trust came upon the scene. For the past few years our tobaccos have sold for from 5 to 10 cents a pound, not enough to warrant its production while there is virtually but one buyer."

SMALLPOX IN TRIGG

SECRETARY M'CORMACK THREATENS QUARANTINE

Everybody Must be Vaccinated.—Claims Disease Spread From Here.

"Unless every man, woman and child in Trigg county is vaccinated within ten days I shall declare that county under a nonintercourse quarantine," said Dr. J. N. McCormack, secretary of the state board of health, at the Galt House last night. He was on his way to his home in Bowling Green, after visiting Cadiz, where he made a public speech and gave the citizens ten days to make themselves immune from the disease, which has reached the proportions of an epidemic in that county.

"There are seventy cases in the county," said Dr. McCormack, "and four deaths have resulted in the last few weeks. The disease has been carefully handled, and at present the situation is extremely alarming. Other counties are threatened, and the time has come for positive and immediate action. Caldwell county is especially endangered and all the other surrounding counties are also in danger. The disease in Trigg county is most prevalent among the better class of people and has been spreading rapidly."

"We realize that a quarantine is a serious thing for the business of a county, and we do not wish to declare it unless we find it absolutely necessary to do so. I found the prominent citizens and merchants willing to do everything in their power. I called a meeting in the courthouse Wednesday afternoon and explained to a large representative gathering what would have to be done. A vote was taken, and it was unanimously decided to comply with all my suggestions and have everyone vaccinated if I would extend the time ten days. This I did. The fiscal court then held a meeting and put every physician in the county at work vaccinating the inhabitants. I have just received an order for 1,000 more vaccine points and they already had a large supply on hand."

"The disease came originally to Trigg county from Christian county, which was practically in the same condition three months ago. But in that county everyone was vaccinated and the situation was relieved."

Itch-Ringworm.

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes April 25th, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c, 50 and $1.00 bottle. Sold by Ray & Fowler and L. L. Elgin."

NOT SETTLED FACT

THAT HOPKINSVILLE WILL BE IN K. I. T.

Team Can Not Be Maintained Without Aid From Citizens.

On account of the bad weather nothing much has been done locally in reference to definite arrangements for a ball team for the coming season. Two new players, Neighbors, of Ripley, Tenn., and Welterwood, of Newport, Ind., have been signed, and both are said to be fast outfielders and good hitters. Correspondence has also been had with "Tacks" Parrott, formerly with the Nashville Southern league team, and Wagner, of Louisville, in regard to one of these men managing the team this year. Parrott is a good man with several years' experience in professional ball in fast leagues and would doubtless prove a good man for the place. Wagner is said to also be a good man and one who has had experience in managing teams in the Texas league. His team has always been one of the leaders. It is probable that one of these men will manage the local team during the coming season.

While all this is being done and Hopkinsville has deposited her guarantee of $200 it is not yet a settled fact that this city will be represented by a team, for as yet no subscription has been taken and without generous help from the citizens the team will not have sufficient backing to carry it through the season. Subscription lists will probably be started within a few days and as the baseball spirit seems to be deeper this year than either of the two preceding seasons it is not thought that there will be any trouble on this score.

The Pneumonia Season.

Coughs and colds in children as well as adults are frequently dangerous at this season of the year, and a little precaution now may save much trouble, worry and expense. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar, a combined cough and cold cure—a new scientific discovery in medicine—is a certain cure for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. The coughs and colds are cleared out of the system by gently moving the bowels, and at the same time the throat, chest, lungs and bronchial tubes are so strengthened that there is little probability of danger. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar is pleasant to take. Contains no opiates. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

KENTUCKY DERBY

Will Be Run at Churchill Downs May Tenth.

The Kentucky derby will be run at Churchill Downs on Wednesday afternoon, May 10.

The Nashville meeting will open April 20 and close May 2.

Lexington will open on May 2 and continue for six days, after which the meeting at Churchill Downs will start. It has not as yet been decided how many days of racing the Louisville association will have, but it is probable that only sixteen days will be taken. The turf representatives have agreed that Col. Winn can have as many days as he desires, but as Louisville will have a fall meeting, it is likely that the races will come to an end on May 27.

HAD PISTOL DUEL

MAN WHO WAS SHOT UNDER ARREST.

W. F. Jones was brought to this city Saturday afternoon by Constable J. A. White to answer the charge of shooting at F. W. Bowling at Crofton with intent to kill. He waived an examining trial and gave $200 bond with J. R. King and Seth Myers as surety to answer any action which the grand jury might take in the matter. On January 10th, Jones, who was working for Bowling, had a disagreement with his employer over the settlement of some corn, and the men engaged in a pistol duel, Bowling escaping unhurt while Jones was shot in the forehead, hand and shoulder. He was confined to his bed for some time but has now fully recovered.

THE STOMACH IN WINTER

Hearty Food Puts Extra Strain on This Important Organ.

Winter is a little more than half over, and the results of its hearty food are shown in the variable appetite, nausea, gnawing at the pit of the stomach, heartburn, sallow skin, furred tongue, headache, backache, and sleeplessness. The stomach has been overworked, the nervous system is unstrung, the blood is in bad condition, the digestive organs are tired out.

It is at this season of the year that Mi-o-na, the only remedy known that gives strength to the stomach and digestive organs, is of especial value.

Mi-o-na is not a hit-or-miss cure, but is an unusual combination of remedies that makes it infallible in restoring health to the stomach and digestive system. It overcomes any acid condition that may be present in the stomach and intestines, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, has a stimulating effect on the solar plexus, and combines peculiar properties that strengthen the nerves of the stomach and puts the whole digestive system in so healthy, clean and sweet a state that fermentation of the food cannot exist, any disease germs in the stomach will be destroyed, and the digestive system will be so strengthened that it will extract from the food all the elements that make solid bone, firm muscle, and pure blood. It is a guaranteed cure for all diseases of the stomach, excepting cancer.

The guarantee on Mi-o-na is given by one of our best known druggists. L. L. Elgin, who agrees to refund the price 50 cents, should Mi-o-na not give perfect satisfaction. Ask L. L. Elgin to show you the guarantee he gives with every package.

BIG LOUISVILLE REVIVAL ENDED SUNDAY.

Many of the Churches Will Continue the Work Indefinitely.

(Special to New Era.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 27.—The Louisville religious revival, started two weeks ago, came to an end yesterday. Dr. J. P. Calhoun, who managed the movement, estimated last night that seven thousand persons had been converted and that ten thousand had been made to think seriously of religion. The revival is pronounced by the ministers to have been one of the greatest ever known.

The revival spirit is not to end with the meetings of yesterday. Many of the churches will continue the work, but the action will be independent and the interdenominational meetings have closed. The services which will continue for the present week and perhaps longer will be in each church separately. Many of the revivalists will remain in Louisville, having been engaged for a week longer. The larger number of them, however, left Louisville today. Dr. Calhoun, who has worked faithfully and hard and with great success as the head of the movement, leaves this evening for his home in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Some results of the revival follow: Estimated number who joined church yesterday..... 1,000
Estimated total number who professed faith in Christ.... 7,000
Total number who signed cards showing interest..... 12,000
Number who heard one or more sermons during the two weeks..... 130,000

MORE THAN A SCORE

OF LIVES LOST IN A MINING DISASTER

(Special to New Era.)

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Feb. 27.—As a result of an explosion in shaft No. 1 of the United States Coal & Coke Company at Wilcox Sunday twenty-three miners are supposed to have lost their lives and it is possible that the number will exceed this.

The explosion was of terrific force and shattered glass in windows a mile distant. Immediately after the shock great numbers of miners, who were off duty, it being Sunday, rushed to the shaft to find a great cloud of smoke and dust gushing from its mouth. Mothers, children and other relatives soon were weeping and pleading for the rescue of those dear to them entombed in the mine. The officials of the mines, including General Manager Reis, were soon on the ground and the work of rescuing the miners was begun at once and has been kept up steadily ever since. The dead miners thus far recovered are all Italians and Hungarians and have not as yet been identified as they are so badly torn, mangled and blackened as to render recognition almost impossible.

The company usually works in this shaft about seventy-five miners, but being Sunday the men were not all in and the small loss of lives can be attributed only to this fact.

The United States Coal & Coke Co., with principal offices in Pittsburgh, is a part of the United States Steel Corporation, the gigantic trust organized by J. Pierpont Morgan.

The cause of the explosion has not as yet been determined and since it is hardly probable that any of those in the mine will be recovered alive, the cause of the accident may never be known. The families of most of the dead miners are left in a destitute condition.

John J. Basford, cooper, of 786 East Ninth street, says: "My back used to be so lame and sore at times that when I bent it was all I could do to straighten up again. The pains were always with me and I could not stand for any length of time without feeling them. I doctored at one time but did not obtain the slightest benefit. My attention was called to an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I determined to try them. I got a box at L. A. Johnson's drug store and after using them a few days I could not help but notice a marked improvement in my condition. My health is better now than it has been in years. One Minute Cough Cure

For Coughs, Colds and Croup.

MEETING IS HELD

BY DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE.

Large Attendance.—A Subcommittee Will Canvass the Situation.

(From Monday's Daily)

The Democratic committee of Christian county held a harmonious meeting this morning in the city court room and fully discussed the political situation. The belief was generally expressed by the various speakers who addressed the committee that chances of Democratic success at the next election were unusually hopeful.

Chairman James West presided and all but three of the twenty-nine committeemen were present. The following new committeemen, elected in their respective precincts last Thursday, presented their credentials and qualified: W. W. Garrott, Longview; Fagan Dixon, Howell; W. H. Davenport, East Crofton; David H. Smith, Bluff Springs.

Motion was made, seconded and carried unanimously, that the chairman appoint a committee of five, of which he should be chairman, to confer with all the candidates for the several offices, and with any other Democrats of the county who might be regarded as available candidates, and that they endeavor to so adjust matters among the several candidates as that harmony may prevail. The committee is to report back to the county committee at 10 o'clock the first Monday in April, 1905, with such recommendations as to the best candidates, the time, place and manner of nominating. The sub-committee will invite every candidate, at that time, to be present at the regular committee meeting. Chairman West named on this committee: W. A. Radford, from south Christian; W. N. Martin, from north Christian; L. J. Harris, from west Christian; Hunter Wood, Jr., from east Christian.

OFF PRISON BOARD

MR. JAMES M. RICHARDSON RESIGNS.

Representative-elect James M. Richardson, of Barren county, has resigned as prison commissioner and the governor, it is reported, will appoint Harvey S. McCutcheon, of Logan county, to the position. Mr. McCutcheon is a member of the Democratic state central committee, and a well-known young lawyer. George V. Green, of this city, is a member of the board, the third member being Edward Fennell, of Cynthiana.

Mr. Richardson will probably resign as a member of the Goebel reward commission. When he was here last week on his way to Eddyville to visit the branch penitentiary he stated that a meeting of the commission would probably be held soon in Hopkinsville to fill the vacancies on the commission. There are two vacancies caused by the deaths of Judge Joseph H. Lewis and Maj. L. C. Norman. The meeting will be held here because Dr. John D. Clardy is prevented by illness in his family from going to Frankfort. Dr. Clardy, Mr. Richardson and W. M. Moore, of Harrison county, are the three living commissioners.

HOPPER & KITCHEN.

