WEEKLY NEW ERA.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1906.

VOLUME XXVI, NO. 8

SECRETLY WEDDED

HOPKINSVILLE GIRL MARRIES A MARION CITIZEN

Ceremony Was Performed in Evansville Two Weeks Ago and Not Told Until Now.

That Miss Annie Roche, of this city, and Mr. Johnson Crider, of Marion, were secretly married in Evansville two weeks ago yesterday, January 9, was made public today.

On that day Miss Roche went to Evansville where she was met by her fiancé and going to the study of Rev. Wigginton, pastor of the Presbyterian church, they were quietly married. After the ceremony the bride returned to Hopkinsville where she has been at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Roche, and Mr. Crider returned to Marion, the couple preferring to keep the wedding a secret for a short time. Mrs. Crider will remain here until about Saturday when she will join her husband at Fredonia where they will reside.

The bride is a popular and attractive young lady. When the raid was made on the tobacco warehouses at Princeton by the mob of night raiders on the morning of December 1, she was on duty alone in the central office of the telephone company and was held under guard by the raiders for fully an hour.

The groom is a prominent young business man of Marion and Crittenden county and is a brother of Mrs. R. E. Cooper of this city. He is extensively identified with the mining interests of his county.

Body is Found.

The body of Buster Allen, the negro boy who was drowned in the West Fork of Red river near Logan's Mill in the extreme southern portion of this county several days ago, was found Wednesday afternoon five miles from the place where the drowning occurred.

Four fine mules belonging to Sam Allen were drowned at the same time, the boy driving into the stream for the purpose of watering the mules.

Diligent efforts were made for several days to find the boy's body but all proved unavailing and yesterday it was found in the mouth of a spring five miles away.

Another Wreck.

A freight train was wrecked about twenty-five miles this side of Nashville early last night, by a broken flange causing seven cars to be derailed and tearing up the track for a considerable distance. The Chicago Limited, northbound, passed through here about 10:30 last night over the L. & N. and the southbound fast train came through this morning the same way in order to get the passengers through to Nashville without delay. No one was injured.

BULLETINS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—Senator Russell A. Alger died today.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 24.—The court of appeals today reversed the decision of the Christian circuit court in the case of Crabtree vs. Sisk.

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 24.—William Whitley, founder of the first department store, was assassinated today in his store.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Jan. 24.—Bert Zeekley, American cowboy, in a fight today single-handed killed six Mexicans.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 24.—The court of appeals holds the chicken stealing felony law constitutional.

Dr. Edwards, specialty eye, ear, nose and throat. Test made free of charge for glasses. Phoenix bldg. Main St., Hopkinsville.

MR. SHONTS RESIGNS

AS CHAIRMAN OF THE CANAL COMMISSION.

His Action is Voluntary And He Becomes President Of a Large Transit Company

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The resignation of Theodore P. Shonts as chairman of the Isthmian Canal commission is announced at the White house having been tendered to the president and accepted by him according to correspondence made public. It will take effect not later than March 4, Mr. Shonts having been elected as president of the Interborough Metropolitan company, which controls the Rapid Transit and many surface lines in New York.

John F. Stevens, the engineer in charge of the construction of the canal will probably be Mr. Shonts' successor. Mr. Shonts' resignation was voluntary.

ON SATURDAY NIGHT

TRAVELING MEN WILL HAVE ANNUAL BANQUET.

Invitations have been sent out as follows:

The Hopkinsville Traveling Men's Association requests the honor of your presence at

The First Annual Banquet at Hotel Latham Saturday evening, January the 28th nineteen hundred and seven Eight-thirty o'clock.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the event, for the traveling men never do things by half.

The following program of after-dinner speeches is announced:

"Samples" C. M. Meacham Mayor of Hopkinsville
"Clubs and Tramps" L. H. Davis Secretary of the Commercial club
"A Line of Talk" T. C. Underwood Editor Kentucky New Era
"On the Road" James Y. Cabaniss, Evansville, Ind.

"The Christian Traveling Man" H. D. Smith Pastor Church of Christ
Mayor Meacham will also act as toastmaster.

The Hopkinsville Traveling Men's association has been organized only a short time, but it is a wide-awake and interesting club.

The reception committee for the banquet is as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Holt R. Price, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Trahern, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lacey and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Blades.

PERSONAL NOTES.

(From Thursday's Daily)

Emstley Crabtree has accepted a position with Grau Brothers bakery.

Mrs. T. J. Baugh and little son, Thomas, went to Greenville this morning to visit relatives.

A. D. Young, of Pembroke, was in the city yesterday.

CHINAMAN AS COP

ARRESTED A JAP ON CHARGE OF THEFT.

Had Trouble in Getting His Yellow Skin Brother to Police Station But Succeeded.

(From Thursday's Daily)

Considerable excitement was caused at the L. & N. depot yesterday afternoon when Louis Chang, one of the Chinese laundrymen of this city, rushed on to the platform and seizing a well dressed man, who was carrying a suit case, began to pull him toward the pavement. The Chinaman got his man as far as Seventh and Clay streets without much trouble but here the prisoner balked and from there to the police office it was an almost continuous struggle between the two, but Louis finally landed his man at the lockup where he charged him with having stolen a watch from his partner, Joe Hong.

Chang claimed that the man, who gave his name to Judge Brasher as Ben Hermond and claimed to be a Japanese, had come to the laundry on Virginia street and claimed to be a Chinaman, and that when he left he carried away the watch and also $3 in money. He pursued and arrested him as already told.

The prisoner did not deny taking the watch but asserted that the Chinese laundrymen had $4 of his money which he could not regain and he took the watch as collateral. The case was presented in city court this morning where the charge against the prisoner was changed from petit larceny to grand larceny and the case was set for 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Prince Here.

F. W. Prince is at Hotel Latham and will remain for some time in Hopkinsville. He is here in the interest of that famous work, "The John L. Stoddard's Lectures". As a source of knowledge concerning everything in which people are likely to be interested the Stoddard Lectures have no equal, and the opportunity presented by Mr. Prince is one that should appeal strongly to Hopkinsville people.

PROJECT IS REVIVED.

EASTERN ASYLUM MAY BE REMOVED FROM LEXINGTON.

The state board of control for charitable institutions has in its report, now in course of preparation, revived the project discussed at the last general assembly of rebuilding the Eastern Asylum upon some other site in Fayette county, or removing it to some other place, says a Frankfort dispatch in the Courier-Journal. The governor will be asked to make some recommendation to the next Legislature in the matter.

The institution was erected eighty years ago, and is now wholly within the limits of Lexington, which is undesirable for many reasons. Last winter the assembly members discussed the advisability of placing the institution upon the site of the State Institution for Feeble-minded Children, situated here, and doing away with the local institution as at present operated.

The state board will also request the governor to recommend an amendment to the law creating the body to the end that it will have full control of the moneys which the state pays for the operation of the institutions under its management. The members feel that they will save a good sum each year from the per-capita allowance and want authority to place the savings in one fund from which they can draw for repairs and extensions at either of the four institutions, instead of using the money saved at one institution altogether at that institution.

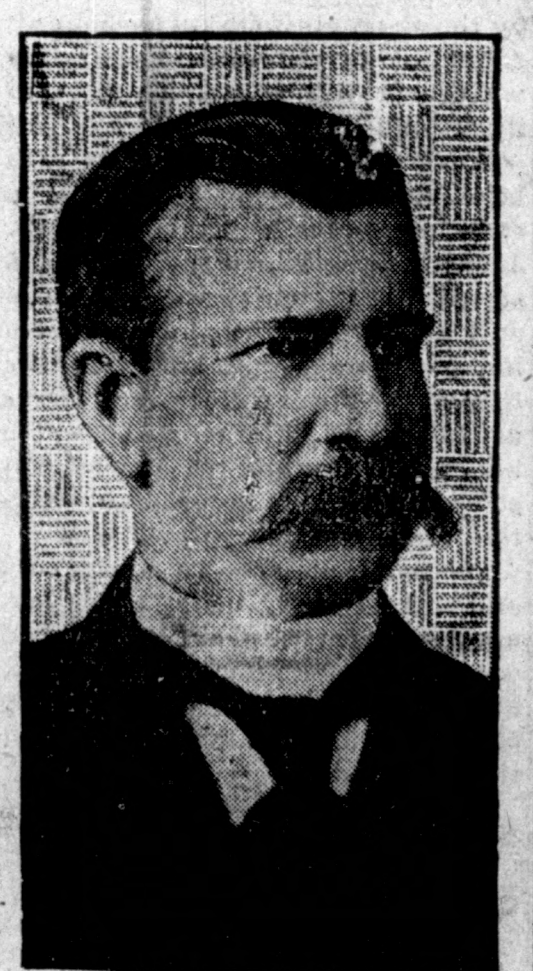

The election of the members of the institution has been postponed for some place for so will likely be voided for general institutions.

GEN. WRIGHT'S PLAN

RETIRES FROM DIPLOMATIC SERVICE IN AUGUST

To Resume Practice of Law at His Home in Memphis, According To Report.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—According to a private cablegram received in Washington from a prominent government official in Manila, Gen. Luke E. Wright, American ambassador to Japan, has made known to his friends that he will retire from the diplomatic service next August, and will return to his home in Memphis, Tenn., to resume the practice of law.

Neither President Roosevelt nor the secretary of state has been advised that Mr. Wright will relinquish his post at Tokio.

DESPERATE FIGHT

BETWEEN SHERIFF'S POSSE AND FOUR BANK ROBBERS.

GREEN COVE SPRINGS, Fla., Jan. 24.—The safe in the bank here was dynamited at 2 o'clock and robbed of $1,500 to $1,800. The force of the explosion was so great that the glass front of the building was shattered. A passing baker discovered the wrecked glass front at 5 o'clock, and gave the alarm.

Sheriff Weeks and posse took the trail and came upon four white men asleep near the road eight miles south of here. As the posse approached, the men awoke, and at once began firing at the sheriff's posse. They returned the fire, fatally wounding one of the men.

After a desperate struggle the other three were overpowered. Between $3,000 and $4,000 were found in the pockets of the men arrested.

Daniel Boone Shaft.

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the Kentucky legislature to replace the decayed slabs of stone at the grave of Daniel Boone with other stone of more enduring qualities if possible, met in Louisville and discussed plans for the restoration of the shaft upon the site of the sepulchre of the renowned pioneer. Two thousand five hundred dollars was appropriated by the Legislature for the purpose indicated, and every dollar of it, it is said, will be required to comply with the intention of the legislature. Kentucky is said to possess a certain rock that is preferable and it is probable that the committee will, upon investigation, use the stone found in the state Boone loved so well rather than that found in the Green Mountain state that is noted the world over.

