City Students Could Face Lunch Price Hike

Staff Reporter Students in the Murray Independent School System will probably face an increase in lunch prices this fall, according to a report given the school frey, food services director. . Mrs. Jeffrey said that the systemwide increases will likely be necessary because of rising food costs, which have been indirectly affected by the price increases in gas and freight, salary hikes and new federal school lunch regulations.

board Thursday night by Glinda Jef-

The food services director tentatively suggested increases of five cents for student lunches at Robertson Elementary, 10 cents for student lunches at Carter Elementary, Murray Middle and Murray High and 10 cents for adult lunches. This should generate approximately $15,000 in additional revenue.

Present lunch prices are 50 cents for Carter and Robertson, 55 cents for MMS, 60 cents for MHS and 75 cents for adult lunches.

The increases are not out of line with school lunch prices of school systems in the surrounding area according to figures Mrs. Jeffrey showed to board

The board decided not to act on the matter at this time since prices are too uncertain new to project the increases. Action will probably be taken at the Aug. 9 board meeting at which time the bids by food companies, which will go out in July, should be in.

Mrs. Jeffrey also said that 33,906 breakfasts were served in the school system this past year which is more than twice the number served the previous year. She also told of the success of the food service youth advisory groups at MMS and MHS.

In other business, the board approved a band instrument leasing agreement with Chuck's Music Center of Murray and Keynote Music Co. in Princeton. The leasing policy provides for 14 instruments at a cost of $14,000.

Since the band directors had requested that the four tubas in this plan be made by Conn, they will be obtained through the Princeton company since it handles Conn instruments. Chuck's will supply the balance of the instruments, which are made by * The resignation of associate band director Frank Schwab was accepted by the board. Schwab has accepted the director's position at Franklin-Simpson High School in Franklin.

Superintendent Robert Glin Jeffrey told board members of the summer renovation program which is estimated to cost around $86,000.

In addition to standard maintenance, Jeffrey said that extensive painting will be done in buildings throughout the system, resilient flooring and stair treads will be laid in the Austin building, chain link fencing will be installed around the newly purchased lot adjacent to Carter Elementary, some concrete will be replaced in Ty Holland Stadium, and the baseball backstop will be replaced.

Mrs. Clara Bramley, representing the black community, appeared before the board and read a letter asking for a change in the election procedure for cheerleaders.

The group requested that at least one member of each cheerleading squad be black provided this person met all other requirements for being a cheerleader. The letter stated that the "ratio of blacks to whites makes it very difficult for a black to be elected."

Board chairman Don Henry said that the board would look into the matter and work with representatives of the Human Relations Committee.

In addition to accepting the resignation of Schwab, the board also accepted the resignations of Glenda Newsome, secretary, and Grace Irvin, custodian.

The board hired Janie R. Baldridge and Betty Jean Jackson as fifth grade teachers, Jan Pigg as a part-time math teacher, and Virginia Piech as a parttime art teacher. Upon her request, Carolyn Light's teaching load was reduced from full time to part time. Nelda Smith was hired as a custodian

A recommendation to the Calloway County School Board to hire David L. Elliot as the high school golf and girls basketball coach, an assistant in football and a teacher was approved

Thursday night at the board meeting. Sandy Schuster was hired as the high school assistant girls basketball coach and a teacher. Bill Miller was named head football coach at the middle

The recommendations for employment came from Dr. Jack Rose, school superintendent.

Rose told the board eight new school buses were purchased for about $143,000. The buses seat 65 passengers, have Chevrolet chassises, Wayne bodies, air brakes and automatic transmissions.

Rose added if the budget would allow, seven additional buses may be purchased next year. He said several of the buses were purchased in 1970 and 1971 and about 24 buses may need to be replaced over the next three years. The board members passed a motion for three old buses to be sold in Paducah and two at a local auction. Rose said if there will no difficulties in selling the buses at the auction, consideration would be given to sell two

Brezhnev Arrives For Summit With Carter In Vienna

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer

VIENNA, Austria (AP) - Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev arrived in Vienna today for his first meeting with President Carter, a summit conference that the American leader said would be "another step toward security and lasting peace."

Brezhnev, arriving some 13 hours after Carter flew in from Washington, smiled as he walked down the steps from his plane, grasping the railing in his right hand and moving slowly and

Accompanying the Soviet president were his foreign and defense ministers, the chief of the general staff of the Soviet armed forces and Konstantin Chernenko, a longtime protege and member of the ruling party Politburo who is considered by some to be Brezhnev's political heir.

Carter in an arrival statement said he and Brezhnev had no illusions that the nuclear arms limitation treaty they will sign Monday "will rid the world of danger or end all differences" between the United States and the Soviet Union.

