WEEKLY NEW ERA

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1906.

VOLUME XXV.

BECKHAM AND HAGER

Are Winners In The Races For Democratic Nominations For United States Senator And Governor.

RESULTS FAR AS KNOWN IN OTHER CONTESTS.

CRENSHAW AND NEWMAN NECK AND NECK AND OUTCOME IS IN DOUBT.—HENDRICKS HAS DEFEATED CARTER FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL.—GULLION SEEMS TO HAVE DEFEATED WINFREY.—THE CONGRESSIONAL CONTESTS.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 8.—The latest returns received in this city show Gov. Beckham, in the race of the nomination for United States senator, has a lead now of 6,757 over Senator McCreary.

Senator McCreary is in Louisville and has not conceded the election, but is waiting for the official count. Judge Hager has defeated Hays by probably 30,000 majority.

John K. Hendrick won by a large majority. The official count is necessary to determine whether Crenshaw or Newman is nominated for commissioner of agriculture, with chances favoring the latter.

A. E. Gullion has defeated W. O. Winfree for superintendent of public instruction, in a close race. Langley, Republican, wins for congress in the Tenth district.

In the congressional races, Stanley won in the Second by a good majority over Paul M. Moore.

In the Ninth district Bennett has defeated Kehoe.

Swager Sherley wins in the Louisville district by a flattering majority.

In the Sixth, Joseph L. Rinock Democrat, has apparently won by 500 majority.

Richardson, Democrat, is defeated the Third by A. D. James by 556 majority.

Ben Johnson, Democrat, wins in the Fourth.

Edwards, of course, in the Eleventh.

WEDDING BELLS

(From Thursday's Daily) Moore-Woodbridge.

The despatch in yesterday's Kentucky New Era announcing the marriage in Nashville, Tenn., of Miss Mary Peyton Moore and Mr. Samuel Upshaw Woodbridge was one of the most interesting nuptial announcements that society has read this season. The ceremony was performed at high noon Wednesday at the residence of the Rev. Lansing Burroughs, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church, who impressively performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Woodbridge left yesterday afternoon for Louisville and will go from there to Georgetown, Ky., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Montgomery. The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. William S. Moore, of South Christian, is one of the loveliest girls in the county. The fortunate bridegroom is one of Hopkinsville most popular young citizens.

Moore-Hill.

At 8:30 o'clock last night, Mr. Clyde M. Hill and Miss Hallie Akers Moore were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock at the home of the bride's mother on south Campbell street, the residence being attractively decorated with chrysanthemums. On account of the serious illness of the bride's uncle, the wedding was very quiet, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present. The bride and groom were preceded into the parlor by Mr. Wharton Crabb and Miss Eula Moore, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. A. P. Lyon, of the Methodist church, and divine blessing upon the union was invoked by Rev. J. E. Fogarty, of the Ninth street Presbyterian church. The bride is the charming daughter of Mrs. M. J. Moore, and Mr. Hill is a progressive young business man who is connected with the Acme Mills and Elevator Co. Mr. and Mrs. Hill left at 10:05 over the L. & N. for a bridal tour to Chicago and other points. They will return Monday night and will take board with the groom's parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hill on south Clay street until the residence which Mr. Hill is having built on Walnut street is completed, when they will go to house-keeping.

Patton-Fort.

SPRINGFIELD, Tenn., Nov. 8.—A social event of much interest to the people of Tennessee and Kentucky was the marriage of Hon. Chas. H. Fort and Miss Jennie Patton at the First Presbyterian church here yesterday afternoon. Mr. Fort is president of the Tobacco Planters' Association. Mr. and Mrs. Fort left on the late afternoon train for Clarksville where they will remain with the Hon. and Mrs. Daney Fort for several days, after which they will go to Mr. Fort's home near Adams.

PERSONAL NOTES.

(From Thursday's Daily)

J. B. Walker and his guest, Prof. Lowell Roundelbush, of Ohio, left yesterday for Metcalfe county where they will conduct a farmers' institute.

Dexter Eastor and Fred Ward, of Kell, Ky., Aaron Davis, of the county, and Miss Maytie Atkinson, of this city, entered Fox's Business college this week.

J. D. Ware is at Dawson Springs. Mrs. J. M. Bowling, of Clarksville, is the guest of Mrs. Alex Warfield.

Mrs. James D. Hill has gone to Austin, Tex., to visit her daughter. Mrs. M. G. Rust has returned from a visit in Nashville.

Prof. M. H. Lockyear, of Evansville, was in the city yesterday, looking after the interests of his business college.

Among the out-of-town guests at the Bohn-Franklin wedding were Mesdames A. Blackey and C. Weisberg and son; Misses Jessie Bohn, Fannie Fred, of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. S. Klein and daughters, Zetta and Rosa, Mrs. Abe Rubenstein and little son; Messrs. H. Bruner and L. Schenaler, and Misses Lena and Rosa Bruner, of Clarksville; Mr. F. Goldstein, of Nashville; Mr. M. Strause, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Freiberg, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bereut, of Trenton.

AT GRACE CHURCH

Dr. Mason Preaches Daily at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Dr. John K. Mason is delighting and inspiring congregations at Grace church morning and evening. Morning services are held at 11 o'clock and in the evening Dr. Mason preaches at 7:30 o'clock. His sermons are among the finest and most interesting ever heard in Hopkinsville where so many great preachers have been heard. The mission is growing daily in interest and the opportunity of hearing Dr. Mason preach should not be missed.

IS J. T. HARAHAN, WHO FORMERLY LIVED HERE

Change Will Take Place March 4.—Retiring Secretary Declined Embassadorship to France.

New Head of System Has Had Remarkable Career in Railroad World.—Sea to Sea.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock will retire from President Roosevelt's cabinet on March 4, next and James

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—By the election of J. T. Harahan as president of the Illinois Central railroad company to succeed Stuyvesant Fish, it is believed that E. H. Harriman has at last realized the fulfillment of his plan to control a railroad line from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans.

In this great plan the Illinois Central was the one link missing to complete the line of track from New York to San Francisco and Portland, Ore., and from the Great Lakes to Gulf of Mexico and from the Gulf to the Pacific again.

Until with a few months the Eastern terminals of the Harriman system were at Kansas City, Omaha and New Orleans.

The first important step in the direction of securing the Atlantic seaboard for the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific railroads is believed to have been taken by Mr. Harriman several weeks ago, when it was reported that one of the roads under his control had taken over control of the Baltimore & Ohio by the purchase of 40,000 shares of the Baltimore & Ohio company, which was sold by the Pennsylvania railroad company.

This would give Mr. Harriman a route from Chicago and St. Louis to Baltimore and New York.

To complete the ambitious proposition for a continuous line from ocean to ocean it was only necessary to connect the western terminals of the Baltimore & Ohio with the eastern terminals of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific and this purpose the Illinois Central serves amply.

Its line from Omaha to Chicago ties together the Union Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio, while the Illinois Central branch from Chicago to New Orleans gives the Southern Pacific entrance into Chicago and the seaboard.

Taken together, this railway system puts under one control 23,000 miles of track capitalized at more than $1,700,000,000.

James T. Harahan, vice-president of the Illinois Central, was elected president of the company at a meeting of the board of directors in this city by a vote of 8 to 0, the adherents of President Stuyvesant Fish not voting. The meeting is reported to have been a stormy one.

The directors who voted for Mr. Harahan were John Jacob Astor, Jr., W. Auchincloss, Robert W. Goelt, James T. Harahan, E. H. Harriman, Walter Luttgen, Chas. A. Peabody and Cornelius Vanderbilt.

The following directors directors did not vote: Stuyvesant Fish, Chas. M. Beach, J. DeWitt Cutting and Chas. S. Deneen, Governor of Illinois who is ex-officio a member of the board.

No successor to Mr. Harriman was chosen, but the other officers of the company whose terms expired were re-elected by a vote of 10 to 0, Messrs. Fish and Beach not voting.

Hopkinsville people are highly gratified at the election of J. T. Harahan as president of the Illinois Central railroad. Many of them know him personally and admire him greatly, and there has long been the keenest interest here in his wonderful business career. Mr. Harahan, himself, has never forgotten the town in which he lived during his early career, and many of the improvements made by the I. C. in this section were ordered by him.

The building of the industrial track which promises to mean so much to the commercial prosperity of Hopkinsville had his sanction and assistance.

FOR SALE—A good steel range cheap. Apply at this office or phone 482.

JAMES B. GARFIELD

R. Garfield, of Ohio, at present commissioner of corporations, will succeed him. Herbert Knox Smith, now assistant commissioner of corporations, will be appointed to Mr. Garfield's place. These changes and that of the retirement of Commissioner Richards of the general land office, on March 4, are announced in a statement from the white house.

Mr. Hitchcock was offered the French ambassadorship but declined as he wants complete rest.

The formal announcement that W. H. Moody, attorney general, will be appointed to the supreme bench is also made.

—HOPE.

Receives Call.

Rev. H. C. McGill, pastor of Olivet Baptist church at Howell, has received a call to the Baptist church of Providence, in Webster county. He will likely accept the call, which carries with it a handsome increase, in salary and would broaden his field. Mr. McGill is a minister of fine worth and has made the Olivet church an excellent pastor.

DAY TO DAY

The postponement of the meeting in the interest of the committee next Friday night, bright, snappy talks speakers in the city, will be held at the and the ladies are specially invited to be present. The committee expresses its belief that the citizens generally will be glad to lend their aid to a movement which will secure that character of playhouse that will command the clearest and most instructive plays. There is always a demand for amusement on the part of the public. Give them the best; this will in a great measure eliminate the worst. Nothing will so indelibly fix in one's mind a historical fact, as its presentation in dramatic form.

CASHIER J. E. McPherson, of the Bank of Hopkinsville, made $1.94 more easily yesterday than he has for many days, although bankers are supposed to earn money easily. A customer came in and presented a ten dollar bill, asking if it was good. Mr. McPherson examined it and found it was one of the interest bearing notes which were issued during the war by the federal government, and that there was $1.94 in interest now due on it. He stated this to the customer but the gentleman agreed to take $10 for it and the money was paid over to him. The note is dated December 15, 1865, and does not differ from the other notes issued at that time except that over printed across the face in large letters are the words, "Compound Interest Treasury Note."

THE New Era is in receipt of a communication from a colored citizen that urges the city authorities to enforce strictly the vagrant law. "Idlers and loafers," he writes, "are a nuisance, and idleness is a sin. The police should be backed by all good people in running such characters out of town. At least, during working hours if the idler will not work, have him stay off the street. This would be better for the colored people, and for the white people as well."

THE Cumberland Presbyterians declined to mix politics with religion yesterday. The committee on Sabbath observance presented a resolution in which Gov. Beckham was thanked for putting on "the lid" in Louisville. This was promptly amended by the synod, eliminating from the resolution the name of the candidate for U. S. senator and altering the clause to read: "We heartily endorse the action of all state and municipal officials in rigidly enforcing the Sunday laws in the larger cities by the closing of saloons and theaters on the Sabbath."

SOMEBODY asked Garner Dalton, of the state auditor's office, who S. W. Hager was "lined up with" in his race for governor. In reply Mr. Dalton presented the questioner with one of Judge Hager's campaign cards. It was made out in the form of the primary ballot. In the square by Hager's name was a stencil mark and there were similar crosses by the names of those other candidates who are without opposition. The balance of the ballot was unmarked.

SENATOR Frank Rives is nursing a badly sprained ankle. The young lawmaker recently, when not engaged in working out problems of politics and state craft, has been learning how to skate. He was gliding gracefully, just gliding over the surface at the rink a day or two ago when one of his feet took a fool notion to roll to Crofton and the other flew in the direction of Casky. There was no fence, political or otherwise for the brave senator to straddle and he was considerably pined on the floor. He is able to get around a little by the aid of crutch and cane.

THE hydrographer of the U. S. geological survey requests the statement that his department has just issued a valuable and interesting discussion of the underground water resources of Western Kentucky. In Water-Supply Paper No. 164, which may be obtained on application to the director of the United States geological survey at Washington, D. C., are discussed the general conditions that govern the occurrence of water in wells and the relation of the geology of the region to the supply of underground water. These general discussions are followed by detailed descriptions that show the water conditions in each county, the depth at which water may be obtained, and the height to which it rises without pumping.