MINE WORKERS MAD

IN A RESOLUTION ATTACK SECRETARY STRAUS.

Declare He Permitted Employers To Violate The Contract Labor Act.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 19.—Delegates to the annual convention of United Mine Workers adopted a resolution demanding a separation of the department of commerce and labor and establishing a department of labor. The resolution also attacked Oscar Straus, the new secretary of labor be guarded, it purposes an act creating a labor department and that a friend of labor be placed at the head of it.

EAT HUMAN FLESH

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 19.—Advices received from Shanghai tell of increasing horrors of the great famine in Central China.

A correspondent of the Echo De China says in two districts, Sincow and Paichow, starving people are eating their children.

Plants and grass, which have furnished food for many, have disappeared, and there are not even roots to eat.

The correspondent says the cases of cannibalism are many. He investigated a number, and many of them are absolutely correct.

In the absence of ordinary food he found human flesh actually being sold.

FUND FOR THE ELKS

A fund of One Hundred Thousand Dollars has been subscribed by the business men of Philadelphia, for the purpose of entertaining the Elks when they hold their Annual Reunion and convention next July.

This is the largest amount of money that has ever been raised in Philadelphia for convention purposes, and is, therefore, a magnificent tribute to the popularity of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

In addition to the above amount, it is expected that the city councils will take official recognition of the convention, by appropriating Twenty-five Thousand Dollars, for decorating and illuminating the principal business streets of that city during Reunion week.

It is freely predicted by the Elks, who have visited the city during the past few weeks, that the coming convention will be the largest and most successful ever held by the order. There is every indication, that the "High Water Mark" of Elksdom will be attained in Philadelphia, during the week beginning July 15th.

OSCAR STRAUS, of the department of commerce and labor, charging him with permitting and aiding employers to violate the contract labor act. It also declared the department is conducted more in the interest of capital than labor and that in order that the interests

HIT ON THE HEAD

KNOCKED FROM HIS BUGGY AND ROBBED

Will Walker Victim of a Hold-up Saturday Night—Was Rendered Unconscious.

Saturday evening just before six o'clock, Will Walker was struck on the head with some missile and knocked from his buggy, rendered unconscious and robbed just after he had passed the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane on his way to his home from town.

Mr. Walker was alone in his buggy and was driving along at a slow trot. He has no remembrance of anyone's being in sight, neither did he feel the lick. When he came to himself he was wandering aimlessly about in the road just at the old toll gate site on the hill past the asylum. A long bruise and slight cut, extending from his cheek bone back of the ear, a big bruise and knot over one eye and a stiff neck were forcible reminders though of what had happened. His pockets had been searched thoroughly and all his money, a dollar or two in small change, was gone with the exception of one ten cent piece. The horse which Mr. Walker was driving had gone up the road a short distance and then stopped of its own accord. After coming to himself, Mr. Walker got into his buggy and drove home.

The wounds are very painful but not considered serious. It is supposed that the wound on the cheek and back of the ear was made by the missile which was either wielded or thrown by the unknown highwayman. In falling it is supposed that Mr. Walker struck the ground on his head, this accounting for the knot over his eye and the stiffness of his neck. There is no clue as to who perpetrated the outrage.

Society

Pleasant Events of the Week.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The second anniversary of the establishment of Lockyear's Business College in Hopkinsville was celebrated last night by the institutions' giving a delightful reception to its pupils, both past and present, and some invited guests. The school, which since last September has been under the charge of Miss Carrie Moore, as principal and teacher of shorthand and typewriting, and Miss Annie Gibbs, as assistant and teacher of bookkeeping, has enjoyed the most prosperous session since it was established here. A crowd of pupils and prominent citizens, which taxed the capacity of the rooms occupying the entire third floor of the Bank of Hopkinsville building, was present and everyone had a good time. Prof. M. H. Lockyear, of Evansville, president of the school, was present and delivered a delightful lecture entitled "Sunshine," Ices and cakes were served as refreshments.

Dr. T. L. Bacon celebrated his seventy fifth birthday last night at the residence of his son-in-law W. A. Wilson, on East Seventh street with a supper to a few of his friends. Although Dr. Bacon has reached the age when a man's active usefulness is often but a memory, he has proven an exception to the rule and goes about the practice of his profession with as much vim and energy as a middle aged man, never missing a day from his office on account of personal illness except on very rare occasions.

WALSH INDICTED.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 19.—John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National Bank, which closed its doors December 16, 1905, was yesterday indicted by the Federal grand jury for alleged misconduct in the management of the finances of the bank. The indictment is based upon many separate transactions, in each of which it claimed that funds of the bank were unlawfully used, and contains 182 counts, based upon the financial operations conducted by Mr. Walsh.

DIED OF INJURIES

Fred Hosey, the L. & N. brakeman who was badly mangled at Pembroke yesterday morning, died last night at Earlinton where he had been taken.

Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to digest, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon feeble, disordered stomachs; especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation of glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal tract."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Blood-root and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Robert A. Kane, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Lawrence Johnson, M. D., Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of the American Dispensary, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land.

Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

Constipation cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One or two a dose.

DAMAGE SUIT

(From Monday's Daily)

Mrs. Myra L. Dougherty has filed suit against the Illinois Central railroad company for $1,500 damages. She charges in her petition that as she was driving along the Canton pike and approaching the bridge which leads over the defendant company's tracks, several loud blasts were touched off without any warning being given the charges that the reports caused the horse which she was driving to run away and she was thrown out of the vehicle and her ankle and back were seriously injured.

W. T. Dougherty sues the company for $45 and $50, on the same plea, he alleging that the horse ran into a telephone post and demolished the surrey and badly injured the animal.

HONOR THE MEMORY

OF GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE AS
MAN AND SOLDIER.

Appropriate Celebration of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Great Confederate's Birth.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The centennial anniversary of the birth of General Robert E. Lee was celebrated at 11 o'clock this forenoon at Grace church under the auspices of the Christian county chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Throughout the country the memory of the beloved Confederate commander was honored today, and not alone in the southland, but in perhaps every state in the union some action was taken to show the esteem in which his countrymen hold Gen. Lee as gentleman and soldier.

The services here were impressive and thoroughly appropriate. A large picture of Gen. Lee draped with Confederate flags was displayed. A choir of sweet voices and the congregation sang Gen. Lee's favorite hymns, "How Firm a Foundation," "Come Unto Me" and "For All the Saints." The exercises were opened with a feeling prayer offered by Rev. Edmund Harrison. The Rev. George C. Abbott read Gen. Lee's farewell address to his army. Rev. Dr. J. E. Fogarty delivered a beautiful and worthy address on "The Life and Character of General Lee," and paid a splendid tribute to the great leader, "who was not conquered, but worn out by victories." Mr. Hunter Wood read "Gen. Lee from a Northern Viewpoint," an exceptionally able appreciation published in "The Outlook." The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Millard A. Jenkins.

Exercises to observe the one hundredth birthday anniversary of General Robert E. Lee make the American civil war seem almost like ancient history to the generation now growing up. General Lee, however, was one of the oldest leaders on either side of that conflict. He was sixteen years the senior of General Grant. Stonewall Jackson, his own great lieutenant, and next to Lee the most beloved of southern generals, was seventeen years his junior.

General Lee, not alone by virtue of his years and his gray hairs, but also by reason of his solitude and kindness, was a father to the southern forces. History wherever written, records Robert Edward Lee as the perfect flower of southern chivalry. Generals who opposed him in battle have been glad to pay tribute to his knightly honor, his unassuming dignity and his simple manliness; also they have agreed with European and American authorities in assigning him to a place among the greatest soldiers in history.

General Lee was born at Stratford, Westmoreland county, Va., Jan. 19, 1807. He entered West Point in 1825 and was graduated second in his class without a single demerit mark during his entire course. He entered the engineer corps. In 1832 he married Mary Custis, daughter of the adopted son of George Washington. In the Mexican war he was promoted repeatedly for distinguished services at Cerro Gordo, Contreras, Churubusco and Chapultepec. He was made superintendent of the military academy at West Point in 1852 and a few years later was transferred to field service as lieutenant colonel of the Second cavalry, doing able work against the Comanches and other hostile Indians in Texas. In 1859, while on a furlough at his home at Arlington, Va., he was sent with a force of United States marines to Harper's Ferry, where he captured John Brown. Shortly thereafter he was made a full colonel. Early in 1861 Abraham Lincoln sent Montgomery Blair, of his cabinet, to Col. Lee offering him command of the United States army. Lee courteously declined the offer, saying that he could not take up arms "against his state, his home and his children." He resigned from the United States army and was made commander in chief of the Virginia forces. A little later he became one of the five full generals of the Confederacy and finally commander in chief of all the southern forces. In the fall of 1865 he became president of Washington and Lee university, at Lexington, Va., remaining in that position until his death, Oct. 12, 1870.

TEN THOUSAND HOMELESS BECAUSE OF THE FLOOD IN LOUISVILLE

HOUSED NOW IN SCHOOL BUILDINGS AND WAREHOUSES

MULTITUDE OUT OF WORK.

Every Possible Effort is Being Made
By The City to Relieve The Distress.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 21. 2:50 p. m. The Ohio this morning reached 40.6, the highest since 1894. The river is still rising. The "cut-off"—the eastern part of the city—is now entirely under water. The L. & N. tracks in this part of town is covered. The Henderson route is tied up. All points up and down the river report similar conditions.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 21.—With the Ohio relentlessly pouring its flood southward, and maintaining a steady rise of an inch an hour, Kentucky streams contributing their volumes from the mountain regions, a high wind blowing up stream damaging shipping and preventing the rapid passage of the current, Louisville faces a flood situation which promises to equal before the crest is passed the stage of 1894, the greatest flood ever known to the city.

Ten thousand people are homeless, and are housed in school buildings, warehouses, and other structures. Factories in this city, Jeffersonville, and New Albany are closed, throwing hundreds of people out of work; stocks of merchandise in the business houses along the river front are ruined, much lumber has been washed away, and many small houses with their contents toppled over into the water. A conservative estimate of the damage done, with the crest of the flood yet a day off, is a quarter of a million dollars. Street car service in several parts of the city is seriously interfered with, while trains out nearly all the roads are arriving anywhere from three to ten hours.

The cold weather is causing much suffering among the people who are being sheltered in public school buildings, warehouses and other places. The city officials have the situation well in hand, and are feeding all the sufferers, who are unable to provide for themselves.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, overworked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is a strong guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither—being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, headache and biliousness. In vials, a convenient vest-pocket remedy.