Let go or die. That's the alternative of the shipwrecked man with the money bags. A great many people have a like alternative before them. Business men come to a point where the doctor tells them that they must "let go or die." Probably he advised a sea voyage or mountain air. There's an obstinate cough that won't be shaken off. The lungs are weak and perhaps bleeding. There is emaciation and other symptoms of disease, which if unskillfully or improperly treated terminate in consumption. Thousands of men and women in a like condition have found complete healing by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"It gives me pleasure to send you this testimonial so that some other poor sufferer may be saved as I was. By Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Geo. A. Thompson, of Sheldon Ave., Chatham, Ont., Canada. "I had a cough for years, expectorated a great deal, and was slowly falling. Was losing flesh every day. Lost in weight from 150 pounds down to 125. My flesh got soft and I had no strength. Did not say anything to any one but made up my mind that the end was not far off. One day my wife was reading in the 'Common Sense Medical Adviser' about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I said, 'that sounds more like common sense than anything else that I had heard.' I at once bought a bottle of your famous remedy, and before I had taken half of one bottle I felt better. Took thirteen bottles and it made a new man of me. I gained sixteen pounds and never have had a cough since. I feel splendid and give all the credit to your medicine."

Given away. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The book contains 100 pages, over 100 illustrations and several colored plates. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-bound book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound. Address: Dr. J. C. R. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

LOSS OF MILLIONS

GREAT FIRE RAGES IN NEW ORLEANS

(Special to New Era)

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27.—Fire involving millions of dollars' loss in physical property and that strikes a serious, if temporary, blow at the immense export trade of New Orleans, swept the river front last night and wiped out the vast freight terminals of the Illinois Central, known as the Stuyvesant docks.

Nearly a dozen squares of modern wharves and freight sheds, two magnificent grain elevators, hundreds of loaded cars and vast quantities of freight, including 20,000 bales of cotton, were destroyed, together with a large number of small residences.

A number of firemen and employees of the docks were injured. Actual estimates of the losses are impossible now, though they may exceed $5,000,000.

At midnight more than nine squares of the terminals had been completely destroyed and it seemed unlikely that the fire would be checked until it reached Napoleon avenue, which is a very broad street.

During the fire a heavy wind blew and the blaze was of indescribable fury, carrying brands to great distances, driving back the crowds of sightseers. Immense pieces of corrugated iron, torn from the sides of the upper elevator, were carried through the air as if they were feathers, dropping in every direction, constantly endangering the lives of firemen and spectators.

The weather was bright and warm and probably 50,000 people visited the scene during the progress of the fire.

Aside from the tremendous loss involved in the destruction of property, the fire is a calamity to New Orleans in the temporary abatement of the immense export business of the Illinois Central, particularly in the matter of grain shipments.

Franchise Sold.

The water works franchise was offered for sale at the court house this afternoon and sold to W. T. Tandy, representing the Hopkinsville water company, for $1.00.

Honorable Mention.

Among the contestants of Sunday, Feb. 19th, who received honorable mention were young people of Hopkinsville, Misses Sarah Cooper and Nora Higgins and Master Logan Feland.

SIX WEEKS' SESSION

OF CIRCUIT COURT BEGINS TODAY.

Grand Jury Impaneled and Charged.—Docket Is Heavy.

(From Monday's Daily.)
Circuit court convened this morning for the February term of six weeks. The session was opened with prayer by Rev. H. C. Beckett, of the Universalist church. Judge Thos. P. Cook, of Murray, is presiding. The grand jury was impaneled as follows: R. C. Gary, W. H. Anderson, J. A. Hail, J. A. Dollins, Galtier Henderson, J. W. Williams, Mack Harper, B. C. Foster, J. W. Martin, Elmo Marquess, R. E. Cox and Tom Hall. Judge Cook's instructions to the grand jury were exhaustive, and he called the attention of the members to all crimes and misdemeanors contained in the statutes of Kentucky.

The docket for the term numbers 522 cases, one of the largest in years. Among this number are seven cases where the charge is murder, and from this they range on down to the minor infractions of the law and civil cases. Probably the case in which the most general interest centers is that of Frank Meriwether and Dick Carney, whose sentences of death were reversed by the court of appeals. The attorneys for the prosecution secured a stay of execution for George Holland for the purpose of using him as a witness against these two negroes if he could be prevailed upon to repeat his alleged confession upon the stand. It is very probable, however, that the attorney for the defense in these cases will try to have them continued until the June term of court.

The report of County Clerk John P. Prowse for the term from Sept. 25, 1903, to Feb. 27, 1905, which was filed in circuit court this morning, shows a large increase in the receipts of the clerk's office over the same time for 1903-4. The amounts given in the report are those which go to the state after the clerk has deducted his fee. The report is as follows:

389 deeds@50c.....	$ 184 50
289 mortgages and powers of attorney@50c.....	144 50
164 marriage license@50c.....	82 00
68 seals@50c.....	34 00
2 licenses spirituous and vinous liquors@100.....	200 00
11 license spirituous, vinous and malt liquors@150.....	1,650 00
1 license distiller spirituous liquors.....	100 00
4 license billiards, pool, etc.....	240 00
1 license ten pin alley (double).....	100 00
3 license stud.....	85 00
3 license bull.....	8 80
3 license selling playing cards@10.....	30 00
2 license foot peddlers.....	10 00
1 license retail cigarette dealer.....	10 00
2 license oil wagons.....	10 00
Tax on two suits.....	1 00
	$2,890 80
Less 5% for collection.....	144 54
Net amount remitted to state auditor.....	$2,746 26

This report shows a net increase over the same time in 1903-4 of $407.88 in the amount of receipts. The various items show an increase in nearly every instance, they being as follows: Deeds 113, mortgages and powers of attorney 32, seals 6, selling spirituous, vinous and malt liquors 1, stud license 2, bull license 2. The marriage license show a decrease of 13 and license for retail cigarette dealers is one less than before.

MR. THOMPSON'S WILL.

(From Monday's Daily)
The last will of the late Charles A. Thompson, dated Dec. 28, 1904, was probated today. His entire estate is left to the Fidelity Trust and Safety Vault Co., of Louisville, in trust for his daughter, Mrs. Mamie T. Bassett. He leaves $5,000 to each of his grandchildren to be paid to them on their twenty-first birthday. In the event of the death of Mrs. Bassett without natural heirs his property is to revert to his brother, J. J. Thompson, of Texas, and his sisters, Mrs. Bettie McElwaine and Mrs. Maggie Payne, of Pembroke.

MALARIA IN THE SYSTEM

Holly Springs, Miss., March 24, 1905.
While building railroads in Tennessee some twelve years ago a number of hands contracted fever and various forms of blood and skin diseases. I carried S. S. S. in my commissary and gave it to my hands with most gratifying results. I can recommend S. S. S. as the finest preparation for Malaria, chills and fever, as well as all blood and skin diseases. W. I. McGowan.

I suffered greatly from Boils, which would break out on different parts of my body. I saw S. S. S. advertised and after using about three bottles I was cured, and for the last three years have had no trouble whatever. A. W. ZIEGLER, 217 Read St., Evansville, Ind.

I began using your S. S. S. probably ten years ago for Malaria and blood troubles, and it proved so good that I have continued ever since using it as a family remedy. It is a pleasure for me to recommend S. S. S. for the benefit of others who are needing a first rate blood purifier, tonic and cure for Malaria. Arkansas City, Ark. C. C. HEMMINGWAY.

Boils, abscesses, sores, dark or yellow blotches and debility are some of the symptoms of this miserable disease. S. S. S. counteracts and removes from the blood all impurities and poisons and builds up the entire system. It is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy. Write for medical advice or any special information about case. The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.

MARCH WEATHER.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks' weather prognostications for the month of March are as follows:

Rain and high winds on and touching the 5th., ending in snow storms over much of the country to the northward. Blizzards conditions may result in the northern sections, but a rapid reaction to warmer will set in about the 7th., ending in general storms of rain, sleet and snow up to the 12th. Several boreal storms with a cold wave need not surprise anyone from about the 10th to the 14th. The 15th to the 18th will bring a marked storm period, ending in wide areas of rain and snow. Another March cold wave may be looked for from about the 17th to the 20th., but it will give way as suddenly as it came, and the most general and violent storm conditions of the month will appear during the storm period immediately following. This storm period runs from about the 20th to the 24th. Look for rains and high winds, followed by a March blizzard over much of the country northward. From 27th to 29th the temperature will rise and there will be more rain and wind, turning to snow to the north. Look out for disastrous floods during the month. The month will not bring a maximum of cold, but there will be much rain, sleet and snow.

JACK MOORE DEAD

END CAME SUDDENLY SUNDAY NIGHT.

One of City's Most Popular and Successful Young Citizens.

(From Monday's Daily)
J. S. Moore, one of the best known and most popular young men in the city, died suddenly of heart failure last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wood, on South Main street, where he made his home.

He returned from an extended business trip last Wednesday, and, although his health had been poor for some time, he was able to be at his office. Saturday he had an attack of acute indigestion, but there was nothing in his condition that caused any alarm. Sunday he remained in bed and last night about 8:30 o'clock his mother, Mrs. Nannie Moore and his brother, Durrett Moore, who had been sitting in his room, left in order that he might go to sleep. A few minutes later, Dr. E. C. Anderson went to the door of the room but finding Mr. Moore lying quiet in bed did not enter. At nine o'clock as Dr. Anderson was preparing to leave the house he went to the room again to say goodnight to Mr. Moore if he were awake. He found the young man in a dying condition. Dr. Woodard was speedily summoned and he and Dr.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

Anderson did all that was possible to preserve life, but Mr. Moore was beyond the aid of human remedies. He passed away peacefully.

Mr. Moore was in the thirty-fifth year of his age and was one of the most successful of Hopkinsville's young men, and there was none more highly esteemed. He was educated in the city schools and at South Kentucky college. Before reaching his majority he had made an enviable reputation as a business man. He devoted his attention to the insurance field, and his capacity won him excellent positions and rapid promotions with large companies. At the time of his death he was special agent of the Hanover Insurance company with Kentucky and West Virginia as his territory. He was also a partner in the local insurance agency of Wallace & Moore. Ambitious, energetic and thoroughly capable his future was rich in promises, and his death cuts short what undoubtedly would have been a brilliant career. He was loyal, sincere, and noble-hearted and a wide circle of friends not only here but throughout the state held him in a most affectionate regard. He was a member of the Christian church of this city. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and Knights of Pythias. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Christian church and will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. H. D. Smith. The remains will be interred in Hopewell cemetery.

DEATH STALKS IN COUNTRY OF TRIGG.

Several Prominent Persons Victims This Week of the Dread Disease.

(From Saturday's Daily)
The following prominent persons of Trigg county have died within the past few days: Mrs. Sarah Wadlington and Mrs. Julia Choate, sisters, two old ladies who lived together about six miles south-east of Cadiz, and Mrs. Charles A. Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Wadlington. All three died in the same house only three or four days apart. Mrs. Elias Redd, another sister of Mrs. Wadlington and Mrs. Choate, died at the same place only a few months ago. Pneumonia was the cause of all the deaths. Mr. A. Buck Mitchell died of pneumonia at his home, three miles west of Cadiz. He was thirty-eight years of age and a highly respected citizen.

TREPOFF IS DOOMED TO DIE

NEW MILITARY GOVERNOR OF ST. PETERSBURG.

