Unemployment Rate Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate rose slightly in April to 5.8 percent, despite the largest drop in total employment in more than a decade, the government said today.

The jobless rate had been 5.7 percent in March, according to the Labor Department report. In fact, it has ranged from 5.7 percent to 5.9 percent for the past nine months.

The number of persons without jobs rose only slightly in April — from 5.87 million to 5.93 million.

But Labor Department statisticians were at a loss to explain apparently conflicting data on total employment.

As measured by a survey of households, the number of persons employed declined by 670,000 to 96.2 million persons. It was the largest drop since January 1968, when the number of persons with jobs declined by 700,000, said John Bregger, a department economist.

But according to figures collected from industrial payroll records, "non-farm payroll employment was about unchanged over the month at 88.3 million," the report said.

"It's unusual that there is this much discrepancy," Bregger said. "We are inclined not to fully trust the household survey this month. We'll know for the sure when May figures are available."

The report by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said employment had been rising by an average of about 300,000 jobs per month for the last eight months.

"The reasons for this (April) slowdown in employment growth are not entirely clear, but may relate in part to adverse weather conditions, school and religious holiday effects and the trucking strike-lockout," the report said.

The Teamsters struck the trucking industry on April 1 when negotiations for a new, three-year contract broke down. Most truckers returned to work after tentative agreement was reached April 10, although some steel haulers remained on strike for a while.

Unemployment has remained low mainly because many new jobs have been created — 3.5 million in the 12 months ending in March, the Labor Department said.

This job creation has occurred despite higher interest rates, which are intended to discourage business borrowing, and a dramatic drop in the nation's economic growth during the first three months of 1979.

But the economy, as measured by its gross national product, grew at an annual rate of only 0.7 percent in the first quarter of 1979 after a booming 6.9 percent annual rate in the final three months of 1978.

At the retail level, prices went up at an annual rate of 13.3 percent in the first quarter.

The Commerce Department announced Thursday that wholesale food prices declined in April for the first time in eight months. But the drop was not enough to offset hefty price increases in other goods such as gasoline and home heating oil.

As a result, wholesale prices in April rose 0.9 percent, the Labor Department reported. That works out to an annual rate of 11.5 percent, Labor statisticians said.

Candidates Look To Relaxing Weekend At Kentucky Derby

By The Associated Press

While most of the state's gubernatorial candidates were on the campaign trail, others were already looking ahead to a relaxing weekend, highlighted by the Kentucky Derby.

Democratic contender Carroll Hubbard accused Eugene Mooney, state secretary of natural resources and environmental protection, of soliciting funds for Terry McBrayer, one of his rivals in the race.

Mooney denied the charges. "That is a lie," he said. "I categorically deny that. I didn't ask anybody for any money."

McBrayer, meantime, was defending the out-of-state offices set up by the Commerce Department to attract new industry to Kentucky.

George Atkins, during a rally at Leitchfield, emphasized the importance of honesty in government.

Former Louisville Mayor Harvey Sloane called for a moratorium on the construction of new nuclear power plants.

Two other Democrats, Thelma Stovall and John Y. Brown Jr., were busy with Derby plans.

In the Republican camp, former Gov. Louie B. Nunn held a rally at Tompkinsville before returning to Lexington.

His rival for the nomination, Ray White, stressed the need for more emphasis on vocational education in the school system.

Auction, Spring Expo Set

Boy Scouts Plan Special Events

Two special events are planned in the next three weeks by the Four Rivers Boy Scout Council, both involving the general public.

The first, scheduled May 12, will be an auction at Camp Roy Manchester on Kentucky Lake near Aurora in Marshall County.

The second, scheduled May 19, will be the annual Boy Scout Spring Expo for 1979, with sessions scheduled simultaneously in Paducah and Murray.

Hubert Ellison, Four Rivers Council scout executive, said the auction is a major fund-raising effort by the council, involving items formerly used at the scout camp and items donated to the council for the sale.

Some of the major items to be sold at the auction include canoes, rowboats, sailboats, pontoon boats, a pickup truck, a station wagon, camping gear and building supplies, he added.

Ellison said anyone having items to donate to the Boy Scout council for the auction can call the council office at 443-6461 and the items will be picked up.

The auction, to be conducted by the firm of Morgan, Trevathan and Gunn of Benton, will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until all items are sold, the scout executive noted.

The dual Expo '79 programs will be held at the Carson Park Fairgrounds here and at the JC Fairgrounds west of Murray on Ky. 121, Ellison said. Both sessions will run from noon until 4 p.m.

The Paducah program will involve scouts from the council's northern Slipki District, while the Murray show will be staged by scouts from the southern Chickasaw District.

Both groups presently are selling tickets for the expo programs door to door. This year, a $2 "family ticket" is the only admission charged. Tickets are being sold by members of area Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer Scout posts.

As usual, the Expo program will include displays of various scouting skills and booths involving public participation in scouting games and activities, Ellison noted. Each troop's booth or display will be judged, with blue, red or yellow ribbons being awarded on the basis of points scored.

Exhibits are to be based around the theme "Scouting Today Is A Lot More Than You Think."

An additional feature of this year's Expo programs are the District Pinewood Derby contests.

The Pinewood Derby, exclusively for Cub Scouts, will pit winners from the 7, 8, 9 and 10 age categories from each pack competing in their own age group.

An additional contest for the most attractive car will feature one winner from each pack.

At each Expo site, registration of cars by Cubs will begin at 2 p.m., with the races to start at 2:30 p.m. All rules and regulations in the official Cub Scout Pinewood Derby kits will be followed, with additional restrictions of maximum width of 3 inches, length of 7 inches and top weight of 5 ounces. Only grand prix wheels will be allowed to compete, Ellison said.

Prizes will be awarded for the three fastest cars plus the most attractive car. Each entry will get a minimum of two runs, since it is a double-elimination competition.

Ellison noted that recent Expos have been held only in Paducah, making it impossible for some scouts to take part, due to travel time and other restrictions. Using two sites for separate district programs rather than the one council-wide Expo is expected to greatly increase the amount of participation by are scouting units, Ellison said.

Carter's Standby Rationing Plan May Exclude Additional Coupons

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's standby gasoline rationing plan may be modified to bar owners of more than three cars from reaping additional rationing coupons.

light rain or drizzle

Intermittent light rain or drizzle ending tonight. Low in the mid to upper 40s. Becoming partly sunny and cool Saturday. Highs in the mid to upper 60s.