ITS WORK COMPLETE

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION AT HARTFORD, CONN., ADJOURNS.

Organization Opposed to Any Action Putting it in Position of Entering Politics.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 2.—The final session of the annual convention of the W. C. T. U. was held. The general session at Parsons Theater was principally taken up with short addresses by superintendents. Then followed a short business session, at which some routine business was disposed of. In the afternoon the reading of the reports of the standing committees and the final report of the executive committee wound up the regular business of the convention.

At night short addresses by the presidents of the various state delegations were heard and prize membership banners were presented.

At the morning session the organization went on record as being emphatically opposed to changing "Temperance Sunday" in the churches to the Sunday before election. It was the opinion of many of the delegates that if the change was made it might put the W. C. T. U. in the position of entering politics.

A resolution deprecating mob law and lynching and calling for government protection for all accused persons until justice is meted out by the courts was passed. A resolution was also passed rejoicing that the entire civilized world is constantly approaching the lofty ideal of international justice and arbitration. A resolution introduced by Mrs. E. H. Elford, of New Jersey, was unanimously passed as follows:

"Resolved, that this convention memorialize President Roosevelt, urging him in his message to the Fifty-ninth session of Congress to mention the liquor traffic as one of the evils that menace our nation."

Recommendations that all churches, young people's church societies and Sunday schools establish one Sunday in October as Christians citizenship Sunday were adopted.

Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew worse, until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by L. L. Elgin, Cook & Higgins and Anderson-Fowler Co. (Inc.) Price 50c.

JUST IN TIME.

Some Hopkinsville People May Wait Till it's too Late.

Don't wait until too late. Be sure and be in time. Just in time with kidney pills. Means curing the back. Before backache becomes chronic. Before serious urinary trouble set in.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this. Here is Hopkinsville testimony to prove it:

J. W. Pritchett, retired grocer of 782 east Seventh street says: "My back has given me a great deal of trouble. The pain was not continually severe but came on by intermittent spells, which were sometimes very painful, especially after over-exertion of any kind. Being constantly on the outlook for something to relieve me, I happened to read of Doan's Kidney pills, and was so impressed with testimonials as to their worth, that I procured a box. The remedy benefited me in every way and I hope that my endorsement will be the means of extending relief to other sufferers."

For sale by all dealers, price 50c. Foster-McBreen Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Had a Close Call.

"A dangerous surgical operation, involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip, was prevented by the application of Buckle's Arnica Salve," says A. C. Stickel, of Miletus, W. Va. "Persistent use of the salve completely cured it." Cures cuts, burns, injuries. 25c at L. L. Elgin, Cook & Higgins and Anderson-Fowler Drug Co. (Inc.)

The Athenaeum.

(From Friday's Daily)

Banks and Bohemia were the antipodal subjects discussed at the November meeting of the Athenaeum which was held last night at Hotel Latham. The session of the club was thoroughly enjoyable. To begin with, the menu, with its courses of blue points, bouillon, fish, chicken, and appetizing collateral dishes, pumpkin pie, ices and cafe noir, was never more delicious, and when the cigars were lighted, the diners were in an appreciative mood, generally, and the papers presented were cordially received. As some one remarked it was New York evening at the club. William McL. Cowan entertainingly told of Bohemian life in Gotham, of the haunts and habits of those who live mostly on hopes and are unburdened by responsibilities. A visit to a Bohemian resort, with its sights and sounds, was graphically described. Then as W. Long's subject was "An Historic Concern," it showed careful research and preparation and was highly interesting and instructive, as well. The paper narrated the events leading to the establishment of the Manhattan bank in New York City, the second oldest financial institution on the island, and of the important parts played by Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr in its foundation. A letter from the present cashier of the bank telling concisely and wittily of its long career was a happy conclusion to the paper. An animated discussion by the members of the club followed. There were stories and sidelights of the banking business, and some interesting and discreet reminiscences of trips to "little old New York." Vice President Ira L. Smith, who presided in the absence of President Fowler, suggested that the New York evening had been so pleasant and profitable that there should be similar programs with Boston and other great centers featured. He recalled the story of the Boston man who argued that the city of brains, beans and bay was not a geographical location, but "a state of mind." This led Prof. H. Clay Smith to remark that at least one famous American, Thomas W. Lawson, liked life in Boston but was violently opposed to the New York Life. Mayor Meacham excoriated banks for their rigid scrutiny of checks and endeavored to show how much happier people would be if cashiers would show more enthusiasm and a greater willingness to pay any checks presented, instead of stopping to look up balances. One of the best of the banking tales was told by J. W. Downer. When he was in partnership with the late Judge R. T. Peetree, an old negro came into the office one day and said:

"Judge, I want $50 an' de Bank of Hopkinsville say dey'll give it to me if you'll go my 'curly'."

"I can't do it, Henry," said Judge Peetree, "because I know you never would pay me no note."

"Lissen, Judge," pleaded the negro very earnestly, "ef you'll do it, I'll gib you ha' of de money!"

Mr. Downer said that Judge Peetree remarked that the latter proposition was certainly better than the first.

The club regretfully accepted the resignation of Prof. A. C. Kaykendall, who wrote that he found he was unable to attend the meetings on account of his school duties. The vacancy in the membership, which is limited to thirty, was filled by the election of Dr. Frank M. Sittes. At the December meeting of the Athenaeum, J. G. Cooper, J. C. Duffy and L. H. Davis will present papers.

Those present last night were: Ira L. Smith, Dr. F. M. Brown, Prof. H. Clay Smith, B. G. Nelson, Rev. Dr. W. L. Nourse, Mayor C. M. Meacham, T. W. Long, Dr. Edmund Harrison, Prof. Barksdale Hamlett, Col. J. W. Downer, L. H. Davis, W. McL. Cowan, J. C. Duffy, J. G. Cooper and R. C. Underwood. Rev. George C. Abbott, who was on the program, was called out of the city. His paper will be heard later.

INDIANS IN WYOMING CAPTURE A SUPPLY TRAIN.

Utes Best Troops By Successful Stampede.—Guides Said to be Not Faithful.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Nov. 2.—The Indians today captured a supply train and outwitted the soldiers.

A troop of the Tenth cavalry on Bitter Creek clashed with Ute Indians. The troops captured 50 ponies and frightened off five herders.

The troops were driving the ponies away when 100 Utes surrounded the cavalrymen and stamped the ponies. The redskins recovered their ponies. The Indians did not fire on the soldiers nor did the soldiers fire at the Utes.

A detachment of the Tenth cavalry ran across a band of Crow Indians. They were driven back to the Crow agency.

Settlers say Indian guides, employed by the Federal troops, are leading the troops on false trails. There is danger of 800 Cheyennes joining the renegade Ute band.

Mrs. Harvey Burks, Harrisburg, Illinois. Cured by "ZEMO" After Five Years' Torture.

WHY? SUFFER THE TORTURE OF ECZEMA OR ANY SKIN DISEASE WHEN THIS GOOD MEDICINE +ZEMO+ HAS NEVER FAILED TO CURE

E. W. ROSE MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo. HARRISBURG, ILL., May 12th, 1933.

DEAR SIR: Believing that "ZEMO" saved my arms, if not my life, I will gladly tell all sufferers from eczema what your good medicine did for me. I suffered six years from a torturing case of itching eczema of both arms. I tried eight different doctors, and every eczema cure I could hear of without relief. The disease grew worse and spread to my neck and breast; my arms had great holes eaten in them; I soon became an invalid and was confined to my bed part of the time. My husband bought a bottle of "ZEMO"; the first application stopped the itching, and I began to improve; in six weeks and one day the disease had disappeared, and my arms were clean and smooth as my picture will show, before and after using "ZEMO." My arms were so bad cured and have gained ten pounds in weight, and feel better than I have felt in many years. I consider my quick recovery by using "ZEMO" nothing short of a miracle. I will gladly answer all inquiries and recommend "ZEMO" to all persons suffering from any itching skin disease.

Yours gratefully, Mrs. Harvey Burks.

A Royal Romance

(Original)
The hand of a former czarowitz of Russia was offered through the Russian prime minister to Margaret, a German princess, who was ordered by her father and sovereign to accept a husband who brought with him a probable crown. The princess was a spirited girl and not amenable to an order, even from such a source, without her own consent. However, she accepted the czarowitz, whom she had never seen, on condition that she should be invited to spend a winter in St. Petersburg. The invitation was given, and the princess was the most admired of all the women that winter at the court of Russia. The czarowitz, who was destined soon to rule the empire, took a deep interest in the problem confronting the state and seemed to have no time to devote to his fiancée. Margaret apparently accepted the situation as well as the attentions of such men of the court as dared risk offending the heir apparent. One of these, Count Demidoff, seemed to be the favorite.

One afternoon in December there was a skating party on the Neva. Neither the czarowitz nor the count was present, and the absence of these—the one the imperial betrothed and the other the supposed lover—gave other men opportunity, and the princess was much sought. The days are short in winter in St. Petersburg, and the sport was kept up after twilight. At dusk a man in the uniform of a captain of artillery came upon the ground—rather the ice—and skated by himself, for no one seemed to know him. He was generally to be found somewhere near the Princess Margaret and as the gloom deepened kept continually in her wake. While she was skating with a prominent court official a bit of something white fluttered from her muff. The officer, who was but a few yards behind her, stooped and picked it up. Immediately after this he left the ice.

That night at 11 o'clock a carriage emerged from the court of the palace. It was driven to a railway station, and a lady closely veiled stepped out and entered the station. She had been there but a few minutes, pacing impatiently back and forth, when the officer of artillery who had skated that afternoon on the Neva entered. Approaching the lady, he courteously lifted his hat and handed her a note.

"Pardon me, madame. I should have returned sooner this which you dropped while skating today."
"You must have read it or you would not have known where to find me at this hour."
"I—I—knew you to be the betrothed of my imperial!"—

"You one of the czarowitz's spies?"
"By no means, but I consider it my duty to—"

"To what?"
"I would confront your lover, Count Demidoff."
"And what interest have you in Count Demidoff?"
"I wish to insult him and settle this affair by the code."
"I do not see how it can concern you."
"It concerns my imperial master deeply."
"The czarowitz?"

"Yes, in his name I demand to know if it is Count Demidoff you are to meet here tonight?"
"I do not care to tell you whom I expect to meet here."
"Nevertheless, shall learn, for I shall wait for him."
"For what purpose?"
"The count is a gentleman. I shall challenge him to fight under the code. He will meet me."
"And kill the czarowitz?"
"You know me?"
"I knew you from the moment you entered."

"I shall assume all responsibility. The count will meet me as my peer."
"And why should your imperial highness take this trouble, this risk your life?"

"For revenge upon the man who has supplanted me with the woman I love." The princess bent her head and was silent. When she looked up she saw a figure approaching.

"If your imperial highness will turn you will see the person I am to meet."
"A woman?"
"A woman. I had concluded to go with her to my own country."
"And now?"

Again she bent her head. "I never intended to marry without love," she said. "No sovereign is powerful enough to compel me to do that."

There was a brief silence, at the end of which the czarowitz asked in a voice full of suppressed emotion: "Then you will not marry?"

"Only the man I love."
"Only the man I love?" He bent toward her eagerly.

"The man who would fight for me." The princess turned aside as she spoke the words in a low voice, and the czarowitz started. In another moment he beckoned to the woman standing aloof, who advanced and joined them. The princess introduced her aunt, the Duchess of N., to his imperial highness.

"Your grace's good offices are not needed," said the czarowitz. "The princess has changed her mind. She will remain."

The three left the station together and were driven to the palace.

This is a love story of royalty under assumed names. One feature of it has never been explained. Did the princess, recognizing her betrothed on the ice, purposely drop the note for him to pick up or did she really intend fight?

KILLED BY ENGINE

ROY FINLEY, LOUISVILLE, AND NASHVILLE BRAKEMAN, VICTIM.

Crushed to Death Under The Heavy Wheels of Locomotive Near New Empire.

(From Monday's Daily)

Roy Finley, aged 22 years, a brakeman on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was run over by an engine and killed at New Empire early Sunday morning. The young man had left his train to go after a bucket of water to remedy a hot box on the trucks of one of the cars, when he was struck by the hill locomotive used in that locality, and ground to death under the wheels.