General Trepoff, appointed military governor of St. Petersburg after the recent outbreak there, is universally despised throughout Russia because of his disregard of the rights of the poorer classes. He was given his present post because he had demonstrated his fitness for it by his success at Moscow in oppressing the masses.

(Cablegram.)

PARIS, Feb. 24.—Reliable information has been received here outlining the intentions of the Russian revolutionists. A period of relative calm is expected to succeed the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius. The real crisis will come in the spring, when the lack of snow and fog will permit it. A serious revolutionary movement is impossible now as a battle is impossible in Manchuria.

Meanwhile steps will be taken for the uprising. It is known the Nihilists have selected Grand Duke Vladimir as their victim. Governor General Trepoff, of St. Petersburg, will follow him, according to the plans, and then will come M. Pobledonostzev, Procurator of the Holy Synod. The czar's turn will not come until after he has signed the constitution, since his signature is necessary. In this, the revolutionists will be following a procedure similar to that followed in the case of Louis XVI.

IF--

There's not a light in the leaden skies,
The world is wrapped in rain;
The color angel has shut his eyes
And the sun is asleep again.
But Martha by the window stands,
Enraptured eyes of blue
Are traveling fast through fairy lands
As she looks the prism through.

I turn to smile on the eager child
Old pulses throb again;
I know what colors run rich and wild
O'er the blurred, wet window pane;
A rainbow glory floods the air
And jewels the ashen hue;
How many of us like the baby there
Have looked the prism through!

Oh! fairy prism that life bestows
(And breaks too soon, alas!)
Oh! lovely vision that throbs and glows
Through youth's enchanted glass,
Ah! how will it be when the prism falls
And gone is the gold and blue,
When the cold, cold voice of the real calls
And the sweet dreams wont come true?

We all have visions, we all look through
A prism that fall and breaks;
Alas for the dreams that don't come true
And the souls that light forsakes;
But when Time's glass shall fall from our hands
Then the spirits unveiled view
May find lost sights in lotter lands;
If only the dreams come true.

BEGINS A MEETING

EVANGELIST BARNES AT UNIONTABERNACLE

Discusses Two Plans of Salvation.—Has Had Interesting Career.

(From Friday's Daily)

The Rev. George O. Barnes, formerly a Presbyterian minister and now an independent evangelist last night preached his first sermon in a series of meetings he will hold at the tabernacle, and was heard by two or three hundred people. Rev. Mr. Barnes is in his seventy-eighth year and delivers his sermons seated in a chair near the pulpit. In appearance he is striking, being considerably above the average height and well preserved. His hair is gray as is his moustache. His voice is clear and resonant and he is easily heard in any part of the large building. His past history is interesting. He was the son of a Presbyterian minister and was brought up and followed that faith for a number of years until he conceived the doctrine which he now preaches. He is a veteran of the Mexican war, and draws a pension, and he has served as a missionary in India. He says that he has been called by God to preach his doctrine in the county seat of each of the 119 counties of Kentucky of which Christian is the ninety-eighth, and that as soon as this work is accomplished he will have finished his mission unless he receives another call. He will preach at the tabernacle again tonight at 7 o'clock and probably during the rest of the week. People may not accept his faith but there is no doubt of the venerable divine's sincere belief in it himself. His sermon last night was on salvation. According to his doctrine there are two forms of salvation, one by grace and the other justification by works. He decries the custom of people going to the mourner's bench and working themselves into a state of nervous frenzy, he claiming that this is one of the wiles of the devil and that all the time the seeker is being led further away from God. He says the only way to seek religion is to come to Jesus, for his death upon the cross is enough to overcome any sin and he has said, "Come unto me and I will give you rest." He says that the mourner's bench is a relic of heathenism. "God loves the worst sinner in the world," said Mr. Barnes, "even more than he does his most obedient servant just as human parents generally love the worst child in the family the best." As to justification by works, the preacher cited to the case of Rahab, the harlot, who hid the spies in her house and sent them out another way. He did not enter as fully into this branch of the subject as he did into the first.

The sermon was very interesting and out of the ordinary and the listener could not help but be impressed.

CONVICTS BURGLAR

COMPLETING PLANS

(Special to New Era.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—With the great bulk of the arrangements for the inauguration of President Roosevelt on March 4 completed the work today narrowed down to winding up the final details. The headquarters of the Inaugural committee was a busy scene and Chairman Wilson and Secretary Hitchcock greeted a host of visitors and conferred with their corps of committee assistants.

One of the first arrivals to-day was a band of Sioux Indians, who told the committee that they were anxious to participate in the parade in their native regalia. Gen. Wilson referred them to the Committee on Indian Affairs. They cannot be assigned places in the procession, but may be given some outside honorary duties in connection with the inaugural ceremonies. The Indian representation in the parade will consist of the delegation of half a dozen famous warrior chiefs, recently announced, and a cadet battalion of 800 of the Indians from the Carlisle Indian School at Carlisle, Pa.

The Governors of fourteen States are expected to participate in the parade. The influx of inaugural visitors has begun and all the railroads entering Washington have made preparations to handle an immense crowd. Some of the regular troops, including the Seventh United States Cavalry from Georgia and 800 troopers of the Ninth Cavalry, from Missouri, have arrived. Capt. Seth Bullock, former Sheriff of Deadwood county, S. D., and a personal friend of President Roosevelt, who will command a detachment of cowboys in the parade, has arrived.

All along the line of march and adjacent streets flags and bunting are displayed on buildings. Reviewing stands have been built on both sides of Pennsylvania avenue at frequent intervals between the Capitol and White House.

WAR NEWS.

(Cablegram)

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—Gen. Kuropatkin confirms the report of severe Russian losses at Shakh river bridge.

Fighting on a large scale is in progress between the Russian and Japanese armies in Manchuria. Gen. Kuropatkin, after meeting the initiative of the Japanese in the eastern part of the Shakh Valley, assumed the aggressive in the western portion yesterday, and under cover of a heavy artillery fire from Putiloff Hill and Novgorod Hill, succeeded in driving the Japanese from a position in the outskirts of Sandiapi. Simultaneously the Russians attacked and captured a railroad bridge on the Japanese center.

Much more serious is the Japanese move against the Russian left wing which threatens, unless quickly checked, to oblige Gen. Kuropatkin to abandon the positions on the Han river, which he has occupied and fortified during the winter.

There is no confirmation of the report that the Russian commander-in-chief has notified the emperor that retreat northward has become imperative.

MANIFESTED AT RALLY OF THE FARMERS

Work of Thoroughly Organizing Christian County Will Be Pushed.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The meeting held yesterday at the court house in the interest of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association was the best attended and probably the most satisfactory in direct results than had yet been held in this county. The interest shown is especially gratifying from the fact that Christian is the least organized county in the district and up to this time special interest in the movement had not been shown in the western and northern portions of the county. Yesterday, however, these sections were well represented and several thousand pounds of tobacco from there were pledged to the association. The enthusiasm displayed when telling points were made by the various speakers was also another pleasing feature of the meeting.

It had been expected that Hon. F. G. Ewing, chairman of the district executive committee, would be present and address the meeting but he has been ill for some time and was still unable to get out yesterday. Charles P. Warfield, of Clarksville, general salesman for the farmers' association, was present and addressed the meeting and answered the questions put to him regarding matters which were not fully understood.

The meeting was called to order by W. W. Radford, chairman of the Christian county executive committee. Mr. Radford paid special attention to the conditions existing in this county and urged the farmers not only to join the association themselves, but if they had already done this or did join, to then go to work industriously to get their neighbors to join and thereby help out the county committee. Mr. Radford introduced Chas. E. Barker, who, being in close touch with the work which had been accomplished by the association, gave an account of what had been done. He also read comparative figures of the sales on the loose floor in Hopkinsville last year and this showed that prices were higher this year by about two dollars per hundred, but still prices at the barns were very little advanced. The question of prizing and sampling the tobacco as prescribed by the association seemed to be a point which was not fully understood by a majority of those present and Mr. Barker not only explained this feature at length, but also answered numbers of questions that were put to him. Under the association's executive committee the farmer must have his tobacco prized, either doing the work himself or having it done by some reputable prizing house. Whoever does prize this tobacco must take out a sample of eight hands from three different places, this sample to be sent to the sample room in Clarksville, Tenn.

The person who prizes the tobacco, not necessarily the farmer who owns it, must then make a binding bond with some reputable bonding company or individual as surety, that this sample is a correct one of the hoghead from which it was taken. If it should prove not to be then the prizer is held responsible. The tobacco is all the time under the direct orders of the owner and if he so desired he can have it broken and new samples sent to the executive committee whenever he so desires. The sample is the only thing the committee wants as this is what they use in making the sale. Mr. Barker also stated that the basement and ground floor of the Masonic building in Clarksville had been secured to be used as this sample room. He also stated that 75 or 80% of the crop in the dark district had already been pledged to the association.

Mr. Warfield, the salesman for the association, also explained the prizing

Were at Hotel When Blaze Was Destroying Bicker's Shoe Store.—Vacancies on Force Will Be Filled Friday Night.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

At a meeting of the city council last night Martin Davis and J. E. Bicketts were removed from the police force for failing to report and attend the fire which destroyed the Bickers' shoe store in the Phoenix building on the night of February 8. The morning after the fire it was brought to the attention of Mayor Henry that nothing was seen of the officers at the fire which occurred on their beat. They were summoned before him and stated that they had left police headquarters about 11 o'clock on the night of the fire and after patrolling a part of the beat had gone to Hotel Latham where they remained until shortly before 12 o'clock when they returned to the headquarters. There they were informed of the fire and were told that it was about out. They registered off at 12 o'clock and went to their homes. They said they had not heard the alarm and knew nothing of the fire until they went to the police station.

They were suspended by Mayor Henry for failure to perform their duty properly, and, at the request of members of the council, the suspension was continued until the officers requested an investigation. The case was taken up at the special meeting held last night. The officers stated their side and several witnesses testified as to their dereliction of duty in the matter. When the vote was taken on a motion to reinstate the policemen it was unanimously voted to remove them from the force. W. H. Nixon and Crit Anderson were appointed to serve until Friday night when the vacancies will be filled at the regular monthly meeting of the council.

PETIT JURIES FOR PRESENT TERM OF COURT IMPANELED.

Reports of Officials Are Filed.—Statement of the Master Commissioner.—Little of Interest Is Doing.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

As is usual the opening days of the present term of circuit court are rather monotonous, the time being employed in calling the docket and entering the motions made by the attorneys in the various cases. The reports of Magistrates W. T. Williamson, L. O. Garrett, J. W. Rogers, J. M. Clark, H. B. Clark, W. L. Parker, J. R. King and J. F. Dixon were made and ordered to record as were also the reports of Circuit Clerk C. R. Clark and City Judge J. Walter Knight. All money shown in these reports to be due to the commonwealth were ordered to be paid to L. T. Brashear, trustee of the jury fund. The report of Douglas Bell, master commissioner, for the term from September 26, 1904 to February 27, 1905, shows that he collected in the various cases which had been referred to him the sum of $28,718.80. He had paid out under orders of the court in these cases the sum of $28,787.67, leaving a balance on hand subject to the orders of the court of $9,928.13.