Kentucky Extended Forecast

Sunday through Tuesday: Partly cloudy with a warming trend through the period. Lows in the upper 30s to mid 40s Sunday and Monday and in the 40s to low 50s on Tuesday. Highs in the 60s Sunday warming to the 70s by Tuesday.

High-level negotiations were underway today to rescue the plan from what some congressional leaders see as likely rejection when it comes up for floor votes in the House and Senate next week.

Unless both houses approve the standby plan by the end of next week, it will die.

One modification that seems to be gaining support would impose a three-car cap on coupon eligibility, said House assistant Democratic leader John Brademas, D-Ind.

As submitted to Congress, the president's plan would allocate gasoline during serious fuel shortages based on the number of registered vehicles in a household.

Critics say this would give people who can afford many cars an automatic advantage over those who can't. They also argue that cars could be rescued from junk heaps and qualify for coupons.

"Some people were even calling the president's plan the 'used car dealer's relief bill,'" joked Brademas.

Brademas also predicted as likely a provision aimed at appeasing western states' House and Senate members by guaranteeing extra gasoline rations to states where gasoline use is heavy — often because of long driving distances and tourism.

Brademas said various ways are being considered to permit changes designed to win support — including possible resubmission of the plan with modifications. A 1975 law severely limits the possibility for amendment to the Carter proposal, Brademas said.

The rationing plan is seen only as a last resort during times of severe fuel shortages, such as another Arab oil embargo. The president says its availability is "imperative" for the nation's energy future.

Wayne Flora Is Appointed To Local Board Of Elections

Wayne Flora of Murray has been appointed by Drexell Davis, secretary of state and chairman of the State Board of Elections, to the Calloway County Board of Elections as a representative of the Democratic Party.

Flora, who replaces the late Dr. Earl Adams of Coldwater, was notified of his appointment by letter following a meeting of the State Board of Elections on April 26.

A retired salesman with Commonwealth Insurance, Flora served from 1950-54 as Calloway County sheriff and has served two terms as magistrate. He and his wife, Fay Nell, assistant registrar at Murray State University, reside at 702 Payne. They have three daughters.

Hospital Week To Begin May 6

In conjunction with Hospital Week that will be held May 6-12, the Murray-Calloway County Hospital held a press appreciation luncheon Thursday afternoon at the hospital cafeteria.

Representatives from the Murray Ledger and Times, WNBS, WKMS and WSPJ attended. Stuart Poston, hospital administrator, stated that the theme of hospital week is "The Voluntary Effort (VE) — It's Working for You."

The VE is a commitment for a nationwide effort to contain health care costs and insure patients of high quality care. Hospital people are developing more efficient ways to do their jobs and more productive ways to ensure proper care of patients, Poston said.

Poston said that the cost of health care has increased 14-15 percent in the last five years. He stated that efforts to keep up with new hospital technology and advancement are the major reasons for the increase.

Continuance of medical education and training for specialized fields have required pay increases for many employees, Poston said. He added that the hospital cannot afford to cut personnel to make up from wage increases.

The hospital employs 465 people and of the $9.2 million budget effective April 1, $4.5 million is for salaries, Poston said.

Poston added that the hospital is one of the biggest businesses in Murray, on an employee basis, and it attracts more out-of-county workers every year. He said that bringing these people into Murray is also beneficial to other city businesses.

As a part of hospital week, Poston said that an awards banquet for hospital personnel will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Beshear Gymnasium on the Murray State University campus. About 150 employees with at least five years at the hospital will be honored.

Locating an ambulance service in the hospital was discussed and Poston said that any decision would have to come for the hospital board.

Plans for Project Independence, using a home health care plan instead of convalescent homes, was also discussed.

In summing up the hospital progress, Poston said that this country has the best medical system but Americans are not the healthiest people because of a lack of self-discipline.

ATTENDS LUNCHEON — The Murray-Calloway County Hospital held a press appreciation luncheon Thursday afternoon prior to Hospital Week that will be held May 6-12. Among those attending the luncheon were (from left) Cathy Mitchell, WNBS, Kathy Hodge, hospital director of public relations, Stuart Poston, hospital administrator, Willard Alls, hospital director of pharmacy, Jim Lawson, director of Murray Vocational Center, Sammy Parker, WSPJ, and Marion Hattenbach, WKMS. Among those attending and not pictured were Walter Apperson, publisher of the Murray Ledger and Times, and Fransuelle Cole, WNBS.

Makeup artistry is creative and there is no single makeup shade that always looks right on you, just as no one pair of shoes is right for all outfits.

Clothing, skintones and hair color should all be considered when selecting your makeup. Color and texture of your clothing are the most important consideration because clothing reflects the greatest amount of color onto the face. Because hair frames the face it can reflect noticeable amounts of color also and should be considered when choosing makeup. Coldwater Homemakers Club Holds

Meeting At Home Of Mrs. Bazzell

Mrs. Ronnie Bazzell opened her home for the April meeting of the Coldwater Homemakers Club with Mrs. Dan Bazzell presiding.

The lesson on "Repairing and Updating Interior Walls" was presented and the hostess showed the group her newly decorated dining area and her son's rooms.

Seven members answered the roll call by naming their favorite spring flowers and spring foods, with tulips, turnip greens, and poke salad as winners. A visitor was Larue Mayfield. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Her son, Bradd, showed the new Easter suit she had made for him. The president also told how she and her son had fashioned a dress on Saturday afternoon for her daughter explaining what we could do with our hands if we would just get involved using them, a club spokesman said.

The club will meet Tuesday, May 8, at the home of Mrs. Newell Doores.

HEALTH

Advantages of chewing food

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Thank you for the fine advice to throw laxatives into the trash can and train the bowels naturally. I did just that and I'm very grateful for the advice.

All my life I was taught to chew my food well to digest the sugars and starches. My daughter worked for a fine doctor until his death who advised this, but my present physician says that this is not true — that the entire body handles sugar. Who's right?

Then recently I heard a New York doctor interviewed on TV about milk and he said milk caused gas in the upper digestive tract and often caused ulcers of the stomach. A woman asked him about mother's milk and he said not more than for two years.

I'm on a diet for diabetes and I'm supposed to use a half-cup of milk four times a day with meals and with a bedtime snack. I asked the doctor if I should drop the milk and use calcium tablets and he looked at me crossly and said, "Drink your milk." What do you think?

DEAR READER — First I think you were very smart to throw away the laxatives. I'm sending you The Health Letter number 12-8, Laxatives, Enemas and Suppositories, to give you a complete understanding of this problem. Other readers who want information about this can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Most people who use chemical laxatives shouldn't. It's a very bad habit.