PASSENGER TRAIN DEMOLISHED BY AN EXPLOSION OF POWDER

LARGE NUMBER OF VICTIMS
BLOWN TO PIECES

AND BODIES WERE CREMATED

The Terrible Disaster Occurred On The Big Four Railroad Near Sandford, Indiana.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 21.—Twenty-two charred and mutilated bodies have been taken from the smoldering ruins of the passenger train No. 3, on the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis (Big Four), which was destroyed by the explosion of a carload of powder as it passed a freight train at Sandford, nine miles west of here. The number of injured will reach at least thirty-five.

The entire train was blown from the track, the coaches demolished and the engine hurled fifty feet. The passengers either were blown to pieces, cremated or rescued in a more or less injured condition.

The injured, some of whom are fatally hurt, are at the hospitals in Terre Haute and Paris, Ill., and at Sandford.

According to the trainmen of the freight, the powder was exploded by the concussion made by the passenger train which was slowing down for the station at Sandford.

Miller Clark's Grocery.

The grocery firm of Clark & Denton has been dissolved, Rausie Denton, the junior member of the firm retiring. The other partner, J. Miller Clark, will continue the business at the same stand under his own name. Mr. Denton has not yet fully decided what he will do, he having several propositions under consideration.

Dr. Jenken's Supply.

The Rev. Millard A. Jenkins, pastor of the Baptist church, will sail Feb. 7 for the Holy Land to be absent from the city two or three months. His supply will be the Rev. George W. MacPherson, of New York, who is said to be an excellent preacher. Mr. MacPherson has had remarkable success in evangelical work in the east.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membranes that line the air-passages. It is made to cure the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 60c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

WITHOUT BAIL.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.—Dr. Sarah Murphy, charged with the murder of Miss Kate Bryant, of Buffalo, Ky., by a criminal operation, was held today without bail.

Dr. Murphy has been in a similar trouble before and was tried three years ago for the murder of Stella Stork, a young Indiana girl. After attempting suicide in jail once and having one mistrial she escaped because the chief witness against her could not be procured a second time.

Dr. Edwards, specialty eye, ear, nose and throat. Test made free of charge for glasses. Phoenix bldg. Main St., Hopkinsville.

The following table, prepared for the United States Tobacco Journal by the Crop Reporting Board of the Department of Agriculture, shows the acreage, yield per acre, price per pound and farm value of the tobacco crop of the United States during the season just closed.

From the table it will be seen that 796,099 acres of land were under tobacco cultivation in the United States during the season, which yielded an average of 857.2 pounds to the acre. The total production is given as 682,428,530 pounds, with an average price of ten cents per pound. The value of the tobacco crop is placed at $68,232,647.

An analysis of this highly important table discloses some very interesting facts in connection with the industry. The first is that in Florida the handsome sum of 35 cents per pound was the average for the past season. Other high prices were: Georgia, 30 cents; Mississippi, 28.8; Louisiana, 27.5, and Texas 24. This is highly significant in view of the fact that such states as Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas do not produce such high grade tobacco as compared with that in Florida, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio. The lowest price of tobacco was obtained for the Maryland crop, the average being 6.8 cents a pound, and Indiana, where the average was the same. Wisconsin tobacco brought 13.5 cents. Pennsylvania 13.7, Ohio 11.5 cents. Connecticut tobacco brought an average of 18 cents as did that produced in Massachusetts. Seventeen cents was obtained for tobacco raised in New Hampshire and Vermont, while tobacco raised in Alabama brought 22 cents. Tennessee tobacco brought only an average of 7.5 cents for a crop of over thirty-four million pounds, while Kentucky produced over two hundred and fifty million pounds, for which an average of only 7.7 cents was obtained, despite the efforts of the various associations to bring about a raise.

New Hampshire carries the trophy for the largest yield per acre, 1,785 pounds having been produced, although only 126 acres were planted in the weed. Massachusetts produced 1,750 pounds to the acre, followed by Connecticut with 1,735 pounds, Vermont with 1,700, Pennsylvania with 1,375 pounds, Wisconsin 1,275, and New York 1,250 pounds to the acre. The lowest yield per acre was in Mississippi, where only 440 pounds were secured. Louisiana did little better, 475 pounds, followed by Alabama, 510; Texas, 550; Maryland, 600 pounds, and South Carolina, 670 pounds.

Louisiana had the lowest number of acres planted in tobacco, 61, followed by New Hampshire, with 126 acres, Mississippi 150, Vermont 199, Alabama 511, Texas 535, and Arkansas 944 acres. Kentucky had the largest number of acres under tobacco culture, the total being 290,000. North Carolina followed, with 120,358, Virginia 108,971, and Ohio 70,000.

Kentucky leads the states in the number of pounds of tobacco produced—252,300,000—followed by Ohio, 74,200,000; Virginia, 73,555,425; North Carolina, 69,907,440, and Wisconsin, 49,725,000 pounds. Louisiana produced the least amount of tobacco during the past season, her production amounting to 28,975, followed by Mississippi with 66,000 pounds. Tennessee showed up well, with 34,069,000 pounds, as did also Pennsylvania, 35,750,000; Connecticut, 24,532,900, and Indiana, 10,980,000 pounds.

Kentucky also leads the states in the farm value of the tobacco crop, it being placed at $19,427,100. Ohio comes next with a farm valuation of $8,533,000, followed by Wisconsin, Virginia and North Carolina with valuations of over six million dollars each. Connecticut had a farm valuation of only $4,415,922, and New York of only $1,220,285. Pennsylvania's tobacco farm value for 1906 is given as $4,897,750, over twenty-six thousand acres being under cultivation. Louisiana also had the lowest farm valuation—$7,968, Mississippi being a close second, with $19,008.

OVER CENTURY OLD

AND WALKED EIGHTEEN MILES TO GRANDSON'S TRIAL.

Boys Charged With Throwing Stone
Into Passenger Train Held to the Grand Jury.

Charles Tuck and Jim Johnson, the two colored boys who were arrested on the charge of throwing rocks into an Illinois Central passenger train at Pierceton, near the state line, during Christmas, had their examining trial before Judge Brethitt yesterday afternoon and they were held over under $200 bond each to answer to the next grand jury. Failing to give the bond they went to jail.

When these rocks were thrown into the train Miss Nina Thomas, of Clarksville, was struck in the head and painfully injured.

A picturesque attendant at the trial was Jim Tuck, Sr., the grandfather of the Tuck boy. This old man claims to be one hundred and seven years of age, and if he is, he is remarkably well preserved. It was reported about the courthouse yesterday that this old man had walked all the way from Bell's Station about eighteen miles, to this city so as to be present at the trial, although he was not summoned as a witness and he is so deaf that he cannot hear it thunder. Yesterday he sat on the very back bench in the courtroom, holding in his hand a tobacco stick which he uses as a cane, and industriously chewing tobacco. He showed no indications of the strain of the walk and seemed to be feeling as well as any one in the room.

WIN BIG VICTORY.

Trust Enjoined From Receiving Crop
Pledged to The Protective Association.

The following is a special sent out from Springfield, Tenn.:

A case which has attracted a great deal of attention here and all over the dark tobacco district was heard here last Thursday. The Dark Tobacco District Planters' Protective association secured an injunction preventing L. W. Fletcher from delivering his crop of tobacco to C. C. Bell & Son, of this place, who are buying tobacco for the Imperial Tobacco company, and also preventing Bell & Son from receiving it and all other tobacco pledged to the Planters' Protective association.

Judge Stout, who heard the argument of counsel, took the case under advisement and this morning rendered the following:

"No answer or other pleading is filed to put in issue any of the charges of the bill, therefore, the bill is taken for confessed for the purpose of this motion. It is charged it had a contract with defendants, Fletcher, Pitt and Lowe, for the delivery of their tobacco to complainants, who are the agent in handling and selling the same; that it has contracts of the same nature with thousands of other persons. That it is the object and purpose of defendants, Bell & Son, to destroy the complainants, maliciously inducing a violation of said contract. This is a serious charge, which, undenied, fully warrants the issuance of an injunction and so long as defendants refuse to answer the injunction will remain in force. The motion is accordingly overruled."

A DELIGHTFUL OCCASION.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Grace Memorial Parish House was the scene of a thoroughly delightful church social, last night. Besides the parishioners, the pastors and representatives of other congregations in the city were present.

The honoree of the event was the beloved Mrs. E. C. Glass, and this noble "saint of the Lord" was the center of attention during the evening. She bears lightly the burden of her years, and many a woman who is many years her junior envies Mrs. Glass' activity and vigor. Her broad and sweet sympathy as well as her culture and fine intelligence make her welcome everywhere and sought after by people of all ages. It was due to Mrs. Glass' munificence that the church has the parish house which she gave to the congregation as a memorial to her daughter, Mrs. Emma Galtner.

The entire building was thrown open to the guests and was inspected with interest. It is a beautiful house and excellently equipped. After a welcome on the lower floor, the callers were cordially received in room of the Ladies Guild, in the second story, by the Rev. George C. Abbott, the rector, and members of Grace church. They were then taken to a large apartment on the third floor where an elegant collation of sandwiches, salad, pickles, crackers, cheese, chocolate and coffee was graciously served by younger members of the congregation.

Before leaving the parish house, many persons visited the kitchen and exchanged greetings with the "cooks". The entertainment was a most agreeable one and was characterized by a charming informality.

BRIDE OF EIGHT WEEKS

Commits Suicide at Paducah by Swallowing Carbolic Acid.

PADUCAH, Ky., Jan. 23.—Mrs. B. C. Nance, a bride of eight weeks, committed suicide by swallowing carbolic acid. Domestic trouble is said to be the cause. The body was found by a neighbor woman who went to call on Mrs. Nance yesterday afternoon.

SOME GOOD ADVICE

IS GIVEN BY LEADER TO DISCORDANT ELEMENTS.

Expresses Hope That Good Feeling Will Prevail and That All Differences Will be Settled.

The Princeton Leader has the following sensible article:

The issuing of the proclamation by County Chairman John W. Hollowell, to the people of Caldwell county and on behalf of the Caldwell County Tobacco Association last Saturday was a magnanimous and wise conclusion, and will go far toward bringing peace and harmony in the confines of the county.

Every syllable of the proclamation is fair and certainly conservative, as is evidenced by the outspoken words of a satisfactory nature, especially by the farmers, in and out of the organization, who are the only persons directly interested, because of the mere fact that the tobacco question is a matter for the farmers to settle. It concerns one of their chief products, therefore comes under the line of business for adjustment.

The speeches delivered by Hon. Ward Headly on behalf of the association and Rev. M. E. Chappel on behalf of the independent tobacco growers, were of the highest and most conservative order necessary to bring about a thorough understanding in order that peace, happiness, good order and good will might prevail throughout the county, as well as this section of the state, if not the entire dark-tobacco district.