"But we are confident that SALT II will widen the areas of cooperation and reduce the dangers of nuclear holocaust," he declared

Brezhnev when he arrived made no statement. After the playing of the Soviet and Austrian national anthems, he walked in front of the honor guard, bowed once, received flowers from two Young Pioneers from the Viennese Soviet School, exchanged a few remarks with Austrian President Rudolf Kirchschlaeger and was driven

Owensboro Distributors Bow To Strike Pressure

By The Associated Press

State police reported major Kentucky highways quiet early today in the fourth day of a nationwide independent truckers' protest. But Owensboro area gasoline distributors have bowed to pressure and agreed to stop fuel shipments because of the threat of

The only arrest reported by state police Thursday was that of Melvin Earl Davis, Louisville, who was charged with disorderly conduct after police began towing trucks blocking the pumps at Truckers' World on Interstate 65 at Shepherdsville south of Louisville.

Meantime, Owensboro area residents faced the specter of being unable to find gasoliné after area bulk suppliers agreed Thursday to stop shipments. Local officials discounted the effect the expected gasoline shortage would have on the Owensboro Hydrofair, which starts today and is the city's biggest annual tourist attraction.

Bill Booth, president of Quality Oil Co., an Amoco distributor, and spokesman for area bulk suppliers, said the decision to shut down was reached after a meeting with striking area independent truckers.

Joe Voyles, president of L.V. Trucking Co. and a leader of the independent truckers, said truckers hoped to cut off shipments from bulk plants for two or three days in an effort to focus public attention on the truckers' demands for lower diesel Booth predicted that most Owensboro area stations served by the distributors would be out of gas by Monday. About, 20 percent of the area stations are independent, he said, and would get fuel from other sources.

Some Owensboro stations reported they were out of gas Thursday, and long lines formed at those stations that did have gas.

ARTS AND CRAFTS FESTIVAL - Harry Cartwright of Murray displays his acrylic landscapes and seascapes, all to be exhibited and for sale at the 10th annual Arts and Crafts Festival in the Environmental Education Center in TVA's Land Between The Lakes (LBL) June 16 and 17. LBL is a 170,000-acre public demonstration area in western Kentucky and Tennessee. Cartwright paints the landscapes and seascapes entirely from memory of areas he has seen. "I paint what I feel," Cartwright said.

HEALTH Hooked on scales

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I've lost 30 pounds and want to lose a total of 40 or 50 pounds. My 30 pounds came off in a six-month period. The following six months have been discouraging and I don't seem to be able to lose any more. I gain a pound and then I lose it but 'm determined not to gain back those 30 pounds I lost.

In the past six months I seem to be getting smaller in my body as my clothes fit looser. I feel great. I take a daily vitamin but I don't have any weight loss. Maybe it's because I cheat but I still count my calorie intake. I'm on the pill and I sometimes wonder if that's the cause of it. I'm a very active person and on the go all day and now I either ride a bike at night or jump rope for more exercise. I'm 40 years of age. Can you tell me what the problem may be?

DEAR READER' biggest problem is that you're hooked on the bathroom scales. All the scales do is tell you how many pounds you weigh. They never tell you pounds of what - whether it's pounds of water, undigested food material, fat or protein.

The purpose of losing weight is to eliminate excess body fat. You don't want to lose the normal water that's in your body. That's just as bad for your body as it is for a plant not to get the normal amount of water it deserves. Your body cells tend to wither up just like a plant will wither up if you don't give it enough water.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet, to give you the basis of a balanced diet that you can follow for the future. Of course, if you don't stick to the diet and cheat a little bit, you're not going to lose weight. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

It's important to exercise to keep from losing muscle mass and you're going in the right direction. You might wish to add daily walking to help you out.

People who have not been some problem in losing exercise stimulates their body to develop good mus-muscle and around 3500 calories in a pound of body fat. If you eliminate 3500 stored fat calories and lose a pound of fat but exercise enough to use 600 calories to build a pound of muscle. there won't be any change on the scales. Even so, your body will have eliminated unwanted calories. 2900 That's progress in the right direction regardless of what your bathroom scales say.

This may explain why your clothes are looser. You may be getting rid of those fat pads underneath the skin that add to your unwanted dimensions while you're developing some healthy muscle elsewhere.

The best indication as to whether a person is too fat or physically active and start not is by the amount of fat exercising at the same time that's underneath the skin. A they're on a diet may have good healthy muscular person will have only a small pounds. Why? Because the amount of fat under the skin around the waist, hips and thighs. In general, it sounds like you've done a lot of good There are about 600 calo for yourself. Just don't ries in a pound of lean overdo the dieting.