The saliva in your mouth contains an enzyme which does break down starch.

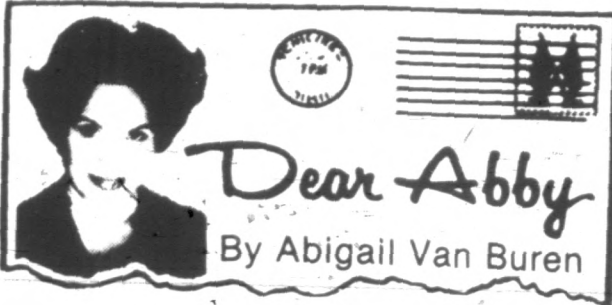

That's one advantage to chewing your food. When you have quite a bit of solid food and the saliva is mixed in the center of the food bolus in the stomach, this digestive process continues inside the bolus of food. If the food is exposed to the acid in the stomach, the enzyme will be immediately inactivated.

That doesn't matter too much because once the food is emptied into the small intestine, the same or similar enzymes from the pancreas enter in the small intestine and break down all the starch and carbohydrates for you.

Perhaps one of the better reasons for chewing your food quite a little while is that it prolongs eating. People who wait long enough will find they're satisfied with less food and that sometimes helps avoid eating too many calories.

Now about milk. It's perfectly true that it can be irritating to the digestive tract in many adults. The milk sugar may not be absorbed and this may cause gas and diarrhea — symptoms very similar to those noted for spastic colon. That does not mean that milk isn't a good food or that people shouldn't use it. Milk is our major source of calcium. Calcium found in some vegetables actually can't even be absorbed. Since you have had no symptoms of difficulties from milk, I see no reason why you shouldn't continue it. You certainly need the calcium.

I doubt your doctor was really cross with you. He probably just wanted to emphasize how important it was that you should have milk as part of your diet. Aren't you glad he cares enough about you to be concerned if you didn't follow the diet he thinks best for your health?

He's Depleting Her Trust Fund

DEAR ABBY: I've been going with Tony for two years. I'm 35 and divorced, and Tony is 34 and never been married. He's a typical macho Italian type.

Tony has his pad and I have mine. He suggested giving up his place and moving in with me, but I told him nothing doing unless I get that ring on my finger. Now he's after me to marry him. I love him, Abby, but I can't trust him. When I'm at his place he always unplugs the telephone. I've also seen evidence of other women there. (Ladies clothes, cosmetics, etc.)

So what does a gal do when she loves a guy she can't trust? He says things could be different if we were married. What do you think?

HUNG UP ON TONY

DEAR HUNG UP: A gal who loves a guy she can't trust doesn't know what misery is until she marries him. Things could be different all right. They could be WORSE. Hang on to your single blessedness.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have each called our own natural parents "Mom and Dad" since childhood. We live near his parents and, after several years I finally feel comfortable calling his parents "Mom and Dad," too.

When my mother heard me call my in-laws "Mom and Dad," she became very upset and said, "We are the only Mom and Dad you will ever have, so please find some other names for your in-laws."

What is your advice, Abby?

DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Tell your mother that calling your in-laws "Mom and Dad" in no way diminishes the very special love you have for your own parents. And furthermore, since YOU feel comfortable calling your in-laws "Mom and Dad," there is no reason to find other names for them.

DEAR ABBY: I have known this guy for two years, but we didn't get really serious about each other until seven months ago. I'm 18 and he's 19. He kept trying to get me to go to bed with him, and I kept saying no. Finally I gave in. I really was in love with him, Abby. I'm no tramp. I thought it would bring us closer together. Maybe even get him to figure out some way we could get married.

Well, I was wrong. After that evening I didn't hear one word from him. Finally I ran into him by accident three weeks later, and his attitude toward me was completely different. He acted like a stranger.

I feel so cheap. If I had known then what I know now, I never would have given in. But there's nothing I can do about it now.

I wasted something very precious on someone who wasn't worth it and didn't appreciate it. Please keep telling girls that the way to keep a guy is by NOT giving in to him. I wish I hadn't.

SORRY IN W. VA.

DEAR SORRY: I will. And maybe your experience will help some other girl when she has that decision to make.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Potted camellias can be set out at any time during the growing season. They should be planted in partial shade because camellias thrive in filtered sunlight. Gifts That Build The Church

I Corinthians 14:1-5, 26-33

From the worship services, which consisted primarily of the reading of the Old Testament, the singing of God's praises, personal testimonies of what God had done for them, and the public declaration of God's message by those who were designated the early Christians received great inspiration and tremendous strength. Paul encouraged his readers to have well balanced worship services which would honor the Lord and enrich the lives of the people.

The Reason for Spiritual Gifts —

I Corinthians 14:1-5

Spiritual gifts are varied, but all of them have been imparted for one great purpose, namely, the edification of the members of the church. There were members in the church at Corinth who prized very highly and exalted above all due proportions the gift of tongues, because it attracted attention and brought great glory to its possessor. Their speaking with tongues was a spontaneous, ecstatic, emotional utterance in a tongue which was not identified with any language ordinarily spoken by man, and had to be interpreted before it was of any value whatever to any hearer. One can only imagine the confusion in their worship services when several, who were especially fond of noise, novelty and excitement, simultaneously shouted utterances which were unintelligible to their listeners.

Since those tongues-speaking members were vying for attention with their unintelligible cries that were neither edifying nor strengthening to the other members, and were filled with pride because of their ability, while looking down on the other members who either could not or would not exercise that gift, the Holy Spirit through Paul reminded them how much better it would have been had they been active in building up and strengthening their fellow-believers in the Lord. He insisted on the superiority of other things, such as prophecy, or what we call preaching, because it gives a strong incentive to righteous living and effective service. By prophesying is meant the communication of a revelation from God in terms which are understood by them.

The Rules For Exercising Spiritual Gifts

I Corinthians 14:26-33

To prevent the tongues-speaking members from contributing to confusion and bedlam instead of the worshipful atmosphere which becomes the house of God, rules of order were laid down in these verses. Not more than three tongues-speakers were permitted to speak in any service, and then only if an interpreter were present to interpret their utterances. Furthermore, they were restricted to speaking one at a time, with each being followed by an interpreter. Unless an interpreter was present, one who had an urge to speak in an unintelligible tongue was commanded to remain silent.