It is to be hoped that the very best of feeling will prevail without the least indication of anything else among the tobacco growers and that all will soon see alike for their own material benefit. With peace, happiness and prosperity among the farmers there need be no fear upon the part of the business people of this city and county as to their success. In fact this is the case the world over, especially if good crops, good prices and good order prevails.

Never in the history of the county is the time more opportune for a reconciliation of all differences, and the steps taken last Saturday will, in our judgment, be the means of restoring order and bringing about ultimate peace and happiness, instead of riot and bloodshed.

It should, and no doubt will, be the duty of every true and law-abiding citizen to protest against anything being said or done that is calculated to participate trouble in any form from now on, henceforth and forever. The mailing of threatening letters to various persons and placing bundles of switches at various homes as reported the early part of last week and just now appearing in the daily press, should and must be stopped, if serious trouble is to be avoided.

As a cautious reminder that everybody should advise against any further threats and depredations, they are cited to the many bloody feuds in the mountain section of the state and the Breathitt county feud that is now attracting widespread attention throughout the nation. All of these feuds, now fresh in the minds of the people, are the results of difference of opinion that with proper caution could have been avoided. Rather than allow like conditions of affairs to prevail in this county and section of the state, let everybody encourage peace and good will among our people at every opportunity.

Think of the horrible crimes just confessed to by John Smith in connection with the assassination of Dr. Cox and scores of other prominent citizens in Jackson and Breathitt county.

Would it not be better for all classes to forgive and forget rather than allow a worse state of affairs to prevail here than where assassination has prevailed for years with hardly any sign of an end to the terrible state of affairs?

Let everybody condemn crime, and advise and see that crime, in any form, is not committed in the future and all will be well.

SINKING FORK ITEMS.

Owing to the recent rains farmers have begun to build airships to get transportation over the roads.

Mr. J. T. Stevens made his monthly trip to our town last week.

Mr. Fred Sizemore who has been confined to his bed on account of sickness is able to be up again.

Services as usual will be conducted by Bro. Swan third Sunday at the Christian church.

Miss Amy Wood was the pleasant guest of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Cornelius Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. C. P. Cook, who recently finished a school at Brick church made a business trip to Madisonville last Saturday. Perhaps he means to teach school in Hopkins county next year.

Mr. J. H. Cook spent Saturday and Sunday in north Christian prospecting.

CEHULEAN NOTES.

M. F. Williams, who was shot by Jas Pollard on Christmas day at Cerulean is able to be at his home again. He has been at I. C. R. R. Hospital at Paducah.

Mr. Martin who married Mrs. Belle Stewart last summer has moved with his family to Hopkinsville. They rented their farm to Mr. Dallas Rogers of Caldwell county.

The storm near Cerulean Saturday night did considerable damage. The barn on the old Thos. Greer place, now owned by Warfield Landers was blown down.

The barn on Walter shoulders farm was moved about three feet off of the foundation.

Quite a lot of fruit trees and fencing were blown down.

Dr. J. G. White was caught out in the storm. He says it was the worst storm he ever encountered.

Mirus Turner says the storm blew him off his horse and blew a slicker coat off of him.

The best joke we have heard of recently was told to us today. A lot of young people who were visiting at Mr. Jas. Cox's near Cerulean during the holidays went out hunting and among the game, caught two large opossums. Mr. Lee Faulkner who lives near Mr. Cox is quite a trapper. Mr. Cox was acquainted with a place where Mr. Faulkner had a good sized trap setting, so he took the two opossums to the trap and placed one with a hind leg in the trap and one with a fore leg in the trap.

Mr. Faulkner was quite surprised when on the following morning he went out to inspect his traps to find two opossums in same trap. He was almost afraid to tell any one of his find because it was such an incredible story. He soon told Mr. Cox of his experience and when he had told others also Mr. Cox vouched for him but the joke was so rich he (Mr. Cox) soon had to tell his neighbors how it happened.

We are listening each day to hear of Mr. Faulkner playing some good joke on Mr. Cox.

Next State Institute.

Members of the state board of agriculture, forestry and immigration, composed of Hubert Vreeland, chairman; M. A. Seovell, Desha Breckinridge, W. R. Moorman, Jr., Guthrie M. Wilson, Lawrence Jones, William Adams, J. C. Mayo, W. T. Harris, met in the office of the commissioner of agriculture, Shelbyville was unanimously selected as the place for holding the State Farmers' institute by the board of agriculture, the meeting to be held the last week of February.

Suit For Divorce.

Mrs. Emma C. Clayton has filed suit for divorce against her husband, J. A. H. Clayton, abandonment being given as the cause. The plaintiff also prays for restoration to the name which she bore during her widowhood.

Buried at Crofton.

John Bennett, a citizen of Earlington, died Saturday night at his home in that city, death being due to kidney trouble. He was a married man and leaves a wife and several children. He had been living at Earlington about two months. His remains were taken to Crofton Monday and buried there.

METHODIST CHURCH

REVIVAL WILL BEGIN NEXT SUNDAY MORNING

Rev. Walt Holcomb Will Preach And Edwin Smoot Will Lead the Singing.

Much interest is being exhibited in the Holcomb-Smoot revival which will begin next Sunday morning at the Methodist church. While this meeting will be conducted directly under the auspices of the Methodist church it is expected that its influence will spread throughout the entire city and every denomination will be benefited thereby.

The preaching will be both morning and evening by Rev. Walt Holcomb, who, though a young man, is recognized as one of the most successful evangelists of the day. The singing will be an especially attractive feature of the services and will be led by Mr. Edwin Smoot, a capable and talented musician.

Rev. Holcomb and Mr. Smoot will arrive Saturday.

Carnation Day.

The Carnation league of America has sent out a special appeal to all patriotic men and women to observe the birthday of William McKinley by wearing a carnation, the favorite flower of the murdered President. "Carnation day" comes on January 28, when McKinley would have been sixty-five years old. The league was established in 1903, and has among its trustees President Roosevelt and some of the Cabinet officers and United States Senators.

BANQUET OF TRAVELING MEN.

The Hopkinsville Traveling Men's Association will give its first annual banquet Saturday night at Hotel Latham. The organization is in a most flourishing condition, and the event promises to be a delightful one in every respect. Many of Hopkinsville's popular and valuable citizens are traveling men, and their association is not only a source of pleasure to themselves but is doing much for the advancement of the city's interests.

I. C. Changes.

Two important changes in the operating and traffic department of the Illinois Central Railroad have just been announced, these being the election of General manager Ira G. Rawn as one of the vice-presidents of the system, and the appointment of F. B. Harriman to Mr. Rawn's position. Mr. Harriman had hitherto been general superintendent of the north and west lines, with headquarters at Chicago.

As provided at a meeting of the directors, Mr. Rawn will have charge of the operation of the system, making Chicago his headquarters.

DUEL IN THE DARK

BETWEEN THIEVING NEGRO AND
SNUFF CO. GUARD.Former Was Wounded And Lies In Serious Condition At His Home.
—Waters' Narrow Escape.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

John Bell, colored, was shot and seriously wounded by Gano Waters, a guard at the American Snuff company's plant, this morning about 5:30 o'clock.

According to Waters' story he saw some one filling a sack of coal from a pile which had been purchased by the Snuff company from the railroad just after it had been wrecked near the plant several days ago. He went toward the man and called out to him. The negro started to run and fired at the guard four times with a 22 calibre pistol, one of the balls passing through the white man's overcoat and another through the inside of his trousers leg but neither struck the flesh. Waters fired at the negro with a shotgun which he carried, having nothing to aim at in the darkness but the flashes from the fleeing man's pistol. He could see no effects from his shots, as the man kept going, and he then telephoned to the police office for bloodhounds, intending to track the man in this manner.

Later it developed that Bell was lying at his home near the Snuff company's plant with his left arm broken in two places and a load of shot in his back. He admitted that he was shot almost in the manner described by Waters except that he denied having fired his pistol or even having one. He says that when someone called to him he started off and that they began shooting at him. A sack said to contain 140 pounds of coal was left lying near the pile.

The first load of shot evidently went through Bell's left forearm, breaking it in two places and then grazing the flesh across the stomach. The other shot struck about the small of the back but are not thought to have penetrated the cavity.

Earle Cary Leaves Clarksville.

Earle M. Cary, Secretary of the Clarksville Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed Assistant to Guy R. Johnson, Vice President and General Manager of the Alabama Consolidated Coal & Iron Company, with offices at Birmingham, Ala. The offer came to Mr. Cary unsolicited, and carries with it a handsome salary. The concern is one of the largest industrial institutions in the south engaged in mining coal and iron ores and the manufacture of pig iron and coke.—Clarksville Leaf Chronicle.

Like Finding Money.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently, through the solicitation of Druggist L. L. Elgin that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, speaks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, L. L. Elgin will return your money. The specific is very pleasant to take, coming in the form of small granules, and there are sixty doses in every package. It is especially convenient when traveling, and no one should start on a journey without a bottle of this reliable medicine. w25-d30

NO KITTY LEAGUE

Fans will be interested in the following from the Jacksonville Courier:

Sunday was the last day on which a meeting could legally be called for the Kitty baseball league. President Gosnell neglected to call the meeting, hence the Kitty league is now a thing of the past. At least this is the consensus of opinion of baseball fans in this city who are posted on the situation. This morning E. A. Brennan, president of the local association, received a letter from Mr. Gosnell stating that a meeting was called of the Kitty league to meet in Centralia on January 27. It is hardly probable that anything will be done toward attending this meeting.

A meeting of those interested in baseball, and that is practically the whole city, will be held in the parlors of the Pacific hotel Thursday evening. It is the desire to get the baseball movement started at once in order that a representative can be sent to the Two-I league meeting in Ottumwa, Ia., next Tuesday, Jan. 22. It will be necessary for Jacksonville to send a representative to the meeting prepared to put up Jacksonville's guarantee. There should be no trouble in raising this and the representative should be prepared to present a good report of the interest taken here in the proposed league.

IN BAD CONDITION

IS BOY WHO WAS HYPNOTIZED
BY GIRL.The Whole Affair Started As a Joke,
But Young Man Was a Good Subject.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 14. The young Bible college student, R. T. Booker, "hypnotized" at a taffy party Thursday night by Miss Ray McGarvey, is still in a serious condition at his room at the college dormitory. Young Booker is from Scottsville, Ill., and this is his second year at college.

It appears that the hypnotizing was only a play or joke. Miss McGarvey is not a hypnotist, nor has she ever studied the art. The young people were only playing hypnotizing having adopted signals by which the one doing hypnotizing could impart to the hypnotized just what he or she was wanted to do. The number of strokes corresponded with the number of letters of the alphabet, one stroke being "A," two "B," and so on, and with the strokes of the forehead the words would be spelled out.