Too Young to Cruise With Her First Mate

LEAR ABBY: I'm a 17-year old girl. I quit'high school to work and save enough money for college. My mom helped me get a fantastic job. I want to move into an apartment closer to my job. I've.

already made plans and even got myself a roommate! I'm not running away from home or anything like that. I just want to be independent and get out from under my mom's protective wing.

Here's my problem: I'm afraid my mom won't let me move out, especially when she finds out my roommate is my boyfriend!

I love my mother and don't want to hurt her, but ships weren't meant to sit in the harbor forever. What do you

DEAR TROUBLED: I can understand your desire for independence, but you're no ship. And even if you were, leaving your berth at 17 to sail the uncharted seas of a live-in arrangement could put you on the rocks in no time. DEAR ABBY: I was engaged to be married in August. I ordered my bridal gown and four bridesmaid's dresses. It came to a sizable amount: I have lots of other bills, plus car payments to make, so I am strapped financially.

Two weeks after the dresses were ordered, my fiance broke our engagement, saying he had had serious doubts for over a month about whether we should marry. He said he has now finally summoned the nerve to tell me that he is sure it would be a mistake and we should call it off.

Abby, since he had "serious doubts" at the time the dresses were ordered, I think he should have told me. When I placed that order I had no idea he was having doubts. Now I am informed that because the dresses were specially ordered they cannot be returned.

Is my ex-fiance responsible for this bill?

EX-BRIDE-TO-BE

DEAR EX: I think your ex-fiance has a moral obligation to pay for the gowns but, if he doesn't think so, you may have to resort to legal action. Perhaps just the mention of it might produce results. Try it.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a good provider for his family which consists of me lage 31) plus our four daughters, 12, 10. 8 and 6.

I lost a baby two years ago. I am enclosing a picture of me. As you can see, I am pregnant and the doctor says I'm carrying twins! My husband took that picture. It's one of the few he's ever taken of me with all my clothes on, which brings me to my problem.

You see, my husband is camera crazy, and for the last three years he has insisted on taking pictures of me and our daughters in various stages of undress as well as in the

How can I get across to my husband that the girls are getting too big for these "family portraits" (as he calls them). Also, I don't feel like posing in various stages of undress while pregnant, but he insists it doesn't matter.

Am I out of line for putting my foot down? ENOUGH IS ENOUGH IN OHIO

DEAR ENOUGH: No. 1 think your husband has an unhealthy preoccupation with nudity. You can get your message across to him by refusing to pose unless fully clothed. And instruct the girls to do likewise.

Do you wish you had more friends? For the secret of popularity, get Abby's new booklet: "How To Be Popular; You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send $1 with a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Act Of Forgiveness

Peace is a time for binding up the wounds of war, but some wounds are very slow to heal. It was only last year, 103 years after the end of the Civil War, that American citizenship was restored to a native Kentuckian, the president of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis.

Last week, nearly 90 years after Davis' death, a small group gathered at the 351-foot obelisk in Todd County that marks Davis' birthplace and paid homage to the memory of a man who served the Republic well until he chose to side with his adopted state of Mississippi in its secession in 1861.

After the war, Davis and hisfriend, Gen. Robert E. Lee,

Letter To The Editor

were exempted from the general amnesty granted Confederate prisoners by President Andrew Johnson.

Lee's citizenship finally was restored in 1976, but Davis' pardon was bogged down in Congress until Sen. Mark Hatfield (R-Ore) took up his cause. President Carter signed the bill restoring Davis' citizenship last Oct. 18.

Time alone does not heal a wound of the spirit. It requires an act of forgiveness for such a wound to heal properly.

The restoration of full citizenship to Jefferson Davis is a reminder that our capacity for forgiveness still exceeds our capacity to wound one another.

He has bragged that the effect of HB 44 will be tax reductions. If anyone gets a experience as an elected official leads me to believe that shifting the tax burden from truck lines and railroads to small taxpayers will mean a greater tax burden. HB 44 will turn out to be a public rip-off, and if you don't believe it

Little-Known Aspect

their eyes.

Dear Editor:

I would like to point out to the taxpaying citizens a little-known aspect of the House Bill 44 tax "roll-back" law. Because public service companies (truck freight lines, railroads, telephone companies, utility system, pipelines, bus lines, Western Union, etc.) were exempted from reassessment but were included in a lower tax-rate resulting from the effect of HB 44, they will all pay less total property taxes this year than they did

This represents a shift in the payment of property taxes from the large motor freight lines, utility systems, etc. to the small property owner. The difference in what taxes were paid by these businesses last year and the smaller amount paid this year will be made up by other taxpayers.