Likewise, if two or more prophets or preachers were present and had the desire to speak with intelligible words, they, too, were required to do so in turns and never in unison. Of course, their explanations of the scriptures were subject to the examination and judgement of the other members of the church. In view of the scriptural exhortation to "covet earnestly" the best gifts, and the fact that Christians can receive and communicate God's revelation to others in terms which are easily understood by them and greatly enriched thereby, it is difficult to understand why anybody would either covet or gloat over the least of all gifts, namely, speaking in a language to others which they could not understand or profit in the least by hearing. Church services are to be conducted in a spirit of reverence, and all things done in them are to be done decently and in order so that both the believers and the unbelievers may be helped by them as God wants them to be. It is far better to speak a few words for Christ that are intelligible and edifying and strengthening than to jabber in sounds or utterances that cannot be understood. Why participate in exercises from which nobody receives instruction or practical help?

If your military service is creditable as railroad service, you can get credit for a month of railroad service for each month of creditable military service. To determine whether your military service is creditable as railroad service, check with your railroad retirement board to make sure your military time has not been credited to some other pension. Earnings credits based on military service are then used in the calculation of both the tier I and tier II portions of your retirement annuity. The tier I portion is based on combined railroad retirement and Social Security credits, and tier II on railroad service alone.

The Story Of

Calloway County

1822-1976

By Dorothy and Kerby Jennings

Copyright, 1978

The city council authorized the construction of concrete walks on all four sides of the square, down Main Street to Overby Grocery, west to the high school on both sides of the street. Two other important events occurred in the November election when the city turned down the purchase of the electric company by a bare majority of 15 votes and the county at large rejected a bond issue to build a new court house, 1,177 no, 955 yes. In the race for state representative, Swann, the Democrat, polled 1423 votes, but was seriously challenged by Rev. R. L. Hart, Independent, with 1072, the largest vote ever recorded in the county for an Independent candidate. The Democrat Party in the general suffered its sharpest reversal since the Civil War and was interpreted as the consequence of the impending Night Rider troubles.

Fire destroyed the bottling works of J. F. Morris on Depot Street where the famous strawberry pop was siphoned into a long glass bottle with the contents strained through a wire trigger opener. For re-use, just pull the rubber stopper back up to seal.

Nathan B. Stubblefield and son made two trips during the year to Washington, D. C., in the interest of obtaining patents on his wireless telephone.

Night Rider disturbances in adjoining counties were creating havoc. With all efforts to keep violence outside this county, J. B. Swann, county chairman for the Association, had received information an effort would be made to burn Association facilities here, prompting the chairman to hire a special watchman to supervise the premises. Despite the lookout, the warehouse was set afire, but was rapidly extinguished. Hardly had the fire been put out before another blaze was set to an adjoining warehouse of the farm co-op. The fires ignited tempers of Association members for the injustices of the tobacco trusts in an effort to disrupt the efforts of the union. This was the first outbreak of violence in Calloway County, which should be remembered did not originate on the part of the so-called Night Riders. The fires occurred on the night of Nov. 28, 1907.

Another incident of passing significance for the year was the overland visit of two tourists in a Packard automobile enroute from Detroit, Mich., to Dallas, Tex.

I Am A Sick American

(Editor's Note: The following address given at the Kentucky Jurisdictional Convention, Woodmen of the World, Louisville, Kentucky, April 7, by National Trustee Glen Reavis, Hornbeak, Tennessee. It was passed along to us by Buford Hurt.)

"I Am A Sick American"

I am going to amaze you by saying, "I am a sick American." There are those of us who claim that our's is a sick society, that our country is sick, that we're sick. Well, maybe they are right. I submit that I am sick and maybe you are too. I am sick of having policemen ridiculed and called pigs, while cop killers are hailed as some kind of folk hero.

I am sick of being told that religion is what is wrong with the people, but marijuana should be legalized. I am sick of commentators and columnists canonizing anachronies, revolutionaries, and criminal rapists, but condemning law enforcement when such criminals are brought to justice.

I am sick of being told that pornography is the right of free press, but freedom of the press does not include the reading of the Bible on school grounds. I am sick of paying more and more taxes to build schools while I see some faculty members encouraging students to either tear them down or burn them.

I am sick of supreme court decisions which take away my means of protecting my home and family while other decisions turn criminals loose on society. I am sick of pot smoking entertainers deluging me with their condemnation of my moral standards on television.

I am sick of being told it is wrong to use napalm to end a war overseas, but if it is a molotov cocktail or a bomb here at home I must understand the provocations.

I am sick of not being able to take my family to a movie unless I want to have them exposed to nudity, homosexuality, and the glorification of narcotics. I am sick of riots, marches, protests, demonstrations, confutations, and other temper tantrums by people that are intellectually incapable of working within our system.

I am sick of those who say that I owe them this or that because of the sins of my forefather when I have defended their rights, their liberties and their families. I am sick of cynical attitudes towards patriotism.

I am sick of politicians with no backbone. I am sick of permissiveness. I am sick of the dirty, the foul mouth, the unwashed.

I am sick of the decline in personal honesty, personal integrity, and human sincerity, but most of all I am sick of being told that I am sick.

I am sick of being told that my country is sick when we have the greatest nation that man has ever brought forth on the face of the earth. Fifty percent of the people on earth would willingly trade places with the most deprived, the most under privileged among us. Yes, I may be sick but if I am only sick, I can get well.

Take note, all of you, you will not find me throwing a rock or a bomb. You will not find me under a placard. You will not see me take to the streets. You will not find me ranting to wild-eyed mobs. You WILL find me at work, paying taxes, serving the community where I live.

You WILL also find me expressing my anger and indignation to elected officials.

You WILL find me speaking out in support of those officials, fraternities, and personalities who contribute to the elevation of society and not to it's destruction.

You WILL also find me contributing my time, money and personal influence to helping churches, charities and other establishments where men have shown the true spirit of the country's determination to ease pain and suffering, to eliminate hunger and to generate brotherhood.

But most of all, you WILL find me at the polling place. There, if you listen, you can hear the thunder of the common man. There each of us can cast our vote for an America where people can walk the streets without fear.

I was so pleased to see this Jurisdictional Convention pass the resolution that was presented here today about exactly the same thing I am speaking to you about. Evidently, this convention shares my thoughts and the good this society can do for mankind.

There is a lot of good that can be done and no one can do it for us. It will be left up to you and I. The Legacy that we leave our children is your responsibility and mine; and I certainly hope that not only in this great Jurisdictional Convention - that is a part of your Society, but in every part of your life you will remember the one thing that we have that we can carry on - our good name, and our good will.

I consider the Woodmen of the World one of the blessings in my life. There will be no sadness, there will be no sorrow, and there will be no loneliness as long as I am a part of this great Fraternal Society. Thank you - very much.