The list of names from which the petit juries will be selected follows: W. G. Teague, Will Marquess, Ed Cook, T. D. Gray, William Dollins, Buckner Leavell, R. C. Chilton, Boone Fuller, J. M. Miles, R. W. Vaughan, Robt. Haddock, H. E. King, Ed Forbes, J. W. Bryan, Webster Woodburn, Jordan Barker, Joe Turner, Major Brown, J. G. Hord, A. C. Brent, Joe Buckner, Lee Wilby, Perry Knight and F. H. Renshaw. C. J. Johnson, a colored lawyer who had been granted license in Caldwell county, was sworn in as a member of the bar this morning.

association will be held in this city in the near future. In the meantime the county committee is hard at work and by the time the next meeting is held hope to be able to report the county equally as well organized as any in the district.

Anybody's Race.

It seems that the race for state senator from this district, including the counties of Livingston, Lyon, Calloway and Trigg, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator J. W. Gilbert, is just anybody's says the Smithland Banner.

At present there are six candidates spoken of—Rev. J. W. Oliver, of Kuttawa, the present representative from Lyon and Marshall; Felix Grasty, present sheriff of Trigg; Charles Jetton and Conn Linn, of Calloway; W. I. Clarke and G. W. Landrum, of Livingston county.

Miss Willie Anderson, of Bear Station, visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. A. Cantrell, on Campbell street.

Mrs. Clem Davis, who has been very sick with grip is now convalescent.

GUN TOURNAMENT

MAY BE HELD HERE IN APRIL.

Would Bring Many Famous Crack Shots to the City.

Elmer E. Shaner, secretary and manager of the Interstate Association of Trap Shooters, has written to C. O. Prowse, captain of the local gun club, asking that the association and the gun club give a big tournament in this city on April 26-27.

The Interstate association is made up of all the leading manufacturers of guns, shot, powder, shells, etc., all of them being represented in these tournaments by the crack shots of the world.

Only two Kentucky towns will be visited by this association this season, these two being Owensboro and Hopkinsville. The circuit is already completed with the exception of the date offered to this city and when this is closed no others can get in.

The association will hold a shoot at Augusta, Ga., April 5-6 and come from there here, and from here they will go to Owensboro on May 17-18.

Besides the various crack shots who would be here, Mr. Shaner would be present in person and would have charge of affairs. Outside of the professionals there would also be a number of shooters who, though listing themselves as amateurs, always give the professionals a close race for the prizes, a number of which would be offered. Mr. Shaner would come supplied with his own traps, tents, score sheets and all the other paraphernalia necessary for the occasion.

CLUB ACCEPTS

And Big Gun Tournament Will Be Held.

Charles O. Prowse, captain of the local gun club, Tuesday night sent a telegram to Elmer E. Shaner, of Pittsburg, Pa., definitely accepting the proposition made by the Interstate Association of Trap Shooters for a big gun tournament to be held in this city April 26 and 27 under the auspices of the local club and the association. This promises to be one of the biggest events of this nature ever held in this state, and a large crowd of both professional and amateur shooters, as well as enthusiasts over this form of sport, are expected to be in attendance.

THIRTEEN KILLED

(Special to New Era.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Thirteen negroes were killed, and upwards of fifty injured, some probably fatally, by the collapse of the flooring of the Fleet-street African Methodist Episcopal church, in Brooklyn last night. Of those killed ten were women, two men and one child.

The building was an ancient ramshackle frame structure erected sixty years ago in the heart of the colored section of Brooklyn, in Fleet street, near Myrtle avenue.

MYER SIGNED.

(Special to New Era.)

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 28.—Harry Myer, a crack local player, signed a contract to play first base during the coming season for the Hopkinsville baseball team of the K. I. T. league.

Myer finished the season last year with Hopkinsville. He is a star infielder and a heavy hitter.

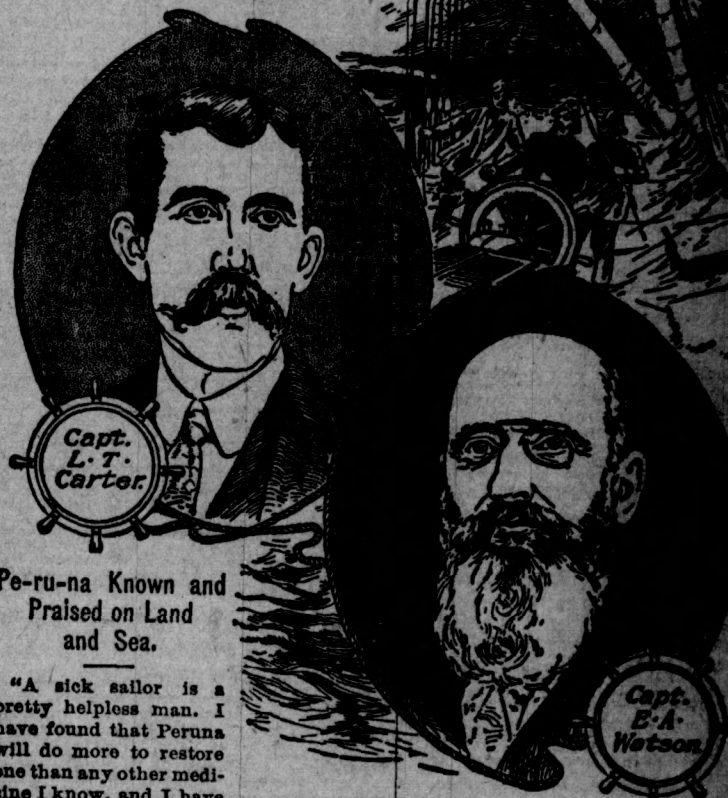

CADIZ JAIL DELIVERY.

(Special to New Era.)

CADIZ, Ky., Feb. 28.—Claude Dixon, recently indicted for willful murder, and two negro prisoners escaped from jail here through the front door. They had been turned out into the hall by Jailer Smith, who is at a loss to know how they got the door open. Dixon killed Matt Summers, on Donaldson Creek, in January. Six prisoners have escaped since Smith became jailer last November.

"Give me my compass and Peruna and I will steer clear of wrecks of all kinds and land in port safe and well with vessel and men."—Capt. L. T. Carter, 123 10th Avenue, Pensacola, Florida.

Capt. E. A. Watson, M. E., 48 Elizabeth street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"Peruna has my heartiest endorsement. If there is any place that you are helpless when ill it is on board a steamer, at sea, miles away from any assistance. Sometimes two or three of my men would be sick at one time and seriously cripple the force, but since we have learned of the value of Peruna, by taking a few doses they recuperate very quickly. We use it for colds, lung trouble and kidney diseases, and have also found it very fine for the grippe."

"Peruna is always one of the most important supplies of my steamer."—E. A. Watson.

With a bottle of Peruna aboard sailors have a remedy on which they can rely."

"I unhesitatingly recommend Peruna to all persons suffering from colds, grippe, etc."—S. Nicholson.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

There has been during this session considerable agitation in congressional circles relative to the increase of the salary of the president of the United States from fifty thousand dollars to double that amount. The increase should by all means be made, for even when the president shall be paid one hundred thousand dollars per annum it will still be less than one tenth the amount paid to the rulers of first class powers, and this notwithstanding the fact that we are the richest nation in the world. There are hundreds of men in the United States who are receiving larger per annum salaries than the president. There has been no increase of the president's salary, since Grant was re-elected for a second term in 1872, or for thirty three years.
Since that time the country has more than doubled its wealth, nearly doubled its population and greatly extended its power and influence in the affairs of the world, salary of one hundred thousand dollars is little enough for the maintenance of the respectability and dignity of the highest office of the nation.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.
When this tube is inflamed you have a rambling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by

LESSON X, FIRST QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, MARCH 5.

Text of the Lesson, John vii, 27-40.
Memory Verse, 37—Golden Text,
John vii, 46—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1905, by American Press Association.]

In this lesson the symbol is again water, but this time it is "rivers of living waters," reminding us of Ezek.
xlvii, 1-6; Isa. xlii, 3; Ps. xlii, 4. The water here represents the Spirit (verse 39), but the word is included according to chapter vi, 63, "The words that I speak unto you, they are Spirit and they are life." The Spirit always speaks by and works by the word. Being filled with the Spirit and filled with the word seem to me very intimately associated in Eph. v, 18-21; Col. iii, 16, 17, as in each case the results are the same. In Acts iv, 31, when they were filled with the Spirit they spoke the word of God with boldness. In this lesson and in chapters iii and iv we have three experiences in the Christian life—born of water, a well of water, rivers of water—yet few of those who are born from above become wells, and fewer still become rivers, because of unwillingness or half heartedness or lack of consecration. There is in verse 17 a very searching principle which explains many things. "If any man is willing or willeth to do His will, he shall know" (R. V.).

This was the Lord's feast of tabernacles appointed by Him to begin on the fifteenth day of the seventh month and to continue seven days, with sin offerings, burnt offerings and other offerings every day (Lev. xxiii, 34-44; Num. xxix, 12-16, 35-38), a time of special rejoicing before Him because of the harvest home, and a time of dwelling in booths to remind them of the way He led and kept them in the wilderness. This feast shall have a special and marvelous fulfillment in the next age after Israel's restoration and conversion, when all nations shall send their representatives to Jerusalem from year to year to worship the King, the Lord of Hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles (Zech. xiv, 16). The Passover also shall have a fulfillment in that gathering of Israel from all nations as shall make the coming out of Egypt seem as nothing. Compare carefully Luke xxii, 15, 16; Jer. xvi, 14, 15; xxiii, 5-8. The feast of our lesson is not the feast of the Lord, but the Jews' feast of tabernacles, with the Lord shut out (verse 2). Where were the offerings? Or, if they had them, they were such as the Lord could not accept, for they were without significance to them or to Him because of their unbelief.

At that time His own brethren did not believe in Him (verse 5), so if you have brothers or sisters or members of your own household who do not believe, while it may be because of partiality because of some lack of Christlike-ness in you, it is not necessarily so, for Jesus was God manifest in the flesh, a perfect manifestation of God, and yet some of those who were nearest to Him did not for a time believe. The carnal mind, even under the most favorable circumstances, is enmity against God, and there must be a new birth by the Spirit and the word before there can be any real life.

How full and free and wonderful the invitation, "If any man thirst let him come unto me and drink!" The first three words remind us of John vi, 37, and Rev. iii, 20, while the whole invitation takes us to Isa. lv, 1; Song v, 1; Rev. xxi, 6; xxii, 17. Freely is the word whether it refers to our justification or all that accompanies it (Rom.
iii, 24; viii, 32). The Spirit Himself is given unto us that we may know the things that are freely given to us of God (1 Cor. ii, 12), and we know and rejoice in the things that are freely ours in Christ we become wells and rivers of living water.

It is so simple to eat, to drink, yet instead of accepting His invitation they began to argue as to whether He could be the Christ or not. They did not know their Scriptures, for it is as plainly written there that He should be found in Galilee and come out of Egypt as that He should be born in Bethlehem (Isa. ix, 1, 2; Jer. xl, 1). It is true of many now as it was then, "Ye do not know the Scriptures nor the power of God" (Matt. xxii, 29). What unnecessary divisions unbelief does make even among the children of God,
all because we have our own opinions about this and that instead of meekly receiving His word (Jas. 1, 21).