His body was fearfully mutilated. The remains were brought to this city and prepared for burial and were taken to Nashville on Sunday night, where the funeral will take place Tuesday morning. The deceased was an Odd Fellow, being a member of Smiley lodge, of Nashville. His body was accompanied to Nashville by Hopkinsville Odd Fellows, those going being J. D. Thompson, noble grand of Green River lodge; M. B. Guthrie, vice grand; E. H. Hester, H. S. Wade, I. P. Duke and M. H. McGrew. They were met at the Nashville station by local Odd Fellows.

The untimely death of young Finley is unusually sad, he being the only son of Howard and Josephine Reneer Finley, of Nashville. The young man was also the only support of his parents, his father having been an invalid for more than one year.

FISH'S RETIREMENT

From Presidency of Illinois Central Road.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Illinois Central railroad for the purpose of electing officers will be held in New York next Wednesday according to an announcement given out here.

Stuyvesant Fish is still fighting for control of the road, but the Chicago Tribune says the indications are daily growing stronger that E. H. Harriman is about to win a decisive victory, which will result in Mr. Fish's retirement. J. T. Harahan, now second vice president of the Illinois Central, in charge of operation, will, it is said, be elected president.

MAY BE GODFREY RAY

Negro Suspect is Under Arrest At Birmingham, Ala.

ELKTON, Ky., Nov. 5.—Sheriff Shelton received a telegram from Birmingham, Ala., stating that a negro answering the description of Godfrey Ray, colored, had been arrested at that place and is being held for identification. Ray is the negro who shot and killed John Dickerson, marshal of Trenton, a couple of months ago and then made his escape in spite of the fact that he was pursued for days by posses of men with bloodhounds. The message from Birmingham which was signed W. P. Stone, constable, is as follows:

"Have man arrested, answers description of Godfrey Ray in every particular. Send photograph of man or send man to identify at once." It is probable that Marshal Burdett of Guthrie, will be sent to identify the negro and bring him back here if he proves to be Godfrey.

Escaped From Asylum.

A telegram from Henderson says that Roy Coleman, aged 22, of Owensboro escaped from the Western asylum Friday. His brother, James Coleman was in Henderson Saturday night in search of him but could get no clue as to his whereabouts. It is thought that Coleman left Hopkinsville for Henderson on a train.

FACING STARVATION.

Pitiable Condition of Ten Million People.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 5.—Missionaries report a most severe famine in the northern part of Kiang Su province, Central China. It is estimated that ten million people face starvation. Local magistrates are preventing people from leaving the region but are taking no steps to provide them with food supplies. Serious disorders are feared.

PENALTY ON TAXES

THE OPERATIONS OF THE NEW KENTUCKY LAW

Unless Paid in 15 Days Clerk Collects Cost of $1.50 on Each List Additionally.

Under the new taxation law heavy penalties went into effect Nov. 1 upon all who have not paid their state and county taxes. For the next fifteen days taxes can be paid to the sheriff with a six per cent penalty attached and in addition a six per cent interest for one month. After fifteen days it is the duty of the sheriff to turn all lists to the county clerk. In ten days it is the duty of the county clerk to issue legal process which is equivalent to an execution. When this is issued there must be paid not only the taxes, the six per cent penalty, the six per cent interest for a month, but $1.50 cost to the clerk and six per cent additional on the whole amount. This applies to those who list only the poll tax as well as those who list property.

During the ten days prior to Nov. 1, Sheriff Smith collected about $65,000 in county taxes. City Tax Collector Moore, with $46,000 assessment, has collected $41,000, the closest collection ever known. Eighty per cent of the white tax payers have settled with the collector, while less than twelve per cent of the colored tax payers have paid their taxes.

FORM A UNION.

Farm Hands Will, it is Said, Demand Increased Wages.

Farm hands in some of the tobacco-growing districts of Kentucky and Tennessee have formed a union, according to a press dispatch from Nashville, and will stand together to demand increased wages from growers. The demands have not been presented, but it is believed the new union will add to the scarcity of hands during the rush seasons.

THOUSANDS IN TOWN

ALL DAY RALLY OF 'FARMERS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

Horseback Parade by Members Through The Principal Streets.—Rousing Speeches Are Made.

(From Monday's Daily)

Thousands of people thronged Hopkinsville's streets today, the attraction being an all day meeting of the Farmers' Protective association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia. The farmers began coming to town at an early hour and by 10:30 o'clock, the time which had been announced for the big parade to start, the main thoroughfares were crowded.

Promptly at 10:30 the parade formed at the limits on South Main street and marched through the main streets. The parade was led by W. A. Glass, secretary of the Christian county executive committee, and James Ragsdale. Then came L. K. Kuecher's brass band. Then came carriages in which were S. G. Buckner, local inspector, W. W. Radford, chairman of the Christian county committee, E. E. Wash, chairman of the Trigg county committee, Hon. Joel Fort, of Tennessee, George Snadon, of Guthrie, treasurer for the association, Judge W. T. Fowler, Christian county's vice-chairman and C. F. Jarrett, local salesman. Following these came the members of local Union No. 442, carpenters and joiners, bearing a banner inscribed, "Local 442 is in sympathy with the farmers." Then came those mounted on horseback and the procession was wound by by those in vehicles. There were several hundred persons in the line of march which was nearly a mile in length. All along the line much enthusiasm was displayed and numerous banners were carried by those in the parade.

The parade disbanded on west Seventh street and the farmers gathered at union tabernacle where they were addressed by Treasurer Snadon and J. T. Hanberry. The meeting then adjourned for dinner and reassembled at the tabernacle at 1:30 when speeches were made by Hon. Joel Fort, W. T. Fowler and others.

It had been expected that Congressmen Ollie James and A. O. Stanley and John S. Rhea would be present but on account of important engagements none of these could get here.

ROMANCE BROKEN

DIVORCE FOLLOWS MISTAKE AT THE WEDDING

Wrong Man Received The Letter of Acceptance, But Won The Bride.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—In the suit against Mrs. Amy Bay Sturgeon, whose wedding was the result of a misdirected letter, her husband, Robert T. Sturgeon, has obtained a divorce by default, the charge being abandonment.

Mrs. Sturgeon's name was Bay. Miss Bay's father is wealthy and the Bays live on Grand avenue, a fashionable residence street. Miss Bay was sought by dozens of most eligible young men. She chose none of them until her father, it is said, reminded her that she was twenty and that she would be an old maid if she waited much longer.

It was at this time that Mr. Sturgeon and a Kentuckian of good family were rivals for her hand. They happened to call the same night; they left together and each sent a proposal to her that night by special messenger. Miss Bay decided in favor of the Kentuckian, but she did not use the name of either in her replies.

The acceptance that was intended for the Kentuckian went to Sturgeon and the refusal to the man she loved, for she had put the notes in the wrong envelopes. When Sturgeon called as the accepted suitor the girl lacked the courage to tell of her mistake and, though regretting it bitterly, she allowed herself to become the bride of Sturgeon.

Need a good cathartic? A pill is best. Say a pill like DeWitt's Little Early Risers. About the most reliable on the market. Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson-Fowler Drug Co. (Inc.)

HAVE YOU CATARRH?

Breathe Hyomei and Get Relief and Cure. Sold Under Guarantee.

If you have catarrh, with offensive breath, burning pains in the throat, coughing, raising of mucous, difficulty in breathing, sneezing, huskiness, discharge from the nose, tickling and dropping at the back of the throat, especially at night, coughing spasms, etc., begin the use of Hyomei at once.

Its healing medication will give relief in a few days and its continued use will completely drive an catarrhal germ from the system.

Hyomei contains Nature's healing oils and balsams, the germ-killing properties of the pine-forests, and goes with the air you breathe to the most remote cells of the respiratory organs, searching out and killing all catarrhal germs and soothing and healing any irritation there may be in the mucous membrane. It is easy and pleasant to use Hyomei, pleasant than most of the stomach dosing, as it healing air is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler, which can be carried in the "purse" for vest-pocket, and carries medication to just the spot where relief is needed.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents, and L. L. Elgin gives his personal guarantee with every package that money will be refunded unless the treatment cures. This shows his faith in the power of Hyomei to cure catarrh.

The best treatment for indigestion and troubles of the stomach is to rest the stomach. It can be rested by starvation or by the use of a good digestant which will digest the food eaten, thus taking the work off the stomach. At the proper temperature a single teaspoonful of Kodol will digest 3000 grains of food. It relieves the present annoyance, puts the stomach in shape to satisfactorily perform its functions. Good for indigestion, sour stomach, flatulence, palpitation of the heart and dyspepsia. Kodol is made in strict conformity with the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson-Fowler Drug Co. (Inc.)

Famous Strike Breakers

The most famous strike breakers in the land are Dr. King's New Life Pills. Whenever and wherever go on strike, they quickly settle the trouble, and the purifying work goes right on. WINFREE & KNIGHT.

OF THE PUBLICITY THE BEST

GUARANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for women's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's peculiar diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol which is in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate, nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative value of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicine does are made of. It's free for the asking.

CLOSING SESSION

Of the Cumberland Presbyterian Synod Held Yesterday.

The Rev. Mr. Moorefield furnished the New Era with the following report of the closing session of the Cumberland Presbyterian Synod:

At 11 a. m. Dr. T. Ashburn, of Evansville, Ind., delivered a very able discourse on the Spiritual Life. Synod then took recess until 2 p. m. and retired to Old Fellows' hall where a bountiful dinner was served by the ladies of the church.

Delegates assembled at appointed hour and synod was opened with prayer. Reports from various committees were received and adopted. Dr. A. C. Biddle raised $532 for the legal committee, to be used in defense of the property of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. The total amount of money raised by the present session of the synod was $860, the greatest amount raised by any other session of the synod.

Dr. Gill, said in regard to report of committee on Sabbath observance that it ought to have been on Sabbath recovery, as it was almost gone. At 3:30 p. m. the roll call showed 126 delegates present, greatest number ever known to answer at final roll call.

Synod adjourned to meet at Bowling Green on Tuesday after fourth Sunday in October 1907 at 7:30 p. m. Closing prayer offered by Rev. J. M. Gill, D. D.

Immediately after prayer the choir sang "God be With You 'Till We Meet Again," the delegates meeting at altar, bidding each other farewell. This has been in every respect the greatest meeting of Kentucky Synod of the C. P. church ever held in the history of the denomination.

A resolution of thanks was offered to the people of the city of Hopkinsville and the railroads for their unbounded hospitality.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackett, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; with blood so copiously from Mr. Tackett's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing results that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for sore lungs, coughs and colds, at L. L. Elgin, Cook & Higgins and Anderson-Fowler Drug Co. (Inc.) drug stores. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Married the Girl.

(From Friday's Daily)
John B. Haile and Miss Ora Lee Haile, a couple from the vicinity of Bainbridge, were married yesterday in the office of the county clerk by Rev. E. H. Bull. It was a "military wedding."

Give children a remedy with a pleasant taste. Don't force unpleasant medicines down their throats. Kennedy's Laxative (containing) Honey and Tar is most pleasant to take. Children like it, and as a relief for coughs, colds, etc., there is nothing better. No opiates. Conforms to National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson-Fowler Drug Co. (Inc.)

NEARLY ALL TOBACCO SOLD AT GOOD PRICES.

Farmers' Association Has Less Than 300 Hogsheads And This Will Likely Soon Be Gone.

Not for years has the local tobacco market been as bare of stock on sale as is shown for this season by the inspectors report which has just been issued. Generally there is a considerable amount of tobacco of all grades remaining on hand at the end of a season but this year practically everything has been sold, even the low grade lugs and trash being disposed of at prices which a few years ago would have been thought good for leaf.

Not only is this condition existing on the general market, but the farmers' association has less than three hundred hogsheads remaining on hand and as it is making sales every week this will doubtless be gone before the new crop begins to move.

As a result of the clean sweep which has been made and the short, but good grade crop raised this year, the dealers state that they expect higher prices for the opening season than have ruled for a long time.

The new crop is expected to begin moving from the middle of the latter part of this month, provided the weather is seasonable. The rush is expected in December provided it is sufficiently damp for the tobacco to be handled.