HIDDEN TREASURE

Children are intrigued with the idea of a treasure hunt. The prospect of riches in some hidden place creates great excitement. As we grow older we cease to believe that we might find unexpected treasure. We become accustomed to the idea that we must work hard for any riches that we might acquire.

Yet there is a great source of riches that remains untapped for many. This source is called the Bible. Between its pages are words of great wisdom and beauty. Go on a treasure hunt today. Open your Bible and find the riches it offers to you.

Giants' Choice Of Eagles' Phil Simms Draws Jeers

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK — The New York Giants, thwarted in their attempt to land Jack Thompson, made quarterback Phil Simms of Morehead State their first round selection in the annual National Football League college draft.

The Giants, selecting seventh on the basis of their 6-10 record last season, then opted for the little-known Simms, prompting jeers from the crowd at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Simms, a 6-foot-2, 215-pound native of Louisville, was the ninth-ranked passer in NCAA Division I-AA and second in the Ohio Valley Conference last season.

He was a second team all-conference selection last season.

season.

PHIL SIMMS

Simms was a four year starter at Morehead, throwing for 5,545 career yards, 32 touchdowns and 45 interceptions.

Simms, evaluated by one scout to be in the mold of New York Jets' quarterback Richard Todd, joins holdovers Joe Pisarcik, Jerry Golsteyn and Randy Dean in the battle for the Giants' starting job.

Last season, Giants quarterbacks combined to complete just 47 percent of their passes, throw 10 touchdowns and 21 interceptions.

"Two weeks ago, I would have said that Phil would go in the second or third round," said Simms' agent, Mike Merkow of Los Angeles. "But I had heard too much lately...that Chicago was looking for a quarterback, and so was San Diego and San Francisco."

Francisco.

"Then Ray Perkins called me last night (Wednesday)...and told me to have Phil call him, no matter what time Phil got in. So I was pretty sure then that Phil would go in the first round."

Simms wasn't so sure. "I was pretty pessimistic," he admitted. "I didn't even want to think about going in the first round because I didn't want to let myself down."

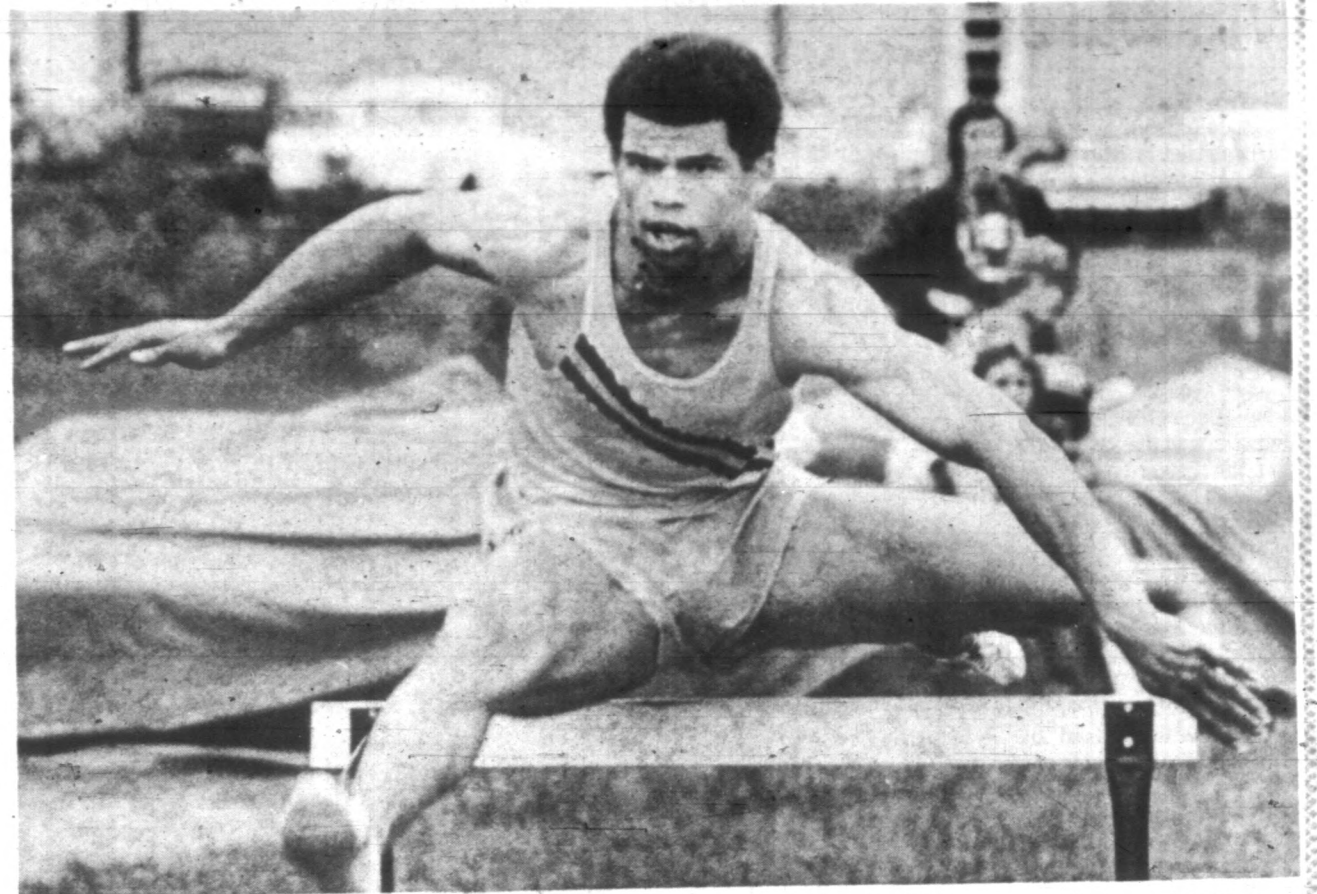

Still, Simms knew that the pros were interested.

"About 20 of the pro teams had been down here to have me work out," he said. "They all wanted to see how fast I set up, whether I could throw the long ball and the long square-out," he said.

Perkins "told me he was real enthused after he saw me work out," Simms recalled. "I knew they had a real early pick, but I didn't give it much thought after that."

The Giant coach figured he wasn't alone in chasing Simms.

"We had a very good reason to believe he would not be available in the second round," Perkins said. "There were no temptations to draft anyone else. We knew what we were going to do within the scope of the position."