State Senator Weisenberger obviously did not completely understand the ramifications of HB 44 when he wrote the article, which appeared in

David's Undisciplined Sons

In the Old Testament era polygamy was permitted, and was practiced by many, but it never was a part of God's plan for His people. And, as all students of the Old Testament know, polygamy inevitably produced unhappiness, heartache, misery, contention, and strife within the families where it was practiced.

II Samuel 14:21-28

A prominent family which experienced numerous and great sorrows because polygamy was practiced in it was that of David. Having had children by various wives and concubines, it is not at all surprising that David was overindulgent with his children, and neglected to teach and to discipline them as he should, and for his negligence he naturally reaped the same sorrowful results that others did. Parents who fail to challenge the behavior of their children and neglect to discipline them for misconduct need not expect to avert the consequences of their shortcomings in this important realm of life.

When Amnon defiled or raped his half-sister, Tamar, the only recorded reaction of David to that terrible deed was to the effect that he was "wroth." There is not any record of David saying or doing anything to reprimand Amnon. When, as it were, David shut his eyes to Amnon's sinful and inexcusable crime. Absalom decided that he would take things into his own hands and have Amnon slain. If David had been a good disciplinarian, and had punished Amnon, the murder of the latter might have been avoided. While nurturing murderous designs on his half-brother, Amnon, enraged Absalom waited two years before executing his plan. Having invited all the sons of David to a sumptuous feast, Absalom instructed his servants to wait until Amnon got sufficiently drunk to be unaware of what was taking place, and then to kill him. Following the murder of Ampon, Absalom fled to the home of his maternal grandfather for protection over an extended period in exile. Three years later David granted permission to Joab, the captain of his forces, to bring Absalom to Jerusalem. When Joab brought Absalom to Jerusalem, David refused to admit him into his presence or grant him an audience, and had him banished to his own quarters. What rankled Absalom so much was the fact that two years went by without the slightest indication that David had any interest whatever in a reconciliation of the two.

Due to the fact that Absalom had such a splendid physique and was exceedingly handsome, he soon became extremely popular with the people, who considered him a celebrity.

I Kings 1:5-6

It was some time after the death of Absalom when Adonijah decided that, since David had grown old, he should make a bid for the throne to which he considered himself the heir apparent. God had chosen Solomon for this position, but Adonijah was not interested in ascertaining God's will about this matter. David never questioned Adonijah about his intentions, words or actions. Consequently, he and his cohorts concluded that they had the approval of David. Quite frequently when one is HEARTLINE: My wife and I are both in our 80s. We are planning to move to Florida this fall. Now that we have decided to make this move, we are wondering what will happen to our Medicare coverage and private Medicare supplement insurance with us living in another state. If there is a right or wrong way to approach these things, please let us know. - B. T.

Since Medicare is a federal program, it is good anywhere in the United States. Each state has a Medicare carrier or carriers which handles Medicare claims for that state. So, if you have Medicare claims in Florida you must send them to the correct Medicare carrier in Florida. Check with a Social Security office when you get to Florida for the correct address for your Medicare carrier.

As far as your Medicare supplement insurance goes, you should check with the insurance company now to see if that company is licensed or would cover you in the state you're moving to. They will be able to advise you in this

We also want to remind you that you need to give a change of address to your present Social Security office if you know at this time what your new address will be. If you will not know the new address until you get to Florida. contact the Social Security office there as soon as you know the address. It usually takes two or three months for Social Security to make an address change, and you may end up missing a few checks but they will be reimbursed

If you do not remarry before the age of 60, you would be entitled to divorced spouse's benefits beginning at age 62 if your ex-husband is retired and drawing benefits at that time. If your exhusband should pass away, and you do not remarry before age 60, you would be entitled to surviving divorced spouse's benefits as early as age 60. These laws apply to any spouse of a marriage which lasted 10 years or

My second husband passed away in 1979-Social Security says I am not eligible for benefits as a disabled widow on my second husband because he has been deceased for seven years, and I won't be eligible for benefits on his account until age 62. I asked about drawing off my first husband - why can't I? We were married 151/2 years and I had three children by him. Please explain.

You cannot draw disabled widow's benefits from either husband for the reason given you by Social Security. A widow must have become disabled within seven years from the death of her husband to be eligible for disabled widow's benefits.

At one time, when his circus was quartered near his home in Connecticut, P.T. Barnum had one of the elephants pull the plow in his field. This, of course, was good for columns of publicity, and people came from miles around. One of them asked the showman: "Is there any advantage in using an elephant for plowing?'