The inspectors' report for last month, showing comparative figures with last year, but not including the business done by the farmers association as was the case in 1905, is as follows:

	1906	1905
Receipts for past month	50	50
Receipts for the year	5,336	9,665
Sales for past month	163	342
Sales for the year	5,694	7,032
Shipments for past month	98	61
Shipments for the year	13,094	12,566
Stock on sale	246	2,646
Stock sold	103	542
Total stock on hand	340	3,188

Prices ruled as follows:—Lugs, low to medium, $4.50 to $5.20; medium to good, $5.50 to $6.25; fine, $6.50 to $7. Leaf—common to medium, $6.50 to $8; medium to good, $8 to $9.50; good to fine, $10 to $12.

Good for everything a salve is used for and especially recommended for piles. That is what we say of DeWitt's Wither Hazel Salve. On the market for years and a standby in thousands of families. Get DeWitt's. Sold by L. L. Elgin and Anderson-Fowler Drug Co. (Inc.)

A Reliable Remedy For Croup.

Mrs. S. Rosenthal, of Turner, Michigan, says: "We have used Chamberlain's Cough Medicine for ourselves and children for several years and like it very much. I think it is the only remedy for croup and I highly recommend it." For sale by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Inc., the leading drug store, 9th and Main, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Lost Anything?

A large grass sack filled with odds and ends of clothing was found this morning hidden under some lumber in the yard of the Forbes Manufacturing company. The sack contains a more or less worn condition, but also has several garments of male attire, two shaving mugs and other articles. The police have taken the sack in charge.

LINGERING COLD

Withstood Other Treatment But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This remedy is for sale by Anderson-Fowler Drug Store, Inc., the leading drug store, 9th and Main, Hopkinsville, Ky.

BY DECISIVE SCORE

S. K. C. DEFEATED SOUTHERN NORMAL UNIVERSITY.

Hopkinsville Team Put up a Great Game And Won Contest in Brilliant Manner.

On a fast field and with ideal weather the South Kentucky College football team defeated the strong eleven representing Southern Normal University Monday at Bowling Green by the score of 33 to 0. The playing of the S. K. C. team Monday was entirely different from the game put up at Castle Heights three weeks ago.

The defeat at the hands of Castle Heights did not discourage the boys at all but only made them more determined to win. S. N. U. has a very strong team but showed lack of team work, while the team work of S. K. C. was almost perfect and showed the effect of the hard practice that Coach Wisely has put the squad through in the past two weeks.

It was a hard fought battle from beginning to end. The S. N. U. boys fighting desperately for every inch of ground, but they were not able to stop the fast S. K. C. backfield who plowed through their opponents at will. S. N. U. although fighting hard, could gain first down but once, while S. K. C. was held for downs but twice.

One of the features of the game was the playing of the S. K. C. line-men, not allowing a single break in the line. The shift of King to the line seemed to work very satisfactorily as he played his new position like a veteran. Sherrill at center played a nice game. His passing being of the first class order. The absence of Patch called for a shift in the backfield, Phillips to halfback and Bell to fullback.

Capt. Roebbles and Irwin played the star game for S. N. U. on the defense. They could do nothing on offense for the defense of S. K. C. was superb. In the kicking game S. N. U. was easily outclassed for in "Red" Cutchin, S. K. C. has the best all round kicker in the state. On the kickoff he booted fifty and sixty yards every time. One of his sixty yard kicks resulted in a touch down for S. K. C. as Wisely was on the ball behind the goal line before S. N. U. was aware the ball had been kicked.

The sensational features of the game were the runs made by Phillips and Wisely. S. N. U. tried the forward pass on their thirty yard line when Phillips grabbed the ball and carried it over for a touchdown. In the second half Wisely was given the ball and with good head work and fast sprinting he carried the ball eighty yards for the last touchdown of the game.

Coach Wisely is very much pleased by the work of the team Monday and he is confident that another game with Castle Heights would result in a victory for S. K. C. The next game will be with Bethel in Russellville Friday.

Lineup of S. K. C. Monday as follows: Wisely, L. E.; Caudle, L. T.; Long, L. G.; Sherrill, C.; King, R. G.; McDonald, R. T.; Byars, R. E.; Hay, Q. B.; Cutchin, L. H.; Phillips, R. H.; Bell, F. B.

Touchdowns, Wisely 2; Hay, Bell, Cutchin and Phillips, Goals from touchdowns, Wisely and Phillips 2. Time of halves 25 and 20.

BIG BAPTIST COLLEGE

To Be Erected by Southern Baptists in Louisville.

The Louisville Times says: Plans for a Baptist college similar to Vanderbilt University at Nashville, to be erected in this city, will be discussed at a meeting of Baptists to be held at the Broadway Baptist church Friday night. Dr. Carter Helm Jones, Dr. T. T. Eaton and Dr. E. Y. Mullins and several others will address the meeting.

The Baptists of the South are endeavoring to raise $400,000 for this purpose and have three years in which to complete the work. If the amount named is raised within this time they will be given $100,000 and if a second $400,000 is raised a second $100,000 will be given to the institution. Meetings similar to the one to be held in Louisville will be held by the Baptists all through the Southern States.

NEW HEADQUARTERS

OF A. S. OF E. TOBACCO DEPARTMENT AT OWENSBORO.

Will Be Opened on November 8, With National Secretary Taylor in Charge.

The Owensboro Inquirer says: On November 8, Owensboro, becomes the headquarters of the National Tobacco Growers' Association, a branch of the American Society of Equity, because on that date Mr. C. Hayes Taylor, secretary of the National Tobacco Growers' Association, will move his headquarters to Owensboro.

There have been publications heretofore, to the effect that such a move was contemplated, but it is not until the present been officially announced.

The provision made for paying the salary of the secretary does not provide a fund that will be due before the assessment is made and paid on the 1906 crop, and friends of the organization in Owensboro who are interested in seeing the headquarters moved to this city have made arrangements to see that the salary of the secretary is paid until the fund for that purpose is available.

Mr. Taylor was employed by the National Association Society of Equity and his salary came through the national body, hence the time required to look after the affairs of the whole society did not give Mr. Taylor the time needed to look after the interests of the tobacco growers.

NELSON--GRAVES NUPTIALS.

Beautiful ceremony performed at Grace Church.—One of the year's most interesting society events.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

With the beautiful and impressive Episcopal service, Miss Eloise Nelson and Mr. Charles Edwin Graves were joined this morning at Grace church in the sacred bonds of wedlock. The ceremony was characterized by simple elegance and taste, and was witnessed by a large assemblage of the relatives and friends of the popular couple. The rites marked the consummation of a happy courtship of several years.

Before the entrance of the bridal party, Mr. Phelps Cowan, of Chicago, rendered a program of delightful music on the pipe organ. The interior of the church was exquisitely decorated with yellow chrysanthemums. There were both potted plants and cut flowers in artistic profusion, and the adornment was one of great loveliness.

At half past ten o'clock, the approach of the nuptial pair was sweetly heralded by the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Mr. Cowan with a master-touch.

Just prior to the entrance of the bridal party, the vested choir passed through the church and sang the wedding hymn. The ushers, Mr. William P. Winfree and Mr. Hugh Nelson, then followed. The maid of honor, Miss Kate Manson, came next, and the bride was escorted by her father. From the vestry room came Mr. Graves and his best man, Mr. M. H. Nelson, Jr., and the officiating clergyman. The ceremony was begun at the chancel steps, and the sacred words linking the young lives and an impressive prayer for divine blessing upon them were spoken at the chancel railing.

Rev. John K. Mason, D. D., of Louisville, said with due solemnity and dignity the service of the ritual. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. M. H. Nelson, and she was wed with a ring, signifying endless love and devotion.

The marriage was one of the handsomest and most interesting ever solemnized in the church. The winsome bride was attired in a beautiful traveling dress of tan cloth-of-gold, hand embroidered and real lace trimmings and of Eton effect. Her hat was of tan, with shaded tips. She carried yellow chrysanthemums. The maid of honor was also handsomely dressed in tan. The bridegroom and the other gentlemen in the wedding wore the conventional morning clothes. In the ribboned pew were kinsmen and intimate friends of the contracting parties, including the following from a distance: Mrs. Grant Green and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Green, of Louisville; Mrs. Hunt McDonald, of Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Carter Cox, of Franklin, Tenn.; Mrs. H. S. Friereson and Miss Camille Gordon, of Columbia, Tenn.; Mrs. W. G. Whitfield, of Paducah; Misses Maude Bell and Mary Huey, of Springfield, Tenn.

On leaving the church, the nuptial party entered carriages and were driven to the Illinois Central station, where Mr. and Mrs. Graves took the 11:20 train for Harrisburg, Pa., where they will make their future home, and the most sincere good wishes of their host of friends accompany them.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Nelson, Hopkinsville society, since her debut, has had no whittier or more vivacious member, and her loveliness of character and gracious manner have made her a favorite. The fortunate bridegroom is a former citizen of Hopkinsville and his friends here are legion. He is a gentleman of fine intellect and splendid character, and is achieving notable success as a business man in Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves were made the recipients of a great number of handsome and costly presents, attesting the regard and affection in which they are held.

HUGHES IS ELECTED

DEFEATS HEARST BY FROM
40,000 TO 50,000

Most Spectacular Race in the History of New York is Won By Republicans.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate, has been elected governor of New York state over William Randolph Hearst, the nominee of the Democratic party and the Independence League, by 40,000 to 50,000. Two years ago Gov. Higgins was elected on the Republican ticket by 80,500.

Hearst concedes Hughes election. There was some doubt expressed still as to fate of the Democratic and Independence League tickets outside of Mr. Hearst, several of the New York newspapers which have been supporting Mr. Hearst declaring that there was a chance that the subordinate officers of the Democratic and Independence League combination had been elected.

IN TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 7.—Patterson has defeated Evans for Governor by a majority variously estimated at from 18,000 to 20,000. Hannah is elected railroad commissioner for the Eastern division, he running with it not ahead of Patterson, and Agent has defeated McClure for the commissionership for the Middle division. Bowdoin retains his hold on the First congressional district by a big plurality. Hale is, of course, re-elected in the Second, and the other districts remain in the Democratic column. The regular Democratic legislative tickets win in Davidson, Shelby and Hamilton. Few negroes voted anywhere.

VIRGINIA.

BRISTOL, Va., Nov. 7.—Practically complete returns from twelve of the fourteen counties composing the Ninth congressional district give Slomp, Republican, a majority of about 100. The remaining counties may increase this lead, but both claim a victory.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 7.—The only election contest in Georgia was in the First congressional district. Edwards, Democrat, was elected by a plurality of about 4,000. The three candidates for judges of the new created court of appeals were unanimously elected.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 7.—Gov. Warner and the Republican state ticket have been elected by 60,000 to 100,000 majority. The Republican congressional candidates in each of the twelve districts have been elected, and the Republicans will have a large majority in the state legislature.

FLORIDA.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 7.—All the Democratic candidates in Florida are elected. The legislature is probably unanimously Democratic. The proposition, advocated by Gov. Broward to drain the Everglades, seem to be defeated.

MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—Confident claims were being made at Republican and Democratic state headquarters alike of having carried Missouri.

IOWA.

DES MOINES, Nov. 7.—Iowa's vote on governor was large. Cummins' plurality of 1903 will be much reduced, but indications point to his election.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 7.—Returns from several interior towns and villages in Wisconsin show that Davidson, Republican, for governor, is running two to one against Aylward, Democrat.

CUPID GOES ARMED

LOVE AND PISTOLS CREATED
HAVOC IN NEW YORK

Remarkable Wave of Violence Mark
Tangled Affairs of the Heart.—
Gotham's Awful Record.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—An almost incredible record of crime as an outgrowth of tangled love affairs has just been written down by the police of this city.

In the brief space of one week three men murderously shot down women with whom they were in love. Two completed their cowardly by taking their own lives.

During these same seven days there was a veritable storm of suicide and violence, all traceable to the hot fury of disappointed love.

Here follows, in brief form, the remarkable record of seven days:

For several years Louis R. Brown, a handsome young fellow and son well-to-do parents, had been in love with Laura Osten, a nurse. They dined at a fashionable hotel and started out for a cab ride on Broadway. Suddenly a pistol shot caused the driver to stop. He investigated and found that Brown had shot the girl in the face.

After his arrest Brown said: "I don't know why I shot her. I must be crazy. I love her." She may recover.