If we simply receive and speak the word of God today, believing it all to be written by the Holy Spirit and taking it in its plain obvious sense, we shall not lack fellowship with Christ in this matter, for the scribes and Pharisees are as critical and unbelieving today as in the days of which our lesson tells. They longed to kill Him; they virtually do it now, for many preachers, professors and teachers will not believe in His supernatural birth nor in His resurrection from the dead, nor will they allow that He knew as much as they know. But, thank God, there are those who, like the officers who were sent to take Him, still rejoice to say, "Never man spake like this man" (verse 46), and there are those who, like Nicodemus, are ready to stand for Him and with Him at any cost (verses 50, 51).

The last verse of this chapter and the first of the next, if taken together, as they should be, indicate something of the loneliness of His life. "Every man went unto his own house; Jesus went unto the Mount of Olives." We, too, shall find a lonely and a narrow way
if we walk with Him, but His presence and approval will more than suffice;
therefore let us covet above all things
His approval (1 Cor. v, 9).

A Severe Cold For Three Months.

The following letter from A. J. Nusbbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, and eight doses cured me."

A Chattanooga Druggist's Statement.

Robert J. Miller, proprietor of the Read House Drug Store, of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "There is more merit in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR than in any other cough syrup. The calls for it multiply wonderfully and we sell more of it than all other cough syrups combined."

House Work is Hard Work without GOLD DUST.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 23.—In this sermon the preacher gives a vivid description of the "great awakening" which is just now stirring the Pacific coast, contrasting it with other famous revivals and pointing out the lesson it teaches to the nation. The text is Revelation xiv, 15, "The time has come for thee to reap."

"Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision," rescued by surrendering their hearts to Christ. Oh, what glorious news it is that reaches us from all lands telling of old fashioned revivals! As in bygone days, God is visiting his people. On every hand the Holy Spirit is moving on the dull and lifeless churches, rousing apathetic Christians and bringing thousands of sinners to the foot of the cross. Australia has her Pentecost, New Zealand her Pentecost, England her Pentecost, rock ribbed Scotland her Pentecost. Christ-mas Evans' beloved Welsh hills have witnessed such an outpouring of the Holy Spirit as no living man has ever seen before. Rough miners and cultured scholars, old men and children, have been stirred by a mysterious power and have turned to the Lord.

Our own dear land is sharing in the blessing. Great tidal waves of revival power have rolled up from Georgia. Great tidal waves of revival power have rolled forth from Pennsylvania and New York and Colorado. Great tidal waves of revival power are now rolling forth from California to the far east. Conquering revivals everywhere. God has harnessed to his gospel chariots of revival fire an Evan Roberts, a Chapman, an Ostrom, a Torrey, a Biedewolf and a Shaeffer, the soul winner of little children, and scores of other mighty gospel chargers in this modern work of grace. Truly God has poured out his Spirit upon all flesh. Our sons and our daughters are seeing visions. Our old men are dreaming dreams. O Spirit that inspired the Wesleys and Whitefields and Finneys and Bakers and Cartwrights and Moodys, lead thou us on in this widening gospel movement for the redemption of a sinful world for Christ!

But, though the revival spirit has appeared in many cities, I do not believe its mighty power has yet been demonstrated to a greater degree anywhere than in our own beloved city of Los Angeles. Here for the past few weeks we have seen many public buildings at the same hour crowded with anxious seekers after Jesus Christ. These buildings were thronged on Sundays. Yes, but they have also been thronged on week nights. They have also been thronged at 12 o'clock noon, as well as at 12 o'clock at midnight. They have also been thronged in the mornings and in the afternoons. Everywhere Christian people have been reconsecrating their lives to their Saviour. Everywhere, like the ancient Philippians jailer, anxious men and women have been asking the modern Pauls and Silases, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" Everywhere gray haired old folks, broad chested men and women in the prime of life and agile limbed, clear eyed youths and maidens have been praying for salvation; multitudes have arisen in the public meetings, asking prayers for their mothers and fathers, their sisters and brothers, their children and their friends.

Meaning of the Manifestation.
 What is the meaning of all this wonderful manifestation of the Spirit's power? Is there any law not yet discovered that governs such movements? Is it possible that in the spiritual world, as in the natural world, there is a close connection between cause and effect? Is there anything that we as individual Christians can do to bring into operation these life giving showers of divine grace? Is it possible that if we as Christian people continue to obey God's law we can have a perpetual revival of divine grace in our churches and homes every morning, every noon and every night?

Before paying a grateful tribute to the great evangelistic leaders who organized this Los Angeles revival I would acknowledge with sincere reverence our debt to the inconspicuous Christians who day by day for months besought God for this season of blessing. The religious and the secular newspapers have been giving column after column of space in recounting what the consecrated evangelists have been doing for Christ. Thousands of sinners in their meetings have signed the cards pledging themselves to Christ's strength to lead a Christian life. The picture of J. Wilbur Chapman and Henry Ostrom and W. E. Biedewolf and others have been scattered broadcast in hundreds of homes. But I am sure I voice their convictions when I tell you that this great gathering of souls is not due to their efforts. They have been merely the instruments used of God to reap the harvest which comes primarily from the Holy Spirit's operations. It is the work of God in answer to the pleading of Christian men and women who spent night after night in prayer before the welcome train brought our beloved brethren from their Pittsburgh, Birmingham, Atlanta and Denver Armageddons. They met night after night and week after week until at last the Spirit came as it did on the little company in the upper chamber at Jerusalem.

The marvelous sights we have witnessed in Los Angeles during the last few weeks are not the work of any human agency, but of God. Those were the results of faith—the faith that moves mountains. When God's people pleaded with him for this blessing they put their trust in one who never fails. The preparation in the heart of man is with the Lord, and when these believing men and women begged him to touch the hearts of the people he heard and answered them. The earnest appeals of Dr. Chapman and Mr. Biedewolf would have found no response in the hearts of those men whom we saw arise in the men's meeting in Hazard's pavilion if it had not been that a mightier power than man's had been at work in them. If we want a revival to move a city we must get that glorious by the "golden tongue" of earnest prayer. We shall never get it simply by the "silver tongue" of brilliant speech. Prayer, prayer, agonizing prayer, prayer which came from hundreds and thousands of anxious fathers and mothers and brothers and sisters and husbands and wives, was the cause, the chief cause, of the Los Angeles revival.

The Secret of His Success.
 The same lesson was taught us by the movement led by Campbell Morgan a year ago. After the great English preacher had left the Pacific coast the ministerial union of this city met to discuss the results of those meetings. One clergyman after another discussed the causes of that awakening, but no solution was found. I confessed my own inability to understand it, for I had heard Campbell Morgan in the east, when he did not seem to have any such influence over men. Yet the sermons which were powerless there were practically the same sermons that were fruitful here. With that the Nestor of the congregational ministers arose, good old loving Dr. Warren F. Day. He said: "Brethren, you have omitted to state the chief reason of Campbell Morgan's success in Los Angeles. It was due to the fact that hundreds and thousands of Christians paved the way for his success by weeks of earnest prayer. The Christians prayed in their churches; they prayed in their cottage prayer meetings; they prayed everywhere." "Amen," said I. "Dr. Day is right," Campbell Morgan's revival was due chiefly to the fact that those meetings were lifted up to heaven by thousands of pleading, praying Christians. J. Wilbur Chapman when he reaches heaven will see there many saved during this Los Angeles revival. But the old mother in Israel, the old Christian elder and deacon, the old Christian church member, will rejoice with him in this harvest. Christ from his throne will recognize their services. "You wondered," he will say to the evangelists, "why it was that your words so moved the sinner to seek salvation. It was in answer to the prayers of these humble Christians that the Holy Spirit touched the hearts of your hearers so that the good seed fell into good ground." Let us thank God for such prayers.

The Los Angeles revival teaches another great lesson. The vast number of people do not have to be taught who Christ is. They know enough about the gospel of salvation to be saved if they will. They must be led by the power of the Holy Spirit simply to make a stand, to come to a decision, to do what they know they ought to do. They do not need to hear sermons on the authenticity of the Scriptures, the divinity of Christ or the doctrine of original sin. They are for the greater part believers in Christianity. It is the personal appropriation of these truths that they lack. They love sin so much that they will not come to the desired decision. In other words, they believe, but they do not wish to give up sin. It is information about Christ nor explanation of the truths of Christianity that men need. They understand these things already. It is the will that must be captured. They do not realize their danger nor that they must themselves seek salvation through Christ. The sermons preached by the evangelists provided that fact.

Methods of the Evangelists.
 The city was mapped out into sections. Then the different Protestant churches, irrespective of creed, united in one central church of their respective districts. Thus the rich and the poor, the educated and uneducated, pastors as well as people, had the bread of life broken unto them. And how did these evangelists break the bread of life? They gave their gospel message in the simplest language, first taking it for granted that all men believed in the divine personality of Jesus. And when the invitation was given to come to Christ men and women arose by the scores and often by the hundreds and came. Ministerial friends, Christian friends, we as a class spend too much time in proving that Christ is rather than that Christ should be accepted. It is to bring them to public decision for Christ which men already know they ought to make that is the chief work of the Christian messengers. Hear it, ye Christian laborers.

Men believe in and know enough about Christ for salvation if they wish to be saved. I learn this fact from all the evangelists, but especially from one, Rev. C. T. Shaeffer, commonly called "the children's evangelist." "Oh," said I, "if I am going to get any benefit from these gospel meetings I must get a blessing for my children and my children's friends." So I went about the neighborhood and gathered in about ten little ones. I was father, mother, nurse, girl, companion, all balled down into one for the afternoon. I alone took the children. I left all the mothers and fathers, and the children and myself, went to hear the evangelist's message. Well, the children got a blessing from that children's service, but the old folks got just as great a blessing. First Dr. Shaeffer got all the little ones singing. Then he commenced his address from the text "My cup runneth over." Oh, he made it so simple! He said practically this: "Now, children, here is a bottle half filled with water. That water represents a mother's love. Now, my boys and girls, that bottle is not running over, is it?" "No, no," came back a ready answer. "Well, children, here is a cup full of water. We will call this cup 'food.' Here is another cup full of water we will call 'light.' Here is another cup we will call 'life.'" Then Dr. Shaeffer, after expatiating upon the benefits of all the cups, poured their contents into the bottle and said, "My children, the bottle is not overflowing yet, is it?" "No, no," came back the united answer. Then Dr. Shaeffer took up another cup, earnest, straightforward language of these evangelists? They take for granted that most people in this Christian land believe in Christ. Their great and sole purpose seems to be to lead people to a decision to give themselves to him. Cannot we, as gospel ministers, do the same?"

The Lord's Work a Business.
 But another weighty lesson is pressed upon our hearts by this series of meetings. That is this: The Lord's work is a business. It is not a hysteria. It is not a few holy ejaculations. It is not lifting your head above the clouds so that the mist blind your eyes and chill your enthusiasm for practical duty on earth. It is not a few spasms and a few temporary gospel gymnastics. It is a business—a business which we should study carefully and plan systematically and press strenuously with all our faith and energy.

When these evangelists began their work, as far as human agency was concerned they had almost a perfect system of machinery. Dr. R. A. Walton was the advance agent, who taught us how to perfect this machinery. First, the meetings were systematically and completely advertised; second, all the workers of a district were gathered together under one head. Some went into the churches. Then other workers were detailed to certain sittings. Every three or four pews had their overseers or gospel sentinels. No sooner was a hand raised for prayer than a Christian worker was by that person's side to lead him or her to Christ.