One would be told to play the piano, another to dance, or to go to sleep. Young Booker was not advised of the signals, and did not understand the queer actions of those who had gone into the "spells" before him. The first time he took the chair he was not influenced in the least, and he did believe he could be hypnotized.

The second time he allowed Miss McGarvey to try him he became drowsy, and for a time it was thought he was acting as the others had done but he did not "come out" and like "Margery the hypnotist's daughter" of the comic supplements, Miss McGarvey began to feel that she had made a mistake and used the wrong "word." Booker was able to walk to his room, and still his fellow students thought him feigning.

All day yesterday he was nervous and unable to leave his bed. A doctor was summoned, but he could give no relief, and today Booker was still in bed. He says he has been suffering from nervousness, due, he thought, to hard study, and that it was the excitement that affected him.

Miss McGarvey is the daughter of J. W. McGarvey, and a granddaughter of President J. W. McGarvey of the Kentucky University Bible college. She is a musician of rare ability, and was much affected with the condition of young Booker, whom he scarcely knew. She had played "hypnotism" often, but had never experienced any ill effects from it.

Miss Otis Talory of Cincinnati, whom it was said she hypnotized so that she remained in the hypnotic state for fifteen hours, says she was only feigning, and that she was not hypnotized.

PEOPLE IN A PANIC

OVER BREAKING OF DAM AT JEFFERSONVILLE, IND.Causes an Enormous Loss.—The River at Louisville at Standstill and Will Begin Falling Tonight.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 22.—The river is stationary at the 41.3 stage and will begin slowly falling tonight, as it is falling now above here. Points below the city report heavy damage. The dam at Jeffersonville, Ind., broke today, flooding half of the town, and causing enormous loss. The people of Jeffersonville are panic-stricken, and two square miles are affected. The sufferers are being taken care of by the city.

About 240 city blocks are submerged in Louisville in the territory running from the Country club to the extreme eastern end of the city to Parkland. There has been no loss of life, but suffering is acute on account of the cold.

The life-saving service received more calls during the morning to rescue people from homes than at any time since the situation became serious.

Sixty-five thousand bushels of coal in barges sank near the foot of Fourth street during the night. The barges were torn loose from their moorings at the upper end of the city. Fifteen barges were swept down stream by the current during the morning and five of them striking the Pennsylvania railroad bridge, went to the bottom. The water entered the basement of the Galt House, at the corner of First and Main streets, during the morning. All railroads running into the city have suffered greatly.

ON SON'S SHOULDER

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—J. P. Morgan has not been at his office since the holidays. This fact has led to repeated rumors that he has been seriously ill, and yesterday it was used by speculators interested in breaking prices to spread the story throughout this country and Europe that he was at the point of death.

While this was going on Mr. Morgan sat in the directors' room of the Grand Central depot smoking a big cigar and in the best of humor and health. When he heard of the rumor of his serious illness he telephoned Jack Morgan, his son, to send prompt denials over the telegraph.

J. P. MORGAN, JR.

wires to representatives of the firm and gave the facts to the Wall street news agencies.

While Mr. Morgan's obituary probably will not be written for years Wall street will see little of him in future except when financial matters of great importance require his attention. Mr. Morgan has practically retired from business. The financier has placed his affairs in such shape that it will not be necessary for him in future to give personal attention to the business of his banking house. It will hereafter be in the hands of J. P. Morgan, his son, who has since Jan. 1 been the practical head of both the New York and London houses. Mr. Morgan remains the senior partner, but he will be rather a consulting than an active member of the firm.

Mr. Morgan is nearly seventy, but he is in vigorous health and is both mentally and physically as alert as he was twenty years ago. He has really not been an active factor in Wall street since the flotation of the United States street corporation, which he regarded as the crowning achievement of his career.

BAILEY IS RE-ELECTED TO THE

U. S. SENATE WITH VOTES TO SPARE

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 23.—Joseph W. Bailey was re-elected United States senator from this state by a vote, in the two branches of the state legislature, of 108 to 45. In the state senate the vote was 19 in favor of Senator Bailey and 10 against him. In the lower house Senator Bailey received 89 votes and 25 were cast against him.

The opponents of Senator Bailey made an effort in the house to secure the adoption of a resolution providing that, should the legislature vote unanimously for the election of Senator Bailey the latter should submit his name to the people in a special primary, to be held with the next thirty days, for a review of the charges preserved against him and that, should the result be adverse to him, he would resign. This proposition was not accepted by the friends of Senator Bailey and its further consideration was voted down, 59 to 51.

The special investigation committee of the two branches of the State Legislature are engaged in considering the charges against Senator Bailey.

Senatorial elections were held in a number of state legislatures yesterday. Among those re-elected are Morgan and Pettus, of Alabama; Cullom, of Illinois; Elkins, of West Virginia; Nelson, of Minnesota, and Warren, of Wyoming.

NEED MORE HOMES

HOPKINSVILLE'S CRYING WANT IS NEW DWELLINGS.

Two Good Families Lost This Week
Because They Could Not Find Suitable Residences.

The lack of houses for rent or sale in Hopkinsville has now reached such a point that it is really proving a drawback to the town and the business men and Commercial club should investigate the matter and try to make some arrangements whereby suitable homes can be secured by persons who wish to move to Hopkinsville for the purpose of making it their home.

Only this week two families, after coming to this city, returned to their former homes, having been unable to rent houses that suited them.

One of these was a man who formerly lived near Bowling Green but who had sold his farm there and had gone to Texas with the intention of locating. Reaching Texas however he was not pleased with the outlook and without ever unloading his household goods from the car in which they were shipped he returned to Kentucky and having heard of Hopkinsville's prosperity came here with the purpose of buying a small farm near the city so that he might place his children in school. He had $5,000 in cash which he wished to invest but he could not find a suitable place which he could rent temporarily until he found a place to suit him, so he went back to Bowling Green.

The other family came here from Princeton but not being able to find a place for rent they also were forced to return to their former location.

This is a mighty good indication of the growth and prosperity of the city, but some steps should be taken toward erecting flats or other suitable buildings so that all new comers will have no trouble in finding a home.

PERSONAL NOTES.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

E. T. Libby has resigned his position as custodian of the Elks' Home and has been succeeded by Robert Baker.

Miss May Nash, daughter of Rev. C. H. Nash, is seriously ill at her home in Temple, Texas. Her condition last night, according to a telegram received today by Charles Nash, her brother, was somewhat improved, and there was hope for her recovery.

FOR POOR CHILDREN SOCIETY OF EQUITY

SUMMER HOME TO BE ESTABLISHED IN STATE

By the Kentucky Division Of the International Sunshine Society.—Financial Support Promised.

The Kentucky division of the International Sunshine Society incorporated this week has for its purpose the establishment of a summer home for poor children similar in construction and equipment to those conducted by the society in New York and other cities in the East. A number of charitably inclined persons have had the matter under consideration for several months and the incorporation yesterday was the first definite step toward the establishment of the home. A wealthy woman whose name will not be given out just now has donated 150 acres of ground near Lagrange as well as a substantial sum for the endowment of the home and other persons who have become interested in the project have promised financial support.

The work of establishing the home will be rapidly pushed and it is confidently hoped the building will be in readiness for the reception of the poorer children who will avail themselves of an opportunity to spend a vacation there next summer. The incorporators of the Kentucky branch are: J. N. Gathright, Judge W. G. Dearing, Dr. Phillip F. Barbour, P. P. Huston and W. H. Englehard. The maximum debt is fixed at $3,000.

BURN DAIRY BARN

BELONGING TO BROTHER OF RAIDERS' VICTIM.

PRINCETON, Ky., Jan. 22.—The dairy barn of W. H. Stegar was burned by incendiaries during the early hours this morning, the building and all of its contents, including the cattle housed therein, being a total loss. The incendiaries made good their escape after firing the barn and left no trace as to their identity. No cause is given for the deed.

Mr. Stegar is a brother of James Stegar whose tobacco warehouse was burned on the morning of December 1, 1906 by the masked mob of men who visited Princeton upon that occasion and at the same time burned the warehouse of J. G. Orr.

TRAIN TURNED OVER

BUT FORTUNATELY NONE OF
THE PASSENGERS WAS HURT.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Fast passenger No. 54 on the L. & N. was wrecked last night about 8:30. The wreck occurred on the new track just below Springfield, Tenn., and was caused by a broken road dropping on the track.

The engine, five coaches and two sleepers were overturned.

No one was injured as the train was running slowly but traffic was blocked well up into today, although three wreckers spent the night in clearing away the wreckage. The accommodation was turned around when it reached this city and sent back and took the passengers and baggage and mails and completed the run to Evansville. The accommodation returned here this morning at 6 o'clock and on account of the crew being worn out by their all night trip, no trip to Nashville was made this morning.

ISSUES STATEMENT OF INTEREST TO ITS MEMBERS

Schedule of Minimum Prices They Should Get For Their Products
This Year.

The following minimum prices are those agreed upon by the American Society of Equity at its annual meeting, for the present crops. They are decided upon by the board representing every line of agricultural production. The members of the board are aided by an exhaustive system of crop reports, undoctored, reliable, and made in the interest of the farmers and not of the speculators. They compare production and consumption and thereby determine, in real accordance with the law of supply and demand, what the proper minimum price is for the various products. They are adopted by the national convention and ratified by the state, county and local unions of the society. These are the prices:

Per bushel—Wheat No. 1 Northern Spring, Minneapolis, $1.00; wheat No. 2, Red Winter, Chicago, $1.00; corn No. 2, after Jan. 1, to April 1, Chicago, 50 cents; corn No. 2, after April 1, Chicago, 55 cents; oats No. 2 white, Chicago, 40 cents; barley No. 2 or good malting, Chicago, 55 cents; rye No. 2, Chicago, 75 cents; buckwheat, in country, 70 cents; potatoes, Irish, Chicago, 65 cents; potatoes, sweet, at principal markets, 75 cents; beans, white hand-picked, Detroit, $1.50; beans, red hand-picked, Detroit, $2.00. Per ton—Hay, No. 1, timothy, Chicago, $14.00; broom corn to farmers, $75.00 @ $100.00. Per pound—Cotton, middling, New York, 12 cents; wool, medium unwashed in country, 30 cents. Per cwt. alive, at Chicago, —Sheep, $5.50 @ 5.75; lambs, $6.50 @ 7.50; hogs, $8.00 @ 8.50; cattle, $3.50 @ 6.50.

Below these prices, the society urges, farmers should not sell. Each is based on a central market, and the farm price will be enough less to equal freight and a fair commission to the handler. Farmers should control their marketing so as to keep the market hungry and the demands seeking the supply, when they can make their own prices. They should see to it that their crops go off of the farms throughout the period of a year instead of in a few months.