Louis G. Hampton, 60, married, financier, shot and killed Victoria Tackaw, 30, corset model, because she pressed him to carry out his promise to marry her, and committed suicide.

Frank Dorsey shot Josephine Schmidt, a fellow-clerk, who refused his love. He committed suicide. She will recover.

Daniel Sullivan ate ground glass and then jumped into the East river. His sweetheart had renounced him. After a quarrel with his wife Frederick J. Sieber shot himself, dying instantly.

Hazel Cooper, actress, after a quarrel with her husband, killed herself by drinking carbolic acid.

George Dangler, a rich merchant, killed himself because he feared that his wife would die from an operation.

William Kramer entered a street car, blood gushing from a pistol shot wound in his arm. When arrested he refused to give the name of his assailant. "I would get a girl whom I love into trouble," was all the police could learn from him.

ANCIENT CUSTOMS

OBSERVED IN THE MARRIAGE OF YOUNG HEBREW COUPLE

Large Attendance and Dance And Wedding Feast Were Pleasant
Features of the Event.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Anderson's hall on Sixth street was thronged with Hebrew citizens last night in honor of the wedding of Miss Flora Bohn, niece of H. Bohn, and Mr. Hyman Franklin, the Ninth street merchant. The hall had been attractively decorated for the occasion, and a number of Gentile friends of the couple had been invited.

The Jewish ceremony was a nuptial novelty in Hopkinsville, few marriages ever having been performed here with adherence to the imposing customs and traditions of the orthodox Hebrew service.

Promptly at 7:30 o'clock Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Lebkuecher's orchestra, to the strains of which the bridal party entered the room. The first to enter were the four ushers, Messrs. Abe Sable, Max Sable, N. Baer and Moses Bohn, who took their places about the altar and each held one of the four posts supporting the silken hoopy under which the contracting parties were to stand. Then came the bridesmaids, Misses Jessie Bohn and Fannie Fred, of Cincinnati; Rosa Jacobson, of Boston; and Ida Baer, Belle Bohn and Jessie Tanner of this city, who arranged themselves on either side of the aisle. Then followed the maid of honor, Miss Annie Franklin, then the groom with his best man, Mr. Frank Tanner, and finally the bride, escorted by Mr. and Mrs. H. Bohn.

The ceremony was pronounced in Hebrew by Rabbi H. Bohn and was translated into English by Mr. Klein. It differs widely from the Gentile ceremony, being much longer and consisting mainly of a lecture from the one performing the rites, regarding the duty of the bride and bridegroom to each other and to humanity in general. The ring plays an important part, it being used as a token that the groom in giving it confers upon the bride all his possessions, and she, in taking it, accepts them and promises to guard them jealously. Twice during the ceremony wine was drunk, after which the glasses were thrown on the floor and broken. According to the old Jewish custom all the gentlemen participating in the ceremony wore their hats.

After the ceremony was completed Mr. and Mrs. Franklin received the congratulations of those present. The floor was then cleared and dancing began, which was kept up until about 10 o'clock when a halt was called and the attention of the merry-makers was given to a bounteous supper which was spread on two long tables in one end of the room. These tables fairly groaned under the weight of good things until relieved to a great extent by the hearty appetites of the party. After supper dancing was resumed and kept up until a late hour.

The bride is a niece of Mr. Bohn and has been here for some time, her mother living in Europe. She is a highly attractive young lady.

The groom has made Hopkinsville his home now for several years, and although he is a young man he has made strides in the mercantile business having recently come into sole ownership of the store on Ninth and Virginia streets.

The social features of the function were under the skillful direction of Mr. Will Meyers as the master of ceremonies.

CHRISTIAN COUNTY

GAVE LARGE MAJORITIES FOR HAGER AND BECKHAM.

Crenshaw and Hendricks Both Receive Large Votes.—The Results as Tabulated.

So absorbed were politicians in the race for governor and senator, that in making reports of the vote by precincts it was often the case that only the vote in these races was given. The race for congress between A. O. Stanley, Democrat, and Paul M. Moore, Republican, was almost forgotten in the rush, and the result can only be estimated. Christian county will probably show a majority for Moore of about 700, but the district is conceded to Stanley by from 3,500 to 4,000.

Complete returns from the twenty-nine precincts of the county in the race for governor and senator give for governor, Hager 871 in the county. Beckham's majority is 738.

With only one precinct missing, for attorney general, Hendrick receives 1,492 and Carter 92; for superintendent of public instruction Gullion received 609 votes and Winfrey 927; for commissioner of agriculture, Crenshaw received 1,428 votes and Newman 104. In the races where there was no opposition the interest also lagged and no authentic tabulation was kept of the vote.

TO HAVE GOOD TIME.

"MEET ME ON THE WARPATH" AT JAMESTOWN.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 8.—There is nothing in life like a good time. That diversion drives away the tendency to ennui, it dispels those haunting delusions which periodically seize upon the best balanced mind, and it serves notice on worry and care that their rule is only a temporary one, limited to the exigencies of pressing circumstances. The Jamestown Ter-Centennial exposition to be held from April 28th until November 30th, 1907, on the shore and waters of Hampton Roads, in the state of Virginia, will supply a desideratum to the tired mind and the wearied body. Its manifold attractions and exquisite displays will serve as a magnet to concentrate wandering faculties and absorb them into a maelstrom of delight. Having a good time is a scientific pursuit when observed with discretionary regulation. When this discretionary regulation is neglected the quest degenerates into a dissipation. The opportunity afforded at the Jamestown Ter-Centennial exposition to have a temporized, modulated and restricted good time will be the greatest of its kind ever given in this country. During the sweltering days of summer, the mind, responsive to the wilting physical powers, bids surcease to labor and care. Let the old world jog along as it will, me for the mountains, the seashore, the country woods, is the cry of every denizen whose lot is cast among the brick, mortar, wood and marble of artificial growth and construction. He revolves in his mind Cowper's line "God made the country, man made the town", and he forthwith resolves on a visit to the poet's divinely built section.

eyes. I venture to mention what seems to me the best I ever heard or read about it. Physical suffering He would not shrink from, for many of His friends had suffered from it. But He would not shrink from the agonizing deaths for His sake. We cannot think that He shrink from the death on the cross as the sinners' substitute, for to that end He came and He steadfastly set His face. But there was a deeper agony in His heart. He was agonized in the sweat like drops of blood, from which He prayed to be saved, and He was heard and therefore answered (Heb. vii. 1; John vi. 15). If the devil, who sought to kill Him, could have killed Him in Gethsemane, He would have killed Him in Gethsemane His great work of atonement, on which His heart was set, would have been unfinished within sight of the goal. He would say amen, even to that, if His Father said so. Was there

ALFRED POPE WILL LOITER IN THE WORK HOUSE.

Trout is Caught. Two Negroes are Charged With Robbing a Billiard Room.

Alfred Pope, colored, was picked up by the police and charged with loitering about the streets. He was sentenced to six days in the city work house.

George Crawford, alias "Trout," the negro who took the flying shots at Bad Eagle, and disappeared immediately thereafter, went voluntarily to the police office last night and surrendered. He was locked up and charged with shooting with intent to kill and his trial set for this afternoon.

Gus Robb and Will Gordon, both colored, were arrested last night charged with housebreaking, it being alleged that they are guilty of having entered the billiard room of Wellington Berry and stolen $13 from a desk.

ORDER IS REVOKED.

Postoffice at Glen Raven, Ordered Discontinued, Will be Allowed to Remain.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Postmaster W. C. Balee, of Guthrie, Ky., and Judge W. T. Fowler, of Hopkinsville, representing the Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, generally known as the Dark Tobacco Association, have just concluded a series of conferences with First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock, regarding the Glen Raven, Tenn., postoffice, which is very near the Kentucky line. An inspector recently investigated that office, reported certain irregularities in cancellation returns, etc., and recommended the displacement of Postmaster Leslie, the discontinuance of the office, abolition of a star route from it, and concentration of the mail service in rural free delivery. Messrs. Balee and Fowler protested against the abolition of the Glen Raven office because it would inconvenience 18,000 members of the Dark Tobacco association in Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, the business of the organization being transacted through the Glen Raven office by General Manager Ewing, of the association, on whose farm the office is located. Gen. Hitchcock saw the justice of this plea and agreed that the office should not be discontinued, provided its chiefs are not an officer of the tobacco association. Postmaster Leslie is said to be Ewing's private secretary.

PEARY HEARD FROM

NEARER THE POLE THAN EVER BEFORE KNOWN.

By His Efforts United States Now Holds Record of Going "The Farthest North."

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The United States now holds the record of "farthest north," 87 degrees, 4 minutes. This feat was accomplished by Commander Robert E. Peary, of the United States navy. The intrepid Arctic explorer failed to reach the North Pole, as he had confidently hoped to do with his special com-structed vessel, the Roosevelt, but he penetrated nearer to the pole than the Duke of Abruzzi's expedition, which held the Arctic record 76 degrees, 34 minutes.

What Commander Peary did, and his experiences during the past year in the frozen North are briefly but vividly summarized in a communication just received by Herbert L. Bridgeman, secretary of the Peary Arctic Club. This communication follows:

"HOPEDALE, Labrador, via Twillingate, N. F., Nov. 2.—Herbert L. Bridgeman: Roosevelt wintered north of Alert winter quarters. Went north with sledges February via, Hecla and Columbia. Delayed by open water between 84 and 85 degrees, beyond 85, six days. Gale disrupted ice, destroyed coaches, cut off communication with supporting bodies and drifted due east. Reached 87 degrees, 6 minutes north latitude, over ice, drifting steadily eastward. Returning with eight dogs. Drifted eastward, delayed by open water, reaching north coast Greenland in straitened conditions. Killed musk oxen and returned along Greenland coast to ship.

On Greenland's Coast.

"Two supporting parties driven on north coast Greenland. One rescued by me in starving condition. After one week recuperation on Roosevelt, fledged west, completing north coast Grant Land, and reached other land near 100th meridian. Homeward voyage incessant battle with ice, storm and head winds. Roosevelt magnificent ice fighter and sea boat. No deaths or illness in expedition.

Out of Dartmoor

THE PRISON, Dec. 1st (By Robert Douglas). Convict No. 6800, whose name was James Shelburne, was working on the moor farm with others when the fog came up. It came calmly across the wide moor like a billow of smoke from a cannon's mouth. One minute there was sunshine over all, with the horizon five miles away; in another the sun was calling out to each other and hurrying the convicts into line, and no man's eyes could penetrate that fog a distance of ten feet. Shelburne dropped his spade and ran. He was grabbed by other convicts, fired at by guards, and he ran against and knocked over two or three men, but he escaped that is, he got away from the bunch of prisoners herded together like so many cattle while the guards sent to the prison for reinforcements to march them in.

There have been few escapes from Dartmoor. No man ever got away from there unless aided by the fog. A fog was what James Shelburne had waited and hoped and prayed for for five years. For four years he had been imprisoned behind the stone walls. He had done his best to gain the confidence of the prison officials, and he had accomplished it. If he softly raved and cursed at night, tempted to suicide a hundred times over, none of the wardens suspected it. By day he was patient, respectful and uncomplaining. And so it came to pass that when the spring muster roll was made up of the men who were to work on the farms outside the gates the warden said:

"Put down 6800. He is one of the most trusty of the lot. He wouldn't leave us if he could."

The convict ran blindly. He fell at every few yards, but he arose to speed on again. Presently he came to a highway. A wagon was passing and its driver shouting warnings to those who might be coming from the opposite direction. Shelburne slipped behind and climbed in. There were a lot of empty bags from the morning marketing, and he covered himself up as well as he could. The prison bell sounded, and the driver uttered a shout, but the fog held. A Dartmoor fog may last ten minutes or two hours. After an hour of steady jogging the team turned off the main road. Then Shelburne softly slipped to the ground, broke his way through the hedge and was running across a meadow when he came upon a cottage. A childish voice called out:

"You are one of the bad men from the prison, but you needn't be afraid of me. I won't hurt you."

A girl of seven or eight years was seated on the doorstep not ten feet away. He had overlooked her. She sat humped up like an old woman, and there was an old look to her face. She had her hands clasped around her knees and was weeping to and fro, and as he continued to look at her she asked:

"Do you know how folks look when they are dead?"