Then, not satisfied with all this, one night General J. Wilbur Chapman—for he is a general of men—marshaled all his forces for a grand charge upon the citadels of sin. That night the Christian evangelists and their followers came from all over the city. Down into the saloons and the places of evil resorts they went. Everywhere the right hand of a Christian brother or sister was extended. Everywhere a pleading voice said to sinners, "Come, we want you for Christ." These valiant soldiers of the cross did not wait for sinners to come to the gospel banquet. They literally followed out the command of Jesus, which said, "Go ye out into the highways and the hedges and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled." And come they did. They came by the hundreds and the thousands. The drunkards, the libertines, the outcasts—they came. Oh, how they longed to come! Can any one who witnessed that wonderful and inspiring meeting in the Grand Opera House of Los Angeles Feb. 3, 1905, ever forget the revelation?

An Impressive Spectacle.
 The elements seemed to conspire against the effort. When the hours drew toward the evening of that wonderful night we said to ourselves, "Can we go out into this storm, even to bring sinners to Christ?" The rain then was falling in torrents. All the batteries of the elements were unlimbered. "Crash, crash!" went the booming of the thunder. "Zigzag!" went the lightning. An electric thunder-bolt struck the North Methodist church Pasadena and set it on fire. The cars were blocked. Freshets were everywhere. After the theaters and places of amusements were emptied, long after most of the great city was asleep, hundreds of men and women marched through the flooded streets, sometimes wading above their ankles in water. They marched singing and praising God. They marched down to the haunts of sin. Then, after they had collected the Magdalenes and the human prodigals who had been wallowing in the swine troughs of "the far country," they started back to one of the largest theaters in the city. There in that theater were crowded at least 4,000 men and women. Many were in rags. Many faces were scarred and seared with the awful marks of sin. All, whether outcasts or rescuers, were anxious about souls—about the souls of others. Some curiosity seekers may have come to that meeting to scoff, but nearly all before they left prayed as the poor publican prayed. There were tears—penitent tears—which welled up from breaking hearts. Yes, those tears were glorious tears, flowing unbidden and unchecked. Four thousand men and women, many of them criminals, gathered together in the midnight hour during the tempest to seek Christ. Did you ever see or hear the like of it? Can any one who witnessed that wonderful and transformation meeting in the Grand Opera House of Los Angeles ever forget the revelation? Were we not then taught how Christ wants us to go forth into the highways and the hedges, seeking sinful men and women wherever they may be found?

One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, tolled the city bells. The evangelists and their followers worked on. Nine, ten, half past ten—the Christian disciples worked on. Eleven, twelve, went the clock. What! Is any one out tonight? Oh, yes; the messengers of sin are out tonight. This is the harvest time for the demons of death. But tonight—aye, tonight—the angels of mercy are calling and pleading. Mothers and fathers in heaven, wives and children in heaven, over the embattlements did ye not see the prayers being answered in the midnight hour? Oh, God, teach us, as these evangelists have taught us, that the mission of a Christian church is not alone to care for a few people who are our social equals and who happen to come to our churches! The greatest mission of Christian churches is to go after men and women—to go after them in saloons, in haunts of sin, in gambling dens, everywhere and anywhere—to go after them in the morning, at noon and at midnight.

The Church's Mission.
 But, lastly, I learn from the work of these evangelists a lesson which ought to make us one and all ashamed of ourselves. If the churches of the Lord Jesus Christ would join together their forces to make a conquest for Christ they could win the same triumphs for the Master year in and year out. The mightiest mission of J. Wilbur Chapman and his associates is to unite Christ's forces. They have given us an object lesson of the victory that may be won by the united effort of all the denominations.

Supposing every fall the Congregational ministers, and the Baptist ministers, and the Methodist ministers, and the Campbellite ministers, and the Presbyterian ministers, and the Lutheran ministers, and the Reformed ministers would all get together. Then supposing they should say: "Let us join in sections. We will exchange pulpits. We will preach for souls, no matter in what church we preach. We will have our cottage prayer meetings and our noon-day prayer meetings. We will send our best men down into the slums." What would happen? Not only would they break down sectarian lines, but they would teach congregations that the mightiest business on earth is not to build up a denomination, but to save immortal souls. They would do just what Dr. Chapman and his associates have done. They would shake the citadel and the states from center to circumference.

One of the most farseeing acts Dr. Chapman ever did for the advancement of a gospel movement was to combine evangelists of different ecclesiastical denominations into a unit for the spreading of the gospel. Dr. Chapman is a Presbyterian and is laboring under the orders of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Henry Ostrom, his associate, is a Methodist. Timmer Hobson is a Quaker, Rev. R. W. Stough is a Congregationalist. Dr. Walton belongs to the southern Presbyterian church—here there were no northern and southern churches—John K. Elliott is a Dutch Reformed minister. All sectarian fences have been burned in these evangelistic meetings. Why cannot we do the same every year as gospel ministers? Let us have a forward movement. Yes, but also a united movement for Christ.

One Is Essential.
 Every sectarian minister wants to hoe in his own ecclesiastical row, whereas, in fact and in truth, there is but little difference in these rows. They all end in having their sheaves of wheat deposited at the foot of the cross. Why cannot we work hand in hand with other Christian denominations? Are we not all servants of Christ? The Presbyterian differs in doctrine from the Methodist, the Congregationalist differs in church government from the Episcopalian, but all give the same answer to the question, "What must I do to be saved?" Every evangelical denomination points the sinner to Christ as the one and only source of salvation. Love, gospel love, ought to make us all one. Oh, for gospel forces united and welded together! Oh, that the churches of all the Protestant denominations might enter into a concerted and single purposed movement for Christ as was done in this great gospel campaign on the Pacific coast, which has won thousands of souls for the Master!

I cannot close without an expression of gratitude to the evangelists who have aided us. I honor all evangelists. Do we realize how much these evangelists give up for their work? All the joys of home life, all the sweet fellowship with their people that the regular minister enjoys—these must all be surrendered by the evangelist who goes from city to city to arouse and stimulate the churches. Dr. Walton told me that for ten years the only home he had was a trunk. Let us honor such men, who devote themselves to the public service. The church of Christ benefits by their labors, and too often it forgets the hardships they undergo. I want you to pray for God's evangelists. Pray for them when, tired and fatigued, they go to their lonely rooms in a hotel. Pray for Dr. R. A. Torrey and Mr. Alexander, far, far away from home. Pray for these friends, Dr. Chapman and his associates, who are now going up and down the land, who have lately been among us. May their be the peace that passeth all understanding. May their happiness be gained from the fact that they are winning many, many souls for Christ. God bless the gospel evangelists, that they may teach us gladly to do the Father's will, whether it be like Paul in faroff Macedonia or in our home Tarrytown, "which is no mean city."

WATCH YOUR MONEY

LOUISVILLE NOW FLOODED WITH COUNTERFEIT.

Secret Service Men Declare Arrests Will Be Made

Louisville is practically flooded with counterfeit money, and many persons who probably do not suspect it have spurious coins among their change. It will behoove every citizen to examine his currency and his pocket book carefully, lest he inadvertently become guilty, at least in a technical sense, of passing counterfeit money, says the Louisville Post.

The local secret service agents are keenly on the alert, and declare that arrests will promptly follow all infractions of the law, whether the parties are technically guilty or are guilty in fact.

It is said that there is more counterfeit money circulating in this city today than has been known for years. Coins, such as dollars and half dollars, are among the most common forms of counterfeit money now being circulated, but bogus bills of the denomination of $5 and $1 are turning up at the local banks almost every day.

As usual, (when there is an epidemic of counterfeit money,) the banks and trust companies are the institutions which point out the bogus articles when customers make deposits. These institutions assume that their depositors would not knowingly attempt to place spurious money on deposit, but, however well-founded this assumption may be it is known that several spirited tilts have occurred recently between depositors and receiving tellers of some of the local banks.

One firm, which had done an extensive business with a bank in this city for many years, withdrew its account a few days ago because the teller pointed out and refused to accept for deposit a bill which was adjudged a counterfeit.

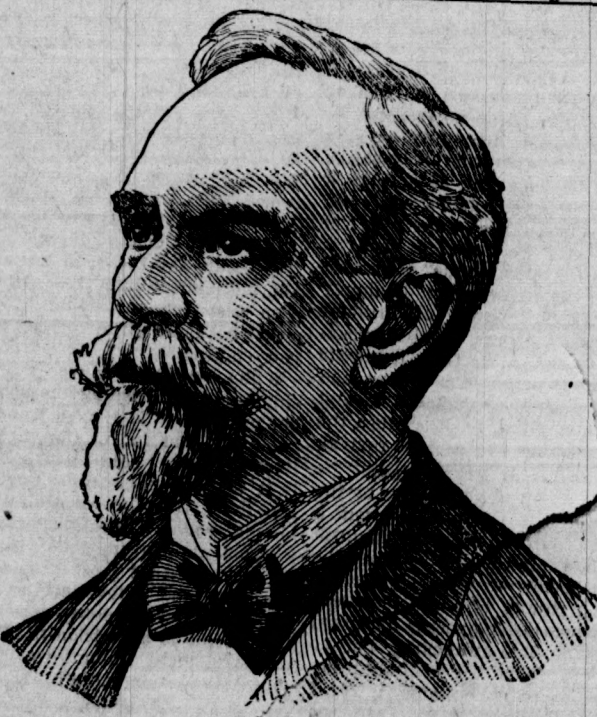

The secret service officials say that instead reporting counterfeit money to them, and turning the same over to the government for confiscation, many persons who take in a bogus bill or coin straightway proceed to work it off on some one else. In many instances this is done knowingly, the government detectives say. In some cases, of course, spurious money is circulated inadvertently, but this is not true of the coins which are so obviously bogus that a very light scrutiny would reveal their true character.

The bar rooms catch a great many of these coins and the Louisville City Railway company not a few. Two arrests for passing counterfeit money have been made within the past week, both of them growing out of the saloon patronage.

It will be decidedly dangerous for anyone to attempt to circulate spurious money in the future, as such cases will be reported to the secret service agents. The safest plan is to examine all money closely before accepting it, whether this apply to merchant or customer.

JUDGE SWAYNE IS ACQUITTED

In Impeachment Trial the United States Senate Votes Him Innocent On Every Charge.

A UNITED STATES JUDGE WHOSE IMPEACHMENT HAS BEEN DEMANDED.

(Special to New Era.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The senate voted on the Swayne impeachment case, finding Judge Swayne not guilty on all twelve articles, the Republicans generally voting to acquit him.

The nearest the prosecution came to securing a verdict, was in the vote on article XII, charging that Judge Swayne had unlawfully imposed a fine and imprisonment for contempt on W. C. O'Neill. In this case the vote was: Guilty, thirty-nine; not guilty, forty-seven. A resolution was passed acquitting Judge Swayne, and the senate adjourned as a court was necessary to convict.

A Pembroke Story. A good citizen of Pembroke related to us this incident today in the strenuous life of a Pembroke riding delegate. After traveling the surrounding country, romancing at every tobacco barn, with no audience save his own sorrowful conscience, this riding delegate returned home and dropped into a barber chair to get a shave, thinking it would improve his lacerated feelings. The barber waited on him patiently enough, but when he had finished, demanded twenty cents for the job. "Why is this?" inquired the romancer. "You have never charged me more than a dime before." "That's so, boss—ten cents is the regular price, but since these farmers have organized, you romancers carry such long faces that it is now worth twenty cents to shave them." The sorrowful romancer paid the bill and then looked down at his feet to see if his chin was cleanly shaven.—Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle.