Farmers can complete these prices by refusing to sell for less, and those farmers who hold for these prices are very certain to get them, for the world needs all of the crops and not only a part of them, and will pay the farmers' price if he steadfastly refuses to accept the prices made by speculators on boards of trade and exchanges.—A. S. of E.

ANNUAL ELECTION

OF OFFICERS HELD BY COUNTY

GOVERNOR SENT PEREMPTORY REQUEST FOR WITHDRAWAL

TO REAR ADMIRAL DAVIS.

Shocked At British Official's Lack Of Appreciation The Americans Have Sailed Away.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The foreign office has demanded an explanation of Gov. Swettenham's action in requesting Admiral Davis to leave Kingston. Great regret is expressed here over the incident.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Jan. 21.—The government, believing itself able to cope with the situation without outside assistance, the American warships sailed for Guantanamo.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Jan. 21.—Rear Admiral Davis' mission of mercy to stricken Kingston came to an end Saturday in consequence of Gov. Swettenham's objection to the presence of American sailors engaged in the work of clearing the streets, guarding property and succoring the wounded and sick, culminating in a letter to the admiral peremptorily requesting him to disembark all parties which had been landed.

The friction between the governor and the admiral began with the arrival of the American war vessels when the governor objected to the firing of a salute in his honor on the ground that the citizens might mistake the firing for a new earthquake. He also declared there was no necessity for American aid—that his government was fully able to preserve order, attend the wounded and succor the homeless.

There was a brief private meeting and the governor escorted Admiral Davis to his carriage. Salutations were exchanged and the governor, replying to Rear Admiral Davis' regret that he was unable to do more for Kingston, said, "All the more to your honor," adding a deep bow, evidently in reply to Admiral Davis' reference to his departure and meaning that he would do the same if in the admiral's place.

Rear Admiral Davis told the Associated Press that he deeply regretted the Governor's attitude. He was still convinced that the governor was unequal to the task of relieving distress—that this was evident from the fact that the American field hospital had tended many sick and wounded.

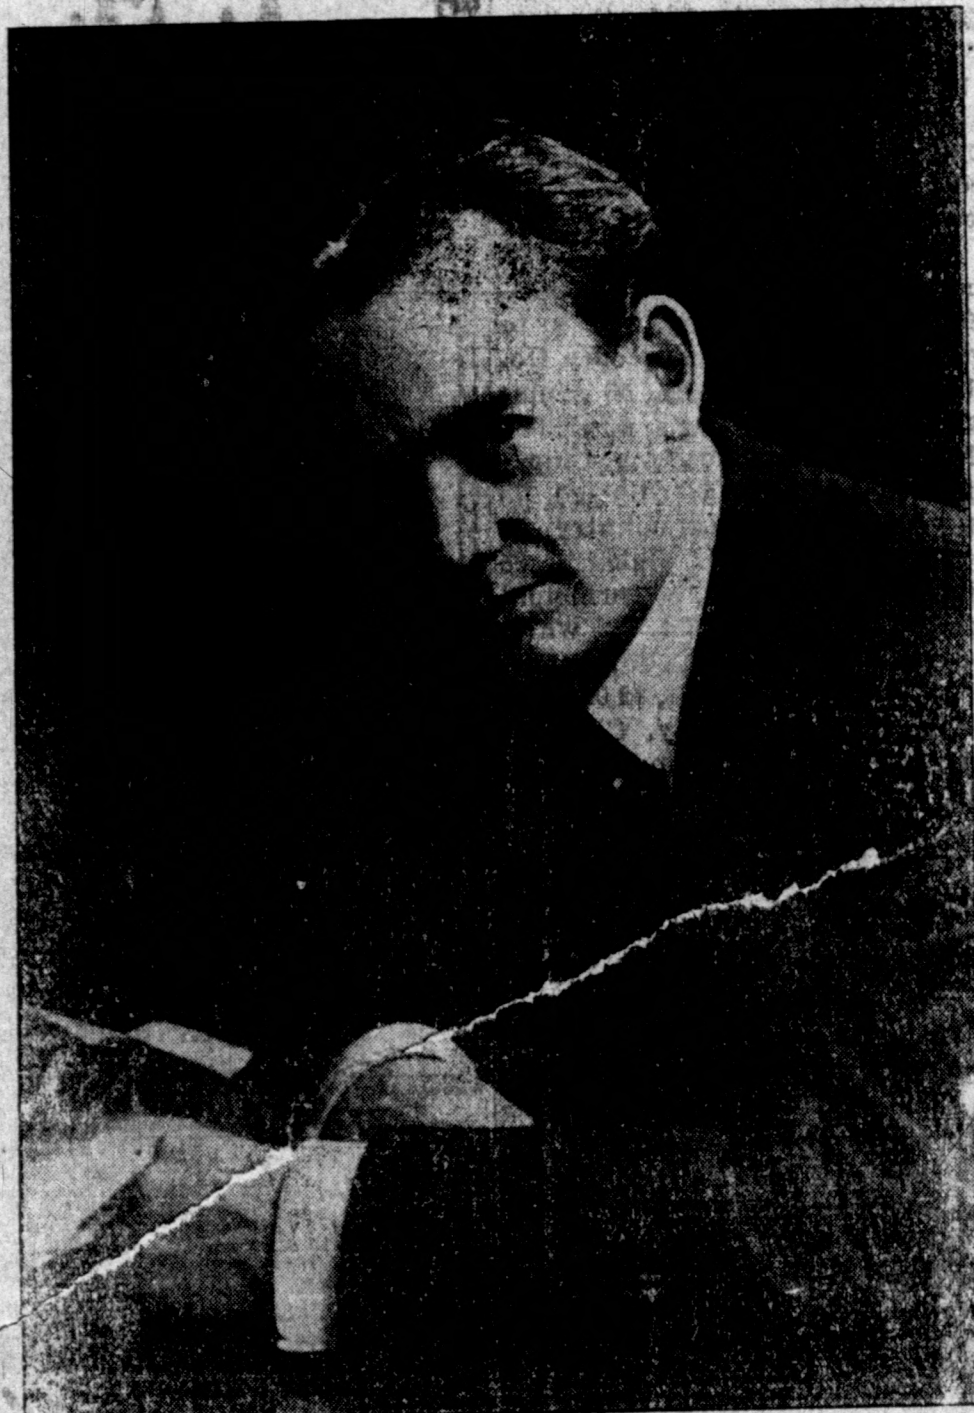

Admiral Davis countermanded President Roosevelt's order dispatching the supply ship Celtic, laden with beef for the relief of Kingston.

IMPORTANT DEAL.

R. E. Cooper has sold to the Planters' Hardware company half of the building known as the Ragsdale-Cooper block. The Planters get the two store rooms which they already occupy, the offices now occupied by the Meacham Engineering company and the hallway in the center of the building and from which the stairs lead upward. The consideration was $27,500.

The rapidly increasing business of the hardware company made larger quarters an absolute necessity and instead of continuing to rent, it was decided to buy a location outright. The property bought is three stories high and runs back the depth of one square, thus giving them ample store rooms.

TWENTY PEOPLE KILLED IN WRECK ON BIG FOUR RAILROAD.

Engineer of Passenger Train Failed to See Block Signal.—Many of the Victims Were Burned to Death.—Property Loss Enormous.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 18.—A wreck accompanied by frightful loss of life and heavy destruction to property occurred this morning near Fowler, Indiana.

The accident happened on the Big Four railroad.

A passenger train crashed into a freight and some of the coaches were demolished.

Twenty persons were killed, many of whom were cremated, as the cars caught fire immediately after the collision.

A great many were more or less seriously injured, and there were numerous narrow escapes.

The wreck was due to failure of the engineer on the passenger train to see a block signal.

HACKED UP BY AXE

AFTER HE HAD BEEN SHOT THROUGH THE HEAD.

Several Other Persons were Injured In Free For All Fight Near Weaver's Store.

In a shooting bee at Weaver's Store, just across the state line in Tennessee, Sunday afternoon, George Collins was killed and two or three other negroes were more or less wounded.

It is alleged that Collins and another negro were calling on some women and that Jesse White, Henry Baker, Willis Killbrew and Love Killbrew, all of whom were drunk, came up and demanded admittance. This being refused they began shooting into the windows and finally battered down the door when a free for all fight resulted.

Collins was shot in the head and killed on the spot, and his body was hacked up considerably with an axe. Some of the attacking party also bore away the signs of the encounter, but all of them made their escape and have not yet been apprehended.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev.
Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 20.—In this sermon the preacher gives a new interpretation to the rebellion of Jonah, the prophet, and shows that when our own hearts are out of tune with God and nature life is full of discord and dissatisfaction. The text is Jonah iv, 9, "Dost thou well to be angry?"

Sometimes I am inclined to think that Jonah is the most famous character of the Bible next to Jesus Christ. There are many people who know nothing about Abraham or Samuel or David or Isaiah who know all about the wonderful story of Jonah and the whale. That one incident in his career has made him the most famous of the prophets. His fame is due not so much to the disciples of Christ as to the enemies of Jesus. No sooner does a man brought up in a Christian home begin to listen to the enemies of the Bible and get ready to cut drift from all past Christian associations than he hunts up the book of Jonah and sets out to prove that the Bible is a pack of absurdities by holding up the story of this rebellious prophet to ridicule.

It is very easy to ridicule this story. Very shallow men devoid of logic or the power of analysis can do that. It serves as a handle of attack on the Bible, which can be used by any man who hates the Bible for its uncompromising attitude against sin and dislikes it for demanding of every man repentance and faith. Perhaps if Jonah had told the people of Nineveh what had happened to him they would have laughed at that instead of putting on sackcloth. Do not let us be led aside into such foolishness or in any way to lay stress on this incident. Perhaps if we knew more about the story and the man who wrote it and Jonah himself we might find that there was no difficulty at all in it. It is a waste of time to dwell upon it when the moral of what the writer wants to teach is so obvious—that when God calls a man to a work it is useless to evade the duty, and if he does try to evade it he will be brought back to it by some means, ordinary or extraordinary.

Having spoken these few words in the way of introduction, I want to dwell on one of the most remarkable characteristics of that obstinate and wayward prophet's mind. After Jonah had gone to Nineveh and told the people of Nineveh that unless they repented and turned from their sins they would all be destroyed the Ninevites put on sackcloth and ashes and repented. Then God, mercifully noting that repentance, said that he would not destroy them. Then Jonah petulantly drew off into a violent rage. "There," he said, "my work of prophecy is all gone for naught! Thou, O God, hast made a laughingstock of me. I told the Ninevites they would perish in forty days. Now thou sayest they can live. Who will listen to my warnings in future?" So angry Jonah goes off upon the hillside overlooking the city of Nineveh and there sulked and sulks and pouts and pouts. He said: "I knew it. I knew God would not destroy them. And now my business of prophesying is ruined forever. No one will believe me." Then God speaks to Jonah the words of my text, "Dost thou well to be angry?" So I ask you today the same words, "Dost thou well to be angry?"