"Yes, little girl," he replied as he advanced and sat down beside her. "What is your name? Are there folks in the house?"

"I am Nancy," she said. "Father went away, way off a year ago, and mother is in there on the bed."

"And is your mother ill?"

"Does that mean sick? No, she isn't, but she's been awful quiet this morning. I can't wake her up, and that's the reason I haven't had any breakfast. She ain't dead, is she?"

"God forbid! Let us go inside and see her."

"What is it when folks die?" she asked as she led the way into a bedroom.

"They never speak again," he answered as he looked into the face of a woman lying dead.

"Poor little girl," he said as he bent down and kissed her.

"Won't mother speak no more?"

"Never."

"And I'll have to go and live with Aunt Sarah at the Beeches?"

"Yes."

"Well, then, I'll go, but I don't want to, for Aunt Sarah don't like me very well. You come from where they shut up the bad men, but you don't seem to be bad."

"Not so very bad, I hope. Listen to me. I have a wife and little girl, way, way off. I have not seen them for years. I want to get to them. Will you help me?"

"Why, of course I will," she replied. "They must be longing to see you. If you are hungry you may eat all you want to. Do you want to go home in those ugly clothes?"

"God forbid! My little girl would run away from me in fear."

"Then you can take some clothes that father left. Have you got any money?"

"Not a farthing."

"Aunt Sarah sent us £10 the other day. You shall have half of it." The convict picked her up and kissed her, and when she saw tears in his eyes she brushed them away with her hand and said:

"If you was a bad man you wouldn't cry. Yes, you shall see your wife and little girl again."

"And if the men come after me?"

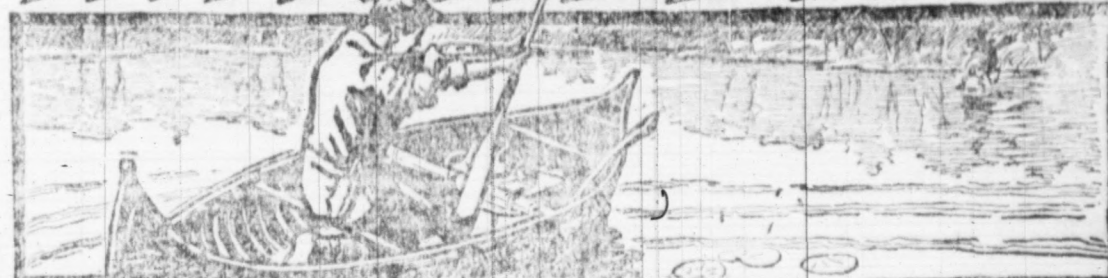

"I won't tell."

An hour later convict No. 6800 left the house in another garb, with a package of food under his arm and a five pound note in his pocket. He shed tears again as he kissed the little old face held up to his, and the child returned his kiss and said:

"Tell your little girl that Nancy sends her love. Maybe mother will speak again. I must go and see. If she don't speak by noon then I must go to the squire's house and tell them she is dead. Yes, say that Nancy sends her love."

IN OTHER WAYS THAN BEATING HIS WIFE

Anna Gould's Little Husband Has Gotten Himself Into a Peck Of Trouble.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—The suit of Countess Castellane against her husband for divorce is in progress here. The husbands of the women involved in Boni's liaisons are ready to demand satisfaction of the little "no-blenan. Boni will either have to fight several duels or sneak out of them as best he can.

It is intimated that he will be invited to resign from all of his clubs. Radical members of the house of deputies, it is believed, will see that things are made so unpleasant for Boni that he will be forced to get out.

Boni's relegation to the rank of wife-beater is causing a sensation. There is little doubt that Countess Anna, nee Gould, will be given her divorce on the showing made by Maitre Cruppi in his address to the court. It is not regarded as possible that Boni will insist upon evidence in support of his wife's charges being presented.

DAMAGE BY FIRES

EARL BRADLEY'S HOME IS RUINED BY FLAMES.

The House of Louis Gladdish, colored, Was Burned Down at an Early Hour.

(From Saturday's Daily)

There were two destructive fires in town this morning. The dwelling of Earl Bradley, on East Ninth street, caught about 8:30 o'clock from a defective flue in the kitchen. The interior of the house, which is a frame cottage, was ruined, and the contents greatly damaged by water, smoke and breakage. The loss will amount to probably $1000, partly covered by insurance.

The home of Louis Gladdish, colored, on North Campbell street, was completely destroyed by fire this morning about 2 o'clock. There was some delay in the alarm being turned in, and although the department made a record breaking run to the fire, the building was a complete mass of flames when they arrived and was burned completely. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars with $500 insurance.

A puny child is always an anxiety to the parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested. Strength is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and increases the action of the blood-making glands. It is superior to every other preparation for children's use, on account of its body-building qualities, and also because it is pleasant to the taste and contains no alcohol. The virtues of native medicinal roots are extracted and their value enhanced by the use of triple-refined glycerine, which of itself, is a most valuable nutritive and promoter of digestion. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet.

CITY COUNCIL

Holds Regular Meeting and Transacts Routine Business.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The regular meeting of the city council was held last night with the mayor and six of the seven councilmen present. The reports of the various city officers were filed and approved. The 122 city bond coupons which had been paid were ordered destroyed. Several matters of erroneous tax assessments were adjusted, and City Tax Collector H. C. Moore filed a report showing amount of property listed by him, also list of several property owners making complaints as to their assessments. City Engineer McClaid was granted a week's leave of absence.

The city attorney and mayor were appointed a committee to rearrange and compile the city ordinances and report same before January 1st, at which time the new book will be published.

BOOK OF REDSKINS

WITH YOUR UNCLE SAMUEL AS THE AUTHOR.

One Scientist Calmly Traces American Indians Back 300,000 Years to The North Pole.

The Bureau of American Ethnology is about to publish a work, on which it has been engaged twenty-five years. It is a hand-book of information about the American Indians, their languages, traditions, institutions, literature, tribal relations, locations, numbers and history. It will be the most complete work of the sort ever attempted.

The bureau has given up all notions of determining whence the Indians came. It has rejected all the hypotheses that the Indian is an Aryan, or a Mongolian or that he is related to the Japanese. They have become convinced that, if there ever was a migration across the Behring Straits, it was from America to Asia rather than from Siberia to Alaska.

One scientist says the Indian race is at least 300,000 years old and that it probably originated in the polar regions, in bygone ages when the poles were the only regions cool enough to sustain life.

THE VAGABOND SONG.

There is something in the autumn that is native to my blood—
Touch of manner, hint of mood;
And my heart is like a rhyme,
With the yellow and the purple and the crimson keeping time.

The scarlet of the maples can shake me like a cry
Of hedges going by.
And my lonely spirit thrills
To see frosty asters like a smoke up on the hill.

There is something in October sets the Gypsy blood astir;
We must rise and follow her,
When from every hill of flame
She calls and calls each vagabond by name.

JUDGE KINCAID DEAD.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 8.—Judge Charles E. Kincaid, widely known as a journalist and lawyer, died yesterday in the City hospital in this city, after an illness of several weeks. He was a Kentuckian by birth, and had a brilliant career as a newspaper man, especially during the four years he was in Washington as correspondent.

SORES AND ULCERS

TROUBLESOME-OFFENSIVE-DANGEROUS

Nothing is more discouraging than to have an unhealthy sore or ulcer resist one treatment after another, sometimes scabbing over and apparently getting well, then returning with renewed energy and becoming worse than before. Sores and ulcers are not due to outside causes; if they were, salves, plasters, lotions, etc., would cure them. They are kept up by a diseased and polluted condition of the blood brought on by the absorption of refuse and waste matters of the body into this vital fluid. These accumulations find their way into the blood, usually because of an inactive and sluggish condition of the system. Nature intends that they shall be carried off through the usual channels of waste, but the different members failing to perform their duties properly leave the matter to sour and ferment. The blood then, in its effort to keep the system healthy, absorbs these poisons and at the first bruise, cut or wound the sore is formed, and the constant drainage of foul matter through it keeps the place open and irritated so it cannot heal.

Another cause for old sores and ulcers is the poisoning of some constitutional trouble or the effects of a long spell of sickness. S. S. S. begins at the fountain-head and drives out all poisonous matter and germs, and makes a lasting cure. As soon as the system gets under the influence of S. S. S. the inflammation gradually leaves, the flesh takes on a healthy color, and soon the place is permanently healed.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D.D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 4. In this sermon the preacher shows the bright side of human experience and especially the rewards and encouragements that attend the hearts of those who are loving and helpful to their fellow men. The text is Acts xxviii, 2. "And the barbarous people showed us no little kindness."

A great book is yet to be written under the caption "The Bright Side of a Foreign Missionary's Life." When famous missionaries like Bishop William Taylor used to visit my father's home when I was a boy, I would stand afar off and look at them as the passing giants. After the famous Italian author returned to the city of his youth his neighbors always said when he appeared upon the streets, "There goes the man who has been in hell." So for years I felt that a foreign missionary field was such an inferno as Dante described. I felt that it was a place inhabited by savages and fierce cannibals. I felt that when a man like Dr. Luff or William Carey or David Livingston decided to go to India or Persia or Africa or to the Fiji Islands he went to live among monsters. Missionaries cut apart from all heart affections. They forever separated themselves from the humanities and the kindnesses and the loves of their fellow men. But after I took a journey around the world and visited a few of the great missionary stations I had a complete change in reference to my ideas of a missionary's sacrifices. True, the missionary has to give up many things for Christ, but what he gives up is small compared to the joys which he has in missionary service. The faithful foreign missionary has the same kind of daily kindnesses shown to him in his missionary labors as the home pastor has by his congregation which surrounds him week by week and year by year. The only difference between the work of the home pastor and that of the missionary to the heathen is that the one is a settled minister over one pulpit in a civilized land, while the foreign missionary labors in virgin soil, and, like Hunter Corbett or Bishop Thoburn, is a traveling evangelist, with many native pastors under his control, of whose work he is superintending.

His Greatest Pleasure.
Though the foreign missionary may have many joys, I can think of not one greater than his opportunity of traveling from place to place to meet and commune with the Christian native workers who have been laboring in Christ's vineyard during his absence. I have heard my uncle, the late Rev. John Talmage, the famous missionary to Amoy, China, tell how the native pastors and the Chinese Christian workers would come out to greet him when he took his missionary tours. They would come forth with smiles and gospel salutations. They would send messengers everywhere to tell their absent members that their spiritual leader was coming. Then these Christian workers would gather about the missionary and tell him how the church was getting along and how many new converts were made and what a glorious revival they had been having. My Uncle John would turn to my father and say: "De Witt, their greetings make a regular Christian love feast. Oh, these missionary tours are mighty trips to me for spiritual inspiration! When I see what some of those poor native Christian workers are willing to do for Christ it does seem as though I could never do enough for the Master." Such was one of the joys I think Paul, the great foreign missionary, had when he was on his missionary tours.

Whenever Paul thought of going to Ephesus or Corinth or Galatia or Thessalonica or to the churches of Laodicea or Colossae I think he began to say to himself: "Oh, if I can only take that trip I shall be able to preach the gospel to thousands who have never heard it preached, and I shall also meet the consecrated men and women of God who are laboring in those churches! Yes, they will all be there. They will greet me with their prayers and happy smiles. They will tell me about the successful campaigns for Christ in which they have been engaged. I can already see them gathered around me and hear the glorious talks we will have after the preaching of the day is over. We shall meet together in some upper chamber, as Christ went off again and again in a quiet place with his disciples alone to teach them and to have Christian communion." Such, I believe, were the joyful anticipations with which the mighty Paul, the foreign missionary, went forth on his missionary tours.

Kindness From Barbarians.
Such, I believe, was one of the joys which were thrilling his heart when on his last journey to Rome. He knew he was to preach Christ under the shadow of Caesar's palace. He knew that he would be welcomed in Rome by the saints who were living in Caesar's household. Yes, Phoebe and Priscilla and Aquila, the women who labored with him in the gospel, were there. Epaphroditus was there, and Andronicus and Junia and Amplias and Urbanus and Stachys and many other Christian workers were all in Rome. He distinctly tells this in the last chapter of his Epistle to the Romans. They were all there and ready to greet him. "Oh, I think I hear him say as he is prelating up and down the Alexandria corn ship: "What a glorious time we shall have together! Why cannot this boat have the wings of a bird instead of a heavy keel, that our reunion might come the sooner?" But hardly had he said these words than the Mediterranean current blew up and the ship was tossed about by the hurricane, and at last it was wrecked upon the island of Malta, which we call Malt. There the vessel was destroyed among the strange people, who knew nothing of Paul; neither did he know of them. Then Paul writes the words of my text, "And the barbarous people showed us no little kindness." He might naturally have expected his friends to show him kindness. But here he records the fact as a grateful surprise that the barbarians were just as kind as his friends could have been to the shipwrecked crew and passengers and prisoners.