The popular view of the relation of the blood to human character and conduct is marked in many a familiar expression. We speak of there being "bad blood" between people at enmity, of "blue blood" as indicating ancestry, of "black blood" as describing a treacherous nature, and in many another phrase mark our belief that in the mental, moral and physical man, "the blood is the life." The one oasis of a healthful, happy and useful life is pure blood. With the blood pure, disease has no permanent lodging place in the system. For this reason the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the body of diseases which have their origin in impurity of the blood. It absolutely purifies the blood, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter, increasing the action of the blood making glands, and building up the body by supplying the blood in quantity and quality such as is essential to a condition of health. It cures ninety-eight people out of every hundred who give it a fair trial.

Old Masons' Home. The Old Masons' Home committee organized for the purpose of soliciting funds for the erection of a new building on the farm owned by the Masons near Shelbyville has gone to work with a vim and it is thought that the necessary amount will be raised at an early date, immediately after which the construction of the new home will begin.

The movement is meeting with the hearty approval of Masons throughout the state and every indication points to a general substantial support of the plan. The grand lodge of Masons, at its last meeting, authorized the organization of the committee, which is composed of the following officers and committees:

C. G. Curry, president; W. Douglas Webb, vice president; W. M. Evans, secretary, and Samuel Leight, treasurer. Ways and means committee—Edward J. Ashcraft, chairman; Evan Hammond, Harry Boegerhansen, William C. Matthews and Z. T. Randall. Finance committee—John A. Gray, chairman; Dmll Hilpp and J. H. H. Dammerman.

Personal Notes. Mrs. James M. Howe, of Nashville, is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. E. W. Henderson.

Frank W. Buckner, of New Orleans, after a short visit to his father, Squire S. G. Buckner, left this morning for New York on a business trip.

Mrs. T. W. Blakey left today for Washington, D. C., to visit her daughter, Miss Sallie George Blakey, who is in school there.

Mr. T. B. Fairleigh, of Hopkinsville, was in the city Friday. Mr. C. B. Hammonds, of Hopkinsville, was here Friday.—Paducah News-Democrat.

DR. OSLER'S THEORY

MEN OVER FORTY NOT MUCH ACCOUNT.

Says He Was Misquoted and Issues a Statement.

The theory advanced by Dr. William Osler at the John Hopkins university that nothing of material value is accomplished in the world by men who have passed the age of forty years, and that after sixty years a man is useless, is not being taken seriously in Hopkinsville. Some of the most active and useful business and professional men in the city have passed four score years and are strong in body and mind as ever.

Dr. Osler's exact language was: "The comparative uselessness of men above forty years of age" and "the uselessness of men above sixty years of age." In extending the thought he said that the period between 25 and 40 was "the golden years of plenty," and that during those years the "effective moving, vitalizing work of the world is done."

Dr. Osler is out in the following statement:

"I have been so misquoted in the papers that I should like to make the following statement:

"First—I did not say men at 40 should be chloroformed. That was the point in the novel to which I referred and on which the plot hinged. "Second—Nothing in the criticism has shaken my conviction that telling work of the world has been done and is done by men under 40 years of age. The exceptions which have been given only illustrate the rule. "Third—I would be for the general good if men at 60 were relieved from active work. We would miss the energies of some young-old men, but, on the whole, it would be of the greatest service to the sexagenarii themselves.

CHAPTER XI.

WILBUR exclaimed Wilbur at length, the excitement of the fight returning upon him. "We have plenty to do yet. Come on, Moran."

It was no longer Moran who took the initiative—who was the leader. The brief fight upon the shore had changed all that. It was Wilbur who was now the master; it was Wilbur who was aggressive. He had known what it meant to kill. He was no longer afraid of anything—no longer hesitating. He had felt a sudden quadrupling of all his strength, moral and physical.

All that was strong and virile and brutal in him seemed to harden and stiffen in the moment after he had seen the beachcomber collapse limply on the sand under that last strong knife blow, and a sense of triumph, of boundless self confidence, leaped within him, so that he shouted aloud in a very excess of exhilaration, and snatching up a heavy cutting-in spade that had been dropped in the fight near the burning cabin, tossed it high into the air, catching it again as it descended, like any exultant savage.

"Come on," he cried to Moran. "Where are the beachcombers gone? I'm going to get one more before the show is over."

The two passed out of the zone of smoke and reached the other side of the burning cabin just in time to see the last of the struggle. The whole affair had not taken more than a quarter of an hour. In the end the beachcombers had been beaten. Four had fled into the waste of sand and sage that lay back of the shore and had not been pursued, a fifth had been almost hamstringed by one of the Bertha's coolies and had given himself up, a sixth, squealing and shrieking like a tiger cat, had been made prisoner, and Wilbur himself had accounted for the seventh.

As Wilbur and Moran came around the cabin they saw the Bertha Miller's Chinamen in a group not far from the water's edge, reassembled after the fight, panting and bloody, some of them bare to the belt, their weapons still in their hands. Here and there was a bandaged arm or head, but their number was complete—or, no, was it complete?

"Ought to be one more," said Wilbur, anxiously hastening forward. As the two came up the coolies parted, and Wilbur saw one of them, his head propped up on a rolled up blouse, lying ominously still on the trampled sand.

"It's Charlie!" exclaimed Moran. "Where's he hurt?" cried Wilbur to the group of coolies. "Jim—where's Jim? Where's he hurt, Jim?"

Jim, the only member of the crew besides Charlie who could understand or speak English, answered: "Kai-ging him an' pistol, you pistol. Charlie him fight plenty. Bimeby, when he no see, one piece Kai-ging he come up behin', shoot um Charlie in side—savvy?"

"Did he kill him? Is he dead?"

"No. I tinkum die plenty soon. Him no savvy nuttin' now. Him all same sleep. Plenty soon bimeby him sleep fer good, I tink."

There was little blood to be seen when Wilbur gently unwrapped the torn sleeve of a blouse that had been used as a bandage. Just under the armpit was the mark of the bullet, a small puncture already closed, half hidden under a clot of two of blood. The coolie lay quite unconscious, his eyes wide open, drawing a faint, quick breath at irregular intervals.

"What do you think, mate?" asked Moran in a low voice.

"I think he's got it through the lungs," answered Wilbur, frowning in distress and perplexity. "Poor old Charlie!"

Moran went down on a knee and put a finger on the slim, corded wrist, yellow as old ivory.

"Charlie!" she called. "Charlie! Here! Don't you know me? Wake up, old chap! It's Moran. You're not hurt so very bad, are you?"

Charlie's eyes closed and opened a couple of times.

"No can tell," he answered feebly. "Hurt plenty big." Then he began to cough.

Wilbur drew a sigh of relief. "He's all right!" he exclaimed.

"Yes, I think he's all right," assented Moran.

"First thing to do now is to get him aboard the schooner," said Wilbur. "We'll take him right across in the beachcombers' dory here. By Jove!" he exclaimed on a sudden. "The ambergris! I'd forgotten all about it!" His heart sank. In the hideous confusion of that morning's work all thought of the loot had been forgotten. Had the battle been for nothing, after all? The moment the beachcombers had been made aware of the meditated attack it would have been an easy matter for them to have hidden the ambergris—destroyed it even.

In two strikes Wilbur had reached the beachcombers' dory and was groping in the forward caddy. Then he uttered a great shout of satisfaction. The "stuff" was there, all of it, though the mass had been cut into quarters, three parts of it stowed in tea tins, the fourth still reeved up in the hammock netting.

"We've got it!" he cried to Moran, who had followed him. "We've got it, Moran! Over $100,000! We're rich—rich as coolies, you and I! Oh, it was worth fighting for, after all, wasn't it? Now we'll get out of here—now we'll cut for home."

"It's only Charlie I'm thinking about," answered Moran, hesitating. "If it wasn't for that we'd be all right. I don't know whether we did right, after all, in jumping the camp here. I wouldn't like to feel that I'd got Charlie into our quarrel only to have him killed."

Wilbur stared at this new Moran in no little amazement. Where was the reckless, untamed girl of the previous night, who had sworn at him and denounced his niggling misgivings as to right and wrong?

"Hoh!" he retorted impatiently. "Charlie's right enough. And, besides, I didn't force him to anything. I—we—that is, we took the same chances. If I hadn't done for my man there behind the cabin, he would have done for me. At all events, we carried our point. We got the loot. They took it from us, and we were strong enough to get it back."

Moran merely nodded, as though satisfied with his decision, and added: "Well, what next, mate?"

"We'll get back to the Bertha now and put to sea as soon as we can catch the tide. I'll send Jim and two of the other men across in the dory with Charlie. The rest of us will go around by the shore. We've got to have a chin-cha with Hoang. If he don't get loose aboard there and fire the boat before we can get back. I don't propose taking these beachcombers back to Frisco with us."

"What will we do with the two prisoners?" she asked.

"Let them go. We've got their arms."

The positions of the two were reversed. It was Wilbur who assumed control and direction of what went forward. Moran taking his advice and relying upon his judgment.

In accordance with Wilbur's orders, Charlie was carried aboard the dory, which, with two Chinamen at the oars, and the ambergris stowed again into the caddy, at once set off for the schooner. Wilbur himself cut the ropes on the two prisoners and bade them shift for themselves. The rest of the party returned to the Bertha Miller around the wide sweep of the beach.

It was only by high noon, under the flogging of a merciless sun, that the entire crew of the little schooner once more reassembled under the shadow of her stranded hulk. They were quite worn out, and as soon as Charlie was lifted aboard and the ambergris—or, as they spoke of it now, the "loot"—was safely stowed in the cabin, Wilbur allowed the Chinamen three or four hours' rest. They had had neither breakfast nor dinner, but their exhaustion was greater than their hunger, and in a few moments the entire half dozen were stretched out asleep on the forward deck in the shadow of the foremast, raised for the purpose of sheltering them. However, Wilbur and Moran sought out Hoang, whom they found as they had left him, bound upon the floor of the cabin.

"Now we have a talk—savvy?" Wilbur told him as he loosed the ropes about his wrists and ankles. "We got our loot back from you, old man, and we got one of your men into the bargain. You woke up the wrong crowd, Hoang, when you went up against this outfit. You're in a bad way, my friend. Your junk is wrecked, all your oil and blubber from the whale is lost, four of your men have run away, one is killed, another one we caught and let go, another one has been hamstringed, and you yourself are our prisoner, with your teeth filed down to your gums. Now," continued Wilbur, with the profoundest gravity, "I hope this will be a lesson to you. Don't try and get too much the next time. Just be content with what is yours by right or what you are strong enough to keep, and don't try to fight white people. Other coolies, I don't say. But when you try to get the better of white people you are out of your class."

The little beachcomber (he was scarcely above five feet) rubbed his chafed wrists and fixed Wilbur with his tiny, twinkling eyes.

"What you do now?"