OVC Tournament Again Washed Out

MOREHEAD, Ky. — The rain keeps falling, and the start of the Ohio Valley Conference baseball tournament continues to be pushed back.

Murray State's scheduled opener with Austin Peay this morning was washed out, as was the Middle Tennessee-Morehead game. The tournament was originally set to begin yesterday.

Murray Coach Johnny Reagan isn't sure how the tourney will develop, but he thinks it could become a single elimination event.

"We're meeting today to decide, but I'm not sure of what will happen. My guess would be a single-elimination tournament," he said by phone this morning.

Reagan said the 'Breds would return to Murray Sunday. Final examinations begin next week.

The NCAA regional, to which the OVC winner will advance, is set for May 18-19-20 at a site yet to be determined.

League Reprieve

Good Showing Could Help 'Struggling' Racers

by TONY WILSON
Sports Editor
A combination of factors has kept the Murray State golf team from playing to its potential this spring, says Coach Buddy Hewitt, but it could get a reprieve next week.

Golfers from the Ohio Valley Conference will tee it up at the Kentucky Dam Village course in Gilbertsville for the league championship Monday and Tuesday.

The last Hewitt squad to win a conference title was in 1971; since that time, though, the best the Racers have done was a third place in 1972 and a second in '75.

"We've been struggling this year, no doubt about it," said Hewitt, the only golf coach Murray has ever had. "This late spring, the rainy weather and things of that nature have made it difficult to get anything going."

A golf team, much like a basketball squad, usually needs that one player able to dominate. In golf's case, he's a player that comes through with the big round late in a tournament.

But no Racer has consistently surfaced, says Hewitt, though at times, his squad has shown it has talent.

In the April 20-21 Kentucky Intercollegiate in Richmond, Larry Patton, a junior from Kendallville, Ind., fired a final-round 68 to finish second overall and help Murray to a third-place standing. "But performances like that have been few this spring. In late March, the Racers finished 15th in the 18-team Marshall University Intercollegiate, then followed with a 14th-place showing in the 20-team Colonel Classic.

After a last-place finish in a four-team OVC match at Austin Peay, the Racers enjoyed their fine showing in the Kentucky Intercollegiate. Last week, though, it was the second division again — this time, a finish of 18th in the 21-squad Chris Schenkel Invitational in Statesboro, Ga.

"We haven't played nearly well enough to even think about any kind of national play," Hewitt says. "So the OVC tournament is really all we have to worry about."

Hewitt has spent the last few days in Ocala, Fla., recruiting players competing in the National Junior College championships, and, though he won't mention any names, he feels two golfers who will likely visit the campus soon could turn his program around.

"I've already got one fine recruit in Lynn Sullivan (a Murray High senior)," Hewitt said. "If I could get those other two, we could have a fine season next year."

Racers and scoring rounds who will likely compete in the OVC match are Patton, 76.8; Tom Fischer, 76.9; Brian McDonald, 76.8; Bill Berg, 77.2 and Brad Boyd, 83.0.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Every Kentucky Derby — and there have been 104 of them — has a name. It is a label that makes the particular race easily identifiable — an exceptional horse, a great jockey, a rhubarb, a dramatic turn of events — to be savored over the years.

There have been Eddie Arcaro, Bill Shoemaker, Bill Hartack and Steve Cauthen derbies. There have been Citation, Swaps, Secretariat and Seattle Slew derbies. There have been Colonel Bradley derbies and derbies remembered for whiplashing stretch duels (Broker's Tip-Head Play, 1933), doping charges (Dancer's Image, 1968), blunders (Bill Shoemaker, 1957) and women's lib (Regret, the only filly ever to beat the males, 1915).

Now comes Kentucky Derby No. 105. It has to go into history as the "Buddy Delp Derby."

Whether or not his steel-gray thunderbolt, Spectacular Bid, lives up to expectations, Buddy Delp occupies center stage.

If his colt wins, he is a genius. As Muhammad Ali was wont to do throughout his career, he put his money where his mouth was. He made a boast ad brought it off. If he losses, he becomes thoroughbred racing's biggest scapegoat — the trainer who risked the year's finest racing machine to a raw, 19-year-old jockey and got him beat in America's biggest horse race before 70 million fans.

He is the man who let his heart dictate to his head, who allowed sentiment to drown cold logic in one of the toughest businesses in sports.

But out of it — win, lose or draw — Buddy Delp has emerged as an engaging, down-to-earth personality who managed to captivate the press and public in his week in the sun.

"Spectacular Bid can't talk," he says, "so where would you guys be if I didn't talk for him?" Much in the fashion of the loquacious, often bombastic and always theatrical Alibi Delp talks at the drop of a $2 losing mutuel ticket.

"The horse that won the Flamingo," he said of Spectacular Bid's 12-length triumph at Hialeah March 24, "could have beaten Man o'War, Secretariat and Seattle Slew."

Maryland-born Buddy Delp has spent 20 years around race tracks, at first filling water buckets, hauling straw and shoveling manure, later nursing cheap claimers. Before he caught on with Spectacular Bid, he had won only one $100,000 race.

Confident Bruce Lietzke Tied For Houston Lead

By the Associated Press
HOUSTON — One simple little act, a word to his caddy, indicated the degree of satisfaction and confidence felt by Bruce Lietzke.

"It's always a great feeling, after playing 18 holes, to tell your caddy to put the clubs away; to know that you don't have anything wrong with your game, that you don't need to work on anything," Lietzke said after firing a five-under-par 66 and joining four others in a share of the first-round lead Thursday in the $300,000 Houston Open Golf Tournament.

"The confidence is there, the putter is there, the concentration is there. I'm looking forward to a very good tournament," Lietzke said.

"I've never played well at all at Houston, but, having played pretty well the last couple of weeks, I thought this might be the year. It was a very good start and I'm very happy with the way things are going."

Lietzke, a runner-up in his last two starts, shared the top spot with Leonard Thompson, Jim Dent, Jim Colbert and Butch Baird.

One stroke back at 67 were Gary McCord, Al Geiberger, Barney Thompson, Tommy Valentine, Alan Tapie and Bill Rogers.

Tigers, Lakers Win Meet

Murray High used three first-place finishes by sprinter Craig Johnson to edge Fulton City in a triangular track meet yesterday at Murray High School.

The Tigers' 54 points bested the Bulldogs (52) and Calloway County (31).

In the girls meet, Calloway County improved its mark to 7-0 by easily outpointing Murray High and Fulton City.

Johnson won the 330 hurdles (42.7), the 100-yard dash (10.5) and the 120 high hurdles (16.9) to pace the Tigers' first victory this season.