"Oh," I said when I read these words, "how like Paul's journey to Jerusalem to preach the gospel unto the Romans are our gospel journeys in life! They are surprises all through! We naturally expect the 'household of faith' to greet us cordially, but the barbarians are kind also. The men and the women who do not profess to love the Yester and belong not to our own class in society are nearly always kind when we meet them. They are nearly always thoughtful. They are nearly always ready to aid and befriend Christ's messengers. I think it is due to them to make this fact known, and it may encourage workers also to learn that when they labor for Christ in unfamiliar fields they may find comfort among strangers, as Paul was happily surprised when he wrote, 'And the barbarous people showed us no little kindness.'"

The barbarians or those who do not belong to the 'household of faith' will be kind to Christ's messengers in reference to their temporal wants. If in an emergency you are hungry, they will feed you. If you are naked, they will clothe you. If you are shipwrecked, as Paul was among the rocks of Malta, they will rush out into the surf to help you to land. If you are homeless, they will invite you to sit by their fireplaces. It is a mistaken idea to suppose that all the coldness and all the kindnesses and all the helpfulness of life are to be found only among the followers and the disciples of the "lowly Nazarene." I may seem to be making a sweeping statement, but from personal experience I can affirm that if a man, either at sea or in a desert, will break loose from the great commercial cities and travel through the country, visiting the people out of every hand, and when he meets upon the road will greet him with a smile and will be willing to go out of their way to do him a favor if it is in their power, so to do. Of course a large per cent of these people will not be members of the Christian churches, but they all, with very few exceptions, will be kind to him, as the barbarians were kind to Paul when shipwrecked upon the Melita shores.

Kindness of the Common People.
The universal kindness of the common people was beautifully illustrated some years ago by the late Mayor Melville of Baltimore who told this story of a well known railroad man. A humble employee of the road called upon this man and asked for a pass to a certain distant point. "You have been working for us for some time, have you not?" "Yes," answered the employee. "You have always been paid regularly?" "Yes, sir." "Well, now, supposing you were working for a farmer, would you have the nerve to ask this farmer to harness up his horse and drive you a long distance into the country?" "No," answered the man. "I would not. But if this farmer had his horse already harnessed and was going my way there is not a farmer living who would refuse to give me a lift." The man knew the characteristics of the class. They are nearly always willing to help their neighbors. To use the parlance of the railroad employee, they are ready to give each other a "lift." Almost every man who wears rough clothes is at heart a kind man. Almost every woman who tells for her daily bread is generally a kind woman. The heart of the poor is a generous heart. It is a loving, a gentle, a helpful heart. When we go forth into Christian work among the common people we will be happily surprised to find that most people are kindly disposed, no matter where we may go, even as the barbarians of Malta went out of their way to care for the helpless passengers and crew of the Alexandria corn ship.

Not only is the heart of the common people kind, but the heart of the so-called better social classes also is kind. General W. T. Sherman told a beautiful incident of this fact. A short time before his death he revisited the famous battlefields of his Georgia campaign. There was one battlefield so changed that he could not identify it. So he went to the nearest house and a beautiful white haired old lady came to the door. She said, "Oh, yes, this is the place where the battle was fought." Then she invited him in and described how the fight looked thirty years before. Every part about it was perfectly clear to her. She pictured the beautiful southern mansion which was once in the center of that field, about which the two armies fought for so long a time. Then General Sherman said: "Ah, now I remember it well. And I remember how the soldiers got beyond our control at that time and needlessly burned that mansion and left it a smoldering heap of ruins." Then she said: "Madam, did you live near here at that time? Do you remember the old house?" The lady quietly replied, "Yes, general; it was my old home." Not one word of rebuke did she utter. Not one word of reproach came from her lips. During all that conversation she uttered not one word which might wound the feelings of the northern military chieftain. In leaving General Sherman lifted his hat as he said, "Madam, you are the best bred woman I ever met." But, though General Sherman may have been spoken to in the southern lady, there are thousands and tens of thousands of such kind and women as she was. No matter where you travel, you will find that many of these 'barbarians' are kind. I have seen them with kindness and helpfulness. Everywhere people will go out of their way to do a kind deed for Paul and the shipwrecked crew struggling to land from the Alexandria corn ship.

Kindness of a Magician.
I think if the human heart is ready to do a kindly deed, how much more is it willing to be kind to you after you have been kind to it. Kindness is a magnet. It attracts kindness. It draws the best which is in every nature with whom it comes in contact. It will break the hard crusts of selfishness. It will make even adamant hearts move with sympathetic life. Some years ago at Willet's Point General Charles King, a United States army officer, took an old cannon which had outlived its usefulness as a destroyer, and he wound it round and round with tea miles of copper wire. Then he charged this wire with an electric battery. The result, said an eyewitness, was most astounding. The old gun which once hurled its missiles of death at an enemy now made the iron balls leap toward its gaping mouth. Instead of crushing out human lives, as it once did, it now reached down and lifted up to its muzzle a massive metal weight of many tons. "Wonderful, wonderful!" you say. Not nearly as wonderful as the lifting power of that magnetic cannon as is the drawing power of gospel kindness. No sooner does the world see that you love it and want to serve it and to help it than at once that world will redouble its kindnesses and open the arms of love to greet your gospel message. And Christ himself recognized its power when he said, "If I be lifted up, I will draw all men unto me." Of course I have been talking about the human heart as a whole and not about the human heart as in individual exceptions. Now, to prove what I say is true, turn to this story of Paul's intercourse with the Melite barbarians.

Scene the first: It is a dark night. The wind is blowing a hurricane. Every one who can be indoors is in shelter. But I think in the early morning a shepherd is going out to find a lost sheep. He is a shepherd on the island of Melita. One of the sheep slipped away from the fold, and he is out seeking her in the storm. As the shepherd climbs the cliffs overlooking the sea he mutters: "God pity the sailor. God pity the ship caught in such a sea." Then he puts his hands to his eyes and looks off to watch the tossing, tumbling billows. No sooner does he do this than he cries: "Alas, there is a ship! She is heading toward the rocks. She is helpless. Unless we help her, her crew they are lost." I see him running to the village, calling: "Help! Help! Help! Help! There is a ship being driven upon the rocks. Help! Help! At once the men respond to his call. Those barbarian people act just as the old Long Island farmer acted before the life preserving stations had been built when the John Milton was wrecked near East Hampton. They ran with the ropes. They tried themselves to reach like Alpine climbers to reach out into the surf and draw the drowning men to shore. They did this merely for humanity's sake. They did this as most people of every nationality living along the coast would help a shipwrecked crew. They would have saved Paul, no matter to what nationality he might have belonged. That is the first scene.

Paul's Gratitude.
But no sooner was Paul's blood aglow and he knew that his friends were safe than he tried to find out how he could help his rescuers. We have been warned by the fact that he hears one of the barbarians say: "Did you know that the father of Governor Publius was very sick?" "Who did you say was sick?" "Why, the governor's father," the barbarian replies. "Then," says Paul, "I will go and heal him." No sooner does Paul do this than the Melitians bring to him all those who were physically afflicted. The fact happened. Why, those barbarians just opened the doors of their homes. They said to Paul: "Come, Paul; come right in. Everything that we have is thine." Cannot you find this story revealed in the words of Luke, which goes thus: "So when this was done others also which had been diseased in the island came and were healed, who also honored us with many honors?" Ah, yes; if you and I try to serve men and make sacrifices for men there will be no difficulty in trying to reach their hearts with the gospel. Paul was able to preach Jesus unto the barbarians of Melita after he had healed their sick.

My brother, I believe the greatest drawback to the gospel message which we want to give to our fellow men is that we are unwilling to personally make sacrifices for them. We too often go to the Christians, thrusting a Bible at them and forgetting how much besides they need. We ought to study their need and, like the medical missionary, approach the barbarian with healing for the body in one hand and healing for the soul in the other. We are not willing to say: "Brother, what can I do for you? How can I help you?" before we say: "Brother, will you take my Christ as your Saviour?" Ah, Paul would never have been a lie to preach Jesus acceptably unto the Melitees unless he had first been willing to go to the sickbed of Publius' father! Neither shall we ever be able to preach Christ acceptably to the modern barbarians unless we are willing to be food for the hungry, clothes for the naked, eyes for the blind, medicine for the sick and a helping friend to the helpless. Kindness will win kindness. Sacrifices will grasp the hand of sacrifices, and gospel love will receive from the heart every where kindly responses.

Died For His Newspaper.

Would that by our self sacrifice we could teach men that we love them and would do anything and everything to save men, even as Christ's sacrifice has taught us that he loves us. During the dark days of a Parisian riot a young reporter, Matthew Donzelot by name, was sent by the Petit Journal to report the uprising. The mob, like a stampeding herd of cattle, broke loose and swept down the street to where the young man was. The stones were flying and death was everywhere. "Run for your life, Donzelot!" cried one of his friends. "Run or you will be killed!" "I am not going to run," said the young man. "I was detailed here, and here I must stay." A short time after the soldiers appeared. The guns were raised and fired. The mob melted away in an instant. Four wounded men lay struggling on the ground. One of them was Donzelot. Instantly the surgeon rushed up to him and said, "Man, are you hurt?" "Yes, I think I am," he replied. "Don't be in a hurry, surgeon. There, take my pencil. To each man his duty. Mine is to get the story to the office in time. Here, write at the foot of the page '3:20 p.m.' At the fire of the troops three men fell wounded, and one was killed." "Why, which one is killed?" asked the doctor. "I am," replied the reporter, and he fell back dead. Oh, my friends, if Donzelot could lay down his life for his duty to a newspaper, should not we be willing to lay down our lives for the Christ whom we serve? Shall we not, like Paul, try to open the hearts of those whom we would lead to Christ by sacrificing ourselves for them? Can we not make them learn to love us? Carry your flowers to the sick-room. Carry your food to the hungry. Sacrifice yourself for men, and they will teach men to do so, and to sacrifice themselves for Christ.

But this is not the end of Paul's surprises on the island of Melita. These barbarians welcomed him with kindness. After he had healed their sick they opened the doors of their homes in gladness welcome. But they did more than this. After a three months' sojourn of preaching and caring for their souls as well as for their bodies they came down to the sea to bid him goodbye. They crowded his prison cabin with many things. Some brought a warm cloak, some a heavy shawl, some one thing, some another. "And when we departed they loaded us with such things as were necessary." Now, what do you think these Melita friends talked mostly about before that ship sailed when they came down to the beach to bid Paul goodbye?

Parting Gifts.
Do you suppose their conversations were as silly as some I have heard when the great transatlantic steamers were about to pull out of their docks in New York harbor? Do you suppose Paul came to him and said, "Now, Paul, eat some peppermints and you won't get seasick?" Do you suppose some one else said: "Now, Paul, when you get to Rome I want you to hunt up my sister. She is an antiquarian, and she will tell you all the interesting facts about the ruins of ancient Rome?" No, no. No such farewells as that were said. We know that during all his three months' sojourn in Melita Paul was preaching the gospel. He may have visited the sick and helped the barbarians here and there and everywhere. But Paul did all this for the great purpose of preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ. So as Paul starts out for Rome and the people come down to bid him goodbye I think and know it was about a gospel message and his gospel teaching that they conversed, and it would be with prayer and apostolic benediction that Paul would utter his farewell.

Then I think I see a young girl come to him and put her hand lovingly and gently upon his shoulder as she says: "Paul, my brother is in Rome. Oh, how I love him! Will you hunt him up and tell him about Christ?" Thus I think the different Melita friends had well messages. Nearly all of them must have had friends in Caesar's capital. Nearly all of them, after they had found Jesus as their Saviour, must have wanted Paul to tell their loved ones about the same Jesus. It is surprising to me how little some people get out of the Bible. Cannot you find the words, "And they loaded us with such things as were necessary" to mean something more than a few pills to ward off seasickness, and a few garments to keep Paul warm, and a few delicacies to woo his failing appetite?