+++++ The grand jury for the regular term concluded hearings Saturday, April 26. No additional indictments were returned for Night Riding, however several indictments were returned for writing threatening letters. In the concluding day of the jury five additional men had been charged with offenses. They were Clay Garland, J. M. McClure, Henry Taylor, Jasper Garland, and Nathan Lassiter. The beleaguered editor dipped his pen in a vitriolic bath of ridicule entitled "Dirty as Filth." It read:

"A dirty fling at the Ledger, purporting to be an excerpt from a recent issue of the Paducah Sun, has been printed in circular form and secretly sent out through the mail over this county. The Paducan Sun is dominated by a political clique that serves the party of trust robbers, and we believe trust money pard for the printing and mailing of these circulars in the county.

"Regardless of the contradictions of the trust robbers, papers, and the smirking hypocrits who pretend fidelity to the Association, a herculean effort is being made to destroy the tobacco growers organization and to destroy the Ledger's influence, is the first attempt of this kind in the county . . . We do not believe the people of this county can be made to believe a lie, and if all the calumny, abuse and vilification that is heaped upon this paper and its editor by the dirty buzzards and commercial vampires who have robbed this county for years, and if they will confine their accusations to this writer and quit their tirade aimed at organized farm labor, we'll smilingly submit. But the world, the flesh and the devil can't stop us in our fight for the Association."

The turmoil created by the presence of armed forces in Murray began to simmer down while farmers turn again to prepare ground and setting a new crop, despite a heavy May snow that fell. In addition, the presence of armed forces had inspired youths of Calloway County into forming their own militia detachment. Fifty-three young men signed a petition for a unit here, with only 40 required to form a company. The petition was forwarded to Frankfort for Considerable activity was registered in the ranks of the military detachment with a company of men stationed in Murray being sent to Rockcastle in Trigg County. Company C of Owensboro pitched camp in the old Moore tan yard and will remain here indefinitely. Complaining of the inconvenience of militiamen "Bad Boy," a Thompson School House correspondent, contended "the soldiers have been holding up our physician after dark. We think it is bad that doctors can't go see the sick without being held up by soldiers. We think we are able to attend to our own business without the help of soldiers yet awhile."

Rose Ross Signs National Letter With Vincennes

For Rose Ross, it was year. something she had "always wanted to do," and she accomplished the feat by inking her name to a national letterof-intent vesterday.

With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Ross, Route 1, Dexter, looking on, Ross signed to play basketball with Vincennes, Ind., Junior College.

Ross and her Calloway County teammates had their share of success last season. The Lakers ran up a 20-4 record and the First Region title, earning the first-ever trip to the state tournament for a Calloway County basketball team.

And individually, Ross shone. She averaged 16.4 points and five assists a game, helping her to All-Purchase and honorable mention allstate honors.

"I'm just glad I'm getting the chance to play college basketball somewhere," said Ross. "I got to meet with (Vincennes) Coach (Andrea) Myers, and she felt like I would have a good chance of playing at least some this Janice McCracken, an All-America selection at Vincennes last season, announced her intentions to transfer to Murray State earlier this year, leaving Myers with some guard problems.

"She said she lost seven players, so I hope to get to play," Ross said.

Ross also considered Avila College, a small private school in St. Louis, Mo., and spoke with Murray State Coach Jean

"I could have walked on at Murray, but they are deep at guard, so I'm not sure what my chances would have been there," Ross said.

Smith, however, said she would keep a close eye on Ross at Vincennes. "I'm going to follow her progress." Smith said. "She's a talented player, and we may not be as strong at guard in two years as we are

Nicklaus, Watson Stumble In U.S. Open

By BOB GREEN AP Golf Writer

TOLEDO, Ohio - Jack Nicklaus and Tom Watson. golf's two greatest players, were down but, they stoutly insisted, not out going into today's second round of the 79th U.S. Open Championship.

Nicklaus, with a double bogey on the final hole, shot an opening 74.

Watson, with bogeys on three of his last five holes, shot 75, five strokes off the firstround lead that was shared by five players.

"I don't feel I'm out of the tournament," Watson said. "I can jump right back in the tournament if I can shoot a good round, a round in the 60s," he said.

Nicklaus had a similar idea. 'I'm not out of it," he said. "Seventy four isn't that bad a score. If I shoot 67 or 68 I'm right back in it."

But tough old Inverness hasn't yet yielded a score in the 60s in this national championship. It plays to a par 71. Only five men ever had it at 2 under par - which would produce a score in the 60s — and none of them could

It was the first national open in five years in which a score in the 60s had not been produced in the first round.

First-round scores were exceptionally high - ranging up to an 87 by South African Hugh Baiocchi - and included 77s by a starry group of PGA champ John Mahaffey, defending U.S. Open titleholder Andy North, Masters king Fuzzy Zoeller and Lee Trevino. However, few topranked players had such frustrating difficulties getting home as those encountered by Nicklaus and Watson.