Other firsts for Murray were Joe Mark Alls in the mile run and the mile-relay team, composed of Alls, Kenny Davis, Wells and Mike Gough.

Ron Childress captured the shot and discus to lead the Lakers, and Stan Rushing won the 880.

The Laker girls took firsts in nine of the 14 events, including all the field events. Rose Ross and Mina Todd each grabbed two victories for Calloway.

Ross won the 110 hurdles and the mile run, while Todd took the shot and the high jump. Other Laker firsts included the mile relay team, Melissa Miller in the 330 hurdles and Stephanie Wyatt in the discus.

Jaina Wasber won the 100-yard dash and teamed for two victories in the relays to help the Tigers. Other Murray competitors to take firsts were Candy Jackson in the 220 and Donna Rousse in the 440.

The Murray High squads travel to Mayfield Tuesday for a triangular meet with the Cardinals and Fulton City. The Laker teams' next action is May 12 in the regionals.

Rose Ross (front) and Penny Overbey complete the second lap of the mile run in the Lakers' track meet against Fulton City and Murray High yesterday. Ross won the event, and Overbey was third to help Calloway's triumph.

Little Brother Joe Grabs 97th; Twins Saved Again

By the Associated Press

When you're just a guy named Joe, it's tough making it big in the big leagues — especially when your brother's name is Phil.

The success of his older brother has overshadowed Joe Niekro all of his career. And even though he has not managed to match Phil Niekro's accomplishments, Joe Niekro has done all right for himself.

The Houston pitcher won the 97th game of his major league career Thursday night, hurling a 4-1 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals with late relief help.

Niekro delivered only 89 pitches, mixing a good fastball and slider with his time-honored knuckler.

"Sometimes you get in a rut if you go with too many knucklers," he said. "Today was the best I've felt. I don't know what it was. I came to the park and I just felt limber."

While Niekro's knuckler was dancing in the dark, St. Louis Manager Ken Boyer was impressed.

"He doesn't just bring it down Broadway, either," said Boyer. "He can pitch it where he wants it. He moves it around. It's very difficult for a hitter to get good wood on what he throws."

In other National League action, the San Francisco Giants beat the New York Mets 7-5, the San Diego Padres routed the Montreal Expos 10-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers turned back the Philadelphia Phillies 5-2. Rain postponed the Pittsburgh-Atlanta game.

One of those runs Thursday came off the bat of Roy Smalley, who cracked a tie-breaking homer in the eighth. On a hot streak, Smalley has blasted five homers this year and leads the Twins with a .386 batting average.

In the night's only other AL game, the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Toronto Blue Jays 5-4. The Texas-Chicago game was postponed by rain.

Smalley broke a 6-6 tie with a leadoff homer, his fifth of the year, off loser Jack Billingham, 1-3. Marshall, 34, hurled 21-3 innings of shutout relief.

The Twins tied it 6-6 in the bottom of the seventh when Ron Jackson singled with one out, moved to second after Willie Norwood walked and then scored on Bobby Randall's single.

Brewers 5, Blue Jays 4

Two bases-loaded walks by Tom Underwood in the ninth inning provided Milwaukee with its victory over Toronto.

Battle Between Spectacular Bid And Flying Paster May Be Akin To Affirmed-Alydar Races

By the Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — There figures to be plenty of longshots on the board when 10 colts go to the post Saturday in the 105th Kentucky Derby — a race expected to be a battle between Spectacular Bid and Flying Paster.

Whether those two standouts will be this year's Affirmed and Alydar, who ran 1-2 in all three 1978 Triple Crown events, remains to be seen. While Affirmed and Alydar tangled as 2-year-olds and carried it through last year beginning in the Derby, Spectacular Bid and Flying Paster will be meeting for the first time Saturday.

Spectacular Bid, who campaigned mostly in Florida this year, has been installed the 3-5 early line favorite to make the Derby his 11th straight stakes triumph and begin his quest to become the third straight Triple Crown champion, following Affirmed and Seattle Slew. There has been only 11 horses in thoroughbred history who have won the Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Flying Paster, seeking to become only the fourth California-bred to capture the $200,000-added Derby, was made the 9-5 second choice for the 1 1/4-mile classic which is expected to draw a crowd of more than 100,000 at Churchill Downs and a national television audience (ABC).

Spectacular Bid, owned by the Hawksworth Farm, has won 12 of 14 starts, his last victory coming in the Blue Grass Stakes. Ben Ridder's Flying Paster includes the Hollywood and Santa Anita derbies among his 10 victories in 14 starts.

Much speculation has centered around Spectacular Bid's jockey, 19-year-old Ronnie Franklin, who nearly lost his Derby mount with a poor, but victorious ride in the March 6 Florida Derby. Franklin lives with the colt's trainer, Bud Delp — the man who publicly denounced the youngster as an "idiot" following the Hialeah race.

Throwing up a screen of bravado, Franklin, a jockey only since Feb. 4, 1978, says, "It's just another horse race. I can ride just as hard or better than the other guy."

Meanwhile, Flying Paster, who bettered Affirmed's Hollywood Derby record for 1 1/4 miles April 14, will be ridden by Don Pierce, a veteran of 25 years and three previous Derbies. "I have the opportunity to use my experience and give me the edge," said Pierce.

Others in the field are all rated from 10-1 and up. Most promising from this group are William Oldknow and Robert Phipps' Golden Act, winner of the Arkansas and Louisiana derbies, 10-1, Sandy Hawley up; Flying Zee Stable's Screen King, third in both the Wood Memorial and Gotham at Aqueduct, 12-1, with Angel Cordero aboard, and Bert Firestone's General Assembly, the inconsistent lookalike son of 1973 Triple Crown winner Secretariat, 15-1, Laffit Pincay in the saddle.

The rest of the field includes Frederick Lehmann's Lot o' Gold, Che-Bar Stable's King Celebrity, Rogers Red Top Inc.'s Shamgo and surprise starter Great Redeemer, owned by Dr. J.A. Mohamed, each 30-1.

Great Redeemer, winless in six starts and a third-place finisher in Tuesday's Derby Trial at odds of better than 90-1, will be the first maiden to run in the Derby since 1971 when Fourulla finished 19th in a field of 20. Mohamed is listed as both owner and trainer since James James, who had been the colt's trainer, resigned when Mohamed decided to run the horse in the Derby.

Spectacular Bid, regarded as having the most speed in the race, will leave from post No. 3 post while Flying Paster will leave from the No. 9 spot.