A Remarkable Question.
Now, why did God say unto Jonah, "Dost thou well to be angry?" "Oh," you answer, "that is very simple. You have not quoted the whole of the passage. The Bible says, 'Dost thou well to be angry for the gourd?' While Jonah was upon that hillside overlooking the city he sat under the shadow of a broad leaf that spread itself out as an umbrella over his head. This leaf had a mushroom growth. It grew up in a night. It grew so rapidly that you could almost see it grow if you watched it. But, like all quick growing fungi, it withered away even more quickly than it grew. While the prophet sat upon the hillside this leafy umbrella suddenly shrank and fell. Then the hot Assyrian sun beat down upon his unprotected head, and he was overcome by the heat. He had a sunstroke. He fainted dead away. When he came to, he was mad. He practically said, 'O God, I feel so miserable I wish I were dead.' And I do not blame him. With parched lips and overheated brow and excruciating pains chasing themselves up and down his anatomy he might better be dead. There is no sun hotter on earth than the Assyrian sun. The old site of Nineveh lies today in the midst of a desert. Jonah was simply physically sick from the heat, and that, of course, made him mentally and spiritually sick also."

Oh, no, my brother, you are wrong. Jonah was not angry so much with the folding up of that great leaf which protected him as an umbrella as he was angry with himself. The gourd was a mere incident. God told him to go to Nineveh. He would not go to Nineveh. Then, like every man who does wrong, he got angry and out of sorts with his higher and better nature. And when he got angry with himself he got angry with all his surroundings. And when finally he had to go to Nineveh under compulsion, as a slave is driven to his task, he grumbled all the way there. He grumbled while he delivered his prophecy. He grumbled at the outcome of his prophecy. He grumbled when he sat upon the hillside overlooking the city. He grumbled when the gourd was taken away. He would have grumbled if the leafy sunshade had remained open, just as he grumbled when it withered away. In other words, Jonah was grumbling with his surroundings, just as some of us are grumbling with our surroundings merely because we are not willing to obey God's commandments. When you and I get out of touch with God, every flower we see will become a weed, and every living creature that flies about us will be a hornet thrusting a sting, and every sunbeam will have a blasting heat, and every wind will be a sirocco hissing and moaning over a desert of sand. Jonah was not angry with the withered leaf. He was not angry with his own obstinate, sinful, selfish self. He was out of tune with the divine nature, and therefore he was out of harmony with everybody and everything.

Out of Harmony.
My friend, you know exactly what I am driving at. You know when you get out of harmony with God everything that is about you irritates you. Why, only last week you had an illustration of this fact. The supper was ended. You were in the midst of the children's frolic and fun. No one was having a happier time than yourself. Suddenly the doorbell rang. An old friend came in and said, "Harry, I have a fine financial scheme. If you will go in with me, we can make $5,000 apiece." "But, Charlie," you say, "is that square?" "Bosh!" answers your friend. "Business is not made up of Sunday school ideals. If we do not do this, some other fellow will." "Well," you answer, "all right go ahead. I will stand by you." Your friend hurries out of the house saying, "All right. Goodbye. I must clinch the bargain." He is gone in a flash. You went back to the sitting room. Everything was now different. The frolic was now discordant to your nerves. You took out your watch and snapped it shut and said sharply: "Children, stop that racket. It is time to go to bed." Your wife said something, and you answered her crossly. All night long you tossed and tumbled, or when you did sleep it was a troubled sleep.

The next morning when you arose the sun was shining just as brightly as ever for others, but not for you. There was a dense fog around you. The breakfast left a bad taste in your mouth. When you got into the car you grumbled because a fat man had the impudence to sit down beside you and did not give you room enough to stretch out your elbows. When you entered the store you began to find fault right and left. Nothing seemed to please you. Everything seemed to rub you the wrong way. "Oh," the employees whispered, "better look out today. The wind is from the east. The governor is on the warpath." And this condition went on for days. What was the matter with you, my brother? Why was everything wrong in the home and the street car and in the store? Why were the blue heavens black for you? Need I tell you why? You know. God told you to go to Nineveh, and you went to Tarshish. God showed you a plain, simple Christian duty, and you refused to do it.

How to Get Right.
My brother, do you want to see the sun shine again? Do you want to associate with loving, gentle, kind people? Would you have your pathway strewn with flowers and your heaven melodious with songs? Then get right with God. Get right with your better and truer self. Undo at once the wrongs you have done your neighbors. When the railroad line between St. Petersburg and Moscow, for personal and selfish reasons they planned to make the track bend this way and that. When they brought their plans to Emperor Nicholas, he looked at them a moment. Then he laid a ruler upon the map and drew a straight line between the two cities as he answered, "You will construct the line so." Thus God draws for us a straight line of duty, and until we are willing to follow that straight line of our own accord we will never be in harmony with the divine will.

But we must not halt here. Jonah's anger stands as the symbol of the small souled Christian that we see sometimes on a throne or in a bishop's chair, who says: "If the world cannot be saved through me, then I shall go all in my power to destroy it. If I cannot make all Christians surround my chance or study my catechism or listen to my preaching, then I will do everything in my power to debar them from entering any other church or studying any other catechism or listening to any other preaching. What we want in religious work is a great church trust. And the man whom we want at the head of that great church trust is a man of our own denomination or selection. In other words, if I and mine are not going to get the credit for saving the world, then I and mine will do all in our power to keep the world from being saved." Is not that exactly the position of Jonah when he got angry with God because God had repented of the evil that he had said he would do unto the Ninevites and he did it not?

Jonah Displeased.
"There," I can hear Jonah say, "I knew it. I knew it. Here I was, the greatest prophet in all the east. The crowds everywhere ran after me. Whenever I lifted up my voice I could see men's cheeks pale and their limbs tremble. They were afraid to have me speak one word lest I might hurl a divine thunderbolt at them. I gloried in my power. When I went to faroff Nineveh, even there the people had heard of my fame. And when I entered into that city and began to cry, 'Let forty days and Nineveh shall be destroyed!' pandemonium reigned everywhere. The people got as frightened as a lot of fawns being chased by the falcions which are trying to pick out their eyes. They immediately fell down upon their knees and began to pray. I was the biggest man in that town. What I said was quoted by every lip. But now God has gone back upon that prophecy. The forty days have passed, and every wall is standing, and the homes are all filled with happy families. He has ruined all my prophecy business. If I go back into Nineveh, the little children will follow me and laugh at me. 'But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.' Angry for what? Because God had saved a city? No. Angry because the people might not think him a great prophet, as they did a few days ago when he cried out, 'Let forty days and Nineveh shall be destroyed!' and yet, my brother, I want to ask you a question. Is Jonah's sinful, childish anger any different from the mean, despicable and repugnant jealousies of many of our modern Christian workers?"

Here, for instance, are an old minister and an old church which for years have occupied the most influential position in the religious life of a small city. Most of the wealthy and prominent men of that town go to that church. One day there comes into that town a young minister who takes a broken down church upon a side street. It is almost a mission. Suddenly the power of the Holy Spirit comes down upon that little congregation. It grows and grows. It widens its influence. It begins to gather in the young people by scores and hundreds. The little church is now packed to the doors. The growing congregation has to move into a larger building. Its influence grows wider and wider until it spreads over the state and the nation. Do that old minister and that old established church clasp hands and rejoice at the multitudes which are being saved in the church just around the corner? Perhaps so. But, as a rule, such old established churches act very much as Jonah did when Nineveh was being saved. They act just as did most of the old conservative churches of London when Charles H. Spurgeon started his work there, and when Joseph Parker started his work, and when Rowland Hill started his work, and when John Wesley started his work. These old conservative churches wanted sinners to be saved in their own way or they did not wish them saved at all.

Selfishness in Churches.
Oh, that we could one and all sink our selfish personalities in gospel work that we did not care by what means the sinners should be led to the cross, as long as the wayward and the lost were able thereby to find Christ! Then Ward Beecher once gave this beautiful parable of how we should all get above our own selfish contentions and live only that Jesus might be glorified: "One day three nature philosophers went out into the forest and found a lightning's nest. Immediately they began to discuss the habits of the bird. Its size and the number of eggs it lays. One pulled out of his pocket a treatise of Buffon, and another one of Cuvier, and the third one of Audubon. They read and they disputed till at length the quarrel ran so high over the best text that they got red in the face and the woods rang with their conflict. When, lo, out of the green shade of a neighboring thicket the bird itself, crouched and disturbed by these noises, begins to sing. At first its song is soft and low; then it rises and swells, and waves of melody float up over the trees and fill the air with tremulous music. Then the entranced philosophers, subdued and ashamed of their quarrel, put their books and walk home without a word. So men and women, the people of Christ have wrangled about the forms of religion, about creeds and doctrines and ordinances, when Christ himself, disturbed by their discords, sings to them out of heaven of love and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost till they are ashamed of their conflicts and go quietly and meekly to their duties." May we well heed the message of the great poet-preacher of Plymouth pulpit. May we be enabled to cease our sectarian conflicts. May we not strive to lift our sectarian creeds above the cross. May we cease to be bigoted and selfish Jonahs. May our one joy be to see men and women come to the cross. May we care not by what means sinners come as long as they are saved. Lord God, teach us to sink self that Thy Son, our Saviour, may be glorified before men.

Why Jonah Fled.
But why was it that Jonah fled away from Nineveh, and why did he sail for Tarshish? I want to show you why he shirked his duty. To show the cause why a sin is committed is often to show us how we may flee the results of that sin. Jonah wanted to be God's prophet, but he wanted to be a gospel soldier without having to meet the dangers and trials and sacrifices of a gospel warrior. I believe all this can be substantiated by studying the geographical position of the great capital of Sennacherib, whose palaces in nearby Kuyunjik were one of the wonders of the world. Jonah was then living at the beautiful seaport town of Joppa, the present entrance to the Holy Land. The town sits upon the high cliffs. It is one of the most beautiful spots of the world. To the west are the broad waters of the Mediterranean. The waves were lashing over the rocks and tumbling in spray at his feet. To the east rose the mighty mountains. There were the gardens and the vineyards and the orchards. There were the ships coming and going. There was everything at Joppa to make life pleasant and happy. Lovely people, Edenic surroundings, all were there, for, as the poet wrote, Joppa was—

Oldest of cities, linked with sacred truth
And classic fable from thy earliest dawn.
By name "The Beautiful."