Nicklaus, holder of a record 15 major professional titles and generally regarded as the greatest ever to play the ancient game, was in good shape. 1 over par coming to

It didn't work. Carter slammed a booming double to left, driving in two runs and giving the Expos a 4-3 victory over the Braves.

The victory raised Montreal's home record to 20-3 and extended its lead over secondplace St. Louis to one game in the National League East.

In other games, the Chicago Cubs beat the San Francisco Giants 8-6 and the San Diego Padres edged the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in 14 innings

The Expos trailed 3-1 before Rodney Scott led off the eighth with a single, moved to third on Andre Dawson's double off the left-field wall and scored on the single by Perez.

"Perez has been driving in runs like that for 14 years," said Expos Manager Dick Williams. "Garber tried to jam him with the pitch and Tony just fought it off."

Garber, who had entered the game in relief of starter Buddy Solomon after two runners reached base in the eighth, then gave up the tworun double to Carter.

"He took a little off his fast ball and kept the ball down a bit," said Carter. "You just TOLEDO, Ohio - They're calling the 79th United States Open Championship the Year of the Tree. And it's an apropos title.

A 25-foot spruce was awaiting Lon Hinkle and his Short Cut Gang today beside the eighth tee at Inverness Embarrassed officials of the governing U.S. Golf Association hope the tree, put in place Thursday night, will eliminate playing down the - adjoining 17th fairway to negotiate an easy par - or even birdie - at the 528-yard, par-5 dogleg hole.

"I was real tempted not to tell anybody about it. We hit to the same landing area that people from 17 do," said Hinkle, who hit a 1-iron to the fairway, a 2-iron to the eighth green and 2-putted from 70 feet for his bird.

The strategy helped him to a 1-under-par 70, good for a share of the first-round lead Graham, Tom Purtzer, Andy Bean and Keith Fergus.

At least six players - Jerry Heard, Dave Eichelberger, John Schroeder, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Jim Simons and Hinkle - played the eighth hole via the shortcut, which cut about 50 yards from the length of the hole. Heard and Schroeder also birdied it. The

Then, in a startling turnaround he couldn't explain himself, Purtzer lashed backat proud, old Inverness, the site of its fourth Open in 59 years.

Purtzer birdied four straight holes, five of the last six for a 31 on the backside and a share of the lead.

Despite the playing conditions in sunny mid-80 degree weather, it was one of the most inauspicious first rounds for an Open. Not since 1974 had no players been in the 60s.

Inverness was particularly harsh on some of the sport's glamour names. Johnny Miller, who holds the single round Open record of 63, went for 73. Three-time Open titleholder Jack Nicklaus struggled to 74 as did two more Open kings, Hubert Green and Hale Irwin.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. - With a little help from a friend, Sally Little has her act together in the $100,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association tour stop at Locust Hills Country Club.

What she called "a few changes," sorchestrated byfellow South African transplant Judy Angel, helped Little to a 69 on the 6,206-yard, par-73 course Thursday and an opening-day tie for the lead with Jane Blalock.

"I'm not going to be overconfident," said Little, whose last tour victory was in March and who finished 54th in one tournament last month.

They were changes too specific to define, mostly in the way I've been hitting the ball. I've been in a slump for about two months now. ...But I feel like I'm going to be a better golfer as a result."

Last week, after two weeks of tutoring by Angel, the 27yearold Little finished fourth in the LPGA championsship.

Little eagled the par-5 17th and had four birdies and two bogeys on the day.

BUTLER, Tenn. (AP) -Settling in the steel glider on the shady porch of her home in the hollow, Mrs. Virginia Maude Bunton thought of the woman far away in Utah whose twin daughters joined at the head were recently separated by surgeons.

She knows the agony of the mother.

"I think of her often," Mrs. Bunton said. "You are all the time worried. I guess as long as they live there will be worries.'

Mrs. Bunton toys with the idea of telephoning Salt Lake City, if only to offer Patricia Hansen some understanding.

Her own daughters were born joined at the head 23 years ago.

It was on Aug. 9, 1956, that Mrs. Bunton, her father and a neighbor lady climbed into a Plymouth at 3 a.m. and twisted through the hills to the . Elizabethton hospital 30 miles

She was 21 years old and three months a widow. It was her third delivery and it nearly killed her. A day later her tired father, a missionary Baptist preacher named John McCloud, reappeared with the news that she'd had given birth to Siamese twins, joined above the right foreheads. Together they weighed but 7 pounds and 3 ounces.

Doctors expected neither tiny Teresa Kay nor Virginia Kate to live.

They did and last week the two girls were reunited after a year of being miles apart. Teresa had married and moved to Indiana and Virginia Ginny, as she is called had stayed at home on the Teresa says, "It was when I was about 10 or 11 years old, probably, when I realized what it was all about. It really felt good to be one of them, a Siamese twin, and that we lived and lived to be separated and we lived afterwards, too, because we are the only two known except for these other

Her mind was on 18-monthold Lisa and Elisa Hansen struggling for survival as she and Ginny had.