Now, as Paul's Melita friends started him forth to try to win their loved ones in Rome to Christ, so when we enter gospel work the men and women we bring to Christ will always help us on to Rome. They will always help us to bring their loved ones to Christ. Christian workers of Melita, you are going to have many "happy surprises" in heaven. You will have many happy surprises in your Christian work on earth. But I think the happiest one will be in heaven. You think that young man and that young woman will never be won for Christ. They have refused your gospel invitations again and again. But keep on pleading. Keep on working. They will yet give their hearts to God. They will do it as surely as did some who heard Paul preach in Malta and rejected him then, but afterward repented. And after earth they shall greet you in heaven. Oh, could any surprise give the Christian worker as he enters heaven a sweeter joy?

TRIED SIMPLE LIFE

AND FOUND THAT IT WAS NOT PRACTICAL

Hungry Natives Proved Too Much For Naked Idealists in The New Eden.

The "simple life" proved too complex for the group of German authors, painters and philosophers who tried to follow it on the island of Kabawon, in the Bismarck archipelago.

They were eager to start life afresh under physical conditions approximating those of primitive man. They formed a colony under the name of the "Sun Brothers," in allusion to their wish to enjoy permanent sun baths in the costume of Adam. Their food was to be limited to nuts and fruit. Their labor was to consist of tilling the land and tending their herds.

The enterprise proved as brief as it was simple. Herr Lutzwitz, the author, and Herr Englehardt, the philosopher, have died from the combined result of exposure from not wearing clothes and exhaustion from inadequate diet. The natives killed Herr Bettman, the philosopher. The others have returned in despair to civilization.

The Sun Brothers founded their colony on the island of Kabawon, in the South Pacific, in 1903. The leaders were August Englehardt, a vegetarian physician and philosopher of Munich, and Max Lutzwitz, musical director of one of the Berlin theaters.

Englehardt's philosophy was the "simple life." He believed in life in the tropics, where man could go naked, eat nuts and fruit, drink only water and work only when he felt inclined. Such a life he believed would mean absolute freedom from sickness and would enable those who lived it to carry out great ideas in literature, arts and the sciences.

A number of authors, painters, and writers, converted to Englehardt's philosophy, agreed to put it to a practical test.

The spot chosen for the new Eden was the island of Kabawon, in German New Guinea, and belongs to the New Lauenberg group, which is situated in the Bismarck archipelago, between New Pommern and New Mecklenberg. It is one mile from Herbertshoebe, and a half a mile from Mjoko.

The island is an ideal Eden. It is in fact, one big cocconut, banana and papaya plantation of 7,000 trees, 165 acres in size, with extraordinary fertility, and bearing incidentally all the other famous tropical fruits, mangoes, breadstuffs, pineapples, oranges, lemons and has good crops of sweet potatoes, yams, taron, sugar cane, allia nuts, gallip and other tropical oddities.

Englehardt and his companions established themselves on the island and lived up to their theory. They went naked. They ate cocoanuts and fruits. They bathed in the sea. They lived in the sunshine.

They proved that man needs more than cocoanuts and sunbeams to sustain life.—Berlin Cor. Chicago Tribune.

Musical Gems.

Some of the new musical gems in "The Rajah of Bhong" this season are "Be Good, Be Good," "My Heart Tells Me," "I Don't Want to be a Soldier Boy," "When Jasper Goes to the Circus," "Won't you go An-toinette with me," "Our Tropical Isle," "I Want to go Home," "Our National Game," "The chorus is not one to be forgotten—A thing of beauty is a joy forever, girls, costumes and scenery." Amy Leslie in the Chicago Daily News, Aug. 10.

"The Rajah of Bhong" will be seen at Holland's opera house on Tuesday Nov. 13.

Sunday School Work.

E. A. Fox, secretary of the Kentucky Sunday School Union, was in the city yesterday. He is arranging for a series of Sunday school institutes to be held in the cities of Western Kentucky, beginning at Owensboro. The plan is known as the "Tour of Cities," and consists in having two sets of Sunday school experts follow each other in visiting several cities. The Hopkinsville meeting will be held the latter part of the month. All the important cities of Western Kentucky will be reached by Sunday school experts. This will be an unusual opportunity for the Sunday school people to get valuable and general information and instruction about Sunday school matters. The program in full will be published in a later issue of this paper. The fact that these meetings have been arranged by the efficient state secretary, Mr. Fox, is a guarantee that every session will be interesting as well as instructive.

Much Enthusiasm.

The delegates to the Kentucky Synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, which was held at Hopkinsville from Tuesday night until Thursday afternoon, have returned home. The gathering was the largest ever held in the state and all were enthusiastic over the meeting. Men who had attained their four score years were present and they said they never had seen a meeting of such proportions in their lives. There were 136 regularly accredited delegates, ministers and laymen. The Rev. J. T. Barbee, of this city, was elected moderator and Mrs. Barbee is president of the Kentucky synodical society, which had a very successful meeting at the same time and place. Mrs. J. T. Claggett, of Leitchfield, was elected secretary-treasurer of this latter society. The next meeting of both associations will be held at Bowling Green.—Owensboro Inquirer.

DR. PENTECOST BACK

WILL HOLD MONTH'S MEETING IN LEXINGTON.

After Which He Will Pay a Visit to Relatives in Hopkinsville.

The Lexington Herald says: Dr. George F. Pentecost, of Northfield, Mass., one of the greatest preachers and evangelists in America, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and will be here for a month preaching. The services will be held in the interest of the three Presbyterian churches.

Dr. Pentecost will endeavor to answer the thousands of questions asked by the man on the street. He is one of the most eminent ministers in the Presbyterian church, and has enjoyed many of trust and responsibility at the hands of the church. He has been around the world twice, and he has been sent to India, Japan, China, and other places in the Orient, by his church.

Dr. Pentecost is almost a Kentuckian. He was educated at Georgetown College, and was attending that school when the war broke out in the sixties, and he left school to join the army to serve as chaplain. He lived most of his life as a boy at Henderson, Ky., and received his LL. D. degree from Central University.

He was pastor in Covington for a while, and later went to New York, where he became famous as a preacher and lecturer. He was later pastor for seven years in London, England. He is at present devoting his time to the lecture and evangelistic work from Norfolk.

Dr. Pentecost was for years associated with Dwight L. Moore. He has been eminently successful in his work, and his success here in Lexington is assured.

Dr. Pentecost is an optimist. He thinks that the world is growing better and better as it grows older. "Christ never had such a grip on the world as he has today," said Dr. Pentecost. In fact he is of opinion that the Christian religion is the solution of all the problems of great importance that concern men. During the next month he will deliver two sermons daily—one in the afternoon, the other at night. He will try to arrange to be here long enough for every man in Lexington to hear him lecture.

Following the meeting in Lexington Dr. Pentecost will come to Hopkinsville to visit relatives.

Death at Fairview.

J. Frank Harned, a highly respected citizen of the Fairview vicinity died Monday of consumption. He was seventy years of age. His widow and one daughter, Mrs. John Carroll survive him.

STATE CONFERENCE

OF CHARITIES WILL BE HELD IN LOUISVILLE

Dr. Board Will Deliver An Address On "What Kentucky Does For The Poor."

The fourth meeting of the Kentucky State Conference Charities and Corrections will be held in Louisville November 30-December 1. Among the speakers and subjects are: Dr. Milton Board, of Hopkinsville, on "What Kentucky Does for the Poor;" Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, Lexington, on "Wife Desertion;" Dr. George P. Sprague, Lexington, on "Asylum Management;" Miss Louise J. Speed, on "What Louisville Does for its Poor."

A preliminary program will be prepared this week and sent to the press of the state. While only Louisville, Lexington, Frankfort and Covington have organized charities, Bowling Green and several cities have charity systems. All Kentucky mayors are invited to send delegates, many of whom will be entertained. The officers are as follows:

President—Thomas D. Osborne, Louisville.

Vice presidents—Dr. George F. Sprague, Lexington; F. P. Wolcott, Covington.

Secretary—J. C. Metcalfe, Covington.

Corresponding secretary—Mrs. J. L. Woodbury, Louisville.

Treasurer—Edward Graumann, Robinson, Louisville; Sam W. Bedford, Owensboro; Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, Lexington; Mrs. J. C. Finnell, Covington; Mrs. O. A. Wehle, Louisville.

Congressional districts committee—First, E. G. Boone, Paducah; Second, John A. Lyne, Henderson; Third, Joseph G. Covington, Bowling Green; Fourth, D. M. Duncan, Brandenburg; Fifth, George L. Sehon, Louisville; Sixth, Judge McD. Shaw, Covington; Seventh, Thomas H. Clay, Lexington; Eighth, Clarence E. Wood, Richmond; Ninth, Judge A. A. Hazelrigg, Mt. Sterling; Tenth, L. C. Bailey, Salyersville; Eleventh, William Hayward, London.

Lecture at Church Hill.

Prof. Lowell Roudenbush, of Ohio, will lecture at Church Hill tonight, his subject being "The Land of the Midnight Sun." Prof. Roudenbush is a guest of J. B. Walker with whom he has recently been working in Eastern Kentucky in the interest of the Kentucky Farmers' Institute.

Had a 'Possum Hunt.

Miss Julia B. Elliott delightfully entertained a number of young friends last night at an opossum hunt. A good time is reported and one 'possum was treed. Refreshments were served at the house.

Rev. Dr. Eager's Lecture.

The Rev. John H. Eager, D. D., of Baltimore, financial secretary of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and former missionary in Italy, occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church twice Sunday, preaching in the morning, and lecturing at night on "Rome." Dr. Eager is a speaker of rare ability, and his addresses were heard by large congregations with the utmost attention. At night the auditorium was packed with people to hear him lecture. Dr. Eager lived for many years in Rome and, since returning to America, has visited the "eternal city" every year, but one. He told much that was interesting and instructive of both ancient and modern Rome and described the many historic ruins. The latter part of his lecture was devoted to the religious condition and superstitions of Italy. Dr. Eager is here in interest of the Southern Baptist Seminary.

Rev. Mr. Lawhern Preaches.

The pulpit of the Methodist church was occupied last night by Rev. B. F. Lawhern, formerly of Hopkinsville. Mr. Lawhern took for his text the commandment, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God," and from it he preached a most forceful sermon. Throughout, the discussion was characterized by a deep earnestness and spiritual fervor and the large audience which was present listened with deep interest.

Mr. Lawhern expects to transfer to a western conference at an early date, until which time he will remain in Hopkinsville.

Texas Panhandle Lands For Sale

On Tuesday morning, Nov. 20th, I will conduct a party of Homeseekers and Investors to Amarillo, Tex., where they can buy the finest lands at a bargain, and from a firm of land agents that are endorsed by the banks of Amarillo.

The firm that I deal with is the Texas Realty and Immigration Company, of Amarillo, Texas, and is composed of James B. Allensworth, of Hopkinsville, Ky., J. D. Wrather, of Hickman, Ky., and F. W. Zimmerman, of Amarillo, Tex.

This firm sells land strictly for 5 per cent commission and at the lowest prices that can be obtained from the owners and under no circumstances do they put the PRICE ON LAND AND PUT THE DIFFERENCE IN THEIR POCKET, as is so often done there by land agents, and thereby selling the land at UNREASONABLE PRICES.

This company does not operate EXPENSIVE CHARTERED CARS and then put the PRICE OF LAND UP and make the buyers pay for this great expense. They do not undertake to herd the people like sheep and prevent them from investigating the facts as to the price of land. They put you in touch with the owners of land and assist you in getting bargains.

They do not try to deceive you by selling you land away from railroads at higher prices than you can buy the same land for near Amarillo, Texas, with good improvements and near a town of ten thousand inhabitants, and growing rapidly, with five banks, four railroads, and a town that will soon be a city. If you want to know more about this company write the Amarillo Bank & Trust Co. and the First National Bank of Amarillo, Tex.

You can get a rate of $23.75, good for thirty days' stopover privileges going and coming. For further particulars call or write me at Hopkinsville, Ky.