Delp indicated he was not concerned about Spectacular Bid's post position. "He had the No. 1 post position when he almost ran in world record time. It doesn't make any difference because they have a quarter of a mile run from the head of the lane down to the turn, and if they can't get position by then, they don't belong in the Kentucky Derby," said Delp.

Gordon Campbell, trainer of Flying Paster, said he was pleased with the nine post. "He should have clear sailing out there and avoid any trouble," Campbell said.

If all start, the Derby will be worth $304,900 — second highest purse in its history — with the winner earning $217,400.

Saturday is expected to be cloudy and unseasonably cold with possible scattered showers ending in the morning.

Post time is 5:38 p.m. EDT.

First Murray State Twilight Meet Should Feature Impressive Action

Quality, not quantity, will be the attraction when almost 100 track and field athletes gather at Roy Stewart Stadium for the first Murray State Twilight Invitational tomorrow afternoon.

There will be no team scoring kept, since the goal of most of the competitors will be to equal, or better NCAA qualifying standards.

"We expect a high quality meet with a good supply of top athletes," said MSU Coach Bill Cornell. "This will be a good opportunity to witness several qualifiers for the NCAA Championships."

Competition starts at 4:30 p.m. with the discus. The preliminaries in the running events will begin at 6 p.m., and the meet will conclude with the mile relay at 9:10 p.m.

The event has attracted representatives from 17 teams and several individuals who will compete unattached.

"We have several potential All-Americans," said Cornell. "We also have numerous former Olympic competitors and world class athletes."

Teams represented will include Middle Tennessee, Western Kentucky, Austin Peay, Cincinnati, Kentucky, St. Louis, Tennessee Tech, Fisk, the Mason-Dixon Track Club, David Lipscomb, the Gateway Striders, the St. Louis Track Club, the OGE Athletic Club, the Blue Diamond Track Club and host Murray.

In addition to the athletes' reaching of several NCAA standards, at least 12 Stewart Stadium records are expected to be in jeopardy.

Audit Report
Year Ending December 31, 1978

The Honorable Mayor and Board of Councilmen of the City of Murray
City Hall, Murray, Kentucky 42071

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheet of the City of Murray General Fund, Revenue Sharing Fund, Hospital Tax Fund, Emergency Fund, Anti-Recession Fund, Central Garage Construction Fund, Cemetery Perpetual Care Fund, Fire Hydrants Fund, Fire Extinguishers Service Fund and Disaster Fund as of December 31, 1978 and the related statements of revenue, expenditures and fund balances for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and statements of revenue, expenditures and fund balances present fairly the financial position of the aforementioned funds of the City of Murray at December 31, 1978 and the results of operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

PUBLIC NOTICES
"BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW"

(Editor's Note: Public Notice advertising plays a unique role both in American history and in the process by which this country's democracy is preserved. Its one premise is that people must be informed if they are to govern themselves competently. Public Notice advertising first came into being with the Congress of 1792. That body, recognizing its responsibility to the people, required the Postmaster General to advertise for bids for the construction of new post offices. From that inauspicious beginning to the complex publication requirements in federal, state and local laws today, government officials have come more and more to understand their obligations to inform the public through Public Notice advertising. Newspapers over the years have been the vehicle by which these obligations have been fulfilled. They will continue to be as long as the public demands that it be informed frequently and by the best means possible.)

Let A REALTOR® Sell Your Home

Selling your home takes time and effort — natural resources it pays to conserve. And you could lose more than the commission you want to save if you don't know what you're doing.

How do you set a realistic selling price? Is it safe to open your home for anybody who wants to look around? Should you tie yourself down waiting for calls or visitors?

Turn these problems over to an expert — A Realtor. Realtors are the real estate agents who belong to the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS, a group of more than 500,000 real estate professionals in all 50 states. For more than 70 years, the Association has been helping REALTORS improve their knowledge, training and skills.

When you're ready to sell your home, use the pipeline that brings fast action and a fair return. Call a REALTOR FIRST.

"As Realtors, one of our most important obligations to the sellers we represent is to screen our prospects. We never send a prospect to you unaccompanied by one of our associates. We would never expect you to admit a prospect who might come to the door or call you on the phone without first checking with us. Wouldn't you feel better with your wife and children home alone under these circumstances? If a rough character comes to the door, it is difficult for your wife to refuse to show, and she can't very well tell each prospect to go away and come back when her husband is home."

HERE'S HEALTH

By DR. BRYAN THACKER

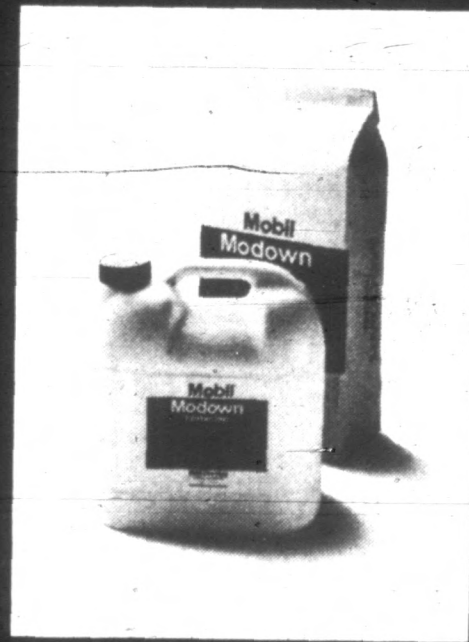

Severe spinal disability is often the result of months or years of neglect of a misaligned vertebra. The body tries to compensate by adjusting the normal vertebrae and related muscles so that the spinal nerve system is not impaired.

These adaptive measures place a strain on the entire spinal column. Eventually, something triggers a breakdown that brings pain, disability, even symptoms of organic disease. Periodic chiropractic examinations reveal spinal misalignments while they are still small and correction is not too difficult.

Maintain good health through regular chiropractic examination and adjustment. Phone today and make an appointment.

The great Modown 3-for-the-price-of-2 offer. Try it. The weeds in your soybeans will hate it.

The people at Mobil Chemical want to introduce you to Modown® herbicide. They want you to see the job it does on velvetleaf, smartweed, jimsonweed, lambsquarters, pigweed, teaweed and tall morningglory.

They want you to know that it works at one rate on all soils. That, unlike the triazine herbicides, it doesn't add to chemical build-up. And that it doesn't need as much rainfall as most herbicides now on the market.

So they're letting us give you an extra pound or gallon for every two you buy. We think it's a great way to introduce you to Modown. And a great way to get you to come see us.