The excitement the births caused around Butler did not extend beyond the mountains. A four-paragraph Associated Press dispatch was the only notice of them printed in Nashville's morning newspaper. But word reached the late U.S. Rep. B. Carroll Reece from the Bunton's upper East Tennessee district. On Oct. 3, Reece flew Mrs. Bunton and the infants to the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness, a clinical center at the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md. Dr. Maitland Baldwin took charge of the case and the government stood the expense. The girls' father, Raymond, was a 39-year-old disabled veteran when he died of a heart attack and his children were entitled to medical benefits.

The tissue linking Ginny and Teresa was less than 3 inches by 4 inches. But there was an outside chance the brains were bridged and the operation would be but the third of its kind.

On Dec. 11, in a seven-hour surgery, the girls were parted. They were four months and two days old.

For the first time, the babies slept in separate cribs. Soon each rested with a large doll so they wouldn't miss one Though a University of Illinois specialist, Dr. Anthony N. Silvetti, succesfully grafted sections of embryonic calfskin across the open skulls, the girls lost copious amounts of fluid from their brains.

Forty-two days later, Ginny developed Friedlander's bascillus meningitis.--

Ginny clung to life but developed epileptic seizures and still takes phenobarbital each day to stave them off. The girls were 14 months old before they returned to Bunton Hollow. But with the supplementary surgeries and check-ups, the NIH hospital became their Sometimes Ginny wonders, Why me?"

Teresa wants to have children of her own.

"I've always dreamed of having twins, a little boy and a little girl," she said. That brought the Hansen twins back to mind. "Whenever I find out there is an article about it, we'll go out and get it because I'm fascinated about the way things are going with them and, like I said, I hope they

A $150,000 contract, requested by the Department committee has been in of Finance, was deferred until the next meeting in July.

The contract calls for $12,000 to be paid to Leisure & Recreation Concept Inc. of Dallas for a market survey on the feasibility of a "theme park," similar to King's Island or Six Flags Over Georgia, to be located at the Kentucky Fair & Exposition Center in Louisville.

An additional $138,000 is included in the contract for site preparation preceding construction. The main objection of the committee centered on the fact that since the $150,000, which comes from fair board bond issues, would be paid in a lump sum, the Dallas firm would be more inclined to turn in a favorable market survey.

The subcommittee passed the motion of deferral to amend the contract to $12,000 so the remaining $138,000 would not be contracted until the results of the survey are

Three large contacts totaling more than $4.73 million, requested by the Department of Transportation for road construction, were approved by the subcommittee.

A state civil engineer for the department requested a 10 percent leeway clause be. added to the contracts in case extra work is required. This would raise the maximum expenditure allowed by the contracts to more than $5.2 million.

The request was denied by Rep. Bob Jones (D-Crestwood) who, as chairman of the subcommittee, ruled that only what was on the present contract would be

New Freedom Has Psychic Costs

Today's Young Woman Redefines Term

EDITOR'S NOTE - She's better educated - college or a smattering of it - healthier, able to have a healthy child later in life than her forebears, able to decide when or if she'll have that child. Here ambitions outside the home, lately being realized, are formidable. But greatly enhanced freedom of choice has its psychic costs. This is the second of two articles on the changed and changing world of American women.

By JOHN BARBOUR AP Newsfeatures Writer

Today's young American woman, in her 20s and 30s, her child-bearing years, is redefining just what it means to be a woman.

She is, of course, the best educated, the healthiest, the most socially powerful female in American history. Thirtythree million strong, she is also the most active lobby of America's largest majority women.

More than any of her predecessors, she is free to choose the goals of her life marriage, children, career and the timing, the depth of fidelity to each.

But all of that freedom and some consider it less freedom than mandate costs in deep and personal ways. No one woman can speak for all women, but through a series of interviews with experts and young women at this stage in life, strong themes emerge. And with the average educational years, the freedom to choose roles. tends to minimize the differences in social and economic levels.

A special demographic study of three generations of American women - commissioned by The Associated Press — charts just how much things have changed from grandmother's day to this demanding new world today's young woman has inherited.

Most things are "up" in her life. She has something better than a high school education, years since her grandmother's day.

point of not marrying at all. 40. There is another statistic in her life:

A young woman in her 20s, marrying today, has a 40 percent chance of divorcing or being divorced.

All of which diminishes the urgency of marriage.

These young women, themselves the children of the baby boom, with the greatest numerical potential of producing children American history, have produced the lowest fertility. rate in that history — only 1.8 births per woman, less even than the 2.2 children produced by her Depression-fatigued grandmother.

