Weekly Kentucky New Era
UNO, WESLEY GAINES

Owen County Republican writer in columns of Congressman John Trenholm's dispatch, says:

"A correspondent in Winterthur from President William McKinley reports that a fan of his speeches here is in the hospital with typhoid fever. As an unknown individual, a patient of the hospital, he would do well to keep off the attack. There is a story of his having had a similar experience in his youth. Last night, while sitting in a car in the West End, he was attacked by a man with a stick, who demanded money. The man was clubbed to death by the other passenger."

Start a Bank Account

It is no more trouble to open a bank account with the COMMERCIAL & SAVINGS BANK than it is to buy a pound of meat. Come in and say to any officer or employee of the bank: "I wish to open a savings account," and the matter will be settled.

You will be directed to the right window. Tell the man in the cage how much you wish to save, and the book with your name and account number will be opened.

You will have a pass book which will enable you to refresh your memory and take care of it if you are unknown to the man who is not a bank depositor. Try once.
Mr. Ewing's Death

HIGHLY RESPECTED SOUTH CHRISTIAN PLANTER

Mrs. Ewing Dies - University Woman

On the morning of the 7th instant Mrs. Ewing, wife of Mr. G. M. Fisher, died at her residence in Big Pool, Va. She was a native of Tennessee and had resided in the state of Virginia for a number of years. She was the wife of a man who was one of the oldest and most respected citizens of the county, and had been a member of the South Christian Church for many years. She was a woman of good character and a faithful member of the church. She was kind and affectionate in her relations with her family and friends, and her death is a great loss to those who knew her. She leaves a husband and three children, who will feel the loss of a noble and loving mother.

Mrs. Ewing's death was unexpected, and she was found at her place of residence, apparently well and happy. She had been in good health until the last few days, when she became ill with a severe cold. She was taken to the hospital, where she was at first hopeful of recovery, but her condition soon became worse, and she died on the morning of the 7th instant. She was buried in the family vault in the cemetery near their residence.

Mr. Ewing is a deservedly popular man, and his death is a great loss to the community. He was a man of high moral character and a Christian gentleman, and his death will be deeply felt by all who knew him. He was a man who had a true sense of the importance of education, and he did all in his power to promote the welfare of the community. He was a man who was respected by all who knew him, and his death is a great loss to the community. He was a man who had a true sense of the importance of education, and he did all in his power to promote the welfare of the community. He was a man who was respected by all who knew him, and his death is a great loss to the community.

SAM JONES' SAYINGS WITH MR. CRENSHAW

UNDER THE RULES OF THE PURE FOOD COMMISSION

All exercises in advertising the food and beverages sold in the drinking establishments in the city of Nashville, by the Voluntary Code of Conduct, would have been nullified by the announcement of the Declaration of Independence.

The Voluntary Code of Conduct was established in 1913 by the Nashville Bar Association and the Nashville Women's Club to regulate the sale of alcohol in the city. The code was voluntary and not enforceable by law, but it was widely supported by the community and helped to reduce the sale of alcohol.

In the years following the code's establishment, there were calls for a more stringent law to regulate the sale of alcohol. These calls were met with resistance from the liquor industry, which saw the code as a threat to their business.

In 1914, the Voluntary Code of Conduct was replaced by the Tennessee Alcoholic Beverage Control Act, which was enforced by the Tennessee State Board of Control. The act was a significant step towards the regulation of the sale of alcohol in the state of Tennessee.

The Voluntary Code of Conduct was a reflection of the values of the community and the desire to improve the health and well-being of its citizens. It was a step towards a more regulated society, which would eventually lead to the creation of the Tennessee Alcoholic Beverage Control Act.

Joe Jefferson's Sons

Will appear at Miners' Opera House Saturday, November 10.

"Playing the stage." She was married to Joseph and William W. Jefferson. She raises the seeds and which will be planted here in the open air on Friday night. She, in the early years of her life, was a noted actress, and the final scene in her life was in the production of a new drama. In the case of a new production, such as this, there is no doubt that a woman can do this sort of thing. The production was not started, but it was finished and it is now being given.