In other words, Jonah was God's soldier doing barracks duty. His barracks were in one of the most delightful seaport towns of the world. But after he had stayed there awhile and made his circle of friends and was just beginning to enjoy himself the word of the Lord came to him and said, "Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it, for their wickedness is come up before me." In other words, God said unto his prophet soldier: "Gird on thy armor, mighty prophet. Go forth to battle. Draw the sword of faith and strike at my enemies. Go into the citadel of sin called Nineveh, the great capital of the north."

Now, what happened? Jonah began to make excuses. I think I hear him say: "Lord God, why dost thou command me to go to Nineveh? Dost thou want to kill me? Dost thou want to destroy me? Nineveh is at least 700 miles to the northeast of Joppa. In order to travel toward it I will have to cross the deserts and be attacked by the wild beasts and be hunted by the Bedouin robbers, who are more merciless and ferocious than wild beasts. Besides, Lord, I must go alone. I will certainly die if I have to go." Then Jonah, in his own mind, began to conjure up difficulties. He piled them up and up until at last he said: "I will not go. No, I won't. God has no right to ask me to make this sacrifice." Then, as he makes this sinful resolve, he looks out of his window, and he sees a ship at anchor. It was taking on its last bale of cargo. It was just ready to sail for Tarshish. That was the ancient name for the modern country of Spain. And so he got into a rowboat and pushed out to the ship and set sail for the west instead of setting out to travel over the Assyrian deserts to the northern capital of Nineveh. And, my brother, you know as well as I know that the reason most of us flee our Ninevehs is because we are not willing to make the sacrifices God wants us to make.

Why He Rebelled.
But I cannot close this sermon without noticing another fact. Jonah was angry because God repented of the will that he had said he would do unto the Ninevites and he did not. Why? Because these Ninevites were gentiles and not Jews. In the sight of Jonah they belonged to the barbarians. He would not have cared so much if they had been Hebrews, as he was a Hebrew. But they belonged to a class outside of his own nationality. And from time immemorial the Hebrews always looked upon their God as their own God exclusively. Thus, by accepting this repudiation of the Ninevites, God was practically saying: "Jonah, I am a God to the Hebrew. Jonah, I am a God to the Egyptian. Jonah, I am a God to the white and to the black and to the yellow skinned and to the Malay. I am God to all peoples, of all classes. Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." And I see Jonah sitting upon that hillside. I hear him say with angry lip: "Nay, Lord, nay. If thou art to be a God to the Hebrew, then be a God to the Hebrew race alone."

Are we not all Jonahs? Do we not want to hem in the work of Jesus to our own social and national cliques? Do not some of us say: "What is the good of sending missionaries to China? Let China keep on worshipping its idols if it wishes. We are not responsible for what China does." Do we want our Christ to be the Christ of the harlot and the laborer and the black man? Are we trying with an intense yearning desire to bring all social classes into our churches and have the poor and the unfortunate worship Christ by our side in our own church pews?

Nineveh's Fate.
As I come to the end of this sermon I want to lend you for a moment with in the mighty walls of this great capital of the north. I want you to see the mighty rivers that flow through it. I want you to see its dams and sluices and great canals. I want you to see its castles and walls and palaces and temples. Nineveh was not a village. Nineveh was the mightiest capital of the east. It covered an area of over 400 square miles. I want you to see the princes and princesses and nobles and common people now jostling each other. I want you to hear the songs of praises as they sing them to the great God who has forgiven them their sins. Then I want to tell you that this mighty people and this mighty city, after they had heard the warning call of Jonah and repented of their sins, fell again into sin. Their last sins were worse than their former sins. Two centuries later, in 625 B. C., God wiped out that city on account of those sins from the face of the earth and so obliterated it that for over a thousand years no one knew where this mighty capital of the east had stood. It disappeared more completely than did Pompeii under the burning lava of volcanic Vesuvius.

It disappeared so completely that, though Xenophon in 400 B. C. led his great army over its ancient site, he could not tell where the people of Sennacherib's capital had dwelt. So, like Nineveh, we who have once repented of our sins may fall again into sin and be eternally destroyed.

May God grant that the apostasy of a Nineveh or a Judas shall not be our spiritual doom. May we, one and all, every day of our lives continue to fight the good fight of faith as did Paul, who was the mightiest servant of Christ that ever lived. He said, "I keep under my body and bring it into subjection lest that by any means when I have preached to others I myself should be a castaway." Art thou becoming a spiritual castaway? "Dost thou well to be angry with God?"

RHEUMATISM WORSE FROM YEAR TO YEAR

The cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood, brought on by indigestion, chronic constipation, weak kidneys and a general sluggish condition of the entire system. The refuse and waste matter of the body is not carried out as nature intends, but is left to ferment and sour and generate uric acid, which is absorbed into the blood. The first evidence of Rheumatism is usually little wandering pains in the muscles and joints, or a tender, sensitive place on the flesh. These are often so slight that nothing is thought of them and they pass away; but with each recurrence the trouble becomes more severe, and from slight wandering pains and excited nerves, Rheumatism grows to be a painful and almost constant trouble. The longer the poison remains in the blood the firmer hold the trouble gets on the system. Each day the acid deposit is increasing and the disease grows worse from year to year. After awhile the joints become coated with a corrosive substance which seriously interferes with their working and movements and sometimes they become permanently stiff and useless.

S.S.S.
PURELY VEGETABLE
S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by going down into the blood and attacking the disease at its head. It neutralizes the poisons and acids and dissolves the salts and irritating deposits, making the blood stream pure, fresh and healthy. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is therefore a safe remedy. When the blood has been purified by S. S. S., the pains and aches pass away, and the cure is permanent. CALL FOR MEETING

OF KENTUCKY FARMERS' INSTITUTE IS ISSUED.

State Agricultural Commissioner Hubert Vreeland is Sending Letters to the Various Organizations.

State Agricultural Commissioner Vreeland today addressed a letter to the members of the Farmers' Institutes of Kentucky, notifying them of the selection of Shelbyville as the place of holding the second annual state institute on February 25 to 27 and 28, and of the provisions of the law governing the holding of the institute, delegate strength and other details. The letter, which will be of interest to the farmers of the state, reads as follows:

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 22, 1907.—My Dear Sir: At a recent meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, Forestry and Immigration it was decided to hold the second annual State Farmers' Institute at Shelbyville, Ky., February 25, 27 and 28, 1907. As you are probably aware the last general assembly enacted a law which effected some material changes in the conduct of the state institutes, and I take pleasure in giving you here the salient points contained in said law that your club may be governed accordingly in the selection of delegates, etc.

Vote as Unit.

The law provides that each county shall have one vote on all matters coming before the institute, but does not limit the number of delegates that may be sent from each county. I suggest, therefore, that you select such number of delegates from your county as you think will attend, but such delegation should be instructed to vote as a unit. The chairman of the delegation should be furnished with the proper credentials and should be empowered to cast the vote of his delegation. In the event there are two clubs in a county the two bodies should confer and agree to act as one body, and vote on all matters in such manner as will conserve the best interests of their county.

At this institute two members of the State Board of Agriculture, Forestry and Immigration will be elected to serve four years, beginning March 1, 1907. These members are to fill vacancies which will occur in the first and third appellate districts. Each district will elect its own member of the board, every county in the district being entitled to one vote, as above stated. As a membership on the state board is an important post every club should select delegate or delegates who will vote for a man who has the interests of the farmer at heart.

Crop Reporters.

The law further provides that each county club or institute shall elect one crop reporter from each magisterial district in their several counties. The duty of the crop reporter shall be to report to the commissioner the condition of growing crops, etc., as per instructions sent out from the office at Frankfort each month. Every local organization is requested to submit its list of crop correspondents during the state institute. This list should include the present crop correspondents, as they are already familiar with the method of reporting.

Officers of county organizations are requested to call a meeting of their clubs at once, and as soon as delegates are selected the list, signed by the officers of the club, should be forwarded to the department of agriculture, Frankfort. Only delegates holding proper credentials, signed by the officers of their respective clubs will be entitled to vote in the institute.

Reduced railroad rates and hotel rates will be secured, thus reducing the expenses of delegates to a minimum. Every progressive farmer should avail himself of the opportunity of hearing some of the best authorities on agricultural and kindred subjects in the United States.

Trusting that I may have your list of delegates at the earliest date possible, so I can forward them invitations, programmes, etc., and with kindest regards, I am very sincerely yours,

HUBERT VREELAND, Com'r.

Tons of Kentucky Coal.

State Inspector C. J. Norwood, estimates the output of coal in Kentucky for 1906 at 9,034,000 tons. This is an increase of more than a million tons over the output of 1905. Many reports have not come to the inspector, but the miners have sixty days from the end of December to report for that month, and it will be the end of February before the exact output for the year past can be accurately shown.

WARNING TOO LATE

TOBACCO HAD ALREADY BEEN SHIPPED AWAY.

Notes Tell President and Engineer of Cadiz Railroad Not to Handle Non-Association Hogsheads.

Two notes of warning were found Wednesday in the depot of the Cadiz railroad. One was addressed to the engineer and fireman and the other to W. C. White, president of the road. The notes were similar in nature and stated the writers understood that non-union tobacco belonging to James Vinson was about to be shipped from Cadiz, and that this must not be permitted. The communications were signed, "Members Association."

James Vinson, the man referred to in the warning, is a Trigg county farmer who lives near Cadiz, and is not a member of the painter's organization. It is understood that he had apprehended some trouble in getting his tobacco to market from Cadiz and, for that reason, shipped it yesterday to Hopkinsville from Gracely.

A FEAST OF HARMONY

Schildkret's Hungarian Orchestra delighted the largest audience of the season at the tabernacle, last night. The organization is an excellent one, the soloists are accomplished musicians, and Sam Schildkret, the leader, is an artist. Every number was heard with rapt appreciation, and encores were so numerous that the program was fully three times as long as originally arranged. The selections ranged from ragtime to classic. There was enough of the latter to charm the members of the Treble Clef club without making John Ellis or Edgar McPherson fidgety, while the smiling Mr. Schildkret counted it no condescension to sandwich plentifully George Coban's "So Long Mary", "It's a Grand Old Flag" and other syncopated melodies.

As a concluding number the orchestra played "The Star Spangled Banner" and the entire audience rose, and stood until the last note of the national air died away.

WILL LEAD THE SINGING AT THE HOLCOMB-SMOOT MEETING.

EDWIN R. SMOOT.

Mr. Edwin R. Smoot will lead the singing during the Holcomb-Smoot meeting which will begin at the Methodist church next Sunday morning. Mr. Smoot comes highly recommended as a most efficient leader and as a soloist of much ability and power.

The special song books which will be used during the meeting have arrived and were used at the prayer service last night.