Aided and abetted by the Equal Employment Opportunity law, she is a soughtafter member of the labor force, and she is advanced in positions of responsibility much faster than her grandmother could dream of.

With 97.5 million workers, vomen constitute 41 percent of the labor force, and 61 percent of those are women in their child-bearing years. More than half of the women with young children work.

All of these forces conspire to change the lighting on womanhood, the concept of what a woman is - in male and female eves.

"Any period of rapid social change results in considerable confusion and distress on the part of people who are used to having rules set out for them.' says Dr. Marjorie Hershey of Indiana University, who inlevel reaching into the college structs women on new female

"It's very scary. Yet I also appreciate the feelings of many older women caught in between...'

Today's women face a far different world than did the young women of only 20 years ago, says Dr. Matina Horner, president of Radcliffe College. Today's young women are aided and abetted by relatively new biological technology. They are no longer a prisoner of their ching between traditional ability to reproduce. That, too, makes them more equal with

'Contraceptive methods within the last 60 years are compassionate, gentle, quite as significant as anything that has happened in the Industrial Revolution," says Gail Putney Fullerton, president of California's San Jose State University. "It means that child-bearing can now be truly a matter of choice for most married women. Grandmother didn't have that choice."

Both grandmother and mother adapted to not having that choice. Today's young women are adapting to having

Dr. Fullerton also sees stability in this unstable social from a lot of middle-aged milieu. "They may reinvent the forms and context of marriage, but the conjugal relationship is pretty much a solid one. People keep trying to get it into some other form, but the need for a kind of intimacy in a relationship that has some kind of continuity is still there."

searching for a gift for Father's Day? Perhaps you're try-

There is a much finer gift that you can give him, however - your time. He has given you so much of his. Much of what you know about life, you learned from him. A lot of what you are depends on what kind of father you have.

The kind of time you spend with him depends on his interests. If he loves to fish then a day spent fishing may be a great treat. Or it may make him very proud to introduce you to all his friends at chuych. Elderly fathers may appreciate a quiet that or a walk more than anything clae. It really doesn't matter too much what you do as long as you take the time—the perfect gift for father.

Toyota Dealer Agrees To Refund

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) = A local automobile dealer, Toyota of Lexington Inc., has agreed in Fayette Circuit Court to refund $3,674 in alleged overcharges to customers.

Under an agreed order signed by Judge L.T. Grant, the company will place the money in an escrow account to be distributed to customers who allegedly were overcharged.

The order, signed Wednesday, stated Toyota of Lexington did not admit any violation of the law.

The action stemmed from a suit filed Tuesday by state Attorney General Robert Stephens, which accused the company of charging more than the legal amount required to register and transfer an automobile.

Nancy Stewart of Ripley, Tenn. They have two children, Kathryn, who will be a senior at Lambuth College, and Lisa, who will be a sophomore at Murray High School. Dr. Blankenship is the son of the Rev. R. F. Blankenship and the late Eva Montgomery Blankenship of Lexington, Tenn. Rev. R. F. away to the Soviet Embassy.

The traditional 21-gun salute was scheduled as Carter's big jet landed Thursday night but no guns sounded. Austrian officials had no explanation but suggested the absence of a salute was appropriate for an arms control summit.

The American and Soviet leaders won't begin their talks until Saturday. But they were to make a joint courtesy call on Austrian President Rudolf Kirchschlaeger this evening before Carter, his wife Rosalynn and their daughter Amy attend a performance of Mozart's opera "The Abduction from the Seraglio" at Vienna's worldrenowned opera house.

American officials said Carter planned to meet during the day with Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, Defense Secretary Harold Brown and other advisers.

Vance was expected to meet privately with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

SALT II, the second Soviet-American treaty to curb the superpowers' nuclear arms race, limits the two nations to 2,400 long-range missiles and bombers that can deliver nuclear warheads. The agreement has been under negotiation for nearly seven years and if confirmed by the U.S. Senate will run through

But U.S. officials are hopeful that the first Soviet-American summit in 41/2 years will produce more than the signing of the 80-page treaty that was put in final form Thursday night by American and Soviet negotiators in U.S. sources who asked not to be named held out the possibility that the two presidents might agree on a longdelayed ban on underground nuclear

They also spoke of possible cultural agreements, including easier visa procedures for American reporters visiting the Soviet Union and Soviet journalists visiting the United States.

Brezhnev and Carter are expected to discuss a wide range of other issues, including the removal of congressional restrictions on Soviet-American trade if the recent increase in Jewish emigration from the Soviet Union continues. Soviet policy toward dissidents, the Middle East in the wake of the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty, the situation in southern Africa and relations with China