"We go home. I'm going to maroon you and your people here on this beach. You deserve that I should let you eat your flats by way of table board, but I'm no such dirt as you. When our men left the schooner they brought off with them a good share of our provisions. I'll leave them here for you, and there's plenty of turtle and abalone to be had for the catching. Some of the American men-of-war, I believe, come down to this bay for target practice twice a year, and if we speak any on the way up we'll ask them to call here for castaways. That's what I'll do for you, and that's all! If you don't like it you can set out to march up the coast till you hit a town, but I wouldn't advise you to try it. Now, what have you got to say?"

Hoang was silent. His cue had become unbound for half its length, and he plaited it anew, winking his eyes thoughtfully.

"Well, what do you say?" said Moran.

"I lose face," answered Hoang at length calmly.

"You lose face? What do you mean?"

"I lose face," he insisted, then added: "I heap ashamed. You fight my China boy, you catch me. My boy no mo' hab me so boss-savvy? I go back, him no like me. Mebbe all same kill me. I lose face—no mo' boss!"

"What a herd of wild cattle!" muttered Wilbur.

"There's something in what he says, don't you think, mate?" observed Moran, bringing a braid over each shoulder and stroking it, according to her habit.

"We'll ask Jim about it," decided Wilbur.

But Jim at once confirmed Hoang's statement. "Oh, Kai-ging killum no good boss, to sure," he declared.

"Don't you think, mate," said Moran, "we'd better take him up to Frisco with us? We've had enough fighting and killing."

So it was arranged that the defeated beachcomber, the whipped coolie, who had "lost face" and no longer dared look his men in the eye, should be taken aboard.

By 4 o'clock next morning Wilbur had the hands at work digging the sand from around the Bertha Miller's beachcomber. However, Wilbur and Moran sought out Hoang, whom they found as they had left him, bound upon the floor of the cabin.

"Now we have a talk—savvy?" Wilbur told him as he loosed the ropes about his wrists and ankles. "We got our loot back from you, old man, and we got one of your men into the bargain. That's what I'll do for you, and that's all! If you don't like it you can set out to march up the coast till you hit a town, but I wouldn't advise you to try it. Now, what have you got to say?"

Hoang was silent. His cue had become unbound for half its length, and he plaited it anew, winking his eyes thoughtfully.

"Well, what do you say?" said Moran.

"I lose face," answered Hoang at length calmly.

"You lose face? What do you mean?"

"I lose face," he insisted, then added: "I heap ashamed. You fight my China boy, you catch me. My boy no mo' hab me so boss-savvy? I go back, him no like me. Mebbe all same kill me. I lose face—no mo' boss!"

"What a herd of wild cattle!" muttered Wilbur.

"There's something in what he says, don't you think, mate?" observed Moran, bringing a braid over each shoulder and stroking it, according to her habit.

"We'll ask Jim about it," decided Wilbur.

But Jim at once confirmed Hoang's statement. "Oh, Kai-ging killum no good boss, to sure," he declared.

"Don't you think, mate," said Moran, "we'd better take him up to Frisco with us? We've had enough fighting and killing."

So it was arranged that the defeated beachcomber, the whipped coolie, who had "lost face" and no longer dared look his men in the eye, should be taken aboard.

By 4 o'clock next morning Wilbur had the hands at work digging the sand from around the Bertha Miller's beachcomber. However, Wilbur and Moran sought out Hoang, whom they found as they had left him, bound upon the floor of the cabin.

"Now we have a talk—savvy?" Wilbur told him as he loosed the ropes about his wrists and ankles. "We got our loot back from you, old man, and we got one of your men into the bargain. You woke up the wrong crowd, Hoang, when you went up against this outfit. You're in a bad way, my friend. Your junk is wrecked, all your oil and blubber from the whale is lost, four of your men have run away, one is killed, another one we caught and let go, another one has been hamstringed, and you yourself are our prisoner, with your teeth filed down to your gums. Now," continued Wilbur, with the profoundest gravity, "I hope this will be a lesson to you. Don't try and get too much the next time. Just be content with what is yours by right or what you are strong enough to keep, and don't try to fight white people. Other coolies, I don't say. But when you try to get the better of white people you are out of your class."

The little beachcomber (he was scarcely above five feet) rubbed his chafed wrists and fixed Wilbur with his tiny, twinkling eyes.

"What you do now?"

"We go home. I'm going to maroon you and your people here on this beach. You deserve that I should let you eat your flats by way of table board, but I'm no such dirt as you. When our men left the schooner they brought off with them a good share of our provisions. I'll leave them here for you, and there's plenty of turtle and abalone to be had for the catching. Some of the American men-of-war, I believe, come down to this bay for target practice twice a year, and if we speak any on the way up we'll ask them to call here for castaways. That's what I'll do for you, and that's all! If you don't like it you can set out to march up the coast till you hit a town, but I wouldn't advise you to try it. Now, what have you got to say?"

Home Made

Have your cake, muffins, and tea biscuit home-made. They will be fresher, cleaner, more tasty and wholesome.

Royal Baking Powder helps the house wife to produce at home, quickly and economically, fine and tasty cake, the raised hot-biscuit, puddings, the frosted layer-cake, crisp cookies, crullers, crusts and muffins, with which the ready-made food found at the bake-shop or grocery does not compare.

Royal is the greatest of bake-day helps.

ELOPED AND WED.

MISS CLARKE MARRIES MR. SMITH.

Wednesday's Owensboro Inquirer contained the following item of much interest here:

Miss Margaret Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clarke, of Anthony street, and Mr. Raphael Smith, son of Mr. Peter Smith, of South Frederick street, unceremoniously took leave of their friends in this city at midnight Tuesday and went to Clarksville, Tenn., where they were happily married this morning. With the exception of one of Miss Clarke's most intimate friends, no one knew of their proposed bridal tour and their absence was not discovered until early this morning.

WAS BIG SUCCESS

"MODERN ANANIAS" PRESENTED AT PEMBROKE.

People of Hopkinsville Will See the Play Saturday Night.

(Special to New Era.)

PEMBROKE, Ky., March 2.—Practically the entire amusement-loving populace of Pembroke greeted the Hopkinsville histrions who presented "A Modern Ananias" at the opera house last night, and there is not a dissenting voice to the opinion that the entertainment was far and away the most delightful dramatic treat our citizens have ever enjoyed.

The play was handsomely staged and the costumes were beautiful. Every member of the cast gave evidence of exceptional talent. Indeed it was a perfectly balanced company, a veritable constellation of "stars."

The quaint, droll and thoroughly artistic work of Mr. Eckles in the leading role, the charming portrayal of "Miss Goldengate" by Mrs. Cummings, the happy and unique comedy part assumed by Mrs. McPherson and the exceedingly clever presentation of character parts by Misses Jean Goldthwaite and Annie McPherson and Messrs. Kelly, Starling and Underwood, kept the audience in roars of laughter, and prolonged and frequent applause marked the unfolding of the plot. The play is undoubtedly one of the funniest ever written, and it had in every respect a rendition worthy of its splendid merit.

The music by the Hopkinsville orchestra was most enjoyable and a highly appreciated feature of the entertainment. Particularly beautiful were the songs introduced by Mr. Starling, who was forced to respond to three encores. Pembroke citizens are hoping that it will not be long before this company of talented amateurs favor us with another visit.

The play was produced under the efficient direction of Mrs. T. C. Underwood. It is understood that the next proceeds go to the Hopkinsville public library.

Macedonia Matters.

Macedonia, Ky., March 1.—Mr. Editor, Please permit me to extend my thanks and appreciation of the kindness shown me throughout the serious illness and death of my daughter, Mrs. N. D. White, who died Feb. 22 at half past five o'clock a. m. The end was not unexpected but it came peacefully after a whole year's patient suffering. She died as she had lived, a Christian, in the full hope of sweet rest beyond. She was buried Feb. 23 in the Macedonia cemetery by the side of her husband and little son, who preceded her about two years ago. She was twenty-two years, four months and twenty days old at the time of death. That dread disease, consumption, was the cause of death. Thanks to our many friends who stood sadly by us to the end. Our loss is heaven's gain.

Mr. G. W. White called on Mr. C. D. Cline last Sunday evening for a prize in the form of his daughter, Miss Sue. I suppose the request was granted as there has been no elopement.

The farmers in this section are very busy burning plant beds. James Orten, of Clardy, lost an outhouse by fire last week, containing about sixty barrels of corn. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Mr. John L. Kelso is preparing to move to Texas in a few days.

Mr. W. H. Ray, of this place, will move to Lewistown, Caldwell county next week.

MR. CARLOSS AND MISS YOUNG MARRIED.

Miss Emma Fletcher Becomes Mrs. Guido Marburg.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Mr. Will Carloss and Miss Yola Young were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Young, at Sunnybrook farm. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. Wallace Logan Nourse. The service was beautiful and impressive and was witnessed by a limited number of relatives and intimate friends. The bride is a handsome and accomplished young lady, and the fortunate groom is a popular and enterprising young business man.

FLETCHER-MARBURG.

The following announcement of interest to the many friends of Mr. Fletcher's family has been received here:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fletcher announce the marriage of their daughter, Emma Elliot to Mr. Guido Marburg, on Tuesday the twenty eighth of February, one thousand nine hundred and five Saint Louis

HANKINS-CHARLTON.

License has been issued for the marriage of A. M. Charlton and Miss Lucy Roberts Hankins.

TAYLOR-KIMBERLIN.

C. W. Kimberlin and Miss Amanda Taylor were married last night at eight o'clock at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. C. Williams, near the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Harris Nash, of the Baptist church, in the presence of only Mr. Williams' immediate family. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Kimberlin came to this city, where they spent the night and left this morning for Owensboro, where they will make their home. The bride is an attractive and popular lady, and the groom is a prominent contractor of Owensboro.

Spring Truck.

Notwithstanding the fact that the echoes of winter winds have not yet died away, balmy weather brings the thought that spring vegetables are soon to be on the market again. The indications are that, notwithstanding the fact that the winter was more severe than for many years past, the southern markets will soon come to the rescue with its early products of the garden and field. Already there are young, crisp radishes, onions, and a few other vegetables to be had. But these are still in the list of luxuries and the prices are away up.

Kentucky Shoot.

The semi-official announcement is made that the National Shooting association has practically decided to arrange for an interstate shooting tournament to be held during the week of the grand American Handicap this year. Each state entering will be represented by a team selected for that purpose. In anticipation of this the Kentucky Trap Shooters' league will hold its annual competitive drill at Owensboro May 17 and 18, and the state association will meet at Louisville May 27, 28 and 29.

RAILROAD RUMOR

THE T. C. MAY BE RUN TO MADISONVILLE

Route Would Cross the Coal Fields of North Christian.

It is rumored that the Tennessee Central railroad will run into Madisonville in the near future. This road is now completed from Nashville to Hopkinsville, and it is believed by parties who are well posted that it will be built from Hopkinsville to Madisonville, running through the Terry coal fields in Christian county and crossing the I. C. railroad between St. Charles and Dawson Springs in Hopkins county, and running through the Richland country into Madisonville.

It is known that the Tennessee Central railroad company is exceedingly friendly with the I. C. company and if this line of road was built it would give Madisonville a through competing line to Nashville and products of our county where they could be handled direct by the I. C. railroad company, which would give us cheaper rates and make our town and county blossom like a rose.

It is also stated upon good authority that northern capitalists will soon locate a large canning factory in Madisonville, which will work a large force of hands and will make a ready cash market for nearly all kinds of fruits and vegetables.—Madisonville Hustler.
